She is instantly recognised by her fond mother and clasped in her arms, while the father struggles with her abductor, who tries to resist, but with the help of their guide he is overcome. The girl regains her pretty clothes, and they walk along to see the race! A splendid view is given of the course with thousands of cheering spectators, and an exciting peep of the race as the horses dash past. The ticket which the young girl obtained proves lucky in more ways than one, and she is seen to draw her winnings with delight and satisfaction.

Length 300ft. Price £7 10s.

HEPWORTH MANUFACTURING Co LTD CINEMATOGRAPHERS,

TELEPHONE No. 2451 GERRARD. Telegrams: "HEPTOIC," London.

15 and 17, Cecil Court, Charing Cross Road, London, W.C.

TO SHOWMEN ENTREPRENEURS, AND CINEMATOGRAPH SHOW EXPLOITERS.

A CINEMATOGRAPH SHOW.

THE

"CRUISE OF THE OPHIR."

ONE THOUSAND POUNDS

FOR

TWENTY-FIVE SHILLINGS.

TO THE PUBLISHER, "THE ERA."

Sir,—

It may possibly interest you to learn that a Quarter-Column Advertisement in "The Era" (One Insertion) resulted in over £1,000 Bookings for an Entertainment with which I was connected some little time ago. The Entertainment was entitled

"THE CRUISE OF THE OPHIR,"

Cinématograph Show, and the Bookings were effected within a week.

Yours faithfully,

H. GOLDSMITH-WHITTON,

Late Manager, West's "Our Navy," &c.

London, May 19, 1904.

IN case of the non delivery of "THE ERA" by the First Post, the Publisher will be greatly obliged if Advertisers will forward their Postal Wrappers with the time of delivery marked upon them.

ALWAYS UP TO DATE.

THE TICKET MANIA

A SCREAMER! LAUGHS SUCCEED LAUGH AT EVERY SCENE.

Nine Scenes, mostly in CROWDED thoroughfares of London.

No. 8028. Length 325ft. Price £8 2s. 6d. Code: TICKETS.

One of the most roaring comics produced for months

ROYAL WEDDING, MADRID.

Our Operators have cabled they have secured splendid pictures of this event.

PRINTS READY AFTER 7 p.m., SATURDAY, JUNE 2nd.

We shall be open all night on Saturday night and on Sunday morning up to 1 p.m., and up to 2 p.m. on Monday morning.

WIRE OR 'PHONE YOUR ORDERS AT ONCE.

SAN FRANCISCO DISASTER!!!

A UNIQUE SERIES OF PICTURES.

Section No. 8025. Length 540ft. £13 10s. 0d.

" " 8026. " 435ft. £10 12s. 6d.

Awe-Inspiring! Thrilling!! Startling!!!

N.B.—Please note these are NOT FAKE Pictures. WE do not stoop to such tactics. And what is more, our Pictures do not require faking. They are too good to add to. We have not included a lot of old FIRE Films, with men playing on the Flames WHEN THERE WAS NO WATER THERE for the use of the Firemen. Remember! the Exhibitor who shows "faked" pictures as actualities is breaking faith with the Public, and does the trade no good, but only harm. Why deceive your audience when you can procure

OUR PICTURES. WHICH ARE ABSOLUTELY GENUINE?

The WARWICK TRADING CO.,

THE WORLD'S HEADQUARTERS FOR ANIMATED PHOTOGRAPHY,

4 & 5, WARWICK COURT, HOLBORN, LONDON, W.C.

Telephone: 1135 Holborn. Telegrams: "COUSINHOOD, LONDON."

PARIS HOUSE—16, RUE ST. CECILE.

LATEST URBAN FILMS.

THE ROYAL WEDDING, MADRID.

NOTE.—We have Three of our most expert Photographic Artists at work in Madrid, &c., to record all important Incidents and Ceremonies connected with the Marriage of Princess Ena to His Majesty King Alfonso XIII. of Spain.

While we have not the exclusive rights to photograph these festivities we nevertheless have many special concessions, and, as the Trade knows, we always make the best of our opportunities, with the usual superior results and prompt deliveries.

FILMS NOW READY FOR DELIVERY.

3,122. King Alfonso XIII. leaving the Madrid Cathedral after special High Mass, accompanied by H.R.H. the Queen Mother and the Grandees of the Royal Spanish Court. Exclusive Picture of magnificent quality and exceptional interest.

Length, 125 ft. Price, £3 2s. 6d. (Subject.)

3,124. H.M. King of Spain—Sportsman. Attending and participating in a Pigeon Shoot. Splendid portraits and characteristic poses.

Length, 125 ft. Price, £3 2s. 6d.

3,131. The Great Bull Fight in honour of the King of Spain's Wedding. Photographed by special concession. Excellent throughout.

Length, 300 ft. Price, £7 10s. 0d.

The Royal Meeting—The Royal Wedding Procession—The Royal Bull Fight, and other Festivities in Madrid will be as promptly supplied as it is possible to make train connections between Madrid and London for Special Messengers who are commissioned to personally deliver the Negatives.

NO OTHER FIRM CAN POSSIBLY DELIVER EARLIER THAN WE.

All above Films at our usual Prices and Discounts.

1829.

DESTRUCTION OF SAN FRANCISCO BY EARTHQUAKE AND FIRE.

Photographed by our United States Representatives, the VITAGRAPH COMPANY OF AMERICA.

The only Genuine 'Frisco Series.

ORDER OF PICTURES.

1.—The Burning of a Skyscraper.
2.—Circular Panorama at Corner of Market and Stockton Street.
3.—Acres of Splendid Business Buildings in Ruins.
4.—The "Bread Line" in Golden Gate Park.
5.—Burning Ruins on East Street.
6.—Smouldering Wreckage on the River Front.
7.—Fire Engine Half buried under Mass of Debris.
8.—Excellent Panorama of the Ruined City.
9.—Unique View of Children's Playground turned into Refugees' Camp.
10.—Panoramic Views of the Residential District at Nob Hill and Van Ness Avenue.
11.—Hungry Men, Women, and Children waiting for Rations.
12.—The Valentia Hotel fiercely burning.
13.—Firemen, Police, and Military searching for Dead and Wounded.
14.—Panorama of Market Street.
15.—Dynamiting Buildings and Dangerous Walls of Ruined Houses.

Complete Length, 675ft. Price, £16 17s. 6d.

Will be supplied separately in 350ft. and 325ft. sections at proportionate prices.

Envy is the reward of success.

Ridiculous statements made are usually due to gross ignorance.

'Frisco Fire Boats and Fire Engines rendered most efficient service along the City's water front. Only limited in their operations by the length of available hose.

SOLE PROPRIETORS and MANUFACTURERS of the celebrated

URBAN BIOSCOPE

Used at the Alhambra, Hippodrome, Coliseum, Polytechnic, Twenty Moss-Stoll Empire Theatres, Lyceum and all other Barrasford Theatres, West's Our Navy, Modern Marvel Company, and Hundreds of other Principal Theatres and Exhibitions throughout England.

To amuse and entertain is good.
To do both and instruct is better.

URBANORA

We Put the World Before You.
(COPYRIGHTED.)

The Most Perfect, Up-to-Date, Exclusive Pictures in the World.

SOLE REPRESENTATIVES—

WIELAND AGENCY,

16, St. Martin's Street, Leicester Square, London, W.C.

Telephone, 6788 GERRARD. Telegrams, "WIELDERS, LONDON."

The CHARLES URBAN TRADING CO., Ltd., 48, Rupert St., LONDON, W.

Telegrams and Cables, "BIOSCOPE, LONDON." Telephone, 3118 CENTRAL.

MANCHESTER: 46, Market Street. PARIS: 33, Passage de l'Opera. NEW YORK: 116, Nassau Street. BARCELONA, SPAIN (just opened), Calle Valencia 266.

RING UP, 1766 HOP.

SCENERY!

SCENERY!

FRANCIS H. BULL,

ONE OF THE LARGEST CONTRACTORS IN LONDON,

Supplying the Leading Music Halls, Theatres, and Touring Companies.

Scenery Made and Painted at the Shortest Notice for Dramas, Musical Comedies, Sketches, Exhibitions, &c.

ALL WORK done under the PERSONAL SUPERVISION of the Artist, FRANCIS H. BULL, assisted by the most Experienced People of each Department.

ESTIMATES free on application to
FRANCIS H. BULL,
Head Office and Painting Rooms,
4, Lower Bland-st., Great Dover-st., London, S.E.
Tel. 1766 Hop.

NOTICE.

FRANCIS H. BULL has now opened a NEW DEPARTMENT in THEATRICAL and MUSIC HALL ADVERTISING, and can supply Managers with BEAUTIFUL and ORIGINAL ART POSTERS (Pictorial or Letterpress) for LONDON or PROVINCES.

THESE POSTERS (Transparent if necessary) CHANGED WEEKLY at a Reasonable Price BY CONTRACT.

They will attract more attention in one hour than the usual Printing would in one week.

This Department is under the direction of FREDK. H. STRACHAN,
to whom all applications should be addressed.
289A, BRIXTON-RD., LONDON, S.W.

SCENERY, BAGGAGE, PROPERTIES, &c. WAREHOUSED AND REMOVED.

MUSIC HALL CARDS.

Alphabetically Arranged—Limited to Three Lines.

ABADAROFFS, FOUR, Great Comedy Conception, "Prehistoric Peeps." Coms., 95, Stretford-road, Manchester.

ABDULLAH ARABS, THE TWELVE, Vacant Dec 31, 1905, Jan. 7, 28, April 1, 1907. June 4, Coliseum, Glasgow.

ABEL and WELSH, The Filleted Comedians, "Got a Bit of String?" The Palace, Walthamstow.

ACHMED IBRAHIM'S ARABS, Lyceum Theatre, Strand, London.

ALBANO TROUPE, Vacant June 4, 11, 18. 39, Newcastle-road, Wavertree, Liverpool.

ALBERT, MISS LOTTIE, The Bright Comedienne. All Coms., Perm. Address, 91, Ridgmount-gardens, Gower-street, W.C.

ALEXANDER, HANID, Euston and Canterbury. Perm. address, 2, Warrington-gardens, Maida Vale.

ALEXANDER'S, JOHN, Burlesque Company. Empire Theatre, Edinburgh.

ALLSOPP and BEKWITH, Four curtains and speech nightly. Audience demand more. Belfast. Next, King's, Gateshead.

ALMO, BROS., First-class Comedy Three-Bar Act. New Theatre, Doncaster.

AMERICAINES, LES BELLES, Usual Success. This week, Hip., St. Helens. Next, Argyle, Birkenhead. Agent, H. DAY.

ANDRE and BRENTON, in Their Latest Screaming Success, "Kitty." Vacant June 11 and 18. Hippodrome, Blackpool.

ARIZONA TROUPE, Tumblers, Jugglers, &c. Peal Park Gala, Bradford, or 5, Neal-street.

ASHCROFT, W. J., the Solid Man, with J. W. Morton, in Irish and American Comedy. Care of TOM SHAW and Co.

ASHLEY, BROS. "Next, Please." Duchess, Balham; 4th, Grand, Hanley. G. BARCLAY and FORTUNE and GRANVILLE.

ATHLONES, THE, Grand, Bolton.

ATLAS, the Beautiful VULCANA, and the SISTERS ATLAS, the Society Athletes. London Pavilion.

BANCROFT, HARRY, Usual success on tour. Monday next, Palace, Bow.

BANDON, SID, Grand, Bolton.

BARCLAY, GEORGE, and CO., Variety Agent. Telephone, 84 Streatham. 221, Brixton-hill, London, S.W.

BARRETT and KNOWLES. "Are we Down-hearted? No," Regent, Salford, or TOM SHAW and Co.

BARTHOLOMEW, SISTERS, "The Ideal Boy and Girl," Perm. Add., 15, East-road, Kingston-on-Thames.

BAWN'S AGENCY, 145, Balham Hill, London, S.W. 'Phone, 1178 Battersea. Tels., "Orderless, London."

BAYNE and HOPE (RONALD and EVELYN) in "An Emperor's Divorce." Camberwell Palace. June 4, Alhambra, Morecambe.

BAZLEY, SYD, the Peculiar Comedian, Palace, Oldbury. Panto and Summer Settled. Next, Gaiety, Birmingham.

BEATRICE, SISTERS (NELLIE and MAY), Duettists and Dancers. This P. H., Dudley. Mond., Emp., Woolwich. Vac., June 11, 18.

BELFORD and MARS, Our Comedy Numbers are Original and Fully Protected. Queen's Park, Hippo., Manchester.

BELL, CHARLES H., is still making a big success as the Boy in "Moving In." Next week, Palace, Sunderland.

BELLONINI, WALTER, On Tour. C/o "The Era" Office.

BELROSE and DE VELIN (GEO. and Maud). Basso and Soprano Speciality Duettists and Soloists. Palace, Glasgow.

BENT, HARRY, the Mimic; also CARLOTTA LUNN, Willmott's Halls. Monday, Hippodrome, Accrington. Fully booked.

BENTLEY'S VARIETY AGENCY, 169, Stamford-street, London, S.E. Telegrams, "Yeltneb, London." 'Phone, 12706 Central.

BERNARD, GEO., One of "The Nuts." Opens Monday, The Den and Beach, Teignmouth. Letters, 3, Devonshire-place, Teignmouth.

BIOSCOPE, BENDON'S, Always Up to Date. For Terms apply 301, Cathcart-road, Glasgow.

BLANCHE and DIACOFF, On Tour, Return to Macnaghten's London Circuit, June 25.

BLARNEY and KENNARD, Speciality Act, conclude to-night, 8 weeks in London. This, Sadler's Wells. Monday, Parthenon, L'pool.

BLISS and BLISS. Address, King Alfred Hotel, Walney, Barrow-in-Furness.

BLYTHE, MARIE, The Popular Contralto. June 4, the Foresters'. Agents, S. M. HYMAN, Ltd.

BODEY BROS., Comedy Triple Bar Act. Lib. June 25, on. 10, Fillwood-road, Fishponds, Bristol.

BODIE, ALBERT EDWARD, The Manor House, Macduff, N.B.

BODIE, DR. WALFORD, 163, Blackfriars-road, London, S.E.

BOHEMIANS, THE (WILL and MADGE), Instrumentalists and Comedy artists. Next London, Shoreditch. G. FOSTER.

BOLTON, MR. JUDGE (Mrs. Crusoe). Permanent address, 41, Princes-road, Hull.

BORELLI, SIGNOR and MADAME, Empire, Sheffield. Agents, T. SHAW and Co.

BOSTOCK, N. C., NELLIE ELLIENE, Victoria Hall, Southsea. Ralph Pringle's great picture show, 10, Silver-street, Bloomsbury.

BOSWELL, A. P., the Only Original Furniture Shifter. This, Park, Liverpool; June 4 Tivoli, Manchester. 8th Return.

BOULTONS, THE, and MDLLE. BARTENELLI, Poole's Myriorama, Gloucester. Vacant July 9, 16, and 23.

BRADY, JAMES, Concludes Moss and Stoll Tour. Re-engaged 26 Weeks. Agent, GEORGE AYTOUN.

BRAY, LOTTIE, Royal Victoria Hall, Royal Albert, Canning Town.

BRENTON, SISTERS, Duettists and Expert Dancers. Hit of programme, Pav., Southport. June 4, Empire, Rochdale. 3rd return.

BREWSTERS, THE, Circo de Casino, Buenos Aires, Usual Success, Re-engaged Two Months Longer.

BRIGHT, LOUIE, Original Comedy Artist. Panto settled. Vacant Monday, June 4, and August 20. Empire, Cleethorpes.

BROOKLANDS, THE (ETHEL and BELLA), Usual Success Alhambra, Belfast. June 4, Tivoli, Dublin. All arrangements complete.

BROOKS, GEORGE H., Musical, Dramatic, and Variety Agent, 36, Shaftesbury-avenue, W.

BROWN and ROBINSON, Vacant June 4. What offers? 14, Broadway, Deptford, S.E.

BURTON'S AGENCY, Sheffield, Require Sensational Gala Acts all Lines, July, Aug. 6, onwards. Send Lithos, Memos, Terms.

BUTT, BESSIE, Finishes to-night, Empire, Leicester. June 4, H. M. T., Walsall.

BUXTON, FREDERICK, Proprietor, Pierrot Village, Douglas, I. of M. Artists and Specialities write in.

CABAN'S Marvellous Sixteen Performing Miniature Ponies, Donkeys, and Dogs, few dates Lib. Perm., North-st., Stamford.

CADLE'S AGENCY, 105 and 106, Strand. Telephone No. 1975, Gerrard.

CAINE, ANDIE, Sylvan Villa, Filey, Yorkshire. Until October.

CALVERTO, Giffnock, Glasgow. First-class Attractions Write. Wires Calverto, Glas. 'Phone, 26 Clarkston.

CAMBO, the Musical Monkey. Monday, Hippodrome, Paisley. Vacant June 11, Al Frescos, &c.

CARL and CARR, Refined Comedians Success Palace, Portsmouth (second week). June 4, on, Harbour Green Pavilion, Portobello.

CARLTON, HENRY. Enjoying Three weeks' rest. Resume business June 11, Empire York. Latest Success, "The Window Cleaner."

CARMEN, HARRY, and DAISY LANE, Albert Hall, Southport. Pantomime settled with Samuel Jones, Esq., London.

CARR and ROSE, Chanting Couple, Marvellously Manipulating Mirthful Melodies, Carefully Constructed Complications. R., Oldham.

CARVERS, THE, Late Read and Wright. Alhambra, Sandgate. Monday, Empire, Dover.

CASS, AGENCE THEATRAL, désire Grands Nouveautés, meilleurs établissements. 30, Maiden-lane, Strand, Londres.

CEE-MEE TROUPE, London. R. WARNER AND Co. A few Vacant Dates this Year.

CHANT and CHANT, Refined Comedy Act. Vacant Monday, onwards. Wire for a Sure Hit. 87, Wollaton-street, Nottingham.

CHARD'S DOG CIRCUS, Theatre Royal, Pontypool. Summer dates vacant.

CHARNLEYS, THE (ANNIE & EDIE), Big success this week Empire, Middlesbrough. Monday, Circus, Blyth.

CHESTER & LEE'S MARIONETTES, Monday, Palace, Oldbury. Return visit within six months.

CHESTER'S AGENCY, LIMITED, 13, Oxford-street, Manchester. 'Phone 08904. Wires, "Amusements, Manchester."

CHIRGWIN, London Nightly. London Nightly.

CLEMENT TRIO, Refined Comedy Stage-Flying Trapeze Act. Address, Clement Trio, Hollydene, Hall Green, near Birmingham.

CLEMENTS, VENIE, Big Success in "A Trial Trip." Empire, Bradford; next, Palace, Hull.

CLIFFORD, CHARLES, C.D.D., the Renowned Harpist and Humorist, on Tour. 15, Priory-gardens, Highgate, London, N.

COLLINS, GEO., the Quaint Comedian. Returns to Palace, Belfast, after nine weeks' absence. GEO. BARCLAY.

CONLIN, HARRY, and ROSIE COLEMAN. 18, Walcot gardens, Kennington-road.

CONROY, OLIVER, Comedian. Theatre Royal, Blyth, Northumberland. Vacant June 4, or later.

COOLVILLES, THE (NANCY and EDIE). Refined Vocalists and Dancers. Big success Shields. Next week, Hip., Stockton.

CORA, SISTERS, the London and Cambridge, in their latest success, "The Ladies' Soldier Band," and "Sweethearts."

CORNISH, WILL, in his Unique Musical Bell Act. This week, Empire, Hackney; Next, E., Holloway.

COSGROVE and BURNS, Scottish-American Comedy Duo. This week, Hipp., Hastings; Next, Empire, Wolverhampton.

COSTELLO, BROS., Knockabout Comedians. Still on Tour. Address, Care of "The Era."

COTTERELL, SID, and CO., in the Great Comedy Success, "The Substitute." Palace, Plymouth; Next, P., Bristol.

COUNSELL and MILLS, Musical Playlets. Hippodrome, Ipswich. Next, Pier, Penarth. SOMERS and WARNER.

COURTNEY FAMILY, Complimented by management. This Middlesex. Next Hounslow. Coms., Mrs. Paul Courtney en route.

CRAGGS, THE, in New Act, "Billy." This, Her Majesty's, Walsall; next, T. R., Leigh.

CRAIG, ROZE, and CRAIG, A Trio of the World's Leading Athletes. Care of "The Era."

CRESSER, MISS ADA, Staley's Transformation Co., London Hippodrome.

CULLEN and CARTHY, and LITTLE CLULEY. Hippodrome, Accrington.

CULLEN, DOLLY, and ELSIE JORDISON, Dainty Little Vocalists and Dancers, June 4, Hippo., Bury.

CURRAN, FRED, Premier Parody Singer. Latest by Murphy and Lipton. Monday, Lower Ballroom, Blackpool.

CURRY, PERCY, Comedian. At Liberty June 4. Wire 35, Mytton-street, Hulme, Manchester.

DAINEZ, E. R., Circus. Free, June 11, 18, 25. Address, Smilers, Pitsea, Essex.

DALTON'S AGENCY. Henriques Wire Address. 5, Matlock-avenue, West Didsbury, Manchester.

DANIELS, THE TWO. Another Most Tremendous Success, Empire Theatre. Require Monday. Wire, 10, St. Mary's-road, Oxford.

DAUNTON-SHAW TROUPE, Australian Cyclists (Monarchs of the Wheel). June 4, Hippo., Stoke.

DAVIES, ROBERT, Bare Back Equestrian. On Tour. Perm. address, 32, Woodstock-road, Belfast.

DAYTON FAMILY, THE, Alhambra, London.

DEETRICH'S VAUDEVILLE BUREAUX, 15, Hotham-street, Liverpool. Always immediate vacancies for good acts.

DE HENAU and MDLLE. ALADINA, Phenomenal Marvellous Painter and Cockatoos. Hippodrome, Hull.

DELEVINES, THE, in New and Original Comedy, "Flipp and Flopp." Her Majesty's Theatre, Walsall.

DENT, BERT, Manager, Barnard's Palace Greenwich, S.E. Palace Buffet open on Sundays.

DE ROSE, MDLLE., the Lady Foli, J. H. HAWTREY, Actor Vocalist. Empire, Wolverhampton.

DEVERENNE Requires Immediate engagement. Nail Walker and Balancer, the Mystery. Care of "The Era."

DE VOYE, JAMES, and BILLY, the celebrated Horse, the Marvel. Success everywhere. Next week, Alhambra, Morecambe.

DE ZELLO, Juggler on the Slack Wire. John Trewar, Comic Conjurer, vac. Sept. 10. Perm. add., 230, Sumner-road, Peckham, S.E.

DILLONS, BOUNCING, June 4 and 5, Fêtes, Pontypool. Address Harry's Cottage, Up. Sutton-st., Aston, B'ham.

DIXON, CHARLEY, KATE LYND, Big Success, starring, Dover and Sandgate. Per. add., 69, Roan-st., Greenwich, S.E., all letters.

DOLF, SIDNEY, DOLF, "The Man in the Grey Dress Suit." No vacancies for three years.

DOLLY, AGNES, and MAUD, The Factory Nightingales. Starring Grand, Stockton. Mon., Empire, Wolverhamton. 3rd return.

DOMINOS, TWO, at Liberty Whit Week, a comic and refined Animal Act. Talking Donkey. No equal. 9, Victoria-st, Redditch.

DON, EMMA, and her Black-and-White Quartette. Vacant July 2 through Tiv., Leeds, Closing. June 4, Theatre R., Warrington.

DONNAS TRIO, Sensational Ladder Trapeze Equilibrist. Crystal Palace Theatre. CASS, 30, Maiden-lane. 'Phone, 6704 Central.

DORRETTA, LITTLE, Dutch Acrobatic Comedienne, Great Success, King's, Hammersmith. Next, Alexandra P., 2 w'ks.

DORRIS, MISS RUTH, The chic comedienne.—Vide Press. Brilliant Success, Walham Green, 9.10.

DOYLE and GIBSON, Patter Comedians and Dancers. This week, Whitehaven; Next week, Hippo., Carlisle. Vacant June 25.

DUCKETT, BERTHA, Comedienne and Dancer. Coms., E. STEBBINGS, Manchester. 11, Arnold-street, Liverpool.

DUNCAN and MORTON. "'Aint we Popular." Grapho and Jackson's Pierrots, Northampton.

DUNNING, and KAHN and KAHN, Concerts. Letters, 106, Loughboro'-rd., Brixton, London, S.W.

DURHAM'S, FRED, Variety Agency. Telephone, 15, Brixton. 14, Loughborough-road, Brixton, London, S.W.

DU ROCHE, MDLLE., Gaiety, Oldham. Next week, June 4, Hippodrome, Hastings.

EARLE, ELSIE, Chorus Comedienne. Recalled nightly Middlesex. Next two weeks Shrewsbury. Letters en route.

EILEEN and MAYNIE, Sisters, Novel Instrumentalists and Dancers, Liberty June 11, 18. Theatre Royal, Gloucester.

ELLA'S, MISS, Best existing Lion Show. King's Theatre, Gateshead.

ELLERTON, Author Dunville's Nurse Sheridan's Mottoes, Tich's Twenty-third, Lynne's School Teacher. 90, Vassall-rd, Brixton.

ELLIOTTS and SAVONAS, Musicians, Cyclists, &c. Address, 42, St. Paul's-road, Middlesbro'.

ELSWORTHY, MISS DOLLY. Monday next, Foresters', June 11, Empire, Hackney.

ELTON and ELMA, Comedy Bar Act, Monday, Great Pontypool Gala.

ELVY, ARTHUR, "The Up-to-date Tipster." This, Hippo., Birmingham; next, Hippo., Coventry. At liberty July 2.

ENGLISH, GEORGE, and PENLEY, FLO, London Nightly. "A Fishmonger's Romance."

EPLETT, KATIE, FRANK ZARA, Comedienne, Dancer; Comedian, Raconteur. Monday, London, Shoreditch, E.

ESCALADERS, THREE, June 2, Fête and Sports, Porth. June 4, Temperance Hall, Merthyr, S. Wales.

ESDALE BROS., Comedians. Vacant Monday. Wire Tivoli, Grimsby. After Sat., 166, Shrewsbury-st., Brook's Bar, Manchester.

EUSTACE, FRED, June 4, Queen's, Poplar. "Our Curate."

FAME, PEGGY, "Girl in Grey Without a Smile." Ireland captivated, London shortly. Monday, Parthenon, Liverpool.

FARRIMOND, PERCY, the Original Lancashire Singing Collier. Best wishes to all. June 4, Hippodrome, Wigan.

FIMANS, THE, "In the Fire Station." Nulli Secundus. This Speciality Stands Alone.

FIONI'S, JAMES, AGENCY, 21, Norton-street, Liverpool. Telegrams, "Fioni, Liverpool." 'Phone, 1,586 Royal FITZROYS, THE, Society Gymnasts. June 2, Hippodrome, Maidstone.

FLORADORA GIRLS, Sure Success. Liberty June 11. Managers Wire, Hippo., Birmingham; Monday, Hippo., Liverpool.

FLORIZELL, Original. England's Leading Lady Contortionist and Gymnast. All letters, T. R., Merthyr. Great for Panto.

FORD and HANSON, The American Musical Millionaires. No Vacancies. Address, Midland Hotel, Hull.

FORD, SISTERS, Character and Comedy Duettists. Monday, Pavilion, Leicester.

FORTUNE and GRANVILLE, Savoy House, 115, Strand, London, W.C. Telegrams "Waggishly." 'Phone, 1,309, Gerrard.

FRANCISCO, Equilibrist, and MAY MOODIE, Piccolo Soloist. Vacant June 18 onwards. Address next week, Aquarium, Scarboro'.

FREDRICKS, CARL, and YA PYN KETO FAMILY. Fredricks and Carlton Concert Controls. Pier Pavilion, Lytham.

GALINO, PERCY. This, Sadler's Wells. Monday, Messrs. Adeler and Sutton's Pierrots. Rock Park, Llandrindod Wells.

GANNON, NELLIE. A Furore, Alhambra, Belfast; HARRY WRIGHT. Well, ask everybody. Monday, Parthenon Liverpool.

GLENNIE'S MARIONETTES, June 18 wanted. Address, care of "The Era."

GRAHAM, BOB, June 4, Royal, Merthyr. June 11, Empire, Dudley.

GRAHAM, Human Marionettes. No Vacant Dates until October. Permanent Address, 28, Chaucer-road, Brixton.

GRAHAM'S, DAISY, Performing Birds, on Tour with Poole's Myriorama Co. Theatre, Alexandra Palace.

GRANADAS, LOS, 238, Victoria-road, Aston, Birmingham. Agent, TOM SHAW.

GRANTLEY and COLEMAN (CHAS.) (LILLIE) June 4, Doncaster.

GRAPHO and JACKSON, Burlesque Scena, "In a Restaurant." Coms., Abington Park Hotel, Northampton.

GRAY, GEORGE, Stoll-Moss Empires. Stoll-Moss Empires.

GREEN, GORDON, and GREEN. Read the following for our latest. All coms., 106 Fairholme-road, Croydon.

GREEN, MR. TOM, "It's Never Too Late to Mend." The most touching picture of the day. The Walturdaw Co.

GREEN, MRS. TOM, "Father's Washing Day." A comic that required acting. The Waltwidaw Co.

GREEN, MISS JENNIE, "A Touch of Human Nature." Now try and imitate. The Walturdaw Co.

GROSVENOR SISTERS, THREE, Harmonising Vocalists. This, Amphi., Ramsgate. Next, 39, Electric-av., Brixton.

GROVES, THE WALTER, SKETCH CO., "Artful Jim" (Poor Pink), fully protected. Agents, R. WARNER and Co., Ltd.

HAIG and NOVEL, Park Palace, Liverpool. Open Empire, Leicester-square, shortly.

HALL, CLIFTON, Vocalist. Scotland for Summer Season. Coms. "Era" Office or DONALD'S Agency.

HALLAM and STANTON, Refined Entertainers, in "A Broken Journey." Hippodrome, Ipswich.

HALTER and RAY, Hebrew Character, Comedian and Singing, Soubrette. Hipp., Birmingham. BARCLAY.

HARLAND and ROLLISON, Musical Grotesques. Touring America. Address c/o W. J. Plimmer, 1204 Broadway, New York City.

HARRIS and WORTH, Palace, Blackpool.

HART and CO., Dramatic and Variety Agents. 7, Lancaster-house, Rushcroft-rd., Brixton. Tele., 116, Brixton.

HAYDEE, Pier Pavilion, Hastings.

HEARNES, THE FOUR, Comedy Acrobats and Tumblers. Vac. June 18 on. This week, Preston. Monday, Hippo., Ashton.

HENDERSON, FAMOUS, Blind Musical Genius, Usual Success, P., Bath; Monday, Paddington and Westminster, Liverpool.

HENDERSON, LADE, Character Vocalist; great success Aldershot, to follow, London. All coms. to BILLY HENDERSON.

HERALD COMEDY FOUR, Tower, Blackpool. Vacant June 11. Wire.

HERBERT, FRED, Premier Topical Vocalist, Middlesex.

HERMAN, SYD. Third week of Management Hippo., Sittingbourne. Specialities write. Sharing terms only.

HESSEY SOLOISTS, Instrumentalists. Brilliant success. Macnaghten Circuit.

HILL, ROWLAND, Pavilion, Portrush. For Three Months.

HILTONS, THE THREE, in a New Speciality, Monday, Palace, Camberwell. Lib. June 11, 18. Perm. Add., 47, Nuttall-st., Liverpool.

HONRI, PEROY, Communications, 357, Holloway-road, N. Telegrams, Honri, London. 'Phone, 1,063, North.

HOPE, FRANK, Celebrated Trick Cyclist. Next week galas. 8, Bridgman-st., Walsall.

HOWARDS, THE (RALPH & NELLIE) Granville, Walham Green.

HULA, SISTERS, Vocalists and Dancers. Vacant Monday, wire or write, Albert Hall, Southport.

HULBERT, Ventriloquist, and DE LIL, Illusionist, first-class. Vac for July. Offers invited. Union-road, Macclesfield.

HULINES, NEW, Musical Clowns, and BESSIE TRAVIS, Lady Ventriloquist. Monday, Crystal Palace, London.

HUMBER, FANNIE, Concludes Two Weeks Casino, Calais, France. Address, 85, De Laune-street, Kennington Park, London.

HUNTER, G. W., Comedian and Raconteur, Hippodrome, Ipswich.

HUXTER, THREE BROS., June 4, C.P., Morecambe. P., 10, Middle-street, Worcester

INGLE, ARTHUR, Coster Juggler. Free for Galas, June 11, onwards. King's Head Hotel, Ashby-de-la-Zouch.

JAQUES, T. C., Vocal Comedian. This week Victoria Opera House, Burnley. Coms., 10, North Marine-rd., Scarborough.

JUDGE, SISTERS, With their Marvellous Performing Cockatooc, Parrots and Macaws. June 4, Pav., Leicester.

KATHRENA, MISS IDA, Scena, "The Carnival of Toys." Metropolitan.

KATOS, THE, Komikal Kidgets. Hippodrome, Stoke.

KAVADOS, Juggler; FLO MELVILLE, Burlesque Artist, Palace, Grimsby. Monday, Palace, Attercliffe.

KEENE, BILLY, and JESSIE ADAMS, Our Pierrots. Eleventh Season. Pavilion, Portrush, Ireland.

KEITH and MERSON, Palace, Blackburn.

KEITHS, THE ORIGINAL MUSICAL, CARLINA and CHARLIE. Monday next, June 4, Tower, Blackpool.

MR. ARTHUR GRENVILLE.
At Liberty.
20, Kenyon-mansions, West Kensington, W.

MR. FRED GROVE,
and MISS EMILY GROVE, Disengaged.
Note New Add., 50, Gresham-rd., Brixton, S.W.

MR. CLARENCE HAGUE,
At Liberty.
Address, 78, St. George's-road, S.E.

MR. HUBERT HARBEN,
Pendennis, in "Colonel Newcome,"
His Majesty's Theatre.

MR. A. C. HARDIE,
Concludes with Miss Hildyard to-night. Dis.
31, Ladbroke-road, Notting Hill Gate, W.

MR. FRANK HARDING,
Address all Coms., 21, Argyll-mansions,
King's-road, Chelsea, S.W. T. No. 2077, Ken.

MR. W. HARGREAVES,
Disengaged for a few weeks.
Address, 11, Beira-street, Balham, S.W.

MR. CHARLES HARLEY,
Disengaged.
Actors' Association, 10, King-street, W.C.

MR. CYRIL HARRISON,
At Liberty till July 30.
52, Upperton-gardens, Eastbourne.

MR. FORRESTER HARVEY,
Concluding Mr. Cyril Maude's "Beauty and the Barge" Co. Add., 6, Pump-court, Temple, E.C.

MR. FRANCIS HAWLEY,
Dr. Watson, "Sherlock Holmes."
June 11, Theatre Royal, Bradford.

MR. R. CALVERT HAWS,
"Castles in Spain,"
Terry's Theatre, W.C.

MR. JOHN S. HAYDON,
at Liberty now for Autumn, and onwards.
23, Carter-street, Prince's-road, Liverpool.

MR. T. P. HAYNES,
Disengaged.
Address, Care of "The Era."

MR. JERROLD HEATHER,
Lead. Dis. Autumn. "Starring" with Mr. M. Anderson's Rép. Co., Prince's, Llandudno.

MR. A. T. HILTON,
Sir Peter Teazle, Hardcastle, Damas,
Tyne Theatre, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

MR. HALLIWELL HOBBES,
At Lib. for Juvenile Lead, Shakespearean or modern work. 10, King-st., Covent Garden, W.C.

MR. A. S. HOMEWOOD. All Business communications to be made direct to Mr. CECIL BARTH, 8, Melina-place, St. John's Wood, N.W.

MR. FRANK HOWARD,
Hon. Bertie Bray, "The Woman Who Gambles" Co. June 11, Osborne T., Manchester.

MR. and MRS. GEORGE HOWARD
(Miss Clara Earle).
June 11, King's Theatre, Glasgow (six nights).

MR. HENRY HOWARD,
Business or Acting Management. Disengaged for the Autumn. 89, Elm Park-mans., Chelsea, S.W.

MR. and MRS. WILSON HOWARD
(Miss Carlotta Ansqn).
Disengaged. Offers invited. 46, Graham-rd., Dalston.

MR. ERIC HUDSON,
at Liberty June 16.
June 11, Prince of Wales's, Birmingham, 6 nights.

MR. S. HERBERT HUMBER and BEATRICE SINCLAIR. Disengaged. Lead and jun. lead or com. 15, Fairmead-rd, Holloway.

MR. JAMES P. E. HUSSEY, Lieut.
David Cairn, and S. M., in "Mrs. Gorringe's Necklace," West Pier, Brighton. Dis. June 11.

MR. and MRS. FREDERIC JACQUES
(Miss Minnie Rayner, Contralto), Disengaged, Character Com. 52, Crowndale-rd., N.W.

MR. G. WALLACE JOHNSTON,
Compton Comedy Co. Disengaged June 16.
June 11, New Theatre, Oxford.

MR. T. ARTHUR JONES,
Touring the Success, "Life's Sweetest Sins."
Address, 26, Wightman-road, Finsbury-park, N.

MR. THEO JONES and ADA MANSFIELD. A. M., Engaged for Mrs. O'Kelly, in "The Shaughraun," P. T., Preston.

MR. S. MAJOR JONES,
at Liberty.
101, Sugden-road, Clapham Common, S.W.

MR. F. JOYNSEN - POWELL.
"A Royal Divorce" (Scala production). C/o. Ross, Branford, & Co., 5, Old Queen-st, Westminster.

MR. WHITFORD KANE,
Disengaged.
Actors' Association.

MR. OGILVY KEITH.
Address,
Charlmont, Western Paradé, Southsea.

MR. EDMUND F. KENNEDY,
Title-rôle, "Lucky Durham." Dis. June 11, few weeks. 38, Sydney-rd., West Ealing, W.

MR. and MRS. EDGAR KENT (Miss Ada Clarke). Stock Season. Pier, Paignton, S. Devon. Perm. add., Shelton, Stoke-on-Trent.

MR. CLAUDE KING,
Disengaged for Juvenile Leading Business.
Blenheim Lodge, Teddington.

MR. CECIL KINGSLEY,
Address,
Garrick Theatre, W.C.

MR. LAWRENCE KINGSLEY,
Engaged by Wm. Maclaren, Esq., for Agazil, Autumn Tour of "Claudian." T. R., Lincoln.

MR. J. POOLE KIRKWOOD,
John Forman in Sherlock Holmes.
June 11, T. R., Bradford. Dis. June 18.

MR. CECIL KLEIN,
Leading Juvenile, Offers Invited.
Address, 23, Elgin-mans., Maida Vale, W.

MR. and MRS. ARTHUR KNIGHT,
At Liberty. Lead. or Heavies, Character, or Management, T. R., South Shields.

MR. and MRS. FRED KNIGHT (Miss Louie Tinsley), Disengaged now and for Autumn. Address, 132, Camberwell New-rd., S.E.

MR. RICHARD HENRY LACE.
Offers invited for Light Comedy.
Address, 19, Parkfield-drive, Liscard.

MR. JAMES R. LA FANE.
Arrangements complete.
Address, 10, King-street, W.C.

MR. LOUIS LAVAL, Musical Director and Solo Pianist. Disengaged June 11. Midland Hotel Theatre, Manchester.

MR. LEWIS LESLIE,
Disengaged June 11, Autumn Offers Invited.
All communications to Theatre Royal, Bolton.

MR. D. LEWIN-MANNERING.
This week, Fagin, "Oliver Twist." Pastorals, Cambridge, June 12. 100, Earls' Court-rd., S.W.

MR. SYDNEY LEYTON,
7, Arundel-street,
Piccadilly, W.

MR. OSWALD LINGARD,
Disengaged.
Address, 10, St. Barnabas-terrace, Leicester.

MR. G. H. LIOT,
Disengaged.
8, Cornwall-street, St. George's-square, S.W.

MR. FRANK LISTER,
Disengaged. Offers invited for autumn.
47a, Bedford-road, Clapham, S.W.

MR. FRANK LISTON,
Disengaged Lead, Heavies, Stock, or Tour.
311, Kentish Town-road, N.W.

MR. and MRS. SAM LIVESEY,
"The Village Blacksmith" Co.,
60, King's-road, Kingston-on-Thames.

MR. FEWLASS LLEWELLYN,
Disengaged.
28, Chelverton-road, Putney.

MR. EDWARD LLOYD,
At Liberty Autumn.
Grand Theatre, Plymouth.

MR. and MRS. STUART LOMATH,
At Liberty, July 2, Lead and Character. June 11, Theatre Royal, Jarrow-on-Tyne.

MR. and MRS. WILLIAM LOWE,
Disengaged for Autumn and interim productions. Address, 7, Bridson-street, Liverpool.

MR. HENRY LUDLOW,
Disengaged, Offers Invited for Autumn.
Care of Canon Corfe, Truro.

MR. WILLIAM LUGG,
Lord Bellingham in "The Beauty of Bath."
Aldwych Theatre.

MR. and MRS. CHALMERS MACKEY.
Own Tour, "Wearin' o' the Green."
En route, or Ashdale, Poulton-le-Fylde, Lancs.

MR. and MRS. GEORGE MALLETT (Miss Stella Leigh), Disengaged, Joint or Single. 11, Disraeli-road, Putney, S.W.

MR. LESLIE MANTON,
at Lib., Old Men, Heavy, Char. Holly Villa, Hartington-rd., Southend.

MR. MAITLAND MARLER,
At Liberty.
Address, 18a, Hartswood-road, Wendell Park, W.

MR. PERCY MARSHALL,
"The Major's Double."
June 11, O. H., Cork.

MR. WALTER MAXWELL.
Address,
June 11, West Pier, Brighton.

MR. HENRY W. MAY.
All Kinds of Music Composed and Orchestrated. Pantomimes, &c. Add., C/o "The Era."

MR. BRIEN McCULLOUGH, at Lib.
Char., Comedy, with or without own dramas; Stock or Tour. 12, Elm-grove, Hammersmith, W.

MR. QUINTON McPHERSON,
Criterion Theatre,
Piccadilly.

MR. CHARLES MEDWIN,
at Liberty, Character, Comedy.
Address, 17, Brunswick-square, W.C.

MR. and MRS. ARTHUR MERVYN,
Juvenile Leading Business.
Offers invited for Autumn. Grand, Hull.

MR. BERTRAM MILLAR.
Address,
47, West 28th Street, New York City, U.S.A.

MR. J. ELLIS MILLER,
At Liberty shortly.
Concluding Fifth Year, G. T., Rawtenstall.

MR. GEORGE MILLER,
Disengaged.
Address, 409, Edgware-road, W.

MR. & MRS. G. MORETON-WILLIAMS
Offers Invited, Autumn.
T. R., Stratford, E.

MR. FRED MORGAN,
At Liberty June 18.
6, Ardville House, Rushcroft-road, Brixton.

MR. ARTHUR B. MURRAY,
Address,
Duke of York's Theatre.

MR. and MRS. KENYON MUSGRAVE
(Miss Barbara Fenn), at Liberty.
25, Park-mansions, Vauxhall Park, S.W.

MR. H. ADAIR NELSON,
Riversdale,
Lynmouth.

MR. JOHN NESBITT, Concluded Season's Engagement with Mr. Charles Frohman, in America. At Liberty. 10, King-st,. W.C.

MR. DAVID G. NOBLE,
Lead, or Heavy Lead. At Lib. June 11, on. Perm. add., 48, Agate-road, Hammersmith.

MR. ALFRED NORTHWAY,
Heavy Lead, "The Prodigal Parson."
June 11, Rotunda Theatre, Liverpool.

MR. & MRS. DRELINCOURT ODLUM
(Dorothy Carington), "Sweet and Twenty."
Disengaged 16th inst. June 11, Blackpool.

MR. NORMAN A. OVERTON,
Lead, "Man's Enemy," Theatre Royal, Stratford, E.

MR. GUS OXLEY,
Daly's Theatre,
W.

MR. LEONARD PAGDEN,
Re-engaged for Autumn, "Sunday," on June 18, Own Co., "The Idler," West Pier, Brighton.

MR. and MRS. ROBSON PAIGE
(Mabel Syringa). Disengaged.
Address, 10, Ospringe-road, N.W.

MR. POPE PAX,
Journalist and Dramatic Critic,
Address, 18, Trinity-road, Birmingham.

MR. FAITHFUL PEARCE,
Principal Tenor, Disengaged.
4, Gloucester-mansions, 99, Marylebone-rd., W.

MR. ASHTON PEARSE,
Disengaged.
Perm. add., 65, Redcliffe-road, S. Kensington.

MR. & MRS. WALTER PEMBERTON,
Disengaged now and Autumn.
Address, A. A., 10, King-street, W.C.

MR. F. PENNINGTON - GUSH,
Disengaged.
18, Bernard-street, W.C.

MR. and MRS. FRANK E. PETLEY
(Miss Gertrude Price), Leading Business, Disengaged. Address, 10, Oberstein-road, London.

MR. THOMAS P. PHILLIPS, General Business Manager, at Lib. for Resident or Summer and Autumn Tour. 8, Cathles-rd., Balham.

MR. W. SCOTT PHIPP,
General-Manager, Disengaged, through Misunderstanding Coms., c/o "The Era"

MR. HARRY PHYDORA,
June 11,
The London Music Hall, Shoreditch.

MR. WILLIAM PIMM,
Isaacs, "A Rogue's Daughter." Dis. June 16, Char., Com., Heavy, &c. G. T., Newcastle.

MR. FELIX PITT,
Disengaged June 18, until August.
172, Camberwell New-road, S.E.

MR. & MRS. FREDERICK POWELL, at Liberty now and Autumn. Address, 256, Penton-place, Kennington Park-road, S.E.

MR. RULE PYOTT,
Messrs. B. and F. Wheeler's Comedy Co.
Address, C/o Messrs. WHEELER, O. H., Cape Town.

MR. and MRS. SIDNEY RENNEF,
Disengaged. Saturday, T. R., Bournemouth. Sunday, 89, Jamaica-row, Birmingham.

MR. S. C. RICHARDSON, Musical Director. E. C. Hedmondt's "Queen Jester" Opera Co. Dis., Musical Comedy, &c. C/o "Era."

MR. W. E. RICHARDSON,
Disengaged.
Address, 133, Lavender-sweep, Lavender Hill, S.W.

MR. HARRY H. RIGNOLD,
Disengaged, Character, and Comedy, Stock or Sketches. 28, St. Paul's-rd., Kennington Park, S.E.

MR. WALTER L. RIGNOLD.
Stage-Management, Apollo Theatre, W.
Address, 34a, Aldis-street, Tooting, S.W.

MR. WALTER ROBERTS
Disengaged through termination of Tour.
2, Lancaster-road, Leytonstone, Essex.

MR. LEONARD ROBSON,
Note new Address,
44, Lamb's Conduit-street, W.C.

MR. G. STAPELTON ROCHE,
Light Comedy, &c. Disengaged for Autumn. Add., Belmeath, Upper Dorset-rd, Bexhill-on-Sea.

MR. BASSETT ROE,
At Liberty until September.
Address, 10, King-street, Covent Garden.

MR. STANLEY ROGERS,
Address all communications,
124, Warwick-road, Carlisle.

MR. HOWARD RUSSELL,
Re-engaged for Autumn by Arthur Collins, Esq. Dis. until then. 88a, Queen's-rd., Battersea.

MR. F. SANDY Concludes To-night with "A Modern Adventuress." Next, "At Duty's Call." Dis. June 17. T. R., S. Shields.

MR. and MRS. VERNON SANSBURY
(Miss Gladys Vernon), Dis. June 16. Lead and Ingénue, Joint or Separate. T. R., Smethwick.

MR. EUGENE SANTLEY,
Heavies, Old Men. At Liberty for Autumn.
2, Aliwal-rd, Clapham Junction, S.W.

MR. FREDERICK SARGENT,
At Liberty for Autumn.
Address, Pier Pavilion, Hastings.

MR. WILLIE SCOTT Concludes To-night with Miss Hildyard, Re-engaged Aut. Rehearsing, Lyric, H. Dis. 25th and Panto.

MR. ARCHIE SELWYN,
Disengaged, Juvenile, Light Comedy, or Boys' parts. 1, Claverton-street, S.W.; or, A.A.

MR. and MRS. CHARLES SEWELL
(Miss Sara Dudley). Juv., Light Comedy. Dis. 15, Connaught-road, West Ealing, W.

MR. EDWARD SIDNEY,
Comedy and Character. Disengaged. Add., 7, Finchley-road, Kennington-park, London, S.E.

MR. JAMES SKEA,
Character Actor. Dis. June 18. Summer and Autumn. Gaiety T., Burnley.

MR. A. GIFFORD STACEY,
Manager for Mr. Robert Courtneidge,
Apollo Theatre, W.

MR. FRANK STANLEY,
Address all Communications,
7, Chapel-street, Carlisle.

MR. E. STANTON - SHARP,
Disengaged.
Melrose, Marischal-road, Lee, S.E.

MR. W. R. STAVELEY,
Disengaged.
239, King's-road, Chelsea, S.W.

MR. and MRS. W. S. STEVENSON
(Miss Evelyn Robson). At Liberty few weeks, June 30. T.R., Ashton-under-Lyne.

MR. CHARLES STIRLING,
Lead. Heavies. Offers for abroad invited.
60, Wouldhave-street, South Shields.

MR. ERNEST ST. JOHN,
General Gordon, "At Duty's Call."
Theatre Royal, S. Shields. At Liberty June 16.

MR. GEORGE STONE,
Resident-Manager (Twelfth Year).
Royalty T. and Opera House, Barrow-in-Furness.

MR. STORY-GOFTON,
At Liberty, Recitals, Productions, Parts, &c.
Address, care of "The Era."

MR. WALLACE STRANACK,
Engaged by Mr. Chas. Macdona.
Dis., Summer. P. O. W. Theatre, Birmingham.

MR. AUGUSTIN SYMONDS, Dis. Com., Char. MISS KATE PARRY, Light Com., Juv. Coms. only, 57, Denbigh-street, S.W.

MR. TAPPING.
Address,
28, Leyland-road, Lee, S.E.

MR. and MRS. EDWARD THANE
(Louise Hampton),
New King's Theatre, Pitfield-street, Hoxton.

MR. FOWLER THATCHER,
Disengaged, June 30, Autumn and Xmas.
Address, 51, Bridge-rd, Hammersmith.

MR. ALLEN THOMAS, Dr. Maclure.
altogether delightful.—Manchester Courier,
Lib. shortly. 75, Marlborough-flats, Chelsea.

MR. and MRS. E. W. THOMAS
(Agnes Knights). The Attic, 38, Grafton-square, Clapham Common.

MR. WYLIE A. THOMPSON,
W. G., "Walker, London."
June 11, Pier Pavilion, Eastbourne.

MR. and MRS. WALTER THORNTON.
Arrangements Complete,
Address, 35, St. John's Park, Upper Holloway, N.

MR. GEORGE TRAILL,
Disengaged, Character Business, Comedy, or Old Men. Add., 47, College-place, Camden Town.

MR. A. W. TYRER,
Re-engaged by Messrs. Dauncey and Leveax for Autumn. 54, St. Maur-road, Fulham, S.W.

MR. and MRS. EDWARD VAN BIENE
(Kate Hallam), Gen. Mgt. and Star Lead, "Drama of Life" Co., Grand, Woolwich.

MR. RICHARD VANE,
At Liberty for Leading Business.
68, Nicolson-street, Edinburgh.

MR. and MRS. CHAS. B. VAUGHAN
Miss Miriam Lewes, New Theatre, W.
Mr. Vaughan, Criterion Theatre, W.

MR. PERCY H. VERNON,
Open to Offers, Autumn.
Grand Theatre, Llandudno.

MR. FREDERICK VICTOR,
Concluded tour "Elizabeth's Prisoner." Disengaged. Lead. 71, St. George's-road, S.E.

MR. and MRS. DOUGLAS VIGORS
(Lucy Beaumont), D. V., Disengaged June 25, and on. 8, Bridge-avenue, Hammersmith.

MR. A. E. WALKER,
Disengaged.
Address, 172, Kensington Park-rd., Bayswater, W.

MR. PERCY CARNE WARAM,
"Her Lost Self."
Alexandra Theatre, Hull.

MR. ALBERT WARD,
Lead. Disengaged for Autumn.
55, Doddington-grove, Kennington Park.

MR. HYLTON WARDE,
Messrs. B. & F. Wheeler's Comedy Co., South African Tour. Perm., 17, Doris-rd., Norwich, or A.A

MR. R. E. WARTON,
Disengaged. Stage or General Management, Productions. 142, Hampstead-road, N.W.

MR. FRANK WEATHERSBY
Theatrical Agency, 3, Bedford-street, Strand,
'Phone, 3781 Cen. Tel., "Frivolous, London."

MR. WYN WEAVER.
Permanent Address,
10, King-street, W.C.

MR. CHARLES WEIR,
Disengaged.
18, Regent Park-square, Glasgow.

MR. ALFRED WELLESLEY,
Disengaged shortly.
To-day, T. R., Dublin. June 11, King's, Glasgow.

MR. C. A. WHITE,
Concluded Mrs. R. Whytal's Tour. Dis. Com. Char. Park House, Harewood-rd., Merton, S.W.

MR. WILL WHITE, F.O.S.,
Touring "The New World."
P. O. W., Salford; next, Royal, Ashton.

MR. & MRS. TOWNSEND WHITLING
44, Union-grove,
Clapham, S.W.

MR. VICTOR WIDDICOMBE,
At Liberty.
June 11, Shakespeare Theatre, Clapham, S.W.

MR. HERBERT WILLIAMS,
Six Brothers Luck Company.
Palace, Manchester.

MR. LEONARD WILLIAMS,
Juvenile Lead, Dis. June 18 for few weeks. Term. of Tour. The Blorenge, Taunton, or A.A.

MR. BREMBER WILLS,
Charles IX., "Count Hannibal."
11th, T. R., Portsmouth.

MR. DICK WINSLOW, Manager, Hardie and Von Leer's No. 1 Co., "Two Little Vagabonds." Complete for Autumn.

MR. FRANK WITHERS,
Disengaged. Autumn Arrangements complete.
Address, 10, King-street, W.C.

MR. A. WOOD.
Address,
59, St. Mary's-road, Peckham, S.E.

MR. and MRS. GRAHAM WOODS
(Miss Marie Robson). Offers invited. Letters, 1a, Kender-st., New Cross, S.E.; to be forwarded.

MR. FREDERICK WRIGHT, Sen.,
At Liberty until Autumn.
Address, 67, Oxford-road, Gunnersbury, W.

MR. EDWIN H. WYNNE,
Comedy, Character, Musical Comedy.
Disengaged. 34, North-avenue, Kew Gardens.

MISCELLANEOUS.

APPLICATIONS FOR POSITIONS on the FRONT PAGE of "The Era" should be addressed to the PUBLISHER.

INSTRUCTORS.

MISS BATEMAN (Mrs. CROWE).
Complete Training for the Stage, Constant Rehearsals, Fencing, Dancing. Resident Pupils. Full particulars, apply, by letter only, to MISS DOLLING, 88, PHILBEACH-GARDENS, S.W.

NEVILLE'S PRIVATE DRAMATIC STUDIO, 524, OXFORD-STREET, W.—Patrons:—Sir Charles Wyndham, H. Beerbohm Tree, Esq.; E. S. Willard, Esq.; Cyril Maude, Esq.; F. Harrison, Esq.; &c. Established by, and under the Personal Supervision of, Mr. HENRY NEVILLE. Thorough Practical Instruction for the Stage, Voice Production, Elocution, Gesture, and Performances. Lessons in Studio Theatre. Introduction to Profession.
Address, The Principal, Mr. G. R. Foss.

THE BEN GREET ACADEMY OF ACTING.—Pupils of ability started in the Profession. Shakespearean and Modern Plays systematically Rehearsed on the Stage of the Studio. Prospectus, terms, SECRETARY, 3, Bedford-st., Strand.

MRS. S. BRERETON DOUGLASS (of the St. James's, Garrick, Drury Lane Theatres, &c.), Professor of Elocution, Department, and Acting PATRON, MRS. KENDAL. Address, 30, PARK VILLAGE, EAST, GLOUCESTER GATE, N.W., and at 125, OXFORD STREET, W.

MADAME KATE FLINN, Professor of Singing. Voice Production and Style a Speciality. All Pupils Successful. Madame KATE FLINN Receives Pupils (Ladies and Gentlemen) at her Residence, 57, GREAT MARLBOROUGH-STREET, W. Personal Interview Free on written application.

MISS EDITH GIBBS
TEACHES PERFECT BREATHING, TONE PRODUCTION, SINGING, ELOCUTION, Coaches for the Stage, Parliament, Public Speaking, &c. STUDIO, 60, BERNERS-STREEET, W.

MADAME KATTI LANNER,
Founder of the National Training School for Dancing. Tuition in Stage Dancing in Class or Private Lessons.
Apply, in the first instance, by letter to No. 40, NORTH-SIDE, CLAPHAM-COM., S.W.

MADAME PHASEY'S
ANGLO-ITALIAN SCHOOL OF DANCING, Ballets, Troupes, &c.
Dances Old and New Taught.
156, WESTMINSTER BRIDGE-ROAD, S.E.

VOICE PRODUCTION.—MR. PHILIP ASHBROOKE receives Pupils at his Studio. Special attention given to Breathing and Diction. Moderate terms to Professionals. Apply by letter to 177, Knightsbridge, S.W.

MDLLE. FRANCESCA ZANFRETTA, from the Empire Theatre, Leicester-square, is Opening an Academy for Instructing Pupils in Italian Ballet Dancing, Gesture, Deportment. Mdlle. Zanfretta feels confident that her experience as a Pantomimist and Dancer will be found of Value to Both Professional and Amateur.
All Communications to MDLLE. FRANCESCA ZANFRETTA,
1, Ridgmount-gardens, Gower-street, W.C.

MADAME SISMONDI (late of Denton's) gives LESSONS in all Kinds of DANCING and STAGE DEPORTMENT, at 9, GREAT NEWPORT-ST., W.C. Private or Class Lessons and Speciality Dances arranged. Terms on application.

THE ERA ANNUAL, 1906.
"The Era" Annual (1s.) is, of course, issued by our premier theatrical journal, which, under the literary supervision of Mr. T. P. O'Connor, has recently improved an already strong position. The Annual is better than ever, and includes, besides details of all plays produced in London, the provinces, Paris, and Berlin, lists of all theatres and music halls in the United Kingdom, &c., many stories and sketches by and portraits of actors and actresses. It is a remarkable shillingsworth; useful and interesting to all playgoers and members of the profession alike.—Sunday Sun, Jan. 21, '06.

THE ERA ANNUAL, 1906.
"The Era" Annual is published from the offices of the old-established organ of the theatrical profession, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C. As usual, it is a carefully-compiled record of notable events of the year 1905. A pleasing feature is the selection of short stories, after recounting strange experiences, by "stars" of the dramatic and music-hall professions, these being in every case accompanied by photographs of the writers.—Newcastle Daily Journal, Jan. 27, 1906.

AUTUMN TOURS.

WE ARE NOW VERY BUSY CLEANING DRESSES FOR AUTUMN TOURS, but have plenty of room, and, like Oliver Twist, WE ASK FOR MORE.

We are also very busy Cleaning and Renovating Tableaux Curtains and Draperies from London and Country Theatres and Music Halls.

We still hold the field as Cleaners and Dyers to the Theatrical and Music Hall Professions. This fact is clearly proved by the unsolicited testimonials we are continually receiving.

Professional work takes precedence over all other orders.

By Special Arrangement
TOURING MANAGERS
can have their Wardrobes Cleaned between Show, when in or near London.

Delays are Dangerous
Start the approaching Autumn Tours with Dresses Looking Spick and Span.

CHEMICAL CLEANING & DYEING COMPANY,
ORIGINAL
THEATRICAL CLEANERS, AND DYERS.

'PHONE TO
T. HARRIS
To Come and See You Anywhere.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONIALS:

Daly's Theatre, Leicester-square, W.
4th June, 1906.

Dear Mr. Harris,
Please pardon my neglect in not writing before to thank you for the way you have done my cleaning. It is most beautifully done, and I am very pleased with it.
Kindly accept my sincere thanks.
Yours truly, F. FIELD.

17, Stanley-gardens, Willesden Green, N.W.
6th June, 1906.

Dear Mr. Harris,
Many thanks for the things returned yesterday, nicely cleaned, and to the time required. I am very pleased with them. With kind regards.
Sincerely yours, BLANCHE WOODFORD.

6, ARGYLL ST., REGENT ST., W.
Telegraphic Address, "CLEANING, LONDON."
'Phone, THREE-NINE-TWO-THREE GERRARD

Price 3s. 6d. Post Free 3s. 10d.
THE LAW OF COPYRIGHT
FOR ACTOR AND COMPOSER,
BY
ALBERT A. STRONG, LL.B. (Lond.).
Chapter I.
COPYRIGHT AS OPPOSED TO PERFORMING RIGHT.
Chapter II.
PERFORMING RIGHT.
Chapter III.
INFRINGEMENT AND REMEDIES.
Chapter IV.
MUSICAL COPYRIGHT.
Chapter V.
INTERNATIONAL AND COLONIAL COPYRIGHT.

"The Law of Copyright for Actor and Composer," by Albert A. Strong, LL.B., solicitor, author of "Dramatic and Musical Law" ("The Era" office), seems to be the one compendious and indispensable authority on the subject, as vexed as the "Bermoothes" and as tortuous as a Chancery suit, that has long been wanted. It is in every essential a text book for the perplexed layman, and no solicitor or barrister worth his salt ought to think of taking or appearing in "proceedings" without consulting its pages. It must suffice, after what has been said, to state little more than that the contents include five chapters, respectively named "Copyright as Opposed to Performing Right," "Performing Right," "Infringement and Remedies," "Musical Copyright," and "International and Colonial Copyright." The work, for all its precise authority, is not dry reading. The statutes, with the elucidatory notes, necessarily impose a task on the reader which takes some tackling, but they had to be there. The cases adduced, however, are full of interest. Certain of them might fitly find a place in the romance of copyright. There was the fight of Charles Reade with George Conquest over "It's Never Too Late to Mend," for instance, and the equally interesting conflict of Mr. J. A. Cave with Chatterton over "The Wandering Jew." The latter was a famous battle. Chatterton took it to the House of Lords, and was finally beaten, to the unspeakable relief of Mr. Cave, who is never weary of relating the story. Had the result been otherwise, it would have meant his ruin. I well remember meeting him on the day of his victory and "crashing a cup with him" in honour of the same. "The Law of Copyright" is dedicated to Mr. A. W. Pinero.—Sportsman.

Mr. A. A. Strong has published a book on "The Law of Copyright for Actor and Composer," which should be in the hands of everyone who is obliged to know about this perplexing subject. Dramatic copyright in England is in a particularly unsatisfactory state, and it is much to be hoped that ere long some more rational method of securing protection for a play may be devised than the slovenly and sometimes costly "production for copyright purposes," which is at present required.—St. James's Gazette.

Published at "The Era" Buildings,
5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.
EARLY TRAINS.

The Railway Companies are moving with the times, and are despatching many morning trains earlier than hitherto. This will enable subscribers and advertisers in the provincial towns to get copies of "The Era" in time for the breakfast table. Advertisers are requested to forward their advertisements in time to reach the office on Thursday.

Address:
THE PUBLISHER, The Era Buildings, 5, Tavistock Street, W.C.

PROVINCIAL THEATRICALS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.)

ABERDARE.—NEW THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. L. Andrews.—The boards here are occupied this week by Miss Edith Isabelle's company, in The Girl from the Halls. Mr. Chas. Ross is exceedingly good as the Rev. Twinkle; Mr. Geo. Elsworth is a capable Jack Weston; Mr. G. Fisher, as Hon. Richard Graham, is all that can be desired; Miss Connie Laurie, as Hon. Frederick Humphum, and Miss Edith Isabelle, as Janie, are throughout excellent, and keep the house in roars of laughter. Miss Frances Allen, as Minnie Weston, acts and sings with much credit; the part of Mrs. Twinkle is ably filled by Miss Helen Douglas; Miss Lily Ward, as Miss Edna June, also merits praise; and Miss Nellie Loft, as Penelope Ann, is worthy of special note. The Mascotte Trio of Lady Dancers also add greatly to the success of the piece.

ACCRINGTON.—PRINCESS THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. J. B. Ormerod; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. E. Barnes.—A Modern Adventuress is once more the holiday attraction here. In the title-rôle, Miss Kate Froude gives an excellent reading of a difficult part; Miss Alice Defoe is once more welcome as Vivette Delby; whilst Miss Ivy Chandos as Sally Hodges proves very acceptable; Mr. Leonard Aardale repeats his former success in his original part of Pietro Donelli; whilst Mr. Fred Sandy scores as Wallace Danton; Mr. Louis Edmonde does his best as Harry Delby; and Mr. A. G. Polson-Turner as the Detective, Beal, is convincing and painstaking; also excellent are Mr. Frank Orchard, Mr. Harry C. Rutland, Mr. Tom Avery, and Mr. H. M. Victor, and Mr. Leonard R. Montgomery gives a good comedy character study of the Yorkshireman, John Crompton.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. Willmot, Potter, Vandy, and Weisker.—The bill provided here this week includes Flora Lumière's Fairy Grotto, where she introduces her attractive fire dances; Cullen and Carthy are amusing comedians; Akbar is good on the silver rings; Billy Burns, the singing pit lad, is well received; Bennett and Martell are funny in their nautical absurdity, The Shipwreckers; J. C. Aitken is amusing; Hector and Paulus are clever comedy acrobats; the Bioscope completes the programme.

ALDERSHOT.—ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Clarence Sounes; Resident-Manager, Mr. Geo. E. Williams.—A good holiday bill of fare is being rewarded by full houses, Mr. Charles Carey's company giving a capital interpretation of After the Ball. Miss M. Sadie, who has been here on other occasions, finds ample scope in the rôle of Nancy to exercise the many gifts she undoubtedly possesses. Mr. Roy Sydney's is a clever conception of Halliwell Menit; as Martin, Mr. Buckstone Clair's humour causes him to become a favourite; Mr. Chas. Carey is powerful and effective as the dyspeptic Colonel; and Mr. Norman Bowyer plays the fop, Dick Seymour, with effect. Miss Nellie Groves has a winning manner as Nellie, and she sings effectively. Miss May Florence sings and acts with grace as Ruth; whilst Miss Nellie James's Kitty proves her of more than ordinary ability. The chorus of Gibson Girls and Waitresses also help to make the comedy a success.

ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Owner and Manager, Mr. Chas. Revill; Acting-Manager, Mr. Armstrong Fairbairn.—The drama being presented here for Whitsun week at the Theatre Royal is When Woman Hates. Miss Mabel Mannering as Cora Daintry is sufficiently fascinating in face and figure; Mr. Millar Anderson as Godfrey Lawton, the male scoundrel, cool, callous, and determined; Mr. Jarrold Heather is the hero and Miss Maud Townsend the heroine, and the characters are both well acted. Mr. Chas. Herberte sustains with effect the part of a retired army general; and Mr. J. G. Maine is good as a cool specimen of the successful Yankee. Humour finds ample outlet in the comic acting of Mr. Frank Litchfield as an Irish policeman. Miss Gladys Lloyd plays with much tenderness the young person who has taken a false step and repented of it; Miss Violet Leal is good as the child.

EMPIRE HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. W. H. Broadhead and Sons; Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. Percy B. Broadhead; Resident Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Leech.—Lockhart's elephants are a big attraction here this week. Silent Tait pleases very much by his quaint style; the Four Hearnes combine exceedingly clever acrobatic work with humour; the musical sketch, Jack Sheppard, of Theo. Jones and colleague, is very tuneful and taking; Harry Marlow and May Manton introduce a novel sketch, Other People's Babies; Leo Trainor, in feminine garb, cracks jokes and gives a musical medley in good style; Sheila McNeil, a Scotch comedienne, is appreciated; the Dainton Girls sing a gipsy song very prettily; the Wedburns, in quaint make-up, joke well, sing well, and play the clarionet in capable style; and Bioscope pictures conclude the programme.

ATTERCLIFFE.—THEATRE ROYAL, LIMITED.—Managing-Director, Mr. F. Macnaghten; Resident-Manager, Mr. G. H. Beagle.—The Whitsun holiday attraction here was furnished by Miss Blanche St. Albans and Mr. J. Lester Jackson's company in the interesting drama, Her One Great Sin. An excellent interpretation of the hero, Reuben Warhurst, is given by Mr. Sam Arthur; villainy finds a vigorous and convincing exponent in Mr. C. Quinton Fulford, who, as Arnold Thornhill, plays with telling effect; Mr. Charles E. Lambert is good in the character part of Dan Hundle; Mr. Sam Roberts is praiseworthy as Jack Hundle; Mr. Fred Hodson as Jerry Jumble introduces the necessary comedy business, ably assisted by Miss Nellie Lambert as Nancy Wimpenny; as Grace Warhurst, Miss Lydia Donovan plays with care and finish, and proves herself a capable actress; Miss Louie Walton does well as Bet Hundle; Miss Phyllis Damien as Charlie, a flower-seller; and Miss Maudie Lambert as Little Gracie are to be commended. The general management of the company is in the experienced hands of Mr. Sam Arthur.

PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Lacy Lyne; Assistant-Manager, Mr. J. Gibbons.—Typical holiday crowds packed this popular house on Monday. Mr. Max Sterling presents several of Maskelyne and Devant's mysteries, including the magic kettle and the Burmese gong; Vosper, facial mimic, is clever in his impersonations of celebrities; Sandes and Vincent (lady and gentleman) cause much mirth in a grotesque comedy act; Mr. E. C. Clayton's pictures by the Attergraph are as acceptable as ever; Miss Flo Melville, comedienne, is well received; Kavados is smart as juggler, equilibrist, and cannon-ball performer; Mr. Will Letters is an acceptable comedian; and the Ringling Trio are responsible for a good turn as comedy acrobats, and introduce a cake-walk on stilts.

BARROW-IN-FURNESS.—ROYALTY THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Hugh Robertson; Resident-Manager, Mr. Geo. Stone.—Mr. Frank Ayrton's company, with The Power of Gold, is here this week. Mr. Chas. Whitlock's impersonation of the Malay doctor, Hadji Zambra, is really capital; Mr. Frank Holyoake's Dr. Stephen Saunders is a very natural characterisation; Mr. Richard Oliver, as Paul Judson; and Miss Georgina V. France, as Meg Judson, are particularly good in their respective parts. Miss Lilla Wilde is a clever actress, and portrays the part of Lady Brandon in powerful style; Mr. Frank Ayrton, as Sammy Smudge, is the life and soul of the piece, and he is very ably supported by Mr. W. Victor as Peter Maguire and Mr. Wilson Wyte as Marc Anthony.

HIS MAJESTY'S THEATRE.—Lessees and Managers, Mr. and Mrs. Calvert Routledge.—The attraction here for the holiday week is Miss Hetty Jeffries' company in The Curate. Mr. Arthur Mervyn embodies the title-rôle in manly style. As Gilbert Westwood, Mr. Whitmore Ledger displays some clever acting; Miss Rosa Mervyn is sweet and pleasing as Mabel Verner; and the remainder of the cast is in excellent hands.

TIVOLI.—Sole Lessee and Manager, Signor Pepi.—Fishing, by Harry Tate and company, is at the top of the bill here this week, and keeps the audience in roars of laughter; Les Bollingers give a unique performance with their pictures in rags; Master Ralph More is a young vocalist of great promise; Larry Lewis is very quaint, and was well received; Fred Reeves gives a refined entertainment; the Lorrisons, eccentric comedians, are an excellent turn; and Mabel Hind is a comedienne with a pleasing style.

BATH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Egbert Lewis; Acting-Manager, Mr. Lewis A. Long.—For the Whitsuntide holidays the management arranged with Mr. Chas. Harrington to stage the naval play, The Sailors of the King. Mr. Harrington himself enacts Admiral Drake with conviction and success. That well-versed melodramatic actress Miss Maude Digby gives a graphic impersonation of the unscrupulous housekeeper, Rebecca Crosby, her foil and associate in crime, Orrel Drake, being unflinchingly portrayed by Mr. F. Vernon Travers. Mr. Harry Douglas, as Dick Drake, makes a fine hero, whose sweetheart, Felicia Phrynne, has in Miss Sylvia Stella a pleasing exponent. Mr. Walter Farnsworth undertakes Rufford Dent, and Mr. Fred Owen plays the money-lending Jew, Harris Wilkinstein. The comedy element is greatly to the fore, with Mr. Kenneth Black, jun., as Barnet Fair; he gets able assistance in fun-making from Miss Hero Hathaway, as the Quakeress, Penelope Penn; Miss Gertrude Sterroll sustains the betrayed Daisy Dent in a clever manner. Others in a long cast that do well are Mr. Charles Trevlayne (Captain Cancardine) and Mr. Richard Cowell (Bige). A marked feature is the effective scenery, painted by Mr. E. Egerton. After tonight (Saturday) the theatre remains closed for the usual summer vacation.

PALACE THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. Chas. Schubert.—The holiday programme here includes the musical comedy favourite, W. H. Rawlins, who, associated with another popular comedian, Lionel Victor, and two ladies, appear in the farcical sketch, Mashing the Missus, with great success. An old-fashioned pantomimic absurdity, Hands Up, gives the Pender Troupe every chance to show their cleverness as acrobatic and knockabout comedians. They are also responsible for a laughable turn, entitled the Continental Stilt Walkers, quite a novelty, and very funny. The clear, ringing voice of Grace Merton, the original street singer, is greatly appreciated. Lily Sharplin mimics "stars" with even greater success than before, and also forms one of the Paragon Trio of vocalists, whose harmonious efforts are justly acclaimed. Will Lytton, comedian, appears. Raymond's Bio-Tableaux are always worth staying for. The theatre now closes for the vacation.

SYDNEY GARDENS.—On Whit Monday Mr. T. R. Gannon gave his usual fête and gala, and, being fortunate in the weather, scored a big success. On Tuesday Mr. Sidney Leighton's Royal Bohemian Players commenced a series of entertainments, which are to be continued through the summer. The latest songs of the day and amusing sketches are given by the clever performers, and an enjoyable programme is always assured.

BEDFORD.—THE ROYAL COUNTY THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. E. Graham-Falcon; Acting-Manager, Mr. Walter R. Wilson.—This week the boards are occupied by Mr. Walter Maxwell's company in J. M. Barrie's comedy Little Mary. Mr. Ben Field makes an excellent Earl of Carlton, and Mr. Arthur Kightley is a clever exponent of the rôle of Lord Rolfe. Mr. Lewis Edgard satisfactorily depicts the character of the Earl of Plumleigh; Mr. Gerald Malvern as Sir Jennings Pyke leaves nothing to be desired; Mr. Herbert Chown admirably renders the part of Dr. Topping; Miss Elspeth Dudgeon cleverly impersonates the Countess of Plumleigh; and Miss Christina Silver proves quite a success as Moira Loney. Miss Margaret Nybloc and Miss Madge Murray do full justice to the parts of Lady Milly and Eleanor Gray respectively.

BELFAST.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Fred W. Warden; Acting-Manager, Mr. James M. McCann.—On Monday Mr. Andrew Moir's company (under the direction of Mr. F. Martin Morris) produced for the first time a farcical comedy in three acts, entitled The Major's Double, and a miniature grand opera, called The Gamester, composed by Aiulf Hjovard. Notices of both pieces will be found in another column.

PALACE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietors, Warden, Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. Fred W. Warden; General-Manager, Mr. J. de Frece; Resident-Manager, Mr. George Harris.—The star here is Tarro Myaki, styled "The Champion Wrestler of Japan," whose performance has created the utmost interest; Mr. Herbert Lloyd ("King of Diamonds") submits a novel act, and has been accorded a capital reception; and a fine equilibristic performance is submitted by the Troupe La Faille, their feats being really astonishing; the Forrest Combination produce, with the happiest results, their comedy-sketch, My Friend the Enemy, and the Six Palace Girls delight all with their capital songs and dances; Gold and Sterling, vocalists; Mr. George Collins, comedian; Mr. Robb Gilmore, comedian, and the Palace Pictures are also in the programme.

EMPIRE THEATRE OF VARIETIES, LTD.—General-Manager, Mr. Frank Allen; Acting-Manager, Mr. John A. Walker.—The leading attraction is provided by Miss Minnie Hunt, and Mr. Rhys Thomas, who appear to much advantage in their musical comedy-act, Her Birthday. Florence and Lilian play a number of musical instruments to perfection, and the feats of Mr. Paul Dow, styled "Dublin's Athletic Marvel," are certainly sensational; Palles and Cussick, two very droll comedians, create a fund of merriment with their songs and patter, and a big reception has been extended to Miss Gladys Movins, who sings coon songs so excellently, while her dancing is decidedly smart; Miss Belle Braham, pictorial songstress, takes well, and deservedly so; and also here are Celeste, baton manipulator; and the Bioscope in up-to-date pictures.

NEW ALHAMBRA THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—General-Manager, Mr. Henry T. Downs.—Wyndham and Walker top the bill, and have been most successful with their speciality-act, The Professor and His Pupil. The Five M.P.'s (Musical Palmers), in their speciality "Officers at Play," are afforded an opportunity of exhibiting their musical ability, and the Three Coopers delight all with their vocalism; the new pictures exhibited by the Bioscope are a vast attraction, and Kyoto is a wonderfully smart juggler. Also here are Miss Daisy Palmer, comedienne; Miss Ruby Dahl, with her wonderful mannikins; Miss May Geraldine, comedienne and dancer; Miss Minnie Fenton, Scotch comedienne, and Smiler Lee, comedian.

BILSTON.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. H. Battersby; Manageress, Miss Grace Battersby.—The attraction for Whit week is the drama Life's Sweetest Sins, played by Mr. T. Arthur Jones's company. Mr. Jones himself appears as the hero of the drama, Capt. Marston, and is a very capable actor; Miss Marie Daventry acts Doreen Rivers with her accustomed skill; the heavy part of Doctor Colbrooke has the excellent services of Mr. Oswald Douglas. In the comedy part of Bob Tanner, Mr. Edgar Morgan pleases greatly.

BIRKENHEAD.—NEW THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee, Mr. W. W. Kelly; Acting-Manager, Mr. Charles Pell.—A strong holiday attraction consists of Mr. Lingford Carson's company in The Drama of Life, a domestic drama of considerable interest. Mr. George M. Newall is prominent with a powerful rendering of Harry Beech, and scores heavily throughout the piece; and Mr. Edward M. Hamilton, in the unpopular rôle of Walter Beech, plays with commendable force and distinction; the eccentricities of Sir Dobson Wilde are amusingly illustrated by Mr. Harwood Roberts, and Mr. Edward Van Biene displays ability as the French adventurer, Count de Fol; Miss Kate Hallam wins general admiration by a careful and finished rendering of Sylvia Beech; Miss Florence French is well suited as Lady Jane Wilde; and Betty Black is carefully played by Miss Nellie Birchenough. Remaining parts in a somewhat lengthy cast are all adequately filled, and the production is very creditably staged.

ARGYLE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Manager, Mr. D. J. Clarke.—The Six Imrie Sisters in some clever club juggling, and Elton and Edwin, whose banjo playing is quite a revelation, are new appearances, and head an excellent combination; Mr. Jake Friedman, the one man opera, is on a welcome return visit, and scores heavily; Mr. David Pool is a competent ventriloquist; and Les Belles Americaines, accomplished lady vocalists and acrobatic dancers, are an acquisition; Miss Amy Russell, balladist, is a general favourite; and Mr. Bert Byrne, comedian, Burley and Burley, acrobatic comedians, and Miss Beatrice Lane, comedienne, are prominent members of the company. A good display by the Bioscope is an interesting feature.

BIRMINGHAM.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Tom B. Davis; Acting-Manager, Mr. Philip Rodway.—The Christian is repeating for Mr. Wentworth Croke's talented company the success of its former visit here last year. Miss Grace Chalmers again presents the varying phases of Glory Quayle in the most equable style; Mr. Frank Tennant impresses the crowded and enthusiastic audience with his fervent and manly impersonation of John Storm; Mr. T. Renaud Lockwood's polished and incisive style is capitally employed in the rôle of Lord Robert Ure; Mr. Stanley Radcliffe is an able representative of Father Lamplugh; and Messrs. Chas. E. Dering, Chas. Hill, Jackson Wilcox, Oswald Marshall, and the Misses Molly Hayden, Vashti Wellborne, and Lottie Chesterman act with discretion.

PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE. — Lessees, Messrs. Rodgers, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. J. F. Graham; Acting-Manager, Mr. Henry Johnston.—Public Opinion is here reflected in a highly successful and most entertaining fashion by Miss Emma Hutchison and company. Mr. George Giddens shines in his congenial, diverting, and original rôle of Horace Wibsey; Mr. William Hargreaves appears in his own experienced and clever manner as Mr. Mulley; Mr. George Mallett has his telling moments as Sir Babbington Mulley; Mr. Ernest Ruston acts with discerning emphasis as the gingery Spencer Traughton; and Messrs. Harold West and Templer Powell are extremely well suited as Pomfey and Kilgour respectively; Miss Emma Hutchison graces the rôle of Lady Diana with a dignified and fluent air, and Mesdames Muriel Johnstone, Mary Mallalieu and Alice Bennett are highly successful.

GRAND THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. J. W. Turner; Manager, Mr. Victor Turner.—The Three Musketeers is wisely retained in the holiday bill here, and with Mr. H. A. Saintsbury as the dashing d'Artagnan, supported by the capable stock company already favourably noticed, has proved an irresistible attraction.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE. — Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Lester Collingwood; Acting-Manager, Mr. Fred Bernardo.—Gipsy Jack is again delighting local admirers of this popular drama, and Mr. Henry Bedford in the title-rôle is the hero of the week. Mr. Bedford in his dramatic realisation is well supported. As May Harvey, Miss Bessie Bedford wins many admirers with her bright vivacious method; Miss Violet Alwyn fills the rôle of Dorothy Dexter with rare ability; Mr. Cecil B. Churton presents many clever qualities as the Curate; and the Skinners, father and son, have all the attributes of villainy as enacted by Messrs. W. H. Domoney and Alec Alexander; Mr. Sid Bedford exercises his fine comedy powers to good purpose as Joe Banks, and is well supported by Miss Jennie Risley as Jenny Huggins. The See-Saw of Life is played during the latter portion of the week.

METROPOLE THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Andrew Melville; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Hindle Taylor.—A Woman's Revenge is depicted in a highly effective manner here by Miss Winifred Chalmers's company. Mr. Henry L. Osmond receives an ovation for his fine, manly impersonation of Frank Drummond; Miss Winifred Chalmers wins much popularity for her finished acting as Mary Lonsdale; Mr. Alexander Haviland acts in an exceedingly clever way as Robert Overstone; Miss Phyllis Vaughan is realistic as the adventuress, Mabel Wentworth; Mr. Elmore Frith is prominent with a well-studied presentment of Jeptha Grimwade; and comedy of a truly diverting kind is supplied by Mr. Harry Cooke as Dick Chilton, prettily and cleverly supported by Miss Mabel Tremere as Lottie Bromley.

CARLTON THEATRE, SALTLEY.—Owner and Manager, Mr. Arthur Carlton; Resident-Manager, Mr. James Alexander.—A Gambler's Daughter, submitted here for the first time by Miss Adria Hill and Mr. Robert Ayrton's company, is meeting with a cordial reception. Miss Adria Hill displays artistic taste and ability in the dual rôle of mother and daughter, Mildred and Miriam Grant; and Mr. Robert Ayrton is in receipt of much applause and favour as the emigrant, Desmond O'Dare.

THEATRE ROYAL, ASTON.—Lessee, Mr. Charles Barnard; General-Manager, Mr. E. Hewitson; Acting-Manager, Mr. Frank Whittles.—For Life—and After, Mr. George R. Sims's new play, produced by Hardie and Von Leer's company, reached Birmingham on Monday, when it received a most favourable verdict. Miss Grace Heywood is seen to advantage as Marion Grey; Miss Muriel Dean invests the rôle of Dora Grey with the utmost refinement; Miss Emil Leslie comes in for much sympathy as Loo Hexham; and Miss Marion Fawcett as Jenny Huggett and Miss Evelyn Shaw as Mrs. Grimper do well. Mr. Vernon Sansbury plays powerfully and well as Richard Grey, Mr. Arthur E. Melbourne shows decided acumen as Gilbert O'Neill, Mr. Henry Hare cleverly doubles the rôles of the two Huggetts, and Messrs. E. K. Nelson and Chris Mason lend much support in their rôles.

BLACKBURN. — THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietor, Mr. Harry Yorke; Manager, Mr. Reginald C. Yorke.—This place of amusement will be closed from to-night (Saturday) for the usual summer vacation. For the concluding week of the season Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sugden have been presenting The Second Mrs. Tanqueray. It is almost three years ago since Mrs. Sugden was last in Blackburn, and on that occasion she scored a great success in this particular play, so that the warm welcome she has received from local playgoers was only to be expected. Mrs. Sugden has appeared in many parts, but in few has she surpassed her representation of the character of Paula in the Pineroic play. The rôle offers excellent opportunities for the emotional actress, and Mrs. Sugden gives of her best. Her acting reaches a very high plane, and her portrayal of the woman who attempts to reinstate herself in honourable society by means of her marriage, but whose wayward, ill-balanced nature overcomes her in the struggle has met with the fullest approval of her audience this week. Mr. Sugden appears in the part of Cayley Doummle, and is all that could be desired; while Mr. Wontner as Aubrey Tanqueray is also excellent.

PALACE THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. Will Murray.—A good holiday programme includes Barrington, who plays the piano in a variety of amusing ways; A Ba Be in her album of tableaux; Ernest Montefiore and company in a pretty playlet entitled The Little Colonel; Ross and Lewis in American comedy; Edie Gray and her white coons; and Ford and Barris.

PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. E. H. Page.—Napoleon the Great, a drama dealing with the life of the Emperor of the French, is drawing crowded houses at this theatre.

BLACKPOOL.—HER MAJESTY'S OPERA HOUSE.—General-Manager, Mr. J. R. Huddlestone. — The Whitsuntide attraction here is provided by Mr. George Musgrove's company, in The Prince of Pilsen. The title-rôle is admirably filled by Mr. Stuart Alexander. Mr. Edwin Adeler presents a clever study of Hans Wagner; Miss Ruby Verdi as Nellie Vagner; Miss Mildred Baker as Edith Adams; Miss Nellie Cozens as Mrs. Crocker; Miss Nell Emerald as Sidonie; Miss Clara Stanton as the Gibson Girl; and Mr. Alfred Selwyn as François, are also successful in their singing, dancing, and acting.

GRAND THEATRE.—Owner and Manager, Mr. T. Sergenson.—Florodora, as enacted by Mr. J. Bannister Howard's company, is exactly the right fare for the holiday-makers which throng the theatre nightly. Mr. Daly Cooper scores an immense success as Anthony Tweedlepunch; whilst Mr. S. White as Gilfain and Mr. B. Courtier Dutton as Frank Abercoed also sing and act well. A delightful Lady Holyrood is found in Miss Edith Houseley; and Miss Leonora Grieve makes a charming Dolores. The other parts are also in capable hands, and the chorus is strong and tuneful. The special dances introduced materially assist in the success of the play.

PALACE. — General-Manager, Mr. G. H. Harrop; Acting-Manager, Mr. Fred Waller.—The contributions to this week's programme are Phil Ray, Mlle. Nadje, equipoise artist; Tom E. Hughes, comedian; Rastus and Banks, American entertainers; Three Laurels, acrobats; Millie, vocalist; Ella Shields, American comedienne; Harris and Worth, comedians; the De Breans, in a Japanese entertainment; Charlie Pastor, comedian; and Vernon's Imperial Bioscope.

HIPPODROME.—Lessees, Messrs. Whitehead and Ramsden; General-Manager, Mr. T. P. Dulgnan.—An exceedingly attractive bill is set forth here this week, and the lessees are reaping the reward of their enterprise. Carter Livesey and Lilian Rosebery give great delight with their sketch, The Would-Be Actors; and Alf Gibson and J. W. Hall, comedians, are also favourites. Other good turns are supplied by Sisters Lytton, vocalists; Matt Wilkinson, in a sketch; Carl Lynn, animal mimic; Ernesto, juggler; Andre and Brenton, sketch artists; and Dick's Comedy Five.

BLYTH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Arthur C. Moody.—The Provincial Syndicate has presented for the first time here an interesting military melodrama, entitled The Prodigal Son. Chief honours fall to Mr. John S. Chamberlain, who as Larry McGehan keeps the audience highly amused. Mr. F. Dudley is well suited in the part of Sir John Fanshaw; Mr. W. A. Buckstone and Mr. J. P. McBride score as the two sons of Sir John; Mr. Guy Morville is a good representative of Bill Burke; Mr. John Bryce as Ralph Marsden gives a realistic portrayal; Miss Maud Weston, as Mary, Miss Marion Forrester, as Margaret Marsden, Miss Nellie Bedford, as Nellie Burke, and Miss Nellie de Lacy, as Dick, an outcast, are most successful.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietor, Mr. William Tudor.—For the Whitsun holidays Mr. Tudor has provided a strong attraction by presenting animated pictures of the Britt-Nelson fight; Kid Gwynn also appears, and gave a capital exhibition of ball-punching; attractive duets and charming dances are introduced by the Charnleys, who are recipients of much applause.

RIDLEY PARK.—Managers, The District Council.—The White Coons, organised by Messrs. George and Edwards, opened the summer season on Monday under most successful auspices, the weather being fine, and the alfresco entertainment was of a most enjoyable description.

BOLTON. — THEATRE ROYAL, LTD. — Managing-Director, Mr. J. F. Elliston.—A variety programme is submitted here this week consisting of the latest illusion, The Shrine of Ishtar, performed by the Chaldean Yogi Simbri; Agnese and Arthur Lynch with the latest American singing pictures; the Meymotts (Mr. Jack Meymott and Mrs. Ada Elliston Meymott), who appear in their highly-diverting musical duologue, "Semi-detached"; and the Imperial Bioscope.

GRAND THEATRE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. J. F. Elliston; Acting-Manager, Mr. Harry Kenyon.—The attractions here are Haley's Prize Juveniles, in their carnival scene; Miss Lottie de Abbey, charming impersonator; Charles Dillon, eccentric comedian; Jack Ross, double-voiced vocalist; Virto, assisted by his daughter, Irene, in a refined drawing-room musical act; Madoline Rees, comedienne; Woodhouse and Wells, patterers and dancers; Sid Bandon, character comedian; James and Lucy Allison, comedy duettists and dancers; Maud Rodney, descriptive vocalist; Driscoll and Beattie, in Major McPee, M.P.; and the Imperial Bioscope.

BOSCOMBE.—HIPPODROME.—Joint Proprietors, Messrs. Frederick Mouillot and Walter de Frece; General-Manager, Mr. J. de Frece; Resident-Manager, Mr. H. Ball.—A crowded house gathered on Whit Monday to witness the excellent holiday programme provided by the management of this house. Arthur Roberts in The Importance of being Another Man's Wife is the chief attraction, and is more popular than ever; Hess and Lisbon present an unique skating speciality, which is both clever and pleasing. A musical speciality by Volp and Volp is much enjoyed. Billy Tucker, champion ball-puncher; Andy Higginson, light comedian; Two Neros, comedy acrobats; and Billie Burford are other enjoyable items.

BRADFORD. — THEATRE ROYAL — Lessee, Mr. John Hart; General-Manager, Mr. T. F. Doyle; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Richardson. — Much interest is this week centred in the performance here of Ibsen's play The Pillars of Society, and Mr. Harold V. Neilson, who is supported by a fine company, is to be congratulated on his subtle and clever impersonation of the schemer, Consul Bernick; Miss Kitty Carew's Mrs. Bernick has the true ring of pathos and sympathy; Roy Lorraine is bright as the boy Olaf; Martha is played with tenderness by Miss Katharine M. Romsey; Mr. Lionel Atwill's Johan Tonnesen is a vigorous and manly effort; the idealistic Lona is a convincing performance by Miss Mary Raby; there is a delightful air of humour in Mr. W. Lemmon Warde's Hilmer Tonnesen, while the cynical Dr. Rorlund is a capable effort by Mr. Bellenden Clark; Mr. Murray Carrington as Krap and Mr. J. F. Fox as Aune are alike excellent; and as the high-souled Dina Dorf Miss Amy Sangster achieves success.

PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. Francis Laidler; Acting-Manager, Mr. N. Hepworth.—As a holiday attraction here Mrs. Kimberley's domestic melodrama A Sister's Sin is proving very successful, and the story of gipsy life is well told by a capable company, amongst whom Miss Augusta Tullock, in a telling rendering of Charzel, the vindictive gipsy, wins distinction. Miss M. Eversleigh is effective as her wronged sister; as Jack Miss Dorothea Vivian is good; Harold Raymond, the hero, has a capable exponent in Mr. William Vane; George Oakley is effective in Mr. Andrew Money's hands; and the other impersonations claiming notice are Larry Murphy (Mr. Horace Custins), Walter Hastings (Mr. C. Locke), Ikey Moses (Mr. E. Frere), and Theophilus Hope (Mr. H. Lyndon). The piece is effectively staged.

THE EMPIRE.—Moss' Empires, Ltd.—Resident-Manager, Mr. Percival Craig.—Dronza, the marvellous talking wax head, is perplexing the audiences here this week, and Frame, the delightful Scotch comedian, is paying a welcome return visit; D'Arc's Marionettes give lifelike impersonations of famous music-hall celebrities; in an original comedy turn Roberts, Hayes, and Roberts are eminently successful; Dora Lyric, comedienne, sings in pleasing style; Will English is responsible for a good coon turn; and Lios Alfa Sisters are clever in a trapeze performance. In his dramatic scena The Moan of Mephisto Edwin Barwick is excellent; the dancing of Forest and King is cleverly executed; and scenes from the eventful "Spanish Wedding," shown by the Bioscope, are interesting features of the programme.

PALACE THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Resident-Manager, Mr. H. C. Arnold, jun.—The agile and funny comedian, Nat Clifford, who heads the programme here, is eliciting hearty laughter. A dainty entertainment by Theresa and May, protean and vocal artists, also wins approbation; Les Laurens in their statuary poses are entertaining; George Grogie submits acceptable comedy; Carl Rosine presents a novel and clever hoop trick, and performs also some smart card manipulation; the Elgars are good vocal duettists; and George Bendon's coon songs are vigorously rendered. There is originality and humour in Florence Yamen's capital negro songs and dancing; and Raymond's Bio-Tableaux show some new and interesting films.

BRIDLINGTON.—ROYAL PRINCE'S PARADE. — Manager, Mr. Charles Palmer. — Herr Sigmund Winternitz and a largely augmented orchestra have been delighting the thousands of holiday-makers at this popular resort. The vocalists include Miss Lilian Payne, a pleasing contralto, and Mrs. Arthur Rousbey whose fine soprano voice gives great delight. Mr. Tom J. Morton and his concert party, "The Yokels," commenced their season here on Monday, in their entertainment, A Holiday at the Farmhouse; Miss Empsie Bowman, as the Shepherdess, is very dainty, and her songs are well rendered; the Margy of Miss Maggie Bowman is a clever character-sketch; Mr. Albert Chapman possesses a fine baritone voice, and as the Farmer is quite at home; the Giles of Mr. Tom J. Morton gives that versatile actor every opportunity of showing his ability as a "laughter-maker." Mr. Stanley Holt is an excellent solo-pianist and accompanist.

NEW SPA AND GARDENS.—Secretary and Manager, Mr. Henry Hague.—The genial and enterprising manager of the Spa has again secured Herr Simon Wurm and his Imperial Viennese Orchestra for the season, and they have submitted excellent programmes, afternoon and evening. The vocalists for the week are Miss Marie Westcott, contralto, and Mr. Hickman-Smith, baritone, and their songs and duets have been highly appreciated, both possessing good voices and a finished style. Mr. Sydney James and his "Strolling Players" are here once more, and are drawing large crowds to the capital entertainments; Miss Madeleine Rossiter is as charming as ever in her songs, and her dancing is remarkably smart; Miss Clarice May is an efficient soloist and accompanist; Mr. Gilbert Fernie's songs are well received; Mr. James Law is a versatile vocalist and entertainer, and Mr. Alfred Wootton sings tenor songs in a finished style; Mr. Stuart Janes is a genial humourist and mimic, and Mr. Sydney James, who is always well received, seems to never tire of responding to the demands of the delighted audiences at his quaint humour and clever ventriloquial sketches.

THE PALACE.—Manager, Mr. A. Hubner.—The new manager is determined to keep the ball rolling in his endeavours to please "the million," and has provided some novel attractions for the holidays, including Grace and Mai Gilbey, talented instrumentalists and entertainers; Salida and Vone in an amusing American speciality act; Lazy Larry, a quaint comedian, and Miss Lilian, a pleasing soprano vocalist; Franconi's juggling act is appreciated; Leonard and Larry's comedy turn is smart; and the Horbury Handbell Ringers give a fine exhibition of campanology. The Animated Pictures are an additional attraction.

SUMMER GARDENS.—Lessees, Messrs. Beanland, Bath, and Danton.—This popular resort on the seafront opened on Saturday for the season, when "The Waterloo Pierrots" commenced with a very attractive programme. Mr. Charles Beanland's songs are always humorous, and capitally rendered; Mr. Charles Danton, in song and dance, is always welcomed, and Mr. Joe Bath causes great amusement by his "funnisities"; Mr. Geogre Hyam is a popular comedian, and the other members of the company in songs, instrumental solos, and dances make up a clever combination of talent.

BRIGHTON.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. H. Cecil Beryl; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Harcourt M. Beryl.—Mr. Charles Macdona's company opened here on Monday with The Gay Parisienne. Miss Nellie Beryl made a pleasing Norah, and danced gracefully; Miss Nellie Hodson was a charming Julie Bon-Bon; Mr. Charles Macdona was very amusing as Major Forsdyke, the "Battersea Butterfly"; Mr. Will Harmer acted with alertness as the "Shining Light"; Mr. Clifford Seyler added to the fun as M. Pompier; Miss Holford Beringer was capitally suited as Mrs. Hongycombe; and the Imperial Glee Singers achieved much success. At Thursday's special matinée Madame Jane Hading and her entire Parisian company gave a performance of Le Maître de Forges.

GRAND THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Ernest Carpenter.—The drama, Shadows of a Great City, occupies the boards here this week, and is doing excellent business. Mr. Ronald Adair is a manly and highly popular Tom Cooper; Miss Daisy Halling acquits herself admirably as the heroine, Nellie Standish; Mr. Paul Barry-Lewers acts with convincing force as the villainous George Benson; Mr. Sam T. Pearce makes a capital Abe Nathans; Mr. Geo. H. Asquin's Jim Farren is highly commendable; and Miss Lucy Murray submits an excellent portrayal of Biddy Roonan. The remaining characters are ably sustained.

ALHAMBRA.—Managing-Director, Mr. J. L. Graydon; General-Manager, Mr. Ernest Lepard.—The holiday programme here is admirably sustained. George Newburn, the popular London mimic, is enthusiastically received; Russell Wallett, "the lady in black," submits a very entertaining turn; Dolly and Madge McCalla, dainty little artists, sing and dance themselves into great favour; Alice Digby and the four Digby girls are highly successful in their noved dancing act; Charles Kitts and Rhoda Windrum and company are very effective in their military sketch, The Cuckoo; Goodfellow and Gregson (George and Jennie) present an artistic turn, which includes some clever "cakewalk band provided a number of popular selections and music for dancing between the stage entertainments. The fine collection of animals, birds, and reptiles proved a great attraction to the holiday visitors, and the swings, shooting galleries, &c., in the country fair were well patronised. The day's amusements concluded with a fine display of fireworks by Messrs. W. and J. Wilder, of Birmingham.

BROMLEY.—LYRIC THEATRE.—Lessee, A. Carlton; Resident-Manager, H. Strong.—The holiday attraction is Mr. Loris Lorell's company in Sydney Grundy's play, A Bunch of Violets. Mr. Kingsford Pearce gives a capital impersonation of Sir Phillip Marchant; Lord Mount Sorrell is well played by Mr. Lynward Graham; an excellent character-study of Mark Murgatroyd is presented by Mr. Whitford Kane; the small character of Hon. Harold Inglis is adequately represented by Mr. Loris Lorell; another clever study is the Jacob Swartz of Mr. George Wallace; Mr. Frederick Castleman is good as Harker. A creditable performance of Lady Marchant is given by Miss Mabel Taylor; Mrs. Murgatroyd is well represented by Miss Wynne Hanley; Violet is prettily played by Miss Nannie Griffin; and Miss Nellie Griffin is an ideal maid.

BROUGHTON. — VICTORIA, LTD — Managing-Director and Licensee, Mr. James W. Haworth; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Fred Watson.—A pleasant entertainment is this week presented by Mr. Leigh Lovell's company in A Midsummer Night's Dream. Miss Mary Lovett as Hermia and Miss Octavia Kenmore as Helena are each excellent in their work; Oberon and Titania are cleverly played by Miss Alys Rees and Miss Gertrude Tate; Mr. Leigh Lovell is very droll as Bottom; roars of laughter are caused by Mr. W. Mann-Mayne as Peter Quince, Mr. Gordon R. Kingsley as Snug, Mr. Percy H. Vernon as Flute, Mr. Richard Marshall as Snout, and Mr. Max Jerome as Starveling. Lysander and Demetrius are respectively in the capable hands of Mr. T. A. Shannon and Mr. Francis Chamier; Miss Mary Bessie is a sprightly Puck, and the singing Fairy gives Miss Ethel Beckwith good opportunities, which she avails herself of, showing her trained vocalisation; Mr. Wilfred Beckwith as Theseus and Mr. A. McCulloch acquit themselves in excellent style.

BURTON-ON-TRENT. — NEW THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietors, Messrs. Bennett; Acting-Manager, Mr. John Waller.—The Bank Holiday attraction here is No Escape, by Mr. Coleman Davies' company. Mr. Thomas S. Cooke creditably sustains his dual rôle of father and son. Mr. Thornton Heath scores as the villain Horace Hardcastle; the veteran comedian, Mr. Coleman Davies, retains his popularity as Gripp O'Grady; Mr. Terry Davies shows marked ability as Vandyke-Collodion; the heroine is pathetically played by Miss Evelyn Clare, while the comic element is in the capable hands of Mr. W. V. Tulloch, Miss Eunice Udall, and Miss Nellie Austin.

BUXTON.—OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietors, The Buxton Gardens Co., Ltd.; Secretary and Manager, Mr. Arthur Willoughby.—A most popular attraction for the first three nights of Whit-week was Mr. James Welch and company in Dear Old Charley, by C. H. E. Brookfield. Mr. Welch has a part in the farce entirely suited to his method, and kept the house in a continual roar of laughter. Mr. Welch is fortunate in having so excellent a company to support him, including Mr. J. W. Deverell as Gabriel Peploe; Mr. Fred Lewis, who made the ever-mournful Thomas Dumphie a very amusing personage; Mr. George F. Tully, as the ever-present guest, Colonel Fishbourne (his father-in-law), and Mr. Leopold Profeit as an immaculate manservant Purkitt; Miss Helen Vicary admirably represented Mrs. Fishbourne, and Miss Estille Winwood was a most pleasing Agnes; Miss Ethel Hollingstead did well in the small part of Reeves.

CAMBRIDGE. — NEW THEATRE. — Managing-Director, Mr. H B. Redfern, J.P., D.L. — This week will see the end of the season here. On Monday and two following evenings Messrs. Fraser-Brunner and Gilbert Heron's company (by arrangement with Mr. Cyril Maude) played The Superior Miss Pellender. The comedy was admirably acted and staged, Miss Esther Belmore in the title-rôle being perfectly suited to the part. Miss Jessie Danvers was also very successful as Mrs. Pellman; Mr. Gilbert Heron played Mr. Tister in a convincing manner; Mr. Geo. Belmore as Noel was good; as were Miss Jessie Ramsey and Miss Alice Bowes in small parts. The comedy was preceded by Kit's Atonement, the characters being taken by Messrs. William Fraser-Brunner, Geo. Belmore, and W. H. Gainsford, and Miss Queenie Fraser-Brunner.

CANTERBURY.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessees, The Répertoire Theatre Association. — The attraction for this week at the Theatre Royal is Mr. Frank Weathersby's London company. On Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, Shall We Forgive Her? was presented for the first time to a Canterbury audience, and on each evening there were large and appreciative audiences. Mr. Cyril Austen Lee is excellent as the manly, muscular missionary; whilst Mr. Claude Agnew impersonates very creditably the somewhat unenviable rôle of Niel Garth. Mr. Frank Liston acts with marked ability, and gains the full sympathy of the audience in the part of Oliver West; Mr. Arthur Law Raynor, Mr. J. Edgar Stephenson, and Mr. Stanton Dawson are all good in their respective rôles of James Blake, Dr. McKerrow, and Jerry Blake; whilst Mr. Ernest W. Marsh capably sustains the rôle of the breezy young clerk, Reggie Walton. As Grace West Miss Frances Routledge does splendidly, appearing to especial advantage in the emotional phases of the part. As Johanna Lightfoot Miss Frances Ruttledge plays the character so well that she thoroughly fulfils her object of gaining general disapprobation; as Nellie West Miss Violet Agnew is successful in producing the necessary merriment; Miss Clara Nicholls' impersonation of James Stapleton's mother is a most capable one. For the last three nights of the week The New Magdalen (by arrangement with Mr. W. J. B. Mulholland) was billed for presentation by the same company.

CARDIFF.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Robert Redford.—The comic opera, Peggy Mochree, is being presented here this week by Mr Charles E. Hamilton's company. Miss Claudia Losell, in the rôle of Peggy, is delightfully piquant and captivating, her singing being much appreciated; the part of Molly is admirably undertaken by Miss Blanch Astley; Miss Madge Avery does exceedingly well as Moira Cafferty; and Mme. de la Coeur and Hon. Emily Pryor are effectively rendered by Miss Doris Kelvey and Miss Leila Gordon; Mr. Vernon Davidson is a clever and manly Barry Trevor; Mr. Ralph Lynn is exceptionally diverting as Sir Lawrence; Alexander M'Dougall is well portrayed by Mr. Milroy Cooper; the Michael of Mr. Edgar Ashwin is a piece of capital character-acting; Mr. John Morley is an excellent Sergeant Bampton, and Mr. Marc Macdermott acquits himself most creditably as Captain de la Coeur.

KING'S THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Samuel James; Acting-Manager, Mr. A. C. Duncan.—Mr. Samuel James has now taken over the command of this theatre, and on Monday night presented his own and Miss Mabel Lowe's company in the drama Lost in London. Miss Lowe impersonates Nellie Armroyd admirably, while Mr. Beresford Whitcomb gives a capital interpretation of Job Armroyd. The remaining parts are all very capably acted, the comedy element being extremely well represented.

EMPIRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll. —At the Empire Hackenschmidt, the famous wrestler, is a great attraction. Austin Rudd gains popularity with his latest songs and parodies; Cooke and Rothert give a typical "mix-up" of American comedy; George Ridgwell is a fine baritone, and gains much applause; and the Three Sisters Hayden are well received. The Phydoras, grotesque musicians; Ben Albert, "a dry old stick"; the Sisters Terry, comediennes and dancers; the Sisters Urma, in "Sports on the Trapeze," and the Bioscope complete the programme.

CARLISLE.—HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE.—Lessees, Trustees of R. Stewart M'Kim; Manager, Mr. Stanley Rogers; Acting-Manager, Mr. Frank Stanley.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clifford's company, in the military drama, On Circumstantial Evidence, is attracting good audiences here. Mr. Clifford in the heavy rôle is very successful; and Mrs. Clifford makes an ideal heroine. The comedy is supplied by Mr. Newton Pearce and Miss Amy Stuart, who, as the Sergeant and Maid, have ample opportunities of displaying their humour. Miss Hilda Hatton, too, in dual rôles, contributes an artistic performance; and "Chips," a cleverly trained dog, becomes quite a favourite.

ALGIE'S HIPPODROME.—Silvester's "Picture Land," is still here, and the continuous changes of pictures and the excellent variety turns provided continue to attract large audiences.

THE PALACE.—Proprietors, The Palace Theatre, Carlisle, Limited; Managing-Director, Signor Rino Pepi; Acting-Manager, Mr. A. E. Nicholls.—The management here provided a capital programme for the holiday week. Hardeen, the handcuff king, is a great attraction; J. A. Wilson, negro entertainer is deservedly popular, and his performing dog, "Private Towser," is correctly described as "wonderful"; a novel and pleasing turn is contributed by Francis Haskoll, the "vocal chameleon,"; Royal Best, in his impersonations of celebrities, Merton and Rydon in comedy duets, Dot Stanley, a charming comedienne, and George Barron, eccentric comedian, also meet with much favour. The ever-popular pictures conclude the performance.

CHATHAM. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Proprietors, Messrs. C. and L. B. Barnard; Acting-Manager, Mr. Lionel Barnard; Secretary, Mr. Geo. G. Ridley. —Mr. and Mrs. William Maclaren's company are here in Proof. The most noteworthy features of the production are the powerful representations of Mr. William Dexter, Mr. Gerald Kennedy, and Miss May Grimshaw, as Lazare, Pierre Lorance, and Valentine respectively.

BARNARD'S PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Sole Proprietor, Mr. L. B. Barnard.—Excellent business is being done here. Phillips and Terry are prime favourites in The Revolt of Man; Lillian Jeffries is a talented comedienne and sprightly dancer; The Burnells are a quartette of very hardworking and amusing comedians, and are seen in an absurdity On the Links. The company also includes Alf Cawthorne, comic vocalist and dancer; Lill O'Gorman, vocalist and dancer; Lacey's Erascope, with an entire change of films; The Isle Despair, a capitally-staged romantic sketch, in which Mr. Leonard Mortimer and company appear to much advantage.

GAIETY THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor Capt. H. E. Davis; Acting-Manager, Mr. F. J. Donne.—Miss Mabel Bright and company are producing a vocal mélange, Girls Will be Girls. The troupe consists of six young ladies, whose performance is very well received; Carlton scores with patter and smart card tricks; Sterling and Love's musical domestic squabble forms an entertaining item; and Katie Marsh shows much versatility in her original pot-pourri of drama, song, and dance. W. H. Downs, the well-known coloured vocalist; Ted Cowan, comedian; and Emmie Harlow, complete the variety turns, while the Edisonograph continues to find fresh views.

CHELTENHAM.—OPERA HOUSE.—General Manager, Mr. H. Oswald Redford.—Mr. F. S. Gilbert's United English Opera Company opened on Monday evening with Maritana, Miss Faith Laborde sustained the title-part in a pleasing manner; Mr. F. S. Gilbert was a spirited Don Cæsar de Bazan; Mr. J. Kneale Campbell as Don Jose gave a sympathetic rendering of "In happy moments"; Mr. H. Brindle was an effective King of Spain; Miss Vera Vizard ably sustained the part of Lazarillo, giving a fine rendering of "Alas, those chimes!"; and Miss Kate White, Mr. James Knox, Mr. Fred Featherstone, and Mr. H. Blagrave did well in their respective parts.

MONTPELLIER PAVILION.—Manager, Mr. Alfred W. Newton.—An excellent entertainment is provided this week by The Hollanders. Mr. Howard Cridland as Peter Snapps is the embodiment of fun; Mr. Leslie Gaze as Hans Brummell uses his excellent baritone voice to advantage; Mr. Hal Gaze as Villenn Marken sings taking coon songs; and Miss Ethel Staffley as Gurda Smidt, Miss Maude Aston as Tina Swartz, and Miss Bessie Cellayne as Gretchen Marken fill their parts with the utmost verve.

CHORLEY. — GRAND THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. G. T. Santé.—This week, which is the last of the season, Mr. Edwin Garth and his company, in the musical comedy McKenna's Flirtation, are paying a welcome return visit. Mr. Edwin Garth and Mr. Joe English, as Michael Ryan and Timothy McKenna respectively, are responsible for a considerable amount of fun; Mr. Wallace Childs is successful as Tim McKenna, jun.; and the part of Miss Mary Ellen Ryan has a graceful exponent in Miss Hettie Lind, who renders her vocal numbers charmingly.

COLCHESTER.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Proprietor, Mr. Charles Macdona; Resident-Manager, Mr. F. C. Upton.—Mr. Arthur St. John and his répertoire company are here this week with The Three Musketeers, The Taming of the Shrew, and Jane Shore, each play being allotted two nights. The first-mentioned was given on Monday, with Mr. St. John himself as D'Artagnan, a part that he played in a very happy vein. Mr. J. Allen was followed very closely in his rôle of the Duke of Buckingham, his delivery being most impressive; Mr. W. J. MacKersey made an able Cardinal Richelieu; and the Three Musketeers were worthily represented by Messrs. H. Douglas, Archie Grant, and Powell James. Mr. Walter Clarke was successful as Boniface; and amongst the ladies the most prominent were Miss Ida St. John as Lady de Winter, Miss L. Atkinson as Constance, and Miss Kitty Bennett as Anne of Austria. The fall of the curtain on Saturday night marks the close of the season at this house, the reopening of which will take place, as usual, on August Bank Holiday.

HIPPODROME.—Joint Proprietors, Messrs. Frederick Mouillot and Walter de Frece; Resident-Manager, Mr. George Alen.—The leading item this week is a smart little scene entitled The Willow Pattern Plate, in which the following ladies show to great advantage, viz., Miss Kitty Upton, Miss Marjorie Cecil, Miss V. Holland, Miss N. Holmes, and Miss L. Holmes. The Young Colossus and L'Homme Miniature, introduced by Mr. Ben de Frece in a witty little speech, form a most novel and interesting turn; Wal Phillips is an up-to-date patterer; and A. E. Clifford a popular vocalist. Ada Parker, being an old favourite, is deservedly applauded for her dainty dancing; and the bill is completed by Bert and Dora, comedy artists, and the bioscope.

CONSETT.—NEW THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. Hugh Robertson; Resident-Manager, Mr. Lloyd Clarance.—For the concluding week of the season Miss Brenda Leslie and her company of Popular Pierrots are occupying the boards here. The company consists of the following talented artists:—Ted Burton, comedian; Bert Rolfe, falsetto vocalist; Charles Bradford, comedian; Flemini, the one-legged marvel; Trixie Toole, serio and dancer; Brenda Leslie, descriptive vocalist; and the Comic Trio, in an acrobatic dance. A series of animated pictures completes a first-class programme.

CORK.—OPERA HOUSE.—Manager, Mr. John Horgan.—Mr. Allan Wilkie's dramatic company opened a week's engagement here on Monday with The Merchant of Venice. Miss Haidee Gunn as Portia gave a charming and finished performance; the Shylock of Mr. Allan Wilkie was a careful and interesting study; Mr. George T. Greig as Antonio was most successful; Mr. Clifford Rean as Bassanio ably sustained the part; Mr. G. Lambton filled the rôle of Gratiano with distinction; Miss Ine Cameron as Jessica acted with grace and charm; and Miss Lizzie Maddocks was capable as Nerissa. Othello, The Lady of Lyons, The Corsican Brothers, Robert Macaire, The Fool's Revenge, and The Two Orphan Girls are also in the company's répertoire.

COVENTRY.—OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietor, Mr. Wm. Bennett.—The drama A Heart's Desire, by Frank Adair, produced by a powerful company under the direction of Messrs. Travers Green and Arthur Hinton, is proving quite a success here. Mr. Arthur Hinton is highly capable as Lord St. Ives; Mr. Travers Green makes a capital villain as Luke Forrest; Mr. Frank Brunell is seen to advantage as Davis McCullock; and Mr. Pleons Gains is a typical Butler Coombs. The Hon. Bertie Beresford and Gwendoline Ross, in the hands of Mr. Fred Tenaur and Miss Lydia Audre respectively, are responsible for the humorous side of the piece; Miss Leila Lilwood merits all the praise she gets for the admirable manner in which she enacts the rôle of Olya.

THE HIPPODROME.—Manager, Mr. T. M. Sylvester. —An attractive programme has been arranged to meet the holiday-makers this week. Wal Pink's company appears in a laughable interlude entitled Repairs, which is cleverly played by some smart people and enjoyed by everyone. Miss Sable Fern's songs are well rendered; Johnny Dwyer, comedian, is quite a favourite; Arthur Elvy, as the "Up-to-Date Tipster," quite catches on; and Miss Mabelle May, comedienne; Mlle. Viviani, speciality dancer; Dale and O'Malley, knockabouts; and the usual animated pictures are among the other attractions.

CRADLEY HEATH.—EMPIRE THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Jno. H. Morton.—Mr. John Power's company is here in Man's Enemy. Mr. Norman A. Overton gives a powerful presentation of Harry Stanton, whose father, General Sir Arthur Stanton, is ably impersonated by Mr. Edgar Thorne. Mr. John Power himself takes the part of Tom Drake, and wins well-earned applause. Miss Clara Reid is responsible for the rôle of Polly Harris; and Miss Daisy Halling is entrusted with the part of Sarah Drake; both ladies act with grace and feeling. Mr. A. Dennemead makes a dignified Fred Lisle; and Mr. F. Newton Cowling is well placed as Issac Barnett. Count Lanski is a part ably acted by Mr. Harold White; and Mr. E. W. Bretton gives a pleasing embodiment of Bill Sanders. Mr. Alfred Minns as P.C. Smithers, and Mr. G. Porteous as Adolphe D'Embonpoint, fully justify their selection. Mr. Bernard Wise as Overseer of the Works, deserves mention; as also do Mr. Fred Ross as Johnny Bates, Miss Lynn Darlington as Grace Lisle, and Little Florrie Sorsby as Nelly Saunders.

CREWE.—LYCEUM THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Henry Taylor.—Mr. Morton Powell's company in Darkness, a play in four acts founded on Guy Thorne's book "When It Was Dark," is proving a great attraction here this week. Mr. Bonhote Wilson is very effective as Constantine Schwabe; Mr. John Davidson is prominent as the Rev. Basil Gortre; Mr. Henry Heller acts well the part of the Rev. Mr. Byars; and Mr. Edward Valentine is good as Sir Robert Llewellyn. Miss V. St. Lawrence as Gertrude Hunt creates an excellent impression; and Mrs. Morton Powell gives a careful rendering of Helena Byars. Miss Nellie Freeland, Mr. Louis Lingard, Mr. Frank Etheridge, and Mr. Millor Wilson adequately present other parts.

CROYDON. — GRAND THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. Lawson Lambert.—Mr. Fred Winn's company in Niobe is the holiday attraction here. Mr. Harry Paulton submits a quaint rendering of Peter Amos Dunn, and he is ably seconded by Miss Annie Esmond, whose portrayal of Niobe is in every way a success. Mr. J. Edward Pearce is well placed as Cornelius Griffen; Mr. Harry Paulton, jun., hits off to a nicety the rôle of Philip Innings; Mr. Fred Thompson is seen to advantage as Hamilton Tomkins; and Mr. George Farrow is agreeable as Parker Sillocks. Miss Lucie Verrier is good in the part of Beatrice Sillocks; Miss Lillian Brennan shines as Madeline Mifton; Miss Violet Hollom is praiseworthy as Hattie Griffen; Miss Kate Turner wins approbation as Caroline Dunn; Miss Mary Kilpack is a pleasant Helen Griffen; and Miss Alicia Jones deserves a word of praise as Mary. Mr. Lawson Lambert is an energetic manager.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Samuel James; Acting-Manager, Mr. Charles Herrick.—For Whitsun we have Miss Grace Warner's company in The Scarlet Clue. Mr. George Gordon powerfully represents the rôle of Michael Stanton; Mr. J. Leighton Leigh is commendable in the dual characters of Harry and Jack Esmond; Mr. J. Campling is well suited as Jack Croker; Mr. Victor T. Raymond is excellent as Billy the Rotter; and Mr. J. Tomlinson is good as Crazy Jim. Miss Nellie and Little Phillis Massey are intelligent in the parts of Polly and Reggie; Miss Lizzie Palmer is charming as Elsie Dane; Miss Kathleen Cranston is natural as Mother Scrooge; Miss Fanny Olive is praiseworthy as Tabitha Esmond; and Misses Mowbray and Esther Dean are appropriate as Mary Smith and Musette. Miss Grace Warner may be warmly congratulated upon her histrionic abilities as Sal Scarlet.

EMPIRE PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor, Mr. Walter Gibbons; Manager, Mr. Eustace H. Jay.—Mr. R. A. Roberts brings down the house with his clever rendering of six quick-change characters in Dick Turpin; the Ten Loonies keep the audience agog with merriment in their instrumental eccentric act, Dotty; Calile and Walker, comedy duologue artists, are well up to their business; Mlle. Roza's marvellous canine hippodrome is appreciated; Fred Cullane's comedy trio in The Ladies' School would be hard to beat; and Daisy Jerome, comedienne, is brisk and racy. Acceptable items are also given by Frank Gee, burlesque comedian; Ada Martine, comedienne and dancer; and the Three Careys, Australian comedy artists.

DARLINGTON.—THEATRE ROYAL AND HIPPODROME.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. James Bell.—Messrs. Paumier and Howard's company is here with the well-known drama, Under the Russian Flag. Mr. Jack Haddon (a favourite actor here) plays the part of Captain Demetrius, and thoroughly pleases the audience; Mr. G. Herbert as General Romanoff is a typical Russian officer; Mr. Bernard Mervyn scores in the heavy part, Michal; Mr. C. Melton as the hero wins the sympathy of the audience; Miss Marie Rayner as Luka Marischia gives an excellent embodiment of a difficult part; Miss Agnes Howard in the light comedy part is very chic; Miss Elaine Vanbrugh is charming in the rôle of Vera Vassiloff.

DEAL.—ODDFELLOWS' HALL.—Mr. Albert Chevalier and company appeared here on Monday and Tuesday evenings. Mr. Chevalier sang some of his well-known songs in his usual effective style; Miss Ethel Walker gave her musical entertainment, and became quite a favourite with the audience; Mr. Alfred West was the accompanist, and the entertainment was brought to a finish with a sketch entitled The Goose With the Golden Eggs

DERBY.—GRAND THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE.—Sole Proprietor and General Manager, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; Acting-Manager, Mr. Charles Denley; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Albert Orton.—There is a continuation of melodrama here this week. Mr. Geoffrey Fulton's company occupy the boards with The Poor Must Live. Miss Olive Fulton gives a careful and effective study of Olga D'Eyncourt; and Mr. Walle Spinner as Clifton Manville affords powerful assistance. The Earl of Marswood is well played by Mr. Charles O'Connor; and Mr. Harold C. Macartney acts with success Captain Dick Harding in the prologue, and Donald in the play. Mr. Arthur Trail is capital as Sam Sully, and Miss Violet Hammersley praiseworthy as the Countess of Marswood in the prologue, and Dorothy Murdock in the play. Another successful study is that by Miss Marguerite Thorne of Sal Darling; and Miss Alice Buckland as Moya Darling is all that can be desired. Excellent diversion is provided by Mr. Herbert Clifton as Dick Sully, who varies the proceedings with some capital songs, and Mr. Shann Glenville, who plays Hooker, and sings with credit several comic songs.

PALACE.—Lessee and General-Manager, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; Assistant-Manager, Mr. H. Taylor.—This week the bill is headed by the Royal Tokio Troupe of Japanese performers and equilibrists. This turn is remarkably clever, and is accorded a hearty reception. Another very acceptable item is that of Alma Obrey, a pleasing burlesque actress, who makes the most of her opportunities. The Four Jumels, refined musicians, are eminently successful; the Brady Johnson company appears in a diverting sketch, entitled Turning the Tables; Chris Masters is an entertaining comedian; and the efforts of Jimmy James, a clever banjoist and bone soloist, are duly recognised. Bob Baxter, comedian, also causes much merriment; and the Palace Bioscope is responsible for a realistic film of the San Francisco earthquake.

DEVONPORT.—METROPOLE.—Owners, Carltons, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. J. Higson.—The Prince of Rogues is here this week. Mr. H. C. Hunt makes an admirable hero as Frank Farrell; Mr. Geoffrey Rammell as the scheming villain George Flint receives material assistance from Miss Madge Laverton as Rita Congreave.

DONCASTER.—NEW GRAND THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. J. W. Chapman.—The Span of Life has proved sufficiently attractive to the Whitsun holiday-makers here. Mr. Sanderson Moffatt is a breezy Richard Blunt, and Mr. S. R. Trelawney is good as Dunstan Leech; Mr. Walter Dale is a vigorous Nutty Brown, and Miss Mary Moffatt is a pretty Cecil Blunt; Miss Kitty Russell, with songs, does well as Shrove Tuesday; and Miss Phyllis Hamilton ably portrays Kate Heathcote; a pleasing variety turn comes from the Almo Trio, who also constitute the human bridge.

DOVER. — THEATRE ROYAL, LTD. — Chairman of Directors, Mr. B. Carter; Managing-Director, Mr. Fred C. Dew.—Hearty and prolonged applause greeted Mr. Norman Macowan and his company on their second appearance in Dover with the costume play Monsieur Beaucaire. There was a crowded house on Monday, and the romantic incidents of the play were followed with deep attention. Mr. Macowan played the title-rôle with the perfection of skill and grace of manner that has won him popularity; and the natural charm and assumed dignity of Miss Marguerite Cellier made her impersonation of Lady Mary Carlisle wholly delightful. Unqualified approval must be given Mr. Murray Hathorn for his clever performance as the Duke of Winterset, his ally, Captain Badger, finding an excellent exponent in Mr. P. Ramsey Forman. A handsome and gallant portrayer of Major Molyneaux is found in Mr. Arthur Somers; a striking and characteristic portrait of Beau Nash is contributed by Mr. Leonard Lawrence; Mr. Conyboare Gough a capable Rakell; and Mr. Franc Stoney admirable as Bicksett, are also worthy of mention. An effective piece of acting is the depiction of Mr. Bantison by Mr. R. Taylor; a capable portrayal of Lord Townbreak is submitted by Mr. W. Barnett Parker; and Mr. Hans Schlesenger doubles with much success the dual rôle of François and the Marquis de Merepoix. The mingled sweetness and sincerity of Miss Annie Windsor's acting as Lucy Rellerton calls for particular praise; a capital sketch of the Countess of Greenbury is contributed by Miss Izzard; and Miss C. Howard Medley and Miss Mabel Adams are excellent as Lady Rellerton and Mrs. Mabsley. A Soldier of Fortune, played by the same company, was announced for the latter end of the week.

THE PROMENADE PIER PAVILION, LTD.—Chairman of Directors, Mr. B Carter; Managing-Director, Mr. Fred C. Dew.—An admirable series of concerts has been given on Sunday and during the week by the clever company of artists called The Follies. On Sunday evening Claus and Mme. Bunz were billed to appear, but the lady was unfortunately indisposed. Herr Bunz rendered several violin solos with much expression, and was repeatedly encored. Miss Winnie O'Connor sings in good style; Mr. Alexander Chentrens, who possesses a charming tenor voice, meets with a good reception; and Miss Amy Veness accompanies as well as sings one or two pretty little songs. The humorous element is introduced by Mr. Robert Corray and Mr. Colin Campbell, two amusing artists; while some charming Irish ballads are contributed by Mr. Percy Corray. Miss Minnie Johnson, described as the Champion Lady Swimmer on the South Coast, gives daily exhibitions of fancy and ornamental swimming, and also is responsible for a unique performance in the crystal tank. Professor Davenport continues his aquatic performances daily, and excites much interest with his famous sack dive.

DUBLIN. — GAIETY THEATRE. — Sole Representative and Patentee, Mrs. Michael Gunn; General-Manager, Mr. Charles Hyland. — Mr. Brandon Thomas's company is drawing packed houses here this week with Charley's Aunt. The impersonation of Sir Francis Chesney given by Mr. Thomas is an admirable performance; and Miss Lena McNaughton capitally portrays the rôle of Donna Lucia D'Alvadorez; Mr. Stanley Cooke creates much merriment as Lord Fancourt Babberley; and Mr. Walter Beaumont is exceedingly good as Stephen Spettigue; as is also Miss Dorothy Deacon in the rôle of Amy Spettigue; Jack Chesney has a capable representative in Mr. Hastings Lynn; and Miss Marian Ripley acts successfully as Kitty Verdun; Mr. Richard Mason is very amusing as Charley Wykeham; and the parts of Brassett and Ela Delahy are well sustained by Mr. Sidney Compton and Miss Gladys Storey. The one-act play, A Highland Legacy, precedes, and is well received.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Mouillot; Resident-Manager, Mr. George Parrington.—Mr. W. W. Kelly's company is presenting A Royal Divorce, which is thoroughly appreciated by large audiences. Mr. Frederick Moyes in the part of Napoleon, repeats his former success; and Miss Edith Cole acts the rôle of Josephine with dignity and grace; Tallyrand has an able exponent in Mr. F. Joynsen-Powell; and Miss Elizabeth Watson plays with judgment the part of Marie Louise; Mr. George W. Cockburn, Mr. George Howard, and Mr. St. George Frere act capably as Marquis de Beaumont, General Augereau, and Marshal Murat; Mr. Dennis Bryan well sustains the part of Dr. Corvisart; and Miss Helena Meadows is effective as Mother Lomas.

PAVILION, KINGSTOWN.—Manager, Mr. C. Irvine Bacon.—An attractive holiday programme was provided here on Monday by "The Smart Set" Entertainers. The company, which is a clever one, consists of Miss Georgie Martin, Mr. Walter George, Miss Ethel Wilford, Miss Lena Hutchings, and Miss Hilda Light. All contribute successful items, and the musical playlet, The Silver Spoon, and the Bioscope pictures are also appreciated.

EMPIRE. — General-Manager, Mr. Frank Allen; Acting-Manager and Secretary, Mr. George H. Marsh.—This week's excellent programme is headed by Nelson's Newsboys, whose vocal items are highly acceptable. The Albert and Edmunds Troupe appear to much advantage in A Trip to Boulogne; and Nono's coon songs and dances are loudly applauded; Bernar's Fantoches are highly interesting; and the Sisters Lunelle as singers and dancers make a decided hit; James H. Cullen, "The Man from Chicago," meets with a good reception; and the New Macs and the Dorells (who remain over from last week) are encored nightly. The Empire pictures are, as usual, good.

TIVOLI.—General-Manager, Mr. Charles M. Jones; Secretary Mr. H. A. Murphy.—The Waldrons, who top the bill here, are successful in their comedy act, The Silly Burglar; another laughter-provoking sketch, entitled Kiss Your Father, is ably presented by Mr. Lonnen Meadow's company, and the comedy bar act of the Bros. Artois, is much appreciated; N. T. Kioto is a smart equilibrist; and Frank Whiteley, comedian and dancer, is going as strong as ever; the Brooklands, comediennes and dancers, merit applause; and Will Montgomery, comedian, has caught on; Garden and Zesch are capital society entertainers; and Madge Fenton, ballad vocalist, and Roy Ralston, baritone, complete the programme.

WORLD'S FAIR AND MUSIC HALL.—Proprietor, Mr. C. A. James.—The following artists are appearing here:—Eric Thorpe, humorist and banjoist; Harry Cookson, descriptive vocalist; Teddy Lennon, comedian and dancer; Mlle. Dorothy, vocalist and elocutionist; and the Eragraph.

SAMUEL'S EXHIBITION PALACE.—Proprietor, Mr. S. Samuels.—The bill here includes:—Harry Leivers, eccentric comedian; Kittie Anderson, ballad vocalist; Ida Bond, coon singer; Will Elliott, comedian; Bros. Hewitt, comedy artists; and Tom Lawrence, eccentric comedian.

DUNDEE.—HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Acting-Manager, Mr. Louis Karpe.—Mr. Charles Hermann's company is appearing here this week in a version of Uncle Tom's Cabin. Uncle Tom is sympathetically impersonated by Mr. Harry Leander; and Phineas Fletcher finds a capable representative in Mr. Charles Hermann; Mr. Charles Freeman plays admirably as George Harris; Mr. Frank Woodward is realistically brutal as Legree; and Mr. J. F. Millar makes a farcical Marks, the lawyer. Miss Florence Tench plays the part of Eliza Harris very vigorously; Miss Hettie Ferguson is a handsome Cassie; Miss Amy Correlli is good as Aunt Chloe; and Miss Cissie Carter acts very nicely the part of Little Eva. Miss Nellie Shannon scores as the irresistible Topsy; and Mr. John Walton as Sambo shines in a well-sung song and chorus.

PALACE THEATRE.—Managing-Directors, Messrs. Rosen and Bliss; Manager, Mr. E. J. Dexter.—A varied and attractive programme is submitted this week, the top-liner being Miss Rose Elliott, who pays a welcome return visit after an absence of only five weeks, and she makes a tremendous hit. Henderson and Stanley are a very versatile couple, their turn consisting of gymnastics, dancing, singing, and playing, in all of which they prove adepts. Jack Mills scores as a Scotch comedian; and Charles A. Ashdowne is likewise very successful in his singing and dancing. Mokano completely mystifies the audience with his conjuring tricks; Miss Myra Morran is an agreeable contralto vocalist; while the singing and dancing of the Sisters Barrie and Mr. Sheila Barrett is well received. Vernon's bioscope has some very interesting films on view.

EMPIRE THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Frank Percival.—That very versatile company of players, the Kingston Dramatic Company, have been retained for another week, and on Monday gave an excellent interpretation of Macbeth. The production was a credit to all concerned, and was followed with rapt attention. Mr. A. W. B. Kingston appeared in the title-rôle, and gave a very powerful rendering of the part; as Banquo Mr. Sommerville played with great feeling; and Miss Carrie Henderson gave a praiseworthy interpretation of Lady Macbeth.

GAIETY THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. R. A. P. Williams.—An interesting programme is submitted at this popular resort this week. C. W. Walker is a baritone vocalist of unusual ability, his songs being very finely rendered; Dodd and Preston are clever dancers; while Istar causes a great sensation with his revolving box mystery. The Gaiety bioscope, with a fine series of films, is another strong item of the bill.

EASTBOURNE.—DEVONSHIRE PARK THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. A. Standen Triggs.—Mr. Frank Graus' company is appearing here in The Other Man's Business. Mr. Frank Stanmore is a very amusing and effective Anthony Bloggett; Mr. G. W. Anson creates continual laughter in the part of Mr. Rattlechip; and Mr. G. W. Elton is a smart and boyish Horatio; Mr. Frank E. Petley is an appropriately vigorous Simpson; Mr. A. H. Warburton provides much fun as Henry; and smaller parts are well played. Miss Lilian Hubbard is a pretty, bright, and fascinating Topsy Temple; Miss Nina Osborne is an attractive, polished, and pleasing Matilda; Miss Adie Boyne as Emma takes a large share in the provocation of laughter; and Miss Gertrude Price is an excellent Miss Challow. Monsieur Le Marquis precedes, and is well played.

PIER PAVILION.—Manager, Mr. George Hayes.—Mr. William MacLaren and company are appearing here in Claudian. The drama is admirably staged and the large company is an excellent one. Mr. William MacLaren is endowed with a fine voice and imposing presence, and as Claudian he is popular and artistic. Mr. Wilson Howard is a strong and effective Thariogalus; Mr. George R. J. Austin is a finely effective Agazili; Mr. C. T. Chaloner, as Belos, is very skilful in the comedy work, and is ably assisted by Miss Carlotta Anson as Edessa; Mr. A. G. Carr is a most impressive Holy Clement; and Mr. Weston Hubbard is a capital Alcares; Miss Lily C. Bandmann does excellent work as Almida; Miss Rose Webster is a very clever Serena; Miss Dora Harvey is a pretty Clia, and sings her song admirably; and Miss Amy Hardcastle is a graceful and charming dancer.

THE HIPPODROME.—General-Manager, Mr. Harry Day; Acting-Manager, Mr. Walter Smith.—At the head of the programme offered here this week is Mendel, the blind pianist, who is much in favour both for his playing and feats of memory; Max Gruber has an elephant, horse, and pony which show the results of fine animal training; Lennie and Hast have a very novel and pleasing scena and sketch; the Wilfords are finely developed men, and give a pleasing exhibition of strength; Miss Gladys Witton scores as a juvenile contralto; Mr. Walter Wallis is a successful comed quaint comedian; the Shamrocks gives a good turn as harmonising vocalists and expert dancers; Florence Hill scores as a burlesque actress and dancer. The Hackenschmidt and Madrali wrestling match is depicted on the Bioscope.

EDINBURGH.—ROYAL LYCEUM THEATRE.—Proprietors, Messrs. Howard and Wyndham, Ltd.; General-Manager, Mr. Geo. T. Minshull.—Mr. M. Russell Rosse's company occupies the boards of the Lyceum this week with a programme comprising She Stoops to Conquer, The School for Scandal, A Marriage of Convenience, and The Lady of Lyons. In all these plays the charming actress, Miss Muriel Godfrey-Turner, has proved her power and versatility by appearing in such diverse characters as Miss Hardcastle, Lady Teazle, the Comtesse de Candale, and Pauline. On Monday She Stoops to Conquer received a successful rendering. The personal grace and dramatic insight of Miss Godfrey-Turner enabled her to give an impersonation of Miss Hardcastle in which the varying shades of the character were finely distinguished. Young Marlow, in the hands of Mr. Robert Minster, abounded in clever comedy touches; and the Hastings of Mr. Frederick D. Davis was admirably sustained. That sound actor Mr. A. T. Hilton gave an able study of Old Hardcastle; Mr. Charles Hann was full of vitality and humour as Tony Lumpkin; and Mr. A. J. Harding was a droll Diggory. Mr. Norman Clark as Sir Charles Marlow; Mr. A. J. Harding as Stingo; and Mr. Henry Martin as Roger, were all good. Miss Lilian Locke, a young actress who bids fair to take a prominent position as a comedienne, played Miss Neville with marked ability. Gifted with a dainty figure and a pleasing face, and with an evident zeal for her art, Miss Locke's acting was vivid and interesting. Miss Eugenie Vernie was an excellent Mrs. Hardcastle; and Miss Eva Lonsdale's maid was neatly acted. The performance has begun each evening with a pretty one-act play, Lady Fortune, which affords Miss Godfrey-Turner a further chance, as Kate Cunliffe, of showing her ability.

EMPIRE PALACE THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. Finch-Hatton.—An exhilarating programme is presented at the Empire this week. Mr. Mike S. Whallen, with a budget of fresh stories, causes incessant laughter; Mr. Neil Kenyon, a pawky Scotch comedian—who can also give impersonations of characters in which the Doric has no part—evokes much applause; and Mr. Rex King shows dramatic power in his sketches. The Avolos give a spirited and daring performance on the upright bars; the Mackweys, in their sketch, ably uphold their title, "The Riotous Trio"; and the Sutcliffe Family, garbed in Highland costume, are clever pipers, dancers, and acrobats. Miss Marie Collins, bright and graceful as ever, gains an enthusiastic welcome; Howard and Collinson dance cleverly in their sketch The Porter and the Parcel; and the attractiveness of the bill is enhanced by the smart Northern Troupe of International Dancers; by J. Alexander and company in their sketch; and by a display of new films by the bioscope.

EXETER.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Dr. E. J. Domville, J.P.; Acting-Manager, Mr. Percy M. Dunsford.—The attraction for Whitsun week is a return visit of the sensational drama, The 10.30 Down Express, by Mr. Horace Stanley, and played by his company. Mr. Stanley himself sustains the part of Sam Wagstaffe, a character which he portrays with much ability. The hero, Jack O'Malley, is ably sustained by Mr. Charles Burdon, and Mr. George Arthur is equally good as James Inderwick; Miss Elsie Capell, as Bessie Leigh, gives a fine representation of Jack's sweetheart; Mr. Tom Roydon, as Seth Coombes, also does well.

FARNWORTH.—QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. T. Morton Powell.—Mr. W. A. Armour's company is this week presenting the drama, What a Woman Did. Mr. Charles Earle in the part of Piton gives a capital representation; Mr. W. A. Armour's impersonation of the villain is a clever study, and Mr. Edward Rawlinson plays the part of the husband in a natural and convincing manner; Mr. Jim Woods, as Fritz, is responsible for not a little of the success of the performance, whilst Mr. Fred Rignold, as Peter, is all that could be desired; Miss Dora Price in the title-rôle is responsible for a powerful and at the same time pathetic impersonation; Miss Amy Eliam, as Papillon, proves herself a charming and graceful actress, and Miss Bertan Clifton in the part of Nannette causes plenty of laughter.

FLEETWOOD.—QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. H. J. Snelson.—Mr. H. J. Snelson's stock company is this week appearing in True to the Core. Mr. Bert Albert sustains the part of Noel Meadows very well; Mr. Harwood Cooper does well as Captain Frank Meadows; Stephen Dudley is ably represented by Mr. H. J. Snelson; and Dr. Keith Konyers is effectively embodied by Mr. Cecil Barrett. Mr. Aylmer J. Williams appears to advantage as Old Neptune; Mr. J. Carl Lyle and Mr. Robin Shiells are very good as Joe Lamb and Mat Blacklock; Mr. Herbert Lewis makes a good Timothy Twist; and Miss Effie D. Crawford is smart as Polly Pringle. Mrs. H. J. Snelson, who take the parts of Mrs. Gratton and Old Sal, is quite satisfactory in both; Miss Olive Lloyd appears with success as Mabel Gratton.

FOLKESTONE.—PLEASURE GARDENS THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. H. W. Rowland.—Mr. Lionel Rignold, Miss Ada Blanche and company in What the Butler Saw is the holiday attraction here this week. Miss Blanche, as Mrs. Barrington, is distinctly good; Mr. Lionel Rignold, as Pink, causes much fun; Mr. Charles Fawsett's Jack Barrington leaves nothing to be desired; Mr. Reddick Anderson, as Sir Charles Foden, gives an able interpretation of the part; Mr. George Ascott as the irascible General Dunlop is well placed; Mr. Harry H. Rignold submits a characteristic portraiture of Abraham Weinstein; Miss Marie Daltra as Miss Foden scores a success; and Miss Edith Blanche makes an excellent Mrs. Heming Smythe.

GATESHEAD.—METROPOLE THEATRE.—Lessees, Messrs. Bolam and Bacon; General-Manager, Mr. Sidney Bacon; Acting-Manager, Mr. Thomas France.—Mr. C. Watson Mill is presenting the new drama, A Warning to Women, here this week. Mr. Mill, in the rôle of Dr. Dread, is a conspicuous figure; Mr. N. Carter Slaughter is successful in the part of Lord Eversleigh; Mr. Henry Lonsdale is a capable exponent of Shaun; Mr. Wingold Lawrence is seen to advantage as Fergus McNaughton; Mr. George Scully is a humorous Mike McQuade; Miss Rosalind submits a powerful portrayal of Moira Kennion; and Misses Emmie Barton and Ellen Beverley fulfil their parts with distinction.

KING'S THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. M. S. Hammond; General-Manager, Mr. Joe May.—Mlle. Ella's Lions form the principal attraction here, the lady's daring performance receiving great applause; Selbo juggles with clubs and plates as only a master hand can do; Harry Wenburn, a comedian of exceptional merit, receives the maximum amount of praise; Gray and Welford are knockabouts "par excellence"; the Haverleys, with illustrated songs, please the audience immensely; Charles Williams, negro comedian and big boot dancer, makes a "hit"; Mersano, a coin and card manipulator, proves very powerful; Allsopp and Beckwith, in a comedy act; and Flo Banks, comedienne, complete the bill.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Proprietors, Messrs. Bolam and Bacon; General-Manager, Mr. Sidney Bacon; Acting-Manager, Mr. Stephen Smith.—A very attractive programme is submitted here this week. King's College Boys hold the leading line, and receive loud applause for some excellent vocal numbers; Lilian, a lady trick cyclist gives a very clever performance; Bessie Willow, a local favourite, sings excellently; J. P. Carroll is an expert with the tambourine; Eric, a clever ventriloquist; Lambert and Olive, comedians and dancers; and some very interesting pictures shown by Downey's Bioscope complete the bill.

GLASGOW.—KING'S, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. F. W. Wyndham; Acting-Manager, pro tem., Mr. Percy Humphrys.—A distinct novelty and a treat seldom afforded local playgoers is provided by the visit of the Irish National Theatre Company, in those striking little plays which embody the dramatic aspirations of the Sister Isle, and the breaking away from the stage conventionalities of the Boucicault type of drama. A sympathetic and hearty welcome was accorded the four plays given on the opening night, comprising J. M. Lynge's In the Shadow of the Glen, a strong little drama, with quite an Ibsen flavour in its grim reality; W. B. Yeats' Kathleen ni Houlihan; and, by way of relief, Lady Gregory's two humorous episodes, Hyacinth Halevy and Spreading the News. In the various plays Miss Maire O'Neill, Miss Sara Allgood, Mr. W. G. Fay, Mr. P. J. Fay, Mr. Arthur Sinclair, and Miss Brigit O'Dempsey showed their versatility, and gave a delightfully real aspect to the varied sketches of Irish life. Mr. Arthur Darley contributed some beautiful selections of Irish folk-songs on the violin; and the attitude of the large audience was sympathetic in the extreme, the points in each play being caught at once and accorded their meed of praise in no unstinted fashion.

METROPOLE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Arthur Jefferson; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Gillespy.—Mr. James Stillwell and company are here this week in The King's Secret, in which Mr. Stillwell ably sustains the character of the hero, Captain Fairburn, and Miss Zana St. George gives a picturesque representation of Zenopa, the Egyptian adventuress. Mr. Edward Fryer, as Hassan Alfar, an unscrupulous accomplice of Zenopa, plays the part satisfactorily; Mr. Beckett Bould, as a military dude, gives a good rendering of the part; Mr. Paul E. Teulon as Boatswain Jack, a rollicking British sailor, is excellent; a notable character, ably rendered by Mr. Robert A. Earl, is Jonathan Newark, an American millionaire; while Miss Kitty McPherson, as a lively American girl, is equally good; Miss Hester Kennedy plays the boy part of Charlie Fairburn very nicely; while Miss Katherine Barnett, as Leila Fairburn, gives a spirited representation of the character; Mr. Atherton Edwards, as a German spy, interprets the character well; and the same may be said of Mr. Charles Crosby's portrayal of a lawyer.

EMPIRE.—Proprietors, Moss Empires, Limited; District-Manager, Mr. Sam Gething; Resident-Manager, Mr. Charles Mussett.—Harry Lauder is again testing the capacity of this popular theatre to its utmost, and the crowds are phenomenal. In old songs or new he is equally happy. Hermann Melot is a conjurer of more than average ability; Mlle. De Dio again gives her clever dancing turn, the ingenious devices of which, in lighting and effects, are marvellous; J. W. Rickaby is a popular comedian, and his soldier medley is intensely comic; Maud Mortimer, always a favourite here, sings with good effect; the Dumond Minstrels, in their Parisian eccentricities, get a hearty reception; Mariano Sisters on the trapeze, the Labakans and their dog, and the Four Olympian Stars complete a good bill.

ZOO HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Moss Empires, Ltd., and E. H. Bostock; Resident-Manager, Mr. E. H. Bostock.—Fred Ginnett and company in the sketch, Dick Turpin's Ride to York, are a pronounced success; the efforts of Alexandra Dagmar are loudly applauded; Sloan presents an amusing juggling turn; the Jack Theo Trio, equilibrists; Agnes Hanson, vocalist and dancer; J. H. Wakefield, coon impersonator; the Vetler Brothers, speciality athletes; and Fred Erick, comedian, contribute to a good programme.

PAVILION, LTD.—General-Manager, Mr. Samuel Lloyd.—Miss Dorothy L. Clarke has made her appearance here, and her songs are given in fine dramatic style; the female impersonations presented by Max Waldon are a feature of the programme; in a clever revolving ladder act the Rigoletto Brothers are seen to advantage; and a charmingly chic appearance is made by Miss Jose Collins, a serio and dancer of much ability; a cordial reception is tendered Frank Leon, whose dancing is undoubtedly of the highest order; Charles Diamond and Miss Beatrice secure a good reception; Fred Carey tickles the house with eccentric comedy songs and touches of humour; while Lizzie Kirk pleases as a comedienne and dancer; with Hill and Lane in "Home Lessons," a speciality worthy of notice, a first-rate programme closes.

PALACE.—Acting-Manager, Mr. Harry McKelvie.—The chief attraction here this week is Edwin Boyde, the well-known comedian, and a great favourite; Belrose and De Velin are high-class duettists; and the Virginians, coloured performers, have had a flattering reception; a smart sketch is given by Frank Bernard and company, entitled Hello; and Conan and Doyle excel as tellers of funny stories; other items of special interest include Edna Groves, comedienne; Barton and Franklin, clever musicians and dancers; Lola Patey, charming vocalist; and the Royal Troupe of International Dancers.

COLISEUM.—Proprietors, Moss Empires, Ltd.; District-Manager, Mr. Sam Gething; Resident-Manager, Mr. B. G. Maclachlan.—A bright and entertaining programme is gone through here with Fred Karno's diverting burlesque, Mumming Birds as the principal item, and it is almost needless to say that the skit is received with continuous laughter; the Hadj Abdullah Troupe of Arabs give their wonderful acrobatic display; and the illustrated songs of Eloise Brinsmade prove highly acceptable; Tom and Marie Motramo's acting and patter are exceptionally clever in their musical act; another amusing sketch, entitled The Day I Came Back, being submitted by O'Malley and Brown; the Goltz Trio give a finished juggling performance; and the smart female impersonator Letine is well received; the bass songs of George Lucas are also appreciated; Passmore Brothers, with their Dummy figures, are good; and a new series of American Bioscope films completes the entertainment.

TIVOLI.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. B. M. Armstrong.—The programme submitted here this week is a good one. Bertie's Birthday Party, an amusing musical sketch, is well played, and the programme also includes Ray and Colby, comedians and dancers; Mons. Latarric, juggler; Bob Nicol, mimic; and Amy de Frece, comedienne.

GLOSSOP.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Sydney Spenser.—This is the last week of the present season, and Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Spenser's own company is appearing in The Hero of the Flag. Jack Lawrence is played by Mr. William Heilbronn with ability; and as Captain Hilliard, Mr. Alfred Goddard gives a capital representation; Mr. Sydney Spenser, as the unscrupulous Paul Mansfield, acts with effect; Mr. G. F. Royd, as Stephen Clifford, and Mr. Cecil Webb, as Mark Forrester, are admirable; Mr. Unwin Grafton as Blue Jake does well; Mr. Johnny McElroy, as Johnny Truckle, and Miss Amy Maitland, as Jenny Stubbs, introduce good comedy and score with songs and dances; Miss Lizzie Hall cleverly fills the rôle of Mabel Forester (with songs); and Miss Roma Tremayne ably sustains the part of Ruth Clifford. Mr. W. E. Cottrill (a Glossopian) is in charge of the band this week.

GLOUCESTER.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Owners, Messrs. C. W. and J. R. Poole.—This week we have the annual visit of Mr. Joseph Poole's Myriorama, and the attendance has been of the best. The myriorama, of course, includes the latest events, and is supplemented by a fine series of animated pictures. The varieties include The Carls in their comic speciality, Fun in a Café; Mlle. Bartenelli, a clever contortionist; the Boultons in a special musical act; Eileen and Mayne, the musical dancing dots; Johnny O'Rourke, a droll comedian; and Carl Howlette's Marionettes. Mr. H. G. Berry acts as guide, being assisted by Mr. Percy Brunel. Mr. Fred Drake is the musical director, and the whole show is supervised by Mr. J. Wolseley Poole.

GREAT YARMOUTH.—ROYAL AQUARIUM.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. J. W. Nightingale.—The Whitsuntide attraction is Mrs. Brown Potter in the romance, Mary Stuart, Queen of Scots, and on Monday afternoon and evening crowded houses assembled to greet the famous actress. In the title-rôle Mrs. Brown Potter looks the part to perfection, and acts with charm and vigour. Her dresses are magnificent. She is well supported by Mr. Edward Irley as Lord James Stuart; Mr. Geoffrey Tearle as the Earl of Bothwell; Mr. Harry Friend as the Earl of Huntley, and Miss Sara de Groot as May Beaton.

THE HIPPODROME.—Proprietor, Mr. George Gilbert.—An exceptionally good programme, provided for the holiday week, has been well received. Untham, the armless wonder, astonishes with the dexterity with which he uses his feet in lieu of hands; Durell gives a graceful log-rolling turn; Craig, Rose and Craig contribute a clever trapeze show; Miss Ada Gatty provides an admirable slack-wire entertainment. Fun is contributed by Rag and Miles, eccentric jugglers; Little Bishop and his performing elephants; Learto, the musical comedian; the Big Doodles, and the Ethairian Bros. in a farcical boxing bout. Tremendous applause follows the Bioscope exhibition of the picture of San Francisco after the earthquake.

BRITANNIA PIER PAVILION.—Managing-Director, Mr. J. W. Nightingale.—A capital variety programme is well received each evening. Miss Veronica Brady and company supply a clever musical sketch, The Rag-Time Queen, and Erno Aguzzi's Elite Pierrots give a successful entertainment. Other artists appearing are Mr. Fern Pounds, actor-vocalist; Mr. Jack Vincent, with his edephone solos; Miss Ada Tunks, soprano, and Miss Veronica Brady, musical comedy soubrette.

WELLINGTON PIER PAVILION.—Proprietors, Great Yarmouth Corporation; Manager, Mr. Harry Tunbridge.—An excellent company, The Gems, consisting of three gentlemen and two ladies, supply a capital programme of song, play, and mirth. Miss Olive Mortimer is the soprano, Miss Elsie Jones, contralto, Mr. Wallace Kennedy, tenor, Mr. Edgar Stevens, bass, and Mr. Kenna Lawson, comedian. Each artiste on Monday evening received innumerable encores, and the programme was voted one of the best ever given at the Pavilion.

GREENOCK.—PAVILION THEATRE.—Lessees, the Greenock Pavilion, Ltd; General-Manager, Mr. Samuel Lloyd.—Frank Sherlock and Jean Van Dalle top the bill here, and give an enjoyable scena entitled, The Mummy and the Undergrad. Other good items are Wallan, juggler; the Rushforths, illustrated song exponents; Barbara Babington, soprano vocalist; Barney Stuart, character actor and mimic; King Leo, ventriloquist; Cherry Lass, comedienne and dancer; and George French, comedian.

GRIMSBY.—PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE.—Managing Director, Mr. J. H. Curry; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Sydney Tolfree.—After an absence of several years the American drama, Wep-ton-No-Mah, illustrative of life in the Wild West, has visited here. Go-Won-Go-Mohawk, the popular American Indian actress, again represents the central character of the mail carrier; Spanish Joe is vividly represented by Mr. Edward Leroy; whilst Mr. C. W. Charles, as Colonel Stockton, and Miss Minnie Goepel, as Nelly, are good. Comedy is a strong feature of the play, and is contributed to by Mr. Dan Ryan, as Garry Cullen, an Irishman; Mr. Guy D. Hackney, as Sam White, a negro; and Miss Dorothy Neville, as Matilda, an elderly spinster.

CURRY'S TIVOLI.—Managing-Director, Mr. J. H. Curry; Acting-Manager, Mr. Sydney Tolfree.—Mlle. Eugénie Fougère, the Parisian comedienne, has scored a great success here; Dandy George has given an entertaining turn, introducing his clever dog Rosie; the burlesque, In a Studio, presented by Fred Mulvey and Minnie Miriam, is extremely laughable; and plenty of fun is also occasioned by Miss Dolly Harmer; the novel dancing by Curtis and Vanity is one of the most popular items of the programme, which is completed by Miss Lucretia, burlesque actress; Frank Cass, comedian; and the Fyfe Family, a smart local troupe of athletes. The Tivoli closes for the summer months after this week.

THE PALACE.—Managing-Director, Mr. T. A. Edwardes; Resident-Manager, Mr. T. W. Moyes; Assistant-Manager, Mr. A. V. Allton.—A capital display of eccentric acrobatics has been given by the Four Emilions. They perform a series of distinctly novel feats. Mannon's Merry Maids appear in a laughable motoring burlesque, A Motor 'Bus Outing, and also introduce pleasing vocal numbers; instrumental business is well represented, Caselli and James proving expert banjo soloists, whilst the Raymond Trio show considerable skill as performers on the mandoline. An amusing sketch, A Lesson in Love, is presented by Lytton and Bland; and others contributing are the Fimans, in a comedy speciality; James Lowery, vocalist; and Maude Beaumont, burlesque actress.

THE EMPIRE, CLEETHORPES.—Proprietor, Mr. J. Carter-White; Manager, Mr. W. Baker.—Miss Maidie Scott has provided the principal attraction for the opening week of the season, and her dainty manner and pretty songs have pleased everyone. A refined drawing-room entertainment is given by the Original Cecilias, their turn including vocal and instrumental items. The Three Sisters Tree submit a clever hunting episode; whilst Hurman displays skill as a hoop manipulator; May Hammond contributes pretty dances; Hector and Sultan give a funny eccentric acrobatic exhibition; Joe Humphreys proves an amusing comedian; and Kid Johnson and Maisie Pelham present a composite turn of ball punching, singing, and dancing.

HANLEY.—ROYAL, LIMITED.—Managing-Director, Mr. Charles Elphinstone; Manager, Mr. Charles Howard.—Miss Mary Austin and Mr. Vivian Edmonds's company opened here on Monday in The Golden Ladder. Mr. John Clyde as the Rev. Frank Thornhill plays admirably; Miss Eva Moss scores a decided success a Lilian Grant; Mr. Joseph Rowlands contributes a clever character sketch as Samuel Peckaby; Mr. J. Milne Taylor is well placed in the heavy part; Mr. Graham Winsford does well as Peranza; Mrs. Peckaby finds a good representative in Miss Nellie Graham; Miss Teresa Haynes is a capable Mrs. Dixon.

GRAND.—Managing-Director, Mr. Chas. Elphinstone; Manager, Mr. Alfred Edwardes.—The Holloway Troupe head the bill here in their wonderful wire performance, which is much appreciated; the Brothers Ashley in a comedy boxing act are clever and amusing; Dot Hardy is successful in her vocal contributions; the Empire Comedy Four sing harmoniously, and are repeatedly recalled; Harry Conlin is as funny as ever; Sibb and Sibb are seen in an excellent trapeze act; Rosie Coleman is a sand dancer of merit; and Frank Leslie, who contributes songs, is deserving of praise. Urbanora shows the latest pictures.

HARROGATE.—GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—Managing-Director, Mr. William Peacock; Acting-Manager, Mr. Cyril Fielding-Smyth.—Miss Emma and Mr. Percy Hutchison's company has paid a return visit with The Freedom of Suzanne this week. In the title-rôle Miss Beatrice Lindley repeats her fine performance; Mr. Herbert J. Bentley gives a clever portrayal of Charles Trevor; Mr. F. G. Thurstars is as amusing as ever as Fitzroy Harding; as Lady Charlotte Trevor, Miss Emily Patterson is sufficiently "withering"; Miss Violet Ley is charming as Lady Isabel; Suzanne's admirers are capably played by Messrs. Harley West, Townsend Whiting, and Archie Selwyn as Lord Datchet, Captain Cecil and Tommy Keston respectively. The curtain-raiser, Two in a Trap, precedes the latter part of the week. Mr. James Welch proved a big draw in Dear Old Charley.

HARTLEPOOL.—EMPRESS.—Proprietors, Messrs. Councillor Everton and J. W. Cragg; Manager, Mr. Harry Burns.—At the head of the programme here are Charles Baldwin's comedians, in the pantomimic absurdity, The Bank Clerks, which is provocative of unbounded laughter; Billy Williams, Australia's comedian, is refined and quite refreshing in his originality; the Villions comedy acrobatic cyclists are having a pleasing welcome; the musical entertainment provided by Ford and Hansom is successful; Lily Currie is a pleasing vocalist; Fred Keeton's eccentricities, and some remarkable funny pictures on the Bioscope are also in the bill.

HASTINGS.—GAIETY THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. H. W. Rowland; Resident Acting-Manager, Mr. Charles E. Scutt.—On Whit Monday Mr. Cyril Maude's company opened a return visit here in Beauty and the Barge. Much merriment was created by Mr. Harry Ashford in the rôle of Captain Barclay, and Mr. Walter Pemberton as Major Smedley ably sustained his part; Miss May Fairclough, as Edith Smedley, and Mr. Percival Knight, as Lieutenant Boyne, played well together as the lovers; Mr. J. Wheatman, as John Dobbs, and Miss Ethel Stalman, as Mrs. Smedley, ably sustained these characters; Miss Mary Griffiths, as Mrs. Baldwin, played with much humour, as also did Miss Mary Pemberton as Lucy Dallas, and Mr. Percy Marmont as Herbert Manners. That Brute Simmons preceded the farce, and was well played by Mr. J. Wheatman, Miss Harriott Trench, and Mr. Fred Paul.

HIPPODROME THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Resident and General-Manager, Mr. Albert Mathams.—An excellent holiday programme is provided here, an attractive feature being the ever-changing films of the Hippodrome Bioscope. Mr. Frank Couch, eccentric comedian, is very droll and amusing; the Sisters St. Julian charm all by their melodious vocalisation; Johnnie Fuller is extremely clever; the Stanley's Urchins give a refined turn of harmony and comedy; some remarkable feats of strength are performed by Luis Hardt with great success; as an operatic soprano-vocalist Mdlle. Du Roche may be complimented. Another well-appreciated turn is given by Duncan and Godfrey in their famous coster romance, "Me and 'Er."

PIER PAVILION.—Pier-Master, Mr. R. Turner; Entertainment-Manager, Mr. J. D. Hunter.—The attractive Sisters Bronson, character duettists and dancers, open the programme here. Mr. J. D. Hunter, who is a special favourite, gives his songs and sketches with exceptional ability. A very amusing divertissement of drolleries is given by Brull and Hemsley, entitled "Fun in a Music Shop." The manipulation of Haydee's Marionettes is delightfully interesting and clever; an excellent turn is given by Thornley Dodge, the society entertainer; the Royal Six versatile lady vocalists and instrumentalists achieve some remarkable and graceful feats on their bicycles. The up-to-date pictures and animated photographs conclude a good entertainment.

ST. LEONARD'S PIER PAVILION.—Pier-Master and Entertainment-Manager, Mr. Elvey Thomas.—Mr. Esmonde Bramley's company is giving some adequate productions of Shakespeare's plays, including Richard III., The Merry Wives of Windsor, As You Like it, and Romeo and Juliet. In each of the plays the actors display quite a natural aptitude for their parts. In the comedy The Merry Wives of Windsor, nothing could be truer to life than the part of Sir John Falstaff as played by Mr. Cyril Este; Mr. Baliol Holloway and Mr. Frederick Scarth come out well in the respective characters of Ford and Page; Mr. Stanley Farbridge, as Dr. Caius, is a typical French physician, and a good character-sketch Mr. David Beattie gives of Shallow; Slender and his servant Simple are capitally illustrated by Mr. Leonard Cheetham and Mr. Edward Dunstan; Mr. Philip Gordon is a rubicund mine host of the "Garter Inn"; Mrs. Barnard Parkin is extremely good as Mistress Quickly, her acting shows all the piquancy which the character demands; Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Page are undertaken by Miss Millie Ford and Miss Maud Garth, their comedy is excellent throughout, and they play their parts with a light and effective touch altogether delightful.

HEREFORD.—GARRICK THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Arthur Carlton; Resident-Manager, Mr. H. Whitby Smith.—Messrs. F. Douglas Wentworth and Charles Johnston's company are appearing here this week in The Bauble Shop. Mr. T. W. Rawson, as Lord Clive, is quite equal to the task of infusing manliness and vigour into the part. One of Hereford's favourite actors, Mr. Ernest Cossart, is renewing his popularity here with an excellent rendering of the Hon. Charles Teviot. Miss Lily Bertram is to be complimented upon her portrayal of Jessie Keber which she invests with graceful charm. A performance of much prominence is Matthias Keber, cleverly played by Mr. William Passmore, and the part of the Earl of Sarum is efficiently undertaken by Mr. Leonard Booker.

HORWICH.—PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Lessees, The Provincial Theatres Co.; General-Manager, Mr. Chas. E. Bradley; Resident-Manager, Mr. Ben Hawke.—This, the last week of the season, Mr. E. Oswald Brook's company in The Trail of the Serpent, occupies the boards. Mr. A. Campbell-Kelly is capital as Gerald Kington; Mr. Willford Cheetham successfully paints Ralph Hammond in very dark colours; Mr. Vincent Kelway is responsible for the comedy element; and as William Higgins causes roars of laughter; Booth Conway plays Gipsy Jake in capital style; Miss Ethel Stuart, as Rachael, the gipsy, acts with great feeling; and Miss Marjorie May's Ethel Maynard is a most artistic and sympathetic rendering; Miss Gladys Newcombe, as Rose Wilson, ably assists Mr. Kelway in the humorous situations.

HUDDERSFIELD.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietors and Managers, Messrs. Milton Bode and Edward Compton; Resident-Manager, Mr. W. J. Andrews.—Messrs. Dottridge and Langden's company in The Midnight Mail causes much excitement here. We must congratulate Mr. Fred G. Evison on his portrayal of the part of Billy Brewer.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, The Northern Theatres Company, Ltd.; Resident-Manager, Mr. N. M. Robinson.—The patrons of the Hippodrome are listening this week to another fine variety company. Those old favourites the Haytors are paying a return visit after many years. At the top of the bill is the popular sketch Three of a Kind, which is well received.

HULL.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Lessee, Mr. Wm. Morton; Resident-Director, Mr. W. F. Morton.—Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush was the holiday attraction here. That sterling actor, Wm. Mollison, is still the head of this clever band of artists, the dour old Scot being painted with remarkable skill. Mr. Alec F. Thompson is amusing as Archibald McKettrick; Mr. Allen Thomas invests the character of Doch with many fine touches; Mr. Durward Lely makes the rôle of the Rev. Mr. Carmichael a conspicuous success. The two children's parts, impersonated by Miss Martha Stewart (Geordie) and Miss Jeannie Fitzgerald (Jeannie), are delightfully presented; Miss Evelyn McNay is an acceptable Flora Campbell; whilst Miss Josephine Woodward is a pleasing and homely Marget.

GRAND THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE.—Managing-Director, Mr. John Hart; Local-Manager, Mr. Wynn Miller.—Sherlock Holmes is being played at this house, and the play apparently has lost none of its power of attraction on this occasion, and is added to by the presence of a new representative of the title-rôle, Mr. Henry Renouf, an actor ever favourably received in this city. Professor Monantz is entrusted to the capable player, Mr. F. W. Sterling; Miss Vera Longden has made Miss Faulkner a striking success; and Miss Violet Lewis is no less successful as Madge Larrabee.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE.—Morton's, Ltd.—General-Manager, Mr. George Morton.—The summer-like weather of Bank Holiday had no effect on the attendance here. Mr. Fred. Granville's play, Defending His Honour, is not new to this city, but this only added to its interest. As Douglas Bryce, Mr. Fred Goddard had a rôle for which he was eminently fitted; Mr. A. Balfour Mackay found favour as George Duncan; as Ethel Bryce, Miss Chrissie Dunbar had a rôle which raised her reputation still higher in public favour; the comedy parts were capitally sustained by Mr. O. Redmonde, as Dick Verison; and Miss A. Mackay, as Trixie Lucien, their presence adding much to the enjoyment of the audience.

THE PALACE.—Acting-Manager, Mr. Jno. S. Barnett.—Ray Wallace, the popular mimic, heads the bill, and is a big favourite; the Kaufman Troupe of lady cyclists go through a clever performance, remarkable for its gracefulness; Venie Clements, rapidly got into the good graces of the audience by her superior talent; the Howard Bros. go through an excellent banjo act, their clever juggling with banjos being a leading feature; big favourites are Spry and Monti, who present an effective combination of wit and humour; the Three Cape Girls are well received; the Casino Comedy Four are much applauded; other turns include Maud Ross and Will Mitcham.

THE HIPPODROME.—Lessee, Mr. Alfred Graham.—Appearing here are George Gilbey, De Henan, the Gregson Comedy Trio, Vincent, Jack Crawley, Aladina, Dan Gregory, and Maxford and O'Niel.

THE CIRCUS.—Resident-Manager, Mr. E. Emerson.—The Globe Animated Picture Co. This place is crowded nightly with a splendid series of pictures.

ILKESTON.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. L. F. A. Rogers.—The comedy-drama, Life, by Herbert Barrs, and East Lynne, are being played here this week. The first-mentioned was staged on the opening night, and Mr. Barrs himself appeared as Jack Lockhart with decided success. The rôle of Ruth Thorpe was well filled by Miss D. Oswald, and Miss Agnes Collier scored in the pathetic part of Beatrice Ferrars. As Zac Crabbe Mr. Herbert Fuller caused much mirth, and in conjunction with Miss M. Vincent, as Jess, gave genuine pleasure with their songs and dances. Mr. E. Cheetham made a capital Detective Blake, and Mr. Willis Collins was an admirable Joe Pippet. Mr. A. Pringle appeared with effect as the villain, Sir Horace Lester.

QUEEN'S PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor, Mr. T. Knightall.—Hindley and Berte are vaudeville artists of much merit, whilst Conway and Dora impart pleasure as duettists and dancers; Vera Mayne entertains with good songs; and Dan Conway, comedian; Alice Dora, serio; Professor Parkin, instrumentalist, and others complete the bill.

IPSWICH.—LYCEUM THEATRE.—Acting-Manager, Mr. J. E. Jennings.—Too Many Cooks was the title of the comedy provided for the Whitsun-week by Mr. Wentworth Croke's No. 1 Company. Mr. Arthur Holmes-Gore in the part of Arthur Winton was the mainstay of the comedy, and made a favourable impression in his scenes with Georgiana, capitally played by Miss Hilda Fairfax; as Major Brasket, Mr. Christmas Grose personated a bluff old soldier with effect, and Mr. Willis Searle was a humorous amateur detective; Mr. Herbert E. Standing and Miss Lilian Rogers were a pair of engaging lovers, and the character of the policeman Simkin was well acted by Mr. George Ode.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietor, Mr. E. H. Bostock.—A capital holiday programme has been provided for Whit-week. Mr. G. W. Hunter, who headed the bill, rendered some well-written songs in a humorous manner, also scoring as a droll raconteur; the Greys proved themselves accomplished operatic vocalists, the lady especially eliciting unstinted applause; another couple of artistes, Josephine Stanton and Henry Hallam, gave a musical-comedy sketch, called A Broken Journey, with considerable effect, and a musical turn of great merit was contributed by Sims and Sims. Other items included the Balsamos, a quartette of funny artists; Herbert La Martine, a clever dancer and singer; Poole and Poole, a couple of quaint comedians, and Will Vay's Juveniles, who depicted with effect Life in the Slums.

PUBLIC HALL.—Manager, Mr. G. Watson.—The novelty at this large hall has been Mr. Walter Payne's Globe Animated Pictures. These were most interesting, and illustrated songs by Mr. Lester King were a pleasing feature of the entertainment.

JERSEY.—OPERA HOUSE.—Lessee, Mr. C. Robert Perkins.—Mr. R. C. Carton's farce, Public Opinion, is the great attraction here this week. Mr. Jack Hampton, as Hoarce Wibsey, is the life and soul of the piece; Mr. Shirley Lea is a portly Justice Mulley, and Mr. Douglas Hamilton, as Sir Babington Mulley, is a success; Mr. Charles Harley's interpretation of the rôle of Spencer Traughton leaves nothing to be desired; Miss Dorothy Lart, as Pansy Bligh, played her part well, and Miss Nancy Beresford is smart as Lady Diana Caldershaw; Miss Violet M. Harley undertakes the part of Phyllis Daggenham.

KING'S LYNN.—NEW ROYAL THEATRE.—Lessees, J. Bannister Howard, Ltd.; Business-Manager, Mr. Henry B. Pareezer.—For the holiday attraction here this week Mr. Junius Booth and company are presenting Monte Cristo. At the outset, on Monday night, Mr. Booth put much vigour into his finished portrayal of Edward Dantes; and was capitally supported by Mr. E. Howard Templeton as M. Nortier, Mr. Laurence Grove as General Fernand Mondego, and Mr. Chauncey Morris as Caderousse. Miss Joan Ellis made a charming Mercèdes, and Miss Kate Maynard was good as La Carconte.

LANCASTER.—ATHENÆUM.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Hy. Wilkinson.—A Mother's Love forms the holiday attraction here, and is capitally presented by Mr. Fred L. Connynhame and company. Mr. Arthur Rose, as Paul Wingate, the vicar, is exceedingly good; and Miss Violet Macaree is decidedly successful as his wife, Winnie Wingate; Mr. George Child, as Geoffrey Mannering, makes a capital villain; whilst the part of Mat Ruddock is in the safe hands of Mr. Fred L. Connynghame; Miss Dorothy Monkhouse makes up well as the servant; Miss Marjory Murray is successful as Ellaine Mervin; and the same may be said of Miss Bertha Christobel as Marjorie Wingate.

PALATINE

attraction here is provided by the engagement of Messrs. Garside and Knowles's company in The London Fireman, which is effectively staged. Mr. J. Forbes Knowles makes a good impression as the young fireman, Hal Curtis; Miss Nellie Shirley plays well as Ida Curtis; both Mr. Charles A. Preece, as Nixey Stinger, and Miss Nellie Garside as Polly Bramble give popular and humorous portrayals; Mr. Oliver Birrell, as Viscount Fleming, is excellent; and Miss Nellie Waddington as the Countess Fleming, Miss Florence D. Daly as Grace Curtis; and Mr. Edward L. Garside are also to be complimented on performances of much merit.

PALACE THEATRE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; District-Manager, Mr. Hatton Wharton; Acting-Manager, Mr. George Andrews.—Huge holiday audiences here are delighted with the versatile and varied programme, at the head of which are the Boisset Troupe, who create roars of laughter with their sketch, The Bricklayers. At the end is Datas, whose marvellous memory astounds the audience. A most popular turn is that of Ernest Tilbury, whose pictorial slides are triumphs of their kind. The artist is loudly encored for the songs, "Dear Old Georgia," and "Oh! What a Lovely Dream." The Seddons are mirth-provoking in their smart juggling turn; Vernando, the ventriloquial barber, is scoring a well-deserved success; Charles Gardiner is one of Leicester's oldest and popular comedians, his reception being as hearty as ever; Walter King is aptly described as the doleful comedian, whose style creates great amusement; the Sisters Bosanquet are excellent character duettists; Cora Caselli delights all with her extremely clever dancing. The Bioscope is depicting the destruction of San Francisco.

PAVILION THEATRE.—Proprietor and Director-General, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Acting-Manager, Mr. Walter Lapworth.—A capital entertainment is provided here by the following:—Miss Madge Morley and company, who are presenting the dramatic playlet, His Master's Wife, and the comedy episode, After the Races; the Hessey soloists, in a delightful and refined musical act; Judge's performing cockatoos, parrots, and macaws, a remarkably clever show, which is introduced by the Sisters Judge; the Sisters Ford, character and comedy duettists; King Roy, coloured basso cantante; Joe Oliver, the singing coon; and Walter H. Pallister's Bioscope.

PIERROT PAVILION.—Proprietors, Messrs. Abell, Johnson, and Unsworth.—Audiences here are delighted with the entertaining programme submitted by the following artists:—Dan Lyndon, a mirth-provoking comedian; Bert Wallace, a really funny comedian; Frances O'Reilly, a vivacious vocalist; Syd Carlton, who renders his songs in good style; Edna Grey, an excellent vocalist; and Jeff Lytton, pianist and conductor.

LEIGH.—THEATRE ROYAL AND OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietor, Mr. J. W. Cragg; Resident-Manager, Mr. H. Rousby.—Mr. Morton Powell's company opened here this week with the sensational drama entitled The Woman Who Gambles, and was accorded a hearty welcome on Monday night. Mr. Edward E. Ashby is well suited as Count Otto Steinbach; Miss Gertrude Hunt proves herself fully able to get through the arduous work demanded by the name part; Mr. Horatio Sinclair is decidedly effective as the villainous Baron Cratzlaw; Mr. Reginald Fox does creditable work in the character of Lieut. Karl; Miss Marie Ramuz makes the most of her opportunities as Stella; Miss Violet Sims gives an excellent interpretation of Cora Gouldhart; the comic element is safely entrusted to Mr. Chas. Calvert as the Hon. Bertie Bray and Miss Florrie Hall as Zila.

LINCOLN. — ROYAL. — Sole Owner, Mr. Frank King).—Sapho is being played here. Miss Annie Bell invests the title-rôle with strong individuality; and Mr. Pringle Röberts is excellent as Jean; Mr. Oswald Lingard plays with capital effect as Le Grand; Mr. G. Antley is particularly good as Fenat; and Mr. L. Kingsley deserves high praise for his Dechelette. The staging is very effective.

PALACE.—Sole Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnagnten; Manager, Mr. Sydney Arthur.—Astley's American Circus tops the bill this week, and gives an amusing show. A particularly dainty item is that of Marie Santoi and her Japs; Bros. Redmond contribute a smart acrobatic turn; Nash and Noel are crisp comedians; George Rapley also raises laughter; and Lily Morris and Marion Scott each sing appreciably. The Raymond Bio-Tableaux are very effective.

LIVERPOOL.—ROYAL COURT THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Acting-Manager, Mr. Arthur Lawrence.—Mme. Jane Hading paid a "flying visit" on Monday afternoon, when a large and appreciative audience was present to witness the celebrated French actress and her eminently capable supporters in Le Maitre de Forges. Every point made by Mme. Hading and the accomplished M. Rouyer, who impersonated Phillipe, was warmly applauded. The curtain had to be raised several times at the close of each act. The evenings of the week saw the first appearance in Liverpool of The School for Husbands, which afforded Miss Jessie Millward an opportunity of renewing her acquaintance with the city wherein her 'ate father was a distinguished journalist. The comedy found ready acceptance, and the Lady Manners of Miss Millward fully revealed the versatility and resourcefulness of that able actress. Worthy assistance came from a capable all-round company. Mr. A. Scott Craven handled the rôle of Sir John Manners with the utmost discretion; Miss Mona K. Oram made a charming Lady Airish; as Clarissa Huntleigh Miss Maud Noel played carefully; every justice was done to the character of Captain Lovell by Mr. A. E. Grennaway; Miss Emma Chambers was a good Lady Speakill; praise is undoubtedly due to Mr. Philip Cunningham for his Eastern potentate; and Mr. T. Wigney-Percyval afforded amusement in the rôle of Lord Foppington. The staging was excellent, and the costumes and dresses very picturesque.

SHAKESPEARE THEATRE.—Lessees, The Shakespeare Theatre Company, Ltd.; Manager and Secretary, Mr. John Gaffney.—Mr. Edward Marris's company is here this week with The Dandy Doctor, which has been richly enjoyed. The Melchisadeck Brown of Mr. Marris was as mirth-provoking as ever, and at times the audience screamed with laughter at his antics with the housemaid Jane, delightfully played by Miss Florence Smithers. Mr. Walter B. Nugent was particularly good as Arthur Vandyke; Mr. Herbert Pearce as Colonel Pendred afforded the utmost satisfaction; the Colonel's daughter was capably impersonated by Miss Elfie Vincent, her singing being very much appreciated; Miss Rosie Chandler in the part of Marie Murton danced gracefully; and Mr. Leslie Martin provoked much merriment with his Bertie Bollingbroke. Specialities were introduced by the Dandy Belles, the Dutch Girls, and the Yeoman Male Voice Quartet.

ROTUNDA THEATRE. — Manager, Mr. M. Montgomery, jun.—For Better or Worse has paid a first visit to the popular north-end house, the company presenting it being an able one sent by Mr. Fred Granville. Mr. George Edwin Clive holds the part of Captain Frank Hilliard, playing with much dramatic strength; Miss Marriot-Watson as Olive Heathcote shows a deal of naturalness; the unscrupulous Belle Bavestock is admirably portrayed by Miss Cissie St. Elmo; an excellent Major Gerald Crawford comes from Mr. Charles H. Lester; Mr. Owen Remond does credit to the character of Lieut. Hector Dalrymple; Mr. Carthage Caldcleugh is satisfactory as Ned Earnshaw; and much laughter is provoked by the specialities of Mr. Fred Acton as Horatio P. Ranter, an actor; and Miss Eva Reed, as Melinda Little.

LYRIC THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Henry C. Arnold; Directors of Entertainments, Messrs. T. Barrasford and F. Willmot; Acting-Manager, Mr. Fred Coles. — The holiday-week attraction is of a particularly varied nature. May Henderson heads the bill with her artistic and catchy coon and ballad songs; Halma's juggling is deservedly applauded; Vardon is a clever ventriloquist; Ara, Zebra, and Vora are daring in their gymnastic turn; Mr. "C." is an amusing comedian: Regan and Ryan create roars of laughter; George Ripon, Blanche Marion, and Fields and Lewis also contribute.

STAR THEATRE. — Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Harris Fineberg.—Eight years ago this week the long career of the Star as a variety house was ended, Mr. Harris Fineberg, with a foresight which has proved eminently sound, then deciding to venture into the "legitimate." Since the change to drama, the Star has had a successful career, and this week, to mark the anniversary, Hoodman Blind, a work which inaugurated the new condition of things on Whit Monday, 1898, has been presented. Mr. Arnold Bell's talented company has been responsible for the production, which has afforded every satisfaction. That able actor was again seen to advantage as Jack Yeulett; Miss Frances Campbell made a delightful Nance and Jess, playing with considerable feeling; Mr. Cuthbert Imrie was a fine Mark Lezzard; the Ben Chibbles of Mr. John Belton was a well-drawn character; Miss Violet Campbell acquitted herself well as Polly Chibbles; praise is due to Miss Bowman for her Liz and Granny Quodling; and Miss Edith Byron made an acceptable Kitty.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. Lingford Carson; Manager, Mr. Fred L. Arthur.—It is some years since The Gamester of Metz was seen in Liverpool, consequently its appearance here this week, in charge of the talented author, Mr. Charles March, has proved highly attractive. In the rôle of Paul Baldot Mr. March has opportunities for showing his remarkable versatile powers, and the rapid changes of character effected caused great wonderment. Miss Una Lane was a winsome Lucie Baldot; a capital Countess Baldot was submitted by Miss Eva Lyndhurst; Mr. Fred Aldworth capably filled the character of General Mon parasse; as Captain Badaire Mr. John B. Murray proved most satisfactory; Mr. P. Wentworth was the curé D'Artris; Miss Cissy Haighton a humorous Gwendolin Pearson; and Mr. W. Brinklow made the most of Courcelli. The play was very well put on.

THE EMPIRE.—Proprietors, Moss' Empires, Ltd.; Resident-Manager, Mr. Horace Cole.—Wilkie Bard is in big type here this week, and has been accorded a hearty reception for his favourite and new songs. The Mannings present a laughable item, The Hotel Boots; some excellent songs are rendered by Henry Helm, a French baritone; Theo Boumeister, assisted by two other artists, is seen in the dramatic episode, Who is Guilty? in which he undertakes seven distinct characters; a pleasing feature of the programme is Miss Maud Courtney's songs and stories; Carney and Armstrong are particularly happy in The Professional and the Baggage Man; the songs of Nellie Stratton prove most enjoyable; Conn and Conrad supply a smart gymnastic speciality in Fun on the Barber's Pole; Walton and Lester, "the world's worst wizards" cause much laughter; and the list also contains the names of Lizzie Daniels, comedienne; George Brooks, the sailor comedian; and May Mars, burlesque actress.

ROYAL HIPPODROME. — Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Barrasford. — During the whole of last week the remarkable work of Dr. Bodie attracted vast audiences here, and the second week which he has put in has proved quite as successful. Gipsy Woolf and her piccaninnies gave a very diverting and picturesque turn in Fun in the Forest; the Two Cabiacs provoke much laughter with their comical acrobatic antics; very pleasing are the baritone songs of Percy Hannan; the blind pianist and vocalist, Mons. Slippere, submits a satisfactory turn; Tiny Arnold, declared to be the smallest star artist in the world, renders some neat songs; Queenie May, another diminutive vocalist and dancer, is loudly applauded; Fyne and Hurley, as the coster and the dude, create fun; a smart quick-change scene, The Nightingale, comes from the Two Kays; and as vocalists and speciality dancers, the Floradora Girls are very acceptable.

NEW PARTHENON. — Proprietor, Mr. Edwin W. Smith.—At the head of the bill here this week is H. O. Wills, whose latest successful songs are richly enjoyed; Howard Ward and Louie Davis have a lively musical comedy duologue, Wanted, a Typist; Harry Wright's extemporaneous rhymes are much enjoyed; Nellie Gannon's descriptive English and Irish songs are particularly good; Blarney and Kennard have a smart comedy act, introducing their waltzing dog; and Peggy Fame is a comedienne of merit.

ROYAL PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Manager, Mr. M. Montgomery, jun.; Acting-Manager, Mr. Frank O'Toole.—The stock dramatic company, which is proving so successful here, has this week produced the sketch, A Marriage of Vengeance, from the pen of Arthur J. Charlson. Mr. Percy Boucher is the Bob Shorner; Mr. Cecil Ravenswood undertakes Glynne Earnscliffe; Mr. Harry Tresham is Paul Earnscliffe; and other characters are entrusted to Mr. E. D. Allen, Miss Lina Nazeby, and Miss Beryl Ravenswood. The eleven tableaux are effectively put on.

PADDINGTON PALACE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Walter De Frece; Director of Entertainments, Mr. Fred Willmot.—Henderson, the blind musician, is top of the programme this week, and gives some excellent selections; Frank Coyle, a popular comedian here, is well received for his latest songs; Myra Love proves a charming serio comedienne; as an eccentric comedian, Joe Atkinson is good; Lillian Victoria shows herself to be a clever young character artist, and her latest departure in appearing in male attire gives promise of proving successful; the dancing of Violet Wilton is marked by much skill; and J. W. Howley is a talented juvenile vocalist and sand dancer.

PARK PALACE, LTD. — Managing-Director, Mr. Walter De Frece; Director of Entertainments, Mr. Fred Willmot.—Heading the bill here this week are J. Wright Aitken and company, with the sketch, A Human Fiend, which has proved interesting; Bird and Arnold's illustrated songs afford much satisfaction; Little Dot Pardy gives some neat male impersonations; Tom Leo, announced as the "largest comedian on earth," is funny; and as comedians and dancers, Bernard and Weston acquit themselves creditably.

HAYMARKET.—Lessee, Mr. Fred Willmot.—A smart sketch, entitled A Life of Sin, is being presented here this week by W. L. Lee and company; Rosie Leslie shines as a comedienne and expert dancer; Ernie Myers is an eccentric comedian, with many good points; some well-rendered songs come from Lily Lonsdale; and the Idento Brothers go through a deal of funny juggling.

WESTMINSTER. — Manager, Mr. M. Montgomery, jun.; Acting-Manager, Mr. G. Montgomery.—An attractive programme is offered here this week, at the top being J. Wright Aitken's sketch company, in A True Briton, the characters in which are ably undertaken by Messrs. Herbert Cecil, Walter Foster, C. Durand, and Miss Lillian Burns. A local favourite is Mr. Tom Kelso, and he and his company are creating great laughter with The Silly Servant; Henderson, the blind musician, provides a pleasing turn; Daisy O'Malley is successful as a comedienne; Edward Ind brings his latest songs; and Harry Zetter is funny and dances particularly well.

OLYMPIA, LTD.—Manager, Mr. A. W. Young.—The public never seem to tire of John Lawson's sensational sketch, Humanity, and have enjoyed it this week as well as ever. In the absence of Auguste Van Biene, the actor-musician, who was to have made his first appearance on the variety stage with the playlet, The Master Musician, Paul Conchus gave a delightful exhibition of strength, performing very neatly several original feats; Queen and Le Brun and company present a laughable absurdity, The Cockney Huntsman; Mons. Albany had an excellent pot-pourri of ventriloquism and magic; the Sisters Jonghmanns render several harmonious vocal pieces; Minnie Cunningham, a refined and artistic comedienne, is received with much favour; Ross and Grayson are exceedingly pleasing with their extraordinary piano-playing, dancing, singing, and humour; Shirley Liggin, a coloured vocalist, has some acceptable songs; and Willie Gardner gives a unique performance on skates.

TOM CAMPBELL'S VAUDEVILLE ENTERTAINMENTS.—Sole Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Tom Campbell; Musical-Director, Mr. Tom Bowstead.—Harry Fay is a great favourite here, and his songs are amusing; Lorraine is a clever mimic; Leo Cromo is an artist of no mean merit, his lightning sketches and smoke pictures being very good; Eveline Bly has a capital contralto voice; and W. E. Redmond sings with artistic finish.

LOWESTOFT. — MARINA. — Managing-Director, Mr. E. A. Smith.—For the holidays we have a welcome return visit of the amusing comedy, Are You a Mason? which is admirably mounted and dressed. This popular playhouse has just been reopened for the season.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietor, Mr. George Gilbert.—The Royal Italian Circus opened here on Bank Holiday for a short season. There are upwards of 200 performing ponies, dogs, monkeys, goats, &c., under the direction of Signor B. Volpi, the able trainer, and the programme submitted is both interesting and amusing.

LUTON.—GRAND THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. E. Graham Falcon; Business-Manager, Mr. Louis J. Beard.—Holiday fare at this house is being supplied by Mr. T. Edward Ward's company, with the melodrama, Her Wedding Day. Harold Saxby is well interpreted by Mr. Herbert Humber; Weedon Kenyon is in the capable hands of Mr. Augustine Knight; Caccles, the Sexton, is given to Mr. Fred Yarnold, who throughout uses every opportunity the part allows to display his humorous abilities; Mr. T. Edward Ward, as Seth Mayson, is to be commended; as Dora, Miss Eva Bertram gives a very fine rendering; and as Madge Conway (the bride) Miss Ward is seen to perfection, being most sympathetic throughout.

MACCLESFIELD.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. W. K. Gattey.—The Royal Pierrots and Mucograf company, under the personal supervision of Mr. J. Rolmaz are as popular as ever; Eva Barlow, balladist, who is already a general favourite, sings some pleasing songs; Little Eugene brings down the house; illustrated songs by Kilpack and Cobley are appreciated; Taylor Snowball is a host in himself; Dancing Mac provides an interesting turn; the Marvellous Margatte in her extraordinary act causes quite a sensation; Miss Blanche West with descriptive ditties is an attraction; Masti and Julietta, Norwegian athletes, appear in a speciality act.

MAIDENHEAD.—PAVILION PLEASURE GARDENS.—Proprietor, Mr. Geo. Gude. — The seemingly ample provision made for a big crowd on Whit-Monday was taxed to its fullest extent, and the popular Pavilion Cadets had an enormous audience. Everything went off well, amid abundant signs of approval. Two recently-taken animated pictures by the Graphic Cinématograph Company were very amusing.

MAIDSTONE. — CORN EXCHANGE. — Manager, Mr. J. Besley.—This week the boards are occupied by Claude Ginnett's variety company. Among the chief turns are the spectacular sketch, Rorke's Drift and Rejected Remounts, which are played by Claude Ginnett's company; the Steens, clever mystifiers; Miss Maggie Rimmer, comedienne; Parker and Parr, duettists; Wilfredo, comedian; Charles Craston, comedian; and the Bioscope.

HIPPODROME.—Manager, Mr. G. H. Watson.—The following are apearing here this week:—Frank Elliston and company in Aunt Matilda, an exceedingly funny sketch; Fred Elton, in his scena Life on a Liner; Milner Verren, tenor vocalist; the Fitzroys, smart gymnasts; Lily Foy, a charming comedienne; Carl Howard, a funny burlesque conjuror; the Sisters Reno, dancers; and the Bioscope.

MANCHESTER.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessees, The United Theatres Co., Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. Edwardstone Shirra.—Last week's attraction, San Toy, remains here another week.

PRINCE'S THEATRE. — Proprietors, The United Theatres Co., Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. George Lee.—The well-known comedian Mr. John L. Shine is seen here this week with his company in The Member for Slocum. It is a very amusing piece, and the title-part is rendered in excellent style by Mr. J. L. Shine, who is supported cleverly by Miss Maud Henderson as the domineering mother-in-law; Mr. Robert Grey as the friendly Bill Smith; Miss Betty Castle as the servant; Miss Dora Nelson as the mysterious Arethusa; and others in minor rôles. The farce is preceded by Hogmanay, a well-written and well-acted episode of sentimental interest.

GAIETY THEATRE.—Proprietors, The United Theatres Co., Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. M. Thorburn.—Mr. C. Edwardes presents here this week Mr. Alexander Loftus and company in the popular musical comedy The New Barmaid. A highly pleasing performance is given. Mr. Charles Adeson is prominently successful as Bertie White, brother to William, the head waiter, the latter rôle being capitally rendered by Mr. Alexander Loftus. Miss Maisie Ellinger is charming in the title-part; Miss Violet Osmond gives a clever rendering of the lady journalist, Dora Heather; Miss Maud Nicholls acts well as Brenda Louth, the old barmaid; Mr. Leslie Austin acts and sings very agreeably as Captain Lovebury; and Mr. James Grant presents a vigorous Col. Claymore. Among other clever members of the cast the Misses Amy Preston, May Hawthorne, and Queenie Bell deserve praise for their excellent dancing.

ROYAL OSBORNE THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. P. B. Broadhead.—Mr. J. H. Clyndes and company are appearing here this week in A Royal Revenge, a picturesque and romantic play of strong interest. Mr. J. H. Clyndes sustains the dual rôle of Alvarez and Pedro de Casto with great success; Miss Enid Edoni gives a powerful interpretation of the wife, Inez; Miss Aimee Grattan Clyndes is remarkably good as Cora Casilda, the dancing girl; Mr. J. Boyd Pearson does very well as the King of Spain; and Mr. A. F. Dudley is successful as Count Uzela. Humorous parts are in the clever hands of Mr. Arthur Bradley and Miss Connie Bradley. The play was followed with interest on Monday by a good house.

METROPOLE THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. P. B. Broadhead.—A good programme here this week includes Casey's Court, an excellent and amusing sketch; the Marsumas, in a comic knockabout cycle act; the Sisters Allen, dainty dancers; the Three Macdonalds, in their musical garden; Tennyson and Law, clever character duettists; the Two Whites, American song and dance artists; Ned Mason, a smart whistling comedian and vocalist; and Harry Nelson, character comedian.

ST. JAMES'S THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. R. Flanagan; Acting-Manager, Mr. Gus Flanagan.—The attraction here this week is provided by Messrs. Stillwell and Teulon's company in a sensational and well-acted drama entitled The Branded Woman. All the parts are in good hands, and the piece proved highly acceptable to a fairly large holiday audience on Monday.

GRAND JUNCTION THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. P. B. Broadhead.—Mr. Phil Herman, the popular Anglo-Dutch impersonator, is once more the attraction to local audiences at this house. He appears in the old favourite musical drama Fritz, and is well supported by a cast which includes Miss Susie Beavan as Katrina, Mr. William Marsh as the rascally lawyer, Mr. Stanley Carlton as the villainous Colonel Crafton, Mr. Fred C. Imbert as the shoeblack, and clever Miss Rubie Maude as Lena.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. R. Flanagan; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Berry.—The name of Mr. John F. Preston is a guarantee of good dramatic quality in the plays with which he is associated, and that in which he is appearing this week, Rogues of the Turf, is certainly no exception to the rule. It is known to Manchester playgoers as a spirited and interesting piece, vigorously dashed with the sensational, and staged with due completeness. Equally well known is Mr. John F. Preston's powerful depiction of the old trainer Joe Flaxman, an exacting and elaborate rôle; and Monday's audience at this theatre appreciated his fine effort to the full. Miss Madge Nelson also made a notable success as Nellie, the trainer's daughter; while humour was contributed very acceptably by Mr. Herbert Woodin as Sam Flaxman and Miss Madge Palmer as Phyllis. Other parts were correspondingly well played by the various members of the cast.

PALACE.—General-Manager, Mr. Walter De Frece; Secretary, Mr. Peter Watson; Acting-Manager, Mr. G. Rhodes Parry.—Charles Majilton's company of comedians is here this week in The Trippers, a mirth-provoking absurdity. The New York Comedy Four are excellent singers with droll ways; Leo Dryden, the well-known actor-vocalist, sings with his usual success; the Goldini Trio, including a clever juvenile contortionist, are wonderful plate and carpet-spinners; and the Calcutts contribute enjoyable banjo solos and a spirited dance. The Three Romas are seen to advantage in a modern gladiatorial act; Harry Freeman is a comedian with plenty of "go"; Mlle. Vonetta is a charming illusionist and protean artist; and Gracie Lawn dances smartly. The pictures are good.

EMPIRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. Hall.—The House Boat is a lively sketch presented here this week by John Leopold's company of comedians, and causes no end of laughter. Ancillotti and his exceptionally well-trained dog "Pilu" provide an unique turn; and the Morton Trio are capital singers and comedians. Martin Adeson, Clara Bernard, and Bert Lloyd are seen in a diverting musical sketch entitled The Masked Lady, and are well received; the Althoffs make a hit in their original comic musical act; the Bros. Attab are neat head and hand balancers; Harry Bedford, comedian, scores with song and a capital eccentric dance added; and the Six Lancashire Lasses are expert clog dancers. Some good animated pictures are also shown.

HIPPODROME. — Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. E. P. Morgan.—Moses and Son, Fred Karno's latest and perhaps best creation, with Fred Kitchen the inimitable in the cast, is the great attraction here this week, and packed houses are the rule. The Harmony Four are most enjoyable singers, and their comedy business is decidedly funny; the Canary Company are good in a comic pantomime; Boswell's stage circus introduces some cleverly-trained animals; Horace Wheatley, the popular Irish actor, sings and dances well; and the Maples give a practical lesson on "How to Treat a Burglar." Mr. Tom Ince sings to pictures "She waits by the deep blue sea," assisted by the choir, who also render Blumenthal's "Night," a delightful part-song. The bioscope shows up-to-date pictures.

TIVOLI. — Managing-Director, Mr. Chas. A. Wilkes; Acting-Manager, Mr. Arthur B. Wilkes.—Charming Stella Gastelle, of La Poupée fame, is the bright particular star here this week, and she meets with a good reception. Harry Pleon is also to the front with a mimetic novelty entitled "Stuff that dreams are made of," a series of capital impersonations, and subsequently Mr. Pleon, assisted by Celia Kent and Chris V. Bern, appears in a most amusing burlesque scena. The Mayvilles (Harry and Elsie) are successful, as usual, in their original Lilliputian entertainment; A. P. Boswell, "the furniture-shifter," does some astonishing chair and table-balancing; Walter Emerson, comedian, makes a hit with his song, "Another one off to America"; Ted Waite is another good comedian; Lily Black is a pleasing comedienne; Lillian Elfreda mimics favourite artists with success; and Raymond's Vivagraph pictures are good.

KING'S, LONGSIGHT.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. P. B. Broadhead.—Mr. Harry Lowther and company, including Miss Hulo Hodgson, are here this week in a most amusing farcical comedietta entitled Barmaids, which goes with a rare swing, and is well received. The Tom Davis Trio "whirl the whirl" on motor-cycles in mid-air; and the Cleveland Burlesque Company introduces good dancing, tumbling, comedy juggling, &c., in a funny act. Other good turns are those of Tokio, Japanese mimic; Rupertos, novel equilibrists; Clifton and Gibson, eccentric comedians; Greener, the Salford pit lad; and "Rescinded by the Army," depicted on the bioscope.

QUEEN'S PARK HIPPODROME.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. P. B. Broadhead.—Here this week Harry Roxbury and company offer a well-staged musical mélange entitled The Prince of Monte Carlo, in which Harry Roxbury and the other members of the combination acquit themselves well, to the delight of patrons. Dawson Dewick is a versatile vocalist with a good voice; Charles Jackson is a good comedian and dancer; the Three Seymons contribute a clever juggling act; and other satisfactory turns are added by Paul De Lil, illusionist; the Wade Trio, comedians; Charles Hulbert, ventriloquist; and Flora and Hallic in a speciality act. "Her First Cake" is an amusing film shown on the bioscope.

HIPPODROME, HULME. — Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. P. B. Broadhead.—Dou-Ban, the wonderful talking head, is appropriately at the top of the bill here this week, and causes considerable wonderment; Sam Jesson's Little Merry-Makers prove very entertaining in song and dance; and much amusement is caused by Harry Glynn's company in a rollicking sketch, The New J.P. Adams and Reuss contribute some smart patter and good dancing; and the "pocket" comedian, Master Joe Conway, is extremely popular. Charles F. Best, as McBunker, the showman, does some clever tumbling; and other good turns are given by Ionia, a first-rate rifle shot; George Martinengo, baritone and solo 'cellist; and Dick Kendall, comedian. Steane Louch, operatic vocalist, is billed, but did not appear on the night of our visit, the Tinkelers, two smart triple-bar artists, providing a clever turn in his place.

RUSHOLME PAVILION.—Sole Proprietor, Mr. Harry Leslie; Acting-Manager, Mr. Charles North.—A splendid holiday programme here this week includes the following capable artists: Fannie Newman, comedienne; Gillin, the great ventriloquist; Hugh Haines, comedian; John Chesney, concertina soloist; Kathleen Moore, soprano; W. H. Jackson, pianist; George Curzon, baritone; and Franklyn Taylor, Lancashire character comedian.

MANSFIELD.—HIPPODROME.—Manager, Mr. T. Jennings.—At this place of amusement the Schallers give a clever and amusing turn on the rings; the Two American Hartleys are entertaining; Mlle. Yelda wins great applause; Prof. Earle, Wal Owen, and Wilson Roberts also contribute, and Payne's Bioscope exhibits a series of interesting pictures.

VICTORIA THEATRE.—Parlato's vaudeville company occupies the boards here. Miss Eva Anker's pleases with her singing; Miss Ethel Barrs wins applause for her cornet playing; Mr. Herbert H. Cullum provides a good turn; as also does Mr. Will Bradford; Mr. C. E. Parlato is greatly appreciated for his impersonations; Parker's performing animals create much amusement; and the Parlograph shows an excellent series of pictures.

MARGATE. — HIPPODROME. — Sole Proprietors, Messrs. F. Mouillot and W. de Frece; General-Manager, Mr. J. de Frece; Resident-Manager, Mr. C. F. Bawtree.—Holiday audiences crowded this house at the matinée and the two evening performances on Monday. The programme submitted was an attractive one, the contributors being the Sisters Redfern, banjoists, vocalists, and dancers; Alf. Chester, comedian; Helen Charles, in her drawing-room entertainment; the Donatos, one-legged clowns; Mark Leslie, coon impersonator and dancer; and Pierri's International Troupe of Wrestlers, including Ahmed Madrali, the Terrible Turk

THEATRE ROYAL.—Exclusive Manager, Mr. Edward Michael.—This house reopened for the summer season on Saturday, after thorough renovation and refurnishing, the whole of the seating arrangements having been remodelled and the place brought up to date in every way. The season has been started by Miss Ethel Irving and her company with the comedy, Lucky Miss Dean. Miss Irving was a success in her original part of Acacia Dean, and Mr. Marsh Allen also scored in his original creation, Frederick Ware. Mr. A. Austin-Leigh was excellent as Perceval Chaney, and Mr. Arthur Bell capital as Horace Chaney; Mr. Percy Vale, as Wilfred Ashmole, and Mr. E. J. Ingledew, as John Smith, did good work in their respective parts; Miss Emmie O'Reilly played Lady Ashmole excellently, and the remaining characters were sustained satisfactorily by Mr. R. S. Wilton as George Lightfoot, and Mr. R. F. Bent as Bill Adams. The comedy was repeated on Monday. On Wednesday afternoon Mr. Albert Chevalier gave a matinée performance in which he, supported by his company, appeared in the best of his many successes.

MERTHYR TYDFIL. — THEATRE ROYAL AND OPERA HOUSE.—Sole Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Will Smithson.—The variety holiday programme submitted here includes Bob Graham, comedian; Vere and Royal, the Komedy Kouple; Mlle. Florizell, the flexible lady; Miss Georgie Beaufort, burlesque and dance artist; Apollo and Hercules, athletes; Fred Ryce, comedy juggler; Fox and Melville, in vocal pictures; and an interesting display of animated pictures completes a capital holiday programme.

TEMPERANCE HALL.—Manager, Mr. Israel Price.—An entertaining company here includes the Three Escaladors, in their ladder act; Miss Maud Marlow, burlesque artist and dancer; Hulo, man monkey; J. H. Crew, comedian and dancer; the Paulo Bros., comedy acrobats; and the biograph.

METHIL.—TOWN HALL THEATRE.—Mr. John Hamilton's Alhambra Company is still here. On Monday night Burke and Hare was presented. In the name parts Messrs. John and Edgar Hamilton acquitted themselves creditably; Messrs. Will Henderson and J. Jessamine did well as Dr. Williamson and Bobbie; Mr. Billie Barr scored a success in the part of Daft Jamie; Mrs. Lloydall and Miss Dukinfield were well suited as Mrs. Burke and Mrs. Hare; Mrs. Carrack made a sympathetic Mary Paterson. Other stirring dramas have been performed during the week.

MEXBOROUGH.—PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. W. H. Melton.—Mr. Fred J. Kirke is providing a double bill here this week with the musical plays The Naval Detective and In Old Madrid. In the former piece Mr. Kirke is delightful in the title-rôle; Mr. Harold Wallace makes an excellent Dr. Schreiner; Mr. Mark Practice (Captain Hustle) and Mr. L. Stuart (Hon. Bertie Fairlox) are funny in their respective rôles; Miss Louie Fountaine sings and acts charmingly as Phyllis Leslie; and Miss Lily Seymour is quaint and pleasing as Rebecca Gentle. A variety entertainment is given by Mr. Chas. H Burns, instrumentalist; Louie Fountaine, soprano; Edith Clarke, comedienne; Sisters English, dancers; Mark Practice, character comedian; Fred J. Kirke, tenor; and Mr. Lorrimer Stuart, baritone.

MIDDLESBROUGH. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Chas. Imeson.—Miss Bonwin Carlton's company in the drama, The Plucky Nipper, is here this week. Miss Bonwin Carlton gives a delightful impersonation of Polly Hithard; Mr Edward Surrey is decidedly successful as Bill Burgess; Miss Evelyn Derwent gives a fine impersonation of Ina Fenwick; Mr. Douglas Campbell, as Tommy Atkins, creates much laughter with his songs; Mr. George Knight is excellent as Colonel Fenwick; and Mr. Edward Stream leaves nothing to be desired; Miss Kitty Maynard, as the blind girl, does well.

OPERA HOUSE. — Managing-Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. K. Chatto.—Messrs. Dottridge, Longden, and Livesey's company in the play, The Village Blacksmith, is here this week. Mr. Sam Livesey as John Strong, the blacksmith, is exceedingly good; Miss Bertha Hanbury gives a pathetic rendering of the character of Harry Strong, the blacksmith's child; Mr. Joseph Carter plays with unbounded vigour as Captain Leo; Miss Laura Walker acts the part of Strong's wife admirably; Miss Maggie Edwards gives a capital impersonation of Ruth Parkin, and Mr. George Campbell, as Billy, causes roars of laughter; Mr. Edwin Mayhew is good as Lucas.

EMPIRE PALACE.—Managing-Director, Mr. John Brill; Manager, Mr. Charles Rembges.—At this place of amusement the Six Brothers Luck cause roars of laughter in their amusing sketch, The Demon of the Cellar; Burke, Andrus, and Frisco are also good; Little Ganty proves a popular favourite with his patter and songs, and the acrobatic feats of the Five Whiteleys are much applauded; the Ongars, Charles Ridgewell, and Madge May also contribute to the programme.

OXFORD PALACE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Alfred Graham.—An excellent programme is provided here this week. A capital entertainment is given by Iona, and Will McIvor's singing is appreciated; Walter Munroe scores with his comic songs, as do Maxford and O'Neil with patter; Edna Thelma, comedienne; James Bell, entertainer; and Chanti also contribute successfully to the programme.

MORECAMBE. — ROYALTY THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE. — Sole Lessee, Lieut. Julian Malvern; General-Manager, Mr. Chas. M. Julian.—Mr. Lawrence Brough's company in The Lady of Ostend and The Cruise of the Saucy Sally, both pieces by Sir F. Burnand, have attracted excellent houses during the holidays. Mr. Brough has created much amusement in each piece, and he has been supported by Messrs. Henry Hampson, Chas. Groves, jun., H. Gower May, Evelyn Vernon, and J. Detlio; Misses Edith Vogue, Daisy Cook, Eleanor Gilbart, Evelyn Ormonde, and Kate Milford. Each evening the comedietta Margaret's Stratagem preceded the principal piece.

WINTER GARDENS.—Manager, Mr. Tom Atkinson.—The Martelloni troupe of lady acrobats made their first appearance in England here on Monday and were cordially welcomed. A fine turn is that provided by the Novellos, who introduce horses, dogs, and elephants in a gorgeous setting. Max Wessely's jugglers are as clever as ever. A cleverly worked out sketch, The 100 to 1 Chance, is admirably given by Frank France and Edith Stewart. Reilly and Taylor are smart American-Dutch comedians; Stylo manipulates the hoops with much skill; Harry Bickley is an amusing comedian; and the eccentricities of Hall and Earle have just suited holiday audiences. The Sisters Marion are pleasing juvenile irresistible humorist; and the great Jackson Family complete a well-balanced and enjoyable bill. Mr. Bayliss is the chef d'orchestre.

NELSON. — NEW GRAND THEATRE. — Lessee and Manageress, Mrs. T. Greenwood Croft; Business-Manager, Mr. George E. Mudd.—The charming society play A Bunch of Violets is being played here this week under the direction of Mr. George E. Mudd. Mr. Norman Partriege gives a fine portrayal of the character of Sir Philip Marchant; Mrs. T. Greenwood Croft as the leading lady scores a dramatic success in the rôle of Mrs. Murgatroyd; Mr. William Attfield figures to distinct advantage as Lord Mount-Sorrel; Mark Murgatroyd is cleverly impersonated by Mr. Wilson Coleman; Mr. Patrick Evans as the Hon. Harold Inglis is an unqualified success; Miss Florence Russell-Spiers plays with distinction a Lady Marchant; Miss Tessa Myers is pleasing as Violet; Mr. C. W. Spencer does justice to the part of Jacob Schwartz; Mr. Leon Aynscliffe makes an effective Harker; Mr. Joe Bebb ably sustains the part of the butler; and Mr. Reginald Fletcher acquits himself admirably as the footman.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE. — TYNE THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. F. W. Wyndham; Business-Manager, Mr. Fred C. Sutcliffe.—An acceptable triple bill is being presented here this week by Miss Alice Chapin and company, the principal item being the favourite musical farce, A Pantomime Rehearsal, which renews acquaintance with a Newcastle audience after a very long absence. Mr. H. A. Welchman is irresistibly funny as the stage-manager; Mr. Fred Parks simply bubbles over with humour as Lord Pomeroy; and Mr. H. Chapin is immensely droll as Captain Tom Robinson. Miss Alice Chapin as Lady Muriel Beauciere, Miss Winsome Etherington as the Hon. Lily Eaton-Belgrave, and Miss Paula Fernan as the Hon. Violet Eaton-Belgrave are all delightfully amusing in these rôles. Faithful James and The Lady Mesmerist precede.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Acting-Manager, Mr. F. Teale Lingham.—Mr. Charles Cartwright presents this week—the last week of the season—Dan'l Peggotty, a four-act adaptation by Mr. Kellett Chambers of "David Copperfield." The title part is given a most able interpretation by Mr. Cartwright himself, his picture of the rough, great-hearted fisherman being a very fine performance. Excellently played, too, is the part of Little Em'ly by Miss Molly Pearson. Mr. Arthur Royston's is a fine study of Steerforth, and ably done is the part of Micawber by Mr. George Bellamy, while a difficult character in Uriah Heap finds a capital exponent in Mr. Ivan Berlyn. Other parts are well filled as follows:—David Copperfield, Mr. Humphrey Warden; Ham, Mr. Alfred Woods; Mr. Wickfield, Mr. H. Carter Bligh; Lettimer, Mr. Ernest Mozar; Mrs. Steerforth, Miss Maude Williamson; Rosa Dartle, Miss Edith Cartwright; Betsy Trotwood, Miss Mabel Luxmore; Agnes Wickfield, Miss Gordon Walker; Mrs. Gummidge, Miss Mary Smith; Martha, Miss Scott-Lauder; Mrs. Barkis, Miss Ruby Wyndham.

PALACE THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. T. W. Rowe; Business-Manager, Mr. E. B. Clark.—Messrs. Garrod and Northway's company is responsible for the presentment of the drama entitled The Prodigal Parson, which occupies the boards here this week. Mr. W. V. Garrod himself enacts the name part in a thoroughly artistic manner; Mr. A. Northway as Churchwarden Jaggins, and Mr. Alfred Dallas as Ben Jaggins give a good example of up-to-date villainy. Miss Bertha Kingston acquits herself well in the leading feminine rôle, and the comedy efforts of Mr. P. Dawson and Miss May Grayce justify favourable comment. Variety is lent to the entertainment by the dancing of the Radium Girls.

GRAND THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. Sidney Bacon.—The drama, entitled A Noble Brother, has been submitted to large audiences here this week by Mr. Charles Carte and company, Mr. Carte himself again delighting one and all with his clever impersonation of Jerry the tramp. Able support is forthcoming from Mr. Frank Lyndon, who portrays the rôle of the villain, Henry Travers, on popular lines; a satisfactory "juvenile lead" is found in Mr. Arthur A. Tomlin, who thoroughly justifies his selection; Mr. Michael Madden is agreeably placed as Larry O'Brien; Miss Doris Brooks displays rare charm as Nana Leigh, and Miss Rosie Conroy successfully assists in the comedy scenes as Rosie Rapid.

EMPIRE THEATRE.—Resident-Director, Mr. Richard Thornton; Resident-Manager, Mr. E. Leslie Conroy.—Large holiday audiences have laughed heartily at the ingenious and very amusing business in the absurdity, The Casey Circus, performed by a numerous and talented company. Some of the balancing feats of the Wille Brothers are marvellous in the extreme, and this clever trio deserve all the applause they receive; dainty and vivacious Lily Langtry is as lively and as entertaining as ever; the McConnell Trio are popular favourites hereabouts, and their musical sketch again meets with cordial recognition; the New York Nippers show much versatility in their scena, entitled Bed Time; Elly Adair and Nellie Martell both win favourable comment as comediennes and dancers; the duologue, Two to One, is a diverting little entertainment, presented by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Finden; the Klos Sisters submit an athletic act with much success; and Clown Barker and Miss Rozsika introduce some clever performing animals in their circus act.

PAVILION THEATRE. — Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Barrasford; Manager, Mr. Will H. Boardman.—The leading feature in this week's programme is contributed to by Arthur Rigby, whose song, "The March of the Married Men," is again productive of much merriment; F. Wilbur Hill and Willette Whitaker are accorded a flattering reception for their excellent banjo playing and vocalism, Miss Whitaker fairly bringing down the house with her beautiful rendering of "Hallelujah"; George D'Albert renews acquaintance here, and scores his customary success in a couple of cleverly written songs; J. B. Preston, Scotch comedian, is a popular favourite; Harry and Fanny Dent create infinite amusement with their well-known comedy sketch; Yamomoto and Koyoshi, Japanese equilibrists, are loudly applauded for a really clever and daring performance; Arthur Reece, vocal comedian, sings himself into favour; and other entertaining contributions emanate from Myles and May, the Merry Huntemen; Evelyn Taylor, comedienne; Lily Lena, comedienne; the Sivronis, burlesque comedy artists; and the Barrascope, depicting Quarter Day Conjuring.

OLYMPIA THEATRE. — Proprietor, Mr. Richard Thornton.—The U.S.A. and Greater Britain Animated Photo company again occupy this hall with a varied and entertaining series of pictures, the subjects chosen being both interesting and amusing. Excellent business has been done this week.

NEWPORT.—LYCEUM.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Sidney Cooper.—The holiday attraction here is provided by Mr. W. H. Hallatt's company in The Temptress. Mr. Hallatt plays Pedro Gonzales with real earnestness; Stella is portrayed by Miss Blanche Steele with power and intensity; and Mr. Frederick Ross plays admirably the part of Lucas Denbigh. Mr. Geo. D. Daiper is a manly hero, Philip Welford; and Mr. Robert Wilton makes an excellent Rev. Austin Dale. Mr. Tom E. Sinclair's Bob Turner is richly humorous, and he is capitally aided in the provision of fun by Mr. Alan Carruthers (Francis FitzFluke). Mr. Oscar Power, Miss Lizzy Chambers, and Miss Mabel Scudamore played their respective characters exceptionally well.

EMPIRE. — Moss' Empires, Ltd.—Managing-Director, Mr. O. Stoll.—Mark Sheridan, always popular here, heads a very attractive holiday bill, and his drolleries keep the house in roars of laughter. Alcide Capitaine, a lady trapezist, is warmly applauded; Belloin's Birds give a marvellous performance; and Binns and Binns, comedians, combine fun and skill in a way that is enjoyable. Frank and Free are amusing; Miss Odeyne Spark sings and dances prettily; and the Bros. Damm go through a clever performance on the bar. J. H. Milburn sings in a pleasing style; and the Sisters Chester in a dainty turn complete the bill.

NORTHAMPTON. — OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietors and Managers, Messrs. Milton Bode and Edward Compton; Resident-Manager, Mr. Harry Eeden.—Mr. Milton Bode's company has appeared this week in Saved From the Sea. Mr. William Matthews gives a forcible rendering of Dan Ellington; Jim Weaver, Peter Scalcher, and Richard Fenton, a trio of thorough scoundrels, are well acted by Mr. Louis Hector, Mr. Frederick Harker and Mr. Monson Thorpe, Mr. Edward Swinton and Mr. Scott Turner furnish some amusing fun as Billy Snooks and Jenkins, ably assisted by Miss Daisy Stone as Polly Blake and Miss Violet Temple as Mrs. Blake, and Miss Florence Creagh is a pleasing and sympathetic Nancy.

PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Fred H. Anderson; Acting-Manager, Mr. Robert Barton.—Augustin and Hartley are extremely clever in their barrel act; the Ashers appear with success as "the Earl and the Girl"; the Sisters Vincent are excellent duettists and dancers; Maude Kaye submits a coon song in fair style; Susie and Protti are speciality dancers of great ability; Nina Vesta is a smart comedienne; Baroux and Bion are smart eccentric acrobats; Ether Loftus, the comedy girl, makes a big hit with her funny songs; Bert Brantford is highly successful with his comic songs; and the Palace Pictures maintain their popularity.

NORTH SHIELDS.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Arthur Jefferson; Acting-Manager, Mr. Horace Lee.—A large audience assembled here on Monday evening to welcome Mr. Dickie Clare's company in Lucky Liza. Mr. Dickie Clare as Silas Slim was responsible for much hearty laughter; and Mr. James Chippendale scored heavily as Peter Pettitoe. Mr. Leonard Maitland made quite a hit as Paul Pettitoe; Mr. Willie Reed was an amusing Biffens; and Mr. A. W. Thompson as Blatherwick, Mr. George Minto as the Judge, and Mr. James Quinn as the Usher added greatly to the fun. Miss Madge Brownie acquitted herself admirably as Liza Bird; Miss Madge Locke met with much appreciation as Virginia Blatherwick; and Miss Belle Russell made a good Marie Pettitoe.

CENTRAL PALACE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Wm. Mould.—The Karno Trio, in The Travellers' Rest, top the bill here and cause hearty laughter; Mr. Arthur Albert, descriptive vocalist, comes in for a cordial reception; and Aryama, the Japanese Wonder, performs some marvellous feats. Mr. J. C. Scatter, comedian and dancer, is clever; and Messrs. Ewart and Byran, Hebrew comedians; the McKays, speciality artists; and the bio-photoscope are all successful.

NORWICH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Manager, Mr. Fred Morgan.—A capital company occupies the boards this week with the popular piece entitled Dishonoured. Mr. Percy Ballard acted well as Philip Cunningham, and Mr. Geoff Broughton deserves praise as Col. Sir William Cunningham. Mr. Walter T. Hybert was a success as Capt. Cholmondley, and Mr. Jackson-Hayes did well as Capt. Plythland. Mr. Harold B. Ford as the butler, Mr. Val Gully as Sunny Jim Stokes, and Mr. A. Raymond Shaw as a Hindoo scored in their respective parts. Miss Jessie Merrick was charming as Sybil, Miss Violet Cranford was good as Leslie Maynard, anon Mrs. Philip Cunningham, whilst Miss Annie Thompson was amusing as Annie Maria.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. E. H. Bostock and F. W. Fitt; Manager, Mr. F. W. Fitt.—A capital holiday programme is presented this week. Mr. Harry Rosebury's company, in a musical mélange brimful of mirth and melody, entitled The Prince of Monte Carlo, is rapturously received; Austin and Cowan are successful vocal entertainers; Florence Watson proves a clever vocal comedienne; Williams and Warden are amusing duettists and dancers; Prince Bendon, ventriloquist, is a good turn; and Leo Frasettio is highly successful as a soloist on the violin, 'cello, harp, and xylophone; Harry Rogerson and Bessie Herbert in their scena Sleepy Sam are well received; and the Hippo Bio depicting scenes in the recent catastrophe at San Francisco is quite a feature of the programme.

NOTTINGHAM.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Acting-Manager, Mr. Howard Finney.—Mr. Edward Compton and company pay a welcome visit this week with a repertoire of Old English plays. On Monday was presented Davy Garrick, in which Mr. Compton played with his accustomed buoyancy and artistic skill, his embodiment calling forth unlimited applause. Miss Mackenzie undertook the rôle of Violet for the first time, acting with a charming grace and naturalness that gained appreciation; Mr. H. Crocker portrayed Alderman Gresham with vigour, and was entirely convincing; Mr. A. B. Imeson showed excellent aptitude in depicting the Hon. Tom Tallyhaut; and capital support was given by Miss M. Hassell, Muriel Meek, and Messrs. Herbert Pigot, Arnold Lucy, and G. W. Johnston. The School for Scandal, To-morrow, Money, and New Men and Old Acres were also in the bill for the week.

GRAND THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. Charles P. Cooke.—Her Luck in London has drawn crowded houses this week. Miss Mary Neil plays with tender feeling as Nellie Harborne, revealing artistic temperament and agreeable naturalness; Mr. Charles A. Leicester submits a careful and forcible reading of the Hon. O'Connor; and Mr. Alfred D. Adams makes an acceptable Richard Lenowen. Mr. Douglas Tremayne is very popular as the Rev. Lionel Strong, and Mr. Tyrone Power gives a picturesque representation of the tenant farmer Stephen Harborne. There is a strong element of comedy in which Misses Pamela Hodson, Ada Roscoe, Dora Woodberry, and Messrs. Charles Digby, J. T. Dillsen, and Bruce Clapham are seen to advantage.

KING'S THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. Edgar O. Waller. — Patrons of this hall are being highly delighted with a couple of sketches by I. G. Johnson and company, entitled In an Old Country Lane and Loyal Hearts. Llewellyn is popular with his baritone songs, gaining hearty applause, and a pleasing singer is found in Florrie Beck. Helm and Cozens are an amusing pair of comedians, and Arthur Stacey earns a liberal reward for his smart dancing. The Nettas and Raymond's Bio-Tableaux complete an all-round good programme.

EMPIRE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting Manager, Mr. Chas. H. Bowmaker.—Eugene Stratton's enjoyable coon songs with their charming settings nightly gain an enthusiastic reception. The dextrous performance of the Uessems calls forth the most vigorous plaudits; Chinko shows a deftness in his juggling that gains him a well-deserved demonstration of approval; Brooks, Dale, and Blitz provide a large fund of amusement; and an amusing absurdity by the Arthur Lloyd Trio is an excellent provoker of mirth. Marba and Verity give an exhibition of trick dancing, and Will Vokes proves his mercurial activity in a dance. The Norman-Leonard Trio introduce an acceptable musical sketch, and Alfred Hurley sings with considerable taste and fervour. The American Bioscope furnishes some films of the San Francisco disaster.

NUNEATON. — PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE AND ENTERTAINMENTS' CO., LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. A. F. Cross; Acting-Manager, Mr. Walter J. R. Bryan.—The usual crowded holiday house assembled on Monday night, when the musical comedy-drama The Convent Bell was presented. Mr. Bertram Ross gives an excellent interpretation of Philip Vautier; Mr. Chas. E. Howell is good as the Colonel; Mr. Howell Webb as Pickle Podds causes roars of laughter. Miss L. B. Clarke as Marguerite wins applause, and Miss Emily Huby does good work as Christine Valgrave. Deserving praise are Miss Mara Collings, Lady Mother of the convent, Miss Dot Russell (Susette), with songs and dances, and Mr. R. Harris (Henri Cassella). On Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday, The Price of Pleasure was staged by the same company.

OLDHAM.—EMPIRE THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. E. Dottridge; Assistant-Manager, Mr. J. Hulme.—A Prince of the People, a new romantic drama in five acts by Mr. Elwyn Barron, was produced here on Monday by Miss Emily Sheridan and a powerful company. A full notice of the piece appears in another column.

COLOSSEUM THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. Wm. Eastwood.—Messrs. Armadale and Warren's company in The Face at the Window is here on a return visit, and a large audience gave it a hearty welcome on Monday. Mr. E. Hoggan Armadale plays the Chevalier, alias Le Loup, in a forcible manner; and Mr. T. W. Dunscombe as Gouffet is very fine. Le Blano is capitally enacted by Mr. G. Phythian, and Mr. C. Alan Hineson is humorous as Peter Pottleberry. Lucian Cortier is well played by Mr. Gilbert Hall, and Mr. Alfred Warne makes a good Henry de Brisson. Miss N. Thorne Hallam is a sympathetic Marie de Brisson. La Pinau is ably played by Miss Elaine Grant, and Miss Gwynne Warren is good as Babetta. Excellent business is being done.

ROYAL THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. E. Dottridge; Assistant-Manager, Mr. W. Howgate.—Charlene and Charlene (Charles and Lilly) are starring here and provide a capital turn with their drawing-room entertainment. Dot Stephens sings very nicely; Carr and Rose give a good humorous duet; Alburtus and Jessie Millar create much laughter in their scena At the Fair Grounds; Marie Reeve is a good comedienne; Picton Roxborough and Fanny Wright are effective in a farcical episode, Cockie; Harwood's Juveniles are a clever troupe of singers and dancers with a good novelty scena entitled A Children's Christmas Evening. Tony Iveson is good as the Ragman at the piano, and Tod Lowan, comedian, is also in the programme.

GAIETY THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. E. Dottridge; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Nuttall.—Katie Butler, character comedian, is at the top of the bill, and is well received; Allis and Cassati, comedian and Tyrolean vocalist, give a neat turn; Ragius, burlesque juggler, is very mirth-provoking with his ball manipulating; and Mlle. Victoria Dagmar does a graceful act on the horizontal bar; Pete and Minnie Lee are a good pair of vocalists; the Brothers Hayes appear in their latest success, The Porter and the Professional; Jake Tarr is a good vocal comedian; and the Dottoscope concludes with "The Villain's Wooing."

OXFORD. — NEW THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Lucas, J.P.; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. C. Dorrill.—Mr. Henry Doughty opened here on Monday to the customary full Bank Holiday house with The Barrister, which was heartily received. Mr. Doughty in the title-rôle is uncommonly good, and well deserved the applause he received. Capital support is given by Mr W. A. Dunlop as Capt. Walker, Mr. E. W. Thomas as Major Drayton, and Mr. A. C. Thornhill as Jack Rodderick; while Mr. Hanby Francks scores a big success in his clever impersonation of Walker's servant, Tom Price. Miss Vera Leslie gives a very effective rendering of Mrs. Maxwell, and the remaining ladies' parts find capable exponents in Misses Beryl Graham, Edith Coleman, Amy Lloyd Desmond, and Cicely Hamilton. The Barrister is preceded by a clever curtain-raiser, The Traveller Returns, in which Mr. Doughty appears with marked success as Johannes.

EMPIRE THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Albany Ward; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. G. P. Wells.—Mrs. Walter Bentley's company opened on Monday night to a full and enthusiastic house with the costume play A Queen's Vengeance. Mr. Arthur Chisholm sustains the part of Henry II. with praiseworthy force and dignity; while Mr. J. O. Stevenson is convincing in his rendering of Sir Rupert Warriner. Mr. A. Bertram as Gilbert Ormonde and Mr. Arthur Bell as Sir Martin Clifford are both successful in their respective parts; while Mr. R. E. Trieve extracts humour out of Bibeau; and Mr. Geoffrey Mepstead is genuinely funny as Rafe Rudolph. Miss Lillian Deane gives a graceful rendering of Fair Rosamond, and is ably supported by Miss Adela Harvey as Janet Jessop. Mrs. Walter Bentley is successful as Queen Eleanor, a part which she interprets with great intensity and power.

PAISLEY.—PAISLEY THEATRE.—Sole Proprietor and Manager, Mr. J. H. Savile.—The stock company organised by Miss Violet Maitland and Mr. Herbert St. Clair is this week staging two plays, viz., Shadows of a Great City and East Lynne. Each receives capable treatment.

PLYMOUTH. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Lessee and Manager, Mr. C. F. Williams; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Langdon Lee.—The Elter Grime Operatic Company is visiting Plymouth for the first time and creating a most favourable impression. Maritana was staged on Monday, when the title-rôle was played by Miss Marie Elster, a soprano of excellent range and power; Mr. Fred Hargreaves as Don Cæsar de Bazan secured a well-deserved encore for his excellent rendering of "Let me like a soldier fall"; Mr. Michael Kemble made the most of the musical numbers allotted to Don José; and Miss Madge Quillam as Lazarillo was best heard in the duet "Sainted Mother" with Maritana. The company have also played La Fille de Madame Angot, Carmen, The Lily of Killarney, Faust, and The Bohemian Girl.

GRAND THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. C. F. Williams; Acting-Manager, Mr. Percy Williams; Assistant-Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Langdon Lee.—The recent escape from Dartmoor Prison lends additional local interest to William Bourne's drama Man to Man. Mr. Edward Lloyd plays the hero George Gordon in approved fashion; Mr. Stephen Ewart is a realistic villain as Richard Ellerton; Mr. Greene Taylor is a very humorous Bill Burkley; Miss Ethel Kay has a flattering reception as Ethel Maybourne; and Mr. C. A. Collins is a sympathetic Rev. Phillip Ormond.

PROMENADE PIER.—Manager, Mr. J. Higson.—The Olympian Singers are a much larger company than those generally appearing on the Pier, but quality by no means gives place to quantity. Mr. Phillip Ritte has a fine tenor voice; Mr. Eric Davison gave "Three jolly sailor boys" with plenty of "go"; and Mr. Robert Macaig sang "The beat of the drum" to the strains of a stirring march. Miss Doris Lee was warmly applauded for the popular "Rosie's bungalow," and Miss Haidee St. George was encored for her rendering of "A grand lady." Messrs. T. O. Taylor, Paul Mill, and Harry Harner maintain the humorous element at high level.

PALACE OF VARIETIES. — Proprietors, County Theatres and Hotels, Limited; Resident Manager, Mr. J. Field; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Neil Carlton. — Mr. S. Bacon's company in the star turn The Maniac did not put in an appearance. The Alaskas, comedy artists, secured hearty applause for a very clever entertainment; Dainty Daisy Dormer is a very smart little comedienne; Clemart is a finished ventriloquist; the Tally-Ho Trio have an engaging musical number; the Brianos have some clever performing monkeys; and Poole and Monk do remarkable acrobatic feats. Others contributing are Vernon's Pictures, Geo. Prince, and Wright and Elton.

PORTH.—POOLE'S OPERA HOUSE.—Manager, Mr Walter Bynorth.—For the Whitsuntide Holidays Messrs. Poole are presenting an excellent variety company. Mons. Felix de Marce presents his wonderful performing ponies and dogs, also the marvellous Joko and Koko, the equestrian baboons; the Cowells are seen in an attractive vocal and musical sketch; and the Three Panamas in an acrobatic, dancing, and comedy pot-pourri act. Other turns include Lottie Bray, comedienne; Nat Abbatt, musical humorist; the Danbys, comedians; Ariel and Astarte, horizontal bar performers; Beattie Worth, serio; and Sam Shipley, dialect comedian.

PORTSMOUTH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. J.W. Boughton; Acting-Manager, Mr. Armstrong Bell.—The piece selected for the Whitsun holidays here was the comedy Lucky Miss Dean. Miss Dora Gray made a very graceful and vivacious Acacia Dean; Frederick Ware was played by Mr. William E. Ashcroft with untiring energy and gaiety; Mr. Cyril Price-Evans's Wilfred Ashmole was a capable character-study; Horace Chaney as portrayed by Mr. Vivian Gilbert was very good; Miss Estelle Despa and Mr. W. T. Elworthy were responsible for the successful rendering of Lady Ashmole and Percival Chaney. The piece was preceded by the one-act farce My American Admirer. On Wednesday there was a flying matinée by Mme. Jane Hading in Le Maître de Forges.

PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. J. W. Boughton; Acting-Manager, Mr. T. E. Agate.—The powerful and sensational drama The Scarlet Woman is being played here by Miss Rosalind Scott-Watson and company. Miss Scott-Watson displays great histrionic ability as the unscrupulous mercenary adventuress Marie Brandon; Miss Ethel Crawford gives an effective delineation as Margery Honor; Mr. Howell Travis is exceedingly capable as Richard Merchant; and the malevolent villainy of Will Raymond is well portrayed by Mr. William Bradford. Miss Julia Cadman as Charlotte Simkins and Mr. Tod Squires as Sam Hopkins infuse plenty of merriment into their respective parts.

EMPIRE PALACE.—Secretary, Mr. W. Pratt.—The capital bill presented here includes Duncan's Collies, who are wonderfully sagacious; and Chas. Silburn, versatile comedian. The San Remo Girls are smart and versatile; Smith and Johnson, the coloured duo, are well received; Bros. Abo create much merriment with their amusing patter; Farley, Rennie, and Farley, in their comedy act Fun at a Railway Station, are much liked; the MacGregors appear in a refined musical act. Acceptable turns are also given by Sadie Simpson, comedienne; Lidden and Hayward, comedy and musical experts; and Payne's bio-photoscope.

PRESTON. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Manager, Mr. Stephen Pritt.—Our Boys and Caste are two excellent attractions offered here this week, and both have been cordially received. Sir Geoffrey Champneys has a capital representative in Mr. C. Pilling Baird; Talbot Champneys is cleverly depicted by Mr. W. Besley Beltram; Mr. H. Robinson successfully fills the rôle of Charles Middlewick; and Mr. Charles Otley gives a genuinely amusing impersonation of Perkyn Middlewick. Miss Olive Palmer commendably sustains the part of Violet Melrose; Miss Edith Heron Brown is a pleasing Mary Melrose; the Clarissa Champneys of Miss Phyllis Manners is a natural and effective portrayal; and much praise is due to Miss Marie Jonquil for her humorous embodiment of Belinda.

ROYAL HIPPODROME.—Proprietors and Managers, Messrs. W. H. Broadhead and Sons; Resident Acting-Manager, Mr. E. J. Linsdell.—At the head of the bill here this week are the Eight Sarnthalers, who provide some excellent singing and dancing; Tom White's Arabs, accomplished vocalists, also score a success; Sandy and Carl greatly please with their versatility; the songs of Olga Fane and Stephen Blythe are distinctly popular; and other good turns are given by Rayner and Reece (singing and dancing pot-pourri); the Sheppards (comedians); the Sisters Belmont (dancers); and the Abdaroffs in Prehistoric Peeps.

RADCLIFFE. — GRAND OPERA HOUSE. — Sole Owner and Manager, Mr. Geo. T. Santé; Acting-Manager, Mr. James Boothman.—This house was opened on Saturday evening for Mr. Santé's seventh annual benefit, when a large crowd assembled to show their appreciation of this popular showman. A long and very varied programme was received with much favour. Among the artists were Jiel and Laval, capital comedy acrobats; Nancy Renshaw, the laughing negro comedienne; Mr. C. H. Charlton, society conjurer, who completely mystified the audience; Mr. A. B. Millard, the Curious One, who is full of funny gags; the Craigs, clever comedy acrobats; Little Loo, the child artist; the Shamrocks; Jack Spencer, eccentric comedian; T. Fox, champion clog dancer; C. B. Doolan, basso; Staffo, the butcher boy juggler; and Ernest Nelson, gold medallist athlete, who gave an exhibition of feats of strength.

RAMSGATE.—AMPHITHEATRE.—Proprietor, Lord George Sanger; General-Manager, Mr. Henry Bowman.—The Ruby Ring has been the Whitsuntide attraction here. The piece (by Mr. H. B. Maxwell and Mr. J. D. Hunter) has been admirably staged by Mr. J. D. Hunter's company. Miss Alice Farleigh is a capital Helen Neville; and Mr. A. B. Tapping makes an effective appearance as Leloir. The Misses Eva and Blanche Bayley—old Ramsgate favourites—are also included in the cast.

ROYAL VICTORIA PAVILION.—Proprietors, Ramsgate Corporation; Lessee, Mr. Jules Richeux; Acting-Manager, Mr. Harold Wallace.—Mr. Richeux has opened his lesseeship at the Pavilion in enterprising fashion with Mr. J. Bannister Howard's company in The Eternal City. Miss Marie Polini makes a thorough success of the part of Roma, and Mr. E. Stanton Sharpe scores heavily in the rôle of Baron Bonelli.

RAWTENSTALL. — GRAND THEATRE — Co-proprietors and Lessees, Messrs. W. Johnson and J. Potter; General-Manager, Mr. J. Potter; Resident Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Ellis Miller.—Mr. F. H. Neville's company opened their second week's stay here on Monday with a clever performance of Streets of London, the piece being received with marked appreciation. Miss Glory Clarence emphasised the good impression she made last week by her fine impersonation of Alida Bloodgood; Mr. F. H. Neville as Badger was very powerful, his rendering of the character being decidedly clever; Mr. H. Claremont as Puffy was most humorous, his songs being well sung and keenly enjoyed; Mr. F. Kelland as Paul Fairweather gave a good portrayal; as also did Mr. Bradford Crosby of Mark Livingstone. Miss Mildred Monteath scored by her delineation of the part of Lucy Fairweather.

READING. — ROYAL COUNTY THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Milton Bode; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. B. Barnett; Secretary, Mr. Reginald Taylor.—The Whitsuntide attraction is provided by Mr. P. Howard Sturgess' No. 1 Company in the domestic drama A Queen of Villainy. Miss Edith Blande is specially engaged for the part of Cora Granville, which she portrays in a very artistic manner. Mr. Ern Carlton as Sir John Desborough, Mr. Laurence Stevenson as the waif Kit, Mr. Edward Heanley as Stephen Faucit, Mr. A. E. Maskell as Reuben Hawk, Mr. Charles Rodgers as Timothy Kodac, Mr. C. Stirling as Dick Leinster, Mr. W. Spearman as Matthew Dawes, Miss Cecilia Desmond as Rose Delmayne, Miss Jessie Crammonde as Mollie Maggs, and Miss Amy Ross Clyde as Sally Chimes, all sustain their parts in good style.

ROCHDALE.—NEW THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietors, the Northern Theatres Co., Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. W. Robinson; General-Manager, Mr. Otto C. Culling; Resident-Manager, Mr. J. Hague.—A False Wife occupies the boards here this week, Mr. W. Howard Barlow impersonates the hero, Geo. Mansfield, with effect; Mr. Elton Morgan is capital as Ben Rattler; Mr. Owen Edwin does well as Archibald Brown Tee; and Mr. Frank Strickland makes the most of Jean Beraud. Miss Ellen Armor enlists sympathy as Agnes Weyland; Miss Nita Imeson is vivacious as Bessie Blazer; and Miss Florence E. Florence cleverly acts the part of Lady Mansfield, otherwise Estelle de Lusson.

CIRCUS AND HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. Smith and Hargreaves.—Pringle's North American Animated Picture Co. is here for the third week in succession with a change of programme. The Eltons, bar experts; Miss Mary Young, songstress; and Mlle. Sara's Marblesque Trio appear at intervals. The circus closes this week until August.

EMPIRE THEATRE OF VARIETIES. — Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Thomas Hargreaves; Acting-Manager, Mr. Frank Hargreaves.—A capital array of talent marks the close of the season here. Did He Deserve It? a laughable farce, tops the bill; Zaid, assisted by Orienta, performs some daring evolutions on the swinging rings; Fentoni, entertainer; Andrews and Thompson, in a vocal act; May Zant and her juveniles; Sisters Brenton, comediennes and expert dancers; Bert Bowden, comedian; and the Empire bioscope complete the programme.

RUGBY. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Managing-Director, Mr. A. F. Cross; Acting-Manager, Mr. Drew Mackintosh. — Messrs. O'Dell and Chabot's company are presenting the drama The Romany's Revenge here this week. Miss Ethel Ashleigh as Zamlet, a Gipsy boy, gives a very clever and acceptable impersonation; and in the dual rôle of Lilian Hope and Elspie, her half-sister, Miss Eva Elwes works hard and effectively. Miss Fanny Wallace as Dolly Pluck is very amusing, and is besides a clever dancer; Mr. Charles Gallier as John Hope is excellent, and wins the complete sympathy of the audience. Mr. Harry C. Robinson as David Renyard is good; and as Bobbie Bloom Mr. David Hamilton causes much amusement.

RYDE.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessees and Managers, J. Bannister Howard, Ltd.—The Whitsun attraction here has been Mr. J. Bannister Howard's company in The Ticket-of-Leave Man. As Hawkshaw, the detective, Mr. A. Clifton Alderson submits a talented portrayal; while Miss G. Walton Hastings sympathetically sustains the part of May Edwards. The character of Robert Brierly finds effective treatment in the hands of Mr. H. K. Ayliff; and Mr. Paul Becket successfully undertakes the part of James Dalton; Melter Moss is well acted by Mr. James La Fane; Miss B. Doyle scores as Sam Willoughby; Miss Mildred Gilbert ably impersonates Mrs. Willoughby; and Mr. C. W. Crow is good as Mr. Gibson.

PIER PAVILION.—Lessee, Mr. J. Herbert Jay; Manager, Mr. F. T. Studd.—An attractive programme was presented for Whitsun by Ye Merrie Madcaps, whose first visit to the town is much appreciated; Miss E. Beaumont's whistling solos are a speciality; Miss Sharply sings effectively; Miss Swinburne's songs are popular; while Mr. Robert Cranny and Fred Leister are able entertainers.

SALFORD.—PRINCE OF WALES.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. E. B. Goulden. Acting-Manager, Mr. Harold Goulden.—Mr. Will White's company commenced on Monday before a good house a welcome return visit with the romantic western drama The New World, in which Mr. W. Campbell ably sustains the rôle of Jack Hawley; Jim Rawlings and Jose Alvarez are two good desperado character studies by Mr. W. S. Stevenson and Mr. W. H. Burton; Mr. Victor R. C. Moors also does excellent work as Joe Williams; Miss Beatrice Moore is a vivacious Jenny Williams, and Miss Evelyn Robson is a charming May Walton; Mr. Willie Hicks as Pete, Mr. Oliver Rogers as Brutus Brown, Mr. Stanhope Roche as Sam Smart, and Mr. Will White as Colonel Bilam Clayton contrive to keep the audience in excellent humour. The specialities by several of the above are much enjoyed.

REGENT THEATRE OF VARIETIES, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. W. Turner; Manager, Mr. Herbert Raymond; Secretary, Mr. J. C. Patterson.—The programme this week is a capital one. Miss Lillie Soutter, comedy artiste, gives much satisfaction; much laughter is occasioned by Chris. Richards, eccentric dancer and comedian; some clever work is done by L. R. Roose, contortionist; the Madcaps give their smart acrobatic dancing performance. The other turns are provided by the Henriques, comedy acrobatic artistes; Barrett and Knowles, patter comedians; Dan Thomas, character comedian; George Young, a clever blind concertina soloist; Alec. Kendall, comedian, and Florence Wood, comedienne.

ROYAL HIPPODROME.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. Percy B. Broadhead; Resident Acting-Manager, Mr. C. H. Wentworth.—Another capital programme includes Codology, a screamingly funny burlesque on hypnotism, presented by Prof. Hughes. The Hypocrite is an excellent dramatic sketch, played by Fred S. Peake and company. Fuller Graham and company have a good musical song-scena, called "The Shoeblack's Dream"; Rose Pink is a smart little comedienne and dancer. Several other good items are provided by Three Royal Temples, operatic vocalists, including Madam Louie Gilbert, Farr and Farrland, comedians and clever banjoists; Will Harvey, comedian; Jock Walker, Scotch comedian, and Yorkshire Tom, animal mimic.

SCARBOROUGH. — PEOPLE'S PALACE AND AQUARIUM. — Managing-Director, Mr. William Morgan; Secretary and Manager, Mr. Walter Kitchingman. — The twelve hours' programme is now in full swing here for the rest of the season. Miss Ada Webb and her troupe of lady swimmers give excellent exhibitions, assisted by "Little Elba"; Madame Marie Levante's ladies orchestra submits up-to-date programmes of music during the day, the band being composed solely of lady instrumentalists; Mr. Harry Thornton is the vocalist, and has created a favourable impression. Amongst the variety turns are Wit

SOUTHAMPTON. — GRAND THEATRE. — Sole Lessee and Manager, Mr. Fredk. Mouillot; Resident-Manager, Mr. Sydney Paxton.—The holiday attraction is Mr. C. W. Somerset's Co. in that stirring drama, Human Hearts, which is drawing good audiences. The company is an efficient one, and the staging excellent.

PALACE.—Sole Proprietor and Director-General, Mr. F. Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. W. Trussell.—The "star" attraction is Mr. John Tiller's Co. in that merry farcical sketch, High Jinks. The Rohda Bros. are responsible for a clever gymnastic act, and others who contribute to the success of the show are Florence, the jolly Dutch girl, and W. H. Downs, coloured comedian. Some capital views of the Derby are shown on the bioscope.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. F. Mouillot and W. de Frece; General-Manager, Mr. J. de Frece; District-Manager, Mr. Sydney Paxton; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. P. Howell.—Harry Randall, with a budget of new songs, is a huge favourite; and Mr. W. Selkirk's juvenile sketch, All Scotch, finds great favour with the auditory. The spectacle is an interesting one, and the well-drilled youngsters do remarkably well. Pete and Juno, coloured comedians; Jessica Grace and her clever coons; Joe O'Gorman, Jack Pleasants, and Victor Travers, comedians, all contribute their quota to a capital holiday programme.

PIER PAVILION.—The Lindon Vaudevilles are providing the holiday bill of fare here, under the direction of Mr. Harry Collard, a popular society entertainer and instrumentalist, whose sketches at the piano give unbounded delight.

SOUTHEND-ON-SEA.—PIER PAVILION.—Lessee and Manager Mr. H. E. Angless; Acting-Manager, Mr. Stanley E. Angless.—The holiday attraction here is the well-known play entitled Uncle Tom's Cabin, which is being presented by Mr. Charles Harrington's No. 1 American Combination. The play, which is prettily and effectively mounted, is sustained by a strong and capable company, and on Monday it was accorded the heartiest reception. As Uncle Tom Mr. J. Carr gives entire satisfaction; Mr. J. H. Renny ably interprets the rôle of Phineas Fletcher; and Mr. Stanley Howard is decidedly good as Mr. St. Clair. Legree, the slave owner, is forcibly taken by Mr. J. Henry Rogers. Merriment is provided by Mr. Walter Langford as Marks, the lawyer, and amusement is also provided by Miss Annie Watson as Topsy. Eliza Harris is entrusted to the clever Miss Hettie Johnson, who acquits herself creditably. Miss Ethel Mildmay as Cassy deserves mention for her successful portrayal; and as Little Eva a very refined and capital delineation is given by Little Minnie. The grand plantation scene is quite a feature, and the grand tableau is interesting.

THE KURSAAL.—Secretary and Manager, Mr. P. T. J. Bacon.—Plenty of amusement is provided here for the holiday week, and large and appreciative crowds are drawn. The Theatre entertainment is contributed by Edna and Wade, pleasing and clever duettists and dancers; the Brothers Litto are remarkable gun spinners; Mabel Lester, a capital character vocalist; Les Henris, smart acrobats; the Snow Flakes (Kursaal Girls); and Los Transfields, instrumentalists of exceptional ability. The Bioscope shows some really good pictures. The Hippodrome entertainment is under the direction of Mr. Dave Hyman. The Indian Hercules elicits keen curiosity in his marvellous feats of strength; Clown Argo is a mimic of no mean ability, and his fighting game cock arouses interest; Mlle. Renee as a juggler causes astonishment; and Knoto Lilian supplies a wonderful contortionist act. Several minor attractions are well patronised.

SOUTHPORT.—OPERA HOUSE, WINTER GARDENS. —Proprietors, the Southport Winter Gardens and Opera House Company, Ltd.; General-Manager, Mr. Alfred Hemming.—A capital holiday week attraction here is supplied by the engagament of Mr. Frank Bertram's company in the farcical comedy, The New Clown. Mr. Ernest Spalding submits an excellent impersonation of Lord Cyril Garston; Captain Jack Trent has a manly and vigorous representative in Mr. Cyril Vernon; Mr. A. M. Moore sustains the part of Thomas Baker very successfully; Mr. Alec Flood is an admirable exponent of the pompous circus proprietor; Mr. Douglas Payne acquits himself with credit as the strong man; Miss Connie Merton and Miss M. E. Ellis portray the sisters Maud and Winnie Chesterton in a charmingly piquant style, whilst Miss Celestine Bertram is a commendable representative of the circus proprietor's niece. The play is preceded each evening by a comedietta, entitled My Lady Help.

ALBERT HALL, WINTER GARDENS.—General-Manager, Mr. Alfred Hemming.—A capital holiday programme is submitted at this popular variety hall, the star turn being provided by Miss Hetty King, the well-known male impersonator. The items include the Four Herberts, the jolly Californian farmers; the Du Gros Trio, comedy gymnasts; the Three Bodinas, musical eccentrics; Harry Carmen, comedian; Miss Ethel Yorke, vocal comedienne; Dare and Malvern, Australian comedy artistes; Frances Letty, comedienne and dancer; Miss Annie Nelson, vocalist, and Miss Daisy Lane, comedienne.

PIER PAVILION.—Lessee, Mr. Charles Parker; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. H. Mertz.—The principal holiday attractions at this well-patronised variety hall are contributed by the K's Komedy Kompany, with a highly-diverting entertainment, and Criff, juggler, with mystifying feats. The programme also includes the Glenroy Troupe of fine speciality dancers; Charles E. Ernest, the human orchestra; Olly Oakley, banjoist, and the Bio-Tableaux.

SOUTH SHIELDS.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Licensees and Managers, Messrs. J. and F. Coulson.—Large audiences are appreciating The Orphan Heiress, presented by Mr. W. Reuben Payne's company. Miss Rosalie Heath cleverly and charmingly portrays Mabel Ainsley; Mr. Charles Boult acquits himself well in the part of Douglas Kingston; Mr. Vincent W. Carlyle appears to advantage as Lawrence Gordon; Mr. Albert Brasque and Miss Beatrice Fitzhugh are successfully placed as Lord Ainsley and Lady Ainsley respectively; Miss Constance Medwyn submits an admirable interpretation of Edith Mowbray, and Miss Edith Halford powerfully portrays the villainous Olive Kingston. The comedy element is excellently supplied by Mr. T. H. Solly as Ginger, and Miss Cora Duncan as Betsy Buggles; Mr. Cecil Morand is noteworthy as Jenkins. Smaller parts are ably handled, and the staging is creditable.

EMPIRE PALACE THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. Richard Thornton; General-Manager, Mr. Frank Allen, Resident-Manager, Mr. George F. Thompson.—The star attraction here this week is the Rioguku Family of Japanese performers, who give an exceptionally clever equilibristic and gymnastic entertainment. Tom Wootwell, comedian, sings and dances himself into general favour, and Francis and Melli, musical grotesques, are also warm favourites; Harry Weldon, quaint comedian, is successful, and May Gibson, ballad vocalist, wins applause; the Brothers Harrison, knockabout comedians, are diverting, and the Raies, duettists and dancers; Guy Ryder, a clever whistler, and the American Bioscope strengthen the bill.

TIVOLI.—Proprietors and Managers, Councillor J. K. Hall and Mr. Joseph Sweeney.—Daisy De Roy heads the bill, and is the recipient of much applause; Fred Horsfall, vocalist and mimic, creates a favourable impression; and Mack Olive, assisted by Miss Daisy Baldry, in the scena, The Candy Store, submits some capital whistling. Other good turns are Lambert and Hands in scena entitled Nell; Le Wist, ventriloquist; Sisters Mottley, comediennes and dancers, and Walter Payne's Bio-Photoscope.

A COSY CORNER on the sea-front is occupied by Burton's Bohemians, the Proprietor and Manager of which is Mr. George Burton.—The season commenced successfully on Saturday to a large and appreciative audience. Karr and Kooney, comedians, are already great favourites; Miss Pattie Burton, soprano, and Miss Ethel Vinroy sing pleasaingly. Other excellent turns contributed are Harry Harrop, comedian, Tom Johnstone, actor-vocalist and mimic, and Bert Davenport, baritone. Mr. George Burton is an able accompanist.

SPENNYMOOR.—CAMBRIDGE THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. Harding Thomas; Resident-Manager, Mr. Herbert Vere.—Mr. Sidney Bacon is providing an excellent holiday attraction in the shape of his Coliseum company of variety artists, whose efforts to amuse meet with much success. The sketch, The Maniacs, is the principal item in the programme, and in the title-rôle Mr. Melville Bickford displays dramatic capabilities of a high order; Mr. George Wybrow and Miss Josie Bickford, as Sammy Carrots, and Sally Jenkins provide some admirable comedy; Mr. William Brandon, and Miss Catherine Urwin are both efficient, as Jasper and Florence Woodleigh. Amongst the variety turns Little Violette, a diminutive Vesta Tilley; Prince Fee Lung, Chinese magician; Martino, speciality artist; the Singing Slavey, Lachie Thompson's Top Weights, and Downey's Living Pictures are all capital items.

STAFFORD. — LYCEUM THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. James Elphinstone.—Mr. Elphinstone's able stock-company is still retained at this theatre, and this week presents, Jane Shore; Mr. Francis Everard enacts the part of Richard, Duke of Gloucester, in his usual masterly manner, and as Anthony Yeaste, Mr. Edwin Turner is a distinct success; Miss Isabel Marto is an effective Elizabeth Woodville, and Miss Phylis Atherleigh gives a powerful and sympathetic rendering of the title-rôle.

STALYBRIDGE. — GRAND THEATRE. — Lessee and Manager, Mr. Frank Mundill. — The Way of the World is being given as a two-houses-a-night attraction by Messrs. Beaudyn and Crowe's company. Mr. Clarence Temple is very good as Matthew Malyon, a disgraced clergyman; Miss Cissy Bellamy claims sympathy in the part of Kate Montague, whilst Miss Marie Fontaine, Miss Violet Ingram, and Miss Sidney Crow are remarkably effective. Valuable assistance is also given by Messrs. Harold B. Lewis, Herbert Skardon, Augustus Hammond, Fred Mace, Pat Quinn, Frank Stanley, Charles Elliot, Reginald Elsie, Joseph Sydney, and Dick Seddon.

ST. HELENS.—THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE, Ltd.—General-Manager, Mr. McLeod Loader.—Mr. Ian Maclaren and company opened here on Monday, and were well received. The repertoire for the week includes The Merchant of Venice, David Garrick, Hamlet, As You Like It, and Othello. The company possesses more than average ability.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. Barrasford, Sley, and Willmot; Resident-Manager, Mr. A. Vic. Carnell.—A capital programme here this week includes the Six Brothers Luck company in The Demon of the Cellar; Sisters Hall, Sandy and Carl, Arthur Croxton, Illumino, Miss Violet Ashcroft, and the Brothers Gilbert.

STOCKPORT. — THEATRE ROYAL AND OPERA HOUSE.—Sole Owner and Manager, Mr. Charles Revill; Acting-Manager, Mr. William Revill. — The historical play, Lady Godiva, forms the holiday attraction here, and is capably presented by Mr. John F. Preston's company. Mr. F. B. Woulfe acts powerfully as Tom of Coventry, and Miss Josephine Colona impersonates Lady Godiva with grace and ability; Mr. Clifford Marle makes a pleasing Leofric, and Mr. James Duncan acts effectively as Algar; the character of Unwolf is ably filled by Mr. Ernest Hamilton; Robin is amusingly presented by Mr. Bob Anderson, and Elfrida has a charming representative in Miss Edith Loraine.

EMPIRE.—Proprietors, The Stockport Empire Theatre Co., Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Black. —W. Permane's admirably-trained bears are a strong attraction here this week and included in a varied programme are the Four Skandias, graceful gymnasts and acrobats; Mark Merry in "Mirthful Melancholy"; Winnie Scott, a refined coon impersonator and dancer; Angeline, an exceedingly clever juggler; Wee Mona, a singer and dancer of ability; Percy Johnson, an amusing comic vocalist; May Fallowfield, a delightful comedienne; and Will Walton, whose songs were pleasingly rendered.

STOKE.—HIPPODROME.—Proprieor, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; Manager, Mr. H Miller.—The premier position in the Whitsuntide programme is held by the Daunton-Shaw troupe of cyclists. The Dulops are acrobats and equilibrists of a high order; Agnes McKellar, the Scotch soprano, sings her songs admirably; T. B. Tayme is a comedian who is much appreciated; Mayor and Thurgate's combination, in their sketch Mystery Fair, are most amusing; The Katos contribute a good turn; the Woelhaffs, vaudeville artists, are smart; Alf Bishop is a comedy artist of much merit; the Bioscope shows capital pictures.

SUNDERLAND.—AVENUE THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Chas. E. Machin.—The new play, The Marriage Trap, by Mr. Myles Wallerton, was produced here on Monday. A full notice appears in another column.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Chas. E. Machin; Acting-Manager, Mr. Joshua Hemingway.—The holiday attraction here is provided by Mr. Frank Bateman's No Wedding Bells for Her company. The feature of this play is the presence of Miss Lizzie Montague in the rôle of Lola Delaspierre. She is supported by a capable all-round company.

PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Lessees and Managers, Messrs. Rosen and Bliss; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Stringer.—The principal turn this week is provided by Herbert Darnley's company of comedians in the sketch entitled Moving In. Harry Lynn and Co. also provide a sketch under the heading of Dead to the World. Others contributing include Lorne and Rene, in a musical duo; Marie Neilson, comedienne and dancer; The Lyons Trio, pantomimists and dancers; Chas. Coverdale, comedian; the Davis and Gledhill trio of expert novel cycle racers; and the bioscope.

SWINDON.—QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Proprietor and Responsible-Manager, Mr. Alfred Manners.—This town has been crowded with visitors for the Bath and West of England Counties' Agricultural Show, especially on Whit Monday, when this popular playhouse was twice filled with bank-holiday audiences to greet Miss Emma and Mr. Percy Hutchinson's clever company, under the business management of Mr. Sandin Perkins. For the second week of this visit, that delightful comedy A Country Mouse has been staged, and Mr. Percy Hutchinson must be complimented on his skilful study of the part of the Hon. Archibald Vyse, and Miss Lilias Earle for the commendable judgment with which she undertook that of Lady Silvia Bowlby; Miss Hilda Howes deserves high honours for her charming and effective work as Angela Muir, the many strong points of which she cleverly accentuated; Mr. George Mudie made much of the part of the Duke of Skitts, and Mr. Frank Hill gave a telling and natural embodiment of Jephcot, while Mr. Robert Forsyth, as John Bowlby, M.P.; Miss Margaret Marshall, as Violet Aynsley, and Miss Amy Coleman, as Mrs. Cropper, were all seen to excellent advantage. His Landlady has been a capital little curtain-riser at each performance. On Friday, that charming comedy On the Love Path was presented with Miss Lilias Earle and Mr. Percy Hutchinson in the leading parts.

TEIGNMOUTH. — PIER PAVILION. — Manager, Mr. J. A. Thompson.—An excellent programme is provided here this week by Messrs. Firth and Beer's Naval Cadets; Master Basil Clifford is a wonderful mimic, and his impersonations are excellent; Miss Maude Allen provides a good turn; Stratton Well's songs are appreciated; Miss Ella Dare is well received; Miss Millie Neale, dances neatly, and the Sisters Gaye are applauded. Mr. Ellis Midgley is the musical director, and his clever piano-solos deserve mention.

TORQUAY.—THEATRE ROYAL. — Licensee and Managing-Director, Mr. R. Smerdon; Secretary, Mr. Arthur Pearse.—Mr. A. Hamilton Warden's principal company in A Woman's Past attracted an enthusiastic audience on Monday. A capable cast included Miss Maisie Hanbury, who was a pretty and popular heroine; Mr. Horace E. Herbert was effective as David Heath; Mr. Charles V. Sanford was good as Frank Dellanoy; and Mr. A. Hamilton Warden was excellent as Clement Harper; whilst the wiles of the villain of Mr. Oswald Cray found an effective counterpart in the low-comedy performance of Mr. T. Edward Evans as Bloater. Miss Gertrude Harrison did well as Clara Darrel, and Miss May Dallas was good as Dorothy Heath.

PRINCESS PIER CONCERT HALL.—Manager, Mr. A. T. Tremlett.—The summer season was opened this week by The Gaities under the direction of Mr. Wilson James and Mr. Charles Conyers. A first-class entertainment comprised humorous sketches and ventriloquism by Mr. Conyers, musical items by Mis Rosa Dallow and Miss Ruby Wilson, with humorous contributions by Mr. Wilson James, Miss Adelaide Schönberg acting as an efficient accompanist..

BATH SALOONS.—Proprietors, The Torquay Town Council; Manager, Mr. George Courtney. — The Royal Negro Choir and the Original Fisk Jubilee Singers paid a visit here this week, and were enthusiastically received. The Jubilee choruses were loudly applauded, several of the well-known darkie songs being encored.

TYNEMOUTH.—PALACE-BY-THE-SEA. — Proprietor, Mr. J. H. Graham; Manager, Mr. Linden Travers. —The summer season was inaugurated on Saturday, and is again under the management of Mr. Linden Travers, who has after several years' absence returned to his old position here. A strong attraction is provided for the holiday carnival. A feature is the engagement of the Grand Casino Orchestra, under the conductorship of Mr. Henry Spook, L.G.S.M., whose selections are exquisitely rendered and encored. Another popular item is the Jamaica Choir. Messrs. Reed, Morgan, and Miss Stevens appear in some amusing sketches; Mr. Harry Morgan, coon delineator, finds popularity; Gustave Fasola mystifies the audience with his clever illusions; Mr. Henry Nation, pianist, contributes some excellent solos; and the bioscope shows a series of up-to-date pictures.

WAKEFIELD.—ROYAL OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietors, Sherwood and Co.—The drama Master and Man occupies the boards this week, and has proved a great attraction.

HIPPODROME.—Lessee, Mr. Alfred Selwyn; Manager, Mr. Henry Lucas.—Wild Willie and West head the bill, and contribute a clever acrobatic turn. The Camerons, comedy couple; the Lovelaces, song illustrators; Mignon, in a musical act; Maud Garland, comedienne; Marie De Voy, character-vocalist; and Fred Wright also contribute interesting items.

WALSALL. — HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE, LTD. — General-Manager and Secretary, Mr. W. H. Westwood.—Billy McClain's coloured sextette, including Madame Cordelia, head the bill here this week. Dolly Moore, miniature male impersonator, is clever; the Delevines in their musical and dancing novelty Flipp and Flopp are well received; Bessie Butt proves herself a charming dancer; Frank Cumminger is a smart comedian and dancer; Alf. Kingston gives an acceptable vocal turn; the Warsaw Bros. are smart musicians and create roars of laughter; and a series of pictures on the American Bioscope concludes the programme.

GRAND THEATRE, LTD.—General-Manager and Secretary, Mr. W. H. Westwood.—Mr. T. Morton Powell's company in the drama, Honour Thy Father, occupies the boards here this week. It is an all-round good company, and the piece is well staged.

WARRINGTON.—ROYAL COURT.—Proprietors, Messrs. W. Johnson and J. Potter; General-Manager, Mr. J. Potter; Acting-Manager, Mr. Fred J. Reece.—Miss Marie Dagmar and Mr. Fred C. Somerfield's company is here this week in the stirring play Geoffrey Langdon's Wife (?). Mr. Somerfield displays histrionic abilities as Will Maynard, and in the dual rôle of Cyril and Geoffrey Langdon Mr. Cyril Grier does well. Mr. T. G. Vane is well placed as Leonard Vimbart; Mr. Wallace Dandon is effective as Harold Hingston; and Mr. Willie Barrett as Mr. Miles and Mr. C. E. Warner as James cause much amusement. Miss Marie Dagmar as Elinor D'Arville proves herself an accomplished actress; and as Rosini Philipi Miss Geraldine Montrose acts well.

ROYAL THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietors, Messrs. W. Johnson and J. Potter; General-Manager, Mr. J. Potter; Director of Amusements, Mr. F. Willmot.—Martin Conway is here this week, and the popular comedian has again established himself. Other good turns are Emma Don and her black and white quartette; the Vekeys, banjoists; Cooper and Lawson, speciality artists; Shawlene, whistler; and Eldee, pose artist.

WEDNESBURY.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee, Mr. Harry Battersby: Manager, Mr. W. J. Cranston.—The holiday attraction here this week is Mr. Stuart Bolton's English Opera Co. On Monday evening Maritana was successfully played. Miss Kathleen Maccabe as Maritana was all that could be desired; Mr. Edward Stevens did remarkably good work as Don Cæsar, and as Don José Mr. Tom Griffiths evoked loud applause. On Tuesday The Daughter of the Regiment was staged, on Wednesday Faust, and on Thursday The Bohemian Girl.

WELLINGBOROUGH.—EXCHANGE THEATRE.—On Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday capital performances of Caste and The Little Intruder were given by the Court Comedy company, with The Prince and the Lady as curtain-raiser. An excellent rendering of Eccles in Caste was contributed by Mr. Ernest Percy. Mr. Grahame Herington as Sam Gerridge was very good, and all the other characters were in safe hands.

WEST HARTLEPOOL.—GRAND THEATRE.—Sole Lessee, Mr. Fred Granville; Manager, Mr. J. A. Lewis.—Somebody's Sweetheart is attracting large houses here. The company is Mr. W. H. Kirby's, and that gentleman himself fills the rôle of Martin Biabbs with such success that there is not a dull moment in the piece; he is well supported, Miss Dot Reeve charmingly filling the title-rôle; whilst others who strengthen the cast are Mr. Percy Maitland, Mr. E. H. Bertram, Miss Dora Condor, Mr. J. Pyne Warburton, Mr. Robert Pittard, Miss Bella Perriss, Miss Gibson, and Miss Cordelia Knight.

PALACE.—Director-General, Mr. Frank Macnaghten.—Oakdene, the comedy ventriloquist, is one of the greatest hits of the week, and the reception accorded his performance is as flattering as it is fully deserved; Mr. and Mrs. Royston-Dene, in their playlet, His Birthday, make a lasting impression, so well are the characters represented; Jack and Evelyn, in their comedy act, Come Into the Office, are clever entertainers; as are Lee and Kingston, in their latest success, "Practical Joking"; Kisbey's unique speciality, The Call Boy, is another popular number; the Four Kweeries are repeating their illusion, which has puzzled so many; Harry Briggs (triple-voiced vocalist); Adey Spencer (the girl from the hat shop); and capital Bio-tableaux (Raymond's) complete the bill of fare.

WESTON-SUPER-MARE. — KNIGHTSTONE PAVILION AND OPERA HOUSE.—Manager, Mr. W. Payne.—Mr. E. Lockwood's Sergeant Brue company opened a three nights' engagement here on Monday. Mr. J. Harold Carson did remarkably well in the title-rôle; Mr. Albert James convulsed the house with laughter by his funny interpretation of Crookie Scrubs; Mr. Frank Wilson was decidedly good as Michael Brue; Mr. Vernon C. Booth's acting and singing as Gerald Treherne gained loud applause; Mr. F. Laceby was successful as Mr. Crank, and Inspector Corringe found an excellent representative in Mr. Harold Godwin; Miss Gertie Fawcett gave a delightful impersonation of Aurora Brue; as Daisy Miss Amy Vivash was extremely comical; Miss Reydon Dallas made Lady Bickenhall a most charming personage, and Mabel Widget was sweetly portrayed by Miss Kathleen V. Grey. Messrs. Lionel Glenister and Wood-Ingram's company in Sweet and Twenty occupied the boards for the remainder of the week.

WEYMOUTH.—OPERA HOUSE.—Manager, Mr. H. J. Nobbs.—Messrs. Lionel Glenister and Wood Ingram's company in Sweet and Twenty met with a cordial reception on Monday evening. Miss Ethel Weyburn played charmingly as Joan Trevelyan; Mr. Gus Wheatman was amusing as Prynne; Mr. Stephen Wentworth represented Eustace Floyd carefully and well; and Mr. Lionel Glenister scored as Douglas. Mr. Derlingcourt Odlum portrayed the Hon. and Rev. Jas. Floyd with marked ability; Miss Isabel Grey was exceedingly successful as Ellen; and Miss Zeta Russell prettily embodied the boy Chris. Mr. James Vincent as Trehearne, the blacksmith, and Miss Dorothy Carington as Mrs. Trevelyan were each capital in their respective parts. The play is preceded by the farce In the Strand.

WIGAN.—ROYAL COURT THEATRE. — Managing-Director, Mr. John Worswick.—The Love that Women Desire proved an attractive holiday engagement. Mr. G. C. Wallace's company includes Mr. J. O. Stewart as Squire Abingdon; Mr. David G. Noble as Philip Carnaby; Miss Clarissa Bamford as Mariquinha; and Miss Lalla Stanhope as Sybil Thorburn.

THE HIPPODROME.—Managing-Director, Mr. John Worswick.—The Four Giraldos give a neat club juggling act; and the Athos Family are skilful acrobats and ball manipulators. Dusty Rhodes, styled the comedy merchant, and Percy Farrimond, a local collier vocalist, have been recalled each evening. Zeta Grey and Co. are well received in the sketch The Lancashire Lass, and other capable variety artistes are the Two St. Johns, the Three Sisters Kilner, Mabel Le Blanche, the Boston Twins, and Charlie Jerome.

WORCESTER.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Arthur Carlton; Assistant-Manager, Mr. F. Le Wards.—Sergeant Brue has this week provided an unusually attractive holiday programme, and Mr. E. Lockwood's company's admirable presentation of this highly successful musical comedy has aroused the enthusiasm of crowded houses. Mr. Arthur Reynolds in the title-rôle is the life and soul of the piece, and his numerous songs are excellently rendered. Mr. Charles McLagan is hardly less amusing. As the gay Lady Bickenhall Miss Lily Lingard has achieved much popularity, and other members of the company equally well suited are Mr. Percy Rogers (Michael Brue), Miss Eva Weigh (Aurora Brue), Mr. Arthur Stroud (Gerald Treherne), Miss Aileen Macdonald (Mabel Widget), and Miss Violet Ward (Vivienne Russell). The admirable staging and dressing are features of the production.

WORKINGTON. — QUEEN'S OPERA HOUSE. — Lessee, Mr. Stanley Rogers; Manager, Mr. Falconer Jackes.—The Savonahs and Elliotts opened here to a fine house on Monday night with their splendid musical and cycling feat entertainment. They were enthusiastically greeted. Algie, the Juggler, is clever; and the Garden's Royal Quartette of singers and dancers are also successful.

WORTHING.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Manager, Herr C. Adolf Seebold.—Mr. Harold Payne and company are here this week presenting Petronella, the new comic opera. Mr. Harold Payne, who has an excellent tenor voice, does well as Captain Bravadura; Mr. Harry Gribben is also successful as Don Sebastian Salutia; Mr. Alfred Majilton ably embodies the part of Marquis Circumvita; Mr. B. Black is extremely funny as Sergeant Bodega, and uses his baritone voice to the best effect; Miss Marie Ault deserves the highest commendation as Step-annie Flooretta Dossano; Miss Zoe Gilfillan in the title-rôle is very good, possessing an excellent voice and fine presence.

WEST STANLEY.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietors, the Stanley Theatre Co.; Managing-Director, Mr. Mark H. Lindon.—Messrs. Beaudyn and Livesey are here with A Traitor Prince. Mr. G. M. Montanini, a clever and accomplished artist, undertakes the title-rôle; Mr. Ernest A. Duval fills the part of Lieut. Frank Derrick in good style; Mr. Edmond O'Grady and Mr. Edward Fenton as Billy Bright and the Hon. Bobby Vavasour Dalrymple are amusing; Mr. W. Norman portrays the part of Col. Vane in excellent style; Mr. Victor Rae as Cara, a half-caste, plays well; Miss Kitty Thomas fulfils the rôle of Miss Pansy Blossom in a clever and winsome manner; Miss Clara O'Grady as Mrs. Blossom is a capital mother; Miss Rose Routledge sustains the part of Lolo Vane in creditable style; Miss Nita Langford is clever as Vastiti, the snake-charmer.

WREXHAM.—EMPIRE MUSIC HALL.—Proprietor, Mr. J. J. Scott; Manager, Mr. Herbert Nicholls.—This week the Muir and Bartlett's powerful company appeared with success in the funny comedy The Collar Stud. The comedietta Wanted, a Wife, was also amusing. Mr. Arthur Wallis, an American monologue artist, was good, while the Electric Animated Tableaux proved attractive.

MISS HAIDEE GUNN

AS PORTIA AND DESDEMONA.
OPINIONS OF THE DUBLIN PRESS.
VICEREGAL VISIT.

Following her success as Portia on Monday night, Miss Haidée Gunn essayed a very different rôle last night. The play of Othello is a highly popular one at all times with Dublin audiences, but the prospect of seeing Miss Gunn in the part of Desdemona formed a potent attraction, and a crowded house, which included the Lord Lieutenant and the Countess of Aberdeen, very warmly acclaimed her portrayal of a character which, beyond all others, is full of gentleness and trusting, tender womanhood. She was, perhaps, hardly so effective as on Monday night, but at the same time her Desdemona must take high rank amongst modern conceptions of the part. That unswerving loyalty to her husband which is one of Desdemona's principal charms gave Miss Gunn the opportunity for some of her most effective work, but it was, perhaps, in her earnest pleading for the restoration of Cassio to her husband's favour that her finest efforts were revealed, and at the close of the fourth act the presentation of a number of floral tributes constituted a very tangible expression of the general appreciation with which her work was regarded.

Dublin is loyal to its old theatrical friends, and almost paternally loyal to theatrical ability in the second generation. On Monday night there was a crowded house at the Gaiety to witness Miss Haidée Gunn's first appearance in a really important part among her own lares and penates. A young actress ho attempts a classic rôle may be merely ambitious or may have a well-founded confidence in her own capacity to "go far." We do not know whether Miss Gunn has any such confidence, but she may be assured that after Monday night her friends will have a large measure of it. Her performance of Portia was one of which an older and far more experienced actress might well be proud. Exaggerated praise is not good for young people, but it would be unfair to Miss Gunn to refuse her the praise and stimulus of saying that she has justified her bold experiment, and that though she has still (like all actors of every age) something to learn, her acting on Monday night gave solid promise of distinguished future success in the highest walks of her profession.

Miss Gunn's first appearance on the stage was greeted with cheers that assured her of an audience ready to be "to her virtues very kind, and to her faults a little blind."

The assurance was flattering, but she soon showed that it was not necessary. Miss Gunn's acting made no drafts upon the tolerance of the audience; on the contrary, it made an almost instant appeal to their artistic appreciation. If she was nervous she showed no trace of it. Her acting was admirably finished and natural, and there were passages in the lighter scenes where it could hardly have been improved upon. She looked what she was—not a masculine, but a delightfully womanly Portia. If one tests her by the trial scene—as one usually tests Portias—she emerged from the test with much credit. As we have all known for a long time, one of Miss Gunn's most striking qualities is her musical voice—"an excellent thing in women," and a gift above rubies in an actress. Portia's voice dominated the trial scene, and her rendering of that test passage, "The quality of Mercy, etc.," was a perfect piece of elocution. The acting behind the voice was restrained and dignified. It was particularly powerful where Portia makes her final appeal to the Jew's mercy before shattering his visions of revenge.

It was, however, in the lighter scenes that Miss Gunn pleased us most. She is a born actress of elegant comedy—dainty, sympathetic, and with a laugh of compelling sweetness. We have never seen the ring episode after the trial scene better done; and never, on the whole, a more gracious and lovable Portia. In our opinion the qualities expressed by these two adjectives are the distinctive note of Miss Gunn's rendering of the part; so distinctive that on Monday night they very nearly entitled her to the proud name of a really creative actress. The house was honestly delighted with Miss Gunn's acting, and after the third, fourth, and fifth acts a number of bouquets were handed to her from the audience.

Miss Gunn's sweetness was well set off by the strong ferocity of Shylock. Mr. Allan Wilkie gave an uncommonly good and consistent interpretation of the part. There was a real element of dignity in his implacable pursuit of Antonio, and his final agonies never degenerated into mere baseness. He was very good in the particularly difficult passage where he is torn by the conflicting emotions of love for his daughter and sorrow for his stolen ducats.

The highest treat the stage offers is a play of Shakespeare well acted. That rare trial was last night offered to a crowded and appreciative house at the Gaiety. The two chief parts in The Merchant of Venice were admirably played. The Portia of Miss Haidée Gunn and . . . are as true and powerful as the modern stage can offer to an audience. Portia is a charming character to read; a complex and difficult character to play. To borrow a metaphor from music, there is a wider compass in her character than any of Shakespeare's heroines. One would need a score of epithets at least rightly to describe it. Merry, gracious, gentle tender, womanly, self-devoted, eloquent, are some of them. Yet in all those moods there is a sweet dignity which is, to our thinking, the keynote of the character. Portia is never skittish, as some actresses—and even great actresses—interpreted the part. It is marvellous how truthfully a young girl like Miss Haidée Gunn, with little experience, as the stage counts experience, interpreted the part and played it. Sympathy was the secret of her success. She did not analyse; she felt. She abandoned herself to the inspiration of the part. She forgot Haidée Gunn in Portia, and she tempted her audience to the same forgetfulness. The sweet lady of Belmont lived again upon the stage as the imagination loves to picture her. It is always hard to describe a good performance. Judicious censure is much more easy than judicious praise, even when both are equally deserved. In thorough enjoyment of a performance discrimination and even admiration are forgotten; the illusion is complete. The frolicsome mirth of the earlier scenes and of the last were as perfect in their way as the gracious dignity, the tenderness, the pathos, and the power of the trial scene, which is the highest revelation of the character. As has been said more than once of Miss Gunn—

"Her voice is low and sweet,
An excellent thing in a woman."

Specially excellent in a Shakespearean actress, whose every word is precious. Her voice is clear as a silver bell, for musical charm, perhaps, unrivalled on the stage. Her laughter rings clear from her soul. Her comedy last night was delightful, but it was in the trial scene she was at her best. In this scene she made a brilliant debut in Dublin. It was highly praised at the time, and rightly praised. In delicate grace and gentleness it could scarcely have been improved. Yet last night's performance proved how much the actress has grown since then. Sweet gentleness she always had. She has achieved power in the part. Calm and strong, the embodiment of the mercy she praises, she confronts and dominates the merciless rancour that is embodied in the character of Shylock. There are many and competent critics who think Portia's great speech the most beautiful passage in all Shakespeare. Never did the tender and exquisite music of the lines find voice more exquisite, or the tender, gracious pathos of the appeal more sympathetic utterance. The persistent rancour of the Jew took more repulsive shape when those lines were spoken.

Last night Miss Haidée Gunn surpassed herself in the part of Desdemona, and extorted from a crowded audience the tribute, not of applause merely, but also of tears. If anyone who had seen her play could doubt that here was a really great actress, last night's performance must have brought conviction. It is not enough to look the part, to move with grace and dignity, to speak the lines with musical clearness; these gifts Miss Gunn has, indeed, in rare perfection. But these are but the accessories of acting; she has the gift of sympathy and feeling, which is the essential for which nothing can compensate. "If you want to make me weep," said the wisest of the Latin poets, "you must weep yourself." It is the heart that prompts the really great artist, not the intellect. Study won't suffice. Every tone and gesture may be perfect, yet leave the audience cold if that indefinable something, which in music is called expression, is lacking. It is very hard to define the want in words; it is very easy to feel it. Miss Gunn is happy in gracious presence, in graceful presence, and in a voice of perfect music, but happiest of all in that quick and sensitive sympathy which identifies her, body and soul, with the character she plays in every varying phase of thought and passion. In Desdemona she wins admiration, affection, and pity that is pain in its intensity. She charms the audience from the first in that touching speech in which she makes choice between her husband and her father.

BIRTHDAYS OF THE WEEK.

WE wish many happy returns of the day to the following ladies and gentlemen :—

Kate Olga Vernon—Saturday, June 9.
Emma Rainbow—Saturday, June 9.
Norman G. Appleby—Saturday, June 9.
Sybil Chester—Saturday, June 9.
Jerrold Heather—Saturday, June 9.
J. J. Webb—Sunday, June 10.
Mrs. Walford Bodie—Sunday, June 10.
Mabel Spencer—Sunday, June 10.
Ernest Leicester—Monday, June 11.
Violet Vanbrugh—Monday, June 11.
Will Knott—Monday, June 11.
Dr. Walford Bodie—Monday, June 11.
Julia Neilson—Tuesday, June 12.
May Davis—Tuesday, June 12.
H. H. Barrington—Tuesday, June 12.
Bob Leonard—Tuesday, June 12.
Frank Coyle—Tuesday, June 12.
Ethel Haydon—Wednesday, June 13.
Eustace Day—Wednesday, June 13.
Pope Pax—Wednesday, June 13.
Fannie Leslie—Wednesday, June 13.
J. A. Caicedo—Wednesday, June 13.
Charles Morritt—Wednesday, June 13.
Mark Kinghorne—Thursday, June 14.
F. W. Warden—Thursday, June 14.
Jack Collinson—Friday, June 15.
Percy Emery—Friday, June 15.
Ruth Wingrove—Friday, June 15.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL LAW.

BY A. A. STRONG, LL.B. (LOND.), SOLICITOR

LONDON & SUBURBAN THEATRES.

THE ADELPHI.

On Saturday, June 2,
Shakespeare's Comedy,
"THE TAMING OF THE SHREW."

The revival of The Taming of the Shrew at the Adelphi on Saturday night gave playgoers another opportunity of enjoying the humours of Shakespeare's comedy, and the performance of no modern farce could have excited greater or more continuous merriment. Those who hold the opinion that the play should be acted as if it were a present-day farcical production can point to the fact that, in one version of the piece at least, a clown, known as "Sawny the Scot," was introduced. It was this adaptation, by the way, which Pepys witnessed on April 9, 1667, for he has placed it on record that he thought "Sawny the best part," though he complains that he could not well understand the words, no doubt because they were spoken in a broad Scotch accent. When Pepys made this entry the play had already for thirteen years had a place on the Dutch, and for nine on the German, stage, in vernacular versions. In Germany the comedy seems to have enjoyed exceptional popularity.

In the welcome revival of the comedy at the Adelphi, Mr. Oscar Asche is again seen as Petruchio, and enters with all his old zest and spirit into the representation of the shrew-tamer. In the scenes with Katharina Mr. Asche is quite at his best, and in "the Induction" which precedes the play he impersonates Christopher Sly, the tinker, with a keen sense of humour that delights the audience. Nor is the Katharina of Miss Lily Brayton lacking in any of those qualities which at once obtained for her unqualified success when she first appeared in the part. Paraphrasing a familiar quotation, it may be said of Miss Brayton's embodiment, "This is the shrew that Shakespeare drew." Every phase of the character is done justice to, and one cannot imagine a more effective representation of the part. Mr. Matheson Lang, succeeding Mr. Walter Hampden, is a handsome and graceful Lucentio; and Bianca's other suitors, Gremio and Hortensio, are again excellently embodied by Mr. Herbert Grimwood and Mr. H. R. Hignett, who also plays the part of the lord in the "Induction." Mr. Alfred Brydone is well-suited as Baptista, most effectively expressing the Paduan gentleman's delight at the prospect of getting his shrewish daughter off his hands; Mr. Caleb Porter gives an admirable portrayal of the vain, foolish old gentleman, Vincentio; Mr. G. K. Souper is a very amusing representative of Tranio, a part formerly played by Mr. Chas. Angelo; equally good is the Grumio of Mr. Charles Rock, a comedian of experience and resource; Mr. F. R. Anson must be credited with a capital portrayal of Biondello; Miss Francis Dillon, by reason of her charm of person and manner, is well chosen for the rôle of the fascinating Bianca, originally represented by Miss Pamela Gaythorne; Miss Constance Robertson deserves praise for her capital rendering of the part of the maid-servant Curtis; while other minor characters are carefully portrayed by Miss Frances Wetherall, Mr. Henry Kitts, Mr. J. R. Gillespie, Mr. Ivan Leslie, and Miss Blanche Catterson. The several scenes, painted by Mr. W. T. Hemsley and Mr. Joseph Harker, are charming artistic productions. Saturday night's audience showed their appreciation of the performance by recalling the principals with much enthusiasm, and "the Shrew" resumes her reign at the Adelphi under the most favourable conditions.

KING'S THEATRE, HAMMERSMITH.

On Monday, June 4,
the Farcical Comedy, by Arthur Law, entitled
"THE NEW BOY."

That the Bank Holiday audience who crowded the King's on Monday evening had full value for their money was fully testified by the loud laughter which prevailed during the performance of Mr. Arthur Law's farce, The New Boy. The tortures which little Mr. Rennick is forced to undergo in the guise of a schoolboy at Doctor Candy's establishment are amusing in the extreme, and the enjoyment of the audience was evidenced by the curtain having to be raised several times after each act. Mr. Gerrard Grant-Allen's company is of all-round excellence, and includes Mr. Leon M. Lion and Miss Maud Magrath, in the characters of Archibald Rennick and Nancy Roach. Mr. Leon M. Lion gives an admirable rendering of the diminutive husband, Archibald Rennick, who is mistaken by Doctor Candy for the son of his old "flame," Mrs. Martha Boulder. Mr. Lion's appearance in boy's clothes, and his airs of importance and familiarity when in that guise he speaks to the elder people, were too ludicrous for description, and the impersonation must be pronounced a decided triumph for the young actor. Mr. A. Corney Grain was a successful Dr. Candy, his schoolmaster manner being very realistic; the Felix Roach of Mr. Talbot Homewood was in all respects good; and the Theodore de Brizac of Mr. Harold Weston was satisfactory. Mr. Stanley Logan as the school bully, Bullock Major, was exceedingly amusing; and Mr. Stubber was well played by Mr. M. A. Scott. The youthful flirt, Nancy Roach, of Miss Maud Magrath was a performance of genuine merit. Miss Katherine Harrington, a lady of majestic proportions, made a great success as Mrs. Martha Boulder; and Miss Margaret Fareleigh was bright as Susan the maid. The farcical comedy was preceded by a highly interesting and sentimental play in one act, by Tom Gallon and Leon M. Lion, entitled The Borrowed Uncle, in which Mr. Lion displayed his versatility in the part of Timothy Filby, an escaped convict. Mr. A. Corney Grain, Mr. Stanley Logan, and Miss Margaret Fareleigh rendered valuable aid. After this week the theatre remains closed for the usual summer vacation.

THE MARLBOROUGH.

On Monday, June 4,
the Adaptation from Dickens's Novel, entitled
"OLIVER TWIST."

For the last week of the present season, Oliver Twist, the recent great success from His Majesty's Theatre, is being presented by Mr. Bannister Howard's excellent company. One can bestow no higher praise on the acting than by saying that it was equal in merit to the play. Every part, large or small, was thoroughly well played, and never for a moment lost grip on the interest of the audience. Mr. D. Lewin Mannering, in the rôle of Fagin, is a host in himself, and by his fine acting and artistic make-up, made the part impressive. It would be difficult to imagine an abler exponent of the part of Bill Sikes than Mr. William H. Kemble, whose portrayal is marked by thorough histrionic ability. Mr. Charlie Clark gives an excellent study of the Artful Dodger; and Fagin's other pupils, Charlie Bates, Tom Chitting, and Barney, are characters that are rendered with ability by Messrs. R. C. Hunter, J. Johns, and J. Hames. Mr. Fred Penley contributes a performance of considerable merit as Mr. Brownlow; and Mr. W. H. Rotherham, in the dual rôle of Mr. Trimwig and Monks, submits admirable assumptions. Mr. Cyril Cattley, in addition to his arduous duties as stage-director, essays the part of Harry Maylie, and his performance is much appreciated. Messrs. Edward Walsh, J. C. Appleby, T. Williams, Crank, J. James, and C. Brown all render their parts with ability. Miss Dorothy Marstin as Oliver Twist has the sympathies of the audience from start to finish, and gives a praiseworthy representation of the unfortunate waif. Miss Daisy England and Miss Helen Clement are well placed as Mrs. and Rose Maylie respectively; and the Misses Black and White are also good as Betsy and Mrs. Bedwin; whilst Miss Tyers does well in the small part of Mrs. Bumble. Miss Edith Anton Laing handles the difficult part of Nancy with considerable skill, giving full effect to the many fine scenes in which she is concerned. Effective scenery and admirable stage-management are among the strong points of an excellent performance.

GRAND, WOOLWICH.

On Monday, June 4,
the Drama, in Four Acts,
"THE BOOM OF BIG BEN."

The holiday attraction here has been the above well-known and well-written drama, which, capably handled by Messrs. E. H. Knight and George Denham's company, was just the thing to please a Woolwich popular audience. Miss Mildred Cottell submitted a striking portrayal of Olive Lorette, being most successful in suggesting the occasional gleam of an idea of better things, which breaks through the gloom of Olive's life of crime. Miss Hilda Baynton gave a sympathetic rendering of Marjorie Galloway, and played the big scene in the "Ran Dan" Club with good effect. Miss Nellie Fletcher acted with tenderness and truth as Judith Galloway; in the rôle of Captain Joe Galloway Mr. Fred Powell was responsible for a life-like character-study; Mr. Harry Scott acted with a good deal of power as Gilbert Galloway, his fine resonant voice adding considerably to the value of his impersonation; Mr. George Denham gave a vigorous representation of Tom Battleby; Mr. Stanley Bedwell was sufficiently vindictive as Siegenbeck, doing notably good work in the strangling scene; and Mr. John Brittain was amusing as Tony Prebble. The smaller parts were capably handled, worthy of special mention being the Danby Wisk of Mr. H. A. Lyons, and the drama was well mounted and staged.

CORONET THEATRE.

On Monday, June 4,
the Comedy, by Hubert Henry Davies, entitled
"MRS. GORRINGE'S NECKLACE."

A more than usually attractive Bank Holiday programme is provided at the Coronet Theatre this Whitsuntide in the comely shape of Miss Mary Moore and company in Mrs. Gorringe's Necklace. The part of the portly, frivolous, inconsequent, self-absorbed Mrs. Gorringe suits Miss Mary Moore to perfection. Her pretty petulant air and her intense self-importance, her charming insipidity and fascinating stupidity as the daughter of the County Councillor and Mayor of Ipswich are admirably limned. Mr. Yorke Stephens as Captain Mowbray acts with his customary easy, unaffected, yet earnest and intense manner, and earns golden opinions by his interesting and virile embodiment. Miss Marie Illington has a rôle after her own heart as Mrs. Jardine, and all the bons mots allotted to her receive their full point and meaning at her hands. She contributes an inimitable portraiture of this selfish, shallow, yet most amusing creature. Mr. Maitland Dicker is intensely droll and very well placed as Colonel Jardine, who completes the trio in this triangular source of irritation. Miss Lilias Waldegrave, besides being as pretty as a picture, shows considerable emotional ability in the sympathetic rôle of Isabel Kirke. Mr. Charles Kenyon acts with care and discretion in the thankless part of the weak-minded, erring young Lieutenant David Cairn. Miss Isabel Fladgate plays the small part of the irrepressible Vicky Jardine quite satisfactorily, and Mr. Reginald Walter creates a good impression as Jernigan, a detective. Miss Ethel Marryat is Miss Potts, and Mr. Lawrence J. White is the footman Charles. The pièce de résistance is preceded by Rosina Fillipi's duologue, An American Widow, a bright, lively little sketch in which Miss Lilias Waldegrave does excellently well as a charming and outspoken Transatlantic widow; and Mr. Reginald Walter very ably portrays the confusion and delight of the young Earl, who is mistaken for the widow's solicitor. Mr. Reginald Walter, assisted by Mr. Lawrence J. White, stage-manages the show, and Mr. Augustus Bingham is the courteous and able business-manager.

PRINCE'S, POPLAR.

On Monday, June 4,
the Play, in Four Acts, by Hal Reid, entitled
"AT CRIPPLE CREEK."

This powerful play, bringing with it the atmosphere of the backwoods of America, and depicting mining life in the Far West, has been received with every mark of favour at Poplar this week. Mr. Mark Blow makes a fine figure as the hero, Joe Mayfield. His acting is beyond reproach, and he scores all through the performance. As the Terror of Cripple Creek, Martin Mason, Mr. Walter Thornton is excellent. He acts with force and power. Mr. Douglas Carlile as the bully Manuel Alverez makes a capital Mexican; Mr. A. D. Layland gives a spirited rendering of Wahketah, the faithful Indian friend of Joe Mayfield; and Mr. Albert Rogers causes much merriment as the nigger, Ben White. He is ably seconded by Mr Will Hook, who, as a Boston dude, Reggie Harwood, proves a great mirth provoker. Little Freda, who plays the Baby of Cripple Creek, known as Little Tatto, speedily becomes a great favourite with the audience; and Miss Daisy Carlton is exceedingly good as Maggie Mason. Miss Lily Beagle looks and acts well as Belle Gordon; and as Dynamite Ann Miss Vera Fordyce presents a powerful piece of acting. All the smaller parts are in capable hands, and the whole production reflects credit on all concerned.

THE CAMDEN.

On Monday, June 4,
the Comic Opera, entitled
"LES CLOCHES DE CORNEVILLE."

No better choice for a holiday attraction could have been made than Planquette's ever-popular comic opera Les Cloches de Corneville, which was received in an enthusiastic manner on Monday evening by a very large audience. The music is as delightful as ever, and it loses none of its brightness and charm as time goes on. Mr. E. St. Alban has surrounded himself with a capital company, and the chorus is particularly good. Mr. St. Alban himself appears in the rôle of Gaspard, the old miser, who uses the empty castle to store his gold. It is a capital impersonation, realistic in the extreme, and the scene in which Gaspard is discovered in the castle is most effective and evokes great applause. As the Marquis de Corneville, Mr. G. A. Fox presents a commanding figure, and he sings with distinction; indeed, he scores heavily throughout. The Germain of Miss Marion Ayling is a delightful impersonation which charms everyone, while her singing is also greatly admired. Miss May Bradbury is likewise successful as Serpolette, infusing much energy into her acting, and she is distinctly amusing in the last scene when masquerading as the Countess. Mr. William Everard plays Grenicheaux in an able manner, and Miss L. Rhodes does well as Christophe. The Bailie of Mr. Fred Dark is responsible for much hilarity; Mr. Dark has a quiet way which is quite amusing; another cause of mirth is the Gobo of Mr. Richard Martin, who also scores by a clever dance. The chorus and orchestra do their work admirably under the able direction of Chevalier Legrand.

COUNTY THEATRE, KINGSTON.

On Monday, June 4,
the Military Drama, entitled
"DEATH OR GLORY BOYS."

There was a typical Bank Holiday audience at the Kingston playhouse on Monday evening when this stirring play was played in a most capable manner by a strong company, engineered by Mr. J. M. East. The part of Jack Malden was represented by Mr. Fred Victor, who speedily became a great favourite with the audience. Miss Lily Hammersley also made a pleasing appearance as Nena Furgeson; and Miss J. Phillips acquitted herself well as Edith Malden; a successful impersonation of the part of Captain Ferrers was given by Mr. Horace Hunter; while Mr. Alfred Harding gave a fine picture of Colonel Furgeson, and Mr. Henry W. Hatchman scored as Captain Ferrers's servant. Other members of the company deserving of notice are Mr. E. Brooke as Lieut. Duff, Mr. Edward Coleman, and Miss Nellie Sheffield.

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE.

On Monday, June 4,
the Drama, in Four Acts, by Walter Melville, entitled
"A GIRL'S CROSS ROADS."

Mr. Walter Melville's companies are always sure of a hearty reception at the Elephant and Castle, and this week, notwithstanding the far from theatre-going weather, crowded houses have been the rule. Elaborate staging and the careful attention to detail which is evident in all Mr. Melville's productions, no doubt to a great extent account for their popularity. These are very evident in A Girl's Cross Roads, which is being presented this week. A delightful piece of character-acting is supplied by Mr. Charles Franmore as the old farmer, John Meadows. The part of Barbara Wade, a trying rôle, is quite safe in the hands of Miss Beaumont Collins. As Jack Livingstone Mr. Frank R. Robertson plays in a convincing and manly style; Mr. Courtney Bellenden is effective as Dr. Weston; while Cuthbert Lumley is played in an easy, polished manner by Mr. Roy Forteseque. As Tilly Vane and Toby Turvey, Miss Lena Delphine and Mr. Fred Ingram provide the comic relief, which is much appreciated, and they soon become great favourites with the audience. Mr. John Brooks is well placed as Luke Ramsden, and the part of a pickpocket is capitally sustained by Mr. Bert Hedger. Miss Elsie Saville plays carefully as Constance Cornell. Miss Nellie Meade as Nellie Meadows, the country girl who renounces her father, acts with distinction, and ably depicts the young woman's repentance in the later scenes. The minor parts are all in capable hands.

THE TERRISS.

On Monday, June 4,
the Drama, by C. Watson Mill, entitled
"A WRECKER OF MEN."

This exciting drama proved a capital selection for a Bank Holiday audience, and crowded houses have been nightly certifying to its success. The story opens in London, with a mysterious murder. We are then taken to the wilds of Dartmoor, and witness the escape of the convict hero. The scene is next shifted to a realistic storm at sea; and, finally, virtue is rewarded and villainy punished in a most impressive scene in the Temple of Karnac, on the coast of Egypt. Miss Hilda Beverley gives a very fine performance as Risca Mallison, the modern Circe, who entangles so many men in her coils. Miss Beverley looks very handsome in the part, and the callous nature of the beautiful temptress is shown with much skill. Mr. Philip Darlen is a manly young hero as Guise Strange, thoroughly enlisting the sympathy of the house in his misfortunes. Mr. Tubby Edlin does all that is possible for the part of the vacuous, but good-hearted, swell, the Hon. Reggie Verincourt, who only appears in the second act. Mr. John Sargeant gives a fine character-sketch as the burglar, Jim Murley, enlivening his part with some flashes of grim humour. Mr. Fred Terriss appears to much advantage as the calm, inexorable, and silent Railton; Miss Nell Oliver plays very sympathetically as the hero's sweetheart, Dorris Melville; and Miss Nellie Jackson excites much laughter as the ubiquitous maid of all work, Slopper. Mr. Frank Dennis is excellent as the kindly Jew financier, Ezekiel Isaacs, and afterwards acts with much impressiveness as the Egyptian Karnaphus. Mr. Leyton Cancellor gives a good study of polished villainy as Pharosaphus; and Mr. Fred de Vere makes the most of the rôle of Detective-Inspector Bransmere. Mr. Allen Davenport plays excellently as the unlucky young gambler, Eric Melville. The scenery and effects are excellent, particularly the storm at sea, and the final tableau in the Temple of Karnac. Mr. Will Taylor looks well after the comfort of his patrons in front of the house.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE, N.

On Monday, June 7,
the Farcical Comedy, in Three Acts, entitled
"THE NIGHT OF THE PARTY."

Mr. Dudley Bennett's attraction for the Whitsuntide holidays is Mr. Weedon Grossmith's clever and amusing farce The Night of the Party, presented by Messrs. Cecil Barth and Arthur Eldred's company. Mr. Sebastian Smith submits an entertaining performance of Mr. Crosbie on the lines of the originator of the part, and the vagaries of the artful little valet cause considerable amusement. An easy and natural Frank Frayne comes from Mr. F. G. Bayly; Mr. Arthur Eldred contributes a neat and finished sketch of the footman Roundle; and Mr. J. W. Braithwaite is just a little inclined to exaggerate the eccentricities of the hall porter Bogle. The best played part in the piece is the Mr. Flambert of Mr. Victor Widdicombe, whose artistic and finished performance of the pompous and self-satisfied butler it would be hard to improve upon. Miss Hope Mayne is a pleasing and engaging Lady Hampshire; and Sir Charles Hampshire is played in exactly the right spirit by Mr. Lewis Scaby. Paulina finds a bright and vivacious exponent in Miss Joan Burnett; and Miss Blanka Stewart is a satisfactory Gipsy Vandeleur. Other parts are admirably filled by Messrs. Algernon Newark, Gerald Jones, Charles Turner, Frank Ridley, and Master S. Kelly, and Misses Gertrude Hornewood, N. Rowley, and Mabel Morley.

GRAND THEATRE, ISLINGTON.

On Monday, June 4,
the Drama, in Four Acts, by Herbert N. Leonard, entitled
"THE MERCILESS WORLD."

Mr. Charles Neville's company in the above drama is the attraction for the holiday week, and good houses have been the result. Miss East Robertson as Kate St. Clair is clever in the heavy rôle; Miss Madge Haines is sympathetic as the heroine; and Miss May Seton amusing in the lighter scenes. Mr. C. F. Collins as Stanley acts well and with sincerity; Mr. Fred Morgan portrays the villain in the accepted style; Mr. Somers Bellamy as Gaston is good; and Mr. H. H. Barrington well cast as the fisherman, Rogers. Mr. A. Davis as Sir George Stanley handles a small part well; and Mr. E. Perry is satisfactory as the Governor. Mr. A. P. Kaye as Riley is an amusing comedian, and the remaining smaller parts are all in good hands. The drama was well received.

THE PAVILION.

On Monday, June 4,
the Drama, in Four Acts, entitled
"MENDELE THE MARTYR."

A typical Bank Holiday audience crammed the Pavilion in every part on Monday, and expressed hearty approval in no uncertain manner of the merits of Mendele the Martyr, in which drama there is sufficient motive for a very strong play. The action, however, moves slowly on account of the amount of superfluous dialogue introduced, whereby the piece lasted until close upon midnight. The Jewish Operatic and Dramatic Company is so excellent in the management of all departments that a trifling attention to the great length of their admirable performances would be of material advantage. Mr. Natansohn, who has now settled down to the theatre, was received with enthusiasm in the title-character, and gave an embodiment of an onerous part with much skill and power. Mr. Axelrad was generally effective as Shmuel Icik; and Mr. Joseph Fineberg displayed the malignity of Chazkele Cahn in strong melodramatic style. Mr. Schoor, a capital actor, scored heavily as Shleimele Weinberg; and Mr. Schilling capably enacted Asher Zelig. Mme. Natansohn acquitted herself with much ability and feeling as Rivkele; and Feigele found a good exponent in Mme. J. Kayzer; Mirele being efficiently represented by Miss Bryh. Mme. Schapira deserves commendation for her portrayal of Sara; and Mme. Goldstein was seen to advantage as the Aunt Yente; while Mr. Marinhoff was successful as Hershele Zilberstein. During the week Alexander, The Jewish Priest, The Wisdom of Woman, and The Jewish Minister, have been played.

THE CROWN, PECKHAM.

On Monday, June 4,
the Drama, in Four Acts, by Charles Darrell and George Testo Sante, entitled
"THE LIFE OF A SHOWMAN."

The attraction for the present week is the first visit heré of the above exciting drama. Mr. George Testo Sante makes a great impression in the part of the hero, Brian Leader, and in the circus scene in the second act undertakes several feats of strength, which elicit deserved applause. Mr. Frank Sante affords much amusement as Tommy Allthere; and Mr. Johnny Clegg as the sailor Ben Tic-Tac materially assists in the comedy portions of the piece. Mr. Edward Warden as the Rev. Cyril Arliss plays with much sincerity; Mr. Logan Darra as Hendrick Marais soon gains the execrations of the occupants of the cheaper portions of the house for his realisation of the dastardly conduct of a determined stage villain; Mr. Charles Osborne is good as Sir Noel Hartland; that experienced actress, Miss Amy McNeill, gives a very fine rendering of the adventuress, Agatha Winter; Miss May Warden is warmly applauded for her spirited acting as Lynette Leader; Miss May Neilson is excellent as Angelina Mutton; and Miss Enid Trench gives a capital rendering of the part of Lena Hartland. The struggle at the end of the third act, where Brian Leader successfully disposes of his five assailants, is capitally managed, and rouses the house to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

DALSTON THEATRE.

On Monday, June 4,
the American Drama, by Malcolm Douglas, entitled
"A FIGHT FOR MILLIONS."

Mr. Robert Perris's company is providing the holiday attraction at the Dalston Theatre this week with the American drama, having the sufficiently descriptive title A Fight for Millions. Mr. Robert Perris himself represents Richard Dudley, and to his credit it must be said that he infuses into the part sufficient interest to keep the audience fully intent upon his adventures. Mr. John C. Carlyle is Tom Manley, the inventor of a wireless ocean telephone, which, in the end, stands him in good stead. Pearl Rivers, with whose fortunes for good or ill Manley's fate is closely allied, finds a pleasing representative in Miss Eva Purcell. The parents of this young lady, Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Rivers, are represented by Mr. P. G. Beresford and Miss Audrey Canning respectively. Miss Audrey Sutherland and Miss Lottie Pearce are also included in the female cast. Mr. Frank Sutherland as a typical tramp, Mr. Karl H. Edwards as Solomon Moses, and Mr. Nicholas Conway as a butler, provide a good deal of fun; and other characters are represented by Mr. J. Knox, Mr. R. Bradshaw, Mr. W. Turner, Mr. J. Risk, Mr. Gus Harding, and Mr. George Hodges.

LYRIC, HAMMERSMITH.

On Monday, June 4,
the Drama, entitled
"FATAL FORTUNE."

The Whit-week attraction at the Lyric is the drama Fatal Fortune, which is being performed to a well-filled house each evening with marked success. The rôle of Seton Desmond, an adventurer of the worst type, has been safely entrusted to Mr. Lewis Gilbert. It is an extremely difficult part, but he carries it through with an ability which deserves and obtains appreciation. As Jack, Mr. Douglas Vigors is all that can be desired, giving to the character a touch of vigour combined with pathos. Miss Marie Clavering submits an excellent portrayal of the relenting adventuress, Beauty Glitters, and in a by no means easy part is very entertaining. Charming and winning, too, is Miss Minnie Grey as Mary Weston. Her lines are spoken eloquently and with a grace all her own. Mr. Thorp Tracy and Mr. Fred Moy are responsible for most of the fun; but one must not forget the really able assistance given them by Miss Ella Seton. Miss Florence Lovel, during an all too short appearance, keeps the audience in roars of laughter; Mr. Frank Harris as George Thornton plays in a very natural manner; and Mr. J. E. Manning and Mr. J. Sands in their respective parts give valuable assistance.

THE STANDARD.

On Monday, June 4,
the Drama, in Four Acts, by Dion Boucicault, entitled
"THE STREETS OF LONDON."

This highly successful sensational drama is the attraction at the Standard this week, and as a holiday production is meeting with every success. On Monday night the house was crowded, and the enthusiastic reception the piece gained proved that the play is as popular now as it was when first produced. The drama is capitally mounted, and receives an exceptionally fine interpretation at the hands of a decidedly capable body of players. Much praise is due to Mr. Ashley Page for his excellent delineation of Badger. His reading of the rôle is particularly good, being at times humorous, but full of power and highly impressive. Mr. Alfred Harding plays with a sufficient amount of cruelty and hard-heartedness as Gideon Crawley; Mr. E. J. Collins submits a capital embodiment of Mark Livingstone, and meets with much approval; as Puffy, the pieman, Mr. Johnny Chippendale plays with genuine humour, and succeeds in causing considerable mirth; Little Albert supplies a creditable delineation of Dan; Mr. John Sargent is seen to advantage as Captain Fairweather; Mr. C. A. Chandler scores as Paul Fairweather; and Mr. Eric Williams is all that could be desired as Jim Doolan. Miss Mattie Everitt ably sustains the rôle of Mrs. Puffy, and assists materially in the lighter portions of the play; as Alida Crawley, Miss Rosemary Rees contributes a charming and most acceptable impersonation; and Miss Marion Denvil must be complimented on her praiseworthy portrait of Lucy Fairweather, a part which she plays with sincerity and pathos, earning hearty and well-deserved applause.

THE WEST LONDON.

On Monday, June 4,
the Drama, in Six Acts, by Charles Reade, entitled
"DRINK."

Marylebone has been having a dramatic treat this week in the performance of Mr. Charles Warner and company in Drink, it being one of the biggest Whitsuntide attractions that Mr. William Bailey has given his patrons for a long time. So much has been written round Mr. Warner's remarkable dramatic portrayal of Coupeau that it is like ploughing the sand to endeavour to find new words of praise and commendation for his masterly impersonation. Suffice it to say that all the varying phases of the drunkard's life are handled with artistic taste and delicate touches of sentiment skilfully presented, with the result that the curtain has to be raised again and again at the end of each act to enable Mr. Warner to bow his acknowledgments. The support all round is good, especially the Gouget of Mr. Norman Wrighton, who works with unflagging energy. Lautier finds a capable exponent in Mr. C. Herbert Hewetson; Mr. Charles Schmidt deserves a word of praise for his Poisson; and Mr. Alfred P. Phillips enacts Mes Bottes in a light, genial style. The part of Gervaise calls for sympathetic treatment, and this is ably given by Miss H. Graeme, who is easy and natural; whilst a study of quite an opposite kind is provided by Miss Mary Allestree as Virginie, who brings well to the fore the jealousy and spite embodied in the character. Miss Flossie Hale Daviss is intelligent and pleasing as Little Nana; Miss Frances Day is bright and cheery as Phœbe Sage; and Miss Ada Kay is suitably cast as Madame Rouge. The smaller parts are carefully played, the all-round excellence of the company being most marked.

THE SHAKESPEARE.

On Monday, June 4,
the Play, in Four Acts, by Dion Boucicault, entitled
"THE SHAUGHRAUN."

Mr. Dudley Bennett's engagement of Mr. John M. East's company for the holiday week is proving most successful, and, notwithstanding numerous outdoor attractions, Dion Boucicault's great Irish play has received its full share of public patronage. The play is ably acted by a company admirably suited to their various rôles, and the scenery and general effects leave nothing to be desired. Mr. C. E. Matthews as Conn, the Shaughraun, is the life and soul of the piece, and his clever acting and dry humour keep the audience in continual merriment. Mr. Frank Adair as Capt. Molyneux contributes a sterling performance; Corry Kinchela has an excellent representative in Mr. J. C. Aubrey, who scores with an admirable delineation of the Irish Squireen; Mr. George Taverner as Father Dolan, the Parish Priest, acts with quiet reserve, and creates a favourable impression; Mr. Cecil Calvert is manly and straightforward as Robert Ffolliott; and Mr. J. P. Dryden as Harvey Duff contributes an excellent character study of a police agent. Miss Daisy Murch plays with charm and intelligence as Arte O'Neal; and Miss Eily Malyon quickly wins the favour of the house by her natural impersonation of Claire Ffolliott. Miss B. Stanley cleverly assumes the rôle of Mrs. O'Kelly, Conn's mother, and causes much laughter by her clever comedy acting. Miss Daisy Marshall as Moya, Father Dolan's niece, acts her part ably.

KENNINGTON THEATRE.

On Monday, June 4,
the Farcical Comedy, in Three Acts, by Mrs. Musgrave, entitled
"OUR FLAT."

There are few farcical pieces which can be compared with "Our Flat" in point of popularity. It has now pursued its merry career nearly a score of years, and yet the piece betrays no signs of age or staleness. Mrs. Musgrave had indeed a "happy thought" when she chose as the basis of her farcical comedy the impecuniosity of a young married couple who are compelled to exercise their ingenuity in furnishing a room that has been suddenly despoiled of its ordinary goods and chattels. It is the real humour of this domestic incident that so forcibly appeals to every man and woman in the audience, and accounts in a large degree for the success which continues to attend the representation of the comedy. At the same time every credit must be given to Mr. Charles Steuart's company for a thoroughly sound and satisfactory performance. Mr. Steuart himself plays the part of Reginald Sylvester in just the right spirit, the debt-encumbered married man facing an embarrassing situation with the utmost good humour and sangfroid. Miss Daisy Atherton displays much vivacity in her portrayal of the young wife who takes an active share in making the flat that has been so unceremoniously denuded of furniture ready for the reception of the unsuspecting visitor. Miss Atherton's co-operation in the well-planned scheme of amusement is of the utmost value; and her clever acting is recognised by generous applause. Mr. Wilfred E. Shine cuts an exceedingly comical figure as the pompous theatrical manager, Nathaniel Glover, and adds considerably to the merriment of the audience by his broadly farcical treatment of the character. Mr. Frank Emery is a capital representative of Stout, the hall porter. Miss Pollie Emery gets abundance of fun out of the part of Bella, the slavey, none of the many opportunities which the rôle presents being missed by this excellent actress. Mr. Percy Foster proves to be quite capable of meeting all the requirements of the part of the hard-up young artist, Clarence Vane, whose sweetheart, Lucy McCullum, has an attractive exponent in Miss Florence Tressilian. Miss Mary Stuart appears to advantage as Madame Volant, the pretended Parisienne, who drops her French accent when she is very angry by the non-payment of her long-standing bill. Another highly effective and amusing impersonation is the Clara Pryout of Miss Murtie Slade. Mr. Fred Knight does well as Mr. McCullum; Mr. J. E. Savery scores as the dairyman, and Mr. Kaye Brudell supplies a neat character-sketch of the foreman from the furniture stores who supervises the removal of the goods. Our Flat is preceded by the farce in one act, entitled The Water Cure, which can be recommended as a merry introduction to the principal attraction.

THE GORDON WILSON (G. W. GLENNY) BENEFIT FUND.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ERA.

Sir,—Kindly allow me to acknowledge the following amounts received in answer to my appeal on behalf of this well-known author and actor, who, at over sixty years of age, is permanently invalided, following a long illness. He has left Stockton Hospital, and is now staying at 34, Tramway-street, Leeds, undergoing medical treatment. Further contributions, however small, will be gladly acknowledged by, yours faithfully,

MATTHEW ARNOLD.

55, High-street, Watford, Herts. June 2.

SUBSCRIPTIONS.

E. D. Walker, Esq., J.P., Darlington	£3	0	0
The Actors' Benevolent Fund (First Gift)	2	0	0
J. Wilmer, Esq., Maida Vale	1	1	0
The Crooked Spire Lodge, R.O.A.B.	0	10	0
W. Earnshaw, Esq., Stockton	0	10	0
H. Vaughan	0	5	0
"Disengaged"	0	2	0
"Stamps"	0	1	6
J. de Voye	0	1	0
The Actors' Benevolent Fund (Second Gift)	1	0	0
G. Gordon Hoskins, Esq., J.P., Darlington	0	10	6
Dr. Fothergill, Esq., M.D., Darlington	0	10	0
H. Robinson, Esq., Darlington	0	5	0
F. Brown, Esq., J.P., Mayor of Stockton	0	10	6
	£10	6	6

The Japanese naval officers at Portsmouth gave a reception on the Katori, one of their two new battleships, on Tuesday. The company included a number of London guests, who were conveyed to Portsmouth in two special trains. The warship was elaborately decorated with paper flowers, and Japanese plays were performed on the quarter-deck. The visitors were provided with a resumé of the plot printed in English. Japanese sailors also gave an exhibition of jiu-jitsu.

THE DRAMA IN BERLIN.

"DAS FEST DER HANDWERKER."
Musical Farce, in Two Acts, by Louis Angely, produced at the Lustspielhaus, June 1.

Wohlmann ..... HERR HOEFLICH
Kluck ..... HERR BECKMANN
Hähnchen ..... HERR PAULMULLER
Stehauf ..... HERR MARX
Puff ..... HERR IMPEKOVEN
Kind ..... HERR RITTER
Madame Kluck ..... FRAULEIN EULER
Madame Stehauf ..... FRAULEIN LIMBURG
Madame Puff ..... FRAULEIN CERIGIOLI
Frau Wietzel ..... FRAULEIN HILLER
Leuchen ..... FRAULEIN WASSMANN

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

BERLIN, THURSDAY, June 7.—This was just the right kind of piece for the holidays, during which it ran right merrily. Angely has long since ceased to exist, but his amusing work lives after him, and a little modernising made it all the more palatable. On its production some years ago at the Berliner the plot of Das Fest der Handwerker was fully detailed in your columns, so that it only remains to add that its revival, coming as a novelty to many, was attended by unquestionable success. The cast of this capital little burlesque volks-play was particularly bright. Fräulein Cefigioli as Madame Puff, a charming little Xantippe, and Fräulein Wassmann as Leuchen made decided hits, while Herren Paulmüller, Marx and Beckmann played with such infectious humour that they were frequently applauded by open stage. Preceding the farce, Offenbach's one-act comic opera Die Verlobung bei der Laterne was given. The delightfully sparkling and melodious music made its customary mark, despite the paucity of the book, and the interpretation was surprisingly good. Herr Marx—known hitherto as an actor only—proved himself to be the possessor of a well-trained, pleasing baritone, and Fräuleins Obermaier and Von Bonomi, as Katharine and Anne Marie, as well as Fräulein Liebert in the part of Liese, fully deserved the hearty applause that fell to their lot. Kapellmeister Johndorff led the orchestra in commendable manner.

MISS BELLA ALTEN is singing at Krolls, earning well-merited success. Her sympathetic voice and good acting are worthy of better works than the light operas in which she is appearing; but this is the summer opera season, which covereth many things. In Fra Diavolo Miss Alten made a great hit as Zerline, Dr. Briesemeister singing the titlerôle. The latter is a particularly clever actor, and his good singing makes up for any deficiencies of voice. Herr Hansen as Lorenzo was rewarded with such enthusiastic applause that he was compelled to repeat his great song in the second act.

THE cold and rainy weather of Whit Sunday and Monday proved an undisguised blessing to our managers. Usually the theatres are sparsely filled on these days, everyone hastening to the woods, mountains, or sea; but this year all the theatres were crowded, and not a seat was to be had for love or money after seven o'clock, crowds being turned away from the Casse. At the Royal opera Fräulein Frieda Hempel sang the part of Margarete de Valois in Die Hugenotten on Sunday evening. This talented young artist was, it may be remembered, very favourably mentioned in your columns a year ago, on the occasion of a performance of the Stern Conservatorium Operatic Class in the Theatre des Westens. Fräulein Hempel's fame has increased by leaps and bounds. She was engaged at a Court theatre in the South of Germany, after giving several successful performances at our Royal opera, and she has been engaged for Bayreuth this season. On Whit Monday Die Zauberflöte occupied the boards of the Opera House, Lohengrin, as one of the Wagner cycle now going on, following on Tuesday, known here as "the third holiday."

A MEMORIAL celebration in honour of the great dramatist, Henrik Ibsen, took place on Friday in the Schiller Theatre, O., every seat in the large house being taken, and many people having to be refused admittance. After a harmonium selection from Grieg's "Peer Gynt, Herr Max Halbe spoke at length upon Ibsen's life, works, and influence upon the drama of the day. The speaker's heart was in his speech, and the effect was electrical; the listeners rose with one accord, hearing the last words standing with breathless attention, while the emotion of the speaker communicated itself to many. Some suitable Norwegian songs were sung, and the fourth act of Brand—admirably played by Herr Von Winterstein and Fräulein Feldhammer—completed the programme.

HERR REINHARDT has acquired the German rights of Bernard Shaw's Man and Super-Man, and announces the production at the Deutsches for early next season.

ACTORS' DAY.

In addition to those whose names have already been published the following have promised their support on Actors' Day:—Messrs. Adell and Chabot; Addison, Martin; Aldred, Charles; Alexander, Alec.; Alwyn, Violet; Arliss, George; Arnold, Charles; Arnold, Sidney; Beaumont, Anna; Bedford, Bessie; Bedford, Henry; Bedford, Sidney Allen; Bland, Vernon; Blind, Eric; Booth, T. H.; Brenan, Howard; Burton, John; Caldwell, Marianne; Carlyle, Ellis D.; Chambers, G. J.; Churton, Cecil B.; Clinton, Daisy; Dalton, Shirley; Domoney, Walter H.; Elliston, Harry; Eykyn, Llewn. E.; Fairfax, C. Arthur; Faydon, Nita; Fellowes, Dora; Feilding, Richard; Foley, Frances J.; Freeman, Charles; Fulton, Geoffrey; Furnival, Violet; Galton, Gwynette; Gatley, M. K.; Gaunt, Elsina; Griffin, Ernest; Gwyn-Richardson, F. R.; Halton, Hilda; Harding, Alfred; Harlington, Grace; Hewetson, Geo. W.; Hewson, T. James; Hill, Frank; Hughes, C. H.; Ingleton, George; Jackman, William E.; Kingsley, Cecil; Lamb, Beatrice; Langton, Charles; Lennox, Katie; Leonard, Herbert; Lester, Adeline; Lewis, Fred; Lilly, E. C.; Major-Jones, Saml.; Mathews, Norris; Matthison, Edith Wynne; Mazzoni, Alice; Medwin, Charles; Menzies, A. Hall; Mervyn, Arthur; Mervyn, Rosa; Millar, Jack H.; Nesbitt, John; Nevill, Nancy; Nuttall, H.; Overton, Norman A.; Page, B. Leonard; Papeira, Eleanor; Paulton, Tom; Price-Evans, Cyril; Rey, Vera; Raymond, Grace; Raymond, Joe; Rhodes, Undine; Risley, Jennie; Robertson, W. J.; Robinson, George; Rousby, Harry; Roy, Frank; Rozant, Ina; Sass, Edward; Saville, Ethel; Savill, Margaret; Shea, Jas.; Sinclair, Beatrice; Stanley, Blanche; Stevens, J.; Stone, Charles R.; Story-Gofton, E.; Strachan, Malcolm; Taylor, James C.; Tench, Florence; Turner-Elliott, Elizabeth; Verne, Gertrude; Vernon, May; Victor, Eddie; Waldron, Millie; Walker, Laura; White, Dorothy; Wigney, Jennie; Worthing, Frank.

As it is impossible to communicate directly with all who are interested in Actors' Day, the committee ask for the co-operation of all who are willing to assist in the work of organisation. Copies of the appeal, and forms for signature, will be sent to those who will be kind enough to write for them.

If one member in each company playing, and residents in different parts of the country, would do this, and endeavour to obtain promises of help from their friends, they would be rendering excellent service.

All communications should be addressed to the Actors' Day Organising Committee, 10, King-street, Covent Garden, W.C.

OWING to the recent illness of Mme. Clara Butt, she has been obliged to relinquish her engagement to sing at the Handel Festival. The Crystal Palace Company, however, have been very fortunate in securing the services of Miss Ada Crossley, who will sing on all four days.

"THE RENEGADE."

An Irish Drama, in Four Acts, by F. J. O'Hare. Played for the first time at the Queen's Theatre, Dublin, on Monday, June 4.

Conor MacDermott ..... MR. ROBT. FAULKNER
Hamilton Rowan ..... MR. H. RYELAND LEIGH
Stephen MacNally ..... MR. DANE CLARKE
General Fairfax ..... MR. ION IRELAND
Capt. Armitage ..... MR. JACK DAWSON
Pat Dempsey ..... MR. JAMES O'BRIEN
Dan Heffernan ..... MR. JAMES DALY
Sergeant Ormsby ..... MR. HARRY RICHARDSON
Major Braithwaite ..... MR. J. E. SMITHERS
Colonel Onslow ..... MR. ARTHUR WILSON
Sir Harry Vane ..... MR. ALFRED J. TRENCH
Captain L'Estrange ..... MR. THOS. ROONEY
Matt Whelan ..... MR. T. BAYLEY
Phil Cassidy ..... MR. T. DALTON
Mabel Fairfax ..... MISS CECILIA DARE
Eileen MacDermott ..... MISS MADELINE HURST
Nora M'Killup ..... MISS MONICA KELLY
Mrs. Nance M'Killup ..... MRS. BRADY

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

Mr. F. J. O. Hare's name has already appeared as the author of a comedy, entitled A Bachelor's Widow, produced some years ago. The Renegade had a very favourable reception on Monday night, when a crowded audience witnessed the production. The play deals with the stirring times of '98, and the author has created some sensational and exciting scenes. Hamilton Rowan and Conor MacDermott, two leaders of the revolutionary movement, are both stricken by Cupid's darts. MacDermott falls in love with Mabel Fairfax, the daughter of an English General whose mission is to crush the Irish, and Rowan has fallen a victim to the charm of Eileen, MacDermott's sister. Fairfax has become involved in financial difficulties, and falls into the toils of an informer named MacNally, who has an accomplice in Dan Heffernan, another Castle spy. MacDermott sides with his countrymen, and is immediately denounced by Fairfax. A series of exciting events follow, in the course of which a meeting of the United Irishmen, arranged by a daring highwayman named Pat Dempsey, is broken in upon by the forces of the Crown, but MacDermott and Rowan escape. McDermott is eventually arrested, and the United Irishmen are led, by misrepresentation, to look on him as a traitor to the National cause. Rowan, dispirited at the turn affairs had taken, as also by the supposed perfidy of MacDermott, decides on seeking a home in France, but just as the patriot is about to depart for foreign shores, he obtains proof that MacDermott is not a renegade, and rescues him as he is on the point of being executed by the British as a rebel.

The new production went without the slightest hitch. Mr. Robert Faulkner gave a masterly and warmly appreciated impersonation of Conor MacDermott; Miss Cecilia Dare was commendable as Mabel Fairfax; Mr. Dane Clarke depicted the villainies of Stephen McNally in a realistic manner; and the rôle of Eileen MacDermott was played with power and pathos by Miss Madeline Hurst. Mr. James O'Brien as Pat Dempsey sustained the humour of the piece with his accustomed ability, and was well supported by Miss Monica Kelly in the rôle of Nora M'Killup; Mr. James Daly's interpretation of the part of Dan Heffernan was a clever and praiseworthy performance; Hamilton Rowan had a good representative in Mr. H. Ryeland Leigh; Mr. Jack Dawson was distinctly good in the character of Captain Armitage; and Mr. Ion Ireland was excellent as General Fairfax. Mr. Thomas Rooney was eminently successful as Capt. L'Estrange; and as Major Braithwaite, Colonel Onslow, and Sir Harry Vane, Messrs. J. E. Smithers, Arthur Wilson, and Alfred J. Trench were also good in their respective parts. Mrs. Brady acquitte dherself well as Nance M'Killup; and Mr. Harry Richardson as Sergeant Ormsby, Mr. Tom Bailey as Matt Whelan, and Mr. T. Dalton as Phil Cassidy also sustained their parts in a creditable manner. It should be mentioned that the author had the invaluable assistance of Mr. J. W. Whitbread, the well-known writer and producer of Irish dramas, under whose direction The Renegade was staged. An excellent selection of Irish airs was played by the orchestra under the direction of Mr. P. M. Levenston.

DEATH OF A VETERAN ACTOR.

Mr. Edward Miles, who has long been regarded as England's oldest actor, passed away with tragic suddenness on the evening of the 31st ult., at the advanced age of ninety-two. The deceased actor's wonderful vitality had long been the subject of general admiration among his wide circle of friends and acquaintances, and even at his great age he was able to take part in many favourite pastimes. Mr. Miles, who resided with his wife at 9, Sandyland-street, Wisbech, was a member of the local Liberal and Radical Club, and it was his custom to seek recreation and amusement there in the evening. On the night of his demise he went to the club as usual, and indulged in a game at billiards, at which he was considered to be an expert. He won by the narrow margin of one or two points, and sat down in a chair in the room to watch others playing. A few minutes later one of the members noticed that "Daddy," as he was familiarly called, was breathing heavily, and was looking very distressed. His condition was found to be serious, and he was taken into the yard at the rear of the Club so as to get the benefit of the open-air. The dying man was able to take several sips of the brandy, but before the doctor, who had been sent for could arrive, and within a quarter of an hour of the first seizure, he had ceased to breathe. Later in the evening, the body was conveyed home by members of the Institute Ambulance Corps. As the deccased had been under medical treatment for some time, there was no necessity for an inquest to be held.

Mr. Miles, who was born in March, 1814, commenced his theatrical career at the early age of twenty, and came into contact with many of the leading stars and celebrities of the last century. Among those with whom he played were Mrs. Waylett, the ballad singer; the celebrated actress, Mrs. Sterling, in whose company he played "Juveniles"; Mr. H. P. Gratton; the veteran Braham, the famous English tenor, and many other celebrities in those days. Mr. Miles performed at Chester with Sheridan Knowles, and after visiting many provincial towns, took part in the Shakespearean play Macbeth. The veteran actor also took the Warwick Theatre, and managed it for some time; afterwards going to Plymouth, and other places. During his prime, Mr. Miles had considerable versatility, and could undertake comedy or tragedy with equal ease. He played Romeo to his daughter's Juliet, Harlequin at the age of sixty, and gave Shakespearean readings at Peterborough and Walsoken at the age of 85. He could boast of having lived in four reigns, and witnessed four coronations. Some years ago Miles was in very straightened circumstances, and needed assistance. His case was brought to the notice of the leading members of the theatrical profession, and with local assistance a substantial fund was raised to place the veteran in a position of comfort. The late Sir Henry Irving, the late Wilson Barrett, and Miss Ellen Terry frequently assisted him, and one or two pensions were granted to Miles from theatrical benevolent funds, so that to the end of his days he was relieved from any financial anxiety.

MR. NAT C. GOODWIN recently produced a pathetic little play, by Paul Armstrong, entitled A Blase of Glory. The scene was laid in a private ward of Bellevue Hospital, New York, and Mr. Goodwin impersonated a tramp, the part being quite different from any which he had previously played.

"THE MARRIAGE TRAP."

A New Romantic Drama, in Four Acts, by Myles Wallerton, produced for the first time on any stage at the Avenue Theatre, Sunderland, On Monday, June 4.

Rupert Lauriston ..... MR. STANLEY S. GORDON
Stephen Maynard ..... MR. ALBERT SEMBER
James Marlowe ..... MR. DUNCAN BELL
Dicky Bird ..... MR. CHAS. M. DALY
Hamlet Julius Peterkin .. MR. HENRY BELDING
P.C. Pat O'Brien ..... MR. EDWARD W. CUDD
Dr. Ferguson ..... MR. EDWIN CLARKE
Rev. P. Sinclair ..... MR. REGINALD PORTER
P.C. 65A ..... MR. GEO. P. LESTER
Sally Straker ..... MISS DORA HILSTROM
Bertha ..... MISS VIOLET BARLEY CLARKE
Valerie ..... MISS MAUD LESLIE CUDD
Jacky ..... MASTER COLIN GORDON
Mrs. Margaret Milverton .. MISS NINA VAUGHTON

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

This interesting romantic drama, produced at the above theatre on Whit-Monday, is a compound of modern romance, intrigue, sensationalism, and pathos, enlivened with a considerable amount of good hearty comedy that does not detract from the story. It abounds with intense incidents, has several thrilling situations, and contains some pleasing romantic passages which cannot fail to appeal to the many lovers of a class of drama that has by no means lost its hold of the people. The period of the play is just before the passing of the Married Women's Property Bill, and the principal motive of the plot hinges upon this.

Although in many ways bearing a likeness, so far as regards the characters, to many dramas that have gone before, the mode of treatment and many of the situations are both novel and unconventional. Mrs. Margaret Milverton (known as Miss Margaret) is a young widow, whose only son Jacky is heir to his father's wealth. She is, however, loved by Rupert Lauriston, a young clerk to an unscrupulous employer named Stephen Maynard, who, amongst other shady transactions, is mixed up with a forgery case. This Maynard decides to, and finally does, marry Miss Margaret, but on the completion of the marriage an old actor, who has a long-standing grudge against Maynard, now has an opportunity of satisfying his revenge, and denounces him as a double-dyed scoundrel. The actual forger, who has also put in an appearance, complicates matters by dying suddenly, though not without leaving evidence of Maynard's complicity. Margaret declines to have anything further to do with her husband. On arriving at the house she finds Maynard's mistress, Valerie, installed there, passing as his sister-in-law. Margaret denounces them both, and departs with her boy Jacky. Maynard and Valerie trace and capture them, conveying them both to his laboratory, where by torture and threats of suffocation by sulphurous fumes, Margaret is urged to sign papers necessary for Maynard to secure her own and her boy's money. Margaret bravely declines, and just in the nick of time is saved by her young lover, Lauriston. They are again traced by their persecutors, but saved by a friendly constable. After other vicissitudes she, accompanied by her boy, appears on the Thames Embankment. They are in the last stages of dejected poverty, without money and apparently without friends, and nothing seems left but the river. Leaving the boy for a moment she returns only to find that he has disappeared—taken off by Valerie—and in his place, Rupert and Maynard, with the friendly constable. Maynard charges her with throwing the boy in the river, but the policeman declines to act, being "off duty." The loss of her boy and the appalling charge drive her to distraction, and finally to the loss of her reason.

Valerie having taken the boy to Maynard's home, Maynard determines to be rid both of his mistress and the lad. To attain this end he arranges to poison them both, drugging the wine for Valerie and providing poisoned biscuits for the latter; but his plans are frustrated by a friendly domestic, who changes the glasses and biscuits, with the result that Maynard is caught in his own toils, and becomes the victim of his foul acts. Margaret at last regains her reason by the persistent efforts of Rupert and the doctor, who find the way to success through the presence of her son Jacky, and finally the play ends in the usual happy way.

Mr. Stanley S. Gordon was successful as the young lover, Rupert Lauriston. Mr. Albert Sember, as the unscrupulous Stephen Maynard, played with quiet though incisive power. Mr. Chas. M. Daly, as Dicky Bird, infused excellent comedy into his part. Mr. Henry Belding submitted an excellent character-study of the old actor Peterkin. Mr. Edward W. Cudd proved acceptable as the kind-hearted Constable O'Brien. Miss Nina Vaughton, as the muchly-persecuted heroine, Mrs. Margaret Milverton, is an emotional actress of great power and versatility, and her acting was particularly striking in the Embankment scene, when the heroine loses her boy and her reason. Miss Maud Leslie Cudd did the best possible with the rather unthankful rôle of Valerie. Miss Dora Hilstrom's rendering of the soubrette part of Sally Straker was highly amusing. Miss Violet B. Clarke submitted a bright and intelligent interpretation of the somewhat minor rôle of Bertha. Mr. Duncan Bell was efficient as James Marlowe, the forger. Mr. Edwin Clarke and Mr. Reginald Porter were excellent as Dr. Ferguson and the Rev. P. Sinclair respectively.

The piece was well staged, special scenery being provided. There are some really clever set scenes by the resident scenic artist, Mr. Josh Hemingway, those representing the Thames Embankment by night, with Westminster Bridge and the Westminster tower clock, with the flowing river in the distance being especially realistic.

ROYAL COLLEGE OF MUSIC.

Mozart's Quartet for Strings in C, No. 17, was the first item in the concert at the Royal College on Thursday evening, June 7, the young performers, Mr. Arthur Beckwith, Mr. William Armstrong, Mr. Frank Bridge, and Mr. Charles Warwick-Evans, giving a praiseworthy rendering, though severely handicapped by the chimes at the Imperial Institute, which greatly interfered with second movement. In Rubinstein's song, "The Dewdrops Glitter," Mr. Frederic Pedgrift, a pupil of Albert Visetti, greatly distinguished himself, being possessed of a fine, rich, and well-trained voice; he was most heartily recalled at the close. Three piano solos by Mr. Frank Tapp were heard for the first time. Two of the pieces were entitled Intermezzos, the first being in A flat major and the other in B flat minor. This latter, containing a well worked-out theme, proved the most musicianly and attractive. The third solo was a Caprice of a lively and genial character. The young composer, who admirably interpreted his own work, was enthusiastically recalled to the platform. Miss Anna Izard was entirely satisfactory in her two violoncello solos, "Elegie," by Van Goens, and "Irrlichter," by Nölck; and Miss Eleanor Evans displayed her fine voice to great advantage in Elgar's song, "Like to the Damask Rose." Miss Ethel Duthvil sang four "Brantleider" songs by Cornelius, the concert concluding with Schubert's Quintet for piano and strings, the executants being Miss Ellen Edwards, Miss May Harrison, Mr. F. Bridge, Mr. Charles Warwick-Evans, and Mr. Victor Watson.

POOLE'S Opera House, Porth, will be closed after this week for renovation and cleaning, and will reopen on Friday, June 22nd, for afternoon and evening performances by the celebrated Black Dike Band.

THE ELLEN TERRY FESTIVAL.

The following is the programme in its entirety of the performance in honour of Miss Ellen Terry's jubilee, to be given at Drury-lane on Tuesday afternoon:—

(1) OVERTURE ....Conducted by Mr. J. M. Glover.

(2) MINSTREL CONCERT PARTY.
(Under the direction of Mr. Seymour Hicks.)

Mr. Angelo Asher.	Mr. George Grossmith, jun
Mr. W. H. Berry.	Mr. Seymour Hicks.
Mr. Will Bishop	Mr. G. P. Huntley.
Mr. James Blakeley.	Mr. Henry Lytton.
Mr. Louis Bradfield.	Mr. Lionel Mackinder.
Mr. Colin Coop.	Mr. Edmund Payne.
Mr. Johnny Danvers.	Mr. Bert Sinden.
Mr. Willie Edouin.	Mr. Farren Soutar.
Mr. Harry Fragson.	Mr. Arthur Williams.
Mr. Harry Grattan.	Mr. Fred Wright, jun.
Mr. George Graves.	Mr. Huntley Wright.

Mr. E. Royce, jun. (hon. stage manager).

(3) MR. LEWIS WALLER.....Recitation.

(4) "SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL."
(Dinner and Picture Scene.)

Charles Surface ..... SIR CHARLES WYNDHAM
Sir Oliver ..... MR. ARTHUR BOURCHIER
Moses ..... MR. EDWARD TERRY
Trip ..... MR. CYRIL MAUDE
Careless ..... MR. GEORGE ALEXANDER
Sir Harry Bumper ..... MR. BEN DAVIES
(With song: "Here's to the Maiden").

Gentlemen round the Table: Messrs. Allen Aynesworth, Fred Kerr, George Giddens, Weedon Grossmith, Martin Harvey, A. E. Matthews, Arthur Playfair, and Herbert Sleath.

(5) MADAME DUSE.

(6) TABLEAUX VIVANTS.

I.—"ANNE BOLEYN," arranged by Mr. Luke Fildes, R.A. Scene painted by Mr. Bruce Smith. Miss Violet Vanbrugh (Anne Boleyn), Miss Daisy Thimm, Miss Kate Phillips, Miss Lilias Waldegrave.

II.—"THE LADIES WALDEGRAVE," arranged by Mr. Luke Fildes, R.A. Scene painted by Mr. Bruce Smith. Miss Evelyn Millard, Miss Julie Opp, Miss Grace Lane.

III.—"RIVAL BEAUTIES," arranged by Sir L. Alma-Tadema, R.A. Scene painted by Mr. Joseph Harker. Miss Constance Collier, Miss Edna May.

IV.—"CINDERELLA" (after Millais's picture). Scene painted by Mr. W. Johnstone. Dress designed by Wilhelm. Miss Ellaline Terriss.

V.—"BEGINNERS FOR THE FIRST ACT—A HUNDRED YEARS AGO," arranged by Mr. James Pryde. Scene painted by Mr. Bruce Smith. Miss Lena Ashwell, Miss Winifred Emery, Mrs. Tree, Miss Beatrice Ferrar, Miss Mabel Beardsley, Miss Hilda Trevelyan, Miss Geraldine Wilson, Mrs. Sam Sothern, Miss Margaret Bussé, Miss Pauline Chase.

VI.—"A WATTEAU PICTURE," arranged by Mr. Solomon J. Solomon, R.A. Scene painted by Mr. W. Hann. Miss Sarah Brooke, Miss Sybil Carlisle, Miss Gertrude Elliott, Miss Ellis Jeffreys, Miss Rita Jolivet, Miss Suzanne Sheldon, Miss Irene Vanbrugh.

VII.—"JOAN OF ARC," arranged by Mr. P. Macquoid. Scene painted by Mr. Bruce Smith. Miss Beatrice Beckley, Miss Lilian Braithwaite (Joan of Arc), Miss Beryl Faber, Miss Beatrice Forbes-Robertson, Miss Iris Hawkins, Miss Beatrice Irwin, Miss Nora Lancaster, Miss Mary Mackenzie, Miss Dorothy Minto, Miss May Palfrey, Mrs. Cecil Raleigh, Miss Hazel Thompson.

VIII.—"CLEOPATRA," arranged by Sir J. Linton, R.I. Scene painted by Mr. J. Harker, Miss Dora Barton, Mrs. Langtry (Cleopatra), Miss Ray Rockman.

IX.—"THE FOUR MARIES," arranged by Sir J. Linton, R.I. Scene painted by Mr. W. Johnstone. Mrs. Brown-Potter (Mary Queen of Scots), Miss Dorothy Grimston, Miss Annie Hughes, Miss Edyth Olive, Miss Edith Wynne-Matthison.

X.—"READING ALOUD," arranged by Mr. A. L. Baldry. Scene painted by Mr. McCleery. Miss Lily Brayton, Miss Eva Moore, Miss Nancy Price.

XI.—"THE BLESSED DAMOZEL," arranged by Mr. Byam Shaw. Scene painted by Mr. W. Hann. Miss Dorothea Baird, Miss Jessie Bateman, Miss Muriel Beaumont, Miss Sybil Carlisle, Miss Lettice Fairfax, Miss Mabel Hackney, Miss Dagmar Wiehe, Miss Margaret Halstan, Miss Julia Neilson (the Madonna).

XII.—"QUEEN VICTORIA AS A GIRL IN KENSINGTON PALACE GARDENS," arranged by Sir James Linton, R.I. Scene painted by Mr. Bruce Smith. Miss Margaret Illington, Miss Mary Moore (Queen Victoria), Miss Kate Rorke, Miss Mary Rorke.

(7) Song, SIGNOR CARUSO. Accompanied by Signor Tosti.

(8) "MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING."

Note.—The members of the Terry family are indicated by a star (*).

ACT I.

Don Pedro ..... MR. FRED TERRY*
Don John ..... MR. H. B. IRVING
Claudio ..... MR. J. FORBES-ROBERTSON
Benedick ..... MR. H. BEERBOHM TREE
Leonato ..... MR. HERMANN VEZIN
Antonio ..... MR. HENRY NEVILLE
Balthazar ..... MR. EDMUND GWENN*
Conrade ..... MR. NORMAN FORBES
Borachio ..... MR. OSCAR ASCHE
Messenger ..... MR. LAURENCE IRVING
Hero ..... MISS MARION TERRY
Beatrice ..... MISS ELLEN TERRY*
Margaret ..... MISS MINNIE TERRY*
Ursula ..... MISS KATE TERRY*
First Drummer ..... MISS OLIVE TERRY*
Second Drummer ..... MISS BEATRICE TERRY*
First Dancer ..... MISS MABEL TERRY LEWIS*
Second Dancer ..... MISS MINNIE TERRY*
Third Dancer ..... MISS EDITH CRAIG*
First Torch-bearer .. MISS LUCY TERRY LEWIS*
Second Torch-bearer MISS KATE TERRY GULGRID*
Third Torch-bearer MISS JANET TERRY GULGRID*
Fourth Torch-bearer ..... MISS PHYLLIS TERRY*
Page ..... MASTER DENIS TERRY*
Page ..... MASTER ROSEMARY CRAIG*
Page ..... MASTER ROBIN CRAIG*
Page ..... MASTER PETER CRAIG*
Servant ..... MR. CHARLES TERRY*
Servant ..... MR. GEORGE TERRY*

The following will take part in the masked dance: Mr. H. Ainley, Mr. Gerald Du Maurier, Mr. Basil Gill, Mr. Sidney Brough, Mr. Graham Browne, Mr. Frank Mills, Mr. Harcourt Williams, Mr. Matheson Lang, Mr. Julian L'Estrange, Mr. Charles Thursby, Mr. H. Esmond, Mr. G. Trollope, Mr. Sam Sothern, Mr. James Carew, Mr. V. Sternroyd, Mr. Horace Terry*, Mr. Geoffrey Morriss*.

Scenery designed and dance arranged by Mr. Gordon Craig*. Hon. stage-manager, Mr. Lionel Belmore. Hon. musical-director, Mr. Christopher Wilson.

(9) MLLE. ADELINE GENEE .....Pas de Deux, With M. P. Lundberg.
Conductor, Mr. Glasier.

Interval of 12 Minutes.

(10) SCENE FROM "THE BEAUTY OF BATH."
Mr. Seymour Hicks and all the "Bath Buns."

(11) SCENE FROM "LE MARIAGE FORCE" (Molière).

Pancrace ..... M. COQUELIN AINE
Sganarelle ..... M. J. COQUELIN

(12) MME. MELBA in the Mad Scene from Donizetti's Lucia di Lammermoor.
Flute Obbligato by Mr. Albert Fransella.
Conductor, Mr. Landon Ronald.

(13) "TRIAL BY JURY."
By W. S. Gilbert and the late Sir Arthur Sullivan.
(By kind permission of Mrs. D'Oyly Carte.)

Judge ..... MR. RUTLAND BARRINGTON
Defendant ..... MR. COURTICE POUNDS
Counsel for Plaintiff ..... MR. HARRY LYTTON
Usher ..... MR. WALTER PASSMORE
The Associate ..... MR. W. S. GILBERT
Plaintiff ..... MISS RUTH VINCENT

BRIDESMAIDS.

Miss Adrienne Augarde, Miss Amy Augarde, Miss Phyllis Broughton, Miss Kate Cutler, Miss Zena Dare, Miss May de Sousa, Miss Agnes Fraser, Miss Aida Jenoure, Miss Mollie Lowell, Miss Olive May, Miss Gertie Millar, Miss Decima Moore, Miss Olive Morrell, Miss Denise Orme, Miss Louie Pounds, Miss Gabrielle Ray, Miss Florence Smithson, Miss Madge Vincent.

JURY.

Foreman ..... CAPTAIN ROBERT MARSHALL

Sir Francis Burnand, Mr. Alfred Calmour, Mr. Comyns Carr, Mr. Haddon Chambers, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Mr. Sydney Grundy, Mr. Cosmo Hamilton, Mr. Henry Hamilton, Mr. Owen Hall, Mr. Anthony Hope, Sir Gilbert Parker, Mr. Cecil Raleigh, Mr. Brandon Thomas, Mr. Bernard Shaw.

SEATS ON THE BENCH.

Mrs. Bernard Beere, Miss Gertrude Kingston, Miss Agnes Thomas, Mis Lydia Thompson, Miss Lottie Venne, Miss Genevieve Ward, Mrs. John Wood.

CROWD IN COURT.

Mr. W. L. Abingdon, Mr. Paul Arthur, Mr. J. H. Barnes, Miss Kate Bishop, Miss Rosina Brandram, Miss Fanny Brough, Mr. William Devereux, the Misses Edouin, Miss Helen Ferrers, Miss Charlotte Granville, Miss Clara Jecks, Mr. Lawrence Kellie, Mr. W. T. Lovell, Mr. Luigi Lablache, Mr. Mark Kinghorne, Mr. Eugene Mayeur, Miss Eily Malyon, Mr. Harry Paulton, Mr. Norman Salmond, Mr. Edward Sass, Mr. George Shelton, Mr. Sydney Valentine, Mr. Herbert Waring, Miss Muriel Wylford.

Conductor ..... MR. J. M. GLOVER

Produced under the personal supervision of the author.

(14) MRS. PATRICK CAMPBELL .....Recitation
(15) MR. HARRY FRAGSON .....Song
(16) MR. GEORGE GRAVES .....Song

(17) RECEPTION SCENE: When representatives of the dramatic and musical professions and the General and Executive Committees will be present.

Lady Bancroft will address a few words to everyone present, and will say something directly to Miss Terry.

Stage under the direction of Mr. Arthur Collins.

All the artists are appearing by permission of their respective managers.

"A PRINCE OF THE PEOPLE."

Drama, in Five Acts, by Elwyn Barron, Produced for the first time at the Empire Theatre, Oldham, On Monday, June 4.

Victor Lafond ..... MR. F. RAWSON BUCKLEY
Berthault ..... MR. WM. H. BROUGHAM
Count de Valrière ..... MR. LIONEL GADSDONE
Albert, Marquis de Sancy .. MR. H. G. TWYMAN
Baudru ..... MR. DOUGLAS MUNRO
De Roubert ..... MR. R. REGINALD
Antoine ..... MR. SID LESLIE
Pierre ..... MR. ARTHUR DRAKE
Guyot ..... MR. ASHMORE J. VINCENT
Rene ..... MR. FRED MISSING
Jean ..... MR. JOSEPH DEAN
Municipal Clerk ..... MR. WALTER VINE
First Soldier ..... MR. REUBEN WITHERS
Second Soldier ..... MR. DAN RIBEAU
Third Soldier ..... MR. PETER MANEY
First Drummer ..... MR. SIMON PALACTER
Second Drummer ..... MR. CHRIS JENNER
Officer ..... MR. E. H. HENRI
First Citizen ..... MR. EDWARD PALACTER
Marie ..... MISS LILLIAN VILLIARS
Lucille de Valrière ..... MISS EMILY SHERIDAN

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

An enthusiastic verdict of success was passed upon the above play on its first production on Monday. The piece, which is laid at the period of the French Revolution, opens before the gates of the Count de Valrière's château. Victor Lafond the Count's valet, hitherto a peasant, has taught himself to read and write, and imbibes the principles of Liberty and Equality. On the arrival of the soldiers of the Republican army Victor's imagination is fired by a stirring speech from Berthault, representative of the Convention, and, much to the surprise and indignation of the Count and his daughter Lucille, he enlists. During an interval of two years Victor has risen to the rank of Colonel, and the Count has been sent to the guillotine. Lucille is also condemned to die, and her cousin Albert, Marquis de Sancy, to whom she is betrothed, concocts a plan for her escape. Victor, who has long loved Lucille in secret, learns that he can save the young aristocrat by marrying her, and sends for Lucille, who consents to wed Victor, thinking it is a part of her cousin's plan of escape. Albert enters the camp of the Revolutionary army in disguise, and is captured. As a result of Lucille's pleading he is set at liberty, but not before he has stolen some plans. He tells his cousin that he will have her husband shot as soon as he appears on the field where they are to meet in single-handed combat. The plans are missed, and Victor is arrested as a traitor and condemned to be shot. Lucille realises at length that she loves Victor, despite his lowly birth, and, finding Albert is waiting to take her away, she succeeds in obtaining possession of the stolen papers, and rushes to the place of execution just in time to prevent it taking place.

The play was well acted by a strong company, Miss Emily Sheridan assumed the part of Lucille, and ably portrayed the grande demoiselle who gradually loses the respect for her own class and learns to love the man she has ignored and despised as her father's servant. Mr. F. Rawson Buckley as Victor Lafond acted the part in fine style, cleverly showing the awakening of a torpid mind to the full vigour of manhood. Mr. William H. Brougham's fine portrayal of Berthault, the representative of the Convention, was one of the features of the piece; and Mr. H. G. Twyman was all that could be desired as Albert, Marquis de Sancy. The comedy parts were in the safe hands of Mr. Douglas Munro and Miss Lillian Villiars as Baudru and Marie respectively, the lady showing strong histrionic ability. Mr. Lionel Gadsdone was a capable Count de Valrière, and Messrs. Reginald and Leslie were good as De Roubert and Antoine. The piece is splendidly mounted and dressed, the uniforms being elegant and correct. A striking feature of the last scene, "On the Plains," is a realistic snowstorm effect, the soldiers, by an ingenious process, being literally smothered with the white flakes as they descend.

LOVELY BROWN HAIR.

Grey, or faded hair, can be easily restored to a Golden Brown, Auburn Brown, or to almost any other desired shade of Brown, by "Condy's Fluid," which is non-poisonous, and harmless in every way.

The fullest possible Directions for obtaining the various natural shades of brown hair, and copies of a large number of Valuable Testimonials, can be obtained from Condy's Fluid Works, 65, Goswell-road, London, E.C. Insist on having "Condy's Fluid." Sold by all Chemists, 1s. 8oz.; 20oz., 2s. Beware of Substitutes.

The Lady's Pictorial, The Gentlewoman, The Lady, and other High Class Ladies' Journals strongly recommend the use of "Condy's Fluid" for restoring the hair when grey or faded.

THEATRICAL GOSSIP.

THE unanimous expression of the goodwill of her fellow artists towards Miss Ellen Terry on the attainment of her jubilee is within four days of its accomplishment, and not one name eminent in the dramatic world is absent from the long list of players anxious to do her honour. In another column we give the programme of the remarkable matinée at Drury-lane on Tuesday, to which the name of Mme. Jane Hading, the distinguished French actress, is now to be added. Private boxes, a few of which have yet to be disposed of from 20 guineas upwards, have been sold at 100 guineas, and other seats at correspondingly high prices. Only a very limited number of four and five guinea stalls now remain.

THE scene will be graced by the presence of the King and Queen, and the audience at the National Theatre will be representative of the highest in the land. Miss Terry's first appearance will be made as Beatrice, an impersonation cherished by the majority of her admirers, and more than a score of persons bearing the honoured name will take part in the performance of Shakespeare's comedy. The climax of an eventful afternoon will be reached when Lady Bancroft, after addressing a few words to the audience, will say something directly to her brilliant sister in art.

A CURIOUS scene took place on Thursday night in the House of Commons with reference to the Musical Copyright Bill. As the Bill is in the hands of a private member, it could not be brought on till eleven o'clock. Mr. O'Connor then proposed that the second reading should be taken. According to the rules of the House a Bill cannot be taken after eleven o'clock if any one member objects. There was only one opponent of the Bill present—Mr. Caldwell—and as he is now vice-chairman of the House, it was supposed that he would act in accordance with all precedent, and, being an official, would refrain from taking part in any discussion on Bills.

BUT Mr. Caldwell is not a man to be guided by the ordinary rules, and, to the surprise of everybody, when Mr. O'Connor proposed his Bill, called out, "I object." Something stranger followed. Mr. O'Connor appealed to Mr. Caldwell to allow the Bill to pass; and when Mr. O'Connor sat down, Mr. Herbert Gladstone got up and made the same appeal. Mr. Gladstone, as Home Secretary, has in charge the department which deals with copyright; and, of course, as a Cabinet Minister and as a colleague had, it was assumed, to look with certainty to Mr. Caldwell accepting his advice. But, to the amazement of the House, Mr. Caldwell took no notice of the appeal, and again called out, "I object." Mr. O'Connor made another appeal—it was equally vain. This remarkable incident is expected to have other and larger consequences, and, in the end, may not prove to have been prejudicial to the cause of copyright and to the chances of the Bill passing this year into law.

ADVICES regarding Mr. J. L. Toole's illness have become less alarming during the week, and the hope may be encouraged that the health of the eminent comedian is not so seriously impaired as was at first supposed. There has been no material change in the course of Mr. Toole's malady, but he has had some refreshing intervals of sleep. During the early part of Thursday morning he obtained a fair amount of repose, and was thus enabled to maintain the slight improvement which had manifested itself.

MR. ARLTON, the nephew of Mr. Toole, is of opinion that the patient is undoubtedly very ill, and his condition is causing his friends the gravest anxiety. "He is up one day and down the next," says Mr. Alton, "though up to the present he has managed to hold his own, and he takes a satisfactory amount of nourishment. He has been very deaf since the last attack on the 24th ult., and that is a new phase of the situation. Dr. Langton has been in consultation with Dr. Branfoot, and they hope to get the patient downstairs again soon."

"MR. TOOLE," adds Mr. Alton, "is naturally very weak, and occasionally has hysterical fits, and is a little light-headed; but that soon passes off. He is suffering from degeneration of the spinal cord, or, as some call it, creeping paralysis; and after an illness of nearly ten years that is dangerous in a man seventy-seven years of age. At present we do not apprehend any immediate danger. Mr. Toole has wonderful vitality, and his organs being so good, he may rally, though the longer he stays in bed, of course, the less hopeful his condition is. Mr. Toole was always such a popular favourite that we are inundated with kind inquiries from the public every day as to the progress of the patient. His old theatrical friends have exhibited the greatest interest in his illness, especially since the last serious turn."

THE theatrical sports were favoured by glorious weather, and, as they deserve, by a larger gathering than formerly of the talent and beauty of the profession. Miss Irene Vanbrugh, tall and stately, exquisitely gowned in pale putty-coloured cloth and crowned with a most becoming hat, which seemed all soft white plumes, showed great interest in the different "events," and charmed the large gathering by her gracious manner in bestowing the prizes upon the victors.

MRS. GEORGE ALEXANDER, whose frocks are always beautiful, wore a lovely gown of broderie anglaise, and a large white straw hat, shaded with pink roses and white feathers. Quite a murmur of admiration followed her entrance to the grand stand. Mrs. Ellis Fredericks, of the Borough Theatre, was gowned in a beautiful mouse-coloured velvet, and evidently watched the Tug-of-War competition with great interest. Little Miss Iris Hawkins, in a becoming white frock and black hat, made one regret that she has always taken boy parts, and, consequently, disguised herself in the masculine wig and less tasteful attire of the unpicturesque sex.

A GALAXY of beauty occupied seats in the grand stand, among whom were a number of Miss Vanbrugh's friends, and Miss Jessie Bateman, Miss Bella Pateman, Mr. Dawson Milward, Mr. Herbert Waring, Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Coltson, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Vivian Reynolds.

THE Hon. Sec. of the Sports Committee was fortunate in his choice of the bouquet presented by him on behalf of the committee to Miss Vanbrugh, the pale pink carnations toned beautifully with her gown. Altogether, apart from the purely sporting success of the function, the gathering was decidedly a smart one socially, and it is to be hoped that, year by year, it will receive greater support from the upper ranks of the profession.

A DRAMATIC festival, which is Mr. Charles Frohman's description of the last of his productions of the season at his Duke of York's Theatre, will begin this evening, when Miss Marie Tempest and Miss Ellis Jeffreys resume their original parts in the revival of The Marriage of Kitty. The cast will be completed by Mr. Leonard Boyne, Mr. Eric Lewis, Mr. Lloyd Lowndes, Mr. Lichfield Owen, and Miss Elsie Chester. Additional interest will be given to the bill by the appearance of Mr. Albert Chevalier and Miss Pauline Chase, in J. M. Barrie's one-act play Pantaloon. Mr. Chevalier will have the title-rôle, and the occasion will mark his first appearance in an acting part in a play since he entered upon his successful career as a coster comedian.

MR. GEORGE EDWARDES has enjoyed one of his proverbial successes with The Little Michus, which will be withdrawn this evening, after a run of just over 400 performances at Daly's. On Thursday Mr. Edwardes will revive The Geisha, for the title-rôle of which he has selected Miss May De Sousa. Mr. Fred Wright, jun., Mr. Robert Evett, Mr. W. Louis Bradfield, Mr. Tailleur Andrews, Mr. Gordon Cleather, Mr. George Graves, Miss Marie Studholme, Mlle. Mariette Sully, Miss Iris Hoey, Miss Thelma Raye, Miss Alice Hatton, Miss Watt Tanner, Miss Edith Fink, and Miss Grace Pinder will also be in the cast. Mr. Edwardes' new autumn production will witness the return to musical comedy of Miss Evie Greene.

MR. LEWIS WALLER announces the last nights, for the present, of Brigadier Gerard at the Lyric Theatre, after which Othello, by reason of its great success, will be transferred to the evening bill, the date fixed upon being Saturday next. Mr. H. B. Irving will continue his striking impersonation of Iago, and the cast will remain the same as at the recent special matinées.

GOLF and the green-room will divide the time of the members of the little commonwealth whose tour with His Excellency the Governor begins at Kennington on Monday. Mr. James Blakeley will appear with Mr. Marsh Allen, Mr. Lionel Mackinder, Mr. Lennox Pawle, Mr. Loring Fernie, Miss Janet Alexander, and Miss Ethel Matthews.

MR. LIONEL MACKINDER, one of the leading spirits of the enterprise, thus expresses the intention of the promoters:—"We are going, mainly, because we want to play golf, and to foster a healthy spirit of rivalry. Miss Matthews has very generously offered a gold cup for the best player—not to the best actor, mind—that might lead to a serious difference of opinion. Having thus provided for our days, we began to wonder what on earth we should do with ourselves in the evenings. Somebody, for lack, I should imagine, of a more brilliant inspiration, suggested acting, and so by general consent we became a commonwealth management, with power to add a our number. We have engaged six people, all expert golfers, and, I think, capable actors. We have already booked several excellent matches and half a dozen theatres. The commonwealth is a quartet, because 'four' seemed the right word for the tour."

MANY of the suburban houses are closing for the summer; but at Poplar Mr. Clarence Sounes has made arrangements to keep his New Prince's Theatre open, with powerful dramatic attractions, right through until August, when he will continue, as hitherto, a varied programme, embracing comedy, musical comedy, and high-class drama. Mr. Sounes's efforts in Poplar have been well appreciated by the theatre-going public of the East End, and the universal opinion is that the Prince's Theatre, coming after many years of theatrical neglect, has filled a long-felt want in the neighbourhood of Poplar, Millwall, Canning Town, and the adjacent districts.

MISS LENA ASHWELL has decided to defer production at the Savoy of the new third act of The Shulamite until Tuesday, in order that a clash with another first night may be avoided. For the same evening she will reserve the last performance of An Exile from Home, the musical farce, written by Malcolm Watson and composed by Percy Fletcher and E. Hess. In the cast will appear Mr. Edward Sass, Mr. Reynolds Denniston, Mr. Thomas Pauncefort, Mrs. de Solla, and Miss Evelyn D'Alroy.

"THE CHINESE BRIDE" is the title of the new comedy with music which Mr. George Edwardes is shortly to produce at the Prince of Wales's, where A Girl on the Stage terminated on Saturday. The new piece, it will be remembered, is an adaptation by Mr. Charles Brookfield of Mme. Fred de Gresac's La Troisième Lune, brought out two years ago at the Paris Vaudeville. The incidental music is by Mr. Sydney Jones, with additional numbers by Mr. Frank Tours, and the cast will consist of Messrs. Huntley Wright, Maurice Farkoa, W. H. Berry, and Fred Emney, and Misses Adrienne Augarde, Kitty Hanson, Gabrielle Ray, Zena Dare, Maitland, Sybil Grey, and Denise Orme.

MR. EDWARD MILES, whose death—recorded in another column—occurred on the 31st ult., at Wisbech, in his 93rd year, was assisted by the Actors' Benevolent Fund to the extent of £295, being in receipt of a weekly allowance of one pound up to the day of his death. He was interred on Monday last at the expense of the Fund.

THE Secretary of the Actors' Benevolent Fund has received from Mr. Arthur Laurence, of the Royal Court Theatre, Liverpool, the sum of £4 4s., being a portion of the amount realised by a sale of unclaimed articles left in the theatre.

MISS ADA REHAN, whose exquisite impersonations of Shakespeare's heroines, among which her Viola and Katharina figure conspicuously, will be well within the memory of London playgoers, is in a worse state of health than former reports led us to believe. The gifted American actress is unfortunately suffering from appendicitis, and her contemplated trip to Europe is in consequence indefinitely postponed.

MR. J. D. BEVERIDGE, who has had an enjoyable tour of the United States, is returning to this country earlier than he anticipated, owing to the San Francisco disaster. Man and Superman, which has been a big success in New York and other important centres, was to have been played in the ill-fated city till the end of July; but the recent calamitous occurrences put an end to the arrangements, and the popular actor is therefore on his way back to renew those friendly relations with his own countrymen which extend over so long a period.

MISS MURIEL GODFREY-TURNER, who has taken captive the hearts of theatre-goers as well as the cautious critics of Scotland, in the leading parts with Mr. Rosse's classic comedy répertoire company is now hard at work studying and rehearsing Marguerite Gautier in La Dame aux Camelias, which Mr. Rosse will produce at Cheltenham in about a fortnight's time. Special dresses have been ordered from Paris, and every effort will be made to do full justice to Dumas' celebrated work.

MR. NORMAN V. NORMAN was made the recipient at the end of the Drunken Scene in Garrick at Brighton last Saturday week of a beautiful silver-mounted walking-stick, which was handed up over the footlights, together with a letter of congratulation from several of the residents.

A MATINEE in aid of the funds of the parish of St. George-in-the-East is to be given at the Haymarket Theatre on Monday. The programme will include the little comedy, Time is Money, with Mr. Charles Hawtrey in his original part; a costume recital by Mr. and Mrs. Matheson Lang; a Spanish song-drama by Mr. Alfonso de Garcia Abello and Miss Mabilia Daniell; and a comedietta in three scenes, entitled Anthony Dean's Double, adapted by Paul Sylvester from a story by Mr. Walter S. Grogan. The second scene of this piece will embrace a variety entertainment, in which Miss Lottie Venne, Miss Lydia Nerville, Miss Letty Lind, and Miss Amy Lowther have promised to take part. To these attractions will be added a recitation by Miss Beatrice Herford Heyward, and a violin solo by Herr Franz Moisel.

MR. CYRIL MAUDE, whose season at the Waldorf will terminate shortly, has entered into an arrangement with Mr. Charles Frohman that will be to the advantage of both actor and manager as well as to the vast number of admirers of the popular comedian. He has, in fact, engaged to appear under Mr. Frohman's management at one of that gentleman's theatres during the autumn season, commencing in September. It is good news also to learn that Mr. Maude's engagement is associated with that of his accomplished wife, Miss Winifred Emery, who will appear with her husband in several plays to be announced.

MISS RUBY VERDI, whose dainty personality and charming vocalisation are brought to bear with such excellent results upon the part of Nellie Wagner, in Mr. George Musgrove's Prince of Pilsen company, will repair to Milan during the vacation for a course of study under Signor Giovannini, the famous Italian maestro.

MISS RUTH ST. DENIS greatly interested New York playgoers a few weeks ago with her Hindu Rhada dances, and the young lady has been engaged by Mr. Charles Frohman to give a series at special matinées at one of his West End theatres. The dances are of an Oriental character, and each one is said to tell a complete story, Rhada being the wife of Kreshna, who is the eighth reincarnation of Vishnu, the Preserver.

"MATT OF MERRYMONTH," a new romantic comedy by "John Rutherford," to whose pen we are indebted for The Breed of the Treshams and Boy O'Carroll, two of Mr. Martin Harvey's most notable successes, has been secured by Mr. Fred Terry and Miss Julia Neilson for production in London next season. "John Rutherford," we learn, is the nom-de-plume of Beulah Mary Dix and Mrs. E. G. Sutherland, both of Boston, U.S.A.

MR. J. B. MULHOLLAND has received a large number of applications for a New Magdalen tour, to which reference was made in a paragraph appearing in certain papers. The play has been let to Mr. Robert Arthur, Mr. Bannister Howard, Mr. Sidney Cooper, and other managers; but it is not Mr. Mulholland's intention to tour the piece, and he regrets the disappointment which has been occasioned to the many artists who have favoured him with applications.

ACTORS, actresses, and authors, to the number of nearly thirty, who have been associated with the Ibsen productions in this country, put their signatures to a telegram sent to Stats-Minister Sigurd Ibsen at Christiania, expressing sympathy, with Frau Ibsen in the loss of the great playwright. The names appended to the telegram include those of William Archer, Oscar Asche, Janet Achurch, F. R. Benson, Stella Campbell, Laurence Irving, J. Huntley McCarthy, Elizabeth Robins, Bernard Shaw, Ellen Terry, Beerbohm Tree, and J. E. Vedrenne.

FOLLOWING is a translation of the letter sent in acknowledgment by Statsminister Sigurd Ibsen. It is addressed to Mr. William Archer, whose name happened to stand first in the alphabetical order of the signatures:—"Riis, by Christiania, June 2, 1906. Dear Mr. Archer,—Greatly touched by the beautiful greeting from London which reached us yesterday, on the day of my father's funeral. My mother and I beg you and your co-signatories of the telegram to accept our deeply-felt thanks.—Faithfully yours, SIGURD IBSEN."

MISS IRENE ROSS expects to play some special weeks before she starts on tour in August, to win the hearts of provincial audiences in her original part of the Kipper, in Good as Gold. She has had great experience in pastorals, and proved herself, on more than one occasion, absolutely indifferent to sudden changes of weather, for there is only one thing to be relied on in open-air performances—it is always fine for The Tempest, and invariably rains during A Midsummer Night's Dream! Miss Ross is generally accompanied to the theatre by Nelson, a most intelligent "canine companion."

ON the occasion of Miss Haidée Gunn's first appearance as Desdemona at the Gaiety Theatre, Dublin, on May 28, their Excellencies the Lord and Lady Lieutenant and suite graciously honoured the performance with their presence. At the conclusion of the play, Miss Gunn was sent for by their Excellencies, who personally congratulated her on her complete success. Miss Gunn has been engaged by Mr. Cyril Keightly, late Mr. F. R. Benson's leading man, for his forthcoming autumn tour, when she will play Lady Teazle and Kate Hardcastle, as well as create a high comedy part in a new costume play.

MR. MARTIN HARVEY announces that he will give a special matinée of A Cigarette-Maker's Romance on Thursday, June 14, at 2.30 p.m. Mr. Harvey will be supported by Mr. Charles Glenney and Miss N. de Silva. The usual performances of Boy O'Carroll will be given up to and including Saturday, June 16, when Mr. Harvey's season at the Imperial Theatre ends.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM MACLAREN'S revival of Claudian, which has had a most successful tour of thirty-eight weeks, finishes to-night at Eastbourne for the summer vacation. The autumn tour starts in August.

MR. MARK KINGHORNE has been specially engaged by Mrs. Patrick Campbell to create the part of Dr. Fergus Munro in the production, The Macleans of Bearness. This will make ten original Scotch parts which Mr. Kinghorne has played in ten years, thereby constituting a remarkable record.

MRS. MARGARET IRVING, whose death took place on Saturday at Portobello, was a cousin of the late Sir Henry Irving. Mrs. Irving, who was in her seventy-fifth year, was one of the few remaining survivors of Florence Nightingale's company of nurses during the Crimean War, and possessed the decoration for war services.

MR. LEONARD PAGDEN plays Colonel Brinthorpe for the 242nd time to-night, when the spring tour of Sunday terminates. Mr. Pagden is re-engaged for autumn. Meantime, on the 18th inst., he will produce The Idler at the West Pier, Brighton, appearing as Mark Cross, supported by his own company.

AT the Royal Academy of Music, the Charles Rube Prize (Quartet Playing) has been awarded to the following quartet:—Juliet Capron (first violin), Thomas Morgan (second violin), James T. Lockyer (viola), and Frederick W. Hodgkinson ('cello). Sam Robinson (first violin), Mildred Johns (second violin), James T. Lockyer (viola), and Edgar Fawcett ('cello), were highly commended. The adjudicator was Mr. Paul J. Ludwig.

"IN HOLY ORDERS," a new drama in four acts and twelve scenes, by Wyn Weaver, will be produced at the Theatre Royal Dover, on Monday, June 18. It will be played by Mr. H. F. Maltby and company, who are meeting with great success on tour in the romantic play, The Youngest of Three. The principal parts will be played by Mr. H. F. Maltby, Mr. W. Henry Hargreaves, Mr. Ralph Hutton, Mr. Ernest Noble, Miss Beatrice Marsdene, Miss Mara Maltby, Miss Mabel Mellor, and the author.

MISS LILY DORIS, late of the Florodora company, is now lying seriously ill at 51, Woodcroft-road, Sefton Park, Liverpool, and would be pleased to hear from any old friends.

MR. AND MRS. DANIEL FROHMAN (Miss Margaret Illington) sailed for New York on Friday in the Cedric. In September Miss Illington will appear at the Empire Theatre, New York, in Pinero's His House in Order, enacting there the rôle of Nina, played here by Miss Irene Vanbrugh.

THE fate of the matinée hat has been settled by Parisian audiences, who were last week invited by a popular newspaper to show by ballot their opposition or otherwise to the gigantic headgear which so often takes the place of the play in the view of audiences at morning performances. The newspaper arranged a plebiscite in the twelve chief theatres of Paris, including the Opéra Comique, the Vaudeville, the Gymnase, the Nouveautés, and the Théâtre Sarah Bernhardt. Nearly 112,000 votes were cast, and, as a result, 58,319 declared in favour of compelling all women to remove their hats in theatres, 51,767 advocated the adoption of small hats, and 1,656 were for entire freedom of action.

IN consequence of this overwhelming testimony, it is stated several managers of theatres, notably M. Jules Claretie, of the Comedie Francaise, and M. Albert Carré, of the Opera Comique, have decided to suppress hats, not only in the orchestra stalls but in the balconies. This measure will be put into operation at the beginning of next season. Managers of boulevard theatres will encourage the small hat, and ladies who intend to be present at "first nights" will be compelled to adopt it, otherwise it is presumed they will not be allowed to enter the theatres.

SENOR ARBOS, the accomplished professor at the Royal College of Music, is commanded to Madrid by the King of Spain to arrange the State concert there in connection with the wedding festivities to-morrow evening. Senor Arbos will conduct the Madrid Symphony Orchestra, and the concert will begin with some typical British music in honour of the King's alliance with a Princess of this country. Sir A. C. Mackenzie's "Britannia Overture," the prelude to Sir E. Elgar's "Lux Christi," with a selection from this composer's "Enigma" Variations, and Sir Charles Stanford's Irish Rhapsody, will be given. Interspersed with these examples of British musical art there will be some modern Spanish music represented by Chapy's "Suite" and Breton's "Wedding March." The rest of the concert, which will be purely orchestral, will be made up of Bach, Beethoven, and Wagner.

DR. SAINT-SAENS, who recently celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of his first appearance in public, on which occasion a concert was given in Paris in his honour, is said to be the only modern composer who can claim to have achieved success in all the great branches of music. He made his first appearance in public as a pianist when only ten years old. At the age of seventy he is still full of activity, and is constantly adding to the long list of his works compositions of importance, the opera L'Ancêtre, produced at Monte Carlo, being among the latest of his many brilliant achievements.

THE attraction of The Second Mrs. Tanqueray is so potent that Mr. Harry Yorke specially engaged Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sugden and their company in the celebrated Pinero play for the Whitsuntide programme at the Theatre Royal, Blackburn.

MME. MELBA had an amusing adventure on her way from Coombe Cottage to sing at Covent Garden on Tuesday night. The motor-car in which she travels every night broke down. There was no time to go back and get another vehicle, no time to make repairs, so she clambered into a grocer's cart that had pulled up alongside and told the man to drive to Coombe Station. He did not know her, but, of course, he gallantly assented, and the van arrived at Coombe Station in time for the prima donna to catch the train to Waterloo, whence she drove to the theatre in a cab.

THE fifth production of the seventh season of the Incorporated Stage Society will be on Sunday, June 17th, and the following Monday afternoon. The programme will consist of The Invention of Doctor Metzler, a play in one act, by John Pollock (produced by Albert E. Drinkwater), in which Miss Gertrude Kingston, Miss Berta Van Raalte, Eugene Mayeur, Trevor Lowe, and Frank H. Denton will appear; and The Inspector-General, a comedy in three acts, based on a translation of Gogol's Revisor, by A. A. Sykes. In the cast will be Herbert Grimwood, Trevor Lowe, Henry Kitts, Frank H. Denton, Arthur Bell, C. R. Gibbon, Burton Cooke, Norman Page, Fred Grove, Michael Sherbrooke, Percy Crawford, Miss Bertha Van Raalte, Miss Stella St. Audrie, Miss Jean Cadell, and W. Hubert. The comedy will be produced by Charles Rock.

THE usual weekly meeting of the Council of the Actors' Association was held last Tuesday, when there were present Mr. A. E. Drinkwater (Deputy Chairman), Mesdames Kate Bishop and Beatrice Lamb, and Messrs. Clarence Blakiston, Burton Cooke, Alfred Kendrick, M. R. Morand, Hubert Willis, and Charles Cruikshanks (Secretary). Frank Pennington-Gush, Mabel L. Adams, and Arthur Collins-Rolfe were nominated for election. Several matters of importance were under discussion, and the further consideration of various subjects was postponed.

A MEETING of the Finance and General Purposes Committee was held, Mr. M. R. Morand occupying the chair, supported by Messrs. A. E. Drinkwater, Alfred Kendrick, Hubert Willis, and Charles Cruikshanks (Secretary). The latter received instructions to issue a circular to the members whose subscriptions for the current year remain unpaid.

"THE FASCINATING MR. VANDERVELDT," at the Garrick, reached its fiftieth performance last evening. To-night, Castles in Spain, which was moved from the Royalty to Terry's Theatre a little over a week ago, also achieves its half-century; and on the same occasion The Girl Behind the Counter will register its fiftieth performance at Wyndham's.

MR. JOHN GAFFNEY, the esteemed manager and secretary of the Liverpool Shakespeare Theatre, will, on Thursday evening next, take his eighteenth annual benefit, an event which is a "red-letter night."

MR. FRED L. ARTHUR, manager of the Queen's Theatre, Liverpool, was on Monday, the occasion of his birthday, presented with a handsome silver cigarette-case by the staff; while from the employés of the Queen's Theatre, Keighley, where he was formerly stationed, came the following telegram: "Most potent, grave, and reverend signor, the boys and girls of the répertoire company wish you many happy returns of the day. May your shadow never grow less. Health, wealth, and prosperity be yours."

MR. FREDERICK SARGENT has been engaged by Mr. A. B. Tapping to play the Duke of Guisebury in The Dancing Girl, and Luversan and Laroque in A Man's Shadow, both pieces being shortly produced on the pier at Hastings. Mr. Sargent has had varied experience during the past spring. He opened the year playing lead in Shakespeare, but in a few weeks he took up the title-rôle in the production of Jevan, the Prodigal Son, at Glasgow. A few weeks as Ned Annesley, in Sowing the Wind, followed, and he concludes in a fortnight a short tour under the management of Mr. J. D. Hunter.

MISS JANE MARY COATES, a sister of Miss Connie Ediss, the popular Gaiety comedienne, was married at the Congregational Church, Wimbledon, on Sunday to Mr. Charles Frederick Byatt, a gentleman well known in the world of sport. The bride, who has already achieved a reputation on the stage as a dainty dancer, looked very charming, and wore with becoming grace a beautiful veil that has been for generations in the family, and some old lace in which her grandmother was married seventy years ago. Amongst the bridesmaids were two other younger sisters of Miss Connie Ediss, while a little brother and nephew acted as pages of honour.

OPPORTUNITY was taken of the fine weather to have an open-air wedding breakfast in the orchard attached to Miss Ediss's cottage, which is situated in a secluded spot between Raynes Park and Malden. In another corner of the orchard was a little bar, over which Miss Connie Ediss had herself painted the sign "Ye Olde Bull and Bush," where refreshments were dispensed.

MR. CHARLES WINDERMERE, who is successfully touring Facing the Music, will produce a new three-act farce from his own pen, entitled Where's William? at the Theatre Royal, Worthing, on Thursday, June 21.

IN the beautiful grounds of Downing College, Cambridge, by kind permission of the Master and Fellows, on Tuesday next, June 12, will be given Shakespeare's comedies, Twelfth Night and The Two Gentlemen of Verona, as pastorals, in the afternoon and the evening. The company will be headed by Mr. D. Lewin Mannering, supported by Miss Violet March and a strong company, and Mr. Mannering will play Malvolio and Proteus himself. He is also responsible for the production of both plays.

MR. STEPHEN PHILLIPS' idea of Faust, a version of which he has in contemplation for Mr. George Alexander, is that it should be "a compact drama," of which spectacular embellishment should form no part. "In the version of Faust, which I am going to prepare," says Mr. Phillips, "there will be nothing spectacular, nothing to overshadow or intrude upon an immortal theme. As to how I shall treat the story, and as to the form in which it will be written, I am not yet sure—it may be a play in blank verse, or in prose with lyrics. But, at least, I have decided not to closely follow Goethe, whose second part of Faust—great as it is—does not, in my view, lend itself to effective dramatic treatment.

"FAR more suitable, I think," continues the poet, "is the ending of Marlowe, who, into the last hour of life vouchsafed to the unhappy Faustus brings tragedy terrible and appalling. In Marlowe's last, awful scene, Faust, left alone by his friends, counts the flying minutes of the final hour:—

Now hast thou but one bare hour to live,
And then thou must be damned perpetually!
Stand still you ever-moving spheres of heaven,
That time may cease and midnight never come.

These are the words of the man who, having tasted the joys of his bargain, knows that the punishment is inevitable. Here, it seems to me, is a situation of great possibilties, and upon this ending I shall base the closing scene of my version, in which Faust will be the dominating, outstanding figure."

SOME consternation was caused last week at Blackpool, when Ping Pong, the donkey used in Mr. Frank Bertram's company of The New Clown, was arrested for blocking the traffic. The donkey, which had a little boy on his back, dressed as a miniature clown, was taken to the police station, attended by an admiring crowd, but on promising not to repeat the offence, he was allowed to return home in time for the evening performance.

MISS CLARA COWPER (Mrs. William Calvert) has been specially engaged by Mr. Samuel James to "star" as Lady Isabel in her own version of East Lynne at the Grand, Islington, next week.

MISS DORIS GILHAM has been engaged by Mr. Eade Montefiore for his summer season at the Coronet, Camden, and Kennington Theatres.

MR. T. EDWARD WARD concludes to-night at the Grand Theatre, Luton, a lengthy tour of some forty-six weeks' run, which, from a financial point of view, has proved most satisfactory. The revival of Her Wedding Day, which has been the attraction since Christmas, has gone exceedingly well, and has become increasingly popular. Mr. and Mrs. Ward will now take a holiday, resuming work later on with their other play, Her Fatal Past, for which they have booked a long and important tour, extending to Christmas.

IN the Glasgow Sheriff Small-Debt Court on Wednesday, Mrs. C. Finch Hatton, professionally known as Miss Renee Glendower, with consent of Mr. C. Finch Hatton, manager, Moss's Empires, Ltd., Edinburgh, sued Mr. James Stillwell and Co., proprietors of a theatrical company travelling with the plays, The Branded Woman and The King's Secret, for £5, being two weeks' wages, for unjustifiable dismissal. In his evidence defender said pursuer was leading lady in the company playing The King's Secret. A child, under pursuer's care, played an important part. At Barrow-in-Furness, on April 24, the child ran away, and was afterwards found in Manchester. Owing to the child's disappearance they could not produce that play. He would have nothing further to do with the child, she having broken her contract, but pursuer brought the girl with her to Spennymoor, where they next appeared, and, because he would not allow the child on to the brake conveying them, pursuer spread a report that he made the child walk behind the vehicle four miles to Spennymoor. He dismissed her accordingly.

PURSUER stated that owing to indisposition she gave Mr. Stillwell a fortnight's notice, and was working that notice when she was dismissed. Pursuer had not spoken to anyone in Spennymoor about the child having to run four miles behind the brake. The child, an attractive girl of fourteen years of age, said pursuer was kind to her. His Lordship said pursuer seemed to have been dismissed owing to damaging reports circulated in Spennymoor, but any person might have seen the child running behind the brake. He found that justifiable dismissal had not been proved, and gave decree for the sum sued for, with expenses.

MR. JOHN COATES, who will give a vocal recital at Bechstein Hall on the 14th inst., has been engaged for the Birmingham Festival, and will sing the tenor music in Sir Edward Elgar's recently-completed addition to "The Apostles." For a short time Mr. Coates sang in the musical piece, The Gay Defenders, at the now defunct Globe Theatre, and was also chosen to sing Sir Arthur Sullivan's last number, "The Absent-Minded Beggar," at the Alhambra.

AT the Alexandra Theatre, Stoke Newington, on Monday, Thursday, and Saturday, by arrangement with Mr. H. G. Dudley Bennett, the Cowper-street (Old Boys') Club will present the comic opera Merrie England. For the remainder of the week and Thursday's matinée Jedbury, Junior, will be played. The performances, which are under influential patronage, are in aid of the funds of the Metropolitan Hospital, Kingsland-Road.

ROYAL OPERA, COVENT GARDEN.

Carmen, given for the first time this season on Thursday, May 31, aroused considerable interest, owing to the fact that Mme. Kirkby Lunn impersonated the part of the callous gipsy. Mme. Lunn has before sung this character, when it was done in English, at the season given by the Carl Rosa Opera Company some years ago at the Lyceum Theatre, and recently she has played it with success at Buda-Pesth. But performing it at Covent Garden in the grand season is a different matter, for opera-goers have heard many famous artists in the rôle—Mme. Minnie Hauk, Mlle. Zélie de Lussan, and Mme. Calvé, in many respects the greatest of all Carmens. Vocally Mme. Lunn has fine resources, but the part requires strong dramatic treatment, and here, perhaps, the artist did not entirely realise Prosper Mérimée's heroine, Mme. Lunn being at her best in the scene where Carmen learns her fate by the cards. In this portion, her fine voice and largeness of style told superbly. M. Laffitte, a singer from the Brussels Opera House, appeared as Don José, and made a good impression. His voice is light, but pure in quality, and he acted with intelligence. Mlle. Donalda sang the music of Micaela charmingly, but her make-up was hardly satisfactory. M. Seveilhac proved a somewhat tame bull-fighter; but M. Gilibert as usual made an excellent Dancairo, and M. Crabbé an admirable Morales. The other characters of Remendado (M. Dognies), and Zuniga (M. Artus) were skilfully performed, and the small parts of Frasquita and Mercedes, well sung by Mme. Gilibert-Lejeune and Mme. Paulin; and the orchestra, under M. Messager, was entirely successful.

Wagner's Der Fliegende Holländer was performed before a full house on Monday night, and aroused great interest, not only from the power and beauty of much of the music, but from the fact that the Dutchman is seldom heard nowadays. The revival was welcome, as the opera was well cast, and the performance generally excellent; new scenery also had been specially painted for the occasion by Mr. Harry Brooke, who may be warmly congratulated for the most picturesque and striking effects of sea and ships, and the ghostly appearance of the phantom ship in the final act. Herr Van Rooy appeared as the Holländer, and greatly distinguished himself, both as a vocalist and actor, being particularly successful in his duett with Senta in the second act; indeed, throughout the entire opera, Herr Van Rooy realised to the full the fatalistic and imaginative side of the character, and he sang with a passionate intensity of feeling deserving the warmest praise. Fraulein Destinn, who was the Senta of the cast, also shared to the full in the honours of the evening, her fine voice and dramatic intuition being especially noticeable in her scene with Erik, and her delivery of the "Ballad," and in the last act she did not spare herself, but gave the fullest value to the dramatic music. Herr Knüpfer showed to great advantage as Daland; and Herr Burgstaller used a resonant voice with good effect in the character of Erik. Fraulein Grünn, in the small part of Marey, and the Steersman of Herr Nictan were satisfactory performances; and the chorus singing of the "Spinning Song" tuneful and effective; while a fine rendering of the wonderful overture was secured by the orchestra, under the watchful care of Dr. Richter.

Frau von Mildenburg and Herr Burgstaller did not appear at Covent Garden last Saturday, Tannhäuser, with Herr Anthes in the title-rôle, and Mme. Knüpfer-Egli, as Elisabeth, filling the gap, Herr Whitehill undertaking the part of Wolfram, and Herr Knüpfer, Hermann. Neither Mme. Knüpfer-Egli, as Elisabeth, nor Herr Anthes were heard to any great advantage in their respective characters; but Herr Whitehill rendered Wolfram's music with much charm. Mme. Reinl and Mme. Agnes Nicholls were in the cast, as Venus and the Shepherd, Dr. Richter conducting the orchestra.

On Wednesday evening, Fräulein Von Mildenburg, who has achieved marked success in Vienna, made her first appearance at Covent Garden in the character of Isolde. Fräulein Von Mildenburg, who has an excellent voice combined with considerable ability as an actress, at once created a most favourable impression. Her rendering of the part was on broad and effective lines, and her ample vocal resources will make the artist a valuable addition to the list of Wagnerian singers. The Tristan was Herr Burgstaller, who sang the part of Erik in Der Flugende Holländer on Monday night; that Herr Burgstaller still suffered slightly from cold was manifest, and no doubt caused a lack of vitality in his acting. The rest of the cast was the same as on a former performance, but mention may be made of the fine work done on Wednesday by Mme. Kirkby Lunn, Herr Knüpfer, and Herr Van Rooy. Dr. Richter conducted.

Rigoletto drew a full house on Tuesday night. Mme. Melba and Signor Caruso being in the fine cast, which included Signor Scotti. Although it did not appear that Madame was in her finest voice as Gilda, the famous tenor sang in his usual impassioned and delightful manner; while Signor Scotti proved an excellent Rigoletto. The rest of the cast contained MM. Journet, Gilibert, Zucchi, and Sampieri. Signor Campanine conducted.

AT Daly's, New York, music and the drama have been supplanted for the nonce by an exhibition of moving pictures, taken in San Francisco during the fire that followed the earthquake. The pictures are very clear, and many of them are strikingly descriptive of the havoc wrought by the flames. Mr. Frank McKee will become the manager of Daly's Theatre next September.

"MAN'S ENEMY," with Mr. Norman A. Qverton in the leading part, is at the Theatre Royal, Stratford, next week. Under Mr. John Power's management the piece is playing more powerfully than ever.

THE THEATRICAL SPORTS.

Fine weather again favoured the athletic members of theatre and music-hall staffs when they engaged in their annual sports on Tuesday at the Stamford Bridge Grounds. There was not, perhaps, as good a "gate" as might have been anticipated on a Whit Tuesday, but the attendance was better than last year's, and every one of the events was followed with the keenest interest, amounting in some cases to enthusiasm of the most unrestrained order. The grand stand presented a pleasing and picturesque aspect, thanks mainly to the pretty summer dresses and hats worn by the ladies. Miss Irene Vanbrugh, who had kindly consented to present the prizes to the successful competitors, arrived on the scene in good time, and took delight in watching the various contests. She was attired in an exceedingly neat and becoming cream tailor-made costume, and a lovely bouquet of pink flowers was handed to her by Mr. W. Johnson immediately she made her appearance. Mrs. George Alexander was also present, and others who attended were Mr. Dion Boucicault, Mrs. Vanbrugh, Miss Iris Hawkins, Miss Jessie Bateman, Miss Bella Pateman, Mrs. Ellis Fredericks, Mr. Herbert Waring, Mr. Dawson Milward, Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Coltson, and Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Reynolds.

[Photo by Ellis and Walery.

MISS IRENE VANBRUGH.

The Theatrical Sports, it might be mentioned, are arranged annually by a joint committee of the Heads of Departments Association, the Theatrical Carpenters' Society, and the general staff (No. 1 branch) of the National Association of Theatrical Employees, and the contests are open to theatre managers and their assistants, actors, and theatre and music hall (civilian) employees. The establishment of a benevolent fund to assist theatrical employees of both sexes is the object for which these sports are held.

The names of the gentlemen who officiated in one way or another upon the grounds on Tuesday are as follow :—

The Sports Committee :—Messrs. Lionel Belmore, H. R. Kimpton, James Cullen, A. Palmer, T. Sheridan, G. W. Wilton, T. Morgan, P. Sheridan, H. Porter, A. E. Wood, H. Mather, P. Thomas, R. Ward, W. G. Farrell, C. Thorogood, J. Reed.

Hon. Treasurer :—Mr. G. H. Dyball.
Hon. Secretary :—Mr. William Johnson.
Referee :—Mr. Robert Watson.
Judges : — Messrs. Horace Chambers, F. Fredericks, S. Fredericks, Cyril Maude, Edmund Maurice, F. H. Pedgrift, Cecil I. Paget, F. W. Parker, George Robey, C. Aubrey Smith, John Wilson, Frank Shorland.

[Photo by G. Bolak.

THE DUBLIN TEAM, WINNERS OF "THE ERA" CHALLENGE SHIELD FOR THE TUG-OF-WAR.

Official Starter :—Mr. H. Ransom.
Timekeeper :—Mr. F. W. Parker.
Handicapper :—Mr. Ed. Bostock.
Marksman :—G. H. Dyball.

Clerks of the Course :—Messrs. P. Sheridan, A. Palmer, T. Morgan, P. Thomas, G. W. Wilton, A. Earnshaw, R. Jenkins, J. T. Sheridan, G. Lawrance.

Reception Committee :—Messrs. C. Aubrey Smith, Herbert Waring, Dawson Milward, Robert Horton, H. R. Kimpton, James Cullen, and William Johnson.

Stewards :—Transfer—Mr. Charles Thorogood Weighing—Messrs. A. Palmer and A. Earnshaw. Programmes—Messrs. H. Mather, A. George, John Phelps, Edward Stow, W. Hall, B. J. Taylor, W. Bevington, T. Swift, G. T. Dalgarno, G. Lofton, A. Beasley, G. Davis, A. Bryan, W. J. Hindey, W. G. Farrell, G. Palmer, J. Reed, S. Simkins, H. Porter, and E. Shepherd.

A delightful programme of music was prepared by Mr. George Bryer, who conducted the Alexander Imperial Military Band on the grounds, the score or so of selections affording an agreeable variation from the immediate work at hand in the different events, and, possibly, inspiring some of the competitors to mighty efforts.

Unquestionably the tug-of-war evoked the greatest interest. For the previous three years, The Era shield, offered in connection with this contest, had been won successively by the Dublin Empire, and is now the property of the men from the Emerald Isle. This year a new shield was given by the proprietors of this journal as a perpetual trophy, to be exhibited for the six months next following the date of the sports in the theatre represented by the winning team, and on the present occasion a fresh condition was set forth in regard to the tug-of-war. The maximum weight of each team was limited to 60st., with a maximum allowance of 10lb. per team. The competitors were weighed on the grounds, and the conditions set forth in the rules and regulations were strictly adhered to. But, no matter! the Dublin boys again triumphed. In the first round the Dublin Empire men pulled against the Gaiety Theatre, and won at both ends of the gutter. Then the Canterbury entered against the Crown Theatre, Peckham, a draw being first recorded, and the Crown winning on the third attempt. A similar thing occurred in the struggle between Stratford Borough Theatre and Stratford Royal, honours eventually falling to the former team; while the Waldorf men triumphed over the Canterbury. In the second round, the Dublinites defeated the Peckham men, and the Borough, Stratford, were successful against the Waldorf. The final round between the Dublin Empire and the Borough Theatre resulted in the Irishmen claiming the shield, as it was confidently expected they would do. The heaviest team was the Waldorf, the collective weight of whose five members reached 60st. 6½lb., and the lightest was the Royal, Stratford, 56st. 12lb. The Dublin men scaled 57st. 8lb.; the Crown, Peckham, 59st. 8lb.; the Alhambra, 57st. 3lb.; the Borough, 58st. 12lb.; and the Gaiety, 59st. Considerable excitement centred round the five miles cycling race. For the past two years Mr. E. S. Dawson, of the Holborn Empire, has held the fine championship shield presented by Sir Thomas Dewar, M.P., and had he passed first on Tuesday the trophy would have become his property. As it was, he made a fine show, and came in an exceedingly close second to Mr. S. F. Bailey, of the Borough, Stratford. In the final heat, Mr. A. Clements, of the Alhambra, was seen in a most commendable performance, practically keeping the pace for thirteen or fourteen laps. In the 50 yards blindfold race, which was won by A. F. Lenton, of the Comedy, the fact that one or two of the competitors were wearing boots with long spikes seems, regrettably enough, to have been overlooked by the clerks of the course, and one of the results was that a runner had both of his shoes torn and his feet lacerated by the spikes. One would have thought that it had been sufficient to leave it to the honour of the contestants to see that they did not wear anything which would, in such an event as a blindfold race, cause bodily injury to their rivals; but apparently such considerations did not occur to the men to whose unsportsmanlike conduct we refer. No doubt attention will be paid to this point in future sports. In the 80 yards hopping championship the agile Mr. G. Harold, late of the Adelphi, again won the silver challenge cup presented by Mr. W. Templeton, and it now becomes his permanent possession. In the 100 yards veterans' handicap Mr. J. Andrews seemed to be able to throw off the yoke of fifty-seven years, and once more secured the first prize, which this year is an oil-painting, executed and presented by Mr. E. A. Taylor, the master carpenter at the Scala Theatre. In the 100 yards running handicap the premier prize—a handsome marble clock, presented by Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander—was taken by Mr. G. Harold. The obstacle sack race, won by Mr. G. Bailey, of the Paragon, created great hilarity; as did also the 50 yards boot race, in which the competitors' boots were put into a sack, and each had to run to the sack, find and put on his boots, and race to a mark. Mr. C. Douglas, of the Gaiety Theatre, was first in this event, and received a handsome silver inkstand, given by Sir Squire Bancroft. Miss Irene Vanbrugh's gift of a fine silver-mounted oak smoker's cabinet, for the quarter-mile obstacle race, came into the ownership of Mr. A. Wright, of the London Pavilion; and Mr. J. Warner's (Alhambra) feat of pedestrianism in the one-mile walking handicap gained him the leading prize, consisting of a case of knives and forks. Mr. C. Aubrey Smith's silver challenge cup for the four-laps relay race will for the next six months be on exhibition at Daly's Theatre, three sturdy members of whose working staff—A. W. Cordier (runner), F. Robinson (walker), and E. Dawson (cyclist)—proving their superiority over "all comers."

Very gracefully did Miss Irene Vanbrugh fulfil her office as distributor of the prizes, and her pleasant, tactful manner made the more nervous of the victors somewhat at ease as they came forward to receive their prizes. When the last trophy had been presented, Mr. William Johnson, the energetic secretary, proposed a vote of thanks to Miss Irene Vanbrugh for her presence, and called for cheers for Mrs. George Alexander and the ladies and gentlemen present as the guests of the committee, which were given vociferously. Miss Vanbrugh appropriately responded in a quiet little speech.

Among the ladies and gentlemen and firms who subscribed to the prize fund, and who made handsome gifts to the sports were Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, Miss Lena Ashwell, Miss Adrienne Augarde, Lady Bancroft, Sir Squire Bancroft, Miss Jessie Bateman, Miss Tita Brand, Mr. Dion Boucicault, Dr. Bodie, Mr. Arthur Chudleigh, Miss Compton, Mr. G. H. Dyball, Mrs. Ellis Fredericks, Mr. William Greet, Mr. Martin Harvey, Mr. Robert Horton, Mr. Charles Hawtrey, Mr. Henry Arthur Jones, Mr. Sidney Jones, Mr. Cosmo Gordon-Lennox, Mr. W. Long, Mr. Cyril Maude, Mr. Gerald Du Maurier, Mr. W. A. Pinero, Mr. W. S. Penley, Mr. Cecil Paget, Mr. Alfred de Rothschild, Mrs. Raleigh, Mr. and Mrs. Kennerley Rumford, Mr. Alfred Sutro, Mr. Oswald Stoll, Mr. E. Sandow, Miss Ellen Terry, Mr. Edward Terry, Mrs. Tree, Mr. H. B. Tree, Mr. Fred Terry, Mr. C. Thorogood, Mr. W. H. Tilling, Mr. J. E. Vedrenne, Miss Irene Vanbrugh, Mr. E. W. Hart (Central Catering Co.), Proprietors of the Daily Telegraph, Messrs. James Buchanan and Co., Messrs. Francis, Day, and Hunter, Messrs. Elms-Lester Bros., The Palace Theatre Co., The Empire Theatre Co., Dublin, Messrs. Strode and Co., Mr. W. T. Sharpe (Messrs. Whitbread and Co.), the Proprietors of The Era, Mr. C. T. H. Helmsley, Mr. J. Cullen, Mr. Lewis Waller, Mr. Arthur Bourchier, Mr. F. R. Benson, Mr. Harris, of the Chemical Cleaning Co., and Messrs. Ashley and Smith (the Sportsman).

The results in the heats and finals of the various events are as follows :—

100 YARDS RUNNING HANDICAP.—Heat 1, G. Harding, Gaiety. Heat 2—F. Horne, St. James's. Heat 3—G. Poynton, jun., Gaiety— Heat 4.—G. F. Ford, Camden. Heat 5—Pat Lavender, Fulham Grand. Heat 6—R. Day, Stratford Borough. Heat 7—G. Harold, late Adelphi. Heat 8—W. Rosser, South London Music Hall. Semi-final : Heat 1—G. Poynton, jun., 1; G. F. Ford, 2. Heat 2—G. Harold, 1; Pat Lavender, 2. Final Heat—G. Harold, 1; Pat Lavender, 2; G. F. Ford, 3; G. Poynton, jun., 4. Time, 11 2-5sec.
1st prize, a clock, presented by Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander; 2nd, ink stand; 3rd, flower stand; special 4th, a case of Electric Liniment, presented by Dr. Bodie.

HALF-MILE CYCLING HANDICAP.—Heat 1—G. S. Bailey, Borough. Heat 2—F. W. Runham, Chelsea Palace. Heat 3—B. E. Major, Duke of York's. Heat 4—G. Fuller, Croydon Grand. Final—B. E. Major, 1; F. W. Runham, 2; G. S. Bailey, 3. Time, 66 2-5sec.
1st prize, fruit and flower stand; 2nd, pair of spirit decanters; 3rd, a pocket flask; special 4th, a case of Electric Liniment, presented by Dr. Bodie.

100 YARDS RUNNING (VETERANS') HANDICAP. — J. Andrews, Alhambra, 1; J. Knott, Fulham Grand, 2. Time, 13 sec.
1st prize, oil painting; painted and presented by Mr. E. A. Taylor, Master Carpenter, the Scala Theatre; 2nd, a biscuit box.

QUARTER-MILE RUNNING HANDICAP.—Heat 1—A. Williams, Coliseum, 1; W. Blades, Peckham Crown, 2; E. T. Willett, Waldorf, 3; G. A. Poynton, Gaiety, 4. Heat 2—G. Poynton, jun., Gaiety, 1; A. H. Lenton, Comedy, 2; F. Horne, St James's, 3; J. A. Green, Gaiety, 4. Final—A. Williams, 1; W. Blades, 2; J. A. Green, 3; F. Horne, 4. Time, 54 secs.
1st prize, pair of entrée dishes; 2nd, set of carvers in case; 3rd, a teapot.

80 YARDS HOPPING CHAMPIONSHIP.—G. Harold, late Adelphi, 1; J. F. Hill, Holborn Empire, 2; W Rosser, South London, 3. Time, 14 3-5sec.
Silver Challenge Cup, presented by Mr. W. Templeton (to be won twice in succession or three times in all), holder, G. Harold.
1st prize, gold medal; 2nd, tankard; 3rd, gold centre medal.

ONE MILE WALKING HANDICAP.—J. Warner, Alhambra, 1; F. Robinson, Daly's, 2; J. H. Kent, Peckham Crown, 3. Time, 7min. 54sec.
1st prize, Knives and forks in case; 2nd, coffee pot; 3rd, gold centre medal.

HALF-MILE RUNNING HANDICAP.—A. H. Lenton, Comedy, 1; E. T. Willatt, Waldorf, 2; G. A. Poynton, Gaiety, 3; J. Robinson, Fulham Grand, 4. Time, 2min. 5 1-5sec.
1st prize, wine cruet, presented by Dr. Bodie; 2nd, tea set; 3rd, pair of flower vases; special 4th, a case of Electric Liniment, presented by Dr. Bodie.

ONE MILE CYCLING HANDICAP.—Heat 1—W. Hasthorpe, Coronet, 1; A. Ford, Chelsea Palace, 2. Heat 2—G. Fuller, Croydon Grand. Heat 3—J. Ilinis, Dalston. Heat 4—S. F. Bailey, Stratford Borough. Final—A. Ford, 1; J. Ilinis, 2; S. F Bailey, 3. Time, 2min. 20 2-5sec.
1st prize, set of decanters; 2nd, claret jug; 3rd, silver-mounted brush.

TUG-OF-WAR.—Round 1—Dublin Empire beat London Gaiety; Peckham Crown beat Canterbury; Stratford Borough beat Stratford Royal; Waldorf beat Alhambra. Round 2—Dublin Empire beat Peckham Crown; Stratford Borough beat Waldorf. Final Round—Dublin Empire beat Stratford Borough.
For a Challenge Shield, presented by the Proprietors of The Era.
This shield will be a perpetual trophy, and may be exhibited for six months, next following the date of the sports, in the theatre represented by the winning team. The trustees, for the time being, of the National Association of Theatrical Employees, shall be the custodians of the shield, and, in the event of any dispute, the donors of the shield shall decide the same.
The maximum weight of each team is limited to 60 stone, with a maximum allowance of 10lb. per team. The teams will weigh on the grounds, and the conditions set forth in the rules and regulations strictly adhered to.
1st prize, five gold medals; 2nd prize, five gold centre medals. The coach of each of the teams pulling in the final presented with a medal.

120 YARDS OBSTACLE SACK RACE.—Heat 1—A. French, Palace, 1; G. Bailey, Paragon, 2; C. Bristow, Palace, 3. Heat 2—G. Swanson, Aldwych, 1; W. Rosser, South London, 2; J. Murphy, Camden, 3. Final Heat—G. Bailey, 1; A. French, 2; W. Rosser, 3.
1st prize, cake dish, 2nd, flower stand; 3rd, gold centre medal.

QUARTER-MILE OBSTACLE RACE.—A. Wright, London Pavilion, 1; J. Maskell, London Pavilion, 2; A. Williams, Coliseum, 3.
1st prize, a smoker's cabinet, presented by Miss Irene Vanbrugh; 2nd, cruet stand; 3rd, gold centre medal.

FIVE MILES CYCLING CHAMPIONSHIP RACE.—Heat 1—F. W. Parrott, Chelsea Palace, 1; B. E. Major, Duke of York's, 2. Heat 2—E. S. Dawson, Holborn Empire, 1; A. Clements, Alhambra, 2. Heat 3—G. Fuller, Croydon Grand, 1; F. W. Runham, Chelsea Palace, 2. Heat 4—S. F. Bailey, Stratford Borough, 1; J. Ilinis, Dalston, 2. Final Heat—S. F. Bailey, 1; E. S. Dawson, 2; J. Ilinis, 3. Time, 14min. 55 4-5sec.
For the Dewar Championship Shield, presented by Sir Thomas Dewar, M.P.
To be won three times in succession to establish ownership. The shield to be held six months by the winner, at his own risk, and to be exhibited for six months as arranged by representative of Sport's Committee.
Holder, E. S. Dawson.
1st prize, 15ct. gold medal; 2nd, 9ct. gold medal; 3rd, gold centre medal; 4th (lap), silver match box.

ONE MILE RUNNING HANDICAP.—E. T. Willatt, Waldorf, 1; J. Murphy, Camden, 2; J. Robinson, Fulham Grand, 3. Time, 4min. 53 4-5sec.
1st prize, set of carvers in case; 2nd, cake dish; 3rd, silver cigarette case.

50 YARDS BOOT RACE.—C. Douglas, Gaiety, 1; J. Langham, Waldorf, 2; W. Branch, Waldorf, 3.
1st prize, silver ink stand, presented by Sir Squire Bancroft; 2nd, oak biscuit box; 3rd, gold centre medal.

FOUR LAPS RELAY RACE.—Daly's Theatre (A. W. Cordier, F. Robinson, and F. King), 1; Duke of York's (A. Whale, T. Blatch, and B. E. Major), 2; Croydon Grand (C. Mason, G. Langridge, and G. Fuller), 3.
For a Silver Challenge Cup, presented by C. Aubrey Smith.
The cup will become the property of the manager for the time being of the theatre or music hall whose team wins this race three times in succession. The cup may be exhibited for six months at the theatre represented by the winners at each meeting, subject to the conditions specified by the Sports Committee.
1st prize, three gold medals; 2nd, three silver match boxes; 3rd, three gold centre medals.

50 YARDS BLINDFOLD RACE.—A. F. Lenton, Comedy, 1; F. Horne, St. James's, 2; J. Harvey, Stratford Borough, 3.
1st prize, set of salt cellars in case, presented by Lady Bancroft; 2nd, silver cigarette case; 3rd, gold centre medal.

100 YARDS SCRATCH CONSOLATION RACE.—J. Simms, Waldorf, 1; F. Morley, St. James's, 2; A. B. Cheney, Drury-lane, 3; W. Annis, 4.
1st prize, set of vases, presented by Mrs. Ellis Fredericks; 2nd, a box of cigars, presented by Mr. W. Long; 3rd, pair of pickle jars; 4th, gold centre medal.

MR. J. J. DALLAS is concluding his tour in Australia with his Strand Theatre company in The J.P., after a remarkably successful trip, in the course of which he has added to his laurels in all parts of the colony. Mr. Dallas' humour in the title-rôle has had an irresistible effect on large audiences everywhere, and throughout the three acts of the popular farcical comedy hilarity reigned supreme. Miss Florence Lloyd, whose 'Liza Shoddam in The Earl and the Girl, it will be remembered, had a marked effect on London play-goers, is creating similar manifestations of delight with Australian audiences by her acting, singing, and dancing, in the part of Flo Neville; and the whole company work with a spirit and zest that carried the piece unmistakably on the road to success. During the visit to Perth recently the performance was honoured by the presence of His Excellency the Governor and a party from Government House.

MR. MOUILLOT, who was the defendant in the theatrical suit in which he was mulcted in £192 damages, has appealed against the decision of the King's Bench. Mr. Mouillot has been a theatrical manager for over twenty years, and this is his first law suit with an artist or an employee—surely a record, considering the number of artists he has had under engagement, estimated at over 20,000.

[Photo by G. Bolak.

MRS. GEORGE ALEXANDER, MISS IRENE VANBRUGH, AND LADIES AT THE THEATRICAL SPORTS, 1906.

FIFTY YEARS OF THE DRAMA. 1850—1900.

(COPYRIGHT.)

In these columns it is proposed to give a strictly alphabetical arrangement of the titles of plays produced during the last fifty years. It will be the most complete list ever published, and should prove invaluable to authors desiring to discover whether a certain title has ever been used, and when. To members of the dramatic profession it will be useful in determining the dates of plays in which they have achieved successes. Our readers are politely requested to advise us of any omission or inaccuracy which they may notice.

This list as soon as complete will be published in cheap book form.

Little Dorothy, City of London, June 8, 1863.
Little Duchess, Theatre Royal, Stockton, Sept. 9, 1897.
Little Duke, Philharmonic, April 27, 1878.
Little 18-Carat, Theatre Royal, Sunderland, Nov. 16, 1885.
Little Em'ly, Olympic, Oct. 9, 1869.
Little Emily's Trials, Sadler's Wells, March 4, 1871.
Little Eyolf, Avenue, Nov. 23, 1896.
Little Fibs, Charing Cross, Sept. 11, 1869.
Little Genius, Shaftesbury, July 9, 1896.
Little Heroes, Oldham, March 29, 1900.
Little Intruder, Kingston, Dec. 10, 1900.
Little Jack Carpenter, Theatre Royal, Liverpool, May 15, 1875.
Little Jack Horner, Drury Lane, —
Little Jack Sheppard, Gaiety, Dec. 26, 1885.
Little Jessie, Steinway Hall, July 2, 1891.
Little King Pippin, Drury Lane, Dec. 23, 1865.
Little Lady Loo, Opera House, Harrogate, May 10, 1900.
Little Lalla Rookh, Gaiety, Hastings, Aug. 31, 1885.
Little Lohengrin, Holborn, Aug. 16, 1884.
Little Lord Fauntleroy, Prince of Wales's, Feb. 23, 1888.
Little Minister, Haymarket, Nov. 6, 1897.
Little Miss Cute, Royalty, Sept. 14, 1894.
Little Miss Muffet, Criterion, Sept. 2, 1882.
Little Miss Muffit, Crystal Palace, Dec. 24, 1866.
Little Miss Nobody, Opera House, Cheltenham, March 5, 1898.
Little Mister Faust, Parkhurst, Aug. 18, 1894.
Little Mother, Royalty, April 21, 1870.
Little Nelly, Surrey, Nov. 23, 1872.
Little Nobody, Vaudeville, July 24, 1890.
Little One, The, Vaudeville, Jan. 22, 1885.
Little Paul, Lyceum, Rochdale, March 6, 1871.
Little Pest, Theatre Royal, Halifax, Oct. 11, 1875.
Little Pilgrim, Criterion, July 3, 1886.
Little Ragamuffin, Pavilion, June 27, 1868.
Little Ray of Sunshine, Yeovil, May 3, 1898.
Little Rebel, Olympic, April 1, 1861.
Little Red Cross, Alhambra, Wigan, July 16, 1885.
Little Robin Hood, New Royalty, April 19, 1871.
Little Robinson Crusoe, Theatre Royal, Oxford, April 13, 1885.
Little Sentinel, St. James's, May 4, 1863.
Little Squire, Lyric, April 5, 1894.
Littlest Girl, Court, July 15, 1896.
Little Sunbeam, Lyric, June 30, 1892.
Little Supper, Globe, Dec. 6, 1900.
Little Toddlekins, Lyceum, Dec. 15, 1852.
Little Tom Bowling, Gainsborough, Aug. 5, 1889.
Little Tom Tucker, Elephant and Castle, December 23, 1876.
Little Tom Tug, Opéra Comique, Nov. 12, 1873.
Little Treasure, Haymarket, Oct. 11, 1855.
Little Vagrant, Cleethorpes, July 8, 1897.
Little Viscount, Gaiety, Aug. 2, 1884.
Little Vixen, Olympic, Feb. 2, 1878.
Little Widow, Theatre Royal, Liverpool, Feb. 2, 1891.
Little Wonder, Theatre Royal, Gravesend, March 14, 1874.
Lively Hal, Plympton, April 11, 1893.
Lively Honeymoon, Merthyr, July 14, 1897.
Living at Ease, Strand, Oct. 5, 1870.
Living Lie, Royalty, Blackburn, June 18, 1883.
Living Models, Theatre Royal, Maidenhead, May 5, 1898.
Living or Dead, Sadler's Wells, Oct. 9, 1886.
Living too Fast, Princess's, Oct. 9, 1854.
Lizer's New Lodger, Brompton Hospital, March 9, 1897.
Lizzie Leigh, City of London, Aug. 27, 1866.
Lizzie Lyle, Marylebone, Feb. 9, 1874.
Liz; or, That Lass o' Lowries, Amphitheatre, Liverpool, July 9, 1877.
Llewelyn, the Last King of Wales, Carmarthen, Nov. 25, 1872.
Loadstone, The, Lyceum, April 7, 1888.
L'Oca del Cairo, Drury Lane, May 12, 1870.
Local Veto Villa, Weston-super-Mare, Oct. 30, 1895.
Locked In, Prince of Wales's, Sept. 17, 1870.
Locked Out, Haymarket, July 12, 1875.
Lock-keeper's Daughter, Theatre Royal, Stratford, Sept. 4, 1886.
Lock Out, Adelphi, Glasgow, July 6, 1874.
Locrine, St. George's Hall, March 20, 1899.
Lodgers, The, Globe, Jan. 18, 1887.
Lodgers and Dodgers, Strand, May 13, 1871.
Lodgings at Cleethorpes, Theatre Royal, Grimsby, Aug. 20, 1878.
L'Œil Crevé, Globe, June 15, 1872.
Lohengrin, Covent Garden, May 8, 1875.
L'Olandese Dannato, Drury Lane, July 23, 1870.
Lola the Belle of Baccarato, Olympic, Jan. 15, 1881.
Lolo, Manchester, Sept. 8, 1900.
Lolotte, St. James's, Nov. 3, 1890.
L'Ombra, Her Majesty's, Jan. 12, 1878.
London Arab, Victoria, April 2, 1866.
London Assurance, Criterion, Nov. 27, 1890.
London by Gaslight, Sadler's Wells, Sept. 19, 1868.
London Day by Day, Adelphi, Sept. 14, 1889.
London Life, Grecian, Sept. 24, 1881.
London Mystery, Pavilion, July 15, 1895.
London; or, Life of a Streetboy, Theatre Royal, Barnstaple, Jan. 1, 1885.
London Pride, Philharmonic, Jan. 28, 1882.
London's Curse, Theatre Royal, Darlington, May 4, 1900.
Lonely Man of the Ocean, Olympic, 1851.
Long Ago, Royalty, April 22, 1882.
Long Live the Queen, Theatre Royal, Hednesford, Feb. 17, 1887.
Long Odds, Theatre Royal, Bath, Feb. 10, 1883.
Long Pack, Lyceum, Sunderland, March 17, 1879.
Long Strike, Lyceum, Sept. 15, 1866.
Loo, and the Party who Took Miss, Strand, Sept. 28, 1874.
Looey Napoleong, Theatre Royal, Dublin, Sept. 12, 1868.
Look on the Bright Side, City of London, July 28, 1866.
Loose Tiles, Vaudeville, Jan. 28, 1885.
Lord Allangford, Theatre Royal, Torquay, May 16, 1895.
Lord and Lady Algy, Comedy, April 21, 1898.
Lord and Lady Guilderoy, Theatre Royal, Brighton, April 9, 1896.
Lord and the Lout, Victoria, Jan. 31, 1859.
Lord Anerley, St. James's, Nov. 7, 1891.
Lord Bateman, Globe, Dec. 27, 1869.
Lord Bateman, Burlesque, Theatre Royal, Seaham Harbour, April 17, 1876.
Lord Bateman's Overland Journey, Adelphi, April 17, 1854.
Lord Darcy, Cheltenham, Dec. 1, 1896.
Lord Dolly, Wallington, June 18, 1898.
Lord Dunnohoo, Theatre Royal, Aldershot, July 5, 1897.
Lord Edward; or, '98, Queen's, Dublin, March 26, 1894.
Lord FitzHarris, Gallery of Illustration, May 24, 1873.
Lord Halifax, Queen's, Barnsley, Feb. 8, 1875.
Lord Harry, The, Princess's, Feb. 18, 1886.
Lord in Waiting, Avenue, July 8, 1893.
Lord Lovel, A.D.C. Rooms, Cambridge, Nov., 1856.
Lord Macninny, Vaudeville, Dec. 21, 1886.
Lord Marple's Daughter, Grand, Nov. 29, 1886.
Lord Mayor, Strand, Nov. 1, 1895.
Lord Mayor's Day, Folly, June 30, 1879.
Lord of the Manor, Imperial, Jan. 3, 1880.
Lords and Commons, Haymarket, Nov. 24, 1883.
Lords of Creation, Oxford, Feb. 4, 1895.
Lord Tom Noddy, Theatre Royal, Bradford, April 6, 1896.
Lorenzaccio, Adelphi, June 17, 1897.
Lorraine, Theatre Royal, Torquay, Jan. 10, 1898.
Lost, Standard, Oct. 16, 1871.
Lost and Found, Gallery of Illustration, Feb. 5, 1870.
Lost at Sea: A London Story, Adelphi, Oct. 2, 1869.
Lost Cause, Olympic, July 22, 1884.
Lost Child, Lyceum, Dec. 26, 1863.
Lost Chord, West London, March 24, 1900.
Lost Discharge, St. George's, June 20, 1873.
Lost Eden, Novelty, June 1, 1897.
Lost Emily, Prince of Wales's, Birmingham, June 30, 1870.
Lost Em'ly, Surrey, March 8, 1873.
Lost for Ever; or, Milly the Collier's Wife, Royal Queen's, Barnsley, Jan. 11, 1869.
Lost for Gold, Winchester, Dec. 26, 1885.
Losing Hazard, Parkhurst, April 11, 1892.
Lost Heir, Kendal, Dec. 7, 1868.
Lost Heir of Macclesfield, Theatre Royal, Macclesfield, Feb. 15, 1875.

Charles Stewart Robins, 34, described as a fitter, of Venue-street, Poplar, was charged, before Mr. Marsham at Bow-street on Tuesday, with assaulting Henry John Hinton, a wig dresser and super employed at the Coliseum. The prosecutor, whose head was bandaged, stated that at eleven o'clock on Saturday last he was in Bedfordbury, when the prisoner (who was formerly employed at the Coliseum) struck him two violent blows on the fact. One of his teeth fell out, and he was so badly injured that he had to be taken to Charing-cross Hospital. He had not quarrelled with the prisoner, and had done nothing to provoke him. Just as the prisoner struck him he said, "You have got two jobs; I'll give you three." He was told at the hospital that his jaw was broken. The prisoner said the prosecutor seized him by the shoulders and kicked him on the legs because he asked him a question about a bookmaker; but that was denied. The prisoner was remanded on bail.

"THE MAJOR'S DOUBLE."

A New Farcical Comedy, in Three Acts, by J. W. MacCabe, produced, for the first time on any stage, at the Theatre Royal, Belfast, on Monday, June 4.

Major Prendergast .....Mr. J. B. Gordon
Jack Jannaway .....Mr. Charles Hanbury
John Cockle .....Mr. Percy Marshall
Tim Blake .....Mr. James Danvers
Dick .....Mr. W. B. Frerar
Madge .....Miss Lilian Hallows
Daisy .....Miss Dorrie Roberts
Norah Sullivan .....Miss Eily Helene

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

The scene of this new farcical comedy is the morning-room of the Jannaways. When the curtain rises, we find that Mr. Jack Jannaway has, on the previous evening, while his wife was visiting, taken Mrs. Prendergast to supper, he having, before her marriage to the Major, been a suitor for her hand. A Mr. Cockle (uncle of Mrs. Jannaway)—who, by the way, bears a startling resemblance to Major Prendergast—happens to see Jack and Mr. Prendergast at supper, and next morning produces a handkerchief, with the name of Madge embroidered in one corner. He accuses Jack of meeting the lady, who, in reply, points out to Mr. Cockle the many little affairs of the heart that he had previously been engaged in. Mrs. Jannaway, who is always changing her servants, engages an Irish domestic, who is not long a member of the household before she introduces a former admirer in the person of one Tim Blake, of the Irish Guards, but whom Mrs. Jannaway at once consigns to the kitchen. Then Major and Mrs. Prendergast arrive on the scene. They are looking for a new house, and the Major, an irascible gentleman, is evidently very much annoyed with Mrs. Prendergast for stopping out late the previous evening, and hints that she met some male admirer. He produces a packet of letters which he has discovered signed by one "Jack," and states his intention of finding this gentleman, even if he has to search all London. The Major is informed that the house to let is next door to the Jannaways, and, after narrowly watching his wife's introduction to Jack, comes to the conclusion they have met before. It should be stated that in Mrs. Prendergast, Mrs. Jannaway discovers a former school friend. We now learn from Norah, the Irish servant, that one Tudor Plantagenet—a sobriquet of the amorous Mr. Cockle—had promised her marriage in Ireland, but had disappeared, and when she sees Major Prendergast, she believes him to be the individual in question, and, to his surprise and consternation, falls into his arms.

The second act is full of amusing complications, Norah being still in pursuit of the Major, while Mrs. Prendergast is naturally indignant at her husband's conduct. The real delinquent, Mr. Cockle, is unaware of what is going on, until he is informed that Norah, the new maid from Ireland, had mistaken the Major for her deceiver, and he then attempts to escape. He is also accused by the Major of being the "Jack" referred to in the packet of letters already mentioned. The second act is the best, being certainly very funny. In the third and concluding act the mystery is solved by the Major, who cross-examines Tim and Norah, when it is discovered that Mr. Cockle, who, as stated, resembles the Major so closely, has been the cause of all the trouble. Mr. Cockle settles the matter with the lady by a cheque for £200, and Jack, having confessed to the Major that he was the gentleman who took Mrs. Prendergast to supper, he is forgiven, and this brings the merry piece to an end.

Mr. MacCabe may be congratulated on the success of the comedy, which contains all the ingredients that make for success. The principals received a deserved call at the close of the second act. Mr. Chas. Hanbury was a capital Jack Jannaway; and Mr. J. B. Gordon played Major Prendergast excellently, being entirely free from exaggeration. Miss Eily Helene, with a delightful brogue, was a charming Norah Sullivan. Mr. James Danvers seemed hardly suited to the part of Tim Blake; but doubtless this clever comedian will make it funnier in time. Mr. Percy Marshall was the amorous John Cockle, and acted with spirit throughout; while we have nothing but praise for that charming actress, Miss Lilian Hallows, who so delightfully filled the rôle of Madge Prendergast. Miss Dorrie Roberts acted cleverly as Daisy Jannaway; and the part of an impossible page-boy Dick, was played by Mr. W. B. Frerar.

"THE GAMESTER."

Miniature Opera, in One Act, Written by Walter Grogan, Composed by Aiulf Hjovard, produced for the first time on any stage, at the Theatre Royal, Belfast, on Monday, June 4.

Angus .....Mr. Andrew Roy
Raphael .....Mr. Charles Cautley
Marjorie .....Miss Dorothy Southgate

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

The story of The Gamester, which is musically treated in the manner of grand opera, is laid in the time when George III. was King. Angus, the husband of Marjorie, has fallen a victim to the vice of gambling. This he has kept a secret from his wife, to whom he is devotedly attached. The scene opens with the discovery of Angus waiting for the advent of Raphael, who has played the part of tempter. Raphael was a former suitor of Marjorie's, and is still passionately attached to her. Angus, when interrupted in his preparations for gaming by the calling of his wife, pretends to be immersed in the writing of a book. Marjorie tries to raise him to a happier mood by reminding him of her song when they were first betrothed. It is Hallowe'en. She asks him to mull some wine that they may drink it together at midnight, and then leaves him, as she imagines, to continue his work. Raphael enters, and overcomes the weak scruples of Angus, who gives way to the enticements of the dice-box. At each throw he is beaten, until he has lost all. Raphael then suggests Marjorie as a stake. Angus is horrified at first; but, remembering that he has with him a phial of poison, consents. He loses. Almost dazed, he pours the poison into the wine he is preparing for his wife and himself. Marjorie enters, and Raphael explains that her husband has staked her, and that he, Raphael, has won. She calls on her husband to deny this; but, full of the impending tragedy, Angus only replies that the wine is poisoned. Marjorie handles the dice used by Raphael, and discovers they are loaded. She accuses Raphael, and he, finding that he is discovered, drinks the poisoned wine, and dies, as Angus and Marjorie, unheeding him, sing their love song. Presented in grand opera style, the little piece commanded a great success, the tuneful music being much admired. It runs for nearly an hour. The composer personally conducted. Mr. Andrew Roy's fine tenor voice was heard to much advantage, and he sang his music with fine dramatic power. Miss Dorothy Southgate's delightfully sweet soprano voice charmingly interpreted the music of the part of Marjorie. Miss Southgate sang the number, "Time of Roses," charmingly. Mr. Charles Cautley's baritone voice was fully equal to the music of the fiery Raphael, and he also made a favourable impression.

AMUSEMENTS IN AUSTRALIA.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

SYDNEY, May 1.—A Moorish Maid is a new comic opera, composed by Mr. Alfred Hill, whose former works, Hine Moa, Tapu, and Lady Dolly, were so successful when produced here. Mr. George Stephenson has strengthened his company by the addition of Miss Rosina Buckmann, a New Zealand soprano, Mr. Charles Abert (tenor), and Miss Mabelle Morgan. The other principals, Miss May Beatty, Miss May Garstang, Mr. Edward Lauri, Mr. Charles McNaughton, and the Bovis Brothers, are all in the cast. There are some capital comedy parts. The music is bright and sparkling, one item, "See o'er the mountains," sung by Miss Buckmann, evoking great applause. The book by Mr. J. Youlin Birch, of New Zealand, whence Mr. Alfred Hill also hails, is capitally written, and altogether an excellent result is obtained. The chorus is a fine one, and the orchestra, conducted by the composer, comprises many first-class musicians. Mr. Stephenson has mounted the new opera in his best style, and everything points to success and a long run.

The non-arrival of Mr. Reginald Roberts (tenor), owing to the San Francisco disaster, has compelled Mr. J. C. Williamson to postpone the production of The Little Michus, and The Orchid was revived on the 28th ult.

"Besieged in Port Arthur," with John Brunton's fine scenery, the military tableaux, complete mounting, and excellent acting by Mr. Bland Holt's company, obviates the necessity for any change at the Theatre Royal.

"The Fatal Wedding," fiercely attacked by all sections of the Press, is cramming the Criterion, to the satisfaction and profit of Messrs. Meynell and Gunn, and their manager, Mr. G. H. Barnes.

The Tivoli has Miss Marguerite Keller, Mr. Homer B. Mason, and Mr. Henry Travers, in a sketch called Hooked by Crook. Miss Alice Raymond, Slade Murray, Fanny Powers, Fred Bluett, and a host of other artists fill Mr. Harry Rickards' bill.

Miss Titiell Brune had her house and furniture entirely destroyed by the earthquake in San Francisco, a loss valued at £2,000.

The theatrical managers met on the 27th, and determined to erect a drinking fountain as a memorial to the late Robert Brough. The proposal has Mrs. Brough's approval, and subscriptions will be invited from the profession and the late actor-manager's many admirers.

The block bounded by Market, Castlereagh, and Elizabeth streets, and lately purchased from the Government by Horden Brothers, will be leased by Messrs. Bland Holt and William Anderson, who will build an up-to-date theatre thereon, to suit their elaborate productions. This is the very best site for a theatre in the city.

MELBOURNE, May 1. — Princess's Theatre (Lessee, Mr. William Anderson; Representative, Mr. G. V. Allen).—La Fille du Tambour Major will only run for another five nights. The opera has proved highly successful from a managerial point of view, the attendances throughout the season being large. Miss Addie Campbell as Stella and Mr. A. Rebottaro as Capitaine Robert have both scored pronounced successes, their singing and acting being exceedingly good. They are ably assisted by Mr. Edwin Lester as the short-sighted Duke, Mr. Quealy as Bambini, and Miss Maud Thornton as Griolet. The scenery and costumes are on a lavish scale, while the orchestral work is particularly good.

Her Majesty's Theatre (Lessee, Mr. J. C. Williamson; Manager, Mr. George Tallis).—Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall entered upon its third week on Saturday evening, the theatre being crowded in all parts. Miss Brune, as the beautiful, self-willed Dorothy, was again most enthusiastically received; Mr. Kingston and Mr. Mervale were highly successful as the rival suitors for Miss Dorothy's hand; Miss Susie Vaughan as Queen Elizabeth, Miss Ferguson as Mary Queen of Scots, and Miss Gleeson as Jenny Faxton, all did good work; while Mr. Maurice Dudley scored in the part of the crooked dwarf.

Opera House (Proprietor, Mr. Harry Rickards; Business-Manager, Mr. Fred Aydon).—There was not a vacant seat at this popular theatre on Saturday evening last. Notwithstanding the already strong bill at present provided for Opera House patrons, yet another novelty, in the shape of the Radium Dance was added to the programme on Saturday evening. The turn is a novel one, and was well received. The Miles-Stavordale Quintet played a number of new selections, which were enthusiastically encored; Martinetti and Grossi are as popular as ever; and Miss Nada Moret, the Carmos, Scottish Meisters, Miss Ella Wellington, Mr. Irving Sayles, and the rest of the company, contribute pleasing items.

Theatre Royal (Lessee, Mr. William Anderson; Business-Manager, Mr. Julius Grant).—The popularity of The Midnight Mail shows no signs of waning. The piece is already in its third week. The startling situations with which it is filled continue to draw crowded houses. One of the most sensational incidents in the play is the struggle on the engine of the midnight train.

Gaiety Theatre (Lessee, Mr. Frank Clark; Manager, Mr. Joe Solomons).—A complete change of programme was provided on Saturday evening by the Folly Company. A new biograph picture, entitled "The Hen that Lays the Golden Eggs," was shown; the Three Lazaras appeared in a clever acrobatic turn; while the rest of the company gave interesting turns.

At the Spa, Scarborough, Mr. Francis Goodricke, the manager, has inaugurated Sunday evening concerts from 8.30 to 10. The attraction has proved a huge success, and Mr. Chas. Godfrey is supplying an up-to-date and popular programme of music.

The series of drawings by C. E. Ritchie, exhibited at the Fine Art Society's galleries in New Bond-street during June, includes portraits of many stage favourites, among whom are Misses Irene Vanbrugh, Winifred Emery, Sybil Arundale, Kate Cutler, Ethel Matthews, Adrienne Augarde, and Beatrice Ferrar. Messrs. Lewis Waller and Granville Barker also figure in the exhibition.

A memorial tablet has been fixed at the house in the Speckstrasse in Hamburg, where Brahms was born, and was unveiled on May 7 (Brahms' birthday). The house in which the composer lived in Vienna is to come down, but will be re-built as a museum for the Brahms treasures.

The staff of the St. Helens Theatre held their thirteenth annual pic-nic on Whit-Sunday, the party, numbering about thirty, journeying by special saloon to Chester, where they arrived about 9.30. Before dinner the city walls and other places of interest were visited, and a large proportion attended the morning service at the cathedral. Dinner was laid at the well-known hostelry, "The Pied Bull Hotel," where the host (Mr. Hilton) provided a sumptuous menu. After dinner the toast of "The Theatre," coupled with the name of Mr. McLeod Loader, was drunk with acclamtion. The beautiful River Dee formed the chief attraction during the afternoon, and after a glorious day a start for home was made at 8.35, St. Helens being reached before eleven o'clock. The whole arrangements were carried out under the guidance of Mr. Jack Bradley, stage-manager and master-carpenter, to whom a hearty vote of thanks was passed on the journey home.

"The Era" can be obtained at the principal bookstalls throughout the provinces.

ON THE ROAD, JUNE 11.

After the Ball.—O. H., Tunbridge Wells.
Anderson's, Millar, Repr.—Llandudno.
At Duty's Call.—Theatre Royal, South Shields.
At the World's Mercy.—P. O. W., Nuneaton.
Benson, Mr. and Mrs. F. R.—Bedford and Luton.
Blind Foundling.—Grand T., Nottingham.
Boom of Big Ben.—West London Theatre.
Compton Comedy Co.—New Theatre, Oxford.
Dare-Devil Dorothy.—Aquarium, Great Yarmouth.
Dishonoured.—Alexandra T., Birmingham.
Face at the Window.—Theatre Royal, Bolton.
Facing the Music.—O. H., Cheltenham.
False Wife.—Theatre Royal, Bury.
For Life—and After.—T. R., Smethwick.
Go-Won-Go Mohawk.—Prince's T., Bradford.
Great Awakening.—Empire T., Oldham.
Great Wilderness.—Grand T., Fulham.
Her Lost Self.—Alexandra T., Hull.
Her Luck in London.—T. R., Chatham.
Her One Great Sin.—Grand T., Stalybridge.
Honour Thy Father.—Theatre Royal, Stockport.
Human Hearts.—Broadway T., Deptford.
I Defy the World.—Alexandra T., Birmingham.
In Holy Russia.—T. R., North Shields.
La Comedie Anglaise.—Ingleton.
Life of a Showman.—West London Theatre.
Little Bread-Winner.—T. R., Huddersfield.
London Fireman.—Court Theatre, Wigan.
Luck of Life.—Queen's T., Dublin.
Man's Enemy.—Theatre Royal, Stratford.
Manxman, The.—Theatre Royal, Cardiff.
Monte Cristo.—Junction T., Manchester.
New World, The.—Theatre Royal, Ashton.
Norman V. Norman.—Theatre Royal, Portsmouth.
No Wedding Bells for Her.—T. R., Jarrow.
Octoroon.—Theatre Royal, Barnsley.
Poor Must Live.—Star Theatre, Liverpool.
Power of Gold.—Alexandra T., Sheffield.
Prodigal Parson.—Rotunda T., Liverpool.
Rogue's Daughter.—Grand T., Newcastle.
Romany's Revenge.—P. O. W. Theatre, Salford.
Royal Divorce.—King's Theatre, Glasgow.
Royal Revenge.—County T., Kingston.
Sailors of the King.—Prince's Theatre, Poplar.
Sherlock Holmes.—Theatre Royal, Bradford.
Still Alarm.—Lyric Theatre, Hammersmith.
Throne of Terror.—Muncaster T., Bootle.
Traitor Prince.—Queen's T., Gateshead.
Two Hussars.—T. R., Merthyr.
Two Little Vagabonds.—Grand Theatre, Derby.
Uncle Tom's Cabin (Har.).—Prince's T., Bristol.
Under the Czar.—Royalty T., Chester.
Warner, Miss Grace.—Pier, St. Leonards.
Way of the World.—T .R., Leicester.
Woman's Past.—Prince's T., Portsmouth.
Woulfe, T. B.—P. O. W. Theatre, Mexboro'.
Youngest of the Three.—Theatre Royal, Dover.
10.30 Down Express.—Theatre Royal, Bristol.

STAGE STAFF GOSSIP.

The twelfth annual Theatrical Regatta took place on Sunday last, commencing at eleven o'clock a.m., the course being the Putney Mile. There was a considerable gathering of the members of the staffs of the Metropolitan theatres. The programme consisted of Challenge Fours, Rum-Tum Handicap, Pair-oared Race and Open Fours.

The officials were:—Umpire, S. Bowden, Esq. (Captain Putney Amateur Rowing Club); Distance Judges, H. Kelley (Daly's Theatre) and J. Marsland (assistant-secretary St. James's and Soho Rowing Club); Starter, J. Ryan (Drury-lane Theatre); Dressing-room Steward, A. Butcher (Covent Garden Theatre); Committee, J. Robinson (Grand Theatre, Fulham), F. Hemmings (Kennington Theatre), W. Roche (Adelphi), E. Wright (Apollo), W. Walters (Imperial), J. T. Sheridan (Waldorf), J. Ray (Gaiety), H. Mather (Duke of York's), W. White (Daly's), and J. Langham (Waldorf). Hon. Secretary, E. Callaghan (Apollo); Assistant-Secretary, R. Kinney (Grand Theatre, Fulham).

The results were as follows:—Challenge Fours, Heat 1.—New Theatre: A. Austin (bow), R. Barclay, A. Townsend, R. Forman (stroke), G. Bailey (cox), 1. Fulham Grand, No. 2 Crew: P. Lavender (bow), A. Spooner, W. Layton, J. Knott (stroke), W. Hall (cox), 2. A fine race, won by three-quarters of a length. Heat 2.—Kennington Theatre: T. Wheeler (bow), G. Hemmings, F. Hemmings, T. Ashterie (stroke), H. Skinner (cox), 1. Waldorf Theatre: J. Langham (bow), W. Brand, J. Sims, E. Willat (stroke), W. Brampton (cox), 2. Duke of York's Theatre: J. Mott (bow), T. Mack, E. Arnott, H. Mather (stroke), W. Smith (cox), 3. Won by two lengths, a quarter of a length between second and third. Heat 3.—Fulham Grand Theatre: No. 1 Crew, H. Moyse (bow), E. Dare, A. Runham, J. Robinson (stroke), J. Healey (cox), 1. Adelphi: W. Roche (bow), B. Walker, C. Delehaunt, W. Walker (stroke), A. Craige (cox), 2. Gaiety Theatre: R. Jenkins (bow), G. A. Poynton, J. Ray, C. H. Hodges (stroke), C. Hulton (cox), 3. Won by a length, a similar distance between second and third. The Gaiety Crew suffered a misfortune by their third man breaking his stretcher, an accident which undoubtedly lost them the race. Final Heat.—Grand, Fulham, 1; Kennington Theatre, 2; New Theatre, 3. Fulham led from off the Sons of the Thames R.C., and keeping their lead won by two lengths. About four lengths separated second and third.

Pairs.—Gaiety Theatre: J. Ray, C. H. Hodges (stroke), C. Hulton (cox), 1. Fulham Grand: A. Runham (bow), J. Robinson (stroke), J. Healy (cox), 2. Kennington Theatre: T. Wheeler (bow), T. Ashterie (stroke), H. Skinner (cox), 3. Won by two lengths.

Rum-Tum Handicap: E. Callaghan, 28secs., 1; H. Moyse, 4secs., 2; W. Walters, 17secs., 3; T. Ashterie, scratch, 0. The winner got well away, and won by two lengths, second and third being divided by a length.

Open Fours: J. Simms, P. Lavender, F. Hemmings, E. Wright (stroke), J. Langham (cox), 1. B. Walker, E. Willat, G. Hemmings, E. Dare (stroke), A. Whittaker (cox), 2. A. Spooner, C. Richards, F. Sinkins, W. Walters (stroke), W. Layton (cox), 3. Dare's Crew led to the London R.C. Boathouse, when Wright's Crew drew up and won a keen race by half-a-length, with a length and a half between second and third.

The prizes will be distributed on Sunday evening, June 17, in the Freemasons' Arms, Long Acre. The trophies and prizes are:—For Pairs, the Haymarket Challenge Cup, presented by Mr. Cyril Maude and Mr. Frederick Harrison, 1st prize, silver cigarette cases. Second, cruets. For House-to-House Fours: The Dewar Challenge Shield. First prize gold medals, presented by Mr. G. P. Huntley. Second prize, gold-centre medals. Rum-Tum Handicap: Silver Cup, to be won twice in succession, presented by Mr. Cyril Maude. 1st prize, marble clock; 2nd prize, jam-jars, presented by H. A. Lytton; 3rd prize, fruit dish, presented by E. H. Parr; 4th prize, pair of field-glasses. Open Fours: 1st prize, silver watches; 2nd prize, case of carvers.

Makes the Skin as Soft as Velvet.—Beetham's "Larola" preserves the Skin from the effects of the sun, winds, and hard water. Entirely removes and prevents all roughness, redness, irritation, tan, &c., and Keeps the Skin Soft, Smooth, and White at all Seasons. Invaluable for the Complexion, Delightfully Cooling and Refreshing after walking, golfing, cycling, motoring, boating, &c. Gentlemen will find it wonderfully soothing if applied after shaving. Bottles, 1s., 1s. 9d., and 2s. 6d. each, of all Chemists and Stores. M. Beetham and Son, Cheltenham.—[Advt.]

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

A. WILLIAMS.—The cast of the drama by J. B. Johnstone, entitled The Devil of Paris, produced at the Surrey Theatre, March 4, 1861, is as follows: Marcel, Mr. Fernandez; Dr. Moncano, Mr. Creswick; Pilati, Mr. C. Rice; Jerome, Mr. R. Norman; Julie, Miss Page; the Baroness de Clercy, Miss Forrester.

GEO. B. ROUTLEDGE.—A copy of the picture, with song, can be obtained of B. Feldman and Co., 2 and 3, Arthur-street, New Oxford-street, London, price one shilling.

R. DUN.—The Frozen Deep was produced at the Olympia Theatre on Oct. 27, 1866, with the following cast:—Richard Wardour, H. Neville, Frank Aldersley, H. J. Montagu, Lieut. Crayford, H. Wigan, John Want, Dominick Murray, Clara Vernon, Lydia Foote, Lucy Crayford, Mrs. St. John, Mrs. Steventon, Miss Amy Sheridan, and Rose Ebsworth, Miss Alliston.

WHERE DID YOU?—"Where did you lose your arm?" was sung by the late G. H. Macdermott. As far as we know, he was the first to introduce the song to the public.

M.H.H.—We cannot say. Write to S. French, theatrical publisher, Southampton-street, Strand, London.

J. MCLAREN.—A copy of every new piece intended to be produced must be forwarded for licencee to the Examiner of Plays seven clear days before the production. The fee charged is at the rate of one guinea per act.

JUNIUS.—Christopher Marlowe was born in 1564 at Canterbury, and was educated in the King's school of that city. He was sent as a pensioner to Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, and took his M.A. degree in 1587. At a subsequent date he was attached as dramatist to one of the theatrical companies belonging to the Earl of Nottingham, by whom his plays were produced. His tragedy, Faustus, appeared in 1588, and The Jew of Malta shortly after. Edward II. was Marlowe's first English historical drama. He met his death in a drunken brawl when little more than twenty-nine years old.

A. B.—When Othello was revived at the Lyceum Theatre on Feb. 14, 1876, the cast was as follows:—Othello, Mr. Henry Irving; Duke, Mr. Collett; Brabantio, Mr. Mead; Roderigo, Mr. Carton; Gratiano, Mr. Huntley; Lodovico, Mr. Archer; Cassio, Mr. Brooke; Iago, Mr. Forrester; Montano, Mr. Beaumont; Antonio, Mr. Sargent; Julio, Mr. Tapping; Marco, Mr. Harwood; Paulo, Mr. Butler; Desdemona, Miss Isabel Bateman; Emilia, Miss Bateman (Mrs. Crowe).

CRICKET.

The following is the official balance-sheet of the London Actors v. Provincial Actors Cricket Match, which took place at the Oval in the summer of 1905:

RECEIPTS.

	£ s. d.	£ s. d
In hand from 1904 match	1 14 3
Received after last balance from 1904 match	2 17 0
		4 11 3
Gate money		10 3 6
Books of Tickets:—
Per C. A. Smith: C. A. Smith, 23s.; K. Douglas, 27s.; A. Crook, 9s.; L. Grossmith, 5s.; H. Nye Chart, 52s.; A. G. Stacey, 18s.; S. Dixon, 12s.; J. Beckett, 26s.; S. A. Mussabini, 5s.; F. and Miss Stayton, 25s.; V. O'Connor, 10s.; F. Stoner, 16s.; A. McC. Stewart, 9s.; C. Brook, 11s.; B. Egerton, 11s.; D. Macrae, 20s.; Miss E. Craig, 8s.; R. Denbigh, 25s.; L. Owen, 23s.; E. Jones, 4s.; R. Evett, 13s.; A. E. Drinkwater, 19s.; W. R. Staveley, 5s.; J. Mackay, 9s.; W. Devereux, 54s.; C. Rock, 5s.; Miss A. Webster, 18s.; T. Homewood, 12s.; N. V. Norman, 5s.; W. H. Bright, 6s.; C. Kennard, 50s.; Miss C. Lee, 14s.; S. Barraclough, 5s.; J. Blakeley, 25s.; S. Trevor, 13s.; A. S. Homewood, 5s.; J. S. Hughes, 12s.; H. Mackay, 33s.; L. Lillies, 32s.; Bassett Roe, 5s.; P. Jackson, 9s.; J. F. Crauford, 10s.; P. Knox, 3s.; Miss L. Fairfax, 2s.; C. Macdona, 25s.; J. H. Barnes, 25s.; Miss D. Hole, 17s.; C. H. Coffin, 39s.; C. Barth, 3s.; W. A. May, 13s.; J. Royce, 18s.	45 3 0
Per H. R. Kimpton: Green Room Club, 1s.; C. Hawtrey, 25s.; M. Leveaux, 25s.; C. Cruikshanks, 9s.; H. Nye Chart, 23s.; A. Brydone, 2s.; Books, 60, 101/4, 106/9, 117/8, 120/3, 127/37, 139/50, 176/86, 183s.	13 8 0
Per C. I. Coltson	2 6 0
Per Arthur Whittaker	0 16 0
Per Oscar Asche	1 1 0
		62 14 0
Donations		7 4 0
		£84 12 9

EXPENDITURE.

	£ s. d.	£ s. d
Expenses at Oval		5 6 6
Per C. A. Smith: Parcels....	0 1 2
Rosettes	0 8 2
Ticket-books (Miles, printer)	6 10 0
Band (Mr. Jesson).....	4 10 0
Typing	0 5 0
Correspondence	1 10 0
Per Talbot Homewood	0 6 0
		13 10 4
Per H. R. Kimpton: Bouquet..	0 15 0
Newspaper advts., boardsmen, stationery, bill-posting, 12,000 throwaways, stamps, messengers, telegrams, cabs, 'busses, &c.....	10 0 0
		10 15 0
Dec. 6. Cheque to Actors' Orphanage Fund	12 10 0
Dec. 6. Cheque to Actors' Benevolent Fund	37 10 0
		50 0 0
Cash in hand:
C. I. Coltson	2 6 0
C. A. Smith	1 13 11
Oscar Asche	1 1 0
		5 0 11
		£84 12 9

SORE THROAT OR HOARSENESS

CURED IN A FEW HOURS.

Sir Morell Mackenzie, M.D., the Eminent Throat Specialist, constantly recommended Condy's Remedial Fluid to be diluted and used as a Gargle for speedily curing Sore Throat or Hoarseness.

Dr. Walford Harris, in his book entitled "The Throat and its Treatment," says: "I have found the 'Condy' and cold water gargle excellent, many cases being cured immediately."

The late Mr. Sims Reeves, the world-famed Tenor Vocalist, wrote: "'Condy' used as a Gargle clears the voice and braces up the uvula."

Condy's Remedial Fluid, sold by all Chemists at 1s. 1½d. CAUTION.—Insist on having "Condy's."

"THE ERA" LETTER-BOX.

A Stamped Envelope, plainly addressed, must be enclosed with application for each Letter. Letters, after lying at this Office for One Month, are forwarded to the Postal Authorities, to be returned to the Senders.

No Circulars or Parcels admitted to this List.

Adeson, Miss Edith
Alexander, Mr. Gerald
Allnutt, Mr. E.
Allison's, M.
Ardale, Mr. Leonard
Baldry, Mr. H
Balleni, Mr. H
Baptiste, Mr. Alfred
Barnes, Mr. Chas.
Barrie, Mr. Cecil
Barry, Mr. Nelson
Beaumont, Miss Agnes
Bergeran, Mr. T. C.
Bohee, Mr. G.
Biddall, Bros.
Billing, Mrs. H. C.
Bon-Bon, Mr. Harry
Borie, Mr. H. O.
Boucicault, Miss N.
Boulton, Mr. M.
Branscombe, Mr. A.
Brown, Mr. Thomas
Bryne, Mr. Geo.
Byrne, Mr. T.
Buss, Mr. Harry
Butler, Mr. Pearce
Caban, Mr. C.
Caddick, Mr. B.
Callan, Mr. John
Caritra, Mr. Stanley
Carr, Mr. Harry P.
Carte, Mr. Chas.
Cartwright, Mr. Chas.
Cavallotti Bros.
Cavanagh, Mr. James
Cedric, Mr. A.
Challis, Miss F.
Chante
Chipperfield, Miss C.
Chipperfield, Mr.
Claydon, Mr. Sidney
Coda, Mr. H. B.
Collins, Miss Lottie
Conn and Conrad
Conway, Mr. Martin
Cordite and Buffalo
Coral, Miss Ada
Cottrell, Mr. J.
Cumberlands, The Five
Dallas, Mr. Henry
D'Alroy, Miss Evelyn
Dagmar, Mr. James M.
Dancks, Miss M.
Dare, Mr. Eric
Darc's Marionettes
Davis, Miss Belle
Denelvo, Mr. R.
Dickenson, Prof.
Dillon, Miss Isabelle
Elgardo, Mr. Z.
Elton, Mr. Sam
Elton and Edwin, Messrs
Etherdo, Miss Adell
Fairburn, Mr. Geo.
Fane, Mr. Mansel
Farrell, Mr. Billy
Fergusson, Miss Maude
Ferriss, Mr. Edward
Fisher, Mr. Chas.
Forrest, Mrs. Edgar
Franklyn, Mr. Conrad
Frank's Midget
Firth, Mr. Harry
Gard, Mr. C.
Gilchrist, Miss Gladys
Gilmore, Mr. Harry
Glenister, Mr. Lionel
Glenny, Mr. Chas.
Godfrey, Miss Violet
Godfrey, Mr. Sidney
Goldsmith, Mr.
Graham, Miss Bertha
Gray, Miss Winifred
Graydon, Mr. Ned
Greybrooke, Miss Ethel
Grovini, Mr. James
Halma, Mr.
Hanlon and Bishop
Harris, Mr. Wm. T.
Harrison, Mr. F.
Hemelsoët, Mons. Louis
Hoban, Mr. Stanley
Holme, Miss Vera
Hylton, Mr. Robert
Ishmail, Mr. P.
Jackson, Miss Annie
Jackson, Miss Margaret
Jackson, Miss Beatrice
Jackson, Mr. Jim
Jones, Miss Alfreda
Jones, Mr. J. N.
Jtonye, Marquis
Justin, Mr. J.
Karmanns, The Kasper, Mr. Harry
Keddle, Mr. H. B.
Kendal, Mr. W. H.
Latham, Mr. Norman
Lawton, Mr. Frank
Lazern, Mrs.
Lee, Mr. Smiler
Leedam, Mr. A. Stanley
Leoni and Leighton
Leotard Bros.
Letters, Mr. Will
Levaine, Mr. Harry
Lewis, Mr. Edward
Lewis, Mr. Fred
Lillian, Mlle.
Linwood, Mr. Lance
Lotto, Mr. Alfred
Lukos, Mr. Allx
Lukushima Troupe
Lyons Trio
Lytton, Miss Ruth
Mack, Mr. John J.
Magrath, Mr. Chas.
Martin and Ridgway
Mason, Mr.
Matthews, Mr.
Mayer, Mr. Fred
McNaughtons, The Merileese, Miss Jessie
Mineta, Mr. H.
Moore, Miss Carrie
Morris, Mrs.
Mowbray, Mr. Gerald
Negretti, Miss Ethel
Nelldon, Mr. Tom
Newrey, Mr. James
Noel, Miss Maude
Norbury, Mr. Tom
Nugent, Mr. T. R.
Oliver, Mr. Joe
Olrac, Mr. J.
Ongar, Mr. D.
O'Toole, Mr. Dave
Palmer, Miss Minnie
Patey, Miss Lola
Payne, Mr. W.
Pease, Mr. Sidney T.
Phydora, Mr. C.
Pierri, Mr. Antonio
Prinz's Lions
Pringle, Mr. Ralph
Rastus and Banks
Rawson, Mr. T. W.
Reddish, Prof
Reeves, Mr. George
Reilly, Mr. James A.
Richards, Mrs. J. W
Richards, Mr. Sam
Richardson, Mr. J. F.
Rochesters, The
Rolfe, Mr. Alfred
Rosamond Sisters
Rowland, Capt.
Russell, Mr. Harry
Russell, Mr. Scott
Scherck, Herr
Scott, Great
Scott, Mr. C. Wilkinson
Searle, Mr G. S.
Seeley, Miss Mabel
Shelley, Miss Bessie
Sheldon, Mr. George
Siegenberg, Miss Lottie
Sitherland, Mr. Harry
Slater, Mdme. R.
Sleedes, Mr. Bobb
Smithson, Mr. Frank
Spencer, Mr. Austin
Stanhope, Mr. Percy
Stanefield, Mrs. E.
Stapley, Mr. M.
Stewart, Mr. H. H.
Sullivan, Mr. J. E.
Tait, Mr. David
Taylor, Capt. Joe
Tearle, Mr. Godfrey
Tomps and Wells
Trevosper, Miss M.
Van Blene, Mr. A.
Vasco
Vio, Mr. S.
Vowles and Bryan
Wadbrook, Mr.
Wallis, Mr. Claude
Warlocks, The Ward, Miss Sadie
Watanabe, Mr. S.
Whayman, Mr
White, Miss Kitty
Whiteman, Mr. Harry
Whitman, Mr. H.
Wilson, Mr. F.
Winskill, Mr. Eric
Wyndham, Mr. Albert

BIRTHS, MARRIAGES, & DEATHS.

The charge for inserting in "The Era" an announcement of a Birth or Death or an "In Memoriam" notice, not exceeding twenty-four words, is One Shilling and Sixpence, every additional word One Penny.

The charge for a notice of Marriage, not exceeding forty words, is Two Shillings and Sixpence, every additional word One Penny.

As a guarantee of good faith, the name and address of the sender must accompany each notice.

BIRTHS.

BAYNTON.—On June 1, at 28, Wicklow-street Dublin, the wife of H. J. Baynton, of a son.

HILLIARY.—On Whit-Monday (first wedding anniversary), the wife of E. J. Hilliary (song-writer), of 38, King David-lane, London, E. A fine boy.

MARRIAGES.

ARTHUR—CADMAN.—On 6th inst., at St. Martin's, Trafalgar-square, Donald Arthur, of 434, Strand, and Ethel Cadman, of Winchmore Hill, London.

DEATHS.

DEETS.—May 14, at Los Angeles, California, of consumption, Harry Deets, variety artist (of Deets and Don), late of the Moore and Burgess Minstrels.

HARCOURT.—Norman Phillip Harcourt, youngest son of the late Fred Harcourt and Lilian Warren, aged one year, who fell asleep June 5, and was laid to rest by the side of his dear father, June 7, at Crumpsall Cemetery, Manchester. Sleep on, dear loved ones, until we meet. Never forgotten.

MILES.—May 31, at his residence, 9, Sandyland street, Wisbech, Edward Miles, retired actor, aged 92.

PINDER.—On the 4th inst., William Olman Pinder, Directeur Cirque Pinder Frères, France, and son of William Pinder, retired cirque proprietor. Age 38. Interred at Orange, France.

PINDER.—At the Hospice, Orange, France, on June 4, William Olman Pinder, circus proprietor. Aged 38 years. Eternal rest.

IN MEMORIAM.

GOURIET.—In ever-loving memory of our darling sister Maggie Crossland Gouriet, who passed away June 8, 1904. Never forgotten by her loving sisters, Maud and Lottie Crossland.

MR. WILL SUMMERSON AND MR. GEO. BERNARD commenced their season on Saturday at Teignmouth, Devon. They are running two troupes, on original lines, and a successful season is assured.

MR. WILTON J. SELBY, who, for the last twelve months, has played the part of Tadwell Teague, in the farcical sketch Barmaids, has been ordered complete rest by his medical adviser, and has, in consequence, to cancel his engagements.

A COPY OF "THE ERA" will be forwarded to any address in the United Kingdom for six stamps. The Era is posted on Saturday in time to reach London Subscribers by the first Town Delivery, and Country Subscribers should receive their Papers by the first London Post. Address, the PUBLISHER, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.

BUREAU DE CHANGE

SPECIALLY RECOMMENDED. HANDS and CO., 16, STRAND, CHARING-CROSS RAILWAY STATION, LONDON, W.C.

"I'll swear upon that bottle."—TEMPEST, Act ii.; Scene ii.

WHITBREAD'S BOTTLED BEERS

maintain their popularity because they are brought into condition by

MATURING IN BOTTLE,

the Natural method,

without the aid of carbonating or other artificial process.

The largest Beer Bottlers in the World.

APPLY TO CHIEF OFFICES,

BRITANNIA ST., KING'S CROSS, LONDON, W.C.

(Telephone No. 386 North. Telegraphic Address, "Beerseller, London.")

FOR NAME OF NEAREST AGENT.

PLASMON

A concentrated nutrient containing all the necessary elements for renewing muscle, brain, and nerves

ROWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL

FOR THE HAIR.

Preserves, Nourishes, and Beautifies it. Provides the necessary nourishment for it without which the hair becomes dry, thin, and withered.

GOLDEN COLOUR FOR FAIR HAIR.

3/6, 7/-, 10/6, of Stores & Chemists

THE FEET.—Nails a Speciality.

ALL DISEASES OF THE FEET Successfully Treated without pain by Gardner and Rendall, Chiropodists and Foot Specialists, 83, Regent-street, London, W. Highest Surgical Testimonial (Sir WILLIAM JENNER, &c.). Also Testimonials from the Prime Minister, Bishop of London, H.R.H. Prince Christian, &c. CORN, BUNION, CHILBLAIN, and RHEUMATIC OINTMENT absolutely cures Gouty and all Painful affections of Tender Feet, Soft Corns, Stiff and Enlarged Toes and Joints, Rheumatism, Piles, &c.

Post Free, 14 stamps.

SHAFTESBURY

LIVERY STABLES,

25a, LISLE-ST., W.

(Close to Hippodrome and Leicester-square.)

HORSES FOR THEATRICAL ENTERTAINMENTS A SPECIALTY.

Hacks and Job Horses on Hire. Lessons given. Apply to Manager. Telephone 11,106 Central.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES.

For Sustaining the Voice.
Invaluable for ACTORS and SINGERS.
Indispensable for PUBLIC SPEAKERS.

GENTLEMEN,—For sudden affections of the Bronchial Organs I use and most cheerfully recommend "Brown's Troches." They are regarded as most eligible, convenient and indispensable by numerous artists of my acquaintance, BOTH IN EUROPE AND AMERICA. They seem to act specially on the organs of the voice, and produce a clear enunciation.—Yours truly (Signed), MARIE ROZE MAPLESON.

SOLD EVERYWHERE AT 1/1½ PER BOX.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

Each Bottle of this well-known Remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, NEURALGIA, TOOTHACHE, DIARRHŒA, SPASMS, &c.,

BEARS ON THE STAMP THE NAME OF THE INVENTOR,

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE

Numerous Testimonials from Eminent Physicians accompany each Bottle.

Sold in Bottles by all Chemists at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d. each.

PATENT

PATENT RUBBER CUSHION BUTTON

THE New Velvet Grip

STOCKING SUPPORTERS.

The only "GRIP" that "GRIPS" Securely without Injury to the Hose

No. 86, Plain Silk Elastic, 2 Gripe, Pin or Loop Top .. .. ..1/7 pair
" 10, Frilled Silk Elastic, 1 Grip, Safety Pin Top .. .. ..1/6 "
" 40, Frilled Silk Elastic, 2 Gripe, New Clip Top .. .. ..2/6 " GENTS' BOSTON GARTERS, for Supporting the Socks, Cotton 1/- "
" " " " " " Silk 2/- "

Postage 1d. Pair Extra

Ladies obtain from PETER ROBINSON, Ltd., Regent-street, W. WM. WHITELEY, Ltd., Westbourne-grove, W.

Gents obtain from PALFREY & BOWEN, 55 & 143, Strand, WC. T. M. LEWIN, 13, Jermyn-street, W.

THE MISTAKE MADE IN FURNISHING

is in having no settled plan, no fixed idea of exactly what will be required, down to the minutest detail in every room, and the exact cost. If you would furnish in STYLE, and yet with ECONOMY, you should secure the HACKNEY FURNISHING CO.'S an illustrated volume that has helped thousands, together with Prospectus of our famed "MODEL" SYSTEM, testimonials, &c.

GUIDE AND CATALOGUE,

POST FREE.

CAUTION.—Please note HACKNEY FURNISHING CO., LTD., Painted over the Premises before entering. We are compelled to notify this.

HACKNEY Furnishing Co., Ltd.

CASH BARGAINS OR EASY TERMS.

GENERAL TERMS. Worth.	Per Month.
£10	£0 6 0
20	0 11 0
30	0 17 0
40	1 5 0
50	1 8 0
100	2 5 0
200	4 10 0
500	11 5 0
and pro rata.

Special Facilities for Members of the Dramatic and Music Hall Professions.

10 per cent. Discount for Cash.

Carpets, &c., laid free.

No Deposit Required.

TOWN HALL BUILDINGS, MARE STREET, HACKNEY, N.E., AND THE GROVE, ADJOINING.

Hours, 9 till 9; Thursdays close 4. Telegrams: "Furniments London." Tele.: 84 Dalston and 854. North Country orders packed free and carriage paid. OPEN SATURDAYS until a LATE HOUR. A. M. STEWART, Managing Director.

DINNEFORD'S MAGNESIA.

The Best Remedy for Acidity of the Stomach Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and Indigestion. A Safe and most effective Aperient for regular use.

A COMPLETE FOOD FOR THE ROBUST OR INVALID.

'Allenburys' DIET

A pancreatised Milk and Wheaten Food most easy of assimilation. Prepared in a minute by the addition of boiling water only. It is an ideal diet for the Dyspeptic and the Aged, and is invaluable in the sick-room.

In Tins at 1/6 and 3/- of Chemists, &c. A large sample for 3 penny stamps.

ALLEN & HANBURYS, Ltd., 37, Lombard-street, LONDON.

The "Allenburys" DIET is a food for Adults, and is quite distinct from the well-known "Allenburys" Foods for Infants.

PASTA MACK

A DELIGHTFUL NECESSITY FOR BATH & TOILET.

PASTA MACK is made in perfumed Tablets. Sparkling and Effervescent when placed in the water. Beautifies the complexion, softens the water, and yields a most delicious perfume to the skin. In elegant boxes at 2/6 and 1/-.

PASTA MACK SOAP. A perfect hygienic Soap. Quality unique. Lovely perfume. To be had of all Chemists and Perfumers in boxes of Three Tablets, 2/6; Single Tablets, 10d. each.

Sole Maker, H. MACK, ULM, S/D. Wholesale Depot: 31-32, SNOW HILL, LONDON, E.C.

BIRKBECK BANK

ESTABLISHED 1851.

CURRENT ACCOUNTS.—TWO PER CENT. Interest allowed on Minimum Monthly Balances when not drawn below £100.

DEPOSITS.—TWO-AND-A-HALF PER CENT. Interest allowed on Deposit Accounts.

ADVANCES MADE. STOCKS AND SHARES Bought and Sold.

Apply, C. F. RAVENSCROFT, Secretary, Southampton-buildings, HIGH HOLBORN, W.C.

ACCIDENTS OF ALL KINDS, SICKNESS, EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY, BURGLARY, and FIDELITY GUARANTEE RISKS Insured against by the RAILWAY PASSENGER'S ASSURANCE CO. Capital (fully subscribed) £1,000,000. Claims paid, £5,000,000. 64, CORNHILL, LONDON. A. VIAN, Secretary.

TYPEWRITING.

MRS. MARSHALL, 126, STRAND, W.C. PROMPT BOOKS and ACTORS' PARTS. TRANSLATIONS FROM and INTO ALL LANGUAGES. ADAPTATIONS of FRENCH and GERMAN PLAYS UNDERTAKEN. SHORTHAND DICTATION in FRENCH or ENGLISH. REFERENCES to MANY LEADING AUTHORS and MANAGERS.

LONDON THEATRES.

HIS MAJESTY'S. MR. TREE.
Every Evening, at 8,

COLONEL NEWCOME,
by Michael Morton.
Adapted from Thackeray's "The Newcomes."

Colonel Newcome, Mr. TREE.
Matinée Every Wednesday, at 2.15.
Box Office (Mr. Watts), 10 to 10. - Tel., 1777 Gerrard.

GAIETY THEATRE.
Manager, Mr. GEORGE EDWARDES.

Every Evening at 8 (doors open 7.40).

The Successful Musical Play,

THE NEW SPRING CHICKEN,

Box Office open from 10.0 till 10.0.

ST. JAMES'S.
GEORGE ALEXANDER.
To-night and Every Evening at 8.15, sharp.
In a New Comedy,
HIS HOUSE IN ORDER, by A. W. Pinero.
Mr. George Alexander,
Miss Irene Vanbrugh.

Matinée, Every Wednesday and Saturday, at 2.
Box Office, 10 to 10. Tel. 3903 Gerrard.

GARRICK. — MR. ARTHUR BOURCHIER, in Two Plays. At 8 in THE THIRD TIME OF ASKING. At 8.40, with Miss VIOLET VANBRUGH,
in
THE FASCINATING MR. VANDERVELDT.
by Alfred Sutro.
Presented by Mr. Bourchier and Mr. Charles Frohman. Matinées Wednesday and Saturday, at 2.

DALY'S THEATRE.
Produced by
Mr. GEORGE EDWARDES.
THE LITTLE MICHUS,
To-day at 2.30 and 8.30,
Last Two Performances.

On Thursday next, and Every Evening, and Matinée Every Saturday.
THE GEISHA.

COMEDY THEATRE.
Sole Lessee, Mr. ARTHUR CHUDLEIGH.
Under the Management of Mr. Arthur Chudleigh.
Every Evening at 8.30.
CHARLES FROHMAN presents
RAFFLES,
THE AMATEUR CRACKSMAN,
a Play, in Four Acts,
by E. W. Hornung and Eugene W. Presbrey.
Matinée, every Saturday, at 2.30.

NEW ROYALTY THEATRE,
Dean-street, W.

Friday Afternoon, June 29, SAMUEL ARTHUR KING, M.A., Shakespearean Reciter, Teacher of Elocution in the leading Universities of America, and WILLIAM POEL'S Half-hour Dialogues, "Mamma's Opinions" and "Love and Half-pence."

KING'S THEATRE, W.
'Phone, 119 HAMMERSMITH. Owner and Resident-Manager, J. B. MULHOLLAND.
Communications re dates at the MARLBOROUGH THEATRE,
address MR. MULHOLLAND.
"THE NEW MAGDALEN."—To Let, for Special Weeks, Stock or Tour, address King's Theatre, W.

MARLBOROUGH THEATRE.
Managing Directors,
Mr. ERNEST STEVENS and Mr. R. C. BUCHANAN.
This week, "OLIVER TWIST."
All communications re Dates, to Mr. J. B. MULHOLLAND, King's Theatre, Hammersmith, W. All other communications to Messrs. STEVENS and BUCHANAN, Marlborough Theatre, N.
'Phone, 131 North.

WOOLWICH.—GRAND THEATRE.
The Premier Theatre of S.E. London.
Proprietor & Manager, Mr. CLARENCE SOUNES.
Monday, June 11,
"DRAMA OF LIFE."
Matinée, Thursday, at 2.30.
Vacant Oct. 15, Nov. 5, Dec. 10.
Big First-class No. 1 Attractions only.
Add., Prince's Theatre, Poplar, London, E.

POPLAR. NEW PRINCE'S THEATRE.
The Premier Theatre of East London.
Proprietor & Manager, Mr. CLARENCE SOUNES.
Monday, June 11,
"SAILORS OF THE KING."
Matinée, Thursday, at 2.30.
Now Booking 1907.
First-Class No. 1 Attractions only. Tele., 64 East.
Add., Prince's Theatre., Poplar, London, E.

ROYAL COUNTY THEATRE,
KINGSTON-ON-THAMES.
Managing Director, Mr. PETER DAVEY.
Monday, June 11, one week,
"A ROYAL REVENGE."
Tel., "Theatre, Kingston." 'Phone, 58, Kingston.

ROYAL WEST LONDON THEATRE,
CHURCH-STREET, EDGWARE-ROAD, W.

June 11, "THE LIFE OF A SHOWMAN."

June 18, "How London Lives."

Doors open 7.30. Commence 8.0.
Saturdays 7.15.
Popular Prices. Telephone, 2,247, Mayfair.

LONDON MUSIC HALLS.

NEW BEDFORD PALACE OF VARIETIES (Ltd.), CAMDEN-TOWN, N.W.
Mr. A. F. LOVESEY, Manager.
Twice Nightly, at 6.10 and 9.10.
Next week, June 11,
Norton and Russell, Charles Somers, Sisters Melba, Wee George Wood, Jessica Grace, Frank Elliston and Co., in "Aunt Matilda," Five Durants, Stanley's Urchins, Madame Du Roche, Ruffell's Bioscope, May Henderson.
All Artists are notified that they must send their full bill matter in two clear weeks before opening. Rehearsal, 1.0 o'clock, Mondays. All artists engaged must attend. Artists not complying with the above rules are subject to having their contracts cancelled at the option of the Management.

ROYAL STANDARD MUSIC HALL (facing Victoria Station). Proprietor and Manager, Mr. T. S. DICKIE. One House Nightly.
Monday, June 11.—T. E. Dunville, Marguerite Broadfoote, Peggy Pryde, Llewellyn Trio in "Two Wicked Maids," Lade Henderson, Gertie Gitana, Rundell and Crichton, Grant and Allen, G. H. Orlebar, Ted Young, Mabelle May, Neil Hardy, Sadie Seymour, Edison.
Doors open 7.30 (Saturdays 7 o'clock). Rehearsal, Monday, 1 o'clock. Assist.-Manager, Mr. M. Volny.

HAMMERSMITH PALACE.
Proprietor, J. C. COE.
Monday, June 11.—Ten Loonies, Herbert La Martine, Gertie Gitana, The Maples, Elsa Joel Cul Pitt, Karno Trio, King and Benson, Percival and Morley, Charles Lilburn, Marriott Edgar, Ferris and Picton, The Edisonograph, Harry Tate.

Telephone, 106, Hammersmith.
Manager, LEWIS VINCENT.

ROYAL ALBERT MUSIC HALL,
Victoria Dock-road (opposite Canning Town Railway Station). Proprietor and Manager, Mr. CHARLES RELF, sen.; Chairman, Mr. Walter Leaver; Musical-Director, Mr. R. A. Howell. Monday, June 11. Lew Lake's Combination, Truro and West, Les Henri, Bros. Obo, Sisters Brand, Bros. Brooks, Lottie Bray, Alf Tate, Walter Payne's Bio-Photoscope, Amy Ellis's Sketch Co., including J. H. Brownson, "Justice," by J. Bee, author of "The Workman's Dream," "A Tiger's Claw," "A Daughter of Judas," &c., &c. In three scenes.
Popular prices, from 3d. to 1s. 6d.

LONDON MUSIC HALLS.

ALHAMBRA.
New Ballet, "L'AMOUR." Premiere Danseuse, Signorina MARIA BORDIN.
Varieies by Le Roy, Talma, and Bosco, Les Ados, Dayton Family, Musical Johnstons, Keen and Waller, Urbanora, "The Derby," "Marriage Fêtes at Madrid," "The Destruction of San Francisco," &c., "PARISIANA" BALLET.
Manager, Mr. GEORGE SCOTT.

EMPIRE. COPPELIA.
(Leicester-square.)
New Ballet, Mdlle. Adeline Genée, Première Danseuse.
ARTHUR PRINCE, World's Greatest Ventriloquist, "Venus, 1906," Morris Cronin and Troupe, R. H. Douglass, The Australian Quartette, Wylie's Circus, Ludwig Amann, Bros. Martine, Biograph, &c. Every Evening at 8.
Manager, Mr. H. J. HITCHINS.

PALACE.
Guerrero, Rose Stahl, Matthews and Ashley, Les Trombetta, &c., the Royal Wedding, Derby, H.M.S. Montagu, Polo, &c., on the Bioscope.
Every evening, at 8 (doors 7.45).
Special Priced Matinée Every Saturday, at 2.
Manager, MR. ALFRED BUTT.

THE OXFORD.
Vesta Victoria, Geo. Bastow, King and Benson, Dan Crawley, Madge Vincent, Sam Mayo, Harriett Vernon, Tom Costello, Drawee, Mayme Gehrue, Millie Lindon, Laurie's Juveniles, Borghetti Troupe, Will Van Allen, Billee Barlow, and "The King of Sahara" Burlesque Sketch.
Open 7.35.
Manager, Mr. ALBERT GILMER.
Saturday Matinées at 2.15.

THE TIVOLI,
Strand, W.C.—Wilkie Bard, Harry Tate and Co., "Fishing"; George Robey, John Ford, Victoria Monks, Edie King, the Anartos, Fred Russell, Will Evans, Gus Elen, Tom Fay and Co., George Bastow, Edith Helena, Doody and Wright, Vesta Victoria.
Manager, JOSEPH WILSON.
Open 7.30.
Saturday Matinées (Reduced Prices), 2.15.

CANTERBURY.
Special and Exclusive Surrey Side Engagement of the popular comedian, Wilkie Bard, Lily Burnand, Tom Leamore, Carrie Laurie and Juveniles, John Ford (from America), the World's Champion Step Dancer, Rex Fox, James Stewart, Herr Rousbey's Electrical Review, "Round Paris," George Bastow, Rachel Lowe, Howe and Ardie, Sam Mayo, Fred Karno's Co. of Comedians, in a New and Original Production, entitled "The Smoking Concert." Doors open 7.10. Performance commences at 7.30. Telephone, 726 Hop.

PARAGON,
Mile End-road, E.—Herbert Shelley as "The Outlaw," Vesta Victoria, Will Evans, Harvey Boys, Tom Leamore, Bertha Winder, The Imperial Bioscope, Lilian Lowe, Two Bostons, Daisy James, R. H. Douglas, Doody and Wright, Dezmonti and Mora, Edouin and Edwards in "A Bachelor's Dream."
Telephone, 165 Eastern.
Manager, CHARLES BEECHAM.

MIDDLESEX, DRURY LANE, W.C.
Lightning Programme. Fred Eustace and Co., in a new and Original Sensational Episode, entitled "Lights of the Harbour," Three Sisters Slater, Clive Watts, Muir and Bartlett, Ruby Wentworth, Five Vernons, xylophone experts, Ada Martine, Michael Nolan, Maud Preston, Sam Mayo, Park's Eton Boys, the champion boy singers, Sisters Melba, Percy Dalton, the New Bioscope, Arthur Payton, Kate Carney, in her Latest Successes. Commence 7.15; Saturdays, 1 hour earlier. Popular Prices.

THE METROPOLITAN,
Edgware-road, W.—Marie Lloyd, Geo. Robey, Fred Karno and Co. in "The Thirsty First," Dan Crawley, Hal Forde, Harry Anderson, Tray and Rich, Cinizelli, Sisters Desmond, Evalos, Frank Dunlo, Ethel Ra Leslie, Anartos, Primavesi.
Open 7.15.
Prices 6d. to £1 10s.
Manager, J. W. EDGAR.

THE EUSTON
(opposite St. Pancras Station).

Twice Nightly, at 6.40 and 9.10.

Wilkie Bard, Victoria Monks, Tom Edwards, Counsell and Mills, Sisters Silcott, Michael Nolan, Two Bostons, Rich and Rich, Rachel Lowe.

Manager, FRED M'AVOY.

SOUTH LONDON PALACE,
London-road, S.E.

Twice Nightly, at 6.10 and 9.10.
W. Phillips and Co., Walter Stanley, Arabella Allen, Blarney and Kinnard, Jessie Preston, Penley and English, Margaret Parker and Co., The Anartos, Harry Mainard, Ruffell's Bioscope.

Manager, FRANK WEEKS.

WALTHAMSTOW PALACE.

Two Performances Nightly, at 6.30 and 9.

Leonard Mortimer and Co., in "The Earl of Enniware," Hanvarr and Lee, Joe Archer, Oakley and James, Dale and O'Malley, Lilian Lowe, Maudie Forde, Raffell's Imperial Bioscope.

Manager, A. J. BARCLAY.

CHELSEA PALACE,
King's-road, Chelsea.

Twice Nightly, at 6.40 and 9.10.
Monday, George Robey, Jimson's Novelty Sketch, Daisy Davidson, Bob Hutt, My Fancy, The Jackley Wonders, Frank Gee, Cissie Scofield, Harrigan and Holt, and Valazzi.

Manager, EDWARD SWANBOROUGH.

EMPRESS THEATRE OF VARIETIES,
Brixton.—Phenomenal Starring Engagement of "The Talk of London," Eugenie Fougère, Harry Champion, Amy Elcock, Burt Sheppard, Gracie Grahame, Hettie Chattell, Syd May, Winifred Hare, Pictures, Rich and Rich, Lilian Elfreda, Drew and Alders, Dorma Natalia, The Phantos. 'Phone, No. 41 Brixton. Doors open at 7.30. Half-time, 9.30. Seventh Grand Anniversary, June 29. Manager, NELSON FRANCIS.

QUEEN'S PALACE OF VARIETIES,
HIGH-ST., POPLAR. Telephone, 714 East.
Proprietors, Messrs. F. and M. ABRAHAMS.
Monday, June 11, twice nightly, matinée every Thursday.—Fred G. Brooke and Players, in "The Secret Spy," E. J. Sheldon, Nellie Wilbert, Amy Russell, Alfred Lester, Bros. Newport, Goodfellow and Gregson, Harry Luck, New Bioscope, May Henderson.
Band rehearsal every Monday at 12.
Popular Prices.
General-Manager, Mr. JACK WOOLF.

LONDON HIPPODROME.

Twice Daily,
at 2 and 8 p.m.

"The Flood," Link, Lavater Lee, Bioscope, Spessardy's Bears, Les Bastions, Staley's Transformation, Inaudi, Morton and Elliott, Trapnell Family, Die Obersteiners, Jas. H. Jee, Max Yorke's Dogs, 3 Olympias, &c.

MASKELYNE and DEVANT'S MYSTERIES,
ST. GEORGE'S HALL, Langham-place,
Oxford-street Tube Stations.
Daily, at 3 and 8.
Our Newest Marvels,
"Dr. Hardly's Experiment,"
"The Homing Bells," "The Problem of Diogenes,"
"The New Page," &c., &c.
Seats, 1s. to 5s. 'Phone, 1545 Mayfair.

FUNDS, &c.

ROYAL GENERAL THEATRICAL FUND.
FOR MEMBERS BECOMING INCAPACITATED EITHER BY OLD AGE OR INFIRMITY.
Hon. Treasurer, EDWARD TERRY, Esq.
CHARLES J. DAVIES, Secretary, Savoy House, Strand.

ACTORS' BENEVOLENT FUND,
8, ADAM-STREET, STRAND.
C. I. COLTSON, Secretary.

ACTORS' ASSOCIATION
(Incorporated under the Companies Acts, 1862 to 1900), 10, King-street, Covent Garden, London, W.C. Annual Subscription, 15s.; entrance fee 5s.
A Scheme of Insurance is now in force by which every member, whose subscription for the year is paid, is covered under certain conditions.
CHARLES CRUIKSHANKS, Sec. Telephone, No. 1753 Gerrard. Telegraphic address, "Actoris, London."

MUSIC HALL BENEVOLENT FUND.
Established 1888. Offices, 18, ADAM-ST., STRAND, W.C. Hon President, Sir JOSEPH RENALS, Bart.
President, J. L. GRAYDON, Esq.; Trustees, G. ADNEY PAYNE, Esq., and R. WARNER, Esq.; Treasurer, J. L. GRAYDON, Esq.; Secretary, HORACE MARRIOTT.
Committee:—Chairman, Frank Weeks, Esq.; Vice-Chairman, H. G. Hibbert, Esq.; Frank Allen, Angelo A. Asher, Hugh Astley, Chas. Beecham, C. Berte, E. Brown, James Chappell, C. Chapman, D. J. Clarke, W. Clarkson, J. W. Cragg, J. Dunedin, H. M. Edmunds, Joe Elvin, James Fortune, Harry De Frece, Walter De Frece, Jack De Frece, Edgar Granville, Edward Granville, Fred Griffiths, H. Griff, Henri Gros, C. E. Howell, A. Hubner, W. F. Hurndall, S. M. Hyman, John Lawson, John Leopold, L. C. J. Livermore, Joe Lyons, Alan Macey, Fred Mc'Avoy, Harry Masters, A. W. Matcham, Fred Miller, T. M. M'Naughton, D. Monro, G. W. Moore, Sir E. H. Moss, George Mozart, Joe O'Gorman, Will Oliver, Tom Pacey, C. Blyth-Pratt, Harry Randall, Phil Ray, George Robey, Fred Russell, J. D. Stuart, J. Selbini, Tom Shaw, Jack Somers, Walter Stockwell, Paul Valentine, E. Warner, B. Williams, Captain E. H. Warren Wright.
The Relief Committee Meets every Thursday, at 2 o'clock.

MUSIC HALL SICK FUND,
Founded 1867. Postal address, 1, YORK-RD., LONDON, S.E. Committee Meetings Second Wednesday in Month at 2 p.m. Sick Payments, £1, for 6d. per week; £1.10s., for 9d. per week. £10 paid to nearest Relative on death of Member. President, Mr. PAT CAREY; Hon. Treasurer, Mr. FRANK HEATH; Secretary, R. T. BAINES.

ACADEMIES AND SCHOOLS.

ROYAL ACADEMY OF MUSIC,
TENTERDEN-STREET, W.
Instituted 1822. Incorporated by Royal Charter, 1830.
The Academy offers to Pupils of both sexes an opportunity of receiving a thorough education in Music in all its Branches, the Drama, and Dramatic Elocution under the most eminent Professors.
For terms and all other information, apply to F. W. RENAUT, Secretary.

THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF MUSIC
(Incorporated by Royal Charter, 1883),
PRINCE CONSORT-ROAD, SOUTH KENSINGTON, S.W.
Patron: HIS MAJESTY THE KING.
President H.R.H. the PRINCE OF WALES, K.G.
Director, Sir C. HUBERT H. PARRY, Bart, C.V.O., D.C.L., M.A., Mus. Doc.
Hon. Sec., CHARLES MORLEY, Esq.
The Half-term begins on June 18.
Syllabus and Official Entry Forms may be obtained from FRANK POWNALL, Registrar.

GUILDHALL SCHOOL OF MUSIC.
The only School in London for
OPERATIC and THEATRICAL TRAINING which possesses a completely equipped Theatre.
Public Performances periodically given.
Stagecraft, Elocution, Fencing, Gesture, and Deportment Taught by Eminent Professors.
New Pupils can enter at any time.
FEES MODERATE.
Prospectus on application to H. SAXE WYNDHAM, Victoria-embankment, E.C., Secretary.

THE SCHOOL OF MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC ART,
77, NEW OXFORD-STREET, W.C.
Principals: CAIRNS JAMES, ERNEST D'AUBAN.
President: GEORGE EDWARDES, Esq.
Complete course of studies for the Light Opera and Dramatic Stage. Private and class lessons in all subjects. Pupils may join at any time. THREE "GEORGE EDWARDES" OPEN SCHOLARSHIPS awarded yearly. Apply, Secretary.

LONDON COLISEUM, LIMITED
(in Liquidation).
The CREDITORS of the above-named Company are hereby required on or before the 21st day of July, 1906, to send their names and addresses, and the particulars of their debts or claims to RICHARD HENRY GILLESPIE, of 29A, Charing Cross-road, in the County of London, one of the Joint Liquidators of the said Company, or in default thereof they will be excluded from the benefit of any distribution made before such debts are proved.
Dated this 30th day of May, 1906.
(Signed) SMITH, RUNDELL, and DODS,
9, John-street, Bedford-row,
London, W.C.
Solicitors for the above named,
RICHARD HENRY GILLESPIE and HERBERT SCHOFIELD METCALF, the Joint Liquidators.

BEDFORD PANTECHNICON,
17, PERCY STREET, TOTTENHAM COURT-ROAD, LONDON, W.
FURNITURE,
SCENERY,
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, and PROFESSIONAL WARDROBES
Carefully Packed for Removal and Warehoused.
Estimates free.

A. BLACKFORD.
LADIES' and GENTLEMAN'S THEATRICAL BOOTS and SHOES in Great Variety.
Companies Fitted.
Estimates Free on Application.
3, 4, and 5, KING-STREET, COVENT GARDEN, W.C.
Telephone, P.O. Central, 5,014.

DRESS CLOTHES LENT.—
BLACKFORD has for SALE or HIRE the Finest of CLOTHES for Theatres, Balls, Parties, Weddings, Dinners, Funerals, &c. Clothes sent to any part of England. Perfect Fit guaranteed. 3, 4, and 5, KING-STREET, COVENT GARDEN (one door from Market), and 31, WELLINGTON-STREET, STRAND.
Telegraphic Address, "Misfits, London."
Telephone, P.O. Central, 5,014.

THE ERA ANNUAL, 1906.
"The Era" Almanac and Annual for 1906, is not only a valuable collection of information and a history of the dramatic and musical year. It is also a very amusing and entertaining shillingsworth. It contains contributions from many well-known actors and actresses. Mr. Frank Desprez, the editor, contributes a delightful story about an actress who sold her collection of Press notices in order to help a colleague in distress. There are numerous portraits. The lists of English, French, and German plays produced during the year are very useful. Altogether, "The Era" Almanack is indispensable to all interested in the stage.—The Star, Jan. 24, 1906.

THE ERA ANNUAL, 1906.
"The Era" Annual for 1906, 1s. 5, Tavistock-street, W.C. This useful little work, which brings nearly up to date the calendar of dramatic events which is so excellent a feature, is, as usual, full of stories over the signature of prominent stage lights. To those interested in the business of the theatre the work has become a necessity by reason of its valuable record of the progress of the drama.—Financial Times, Jan. 22, '06.

COLONIAL THEATRES.

AUSTRALIA.
MELBOURNE, SYDNEY, BRISBANE.
Mr. J. C. WILLIAMSON,
Manager of the Leading Australian Theatres.
HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE, MELBOURNE;
HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE, SYDNEY;
THEATRE ROYAL, SYDNEY;
HIS MAJESTY'S THEATRE, BRISBANE.
London Representative:
J. A. E. MALONE, Daly's Theatre.

AUSTRALIA.
Mr. HARRY RICKARDS'
AUSTRALIAN ENTERPRISES:—
NEW TIVOLI THEATRE, SYDNEY;
NEW TIVOLI HOTEL, SYDNEY;
NEW GRAND OPERA HOUSE, MELBOURNE;
NEW PRINCE OF WALES'S HOTEL, MELBOURNE;
TIVOLI THEATRE, ADELAIDE;
THEATRE ROYAL, PERTH.
Address all Letters to Head Office, "Tivoli Theatre, Sydney."
Cable Address, "Tivolian, Sydney."

SOUTH AFRICA.
Messrs. B. and F. WHEELER
now control the
ONLY CIRCUIT OF THEATRES
in
SOUTH AFRICA.
Proprietors and Lessees of
OPERA HOUSE, CAPETOWN,
HIS MAJESTY'S THEATRE, JOHANNESBURG.
WHEELER'S OPERA HOUSE, PRETORIA.
THEATRE ROYAL, DURBAN.
Companies Now Touring:
George Edwardes's Gaiety Company,
Wheeler-Edwardes' No. 2 Musical Company,
Wheeler's Comedy Company,
and
The D'Oyly Carte Principal Répertoire Co.
London Representative,
J. A. E. MALONE, Daly's Theatre.

AFRICA.
LEONARD RAYNE.
Business-Manager in South Africa,
GRANT FALLOWES.
London Representative,
GEORGE RAYNE.
Portugal House, Portugal-street, W.C.

PROVINCIAL THEATRES.

ALDERSHOT.—THEATRE ROYAL.
Lessee and Manager, Mr. CLARENCE SOUNES.
Now Booking 1907.
Add., Prince's Theatre, Poplar, London, E.

ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Owner and Manager, Mr. CHARLES REVILL. Dates Vacant, First-Class Companies only, July 16, 23, and 30. Address, CHARLES REVILL, Theatre Royal, Stockport.

BLACKPOOL.
HER MAJESTY'S OPERA HOUSE,
WINTER GARDENS.
The PRINCIPAL THEATRE,
Holds MORE MONEY at ORDINARY PRICES, and has better average business throughout the Year than any Theatre in the Town.
The most comfortable, Elegant, and Best Equipped Theatre. Large and Well Electric Lighted Stage and First-Class Orchestra.
All visitors to the Theatre have Free Admission to the Winter Gardens, Floral Hall, Empress Ball-room, and Pavilion Entertainments, thus Companies visiting Her Majesty's Opera House have this additional attraction, which no other Theatre can offer. Only best No. 1 Companies booked.
For Dates, address, JNO. R. HUDDLESTONE, Manager, Winter Gardens, Blackpool.

BLACKPOOL.
GRAND THEATRE.
Holds at Ordinary Prices more money than any Theatre in the Town, as any Responsible Manager who has visited Blackpool can Prove.
The Premier Theatre.
Mr. Beerbohm Tree says it is the most perfect and best-managed theatre in the Kingdom.
Only First Companies Entertained.
Apply for Dates to
T. SERGENSON,
Proprietor and Manager.

CAMBRIDGE.—NEW THEATRE (Ltd.)
Man. Director, Mr. W. B. REDFERN, J.P., D.L.
A theatre among the most beautiful in England. —Sunday Times. Now booking Autumn Dates, commencing Sept. 17; a few in Term dates vacant in Oct., Nov., and Dec.
Silence a polite negative.

COLCHESTER.—THEATRE ROYAL.
Sole Proprietor, Mr. CHAS. MACDONA.
Vacant Dates, Sept. 20 (3), Oct. 15, Nov. 1 (3), 12, 26, Christmas, for Pantomime, or Musical Show.
All communications to CHAS. MACDONA.
17, Shaftesbury-avenue, W.

DUBLIN. — GAIETY THEATRE.
MRS. MICHAEL GUNN
is now Booking Dates for 1907-8.
All Communications to be Addressed to her at above Theatre.

DUBLIN. QUEEN'S ROYAL THEATRE
Sole Proprietor and Patentee, Mr. ELLIS JONES.
Lessee and Manager, Mr. J. W. WHITEHEAD.
July 16, Vacant through obliging Mr. John Cassidy.
Address, J. W. WHITEHEAD.
Silence in all cases a respectful negative.

DUDLEY.—THE EMPIRE PALACE.
Proprietors, The Midland Entertainment Corporation, Ltd.,
FRED H. ANDERSON, Managing-Director.
THE PALACE THEATRE, NORTHAMPTON,
Proprietor and Manager, FRED H. ANDERSON.
All communications should be addressed to Northampton. Telegrams, "Wizardlike," 'Phone 0451.
Applications for engagements cannot receive attention till the end of July.

GRIMSBY.—PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE, LTD.
Established 1884.
Chairman, H. J. CURRY.
Managing-Director, JOSEPH H. CURRY
Open all the Year Round.

CURRY'S TIVOLI THEATRE OF VARIETIES, LIMITED.
Chairman, Mr. H. J. CURRY.
Managing-Director, Mr. JOSEPH H. CURRY.
Closed for short summer season.
Telegraphic Add., "Curry, Grimsby." Tel. No. 240

HANLEY.—THEATRE ROYAL, LTD.
Please note:
The Staffordshire Potteries for all Dramatic Purposes
must be considered as one large town.
Hanley has undoubtedly the Largest Theatre and Stage In Staffordshire.
Lighted by Electricity.
Accommodation for 3,700 People.
Electric Trams and Trains after Performance to ends of the District, Longton, Stoke, Burslem, and Tunstall.
Vacant Dates, Sept. 10, 24, Oct. 22, Nov. 5, and 12. For First-class Companies only.
CHAS. E. ELPHINSTONE,
Managing-Director.

PROVINCIAL THEATRES.

HEYWOOD (Manchester).—Correspondent required to supply theatre reports weekly. Address, DRAMATICUS, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

HULL.—THEATRE ROYAL.
Sole Lessee, WM. MORTON.
The Only Theatre in Hull Playing to Full Prices.
Population: City, 256,000; District (including Bridlington), 90,000—346,000.
Possibly Vacant August 13.
Vacant Aug. 27.
Autumn engagements ahead include George Alexander's Co., "His House in Order," "The Christian," "The Three Little Maids," "Miss Julia Neilson, Mr. Fred Terry and Co., in "Dorothy o' the Hall," "The Walls of Jericho," Mr Martin Harvey and Co., in Répertoire, "The Prince of Pilsen," Mr Frank Curzon's London Company, including Mr. Hayden Coffin, Miss Isabel Jay, in "The Girl Behind the Counter," Mrs. Russ Whytal, Mr. Frank Curzon's company, "The White Chrysanthemum," &c., &c.
The ALEXANDRA THEATRE. The Original Melodrama House. More Successful than Ever. Accommodation for 3,000 people. Smoking permitted. Sliding roof. Popular with all Classes. Business Uniformly Good. Address, W. MORTON.

IPSWICH. — LYCEUM.
General-Manager, MR. LEONARD GREY.
Vacant, Aug. 16 (3 nights), Aug. 27 (?), Sept. 3 (?) Sept. 17 (3 nights), Oct. 29, Nov. 5, 12, 26, a Few Spring Dates.
Apply, LEONARD GREY, LYCEUM, IPSWICH.

JARROW. — THEATRE ROYAL.
BARROW, ROYALTY T. and OPERA HOUSE. CONSETT, NEW THEATRE.
Lessee and Manager, Mr. HUGH ROBERTSON.
Vacant Dates: Jarrow, Oct. 22, Nov. 12, and Dec. 17, for Special Attractions. Barrow, Aug. 6, 13, and 20, and on, with exceptions. The Bookings for this Theatre include th Principal Attractions Touring. Consett, Aug. Bank Holiday, and on, with exceptions.
Re Dates, HUGH ROBERTSON, T. R., Jarrow.

KIDDERMINSTER.—OPERA HOUSE.
Elegantly equipped. Bookings include, "Duchess of Dantzic," "Girl from Kay's," "The Christian," "Blue Moon," No vacant dates until Autumn, 1906. J. P. MOORE, West Bromwich.

KINGSTOWN PAVILION and GARDENS, LTD. General Manager, Mr. C. IRVINE BACON. Concerts, Plays, Operas, Open-Air Fêtes, Fireworks, Sunday Afternoon Sacred and Classical Concerts.

LEEDS. — QUEEN'S THEATRE.
The Popular Theatre of Yorkshire.
Vacant June 25.
Address, re dates, E. DOTTRIDGE, Empire, Oldham.

NOTTINGHAM.—GRAND THEATRE.
Manager, CHARLES P. COOKE.
Vacant Oct. 15, Feb. 25, First-class attractions only.
Also March 4, for Big Pantomime.
Silence a courteous negative.

OLDHAM. — EMPIRE THEATRE.
The Premier Theatre; Holding Capacity £200.
Vacant Sept. 3, 17, Nov 19.
Musical Attractions only.
Address, ERNEST DOTTRIDGE.

OXFORD. — NEW THEATRE.
Managers of First-class Companies are invited to apply for Dates to Mr. THOMAS LUCAS, J.P., Managing-Director.
Silence a polite negative.

PONTYPOOL.—Correspondent Required to supply Theatre Reports Weekly. Address, DRAMATICUS, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, London.

PORTSMOUTH. — NEW THEATRE ROYAL.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. J. W. BOUGHTON.
Open throughout the Year.
First class Companies. Weekly Matinées.

STOCKPORT. — THEATRE ROYAL.
Sole Owner and Manager, Mr. CHARLES REVILL.
Vacant for First-class Company only, Aug. 6.
Address, CHARLES REVILL.

SWANSEA.—Correspondent Required to supply Theatrical and Music Hall Reports weekly. Address, DRAMATICUS, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

TUNBRIDGE WELLS. — OPERA HOUSE.
Vacant July 16 (3 nights), Cricket Week, July 23 (week), Aug. 23 (3 nights), Nov. 19, 26, and several Spring Season dates. CHARLES CAREY.

WAKEFIELD. — OPERA HOUSE.
Sole Proprietors, SHERWOOD and Co.
Vacant June 25, July 2, 9 (?), Aug. 6, 13, 20, 27 (Musical Comedy), and onwards, with exceptions.
Required Pantomime Feb. 11 and 18.
Telegrams, "Sherwood, Theatre, Wakefield." Telephone, Theatre 152; Private 152a.

SCOTLAND'S PROVINCIAL THEATRES.
Managing-Director, Mr. R. C. BUCHANAN.
GRAND THEATRE, GLASGOW.
First-class Attractions only.
Bookings include First Visit to Glasgow of "The Blue Moon."
KING'S THEATRE, EDINBURGH.
At Present in Course of Erection.
Will Open in December with Mr. Robert Courtneidge's Pantomime, "Cinderella."
THE ALEXANDRA, GREENOCK.
THE NEW CENTURY, MOTHERWELL.
THEATRE ROYAL, COATBRIDGE.
THE NEW GAIETY, LEITH.
THE NEW GAIETY, AYR.
THE KING'S, KILMARNOCK.
THE GRAND, FALKIRK.
THE NEW GAIETY, CLYDEBANK.
THE KING'S, KIRKCALDY.
Also Booked in conjunction.
THE METROPOLE, GLASGOW and THE THEATRE ROYAL, NORTH SHIELDS.
By arrangement with Mr. Jefferson.
HER MAJESTY'S, CARLISLE.
By arrangement with Stanley Rogers, Esq.
All communications to Mr. R. C. BUCHANAN, General Office, Grand Theatre, Glasgow.
Telegraphic Address, "Bookings, Glasgow."

SCALE OF CHARGES FOR PROVINCIAL THEATRES AND PROVINCIAL MUSIC HALLS
Five Lines, TWO and SIXPENCE.
Thirteen Insertions (Including a Copy of "The Era" Weekly), THIRTY SHILLINGS.
For Each Additional Line, Sixpence.
Address, the PUBLISHER,
"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.
"Wire," "The Era, London."
"Ring-up," 4,747, Central.

Price 3s. 6d. Post Free 3s. 10d.
THE LAW OF COPYRIGHT FOR ACTOR AND COMPOSER,
BY
ALBERT A. STRONG, LL.B. (Lond.).
Mr. A. A. Strong has published a book on "The Law of Copyright for Actor and Composer," which should be in the hands of everyone who is obliged to know about this perplexing subject. Dramatic copyright in England is in a particularly unsatisfactory state, and it is much to be hoped that ere long some more rational method of securing protection for a play may be devised than the slovenly and sometimes costly "production for copyright purposes," which is at present required.—St. James's Gazette.
Published at "The Era" Buildings,
5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

A SELECTION FROM
FRANCIS, DAY, and HUNTER'S
LATEST BUDGET OF SUCCESSES.

GREAT SUCCESS OF
LESLIE STUART'S CHEF D'ŒUVRE.
"THE BELLE OF MAYFAIR."
Book by CHARLES H. E. BROOKFIELD and COSMO HAMILTON.

"CASTILE,"
Grand Waltz by KARL KAPS.
Dedicated by permission to Princess Ena.

"SHY ANN,"
Sung by MISS ELLALINE TERRIS in the "Beauty of Bath," at the Aldwych Theatre.

"IF THERE HADN'T BEEN AN APPLE ON THE TREE,"
Sung by Mr. HORACE MILLS in "The Girl Behind the Counter."

"SHINING STAR"
(a charming Indian Romance by the writers of "Navaho.")
Sung with great success by Miss FLORENCE ESDAILE.

"CAN'T YOU THINK OF ANY OTHER NAME BUT BABY?"
Sung by Miss WINIFRED HARE.

"WHAT HAS THE NIGHT-TIME TO DO WITH THE GIRL?"
Sung by Miss HETTY KING.

"STARLIGHT,"
Sung by Miss BELLE BRAHAM and HAMILTON HILL.

"JUST A LITTLE ROCKING CHAIR AND YOU."
Sung by Miss MYRA STANSFIELD and HAMILTON HILL.
(The above two songs are by Theodore Morse, composer of "Bluebell.")

"DO A GOOD TURN WHEN YOU'RE ABLE."
Sung by Miss CARLOTTA LEVEY.

"IT'S THE CUSTOM OVER THERE,"
Sung by GEORGE LASHWOOD, at the London Coliseum.

"COME AND MAKE LOVE TO ME,"
Sung by Miss KITTY RAYBURN.

"MY COSY CARAVAN"
and "DON'T CRY, LITTLE GIRL,"
Miss LIL HAWTHORNE'S
Latest and Greatest Hits.

"TOO LAZY TO LIVE."
Sung by TOM LEO.

"HI! JOHNNY, WHO'S YOUR TAILOR?" and "IF WE HADN'T ANY WOMEN IN THE WORLD,"
Sung by JOE ARCHER.

FRANCIS, DAY, AND HUNTER,
142, CHARING CROSS-ROAD,
LONDON, W.C.

Telephone, 5425 Gerrard. Telegraphic Address, "Arpeggio, London."
New York: 15, West 30th-street.

ALPHABETICAL LIST
OF
ILLUSTRATED BIOGRAPHIES.

NAME.	DATE.
Abrahams, Messrs F. & M.	March 31, 1906.
Adams, the Late Miss Annie	May 20, 1905.
Alexander, Mr. Alex.	June 2, 1906.
Allan, Mr. Charles	December 2, 1905.
Arnold, the Late Mr. Chas.	May 13, 1905.
Ashton, Mr. George	May 5, 1906.
Barbour, Mr. William	March 3, 1906.
Barclay, Mr. Arthur J.	May 26, 1906.
Barlow, Miss Billie	March 10, 1906.
Barrasford, Mrs.	February 10, 1906.
Barry, Mr. Lennox	March 4, 1905.
Bawtree, Mr. Arthur	March 18, 1905.
Berlyn, Mr. Ivan	November 4, 1905.
Bertoldi, Late Miss Ena	April 7, 1906.
Bessle, Late Miss Elizabeth	February 3, 1906.
Billington, Mrs. John	January 20, 1905.
Booth, Mr. Junius	September 16, 1905.
Bordin, Signorina Maria	Oct. 21, 1905.
Bostock, Mr. E. H.	September 30, 1905.
Brand, Miss Tita	April 1, 1905.
Bromwich, Mr. F. Dudman	March 11, 1905.
Brough, Mr Lionel	May 13, 1905.
Brown-Potter, Mrs.	March 3, 1906
Burton, Mr. John	March 10, 1906.
Carrington, Miss Eva	February 24, 1906.
Casson, Late Mr. Walter	Nov. 11. 1905.
Cavalho, Miss Sylvia	March 3, 1906.
Cellier, Miss Marguerite	May 26, 1906.
Chapin, Miss Alice	May 25, 1905.
Cinquevalli, Mr. Paul	May 5, 1906.
Clarey, Late Mr. H. O.	February 24. 1906.
Clark, Mr. William	March 3. 1906.
Clark, Late Mr. Henri	Dec. 9. 1905.
Clark, Mr. T. Sealey	May 19, 1905.
Collette, Mr. Charles	November 4. 1905.
Collier, Mr. Hal	May 19, 1906.
Conquest, Mr. Arthur	May 26, 1906
Conquest, Mr. Fred	Dec. 9, 1905.
Coote, Mr. Bert	August 12, 1905.
Crane, Mr. Harry J.	Nov. 11, 1905.
Craven, Late Mr H. T.	April 15, 1905.
Crisp, Late Mr Henry	May 26, 1906.
Croke, Mr. Wentworth	Aug. 5, 1905.
Cruikshank, Mr. Alfred	March 17, 1906.
Cruikshanks, Mr. Charles	May 6, 1905.
Cullen, Mr. James	October 7, 1905.
D'Alcorn, Late Mr. Henri	June 10, 1905.
Daltra, Miss Marie	July 22, 1905.
Dampier, Mr. Alfred	May 12, 1906.
De Gracia, Mr. G.	May 19, 1906.
Dewick, Mr. Dawson	April 22, 1905.
Dixon, Miss Ella	July 22, 1905.
Dobson, Mr. E. H.	August 12, 1905.
Donegan, Mr. James E.	May 20, 1905.
Duff, Master Harry E.	April 29, 1905.
Dyball, Mr. George H.	January 13. 1906.
Earnshaw, Mr Arthur	November 4, 1905.
Elliott, Late Mr. J. B.	May 26, 1906.
Elen, Mr. Gus	September 23, 1905.
Fordyce, Miss Vera	March 18, 1905.
Fulton, Miss Mary	March 18, 1905.
Gastelle, Miss Stella	July 15, 1905.
Godfrey-Turner, Miss M.	October 28, 1905.
Gibbs, Miss Edith	March 3, 1906.
Grace, Miss Amy	January 13, 1906.
Gray, Miss Dora	January 13, 1906.
Grove, Mr. Fred	March 10, 1906.
Grein, Mr. J. T.	Nov. 11, 1905.
Gunn, Miss Haidee	September 30, 1905
Gwynne, Miss Daisy	October 14, 1905
Hamlyn, Mr. J. D.	January 20, 1906.
Hansen, Miss Laura	January 20, 1906.
Harris, Mr. Thomas	February 24, 1906.
Harriss, Miss Sophie	April 7, 1906.
Hastings, Miss Nora	March 10, 1906.
Holloway, Mr. Baliol	April 15, 1905.
Holmes-Dallimore, Mr. A.	Dec. 9, 1905.
Howard, Mr. Frank	April 1, 1905.
Howard, the Late Mr. W.	August 12, 1905.
Illington, Miss Margaret	June 2, 1906.
Irving, Late Sir Henry	Oct. 21, 1905.
Jenoure, Miss Aida	June 24 1905.
Jerrard, Late Mr. J. F.	April 28, 1906.

Copies of the above can be obtained by communicating with the PUBLISHER,
"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-st., Strand, W.C.

YOUR AILMENT IS NATURE'S REPROOF.
To overcome that ailment
You require NATURE'S ASSISTANCE

ENO'S 'FRUIT SALT.'
IS NATURE'S OWN REMEDY.

NO FAMILY SHOULD EVER BE WITHOUT IT.

CAUTION.—Examine the Capsule, and see that it is marked ENO'S 'FRUIT SALT,' otherwise you have the sincerest form of flattery—IMITATION.

SAFE KEEPING OF SECURITIES, PLATE, JEWELS, BONDS, &c.
CHANCERY LANE SAFE DEPOSIT AND OFFICES COMPANY, LTD.
Chairman, SIR WILLIAM H. MARLING, BART., Stanley Park, Stroud.
Vice-Chairman, ROBERT C. PONSONBY, ESQ., 4, Clement's-inn, Strand, W.C.
SAFES AND STRONG ROOMS for the Deposit of Deeds, Bonds, Plate, and valuables of every description from £1 1s. Registration of Keys with accident insurance. Policy for £500 on payment of 1s.
Offices, Flats, and Chambers to be let, close to Law Courts, Patent and Public Record Office. Moderate rents.
DEPOSIT BANK.
Money received on deposit in large or small sums. Repayable at eight days' notice. Compound interest allowed at £2 10s. per cent. per annum.
Further particulars can be obtained from
E. VINCENT EVANS,
Manager and Secretary of the Company,
63-64, Chancery-lane, London.

BRIN'S OXYGEN
for the Finest Limelight Effects.
Unapproached by Electric Light for Stage Effects.
Addresses:—
BRIN'S OXYGEN COMPANY, Limited,
ELVERTON-STREET, WESTMINSTER, S.W.
Works: 69, HORSEFERRY-ROAD, S.W.
MANCHESTER OXYGEN COMPANY, Limited,
GREAT MARLBOROUGH-ST., MANCHESTER.
BIRMINGHAM OXYGEN COMPANY, Limited,
SALTLEY WORKS, BIRMINGHAM.

TO OUR READERS.—
A SINGLE COPY OF "THE ERA"
Post-free to any Address in the United Kingdom for SIX STAMPS.

Telegraphic Address, "The Era, London."

Address, THE PUBLISHER,
"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-st., Strand, W.C.

THE ERA

SATURDAY, JUNE 9, 1906.

THE ELLEN TERRY JUBILEE.

A characteristic of the English is their thrift of emotion. They store up their feelings like electricity in a Leyden jar, until one touches the knob and is shocked by the explosion. Unlike the Latin races, the Anglo-Saxons, intensely sentimental, are not demonstrative or effusive. They bide their time, and nothing is lost for the intensity of the outburst by the waiting.

These ebullitions of emotion, when they do come, are in the nature of revelations to the slightly-cynical and cultured observer; indeed, they often upset the calculations of the most experienced, as well as astound the most penetrative. The demonstrations at the death of Sir HENRY IRVING were instances of English emotion exceeding all expectation; and we may reckon, at the ELLEN TERRY Matinée on Tuesday, on an outpouring of emotion which will be in two acceptations of the word "phenomenal."

The "town," to use the expressive phrase which was used by the eighteenth-century writers to include the smart playgoing set of their time, has no idea what the theatre is to thousands who are neither rich, nor famous, nor happy. Consider that, for two shillings, an artisan can be introduced, for three hours, not only into the best society, but into a quintessence of the best society, more various, more amusing, and more essential than the "real thing." Many men who have risen, when they came to see the world which they had previously regarded from the audience side of the footlights, have felt a sense of disappointment. Somehow they had expected to find it much more exciting and amusing. And the shop-girl in the front row of the pit has a chance of enjoyment equal to that of the fine lady in the last row of the stalls, upon whose back hair she breathes. An audience is, for the time being, a community, bent on the same delight, influenced by the same emotions. Nowhere are people more human and less selfish than at the theatre.

But above all the pleasure of gratified curiosity and agreeable excitement must be valued the personal magnetism of the popular actor and actress. The feeling that exists between them and their audience is a very subtle, yet very strong one. It reminds us, in a way, of that fine foolishness of the Parisians, when in the hopeful period of the Revolution, half starving, yet sanguine of a millennium, they brought out their scanty meals and ate them in company out of sheer sympathy and goodwill. No wonder, when the artist is warm-hearted, the unbidden tear starts into the eye at the "reception" on his entrance. The unconfessed, exquisite joy of these moments repays the "poor player" for years of toil and trouble. It is the wine of the footlights, and the essence of that intoxication—so pitifully, pathetically human!—which has always been the attraction of the stage.

The Latins are more capricious and more cruel than the Anglo-Saxons, whose hearts govern their heads. The ruffian who threw a wreath of immortelles to Mademoiselle MARS as a hint to her to leave the boards would hardly find a supporter, certainly not an imitator, in England. "For auld lang syne" is a song which always has a sympathetic echo on this side of the Channel. We do not "scrap" our theatrical implements as soon as they are out of date. On the contrary, we preserve the illusion when the reality has vanished. Long after SIMS REEVES's voice had lost its quality audiences used to hypnotise themselves into the idea that it was, and would be, beautiful for ever.

It is not only the sense of æsthetic pleasure that is gratified by seeing an old favourite on the boards. The feeling is one of personal affection, based on years of mutual happiness. The player and the audience; the performer and the applauder; the artist and the artist-lover—so in pairs do they walk the world through. When an actress comes to her Jubilee how many nameless and unknown jubilees are wound up with her career! How many there are whose youth grew side by side with her youth, whose memories are mixed with her "reminiscences," who have been her friends in every sense but that of personal contact! One might almost say that the actor and actress are more intimate with their unknown allies across the footlights than with their people at home. For the latter only get the dross, after the gold has been given away to the public. And—strange and wonderful thing!—this rapport is absolutely impersonal. To the actor or actress, in the glance round the "house" on entry, it is a big blotch of pinkish-white and mixed tints, blurred in a bath of artificial light. But from this abyss come concentrated currents of electricity, converging on the individual; and each of these wires telegraphs: "I wish you well! How handsome, how clever you are! Be bold, be at your best, for I love you!"

An intoxication? Yes. A folly? Perhaps. But, after all, it is the only thing that lasts, the only thing that in one or other of its shapes is worth living for. For the finest part of Fame is not intensified vanity, but popular affection. "Not everyone," says the old soldier at the obsequies of the Republican General in La Cousine Bette, "has the people at his funeral!" Not every actor and actress has this love-evoking power. It is strong in all the TERRY family, and strongest of all in the actress who takes her benefit at Drury Lane Theatre on Tuesday. Art is a thing of times and fashions; the "advanced" of to-day, in not very many years, will be the old-fashioned. But the art of our youth will always have a hold on our heart-strings. It has been ousted by other arts from our intelligence; it may be rococo, demodé—what you will; but there was a time when we worshipped it, and with an enthusiasm which we cannot conjure up now. Miss TERRY's matinée, however, will be far from being a festival of sentimental "fogies." She was playing in Madame Sans-Gêne, and playing at her best, in 1897; and she charmed CHARLES READE as Philippa in The Wandering Heir in 1874. Between these dates she has done nothing but enlist admirers and win millions of friends. What a mighty host they must make! And what an "ovation" she must expect on Tuesday. Like VOLTAIRE on a celebrated occasion, she runs a risk of being smothered in roses.

ROYAL ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

At the concert given by the students of the Royal Academy at Queen's Hall on Friday, June 1, two new works by students were introduced, the first being an Introduction and Allegro for string octet (MS.) composed by Miss Eleanor Rudall. As the work of a student, the octet proved to a certain extent interesting, revealing the careful training the young composer has received at the Royal Academy. The octet was cleverly played by Mr. Rowsby Woof, Miss Jessie Bowater, Miss Elsie W. Owen, Mr. H. O. Parsons, Mr. James T. Lockyer, Mr. Thomas Morgan, Miss Gwendolen Griffiths, and Mr. E. A. Carrodus. The second novelty was by Mr. Hubert Bath, a student who has already produced some compositions of considerable merit. The work heard on Friday was strangely entitled Two Sonnet Reflections for string octet, pianoforte, and organ, the two sonnets being D. G. Rossetti's "Death in Love" and "A Sea-Spell." Before the music was given, Miss Vera Cockburn skilfully recited Rossetti's verses, describing the meaning of a sonnet, and after that the poem, "Death in Love," the music following the reciter, the same method being adopted in "A Sea-Spell." With regard to Mr. Bath's music, it was at once fresh, strong, and original, not in the least requiring the aid of verses or reciter, the themes of the two compositions being cleverly worked out, and the organ introduced in a really masterly manner. The young composer was warmly applauded at the close of his clever and musicianly compositions. Other able instrumental performances were four charming studies for pianoforte by Eduard Poldini, played with delightful crispness and delicacy of touch by Miss Dorothy Grinstead; and a praiseworthy rendering of Beethoven's First Movement (Allegro) from Quartet in F (Op. 59), by Miss Juliet Capron, Mr. Thomas Morgan, Mr. James T. Lockyer, and Mr. F. W. Hodgkinson. In Romance and Humoresque for violoncello, by Saint-Saëns and Neruda, Miss Gwendolen Griffiths produced a good tone and expression; and Miss Adelaide M. Dodgson gained much applause for her playing of Chopin's piano solo, Scherzo in C sharp minor. The vocal items included "Dancing Lightly," by Sterndale Bennett, cleverly sung by Mrs. A. L. Shergold; "Un' aura Amorosa," from Mozart's "Cosi fan tütte," delivered with much intelligence by Mr. Hubert Baker; and two of Brahms' songs, "Liebestreu" and "Von Ewiger Liebe," sung with great ability by Miss Gwladys Roberts. Mr. James McNaughton Duncan was unfortunate in choosing such uninteresting songs as "Griefs that I cannot measure," "The rose complained," "Marie at the window," and "Forebodings," by Robert Franz. The third song, "Marie at the window," proved the most attractive. Miss Kathleen Nigel-Jones and Miss Alice Baxter distinguished themselves, the first in Beethoven's "Die Ehre Gottes aus der Natur," and the latter in "Vinto e l' amor" ("Ottone"), Handel; and the programme closed with Second Polonaise, for violin (Wieniawski), played by Miss Lilian Evans.

THE DRAMA IN PARIS.

"LE CLOS."
Opéra-Comique, in Four Acts, by MM. Michel Carré and Ch. Silver.
Produced at the Opéra-Comique on June 6.

Jean Simon	M. ED. CLEMENT
Pierre	M. DUFRANNE
Hennebaut	M. VIEUILLE
Blaisot	M. CAZENEUVE
Gervais	M. BILLOT
Pelavoix	M. MESSAICKER
Geneviève	MME. MARIE THIERY
Margot	MLLE. DANGE

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

PARIS, THURSDAY, JUNE 7.—As far as the libretto is concerned, the new work produced by M. Albert Carré is more of an operette than an opéra-comique. The plot, taken from one of Amédée Achard's novels, is as follows. Pierre Hennebaut, the son of a rich, avaricious farmer, is in love with Geneviève, the daughter of Gervais, the rural policeman. When, however, he asks for her, the girl, to his surprise, refuses him because she has promised her hand to Simon, a youth as poor as herself. The Hennebauts, father and son, are not the people to forget such a slight; and as old Gervais owes them some fifty pounds, which he cannot repay, they decide to sell his cottage, "Le Clos," where Geneviève was born, and which the Hennebauts hold as a mortgage. Gervais and the girl are disconsolate; but Simon will not be the cause of their ruin. He releases Geneviève from her promise, and, despite her tears, leaves the village. The girl then marries Pierre, but the latter is not happy. He is afraid his wife still loves Simon; and, more than all, he dreads that youth's return to the village. His fears come true. Simon, unable to overcome his love, has come back, and meets Geneviève in the little garden of "Le Clos," the cause of all the trouble. But in reply to his ardent protestations, she loyally replies that she belongs to her husband, and will never betray him. At that moment a shot is heard. Geneviève rushes into the house, fearing that Pierre may have seen them together, and committed suicide. It was Pierre who fired that shot; but it was only a trick on his part to see if his wife really loved him. She throws her arms round his neck; and Simon disappears, never to return. M. Silver's music is hardly suited to such a slight plot. It is too heavy and pretentious, although here and there the composer shows he has the gift of melody in a high degree. The work was fairly well interpreted.

THE open-air theatre at Champigny, "Le Théâtre de la Nature," as its founder, M. Albert Damond, calls it, has inaugurated the summer season with Le Dieu Nouveau, a three-act tragedy, by M. Paul Souchon. This author is not devoid of talent, as he proved by his Phyllis, brought out at the Théâtre Bour last year; but this time he has gone beyond his depth. It wanted a genius to deal with a subject like the conflict between Paganism and Christianity. He certainly tried his best, and shows us the supreme struggle of light and darkness between the religions that glorify the joys of life and the dogma of everlasting repentance. Only a master-hand could have dealt with such a problem, and we would have liked to have seen in the work a personage taking up the cudgels for or against Paganism. Instead of this, M. Souchon introduces Apollo and the Muses. Driven away by the Christians, they have deserted Greece, and have come to Arles. This was a fatal mistake. Our public does not like to hear Apollo and the Muses talk, because we do not believe in their reality. Their troubles do not affect us, nor are we alarmed when their lives are in danger, because we look upon them as allegories and, therefore, immortal. The author has been more successful in the scene when Mary Magdalen is taken by the Muses to their retreat. In all the others his verse was lacking in strength. The interpretation was good. M. Albert was an impressive Apollo; M. Perrin splendidly impersonated Lazare; and Mlles. Daria and Neith Blanc acquitted themselves well of their task.

M. ANTOINE has not only left the theatre that bears his name, but has altogether said good-bye to the stage. He has decided never to act any more. His new duties at the Odéon, he says, will take up so much of his time that he will not find a moment to learn his rôles. To dramatic art M. Antoine's resolution is a distinct loss, for he ranks foremost among the Paris actors. He will, however, continue to teach others; and we all know that as a professor he is unrivalled. Hard, and sometimes even a little rough, he is adored by artists of both sexes, who, thanks to his advice, have attained a great name in the profession. But he could never stand mediocrities. He would not waste his time over those who, as he put it, "had no stuff in them." And for that reason the fact of any actor or actress having been engaged for any length of time at the Théâtre Antoine always proved a recommendation likely to secure them good engagements elsewhere.

THE news that M. Antoine replaced M. Ginisty at the Odéon has given general satisfaction. There is one gentleman, however, who has good reasons to be dissatisfied, and that is M. Tarride, the well-known actor. M. Ginisty made him throw up a splendid engagement to make him stage-manager at the Odéon, where for many months he worked hard to raise the standard of the house. For some unexplained reason M. Ginisty concealed from M. Tarride the fact that he would have to cede his place soon to M. Antoine, and when M. Tarride once put the question to him whether the rumours he had heard were true, M. Ginisty gave an evasive answer. The affair, therefore, came upon M. Tarride like a thunderbolt, and he is suing the former Odéon manager for damages. M. Tarride, like many of his colleagues here, has the ambition of becoming an actor-manager. He now hopes to carry out his dream, and is looking for the necessary capital. If he succeeds, he would like a playhouse on English lines, with comfortable stalls arranged like those in His Majesty's Theatre. M. Tarride will find a valuable assistant in his wife, one of the best actresses on our stage.

THE Gymnase closes its doors at the end of this week, and during the summer months the house will be put in repair. It is one of the most uncomfortable theatres in Paris, and M. Franck, the manager, estimates that the cost of making the place presentable will cost him at least £5,000. It will be money well spent.

M. GRISIER, of the Ambigu, has a long list of new plays ready for production next season. Among them are Remords ou Noel tragique, by M. Henri Demesse, which will be the first novelty. Then will follow L'Interpellation, by MM. Gugenheim and Le Faure; L'Angélus, by M. Spitzmuller; Louis the Seventeenth, by M. de Pohles; La Boscotte, by M. Georges Maldague; Les Soldats de France, by M. Jean de Rodé; and a play by M. Decourcelle.

THE Gaité announces the last performances of L'Hotel du libre Echange, in order to start the rehearsals of La Mioche dorée, a new work by MM. Alphonse Lemonnier and Louis Péricaud.

M. BERNY, manager of the Théâtre des Arts, has received a three-act play by MM. Poinsot and Pascal-Bonetti, called Les Paysans.

LAST week's receipts at the Opera were much in excess of the corresponding week in the preceding year, which is attributable to the large number of strangers now in Paris. The works that made most money were Faust, Armide, Les Huguenots, and Romeo et Juliette. As to Wagner, who a few years ago headed the list, he brings in less than any other composer. Poor Wagner always hated the French; and if he came to life now the attitude of the French public towards his works would not lessen his dislike.

"THE ERA" can be obtained at the principal bookstalls throughout the provinces.

FRENCH PLAYS AT THE ROYALTY.

M. Coquelin aîné, on Friday, the 1st inst., presented himself in one of his most famous rôles apart from the classical characters of Molière—that of the dear old curé in L'Abbé Constantin, which was adapted by Hector Crémieux and Pierre Decourcelle (author of Les Deux Gosses, the original of Two Little Vagabonds) from the famous novel by Ludovic Halévy. It was produced on November 4, 1887, at the Gymnase. Modern French fiction can boast no tale more simple, immaculate, and interesting at the same time. All its personages are models of goodness and purity, over whom the novelist has diffused a superabundance of sweetness and light. Dramatic interest, however, the book contains none; but the adaptors, while preserving all the delicacy of the original, have lopped off its superfluous details, and have even succeeded in adding the dramatic interest wanting in the book. The action takes place in and around the village of Sauvigny, and the curtain rises on the garden of the parish priest's house, which touches the old church. Bernard, the aged gardener from the adjacent château of Longueval, is there giving a hand at weeding, and Pauline, the curé's servant, is preparing her master's dinner. At the other side of the wall appear a young artillery officer, Jean Raynaud, the Abbé's godson, whose father, the village doctor, had been killed in the war of 1870. A Mme de Lavardens bursts on the scene in a great state of flurry. She is all anxiety to know how the sale of the Longueval estate had passed off. The château, so the venerable Abbé reports, had been acquired by heretics; but when Mme. Scott and her sister, Bettina Percival, arrive, he discovers that he has made a mistake, for the new owners are good Catholics. The love interest, which is delightfully accentuated, revolves round Paul Lavardens, Jean Raynaud, and Bettina, who is an heiress. The rivals fight a duel, in which the young artilleryman treats his opponent so magnanimously that the two become firm friends. Of course there is a happy ending, with the dear old Abbé as bénisseur. M. Coquelin's delineation of the title-rôle, as we have already hinted, must be counted as one of the most finished creations of his distinguished career—perhaps the most perfect. He is the old country parish priest to the life—walk, bearing, gesture, manner, and speech, all inimitably natural. He is well supported by Mlle. Suzanne Devoyod as Mme. Scott, Mme. Bouchetal, and M. Chabert as Bernard.

The piece following L'Abbé Constantin was the excellent farce, by Tristan Bernard, entitled L'Anglais Tel Qu'on Parle. Its hilarious humour is derived from Eugène's ignorance of English and his pretensions as an interpreter. At an hotel he takes the place, in an emergency, of one skilled in the use of Anglo-Saxon, and in his pretence to be able to translate, makes a terrible muddle, and involves the characters in absurd situations. Hogson, the Englishman from Newcastle, is supposed to have lost his purse, while he has really lost his daughter, who has eloped. M. Coquelin aîné as Eugènie and his son Jean as Mr. Hogson were admirable.

ON Monday was produced the drama, in three acts, by Alphonse Daudet, entitled

"L'ARLESIENNE."

Balthazar	M. COQUELIN aîné
Le Patron Marc	M. JEAN COQUELIN
Mitifio	M. DESJARDINS
Frédéri	M. MONTEUX
Francet Mamai	M. LEFAUR
L'Equipage	M. CHABERT
Rose Mamai	MME. BOUCHETAL
Vivette	MLLE. FANNY AUBEL
Renaude	MLLE. KERWICH
L'Innocente	MLLE. GUERRAZ

Alphonse Daudet's piece, which for years was regarded as an excellent stock attraction of the Odéon (especially with Mme. Aimée Tessandier in her favourite part of Rose Mamai), was done into English by Mr. Jocelyn Brandon, and produced on January 27, 1888, at the Prince of Wales's Theatre, and on November 26 of the same year at the Princess's. The story is a very simple one. Frédéri, the son of Rose Mamai, the mistress of the farm of Castelet, has become deeply enamoured of a beautiful girl in the neighbouring town of Arles, and when the action commences is about to marry her. The engagement is broken off, however, through the intervention of the gipsy Mitifio, a hot-tempered horse-trainer, who claims the girl as his own, and furnishes proof indisputable that she has long been his mistress. Frédéri gets a rude shock, which seems to threaten not only his reason, but his life. His mother, filled with anguish, persuades her godchild, the pretty Vivette, who has secretly cherished a passion for Frédéri, to declare her love for him, and thus to attempt his cure; but she is repulsed, and proposes to leave the farm. The mother, rather than see her darling boy die, resolves to fling considerations of honour to the winds, and consents to the introduction of the Arlésienne into the family circle as Frédéri's wife. He, however, will not allow this sacrifice to be made, and presently he is found swearing eternal constancy to Vivette. The old love, he declares, is a thing of the past. On the very night of the betrothal feast Frédéri overhears Mitifio say that he is that night going to carry off the Arlésienne, and the thought is more than he can bear. He eludes his mother's vigilance, and leaps from the top of a tower which forms part of the farm buildings. L'Arlésienne is a drama of primal emotions, and the author shows considerable power, though the tragedy is crude and undisciplined. Such a subject, however, inspired Bizet to write some delightful music, and the suite L'Arlésienne is almost as popular in this country as the Peer Gynt suite by Grieg. M. Coquelin aîné was seen in the part of the old shepherd Balthazar, which he endowed with rare tenderness and dignity. An excellent piece of acting, too, was M. Jean Coquelin as Le Patron Marc, the young actor ably supplying the comedy relief that is so very welcome. Mme. Bouchetal was seen to advantage as Rose Mamai; M. Monteux did much for the part of Frédéri; and Mdlles. Fanny Aubel and Guerraz lent adequate aid.

M. Coquelin as M. Jourdain, the titular character in Molière's great comedy Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme should be seen by every student of French acting. It is essentially a farcical part, and the performance of the eminent comedian is so well known and so justly esteemed that to praise it at this time of day seems superfluous. On Wednesday he was certainly at his best. Mlle. Devoyod and M. Jean Coquelin were notably good.

Thursday saw the presentation of Mademoiselle de la Seiglière, the well-known comedy in four acts of Jules Sardeau. The action of the piece takes place in 1817, two years after the final downfall of Napoleon the Great and the establishment of the Monarchy in France under Louis XVIII. The Marquis de Seiglière, once an exile, retains his estates, which had passed into the hands of his steward, Thomas Stamply, who restores it, being rewarded for his loyalty and honesty by neglect. Hélène, the Marquis's daughter—Mademoiselle de la Seiglière—reproves her father for his ingratitude. The generous girl is betrothed to Raoul, the son of the Baronne de Vaubert, who in turn is wooed by a not too scrupulous lawyer, named Destournelles. This worthy's suit for the hand of the Baronne is scorned by her. Raoul eventually finds a rival in Bernard, the son of the deceased steward, who burns with indignation at the treatment meted out to his father by the Marquis. He, however, falls a victim to the charms of the sweet-natured and generous Hélène, who returns his affection. By Raoul breaking off his engagement to the heroine, she is able to marry Bernard. Thus a happy ending is secured. M. Coquelin aîné as the scheming lawyer, Destournelles, Mme. Bouchetal as the Baronne de Vaubert, M. Jean Coquelin as the Marquis, and Mlle. Fanny Aubel as Hélène, were responsible for excellent performances.

VARIETY GOSSIP.

The revival of the sports in aid of the funds of the Music Hall Benevolent Fund is welcome news to both the profession and the public, who have in past years invariably enjoyed the carnival at Herne Hill, where the last gathering was held in July, 1904. This year the venue is changed, and that excellent centre for athletic gatherings, the Stamford Bridge Sports Ground, Fulham-road, has been chosen. The date of the fixture is Thursday, July 12. The entries close Tuesday, July 3. All applications and all communications concerning the event should be made to Mr. Horace Marriott, at the Committee Rooms, 18, Adam-street, Adelphi.

A curious scene took place on Thursday night in the House of Commons with reference to the Musical Copyright Bill. As the Bill is in the hands of a private member, it could not be brought on till eleven o'clock. Mr. O'Connor then proposed that the second reading should be taken. According to the rules of the House a Bill cannot be taken after eleven o'clock if any one member objects. There was only one opponent of the Bill present—Mr. Caldwell—and as he is now vice-chairman of the House, it was supposed that he would act in accordance with all precedent, and, being an official, would refrain from taking part in any discussion on Bills.

But Mr. Caldwell is not a man to be guided by the ordinary rules, and, to the surprise of everybody, when Mr. O'Connor proposed his Bill, called out, "I object." Something stranger followed. Mr. O'Connor appealed to Mr. Caldwell to allow the Bill to pass; and when Mr. O'Connor sat down, Mr. Herbert Gladstone got up and made the same appeal. Mr. Gladstone, as Home Secretary, has in charge the department which deals with copyright; and, of course, as a Cabinet Minister and as a colleague had, it was assumed, to look with certainty to Mr. Caldwell accepting his advice. But, to the amazement of the House, Mr. Caldwell took no notice of the appeal, and again called out, "I object." Mr. O'Connor made another appeal—it was equally vain. This remarkable incident is expected to have other and larger consequences, and, in the end, may not prove to have been prejudicial to the cause of copyright and to the chances of the Bill passing this year into law.

Mr. Oswald Stoll is arranging a gala performance at the London Coliseum in aid of the funds of Charing Cross Hospital on Monday. The three o'clock performance of the Revue on the day in question has been chosen for this purpose, and a record "house" is anticipated. In consequence, applications for tickets will be dealt with in the order of priority received. These should be addressed to either Mr. Woolridge, the treasurer of Charing Cross Hospital, or to Mr. John Donald, at the Coliseum. The usual prices will prevail.

Among those who will positively be present will be the Marquise d'Hautpool, Lady Clementine Waring, Duchess of Devonshire, Duchess of Montrose, Duchess of Norfolk, Dowager Duchess of Newcastle, Countess of Cromartie, Countess Kenmare, Countess of Ancaster, Lady Helen Vincent, Dowager Countess of Dudley, Countess of Dufferin and Ava, Lady Arthur Hill, Countess of Ormonde, Marchioness of Tweeddale, Duchess of Newcastle, Countess of Northbrook, Countess of Aylesford, Lady Hothfield, Countess Derby, and Lady Aberdare.

Signorina Maria Bordin, who will make her Alhambra début on Monday as Mylitta, the daughter of King Darius in the new Assyrian ballet, L'Amour, was born in Padua. For years she studied and practised her art at a well-known dancing academy at Milan, and at the age of sixteen made her first appearance at Lisbon as a prima ballerina. Though we do not appreciate the art of dancing in this country as much as they do on the Continent, Londoners yet gave a very warm welcome to this clever and charming dancer at the Lyceum last October, on the production of Excelsior, and no doubt that welcome will be renewed on Monday at the older ballet house in Leicester-square.

Mr. Walter Tilbury, who may be called the Grossmith of variety, is propounding an excellent conundrum nightly at the London Pavilion. He asks his lady partner, "Why are the Chicago meat-packers paradoxes?" "Because what they can't eat they can, and what they can they can't eat."

That well-known American musical comedy actress, Miss Lucy Ashton, will appear at the Palace, Shaftesbury-avenue, on Monday, June 18, in an entirely new and original aerial up-to-date fantasy, entitled "Skyland," written by John P. Harrington, and musicked by James W. Tate. She will be assisted by a bevy of lovely girls, and the production, for which special scenery is being painted, will be in the experienced hands of Edouard Espinosa. The Monte Carlo Publishing Company is issuing "Skyland" in its popular "Sixpenny Successes" series.

The new classical ballet at the Alhambra, which Mr. Charles Wilson has written and arranged from the scenario of Mrs. Hay-Ritchie, and the composition of which has found Mons. Francois Thomé in his happiest mood, has received the title of L'Amour, and will be produced on Monday. The action, which is divided into three tableaux (each set being from the masterly brush of E. H. Ryan), takes place during the period immediately preceding the fall of the Assyrian Empire, and its interpretation will introduce to patrons of the Alhambra Signorine Maria Bordin and Enrica Varasi, whose perfect technique has been gained in the Milanese and Viennese schools respectively; Signor Alfredo Curti, who, as maître de ballet, is responsible for the principal dances, and himself enacts the chief male character; Mesdames Edith Slack, Julia Reeve, Rosie Dean, Hill, Baton, Edwards, etc., Signors Giovani, Rosi and Amadeo Santini, and M Henri Frielli.

Miss Godwynne Earle and Mr. Louis Bradfield, Commère and Compère respectively of the Coliseum Revue, will take a balloon trip with Mr. Percival Spencer, the great æronaut, from the private annexe of the Wandsworth and Putney Gasworks on Sunday, at 11 a.m. precisely. The balloon to be used is a new one of 45,000 cubic feet capacity, and there will be a race between it and a number of Humber racing cars. Mr. Eustace Gray and Mr. Will Bishop will drive the principal cars, which will have as passengers the representatives of the leading London newspapers.

Mr. Albert Chevalier is by way of returning to the regular stage, his services having been secured by Mr. Charles Frohman for the Duke of York's, not only for a series of matinées to be given in conjunction with Mme. Yvette Guilbert (the first of which occurred on Friday afternoon), but for the evening performances of the first piece, Mr. J. M. Barrie's Pantaloon, which is to precede the revival of The Marriage of Kitty at the St. Martin's-lane house. In this the well-known comedian will play the title-rôle. Mr. Chevalier's last appearance in a part in a London theatre was in The Two Recruits at Toole's in 1891.

It has been reported that the Palace, Tottenham, will close with the advent of the new hall. This in one of those canards which become current in variety circles, and we have the best authority for contradicting it, for Mrs. Lawson has just passed the plans for extensive alterations. The comfort and elegance of the place will be much increased by an electric light installation.

The Mansfield Hippodrome closes its doors for the present to-night (Saturday). After a renovation of the interior it will reopen for the autumn season in a month or six weeks' time.

The Empire, Newcastle-on-Tyne, has been kindly lent by Moss Empires (Limited) on Tuesday next for the purposes of a matinée in aid of that most deserving charity, the Home for Destitute Cripples at Gosforth. Mr. E. Leslie Conroy, the resident-manager, is very proud of his list of patrons, which includes, besides the Mayor and Mayoress and the Sheriff of Newcastle, the Earl of Durham, the Earl of Scarborough, the Right Hon. Viscount Ridley, the Right Hon. Lord Armstrong, Sir W. Eden, Bart., Sir G. H. Philipson, M.D., Sir Riley Lord, and Sir Walter R. Plummer.

The holiday attractions presented by the proprietress, Mrs. Thomas Barrasford, at the Devil's Dyke, Brighton, on Whit Monday proved highly successful. Great interest was centred in a go-as-you-please race from the Brighton Hippodrome to the Dyke, the seven prizes including a silver cup presented by Mr. Thomas Barrasford, and those successful being M. Haslem, 1; G. Bennett, 2; W. Wilkins, 3; H. King, 4; W. Cornford, 5; W. Oram, 6; and C. R. Thorpe, 7. A variety entertainment in the Café Chantant was sustained by the Italian Troupe of Vocalists and Instrumentalists; Mlle. Sylvia du Barry, operatic vocalist; Les Fedoras, instrumental duettists; the Oboes, pantomimists, the Davenports, illusionists; and the Cicianos. Athletic sports were held during the afternoon. Extra trains were run during the day from the Brighton Central station to the Dyke, and thousands availed themselves of the opportunity of visiting this popular resort.

The new system of two shows nightly at the West Bromwich Hippodrome (late Theatre Royal) was inaugurated on Monday, when Mr. James P. Moore, the proprietor and manager, presented a bright and attractive programme, including Mr. Kennedy's famous Edison-Barnum electric animated pictures. The public of the town are hardly yet used to the new system, and Mr. Moore is trying it more as an experiment to test the feelings of his patrons. If successful, it will be continued throughout the autumn season.

The experiment of holding the Brum Theatrical Charity Sports at Whitsuntide and on Tuesday proved an unqualified success. The crowds in the streets were phenomenal, the collections realising £12 2s. 10d. The gate money amounted to £227 18s. 9d.; donations added another £118 2s. 6d.; the sacred concerts will realise upwards of £200; with the result that the takings of previous years will be beaten by a large margin.

There was a fine progression of tableaux cars. The Theatre Royal tableau represented Birmingham's three favourites—Mr. Chamberlain, whose head appeared from the rotundity of fiscal loaves, a miniature Quaife, and a youth in the Villa jersey. That from the Bordesley Palace was patriotic. A gentleman representing the Prince of Wales was surrounded by the Anglo-Indian friends of his recent tour. The grim picture of ambulance work in war-time was reflected from the car of the Hippodrome, and a charming array of Robin Hood's merry men "under the greenwood tree" had been evolved from the ingenious mind of the Gaiety management, the Grand Theatre sending an equally lawless band in the shape of "The Three Musketeers." Britannia, in state, before a representation of a colossal penny, testified to the enthusiasm of the Alexandra management.

The innovation of decorated cycles and motors, arranged by Mr. P. D. Elbourne, received a great deal of favourable comment. During the afternoon Mr. Margoschis, honorary life president, presented to Mrs. A. W. Matcham a beautiful bouquet on behalf of the committee. Mr. Matcham responded on behalf of his wife. Messrs. Bushell, Collingwood, and Calver were present.

The Manager of the Amphitheatre, Ramsgate (Mr. Henry Bowman) being suddenly without a company for last week, at the eleventh hour succeeded in engaging some excellent variety artists, including Little Zola, of Drury-lane fame, W. E. Gillin, ventriloquist, the Grosvenors, Victor's Dog Orchestra, and Eddie Clay. Edison's Bioscope with up-to-date pictures was also an attraction. An excellent programme was given twice nightly.

A new musical sketch, entitled The Hollanders, and designated "a pot-pourri of pretty musical numbers and dialogue," was produced by Mr. Leslie Gaze at a special matinée at the Royal County Theatre, Kingston-on-Thames, on Saturday, before a limited but appreciative audience. The piece consists of a series of musical items, interspersed with recitations, novelties, and dialogue, the whole forming a merry and agreeable entertainment. The artists taking part in it, in addition to Mr. Gaze himself, were Miss Bessie Alayne, Miss Maud Aston, Mr. Howard Cridland, and Mr. Hal Gaze. The scene is laid in Holland, and the quaint and picturesque costumes of that country give a pleasant colour to the production.

Mr. John Leopold successfully produced on Monday at the Ardwick Empire, Manchester, a new sketch, in two scenes, entitled The House-Boat, from the pen of Mr. Leopold and Mr. Wilfred Vaughan. Eighteen artists are engaged in this sketch, and all play their respective parts with ability. The scenery is excellent, the House-boat on the Thames being picturesque, and the dresses are also very pretty. The efforts of the comedians result in roars of laughter, and the whole production goes with a swing, which is no doubt due to the fact that Mr. Leopold himself has personally supervised the production. The sketch will be seen next week at the Empire, Birmingham.

Mr. Harry Marvello opened on Whit Monday the Harbour Green Pavilion, Portobello, with his original Geisha entertainers. This is his second season there, and, despite numerous counter attractions, the huge enclosure was completely filled, whilst thousands viewed the entertainment from the outside. This place is very popular with the citizens of Edinburgh, who come down in the cable cars in hundreds each night. The company engaged includes Lottie Poole, Frank Weir, Carr and Carr, Tony Freedman, Fred Smart, Will Wilson, Harry Marvello, and Miss Alice Hutchison, pianist.

Miss Cora Duncan and Mr. Albert Brasque will conclude an eighteen weeks' engagement with Mr. W. Reuben Payne, Esq., to-day, at the Theatre Royal, South Shields, and will open at the Palace, Bradford, on Monday, with their own duologue, entitled A Dressing-room Romance.

At the Stockport Borough police-court on Tuesday a well-dressed youth named Arthur Sullivan (18), of Dudley-street, Higher Broughton, pleaded guilty to a charge of obtaining food and lodgings by false pretences, on the 28th ult. Mrs. Eliza Thompson, of Edward-street, Stockport, gave evidence to the effect that the prisoner engaged lodgings at 25s. per week, representing that his name was Mr. George Miller, and that he was engaged at the Empire Theatre, Stockport, to produce A Village Blacksmith with a troupe of boys. Mr. W. Black, of the Empire, gave evidence that the prisoner was not employed at the theatre, and also stated that he knew nothing whatever about him. The Chief Constable said there was nothing known against the prisoner in Stockport, but that he was wanted for two similar cases in Manchester. Prisoner, who is in delicate health, was committed to prison for seven days.

Among the chief attractions of the Edward Swanborough matinée on Thursday, June 28, at the London Pavilion, will be Mr. Charles Hawtrey, who has kindly promised to appear in the amusing comedietta, Time is Money.

It is proposed to place a memorial stone over the grave of Mr. G. W. Hunt, the "Jingo" bard, at Abney Park to show coming generations where the patriotic song writer's remains are. His celebrated song, "We don't want to fight," was sung by every patriotic Englishman in the middle seventies, and it made the fame of the late G. H. Macdermott. The memorial stone is now being prepared by Thomas Judd and Co., of Holloway-road. It is estimated to cost £20. Mr. E. J. Hiscock, F.S.S., of 51, Sotheby-road, Highbury, has about half that sum in hand; and if anybody else would like to pay tribute to the late song-writer, they may do so by sending contributions to Mr. Hiscock, or to the "G. W. Hunt Memorial Fund," London and Provincial Bank, Essex-road, N.

Don Juan A. Caicedo, "the king of the wire" since he left England for America in December, 1904, has been working consecutively for fourteen months, having only lost three weeks in his voyage from the States to Cuba and back again. He is now returning to England, sailing from New York on board the s.s. Paul of the American line on the 16th inst. His intrepid performance has won for him golden opinions on the other side, and he comes back to England with gratifying memories of many triumphs in the land of the almighty dollar.

Miss Ruby Dahl, who has a capital novelty in her mannikins, which we hope to see shortly in London, is now at Belfast, and goes next week to Dublin. She has been secured by the Syndicate for twenty weeks a year for four years, and holds a thirty-four weeks' contract with Mr. Oswald Stoll. Mr. Albert Bushell, of Birmingham, has also booked her for ten dates. Her agent is Mr. Will Dalton, the Manchester hustler.

Mr. Walter Gibbons has written to an evening contemporary concerning the standing room prohibition contemplated by the L.C.C. He says: "No place of entertainment is built until the plans have been approved by the L.C.C., and no place can be opened until the Council is satisfied that it has been constructed in accordance with those plans. The result is that a licensed place of entertainment is far safer than any other place where fire may occur. The cost of running a theatre or music hall ranges roughly from £500 to £1,800 weekly, and if the receipts from seat accommodation reached their maximum every night of the week at present prices, no proprietor could run any such place at a profit, and the tendency of expense is still upward, the most serious item of all—namely, artists' salaries—being practically fixed for years to come."

Mr. Gibbons concludes:—"Insomuch as the construction of existing places of entertainment has been approved, standing room permitted, and many millions of capital invested upon present earning capacity, I contend that it is absolutely unjustifiable for the London County Council to persist in an innovation which can be of no possible benefit to the public, but, on the other hand, can only be considerable inconvenience to the poorer classes, many of whom are indifferent as to whether they sit or stand when visiting a theatre or music hall."

Miss Flo Esdaile, the Australian vocalist, who has been making herself very popular this week at the New Cross Empire, sails for South Africa on December 29. Her Colonial engagement is to last for three months, most of which time will be spent in Cape Town and Johannesburg. It will be remembered that Miss Esdaile was the principal girl (Princess Ivy) at last season's Broadway Theatre, Deptford, pantomime of Puss in Boots, in which she scored a distinct success.

The Alhambra is showing nightly at 9.40 some exclusive and very graphic "Urbanora" animated views of the Spanish Royal wedding, the excellence of which, and the peculiar sympathy now attaching thereto, evoke the warmest enthusiasm.

The one and only Cinquevalli, who is in the last week of his eight weeks' engagement at the Hippodrome, will now leave town, to which he will not return until a lapse of fifteen months. The famous juggler is a "cosmopolite," and is wanted everywhere in his unique entertainment, which requires no speech to explain its many excellences. If it did, Cinquevalli is an accomplished linguist, speaking at least five languages.

Such is the popularity of the Terriers annual up-river outing that Mr. Harry Lester, the active and energetic secretary of that fraternity, informs us that immediate application for tickets is necessary by those desirous of being one of the jolly party that will enjoy the delights of riparian scenery on the bosom of Father Thames on Sunday, the 17th inst. The day's excursion will commence with a train journey from Paddington to Reading, then back by steam launch to Staines.

Mr. John Donald on Wednesday evening entertained 550 boys of the Duke of York's School at the six o'clock performance of the Revue at the London Coliseum. Major Dyke was in charge of the lads, who enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

The 466th meeting of the committee of the Music Hall Artists' Railway Association was held at the offices, in Wellington-street, on Tuesday, when the chair was occupied by Mr. Albert Le Fre, and subsequently by Mr. Harry Blake, Mr. Wal Pink also filling the position during the latter gentleman's absence. The other members present were:—Messrs. R. Abel, Peter Bijou, Fred Herbert, Michael Nolan, Geo. Preston, Jeff Vendome, C. Douglas Stuart (secretary), and Douglas White (hon. treasurer). Minutes of the previous meeting were read and passed, and matters arising out of them dealt with. Mr. Chas. R. Standfield, secretary of the Empire Palace, Dover, was appointed agent in that town, and Mr. G. W. Gerald, of 19, Rue D'Enghien, was appointed to represent the association in Paris.

A sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. Blake, Herbert, and Preston, and the secretary, was appointed to wait upon the manager of the Ocean Accident Company, with a view to revising the insurance premium. Cases of refunds and lost property were considered, and instructions given to the secretary. The financial statement for the week ending June 2 was submitted, showing the receipts to be £52 3s. 6d. and the expenditure £18 14s. 9d., and the addition of fifty-eight new members to the list.

Mr. Tom Costello has been confined to his bed this Whitsuntide, and has suffered terrible agonies through partaking of a portion of pork pie on his hurried journey to fulfil London engagements.

Miss Millie Lindon, who is nightly making such a success at the Oxford and her other engagements with Ballard Macdonald and James W. Tate's song, "Mary—she kept a dairy," which is published by the Monte Carlo Publishing Company, will in a few days produce a new romantic ballad, entitled "Sweetheart, don't say 'Good-bye'!" by Harrington and Tate, the publishing rights of which have been also acquired by the same company.

There appeared in a recent issue of the American Musician and Artistic Journal a signed article by that well-known writer, Monroe H. Rosenfeld, descriptive of the advent and progress of Messrs. Francis, Day, and Hunter, as music publishers in New York City. He frankly avers that the general belief was that an English publisher could not invade or flourish on American soil, but goes on to say that the firm's upright and fearless system of square dealing, combined with a "go-aheaditiveness" that reflected credit even upon Yankee energy, has dispelled all such beliefs, and Mr. Rosenfeld admits that at the present time the name of Messrs. Francis, Day, and Hunter stands at the top of successful American enterprises.

The article goes on to inform the New York public that the off-shoot of the well-known London house was primarily established in their midst for the protection of English copyrights, and, incidentally, to perform the same office for American copyrights in Great Britain. But, immediately after its arrival in New York, there arose a vast demand for the publications of the firm, and on the suggestion of Mr. Sam Gross—whom we may dub the Lester Barrett of New York, he holding "across the Pond" a similar onerous position to that well-known gentleman's in London—it launched out on an extensive scale, and is now installed in a suite of the most exquisitely furnished offices in the quarter, offices where professional singers flock in unlimited numbers.

Mr. Rosenfeld's critique, which is embellished with a portrait of Mr. David Day's son, concludes thus: "It may be affirmed that the name of Francis, Day, and Hunter upon the title-page of an American piece of music now possesses a standard value—one that means, as it now does, merit and desirability; for, with the honest and progressive methods of this clean English house, and with the keen and conscientious efforts of young Fred Day, its New York representative, there can be no outcome other than unexceptionable prosperity."

Messrs. F. F. Proctor and B. F. Keith have combined their interests, and Mr. Keith will henceforth book not only his own attractions, but those for Mr. Proctor's houses, making a circuit of at least thirty-five theatres altogether. A stock company has been formed, each manager taking fifty per cent. of the shares, the agreement being for a period of ten years, with a renewal clause. The new concern will build a vaudeville theatre of the most costly and luxurious description in the heart of the New York theatre district. Mr. E. F. Albee, who has been Mr. Keith's representative for a number of years, will be the general-manager of the new corporation.

Not the least interesting of the large number of weddings that are celebrated in "the leafy month" took place on Saturday afternoon. Canon Cowley Brown, in St. John's Episcopal, Edinburgh, joined in wedlock Miss Dora Alice, younger daughter of Sir Edward Moss, and Mr. Edward Francis Wyer. There was a large company of guests, which included relatives of the bride and bridegroom and members of Edinburgh Corporation. The best man was Mr. Arthur Greenwood, and the train-bearer Miss Hilda Mackinlay.

The three bridesmaids were Miss Maud Allen, Miss Wyer, and Miss Sibyl Alkey. The bride looked charming in a Princess robe of ivory duchesse mousseline satin, draped down the front panel with duchesse lace, and having side panels embroidered in silver and pearl, the designs being of roses and lily of the valley. Miss Moss wore a full Court train, white satin embroidered, to match the skirt, and lined with gathered chiffon; a Brussels lace veil, edged with duchesse lace, and arranged over a wreath of orange blossoms, completed the exquisite bridal array. The bouquet carried was of roses, lilies of the valley, and Ascension lilies. The ornaments included a pink and white pearl drop pendant, the gift of the bridegroom.

The bridesmaids wore ivory spotted net sewn with medallions of blue linen, with lace insertions, and white mushroom hats ruched with white tulle and trimmed with forget-me-nots. They carried pink carnation bouquets, and wore diamond and emerald pendants, the gifts of the bridegroom. The train-bearer was in white silk, with a Puritan bonnet of white heather. Lady Moss wore a Princess dress of white ninon de soie, inserted with Irish crochet, and a pink hat draped with a pink scarf and trimmed with a bronze rose. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The bride's going-away dress was of pearl-grey cloth, with corselet skirt trimmed with grey braid, and completed by a small short coat and long black gloves. Miss Moss, who is a very charming girl, was the recipient of many presents, the givers including Lord Provost Sir Robert Cranston and Lady Cranston, Lord Kingsburgh, Sir Lewis M'Iver, M.P., and Lady M'Iver, Sir Thomas Lipton, Sir Thomas Dewar, Sir Edward Moss and Lady Moss, Mr. George M'Crae, M.P., and Mrs. M'Crae, the Hon. Mr. and Mrs. Fitzroy Stewart, Provost Mackie and Mrs. Mackie, Major and Mrs. Cranston, Commander and Mrs. Metcalf. The bridegroom's gift was a diamond pendant, with pink and white pearl drops, and the bride's present to her husband was a leather dressing-case, with ivory and silver-mounted fittings.

Other most acceptable presents came from Mr. Edward Weyer, the tenants on the Middleton estate, Mr. Frank Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Stoll, the servants at Middleton Hall, the tradespeople of Gorebridge, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, Mr. Robert Wilson, and a good many members of the Edinburgh Corporation, including Treasurer Brown, Colonel Menzies, Dean of Guild Wilson, Bailie Murray, Judge Gibson, Bailie Douglas, Bailie Dobie, Bailie M'Michael, Convener Barton, Judge Macpherson, Councillor Inches, and Judge Cameron. After the ceremony Sir Edward and Lady Moss held a reception in the North British Station Hotel.

Datas, during his visit to Bury last week, proved himself a sporting prophet as well as a marvellous memory man. On the stage at the local Olympia on his opening night, he tipped Spearmint, the winner of the Derby, and also the first and second for the Oaks. A great number of the 'cute Lancashire folk availed themselves of his prophetic knowledge, including a well-known sporting hotel proprietor, who won a considerable sum of money on the races named. The only disappointed people were the bookmakers, who had to pay out. "Is that right, sir?"

The sad news has reached us of the death of Mr. Harry Deets, of Deets and Don, who passed away in Los Angeles, California, on May 14. Harry Deets was for many years connected with the Moore and Burgess Minstrels, and had also played, as Deets and Don (Harry and Lulu), at all the leading music halls of Great Britain, including the Palace, Shaftesbury-avenue. For the last eight years the deceased artist and his wife (Lulu Don) have been obliged to live in California, as he was suffering from that terrible disease, consumption. The widow, Mrs. Deets, is sister of Miss Emma Don and Alice Lorette, and was one of the original Three Sisters Don.

Mr. Fred and Miss Lillie Monckton will shortly reproduce What Railing Did, an original farcical comedy sketch by Councillor E. J. Hart, successfully produced by those well-known artists at the Hippodrome, Ashton-under-Lyne.

A pyrotechnic drama in one act, entitled "I wouldn't leave my Little Wooden Hut for You," has been arranged by C. T. Brock and Co., who, in their inauguration of it at the Crystal Palace on Saturday, have established a formidable rival to the cinematograph drama. The popular song was illustrated by flaming devices, and the novelty proved to be a great attraction for a large number of sightseers at the favourite Sydenham resort at the opening of the summer season. The spectators see the little cabin limned in coloured fire. The lady leaves it to meet her admirer. In the distance is observed the husband paddling up the river. On his way he encounters a rival making love to his wife, and, stealthily approaching, he gives the disturber of his peace the coup de grâce with his tomahawk. The interest which such a show must lend to pyrotechnical display is much enhanced when the band, playing the popular melody, accompanies the singing of it by the crowd; and if the chorus were only on the screen in bold letters the success would be still more complete.

Messrs. Brock and Co. are ever up to date watching the trend of daily events, and singling out those which bear most interest. The great eruption of Vesuvius has claimed their attention, and taxed their ingenuity in placing before their patrons a close resemblance to Nature's latest upheaval. The volcano and the villages lying around its base are clearly defined in vivid lines of colour. The eruption takes place. Deafening reports, clouds of smoke, torrents of fire, and streams of lava issue from fissures in the mountain side, and represent a truly awe-inspiring sight. Every Londoner and every country cousin should make a point of seeing Mount Vesuvius in eruption at the Crystal Palace during the warm summer nights.

It has been suggested that, in the hands of Messrs. Brock and Co., pyrotechny could no further go; but Mr. Arthur Brock, when speaking at a Press dinner on Saturday, gave us to understand that finality had not yet been reached, and that improvements in colour, brilliancy, and in the musical fireworks, would be noticed in the 1906 shows. All this and much more were noted in the display on Saturday night last. Crowned heads, Governments, and millionaires frequently call upon the firm of Brock and Co. to "give them one of their best," and Mr. Arthur Brock never fails to see that the call is obeyed, and that the name of Brock is a synonym for excellence.

Messrs. Lawrance and Mellor's popular song, "I've built a bamboo bungalow for you," has "caught on" marvellously at our seaside resorts. Already it is the rage of Southsea with Cardow's entertainers, and of Southend, where Chirgwin's company is making a special feature of the number. The Monte Carlo Publishing Company, who issue the morceau in their "Sixpenny Successes" series, are correspondingly jubilant.

At the Richmond Theatre this week large audiences have been much impressed by the singing of Mlle. Nasiho, whose pretty ballads have had their story brought home to the hearts of her hearers not only by the charm of her voice, but also by some admirable pictures. In the same programme Emile Lazern, the mystic, is causing wonderment by his ingenious sleight-of-hand problems and his capitally-executed illusions.

Miss Georgina Preston (Mrs. Fred McNaughton), of the Sisters Preston, arrives home to-day on the Kenilworth Castle from South Africa, after a most successful engagement with Mr. Sidney Hyman, and will open in London shortly.

The artists sailing for the Cape on Saturday by the Kildonan Castle, to appear at the Empire, Johannesburg, and the Tivoli, Cape Town, include Malcolm Scott ("the woman who knows"); Julian Mack, comedian, Roma and Romani, musical act; May Moore Duprez, Dutch comedienne and dancer; and Libby Arnold Blondell, American comedienne. Mr. Malcolm Scott is a brother of Rear-Admiral Sir Percy Scott, C.V.O., C.B., of H.M.S. Terrible.

The Secretary of the Music Hall Benevolent Fund acknowledges with many thanks the sum of £6 4s. from Mr. Charles Mussett, collected by him at the Empire, Glasgow. Also £1 5s. from Mr. Thomas Barrasford, jun., collected by him in the pence box at the Lyceum; and £6 4s. 7d. from Mr. Horace Cole, of the Liverpool Empire.

Miss Marie Lloyd has achieved an instantaneous and marked success with Messrs. Harrington and Tate's specially-written song, "Customs of the country," which she is singing nightly at all her London engagements. As Miss Lloyd remarked to deponent: "This is the first song I have sung without George Le Brunn's music for the past fifteen years." So both her new composer and the fair artist are to be congratulated on the success of their initial attempt.

Mr. G. H. Chirgwin and his party of entertainers were prevented by the weather from opening at Southend-on-Sea with an al fresco entertainment in the Happy Valley, and therefore appeared at the Clarence Hall on the afternoon of Saturday last, drawing a good audience. Among the stars, in addition to the popular White-eyed Kaffir, were Gus Elen, Charles Coborn, Hamilton Hill, and Harry Tate. The hall only holds 250, but Chirgwin gathered £10 for the National Lifeboat Fund. On the Whit Monday, in lovely weather, there were some three thousand people in the Happy Valley to listen to Mr. Chirgwin's company, which included himself. He desires to thank through our columns the senders of numerous telegrams of congratulation from friends.

Louis Symons, a music dealer, of 69, Kitchener-road, Forest Gate, was summoned at West Ham Police-court on Wednesday to show cause why certain copies of pirated music found on his premises should not be forfeited. The proceedings were taken by Mr. Herbert Cooper, the agent of twenty-six publishers, who on May 28 went to the defendant's premises and seized 200 or so copies of copyright songs piratically printed. The defendant raised no objection to the confiscation of the copies, which he said he did not know were pirated. He had bought the music as a job lot off a stall. Mr. Cooper said that he had been put to considerable trouble in the matter, and he asked for costs. He also asked for an order of the Court that the music seized be delivered up to the owners of the copyright. Mr. Gillespie made the order, and directed the defendant to pay £2 2s. costs.

Miss Lil Hawthorne made her first appearance before a Stockton audience on Monday at the Hippodrome, and had a grand reception. After singing three songs and an encore, she had to appear five times before the audience would let her retire.

Miss Margaret Parker's numerous friends will be glad to know that she scored a success at the Palace, Walthamstow, as Bet, in her new dramatic playlet, Under the Seal, by William Felton. Owing to her success, Mr. Adney Payne has arranged to put on the sketch at the South London next week. Mr. Hugh Jay Didcott is now arranging bookings.

Mlle. Renée, the versatile instrumentalist, has just concluded a most successful engagement at the London Pavilion, and will pay a return visit there in November. She is now making a lengthy tour of the provinces.

LONDON VARIETY THEATRES.

LONDON PAVILION.

The large audience at the London Pavilion on Whit Monday was extensively recruited from our country visitors, who found in Mr. Frank Glenister's admirably-arranged programme that variety which, by the poet Cowper, is said to be the very spice of life that gives it all its flavour. The chief novelty is the scena, The Topical Topper, cleverly, ingeniously, and attractively presented by Mr. Albert Le Fre and the Pavilion Girls. The scene of the bright and pleasing interlude is a fashionable hat shop, presumably in Bond-street or Piccadilly, kept by a gentleman who apparently was born nearer the banks of the Seine than of the Thames. A smart contingent of aristocratic young men arrive to make a selection of headgear, and Monsieur Bonhomme sings to them a number of verses descriptive of hats of various kinds. There are some scathing lines concerning the huge and irritating proportions of the matinée hat, and the "typical topical" number is also embellished with lyrical praise of the only "Joe"—otherwise the member for Birmingham. The varieties of brain covering supplied by the merchant include every kind, from that providing comfort for the "tropical tripper" to the "kadi" of the coster. One of the customers in the shop says he wants a "bowler." "So does Gloucester," asserts the proprietor of the topper emporium. It will thus be seen that the trifle can be continually brought up to date; but its chief recommendation is the smart impersonation of the hatter by the versatile Mr. Albert Le Fre, who not only gives a real touch of drollery to the limited dialogue, but sings with excellent point the verses referring to "The Topical Topper." In an excellent dance at the end of each verse Mr. Le Fre is assisted by a smart chorus of girls, dressed in white suits and straw hats. He himself has also several solo dances, including just a few acrobatic tricks—very smartly performed, and once more displays an agility and a humour that serve him equally well in musical comedy, burlesque, or pantomime. Another entertaining item is When the Cat's Away, presented by Mr. Walter Tilbury, the clever and amusing man at the piano, who is the author of the songs in the trifle. He makes a pronounced hit in the parody of "The Death of Nelson," the verses of which condemn Free Trade in no measured terms. A well-written number is also Mr. Tilbury's song, "Lazy," which he gives most effectively. Miss Daisy Ford, who cuts a superb figure in a principal boy's costume of blue, describes the conduct of an American millionairess, who, on becoming a duchess, wears the tiara in bed. A pretty serenade is also introduced as a duet, and the success of the trifle is never in doubt.

Time after time Mr. Charles Collette comes to the house in Piccadilly-circus to entertain with his character-studies and to convulse us with his command of patter. We used to hear him at the theatres in his Cryptoconchoidsyphonostomata—a name that reminds us of the portentous terms employed by Henry Carey, the author of "God Save the King" and "Sally in Our Alley," in a famous burlesque. The versatile and always entertaining Charles presents a monologue, Broke, which is mostly made up of the street patter employed by such chevaliers d'industrie as are to be found at the corners of our thoroughfares vending wares of universal utility. The make-up is a study in itself, and the comedian rattles on in the most amusing way, with welcome intervals of song—one of which is entitled "It never came off." Mr. Collette is a decided acquisition at the London Pavilion. A new ventriloquist appears in the person of Miss Mabel Sinclair, who introduces a coster small boy, endowed with patter that is not always in the best of taste. Miss Sinclair's technique, however, is excellent for one so very young, and the jödelling song is particularly well done. She is apparently of cockney origin, if we may judge by her speech.

Beauty of form, as we have recently noticed in these columns, is one of the strong attractions at the London Pavilion, and the finely-modelled Milo is still posing as the heroines of classical lore, her chaste presentments of ancient and modern sculpture being interspersed by Cruikshank's series of lightning caricatures of celebrities. Of the female form divine, there is now another exponent in Miss Vulcana, who, after lifting a number of weights of various avoirdupois, and balancing a huge double dumb-bell on her toes, gives, in a curtained alcove, a display of the muscular development of her arms and back—an exhibition that is as interesting as it is unique. Mr. Atlas, who accompanies Miss Vulcana, toys with the heaviest weights, and, laying on his back, spins round on his upturned feet an immense steel bar bell. The Sisters Gwen and Maude Atlas also show the value of muscular training by the ease with which they lift a number of heavy objects. There is nothing of the aggressiveness of the powerful Amazon about the show, which is both refined and artistic.

The Kentucky Four successfully revive the melodies of the old plantation, and possess a wonderful dancer in Topsy; Jordan and Harvey are responsible for patter that catches the ear of the house; and laughter in the early part of the evening is heard during Mr. Tom Leamore's droll presentation of the character of a park-keeper, and Mr. James Stewart's familiar exploitation of humour at the piano. Mr. Arthur Slater, the man in white, has genuine abilities as a sifleur, and interests the audience in his realisation of the mellifluous cadences of song birds; Mr. C. Emlyn Jones and his Emerald Ladies Quartet rejoice the hearts of music lovers in their delightful singing of the national melodies of England, Scotland, Ireland, and Wales; two clever dancers appear in the attractive persons of Miss Mignon Tremaine and Miss Esta Stella; and other turns in the bill are the Five Vernons, Mr. T. E. Dunville, the Pavilion Girls, Mr. Leo Stormont, and Nipper Lupino Lane.

THE METROPOLITAN.

Many Whitsuntide holiday-makers found delightful leisure at the seaside; but a large number of them, after enjoying the open spaces of Suburbia, resorted to the many fine variety theatres of the metropolis to spend the passing hour in listening to their favourites. Mr. Jack Edgar welcomed on Monday a very large crowd, and every part of the richly-decorated house in the Edgware-road was packed to listen to a programme mostly contributed to by stars. In her own amusing and inimitable fashion Miss Marie Lloyd, who had a tremendous welcome on Monday, submitted three numbers from her extensive repertory. "The custom of the country" is a song that gives her all the requisite opportunity for asserting to advantage her comedy gifts. Another successful selection was "Something on his mind," but the most favoured item was "The Coster's Wedding," a low comedy description of Cockney life, which is as clear cut and amusing as a caricature by Caran d'Ache. Its humours on Monday kept the house in a most hilarious mood, and great reluctance was shown by the admirers of the queen of comedy in allowing her to depart. Mr. George Robey, who arrived earlier in the evening, was most intensely amusing in his impersonation of the music hall dresser, and his doings are fully commented on in our notice of another hall. Mr. Frank Lynne, who has just returned from a tour in the States, is quite successful with his naïve comedy manner in the song "I can't make it out, can you?" Another number which accentuated his success suggests the quaint fancies that crowd the mind of a man half awakened from a dreamy sleep. A warm favourite at the Metropolitan is Dan Crawley, who has a couple of sure successes in "Father keeps on doing it" and "They can't diddle me." Mr. Crawley is a chartered libertine in the matter of jest, and treats his hearers in the familiar fashion that they so thoroughly appreciate.

Miss Ethel Ra Leslie, looking very attractive in court costume, has a capital song in "Little Billee Taylor," to which she does complete justice. In more sentimental vein she gives "When love flies," and wins favour by her sympathetic expression. "Sympathetic" is the word, too, that exactly describes Mr. Harry Anderson's rendering of the song "My new pal is my old gal." Here is a number that might with all propriety be introduced by Sir John M'Dougall into his family circle, so wholesome is its tone. Mr. Hal Forde, in the early part of the evening, entertains with some new readings of the English dictionary; as a silent jester Ciniselli amuses one with his fooling round and about a kitchen dresser, and his swallowing of puff pastry; the Sisters Desmond emphasise cleverly the lady who rides her hunter in the Row and the less distinguished looking "person" who is satisfied with a mount on a moke; Tray and Rich tell "stories" of the skyscraper order of architecture; and the bill is wound up by the Evalos in a comic juggling and gymnastic mélange. Other turns in the Whitsuntide bill are Mr. Frank Dunlo, comedian; Miss Frances Kapstowne, comedienne; Primavesi, a capital juggler; and the Anartos.

A great attraction is Mr. Fred Karno's company of comedians, in the screaming absurdity known as The Thirsty First. The piece might be called Venus and Vinous, because Aphrodite and Bacchus certainly rule the proceedings of the "swaddies" belonging to the regiment suggested by the title. Round the village pub, in the barrack square, and on the tented field the fun runs fast and furious, and the hilarious proceedings of the troopers are presented with plenty of acrobatic energy, the result being considerable laughter. Mr. Jack Edgar has a courteous assistant in Mr. Leon Zeitlin, and the band possesses a careful and painstaking conductor in Mr. D. M. Trytel.

THE EMPRESS.

Premier place in the programme at the Empress, so ably governed by Mr. Nelson Francis, is this week taken by Messrs. Wal Pink and Jeff Vendome's company, with The Daybreakers, a sketch which portrays in dumb show the exciting events that come with the morning light. The scene is a street, one side of which is given up to a series of humorous incidents, while the other side favours the tragic. Organ-grinders, milkmen, police-constables, and a gorilla, who combine to harass a peaceable householder, furnish the fun; while the more serious aspect is shown in a raid on the house opposite, in which a coiner is seen at work at his nefarious trade. The incidents are of the most ludicrous character, and the kaleidoscope nature of the piece keeps the audience in a continuous state of mirth.

A new boxing act is given by the favourite Harvey Boys, who well maintain their reputation for drollery in the sketch That Was Me! The clever youths appear as messenger boys, and indulge in some amusing banter, which speedily brings about a quarrel. The "mittens" are donned, and a policeman called in to act as judge. The points fall chiefly to the comic man, who, at every blow which strikes home, addresses the referee in the phrase which gives the title to the sketch, emphasising his injunction with a right-hander on the policeman's anatomy. The act, to which a little dancing gives variety, is smartly worked, and elicits laughter and cheers.

The popular playlet is well represented in the programme, one of the most favoured being that of A Bachelor's Dream, which gives opportunity for the clever character impersonations of Miss May Edouin and Mr. Fred Edwards, which are thoroughly enjoyed. Another sketch of a humorous description is found in The Stage-Struck Girl, in which Mr. Edwin Palmer is very funny as a police inspector who makes a judicial investigation of the case of a diminished joint of meat. Miss Herbert and Miss Hilda Herbert play the parts of a couple of girls who yearn to distinguish themselves in the legitimate drama; and Miss Bessie Palmer acts quaintly as a doting mother.

A distinct hit is made by Nipper Lane, a youthful comedian in whose diminutive personality many talents are united. He creates a diversion as a youngster home for the holidays, and afterwards appears in the picturesque dress of a Dutch boy, performing a clever dance in clogs. The fact that Nipper Lane is a born comedian does not conceal the possession of a strong and melodious voice, which serves him well in his jödel singing as the youthful Hollander, and the enthusiastic recall which he receives is in every way deserved. Miss Rachel Lowe has a particularly agreeable number in "The Gay Bohemian Knights," a song which permits the comely comedienne to appear as a lady of high degree in a becoming "Court" dress, and to sing a most melodious and lilting refrain. A character of quite a different sort is forthcoming in that of a lady of lower rank, whose refrain, "They all go to church on Sunday," is rendered with a wealth of satire. Cruikshank, who prides himself on being the "fool of the family," delivers many pungent witticisms in the quaintest possible style, which ensure their acceptance. His singing of a ballad about "Mother," in which he accompanies himself on a violoncello, is also thoroughly enjoyed; and a parody on "I wouldn't leave my little wooden hut for you" obtains a demand for an encore, which the clever jester gratifies by a terse recitation.

A bright and merry interlude is supplied by the Leonards in their "Entente Cordiale," in which Mr. Bob Leonard as a naval officer and Miss Jenny Leonard as a chic French demoiselle create mirth and melody. Tunefulness is also secured in their duet of "My Irish Ivy," to which is added a dance remarkable for the precision with which it is executed. Many "double turns" have arisen since the Leonards first came to charm variety lovers with their duets and dances, but they still hold a high place among comedy artists of the first order. Mr. Arthur Slater, minus any artificial aid, gives lifelike imitations of the trilling of song birds, his reproduction of the whistling of a skylark on its flight from earth to heaven being wonderful. Mr. Slater's sibilant powers are also demonstrated in a performance of an American Bowery boy, who expresses himself entirely in a shrill whistle which seems capable of every mode of expression. Expert hand-balancing and lifting is displayed by the Sandwinas, the lady of whom is able to swing her male partner about with ease, finally bearing him off the stage held aloft with one hand. Park's Eton Boys are enthusiastically applauded for their solo and part singing; and attractiveness is given to the bill by the presence therein of Miss Kate Traill, the lady at the piano, Mr. Walter Clyde, tenor vocalist, and Ruffell's Up-to-date pictures.

ISLINGTON EMPIRE.

Amongst North London places of amusement the Islington Empire has enjoyed a full share of public patronage during Whit week, crowded audiences showing in no half-hearted manner their appreciation of the excellent programme submitted. With regard to the comedians engaged the heartiest reception has unquestionably been reserved for Mr. Will Evans, who has introduced with the greatest success his latest absurdity, entitled "I am a Soldier." Mr. Evans has been seen in far funnier impersonations than this burlesque military officer, but it is a fact, nevertheless, that Empire audiences have laughed consumedly at the wild eccentricities of this shambling representative of the Service, who brings with him some half-dozen even more extraordinary specimens of the army. Their extravagant make-up alone is quite sufficient to excite merriment, to say nothing of their performance. Mr. Evans makes jesting allusions to the German Invasion of 1910, and when informed by a military messenger that the enemy have taken Barking Creek, replies that they are quite welcome to it. But, as leader of the home forces, he absolutely declines to surrender Islington Green, and prepares to do battle with the foreign foe. The stage is darkened, and much firing of guns and other indications of a severe fight in progress are heard. When the lights are again turned up the battlefield is found to be strewn with dead soldiers; and the commanding officer, Mr. Will Evans, is bidding the only live soldier left a comical farewell. The versatile comedian, it should be said, is as alert and active as ever, and there can be no question as to his popularity at the North London hall.

Mr. C. Emlyn Jones and his Emerald Ladies' Quartette, in their international vocal scena, are to be commended for an excellent musical entertainment. The four ladies represent England, Scotland, Ireland, and Wales; and in succession popular national songs are given in admirable style. The well-known ditty in praise of "England, home, and beauty," is the concluding item. Mr. Jones and his ladies' quartette are recalled, and it is evident that their artistic performance is appreciated. The musical artist known as Orpheus is also here, and his solos on the saxophone and the oboe are greeted with applause. An interesting selection is the piece descriptive of a day's outing in the country, the different stages of the journey being cleverly indicated by the music.

Miss Rachel Lowe, in a very charming dress, sings with much animation of the doings of "The maids of gay Bohemia," and then, embodying a much more familiar and less picturesque personage, she gives, with equal acceptance, "They all go to church on Sunday." That Miss Lowe meets with a flattering reception may be taken for granted. So, too, does Mr. Dan Crawley, who is a frequent visitor to this hall. He continues to maintain his popularity with "Father keeps on doing it" and other ditties. Mr. Walter Stanley, comedian, introduces a song on the tram and 'bus ticket collecting craze. He also does well with a ditty called "I'm glad I live in England." Frobel and Ruge go through a performance on a pole, which is balanced on a swinging trapeze, and also revolves, with the comedians—one of them made up to represent a Chinaman—"holding on" at each end. A return visit is being paid by Jordan and Harvey, who are described as American Hebrew dialect comedians. Their cross-talk is very funny. The Five Bonbons appear with successful results in their new trap act, Hot Time for One. A specially interesting feature of this week's programme has been the Bioscope, with a series of pictures illustrating Princess Ena's Wedding, The bride and bridegroom are seen descending the steep steps leading from the church where the marriage was solemnised; and entering the royal carriage, which is surmounted by a large crown. Mr. Lynden Greenwood, the manager at this hall, admirably discharges his various duties; and Mr. A. Petersen is the able musical-director.

HOLLOWAY EMPIRE.

An attractive and well-varied programme has been submitted here this week, and a large section of local holiday-makers have availed themselves of the opportunity of witnessing a first-class entertainment, in which the humorous element largely predominates. The comedy couple, Clark and Hamilton, are on a visit here, and have received a warm welcome. The genuine humour of Mr. Clark's embodiment of a gentleman of seedy appearance, who adopts a haughty tone, displays huge so-called diamond rings, and appears to be in possession of unlimited wealth in the shape of bank-notes, always appeals to an audience, and he delights in introducing pointed topical allusions that seldom miss fire. But Mr. Clark is not only a capital comedian; he is as versatile as he is clever. He is a skilful pianist; and then, by a rapid change of dress in full sight of the audience, he assumes the character of a Jap, and serenades his lady love, who, Juliet-like, appears at the window in response to his amorous ditty, "My Yokohama Queen." But the maiden, not having any old nurse to watch her movements, descends to the garden, and joins her admirer in a charming dance. Miss Hamilton enters with spirit into the comedy part of the business, and is also an exceptionally attractive vocalist and dancer.

Mr. Deane Tribune presents his amusing sketch, entitled Applicants. The requirements of a gouty old gentleman have for years been carefully looked after by his nephew and niece, but he suddenly takes it into his head that he will engage a companion. His nephew, Tom, is a clever mimic, and, determined, if possible, to prevent his eccentric uncle from engaging a stranger as companion, assumes various characters, who are introduced as applicants for the situation. A French lady calls first, then a gentleman of pugilistic fame, followed by a kilted Scotchman and a blear-eyed woman, who has had "a past," and has to be ejected. Next comes a professor with an electric battery, with which he proceeds to experiment upon the maid-servant, whose contortions cause much merriment. The several characters are cleverly portrayed; and the gouty old gentleman, his niece, and his extremely active maid-servant, are all well acted by the members of the company.

Miss Florrie Gallimore is one of the leading attractions in the current programme, and has been very successful with a selection from her budget of songs. Amongst these may be specially mentioned "The Belle of Barcelona," "I never talks about my neighbours," and "Give us a chance," the last-mentioned being a revival of the "answer song," which was popular at the halls a few years ago, but is seldom heard nowadays. Miss Margaret Ashton appears in a pretty white costume to sing "The Winter Girl," the scene representing snow-clad mountains, while into the melody is introduced the tinkling sound of sleigh-bells. Altogether, the effect is very charming. Mr. Will Cornish wins much applause by his skilful rendering of "The Lost Chord" on the bamboo chimes, and the popular "Sing me to sleep" on the silver bells. Miss Flo D'Orville scores in the character of a lady of the ballet, who complains of being placed in the back row, and indulges in a burlesque dance. Mr. Alix Lukos, in his scena, Pictures in the Fire, is well received; and so, too, is Miss Nancy St. John, comedienne, who advises everybody to "Put a bit away for a rainy day." The Four Figaros, in their international songs and dances, give an interesting and attractive performance; and Pit and Cute, who arrive in an airship, are responsible for a novel acrobatic act. The front of the house is under the careful supervision of Mr. C. W. Adams, the acting-manager, and the orchestra is ably directed by Mr. Henry W. May.

THE SURREY.

The Belle of Barcelona; or, the Mummer and the Maid, produced here on Monday by Mr. Jack Mackenzie, who is loyally supported by an excellent company, is a bright and merry hotch-potch of song, dance, and cross-talk, that bears a strong resemblance to many a "Belle" that has gone before. The story, or what there is of it, is laid in sunny Barcelona, and although we are aware that that is the place "where the 'Nuts' come from," we never knew before that "Chestnuts" were so very plentiful in that country. However, The Belle of Barcelona will admirably serve its purpose as a thirty minutes' diversion, for it is everything in turn and nothing long. The President of Barcelona has a daughter who is the acknowledged "Belle" of the State, and has been promised in marriage to Beppo, the chief of police, who although having held the appointment for twenty-five years has never made an arrest. This angers the President, who informs his prospective son-in-law that unless he arrests someone before sundown his engagement to his daughter is off. Fate seems to play into Beppo's hands, for there comes into the town a stranded English comedian, Marmaduke Miggles, who, meeting the charming Belle of Barcelona, tells her his tale of woe, and straightway falls in love with her, while she informs Miggles that she will do anything to escape from Beppo's hateful attentions. Miggles arranges to disguise himself as a woman, and when the fair Belle goes for her morning dip, to be there also, and endeavour to reach the English ship lying in the bay. Beppo's spy, Pedro, overhears this scheme, and tells his employer, who in turn informs the President, who sentences poor Miggles to death. Miggles, by assuming various disguises, manages to escape, and gets into Beppo's confidence. He tells Miggles his plans to depose the President and become ruler of Barcelona. Miggles sees his way to win the President's favour, and his daughter too, and is so successful that he gains both at the end. This miniature musical comedy is well mounted, and the scene of the Bay of Barcelona is rich in colour and animation. The lady who represents the title-rôle merits warm praise for a very bright and chic performance. Mr. Jack Mackenzie, as the irrepressible Marmaduke Miggles, is highly diverting, and Mr. Herbert Boyle scores as the Chief of Police. A word of praise is due to the Spanish dancer, who adds not a little to the general success. With a comely and tuneful chorus, and costumes elegant in design, The Belle of Barcelona is well equipped for a prosperous career.

CAMBERWELL PALACE.

An exceptionally enticing list of talented turns has been provided this week at the popular Camberwell variety theatre, and, as a consequence, the house has been packed nightly. The bill is especially strong in comedians, a particularly cordial welcome being extended the favourite coster delineator, Mr. Gus Elen, in his clever song scena on the unemployed question. Mr. Elen's portrait of the "work-shy" has been much elaborated since we last saw it, and the business introduced greatly adds to the merriment this original and really humorous impersonation creates. Entertaining also is the interlude for which Mr. Albert Whelan is responsible. His ability as a sifleur is displayed in the whistling solo from The Belle of New York; and much laughter is created by his imitation of a lady with a bad cold singing "Because I love you." His varied and admirably worked turn also includes some excellent mimicry of Mr. Alf Gibson, Mr. Harry Lauder, and Mr. G. H. Chirgwin, his imitation of the voice and "patter" of the "white-eyed one" being particularly good.

Miss Kittee Rayburn, a comedienne who should eventually find her way into musical comedy, a class of entertainment for which she is admirably equipped—especially in a Connie Ediss part—sings with much point and archness "Come and make love to me," an invitation to a gentleman in the stalls, the musical director, and an occupant of a box, the efforts of the last-named to get on the stage being provocative of considerable hilarity. There is also much quiet humour in this accomplished little lady's second contribution, "Oh! you clever, superior men," and her reception at its conclusion is decidedly cordial. Another favourite artist is Miss Florrie Forde, who has an excellent chorus number in "Do Drop into the Dewdrop Inn"; but her best contribution is undoubtedly a humorous ditty concerning a parson and his "flock," an admirably-rendered and much-appreciated number. The Two Bostons submit their familiar and always amusing turn as "Novelty Showmen," to the success of which a couple of white cats and a particularly intelligent retriever contribute considerably, the younger Boston also displaying much smartness as a step dancer; and the attractive and clever musical turn given by the Vernons, xylophone experts, is accorded some of the loudest applause heard during the evening.

The cultured vocalism of Miss Winifred Hare is, of course, a popular item, her refined and expressive singing of the tuneful number, "There's one little lonely star," being acclaimed at its true worth. "Can't you think of any other name but Baby" is also an attractive item as rendered by this accomplished vocalist. Harry Grey, billed as the "Australian Nugget," evokes considerable hilarity with a nonsense song; and his impersonation of a lady singing "Sweet Chiming Bells" is decidedly humorous, the "bells" largely aiding in the merriment created. The vocalism of the Steinway Glee Singers is a much appreciated item in the programme, "The Anchor's Weighed," "Tom Bowling," "Go to Sea," and other popular numbers being introduced into their well-worked and interesting interlude, a quaint rendering of "Simple Simon" also being given. Clever gymnastic and funny comedy business are combined in the turn of the Hiltons; and the wonderful strength of arm and real ability as acrobats of the Andreassen Brothers call forth much admiration and applause. Early in the evening Mr. George Reeves compels laughter with a ditty concerning a bad cigar; and other contributors to the programme are Miss Janet Reynolds, King and Benson, the popular Irish comedian, Mr. Michael Nolan; Miss Rosie Lloyd, Joe Elvin and Co. in Billy, the Obedient Boy, and Mr. Tom Costello, the last-named artist being absent on Tuesday evening owing to indisposition. The Animated Pictures shown by Vernon's Bioscope also add to the enjoyment of the audience. Mr. P. A. Lennon in a courteous manager; and the excellent orchestra is under the careful control of Mr. Leon A. Bassett.

EALING HIPPODROME.

Could Izaak Walton, the great father of all things piscatorial, revisit the scenes of his triumphs in company with Mr. Harry Tate, he might have reason for regretting that his lot was cast among the duller folk of the seventeenth century, and not among the purveyors of fun belonging to the twentieth. Silence and solitude, coupled with a punt, are generally associated with the "gentle art," but while Mr. Tate avails himself of the useful punt, he, somehow, contrives to dispense with silence and solitude. When Fishing was first produced, it was easy to see that it had come to stay, and how many thousands have laughed at its drollery since it first amused audiences at the London Pavilion it would require a greater genius than Inaudi to calculate. Repetition apparently only adds fresh funny features; and to-day it constitutes one of the most side-splitting productions on the variety stage. It is soon seen that the commissariat department will form an important adjunct to the expedition, and when an endless array of whiskies, brandies, and bottled beers line the stage, the fun becomes contagious, but more fun is to follow. The embarkation having taken place, the angler "sails away for the placid backwater." "We are soon there," is the remark. Unhappily, there is another angler—a keen sport, who knows the traditions of the "pool," and between Mr. Tate and that other, language becomes somewhat lurid, the solitary gentleman having conscientious objections to the continual emptying of "ground bait" into the stream. He is much upset, and so, in the end, are Mr. Tate and his punt. The uproarious trifle is played by the comedian in his own inimitable style, and he is admirably supported by his company. The scena, of which Mr. Wal Pink is the author, is received with genuine applause.

The Arcadians, a trio of "pastoral players and vocalists," give an entertainment which is pretty in its surroundings and musical in its accompaniments. "Under the Greenwood Tree" is a charmingly concerted piece, and a dainty little love episode is played with crispness and abandon. Mr. Tom Stuart, character actor and mimic, is very successful in his representation of Wilfred Denver, from The Silver King, the dream speech being well given, and he scores greatly by his presentation of the miser Gaspard, from Les Cloches de Corneville. Mr. Stuart's make-up is perfect, and he thoroughly realises the intense love of gold, which is the sole passion of the unhappy old man. Mr. Bert Williams may certainly claim to be in the front rank as a ventriloquist. His patter is funny, racy, full of quips and conundrums, and entirely free from vulgarity. His boy is sufficiently impudent to be amusing, and the little maid in the swing shows wonderful manipulation. The old gentleman, too, both sings and acts while Mr. Williams, entirely disconnected, plays an accompaniment upon the piano. The entertainer is again and again recalled. The Wakeman Quartette—three gentlemen and a lady—present harmonised versions of the favourite ballads, "Annie Laurie" and "The Banks of Allan Water." As an encore, the late Sir Arthur Sullivan's part-song, "Sweet and Low," was given on the night to which we are particularly alluding. The piano effects were delightful. Espinosa and Neilson, as a duo, combine both international and whirlwind dancing; as a burlesque première danseuse the gentleman of the energetic pair brings down the house; whilst as the "Russian dancers—from Whitechapel" the couple evoke enthusiastic applause. The bright and sparkling Sisters Sprightly are well-named "up-to-date" comediennes. Apparently the scene of their comedy business is laid in a toy shop, and three figures, a wooden doll, a mascot, and a pompadour, are discovered asleep. Preluded by some pretty music, the clock strikes twelve, and very soon the three dolls awake. One after another they "take the boards," and the fun is fast and furious. Later, one of the mimes figures as the proprietress of two chocolate-coloured coons. Briskness and brightness are happily allied in the turn, on which applause is showered. The Lannons give a display of double high pedestal dancing which wins appreciation; and Hans and Lux are truly termed "eccentric comedy entertainers." They certainly are most amusing, and particularly eccentric. Maudie Ford, with a handsome figure, is a good dancer. To produce a budget of novelties that shall be equally pleasing to stalls, pit, and gallery must, indeed, be a difficult task, yet this labour is accomplished by Mr. E. W. James, who presides so successfully over the fortunes of the Ealing Hippodrome. Mr. C. M. Lurring, the acting-manager, ably seconds his chief, and is unceasing in his attentions to the comfort of the audience. There is an excellent orchestra, too, under the baton of Mr. W. Neale.

NEW CROSS EMPIRE.

Mr. Ernest Bridgen, the able manager of the New Cross Empire, has had nothing to complain about in the attendance this week at his establishment, which, on the evening of our visit, presented an animated spectacle, what with the holiday hats and dresses of the ladies, and the light attire of the men. Mr. Bridgen, who has only held office at New Cross for some six months, has within that brief period made himself exceedingly popular with the local people, and as he pays such strict attention to every detail of the management of Mr. Stoll's south-eastern theatre, his efforts in the control and conduct of the house have been heartily appreciated, and have greatly conduced towards the comfort and enjoyment of the audience. Now, as to the Whitsuntide programme. There is Mr. George Lashwood, who comes upon the stage attired in smart evening dress, and in a few well-sung verses tells us how every cloud has a silver lining, and he also fails not to inform his hearers in how many ways the saying is applicable. Then, after changing into a light summer suit, he, while spring—the season in which the fancies of young men are popularly supposed to turn to thoughts of love—is still with us, he takes the opportunity to tell the ladies what to do in order to secure a husband, and his advice causes a good deal of amusement in the house. On his third appearance he is seen to be wearing a light fawn frock coat of the latest style and cut, and this time he has some entertaining remarks to make in reference to what is to be witnessed while one is travelling on the top of a tramway car. We have a particularly pleasing vocalist in the person of Miss Flo Esdaile, whose rendering of the "Soldiers' Chorus," from Faust, is one of the most enchanting items in the programme. Her dress is particularly striking. It is of oyster-coloured satin, over emerald-green chiffon, spangled with green and gold. Miss Esdaile, who is an Australian, possesses a high soprano voice, which is heard to advantage both in the number from Faust and in another, called "Shining Star."

While he is before the footlights, Mr. Jack Lane is a comical Yorkshire rustic. He sings some burlesque lines about the present tramway ticket craze, and he proceeds to relate the experiences of a farmer coming to London for the first time. Mr Lane always succeeds in compelling one's laughter, and in this direction he has been most successful this week at New Cross. He concludes his turn with a capital soprano rendering of "Dear Heart," his top notes being especially clear. Messrs. Sanford and Lyons, who are now well into their second year of the Stoll tour, are indeed a whimsical couple. Their songs and cross-talk and other patter are full of funny points, and in their simultaneous speciality dancing, they prove themselves to be wonderfully clever in that branch of art. The act is an irresistibly humorous one. The Clarkes are experts with the banjo, and their playing of the finale from William Tell and "The old plantation" is a pleasing bit of instrumentation. The Fantasies appear to find some favour with a new singing and dancing turn; and from the American Bioscope we get fine and clear pictures of the Derby Race, as well as of the ruins of San Francisco after the earthquake, ending with an amusing series of scenes illustrative of the adventures of the first cake made by a young wife.

The dainty and engaging Miss Irene Rose sings in agreeable fashion a story somewhat on the lines of "The Spider and the Fly." A man is the spider and a girl is the fly. The fly, it seems, is a remarkably unsophisticated little creature, for she confides in the spider, and even goes so far as to give the latter all her money. The result is that the spider goes away, and is never seen again. In her second ditty Miss Rose has something to say about what are commonly known as "goo-goo eyes," and in this, as well as in her preceding number, and in her dancing, she is most entertaining. She is a young artist who should be heard of a good deal in the future. Mr. Will Musgrave creates intense merriment with his quaint mannerisms and his diverting songs. His "A good job I had my mother with me" appears highly acceptable to the audience, who applaud the popular Will to the echo. A party of sixteen youngsters, calling themselves the Punch and Judy Girls, appear in a delightful song-scena. These kiddies are as merry as children round a may-pole, and their dancing is quite as pretty and effective. They are, indeed, merry specimens of miniature mankind, and their voices are heard to good effect in "Ma honey" and "My own Lallie." The Remingtons, a clever acrobatic troupe, consisting of four ladies and two gentlemen, perform a number of really smart athletic feats, including novel somersaults and turns which require no small amount of agility and skilfulness to execute.

MISS FLORENCE ST. JOHN, for her entertainment in the halls, has been furnished with a duologue by Mr. Forbes Dawson, who has also written one for Mr. Harry Kilburn. Burnham, the Scout, which is from the pen of the same author, who wrote it during the progress of the Boer War, has been successfully produced at Greenwich by Mr. Guy Addison and company.

CLACTON'S NEW PALACE.

It must have been a stony-hearted cynic, disgusted by some frantic outburst of rowdyism on the part of a big, undisciplined crowd of East-enders at the seaside, who wrote:—

By the sad sea wave
Gloomy trippers rave,
Kicking up their heels
In semi-drunken reels.

He might have encountered a toil-worn multitude which, tired of gazing at the dancing waters, had sought the means of disturbance at the pewter's mouth, afterwards disgusting the local authorities with unblushing blackguardism. The scene might, indeed, have been enacted at Clacton, the queen of Essex watering places. If it did, then we are bold enough to state that its recurrence there is extremely problematical, to say the least, for a man of enterprise has arisen on the marge of East Anglia—an apostle of wholesome amusement for those who gladden their hearts by a day at the seaside. A year or two since, Mr. Henry Ford, of Brixton, made up his mind that at least one popular seaside resort of England below the Humber should cater for the tripper, and should no longer regard the jaded, anæmic worker of the great metropolis as a most unwelcome visitor. He found in Mr. George R. Sims an enthusiastic advocate of the provision on a more generous scale than has hitherto prevailed of places of amusement for the many thousands of Londoners and others, who, during the summer and autumn seasons, make short railway trips to our popular South and East Coast health resorts, and, with the cordial approval of that gentleman, he set to work to build a palace and pleasaunce by the sea that should be an artistic reflex of the magnificent pleasure resorts to be found in Beneficient Blackpool, the seaside capital of busy Lancashire, to which the weaver, the mill hand, and the pitman come in their thousands, to find themselves welcomed and entertained in a way that finds no counterpart on our other coasts.

Mr. Ford, who made a fortune in Brixton by his business foresight and energy, with the courage of his convictions, has not invited support from syndicate or company, but has found the whole of the money for his scheme, and Clacton's new pleasure house by the ocean is a one-man enterprise—a very remarkable fact in these days of colossal combinations.

The Palace Theatre, with its pretty, effective, and artistic façade, is situated on Clacton's Marine Parade, and faces due south, looking out over the German Ocean. It is built entirely of steel and iron framing, and the seating capacity of the auditorium is 1,200, exclusive of the promenade. The great hall is 100ft. long by 60ft. wide, with seating accommodation for nearly 1,000 people, and round three sides of it there is a charmingly-arranged promenade. The floor has been specially built and arranged for dancing, and can be converted into a beautiful ballroom in the short space of a quarter-of-an-hour. The East-ender, and, for that matter, the North-ender or the Drury-laner, loves to dance. Give him the proper environment of well-upholstered seats, artistic decorations, a fine band, and a magnificent floor, and he will behave as a gentleman. Mr. Ford has this faith in the tripper, who will have no inducement to indulge in alcoholic liquors at the Palace, as no liquor licence will be applied for. The architects of the beautiful theatre and the great hall are Messrs. Arthur G. Spencer, M.S.A., and Arthur Tighe, of Clacton-on-Sea, who must certainly have created a record in quick building. In the theatre, which contains a remarkably pretty supper lounge, entertainments of the highest class will be given. Flanking the beautiful entrance hall, with its flower-beds and myriad lights and decoration, are two terraces, where the finest bits of seascape and landscape may be viewed. Nearly all Doulton ware, the "Madeira Walks" are pictures of tasteful design, especially in the evening when festooned with electric lights, and promenaded by holiday-makers. But it is in the grounds themselves that the chief charm of the Palace lies. Here is to be found the charming band-stand, standing Venice-like in a lagoon of its own, and the Japanese, Indian, and Swiss tea houses. Here, built out against a background that makes us believe we are roaming in the sunny South, is a beautiful grape-vine terrace, where, in the cool evenings, one may sit and listen to the soft music of mandoline and guitar, and note the ingenious lighting of the place by the incandescence of luxurious bunches of fruit. Then there is an Ice House, of original design, which appears like a miniature iceberg, and is just as cool. The blue grotto of Capri is an artistic delight, with its wonderful rockwork, its winding paths, its trickling waters, and its cool, sequestered nooks. The electric fountains, direct from the St. Louis Exhibition, are marvellously contrived, and their changing colours will flash many a time and oft upon a fairy scene that even the projectors of the great palaces of the North may envy. Then there are several rockeries, waterfalls, and cosy corners of turf, flower-bed, and fern, and the wonderful illusory landscape painting of the backgrounds, which give the ensemble a spacious perspective. In these respects the most artistic results have been achieved, but the average holiday-maker wants a little more substantial fare for his money, even if it be only 3d., as at the Palace, and so Mr. Ford has given him all sorts of side shows, including a shooting gallery, a spiral mat-slide, which the spinning slider has already dubbed "slipping the slip," a siege of Port Arthur, "Tibet," distorting mirrors, and countless other little distractions with which to spend a happy day. The laying out of the spacious grounds and the building up of the artistic attractions they contain has been wisely entrusted to Mr. T. B. Harpham, of 141, West-avenue, Portman Market, Church-street, London, N.W., whose fame as a horticultural designer has long since been established. Mr. Ford's speculation is remarkable for the completeness and finish of its detail, and he is assisted by a hardworking and energetic staff, the heads of departments being Mr. Edgar Curtis (business-manager), Mr. T. B. Harpham (superintendent of grounds), and Mr. Jack McLaren (stage-manager).

The artists specially engaged for the week ending June 9 are Miss Beatrice Willey, Miss Lilian Gardner, Miss Rosa Loader, Mr. Elliston Webb, Mr. W. A. Peterkin, Mr. Edgar Berte, Mr. Edgar Curtis, and the Scarlet Pompoms (Miss Marjory Lytton, Miss Maud Willey, Mr. Ethelbert Edwards, and Mr. Jack McLaren), in a twenty-minutes' travesty. Bioscope pictures by Ruffell's Syndicate will be shown each evening, and on Sunday there will be concerts at three and eight.

The Great Eastern Railway will, during the summer, run a frequent service of express trains between London and Clacton, and will issue cheap tickets for varying periods.

On Saturday Mr. Frank Marshall piloted a party of visitors from London to Clacton, to assist at the opening ceremony, which was performed with his characteristic charm by Mr. George R. Sims.

After Miss Lilian Gardner had sung "God Save the King," Mr. Sims spoke as follows:—This was a day of deeds, and in the presence of deeds which spoke for themselves he did not propose to weary them with words. The reason he was here was because for many years he had been advocating in the public Press the better catering at the seaside—more especially on the South and East Coasts—for the amusement of the people. When his friend Mr. Henry Ford, to whom they owed this splendid venture—this miniature Earl's Court by the sea—when Mr. Ford came to him some time ago and said: "You have been writing a great deal about palaces of amusement, and advising the East and South Coast to adopt some such idea; if I put my money down and build one, will you stand sponsor for it on the opening day?" He said he would. He had seen the Palace, had been round the grounds, and he had no hesitation in saying that Mr. Ford, by his pluck and perseverance, and firm faith in the appreciation of the British public for that which was really good, had far surpassed the expectations he had formed when he first explained his programme. He was quite sure this was a step—nay, a gigantic stride—in the right direction. Many of the seaside places, here and around the coast, were complaining a great deal about losing the patronage of the English people—complaining that the English people were going abroad to spend their leisure—and that which mattered more, their money—and he was inclined to think that was a little the fault of our seaside places. There were the beauty spots where the sea was, and having the sea, they said to the visitors: "There is the sea; go and amuse yourself looking at it for a month." That was where the Continent had competed with us. They had given variety, and catered with rather more enterprise than we for the amusement of the seaside visitor, not to mention the tripper. Variety, they knew, was charming, and the sea was salt; but variety was the salt of life. Here in Clacton they were going to meet the foreigner on his own ground. Here they were going to give the people the same class—and in many ways better class—than the foreigners were giving, and in many places where the foreigner had taken the money it would be taken and spent in this country. Here in Clacton Mr. Ford was going to do the very best that could possibly be done; he was going to rely upon the patronage of people who would appreciate a great and artistic endeavour, and he felt that not only was the visitor going to be benefited, but Clacton itself would find its prosperity materially added to by having upon its coast such a place of entertainment as this. As a Londoner, he knew that Clacton was not properly appreciated; in London those who had had the privilege of seeing Clacton had a false idea of it; they did not appreciate it, and the greater the charms they could provide to bring them down here, the more rapid would be the well-deserved advance of Clacton. Concluding, Mr. Sims said he was glad to be present on this occasion, and proud that an idea he had been advocating for fifteen years had been carried out; and he felt they owed Mr. Ford a debt of gratitude for the way in which he had carried it out. He was perfectly certain he was voicing the sentiments of everyone present when he heartily congratulated Mr. Ford and wished him long life and prosperity as lord of this bright domain.

Mr. Henry Ford, who was received with tremendous cheering, said he might be either a plucky man or—there were various opinions—a fool, but they would know by next September. Mr. Ford acknowledged the services of architects, builders, and Mr. Harpham for the splendid efforts they had put forward to bring the Palace to its present position, and for his part he should do his utmost to please his patrons, and to make the undertaking the success he intended it to be.

Mr. W. Bailey, L.C.C., of the West London Theatre, and the oldest theatre proprietor and manager in the Metropolis, followed in a happy speech, in which he urged that those who lived to please must also please to live, and he wished Mr. Ford hearty success in his gigantic undertaking. He had started well with a good orchestra, for music was the soul of love—and that was a very good thing to go on with, to say nothing of the quaint little alcoves in the grounds, which invited pleasant tête-à-tête tea-parties. He hoped by next year it would be found that Mr. Ford's banking account had been swelled, that he had been able to attract more visitors to the place, and had successfully catered for their amusement.

Mr. T. B. Harpham expressed pride in the fact that these handsome buildings had risen in what six months ago was an open field, and said he had never worked with a gentleman more sanguine of success than Mr. Ford.

HOUNSLOW HIPPODROME.

This week has witnessed quite a galaxy of talent at the above named pretty temple of varieties, which has completely won its way to favour. Little Zola returns to the scene of his former triumphs, and richly merits the applause showered on him. His methods are original and his humour spontaneous, and peal after peal of merriment rings out as he confides his experiences as the commander of a troop of military. Another of his successes is supplied in "Nursery Rhymes," and then, by special request, he gives a burlesque scena as "The Ghost of Mrs. Porter." This is quite a droll ditty, and the diminutive comedian interprets it admirably. Miss Kitty Gresham, a bright comedienne, sings a cricket song with plenty of verve, and scores literally right along the line. The Mimosa Trio sing capitally and dance with no little skill, their "coon" ballad being excellently done. Ballad singing is supplied by Miss Sadie Lawrence, who renders "A Dream of Paradise" with artistic feeling. A lot of fun is created by the Three Currans in their burlesque boxing, and their sketch, Taking the Census, is one of the funniest items in the bill. The Courtneys add to the humours of the evening with a wildly hilarious farce, entitled The Doctor, and Miss Josie Watson wins her way to popularity by hard work and the exercise of considerable talent. Harry Royde billed as "the funniest man that ever appeared," may lay some pretentions to the announcement; certainly his fun proved highly infectious, and his contributions were much esteemed. Jury's Bioscope gives the audience an opportunity of witnessing the Madrali wrestling contest, followed by 'An Affair of Honour." The orchestra, under the able direction of Mr. Bodin, capably interprets C. Howard Cole's stirring composition "L'Assemble," and Mr. Reginald Grant discharges his duties in the front of the house with much courtesy.

Mention may be made of an appreciable innovation in the sale of the programmes, each of which bears a number. Mrs. Lawson, the lessee, has selected certain numbers which she has written on a sheet of notepaper, and deposited in her safe at her private residence. The numbers selected will be read out from the stage at the first and second houses at the end of the week, and those who have programmes bearing corresponding numbers will have opportunity of selling them to the management for a certain sum. Mrs. Lawson stipulates "that the programme must be purchased within the Hippodrome between the dates of June 4th and June 9th, before the hours of 7.40 in the first houses and 9.40 in the second houses. It will be useless purchasing the programmes from persons outside the building, as the management have a method of checking every programme sold." On the evening of our visit the programmes were greatly in demand.

THE FRED LOCKE FUND.

The following additional subscriptions have been received by Mr. J. G. Crichton, 9, Bridge-street, Glasgow:—

	£	s.	d.
A. B. and J. J. Wright, Greenock	1	1	0
A. Allison	0	10	0
T. Jones, Putney	0	10	0
J. R. Watson (219)	0	2	6
J. M. Boyd (219)	0	2	6
H. (4)	0	2	6
T. G. H.	0	1	0

Miss Winifred Hare is taking a brief holiday next week before opening on the Stoll suburban tour at the Empire, Hackney.

ALEXANDRA PALACE.

Bank Holiday witnessed a large crowd at the People's Palace and grounds, thousands flocking from all parts. Appropriate outdoor amusements were provided, including a balloon ascent, under the auspices of M. Auguste Gaudron. On an open-air stage the Geisha Boys amused large audiences; and the witticisms of Dave Hall and his compatriots provoked shouts of laughter. In the Central Hall Mr. G. D. Cunningham received the most flattering testimonials to his ability on the large organ. Three variety shows were given. The Brothers Bennett proved to be excellent pedestal dancers; Mr. R. P. Hopkins as a bell manipulator has probably few equals; and Miss Violet Ludlow, with laurels long since gained at the A.P., was once more to the front with her sweet voice. The Alexandre Trio of trapezists gave a clever series of performances; the cornet solos of Mr. W. E. Bates were meritorious numbers; and the Three Pickards, in their comedy act, well deserved the applause with which they were received. Walter Bellonini, the famous juggler, combined novelty with good business, agility, and versatility of action, and secured enthusiastic applause. In the Industrial Hall, Fanning's Royal Court Marionettes played to overflowing houses; the Howards mystified all with their marvellous powers. "Slipping the Slip" and "The Haunted Swing" were all day occupied. In the South Corridor Hall Messrs. Lewis and Tombs gave a thoroughly refined and laughable entertainment, the ventriloquial interlude being artistic. In the Bijou Theatre the Rawson Family drew their usual crowded houses for their monological and humorous drawing-room entertainment. The well-known negro and coon delineators, Snow and Farron, gave a show with their black and white mascots in the Londesborough Hall.

An entirely new departure was made in the theatre on Monday, when Charles W. Poole's Royal Myriorama commenced their first three performances of their fortnight's stay. The views depicted were original sketches by artists of ability—amongst them the new method of submarine warfare, the eruption of Mount Pelée, pictures of the Russo-Japanese War, and the Massacre of St. Petersburg. Living pictures by the cinematograph were items received with peals of laughter. The variety artists engaged with the tour are of known celebrity. Miss Daisy Graham has a wonderful collection of trained birds, and her clever coon dog, "Nap," alone is worth a visit. A pretty little child artist, Doretta, sings well, and adds acrobatic feats to her other accomplishments; Harry Stewart, as a quick-change artist in sight of the audience, calls for special commendation; the Avondale Quartette are possessors of well-trained voices, and combine comicality with their business, which is praiseworthy and novel; Leonard and Mac are two eccentrics of the knockabout order, and scored a distinct success; Miss Kitty Woodford, a lady singer of illustrated songs, is a piquant and sprightly comedienne, and combines with her business the management of a wonderful canine orchestra and circus. The Bank Holiday entertainments at the A.P. concluded on the lake enclosure with a fire-work display by Messrs. Pain and Sons.

CHILDREN ON THE STAGE.

At Westminster Police Court on Saturday, application was made by a solicitor to Mr. Curtis Bennett for licences to permit Miss Carrie Laurie's juvenile troupe to perform at the Canterbury Music Hall. He mentioned the fact that a similar application, which was granted, had been made earlier at Marlborough-street by Mr. Albert Gilmer in respect of permission for performance at the Oxford.

Inspector Spencer (Z Division) said he was directed by the Commissioner of Police to inform his worship that these children, six in all, whose ages ranged from ten to thirteen, were last week licensed for places as far distant as the Chelsea Palace and the Islington Empire. With regard to the latter hall, the magistrate refused the licence to two on the ground that they were under size.

Miss Laurie stated that the children were only to be at the Oxford for ten minutes, and, it was hoped, for a similar time at the Canterbury. There would be an interval of two hours between each performance, and the children would finish before ten o'clock.

Mr. Curtis Bennett: I do not think these children ought to be carted about day by day like this.

The Solicitor: There are only two halls next week.

Mr. Curtis Bennett: I am not going on granting licences for young children in this way. I will not continue it—let that be understood. I will grant it this time, but for a week only, and for not later than 9.30 p.m.

The Solicitor: Will you make it for ten o'clock, sir. The "turn" has already been altered.

The Magistrate: I will not. You can take it or leave it, as you like.

THE LATE JOHN DEE HUMPHREYS.

The letter from Mr. Arthur Reeve, published in our columns recently, draws attention to the necessity for helping Mrs. Humphreys and her family. We strongly commend this most deserving case to the generosity of the showman world.

The many friends of the deceased, who was one of the founders of the Music Hall Artists' Railway Association, will, we are confident, now that they know the uregent necessity of the case, respond with readiness to this appeal.

During the whole course of a laborious and honourable career John Dee Humphreys was ever ready to assist his brother showmen. His open-handed generosity and unfailing kindness endeared him to a wide circle of friends and comrades in the circus and show world.

The object of the fund is to enable the widow and family to maintain their home until such time as the children are able to earn an income sufficient for that purpose.

Second list of subscriptions:—

	£	s.	d.
Lord John Sanger	5	5	0
Lord G. Sanger	5	0	0
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reeve	2	2	0
James Upton, Esq.	2	2	0
John Hyman	2	2	0
Terriers' Association	2	2	0
E. H. Bostock	2	2	0
H. Hales	1	1	0
Thomas Holden	1	1	0
Mrs. Ellis Frederick	1	1	0
J. R. Philpotts	0	5	0
Harry Lester	0	5	0
W. H. Atlas	0	5	0
John Moore	0	5	0
Arthur Simmons	0	5	0
G. H. Smythson	0	5	0
F. W. Millis	0	5	0
George Wyman	0	3	0
E. E. Cooke	0	2	6
E. D'Almaine	0	2	6
Total	£26	1	0

Subscriptions sent to The Era to Mr. F. H. Pedgrift, hon. treasurer, will be acknowledged week by week.

The usual monthly meeting of the committee of the Music Hall Sick Fund will be held on Wednesday next at 2 o'clock at the York Hotel, York-road.

QUEEN'S, POPLAR.

A change for the better has unmistakably come over the old-established hall at Poplar, and the enterprise of the veterans Messrs. F. and M. Abrahams is reaping its reward in packed houses. Mr. Jack Woolf, the energetic manager, has evidently discovered the exact means whereby to cater for the wants of a community whose monetary resources are limited, but whose perception is very keen. The hall has become quite a family resort, and it is no uncommon occurrence for the seats in the higher-priced portions of the hall to be booked some days ahead. The programme is invariably of an attractive and interesting character. Comic sketches and pieces in which sentiment principally figures are contained in the current bill, which is an admirable one all round. A sensational "episode of the day" is furnished by Mr. Fred Eustace and company in Our Curate. Rapid changes of scenery are effected in the piece, which introduces, among other sensational incidents, a set-to between a manly young curate and a public-house bully, who receives his quietus. The last scene witnesses the wedding of the fighting parson and the girl in whose interest he engaged in the contest, and the cheers of the audience, which are all along liberally bestowed, become very enthusiastic. Mr. Eustace plays with vigorous intensity as the Rev. Jack Russell, and a winning impersonation of the heroine is given by Miss Mary Eustace. A striking portrayal of a debased ruffian is given by Mr. Edwin Bennet; and Messrs. Ferris Gordon, David Collins, and David Curtis ably impersonate other parts.

The absurd side of the dramatic art is presented by the Breton Troupe in the pantomimical sketch A Tramps' Picnic. The head of the troupe distinguishes himself by his clever miming in the principal rôle, and is capitally supported by his coadjutors in comedy. Lord, Murrey, and Lord contribute a combination of fun and athleticism in their gymnastic mélange, entitled The Intruder, their dexterity on the punching-ball creating wild enthusiasm.

An instrumental sketch is presented "in a blaze of light" by the Musical Markies, one of whom was once popularly known as Miss Molly Malone. The young lady assumes the character of an Irish paper girl, whose singing of a ballad about the "Irish" not only captivates the audience, but secures the admiration of a French musician, who promises to show her the way to fame and fortune on the stage. He invites her to his lordly mansion, where a number of musical arrangements, decorated with brilliant electric lights, are revealed. The musician plays "The dear little Shamrock" on the sleigh-bells, and the paper girl, who has now been transformed into a principal boy, very properly makes a start with the musical glasses, on which she plays "Alice, where art thou?" as a duet with her partner. Afterwards the Parisian virtuoso renders "The Stars and Stripes" march on a row of bottles, claiming to be the only musician in Great Britain who can accomplish such a feat. The combination is a novel one, but is unmistakaby pleasing to the audience, who bestow many hearty recalls.

"The Black Diamond," as Mr. Chas. J. Johnson elects to be known, shines conspicuously in darkie songs and dances cleverly. He is very well received, and in response to an encore gives an illustration of the way in which he won cake-walk competitions both in America and Paris, putting in some elegant as well as quaint evolutions. The Sisters Malva have tuneful and powerful voices, and are listened to with pleasure in a couple of duets. The progress of the pictures on the new Bioscope is attended by roars of laughter, and interest is also aroused by the more instructive films. The Franko Midgets, said to be the smallest performers in the world, give an extraordinary conjuring act; and other contributors to the well-assorted programme are Mr. Sam Mitchello, comedian, and Miss Jessie Eplett, comedienne and speciality dancer.

WALTHAMSTOW PALACE.

After spending a glorious holiday in the open air on Monday, the crowd at Walthamstow came down like a wolf on the fold—a wolf, be it said, that Mr. Arthur J. Barclay, the courteous manager, had no wish to keep from the door of his Palace. First in importance of the "turns" for the week is the appearance of Fred Maxwell and company in their latest success Dick Dare, M.P., a highly dramatic little play, well constructed, and written with much point and crispness. Miss Lois Du Cane acts the dual rôle of the two sisters with rare ability, her quick changes—not only changes of costume, but of manner and temperament—being cleverly managed. Mr. Fred Maxwell is a handsome and fiery Dick, delivering the many effective speeches with which the part of the young M.P. is studded with great elocutionary excellence. Mr. Gerald Blake is the Italian, Antonio, and plays with striking power and intensity; Mr. Charles Levey is very good as Lucy's accomplice in crime, Rafael Vallois; Mr. Sam Harcourt gives an amusing portrait of the fire-eating and gout-afflicted Lord Savage; and Mr. A. Saunders gives a sound rendering of Sir Edward Vernon. The scene of the play is a beautiful "set." Abel and Welsh are among the very best "eccentrics" we have seen for a long time, and their contortions show to what extraordinary twistings the human frame can be subjected with impunity. The Four Esmeraldas, attractive young ladies in summer-like costumes, sing two songs with great purity of tone and much expression, their voices harmonising melodiously. Mr. Horace White still keeps his place among our best ventriloquists, while he adds to his leading business a pretty and bright touch as a pianist. Much of his talk with his puppets is very smart and amusing. Mr. Charles Penrose sings his two songs with the same skill as formerly. One of the hits of the week is made by My Fancy, whose dancing rouses the audience to enthusiasm. Dancing is always popular at this house, but none ever more popular than that of My Fancy. The Three Resuas are equilibrists with a unique entertainment, the manner in which the elder gentleman apparently supports with his teeth a settee on which the lady and the other gentleman sit being extraordinary. Ruffell's Imperial Bioscope shows some pretty and amusing pictures. The overture for the week is entitled "Whitsun Echoes," written by Mr. H. Petersen on well-known airs, and finely played by his orchestra.

The proprietors of the Colchester Hippodrome (Messrs. Mouillot and De Frece) had an unwelcome patron on Saturday last. Saturday is market day, and whilst the usual matinée was in progress, a bullock endeavoured to enter the house by way of the gallery staircase. Mr. George Alen and Mr. Ben de Frece had a lively quarter of an hour, but eventually succeeded in getting the animal out backwards, and what, at one time, looked a serious situation, was happily averted by the promptitude displayed by the chiefs of the staff.

Mr. Francis H. Bull, whose pretty specimens of brushwork are the delight of music-hall frequenters in all parts of the metropolis, and in the principal variety theatres in the provinces, has opened a new department in theatrical and music-hall advertising. He has struck the original idea of supplying managers with hand-painted art posters (pictorial or letterpress) for London or the provinces. These posters can be made transparent if necessary, and changed weekly at a reasonable price by contract. The art of the poster has made immense strides forward during the last few years, and Messrs. Bull, it is evident, are in the van of the movement.

THE EUSTON.

Full well they have laughed this week at the Euston, and with very good reason, for the contingent of comedians is headed by the one and only George Robey, to whom has been given the proud title of the "Prime Minister of Mirth." Mr. Robey's comedy is—if we may use such an American phrase—"featured" in his face. He evokes roars of laughter, often without saying one word, for every gesture is eloquent of fun. To the first item given by him on the night to which we are now referring may be attached the title "What are you looking at me for?" and is a study in surprises. In its humorous possibilities it does not equal the Robeyan impersonation of the serio's dresser—a woman who, like Charles Surface's aunt, sets a value upon herself. She makes her début as deputy for a lady of greater reputation, and complains of the shocking professional jealousy that so seriously affects her spirits. She takes the audience into her confidence regarding her dresses, and her sketch of the vie intime of the coulisses is, broadly speaking, a screamer. Mr. Sam Mayo, who has recently returned from South Africa, finds many admirers for his immobile comedy, and he evokes shouts of laughter in his impersonation of a Chinaman who was born much nearer the banks of the Thames than of the Yang-tse-Kiang. Mr. Whit Cunliffe, who has rapidly come to the front, has a tuneful number in "A Different Girl Again," and scores most unmistakably in his dictionary song with a number of new meanings which have been ingeniously thought out, and are decidedly smart. Mr. Cunliffe does not depend for his humorous effects on a red nose or a tattered and ill-fitting wardrobe, suggesting the casual ward or the Embankment loafer. He is, indeed, one of the smartest dressed light comedians on the variety boards, and, blessed relief!—speaks without a Cockney accent or a nasal twang.

Sentimental singers are always highly favoured at the Euston, especially when they are as liberally endowed with voice and as well cultured as Miss Daisy Davidson. The new soprano, who is mistress of roulade, cadenza, or rapid scale passages, has a fine resonant soprano voice, which has been well trained by that veteran master of bel canto, Signor Alberto Randegger. In her first solo Miss Davidson displays both her capacity for the rendering of difficult passages, singing with enthusiasm and without effort. In her ballad "Eyes of Brown" she displays a command of mezza voce effects, and sings with real sympathy. She is liberally rewarded with applause by the Eustonians, who seem to be delighted with her singing, and signify that delight enthusiastically. Park's Eton Boys in concerted and solo singing are encored again and again in popular items, in which they are accompanied by Mr. Willie Benn, their trainer.

The Anartos term their scena "A Morning's Mail." It is embellished with humorous patter, which precedes musical selections on the saxophone and fiddle, and the comedian of the pair puts on the "antick disposition" in a way that sends his audience into the merriest of moods. The scheme of fun propounded by the Three Prestons in their absurdity, The Liftman's Rise, is not quite clear; but that they have the hereditary ability possessed by their sisters there can be no shadow of doubt. The "liftman" is, indeed, a funny personage, with a fine command of Doric or the brogue, and his burlesque sketch of a Scotchman might with advantage be elaborated, especially as comedians "frae North of the Tweed" have become quite the fashion. The lady of the trio has all the vivacity, energy, and vim of her sister Jessie, and she betrays her relationship in every intonation of the voice and every gesture. The Misses Fraser and Haley indulge in a sleepy duet of the sickly sentimental type, which should do little to advance their reputation. One of the pair has a good contralto voice, but has not learned to use it. Other attractions on the programme engineered by Mr. Fred M'Avoy are Miss May Martin and Ruffell's Bioscope in a new series of up-to-date pictures.

A MISHAP IN MID-AIR.

The grounds of the Alexandra Palace were the scene of an exciting incident on Monday, when Mr. Harry Grande, who deputised for Professor Gaudron, the well-known aeronaut, had a narrow escape from death through an accident to the balloon in which he made an ascent. The start was made opposite the east front or main entrance to the Palace, and near the terminus of the electric tramway. The balloon, which had a capacity of over 40,000 cubic feet, was inflated and released, but at an altitude of about 120ft. it burst, and collapsed into a shapeless mass. With great presence of mind, Grande instantly pulled the cord by which is released the bolt attaching the parachute to the balloon. For nearly 100ft. his descent was unchecked, but ten or twelve yards from the ground the parachute fully expanded, and the rate at which he was falling was at once lessened. He fell among the crowd, but the momentum of his fall had been so minimised that several men had time to partially seize hold of him, and, falling to the earth with him, one of them was slightly injured. Grande was carried into one of the secretarial rooms, and members of the St. John Ambulance Association at once gave him first aid, and the news which was carried outside that they found him conscious, and apparently only slightly injured, gave great relief to the assembled crowd. Grande's wife, who, with her daughter, witnessed the ascent from the grounds, was quickly by her husband's side, and the honorary medical officer of the Alexander Palace Trustees was promptly summoned, and, after a careful examination, stated that there was no indication of Grande having sustained any internal injury, and there was no reason to expect that any such injury would develop itself later. Beyond a twisted foot, the shock, and a few bruises, Grande has passed through his adventure scathless. The wrecked balloon was gathered together and was at once placed under lock and key in view of future examination.

Grande afterwards proceeded to the Central Hall, where, to demonstrate to the audience the slightness of his injuries, he walked across the stage, amid great cheering. He lives in the neighbourhood, and after a brief visit to his home returned to the Palace, and, accompanied by a professional friend, made the ascent by the balloon which it had been arranged to release at half-past five o'clock. There was no attempt at a parachute descent, indeed none had been contemplated, and in this case the balloon was gas inflated and was fitted with a car which Grande and his friend occupied. The weather was beautifully bright when, within five minutes of the time fixed, the balloon was released and slowly ascended. By throwing out a lot of ballast the balloon rose quickly for a time, and then catching the breeze sailed away towards Hampstead.

Mr. Frank Lynne has made a great hit at the Metropolitan with the comic song entitled "When I woke up in the morning." It has been published by Mr. David Day, and is by Edgar Bateman and Fred W. Leigh.

One of the verses of Mr. Harry Randall's present amusing song, "Cursory Rhymes," by Chas. Osborne, has found its living prototype in a London police-court during the week, a man unwittingly wearing his waistcoat beneath his shirt for an entire day, and charging another man with having stolen it. Who can now say that ideas for comic songs are far-fetched?

THE SHOWMAN WORLD.

DESPITE the alarming prognostications of the weather prophets, Londoners at home, and their 300,000 country cousins, who crowded in to help them, enjoyed a most glorious Whitsun Bank Holiday. From all the great fair grounds of the outer ring of the metropolis comes news of record crowds of visitors and good business. We started our pilgrimage of the London fairs at Wormwood Scrubbs, that wonderful open free space, so much beloved of North-Western Londoners. Between the hostelry The North Pole and the entrance to the Scrubbs we counted over sixty stalls, vending all kinds of fair-ground novelties and comestibles, and stretching still further to a side entrance was a line of twenty or thirty stalls. It is no exaggeration of speech to say that, in the main string of visitors it would have been possible, so thronged was it, to have walked upon the people's heads. This determined, eager stream forged ahead across the vast open plateau of the Scrubbs, towards the immense carnival fair in the distance. Passing along we noticed the excellent provisions and wise forethought of the London County Council for the people's pleasure and necessities. Not only were the people provided with a well-selected aggregation of shows, roundabouts, and fair-ground novelties (and these things were, of course, enjoyed immensely by the great majority of visitors), but also provision was made for the minority, whose delight is not in the fun of the fair, but in quiet walks and open-air games. So vast is the open space that, whilst tens of thousands of people could enjoy all the delights of a big fair, all the local cricket clubs had ample space for big cricket matches, attended by hundreds of onlookers, without in any way interfering with the pilgrims' fair.

THE fair-ground itself, well set out, consisted of a huge square, intersected by four great avenues, containing the shows, machines, and other novelties. There were two great lines of swings and high-fliers, a dozen sets in each avenue, and with them were overboats and juvenile roundabouts. Amongst these we noticed the well-known concerns of Messrs. Allingham, Groom, Martin, Knighton, and George. The big machine sets were Smith and Whittle's switchback, and Knighton's cockerels and steam horses. The smaller roundabouts were those of J. Manning and George Sanders. The big show at the Scrubbs was the magnificent cinematograph theatre of Messrs. Hastings and Whayman. This capital exhibition with its splendid outside parade, with comedians and coon dancers, was doing first-class business. We also noticed that enterprising athlete and showman, Edward Elliott, has much improved and enlarged his fistiana booth. Here the patrons of British pluck and manly science were able to witness the expert boxing and athletic skill of Elliott's school of boxing and athletics.

A SPECIAL feature of this fair is the great crowd of amusement caterers with throwing games, coker sheets, football frames, ring and dart boards, Japanese fish vases, dolly frames, bottle batteries, pipe and window breakers, &c. These novelties consisted of the well-known firms of Messrs. W. Bedford, T. Proctor, S. Putnam, Holt, Worley, Goodall, Martin, Taylor, T. Irish, Goodhall, Elliott, G. Taylor, G. Sanders, W. Hussey, E. Smith, J. Bond, Traylen, G. Bond, Sulley, Pickard, and Mrs. Sanders. In the smaller fair ground, in the open space behind the North Pole Hotel, brisk business was done by Wm. Beach, with his famed aggregation of fair-ground novelties, including the motor-car set, the aerial flight, park swings, shooting range, and minor novelties.

INTERESTING as were the evidences of showmen enterprise at Wormwood Scrubbs, these were outdistanced by the entertainments, both great and small, provided by the showmen on Wanstead Flats. The great quadrangle set apart by the Commissioners of Woods and Forests was entirely filled with big roundabouts, large shows, swings, coker sheets, throwing games, and other novelties. In the centre were placed Barker and Thurston's composite machine, Swale Forrest's whirling the whirl, Brown's roundabout, and Parr's big wheel. Along the top line of the ground were three high-class cinematograph exhibitions, the central position being occupied by Wm. Taylor, with his well-known coliseum of varieties and animated photography. On his left, Alf. Ball, with his equally famous cinematograph and variety company, and on the right-hand side Barker and Thurston's celebrated electrograph. These three concerns afforded immense delight to the constant stream of their delighted patrons.

THE admirably selected array of minor novelties, throwing games, gem sets of horses and swings, were provided by W. Harris, Parr Bros., W. Houldsworth, and Brook the photographer. The double line of coker sheets were provided by T. Forrest, H. Simpson, Draper, Cooper, Parker, and Taylor Bros. Here, as at Wormwood Scrubbs, were two long ranges of swings and high flyers, mainly supplied by local caterers. Judged by the enormous number of people thronging the Flats when we made our visit, and the still increasing crowds pressing towards it as we left, there can be no doubt that the enterprise of the showmen, encouraged by the authorities controlling the open spaces, provides a compelling necessity of London life at holiday times. It is appalling to think what would become of the people if there were no such popular al fresco entertainments within a twopenny car ride of their congested home-dwellings.

THE great fair on Hampstead Heath attracted the biggest crowd ever known, the official computation of numbers being over 100,000 visitors. Quite a mile before we reached the Heath the streams of people from the great North London centres of life were converging towards the popular holiday resort. And what an excited crowd it was, bubbling over with good humour and ready wit; ready, too were the traders—both local and itinerant—in keen competition for the red-hot pennies of the eager sightseers.

As we stepped upon the Heath our first thought was, "Well done, London County Council; you are indeed providers of the people's amusement upon a grand scale." Here was the evidence of the business co-operation of the enterprising showman and the progressive County Council combining together for the well-being and entertainment of the multitude on Hampstead Heath.

ON the slopes of the breezy Heath, stretching from where it touches the village right away to the Vale of Health and back again, we have, roughly speaking, along the sides of a great triangle three big settlements of shows and fairground varieties.

THE larger concerns were—Purchase's wild beast menagerie, Wm. Biddall's cinématograph, Chipperfield's menagerie, Chittock's cinématograph, George Biddall's electograph, Hastings' two ground booths, Wilson and Bailey's fine art galleries, Sol Elliott's boxing booth, and some half-dozen minor sideshows. The principal machines were provided by Bailey, Forrest, Wilson, and Brett.

Two immense avenues of throwing games, coker-sheets, ring and dart boards, football games, dolly frames, and varieties were provided by—Messrs. Rawlings, Rowe, Russell, Farnsworth, Day, Bloxham, Birch, Spencer, Peters, Purchase, Bolesworth, Wilson, Lang, Hewitt, Forrest, Parsons, Higley, Ayres, Collis, Gardner, Daniels, Gregory, Carter, Denham, Beverley, and others. There were some half-dozen pitches set apart for park swings, and amongst the providers of these were Messrs. Rowe, Crisp, Forrest, Corby, and Brett.

THE Vale of Health site was as usual occupied by the numerous concerns controlled by Harry Cox, the local caterer, and these included galloping horses, giant wheel, over-boats, and swings. With them were the usual aggregation of minor novelties—toy, pannum, and variety stalls, penny-in-the-slot machines, strikers, and other novelties, all doing good business.

OVER one hundred pitches were let by the County Council to showmen on the Heath, and in addition to these (it is no exaggeration to say) there were hundreds of stallholders and fair-ground traders.

THE same excellent arrangement (with additonal facilities) that we chronicled at Easter time were provided by the Council for the convenience of visitors and showmen.

BLACKHEATH shares with Hampstead the distinction of attracting immense crowds of visitors at holiday times. Here, for their entertainment, were a number of well-known amusement caterers. The cokers and throwing games (fifty in number) were provided by Messrs. Lomax, Mould, Penfold, Clasper, Laws, White, Smith, Delamane, Maddox, Harrigan, Walker, Davis, Emberson, Bassett and others.

A SPECIAL feature of this fair is the long ranges of park swings and highfliers. These were provided by Arthur Cooke, S. Turner, F. Heath, W. Clasper, J. W. Martin, W. H. Darrent, George Smith, W. J. Ward, H. Pickard, M. Edwards, and others. Robert Buckley's show and other sideshows; machine and roundabout sets were provided by Messrs. T. Knighton, J. Saunders, D. Kane, T. Forrest, J. Edwards, Hook, Bodley, Poole, and Mrs. Sweetlove.

HERE, as at the other open spaces controlled by the London County Council, vast crowds enjoyed the open fair, and the report from all these great centres of open-air amusement is that the people enjoyed themselves, and that everything was conducted in the most good-humoured and orderly manner.

AT the Shorefields Liverpool Whitsuntide Fair, J. Berry's motor-cars and steam yachts, Collins's gondolas, Berry and G. Smith's big swings and punchballs were well patronised. Throwing games were represented by Fred Berry, Mrs. Deluney, and John Fairclough; and small games by J. Moffatt Mullon, Mrs. Jones Trotman, and Mrs. Ogden. "Whirling the Whirl" was supplied by Messrs. Lewis.

EVESHAM Whitsuntide Fair numbered amongst its attractions Mr. Thomas Clarke with racing motor-cars, Mr. H. Ayer's steam roundabouts, Mr. A. Curtis with pony roundabouts, Chipperfield's hall of laughter, shooting saloons, bottle batteries; and African jungles by Messrs. Clarke, Wilson, Ayers, Curtis, and Hatwell; park swings by Messrs. Clarke, Rawlings, Curtis, and Ayers; and strikers, cokernut sheets, stalls, fisheries, and other attractions by Messrs. Clarke, Chipperfield, Wilson, Kemp, Watkins, Stanley, Buckland, Taylor, Turner, Harding, and Kimberley.

AT Offenham Wake were Mr. H. Ayers with steam roundabouts, park swings, shooting saloons, bottle battery, cokernut sheets, and other amusements.

HERBERTS, the local showmen, with roundabouts, park swings, shooting saloons, cokernut sheets, and bottle battery comprised the attractions at Redditch temperance fête.

AT Studley Fête were Herberts' World's Fair, roundabouts, swing boats, shooting saloons, and other fair-ground paraphernalia.

FECKENHAM WAKE, near Redditch, will be held on July 2nd, not June 25th. Feckenham is about eight miles from Bromsgrove, at which place the fair is held on June 25.

CARMARTHEN June Fair took place on the Corporation Pleasure Fair-ground on Tuesday, in glorious summer weather, and thousands from the country-side flocked in, good business being the result. Messrs. Henry Studt and Son's electric motor-cars, Haggar's electric bioscope, and Prince Samonda's Egyptian mysteries (late of Barnum and Bailey's Show) were the chief attractions. Messrs. North's juvenile roundabouts, D. T. Danter, North and Booth's cokernut shies, fish aquariums, shooting galleries, swings, Aunt Sallies, and the other concomitants of a pleasure fair were also in evidence. The fair practically commenced on Saturday evening, and was continued on Whit-Monday evening, when the ground was resorted to by hundreds of pleasure-seekers; but the fair proper was held on Tuesday, when the place was crowded throughout the day.

ON Whit-Monday, in connection with the Carmarthen sports and cycle races, Captain Bidmead made a most successful balloon ascent and parachute descent.

THE Preston Whitsuntide Pleasure Fair was held, as usual, in the spacious market-place and adjoining streets. The weather was glorious and business good. The heavy list of riding machines consisted of three new sets of "electric racing motor-cars" belonging to Messrs. John Green, George Green, and Wm. Mitchell, jun. The attractions included: Mrs. Susan Holden's No. 1 set of gallopers, Harry Wallis's electric steeplechasers, John Green's switchback gondolas, Ben Mitchell's electric roosters, George Green's monstre farmyard, James Hibbert's original set of horses, R. H. Williams's tunnel railway, E. Holland's razzle-dazzle, W. H. Taylor's recently purchased set of overhead jumpers, and Fred Harrison's "Whirling the Whirl Lighthouse." The side-shows were of excellent quality throughout, viz., President Kemp with his new palace of light and music, Colonel Clark's theatre of varieties, Captain Payne's electric bioscope, Mr. George Green with his new royal cinematograph, John Shaw's (late W. Wright) fine art exhibition, Alf Haydn's second light act, Lidi Ali Gibson, the illusionist, Master Payne's toy ponies, and Ida Leslie, expert sharp shot. Mrs. John Green, Messrs. J. D. Humphrey, W. Talbot, J. Sharpe, and J. Parr each sent one set of gem horses and motors. Mr. Tom Harrison and Mrs. John Cornwall with overboats, gem swings by John Sharpe, and Tom Mitchell with his large steam boats catered for the swinging department. The pea saloons were under the supervision of Mrs. Bouser, Mrs. Omerod, Mrs. Harrison, James Ingham, J. J. and J. W. Butterworth, and E. Chadwick; and the shooting saloons and galleries under the direction of W. H. Taylor, J. D. Humphrey, R. H. Williams, George Cornwall, Mrs. Harrison, John Sharpe, Mrs. George Cornwall, and Mrs. John Cornwall. The fair-ground games were represented by J. Richmond, J. Taylor, John Ingham, J. Leonard, W. Jennings, jun., W. Utton, Albert Jolly, R. Richmond, G. Garlick, A. Garlick, T. Garlick, W. Grant, jun., T. Taylor, T. Forshaw, W. Talbot, J. Wilson, W. James Mitchell, H. Horsfall, George Cornwall, C. Wright, W. Wright, J. Freer, Mrs. Lorenza, Lorenza Crick, W. Dearden, G. Chadwick, and Isaac Harrison. For the pannam stalls Jennings and Butterworth were responsible.

THE old-time observance of Lichfield Greenhill Bower and Court of Array took place on Whit-Monday, and, the weather being of an ideal character, resulted in a great success. On no previous occasion has there been a bigger attendance of the public, while the executive are to be congratulated on keeping the attractive and popular side of the festival well to the fore. The procession included military bands, tableaux (all of which were well arranged), a royal progress in the days of Henry VIII., the court of arraye, embracing many examples of men and boys in armour, trades' procession, civic and fire brigade display. The general details were so complete and of such an attractive character as to deserve the warmest congratulations of the numberless visitors and the local public. At Lichfield the civic and cathedral authorities work hand in hand to make the Whitsuntide festival a great day of enjoyment, and on no previous occasion has a more complete success been achieved. The lessee of the tolls was Mr. C. Farrell, of Chester, who provided a capital lot of attractions. This is Mr. Farrell's third year of lesseeship, and it appears probable that his connection with Lichfield Greenhill Bower will be of a permanent character.

HANNEFORD'S up-to-date Circus, under the management of Mr. Harry Metcalf, visited Sligo on Monday, and gave two first-class performances before packed houses. This happy state of affairs was an agreeable surprise, as Sligo had earned the reputation of being very hostile towards travelling shows, and a large force of police was secured to check any rowdyism that might occur. Nothing happened, however, to mar the success of the performances, and Mr. Metcalf, when called by the audience for a speech, said that no matter what other show people might say, he had no hesitation in saying that a more appreciative and orderly audience he had never seen. The programme included the celebrated equestrians, the Hanneford Family; the well-known favourites, the Brothers Huston; Madame Steckles; Mons. Foot, the famous equilibrist; Mr. Will Frazer, Irish comedian and dancer; and Mr. E. Hanneford, with his performing ponies, elephants, camels, and dromedaries.

KIRKBY STEPHEN kept its fair on May 28 and following day. The new coliseum of varieties and animated photography, proprietor Mr. Cottrell (of swimming fame), did excellent business, exhibiting a fine range of up-to-date films. Johnson's circus, as usual, afforded immense delight to its hosts of patrons. Carr's steam horses and George Newsome's swings, rifle saloon, and emma sheets, M. Taylor's bottle battery, T. Newsome's cokers, and Taylor's throwing games, all did good business.

CROWLE fair (Lincolnshire) had for amusements J. Ball's cinematograph, Tom Harniess's motor-car set, minor varieties, and throwing games by Messrs. Ball, Gilliatt, Wroot, and local caterers.

THE chief providers of the amusements at Egremont (Cumberland) fair on June 2 were Messrs. Cariss and Fox with gondolas, and Messrs. Emmerson and Hazard with park swings.

THE Whitsun fair at Redruth opened on Saturday, the eve of the festival. The principal amusements, as usual, were provided by Messrs. W. C. and S. Hancock. Their exhibits included a cinematograph theatre, a set of electric motor-cars, a steam-horse set, and minor novelties. The other important concerns were Anderton's and Rowland's coliseum of varieties and up-to-date films, Lawrence's marionette theatre, and Brewer's galloping horses. There were in addition ranges of park swings, rifle saloons, bottle batteries, and the usual variety of fair-ground novelties.

AT the Cornish fair, Kilkhampton, the entertainments were provided by the celebrated Jones family, of circus renown, who, with their up-to-date cinematograph and variety show, greatly delighted the crowds of visitors. Mr. Jones also exhibited a rifle-shooting saloon. There were stalls and other novelties by local caterers.

SUBSCRIPTIONS to the Showmen's Guild. Per Mr. Shuttleworth: Connelley and Sons, 10s.; J. Smith, 5s.; P. Blakey, 5s.; J. Hale, 5s.. Per Rev. T. Horne: F. Sully, 5s.

THE fairs ahead for next week are Bidford-on-Avon, Cranbrooke, Hounslow, Millom, Ossett Feast, Pool, Southampton, Southwold, Fiskerton, Hayle, St. Anstell, Penzance, Astwith, Astwood Feast, Hardstaff, Outwood, Staveley, Staveley (Woodthorpe), and Taunton. In Scotland we have Alyth and Largs; in Wales, Brynmawr, Ferndale, Llangefeloch, Porth, and Usk.

SHEFFIELD WHITSUN FAIR.—The people of Steelopolis turn out in their thousands to enjoy their pleasure fairs, the principal one being that of Whitsuntide. Not only all Sheffield, but the large towns round about send in their train loads of show-loving people, and, given fine weather, the fair at Sheffield well repays the enterprise of the show men fortunate enough to be on the ground.

THE Sheffield blades enter into the fun of the fair with that strenuousness of purpose that has made their town the foremost centre of the steel trade, and one of the industrial marvels of the world. Among the multiplicity of attractions are Enoch Farrar's magnificent portable theatre of living pictures, John Proctor's electric cinématograph and varieties, Ling's fine art and distorting mirrors, Wilson's boxers, Westray's midgets, and several novelty booths. The machine list—always a big one at this fair—included the new motor-car sets by Tuby and Marshall (Marshall also exhibited flying motors), Tuby's galloping horses, Waddington's steam horses, and steam yachts and steam swings by Shaw, Corrigan, and Amos. There were also four sets of gem motors and three sets of small swings, Leven, Ratcliffe, Burton, and Bentley with rifle saloons, John Seed with bazaar, and George Wright with pannum stalls. The minor novelties (throwing games, &c.) were—sixteen cokers, fifteen variety frames, and twelve Emma-sheets.

AT Skipton, for the Whitsuntide festivities, were Prof. Blakey, with second-sight and esoteric mysteries; Darkey's school of boxers and athletes, Connolly's flying motors and highfliers, Heeson's steam horses and park swings, Shuttleworth's over-boats, gem motor-cars, miniature horses and baby swings; Scott's rifle saloon, swings, and throwing games; Burgess's shooting gallery and varieties; and minor novelties by Messrs. Crowther, Hales, and Howorth. These, with Howorth and Sons' Bazaar, tell the story of Skipton Fair.

COVENTRY FAIR began on Saturday, the eve of the Whitsun festival, and lasted until the 8th. The splendid cinématograph of Thurston Bros. was the centre of attraction. Prof. Ruby's mystic show, the X-Rays, and Harry Hughes' two exhibitions—the assault-at-arms and the fine-art gallery—were the shows. Patrick Collins exhibited gondolas, flying ostriches, steam yachts, and big boats; John Collins, whirling-the-whirls; Oliver Twigdon, gondola set and big wheel; H. Thurston, steam gallopers and highfliers; and swings by Messrs. Wood, Lowe, Wilson, and Whiting. A capital array of shooting concerns included ranges by Messrs. Neal, R. Paskin, W. Harris, and E. Shaw. The fun of the fair, in the shape of Emma-sheets, cokers, ring and dart boards, and variety stalls, were by Messrs. Holdsworth, Powell Bros., Lowe, Holmes, Johnson, Parkin Harris, Humphries, Haycock, Ogden, Wright, and Whiting.

SOME SHOWMAN WORTHIES.

By the Rev. T. Horne, Hon. Chaplain, the Showmen's Guild.

NELSON LEE.

(Copyright.)

A conspicuous figure on the fair-grounds of England was Nelson Lee, who flourished in the early Victorian times, and was a link between the showmen of the dim historic past, of whose exploits we have but little record, and those giants of the road of the later period, with whose life story this series of biographies is mainly concerned.

Nelson Lee, the son of Colonel Lee (a gallant officer, who won much distinction during the Peninsula War), broke away from all his home associations, and determined to follow the wandering and Bohemian life of the fair-ground. His first theatrical venture was at the Old Royalty Theatre, beginning at the bottom of the ladder as general utility, and with this experience only, joined the famous Richardson at Greenwich Fair.

After a season with Richardson he joined Gyngell, who had a show the equivalent of the modern circus of variety, the entertainment being almost entirely given by members of the Gyngell family. With this clever family Nelson Lee learnt the art of juggling, and, later on, we hear of him fulfilling engagements as a juggler at the Adelphi and other London theatres.

Equally smitten with the show fever, Nelson's brother, James Lee, had served an apprenticeship with Bannister's circus, and we next find the Brothers James and Nelson Lee fitting up an unoccupied factory in the Old Kent-road as a theatre. This was in 1822, and, although business was good, the young and somewhat inexperienced managers had neglected to obtain a theatrical licence, with the result that information was laid against them by rival theatrical managers, and the police raided the theatre, and arrested both audience and actors, with one exception, Saker, the comedian, who made his escape into a loft, and cut off the police by drawing up the ladder after him.

There was quite a liberation of the watch-houses of Southwark, Newington, Camberwell, and Greenwich, when, the following morning, after severe caution and reprimand, the audience and actors were discharged. James and Nelson Lee, pleading their ignorance of the exact letter of the law, were let off with a small fine.

The next important event in Nelson Lee's life was his partnership with John Johnson, to whom Richardson bequeathed £500. With Johnson Nelson Lee entered into partnership in order to purchase the famous Richardson show, which was then in the market. At the time of this important event Nelson Lee was managing Sadler's Wells Theatre for Osbalditston.

Lee had acquired a great deal of experience as a travelling showman, with Holloway's show, and had been the Scotch round, first with Grey's fantoccini, and afterwards with Dodsworth and Steven's automatons.

The partnership between Johnson and Nelson Lee effected the purchase of Richardson's show booth, and the new proprietors set forth upon their fair-ground ventures by staging the Esmeralda Ballet, principally with a view to the outside parade. This free show on the outside was in those days the most important means of advertising the inside performance.

They opened at Greenwich for the Whitsun fair, the booth being pitched at the extreme end of the fair, on a very excellent site near the bridge at Deptford Creek.

The new outside parade, the Esmeralda Ballet, was a big success, and Nelson Lee was warmly complimented by its original producer, who journeyed to the fair from the Adelphi to see it.

The drama was the Tyrant Doge, and the pantomime was given a local name, One Tree Hill, was one of a long series of pantomime productions that made Lee famous. Many notable actors were then in the company, amongst whom were John Douglas, Paul Herring, and Crowther.

Visiting Deptford and Camberwell Fairs they next took their renovated theatre to Smithfield.

An amusing story is told of the clown attached to the theatre. The show was at Croydon Fair, and the first day being very wet, the clown thought he would divert the tedium of the situation by strolling through the town, and for the purpose in his mind, put on the uniform overcoat of a policeman. The clown did not know the risk he was running, for it appears that a number of robberies had been committed in the town by a thief similarly dressed. The result was that the constable on duty in the High-street, seeing a bogus policeman, thought that this must be the masquerading burglar, and so took the astonished clown into custody, and hauled him off to the station-house. The clown, protesting his innocence, which, of course, was speedily corroborated by Lee, was liberated, and allowed to return to the theatre.

The suburban fairs were declining so much at this time that Johnson and Lee were deterred by their diminished receipts at Greenwich and Deptford from visiting Ealing, Camberwell, and Enfield; and, on being excluded from Smithfield, proceeded to Chatham, whence they moved to Croydon. The decadence was still more manifest in the following year, and at Enfield an attempt was made by the magistrate to prevent them from opening on the third day, the more officious than learned administrator of the law being ignorant of the fact that, though the fair had for many years been held on two days only, the charter by which it was held allowed three days.

Lee had taken care to obtain a copy of the charter, and on the superintendent of police going to the theatre with the magistrate's order for its immediate removal, he positively refused obedience to the mandate, and produced the charter. The superintendent thereupon apologised, and returned to the magistrate with the news of his discomfiture.

Croydon Fair was disturbed this year by a fight between the youths of the East India Company's military college at Addiscombe, about a mile from the town, and the members of Johnson and Lee's company. The fiasco originated with an insulting remark made by one of the cadets, as they were generally called, to a young lady of the theatrical company, promenading at the time on the parade. The insult was promptly resented by a male member of the troupe, who hurled the offender down the steps. A dozen of his companions immediately rushed up the steps, and assailed the champion, who was supported by the rest of the company, and the consequence was a sharp scrimmage, ending in the arrival of several constables, and the removal to the station-house of as many of the cadets as could not escape by flight.

Next morning they were taken before the magistrates, and, being proved to have been the aggressors, they were fined, and from that time the military aspirants of Addiscombe were forbidden to enter the town during the three days of the fair.

Charles Freer was the leading actor of the company at this time, and the principal lady was Mrs. Hugh Campbell, who was seen a year or two afterwards at the Gravesend Theatre. She was afterwards engaged, as was Freer also, at the Pavilion. Her successor at Richardson's was Mrs. Yates, who was afterwards engaged at the Standard.

The harlequin was a nervous, eccentric, one-eyed young man named Charles Shaw, who was dismissed from the company towards the close of the season on account of his freaks reaching a pitch which at times raised a doubt as to his sanity, besides threatening detriment to the interests of the theatre.

When the time approached at which the campaign of 1842 was to be commenced, it was found necessary to advertise for a harlequin; and the announcement of the want produced a response from Charles Wilson, who stated that he had been engaged through the preceding pantomime season at Birmingham. This gentleman seeming eligible, he was engaged, but was not seen by Lee or any of the company until he presented himself at the theatre on Easter Sunday at Greenwich.

Lee was immediately struck with the new harlequin's resemblance to the old one, which extended to every feature but the eyes: these were the same colour as Shaw's, but he had two, while Shaw had lost one. On the second day of the fair, however, it was discovered that the eye which had thus long puzzled everyone as to his identity was a glass one; and on his being charged with being Shaw he acknowledged the deception, observing that he had felt sure that he would not be re-engaged if he applied in his proper name. The deception was forgiven, and his subsequent freaks seem to have been fewer and of a milder description.

Nelson Lee played a trick at Croydon Fair this year which can only be defended on the principle that "all is fair at fair-time." Finding that the Bosjesmans were being exhibited in the town, and were attracting great numbers of persons to their receptions, he hung out, on the second day of the fair, a show-cloth with the announcement in large black letters, "Arrival of the real Bosjesmen."

Three or four of the company were then "made-up" to represent the strange specimens of humanity which had lately been discovered in South Africa, and their appearance on the parade in an antic dance produced a rush to witness the further representations of the manners and sports of savage life to be seen inside.

Johnson and Lee began the season of 1843 with some of the members of the Pavilion company in their troupe; but they attended fewer fairs than in any previous year, and in 1844 their theatre appeared only at Greenwich, Enfield, and Croydon. In the following year it was burned while in a field at Dartford, and the proprietors not being insured, sustained a loss of £1,700. Nothing was rescued but the parade waggon, which was dragged away before the flames could reach it, and, with the scene waggon and other properties, which had been bought in 1838, formed the nucleus of the new theatre with which the proprietors opened the fair campaign of 1847.

Henry Howard joined the travelling company in that year at Ealing Fair on the closing of the Standard.

During the latter part of their career as proprietors of a travelling theatre, Johnson and Lee found it paid better to conduct their business on the plan of locating the theatre for two or three weeks at a time in some large town than to wander from fair to fair, staying only a few days.

In 1849 Johnson and Lee opened their theatre at Croydon for a three weeks' stay, their company was drawn principally from the smaller theatres of London, and included Leander Melville, Billington, Seaman, Phillips, Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Campbell, and Miss Slater. The Stranger was selected for the first night, and, as usual, drew a good audience. Under the able and judicious management of Nelson Lee, and with a change of performance every night, good business was done. The experiment was repeated with great success at Uxbridge and Reading.

At Greenwich Fair in 1850 an outrageous and dastardly attack was made on Johnson and Lee's theatre by a number of soldiers from Woolwich. It seems to have originated in a practical joke played by a soldier upon a young man in the crowd before the theatre, and followed by an assault. On the latter retreating up the steps of the parade waggon followed by his assailant, Nelson Lee interfered for his protection, and was himself assaulted by the soldier, who was thereupon ejected. A number of soldiers seeing the discomfiture of their companion, immediately rushed up the steps and began an indiscriminate attack upon everybody on the parade. The company finding themselves over-matched, either took refuge in the interior or jumped off the parade, and fled as if for their lives.

One of the actors named Chappell stood by Nelson Lee after the rest had fled, but ultimately he joined in the stampede, and the proprietor was left alone to defend himself and his property as well as he could against a swarm of foes. There was a story told long afterwards of the harlequin of the company, that he ran without stopping to the railway station and jumped into a train for London. He then ran from London Bridge to Shoreditch, and rushing into a public-house adjoining the City of London Theatre, gasped, "Blood—soldiers—Mr. Lee—frightful affair—three pen'orth o' brandy." The soldiers having driven their opponents off the field, began destroying the front of the theatre, smashing the lamps, which fortunately were not lighted. If they had been burning the result would probably have been a terrific conflagration, which might have swept the fair and destroyed many thousand pounds' worth of property.

The soldiery, now mad with fury, went the length of attempting to hoist Nelson Lee by means of a rope fastened round his body to the top of the front; this was prevented by the opportune arrival of a body of constabulary. Seeing themselves outnumbered by the police, the soldiers abandoned the field, and mixed with the crowd. A number of the soldiers were taken, and were committed for trial to the Old Bailey Prison.

Johnson and Lee, not wishing to severely punish the rioters, and hoping that their generous withdrawal from the prosecution might obtain compensation for the loss of their property, did not appear to press the charge. The result, however, of the showmen's leniency was not as they had anticipated, for not a penny was given them by way of compensation

During the Whitsuntide Fair the soldiers were strictly confined to the barracks, but wise as this necessary precaution on the part of the military authorities was, it had the effect of diminishing the money taken at the fair, as the soldiers and their friends had been among the best patrons of the drama.

Removing the show from Greenwich to Croydon, they had a season of private business, and here Henry Howard and Mrs. Campbell played the leading parts, and also for short seasons at Hertford and Uxbridge.

About this time the great national event was the exhibition of 1851, and in preparation for this a World's Fair to be held at the same time at Bayswater was projected. To carry out this scheme a strong committee of leading showmen was appointed, and, of course, included the names of Johnson and Lee. This undertaking was a complete failure, the weather was cold and cheerless when the fair opened, and the railway companies had not then realised the possibilities of cheap excursion traffic.

Johnson and Lee's theatre opened at Greenwich Fair in 1852; this was their last appearance upon a fairground. The concern then proceeded to Uxbridge, where the company was joined by James Robson, the celebrated comedian.

In the following year the entire show was sold by auction, and the property completely dispersed. This was the end of Richardson's historic show and practically the end in the Metropolitan district of large portable theatres.

Nelson Lee, still in partnership with Johnson, leased the Marylebone Theatre, and with great success continued their dramatic enterprise. They then migrated to the Pavilion Theatre, but, finding this too small for their great productions, they took the Standard Theatre, and from the Standard went to the City of London Theatre, which they held for fifteen years.

Something must be said here of the prolific writings of Nelson Lee. He was the author of two hundred and nine pantomimes—the first of these was produced at Sadler's Wells under Osbaldiston's management. The next, Johnnie Gilpin, was written for Ducrow, and was produced at Astley's Amphitheatre. As a producer of spectacular drama and pantomime on the grand scale, Nelson Lee was the most successful and original artist of his day.

On the death of his partner, Johnson, he continued for three seasons on his own management the City of London Theatre, then in 1868 he sold the property for railway purposes and retired from active management, still, however, taking an active interest in the theatrical life of his beloved London. He died quite suddenly on Jan. 2, 1872, and was buried at Abney Park Cemetery amid every token of public esteem and respect.

The life of Nelson Lee illustrates an often-forgotten truth—that the showman's life affords to men of genius and many-sided ability their best field of enterprise and usefulness. That Nelson Lee was a genius goes without saying; that he was also a man of great business aptitude and unceasing energy was also true, and it is such men who are the salt of the earth, no matter what profession or business in life they may find their opportunity and vocation.

The Hon. Chaplain to the Showmen's Guild starts on his annual visit to the Welsh fairs next week. The principal gathering of show people will be at Porth Fair, where the Guild meeting for Wales will take place. Attention is directed to the advertisements of the above, and also to the important meeting of the Roundabout Proprietors' and Showmen's Union next week.

On the ground at Kew Bridge for the Whitsun holidays were Mr. George Beach's fairground aggregation—the cinématograph show, the steam roundabout, horses, and ostriches, the park swings, shooting range, and minor novelties.

On the fairground, Hampstead Village, were W. Le Neve and Norah Sullivan, the Sandows of the ground booth; Fred Gray's roundabouts and varieties; Jones's throwing games and other novelties.

Messrs. Hastings' and Whayman's ground at the Welsh Harp, Hendon, had for its attractions the well-known exhibits of this enterprising firm, and Prof. B. T. Burnelli's battery and military assault-at-arms, with other minor novelties.

Excellent and unique films of the Royal wedding were obtained by the Warwick Trading Company, of 4 and 5, Warwick-court, Holborn, who can always be relied upon to supply photographic reproductions of superb quality. The pictures of the historic function in Madrid were exhibited at the Palace Theatre at 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. By courtesy of the Civil Governor and the Chief of Police of Madrid, the enterprising firm was enabled to secure exclusive pictures outside the church, and so get magnificent portraits of the bride and bridegroom descending the steps. Another exclusive picture is that of H.M.S. Montagu on the rocks at Lundy, taken during the terrible gale of Friday, June 1; and a view of the launch of the new Cunarder, s.s. Lusitania, at Clydebank, taken under similar favourable conditions, is promised for this (Saturday) morning.

THE LATE JOHN DEE HUMPHREYS.

The letter from Mr. Arthur Reeve, published in our columns recently draws attention to the necessity for helping Mrs. Humphreys and her family. We strongly commend this most deserving case to the generosity of the showman world.

The many friends of the deceased, who was one of the founders of the Music Hall Artists' Railway Association, will, we are confident, now that they know the urgent necessity of the case, respond with readiness to this appeal.

During the whole course of a laborious and honourable career John Dee Humphreys was ever ready to assist his brother showmen. His open-handed generosity and unfailing kindness endeared him to a wide circle of friends and comrades in the circus and show world.

The object of the fund is to enable the widow and family to maintain their home until such time as the children are able to earn an income sufficient for that purpose.

Second list of subscriptions:—

Lord John Sanger	£5	5	0
Lord G. Sanger	5	0	0
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reeve	2	2	0
James Upton, Esq.	2	2	0
John Hyman	2	2	0
E. H. Bostock	2	2	0
Terriers' Association	2	2	0
Mrs. Ellis Frederick	1	1	0
H. Hales	1	1	0
Thomas Holden	1	1	0
J. R. Philpotts	0	5	0
Harry Lester	0	5	0
Arthur Simmons	0	5	0
G. H. Smythson	0	5	0
John Moore	0	5	0
W. H. Atlas	0	5	0
F. W. Millis	0	5	0
George Wyman	0	3	0
E. E. Cooke	0	2	6
E. D'Almaine	0	2	6
Total	£26	1	0

Subscriptions sent to The Era to Mr. F. H. Pedgrift, hon. treasurer, will be acknowledged week by week.

Mr. Harry J. Crane reproduced the sketch Private Tom Travers (originally known as Our Lads in Red) at the Richmond Theatre on Monday, when a large audience gave the stirring playlet and its chief interpreters a most favourable reception.

Mr. Harry Liston and Miss Lord Lumley, who are always adding to their already extensive repertoire, concluded on Saturday their ninth successive year's engagement (twenty-seven visits) at Blackpool, the North Pier Pavilion being densely crowded. They are re-engaged for Blackpool, and are now touring the East Coast with their Merry Moments company.

Harwood's Juveniles made their first bow to any audience at the Theatre Royal, Oldham, on Monday evening in a pretty sketch, A Children's Christmas Evening. Mr. Ernest Dottridge, manager of the Royal, has taken over the sole booking of the merry little party. The cleverness and earnestness with which the youngsters play their various parts are wonderful, and speak volumes for Mr. Harwood.

The Monte Carlo Publishing Company have just accepted for publication in their "Sixpenny Successes" series Miss Winifred Hare's charming song, with which she was so successful at the Oxford recently, viz., "One little lonely star," written by John P. Harrington, and composed by the late George Le Brunn, which will be issued in "Sixpenny Successes" form at an early date.

A Copy of "The Era" will be forwarded to any address in the United Kingdom for six stamps. The Era is posted on Saturday in time to reach London Subscribers by the first Town Delivery, and Country Subscribers should receive their Papers by the first London Post. Address, the Publisher, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.

AMERICAN AMUSEMENTS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

NEW YORK, May 30.—The Girl Patsy, a play in four acts, by Mrs. Jane Mauldin Feigl, was submitted to the public at the Savoy Theatre on the 26th inst., this being the last dramatic offering of the season. Mrs. Feigl wrote a play called Texas some time ago, and it proved a decided success at the "popular price" houses. The play under notice will probably do just as well after some revision. Patsy, a simple-minded country girl, lives with her reputed aunt, Mrs. Musselwhite, who is in lowly circumstances. Noel Heritage, a young artist of good family, is engaged to Patricia, the daughter of Judge Clifford, the match having been arranged by Noel's worldly-wise mother. Noel meets Patsy, and is struck with her beauty. He makes several sketches of her, and arouses the jealousy of Patricia. As time passes he becomes more and more interested in the humble Patsy, which serves the purpose of the ambitious Mr. John Wilkins, Patricia's manservant, who has his eye on his mistress and her money. Patsy is engaged as housemaid in Judge Clifford's household, and Noel's growing indifference to Patricia angers his mother and the girl he is about to marry. The latter is haughty and overbearing, while Patsy is gentle and lovable. The scheming Wilkins obtains possession of Noel's sketchbook and uses it to advance his own interests. The upshot of all this is that Patricia elopes with her manservant, her flight being discovered a few minutes before the time set for her marriage to Noel Heritage. In the meantime Mrs. Musselwhite's drunken husband discloses the fact that Patsy is really Judge Clifford's daughter, Patricia's plebeian instincts being explained by the circumstance that she is the natural child of Mrs. Musselwhite's sister. Judge Clifford welcomes Patsy as his daughter, and makes no objection when Noel declares his intention of marrying her. Miss Mary Ryan was a winsome Patsy and the other rôles were in good hands.

His Honour the Mayor, a musical play produced at the New York Theatre last Monday, is a typical "summer show." Its most attractive features are the vocal accomplishments of Miss Blanche Ring and the clever dancing of the English "pony" ballet, which has been largely responsible for the success of several productions of this ilk during the last few years. Miss Ring, as a Hungarian heiress, Katrinka, sings with her usual vivacity and infectious good humour, the catchy effusion, "Come take a skate with me," and another lively refrain, "Waltz me around again, Willie," which have decidedly "caught on," also rendering a sentimental ballad called "The Magyar Maid," with good effect. Mr. Clarence Harvey, a comedian from the West, is very amusing in the title-rôle, his imitation of a baggage inspector making a big hit. Mr. Henri French, the "trick" bicyclist, scores as R. La Carte, a French waiter with a propensity for juggling bottles and glasses. Miss Mabel Hollins sings with irresistible archness "A little girl like me." Mr. Harry Kelly, as a grim-visaged but nimble-footed deacon, and Miss Madelyn Marshall, as his countrified daughter, both "doing" Paris, help the fun along; and Mr. Fletcher Norton's eccentric dancing makes his "Military Willie" song a popular number. The story is of little consequence, there being just enough to justify the title. The Mayor of Kankakee is in Paris because his political methods have been somewhat irregular, and he has found it advisable to make himself scarce. The scene of the second act is an illuminated winter garden in Hungary. Julian Edwards and Alfred E. Aarons composed the music, while the book and lyrics were written by C. E. Campbell and R. M. Skinner.

The tamer attached to a menagerie which was installed in a field at Nimes has had a narrow escape. He was making leopards go through their performance, when one of the animals bounded upon him. He struggled courageously with the beast. Meanwhile the spectators became seized with panic. Finally a tamer, named Emmanuel, who was amongst the spectators, rushed into the cage, and succeeded in rescuing the tamer, who was seriously wounded.

Miss Winifred Hare, "the brightest and cheeriest of principal boys," who for the time being has deserted the "legitimate" for the variety stage, never moves from her home without her mascot—a beautiful Persian cat. To this cat Miss Hare attributes the phenomenal success that has attended her professional career, but others are of opinion that her brilliant record is due solely to her own personality and wonderful voice.

At the same time, Miss Hare has more reason than one for pinning her faith on the cat. One night quite recently the talented actress was awakened by the excessive mewing of her favourite. Jumping out of bed, she discovered to her horror that smoke was slowly curling up the stairway, and, dashing downstairs, she was just in time to avert a serious conflagration.

At another time Miss Hare owed a providential escape from death to her favourite. Once when Miss Hare was playing in the North, the cat, while walking across the stage, started back as if stung by a serpent. Miss Hare, who was following, stopped stock still, and it is a mercy that she did. The cat had stepped on an insecure trap door, and another foot forward Miss Hare would have been hurled 20 feet below. Miss Hare is shortly to appear on the Moss-Stoll tour.

Mr. Ernest Bridgen, who has installed himself in local favour during his six months' management of the New Cross Empire, was for some twelve months in charge of affairs at the Granville, Walham-green. While occupying his responsible position at the latter house, he was instrumental in clearing up what at one time partook of the nature of a sensational mystery. Some of the papers had given a good deal of attention to the inexplicable disappearance of an Oxford undergraduate named Arthur Norris. One evening a youth walked into the Granville, and as his strange manner aroused Mr. Bridgen's suspicions, he interrogated the lad, and found that he was the missing student. Mr. Bridgen at once took Norris into his private office, and provided him with a sound meal, and at the conclusion of the performance accommodated the youth at his own house. The following morning posters were to be seen on the hoardings in the neighbourhood, intimating that the missing undergrad. would appear on the stage the same evening at the Granville; and appear he did, being introduced to the audience by the shrewd manager. For two days Mr. Bridgen looked after Norris at his own home, the student's father eventually turning up to claim his son.

The Three Rubys, after thirty-eight weeks' tour, will return to town shortly. They are booked for the Moss and Stoll tour for 1907.

On Monday next, at the Devonshire Park Theatre, Eastbourne, Mr. Henry Doughty and Miss Vera Leslie will appear in a new comedy duologue, Entertaining the Dowager, which has been specially written for them by G. Colmore, the well-known novelist, author of "The Valley of Shadows," "A Ladder of Tears," &c.

Mme. Dorina Natalia, who plays the piano and sings, has been scoring most unmistakably at the Empress, Brixton, where she has been delighting audiences by her rendering of Ernest Newton's charming song "The scent of the clover" and Joscelyn Noel's "Serenade in June." For her pianoforte solo Mme. Natalea has chosen Wilfred Sanderson's morceau "Coquette."

THE MIDDLESEX.

Mr. Graydon is able to boast an admirable holiday programme, and, as usual, crowded houses have resulted. Osborne and Brooks have an exceedingly amusing comedy duologue in Partners. It is the story of two lovers. The lady, apparently, is anxious to get an actor to become a partner with her in some stage production. She does not give her sweetheart credit for histrionic ability. He, on his part, feels sure he can act, and to prove it, he makes up as a somewhat cadaverous-looking player, and calls upon her, presumably in answer to an advertisement. In a laughable scene, he is able to demonstrate his talents, and immediately afterwards throws off his disguise, and is accepted by the lady as a partner, both in love and in business. Osborne and Brooks enact their little sketch in most acceptable fashion. Miss Ethel May is an enchanting comedienne and vocalist, and dances prettily; and Mr. W. P. Dempsey distinguishes himself as a character comedian. The J'Alvans furnish an extremely laughable comedy juggling act, of which, by the way, they treat us to a touch of the Oriental class of business. Mr. Will Farrell maintains his reputation as a "lightning comedian," and his rapidly-delivered songs, specially that which is accompanied by the waving of a Union Jack, find much favour with the Drury-lane boys

Drew and Alders are seen in a bright and lively act as comic bill-posters, and we know not what besides. Ludicrous in the extreme is the scene in which one of the gentlemen tries to teach the other a few juggling tricks. Miss Dolly Golden proves an engaging comedienne; and Mr. Ted Saunders is as entertaining a mimic as one could wish to meet. Mr. Fred Herbert, the topical vocalist, meets with an enthusiastic reception. His opening verses, "It's a wonder what money will do," tell the old story of the vanishing of friends with the vanishing of one's banking account, and Mr. Herbert very forcibly applies the truth of the saying in several directions. Then, in some apt lines, he deals with questions and topics of the day, such as the Royal Wedding at Madrid and the latest American scandal. So much of what he has to say appeals to the audience that he is recalled again and again. The Six Bretons make for hilarity with their pantomimical absurdity, The Tramp's Picnic, and the agile way in which they tumble over one another is something to marvel at. For fun of the rollicking order they stand pre-eminent at the Middlesex this week. Lee and Bentley also greatly assist in the general merry-making, with their farcical sketch, Castles in the Air, the parts of the Englishman and the German being humorously presented. Miss Daisy Mayer excels as a coon artist and sand dancer; and Kelly and Ashby, "the original bounding billiardists," excite one's admiration as well as one's risible faculties with their neatly-executed feats. Professor Thornbury, who modestly describes himself as a sand artist and smoke-painter, wins golden opinions for his lightning cartoons and ventriloquial demonstration.

A word of praise is due to those who are responsible for the beautiful and up-to-date series of pictures thrown on the New Bioscope screen. These scenes are most attractive, and are being watched with the keenest interest by Mr. Graydon's patrons. Mr. Roy Cochrane, supported by an able company, provides intense amusement with the sketch, set in the Cheviot Hills, entitled No Parson Required. There is plenty to laugh at in this little farce, and each member of the company enters with zest into his or her characterisation. On Thursday night a new vaudeville act was presented by Miss Rose Harvey, with the assistance of three attractive young ladies. Two of the girls are made up, one as a black boy and the other as a black girl, while Miss Harvey is attired in a white satin evening dress suit as the lover of the white lady. The black boy is also a suitor for the white lady's hand and heart, but his advances are rejected, and he eventually consoles himself with one of his own colour. The act is decidedly musical throughout, the harmonising of popular songs, which have been strung together to form a plot, being the distinctive feature of the sketch. The comedy is supplied by the black lady and an automatic cat, which interrupts the proceedings at a certain period in howling on the wall. There is a very effective dance, executed in sprightly style by Miss Florrie Parkinson, as the coloured girl. Miss Rose Harvey, as the leading juvenile, acts in dainty manner, and plays the part of one of the jeunesse dorée in characteristic style. Miss Ethel Melburne, as the white lady, pleasingly fulfils the requirements of her rôle; and Miss Gabrielle Harvey, as the black coon, submits a capital demonstration of her comedy powers. The piece is stage-managed and produced by Mr. H. Cory Woodrow.

During the visit last week of Miss Ella and her troupe of lions to the Palace of Varieties, Attercliffe, a sensation was provided by two local gentlemen—Mr. William Ellis and Mr. Alfred Long—engaging in a billiard match in the cage, with the lions as spectators. The cueists played with the utmost sang-froid, and, beyond an occasional roar, the animals were very passive, due no doubt to the command held over them by Miss Ella, their trainer.

Mr. Kennedy Johnson, the well-known assistant acting-manager at the Hackney Empire, whose health, as we informed our readers last week, has recently completely broken down, is now in the Victoria Park Hospital, N., undergoing a course of open-air treatment. The visiting days are Sundays from 2 o'clock until 3.30, and Thursdays from 3 o'clock till 5.

A double event was celebrated by Mr. H. J. Curry, of Grimsby, last Tuesday. It was exactly twenty years since he laid the foundation-stone of the Prince of Wales's Theatre in that town, and it was also the first anniversary of his laying the foundation of the Tivoli Variety Theatre there. There are now three generations of the family concerned in the management of these houses, for Mr. Curry's son, Mr. J. H. Curry, has been connected with the P.O.W. the whole of the time it has been open, and is now managing director, as well as occupying a similar office in regard to the Tivoli, whilst his grandson, Mr. Harry Curry, has been on the staff for over a year now.

Mr. Albert Mathams, the popular manager of the Hastings Hippodrome, has not been slow to take advantage of a popular craze, and last week purchased each night ten local 'bus and tram tickets from members of the audience, who had those numbers shown upon the Bioscope-sheet for that day, paying 5s. each. The idea is a success.

The latest quotations for music hall shares are as follows:—Alhambra 1½, Canterbury 1, Empire (15s. paid) 1½, Empire (10s. paid) 1, London Pavilion Ordinary 4, London Pavilion Preferred 4½, London Coliseum ¼, Metropolitan ⅜, Moss Empire 4⅜, Moss Empire Preferred 4, Oxford 6⅞, Palace 9s., Tivoli 6½, Var. Cons. Theatres 14s. 6d.

Visitors to the Ranelagh Club on Wednesday had a pleasant surprise. After the polo match, between the Moonlighters and the 1st Life Guards, Will Rogers, the Texas cowboy, who is one of the "stars" at the Palace Theatre, appeared with his pony and assistant, and gave a remarkable exhibition of lassooing, trick-riding, and other forms of cowboy manœuvres. He was received with much enthusiasm, and at the conclusion of his performance was presented by the club with a silver cup as a souvenir of the occasion.

REVISED SCALE OF CHARGES FOR

MANAGERS WANTING ARTISTS, ARTISTS WANTING ENGAGEMENTS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

This Scale does not apply to "Trade" Advertisements in these Columns.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION (Post Free).

	UNITED KINGDOM.	FOREIGN.
One Quarter	6s. 6d.	13s.
Half Year	13s. 0d.	16s.
One Year	26s. 0d.	32s.

The Offices of "The Era" are
"THE ERA" BUILDINGS,
5, TAVISTOCK-STREET, STRAND, W.C.
For the convenience of Advertisers, Replies to Advertisements are received. They can remain until called for, or be forwarded by Post, Free of Charge.

NO STAMPS.

Advertisers and Subscribers are politely requested to forward Cheques or Postal Orders in payment of their Advertisements and Subscriptions, crossed "Lloyd's Bank, Ltd." Remittances should be made payable to "The Era," Limited, and addressed,

The Publisher,
"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-st., Strand, W.C.
"Wire," "The Era, London."
"Ring-up," 4,747, Central.

In case of the non delivery of "THE ERA" by the First Post, the Publisher will be greatly obliged if Advertisers will forward their Postal Wrappers, with the time of delivery marked upon them.

COMPANIES WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

MILTON BODE'S THEATRES.
WANTED, First-class Companies, for DALSTON THEATRE, LONDON, N.E.
Oct. 1, 15, 22, 29, Nov. 5, 19, 26, Dec. 10, 17, on.
COUNTY THEATRE, READING.
June 25, Nov. 19, 26, Dec. 10, 17, Jan. 7, 14, on.
OPERA HOUSE, LEICESTER.
Aug. 13, Oct. 8, Nov. 19, 26, Dec. 10, 17.
Jan. 21, Feb. 11, 25, on.
ROYALTY THEATRE, CHESTER.
Oct. 8, 29, Nov. 5, Dec. 10, Jan. 21, 28, on.
GRAND THEATRE, WOLVERHAMPTON.
Aug. 20, Sept. 10, Nov. 12, 19, Dec. 3, 10, Jan. 7, on.
THEATRE ROYAL, HUDDERSFIELD.
Oct. 8, 22, 29, Nov. 12, 19, Dec. 3, 17, 24, Christmas week, on.
OPERA HOUSE, NORTHAMPTON.
Aug. 27, Nov. 26, Dec. 10, Dec. 20, 3 nights, Dec. 24, Christmas week, on.
THEATRE ROYAL, LEICESTER,
July 2, 9, 16, 23, 30, Oct. 8, Jan. 21, Feb. 4, 11, 18, on.
THEATRE ROYAL, LEAMINGTON.
Sept. 17, 24, Oct. 8, 15, 22 (three nights), 29, on.
Address, Milton Bode, Theatre, Reading.

WANTED, First-class Companies, for Huddersfield, Oct. 8, 22, 29, Nov. 12, 19, Dec. 3, 24 (Xmas week).
Reading, June 25.
Leamington, Sept. 17, 24, Oct. 8, 15, on.
Theatre Royal, Leicester, July 2, 9, 16.
Northampton, July 23, 30, Xmas week.
Opera House, Leicester, Aug. 13.
Address, Milton Bode, Theatre, Reading.

WANTED, First-class Companies,
GRAND THEATRE, NEWCASTLE,
July 2 (wire), Aug. 13, Sept. 22.
METROPOLE THEATRE, GATESHEAD,
Aug. 13, 27, Oct. 15, 22, 29.
Address,
Sidney Bacon, Metropole Theatre, Gateshead.
Telegrams, "Bacon, Gateshead."

WANTED, First-class Companies, for COUNTY THEATRE, BEDFORD;
GRAND THEATRE, LUTON;
June 25, July 2, 9, 16, 23, 30, Aug. 6, onwards, with exceptions.
E. Graham Falcon,
County Theatre, Bedford.

PALACE THEATRE, NEWCASTLE.
WANTED, Strong Dramatic Attraction, July 30 (unexpectedly vacant).
Apply, T. E. Rowe.

OPERA HOUSE, WORKINGTON.
WANTED, First-class Companies, Aug. 13, 20, 27 (3 nights), Sept. 10, 24, Nov. 15 (3 nights), Dec. 3. Booked in Conjunction with T. R., Whitehaven. Address, Stanley Rogers, 124, Warwick-road, Carlisle.

HER MAJESTY'S OPERA HOUSE, BLACKPOOL.
WANTED, First-Class Companies, July 16 and 23. Applications, with full particulars, to J. R. Huddlestone, Manager, Winter Gardens, Blackpool.

WANTED, good Dramatic Attractions for July 16, 23, and 30, also Musical Attraction only, for Sept. 10 and Oct. 8. Apply, Sidney Cooper, Lyceum, Newport, Mon.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE, WIDNES.
WANTED, Sound Attraction, for Aug. 6 (Bank Holiday), also Aug. 13, 20, and onwards, with exceptions.
Address, Thos. Swinton.

LYCEUM THEATRE, STAFFORD.
WANTED, Companies, Drama, or good Combination, June 25, July 2, and on, big Attraction for Bank Holiday. James Elphinstone.

GRAND THEATRE, RADCLIFFE.
WANTED, Musical and Dramatic Attractions, Aug. 27, Sept. 10, Oct. 8, 15, 22, 29, and on.
Sante.

GRAND THEATRE, CHORLEY.
WANTED, Musical and Dramatic Attractions, Aug. 13, 20, Sept. 3, Oct. 1, 15, 22, 29, and on.
Sante.

WANTED, First-Class Company, Musical Comedy preferred, Monday, July 16, owing to Manager desirous of cancelling date.
Nightingale, Aquarium, Gt. Yarmouth.

WANTED, First-Class Attractions, June 25 (six nights). W. Payne, Knightstone Pavilion and Opera House, Weston-super-Mare.

PRINCE OF WALES'S T., MEXBORO'.
WANTED, First-class Attraction, Aug. 6.
Address, W. H. Melton.

WANTED, Companies, Theatre Royal, Shrewsbury, Aug. 6 (Bank Holiday), Sept. 3, 17, 24, and Dec. 3, good musical comedy preferred. Write, W. C. Dornton, Business-Manager.

WANTED, High-class Company, July 16, only vacant date, Londesborough Theatre, Scarborough. Address, Waddington, Stonegate, York.

WORTHING THEATRE ROYAL.
WANTED, First-Class Attraction, three nights, one matinée, June 14, 18, July 2; only good Companies entertained. Write, Seebold, as above. Silence a polite negative.

WANTED, for Theatre Royal, Barnstaple, Companies for two Nights, Musical or Comedy preferred. Apply, H. Ashton, Strand, Barnstaple.

WANTED, First-class Co., for Grand Theatre, Llandudno, July 9, 10, 11, only Date in Season. Record House at Usual prices, £164. Wire, Haldane Crichton, Pier, St. Leonards.

WANTED, for Prince of Wales Theatre, Salford, First-class Companies, for June 25, July 2, 9, and 16. Address, E. B. Goulden.

NEW GRAND THEATRE, MANSFIELD.
WANTED, First-class Cos. (Musical preferred), new brick and stone Theatre, opens September, now being erected at cost of £10,000; stage 60 by 40; 40 to flies; holds 1,200.
Clayton, 53, Grosvenor Park-rd., Walthamstow.

NEW PRINCE'S THEATRE, BLACKBURN.
WANTED, First-Class Attractions, Comedy or Drama, July 9, 30, Aug. 6 and 13.
E. H. Page.

DUNFERMLINE OPERA HOUSE.
WANTED, High-class Cos., Musical preferred, August 20, and on, with exceptions. Address, W. E. Potts, Opera House, Dunfermline.

THEATRE ROYAL, STOCKPORT, and THEATRE ROYAL, ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE.
WANTED, First-class Dramatic Companies, for July 16 and 30.
Address, Charles Revill, Stockport.

COMPANIES WANTED.

ARTHUR CARLTON THEATRES, LTD.

WANTED, First-class Companies, Wanted, First-class Companies

METROPOLE THEATRE, DEVONPORT.
METROPOLE THEATRE, DEVONPORT.
METROPOLE THEATRE, DEVONPORT.
Vacant June 11, July 30, Aug. 20, Oct. 1.

CARLTON THEATRE, BIRMINGHAM.
CARLTON THEATRE, BIRMINGHAM.
CARLTON THEATRE, BIRMINGHAM.
Vacant May 28, Aug. 6, 13, 20.

LYRIC THEATRE, BROMLEY.
LYRIC THEATRE, BROMLEY.
LYRIC THEATRE, BROMLEY.
Vacant June 11, 18, 25, July 2.

KING'S THEATRE, GAINSBOROUGH.
KING'S THEATRE, GAINSBOROUGH.
KING'S THEATRE, GAINSBOROUGH
Vacant June 11, 18, 25, July 2.

GARRICK THEATRE, HEREFORD.
GARRICK THEATRE, HEREFORD.
GARRICK THEATRE, HEREFORD.
Vacant June 11, 18, 25, July 2.

THEATRE ROYAL, WORCESTER.
THEATRE ROYAL, WORCESTER.
THEATRE ROYAL, WORCESTER.
Vacant Sept. 3, 24, Nov. 5, Dec. 3.

GREENWICH THEATRE, S.E.
GREENWICH THEATRE, S.E.
GREENWICH THEATRE, S.E.
Vacant June 11, 18, 25, July 2.

CARLTON AND DUCKWORTH THEATRES.

LYCEUM THEATRE, PENTRE.
LYCEUM THEATRE, PENTRE.
LYCEUM THEATRE, PENTRE.
Vacant June 11, 18, 25, July 2.

THEATRE ROYAL, TON-Y-PANDY.
THEATRE ROYAL, TON-Y-PANDY.
THEATRE ROYAL, TON-Y-PANDY.
Vacant July 23, 30, Aug. 6, 20.

THEATRE METROPOLE, ABERTILLERY.
THEATRE METROPOLE, ABERTILLERY.
THEATRE METROPOLE, ABERTILLERY.
Vacant June 11, 18, 25, July 2

"SPAN OF LIFE" CO.
Vacant Oct. 15.

"CINDERELLA,"
Vacant Feb. 4, 11, 18, 25.

"ALADDIN,"
Vacant Jan. 7, 14, 21, 28.

All communications to Arthur Carlton,
Theatre Royal, Worcester.

Telegrams, "Carlton, Worcester."

THEATRE ROYAL, DARWEN.
WANTED, Strong Attractions for the following Dates: July 30 (re-opening date after Summer Vacation), Aug. 13, 27, Sept. 17, 24, Nov. 8, 9, and 10 (3 nights), Dec. 3, 10, 17, Feb. 4, and onwards. Last season's bookings included Moody-Manners Opera Co., "The Earl and the Girl," "The Country Girl," "The Toreador," Band of H.M. Scots Guards, Ian Maclaren, Chung Ling Soo, Grace Warner, "Still Alarm," The Elliotts and Savonas, &c., &c. Address, M. Loader, T. R., St. Helens.

ROYALTY THEATRE, MORECAMBE.
Sole Lessee, Lieut. Julian Malvern.
WANTED, First-class Attractions, June 18, 25, Oct. 1, and on.
Address, Chas. M. Julian, General-Manager.

NEW THEATRE ROYAL, BIRKENHEAD.
NEW THEATRE ROYAL, BIRKENHEAD.
NEW THEATRE ROYAL, BIRKENHEAD.
WANTED, through disappointment, First-class Attraction, for week of July 9.
Wire, "Hustler, Birkenhead."

QUEEN'S THEATRE, LIVERPOOL.
WANTED, First-Class Companies, June 25 and July 2. Managers can always depend on doing a good week's business at the Queen's. Apply, L. Carson, Keighley.

THEATRE ROYAL, BLACKBURN.
WANTED, First-Class Attraction only, Aug. 27, only vacant date this year.
Address, Harry Yorke.

GRAND THEATRE, DERBY.
WANTED, First-class Dramatic or Musical Attractions, Aug. 20, Sept. 17, Oct. 15, Nov. 5, Dec. 10, 17, Jan. 23, Feb. 18, and onwards.
Address, T. Allan Edwardes.

VICTORIA THEATRE, BROUGHTON.
General-Manager, J. Fred Watson.
WANTED Companies, must be strong shows, July 16, 23, 30, Aug. 6, Nov. 12, Dec. 3, also strong Pantomimes.
Notice to Managers.—In future address all communications to the above.

IRVING THEATRE, SEACOMBE.
WANTED, First-class Attractions, Aug. Bank Holiday, Aug. 27, Sept. 3, and Sept. 24, Oct. 15, Oct. 22, Oct. 29, Dec. 10.
Apply to Owner and Manager, James Kiernan.

COURT THEATRE, GALWAY.
WANTED, First-Class Companies, Aug. 13, 20, Sept. 3, Oct. 1, 15, and onwards, with exceptions.
For terms please address,
P. O'Shaughnessy, Proprietor.

PRINCE'S THEATRE, ACCRINGTON.
WANTED, Strong Attraction, Aug. 6.
Jos. B. Ormerod.

WANTED, Good Cos., Aug. 27, Sept. 3, Oct. 1, Nov. 5 and 12, on, with exceptions.
Manager, King's T., Sutton-in-Ashfield, Notts.

COLISEUM, ABERYSTWYTH.
WANTED, Best Companies only, June, on. Booking Season Dates. Apply, Phillips.

WANTED, First-class Company or Variety Combination, for Queen's, Leeds, June 25.
Wire, Dottridge, Empire, Oldham.

ST. MARGARET'S HALL, CANTERBURY.
Seats 600. Lighted throughout with Electricity. Electric Current for Cinématograph, 220 volts.
WANTED, First-class Attractions, onwards. Share or Rent. Apply, W. J. Cotton.

WANTED, Dates. Touring Companies and Concert Managers. King's Theatre, Walton-on-Naze. Seating 600. July, Aug., Sept. Particulars, Manager, 87, Sutton-court, Chiswick.

COMPANIES WANTED.

ODDFELLOWS' HALL, DEAL.
WANTED, First-class Companies, Aug. 16, Sept. 5, onwards. Can take theatre scenery.
WHITE, Manager.

WANTED, Good Companies, June 21, 22, 23, also July 2, 9, on, with exceptions, for Prince's Theatre, Llandudno, Public Hall, Colwyn Bay. Apply, CHAPLIN, Colwyn Bay.

THEATRES WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

"HER SECOND TIME ON EARTH,"
By Walter Melville.
WANTED, Theatres, Aug. 6 (?), 13, 20. Oct. 15.
WALTER MELVILLE,
Oakley House, 14, Bloomsbury-street, W.C.

"A GIRL'S CROSS ROADS,"
By Walter Melville.
WANTED, Theatres, Aug. 6, 13, Nov. 26.
WALTER MELVILLE,
Oakley House, 14, Bloomsbury-street, W.C.

FREDK MELVILLE'S DRAMATIC COS.
WANTED, Theatres, Aug. 13, Sept. 24, Oct. 1.
FREDK. MELVILLE,
Oakley House, 14, Bloomsbury-street, W.C.

"THE WORST WOMAN IN LONDON."
WANTED, Theatres, Sept. 24, Oct. 22, Nov. 5, Xmas, on, with exceptions.
TOM H. TAYLOR, Standard Theatre, E.

"THE FEMALE SWINDLER."
WANTED, Theatres, Aug. 6, Sept. 17, Oct. 8, Nov. 26, Xmas, on, with exceptions.
TOM H. TAYLOR, Standard Theatre, E.

"THE GIRL WHO LOST HER CHARACTER."
WANTED, Aug. 20 and Nov. 26.
DOUGLAS BRUCE,
"Bruges," Willow-av., Edgbaston, Birmingham.

"THE GAYEST OF THE GAY,"
The Most Successful Play Produced during the Year 1905. Miss Edith Cole as Belle Bascombe and Susan Meredith.
WANTED, Dates, in First-Class Theatres only. Vacant Oct. 22, 29, and Nov. 5. Wire or write, W. W. KELLY, 8, Hamilton-square, Birkenhead.

"A ROYAL DIVORCE."
"A ROYAL DIVORCE."
"A ROYAL DIVORCE."
WANTED, for the Scala Production, weeks of June 25 and July 2.
Wire,
"Hustler, Birkenhead."

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN."
WANTED, Theatres, July 2, 16, on.

"SAILORS OF THE KING,"
Aug. 27, Sept. 10, on.
CHARLES HARRINGTON,
Prince's Theatre, Poplar, London.

WILLIAM A. ARMOUR'S COMPANY.
"WHAT A WOMAN DID."
Third Year of Continuous Successful Tour.
Miss Dora Price as the Woman.
WANTED, June 18, June 25, and onwards, with exceptions.
WILLIAM A. ARMOUR,
This and next, Queen's Theatre, Farnworth.

"DARE-DEVIL DOROTHY."
WANTED, July 2, 30, Aug. 6, 27, Sept. 10, Oct. 1, 22, and Dec. 31.
J. W. CORDINER, Aquarium Theatre, Gt. Yarmouth.
See Companies Advertisement, Page 2.

"THE POWER OF GOLD."
Forty-second Week of Present Tour.
Bookings and re-bookings extend into March, '07.
WANTED, July 23 and 30, follow W. London. Aug. 20, Sept. 10, 17, Oct. 1.
FRANK AYRTON,
Alexandra Theatre, Sheffield.

"HOME, SWEET HOME,"
The Successful Domestic Drama,
by Frank Lindo.
WANTED, owing to Continuation of Tour through Summer,
July 16, 23, and 30;
also Oct. 8 and 22.
Address,
FRANK LINDO, Victoria Theatre, Broughton.

GRANVILLE AND THORNE'S TOURS.
"NAPOLEON THE GREAT."
WANTED, for this First-Class Attraction, Aug. 27, Sept. 10 and 24.
Apply,
FRED GRANVILLE, Park View, Crosby, Liverpool.

WANTED, for "Circumstantial Evidence," June 18 and 25. Refer Mr. Stanley Rogers, Carlisle. Wire, CLIFFORD, to-day, Carlisle; June 11, Pavilion, Altrincham.

PHIL HERMAN'S "FRITZ" CO.
WANTED, Known, open dates June 18, July 9, 16 23, Aug. 6, 13, 21, 27.
Thanks to Messrs. Robert Arthur, Broadhead and Co., Buchanan, Culling, Bacon, Carlton, Pennington, Powell, &c., &c., for offers and dates.
Address, JORDISON, St. James' Hall, Manchester.

"THE INDIAN MUTINY."
WANTED, Good Theatres, July 16, 30, Aug. 6 (?), Xmas.
FRANK E. BURDETT, 161, Chesterfield-rd., Sheffield.

"THE PRIVATE SECRETARY" TOUR.
Eugene C. Stafford's Company.
WANTED, Nov. 1 (three nights) and 12, Dec. 3 and 24, also Spring, 1907. Apply, care of FRENCH, Ltd., 26, Southampton-street, Strand, London.

MISS EMMA LITCHFIELD'S NEW PLAY,
"A CLEVER IMPOSTOR."
WANTED, Oct. 29, on, including Xmas. Add., STUART CLEVELAND, Theatre R., Chesterfield.

"THE MASTER CRIMINAL."
WANTED, Good Theatre, June 25, Vacant through obliging a Manager. Wire or write, OSMOND, Queen's Theatre, Longton.

MILLAR ANDERSON'S REPERTOIRE CO.
WANTED, June 25, to Precede Palace, Newcastle, only No. 1 theatre entertained, absolute best terms. Cast includes Miss Mabel Mannering and Mr. Jerrold Heather. Wire, ANDERSON, Theatre, Llandudno.

"LUCKY LIZA."
WANTED, July 9, to follow Blackpool, July 16 and 23.
DICKIE CLARE, T. R., Lincoln.

"A MISERABLE MARRIAGE" CO.
WANTED, First-class Theatres, for this Great Attraction, Oct. 8, 15, and on. J. NIGUS, T. R., Bolton.

"RICH AND POOR OF LONDON."
Miss Dora Dench and Powerful Company.
WANTED, June 25, July 9 and 16.
Wires DENCH, Ton-y-Pandy;
next, Queen's, Manchester.

"LIFE'S SWEETEST SINS."
WANTED, Best Theatres, June 18, July 2, Aug. 6, Oct. 8, 22. T. ARTHUR JONES, T. R., Bilston; next, Star, Swansea.

WANTED, for "Assassin," Oct. 29, only vacant Autumn.
AUGUSTINE KNIGHT, 19, Dunalley-par., Cheltenham.

"THE TEMPTRESS."
WANTED, Aug. 13, only vacant 1906 date.
W. H. HALLATT, 1, St. John's-road, Richmond, Surrey.

"THE MASTER CRIMINAL."
WANTED, Good Theatres, July 9, 23, Aug. 6.
HENRY L. OSMOND,
Queen's, Longton.

WANTED, Theatres, for "Her Lost Self," by Nita Rae; "The Biggest Scamp on Earth," by F. A. Scudamore. Enormous success of "Her Lost Self" at Alexandra, Sheffield. Vacant Aug. 27, Sept. 3, 17, Oct. 1, 8, Xmas, New Year. FRANCES DELAVAL, Alexandra, Hull.

"AN ABANDONED WOMAN."
WANTED, First-class Theatres, July 2, 16, Aug. 13.
Company second to none touring.
HARRY FOXWELL, Prince's Theatre, Blackburn.

"THE THRONE OF TERROR."
WANTED, June 18, on, Aug. 13, various on, a Sterling High-class Drama. Wire, MILLER, Royal, Stockton; next, Muncaster, Bootle.

WANTED, July 9, 16, and 23, big Theatre for Aug. 6 (Bank Holiday) and 13; also Sept. 17 and 24, Nov. 5, on, by the Elster Grimi Opera Co. O. H., Torquay.

THEATRES WANTED.

"THE DRAMA OF LIFE."
WANTED, for this Magnificent Production, July 9 and 16, to follow Chatham. The Company is of such all-round excellence that I can guarantee good business at any theatre; several dates vacant Autumn. L. CARSON, Keighley.

"BABES IN THE WOOD."
A Production which will be second to none touring. Beautiful Dresses, and, above all, a Company of carefully-selected Artists
WANTED, Jan. 21, Feb. 4 and 18. Can only entertain First-Class Theatres for this undoubted success. L. CARSON, Keighley.

LINGFORD CARSON'S PRODUCTIONS.
WANTED, Managers to kindly Note that all the above Plays are beautifully staged and well played, and any production not satisfactory to the resident management I shall take it as a personal favour if they will acquaint me immediately, so that I may have an opportunity of rectifying same.—Faithfully yours, LINGFORD CARSON.

LINGFORD CARSON'S REPERTOIRE CO.
WANTED, Good Theatres, for "The Heart of a Hero," "The Octoroon," and "The Ticket of Leave Man," June 25, July 9, and onwards. Can arrange for three plays in one week. L. CARSON, Keighley.

"A MODERN ADVENTURESS."
WANTED, Good Theatres, Sept. 10, 17, and Oct. 1. L. CARSON, Keighley.

ALFRED B. CROSS'S TOUR.
"THE MANXMAN."
WANTED, Best Theatres, Vacant Aug. 27, Oct. 8 (North), Oct. 29, Nov. 5 and 19.
Dec. 24 Vacant. Splendidly advertised, beautifully mounted, and cleverly acted. A great success.
Present Bookings: R., Cardiff; G., Swansea; L., Newport; Sunderland; S. Shields; Brixton; G., Croydon; Broughton; A., Sheffield; G., Wolverhampton; Llandudno; Edinburgh; Bootle; Seacombe; &c., &c. T. R., Cardiff, June 11.

Success! Success!! Success!!!
Miss MARY NEIL and Mr. GEORGE KIRK'S
"HER LUCK IN LONDON" CO.
By Charles Darrell.
Bookings include
Junc. and Osborne, Manchester (R.); Alex., Hull (R.); P., Blackburn (R.); T. R., Castleford (R.); T. R., Bolton; Alex., Sheffield; Grand, Blackpool; T. R., Lincoln; G., Derby; T. R., Leicester; T. R., South Shields; O. H., St. Helens; T. R., Sunderland; G., Liverpool; Wigan; Prince's, Bradford; T. R., Barnsley; T. R., Middlesbrough; T. R., Chatham; T. R., Smethwick; T. R., Aston; Grand, Nottingham; Rotunda, Liverpool; Col., Oldham; Palace, Newcastle-on-Tyne; Prince's, Portsmouth; Alexandra Birmingham; P. O. W., Grimsby.
Thanks for offers of T. R., Bristol; Grand, Swansea; G., Burnley; Accrington; Victoria, Broughton; Grand, Islington.

WANTED, Theatres, Aug. 27, and few Autumn Dates vacant for really good Theatres that can hold money. Rapidly booking 1907. Managers are invited to forward autumn vacancies to GEORGE KIRK, this, Grand, Nottingham; next, T. R., Chatham.

WANTED, First-class Theatres, Sept. 17, Oct. 8, 15, few later,
Mr. Samuel James's
Magnificent Production of
"AS GOOD AS GOLD."
The Dramatic Success of the Year.
Daily Express says:—
Proved an instantaneous success.
Mr. J. F. Elliston writes:—
I am exceedingly pleased to see that you are going to tour the piece on a really high-class scale. It is the only way to make money nowadays. I now enclose confirmation of contract, and trust that we shall have a pleasant and profitable week.
Immediately booked after Production for Palace, Newcastle; Alex., Hull; T. R., Sheffield; Queen's, Liverpool (3rd).
Address, F. S. JENNINGS, Lyric Theatre, Hammersmith.

JOHN DRAYTON, MILLIONAIRE ? ? ?
A Most Striking Play.
WANTED, Dates, July 9 and July 16 (South preferred), to follow Ramsgate, for Messrs. Dew and Ross's Company of Players, in the above Play. A Fanciful Comedy, by H. M. Walbrook. Wanted, July 9 and July 16. This play has been revised and title altered. It was produced with considerable success at the Theatre Royal, Brighton, and the Devonshire Park Theatre, Eastbourne. Apply, Mr. FREDERICK ROSS, until Friday, 62, Portsdown-road, Maida Vale, London, W.; or to Mr. FRED C. DEW, Theatre Royal, Dover.

FRANK BERTRAM'S TOURS.
"THE NEW CLOWN."
"THE NEW CLOWN."
WANTED, June 25, only Vacant Date.
"THE CONVICT'S DAUGHTER."
"THE CONVICT'S DAUGHTER."
First Vacant Date Oct. 22.
EUGENE BERTRAM, O. H., Coventry.

MADGE McINTOSH and LUMSDEN HARE'S CO.
"MOLLENTRAVE ON WOMEN,"
by Alfred Sutro, from the St. James's Theatre.
WANTED, Aug. 6, Special
Aug. 13, Scenery,
Aug. 20, Attractive
Sept. 10 (?) Printing.
Address, LUMSDEN HARE, Criterion T., London.

WANTED, June 25, all July, Aug. 6, 20, for Musical Versions of "Life" and "East Lynne." Répertoire if desired. First-class Co. Six Musical Numbers. Agent and magnificent printing. Wires, HERBERT BARRS, T. R., Ilkeston. Write, T. R., Bedford, Leigh.

"A TRAITOR PRINCE."
The great Oriental Play.
WANTED, June 25, July 2, 9, 16, 23, Aug. 27, on, a perfect production, going stronger than ever. E. CARTER LIVESEY, to-day, Hippodrome, Blackpool; next, Metropole, Gateshead.

PAUMIER AND HOWARD'S
"UNDER THE RUSSIAN FLAG."
"UNDER THE RUSSIAN FLAG,"
by Walter Howard. Tour under the personal direction of Jack Haddon. New scenery and costumes, by Angels.
WANTED, Aug. 6, Sept. 3, 10, 24, onwards.
JACK HADDON, Theatre Royal, Sunderland.
"JACK AND THE BEANSTALK."
"JACK AND THE BEANSTALK."
Mr. Jack Haddon, having acquired the sole proprietorship of above Pantomime, which is acknowledged to be one of the finest productions toured, will be pleased to hear from managers of first-class theatres, from Xmas week, and onwards.
Address as above.

"SAPHO."
"SAPHO."
WANTED, Oct. 1, 8, 15, Nov. 5, and on. No greater success Touring.
Miss Annie Bell as Fanny Le Grande.
Address, JAMES BELL, Theatre, Darlington.

"SENTENCED FOR LIFE."
WANTED, First-Class Theatres, Xmas week, on, with exceptions.
FRED. BULMER (Vacation add.), Care of "The Era."

MISS EMMA LITCHFIELD'S COMPANY.
"A LONDON ACTRESS."
WANTED, July 9, 30, Aug. 6, on.
"A LONDON ACTRESS."
"A LONDON ACTRESS."
Fifth Year of Successful Tour.
Address,
STUART CLEVELAND, Theatre Royal, Chesterfield.

WANTED, Theatres, Miss Alice Chapin's Co., "A PANTOMIME REHEARSAL," and "FAITHFUL JAMES."
June 11, 12, 13 (North), June 18, July 16.
Wire, Saturday (agent and printing ready), COYNE, Tyne, Newcastle; after, O. H., Harrogate.

"THE BARRISTER."
WANTED, Theatres for June 25, July 2, 9, 16, and 23.
Apply,
HENRY DOUGHTY, Devonshire Park T., Eastbourne

E. H. KNIGHT and GEORGE DENHAM'S CO.,
"THE GRIP OF IRON."
WANTED, Theatres, Aug. 27, Sept. 3, 10, 17, 24.
GEORGE DENHAM,
Opera House, Tunbridge Wells.

HILLIARD VOX'S
"ALASKA."
"ALASKA."
WANTED, Oct. 15, Nov. 12, 19, Dec. 24, for this Powerful American Melodrama. Address, HILLIARD VOX, Alhambra Theatre, Belfast.

THEATRES WANTED.

ARTHUR JEFFERSON'S AGENCY.
WANTED, Sept. 10, onwards,
"SAINTS AND SINNERS" and "MIDDLEMAN," including Miss Elsie Verner and Mr. Harding Thomas.
Address, Metropole, Glasgow.

ARTHUR JEFFERSON'S AGENCY.
Mr. Sturgess having decided to run through the summer,
WANTED, June 18, onwards,
"A QUEEN OF VILLAINY," including Miss Edith Blande.
Address, Metropole, Glasgow.

ARTHUR JEFFERSON'S AGENCY.
WANTED, Aug. 6, onwards,
"IN SIGHT OF ST. PAUL'S,"
by Sutton Vane.
Mr. ARTHUR CARLTON'S TOUR.
Address, Metropole, Glasgow.

ARTHUR JEFFERSON'S AGENCY.
WANTED, Aug. 6, onwards,
"ORPHAN HEIRESS" and "WORLD'S VERDICT."
Mr. W. REUBEN PAYNE'S TOUR.
Address, Metropole, Glasgow.

"IN HOLY (!) RUSSIA."
The Success of the Season.
WANTED, the following open Dates:
Aug. 6, Dalston Theatre, London.
13, King's Theatre, Hammersmith.
20, Grand Theatre, Woolwich.
27, Queen's Theatre, Liverpool.
Sept. 3, Queen's Gateshead.
10, Opera House, Middlesbro'.
17, Theatre Royal, Castleford.
24, Osborne Theatre, Manchester.
Oct. 1, Grand Theatre, Walsall.
8, Theatre Royal, Croydon.
15, Theatre Royal, Chatham.
22, Grand Theatre, Islington.
29, Theatre Royal, Aldershot.
Nov. 5, West London Theatre.
12, Vacant (through transferring).
19, Vacant.
26, Grand Theatre, Nottingham.
Dec. 3, Junction Theatre, Manchester.
10, Theatre Royal, Bolton.
17, Vacation.
24, Vacant.
31, Theatre Royal, Blyth.
Jan. 7, Vacant.
14, Theatre Royal, Belfast.
21, Vacant.
28, Vacant.
Feb. 4, Vacant.
11, Vacant.
18, Theatre Royal, Leigh.
25, Rotunda Theatre, Liverpool.
Mar. 4, Vacant.
11, Theatre Royal, Aston.
18, Smethwick.
25, Vacation.
Apr. 1, Court Theatre, Wigan.
The general opinion of all Managers with whom we have played since the first production, May 29, 1905: In writing, playing, staging, and dressing the show would not disgrace a West End theatre.
Address, J. RICE CASSIDY,
This, York T. R.; next, N. SHIELDS.

Company A,
Under the direction of JOHN LAWSON.
Episode "HUMANITY." Episode
"THE MONKEY'S PAW,"
by W. W. Jacobs and Louis N. Parker.
VAUDEVILLE COMPANY.
The production equal in every way to original, and individuality has been selected for respective parts.
WANTED, June 25 and intermediate Dates.
Wire, V. NEWMAN, Olympia, Liverpool.

ARTISTS WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

JAMES WILLARD'S COMPANIES.
WANTED, to complete casts for Autumn Tours, Juvenile Gentlemen, Juvenile Ladies, Gentlemen for Old Men, Child Actress, Gentlemen for Heavy, Character, and Comedy, good Chambermaid. All must send photographs, height, age, and lowest terms to JAMES WILLARD, 29, Queen-square, Bristol.

"A BOLT FROM THE BLUE" CO.
WANTED, Juvenile Lady and Gentleman, for production of above dramatic sketch, special fortnight, probable tour to follow; gentleman must not be less than 5ft. 9in. in height, and not look more than 21 or 22; lady must sing, and not look more than 18. Only first-class artists need apply. Also Gentleman, for understudy, young, good appearance. Photos., terms, references, address, MANAGER, "A Bolt from the Blue" Co., Empire Theatre, Dublin.

"THE MANXMAN" TOUR.
WANTED, Artists, for Important Vacancies, now and autumn, character comedian for Cregeen, juvenile leading gentleman, light comedian, responsible and bright young soubrette; all must dress well. Fullest particulars, age, height, photos., recent references, &c., A. B. CROSS, T. R., Cardiff.

WANTED, Artists, for Comedy Drama, few weeks' tour through S. Wales. Summer terms. HUDSPATH and MCDONALD, P.O., Merthyr Tydfil.

WANTED, Liverpool (two nights), 14th, 15th, Wahnotee, Capt. Rolls, Mrs. Peyton rehearse Tuesday. MILLER, this, Royal, Stockton; next, Muncaster, Bootle.

WANTED, for Little Lew, "Her Fatal Past" Autumn Tour, Clever Child Actress, 14 years, not above 4ft. 7in., refined and sympathetic. Address, with full particulars, photos., &c., to T. E. WARD, Royal West London Theatre, W.

WANTED, for Early Autumn, Musical Comedy, two principal baritones, two low comedians. Apply, Tuesday morning, between 10 and 11 o'clock, to KELSON TRUEMAN, Regent House, 233a, Regent-street, W.

WANTED, for Mrs. Bandmann-Palmer's Tour, autumn, good responsible actor; also lady, for small parts. Address, 36, Gloucester-road, Kew, Surrey.

WANTED, Known, Mrs. Bandmann-Palmer can receive a lady and gentleman, as pupils, in her répertoire company, for autumn tour. Address, 36, Gloucester-road, Kew, Surrey.

WANTED, Good Tenors and Basses, for Long Season. Apply, Monday and Tuesday, 20, Valmar-road, Denmark-hill, S.E.

ACCRINGTON AMATEUR OPERATIC SOCIETY.
WANTED, Coach, for production of "Trial by Jury" and "The Sorcerer," Feb. 4 to 9, 1907; engagement for three weeks before and the week of performance. Apply, with references, to CHAS. S. HAYWOOD, Hon. Sec., Post Office-chambers, Accrington.

THE AUDITION CO., LTD.
10, Bedford-chambers, Covent Garden, W.C
Notice to Artists and Agents.
WANTED, Artists to Know,
The above Company is formed for the purpose of arranging Trial Performances either for Professionals or Amateurs. Artists desiring an opportunity of appearing before Agents with a view to Engagements should communicate at once.
N.B.—Next Audition, Monday, June 11.

WANTED, Immediately, Sopranos, Contraltos, Tenors, Basses; must be young and attractive. Apply, F. DARRELL and Co., 415, Strand.

WANTED, Chorus Ladies, London Halls, Rehearse immediately. Full particulars, terms (must be low), letters only, to MANAGER, 3, Stockwell Park-road, S.W.

WANTED, Dramatic Artists who experience difficulty in obtaining copies of "The Era" at any of Messrs. Smith and Son's Bookstalls to kindly communicate with the PUBLISHER,
"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-st., Strand, W.C.

ARTISTS' WANTS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Known, £20 Bonus to anyone securing actor (13 years' experience) a really good engagement, town or country. Every qualification. Strictly confidential.
Box 3,333, "The Era."

ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, by Gavin Wood, Bass-Baritone (late Carl Rosa and Geo. Edwardes' Cos.), Free for Summer work; large experience in Al-fresco and Concerted Work, Quartettes, Trios, &c.; large répertoire Solos. 15, Fentiman-road, South Lambeth, S.W.

WANTED, Known, Baritone, good voice and répertoire, thoroughly experienced, Al Fresco or Concert Party; join immediately. BERT BERRY, Lecturer, Poole's Theatre, Gloucester.

WANTED, Engagements for Concerts and At Homes, Rosina Wildair (diplomatist), F. R. Benson, elocutionist, humorous monologues, sketches, recitals to music. Care of "The Era" Office.

PANTOMIME ARTISTS WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Artists disengaged for Pantomime next Christmas to send photos., terms, and particulars to BROOKS'S Agency, 36, Shaftesbury-avenue, W.

WANTED, Specialities, Dumb Shows, Comedians for Panto., Chorus, &c. MARTINO'S Agency, 125, Barcroft-street, Grimsby.

WANTED, Principals, Specialities, Chorus. Write with full particulars, photos., height, &c, JESS VERNO'S Agency, 61, West Derby-street, Liverpool.

SCENIC ARTISTS WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Scenic Artists, to touch up Scenery in London next week. Terms, references, to JAMES WILLARD, 29, Queen-square, Bristol.

SCENIC ARTISTS' WANTS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Known, S. Beltram, at Liberty to accept Contracts. Quotations given; travelling scenery repainted, &c. Letters, c/o The Ark Painting Rooms, Chester-street, Liverpool.

WANTED, by Scenic Artist, with First-class London and Provincial References. Offers for Permanency, now or autumn, on moderate terms. Address, first instance, Box 3,283, "Era."

WANTED, Known, A. W. Moore, Scenic Artist, at Liberty for Engagement or Contract now or autumn. Refs. excellent. Address, 20, Park-street, Middlesbrough.

WANTED, by Philip Small, Scenic Artist, Engagement or Contract, town or provinces. Refs. Address, 44, Randolph-gardens, Maida Vale, London.

WANTED, Contracts, Oldest Scenic Studio in Manchester (Rumford-street, C.-on-M.). Compare terms. To Let, good Dry Storage, cheap. W. B. BOSTOCK.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

SCOTLAND'S PROVINCIAL THEATRES.
WANTED, Acting-Manager, duties commencing July. Address, with photo., references, age, and lowest terms, to
R. C. BUCHANAN,
General Office, Grand Theatre, Glasgow.

WANTED, Manager for First-class Music Hall; must be competent, with highest references. Investment £500, with salaried position. Genuine applicants. Address, STAGE, c/o Anderson's Advertising Agency, 14, Cockspur-street, S.W.

WANTED, a First-class Variety Manager, for a First-class Music Hall in Lancashire; only those who have held a similar position need apply. State age, salary required, and send copy of testimonials. Box 3,327, "The Era."

WANTED, Smart Gentlemanly Business Manager, to manage Band Concerts, East Cliff front. References indispensable. Apply, SAINTON, Mus. Dir., T. H., Clacton-on-Sea.

WANTED, Young Gentleman, as Assistant Acting-Manager and Understudy, for good tour. No premium.
Age, height, photo., references,
Box 3,346, "The Era."

WANTED, by Acting Stage-Manager. Young man (23) requires appointment, £20 premium given, variety hall only. State wages. RICHARDSON, 19, Reginald-road, Eastney, Portsmouth.

WANTED, Martin Comstock, now at Liberty, Management or Advance. Few special weeks. Wire to-day, Empire Theatre, Southend-on-Sea.

WANTED, Engagement, as Acting-Manager, by Chas. J. Cawood, late Acting-Manager, Empire, Edinburgh, for 13 years. Address, 2, Cecil-house, Venn-street, Clapham, S.W.

WANTED, Known, Actor-Dramatist is open to collaborate; novels adapted, plays read and advised upon. Address Box 3,344, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement, as Acting-Manager, Theatre or Music Hall, Provinces pref., thoroughly experienced; excellent references. Apply, Box 3,354, "The Era."

WANTED, Known, Advertiser is prepared to Invest a Small Sum in a Sound Concern, Theatre preferred. Box 3,338, "The Era."

WANTED, by Electrician, thoroughly experienced. Engagement; well up in all branches of Theatre Work, Engines, Motors, &c. Box 3,329, "The Era."

WANTED, by H. Leeding, Carpenter, re-engagement, resident, near London preferred; tools; abstainer, 32; refs; bench. 11, Little Litchfield-street, W.

WANTED, by Refined Lady, Permanent Employment in Hotel, attractive, assist in bar; premium, or cash security given if desired. Miss RAYMOND, G.P.O., Brighton.

WANTED, Engagement, as Maid-companion, to Travel; no salary. Address, MAY, 54, Pictonstreet, Stoke's Croft, Bristol.

WANTED, Known, First-class Wardrobe Mistress, Costumier, good Cutter-out; and good reference. Shortly at Liberty. Box 3,352, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement, by a thoroughly competent Wardrobe Mistress; experienced in all classes of Costume. M., 12, Sunnyside, Waldegrave-road, Teddington.

MUSICIANS' WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Artists disengaged for Pantomime next Christmas to send photos., terms, and particulars to BROOKS'S Agency, 36, Shaftesbury-avenue, W.

WANTED, Specialities, Dumb Shows, Comedians for Panto., Chorus, &c. MARTINO'S Agency, 125, Barcroft-street, Grimsby.

WANTED, Principals, Specialities, Chorus. Write with full particulars, photos., height, &c, JESS VERNO'S Agency, 61, West Derby-street, Liverpool.

SCENIC ARTISTS WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Scenic Artists, to touch up Scenery in London next week. Terms, references, to JAMES WILLARD, 29, Queen-square, Bristol.

SCENIC ARTISTS' WANTS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Known, S. Beltram, at Liberty to accept Contracts. Quotations given; travelling scenery repainted, &c. Letters, c/o The Ark Painting Rooms, Chester-street, Liverpool.

WANTED, by Scenic Artist, with First-class London and Provincial References. Offers for Permanency, now or autumn, on moderate terms. Address, first instance, Box 3,283, "Era."

WANTED, Known, A. W. Moore, Scenic Artist, at Liberty for Engagement or Contract now or autumn. Refs. excellent. Address, 20, Park-street, Middlesbrough.

WANTED, by Philip Small, Scenic Artist, Engagement or Contract, town or provinces. Refs. Address, 44, Randolph-gardens, Maida Vale, London.

WANTED, Contracts, Oldest Scenic Studio in Manchester (Rumford-street, C.-on-M.). Compare terms. To Let, good Dry Storage, cheap. W. B. BOSTOCK.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

SCOTLAND'S PROVINCIAL THEATRES.
WANTED, Acting-Manager, duties commencing July. Address, with photo., references, age, and lowest terms, to
R. C. BUCHANAN,
General Office, Grand Theatre, Glasgow.

WANTED, Manager for First-class Music Hall; must be competent, with highest references. Investment £500, with salaried position. Genuine applicants. Address, STAGE, c/o Anderson's Advertising Agency, 14, Cockspur-street, S.W.

WANTED, a First-class Variety Manager, for a First-class Music Hall in Lancashire; only those who have held a similar position need apply. State age, salary required, and send copy of testimonials. Box 3,327, "The Era."

WANTED, Smart Gentlemanly Business Manager, to manage Band Concerts, East Cliff front. References indispensable. Apply, SAINTON, Mus. Dir., T. H., Clacton-on-Sea.

WANTED, Young Gentleman, as Assistant Acting-Manager and Understudy, for good tour. No premium.
Age, height, photo., references,
Box 3,346, "The Era."

WANTED, by Acting Stage-Manager. Young man (23) requires appointment, £20 premium given, variety hall only. State wages. RICHARDSON, 19, Reginald-road, Eastney, Portsmouth.

WANTED, Martin Comstock, now at Liberty, Management or Advance. Few special weeks. Wire to-day, Empire Theatre, Southend-on-Sea.

WANTED, Engagement, as Acting-Manager, by Chas. J. Cawood, late Acting-Manager, Empire, Edinburgh, for 13 years. Address, 2, Cecil-house, Venn-street, Clapham, S.W.

WANTED, Known, Actor-Dramatist is open to collaborate; novels adapted, plays read and advised upon. Address Box 3,344, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement, as Acting-Manager, Theatre or Music Hall, Provinces pref., thoroughly experienced; excellent references. Apply, Box 3,354, "The Era."

WANTED, Known, Advertiser is prepared to Invest a Small Sum in a Sound Concern, Theatre preferred. Box 3,338, "The Era."

WANTED, by Electrician, thoroughly experienced. Engagement; well up in all branches of Theatre Work, Engines, Motors, &c. Box 3,329, "The Era."

WANTED, by H. Leeding, Carpenter, re-engagement, resident, near London preferred; tools; abstainer, 32; refs; bench. 11, Little Litchfield-street, W.

WANTED, by Refined Lady, Permanent Employment in Hotel, attractive, assist in bar; premium, or cash security given if desired. Miss RAYMOND, G.P.O., Brighton.

WANTED, Engagement, as Maid-companion, to Travel; no salary. Address, MAY, 54, Pictonstreet, Stoke's Croft, Bristol.

WANTED, Known, First-class Wardrobe Mistress, Costumier, good Cutter-out; and good reference. Shortly at Liberty. Box 3,352, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement, by a thoroughly competent Wardrobe Mistress; experienced in all classes of Costume. M., 12, Sunnyside, Waldegrave-road, Teddington.

MUSICIANS' WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Leader for Cardiff. Apply, stating age, salary required, and giving names and addresses for references to OSWALD STOLL, Cranbourn-mansions, W.C.

WANTED, Experienced Musical Director (Violin), to supply Good Orchestra, for Variety Work and Dancing; must provide up-to-date Music, competent Musicians, and furnish good references.
Address in first instance to
Box 3,339, "The Era."

WANTED, Violin, Viola, and Drums, for Variety Hall.
Write, Box 3,332.

WANTED, immediately, through Vacation at Palace Theatre (Varieties), First Violin, Trombone, Tympanist, Effects. Long experience. WADSWORTH, 32, Staunton-street, Lincoln.

WANTED, Violin, Double Bass, Vocalist, Pitching. Terms, shares. Town Band. Apply, J. BURRO, 6, Auboro'-street, Scarborough.

WANTED, to commence immediately, till about the end of September, good Second Cornet.
Apply, with terms and references, to
Mr. DAN GODFREY,
Winter Gardens, Bournemouth.

MUSICIANS' WANTED.

WANTED, good Solo Cornet, for Town Band, Shares, permanent.
PHILLIPS, 11, Market-place, Southend-on-Sea.

WANTED, Cornet, young, used Variety, must be good Soloist; sobriety indispensable.
KNOTT, Girvan, Ayrshire.

WANTED, First Clarionet Player, to join Town Band (Pitching), commence June 18. State lowest terms. J. C. HUDSON, Parkside, Skegness.

WANTED, Summer Engagement, Clarionet, Orchestral or Military; experienced and reliable; good references. G. J. BREWSTER, 7, Cranstoun-street, Northampton.

WANTED, Clarionet, to combine 'Cello or Viola; also Horn to combine Viola or 'Cello. State terms. VINCE, St. Leonards, Sussex.

WANTED, July 16, for nine weeks, Double Bass, for Clarence Gardens Orchestra, Scarborough. State lowest terms. A. L. ARNOLD, 32, Tennyson-avenue, Scarborough.

For Continental Tour with Bostock and Wombwell's Menagerie.
WANTED, Competent Slide Trombone, salary 40s. weekly; and Double Drummer, 36s. 6d. weekly; both to commence June 18. Apply, FRANK BOSTOCK, Saturday and Sunday, Binche; Monday, Leval-Trahegnies, Belgium; or permanent address, 17, Rue Saulmier, Paris.

WANTED, Solo Euphonium Player, for a Staff Band, at well-known Seaport; exceptional advantages to the right man,
and a comfortable position.
ALFRED HAYS,
26, Old Bond-street,
London, W.

WINTER GARDENS, BLACKPOOL.
WANTED, Oboe, and Oboe and Cor Anglais, for Season, to Sept. 30, to commence at once. First-class instrumentalists only. Apply, stating experience, and terms for two performances daily, to J. R. HUDDLESTONE, General-Manager, Winter Gardens, Blackpool.

WANTED, Harpist, lady or gentleman, to join with First-Class Violinist and Vocalist (young), for Pitching, Seaside. Box 3,343, "The Era."

WANTED, an experienced Flautist, from June 16 till end of September, for Dunoon Castle Gardens and Pavilion. Apply, with terms and particulars, to RICHARD DAEBLITZ, 244, West Prince's-street, Glasgow.

WANTED, ex-Army Flute and Piccolo, Militia Training, July 2, Aug. 25. State lowest terms, BANDMASTER, The Castle, Monmouth.

WANTED, a Good Pianist, capable of Musical Sketches; also First-class Violin and Cornet; long tour to suitable people. Lowest terms and references, letters only, ERNEST MANSELL, King's Service, 2, Amen-corner, E.C.

WANTED, Pianist, Lady or Youth; must play M.S. at Sight, Transpose. Lowest terms, photo., to ROLMAZ, Theatre Royal, Macclesfield, Cheshire.

WANTED, First-class Drummer, with Tympanis, Drums, and Effects, experienced in Concert Work, to combine Librarian preferred, for Seaside Resort, South Coast, end July until October. Write, stating experience, age, and references to Box 3,337, "The Era."

WANTED, a small Band of Four or Five, used to Fair Business, for small Circus, three or four days in each town. Wire or write, lowest terms, Circus, Baker's, Treorchy Fair Ground, S. Wales.

WANTED, at once, Solo Clarionet, Second Cornet, First French Horn, Flute and Piccolo, and Drums, military; must be good; five hours daily. State age, and terms, which must be low. CONDUCTOR, Pleasure Grounds, Matlock Bath.

WANTED, Ladies' Orchestra, Four Performers, long engagement to right people. Write, A. E. PICKARD, Britannia Panopticon, Glasgow.

WANTED.—Musicians "Out of Shop" and Bandmasters requiring Instrumentalists will do well to try an advertisement in the "Wan

MUSICIANS' WANTS.

WANTED, by Violinist, young, good repetiteur, situation in Theatre or Hall, distance no object; can open at once. Address, 20, Colvestone-crescent, Dalston, N.

WANTED, Summer Engagement, Second Violin, reliable, disengaged June 21, seaside preferred. JOHN KEMPSTER, New Theatre, Oxford.

WANTED, Engagement, Violin, combine Trombone, late Buxton and New Brighton Orchestras. SYKES, 108, Howard-street, Oxford.

WANTED, Summer Engagement, by Violinist, Royal Carl Rosa Opera Company, excellent testimonials, now at Liberty. Address, MATTHEW LEWIS, Waterlooville, Hants.

WANTED, Engagement, by First Violin, Double Bass, together or separate; experienced; good ref. VIOLINIST, 3, Castle-terrace, Church-street, Oxford.

WANTED, by Violin or Viola, any business; excellent reference; reliable. H. S., 15, Standen St. John's, Tunbridge Wells.

WANTED, Engagement, July 2, Two Violins, Piano (combine viola), 'Cello, Bass, Flute, Clarionet, Cornet, Drums, together or separate. T. HULLEY, M.D. (Violin), Royalty T., Chester.

WANTED, Engagement, as Cornet or Second Violin, after 16th inst.
GEORGE STEELE, Olympia Varieties, Bury.

WANTED, Engagement, by Cornet, any Business; can join at once; combine string if required. CORNETIST, 13, Rosser-street, Neath, Glam.

WANTED, by Cornet, as First or Second, age 21, for Seaside or anywhere. Apply, MAC, 2, Moreland-street, Finsbury Park, N.

WANTED, Known, Reliable Cornet at Liberty,
HUTCHBY, 7, Kimberley-rd., Croydon, W.

WANTED, Engagement as First or Second Cornet, experienced, can join at once. Address, CORNET, 4 Chestnut-gardens, Sutton, Surrey.

WANTED, Engagement, by Cornet and Trombone, together or separate. Wire, HARRISON, 82, Commercial-road, Grantham.

WANTED, Engagement, by Clarionet.
F. YOUNG,
117, East Surrey-grove, Peckham, S.E.

WANTED, Engagement as Clarionet, at Lib. June 9; good refs. CLARIONET, Hillside Villa, Cymmer-road, Porth, South Wales.

WANTED, Engagement, First Clarionet, two Solo Cornets, Piccolo, and Flute and Trombone, together or separate. Apply, WOODS, Barracks, Grantham.

WANTED, by Clarionettist, Engagement, any business, sober and reliable; can start at once. WILL SMITH, 15, Portland-place, Carlisle.

WANTED, Engagement, at Once, by First-class Clarionettist, Orchestra or Military; thoroughly experienced; best instruments. H. SUMMERS, 43, Brixton-road, London.

WANTED, Engagement, String Bass (theatre closing), any Business; would deputise. Theatre Royal, Attercliffe; or J. MURRAY, 37, Thorpe-road, Sheffield.

WANTED, Engagement, by good Double Bass (4-stringed), any Business; splendid refs. JACK PAYNE, 9, Somers-road, Worcester.

WANTED, by Double Bass, Engagement, steady and reliable, good refs., could join at once. HARRY HARE, 21, Station-square, Harrogate.

WANTED, by Jas. L. Barker, Principal Double Bass. Grand, Leeds, Summer Engagement; would deputise; sober and reliable; highest references. 19, Nowell-mount, Harehill's-lane, Leeds.

WANTED, Engagement, by experienced Double Bass Player. Opera, Drama, or Variety; good references. Terms moderate. PEENE, 22, Church-street, Leominster.

WANTED, good Engagement, by Bass, five years in present Engagement.
WILLIAMSON, Pier, Eastbourne.

WANTED, Engagement, by Double Bass, any Business; steady and reliable. BASSO, 24, St. James-street, Accrington.

WANTED, by Double Bass, experienced, Engagement or Deputising, any Business. Apply, BASSIST, 1, Honeybrook-rd., Clapham Park, S.W.

WANTED, Engagement, by good Double Bass, satisfaction guaranteed; any business. J. ALLAN, 1, Buckland-st., New North-rd., London, N.

WANTED, Engagement, by Solo Trombone. Just finished third season with Pump Room Orchestra. Address, OTTO LUSCHER, 24, Union-passage, Bath.

WANTED, Engagement, by Trombone, Season or Permanency, at Liberty June 23.
HIBES, Opera House, Cheltenham.

WANTED, Engagement, by Trombonist, any business. A. ENGLISH, 30, Wood-street, High Barnet, Herts.

WANTED, Engagement, by Trombone, at Lib. June 11.
GASCOIGNE, 112, Penshurst-road, Thornton Heath.

WANTED, Engagement, as Trombonist, late military, will be disengaged shortly, for season. Apply, COOKE, Trombone, New Theatre, Cambridge.

WANTED, Engagement as Bombardon, Seaside or Tenting; steady and reliable; can open at once. A. BLUNT, 36, Forest-road, Dalston, N.E.

WANTED, by E flat Bombardon, season or permanent; experienced and reliable; undeniable references. J. GRAINGER, 17, Glenfall-street, Cheltenham, Gloucester.

WANTED, Engagement, as Horn, First or Second, long experience; steady and reliable; military band preferred; excellent refs. W. J., 70, Lowther-road, Brighton.

WANTED, Orchestral Practice for Little Girl on 'Cello; also Good Engagements for 'Cellist. Mr. CASSELLE, 35, Granville-sq., King's Cross-road, W.C.

WANTED, Summer Engagement, by Lady 'Cellist, good soloist; experienced any business; disengaged from June 16. L. H., 21, Beaumont-buildings, Oxford.

WANTED, Engagement, by 'Cello, Double Bass, and Trombone, experienced men, seaside, or any business. Apply, TEASDALE, 128, Lansdowne-rd., Sheffield.

WANTED, Engagement, by thoroughly experienced 'Cellist, Disengaged, in town or sea side; will also Deputise. 51, Cleveland-mansions, Elgin-avenue, W.

WANTED, by 'Cello, Engagement, any business. CELLO, 10, Emily-mansions, Landor-road, Stockwell, S.W.

WANTED, Engagement, by Oboe, experienced in any capacity, late R.A. Band, Woolwich; sober and reliable. FRANK FIELD, 28, Cardozo-road, Holloway, N.

WANTED, by Maud Estlin Grundy (age 18), Harpist, Hotel Cecil, London, Four Times; Three Months, Court Theatre, Liverpool; Three Months, Britannia Pier, Yarmouth; &c.—7, Provost-road, Hampstead, London.

WANTED, Known, Mme. Fortescue, L.L.C.M., Harp Soloist, Albert and Queen's Hall, accepts Engagements for Concerts, At Homes, Receptions. Herself or Concert Party. Pupils received, Harp, Pianoforte. 24, Waldemar-mans., Fulham.

WANTED, Engagement (together), by Two Musicians, Flautist and Harpist, sight-readers. Address, FLAUTIST, 26, King-street, Chelsea, S.W.

WANTED, Summer Engagement, by Flute and Piccolo Player.
Address, BENNETT, 13, Church-st., Beeston, Notts.

WANTED, by Flute and Piccolo, any Business, Theatre closing; would deputise; military or string. RELIABLE, 27, Thistlethwaite-rd., Lower Clapton.

WANTED, Known, Flautist and Piccolo Player, First-class and Well-known, Disengaged at present. Address, C. J. B., Heathbank, Braunton, N. Devon.

WANTED, Engagement, Pianist, Orchestral or otherwise; experienced accompanist; sight reader. RODNEY, 52, Winstead-st., Battersea Park, S.W.

MUSICIANS' WANTS.

WANTED, Engagement by a Lady, as Pianiste and Vocalist. Tour or permanent. L. R., Smith's Library, Russell-gardens, Kensington.

WANTED, Known, David Davies, thoroughly experienced sight-reader, seeks regular engagement, as pianist, orchestral or otherwise. Box 3,330, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement, by N. Robinson, pianist, through disappointment, any business, steady, reliable, good refs., good reader. 50, Saddler-st., Durham.

WANTED, Known, Howard Jones, Pianist, Disengaged, late ten years Queen's, Poplar; London or near. 29, Hayday-rd., Barking-rd., Plaistow, E.

WANTED, by Pianist, Re-eng., Orchestral, Al-fresco, Hydro, any Bus., Lightning Reader, Transposer, young. CAMPBELL, 45, Edward-street, Bury.

WANTED, Engagement, as Pianist, Second Violin, or Viola; experienced, smart, steady. Refs. Orchestral or tour; any Business. At Lib. June 25. MARTON, c/o Morland, 38, Leoville-st., Springfield-rd., Belfast.

WANTED, immediately, Engagement, by First-Class Orchestral Pianist, combine Clarionet (good); thoroughly experienced all Lines. Wire, J. VEVERS, 53, Carroun-rd., Clapham-rd., London.

WANTED, Summer Engagement, Young Lady solo instrumentalist and pianist, sight-reader, thoroughly experienced any business. Write, Box 3,340, "The Era."

WANTED, Known, Double Drums, at Liberty, any Business; all Effects. GEO. SMITH, 19, Brecknock-road, London, N.

WANTED, by Double Drummer, Tympanist, and Effects; excellent references. J. TELL, 36, St. James's-road, Bermondsey, S.E.

WANTED, Engagement, Double Drums and Effects; sober, reliable, any Business. Liberty Monday, Military or Orchestral. HAYES, 165, Breck-road, Liverpool.

WANTED, immediately Engagement, by First class Drummer and Effects, orchestra or military; best references. H. PRICE, 8, Church-street, Kennington, London.

WANTED, b- Orchestral Drummer, Engagement, competent, highest refs. W. GOWINGS, 50, Flood-street, Chelsea, S.W.

WANTED, Known, the Shikissimma Band, Ladies' Japanese Orchestra, can supply Ladies' Bands, any number, brilliant costumes, latest music. Address, CONDUCTRESS, Volthurst, Newbury.

WANTED, Summer Engagement, for Dodsworth's Northern Military or String Bands, from 12 upwards. Neat uniform. For terms, apply, DODSWORTH, 9, Victoria-street, Bradford.

WANTED, Summer Engagement, Garner's Elysée Band, from three performers or first-class Orchestral Pianist; large music library. 55, Richmond-road, Barnsbury.

WANTED, the Bradfield Ladies' Orchestra, Engagement, September; also Garden Parties, &c.; excellent Soloists; Music specially arranged. 111, Holland-road, Kensington.

WANTED, Known, for Lady Instrumentalists and Bands. Apply, Bureau, 8, Bedford-ter., Kensington. Bookings Johannesburg, Jan. to July; Margate, April, May.

WANTED, Engagement, small Orchestra, Piano, Violin, Flute, Cornet, Bass, all reliable. Add., CONDUCTOR, 218, Gt. Portland-street, London, W.

WANTED, Seaside Summer Engagement, by experienced Quartette or Quintette (Ladies). Highest testimonials. Miss MABEL MILLER, 32, Montrell-road, Streatham Hill.

WANTED, Known, the A.M.U. National Musical Agency (Incorporated with the British Imperial Bands Company) can supply Musicians, Orchestral and Military Bands, on the shortest notice. Write for Booklet to either of the following:—J. B. WILLIAMS, 135, Moss-lane, Manchester; Tel. address, "Amuse, Manchester"; Telephone, 5489 Manchester. C. JESSON, 96, Long-acre, W.C.; Tel. address, "Amusologia, London"; 'Phone, 9827 Central. F. J. LEES, 104, Crompton-road, Handsworth, Birmingham. J. BARTLEY, 9, Seamore-st., Glasgow. Tel. 208 Y6, Charing-cross.

CIRCUS ARTISTS WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, for Hanneford's Canadian Circus, Tenting, Ireland, Artists in all Lines, those doing more than one act preferred; also good Tent-master, to join at once. Wire, Sat., Strokestown; Mon., Mullingar. After, address, HANNEFORD'S Circus, 10, Goldsmith-street, Dublin.

WANTED, to Engage, High Wire Walker, or Pole Climber, at once; or anything suitable.

Apply,
WALLIS,
Seaforth.

WANTED, Young Man or Youth, for Knock-about Bar Act. Address, with full particulars, to GYMNAST, 53, Church-st., Harpurhey, Manchester.

WANTED, Circus Artists who experience difficulty in obtaining copies of "The Era" at any of Messrs. Smith and Son's Bookstalls to kindly communicate with the PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

CIRCUS ARTISTS' WANTS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Known, John Henry Cooke's Herd of Diving Reindeer and Stud of Plunging Horses will be at Liberty on July 2.
Proprietors or Managers having water 10ft. deep please write.
JOHN HENRY COOKE,
Circus,
Aberdeen.

WANTED, Known, Miss Ella's Lion Show, only one in this country of its kind, vacant Monday next, wire quick. Also July 2, 9, 16, 23, and Aug. 6, share or certain. The greatest Attraction for Fête and Gala. Com., King's Theatre, Gateshead-on-Tyne. Wire quick for Monday next.

WANTED, by New Hulines, Modern Musical Clowns, Creators of Comical Curiosities, June 11 and 18. This week, Crystal Palace, Wire.

WANTED, by the Two Dominos, Clown and Donkey, re-engaged Hippo., Redditch, Lib. later for Galas, &c.

WANTED, Known, Cara Magda, Lady Aërial Sensational Gympast, 50ft. high, no net. Great success, Pontefract Gala. Liberty for galas, carnivals, exhibitions, sports. Add., 78, Gartside-st., Manchester.

WANTED, June 18 and 25, by Les Uniques, original gymnastic pot-pourri on two electrically illuminated perpendicular ladders. Big success, Pontefract Fête. Next week, Aquarium, Scarborough.

WANTED, Known the Maros, Comedy Three-bar Performers. Next week, Clough Hall, Harecastle. Liberty 11th, 18th, 25th. Address, as above.

WANTED, Known, The Wambas (Lily and Albert), Musical Gymnasts, vacant Monday and on, with exceptions. Wire, Cooke's Circus, Aberdeen.

WANTED, Known, Onga Trio, One Lady Two Gentlemen, Sensational Stage-flying Gymnastic Novelty. Open Monday, Tenting or Galas. Hippo., Hastings.

WANTED, by Bros. Almo, First-class Comedy 3-Bar Act, Monday next. Wire, 19, Baker-street, Doncaster.

WANTED, Monday next, and 18th, Lillian and Agouste, Comedy Contortionists, conclude Casino, Calais. All communications 65A, Ellen-st., London, E.

CIRCUS ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, Monday, the Reays, equilibrists. Wire, 55, King Cross-street, Halifax. Gala Artists wanted July 5, write in.

WANTED, by Urquhart, Foot Juggler; big success Clough Hall, Harecastle; vacant Mon. next. 17, Cheltenham-street, Manchester.

WANTED, Known, Pauletti, Aërial Leaping Acrobatic Cyclist, two good acts, for galas. Post Office, Allithwaite, Grange-over-Sands, via Carnforth.

WANTED, Offers for Miss Beatrice Kerr, Australia's Champion Swimmer and Diver, along with her latest Sensational Acts. Just finished successful tour through Australia. Gave 366 performances at Prince's Court, Melbourne. Full particulars, S. REDMOND, 33, Hare Hill-road, Littleborough, Lancashire.

WANTED, Known, Swimmers, Divers, Teachers, Water Artists, Bath Managers, Professor Phillips, Madame L'Estrange. Open for Engagements. 4, Lyceum-buildings, Newport, Mon.

WANTED, Known, Lad wishes Situation, Trick or Comedy Cyclists, eighteen different tricks on bicycle. SWIFTO, 23, California-street, Belfast.

WANTED, Engagements, Balloon and Parachute Exhibition; One Balloon still vacant August Holiday. FLEET, 53, Grosvenor Park-road, Walthamstow.

WANTED, Known, P. McNamara at Liberty for Stud or Artist Groom, thoroughly experienced and reliable. Address, Shaftesbury Stables, Lisle-st., Leicester-square, London.

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

HARMONIC ASSOCIATION.
Saturday Evening Soirées and Concerts.
WANTED, Refined Variety Artists, all classes, to work three Halls, one night only (Saturdays), during Season, from Sept. 1, 1906, to March 23, 1907. Vacant dates and lowest terms to WM. BIGGAM, Mus.-Sec., 126, Rotten-row, Glasgow.

WANTED, Variety Artists, all Lines, July 9, and other dates.
Artists having been with us before, or having worked on same bill with us, preferred.
Terms must be Low, but Money Sure, and Comfortable Engagements.
Combination Summer Terms to
THE DAYTON FAMILY, Alhambra Theatre, London W.C. N.B.—Interviewed by appointment only.

WANTED, Variety Artists, Lady Instrumentalist, &c., for Al Fresco and occasional Halls; dress well; Shares. BRUMMELL, 134, Fairfax-road, Harringay, N.

WANTED, Variety Artists, June 18, on, sisters, serios, and good double and single acts. Lowest terms, or shares. DALE, Hippodrome, Wakefield.

WANTED, Aug. Bank Holiday, onwards, for Halls, Bristol, S. Wales, Variety Artists all Lines. T. GANNON, Agent, West-grove, Bristol.

SCARBOROUGH.
WANTED, June 18, and onwards, Variety Artists in all Lines. Full particulars, with permanent address (if any) to MORGAN, Aquarium.

HIPPODROME,
DARLINGTON.
WANTED, for June 25, July 2, 9, 16, and 30, Variety Artists in all Lines.
JAMES BELL.

INDIA. THE GARDNER-BROWN VAUDEVILLE COMPANIES, the most complete and popular Variety Combinations Touring the East.
WANTED, Artists in all Lines. Immediate Vacancies for smart young Soubrettes with voices, Ballad Vocalists, Single Comedy Musical Acts, Small Sketch Parties (two or three persons, with répertoire of at least Four Original Sketches), and good Drawing Novelties. Wanted, First-class Pianist; must be sight-reader, transposer, and arranger. Also competent Bioscope Operator, lime and electric. Terms:—Nine months' engagement, fares paid out and home, hotel and travelling paid, salaries therefore absolutely net. Salaries (or part) paid weekly by bankers in England if desired. Full salaries paid during voyage out and home. To leave London about September. Apply, lowest net salaries, photos., bill matter, and all particulars, to MANAGER, The Gardner-Brown Vaudeville Companies, c/o Messrs. Soundy and Co., Ltd., Agents, Bombay, India. Notice.—The Gardner-Brown Vaudeville Companies are a sound and firmly established concern, with 5 years' excellent reputation and success. As a specimen of our treatment of artists and their appreciation thereof, read the following, which speaks for itself:—Sisters Romaine, duettists and speciality dancers, engaged for eight months, will complete three years in July. Leo Montague, quaint comedian, came out on three months' engagement, made three re-engagements extending over a period of eighteen months, and re-engaged for still another year. George Gulliver, first engagement three months, second engagement one year. Other instances too numerous to mention. The Gardner-Brown Vaudeville Companies provide exceptional opportunities for young artists with talent who are unable, owing to the crowded state of the Profession at home, to get an opening in England. Make a reputation abroad, and managers will then be glad to offer you engagements at home.

Telephone, O9261.
Telegrams, "Stebbing, Manchester."
WANTED, Music Hall Artists, all Lines, Big Gala Acts.
Pantomime Artists, all Lines,
Big Specialities, Novelties.
Lowest terms, bookings, lithos.,
EDGAR STEBBINGS and Co.,
23, Egerton-street, Manchester.
Telegrams, "Stebbings, Manchester."
Telephone, O9261.

WANTED, Artists, all Lines, for Immediate and Future Dates.
WILLIAM MOULD, Central Palace, North Shields.

WANTED, Al Fresco Artists all descriptions, for Pavilion, Lovers' Walk, Matlock Bath, holds over 1,000; admission 1s., 6d., and 3d.; sharing terms to good Artists. Can open at once. Wire or write full particulars to CRANE, Pavilion Pierrots, Matlock Bath, Derbyshire.

WANTED, Artists, Single and Double turns, two weeks, June 25, July 9, 23. CHAS. A. JAMES, Waxworks and Music Hall, Dublin.

WANTED, Artists, Sisters, Serios, Comedians, Small Sketch Companies, for June 18. REYMOND, New Palace, Sheerness. Quote lowest; Hall small.

WANTED, Artists in all Lines, from now onwards.
Apply, Mr. J. J. SCOTT, Empire, Wrexham.

GLASGOW CONCERTS.
WANTED, Refined Artists, suitable for above. Dates and lowest terms to THE SCOTTISH MUSICAL AGENCY, 107, George-street, Glasgow.

WANTED, Artists for Charity Gala, July 12, including Pierrot and Minstrel Troupes, not to exceed five. Apply, J. T. BOYCE, Sec., 128, Heneage-road, Grimsby.

WANTED, Artists, all Lines, and Good Specialities, Pleasure Gardens, Kirn, June 25, onwards, week or fortnight bookings. Write, GRAHAM COURTNEY.

WANTED, immediately, Pierrot Artists all Lines, Pianist, Instrumentalists, good Comedians for Sketches, for Sutton-on-Sea. Wire, SAPHRINI, Palace, Boston.

WANTED, Artists, Good Comedy Numbers, for Gateshead and Hartlepool. All Acts known to me write. W. LOVELL HURT, G.P.O., Hartlepool.

WANTED, Al-fresco Artists, all Descriptions; shares. Sisters doing Singles, Balladists, Comedians. Open at once. Address, CRANE, Pavilion, Matlock Bath, Derbyshire.

WANTED, Music Hall Artistes all Lines, for June 18.
J. G. ANDERSON, 6, Great Clyde-street, Glasgow.

WANTED, First-class Artists, for Pierrots; also artists, in all lines, for June 18, Palace, Oldbury. Good combination write or wire, TOM PRICHARD, Palace, Oldbury.

WANTED, Artists, for Fêtes and Galas, for week commencing July 9, '06. Terms and lithos. to JAMES S. SMITH, Amusement Caterer, 84, Earl-street, Grimsby, Lincs.

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS WANTED.

HIPPODROME AND CIRCUS VARIETIES.
FOUNDRY-STREET,
DEWSBURY.
General-Manager, GEORGE WELDON.
WANTED, Known, the present Season will Terminate to-day, Saturday, June 9, re-open Aug. 6 (Bank Holiday). Artists of every Description required for then and forward dates. Those writing, please state where they can be seen performing for the next six weeks.
Preference given to those new to the town.

VALENTINE VALLEY PIERROTS,
BOGGART HOLE CLOUGH, MANCHESTER.
WANTED, Artists, all Lines, June 18, and onwards, complete Troupes or Combinations Entertained; large stage, dressing-rooms, electric light, &c. Terms and all particulars to LOUIS MURRAY, General-Manager.

WANTED, Artists, of all Descriptions, Write or call, with full particulars,
J. W. JOHNSON,
Variety and Pantomime Agent,
86, Waterloo-road, S.E.

WANTED, Artists, Town, Country, Seaside, St. Bride Entertainments. See "Amusement." 6d. everywhere; post, 7d. EDWIN DREW, 7, Whitefriars-street, E.C.

WANTED, Known, Palace, Lancaster, closed for alterations; reopens Sept. 3. Proprietor and Manager, Mr. JOHN FELL. Wanted, Artists all lines.

WANTED, Known, the Atlas Variety Agency Keep me posted.
17, Waterford-road, Fulham.

WANTED, Stars, Stars, Stars, for immediate and future dates.
Send full particulars, bookings, &c., to
JESS VERNO,
61, West Derby-street, Liverpool.
Telegrams, "Merriment." Telephone, 2076 Royal.

WANTED, Stars and Specialities for immediate and future dates. Terms and particulars to BROOKS'S Agency, 36 Shaftesbury-avenue, W.

GAIETY T., DUNDEE (twice nightly).
WANTED, First-class Variety Turns, June 18, and on. Incompetent people save stamps. Two weeks can be given to good stuff. R. A. P. WILLIAMS, Lessee and Manager.

WANTED, Funny Turns working Doubles, Al Fresco, for Monday next. Wire, lowest terms, ACHILLES, Hexthorpe Flats, Doncaster.

WANTED, Wanted, Wanted,
Sound Attractions,
June 18, 25 (North).
Silence in all cases a polite negative.
G. and F. PEEL,
Granville House, Arundel-street, Strand, W.C.

WANTED, good Gala Acts, July 21, 25, Aug. 2, 6, onwards. Victor's Dogs, Whittaker and Page, Hector and Prince write. Bills, lithos., terms, permanent address, WOOD, Caterer, Cheese-lane, Bristol.

WANTED, Good Musical Acts, for June 16 and 17, or 17th only. Write lowest terms to MANAGER, Hippodrome, Dartford.

WANTED, Acts in all Lines. Full list of bookings, or useless. MARTINO'S Agency, 125, Barcroft-street, Grimsby.

WANTED, Acts in all Lines, Sisters, Serios, Comedians, &c. MARTINO'S Agency, 125, Barcroft-street, Grimsby.

CAMBRIDGE THEATRE, SPENNYMOOR.
Lessee, Mr. HARDING THOMAS.
WANTED, Variety Combinations, Sensational Specialities, June 11, onwards. Wire, HERBERT VERE.

WANTED, Specialities, Al Fresco Show. Send lowest summer terms, vacant dates. perm. address, &c., to ASTLEY BROS., Comedy Cadets, Fleetwood.

WANTED, First-class Specialities, for Al Fresco Pavilion; covered-in stage. Good Marionettes write. HARRY MARVELLO, Harbour Green Pavilion, Portobello.

WANTED, Specialities, June 18, on. Absolute lowest summer terms, or no notice taken. ENTERTAINMENT MANAGER, Tower, New Brighton.

WANTED, June 29, July 2 (week), 10, 16, 25, 29, Aug. 6, Specialities suitable for Fêtes. GANNON, West-grove, Bristol.

WANTED, Drawing Specialities, new to Macclesfield, on Share; also Class Variety Artists, all kinds. J. ROLMAZ, T. R., Macclesfield.

WANTED, Good Specialities, for June 18, and onwards, for the Promenade, Hartlepool, Al Fresco. Lowest summer terms, full particulars, twice daily, ALLNUTT, 25, Middlegate-st., Hartlepool.

WANTED, Immediately, for Bookings throughout England, also for Germany, and American Tour of Forty Weeks, every class of act in the business.
Note.—When writing in, I must have your full list of present bookings right up to date, and the very lowest you are prepared to accept for England, also Continental figure, otherwise no notice taken of application.
I am prepared to receive the greatest novelties working, and guarantee them (if they have not been hampered about already by being on everybody's books) forty weeks out of fifty-two.

I am also prepared to take a few more acts for Sole Agency.

All Communications Address immediately to HARRY BURNS,
Sole Proprietor,
Harry Burns's Agency,
Head Office:
Empress Theatre, Hartlepool.

Telephones, 0231 and 0231A.

Also at London and Manchester.

Established 1895.

WANTED, Variety Novelties, Hugh Wigglesworth's Agency, late Manager Blackpool, Morecambe, &c. 164, Meadow-st., Alexandra Park, Manchester.

WANTED, Big Novelties and Specialities, for Numerous Fêtes, August Bank Holiday and other dates. Absolute lowest terms or useless. Specimen lithos. Letters only, SYLVESTER, Agent, 271, Clapham-road, London.

WANTED, for Poole's Pierrots, Doubles doing Singles, for June 11 and onwards. Lowest terms; must have white Pierrot dress. Address, T. H. POOLE, Palace, Boston.

THE LEON VINT'S
GLOBE CHOIR AND SCENORAMA.
WANTED, the following Artists, &c., for 10 months' tour, starting July 16, Powerful Young Soprano, Smart Dainty International Dancer, Two Lady Violinists, Sight-readers (preference given to those who can sing); also Novelty Musical Speciality, one or two ladies (no gents.); Smart Gent., Deputy, Lecturer, Sketches, and assist with Billing; also good Strong Baggage Man. Age, photo., references, lowest terms (singers send list of songs, range of voice). Apply, LEON VINT, 124, Caunce-street, Blackpool.

WANTED, a Troupe of Old-fashioned Minstrels, under able direction, for about six weeks' engagement, on lawns, at fashionable seaside resort. Sharing terms. Write, J. LAURENCE (late Muldoon Bros.). Caterer, St. John's-st., Folkestone. Will Walter Shepherd or Bert Hill communicate?

ALEXANDRA HALL, BLYTH,
NORTHUMBERLAND.
WANTED, First-class Troupe of Pierrots, on sharing terms, for two hours' entertainment (8 to 10 p.m.).
Apply, A. C. MOODY, Lessee.

WANTED, Pierrots, for Beach, Swansea, open Monday; only those in close proximity write or wire. ZETTELLO, 4, Singleton-terrace, Swansea.

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS WANTED.

WANTED, Serios, Comedians, and Specialities, for Aldershot. Quote absolute lowest, as work is for longer than one week if suitable. WILL AVIS, A. W. GAMAGE, Ltd., Aldershot.

WANTED, Young Lady, previous experience unnecessary, refined and ladylike, for High-class Illusion Entertainment; good figure, to wear tights; comfortable engagement. State height, age, and enclose photo., lowest terms, GUSTAVE FASOLA, Palace, Tynemouth.

WANTED, June 18, Lady and Gentleman Duettists, working Single and Double (must be good vocalists), to augment Pierrot Troupe for Palace Gardens, Bridlington. Free Open-air Show. Address terms to MANAGER.

WANTED, First-class Artists, to open immediately, good Comedy Man and Pianist, Character Actor, Quartette of Ladies, Single and Double Comedians. Wire or write,
BARNEY M. ARMSTRONG,
Tivoli Theatre, Glasgow.

WANTED, Smart Comedian and Dancer, must be young and well up in Concerted Items; work white. Send photo., lowest terms, eighteen weeks. E. H. WILLIAMS, "Merrie Men," Rhyl.

WANTED, Refined Versatile Comedian (not comic singer), for High-class Concert Party. Open June 25, for 12 weeks. PRESCOTT, 38, Waterloo-street, Hammersmith.

WANTED, Smart Comedian, through disappointment, in High-class Concert Party, at once, Al Fresco, height about 5ft. 6in., must be refined, gentlemanly. Write Box 3,341, "The Era."

WANTED, through obliging, Stern and Stern, Funny Comedians; must sing well, have large répertoire of up-to-date songs, well up in sketches, concerted items, gags, &c. Lowest terms, HARRY COLLINS, Minstrels, Aberystwyth.

WANTED, Immediately, First-class Comedian, also Specialities.
THIELS, Arcadia, Roker, Sunderland.

WANTED, Clever Juvenile Comedians, Dancers, Acrobats, &c., over 14 and small. CADLE'S Agency, 105, Strand, W.C.

WANTED, Singing Comedians, Specialities, Al-fresco. Full particulars, terms, and photo., V. BENSON, 5, Wesley-terrace, Douglas.

WANTED, Baritone, one to accompany preferred; must be young, refined, and well up in Al-fresco. Share or salary. FORGE, Herne Bay.

WANTED, Good Descriptive Vocalist, used to Al-fresco, open Monday. Wire lowest. JOE MALVA, Morpeth.

WANTED, Smart Youth, for Sketch, over 14, small for age, coloured boy preferred. Full particulars, SPRY and MONTI, Zoo, Glasgow.

WANTED, smart Young Man, as Assistant Illusionist, must be steady and reliable. State age, height, and lowest terms, to GUSTAVE FASOLA, Palace, Tynemouth, near Newcastle.

WANTED, at Once, Young Boy, Coloured Coon, Comic Singer, and Dancer, cake walks, &c., good shop, well-known show. Also a Good Boy Soprano Wanted.
Apply,
Box 3,349, "The Era."

WANTED, Good Double Acrobatic Clown Act, for Gala, August Bank Holiday. Agency, 53, Grosvenor Park-road, Walthamstow.

WANTED, by recognised Conjurer, &c., a small smart Coloured Boy, as assistant; good home. Write, 30, James-street, Scarborough.

WANTED, Bioscope Operator, experienced electric and lime.
Reply,
stating experience and terms required,
Box 3,326, "The Era."

WANTED, a competent Bioscope Operator, for season. State terms, references, and all particulars, O. T. ROBINSON, 27, Birley-st., Blackpool.

WANTED, Music Hall Artists who experience difficulty in obtaining copies of "The Era" at any of Messrs. Smith and Son's Bookstalls to kindly communicate with the PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS' WANTS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

THE LONDON ENTERTAINERS.
WANTED, Known, Florence Bellamy, Percy Newport, Penyston Miles, Chas. Dudley, vocalists, and W. W. Whitlock comedian and instrumentalist. Bright up-to-date Programmes for Garden and River Fêtes, or special Saturday and Sunday Concerts at Seaside. MANAGER, 185, Upland-road, East Dulwich, S.E.

WANTED, Known, the Stanford Quartette, on Tour, next week. Pier Pavilion, Dover. For terms and vacant autumn and winter dates, address Mr. LLOYD STANFORD, 11, Pennard-road, Shepherd's Bush, W.

WANTED, Contracts. Music Hall Managers, Concert Agents should not fail to hear Mme. Dorina Natalia, the celebrated South African Contralto and Pianiste. Empress Theatre, Brixton.

WANTED, by Mlle. Sylvesto, Monday, June 11, also July 16, 30. Wire, Hippodrome, Brighton, till Saturday. See Card after.

WANTED, June 18, 25, Magna, in beautiful and Classical Poses; Rodin. Eccentric Knock-about Cycle Act; also Galas. Mon., Hippo., Stockton-on-Tees.

WANTED, Known, Ella Rose, Vocalist and Soubrette, disengaged June 11, concluding most successful engagement with Corporation Band, Aberystwyth. Address, Tantivy, Penglaise-terrace, Aberystwyth.

WANTED, by Eileen and Maynie, Sisters, Novel Instrumental Dancing Act, June 11, 18, 25. Theatre Royal, Gloucester.

WANTED, Neddy Vokes, Europe's Funniest Musical Comedian; also the Acrobat Dummy Boy. Liberty June 11, 18. Wire, Hippodrome, Aberdeen. Wire.

WANTED, Known, Tony Iveson, the "Aristocratic Ragman and the Piano," vacant June 18, through Tivoli, Grimsby, closing. Only vacancy this year. For June 18, wire this week, Theatre Royal, Oldham, till Saturday.
Address, June 11, Empire, Wolverhampton.

WANTED, Harry Keeble, Comedian and Ventriloquist, June 11. Address, c/o Kelley's Merry Mascots, Southport, fourth week.

WANTED, June 11 and 18, Dutch Act, original gags, song, grotesque dance, with concertinacalities. DUTHY, Palace, Swansea.

WANTED, June 18, July 2 and 16, by Harry Morris, Character Comedian and Mimic. Next week, Empire, Stockport.

WANTED, by Martinengo, Solo 'Cellist and Baritone, June 25 and July 30, to follow Lyric, Liverpool. Hippo., Ashton, Manchester.

WANTED, by Jimmy Shields, the famous Comedian and One-legged Dancer, June 18, on. Cavendish Hotel, Derby.

WANTED, by Fred Hadley, Comedian and Dancer, late of Catlin's Scarborough Pierrots, Liberty Monday next, Al-fresco. Wire, 25, Esplanade, Knott End, Fleetwood.

WANTED, Monday, by Foo Soo, Chinese Magician, Big Show, splendid stage setting. Success here. Refer management. Wire, Kursaal, Southend-on-Sea.

WANTED, Known, Carl Vernon, Magician and Illusionist, at Liberty for Piers, Concerts, Pierrot Troupes, or Halls, new and original. Write or wire, 15, Hart-street, New Cleethorpes, Grimsby.

WANTED, Tom Collins will join First-class Troupe for Summer Season; well-known tour fallen through. Wire, Hippodrome, Stockton.

WANTED, Known, Amateur Comedian, own songs, pleased to give services, in London, for fares. COMIC, 443, Coldharbour-lane, S.E.

WANTED, Proprietors, Managers, and others to note on and after July 2 next, I, Frank Dunlop, will be known as Evan Evans.

WANTED, Monday next and June 18, by The Monctops, in their excruciatingly funny Musical Comedy Acts. 7, Charles-street, Blackpool

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, June 11, 25. Wire, Alhambra, Belfast. Kyoto, Japanese Act; May Geraldine, Dancing Comedienne. After, Sat., 25, Devonshire-house, Bath-ter., London, S.E.

WANTED, Known, Ted Young and Ada Twibell, Liberty June 18. Wire one or both, Standard Music Hall, London, S.W.

WANTED, Monday next, on, by Otto Ethardo, Artistic Juggler; and Lizzie Pardoe, Dancing Speciality. Royal Hippo., West Bromwich.

WANTED, Mon. (1st), by the Fordyces (Jenny and Willie), Singers and Dancers extraordinary. Wire, 44, Morton-st., S. Shields. Panto. settled.

WANTED, Monday next, by Marcus Boyle, Comedian; and Ada Whitton, Burlesque. Wire, Palace Theatre, Plymouth.

WANTED, Monday, on, Ethel Gale, marvellous blind comedienne, totally unassisted; Harry Carter, comedian; also double turn. 37, Pitt-street, Barnsley.

WANTED, Monday next, by Tom Collins and Beatie Kent, also 18th.
Wire, Hippodrome, Stockton-on-Tees.

WANTED, Known, Dan Noble, the popular Comedian, and Marie Yorke, Dainty Coon Vocalist, Liberty Monday, Halls or Al Fresco. Wire, Hippodrome, Mansfield.

WANTED, Known, The Gelders, the Marvellous Mystifiers, want June 18, 25, through obliging. Wire, Empire, Dudley.

WANTED, June 25, onwards, by the St. Johns, Musicians, Campanologists, and Dancers; a sure success. Queen's, Gateshead. Fortieth week continuous tour.

WANTED, Known, Clark and Gold, meeting with great Success
in Milano, Italy.

WANTED, June 11, 18, 25, Wanted, Driscoll and Beattie.
Grand, Bolton; next, Agent's.

WANTED, by the Bros. Webb, July 9, 23, and 30.
Winter Gardens, Blackpool.

WANTED, Known. Lack and Ford, Classical Comedy Acrobats, vacant June 11, 18, 25, a Big Act for Galas, Original, New, Novel. 14, Loughboro'-road, Brixton, London. Telephone, 15 Brixton.

WANTED, Dates, Two Clarkes, Acrobatic Globe Performers; also Comical Beano, with Mechanical Donkey. Roars of laughter. 2 distinct acts. 63, Elizabeth-street, Blackpool.

WANTED, Fêtes, Galas, &c., Alex and Jolly, Comedians on the Three Bars; The Holmars, Eccentric and Acrobatic Funniosities. Address, 13, Westfield-terrace, Sheffield.

WANTED, Known, Vacant June 11, 18, Three Great Acts, Soros the Mystery, Whizzing the Whirl, and finest possible pictures; percentage or salary. Wire for Monday, for One or Three Acts, Soros, Alhambra, Morecambe.

WANTED, through Barring, the Rushforths, song illustrators (own songs); King Leo, ventriloquist; two smart acts, vacant June 18 25. Monday, Grand, Bolton.

WANTED, Known, Los Granadas, free June 11, onward, for Theatres, Galas, or Sports; no fixings required. Thanks to Mr. Tom Shaw for Contracts this week. Return Oct. 8 Moss and Stoll Tour.
238, Victoria-road, Aston, Birmingham.

On account of closing Tivoli, Leeds.
WANTED, June 18 and July 16, by the world-famed Madcaps, in their clever Dancing Act. Wire, Hippodrome, Liverpool.

WANTED, June 18 and 25, for Scottie's Waifs and Strays and "Whizzing the Whirl," two big novelties. Offers, Hippodrome, Maidstone.

WANTED, Known, Vacant Monday next, Craig, Roze, and Craig.
Wires, Hippodrome, Great Yarmouth.

WANTED, by The Marconis, Electric Act, Monday next, until July 16, through postponing Tour. Wire, 23, Colnbrook-st., London-rd., S.E.

WANTED, Monday next, by Gilroy, Vent., and Boston Bioscope, two sound shows. Com., Wire, Gilroy, 55, Effingham-street, Rotherham.

WANTED, by Hulbert, Ventriloquist, and De Lil, Illusions, offers for July, two first-class acts. Address, Union-rd., Macclesfield.

WANTED, Immediate Dates, for Racing Sketch, "The Winner," everything carried. sure draw. BRIEN MCCULLOUGH, 12, Elm-grove, Hammersmith, London, W.

WANTED, for "Dobson's Day Off," furiously Funny Farce, June 25, July 2, Four Artists. C/o M. ELLISTON, Empire, Glasgow.

WANTED, few Bookings, Piers, &c., Liston and Lumley's "Merry Moments" (registered) Co., St. George's Hall, London, W.

WANTED, Dates, Juvenile Military Spectacle, "Russo and Japan." Everything carried. Good pictorials. Sure draw. CLARKE, 63, Elizabeth-street, Blackpool.

WANTED, Piers, Pavilions, Theatres, Share or Certainty, whole or part programme, by Warden, Reed, and Co.
Address, with full particulars,
M. REED, Palace, Tynemouth.

WANTED, Known, Mdlle. Roza's Great Canine Hippodrome, the largest and smartest lady's Troupe in Europe, including the Masterpiece of Training, "The Goalkeeper."
Grand Finale, Electrically Illuminated Spectacle, "Over the Garden Wall."
Open for Piers, Garden Fêtes.
Vacant June 25, Aug.
B. H. Com., Palace, Camberwell.

WANTED, Known, Sergt.-Major Williams' Military and Champion Trick Dogs, for stage, ring, or galas, the perfection of training, new and novel acts, received with tremendous applause. 2A, Belgrave-street, Leeds.

WANTED, Known, Devereux's Human Dog Show, the Biggest Novelty before the public. Liberty June 18 and 21. Sure draw. Address, Aquarium, Scarborough.

WANTED, Known, Devereux's Great Novelty Dog Show, will share, big act for Galas, Liberty June 18 and 25. Aquarium, Scarborough.

WANTED few immediate dates, Chard's Dog Circus.
Wire, Theatre, Pontypool.

WANTED, Bookings, for Latest Absolute Novelty of Mysterious Show, Telepathy, Music, Sketching; also Good Agents. Apply, Box 3,351, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement, Carl Harmon's Bioscope, Marionettes, also Punch and Judy. Note new address, 326, Earlsfield-rd., Earlsfield, S.W.

WANTED, Known, at Liberty, experienced Operator, electric and lime, Electric Engineer; can also double, Orchestra. Terms, &c., OPERATOR, 28, Union-street, Halifax.

WANTED, Engagement, by Bioscope Operator, at Liberty Monday, June 18, electric or lime. References. DENVERS, Palace, Lincoln.

SHOWMEN'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Known, Wanted, Known, Important, that the next Meeting of the British Roundabout Proprietors and Showmen's Union will be held at the Wheatsheaf Hotel, Great Moor-street, Bolton, on Tuesday next, June 12, at 2.30 p.m., when all members are requested to attend.
Important Business.
Signed,
T. HURST, Secretary.

SHOWMEN'S GUILD.
President, LORD GEORGE SANGER.
WANTED, Known, Annual Meeting, for Wales, at Porth, Sunday next, June 17, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.
Speaker, the Rev. T. Horne.

SHOWMEN'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

WANTED, Known, Select Music Hall (The Garden of Paris) possesses an Organ from the Renowned Firm, Ch. Marenghi et Cie. The first audition was given last week, and the success has been considerable.
All the Parisian Press is congratulating the makers.
The Figaro speaks of the Ideal Orchestra as a work of art in mechanism and harmony.

WANTED, Showmen and others to Know that T. Brittain and Sons Build High-class Motor Cars, for Roundabouts. Several on View, Built for Eminent Showman.
Bristol-street, Birmingham.

WANTED, Known, if you want to make money easily, quickly, cheaply, and strictly on the square, set up a Mills' Bag Punching Machine. Write Sole Agents for particulars. Graduated payment to responsible buyers.
MINERVA AUTOMATIC CO.,
120, York-road, King's Cross, London, N.

Auctioneers.
WANTED, Known, Great Value Offered in Secondhand Silver Watches. Auctioneers only supplied. Write to-day for particulars.
C. G. CLACHER, 22, Argyle-street, Glasgow.

WANTED, Auctioneers to Know, Simons, the up-to-date Warehouseman for Auctioneers' Wants, has removed to larger premises. Note New Address, 100, 101, 102a, Houndsditch. Second-hand Watches and Pawnbrokers' Forfeits Stocked to any amount.

WANTED, Known, Electrical.—Simpkin, Wilkinson, and Gibson, Kirkstall-road, Leeds, manufacture showmen's dynamos, new type flare arc lamps, organ motors, &c.; also convert old type lamps to flare pattern. Large stocks cable, carbons, globes, ordinary and miniature incandescents, &c. Repairs done. Write for free samples. Special line.—Portable petrol plants.

WANTED, Showmen to save money by sending for Leete's Catalogue of specially prepared paints, colours, varnishes, brushes, &c., and every requisite for decorating caravans, roundabouts, swings, &c. Cheapest house in the trade. A. LEETE and Co., 129, London-road, Southwark, S.E.

WANTED, Known.—Write or call at Greene's, 56, Falmouth-road, London, S.E., for .22 Ammunition, Rifles, &c. Absolutely the cheapest market.

WANTED, Known, a few Vacancies for Good Exhibits. Special terms for Summer Months. Scenic Stalls, Counters, and Gas-fittings provided free. Keswick, June 15 to 26. Admission free. Address, MANAGER, "Japan" Trades Exhibition, Queen of the Lakes Pavilion, Keswick.

WANTED, Known, "Japan," the original (and now the only) Scenic Trades Exhibition, has never had any connection whatever with other shows (now extinct) which have traded upon its name and reputation. Third year of unbroken tour. Queen of the Lakes Pavilion, Keswick, June 15 to 26.

THE GREAT FETE AND GALA OF KENT, held annually. Aug. 6, at Eltham, over 7,000 to 8,000 visitors; only a few important spaces left.

WANTED, good Side Shows and Novelties, a sure success. WEATHERHEAD, Star and Garter, New Cross-road.

WANTED, a good Animal Novelty, or Latest Illusion. State particulars and lowest cash price in first letter, ALFRED TESTO, Exhibition Show Ground, Swalwell, near Newcastle-on-Tyne.

WANTED, Good Living Freak, to Open at Once. Wire particulars; sale of books and postcards allowed. JAMES, Waxworks, Dublin.

WANTED, for Monday next, Good Freaks, or any good quick-showing novelty, to follow Lucy Moore, giantess, good position. Ashmores wire. Terms, shares. Wire for Monday, BOUNDS, 103, Manchester-road, Bradford.

WANTED, a Good Novelty for an Exhibition, a Good Fat preferred, a good place for good novelty. Would Mme. Pattison, of Newcastle, Staffs, send her address? Also good Doorsman, for same exhibition, to make himself generally useful; good wages to suitable man. E. NORTH, Novelty Exhibition, Fair Ground, Birmingham, till Tuesday, the 12th.

WANTED, Novelties, for Humber's Permanent Waxwork Exhibition, George-street, Aberdeen. I can book you for eight weeks.

WANTED, Good Marionette Entertainment, or Cinematograph, to work show, 60 by 30 front, drums all complete. Address, WEAVER, Shanks.

WANTED, Character Delineator and Phrenologist, for 5 months' Engagement at prominent London Pleasure Resort; must be refined, and up to the business. Profitable conditions. Box 3,328, "The Era."

WANTED, Lady Character Delineator, for Broadstairs. Terms, Shares.
SHAW, Harbour House, Margate.

WANTED, Comedian, Singer and Planksman, one that can play piano preferred. Apply BERT HALL, Auction Tent, Lancashire Hill, Stockport.

WANTED, two or three good Salesmen, who can tell the tale, to work Fairy Floss Machine. SHAW, Harbour House, Margate.

WANTED, for Anderton and Rowland's Modern Show, two or three working-men, used to show business. Those that wear bell-bottoms, horseshoe buttons, and curl their hair, please save stamps. Good shop for steady men. Can join at once. State terms first letter. Address, to-day (Saturday), Truro; Monday, Pool, near Redruth; both Cornwall.

WANTED, Young Man, to work Illusions (Side Show), and make self useful. Salary, 25s. weekly. Address, ILLUSIONS, Drill Hall, St. Albans.

WANTED, Piers, &c., Harmon's Bioscope, Marionettes, also Royal Punch and Judy. Note new address, 326, Earlsfield-rd., Earlsfield, S.W.

WANTED, June 18, Glennie's Marionettes, Great Variety, 20 to 60 minutes' show.
Wire, 273, Argyle-street, Glasgow.

WANTED, Known, through Disappointment, Lena South, artistically tattooed lady. Lib. 18th, for season or otherwise. 45, Hercules-road, Westminster, London.

WANTED, Engagement, as Auctioneer, can join at once; will buy own licence July. JIMMY HOWARTH, until Wed. Poste Resante, Birmingham.

WANTED, Charles Mount, at Liberty, Lecturer or Doorsman, First-Class Show, fluent and grammatical speaker, thoroughly experienced, dress well. 49, Sidmouth-street, W.C.

WANTED, Known Treharris First Annual Midsummer Fair will be Held on the New Athletic Grounds on July 7, 9, 10. Space to Let for Roundabouts, Bioscope Side-shows, Cocoanut sheets, Swings, Circuses, Menageries, Flannel Dealers, Stall Owners, &c. DAVIS, Auctioneer, Treharris.

WANTED, Known, Temperance Festival, Newcastle, June 26, 27, and 28. All requiring Stands for Shows, Roundabouts, &c., apply to WALKER HOADLY, 141, Park-road, Park-lane, Gateshead. Also W. Murphy, 102, Holly-avenue, Newcastle-on-Tyne; also F. N. Richardson, 18, Pensbury-st., Darlington.

WANTED, to Let, Spaces in Summer Pleasure Gardens, for Stalls (Wire-workers, Jewellery, Fancy, &c.). Full particulars, SYMONDS, 20, Pelham-street, Brighton.

WANTED, Known, to Showmen and Others. Market Yard, West Hartlepool.
Mr. W. T. Ryan, F.A.I., instructed by the Proprietor, will Sell by Auction, on Wednesday, June 13, 1906, at 2 o'clock:—1 Shuttered Show Booth and Truck combined, 40ft. by 24ft; 1 set Steam Hobby Horses, 3 abreast, with organ, and 2 Motor Cars, newly done up; 1 Double-tube Shooting Gallery and Rifles, in good order; also several other useful Show-yard lots.
Terms, cash only.
No reserve.
Sale Office: 24, Lynn-street, West Hartlepool. Tel. 0671.

SHOWMEN'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

WANTED, Showmen and others Travellers to Know that they can have Ground on my well-known Black Country Route, Commencing after Birmingham Fair also at Worcester Races, Kidderminster, and Several Fêtes and Flower Shows. Terms Reasonable. Good Openings for Good Business People. Apply, COLLINS, Gondola Works, Walsall. Telegrams, "Gondola, Walsall." Telephone, No. 80 Walsall.

WANTED, Known, Ground to Let, best position, at Tramore, co. Waterford, Ireland, suitable for Cinématograph, Living Pictures, Second Sight, or any other Show, open to all comers. For terms apply W. PIPER, Post Office, Tipperary, Ireland.

WANTED, to Let, The Wonderland, Sheffield, for one, two, or three months, any class Entertainment; or suit Auctioneer; fine position. SAMSON.

Important Announcement of a Real genuine Bargain, inserted in the interest of Showmen, Contractors, &c.

WANTED. to Sell, (having no immediate use for same), two practically new Engine Trailers, to carry 7 to 10 tons, only done one journey, made of the best material and every part of the best workmanship; can be viewed at any time by appointment (an opportunity showmen, &c., should not miss), at Burstow Lodge, Horley, Surrey.
Address all communications, allowing three days' grace for reply, to LORD JOHN SANGER and SONS, LTD., Burstow Lodge, Horley, Surrey.

WANTED, to Sell,
New Saloon Living Car, for Road or Rail, 18ft. long, 7ft. 6in. wide, mahogany panelled outside, and splendidly fitted and upholstered inside, with every convenience for travelling.
Apply,
GEORGE WARD,
Removal and Storage Contractor,
Harrogate.

WANTED, to Sell, Waggon, containing room and kitchen, four years old, go by road or rail. Cheap. TODD, Vinegar Hill, Glasgow.

WANTED, to Sell, Bargain. Waggon, road, rail, good condition, £12, or best offer. Photo. 3 stamps. OWNER, 18, Kimberley-street, Coppull, Chorley.

WANTED, to Sell, One 4-abreast Set of Gallopers, for road or rail, complete with waggons; one 3-abreast set of gallopers, with waggons, complete for rail; also one ordinary machine, complete, with waggons, for road. Can be seen working. All equal to new. Arrangements can be made for part cash and part hire of any of the above. WALKER, Roundabout Maker, Tewkesbury.

WANTED to Sell, Automatic Fortune Machines, Money-takers, one to six drawers, cheap. Catalogue; samples free. MEURICE, 39, Argyle-square, London.

WANTED, to Sell, Automatic Machines, Husbands, Babies, Love-Letters, Palmistry, Lunatics', Marriage, and Liars' Licences. MEURICE, 39, Argyle-square, W.C.

WANTED, to Sell, Automatic Cards, Eye, Hair, Astrology, Fortune, Husband, Wife, Baby, 5/- 1,000; Love Letters, 9s. LESLIE CO., 5, Denning-road, Hampstead.

WANTED, to Sell, Automatic Machines of every description; best and cheapest. WORMALD, 123, Blythe-rd., West Kensington, London. Established 1887.

WANTED, to Sell, 50,000ft. of Films, just received from the Myrioramas, majority good as new, from 1d. per ft.
POOLE, Theatre, Gloucester.

WANTED, to Sell, Juvenile Set of Horses, Juvenile Set of Swings, 6ft., with Living Waggon, all complete. WEAVER, Shanks Ground, Shotts.

WANTED, to Sell,
Toboggan Slide, at Kursaal, Southend; good thing for man working himself. Payment by arrangement.
LARCHER, 30, Pimlico-road, S.W.

WANTED, to Sell, full grown Duck, three legs, alive, wonderful novelty. Price guinea. Westray wire. WILDE, 26, East-st., Sittingbourne

WANTED, to Sell, Flying Lady, splendidly equipped Flying Lady Show, everything complete. Price £25. Fortune to an energetic man. Address, Box 3,342, "The Era."

WANTED, to Sell, Waxwork Exhibition, complete and perfect, now Open in Wonderland, 10, Foreshore-road, Scarborough. Apply as above.

WANTED, to Purchase, Shuttered Booth, 30ft. or 40ft. in length. Send particulars, DANDO, Barronstrand-street, Waterford, Ireland. Also Rickety Wheel.

WANTED, Known, the Seventy Thousand Showmen who use the Columns of "The Era" and are moving about should know that they can make "The Era" Offices their Permanent London Address. Letters received will be held till called for, or immediately re-addressed, according to instructions. Address all communications respecting the Letter Department to the PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

WANTED, Showmen who experience difficulty in obtaining copies of "The Era" at any Railway Bookstall to kindly communicate with the PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

WANTED TO SELL.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, to Sell, First-class Cinematograph Outfit. Paul's 1904 Reliance Model Animatograph, as new, fittings for gas and electric resistance, &c., together with 2000ft. of First-class Film. Price £40. MICROGRAPH CO., LTD., 7, Great Queen-street, Kingsway, London.

WANTED, to Sell, San Francisco Disaster Film (Urban), used twice only. Best offer takes it; or will exchange for any other Good Film. Numerous others for Sale, cheap. Send for List. F. BUXTON, Douglas, Isle of Man.

WANTED, to Sell, two Films of the San Francisco Disaster, supplied by the Urbanora Co., 675 each in length, and only used seven times; also 305ft. of the Spanish Wedding, by Gaumont. Apply, GEO. ZALVA, Hippodrome, Scarboro'.

WANTED, to Sell, Two Handsome State Coaches (the property of the late Duke of Cambridge), excellent advertising medium, together with four-in-hand harness, cheap. K., 28, Vaughan-road, Camberwell, S.E.

WANTED, to Sell, Four Handsome Midget Shetland Ponies, 32in. high, thoroughly trained for stage, used in "Cinderella" Pantomime; also complete harness for same. Apply, K., 28, Vaughan-road, Camberwell, S.E.

WANTED, to Sell, Beautiful Toy Beaver Pomeranian Dog Puppy, 3 months, weighs 31oz., splendid pedigree. Sacrifice 10 guineas.
Mrs. HARRIS,
Hill's Cottage, Sharpe's-lane, Ruislip, Middlesex.

WANTED, to Sell, Smooth Silky-coated Black Poodle Dog, 16 months, several tricks, good. Price £4, lowest. SHARMAN, Palace, Camberwell.

WANTED, to Sell, Smart Young Russian Poodle Dog, good performer; bargain. Full particulars from Miss LORNA, Theatre Royal, Macclesfield.

WANTED TO SELL.

WANTED, to Sell, Somersault and Hind Legs Poodle Bitch, £5.
SAM SALTER, G.P.O., Wigan.

WANTED, to Sell, Large Orchestrion, with Tunes, equal to full Band, with Water Motor. Wanting room, must sell quickly. Grand Attraction for place of Amusement.
DUCKWORTH,
55, Fitzwilliam-street, Huddersfield.

WANTED, to Sell, the whole of the Carpets now lying in the Borough Theatre, Stratford; originally cost hundreds of pounds. What offers? Selling on account of re-decoration. By letter to FREDERICKS, Borough T., Stratford.

WANTED, to Sell, Magic Kettle Outfit, all Apparatus and Patter, 8s. 6d.; Mystic Clock Dial, metal, 5s. 6d.; both new. HALSEY, 11, Aylesbury-road, Neasden.

WANTED, to Sell, all Kinds of Wardrobe. State wants.
WARDROBE MISTRESS, County Theatre, Bedford.

WANTED, to Sell, Boy and Girl Knee Figures, miscellaneous lot conjuring apparatus, tables; stamped envelope. 134, Fairfax-road, Harringay, N.

WANTED, to Sell, Woven Animal Dresses, Paddings, Tights, Opera Hose, in all Materials. Lowest prices. H. J. BOXALL, 166, Waterloo-road, London, S.E.

WANTED, to Sell, 10 Dickinson Arc Lamps, equal to new, a bargain; also wanted, Young Lady for Parading, &c. W. TAYLOR'S Electric Coliseum, Rickmansworth, Herts., until Tuesday next.

WANTED, to Sell, Complete Set Golf Clubs, Caddy, Balls, &c., almost new, best make, genuine bargain, 15s. PHANTO, 103, Eswyn-rd., Tooting.

WANTED, to Sell, Balloon Net, Parachute, &c., in good condition. Captain ORTON, 150, New Barn-street, Plaistow, London, E.

WANTED, to Sell, a beautiful mauve Moire Silk Dress, suitable for Dancer, made at South Molton-street, cost £27; private applications, not less than £10; measurements, skirt length 33in., waist 21in., width 288in., bust 37in. Mrs. M. MORTIMER, 12, Clifton-hill, St. John's Wood, N.W.

WANTED, to Sell.—For all Kinds of Stage Musical Instruments, write to Sole British Manufacturer, LISLE, 5, Cuthill-road, Camberwell. Try Lisle's Beautiful Resonated Xylophones.

WANTED, to Sell, Scenery. Handsome Chamber, 12 flats, doors in solid frames; also beautiful garden set, with mansion pieces, summerhouse, &c. JOHN GERANT, Theatre Royal, South Shields.

WANTED, to Sell, American Plays. We have sold the great successes, "At Cripple Creek," "Alaska," "The Convict's Daughter," &c. Several others with large plant of printing now ready. Apply, JOHN MOORE, LONDON, LTD, 23, Oxendon-street, Piccadilly-circus, S.W.

WANTED, to Sell or Let, "Beneath Big Ben," Comedy-Drama, great Comedy part; also "Two Runaway Girls," screamingly funny farce; splendid printing. BRIEN MCCULLOUGH, 12, Elm-grove, Hammersmith.

WANTED, to Sell or Let, Brilliant Musical Comedy scenery, dresses, printing complete, has already been successfully toured. Box 3,348, "The Era."

WANTED, to Sell, an excellent Farcical Sketch, for two people (lady and gentleman), clever and original. Box 3,331, "The Era."

WANTED TO BUY.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, to Purchase or Lease, established Theatre or Music Hall. Communications treated confidentially. Money waiting for right place. STANHOPE and Co., Ltd., 63, Regent-street, London.

WANTED, to Purchase, Pantomime, "Dick Whittington," also to Sell Pantomime "Aladdin."
ARTHUR CARLTON,
Theatre, Worcester.

WANTED, Scenery, any amount, any kind, any size, but must be in splendid condition. Terms, if bought, 20 per cent. more than any dealers offer, and ready money dow . Address, The Moody-Manners Stores, The Hyde, Hendon, London, N.W.

WANTED, to Purchase, smart, big Tricks, Illusions (à la Goldin's), for big Dumb Show, old or new tricks. State full particulars in first letter, lowest cash prices; no mirror illusions. LEON VINT, 124, Caunce-st., Blackpool.

WANTED, to Buy, an Up-to-date Animated Picture Machine, complete with arc lamp, &c. Absolute lowest cash price, with particulars, to D. J. BIRTENO, Hippo., Preston.

WANTED, 50ft. or 60ft. Circus Tent; must be cheap, new or second-hand. Address, ROBERT COOPER, Post Office, Liverpool.

WANTED, 50yds. new or used grass matting, for Stage.
LUCK,
Empire, Middlesbro'.

WANTED, Conjuring and Juggling Apparatus, Tables, Novelties, Illusions, &c. (suitable for indoor or out), Jap. or Chinese Costumes; no rubbish. Cash or exchange. Lady assistant write, full particulars, Box 3,345, "The Era."

WANTED, to Buy, few more Registering Turnstiles, in good order. State maker's name. A. E. PICKARD, 101, Trongate, Glasgow.

WANTED, some really good Comic Songs. Can be seen by appointment only. FRANK SHERLOCK, 54, Gassiott-road, Tooting, S.W.

WANTED TO LET OR HIRE.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

NEW THEATRE ROYAL, BLYTH.
WANTED, to Let, on Rental only, from June 11 to July 30,
Good Complete Combinations would do well, or London Company desirous of having five or six weeks' stock season at the seaside, combining business with pleasure.
Vacant Dates, Aug. 13, 20, 27, Oct. 1, 15, and Nov. 12 and 26.
Apply, A. C. MOODY, Lessee and Manager.

THE HIPPODROME, LLANDUDNO.
WANTED, to Let for Season at moderate rent;
splendid building, facing sea,
seats 1,200; good stage, dressing-rooms, &c.
also grounds adjoining.
Suitable for Circus, Concerts, various Entertainments. Apply, HALDANE CRICHTON, Pier, St. Leonards, Hastings.

WANTED, to Let, Hippodrome, Cambridge, holds 2,000, has a 40ft. Ring and good Stables for Circus or Variety Business, Ring can be boarded over. PROPRIETOR, 77, Newmarket-road, Cambridge.

ALGIE'S HIPPODROME, CARLISLE.
WANTED, to Let, for Good Combinations, Picture Shows, Minstrels, Pierrots, &c., &c. Rental only; well seated; gas and electric. Address, E. P. E. VEITCH, 38, Sydney-street, Stockton-on-Tees.

WANTED, to Let, Tudor's Circus, Blyth, for any Big Combination or Picture Show. Address as above.

WANTED, to Let, Victoria Rooms, Cheltenham, seat 1,000, for Concerts, Lectures, &c.; also Montpellier Rotunda, seat 500. Apply, EDWARD B. SHENTON.

WANTED to Let (Rental), Bycullah Athenæum, Enfield. Any kind of Entertainment. Scenery. Address, MANAGER, as above.

RAMSGATE PROMENADE PIER.
WANTED, to Let, Shops, also the Pavilion or the Pier would be let or sold, including Shops, Pavilion, &c., &c.
For particulars apply to
Mr. WILKES, 150, Strand, London.

WANTED TO LET OR HIRE.

WANTED, to Let, for Rehearsals, a spacious Hall, with Stage and Piano. SECRETARY, Chandos Hall, 21a, Maiden-lane, W.C.

WANTED, to Let, Building, with sliding doors, in main position of Scarborough, close to Harbour, in the centre of Scotch fishing industry. Box 3,335, "The Era."

WANTED, to Lease, Good Provincial Theatre. Particulars, E. VIVIAN EDMONDS, 2, Sunnyside-terrace, Weston-super-Mare.

PARTNERS WANTED.

Financial.
WANTED, a Gentleman, as Director or Partner, with capital, to increase a business; registered and protected; everyday commodity amongst licensed victuallers, hotels, hospitals, theatres, music halls, &c. Address, Box 3,353, "The Era" Office.

WANTED, Financial Partner, to Assist Advertiser to Reproduce, on a more lavish scale, an exceptionally attractive Musical Comedy, which has already met with great success on tour. This is an exceptional opportunity, thoroughly genuine. Fullest investigation invited. Sum required £300 to £400. Box 3,347, "The Era."

WANTED, Partner, with £100, for the Greatest Novelty on the Halls. Starring this week with enormous success at one of the Biggest Halls. Write Box 3,350, "The Era."

WANTED, Lady or Gentleman Partner, as Assistant, for New Speciality Act; small capital required. Address, Box 3,334, "The Era."

WANTED, Known, at Liberty, a good Comedy Bar Performer; would join Partner or Troupe. Address, T. R., 27, Ravenstone-st., Balham, S.W.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

THE AMERICAN SHOW PRINTERS' AGENCY, 12, Cecil-court, Charing Cross-road, W.C.
WANTED, Managers requiring Novel and Attractive Posters and Lithographs, to give us a call before ordering elsewhere. The above agency, representing the principal show printing houses of the United States, has the largest variety of stock printing in this country. An enormous selection of printing always on hand, for circuses, menageries, cinématographs, and variety combinations. Add., A. DE FRECE, Manager.

WANTED, Known, F. G. Wright, Gymnastic Apparatus Maker, Electrical Engineer, and Theatrical Blacksmith. 66, Kennington-road, S.E.

WANTED, Known, C. Kinch, Gymnastic Apparatus Maker, Theatrical and General Blacksmith. 17, St. Mary-square, Kennington-road, London, S.E.

WANTED, Known, for Ventriloquial and Marionette Figures and Specialities, LE MARE and SON, 28, Coupland-st., Oxford-rd., Manchester.

WANTED, Authors having Plays for Copyrighting, to forward same for reading. Address, CHAS. E. PRICE, Secretary, National School of Acting, 17, Werrington-st., Oakley-sq., N.W.

WANTED, Known, that we do Picture Postcards, 100 5s., 250 8s., 500 12s., 1,000 16s. Send photo and cash. SENIOR and Co., Cotham Hill, Bristol.

WANTED, Known, Fifty Years Ahead, the Student's Book of Scales for Violin, carefully fingered, with or without a master.

WANTED, Known, Violin Student's Scales, with a systematic fingering, invented by J. Stewart King, 9, Upper Mall, Hammersmith, London, including postage, 1s. 6d.

WANTED, Known, Melodies Composed from 7s. 6d., by G. D. Fox, the successful composer. Permanent address, 134, Queen's Park-road, Brighton.

WANTED, Known, Band Parts, 3s. 6d.; Composing, Arranging, Transposing; Books, 4s. 7d. ten; Songs, Duplicating, Bands, &c. COTTLE'S Bureau, 86, Coldharbour-lane.

WANTED, Known, Uniforms, Cheapest House in the Trade for Band Uniforms, Attendants' and Page Boys', and Military Uniforms, &c., &c. Send for List to UNIFORM CLOTHING AND EQUIPMENT CO.,
5, Clerkenwell-green, London, E.C.

WANTED, Artists, all Lines, to Note our Offer. 12 by 10 sepia enlargement, on 23 by 17 mount, beautifully finished from any photo., 3s. 9d.; 1 doz. Photo Postcards, 2s. 3d. BROOK and Co., 28, Change-alley, Sheffield.

WANTED, Known, Artists in the neighbourhood of Newcastle who intend travelling to London on Sunday, June 17, can procure three-quarter fares by communicating with IVAN MAVIS, Theatre Royal, South Shields.

WANTED, Circus and Menagerie Managers to know that we have the finest and largest Line of Circus and Menagerie Posters ever printed. Sizes from D.C. to 48 sheets. Try our £2 10s. or £5 parcel as a specimen, and see whatyou think of the assortment.
JOHN MOORE, LONDON, LTD.,
23, Oxendon-street, Piccadilly-circus, W.

WANTED, Known,
Wanted, Known,
Wanted, Known,
Wanted, Known,
Wanted, Known,
Wanted, Known,
Wanted, Known,
Wanted, Known,
Wanted, Known,
to Proprietors,
Managers,
Messrs. WILLIE EDELSTEN
and
C. PARKER,
29, Lorn-road, Brixton, would esteem it a great favour if they would read
the following letter from the Proprietor,
Mr. Bell, of Theatre Royal, Darlington, who has Confirmed my Contracts.

Theatre Royal, Darlington.
Manager, James Bell.
May 21, 1906.
W. Edelsten, Esq., London, S.W.
DEAR MR. EDELSTEN,—When handing your contracts to Mr. Walter Bentley it was agreed, and he had definite instructions from me, to see you and arrange to take over as many of the turns as he possibly could. They were given to him in a private and confidential manner for that purpose only, and I am sorry if he has used them in any other way.—Yours faithfully,
JAMES BELL.

WANTED, A. E. Stevens to communicate immediately re Advertising Curtain, Metropole Theatre, Glasgow.
ARTHUR JEFFERSON.

WANTED, the address of Mr. Hugh Dempsey.
Wire,
MISS TRANSFIELD, Kursaal, Southend-on-Sea.

WANTED, Address, Harry Howard (Newling). Wanted. address, Harry Howard (Newling). MELVERNE, 6, Tydale-place, Islington.

WANTED, Known, to Professionals visiting Burnley. "Dabs" Turner has removed from "The Rose and Thistle" to the Borough Hotel, near Manchester Road Station. Same old hearty welcome extended to all.

REMEMBER!
We are the House for Travelling Hampers. Send for list.
No outfit complete without our goods.
W. T. ELLMORE and SON, Ltd.,
Thurmaston, near Leicester; 16, City-road, E.C.; 162, London-road, Manchester.

MOSS' EMPIRES, Ltd. & STOLL COMPANIES

(Moss Thornton & Stoll Theatres, Amalgamated.) (Including the London Coliseum, Ltd.)

WORKING IN CONJUNCTION.
Capital £2,086,000.
Chairman: Sir EDWARD H. MOSS.

CO-OPERATIVE OFFICES: CRANBOURN MANSIONS, CRANBOURN STREET, LONDON, W.C.

Managing Director: OSWALD STOLL. INTERVIEWS BY APPOINTMENT ONLY. Assisting Director and Chief of Staff: FRANK ALLEN.

Telephone:—1399 Gerrard. Wires:—"Twigsome, London."

CALLS FOR MONDAY, JUNE 11, 1906.

THE LONDON HIPPODROME.

"The Flood," Morton and Elliott, Max Yorke's Dogs, Trapnells, Jas. H. Jee, Ober Steirer Troupe, Les Bastiens, Inaudi, Link, Staley's Transformation, Three Olympiers, Spessardy's Bears, Lavater Lee, Bioscope.

EMPIRE PALACE, EDINBURGH.
Rehearsal at 1.30 for :—
Pilu, Guy Ryder, The Raies, Warsaw Bros., J. W. Rickaby, Lily Langtry, Harry Weldon, Alexandra Dagmar, Tom Woottwell, Galletti's Monkeys, Mignonette Kokin, Abdullah Arabs.

EMPIRE THEATRE, GLASGOW.
Rehearsal at 12 for :—
George Gray and Co. in "The Fighting Parson," Bioscope, The Mackweys, Howard and Collinson, Goldmann-Holles Trio, J. Alexander and Co., Rene Best, Mike S. Whallen, Shirley Liggins.

ZOO AND HIPPODROME, GLASGOW.
Rehearsal at 12 for :—
Karno's "Early Birds," Bioscope, Carne and Armstrong, Rex King, Mezzettis, Spry and Monti, Sutcliffe Family, Carter Livesey and Co., Melot Hermann.

COLISEUM, GLASGOW.
Rehearsal at 12 for :—
Fred Ginnett and Co., Bioscope, Ed. E. Forde, Northern Troupe, Rosa Loader, Walton and Lester, Canary Co., Lloyd Morgan, "Home from the Honeymoon."

EMPIRE, NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
Harry Lauder, Francis and Melli, Marie Collins, Claire Beasy's Cats, Cruikshank, Frank Dunlop, Barowsky Troupe, Bioscope, Gordon Highlanders.

PALACE THEATRE, HULL.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
Bransby Williams, The Findens, Caselli Sisters, Howard and St. Clair, W. F. Frame, Alf Holt, Automatos, Borellis, Nellie Wallace, Bioscope.

EMPIRE PALACE, LEEDS.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
"Casey's Circus," Three Cape Girls, Will English, Casino Comedy Four, Venie Clements, Howard Bros., Jurgens Trio, Bros. Harrison, Kaufmanns, Bioscope.

EMPIRE THEATRE, BRADFORD.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
Ernest Shand, Kitty Wager, Fred Poplar, Bioscope, Bros. Egbert, Athas and Collins, Cora Caselli, Jonghmann Sisters, Jagos, Wille Bros.

EMPIRE PALACE, SHEFFIELD.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
McNaughtons, Dora Lyric, George Formby, Ike Scott and Son, Lilian Lea, Edgar Forrest and Co., Alice Lloyd, Bioscope, Maud Courtney, Billy McClain.

EMPIRE PALACE, BIRMINGHAM.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
The Leopolds, Bioscope, Mark Merry, Flo Deighton, Ernie Mayne, Harry Helm, Attab Bros., Brett and Orford, Cinquevalli.

BORDESLEY PALACE, BIRMINGHAM.
Rehearsal at 1 for :—
"Rogues of the Turf," Bioscope, Dot Stevens, Lios Alfas, Edwin Barwick, Forest and King, The Althoffs, Roberts, Hayes, and Roberts.

EMPIRE PALACE, LIVERPOOL.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
Alec Hurley and Co. in "The Coster's Beanfeast," Bioscope, Amann and Hartley, Daisy Dormer, Leonie Dixon, The Craggs, Sloan, Jas H. Cullen, Goltz Trio, Fred Erick, Lunell Sisters, Nelson's Newsboys.

OLYMPIA, LIVERPOOL.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
Marie Loftus, Bioscope, Helen Forde, Marie Weston, Alf Kingston, Delevines, Bernar's Fantoches, Vetter Bros., Harmony Four, John Lawson and Co. in "The Monkey's Paw."

EMPIRE, HACKNEY.
Rehearsal at 1 for :—
Harry Leybourne, Griffiths Bros., Tatten Hall, Max Wessellys, Tally-Ho Trio, Sisters Iris, Leonard and Francis, The Tupps, J. W. Hall, Howard and Elsworthy.

EMPIRE, HOLLOWAY.
Rehearsal at 1 for :—
Fred Conquest and Co., Atroy, Violi, Pat Rafferty, Ambrose Thorne, Bros. Horne, May Evans, Tina Clementa, Conway and Leland, Harry Carsdale, Bioscope.

EMPIRE, NEW CROSS.
Rehearsal at 1 for :—
Clarke and Hamilton, Florrie Gallimore, Four Figaros, Margaret Ashton, Alix Lukos, Nancy St. John, Flo D'Orville, Will Cornish, Tribune Trio, Pit and Chute, Bioscope.

EMPIRE, STRATFORD.
Rehearsal at 1 for :—
George Lashwood, Flo Esdaile, Sandford and Lyons, Jack Lane, Will Musgrave, Irene Rose, The Clarkes, Raku, Remington's Bioscope.

EMPIRE, SHEPHERD'S BUSH.
Rehearsal at 1 for :—
G. H. Chirgwin, Hamilton Hill, Sisters Oswald, Frank Seeley, Henri Taylor Trio, Will Haines, Amber Austa, Belle Davis and Piccaninnies, Classicum Quartette, Kitty Kirwan, Bioscope.

EMPIRE, CARDIFF.
Rehearsal at 3 for :—
R. A. Roberts, Prof. Vox, Johnny Gilmore, Chas. Austin, Cole de Losse Duo, Flem and Brok, Baker and Balfe, Stella Troupe, Nellie Young, Josh Dixon.

PHILHARMONIC HALL, ST. MARY-STREET, CARDIFF.
Cinématograph Exhibition, Curio Halls, Roller Skating, Phonograph, Waxworks, Galatea, Magic Maze, Shooting Ranges.

EMPIRE, SWANSEA.
Rehearsal at 3 for :—
Hackenschmidt, Ben Albert, Austin Rudd, Sisters Hayden, Sisters Urma, Sisters Terry, Three Phydoras, George Ridgwell, Cooke and Rothert.

EMPIRE, NEWPORT.
Rehearsal at 3 for :—
Little Tich, Marie Kendal, Steve McCarthy, Fielding and Hull, Ella Retford, Stave, Leah Arden, Johnson and Bert, Bioscope.

EMPIRE, NOTTINGHAM.
Rehearsal at 3 for :—
Mark Sheridan, Sisters Chester, Binns and Binns, Alcide Capitaine, Belloni's Cockatoos, Frank and Free, Odeyne Spark, Francis and Alfred, Bros. Damm, Marie Santoi, Bioscope.

PALACE, LEICESTER.
Rehearsal at 2.30 for :—
Eugene Stratton, Norman and Leonard Trio, Marba and Verity, Will Vokes, Brooks, Dale, and Blitz, Chinko, Arthur Lloyd Trio, The Uessems, Alfred Hurley, Bioscope.

ARDWICK EMPIRE, MANCHESTER.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
The Boissetts Walter King, The Seddons, Eloise Brinsmede, Frank Cumminger, Hall and Earle, Bioscope M. Albany, Bosanquet Sisters, Auguste Van Biene and Co.

HIPPODROME, MANCHESTER.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
"Moses and Son," Illustrated Song, Bioscope, Chas. Gardiner, Queen and Le Brun, Labakans, Vernando, Riogoku Family.

THE LONDON COLISEUM.

Programme for 3—5, 6—8, and 9—11 o'clock Performances :—
"The Revue," Tom E. Murray, Billie Burke, The Price Troupe, The Dandies, Louis Bradfield, Arthur Conquest, The Trumpeting Girls, The Rocking Girls, George Lashwood, Harry Lupino, R. H. Douglass, Godwynne Earle, Charles Trevor, &c.

THE FOLLOWING ARE BOOKED IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE ABOVE:

EMPIRE THEATRE, DUBLIN.
Rehearsal at 1 for :—
Madge Grey, Ernest Sefton, Palles and Cussick, Pictures, Ross and Grayson, Gladys Mavius, Celeste, Belle Braham, Florence and Lilian.

EMPIRE THEATRE, BELFAST.
Rehearsal at 1 for :—
Dumond Minstrels, Lizzie Daniels, Levite, Albert and Edmunds Troupe, Maud Mortimer, Pictures, Four Olympian Stars, George Brooks.

EMPIRE PALACE, SOUTH SHIELDS.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
"Prince of Monte Carlo," Maud Ross, Clown Barker, Will Mitcham, McConnells, Pictures, Eily Adair, Ray Wallace.

RICHMOND THEATRE, RICHMOND.
Proprietor, Mr. George Dance.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
John Le Hay and Co., Frasettis, Nina St. Elmo, Columbia Trio, Pictures, Culpitt, Collins and Rice, J. W. Hicks, Syd May.

HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE, WALSALL
Rehearsal at 12 for :—
Horace Wheatley, Kathleen Cogan, Avolos, Ernest Tilbury, Conn and Conrad, Bioscope, Nellie Martell, New York Nippers.

THE GRANVILLE, WALHAM GREEN.
Rehearsal at 3 for :—
J. Elvin and Co., Walter Clyde, Dusty Rhodes, Fred Herbert, Chas. Clark, James Stewart, Luis Hardt, Datas, Carl Lynn, Sisters Morgan, Alma Curzon, Billie Barlow, Daisy Lane, Mezzetti and Mora, Leonards, Starr and Leslie, Jolly and Neilson.

THE PALACE, CAMBERWELL.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
T. E. Dunville, Walter Munroe, Chris Richards, Carl Lynn, Sam Mayo, Sisters Morgan, Harriett Vernon, Edie King, Fanny Erris, Roza's Dogs, J. Elvin and Co., Marlo and Dunham Trio, The Leonards, Clarion Trio, Drew and Alders, Mezzetti and Mora, Bioscope.

EMPIRE, SUNDERLAND (in course of erection).
Artists should be careful to keep Dates Open for this Theatre, Booking for which will shortly commence.

INSTRUCTIONS TO ARTISTS.

Artists must have Band Parts for at least Twelve different Instruments for the Orchestras (Fifteen for the London Coliseum). Matter for Bill, Blocks, and Specimens of Pictorials FOR ALL THE ABOVE THEATRES must be sent to CO-OPERATIVE OFFICES, at above address, THREE WEEKS before Opening, or at least TWO WEEKS, failing which Artists will run the risk of having their Engagements Cancelled.

IMPORTANT.—Artists must forward Copies of Songs to the STAGE DEPARTMENT, ABOVE ADDRESS, TWO WEEKS previous to Opening, with Assignments for same, which will be returned. Artists are requested to note carefully that the clause in their contracts relating to rehearsals will in future be strictly enforced.

ARTISTS WILL CLEARLY UNDERSTAND THAT THEIR BUSINESS MUST BE FREE FROM ALL VULGARITY.

N.B.—Silence in every case a polite negative. Artists are requested not to enclose stamped envelope. Letters marked "Private" will be delayed.
Telephone, 1399 Gerrard. Wires, "Twigsome, London."

The Greatest Aggregation of Variety Theatres in the World.

FRANCIS, DAY, AND HUNTER'S

SUMMER NOVELTIES

SEASIDE BALLADS:

"SEAGULL,"
"IN THE SHADE OF THE OLD APPLE TREE,"
"THE ROSE OF MY HEART,"
"SNOWFLAKES."

THREE GREAT IRISH SONGS:

"BRIDGET,"
"MY IRISH DAISY,"
"BARNEY, YOU'RE FULL OF BLARNEY."

POPULAR CHORUS SONGS:

"STARLIGHT,"
"PUT A LITTLE BIT AWAY FOR A RAINY DAY,"
"KEEP ON THE SUNNY SIDE,"
'BARBADOES,"
"JUST A LITTLE ROCKING-CHAIR AND YOU,"
"WHAT HAS THE NIGHT-TIME TO DO WITH THE GIRL?"
"GOOD-BYE, MY LITTLE LONDON GIRL."

FOUR GREAT COON SONGS:

"GOOD-NIGHT, MR. BROWN, I'M OUT,"
"SYMPATHY,"
"AIN'T YOU GOING TO SAY 'HOW DO?"
"CAN'T YOU FIND A SWEETHEART OF YOUR OWN?"

FOUR GREAT HUMOROUS SONGS:

"IT'S THE CUSTOM OVER THERE,"
"A DIFFERENT GIRL AGAIN,"
"ISN'T IT WONDERFUL?"
"FATHER'S BOX OF TOOLS."

For full list of our Seaside Successes, apply :—
FRANCIS, DAY, & HUNTER,
142 CHARING CROSS ROAD, LONDON, W.C

FELDMAN'S
SURE SEASIDE SUCCESSES.

"Bombay."
"My Daisiest Daisy."
"Stowaway."
"My Irish Lily."
"Nyomo."
"Good-bye."
"Pal of Mine."
"Bit o' Blarney."
"Fairies."
"I'll Meet You at the Bodega."
"Would You Care?"
"Peggy Machree."

"Give My Regards to Leicester Square."
"Is London Like It Used To Be?"
"My Bungalow in Borneo."
"Bonnie Mary o' Glengary."
"Good-bye, Sweet Marie."
"Wait Till the Work Comes Round."
"The Cowslip and the Cow."
"My Little Turtle Dove."
"I Wonder if the Girl I'm Thinking Of."
"Suzannah's Long Stocking."
"Good-bye, Dear Old London Town."
"Have You Seen My Soldier Boy?"

No Pierrot Team Up-to-date Without Producing the Above Songs.

KEEP IN TOUCH WITH OUR NEW ISSUES.

B. FELDMAN & CO., 2 & 3, ARTHUR STREET, NEW OXFORD STREET, W.C.

MOSS' EMPIRES, LIMITED

(MOSS, THORNTON, AND STOLL THEATRES, AMALGAMATED),

AND

STOLL COMPANIES

(INCLUDING THE LONDON COLISEUM, LTD.).

RE APPLICATIONS FOR ENGAGEMENTS

All applications by either Artists or their Agents must be made to the Head Office.

Lowest terms must be stated, and distinction made between salaries required for larger and smaller towns.

Vacant dates should be stated. If a list of existing bookings be sent, it will render selection easier.

Artists employing Agents should accredit one only at one time, as the friction arising when several Agents are employed at the same time, all expecting the one booking to go through each of them, often renders it expedient to avoid that booking altogether rather than give undeserved offence to several Agents.

New Acts seeking engagements, or turns not rebooked (possibly because they have played a series of dates without introducing new business), will facilitate matters by having their acts seen by our District Managers. Their Districts and Postal Addresses are as follows :—

MANCHESTER, LIVERPOOL, AND DISTRICT.
MR. ALAN W. YOUNG,
Empire Theatre, Liverpool.

EDINBURGH, GLASGOW, NEWCASTLE, AND DISTRICT.
MR. S. GETHING,
Empire Theatre, Glasgow.

LEEDS, SHEFFIELD, HULL, BRADFORD, AND DISTRICT.
MR. T. GERALD MORTON,
Empire Palace, Leeds.

BIRMINGHAM, NOTTINGHAM, LEICESTER, AND DISTRICT.
MR. HATTON WHARTON,
Empire Theatre, Nottingham.

SOUTH WALES DISTRICT.
MR. W. LEA,
Empire Theatre, Cardiff.

LONDON DISTRICT.
MR. WILLIAM COLLINS,
The Empire, Shepherd's Bush, W.

N.B.—Mr. OSWALD STOLL or Mr. FRANK ALLEN can be seen by appointment on all matters arising out of the above, and for the discussion of entirely new Numbers.

All Artists or Agents who communicate with our District Representatives must have made definite applications, in accordance with above directions, to the Head Office, at the same time, or just previously.

Co-operative Offices :
CRANBOURN MANSIONS,
CRANBOURN-ST., LONDON, W.C.

THOMAS BARRASFORD TOUR.

CALLS for MONDAY, JUNE 11, 1906.

REHEARSAL EVERY MONDAY AT ALL OUR PLACES AT 12 NOON.

HIPPODROME, BRIGHTON.

Jackson Family, Bishop and Vale, L. B. Athol, Barlee and Smith, Lancashire Lads, Lillie Soutter, Billy Williams, Halter and Ray, Wallau, Pictures, George Leyton, &c.

TIVOLI, LEEDS.

"High Jinks," Harris and Worth, Mons, Slippere, Fred Curran, Rebla, Percy Hannan, Pictures, Four Holloways.

Owing to extensive alterations being necessary, the Tivoli, Leeds, will be closing on June 16, 1906, for six weeks, re-opening again August Bank Holiday.

Mr. Barrasford presents his compliments to the artists booked there during that time, and would feel obliged if they would kindly postpone their date till after August 6, 1906. Kindly send in vacant dates to the Head Office.

PALACE, GLASGOW.

Grand Variety Company.

HIPPODROME, LIVERPOOL.

Donaldson Bros. and Ardel, Nora Emerald, Will Souls, Max Waldon, Four Madcaps, Sable Fern, Brooklands, Pictures, George Gilbey.

HIPPODROME, BIRMINGHAM.

Radford and Valentine, Prof. McCann, George Prince, Sivronis, Fyne and Hurley, Otto and Olga, T. E. Finglas, Edie Gray and Coons, Sisters Wingrove, Pictures, Downes and Langford.

PAVILION, NEWCASTLE.

Herbert Lloyd, Pauline, Zaro, Lola Patey, Five Olracs, Stewart and Morgan, Fred Earle, Cabiacs, Alice Ormonde, Pictures, Lina Verdi.

ALHAMBRA, PARIS.

"Harvest Home," Mons. D'Musto, Sisters Carina, Speedwell, Ada and August, Paul Vandy, Mdlle. Clotilde, Pictures, Abdullah and La Superbe.

LYCEUM, LONDON.

Grand Variety Company.

BRITANNIA, HOXTON.

Grand Variety Company.

LYRIC, LIVERPOOL.

Grand Variety Company.

HIPPODROME, ST. HELENS.

Grand Variety Company.

Bill Matter must be sent to the London Office Two Weeks before opening, or Artists will run the risk of having their Engagements cancelled.

All Artists must carry Band Parts for Full Band.

All communications to be addressed to the London Office,

11, LEICESTER PLACE, LEICESTER SQUARE, W.

Telephone—6824 Gerrard. Telegrams—"Barrasford, London."

THE MONTE CARLO PUBLISHING CO.,

3, BERNERS STREET, OXFORD STREET, W.

"SIXPENNY SUCCESSES." CHAMPION "SONG-PLACERS" OF THE WORLD!

Our Great Pierrot Successes.

"BAMBOO BUNGALOW." (LAWRANCE & MELLOR.)
The Rag-time Rage of the Seaside.

"WIDOW DOOLIN." (J. F. LAMBE.)
An Irish Lilt which the very waves repeat!

"ZING TA-RA-RA BAND." (BERT DELMAR & GEORGE BURTON.)
A Brilliant Ensemble March Song, full of "Ginger."

Other Gems in Tuneful Settings.

"Remember Me to Mother Dear."
"Molly O'Shea."
"Try an' Find Another Coon."
"Good-bye, Mr. Williams."
"Ev'rything's an 'Extra'."
"Carrie from Camden Town."
"Sweet Eileen."
"Primrose Time."
"Country, King, and Girl."
"Good-bye, My Little Flo."
"Girl on a Distant Shore."
"That's Your Cactus Over There."
&c., &c., &c.

PROFESSIONAL COPIES OF ANY OF ABOVE, 3 STAMPS EACH, POST FREE.

WRITE FOR OUR COMPLETE LIST OF POPULAR SONGS.

Professionals in search of "FREE SONG HITS" Write or Call! Write or Call!
THE MONTE CARLO PUBLISHING CO., 3, Berners Street, Oxford Street, London, W.
Telegrams, "Lyrical, London." Telephone, 12805 Central.

LIVERMORE PALACE TOUR.
ABERDEEN,
DUNDEE,
SUNDERLAND,
BRISTOL,
PLYMOUTH.

Address all Communications, Billing, Matter, &c., (2 clear weeks in advance of opening) to Messrs. ROSEN and BLISS, 56, Whitcomb-street, Leicester-square, London, W.C.
Telegrams: "Twopence, London."
'Phone, 7623 Gerrard.
N.B.—Interviewed by appointment only.

GLASGOW, PAVILION.

CALL for Monday, June 11, 1906.
Rehearsal at 11 o'clock sharp for
The Burmese Gong, Cherry Lass, Herbert Clifton, Dolly Harmer, Tennyson and Wallis, Troupe Le Faille, Pueble and Cropp, Yamamoto, and Miss Koyoshi, George French.
PAVILION, Ltd., GREENOCK, (late Palace).
Rehearsal at 2 o'clock for
Frank Leon, the Two Volbecques, Musical Silvo, Ethel Yorke, Mable Osborne, and George Brooks, the American Bioscope, Lizzie Kirk, Three Delaries, Jose Collins.
All bill matter to be sent fourteen days' ahead to Pavilion Theatre, Glasgow. Artists are also requested to send words of choruses and music in advance, so that the permanent ladies' choir may learn them.
SAMUEL LLOYD.

THE PALACE, GLASGOW.

TO ARTISTS AND AGENTS.
All future bookings from April 7, 1906, will be made direct from the above hall. Artists holding Contracts must please forward bill matter direct to the Palace, Glasgow, two weeks in advance. Call for Monday, June 11. Martin Conway, De Marce, Vincent, J. B. Preston, Spencer and Marks, Tom Lloyd, Henry Chanti, Myles and May, Gipsey Woolf, Madie Scott, Dent and Harris.

Address, MANAGER, Palace Theatre, Glasgow.

Rehearsal every Monday at 12 o'clock.

CALL FOR REHEARSAL.—Devonport Stock Season.
First Call, Monday, 11 o'clock,
Theatre Metropole, Devonport.
All Artists engaged kindly send address immediately to ARTHUR CARLTON, Theatre, Worcester.

CALL for Coventry Hippodrome.
Rehearsal 1 o'clock sharp. Harry Tate's No. 1 Company in "Fishing," Jack Plesants, Dolly, Agnes, and Maud, Hector, Geo. Schilling, The Daintons, Florence Watson, Tom Wilkins, and Hippodrome Pictures.

ARTISTES WANTED
requiring Sound Investments and Residences for Occupation, Rents Collected, Estates Managed, Mortgages Arranged, Surveys and Valuations made, to consult Messrs. CRABB & SON, Auctioneers, Surveyors, Estate Agents, and Valuers, 100, Brixton Hill, S.W. (close to Water Lane). Telephone 643, Brixton, Manager, Mr. WALTER INGE.
Note.—Messrs. Crabb and Son have the honour of being Estate Agents to the élite of the Profession.

WILLSONS
Supply STREAMER LETTERS, Mammoth Posters, Day Bills, and the General Run of Show Printing, in First-Class Style.
Streamers—the Largest Assortment in the United Kingdom—
Day Bills, &c., at our Usual Low Rates.
NEW-WALK PRINTING WORKS, LEICESTER.

PIERROT POSTERS and PLANTS for STOCK SEASONS.

STAFFORD & CO., Ltd., Netherfield, Notts.

ADMISSION TICKETS In ROLLS or PACKETS for Checking the Drawings.
Printed & Numbered to suit all requirements.
THE GLASGOW NUMERICAL TICKET AND CHECK BOOK PRINTING CO.,
Write Dept. "E" for Prices.
31 Finnieston Street, GLASGOW.

BLOCKS MEMOS
And all PROFESSIONAL PRINTING
WRITE OR CALL FOR SAMPLES
BUNKER 53, CHANDOS STREET, LONDON, W.C.

H. & M. RAYNE,
115, 117, 119,
WATERLOO-ROAD,
LONDON, S.E.
(opposite Waterloo Stn.)
THEATRICAL STORES, SHOEMAKERS, and COSTUMIERS.

We supply the Leading Proprietors of the Show World with Smart Up-to-Date Parade Costumes, Tights, and Wigs.

DANCING BOOTS and SHOES a Speciality.

Everything for the Showman's use at the lowest possible prices.

MACNAGHTEN VAUDEVILLE CIRCUIT.

Proprietor and Director General:
Mr. FRANK MACNAGHTEN.
Business Manager for the Circuit:
Mr. E. P. LAWTON.
Special Representative:
Mr. BRANDON BLAKE.
Secretary:
Miss AMY ROBINSON.

EXECUTIVE OFFICES:
KING'S CHAMBERS, ANGEL STREET, SHEFFIELD.
Telegraphic Address, "MACNAGHTEN, SHEFFIELD." Telephone No. 3449, SHEFFIELD.

Accountants: Messrs. HARDY, LAWTON and MOULSON, York-street, Sheffield.

CALLS
FOR WEEK COMMENCING
MONDAY, JUNE 11, 1906.

PROVINCIAL CIRCUIT.
SPECIAL NOTICE.
Rehearsal at all Halls, Monday, at 12·0 sharp.

PAVILION, LEICESTER.
Matinée Thursday.
Leo Lester's Dogs, Geo. Rapley, The Henres, Adey Spencer, Geo. Bendon, J. H. Kisbey, Elvio Trio, Pallister's Bioscope.

PALACE, LINCOLN.

GRAND, SHEFFIELD.
Matinée Monday.
J. G. Johnson, Herbert Rule, King Roy, Barrington, Arthur Elvey, Pallister's Bioscope, Judge's Cockatoos.

PALACE, BATH.

PALACE, BRADFORD.
Matinée Thursday.
Dr. Walford Bodie and Co., Duncan and Brasque, Arthur Stacey, Emma Don and Co.

PALACE, BLACKBURN.
Matinées Thursday and Saturday.
Hodgson, Lowther, and Co., Tiny Arnold, Baroni and Kemp, Les Laurens, Marion Scott, Joe Dale, J. P. Ling, Mill May, Bros. Redmond, Harry Pleon, Raymond's Bio-tableaux.

PALACE, HALIFAX.
Matinée Thursday.
Chung Ling Soo and Co., Ross and Lewis, Keith and Merson.

PALACE, W. HARTLEPOOL.
Yags and Mary Trio, Lily Morris, Henri Bekker, A Be-Be, Tom Lowen, George Grogie, Sisters Varley, Aerial and Astarte, Ford and Barris, Raymond's Bio-tableaux.

PALACE, SOUTHAMPTON.
Empire Comedy Four, Hessey Soloists, Lidden and Hayward, Oakdene, Carl Rosine, Lily Sharplin, Arthur Arley, Paragon Trio, Four Burnells, Raymond's Bio-tableaux.

KING'S, NOTTINGHAM.

THEATRE ROYAL, ROTHERHAM.
"Defending His Honour."

THEATRE ROYAL, ATTERCLIFFE.

THEATRE ROYAL, CHESTERFIELD.
"A London Actress."

THEATRE ROYAL, LEEDS.
Arnold Bell and Co.

LONDON DISTRICT.
General Manager, Mr. FREDERIC BAUGH.
Telephone, 5954 Avenue.
Telegrams, "Stageyness, London."
Rehearsal at all Halls, Monday at 12 o'clock.

PALACE, BOW.
Telephone, 417 East.
Matinée every Monday.
Lottie Lennox, Walker and Lake, Mephisto, Sadie Simpson, Edie Endon, Will Farrell, The Lynches, Johnny Walker, Joe Oliver, Lacey's Erascope, "Muggins," V.C., Company, Kittie Corri.

LYCEUM THEATRE.
THE BRITANNIA.
Telephone, 7285 Central.
Matinées, Monday and Thursday.
The Katos, Society Quartette, Jack Macenzie Co., Martinell and Wallace, Raymond's Bio-tableaux, Bishop and Hanlon, The Vaudeville Sketch Co., Dave O'Toole, Eugene Miska, Andy Fagan.

FORESTERS.
Telephone, 5954 Avenue.
Matinées Monday and Thursday.
G. M. Marriott and Co., Mansel Fane, Jack and Evelyn, Lew Lake and Co., Jack Heath, Daisy Silcott, Amiel, Percy Dalton, Frances Drew, Raymond's Bio-tableaux, Chas. Coborn.

SADLER'S WELLS.
Telephone, 5890 Central.
Matinée every Monday.
Percy Murray and Co., Raymond's Bio-tableaux, Marie Blythe, Emmie Ames, Harry Bancroft, B. H. Almon, Sterling and Cashen, Madge Morley and Co., G. H. Keith, Gus Harris, Albert Wyndham and Co.

SURREY THEATRE.
Telephone, 1460 Hop
Matinée every Monday.
Raymond's Bio-tableaux, Rita and Roma, Frank Hardie Co., Parke's Eton Boys, Marguerite Broadfoote, Two Wiltons, Carlotta de Yonson Co., The Three Wilmars, Flo Warner, Bensley Evans and Co., Edna Latonne, Andie Burn.
All Artists engaged for Surrey Theatre must bring 14 Band parts.

Artists please Note.
That under no circumstances whatever will permission be given to Artists who are booked the Macnaghten Circuit to appear at the Queen's, Poplar.

All Bill Matter or Notification of Appearance must be sent in 14 days prior to opening. All Artists must attend Band Rehearsal, or their Contracts may be cancelled at the option of the Management.

N.B.—All Billing Matter and Business Communications relating to the Provincial Circuit must be addressed to "King's Chambers, Angel-street, Sheffield."

PROFESSIONAL APARTMENTS.
Three Lines, ONE SHILLING.
Thirteen Insertions, TWELVE SHILLINGS.
Address, PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

BIRMINGHAM.—Sitting-rooms, Bedrooms, Bath (h. and c.), Pianos, Good Cooking, Ten Minutes Theatres. 21, Duchess-rd., Edgbaston.

BIRMINGHAM.—Castle and Falcon Hotel, Snow-hill. Change of proprietorship. Central for Theatres. Apartments and house of call; very convenience. Proprietor, JNO. FINLOW.

BIRMINGHAM. — 14, Islington-row, Five Ways.—Comfortable apartments, good cooking and attendance.

BLACKPOOL.—Sitting-rooms and Bedrooms; Combined Room; bath. Close to all Theatres. Mrs. Bridge, 63, Elizabeth-street.

BRADFORD.—Professionals' House of Call is the Oddfellows' Arms (Saloon Bar Entrance, opposite People's Palace). John Bramham.

BRIGHTON.—Seven Stars, Ship-street, opposite G.P.O. The Professional House. Sunday Réunions. Always a hearty welcome. Luncheons, &c., at pop. prices. DE COSTA, Proprietor.

BRIGHTON. — Opposite Alhambra. Good Letting House, 10 rooms, furniture, for sale. R., 2, Russell-street. No agents.

BRISTOL.—Prince's Hotel, adjoining Prince's Theatre; select, comfortable; good cuisine. Terms upon application to John Hobbs.

EASTBOURNE. — Devonshire Hotel, adjoining the Hippodrome. The Professional House. Agent for M.H.A.R.A. W. Webb.

GLASGOW.—Buchanan-st Station Hotel Close to the Principal Theatres and Music Halls. Moderate Terms for Board and Apartments.

HULL.—Clifton House, 110A, Anlaby-rd. Near Theatres and Halls. Very best at moderate charges. Manageress, Mrs. W. Horton.

LEEDS.—Mrs. Pincus, Rockingham Arms. New room, the Salon Victoria, for Pro.'s Only. Social Réunions every Sunday Evening.

LIVERPOOL.—Mrs. Allen, 138, Islington.—Very Comfortable Apartments. Moderate terms. Good cooking, bath room, piano, all home comforts.

LONDON, N.W.—Camden Town. Large Front Bed-sitting-room, with piano, board if required; main road. J., 126, Great College-st., N.W.

LONDON, S.E.—Mrs. Fred Gilbert, Comfortable Apartments, Good Cooking, Good Pianos, Main Road. 19, Kennington Park-road.

LONDON, S.E.—45, Lambeth-road. Sitting, Bed, and Combined Rooms, Piano, Good Cooking, Every Convenience, Terms Moderate Mrs. L. A. Small.

LONDON, S.E.—Comfortable Apartments, Vacant, Good Cooking. Moderate Terms. 71, Kennington-road.

LONDON, S.E.—Sitting-room, Front, Piano, Bedroom, also Combined, Moderate. Liberty Sunday, 1d. Motor Strand. Davis, 30, Grosvenor-terrace, Walworth-road.

LONDON, S.E.—Mrs. Bartlett, 41, St. Mary's-square, Kennington. Combined Rooms, Vacant Sunday; gas, good cooking.

LONDON, S.E.—Good Apartments. Gas, Piano, Good Cooking, Home Comforts. Terms Moderate, Vac. Sunday. Mrs. Knight, 126 Lambeth-rd.

LONDON, S.E. — Apartments. Good and Reasonable. EVANS, 198, Kennington-road.

LONDON, S.W.—Comfortable Apartments. Good cook. Recommended by Signor and Madame Borelli. Mrs. Whiteley, 29, Brixton-rd.

LONDON, S.W.—23, Brixton-road. Well-furnished Bed and Sitting Rooms; good cooking and attendance; trams pass door; quarter-hour to Victoria, City, and West-End (1d. fares).

LONDON, S.W.—Cards not allowed in window, but comfortable rooms, with piano, can always be found at 9 and 11, Claverton-street.

LONDON,— S.W.—Near Kennington gate.—Comfortable Sitting and Bedrooms, Good Cooking and Attendance, Piano, &c. Highly Recommended. Mrs. Robin, 19, Brixton-rd.

LONDON, W.C.—21, Guilford-st., Russell-sq., F. Apartments, Superior; Electric Light, Bath, Tele. Moderate. Board if required.

LONDON, W.C.—The Artists' Home. Apartments and Board Residence, Small and Large Parties specially catered for; close to theatres. Catalpha, 6, Torrington-square.

LONDON, W.C.—Mrs. Villions, 3, Bayley-street, Tottenham Court-road, 30sec. from the Oxford Completely New and Sup. Furnished. Electric Light and Bath. Moderate Terms.

MANCHESTER.—Bed-sitting and Combined Rooms; pianos, bath, &c.; good cooking. Mrs. Prince, 37, Rumford-st., Oxford-st.

PRESTON. — Stanley Arms Hotel. Sitting-rooms, Bedrooms, Bath, Piano, 3 minutes from all places of amusement. F. Halliday.

SOUTHPORT.—Mrs. Howell, 82, Lord-street, Superior Apartments, Two Sitting, Three Bedrooms, and Combined, Pianos, Bath, and W.C., close Amusements.

THE CABIN RESTAURANT, Union-passage, Bull-street, End, Birmingham. Bass from the Wood, London Imperial Stout from the Wood, genuine Munich Beer, Snacks, Oysters, Sandwiches, and Salads, Fully Licensed. Only the Best. Proprietor, H. WORMALD. Open on Sunday.

BRAID HILLS HOTEL, Morningside, Edinburgh.—Charmingly situated Hotel, completely appointed, every modern luxury, uninterrupted views of the City and the surrounding district; 450ft. above sea level, pure mountain air, splendid public golf course adjoining Hotel; also Ladies' Course; cable cars to and from City every three minutes up to 11.30 p.m. Terms moderate. For descriptive Brochure apply to Manager.

HOME SCHOOL FOR GIRLS AND LITTLE BOYS. Every care. Professional Dancing taught: Recommended. Healthy Situation. PRINCIPAL, 103, Balham Park-road, Wandsworth Common, S.W.

INDISPENSABLE!

RAYNE'S

POCKET DATE BOOK.

JUST PUBLISHED. Price ONE SHILLING

Five Shillings' worth of information for One Shilling. Purchasers of this work will not only be making a good investment, but will be also adding to the funds of two deserving charities. The above work, got up in a convenient size for the waistcoat pocket, should be in the possession of every actor, every music hall artist, and every entertainer, in fact.

CONTENTS:

All About Artists' Luggage.
List of Clubs.
Information about Stamping Contracts
Foreign Money Table.
London Music Halls and Theatres.
Their Telephone Numbers.
List of Brougham Proprietors.
List and Address of Photographers.
Size of Theatrical Printing Paper.
Names and Addresses of Theatrical Railway Managers, &c., &c.

RAYNE'S

POCKET DATE BOOK.

THE BOOK WILL BE SOLD AT ONE SHILLING
Post Free.

The proceeds from the sale will be divided equally amongst the two great charities of the Dramatic and Musical Professions,

THE ACTORS' BENEVOLENT FUND
. . AND . .
THE MUSIC HALL BENEVOLENT FUND.

Mr. Arthur Bourchier, Garrick Theatre, writes: "I thank you for the little book, which I am sure will be very useful."
Mr. George Scott (Manager), Alhambra, W.C., writes: "Many thanks for the little book to hand, which will prove of valuable assistance to me."
Mr. Seymour Hicks, Aldwych Theatre, writes: "I thank you for the Telephone Book, which I find most useful."

Send 12 Stamps to the Publisher,
"THE ERA" BUILDINGS,
5, TAVISTOCK STREET, W.C.
'Phone: Four-seven-four-seven Central.
Telegraphic Address: "The Era," London.

"THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE AMERICAN THEATRICAL PROFESSION."
ON SALE WHEREVER THERE IS A PLACE OF AMUSEMENT.

NEW YORK DRAMATIC NEWS.

ISSUED WEEKLY with from 24 to 28 Pages, handsomely Illustrated, with Reports from over 1,000 Cities and Towns in the United States and the Foreign Stage, covered by Special Correspondents.
Has the exclusive patronage of Messrs. CHARLES FROHMAN, KLAW and ERLANGER, LIEBLER and CO., WILLIAM GILLETTE, NIXON and ZIMMERMAN, GEORGE EDWARDES, NAT C. GOODWIN, HENRY W. SAVAGE, and, in fact, every prominent Theatrical Manager.
Foreign Subscription, ONE POUND A YEAR. Advertising Rates, One Shilling per Line.
London Office, Clarence House, King William-street, E.C. JOHN PARKER, Manager.
Communications may be addressed to MAX ELIOT, Special London Correspondent, 3, Queen's Gate Terrace, S.W.

NEW YORK DRAMATIC NEWS,
BROADWAY THEATRE BUILDINGS, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

THE NEW YORK DRAMATIC MIRROR.

HARRISON GREY FISKE, Editor and President.

ESTABLISHED JAN. 4, 1879.

Publication Office: 121, WEST FORTY-SECOND-STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Leading American Publication devoted to the Dramatic and Vaudeville Stage.
Correspondence from European Cities. Telegraphic Reports. Criticism.
On Sale at Norman's Agency, 33, Haymarket, S.W.; Pall-mall Exchange, Carlton-street, Regent-street, and elsewhere.
Subscription, £1 3s. per year. Single Copies, 6d.
Members of the Profession visiting America are invited to use the "Mirror's" Post-Office Facilities.

If you contemplate an American Tour send the news ahead through the medium of an advertisement in

THE BILLBOARD

AMERICA'S LEADING THEATRICAL WEEKLY.
It has the largest circulation in the United States of any paper in its class. Advertising Rates 8s. 4d. per single column inch. This double column space 16s. 8d. single insertion.
London Offices: Lisle Street, corner Leicester Place, W. C. C. Bartram, Manager.

THE PATHÉ CINEMATOGRAPH

CO., LTD.,

14, 16, 18, Lamb's Conduit St., High Holborn.

Telegrams—"PATHE, LONDON." Telephone—3298 CENTRAL.

MARRIAGE OF PRINCESS ENA AND THE KING OF SPAIN.

Above 540ft. The Subject, £13 10s. 0d. Code Word, "BRODERIE."
Unequalled for quality and steadiness. Comparison will prove our statement. Judge for yourselves.

THE ELECTIONS. Code Word, "BRIBE."
The candidate at home to callers. Double bribery. An interrupted meeting. The rival bill-stickers. A small coin makes a big row. Nursing baby, and the consequences. A very fine pig, and nice-tasting food he is fed on. A visit to a laundry. A quarrel ends in a ducking. Black-balled. Meetings.—Persons who greeted a prospective member enthusiastically now change sides, and the candidate has a very unpleasant time. Eventually he arrives home with a black eye and his clothes torn, and altogether in a very deplorable state. About 540ft. The Subject, £13 10s. 0d.

THE RIDERLESS BICYCLE. Code Word, "BRASSARD."
The circus. The ring-master and his friend. Amusing antics. A bicycle is brought into the ring, and, urged by a whip, careers round and round, jumping over obstacles and through a hoop. A back kicker. The bicycle will only own one master, and finally bows its adieus to the audience. About 200ft. The Subject, £5 0s. 0d.

THE RAJAH'S CASKET. Code Word, "BREVETER."
The Rajah's Casket is very closely guarded, but a wizard manages to disappear with it. The Rajah summons another wizard, who, after showing a vision of the casket being taken through the air on the back of a dragon, leads the Rajah through the country and over the mountains to a cave where it has been carried. The Rajah here witnesses a series of beautiful scenes, the stalactites being transformed into gorgeously-dressed women who dance before him, and while they are dancing many beautiful changes are made in the colours of their dresses. The Rajah is so pleased at the recovery of the casket that he presents each of the dancers with a string of pearls. About 560ft. The Subject, £14 0s. 0d
Colouring extra, net, £5 10s. 0d.

A DETECTIVE'S TOUR ROUND THE WORLD. Code Word, "BRIMER."
A Detective's life is full of ups and downs, and many exciting incidents are faithfully portrayed in this excellent film, which shows a detective's pursuit round the world of a fraudulent bankrupt.
The flight in disguise. The detective just misses the train. At the Suez Canal. Scenes on the banks. A narrow escape. Bankrupt drugs the detective's drink. False arrest of the detective. A festival in Calcutta. Brilliant procession of elephants &c. Bombay Pagoda. Close pursuit and another narrow escape on horseback. Chased on an elephant. In an opium-smokers' den. Visions of the bankrupt and his pursuer. In Yokohama. Missed by a hair's breadth. Flight to America. The detective is foiled again through getting mixed up with a procession of citizens advocating the election of President Roosevelt. The detective is captured by redskins, bound to a tree, and badly wounded. Rescue by the bankrupt. Pursuer and pursued are now close friends. The bankrupt saves the detective's life, and the latter tears up his warrant. Leaving New York. A friend in need. An unexpected partnership. About 1150ft. The Subject, £28 15s. 0d.
Colouring extra; net, 3 0s. 0d.

20% DISCOUNT TO ALL CUSTOMERS OFF LIST PRICES.
Remember—Our Pictures are absolutely steady.

NEW FILMS

FATHER'S DERBY TIP.
385ft. Price, £9 12s. 6d.

THE ATTACK ON AGENT.
An Irish Eviction Story.
Length, 540ft. Price, £13 10s.

NOW READY.

MARVELLOUS SWORD FEATS.
Length, 280ft. Price, £7.
Code Word, "Sword."

TO EXHIBITORS.
Please note that the Prices of all our Films are subject to a discount of 20 %
Write for Illustrated Price List to

CRICKS & SHARP
7 Gt. Queen St. Kingsway, W.C.
Telegrams: "Discesque" London.

NEW BIOSCOPE PICTURES

FILMS FOR HIRE.
FILMS FOR HIRE.
FILMS FOR HIRE.

• • •

NEW BIOSCOPE PICTURES

Are shown all over the world nightly. Mr. J. Woolf at the QUEENS, POPLAR, is starring us weekly, and makes no secret of the fact that we are his mainstay by giving us a life's contract.

Telephone, No. 6,473 Central.
Telegraphic Address, "Newbio, London."
5, Cecil-court, Charing-cross, W.C.

• • •

FILMS FOR HIRE.
FILMS FOR HIRE.
FILMS FOR HIRE.

NEW BIOSCOPE PICTURES

PAUL

LATEST FILM.

Brown's Fishing Excursion.

Wife helping her dear hubby to get his fishing tackle ready.
The base deceiver leaves them in the cloak room and meets a pretty girl.
Off for a jolly day with the darling.
Boating on the River.
Tea in the Park.
Evening. Bidding her good-bye.
Prepares to go home. On the way buys some fish. The fishmonger artfully places amongst the fresh fish a pair of kippers.
Arrival home. Shows his wife the "catch." Wife demands to know the meaning of the kippers.
Result: A very lively time for dear hubby.

Code Word, "BROWN." Length, 320ft.

ROBT. W. PAUL,
68, HIGH HOLBORN, LONDON, W.C.
Telephone: 4614 Holborn.
Telegrams: "Calibrate, London."

RUFFELL'S IMPERIAL BIOSCOPE.

CLEARING SEASON.

20,000ft. at ½d. per foot.
14,000ft. at ¾d. per foot.
12,000ft. at 1d. per foot.
13,500ft. at 1½d. per foot.
11,350ft. at 2d. and 2½d. per foot.
9 copies of the Boat Race.
12 Football Final, 1906.
6 Launch of the Dreadnought.
17 Derby's, 1906.

Write for List,
Head Office,
12, Little Newport-street, W.
Telephone, 6695 Gerrard.
Telegraph, "Ruffoscope, London."

LIVING PICTURES.

FILM LIBRARY.
FILMS ON HIRE.

Reasonable Terms. Good Programmes.

THE MICROGRAPH CO., Ltd.
7 Great Queen Street, Kingsway, London.

SPENCER BROTHERS, Ltd.,

AERONAUTS
TO THE CRYSTAL PALACE AND PRINCIPAL FETES AND GALAS.

Airship Flights, Balloon Ascents, Captive Balloons, Balloon Races, Parachute Descents (from Gas Balloons or Hot Air Balloons), Lady and Gentlemen Parachutists, Displays of Small Balloons and Figures.
Terms upon Application.
45B, Aberdeen Park, Highbury, N.
Telegrams: Aeronaut, London. Phone, 1893 Dalston.

TO SHOWMEN ENTREPRENEURS, AND CINEMATOGRAPH SHOW EXPLOITERS.

A CINEMATOGRAPH SHOW.

THE

"CRUISE OF THE OPHIR."

ONE THOUSAND POUNDS

FOR

TWENTY-FIVE SHILLINGS.

TO THE PUBLISHER, "THE ERA."

Sir,—

It may possibly interest you to learn that a Quarter-Column Advertisement in "The Era" (One Insertion) resulted in over £1,000 Bookings for an Entertainment with which I was connected some little time ago. The Entertainment was entitled

"THE CRUISE OF THE OPHIR,"

Cinématograph Show, and the Bookings were effected within a week.

Yours faithfully,
H. GOLDSMITH-WHITTON,
Late Manager, West's "Our Navy," &c.
London, May 19, 1906.

IN case of the non delivery of "THE ERA" by the First Post, the Publisher will be greatly obliged if Advertisers will forward their Postal Wrappers with the time of delivery marked upon them.

NEW FILMS.

THE SPANISH ROYAL WEDDING.

A magnificent film, showing the gorgeous procession and the King and Queen leaving the church after the ceremony.

Splendid Portraits. 305ft. Usual Price.

A TRIP TO PORTUGAL.

A series of surpassing beauty—absolutely stereoscopic on the screen. Full of interest and animation.

No. 453. PANORAMA OF VIGO. A splendid view from the shore.
Length 135 feet. Price £3 7s. 6d.

No. 454. SCENES IN VIGO. Showing the market place, &c., &c.
Length 220 feet. Price £5 10s.

No. 451. APPROACHING LISBON. A very fine picture, showing the shipping and small craft fringing the shore, in stereoscopic photography.
Length 260 feet. Price £6 10s.

No. 448. LISBON FROM AN ELEVATOR. A magnificent panorama.
Length 168ft. Price £4 4s.

No. 449. TRAMWAY RIDE THROUGH LISBON. Showing the American Embassy, the Avenida, and the Praca de D. Pedro.
Length 158ft. Price £3 19s.

No. 463.
THE CATCH OF THE SEASON.

A young lady, of uncertain age, advertises for a husband. Suitors galore arrive. A chase ensues, full of "go," and eventually a victimised man is caught in the toils.

Length 446 feet. Price £11 3s.

No. 427.
THE TRAITOROUS GUEST.

Thieves make a big haul at a silver-wedding banquet, and are eventually captured in a sewer in the act of flying from justice. Striking situations. Excellent quality.

Length 550 feet. Price £13 15s.

No. 467.
SAN FRANCISCO AFTER THE DISASTER.

A unique series of pictures, showing the awful results of the Earthquake and Fire. The pictures are all genuine.

Length 345 feet. Price £8 12s. 6d.

NEW CLARENDON FILM,
"HOW THEY KILLED THE CAT."

The opinion of a well-known exhibitor:
"As good as 'OFF FOR THE HOLIDAYS.'"
Length 425ft.

ENGLAND VERSUS JAPAN.

By the courtesy of Messrs. Gale & Polden we are able to offer a magnificent series of films, illustrating the Sports at the Royal Naval Barracks, Portsmouth, on June 6th, between the Japanese and British Sailors. The series is intensely interesting, and abounds in humorous incidents.

COPIES ARE NOW READY FOR DELIVERY.

LOCAL PICTURES.

We can send an operator, equipped with camera and film for taking films of local interest, at an hour's notice. Our work is the best; and we still hold the record for quick delivery. Prices on application.

RENTING DEPARTMENT.

A unique collection of films, embracing every class of subject—and including the latest and most successful pictures—available for hire. Full particulars on application.

THE CINEMATOGRAPH SPECIALISTS,
LONDON:
22 to 27, CECIL COURT, W.C.
(OPPOSITE ALHAMBRA.)

L. Gaumont & Co

And at PARIS, BARCELONA, and BERLIN.

Telephone: 3430 Gerrard. Telegrams: "Objectif, London."

Hepworth

No. 1019. THE KIDNAPPED CHILD.

A little girl bowling her hoop along is stopped by a man and woman of very rough appearance and questioned as to where she lives. She points to a nice house just where they are all standing. The pair clear off, and the child goes on with her innocent play, little dreaming of the wicked designs her wretched questioners have in mind.

A very youthful farmer is seen to hastily come down the street, burdened with a huge package under his arm, just as the little child comes running in. After the usual greetings have passed between the happy family, the package is opened under the eyes of the little maid, who, with evident delight, seizes upon the contents—a lovely doll almost as big as herself. The mother, with that usual indulgence for an only child, in putting her to bed, allows her to have "dolly" with her.

The youngster is seen to fondle her treasure, and ultimately, unable to rest, gets out of bed, putting the doll in, and, after tucking it up, leaves the room, just as her mother had done to her so often. As the little girl departs, the window is thrown open, and the man who had stopped the child in the street enters the room. He approaches the bed, wraps what he supposes to be the child quickly up in the bed-clothes, and, going to the window, passes the bundle to the woman, who is outside on a ladder. She is first to discover that it is only a doll, and, in her rage, smashes it against the side of the ladder, and pitches her confederate into the dustbin.

The little girl, who had evidently gone down to fetch mamma to look at her "dear dolly," returns to find her treasure gone, and runs to her mother's side and cries bitterly with grief. The parent, suspecting somewhat of the truth of the matter, goes to the window, and realising what a narrow escape her dear one had, kisses her again and again in joy and thankfulness.

The conspirators, on the appearance of "a man in blue," tear off down the street, with the policeman following closely on their heels.

Length 325ft. Price £8 2s. 6d.

No. 1055. AN EPISODE OF THE DERBY.

A happy party drive to the Derby, mother, father, and their only child, a young and attractive girl. Arriving on the field the parents leave their child in the trap, with strict instructions not to move, but seeing her parents go off on a round of pleasure she leaves her safe position and runs to see what fun she can obtain, beside backing her favourite for the race. She gets her racing card, a full view of which with the number is given. As she runs along she is met by an old gipsy woman who is anxious to tell her fortune. The girl, only too delighted to listen, is led away by the woman to her caravan, where with the aid of a confederate she is forced to go in, change her clothes, and come out in rags and tatters. A young lad standing by is roughly pushed away by the man, who is seen to threaten the girl. He walks off, leaving her outside the caravan, where she is watched by his accomplices. The lad goes to the captive, and, looking round anxiously, offers his assistance to the almost despairing girl. At last with happy thought she produces her betting ticket and gives it to him, and he rushes off quickly with it to the Bookie. The parents meanwhile have been anxiously searching for their child after discovering the empty trap. They tear about the rings asking anyone and everyone for information, and going up to one of the Bookmakers they are just in time to meet the friendly youth who has brought the girl's ticket with all explanations. The frantic father and mother rush off after him to the caravan, and find their daughter being roughly handled by boys who are laughing and jeering at her.

She is instantly recognised by her fond mother and clasped in her arms, while the father struggles with her abductor, who tries to resist, but with the help of their guide he is overcome. The girl regains her pretty clothes, and they walk along to see the race! A splendid view is given of the course with thousands of cheering spectators, and an exciting peep of the race as the horses dash past. The ticket which the young girl obtained proves lucky in more ways than one, and she is seen to draw her winnings with delight and satisfaction.

Length 300ft. Price £7 10s.

HEPWORTH MANUFACTURING Co LTD CINEMATOGRAPHERS,

TELEPHONE No. 2451 GERRARD. Telegrams: "HEPTOIC," London.

15 and 17, Cecil Court, Charing Cross Road, London, W.C.

AS USUAL—THE WARWICK IS TOP DOG.

THE ROYAL WEDDING STAKES

... RESULT ...

WARWICK 1
WARWICK 2
WARWICK 3

Remainder tailed off. Regiments of Soldiers have been out seeking some of the runners. We do not "Gas" about what we are GOING TO DO, WE DO IT AND SUBMIT YOU OUR RESULTS.

Exclusive and Unique View. Superb Photographic Quality. Rock steady.

... Our Picture is being exhibited at ...

THE PALACE THEATRE, LONDON.
THE EMPIRE THEATRE, LONDON.
THE HIPPODROME, LONDON.
THE ROYAL, HOLBORN, LONDON.
THE ISLINGTON EMPIRE, LONDON.
THE HIPPODROME, MANCHESTER.
THE EMPIRE, MANCHESTER.
OLYMPIA, NEWCASTLE.
THE EMPIRE, RADFORD
THE EMPIRE, CARDIFF.
OLYMPIA, LIVERPOOL.
THE EMPIRE, GLASGOW.
TOWN HALL, IPSWICH.
SHAFTESBURY HALL, BOURNEMOUTH.
CENTRAL HALL, LINCOLN.

and at 37 other places in the United Kingdom.

We came in 54 HOURS in front of everyone, not seconds or minutes; mind you, 54 HOURS

We publicly exhibited our Picture at THE PALACE THEATRE, LONDON, at 5 p.m. on Saturday, June 2. That is 2½ DAYS ahead of any other firm.

ENGLAND IS AWAKE!

By courtesy of the the Civil Governor and the Chief of Police of Madrid, we secured exclusive Pictures outside the Church, and so got Magnificent Portraits of the Bride and Bridegroom descending the steps. It is a scene that does not admit the pen doing justice to. See our Picture yourself, and be convinced.

No. 8,030. Length, 425ft. Price, £10 12s. 6d. (Subject). Code Word, "ENA."

In passing, we might mention we did another little exclusive picture,

H.M.S. MONTAGU ON THE ROCKS AT LUNDY.

A fine subject. Taken during the terrible gale of Friday, June 1.

ONCE MORE IN THE FRONT.

No. 8029. Length, 200ft. Price, £5 0s. 0d. (Subject). Code Word, "MONTAGU."

As this copy is being written, our Operators are securing another EXCLUSIVE picture at Clydebank, Glasgow.

THE LAUNCH OF THE NEW CUNARDER, ss. LUSITANIA.

The Largest Liner in the World. A veritable Monarch of the Ocean. Tonnage, 33,000 tons. Prints ready this (Saturday) morning.

KEEP YOUR EYE ON THE WARWICK. WE HAVE SOME MORE 54 HOUR SCOOPS UP OUR SLEEVE. WE ARE TAKING THE GRAND PRIX ON SUNDAY.

THE WARWICK TRADING CO.,

The World's Headquarters for Animated Photography,

4 & 5, WARWICK COURT, HOLBORN, LONDON, W.C.

Telephone: 1135 Holborn. PARIS HOUSE—16, RUE ST. CECILE. Telegrams: "COUSINHOOD, LONDON."

LATEST URBAN FILMS.

THE ROYAL MARRIAGE FETES, MADRID.

Absolutely the finest photographic quality and most successful of the many Wedding Fete Series now offering to the Trade. We were the sole recipients of Royal Concessions. Supplied without restrictions] at regular prices and discounts.

3132.
The Royal Wedding Procession, and View of the Royal Coach Horse Killed by the Bomb being relieved of its golden harness by soldiers surrounding the Royal coach. Our operator arrived on the spot one minute after the explosion. The horse is still seen breathing. The end of picture shows the coach drawn by mules leaving the scene of the outrage, with the King waving his white gloved hand from the window to assure the people that all is right with the Queen and himself. A marvellous picture. Length 275 ft.

3134.
The King and Queen of Spain leaving the Church of San Geronimo after the Wedding. Grand quality, and splendid detail and portraits. The finest picture of this incident on the market. Length 275 ft.

3137.
The Military Review before the King and Queen of Spain, June 3rd, An imposing spectacle. Length 175 ft.

3135.
Coronation Procession from Chapel. Splendid picture. Length 150 ft.

3138.
Halberdiers at Royal Palace. A unique picture. Length 60 ft.

3122
King Alfonso XIII. leaving the Madrid Cathedral after special High Mass, accompanied by H.R.H. the Queen-Mother and the Grandees of the Royal Spanish Court. Exclusive Picture of magnificent quality and exceptional interest. Length 125 ft.

3124
H.M. King of Spain—Sportsman. Attending and participating in a Pigeon Shoot. Splendid portraits and characteristic poses. Length 125 ft.

3131
The Great Bull Fight in honour of the King of Spain's Wedding. Photographed by special concession. Excellent throughout. Length 300 ft.

3133.
The Great Automobile Fete before King Alfonso and Princess Ena. Including splendid view of the Royal Lovers driving their Motor, Stopping before our Camera. During interval the King pays a woman for a glass of water, which he relishes. Splendid picture of the King and Princess Ena on the Balcony. Exclusive picture. Length 150 ft.

3136.
The Royal Bull Fight at Madrid June 2nd. Showing the arrival of the King and Queen at the Arena, the Gorgeous Entry of the Fighters and Horses, the Fight and intense enthusiasm of the 15,000 invited Spectators. Thrilling and of historic interest. Not a cruel spectacle. Exclusive picture, Length, 325 ft.

SOLE PROPRIETORS and MANUFACTURERS of the celebrated

URBAN BIOSCOPE

Used at the Alhambra, Hippodrome, Coliseum, Polytechnic, Twenty Moss-Stoll Empire Theatres, Lyceum and all other Barrasford Theatres, West's Our Navy, Modern Marvel Company, and Hundreds of other Principal Theatres and Exhibitions throughout England.

To amuse and entertain is good.
To do both and instruct is better.

URBANORA

We Put the World Before You. (COPYRIGHTED.)

The Most Perfect, Up-to-Date, Exclusive Pictures in the World.

SOLE REPRESENTATIVES—
WIELAND AGENCY,
16, St. Martin's Street, Leicester Square, London, W.C.
Telephone, 6788 GERRARD. Telegrams, "WIELDERS, LONDON."

The CHARLES URBAN TRADING CO., Ltd., 48, Rupert St., LONDON, W.

Telegrams and Cables, "BIOSCOPE, LONDON." Telephone, 3118 CENTRAL.

MANCHESTER: 46, Market St. PARIS: 33, Passage de l'Opera. BARCELONA: Calle Valencia 266. NEW YORK: 116, Nassau St.

ARTISTS - - -

YOU CANNOT AFFORD POOR PHOTOGRAPHS

THEY ARE TOO EXPENSIVE AT ANY PRICE.

It is our Business to make Attractive and Interesting Pictures, and we have a Special Rate to the Profession.

Get Our Price List.

THE Hana STUDIOS, Ltd.,

22, BEDFORD STREET, STRAND, LONDON.

Post Cards, Enlargements, Show Frames, all kinds of Modern Photographic Work for the Profession.

CARL HAGENBECK, THIERPARK, STELLINGEN, NEAR HAMBURG.

Having lately received several consignments of various wild animals and birds, I can offer at very reasonable prices the following:

Four pairs splendid White-Tailed Gnus, fine animals, in perfect health and condition.

Several pairs Eland Antelopes.

Some Beisa, Leucoryx, and Addax Antelopes.

West African and East African Water-Bucks.

And various sorts of Antelopes of the smaller tribe.

A flock of 20 African Ostriches from the Senegal as well as from Somaliland.

I further can offer:

A great collection of the various sorts of Deer, and for Circus, Menageries, and other shows:

18 Elephants, 40 Lions, 12 Tigers, Lots of Panthers, Leopards, and Jaguars.

And hundreds of other animals of various kinds are always on view in my Thierpark at Stellingen.

For particulars apply to above address.

LIVE STOCK NOVELTIES.

Following animals for sale, all at reasonable prices: 3 fine Armadilloes, 2 Indian Python Snakes, 1 adult pair White-tailed Gnus, 1 female Blessbok, 2 Springboks, 2 Cape Sea Lions, 10 Blackfooted Penguins, 3 male Senegal Baboons, 7 Macague Monkeys, 10 Demoiselle Cranes, 2 Sarus Cranes, 2 Sambhur Deer, 1 African Leopardess (very tame), 1 Cassowary, usual small birds and animals. Illustrated Price List sent on application.

JOHN HAMLYN,
221, St. George's-street, London Docks.

WILL the relatives or representatives of the late Clarence Burnette kindly communicate with

ARTHUR JEFFERSON,
Metropole Theatre, Glasgow?

"THE ERA" IN AMERICA.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS AND SUBSCRIBERS.

LOW'S STEAMSHIP AGENCY.
1,123 BROADWAY,
Corner TWENTY-FIFTH-STREET.
Choice Berths on all Steamers at Lowest Rates.
Receiving Mail, Storing, Forwarding Baggage.

SINGLE COPIES ON SALE.
SUBSCRIPTIONS RECEIVED.
ADVERTISEMENTS ACCEPTED

American Artistes visiting the Metropolis use The Era Offices as their Permanent London Address.

Apply or Address,
LOW'S STEAMSHIP AGENCY,
1,123, Broadway, corner Twenty-fifth-street, New York.

"THE ERA" IN SOUTH AFRICA.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS AND SUBSCRIBERS.

. THE .
CENTRAL NEWS AGENCY, LTD.

SINGLE COPIES ON SALE.
SUBSCRIPTIONS RECEIVED.
ADVERTISEMENTS ACCEPTED.

Apply or Address,
The CENTRAL NEWS AGENCY, Ltd.,
Cape Town, Johannesburg, Pretoria, Durban, Bloemfontein, &c., &c.

JUST OUT.

FAIRS, SHOWS, WAKES.

70,000 SHOWMEN OF THE UNITED KINGDOM

Required to send for

THE SHOWMEN'S YEAR - - - - BOOK

FOR

1906.

EDITED BY THE

Rev. T. HORNE.

ENTIRELY RE-ARRANGED, CORRECTED AND ENLARGED.

100 Pages.

PRICE - - ONE SHILLING.

PRINCIPAL CONTENTS.

British Shows and Showmen.
Constitution and Rules of the "Showmen's Guilds."
Lists of Fairs.
Local Feasts and Wakes.
Synopsis of Bye Laws, &c., &c.

INVALUABLE TO ALL WHO FOLLOW THE FAIR.

SOLD AT
THE ERA BUILDINGS,
5, TAVISTOCK-STREET,
LONDON, W.C.

RING UP, 1766 HOP.

SCENERY! SCENERY!

FRANCIS H. BULL,

ONE OF THE LARGEST CONTRACTORS IN LONDON,

Supplying the Leading Music Halls, Theatres, and Touring Companies.

Scenery Made and Painted at the Shortest Notice for Dramas, Musical Comedies, Sketches, Exhibitions, &c.

ALL WORK done under the PERSONAL SUPERVISION of the Artist, FRANCIS H. BULL, assisted by the most Experienced People of each Department.

ESTIMATES free on application to* FRANCIS H. BULL,
Head Office and Painting Rooms,
4, Lower Bland-st., Great Dover st., London, S.E.
Tel. 1766 Hop.

NOTICE.

FRANCIS H. BULL has now opened a NEW DEPARTMENT in THEATRICAL and MUSIC HALL ADVERTISING, and can supply Managers with BEAUTIFUL and ORIGINAL HAND-PAINTED ART POSTERS (Pictorial or Letterpress) for LONDON or PROVINCES.

THESE POSTERS (Transparent if necessary) CHANGED WEEKLY at a Reasonable Price BY CONTRACT.

They will attract more attention in one hour than the usual Printing would in one week.

This Department is under the direction of

FREDK. H. STRACHAN,

to whom all applications should be addressed.

289A, BRIXTON-RD., LONDON, S.W.

SCENERY, BAGGAGE, PROPERTIES, &c., WAREHOUSED AND REMOVED.

MUSIC HALL CARDS.

Alphabetically Arranged—Limited to Three Lines.

ABADAROFFS, FOUR, Great Comedy Act, "Prehistoric Peeps." Coms., 95, Stretford-road, Manchester.

ABDULLAH ARABS, THE TWELVE, the biggest Troupe on the Market. June 11, Edinburgh Empire.

ABEL and WELSH, The Filleted Comedians, "Got a Bit of String?" The Palace, Walthamstow.

ACHMED IBRAHIM'S Marvellous Troupe of Ten Bedouin Arabs, the greatest of all Tumblers and Acrobats, Theatre Royal, Dublin.

ALBANO TROUPE, Vacant June 11, 18, and 25. 39, Newcastle-road, Wavertree, Liverpool.

ALBERT, ARTHUR, Central Palace, North Shields. Permanent, 72, Brook-street, Kennington, S.E.

ALEXANDER'S, JOHN, Burlesque Company. Empire, Glasgow.

ALFONZO, Great Foot Equilibrist, On Tour, Gigantic Success. Thanks offers, Panto, 1906-7, still vac. 38, Balaclava-rd, Sheffield.

ALVANTEE, King of the Slanting Wire. Great Success at Eslham Gardens, Cheshire. 49, Rake-lane, Bromborough, Cheshire.

AMEDA, MDLLE., Lady Cortortionist and Foot Equilibrist Agent, TOM CLAXTON.

AMERICAINES, LES BELLES, Still playing the game. Usual success. This, A., Birkenhead. Next, E. Bristol. Agent, H. DAY.

AMERICAN HARTLEYS, THE, Comedy Artists. Hipoodrome, Mansfield, Notts.

ARIEL and ASTARTE, Lady and Gentleman, Gymnastic Pot-pourri Act Monday, Palace, W. Hartlepool.

ARIZONA TROUPE, Acrobatic Tumblers, Jugglers, and Japanese Top Spinners. Hippodrome, Wigan.

ASHCROFT, W. J., the Solid Man, with J. W. Morton, in Irish and American Comedy. Care of TOM SHAW and Co.

ASHDOWN, PERCY, 1, Holland-st., Brixton, S.W., Author-Composer Hamilton Hill's "Mignon," published by F., D., and H.

ASHLEY, BROS. "Next, Please." Grand, Hanley; 11th, Empire, Burnley. FORTUNE and GRANVILLE and G. BARCLAY.

ASTLEY BROS., Comedians. Sole Proprietors, Comedy Cadets, Fleetwood.

ASTLEY'S AMERICAN CIRCUS, At Liberty June 11—18. Wire, Palace, Lincoln.

ATHLONES, THE, Address, 234, Oliver-street, Birkenhead.

ATLAS, the Beautiful MISS VULCANA, and the SISTERS ATLAS, "The Society Athletes. 8.30, London Pavilion.

AUSTIN, RUMBO, Vacant Monday next. 3, Brixton-road, London, S.W.

BADDOW, Ventriloquist, Clement's Entertainers. The Lawn, Skegness.

BANCROFT, HARRY, Usual Success, Bow. Monday next, Sadler's Wells.

BANDONI, Original Concertina King and One-Man Band. Monday, Palace, Bradford. Dr. Bodie's Co.

BARCLAY, GEORGE, and CO., Variety Agent. Telephone, 84 Streatham. 221, Brixton-hill, London, S.W.

BARRETT and KNOWLES. "Are we Down-hearted? No." Theatre Royal, Halifax; or TOM SHAW.

BARTHOLOMEW SISTERS, (Violet and Daisy.) The Ideal Boy and Girl. June 11, Albert Hall, Southport.

BARTLETT, ROSIE, Next, Hippodrome, Colchester.

BASS and GUINNESS, Comedians. Only Vac. till March, 1907, June 18, 25, Aug. 6, 13. Panto. Settled. Monday, Circus, Bury.

BAWN'S AGENCY, 145, Balham Hill, London, S.W. 'Phone, 1173 Battersea. Tels., "Orderless, London."

BAYNE and HOPE (RONALD and EVELYN), in "An Emperor's Divorce," June 11, City Varieties, Leeds. June 18, Vacant.

BAZLEY, SYD, the Peculiar Comedian. Big Success, Gaiety, Birmingham. Mon., Al Fresco, Pavilion, Bilston.

BEATRICE, SISTERS, Duettists and Dancers, are at Liberty, Monday, and 18th, Hall closing. 35, Florence-st, Islington.

BELL, CHARLES H., is still making a big success as the Boy in "Moving In." Next week, Colosseum, Oldham.

BELLONINI, WALTER, On Tour. C/o "The Era" Office.

BELROSE, GEO., and MAUD DE VELIN, Basso and Soprano. Speciality Duettists and Soloists. Palace, Aberdeen.

BENET, MR HARRY, Proprietor Alhambra, Sandgate. Artists communicate FRED DURHAM'S Agency.

BENSON, BESSIE, In a Refined Singing and Dancing Act. Next week, Palace, Northampton.

BENT, HARRY, the Best of Mimics; also CARLOTTA LUNN. This week, Palace Theatre, Aberdeen. Next, Palace, Dundee.

BENTLEY'S VARIETY AGENCY, 169, Stamford-street, London, S.E. Telegrams, "Yeltneb, London." 'Phone, 12705 Central.

BERNARD, GEO., the "Nut." Thanks friends for congratulatory wires and letters. The Den, Teignmouth. Coms., Pendennis Hotel.

BIOSCOPE, BENDON'S, Always Up to Date. For Terms apply 301, Cathcart-road, Glasgow.

BLANCHE and DIACOFF. This Week, Chief Attraction, Lease's Park, Newcastle. Macnaghten London Circuit, June 25.

BLISS and BLISS. Address, King Alfred Hotel, Walney, Barrow-in-Furness.

BLYTHE, MARIE. The Popular Contralto, June 11, Sadler's Wells. Agents, S. M., HYMAN, LTD.

BODEY BROS., Comedy Triple Bar Act. Lib. June 25, on. 10, Fillwood-road, Fishponds, Bristol.

BOHEMIANS, THE (WILL and MADGE), Instrumentalists and Comedy Artists. This, London; next, T. R., Tyldesley.

BONANZAS, Acrobats, &c.; also ZANO BROS., Comedy Triple Bars. This, Saltburn Gala. Next, King's, Longsight.

BORELLI, SIGNOR and MADAME, Empire, Hull. Agents, T. SHAW and Co.

BOSTOCK, N. C., and NELLIE BLLIENE, Success Unprecedented at the Oxford, Middlesbro'. 10, Silver-st., Bloomsbury, W.C.

BOSWELL, A. P., an Uncommon Turn.—Era, June 2. This, Tivoli, Manchester. Next, Hippodrome, Great Yarmouth.

BOULTONS, THE, and MDLLE. BARTENELLI. Palace, Portsmouth. Have several dates vacant. 22, St. Mary's-sq., Gloucester.

BOYLE, MARCUS, My Bonny Boy. Permanent, 39, Hedon-road, Hull.

BRADLEYS, Cyclists, MINT & MART, Paper Manipulators. Theatre, Colne; next, T., Barnsley. Agent, TYSOE SMITH. Liberty July 2.

BRAY, LOTTIE, New Dresses, New Songs. Royal Albert, Canning Town.

BRENTON, SISTERS, Duettists and Expert Dancers. Usual success, Empire, Rochdale. June 11, T. R., Darlington.

BREWSTERS, THE, Circo de Casino, Buenos Aires, Usual Success, Re-engaged Two Months Longer.

BROOKE, DAINTY SISTERS (WINNIE and MABEL). This week, Clough Hall; next, Tivoli, Manchester. Agent, E. STEBBINGS.

BROOKLANDS, THE (ETHEL and BELLA), This, Tivoli, Dublin; June 11, Hippodrome, Liverpool. Panto. Settled.

BROOKS, GEORGE H., Musical, Dramatic, and Variety Agent, 36, Shaftesbury-avenue, W.

BURTON'S AGENCY, Sheffield, Require Sensational Gala Acts all Lines, July, Aug. 6, onwards. Send Lithos, Memos, Terms.

BUXTON, FREDERICK, Proprietor, Pierrot Village, Douglas, I. of M. Artists and Specialities write in.

CADLE'S AGENCY, 105 and 106, Strand. Telephone No. 1975, Gerrard.

CAINE, ANDIE, Sylvan Villa, Filey, Yorkshire. Until October.

CALVERTO, Giffnock, Glasgow. First-Class Attractions. Communications Wires, Calverto, Glasgow. 'Phone, 26 Clarkston.

CAMBO, the Musical Monkey. &c. Big hit, Hippodrome, Paisley. Monday, Baxter Park Pierrots, Dundee. Vacant June 18.

CAMERON, LOUDOUN, the Celebrated Conjurer, Vac. July 9, 16, Aug. 6. June 11, Pier, Southport.

CARDLE, CHARLES, Principal Baritone, "Comets" Co. Mon., Pier, Skegness. B. H. DELMAR, 152A, Oxford-road, Manchester.

CARL and CARR (MAX and HARRY), the Refined Comedians and Dancers, with H. Marvello's "Geisha" Co., Portobello, N.B.

CARLTON, HENRY, the Comedian, in his latest novelty, "The Window Cleaner." Empire, York. Always original.

CARMEN, HARRY, and DAISY LANE, Granville, Walham Green. Panto. Settled with Samuel James, Esq., London.

CARR and ROSE, the Singing Duo. Big Success of new Song Scena, entitled "Winning £500," by C. Deane. E., Portsmouth.

CEE-MEE TROUPE, London. R. WARNER AND Co. A few Vacant Dates this Year.

CELLOS, THE TWO, Enormous Success this week at the Flora Varieties, Amsterdam. 5 Curtains nightly. Marvellous. Tynemouth.

CHARD'S DOG CIRCUS, Theatre, Pontypool. Vacant Monday. Wire. A Reliable Draw.

CHARNLEYS, THE (ANNIE & EDIE), Clever and Dainty Duettists and Dancers, Monday, Return, Empire, Portsmouth.

CHESTER & LEE'S MARIONETTES, Monday next, Al Fresco Pavilion, Bilston.

CHESTER'S AGENCY, LIMITED, 13, Oxford-street, Manchester. 'Phone 08904. Wires, "Amusements, Manchester."

CHEVALIER, MISS FLO, Vocalist and Comedienne. Disengaged for Pantomime, Monday, Grand, Bolton.

CHIRGWIN, London Nightly. London Nightly.

CLEMENT TRIO, Refined Comedy Stage-Flying Trapeze Act. Address, Clement Trio, Hollydene, Hall Green, near Birmingham.

CLEMENTS, VENIE, in successful scena, "A Trial Trip," Palace, Hull. Next, Empire, Leeds.

CLIFFORD, CHARLES, C.D.D., the Renowned Harpist and Humorist, on Tour. 15, Priory-gardens, Highgate, London, N.

COBORN, CHARLES. Address, 193, Tulse Hill, S.W.

COLLINS, GEO., the Quaint Comedian. Barnard's, Woolwich, Barnard's, Greenwich. GEO. BARCLAY and Co.

CONLIN, HARRY, and ROSIE COLEMAN, 18, Walcot-gardens, Kennington.

COOKE, STEVE, Burlesque Comedian. Vacant Panto. Pier Pavilion, Southend-on-Sea.

COOLVILLES, THE (NANCY and EDIE), Big Success, Hip., Stockton. Next, Empire, York.

CORA, SISTERS, Hippo., Ipswich. in their latest Successes, "Sweethearts" and "The Lady Soldier Band," by Papa Bates.

CORELLIES, TWO, In Burlesque Scene. This Week, Richmond Theatre.

CORINA, CORA, the Beautiful Anglo-Spanish Singer and Dancer, 7th week, Johannesburg. HIGHAM, 9, York-rd., London, S.E.

CORNISH, WILL, in his Unique Musical Bell Act. This week, Empire, Holloway; next, Empire, New Cross.

COSTELLO, BROS., Knockabout Comedians, Still on Tour, Add., care of "The Era."

COTTERELL, SID, and CO., in the Great Success, "The Substitute." P., Bristol. Next, Sidney House, Belgrave-ter., Stockwell, S.W.

COUNSELL and MILLS, Musical Playlets. Pier, Penarth; Monday, Euston.

COURTNEY FAMILY, Complimented by management. This Middlesex. Next Hounslow. Coms., Mrs. Paul Courtney en route.

CRAGGS, THE, in New Act, "Billy." This, T. R., Leigh; next, Empire, Liverpool.

CRAIG, ROZE, and CRAIG, A Trio of the World's Leading Athletes. Care of "The Era."

CRESSER, MISS ADA, Staley's Transformation Co., London Hippodrome.

MR. FRANK WEATHERSBY,
Theatrical Agency, 3, Bedford-street, Strand, 'Phone, 3781 Cen. Tel., "Frivolous, London."

MR. WYN WEAVER.
Permanent Address,
10, King-street, W.C.

MR. CHARLES WEIR,
Disengaged.
Letters, 19, Ossington-street, W.

MR. & MRS. ALFRED WELLESLEY
(Miss Beatrice Webb), Disengaged shortly. To-day, King's, Glasgow. 18th, Lyceum, Edinboro'.

MR. JAMES J. WELCH, at Liberty. Bus., Acting, Parts, A.S.-M., or Advance. Sulhamstead, near Reading.

MR. C. A. WHITE,
Character Comedian, Disengaged.
Address, Park House, Harewood-rd., Merton, S.W.

MR. WILL WHITE, F.O.S.,
Touring "The New World."
Royal, Ashton. Next, Queen's, Farnworth.

MR. HERBERT WILLIAMS,
Six Brothers Luck Co.
The Oxford, W.

MR. LEONARD WILLIAMS,
Juv. Lead, Disengaged. To-day, T. R., South Shields; Monday, The Blorenge, Taunton, or A.A.

MR. and MRS. F. WILLOUGHBY,
Disengaged, Lead, Character, Heavy, or Juvenile Bus. 25, Anhalt-rd., Battersea Park, S.W.

MR. CHARLES WINDERMERE,
Producing "Where is William?"
June 21, Theatre Royal, Worthing.

MR. DICK WINSLOW, Manager,
"Two Little Vagabonds" Co.
All arrangements complete for Autumn.

MR. A. WOOD.
Address,
59, St. Mary's-road, Peckham, S.E.

MR. and MRS. GRAHAM WOODS
(Miss Marie Robson), Offers Invited.
Address, 1a Kender-street, New Cross, S.E.

MR. FREDERICK WRIGHT, Sen.,
At Liberty until Autumn.
Address, 67, Oxford-road, Gunnersbury, W.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MASTER ROY LORRAINE,
AMY LORRAINE, Comedy, Char. Disengaged now and autumn. 54, Gurney-street, S.E.

LITTLE TINA, Only Child Monologuist on the Halls. June 25, Hippo., St. Helens. Panto. settled.

APPLICATIONS FOR POSITIONS on the FRONT PAGE of "The Era" should be addressed to the PUBLISHER.

AUTUMN TOURS.

WE ARE NOW VERY BUSY CLEANING DRESSES FOR AUTUMN TOURS, but have plenty of room, and, like Oliver Twist, WE ASK FOR MORE.

We are also very busy Cleaning and Renovating Tableaux Curtains and Draperies from London and Country Theatres and Music Halls.

We still hold the field as Cleaners and Dyers to the Theatrical and Music Hall Professions. This fact is clearly proved by the unsolicited testimonials we are continually receiving.

Professional work takes precedence over all other orders.

By Special Arrangement
TOURING MANAGERS
can have their Wardrobes Cleaned between Show, when in or near London.

Delays are Dangerous
Start the approaching Autumn Tours with Dresses Looking Spick and Span.

CHEMICAL CLEANING & DYEING COMPANY,
ORIGINAL
THEATRICAL CLEANERS, AND DYERS.

'PHONE TO
T. HARRIS
To Come and See You Anywhere.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONIALS:

Old Coastguards' Cottages, Littlehampton, June 9, 1906.

Dear Mr. Harris,
Delighted with the dresses; you have cleaned them beautifully. I am sending you two more to clean for me this week.
Faithfully yours,
ROSIE SYLVESTER.

Theatre Royal, Smethwick, June 11, 1906.

Mrs. Dick Winslow has received goods safely, and is very pleased with the same.

6, ARGYLL ST., REGENT ST., W.
Telegraphic Address, "CLEANING, LONDON."
'Phone, THREE-NINE-TWO-THREE GERRARD

THE ERA ANNUAL, 1906.
"The Era" Annual (1s.) is, of course, issued by our premier theatrical journal, which, under the literary supervision of Mr. T. P. O'Connor, has recently improved an already strong position. The Annual is better than ever, and includes, besides details of all plays produced in London, the provinces, Paris, and Berlin, lists of all theatres and music halls in the United Kingdom, &c., many stories and sketches by and portraits of actors and actresses. It is a remarkable shillingsworth; useful and interesting to all playgoers and members of the profession alike.—Sunday Sun, Jan. 21, '06.

THE ERA ANNUAL, 1906.
In "The Era" Annual (5, Tavistock-street, Strand, 1s.), Miss Vesta Tilley breaks into verse, and a score or more of her comrades of "the boards" try their hands at fiction. The result is entertaining, and as there is added a list of new plays and revivals during the past year, with other information, the annual is worth a place on the playgoer's bookshelves.—The Yorkshire Post, Jan 21, 1906.

FIFTY YEARS OF THE DRAMA.

Kind expressions from Authors and Managers.

SIR SQUIRE BANCROFT.
"I congratulate you on your 'Fifty Years of the Drama': the list must prove both interesting and useful to lovers of and workers for the stage."

MR. GEORGE EDWARDES.
"I think the new feature of The Era is most interesting and useful. A list of plays produced from 1850 to 1900 will certainly be of great service to a very large number of your readers."

MR. EDWARD TERRY.
"An admirable idea, and will prove a most valuable record."

MR. FRANK CURZON.
"Your list, I think, will be most useful for reference."

MRS. W. K. CLIFFORD.
"I think the list will be immensely useful."

MR. SYDNEY GRUNDY.
"Your list will be exceedingly useful. But, of course, there is no reason why old titles should not be used again. Indeed, some day we shall have to go back to them. Some of our modern titles, when they are not mere proper names with an adjective attached, display the desperation of the dramatist in too ludicrous a light. Such a title as 'The Importance of Being Earnest' amounts to a misdemeanour."

MR. ARTHUR W. PINERO.
"The list of plays produced during the last half-century is a most valuable record. The thanks of those interested in the theatre are due to The Era for this and many other enterprises."

MR. ALFRED SUTRO.
"The list you are compiling will be of very great benefit, and I am looking forward to the time when it shall be complete, and obtainable in pamphlet form."

MR. JUSTIN HUNTLY McCARTHY.
"I have watched with the greatest interest the progress of your alphabetical list of the plays published during the last half of the nineteenth century. It is a most useful undertaking, and when it appears in volume form, it must prove of great value to all who are concerned with the drama."

MR. ISRAEL ZANGWILL.
"The list of plays will be very interesting and useful when published in complete form. The etiquette of the profession apparently still allows of novelists' titles being used by playwrights. Thus, The Master, which will appear in your list as a play by somebody else, is the name of a book of mine; while the new play, Noah's Ark, has the same title as a shorter story of mine."

MR. ARTHUR LAW.
"The publication in The Era of a list of plays produced during the fifty years, 1850-1900, is an excellent idea, and will be most useful to authors who may be in doubt as to their right to a certain title. When it is issued in book form I shall be very glad to possess a copy."

MR. ARTHUR BOURCHIER.
"Mr. Arthur Bourchier thinks the list very useful indeed."

MR. TOM GALLON.
"Your idea seems to me to be a most excellent one. Quite apart from the fact that there is always a difficulty in knowing what titles have been used, there very often arises the question of when and where a play was actually produced—a question difficult to be answered. Actors and authors should alike be grateful to The Era."

MR. LOUIS N. PARKER.
"I think your list of plays, produced between 1850 and 1900, will, like the other contents of your

MR. HAROLD MONTAGUE.
"I think the idea of printing a list of plays produced during the last fifty years an excellent one. It should be of great value to authors."

MR. ARTHUR SHIRLEY.
"The list of produced plays was not merely a happy thought, for the same idea has probably occurred to many, though until The Era carried it out no one took the pains to collect and publish such a truly valuable record.
"Managers, dramatists, as well as would-be authors, will henceforward have a long list of titles to refer to, and there will be neither reason nor excuse for encroaching on pre-existing copyright in play titles. What a lot of trouble it should save us all!"

MR. WALTER MELVILLE.
"I think it shows great enterprise on the part of your journal, and likely to prove most useful and at the same time interesting to the general profession."

MR. ARTHUR MORRISON.
"The list you are publishing will be a most valuable work of reference to everybody taking an interest in the stage, and I have no doubt that when it is published as a book you will find its success warrant you in issuing fresh editions from time to time, with the information brought to date in each case."

MR. J. J. DILLEY.
"The idea is an excellent one, and there can be no question at all of the usefulness of such a summary. Cousin Grace has not been included. This is a little piece from the French, played at a matinée performance at the Gaiety Theatre, Dec. 4, 1884."

MR. COSMO HAMILTON.
"I think that your new feature is an excellent and most useful one. A list of plays produced during fifty years is interesting not only to the playgoer, but essentially so to the manager and the playwright. They will only have to consult it to be sure that a title has not been used before."

MR. CHARLES H. E. BROOKFIELD.
"My attention has been called to your list of plays produced between 1850-1900. I have no doubt it will prove interesting and useful to many."

MR. F. FRANKFORT MOORE.
"The list of plays produced during the past fifty years, now appearing in The Era, will, I am certain, prove, when completed, extremely valuable to everyone associated with the drama in England. I am convinced—and I have had a considerable amount of experience in this direction—that it will be especially valued by all writers upon stage matters. The advantage of being able to refer at a moment's notice to the criticisms upon the production of various plays in various newspapers must be apparent to everyone. If such a list had been in existence some years ago, I would have been saved a vast amount of worry and vexation of spirit. The Era has once again proved itself appreciative of the conditions under which the best interests of the drama in England are maintained."

AMERICAN AMUSEMENTS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

NEW YORK, MAY 30.—The Student King, a comic opera in three acts, was recently produced by Mr. Henry W Savage at the Studebaker Theatre, Chicago. The book was written by Frederick Ranken and Stanislaus Stange, and the music was composed by Reginald De Koven. The King referred to in the title is chosen by the students of Prague, and is permitted by the King of Bohemia to rule for a day, while the latter, freed from the cares of state, plunges into the merrymaking. The real King and the King pro tem. fall in love with the same woman, who becomes confused through the masquerading of her two suitors in similar dominoes. But the real monarch soon discovers that she is in love with the student. The lady is a Tyrolean of noble birth, and the student turns out to be the King's own son, who was lost through a strange mischance during his infancy. The King is constantly attended by two advisers, one being grave and the other optimistic. The first act shows the exterior of the University at Prague, and opens with the election of the Student King. Three masqueraders appear before the curtain at the beginning of the second act, and after a brief interlude of pantomime the ball-room of the royal palace is disclosed, with the masked merrymakers in possession. The last act passes in the fest hall of the University, where drinking songs are introduced with good effect by an excellent male chorus. Mr. Raymond Hitchcock made a hit as Rudolph, King of Bohemia, and Mr. Henry Coote won approval in the title-rôle.

Mr. Henry Miller and Miss Margaret Anglin are appearing together at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, in a new comedy called Young Fernald, which has proved a decidedly interesting finale to the dramatic season in that city. The authors are Evelyn Greenleaf Sutherland and Beulah Marie Dix, and their play deals with the humorous love affair of David Lowne and Carey Fernald, an odd pair who meet at a Yorkshire farmhouse in late November. David is a writer and a sort of woman hater. He engages Carey Fernald as his secretary, supposing that the individual called "Young Fernald" is a man, and in course of time falls in love with her. The cast is as follows:—David Lowne, Mr. Henry Miller; Carey Fernald, Miss Margaret Anglin; Robert Lowne, Mr. Jack Standing; Lionel Lowne, Mr. Bertram Harrison; Bennett, Mr. Arthur R. Lawrence; Aunt Penelope, Mrs. Thomas Whiffen; Edith, Miss Lucille Watson.

Mr. E. H. Sothern and Miss Julia Marlowe are appearing at the Academy of Music in their Shakespearian répertoire, opening with Romeo and Juliet. The engagement is for four weeks at popular prices. For desirable seats at the Broadway theatres the prices are prohibitive to a large number of people, so it goes without saying that an opportunity of seeing these talented artists in the magnificent Shakespearian revivals in which they appeared at the Knickerbocker Theatre a few months ago is eagerly welcomed by the "masses."

An operatic company composed exclusively of coloured artists, and known as the Theodore Drury Grand Opera Company, is under engagement at the Fourteenth-street Theatre. This attraction is a unique novelty, and is treated as an important social function by the "high-toned" coloured people of this city. Aïda and Carmen are to be presented alternately during the week.

Glancing over the list of productions at the leading theatres, seven plays stand out in bold relief as the biggest successes of the season. They are J. M. Barrie's Peter Pan, Charles Klein's The Lion and the Mouse, David Belasco's The Girl of the Golden West, Edwin Milton Royle's The Squaw Man, George Bernard Shaw's Man and Superman, Edward Peple's The Prince Chap, and Alfred Sutro's The Walls of Jericho. Peter Pan, still running at the Empire Theatre, has undoubtedly afforded the greatest enjoyment to the greatest number. It stands by itself as the season's one pure example of poetic imagination, and Miss Maude Adams's Peter will always be one of the most delightful recollections of the American stage. Hardly less popular has been The Lion and the Mouse, which, closely following his other great success, The Music Master, has given Mr. Charles Klein distinction as the most successful native dramatist of the year. Of the seven plays above mentioned, three are of British origin. Two others from the same source that won favour with American audiences are R. C. Carton's Mr. Hopkinson, in which Mr. Dallas Welford, a new-comer, scored a personal success of the first magnitude, and The Fascinating Mr. Vanderveldt, by Alfred Sutro, mention of which recalls the grace and charm of Miss Ellis Jeffreys. Another play by J. M. Barrie, Alice Sit-by-the-Fire, was not the success here that it was in London, Miss Ethel Barrymore being far too youthful for the part of a middle-aged woman. Mr. Arnold Daly, who was instrumental in bringing the plays of Bernard Shaw into popularity in New York, produced Mrs. Warren's Profession and John Bull's Other Island, both of which were failures, and revived Arms and the Man, originally produced here by Mr. Richard Mansfield. Miss Olga Nethersole fulfilled an engagement of six weeks at the Herald-square Theatre during the winter, appearing for the first time in The Labyrinth, and also in répertoire. Madame Sarah Bernhardt came to the Lyric Theatre for a fortnight, and was seen in nine plays, all of which except The Sorceress, had been previously presented in this city.

Mr. Richard Mansfield's annual engagement in the metropolis was fulfilled at the New Amsterdam Theatre, and was attended with great success. Besides appearing in his familiar répertoire, Mr. Mansfield produced for the first time in English Schiller's tragedy, Don Carlos, and was seen in a revival of The Scarlet Letter. Miss Julia Marlowe and Mr. Edward H. Sothern prospered exceedingly in their Shakespearian revivals at the Knickerbocker Theatre, and Mr. Robert Mantell came to the front again during his engagement at the Garden Theatre, renewing the prestige he won many years ago in the tragedies of Shakespeare.

The demand for legitimate comic opera seems to be as strong as ever, and three good examples of this form of entertainment enjoyed the favour they deserved. These were Happyland, a diverting piece of nonsense by the late Frederick Ranken, with delightful music by Reginald De Koven, which brought Mr. De Wolf Hopper back to his old prominence, and was played at three different theatres during the season; Mlle. Modiste, by Blossom and Herbert, in which Miss Fritzi Scheff appeared with uninterrupted success for a long period at the Knickerbocker Theatre; and Sousa's The Free Lance, which won unanimous approval at the New Amsterdam Theatre. The musical comedies that hit the mark were The Catch of the Season, in which Miss Edna May easily maintained her popularity at Daly's Theatre; The Vanderbilt Cup, which had a long run at the Broadway Theatre; The Pearl and the Pumpkin, produced at the same house at the beginning of the season; The Social Whirl, which has settled at the Casino for the summer; Mexicana and The Babes and the Baron, both presented at the Lyric Theatre; and Twiddle-Twaddle, a musical hodge-podge, which has run through the entire season at Weber's Music Hall.

MR. JOHN GAFFNEY, the popular manager of the Liverpool Shakespeare Theatre, took his eighteenth annual benefit on Thursday evening, when a large audience assembled to enjoy an admirable programme, to which all the principal variety artists engaged in the city contributed. The farce My Lord in Livery, by Theyre Smith, presented by a number of amateurs, was greatly enjoyed.

AMUSEMENTS IN AUSTRALIA.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

SYDNEY, MAY 8.—The Prodigal Son, so long expected, was staged by Mr. Bland Holt on the 5th at the Theatre Royal. The Icelandic scenery has been capitally painted by Mr. John Brunton, and that of the Riviera is equally good. Magnus Stephenson is powerfully played by Mr. Walter Baker; and Oscar, as acted by Mr. Albert Norman, presents a fine contrast. Miss Maggie Knight again wooed public favour, this time as the Governor's gentle wife. Miss Frances Ross is Thora, full of tender concern; and Miss Harrie Ireland portrays faithfully the selfish Helga; and Mrs. Bland Holt has a congenial task in depicting the spinster, Margaret Nielsen; and Miss Florrie Kelly, Mr. Arthur Styan, and Mr. Charles Brown (an Ibsen-like Nielsen) are in the cast. Mr. Bland Holt contented himself with directing the excellent performance.

"THE FATAL WEDDING" is doing enormous business at the Criterion, the chief attraction being the fine acting of Miss Maisie Posner as Jessie. It is certainly the best child acting we have seen here, and the house is full every night. The season closes on the 11th.

THE Willoughby-Ward combination, which includes Miss Grace Palotta, Mr. Hugh J. Ward, and Mr. George Willoughby, under the direction of Mr. Edwin Geach, will open at the Criterion on the 12th in The Man from Mexico.

"A MOORISH MAID" has given place to The Skirt Dancer at the Palace. Bill Adams will follow.

MR. EDWARD LAURI, Miss May Beatty, Miss May Garstang, and Mr. Charles McNaughton will leave for England on the 26th.

THE Tivoli bill now includes the Carnos, and at a banquet given to Mr. J. C. Leete the other night, Mr. Harry Rickards announced his early departure for London to secure the best of English and Continental talent to keep his many Australian ventures going.

CRICKET.

THEATRE ROYAL C.C. v. "A GIRL'S CROSS ROADS" C.C.
Played at West Ham Park, May 31, a close game being won by the Theatre Royal by five runs. Scores:—
T.R.C.C.—J. Groom, b Darien, 0; S. Fredericks (capt.), b Edlin, 3; Stimson, b Darien, 1; H. Merritt, c Planner b Darien, 23; R. Day, b Darien, 15; W. Aldous, b Robertson, 3; W. Fredericks, b Darien, 3; W. Burrell, b Robertson, 12; Jackson, not out, 1; W. Ryder, lbw b Robertson, 0; J. Corbett, c Planner b Robertson, 2; extras, 13; total, 76.
G.C.R.C.C.—Planner, c Day b Merritt, 28; Blaker, b Merritt, 0; Darien, b Merritt, 20; Tulby Edlin, lbw b Merritt, 3; Robertson (capt.), b Merritt, 2; Barnes, b Stimson, 2; Williams, b Merritt, 1; Hedger, b Groom, 1; Tenaur, b Merritt, 3,; Johnson, run out, 4; Glen, not out, 2; extras, 5; total, 71.

BRISTOL X.L.C.R. AND HARRY HARE'S ORCHESTRAL BAND ATHLETIC CLUBS V. MUSIC HALLS.
Played on Clifton Downs, May 26. Fred B. Nicholls and Harry Belding bowled well for their respective sides. Scores:—
Bristol X.L.C.R. and Harry Hare's Orchestral Band Athletic Clubs:—Alf Mattock, b Fred B. Nicholls, 0; Harry Hare (captain), b Fred B. Nicholls, 0; Jack Aubrey, b Fred B. Nicholls, 17; Harry Belding, b Fred B. Nicholls, 5; Archie Hamlin, b Dan O'Connor, 0; Harry Clements, b Fred B. Nicholls, 0; Ern Belding, c and b Fred B. Nicholls, 3; Jack Lewis, b Dan O'Connor, 7; Walter J. Horton, run out, 2; Harry Slade, b Fred B. Nicholls, 0; Arthur E. Bailey, not out, 1; extras, 7. Total, 42.
Music Halls C.C.:—Bob Cullen, b Harry Hare, 4; Patrick Reardon, b Harry Belding, 1; Tom Neagle (captain), b Harry Belding, 0; Will Meadows, b Harry Hare, 1; Harry C. Douglas, b Harry Belding, 0; Dan O'Connor, b Harry Hare, 22; Fred B. Nicholls, b Harry Belding, 15; Will Hinder, run out, 0; Jack Pyley (late of St. Michael's 2nd C.C.), b Harry Belding, 28; Joe Lacey, c Jack Lewis, b Harry Hare, 3; Frank Hansford, not out, 0; extras, 11. Total, 85.

BRISTOL X.L.C.R. AND HARRY HARE'S ORCHESTRAL BAND ATHLETIC CLUBS V. JACK LEONARD'S ELEVEN.
Played near Bristol on Whit. Monday, June 4. In the evening an enjoyable concert and dance was arranged, the following contributing songs, &c.:—Miss Grace Leonard, Miss Minnie Leonard, Miss Ethel Bowman, (banjo solos) Archie Hamlin, (violin solos) Leonard Hamlin, (harp solos) Harry Edwards, (cornet solos) Percy Hewlett, (piccolo and flute solos) Alf. Mattock, ('cello solos) Harry Hare, (piano solos), Jack Lewis, Harry Belding, Ted Palmer, Syd. Carter, Jack Leonard, Albert Lucas, Frank Thorne. Harry Hare presided at the piano. The Orchestral Band played selections from The Catch of the Season (Haines and Baker), Plantation Songs (Chambers), "Pomp and Circumstance" (Elgar), The Congress of Nations (Jacobi), H.M.S. Pinafore (Sullivan), descriptive piece, "A Motor Ride" (Bidgood), The Yeoman of the Guard (Sullivan), The White Chrysanthemum (Talbot), "Cake Walk Lancers" (Kerry Mills); also dance music. In the match the scores were:—Bristol X.L.C.R. and Harry Hare's Orchestral Band Athletic Clubs, 41; Jack Leonard's Eleven, 93. Jack Leonard batted and bowled well for his side.

BRISTOL X.L.C.R. AND MUSIC HALLS ATHLETIC CLUBS V. HARRY HARE'S ORCHESTRAL BAND C.C.
Played on Clifton Downs, Saturday, June 2. Scores:—Bristol X.L.C.R. and Music Halls, 67; Harry Hare's Orchestral Band Athletic Club, 35. Dan O'Connor (Music Halls C.C.) bowled well.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL LAW.

BY A. A. STRONG, LL.B. (LOND.), SOLICITOR

Your book will, I am sure, be a valuable aid to all managers and actors.—SIR HENRY IRVING.

Mr. Strong states the whole case very clearly.—Illustrated London News.

Should be found very useful.—Pelican.

Should prove perfectly invaluable.—Weekly Sun.

Contains in a handy compass and in a clear style the law relating to theatres and music halls. The book is well up to date.—Law Times.

Furnishes useful information.—Daily News.

The work succeeds in making plain the thorny legal path that every manager and artist must tread, and by a timely consultation of its pages they may avoid much misapprehension and trouble.—Star.

Mr. A. A. Strong has compiled an exceedingly useful volume dealing carefully, intelligently, and fully with the law bearing upon things theatrical. As a book of reference this excellent digest will be found invaluable.—The Era.

FEMININE headgear is manifesting itself unpleasantly in other places besides the auditorium of the theatre, and the question of ladies wearing large hats during the rehearsal for the Handel Festival and at the festival itself is one which is assuming quite alarming proportions. The complaints are not coming from the male sex, but from ladies. Mr. J. H. Cozens, the manager of the Crystal Palace, is receiving numerous letters on this subject. One lady, an alto, writes complaining that she finds it very difficult to see Dr. Cowen's bâton at the rehearsals owing to the large hats of those in front. At the first rehearsal it was impossible for her to see him at all. She adds, "Will you kindly bring this to our conductor's notice, and perhaps a word from him would obviate this difficulty at the Handel Festival?"

STAGE STAFF GOSSIP.

THE music hall sports will take place on Thursday, July 12th, on the Stamford Bridge Sports Grounds. If the committee follow the practice of previous years, the employés of the music halls will have an opportunity of competing in a number of the events. The office of the committee is at 18, Adam-street, Strand. Mr. Horace Marriott, the secretary, will no doubt supply any information desired.

THERE is a movement on foot among the stage staff at the Alhambra Theatre to show their appreciation of Mr. Charles Wilson, the stage director, who will shortly leave England for America. There are few, if any, stage managers as popular with their staff as is Mr. Wilson, or whose sense of justice is more fully trusted, and it is much to be regretted that he is leaving the Alhambra.

THEATRICAL (LONDON) SPORTS ACCOUNTS.

RECEIPTS TO DATE.

Donations to the Prize Fund	£57 12 0
Entry fees (less amount refunded)	14 9 0
Sale of tickets (less amount due)	42 7 6
Gate receipts and transfers	20 2 6
Sale of programmes	6 11 2
Discounts and sundries receipts	22 1 6
	£163 3 8

PAYMENTS.

Prizes purchased	72 18 0
Hire of ground	10 10 0
Groundsmen, check takers, police	8 6 6
Printing	23 7 6
Press advertisements	4 17 6
Boardmen and bill posting	2 19 0
Handicapper and referee	3 13 0
Refreshments on ground	6 2 8
Band	6 15 0
Postage, stationery, bill distributing, clerical assistance, numbers, badges, flags, etc.	12 5 6
	£151 14 8
Balance (subject to addition)	11 9 0
	£163 3 8

A NUMBER of ticket sellers have not yet sent in their returns, and it is probable the balance will exceed £15—a very small reward for the exertions made. A comparison with last year's accounts shows that the income for 1906 exceeds that of 1905 by some £13, and the expenditure is, in the gross, £1 7s. larger this year than last. The various items are much the same, the hire of the ground being £2 2s. in excess of the charge made last year. It will be seen that although the 6d. admission on the day may be credited with the increase in the receipts, it undoubtedly caused a falling off in the sum total of the tickets sold previous to the event.

THAT the Sports as an athletic meeting are a success goes without saying, and if proof were needed it is supplied in a letter from that veteran sportsman, Mr. Robert Watson, who acted as the referee. He writes: "I consider the Sports were most excellently managed, and in that respect, at least, a pattern to any first-class athletic meeting. I have not seen any newspaper report, but feel sure the good word given is a compliment richly deserved. In my experience I have never worked with a more conscientious, competent, and kindly set of officials, whose sole aim and ambition are to labour harmoniously, one with the other. You deserve to be better appreciated by the public, and as time passes all your best wishes will be realised."

THE clerks of the course were more successful this year in keeping the track clear. It is obviously a difficult and, sometimes, an unpleasant task; but it is due to the public that they should have no ground of complaint on the score of obstruction of view by competitors or unofficial persons. Unfortunately, some of the worst offenders in this respect are competitors, than whom none ought to be more considerate of the spectators, as without public support these Sports cannot be continued. There is also an unfortunate impression abroad that an attempt was made by two of the most likely winners of one race to square it to their mutual advantage. The result, as it happened, was not exactly what they expected, but the motive was obvious, and it deserves the consideration of the committee. Such tactics ought to be crushed with a firm hand, and those who adopt them barred from future meetings.

"THE ERA"
EARLY DELIVERY.

SPECIAL NEWSPAPER EXPRESS SERVICES now running on the London and North-Western, Great Northern, Midland, and Great Central Railways, carry The Era to the following important cities and towns at the times named. Newsvendors and subscribers obtain their papers at a much earlier hour than was previously possible.

	a.m.
RUGBY	4.30
COVENTRY	4.54
BIRMINGHAM	5.20
CREWE	6. 5
MANCHESTER	6.50
LIVERPOOL	7. 0
CHESTER	9. 3
DONCASTER	6.10
YORK	7. 0
HULL	8.20
DARLINGTON	8.58
SCARBOROUGH	10. 5
NEWCASTLE	10.10
LEEDS (Central)	6.58
HUDDERSFIELD	7.37
BRADFORD (Exchange)	7.47
HARROGATE	7.50
HALIFAX	8.17
BURNLEY	9.28
LEICESTER	4 36
NOTTINGHAM	5.10
DERBY	5.35
SHEFFIELD	6. 6

THEATRICAL PATENTS.

The following abridged description is specially drawn for the "Era" by Messrs. Hughes and Young, Patent Agents, 55-56, Chancery-lane, London, W.C., who will give advice and assistance free to our readers on all patent matters.

727. Theatrical appliances. Patentee, W. E. Smith, Field House, Marlow, Buckinghamshire. This invention relates to drop scene curtains and the like which are detachably suspended by means of sectors attached to tong-like devices, and forming a complete roller with one or more loose sectors. The curtains or the like are passed round the loose sectors and the double thickness gripped between the parts, the lower ends of the tongs are fastened together by a bolt engaging forked lugs, or by other means, and the upper ends are held together by the suspension cord or by right and left handed screws, or by an oval ring engaging notches on the tongs or by a pivoted hook.

PROVINCIAL THEATRICALS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.)

ABERDEEN.—HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. C. Cavanah, C.A.—A number of Irish plays are being presented here by the National Theatre Company this week. On Monday the programme included four pieces, A Pot of Broth, Riders to the Sea, The Building Fund, and Spreading the News. The motif of the first is decidedly humorous; that of the second is somewhat tragic; the third is also a comedietta, while the dénouement of the fourth is arranged with a considerable amount of ingenuity. Mr. W. G. Fay, who appeared in all the plays on Monday, is a strong and reliable principal, with a quiet but effective style of acting, which is, perhaps, shown best in his representation of Shan Grogan in The Building Fund. Miss Sara Allgood plays very naturally and impressively, her Mrs. Grogan in particular being keenly appreciated. All the minor parts are capably filled. Mr. Arthur Darley, a highly accomplished musician, plays various selections of Irish music on the violin at the beginning of each of the pieces.

PALACE THEATRE.—Lessees, Messrs. Rosen and Bliss; Manager, Mr. Walter Gilbert.—The most notable turn this week is undoubtedly supplied by Mr. Charles Prinz and his troupe of performing lions. Among the other artists are the Labakous, who cleverly combine acrobatism with comedy; Mr. Jack Mills, the well-known Scotch comedian; Mr. Charles Williams, a smart coon comedian; Mr. George Belrose and Miss Maud de Velin, successful duettists and soloists; the vivacious Sisters Barrie, vocalists and dancers; Beaufort, a resourceful contortionist, and Miss Myra Norman, a talented singer.

CATLIN'S ROYAL PIERROTS.—Manager, Mr. D. H. C. Lovell.—The entertainments given daily at the Bathing Station by this excellent company are being greatly appreciated and well patronised. Each of the artists is very clever and resourceful, and the arrangements of Mr. Lovell are in every way admirable.

ACCRINGTON. — HIPPODROME. — Proprietors, Messrs. Willmot, Potter, Vandy, and Weisker; Acting-Manager, Mr. L. Campkin.—The company here includes Ara, Zebra, and Vora in their latest novelty, Indian Pastimes; Idento Brothers give a clever jugging act; Bert and Dora are well received; and Arthur Croxon proves a big success; Bird and Arnold are entertaining; Elton and Elma should be complimented for their clever and amusing knockabout bar act; Dare and Mavern are good in the sketch, May and December; and the Bioscope completes an excellent bill.

ALDERSHOT.— THEATRE ROYAL. — Lessee and Manager, Mr. Clarence Sounes; Acting-Manager, Mr. G. Williams.—After an absence of some time, a return visit is being paid this week by Mr. Morice Prendergast's company in the drama A Woman of Pleasure, under the direction of Mr. Gilroy, who is supported by Misses Theodora Henries, Dolly Gilroy, Carlotta Blondin; Messrs. Jerrold Ord, H. T. Wood, Fred Norburn, J. Brandt, Fred Laws, A. Bradley, and Deane Cliffe. Several of the company were here before. The play is well staged.

ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE.—THEATRE ROYAL. — Sole Owner and Manager, Mr. Chas. Revill; Acting-Manager, Mr. Armstrong Fairbairn.—Mr. Will White's company is here with the drama of Western life, entitled The New World. The leading parts are well sustained by Mr. W. S. Stevenson, Mr. W. H. Burton, and Mr. Wallace Campbell, who, as Jack Hawley, has all the essentials of physique and manly presence for the part of the hero. Mr. Victor R. C. Moors as the old mineowner wins the favour of the audience. Miss Beatrice Moore as Jenny is fearless and bold, and a crack shot with the revolver; Miss Evelyn Robson and Miss Maud Leslie are good in minor female rôles. The humour of the piece is in the safe keeping of Mr. W. Hicks as a nigger-help, Mr. Oliver Rogers as a broken-down actor of melodrama, and Mr. Stanhope Roche, a vendor of pills. Mr. Will White makes the host of "Home, Sweet Home," a prominent figure in the drama.

THE EMPIRE HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. W. H. Broadhead and Sons; Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. Percy B. Broad head; Resident Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Leech.—The programme here this week includes Dou-bau, the mechanical talking head; Chas. Hulbert, a good ventriloquist; Martinengo, baritone and 'cello soloist; Harry Nelson, character comedian; the Three Seymours, clever equilibrists; Ionia and his human target; Paul De Lil, illusionist; the Three Royal Temples, operatic vocalists; the Marsumas, knockabouts; and the bioscope.

ATTERCLIFFE.—PALACE THEATRE OF VARIETIES. —Proprietor, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Lacy Lyne; Assistant-Manager, Mr. J. Gibbons.—A diversified programme is submitted here this week, headed by the Mohamed Troupe of Souasa Arabs, who give a marvellous exhibition of pyramid-building, gun-spinning, and tumbling. The Raymond Trio are responsible for a bright and pleasing musical act; Mr. James Lowrey, described as the "singing furnaceman," is possessed of a powerful baritone voice, which he uses to advantage; Mr. E. C. Clayton's pictures are highly interesting; the Sisters Hula are good, both as vocalists and dancers; a smart show is given by Linton, rope equilibrist; Cris is an amusing ventriloquist; and Mr. Stan Aubrey an eccentric and amusing comedian.

BEDFORD.—THE ROYAL COUNTY THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. E. Graham-Falcon; Acting-Manager, Mr. Walter R. Wilson.—This week the boards are occupied by Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Benson's Shakespearean company. On Monday evening The Taming of the Shrew was played. Mr. Benson was excellent as Petruchio; while the rôle of the Shew was admirably sustained by Mrs. Benson; Mr. Percy D. Owen met with success in the part of Baptiste; while Vincentio found a capable exponent in Mr. Philip Sanders; Mr. George Buchanan cleverly depicted the love-smitten Lucentio; Mr. George R. Weir gave a humorous portrayal of Grumio; Mr. Clarence Derwent and Mr. Cyril Keightley, as Tranio and Biondello respectively, left nothing to be desired; Miss Olive Notte was a charming Bianca. On the other nights of the week Julius Cæsar, Henry V., and Richard II. occupy the boards.

BELFAST.—PALACE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietors, Warden, Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. Fred W. Warden; General-Manager, Mr. J. de Frece; Resident-Manager, Mr. Geo. Harris.—The leading attraction here is provided by Mr. Arthur Rigby, a clever comedian, who produces, with every element of success, his matrimonial mixture, entitled The March of the Married Man, in which he is assisted by a capable little company. A big hit has been recorded by that droll comedian, Mr. W. J. Churchill, who is always welcome here, his funny character songs creating the utmost hilarity. A novel appearance is being made by Max Duffell, a marvellous contortionist, who plays musical instruments while assuming some difficult positions; and nothing but praise must be accorded Mr. Ernest Montefiore and company, who appear with great success in their sketch The Little Colonel. Also appearing are Mr. Frank Lawton, the famous whistling comedian; the Sisters Reno, acrobatic dancers; Les Rallis, in their unique acrobatic speciality, The Artist and His Monkey; and Miss Frances Manners, comedienne.

EMPIRE THEATRE OF VARIETIES, LTD.—General-Manager, Mr. Frank Allen; Acting-Manager, Mr. John A. Walker.—The Dumond Minstrels head the bill, and have been most successful with their musical act. Fun, fast and furious, reigns while the Albert and Edmund's Troupe occupy the stage with their exceedingly smart sketch A Trip to Boulogne; Miss Maud Mortimer, the charming actress, gains a big reception nightly; and the humorous character songs rendered by Mr. Geo. Brooks have afforded much enjoyment. Letine is a clever female impersonator; and the Four Olympian Stars delight all with their vocalism and neat dancing. Also here are Miss Lizzie Daniels, comedienne; and the Bioscope, in new Eastern pictures.

NEW ALHAMBRA THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—General-Manager, Mr. Henry T. Downs.—The new departure of a dramatic season at this theatre commenced on Monday, and was successfully inaugurated, both houses being crowded. Under the personal direction of Mr. M. Montgomery, jun., the sensational drama Her Wedding Day was presented by the Alhambra Dramatic Company. Mr. Hilliard Vox impersonated Harold Saxby most successfully; and the villainies of Weedon Kenyon were realistically portrayed by Mr. Herbert Cecil. Miss Nina Blake-Adams, a clever emotional actress, delighted all with her graceful and winning impersonation of Madge Conway; and a fine piece of character-acting was exhibited by Mr. Stephen E. Scanlan, as the convict Seth Mayson. Miss Beryl Ravenswood impersonated Dora naturally, and with much credit to herself; and Mr. Luke Forster was all that could be desired as Lothario Cackles. The humorous element was in the hands of Mr. Victor Gordon and Miss Evelyn Marrable, who were certainly entertaining as Jordan P. Jessop and Dolly Klink. Other rôles were efficiently sustained by Miss Ada Arnott and Mr. A. Edwards.

BILSTON.—AL FRESCO PAVILION.—Proprietor, Mr. Harry Rattersby; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. J. Cranston.—On Monday was given the first performance of a company of vaudeville artists, known as the Imperial Pierrots. These Al Fresco entertainments are held in ornamental grounds adjoining the Theatre Royal, and will be continued daily throughout the summer season. The initial programme includes Miss Minnie Newman, soprano; Mr. David Rowlands, tenor; Mr. George Kirby, baritone; and Messrs. Syd Bazley and Alf Brookes, comedians. The musical-director is Mr. J. Bertram Brennan. Chester and Lee's marionettes are underlined for the current week as the concluding item.

BIRKENHEAD.—NEW THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee, Mr. W. W. Kelly; Acting-Manager, Mr Charles Pell.—Mr. C. Edwards is presenting Mr. Alexander Loftus and company in the musical comedy The New Barmaid. Mr. Loftus has a long familiarity with the rôle of William White, a part which he plays to perfection. Mr. Charles Odeson is equally good as Bertie White, and Mr. W. E. Chewd gives a capital character-sketch as the French Club proprietor, Mons. Bonsor. Captain Lovebury is admirably enacted by Mr. Leslie Austin, and the irascible Colonel Claymore is capitally represented by Mr. James Grant. Miss Masie Ellinger is winsome and vivacious as Ethel Joy, and is deservedly very successful. Brenda Louth has an excellent exponent in Miss Maud Nichols; Miss Violet Osmund is efficient as Dora Heather, and Lady Moulton is well embodied by Miss Winifred Preston, the remaining parts being also well sustained. There are some pretty dances by Miss Queenie Bell, Miss Amy Preston, Miss May Hawthorne, and also by the Star Trio, and a host of supernumaries render excellent service.

ARGYLE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Manager, Mr. D. J. Clarke.—Mr. George Mozart, the popular comedian, is a centre of attraction, and is greeted with the customary enthusiasm. Mr. Albert Whelan, an Australian comedian of versatility, has made a decided hit, and Mr. Bert Woodward, a really marvellous trick cyclist, is also a leading feature; Miss Annie Wilson is a descriptive vocalist of exceptional ability; the Three Brothers Huxter give an interesting athletic and acrobatic entertainment; and Miss Florrie Bray, comedienne, and Mr. Fred Lincoln, comedian, contribute to an excellent programme. Some effective Bioscope pictures are interesting.

BIRMINGHAM.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Tom B. Davis; Acting-Manager, Mr. Philip Rodway.—A special flying matinée performance of Othello took place here on Monday last, when the chief actors responsible, Messrs. Lewis Waller and H. B. Irving, took their admirers completely by storm. Both artists had their fine points, Mr. Waller's declamatory power as Othello, and Mr. Irving's subtlety as the conscienceless Iago thoroughly justifying the interest and enthusiasm evinced; Miss Evelyn Millard furnished a touching and sweet Desdemona, and Miss Edith Wynne-Matthison was most welcome and satisfactory as Emilia; Messrs. A. E. George, S. A. Cookson, Henry Ainley, Henry Neville, and Miss Sarah Brooke were successful in the other parts.

PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE. — Lessees, Messrs. Rodgers, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. J. F. Graham; Acting-Manager, Mr. Henry Johnston.—A Queen Without a Crown, as originally produced by Mr. Graham, is the attraction here this week. Miss Ruth Mackay continues to shine in her clever embodiment of the rôle of Countess Mercedes Melrosa; Miss Geraldine Olliffe distinguishes herself by her well pointed and powerful acting as Theresa Maria; Miss Helen Grenville gives grace and prominence to the part of Rudolph; Mr. Wellesley Smith displays rich humour as Dr. Daly, and Messrs. Eric Hudson, T. Holding, and S. Creagh Henry as General Dominica, Michael Granino and Nicholas Marcosa respectively, are exceedingly fine. Others worthy to be commended are Miss Kate Kearney as the Duchess of Rudini, Miss Emma Rainbow as Ilga Branski, Miss C. Moore as Madame Valbourg, Mr. Owen Williams as Carolly, and Mr. Charles Barrett as the Cardinal.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE. — Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Lester Collingwood; Acting-Manager, Mr. Fred Bernardo.—Dishonoured, a spectacular and romantic military drama by Arthur St. John, has proved a powerful antidote to the holiday aftermath, Mr. J. Leicester Jackson's company being the participants in the success achieved. Miss Violet Cranford, both as Azelmah in the prologue, and Leslie Maynard in the play-proper, draws the audience completely to her with her fine emotional powers; Mr. Percy Ballard imparts a true touch of pathos and heroism to the rôle of the dishonoured soldier, Philip Cunningham; Mr. Jackson-Hayes plays the villain's part, Cecil Peyntland, with zest and dramatic skill, and Mr. W. T. Hybert as the staunch and true Cholmondley, Mr. Geoff-Broughton as Sir William Cunningham, Mr. A.Raymond Shaw as the Hindoo, and Miss Jessie Merrick with her sympathetic acting as Sybil, score; Mr. Val Gully as Jem Stokes, Miss Annie Thompson as Ann Maria, Mr. Charles M. Julian as Mike Farthing, and others provide excellent support.

CARLTON THEATRE, SALTLEY.—Owner and Manager, Mr. Arthur Carlton; Resident-Manager, Mr. James Alexander. Kennedy's Komics, comprising the Electric Animated Pictures; Sandes and Vincent, burlesque artistes and acrobatic dancers; the Three Sisters Horsley, a sweet singing comedy trio; James Dunn and Mabel Lendon, rifle manipulators, who also vouchsafe an amazing living statuary display; Frank Gibson, vocalist; Kino and Kirby, styled "the local boys"; and Aylmer and Turner, the brilliant comedy couple, are the attractons for the week present. The scena By the Band Stand on the Promenade at Blackpool is, with its myriad electric lights, much admired, and the entire programme, which is submitted at reduced prices, gives the utmost satisfaction.

THEATRE ROYAL, ASTON.—Lessee, Mr. Charles Barnard; General-Manager, Mr. E. Hewitson; Acting-Manager, Mr. Frank Whittles.—The King's Secret is revealed here by Mr. James Stillwell's company, who all attain a high degree of success in their parts. Mr. James Stillwell brings out the character of the hero, Captain Fairburn, in fine, manly style; Miss Zana St. George, as Zenopa, simulates the arts and wiles of the adventuress with irresistible effect; Mr. Edward Fryer enacts the rôle of the ally, Hassan Alfer, with a clever show of cunning; Mr. Beckett Bould apes the manners of the military dude with much effect; Mr. Robert A. Earle, as the millionaire, Johnathan Newark, delivers himself in a clever, characteristic manner; Mr. Paul E. Teulon, as Boatswain Jack, proves an exhilarating specimen of the British seaman; and Mr. Atherton Edwards as the Spy, and Mr. Chas. Crosby's interpretation of the Lawyer, are successful; Miss Kitty McPherson is vivacious as the American girl; Miss Katherine Barnett acts with animation as Leila Fairburn, and Miss Hester Kennedy plays a boy's part well.

EMPIRE PALACE.—Resident-Manager, Mr. A. W. Matcham.—Cinquevalli is paying a return visit, and his wonderful juggling feats win loud applause; John Leopold and company present an absurdity, The House-Boat; Ernie Mayne is a comedian who provides many opportunities for laughter; Brett and Orford have a refined vaudeville entertainment; Henry Helme renders his ballads with marked success; some clever head and hand balancing is displayed by the Brothers Attab; Mark Merry is as lively as ever, while Flo Deighton is well applauded for her songs.

GAIETY THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. Albert Bushell.—Lil Hawthorne is attracting large audiences here, and her songs are rendered in her usual successful manner. Harry Tate delights with his Motoring Sketch, which has become so popular, while Frank Bertram and Co. in the sketch The Chaperone are amusing; a good entertainment is provided by the Musical Markies; the Lurins have a bright extravaganza, Cinderella; Marie de Paso is a clever clay modeller; the Carlyles, in an eccentric dancing act, Zavan, Billy Morgan, Hector and Paulus, and the Gaiety Pictures complete the programme.

HIPPODROME.—Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Barrasford.—A diversified programme is presented here. Radford and Valentine put plenty of rich humour into their juggling turn, while Downs and Langford are highly entertaining; Edie Gray with her coons are an attraction, as also is T. E. Finglas; George Prince, the Sivronis, and Fyne and Hurley are all loudly applauded; Professor McCann's dogs show clever training; the Sisters Wingrove sing and dance themselves into favour.

BORDESLEY PALACE.—Resident-Manager, Mr. Edward Foster.—John Preston and company are presenting the thrilling dramatic sketch Rogues of the Turf this week; Roberts, Hayes, and Roberts are applauded for their singing and dancing; Edwin Barwick, a character actor of wide experience, has a scena, The Moan of Mephisto, and other impersonations; Forest and King are clever acrobats, as also are the Lios Alpha Sisters; Dot Stevens is a dainty comedienne; the musical entertainment presented by the Althopps is of a high order.

BLACKPOOL.—HER MAJESTY'S OPERA HOUSE.—General-Manager, Mr. J. R. Huddlestone.—Messrs. Lionel Glenister and Wood-Ingram's company is paying a return visit here this week with Sweet and Twenty. Mr. Derlingcourt Odlum repeats his admirable portrayal of the Rev. James Floyd, and Messrs. Stephen Wentworth and Lionel Glenister are again seen as the sons, Eustace and Douglas respectively; Mr. Gus Wheatman proves himself an excellent comedian as Prynne; Miss Dorothy Carrington does well as Mrs. Trevelyan, and Miss Ethel Weyburn captivates all by her charming impersonation of Joan Trevelyan. In the Strand is the curtain-raiser.

GRAND THEATRE.—Owner and Manager, Mr. T. Sergenson.—A Bunch of Violets, played by Mrs. T. Greenwood-Croft's company, is the attraction here this week. A clever study of Sir Philip Marchant is presented by Mr. Norman Partridge, and Mrs. Greenwood-Croft contributes a skilful impersonation of Mrs. Murgatroyd. The remainder of the cast is also in efficient hands.

PALACE.—General-Manager, Mr. G. H. Harrop; Acting-Manager, Mr. Fred Waller.—Mendel, the blind musician, is the favourite turn here this week. Other contributions to a very attractive programme are Foreman and Fannan, comedians; Bert Byrne, light comique; the Musical Schafers; the Three Laurels, acrobats; Charles Pastor, vocalist; Lily Payne, comedian; and the Mayvilles in their lilliputian novelty act.

HIPPODROME.—Lessees, Messrs. Whitehead and Ramsden; General-Manager, Mr. T. P. Duignan.—A capital and well-varied programme is provided here by Brothers Otto, acrobats; Mike Cray, juggler; the Original Cecilias in a musical act; Marie Elsie, comedienne; Dick Williams, banjoist; Fox and Melville, song illustrators; Frank Sylvo, juggler; Sisters Vincent, dancers; Carden and Zesch, society entertainers, and the Royal Bioscope with up-to-date pictures.

BOOTLE.—MUNCASTER THEATRE. — Proprietors, Messrs. Pennington; Manager, Mr. H. Pennington; Acting-Manager, Mr. Albert E Wilson. — Mr. William J. Miller and company opened here on Monday with the French historical drama, The Throne of Terror. Miss Catherine Maud Davies plays the part of Marguerite with much feeling, and Mr. W. J. Miller renders the part of Robespierre with capital dramatic talent; Mr. Roy Milton gives an admirable impersonation of Captain Eugene, and Mr. Frank Fuller is seen to advantage as the Comte de Riquefort. The comedy relief is ably sustained by Miss Eva Norman as Peppietia, and Mr. Bert Ellis as Jou Jou, and the part of Victorine is in the able hands of Miss Ethel Layon Maude. The piece is capitally staged. On Thursday and Friday evenings The Octoroon was played.

BOSCOMBE.—HIPPODROME.—Joint Proprietors, Messrs. Frederick Mouillot and Walter de Frece; General-Manager, Mr. J. de Frece; Resident-Manager, Mr. H. Ball.—Harry Randall is heading the bill with his latest successes, and his songs and patter are much appreciated; Joe O'Gorman is paying a return visit; Coram, ventriloquist, has a great reception nightly; Ryder Slone, character comedian; the San Remo Girls, vocalists and clever acrobatic dancers; Alfred Chester, versatile comedian; and the Strolling Players, in their pastoral entertainment, are also included in the good things provided here this week.

BOSTON.—PALACE THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. Geo. Saphrini.—This hall has re-opened with Tom Poole's Pierrots, and, judging from the applause which greeted them, they should prove a good attraction. The first part of the programme consisted of a "sit round," and individual items were rendered by each member of the troupe. The Greys were encored for their singing; and the Eldines were enthusiastically recalled for their trio and barefoot dancing. Specialities were given in the second part by Poole and Poole, who fairly brought down the house with their clever pedestal dance, acrobatic feats, and smart patter. Will Ivor, a marvellous high-stit performer; Jessie Harper, the Lancashire singing mill lass; Clown Ohmy and his dog Toby; Violet Zermy, descriptive vocalist, conclude the variety entertainment.

BOURNEMOUTH.—THEATRE ROYAL AND OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietors, Messrs. David Allen and Son; Sole Lessee, Mr. Mouillot; Manager, Mr. Rowland Stewart.—Mr. Fred Winn's company opened here on Monday with that favourite farcical comedy Niobe. Mr. Harry Paulton, in his original character of Peter Amos Dunn, was as good as ever, and was ably assisted by Miss Annie Esmond, a capital Niobe; Mr. J. Edward Pearce was good as the egotistical Cornelius, and Miss May Kilpack played excellently as Helen Griffin; amongst others deserving of mention were Mr. F. Tompkins, Mr. H. Paulton, jun., Miss Lucy Verrier, Miss Kate Turner, Miss Lillian Brennand, and Miss Violet Hollom.

BRADFORD. — THEATRE ROYAL — Lessee, Mr. John Hart; General-Manager, Mr. T. F. Doyle; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Richardson.—Sherlock Holmes is the attraction here this week. Mr. Henry Renouf gives a clever performance of the part of the great detective, and he is well supported by the members of Mr. Charles Frohman's company; Mr. Francis Hawley is easy and self-possessed as Dr. Watson; Mr. J. Poole Kirkwood, as John Forman, Mr. Philip Renouf, as Sidney Prince, and Mr. Walter Hicks, as Billy, are alike excellent; Mr. W. F. Stirling gives a telling and subtle performance of the villain, Professor Moriarty; the scoundrel Larrabee has a forcible exponent in Mr. Ernest Gray; Miss Violet Lewes represents Madge Larrabee with power; and the Alice Faulkner of Miss Vera Longden is an effort full of tenderness and pathos.

PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. F. Laidler; Acting-Manager, Mr. N. Hepworth.—We are having another visit here this week from the clever Indian actress Go-Won-Go-Mohawk, who in her stirring drama, Wep-Ton-No-Mah, has capital support in her picturesque impersonation of the brave mail carrier. Some changes have taken place in the company since the last visit, the desperado, Spanish Joe, has a clever exponent in Mr. Edward Leroy, and a capable performance of the villain, Captain Franklin, is given by Mr. Ike Shawcross; Miss Minnie Goepel is as bright as ever as Nellie Stockton.

THE EMPIRE.—Moss' Empires, Ltd.—Resident-Manager, Mr. Percival Craig.—In a programme of a most attractive character here this week is that delightful comedian, Ernest Shand, whose quaintness is irresistible; Kitty Wagner is an acceptable comedienne; Atlas and Collins submit good comedy and excellent dancing; with their duets, dancing, and baton manipulating the Jagos are very entertaining; the Jonghmann Sisters submit some harmonious glees; as a comedian Fred Poplar is original and funny; Cora Caselli submits acceptable vocalism and graceful dancing; the pole and head balancing by the Brothers Wille is distinctly clever; those delightful acrobatic comedians, the Brothers Egbert, "The Happy Dustmen," are paying a welcome return visit; capital up-to-date films are shown by the American Bioscope.

PALACE THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Resident-Manager, Mr. H. C. Arnold, jun.—A return visit is being paid here this week by Dr. Walford Bodie, the wonderful electrician and bloodless surgeon, and his demonstrations are witnessed nightly by deeply interested audiences. Bella Skene is an excellent descriptive vocalist; and Sig. Bandoni contributes an interesting turn as a "one man band"; Duncan and Brasque's sketch, A Dressing-Room Romance, is well acted; Norman Mi'ls, as "The Real John Bull," submits with vigour a good patriotic song; little Polly Robson is a clever child comedienne; Arthur Stacey submits his funny comic songs in an original style; Helen Henri sings ballads acceptably; and a rousing musical mélange by Emma Don and company, The Prodigal Son, is humorous and entertaining.

BRIDLINGTON.—ROYAL PRINCE'S PARADE. — Manager, Mr. Charles Palmer.—Master Edwin Percy Lee, a boy soprano, who sings with great taste, and possesses a voice of rare purity, has been a source of great attraction at the promenade concerts; Mr. and Mrs. Godley, soloists and duettists, have been well received; Mr. Tom J. Morton and concert party, "The Yokels," are always well received in their songs and humorous pieces.

NEW SPA AND GARDENS.—Secretary and Manager, Mr. Henry Hague.—Herr Simon Wurm and his Imperial Viennese Band have established themselves as favourites here; Mme. A. Radford, soprano, is heard to advantage in some well selected songs; Mr. Will Osborne's Six White Coons opened on Monday night in their pierrot entertainment, and are giving three programmes daily.

THE PALACE.—Manager, Mr. A. Hubner.—The variety programme this week is interspersed with dancing, the grand hall being laid out for the purpose. The performers appear between the dances, the company including Tom Brantford, American comedian, with his clever "one man band"; Grace and Mai Gilbey are still delighting with their musical turn, both being very expert on a variety of instruments; the Lovelaces are applauded for some well-rendered illustrated songs; and the animated pictures never fail to delight and amuse. Open-air entertainments are given daily in the Palace grounds by the Palace Pierrots, and Mr. Hubner is endeavouring to make his musical afternoons a feature of the show at the Palace.

SUMMER GARDENS.—Proprietors, Messrs. Beanland, Bath, and Danton; Manager, Mr. C. Beanland.—Some good programmes are presented nightly by the company, the various songs and sketches being well received. In addition to Messrs. Charles Beanland, J. Bath, and C. Danton, who are established favourites in Bridlington, the company includes Geo. Hyam, comedian; H. B. Coda, song and dance artist; W. Mason, and Ernest Benn.

BRIGHTON.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. H. Cecil Beryl; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Harcourt M. Beryl.—Mr. Brandon Thomas and company are here this week with Charley's Aunt. Mr. Thomas submits an excellent portrayal of Sir Francis Chesney; Mr. Stanley Cooke repeats his very amusing representation of Lord Fancourt Babberley; Mr. Walter Beaumont's Stephen Spettigue is admirably played; Mr. Hastings Lynn as Jack Chesney and Mr. Richard Mason as Charley Wykeham are a lively pair; Miss Lena McNaughton is a handsome Donna Lucia; the parts of Kitty Verdun and Amy Spettigue are charmingly enacted by Miss Marion Ripley and Miss Dorothy Deacon; and Mr. Sidney Compton is a capital Brassett. The piece is preceded by A Highland Legacy.

GRAND THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Ernest Carpenter.—The Middleman occupies the boards here this week, and proves highly attractive. Mr. Ernest Carpenter gives a masterly impersonation of Cyrus Blenkarn, which is enthusiastically appreciated; Mrs. Ernest Carpenter, who is making her first appearance in Brighton, is a winsome Nancy Blenkarn; while Miss Daisy Halling is charming and impressive as Mary Blenkarn. Mr. H. C. Lanceley acquits himself admirably as Joseph Chandler; Mr. Marmaduke Wetherell is well suited as Captain Chandler; Mr. Paul Barry-Lewers makes a dignified Sir Seton Umfreville; Mr. Ronald Adair's Batty Todd merits warm praise; and Mr. George H. Asquin is entertaining as Jesse Pegg. Other parts are ably sustained by Mr. Sam T. Pearce, Miss Lucy Murray, Miss Lydia Manning-ton, and Miss Kate Walfred.

ALHAMBRA.—Managing-Director, Mr. J. L. Graydon; General-Manager, Mr. Ernest Lepard.—A capital programme is sustained here this week. Alexandre and Hughes, "America's brilliant pair," are very entertaining musical comedians; Nat Clifford, "the nimble one," wins enthusiastic applause for his comic songs, amusing patter, and eccentric dancing; the Paolias are effective in a turn in which the male performer, a highly-developed athlete, submits graceful posings; Hayman and Franklin achieve great success in their laughable skit A Matrimonial Agency; Dolly and Madge McCalla, juvenile vocalists and dancers, are here for their second week, and are well received; Rezene and Robini are clever and amusing in their trapeze act; the Wyffs appear in a much-appreciated comedy duologue, The Parson's Mishaps in a London Flat; Fred Bronte is a capital descriptive vocalist; while Lily Esplin, low comedy artist, and the Alhambrascope pictures add to the enjoyment of the audience.

HIPPODROME THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietors, Messrs. Barrasford and Smith; Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Barrasford.—There is an excellent company here this week. The Jackson Family achieve conspicuous success in their refined musical entertainment; George Leyton, who is warmly received, is especially effective in his naval scena, Nelson's Name; Lillie Soutter, character comedienne, submits an admirable turn; the Manhattan Comedy Four evoke hearty laughter with their burlesque of the prison scene in Faust; Barlee and Smith are amusing in A Rehearsal; Billy Williams, Australian comedian, contributes some capital songs; the Eight Lancashire Lads sing and dance themselves into great favour; Wallan gives a clever juggling performance; Frank Halter and Marie Ray, Hebrew character comedian and soubrette, are very entertaining; Bishop and Vale, acrobatic comedians and dancers, win cordial applause; L. B. Athol, a characteristic artist, gives a pleasing turn; and the Barrascope pictures are interesting.

WEST PIER.—Secretary and Entertainment-Manager, Mr. A. D. Norman.—Mr. Walter Maxwell's company opened here on Monday with Little Mary. Mr. Ben Field gave an excellent portrayal of the Earl of Carlton; Mr. Arthur Kightley's Lord Rolfe was a clever enactment; Mr. Herbert Chown's Dr. Topping, and Mr. Gerald Malvern's Sir Jennings Pyke were admirably played; Mr. Lewis Edgard as Terence Reilly was well suited; Miss Christine Silver made a graceful and charming Moira Loney; and Miss Elspeth Dudgeon as the Countess of Plumleigh, Miss Margaret Nybloc as Lady Milly, and Miss Madge Murray as Eleanor Gray, were also highly effective.

NEW PALACE PIER THEATRE.—The Court Comedy Theatre opened here on Monday with a triple bill. The farcical comedy The Little Intruder was ably represented. Mr. Grahame Harrington was very effective as Adam Pemberton, whose son, Gerald, had a capital exponent in Mr. Stanley Harrison; and Mr. Arthur Hatton was a capital Captain Sanday. Miss Mabel Durrant's Olive, Miss Nolan O'Connor's Amy, and Miss Mary Wymond's Mrs. Blundell merit commendation. The programme also included The Prince and the Lady and Scare the Skunk.

AQUARIUM.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. J. J. Sallmayer; Acting-Manager, Mr. Henry de Groot.—Mr. B. A. Rutley's company gives afternoon and evening performances of the musical comedy burlesque Merry Robin Hood; Mr. Frank Major's party of refined entertainers appear on the roof garden; Miss Minnie Letta's Sporting Girls provide a series of novel and classical entertainments in the Bijou Kursaal; and other attractions include Dunning-arto's clever card manipulations.

BRISTOL.—PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. James Macready Chute.—Mr. Charles Harrington's company is here with Uncle Tom's Cabin. The company is a satisfactory one, there is a large contingent of real negroes and full chorus, and the variety entertainment in the plantation festival is attractive. Mr. J. Carr presents a fine exposition of Uncle Tom, being very earnest throughout; Mr. J. Henry Rogers is sufficiently aggressive as Legree; Messrs. Stanley Howard, J. H. Rennie, and Leslie Beaufort do well as St. Clair, Phineas Fletcher, and George Harris; Miss Hettie Johnson makes the most of Eliza Harris; Miss Zerlina Zerbini displays power as Cassy; Eva is prettily played by Little Minnie; and Miss Annie Watson is decidedly successful as Topsy.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Ernest Carpenter; Resident-Manager, Mr. W. F. Crowe.—The 10.30 Down Express is the attraction here, the play being put on in excellent style, including a realistic mechanical locomotive. Mr. Horace Stanley's company is a good one, all the parts being capitally taken. Mr. Stanley, as Sam Wagstaffe, makes the most of all his opportunities; Mr. Charles Burdon acts well as Jack O'Malley; Mr. George Arthur is careful and consistent as James Inderwick; and Miss Elsie Capell, as Bessie Leigh; Miss Evelyn Walton, as Letitia Leigh; Miss Clara Stanley, as Olive Coombes; Miss Hilda Miller, as Matilda Ann; and Miss Kate Kilpack, as Peggy Potts all do full justice to their respective parts; and the smaller characters were also well represented.

PALACE.—Resident-Manager, Mr. Horace Livermore; Secretary and Treasurer, Mr. F. J. V. Welchman.—The Gothams, vocalists and comedians, provide some excellent singing, and introduce funny interludes to advantage; the Davis and Gledhill Trio have a sensational novelty in the way of bicycle and motor-paced races, and competitions for amateurs are arranged for each evening; Joe Mack, patter comedian and eccentric dancer, obtains applause; Lil O'Gorman is a pleasing comedienne; the Bensons amuse with song and dance; Cliff and Kean also do a good turn of song and dance; James Willard and company have an interesting sketch, Did He Deserve It? Lady Julia, performing ape, is admirably trained, and causes much merriment; and Vernon's Imperial Bioscope concludes the entertainment, with a capital set of pictures, "The Dream of a Rare-bit Fiend."

EMPIRE.—Proprietor, Mr. B. Pearce Lucas.—The Athos Troupe of acrobats and ball manipulators head the programme here, and obtain considerable appreciation; Wyndham and Kitty present a clever performance on the wire; Les Belles Americaines are pleasing vocalists and acrobatic dancers; Avon and Crest amuse with song, patter, dance, and contortionist acts; Dan Thomas, patter comedian and dancer, obtains much applause; Selby and Myers dance well, and entertain with cross-talk; Dan Filmer, comedian, displays ability as a step-dancer; Cribb and Cribb score as "tramp" comedians; and Jessie Albini, comedienne, has some pleasing songs, which go well. The performance concludes with animated pictures projected by Ruffell's Bioscope.

BROUGHTON. — VICTORIA, LTD.— Managing-Director and Licensee, Mr. James W. Haworth; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Fred Watson.—The management have arranged to devote the proceeds of this week's performances to the benefit of the Salford Royal Hospital, and intend to run a special week-end each year for that most deserving charity. On Monday, Mr. Harold V. Neilson's company commenced with Ibsen's well-known play A Doll's House, which was witnessed by a good house, including the Mayor and Mayoress of Salford (Alderman and Mrs. Frankenburg), and several members of the Council. Miss Amy Sangster sustained the onerous part of Nora Helmer with sterling ability, and much satisfaction was evinced at the clever acting of Mr. Courtney Thorpe as Torvald Helmer; Mr. Harold V. Neilson was excellent as Nils Krogstad, and Miss Katherine M. Romsey was very successful as Mrs. Linden; Mr. Lionel Atwill, as Dr. Rank, was very good, and the other parts were well played. A Doll's House was billed for Monday, Tuesday and Friday evenings, and Wednesday matinee, the other evenings being set apart for Sidney Grundy's play A Fool's Paradise, with Mr. Neilson as Sir Peter Lund, and Miss Sangster as Beatrice Selwyn, but owing to the sudden illness of that lady it was found necessary to change the programme, leaving out A Doll's House, and performing A Fool's Paradise all the week.

BURNLEY.—EMPIRE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. W. C. Horner.—Crowded houses are the rule here this week, the principal attraction being flying the revolving wheel immense favourite with the audience, and is vociferously applauded; whilst another turn which is particularly well received is Lucy Coventry, a comedienne and dancer, with catchy songs and possessed of wonderful nimbleness of foot. Rosie Bartlett is a dainty comedienne; George Victor is realistic with his character songs; and to lovers of Gaelic humour Fred Collins appeals very powerfully. The Bioscope is interesting, and the musical director, Mr. Jas. Hargreaves, is to be commended for the able manner in which he adapts his music to the various pictures as they appear.

CORK.—OPERA HOUSE.—Manager, Mr. John Horgan.—Mr. Andrew Moir's company opened a week's engagement here on Monday night with the farcical comedy by J. W. MacCabe The Major's Double. The piece is a lively, bustling, and amusing farce, and affords plenty of laughter from start to finish. Miss Eily Hélène, a clever young Cork lady, was a decided success, her archness and humour as Nora Sullivan exercising great effect; Mr. J. B. Gordon was a most irascible Major Prendergast; while Mr. Percy Marshall as the major's double, John Bocke, M.P., was excellent; Mr. Jas. Danvers created much laughter as Tim Blake (a guardsman); Miss Lilian Hallows as Madge and Miss Dorrie Roberts as Daisy were well placed. The play was followed by the new one-act piece The Gamester. Miss Dorothy Southgate as Marjorie possesses a beautiful soprano voice, and sang her music admirably; Mr. Andrew Roy's fine tenor voice was heard agreeably in the part of Angus; and as Raphael Mr. Charles Cautley displayed to the full the power of his splendid baritone voice. The combination of the farce and grand opera was an appreciable success.

COVENTRY.—OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietor, Mr. Wm. Bennett.—The New Clown is being played here this week by Mr. Frank Bertram's company. Mr. Ernest Spalding is quaintly amusing as the timid Lord Cyril Garstan; Mr. Cyril Vernon is specially praiseworthy as Captain Jack Trent; Mr. Alec Flood gives a hearty rendering of Mr. Dixon, the circus proprietor; Miss Celestine Bertram deserves all the credit she receives as the fascinating Rose Platt; Miss Connie Merton and Miss M. E. Ellis as the Sisters Chesterton are very good.

THE HIPPODROME.—Manager, Mr. T. M. Sylvester.—Harry Tate's company is scoring here in the comedy act entitled Fishing; Mr. George M. Schilling, American athlete, gives a graphic account of his walk round the world; Miss Florence Watson is a capable comedienne; the Daintons appear in an up-to-date comedy act; Jack Pleasants is a successful comedian; and Hector is appreciated in his turn as a wire artist and hoop manipulator. The Hippodrome pictures are up to date.

CROYDON.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Samuel James; Acting-Manager, Mr. Charles Herrick.—Mr. P. Howard Sturgess's company is staging A Queen of Villainy here this week. Mr. Gordon Carnegie is well placed as Sir John Desborough; Mr. Ernest G. Batley is excellent as Alec; Mr. Lawrence Stevenson hits the mark in the part of Kit; Mr. Edward Heanley acts with dramatic effect as Stephen Faucet; Mr. Arthur E. Maskel is entertaining as Reuben Hawk; Mr. P. Howard Sturgess is a capital Timothy Kodac; and Mr. Charles Stirling makes the most of Dick Leinster. Miss Cecilia Desmond prettily portrays the rôle of Rose Delmayne; Miss Jessie Crammonde is an amusing Mollie Maggs; Miss Amy Ross Clyde deserves praise for her rendering of Sally Chimes, and Miss Edith Blande plays with tact and judgment as Cora Granville. Mr. John Rellie ably conducts a hard-working orchestra.

EMPIRE PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor, Mr. Walter Gibbons; Manager, Mr. Eustace H. Jay.—Price and Revost submit an eccentric acrobatic act which is novel and smart; Lottie Govell is an interesting comedienne; Frederick Maxwell's company, including Miss Lois de Cane, appears in the one-act drama, Dick Dare, M.P., with dramatic effect; Eugénie Fougère, French comedienne, receives quite an ovation; the Collinson combination are very funny in the sketch The Academy; the Ten Dixie Girls are enchanting in vocal and tepsichorean scena, The Silver Coon; and bright turns are also given by the Lannons, duettists and dancers; Charles Whittle, comedian; Harry Thurston, mimic; and Hans and Lux, patter comedians.

DARLINGTON.—THEATRE ROYAL AND HIPPODROME.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. James Bell.—A splendid variety company is here this week. Leoni Clarke, with his cats, monkeys, rabbits, caranies, &c., heads the bill. The Five Whiteleys, in their original acrobatic wire walking musical pot-pourri, gave a splendid exhibition of their skill. Ray and Calden (comedy artists) score a great success with their witty patter and acrobatic dancing; the Sisters Brenton (comediennes) are expert dancers; Cyclo is very amusing as a comedy cyclist; and other artists who contribute to the success of the show are Jesse Burnett (comedian and dancer), Mark Leslie (swell coon comedian), and the Bellograph.

DERBY.—GRAND THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE.—Sole Proprietor and General Manager, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; Acting-Manager, Mr. Charles Denley; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Albert Orton.—Hardie and Von Leer's company is paying a return visit with Two Little Vagabonds. Miss Valerie Crespin is especially successful as Marion Thornton, and Mr. William Fagan's George Thornton is a thoroughly sound and praiseworthy piece of acting. The Captain Darville of Mr. Sidney Vautier is in every way efficient, and Miss Edith Savery very capably assumes the role of Barbara Scarth. As the two little vagabonds, Miss D. Rosslyn Vane as Dick, and Miss Josie Beltram as Wally, play their respective parts to the life; Mr. John F. Traynor gives an excellent performance as Bill Mullins; Mr. Frank Gordon and Mr. Fred Archer both do well as Dido Bunce and the Cough-drop respectively; and Miss Marie Pritchard appears to advantage as Biddy. Other parts are well sustained by Mr. Dunstan Haye, Miss Muriel Eley, Mr. Frank G. Kent, Mr. Marston Moor, Mr. Hugh Holliman, Mr. Thos. Blakeman, Mr. W. T. Harris, and Miss Lena Vernon.

PALACE.—Lessee and General-Manager, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; Assistant-Manager, Mr. H. Taylor.—Miss Zeta Grey and company are the attraction here in the musical comedy The Lancashire Lass, and are responsible for some delightful singing and much hearty merriment. Another good turn is that of the Ringling Trio of Eccentric Tumblers, introducing a cake walk on stilts, which is heartily applauded. Will Letters, comedian, is exceptionally clever, his funny stories provoking roars of laughter; Mlle. Haydee is highly successful with her miniature theatre, a pleasing little show altogether; Flo Melville is a charming burlesque artist, and is worthy of commendation; the Fimans are diverting in their comedy creation; and Kavados, juggler and equilibrist, is praiseworthy, his feat with the cannon ball deserving special mention. The Palace Bioscope is responsible for a film, entitled "The Dream of the Rarebit Fiend."

DEVONPORT.—METROPOLE THEATRE.—Owners, Carltons, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. Mitchell.—The Black Bishop is staged here this week. Mr. Jeanie Marquise undertakes the dual rôle of Marian Strathcoat and Kate Marleigh in creditable fashion; Mr. C. H. Gallier is equally good in the less acceptable part of Simeon Strathcoat; Mr. J. Kingsley Rider is very fine in the title-rôle; and Miss Madge Turner as Ruth's child is a very promising little actress.

DEWSBURY.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessees, the Northern Theatres Co., Ltd.; Resident-Manager, Mr. J. H. Asquith.—Herr Fritz and company are here this week, the programme furnished being of an admirably diversified nature and replete with entertaining items. Evelyn Taylor, a comedienne of superior attainments, sings her several songs with a skill that earns emphatic approval; J. H. McCann, comedian and acrobatic dancer, gives a remarkable display or roller-skating, which provokes enthusiastic applause; the Three Permans, in their novelty pantomime act, Dans le Jardin, give a varied exhibition of acrobatic and gymnastic exploits, alternated by many quaint interludes; Nipper Anten has talent of no mean order as a boy comedian and mimic, his impersonation of Harry Lauder in "The Saftest o' the Family," being cleverly ludicrous. Herr Fritz created general wonderment with his astounding illusions, which are worked with business-like rapidity; other smart turns comprise Clare Sefton, comedienne and dancer; The Lessors, American premier speciality artistes; John Ross, a striking success as a double-voiced vocalist; and Nora Nellie, a clever executant on various musical instruments.

DONCASTER.—NEW GRAND THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. J. W. Chapman.—A Soldier's Revenge, presented by Messrs. Beaudyn, Livesey, and Hardy's company, is the attraction here this week. Mr. Montagu Beaudyn graphically depicts Ironhand, the avenger. Mr. Robertson Fowlis does well in the rôle of Sir Marsden Mardyke, and Mr. Howard Hardy gives a capital embodiment of Matthew Mardyke's son; Mr. Albert Wray gives energy and manifest devotion to Walter Clifford, and excellent qualities are brought to bear by Mr. Tom Robertson upon his assumption of the Protector. Mr. T. R. White is every inch "mine host" in the rôle of Shadrack Shadwell, and Mr. Harry Momber plays Toby with success. Miss Annie Glunn is a neat Betsy, Miss Gloria Hill is good in her presentation of Mistress Judith, and Miss Irene Munroe excels as Ruby Ayondale.

DOUGLAS.—THE GAIETY THEATRE.—Proprietors, The Palace and Derby Castle, Ltd.; Manager and Secretary, Mr. C. Fox, jun.—Mr. Herbert Ralland, the well-known entrepreneur, is responsible for the entertainment at the Gaiety Theatre, and has provided an excellent programme in Sydney Grundy's farcical comedy, The Arabian Nights. Mr. J. Herbert Beaumont, as Arthur Hummingtop, is very amusing; the Ralph Ormerod of Mr. James Gildred is all that can be desired; Mr. Fred Fowler is quaintly funny as Joshua Gillibrand; the Dobson of Mr. J. Birch proves serviceable; Miss Chrissie Ralland, always a vivacious artiste, is dainty as Daisy Maitland; Miss Minnie Walsh, a young actress, who belongs to Hall Cain's land, is charming as Mrs. Hummingtop; Miss Nina Zambray makes the most of Mrs. Gillibrand; Miss Ethel Ashton is well suited as Barbara, and Miss Kitty Cavendish does full justice to the very piquant opportunities afforded by the rôle. The pièce de resistance is preceded by William Muskerry's playlet, An Odd Trick, well and artistically acted by Miss Minnie Walsh, Mr. Richard Walsh, Mr. Wm. Grimn, and Mr. Arthur Dennis.

DERBY CASTLE.—Proprietors, The Palace and Derby Castle, Ltd.; Secretary and Manager, Mr. Charles Fox, jun.; Business-Manager, Mr. J. Kelly.—The attendance at this ever-popular place of amusement has been very gratifying, and the floor of the Ballroom is in perfect condition, and Mr. Harry Wood's orchestra induces all and sundry to dance. In the variety entertainment, Messrs. Seeley and West, musical humorists, provoke laughter and applause; the Two Falcons, acrobatic and equilibristic comedians, are daring and clever; Rhodesia, the latest lady juggler, provides a novel vehicle for displaying her art. In addition the picture gallery and lounge have many patrons.

Mr. Frederick Buxton's Pierrots at his newly-erected Pavilion and Tea Gardens draw large audiences.

DOVER.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietors, The Dover Theatres, Ltd.; Chairman of Directors, Mr. B. Carter; Managing-Director, Mr. Fred C. Dew.—A capital presentation of a charming play is given here this week by Mr. H. F. Maltby and company in The Youngest of Three. Mr. Maltby's portrayal of George Wendover is both clever and impressive; Mr. W. Henry Hargraves makes a handsome and gallant Gerald Wendover, and his love scenes with Miss Beatrice Marsden (a captivating Lucy) are amongst the most delightful features of the play. The skilful touches that show the master hand are most apparent in Mr. Wyn Weaver's impersonation of Philip Radford, and Mr. Ernest Noble as Paul and Joshua Pynne contributes two humorous and quite dissimilar character-sketches. A quaint study of a servant is given by Miss Nancy York as Jane; while Mr. Ralph Hutton is excellent in the minor rôle of Samuel Johns. A small part made prominent by good acting is the Hickey of Mr. George Mortimer, and Mr. W. Reginald Favell is most amusing as Loke. A tender and convincing touch of pathos is given to the rôle of Florence Dulley by Miss Mara Maltby, and the Anne Dulley of Miss Mabel Mellor is noticeable as the work of an accomplished actress. The Youngest of Three is preceded by a little musical comedy, entitled Fannikin, in which Miss Mara Maltby in the title-part sings and acts with considerable charm. Mr. Wyn Weaver scores a decided success as Harcourt Harrington; Mr. George Mortimer adds to the fun, and plays with spirit as Archibald Thwaites, and Mr. Ernest Noble wins popularity with a droll impersonation of Otto, a waiter.

THE PAVILION, DOVER PROMENADE PIER.—Lessees, The Dover Theatres, Ltd.; Chairman of Directors, Mr. B. Carter; Managing-Director, Mr. Fred C. Dew.—The Stanford Quartette and Concert Party have been giving a series of entertainments here this week, which have been well patronised. Miss Ivy Moore's sweet contralto voice has won her many warm admirers, and Miss Eva Colton shares the honours of the evening for her soprano songs, rendered with taste and expression. The pretty ballads, well sung by Mr. Ivor Warren, an excellent tenor, and several good baritone songs by Mr. Lloyd Stanford have been received with enthusiasm, and Mr. Harry Prenton contributes some amusing items. A word of praise must be given to the Quartette for their well-harmonised part songs.

DUBLIN.—GAIETY THEATRE.—Sole Representative and Patentee, Mrs. Michael Gunn; General-Manager, Mr. Charles Hyland.—Mr. John L. Shine's company commenced a week's engagement here on Monday, when George R. Sims's comedy, The Member for Slocum, was presented. Onesimus Epps is made an agreeably funny personage by Mr. John L. Shine, while Miss Dora Nelson successfully portrays the rôle of Arethusa. Mr. Robert Grey ably depicts the part of Bill Smith, and Madeline is played in good style by Miss Nellie Clyde. Mr. Alec Chrichton is quite at home in the rôle of Gunning, and Miss Maude Henderson is excellent as Mrs. Jeffs. Mr. Laurence Doyle scores as Perkins, and the rôles of Fanny and Betsy are well sustained by the Misses Betty Castle and Blanche Connor. The curtain raiser, Hogmanay, precedes, and is well received.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Mouillot; Resident-Manager, Mr. George Parrington.—The second hippodrome season opened here on Monday, when an attractive variety programme was presented. Madrali, the famous wrestler, who heads the bill, was accorded a hearty reception. Nino Martino possesses a fine voice, and sings effectively. Bonnie Goodwin's Picanninies receive merited applause, while the efforts of Wee Mona, comedienne and dancer, are well rewarded. De Gracia's Troupe of Elephants display remarkable intelligence, A. D. Robbins is an expert cyclist, and Miss Lottie Stone's Troupe of Dancers elicit applause. The Achmed Ibrahim Troupe of Bedouin Arabs score a decided success, and De Briere, juggler, is much appreciated. Kelly and Gillette enhance their reputation as acrobats, and the Royal Pictures portray up-to-date events.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager Mr. J. W. Whitbread; General-Manager, Mr. John M. Dawson.—The Luck of Life is being presented here this week by Mr. Reginald Adair's company. Mr. Joseph Millaine plays with credit the rôle of George Stanhope, and Miss Mary Dawson gives a careful study of the rôle of Bazilovitz. Mr. Roland Yorke submits a clever reading of the Anarchist Bazilovitz, and Countess Vlame is well presented by Miss Gertrude Bonser. Mr. Frank Danvers provides much humour as Simon Stanley, and Miss Dora Huggett as Laura North, and Mr. Leonard Thackeray as Count Petroff are both excellent in their respective rôles.

PAVILION, KINGSTOWN.—Manager, Mr. C. Irvine Bacon.—The Vagabonds' company of vocalists and instrumentalists, who are appearing here this week, are attracting large audiences daily. The artists includes Mr. Harold Montague, who is ably assisted by Miss Ethel Meyaffre in an original comedietta, which causes plenty of laughter. Mr. Percival Mackenzie, Miss Bella Green, Miss Merita Leclair, Mr. David Norton, and Mr. Ernest Devereaux also contribute successfully to an excellent programme. The Bioscope is projecting some new pictures, which are duly appreciated.

EMPIRE.—General-Manager, Mr. Frank Allen; Acting-Manager and Secretary, Mr. George H. Marsh.—The principal attraction here this week is Madge Grey, comedienne, whose songs and imitations evoke applause. The songs, dances, and piano-playing of Ross and Grayson are received with marked favour, and Miss Gladys Marius, comedienne and dancer, is an artist of undoubted ability. Ted Waite is a comedian of no mean order, and Belle Braham wins approbation for her capital rendering of picture songs. Two old favourites, Palles and Cussick, excites the laughter of the audience by their drollery, and Celeste is a capital wire performer. The clever instrumental turn of Florence and Lilian is well received, and the Empire Pictures are also interesting.

TIVOLI.—General-Manager, Mr. Charles M. Jones; Secretary, Mr. H. A. Murphy.—The Martelloni Troupe of Acrobats head the bill here this week, and meet with a warm reception. Regan and Ryan in their amusing comedy act are nightly recalled, and the Musical Palmers meet with every mark of approval. The Three Coopers, descriptive vocalists, score a success, as does also Ruby and Laws, in a musical comedy act, entitled Cora's Visitors. Ruby Dahl's Mannikins supply an interesting turn, and Daisy Palmer is a pleasing comedienne and dancer. Percy Johnson, comedian, Minnie Fenton, comedienne, and the Bioscope pictures complete the programme.

DUNDEE.—HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Acting-Manager, Mr. Louis Karpe.—A good house assembled on Monday to welcome Mr. Edward Tearle and company, the piece presented being the romantic play, The Three Musketeers. Miss Mary Campbell, as the Queen, looked and acted the part admirably; Miss Kate Clinton, in the important rôle of Miladi, displayed excellent art; Miss Esther Tearle played the part of Constance, the Queen's Tire Woman, delightfully; Mr. Emund Tearle was a capital D'Artagnan, his recital of the famous ride of the four Musketeers being specially good. The parts of Athos, Porthos, and Aramis were impersonated in dashing style by Mr. Ernest Lodge, Mr. J. A. Keogh, and Mr. A. W. Wynne respectively; Mr. Brenhardt Turner gave an excellent rendering of the wily Cardinal Richelieu; Mr. M. Lane made a dashing Duke of Buckingham, and Mr. T. W. Benson a droll Boniface.

PALACE THEATRE.—Managing-Directors, Messrs. Rosen and Bliss; Manager, Mr. E. J. Dexter.—The programme submitted this week contains several items of more than ordinary interest. Carlotta Lunn is a comedienne of prepossessing appearance and gifted with a fine voice, her various songs are heartily applauded; Harry Bent submits impersonations of well-known music hall stars, and gets a flattering reception; Cambo, the musical man-monkey, has made his usual hit, while a hearty welcome is also accorded Charles Bignell; a capital sketch, The Order of the Bath, is well played by Lilieth Leyton's company, and Alma Burton charms one and all with her tasteful singing and dancing; Cooper and Clarke, comedians, and Joe Edmunds, negro comedians, are responsible for much merriment; Professor Milne, in a well worked ventriloquial act, and Vernon's Bioscope, with some very fine pictures, complete the attractions.

EMPIRE THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Frank Percival.—Mr. A. W. B. Kingston's company entered on its third week's stay here on Monday, and it says very much for the versatility of the company that the programme has been changed nightly. Napoleon was the drama staged on Monday, and was well received by a good house. Mr. A. W. B. Kingston, as Napoleon, acted with great dramatic force; Mr. Harry Egan, as Jerome, kept the house in shrieks of laughter; while Mr. James Sommerville was very satisfactory as Marshal Lefebre; Miss Dora Hamilton made an excellent Catherine Upscher; and Miss Emily Peel gave an excellent rendering of the rôle of Annette; as Empress Josephine, Miss Carrie Henderson acted with great ability.

GAIETY THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. R. A. P. Williams.—The management of this popular house have secured a trump card this week in the shape of the famous Jamaica choir, whose fine singing is well worth a visit to hear; Sam Thomson is a comedian of more than average merit; while the patter of Rene and Wilson is refreshingly new and clever; C. W. Walker, a baritone vocalist, is always a great favourite here, and Rosie Morris, a chic comedienne, and the Gaiety Bioscope complete the bill.

EASTBOURNE.—DEVONSHIRE PARK THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. A. Standen Triggs.—For the first half of the week Mr. Henry Doughty and his company are occupying the stage here with The Barrister. Mr. Henry Doughty as the barrister, Arthur Maxwell, works hard and well; Mr. W. E. Dunlop is a capital Captain Walker; and Mr. E. W. Thomas is a conspicuous success as Major Drayton. Mr. A. C. Thornhill is a good Jack; Mr. George Burke an effective Jenkins; and Mr. Charles Bradley a diverting waiter. Mr. James Seymour is a smart Crisp; and Mr. Hawley Francks a realistic Tom. Miss Vera Leslie is a satisfactory Mrs. Maxwell; Miss Edith Coleman is an able Miss Fayre; and Miss Cicely Hamilton an interesting Miss Foster; while Miss Amy Lloyd-Desmond is a bright Jane, and Miss Beryl Graham an attractive Kitty Drayton. A cleverly-written melodrama in one act, entitled The Traveller Returns, precedes, and is well played by Miss C. Hamilton, Miss A. L. Desmond, Mr. H. Doughty, and Mr. W. A. Dunlop. The Gems are billed to appear during the latter half of the week.

PIER PAVILION.—Manager, Mr. George Hayes.—Mr. Peter Davey's company is appearing here in Walker, London. Mr. Blake Adams invokes much laughter, and very cleverly fills the part of Jasper Phipps; Mr. Orlando Daly is a smart and animated Kit Upjohn; Mr. Wylie A. Thompson is a boyish and convincing W. G.; Mr. E. Coventry is an excellent Andrew McPhail; and Mr. Cyril Melton a very satisfactory Ben. Miss Victoria Addison and Miss Irma Foldi are charming representatives of Bell Golightly and Nanny O'Brien; Miss Ethel Rainforth supplies able comedy work as Sarah Rigg; Miss Kate Carlyon is an efficient Mrs. Golightly; and Miss Hope Willoughby gives good help as Penny. A costume-sketch, entitled A Triple Dilemma, forms the curtain-raiser.

THE HIPPODROME.—General-Manager, Mr. Harry Day; Acting-Manager, Mr. Walter Smith.—The Seener-Fridkin troupe of Russian dancers give animated samples of their national dances, and are in great favour; Mr. Russel Wallet has a remarkably realistic female impersonation, and he keeps the house in roars of laughter; the twin Brothers Dean are among the cleverest of step-dancers, and their neat and skilful turn wins much applause; Mr. Johnny Fuller as a cat is a nimble, agile, and clever acrobat; Mr. Frank Crouch sings his clever songs in capital style; Miss Jeanette Reynolds is a pretty, attractive vocalist, with a pleasing voice; the Sisters Julian are neat and bright singers and dancers; Mr. Arthur Goodman is a comedy juggler, with novel jokes; and the animated picture of Hackenschmidt and Madrali's wrestling is very exciting.

ECCLES.—LYCEUM THEATRE.—Lessees, Messrs Wardle and Potasch; Manager, Mr. P. Potasch.—A variety company is again occupying the boards this week. Little Tim Galloway is amusing with his queer songs; Watt Tyler receives the full approval of the audience; Lily Lonsdale is a charming vocalist; Tarri Suma, Japanese conjurer and illusionist, fully deserves the applause his performance evokes; Jack Rae is smart; Mona Macdonald has met with a pleasing reception; the Allens are clever in their handling of various musical instruments; Mabel Vaughan scores with her impersonations; Ernie Myers, eccentric comedian, wins marked approval; the Whit-week Sunday School Procession is depicted on the Bioscope.

EDINBURGH.—ROYAL LYCEUM THEATRE.—Proprietors, Messrs. Howard and Wyndham, Ltd.; General-Manager, Mr. Geo. T. Minshull.—Mr. James Welch and company began a week's engagement here on Monday in the new farce Dear Old Charley. Mr. James Welch, in the title-rôle, showed his command of humour, and the house rang with merriment whenever he was on the stage. As the two friends of Charley, Gabriel Peploe and Thomas Dumphie, Mr. John W. Deverell and Mr. Fred Lewis gave admirable sketches of eccentric characters, Mr. Lewis being particularly diverting. Mr. George F. Tully as a peppery Colonel was extremely good; and Mr. Leopold Profeit was altogether excellent in the part of Purkitt, the butler. Miss Estelle Winwood played with much charm as Agnes; Miss Helen Vicary acted vivaciously as Mrs. Fishbourne; and Miss Ethel Hollingshead was a piquant Reeves. The farce was preceded on Monday by The Man in the Street, Mr. Welch repeating his pathetic and realistic impersonation of Jabez Gover; and during the week the one-act play The Lady Burglar, was also given, with Mr. George Tully and Miss Estelle Winwood in the cast.

EMPIRE PALACE THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. Finch-Hatton.—Variety is well emphasised in this week's bill, the principal items of which include Ancillotti, with his thought-reading dog "Pilu"; Miss Alexandra Dagmar, in interesting imitations of sundry types of music-hall artists; the Warsaw Brothers, who are entertaining musical comedians; and the Hadj Abdullah troupe of Arabs, in a lively display of acrobatic feats and pyramid building. Galletti's monkeys and dogs show the skill of their trainer in amusing fashion; animated turns are contributed by Miss Lily Langtry, Miss Mignonette Kokin, and the Raies, all of whom are expert dancers; and Guy Ryder, the boy sifteur, is specially clever in his imitations of singing birds. The singing comedian element is well supplied by Mr. Harry Weldon, Mr. Tom Wootwell, and, notably, by Mr. J. W. Rickaby, an old favourite in Edinburgh.

FLEETWOOD.—QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. H. J. Snelson.—The Secret of an Orange Girl is this week being presented by Mr. Snelson's company. Mr. Aylmer J. Williams as Sir Peregrine Beamish makes an admirable villain, and Mr. H. J. Snelson as Uriah Underwood ably supports him. The character of Pepper Frost is well taken by Mr. Robin Shiells, and Mr. J. Carl Lyle gives an excellent representation of the kind-hearted governor of the gaol. Mr. Harwood Cooper is admirable in the character of John Fryer, the wrongly-accused hero. Miss Florence Mitchell scores in the part of Jane Fryer, and Miss Olive Lloyd as Jenny is attractive. The performance concludes with a laughable sketch, entitled The Married Microbe, in which Miss Kate Chard appears.

FOLKESTONE.—PLEASURE GARDENS THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. H. W. Rowland.—On Tuesday and Wednesday the boards were occupied by a distinguished company of amateurs, including the Countess of Lathom, in Diplomacy, in aid of local charities.

VICTORIA PIER.—Lessees, Messrs. Keith Prouse and Co., Ltd.; General-Manager, Mr. J. Fenton Walsh.—The Imperial Austrian Band, conducted by Herr Franz Meisel, performs here three times daily, and is accorded a hearty reception. The evening concert is augmented by two talented vocalists, Miss Lalla Parry and Mr. Fred Rowe, both gaining applause. The Wednesday evening's special programme and dance are exceedingly popular.

TOWN HALL.—Lessee, Mr. E. J. Chadwick.—The Globe Animated Picture company opened a short season here on Monday; the pictures proved most entertaining and pleasing.

LEAS PAVILION.—Manager, Mr. A. Sitter.—Miss Pauline Theurer, soprano, and Mr. Paul Wilson, character-actor, are the artistes engaged here this week. The Ladies' Blue Salon Orchestra discouses music at intervals, and the entertainment concludes with a series of animated pictures.

GATESHEAD.—METROPOLE THEATRE.—Lessees, Messrs. Bolam and Bacon; General-Manager, Mr. Sidney Bacon; Acting-Manager, Mr. Thomas France.—Messrs. Beaudyn and Livesey are presenting here this week the drama A Traitor Prince. Mr. G. M. Montanini gives a striking picture of Prince Rao; Mr. Ernest A. Duval plays somewhat quietly, yet successfully, as the hero Frank Derrick; a humorous character is that of Billy Bright, cleverly portrayed by Mr. Edmond O'Grady; Mr. Edward Fenton as the Hon. Bobby is responsible for an effective representation; Miss Nita Langford's depiction of Vashti leaves nothing to be desired; and Miss Rose Routledge is a convincing Lola Vane; Misses Kitty Thomas and Clara O'Grady are conspicuous in humorous rôles.

KING'S THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. M. S. Hammond; General-Manager, Mr. Joe May.—Chas. Baldwin's company of comedians occupy the leading place here this week, and are delighting good audiences with an excellent sketch bearing the title The Bank Clerks. The Four Juggling Geraldos give an exhibition of hoop-twirling and club-juggling which would be hard to beat; Effie White scores heavily with her kaleidoscope dances; the Two Kays have an excellent song-scena entitled The Nightingale; Lozelle is a clever gymnast whose business is original; Matt Wilkinson's sketch The Registry Office is highly amusing; also appearing are Miss Madge Allan, vocalist; Miss Mary Neilson, comedienne; and Miss Mabel Le Blanche, burlesque actress. The King's Bioscope concludes the "show."

QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Proprietors, Messrs. Bolam and Bacon; General-Manager, Mr. Sidney Bacon; Acting-Manager, Mr. Stephen Smith.—Verno and Voyce are "starring" here, and these clever singing comedians provide an excellent entertainment; Joe Humphreys is here once again, and pleases with old and new favourites; the St. Johns in a musical act get a large amount of praise; Mabel Hind is a charming young comedienne whose Japanese scena is much appreciated; Morzetto is a clever juggler; and Brack and Johnson are comedians of ability. Downey's Pictures end the entertainment.

GLASGOW.—KING'S, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. F. W. Wyndham; Acting-Manager, pro tem., Mr. Percy Humphrys.—Mr. W. W. Kelly's company in A Royal Divorce is with us once again, and is seen to great advantage on this its first visit to the West-end house. Miss Edith Cole's Josephine is as refined and touching as ever, and the Napoleon of Mr. Frederick Moyes ranks as one of the most successful impersonations yet seen of the great Emperor. Talleyrand is represented with telling effect by Mr. F. Joynsen-Powell; Beaumont is played with fine reserve by Mr. George W. Cockburn; Mr. George Howard gives the proper spirit to Augereau; Mr. St. George Frere makes a distinguished Marshal Murat, and Mr. Alfred Willesley again depicts Grimand in striking fashion. Miss Elizabeth Watson is still with the company repeating her powerful study of Marie Louise; Miss Clara Earle makes a bright and interesting Stephanie; an attractive Blanche D'Hervas is seen in Miss Helen Richmond, and the little King of Rome is intelligently portrayed by Miss Maggie Cardiff.

METROPOLE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Arthur Jefferson; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Gillespy.—A season of Irish drama was opened here on Monday, the first week being devoted to The Irish Dragoon, a stage version by Mr. J. W. Whitbread of Charles Lever's famous romance, "Charles O'Malley." Mr. Whitbread's company includes a number of clever artists, and prominent among them were Mr. Robert Faulkner, who made a striking figure as Charles O'Malley; Miss Cecilia Dare, whose Lucy Dashwood was a most charming impersonation; Mr. H. Ryeland Leigh as Major Hammersley, the evil genius of the play; Mr. Tom Ireland as the brave old general, Sir George Dashwood, and Mr. James O'Brien as the irrepressible Micky Free, O'Malley's servant and retainer, with his witty remarks and unctuous Irish humour. Mr. Dane Clarke gave a clever embodiment of Napoleon, and the tableaux of Waterloo and St. Helena were cleverly staged. Miss Monica Kelly as Micky's sweetheart Susie, ably assisted the fun. Mr. J. A. Daly, Mr. H. Richardson, Mr. T. Bayley, Miss Madeline Hurst, and Mrs. Brady accounted for the other leading parts. The play was heartily received.

EMPIRE.—Proprietors, Moss' Empires, Limited; District-Manager, Mr. Sam Gething; Resident-Manager, Mr. Chas. Mussett.—Despite the summer weather there was a large audience here on the opening night. The very attractive programme is headed by Mike S. Whallen, a storyteller without a superior, who had a capital reception, his patter being greatly enjoyed; Mr. George Gray and company in The Fighting Parson were also highly successful. The other turns of note include Shirley Liggins, coloured vocalist; Holles and Goldman Trio in comedy melange; the Mackweys Trio, wire performers; J. Alexander and company, sketch artists; Howard and Collinson, burlesque artists; Rene Bert, comedienne; and the American Bioscope with a series of up-to-date pictures.

ZOO HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Moss Empires, Ltd., and E. H. Bostock; Resident-Manager, Mr. E. H. Bostock.—Fred Karno's troupe of comedians pay a welcome return visit this week, and present that laughable sketch Early Birds with their usual success. The Sutcliffe family give a clever display of dancing and acrobatism; Nermann Melot mystifies his audience with his conjuring tricks; a humorous sketch, entitled The Would-be Actors, is presented by Miss Lilian Rosebery, Mr. Carter Livesey, and Mr. Albert Mason, and gained much appreciation; Rex King is an impersonator of much merit, and his turn takes well; Carney and Armstrong, Spry and Monti, and the Mezzettis are exceptionally good turns. Pictures depicting the Spanish Royal wedding are shown by the Bioscope.

PAVILION.—General-Manager, Mr. Samuel Lloyd.—A first-class company is billed here this week, the chief item on the programme being the engagement of Max Sterling, who mystifies all with his wonderful Burmese gong and other illusions. George French, comedian, is heard in several good songs; and a daring performance is given by Yamamoto and Miss Koyoshi, Japanese equilibrists. Other turns of special merit include Cherry Lass, vocalist and dancer; Herbert Clifton, mimic; Dolly Harmer, popular comedienne; Tennyson and Wallis, high-class comedians; Troupe La Faille in equilibristic act, and Pueblo and Cropp, speciality artists.

PALACE.—Acting-Manager, Mr. Harry McKelvie.—Harry Dent, assisted by Fanny Harris, in their comedy act cause much merriment. Chanti, protean artist, elicits applause for sterling work. Martin Conway is as quaint and humorous as ever; Gipsy Woolf and Six Sunbeams in Fun in a Forest supply an item of excellent quality. Tom Lloyd, comedian, contributes some funny songs, and Maidie Scott, comedienne, is well appreciated; Vincent, acrobat; Spencer and Marks, vocalists; F. De Marce, in equestrian act, are meritorious turns, and Myles and May, Merry Huntsmen, complete a good programme.

COLISEUM.—Proprietors, Moss Empires, Ltd.; District-Manager, Mr. Sam Gething; Resident-Manager, Mr. B. J. MacLachlan.—Fred Ginnett and company in Turpin's Ride to York produce a spectacle which makes a surprisingly fine stage turn. Mr. F. Ginnett as Dick with the highly-trained mare Black Bess are the centre of attraction, Mr. Geo. Jennings being capital as Tom King. The spectacle is well received, the scenery, staging, and acting meriting much praise. Lloyd Morgan is recalled for his singing of tuneful songs in a good baritone voice; Rosa Loader as "the slavey at the piano" makes a decided hit, and Walton and Lester are as funny as ever in their clever burlesque show as magicians. The Canary company are pantomime artists of ability and resourceful merrymakers; the Northern Troupe dance with their wonted agility and grace; Ed. E. Forde, "the Australian Sundowner," gains many admirers; Home from the Honeymoon, a clever sketch by Arthur Jefferson, is smartly presented by a party of very capable comedians. The American Bioscope is notable for a very fine presentation of the launch of the new Cunard liner Lusitania.

TIVOLI.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. B. M. Armstrong.—Bertie's Birthday Party has proved a first-rate attraction here, and is now running its fourth week. The Five Grovinis give a clever tumbling and acrobatic display, which is well received; Amy Bell sings several songs in taking style; Gordon and Dunn in a humorous conjuring turn are good; Bros. Laurence, dancers, and Jack, the man monkey, completing a well diversified programme.

GREAT YARMOUTH.—ROYAL AQUARIUM.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. J. W. Nightingale.—Mr. Henry Swinerd's company is paying a return visit with the musical comedy, Dare-Devil Dorothy. In the title-rôle, Miss Dorothy Desmonde acts brightly and sings expressively; Miss Ethel M. Darsley is very successful as Ruth Montrose; Capt. Fielding is represented in manly style by Mr. Walter Ashley; and Mr. Henry C. Ward is excellent as Capt. Dudley. Mr. Frank Howard is amusing as Featherstone Haugh; Mr. Edward Kipling makes much of the rôle of Silas Crump; and Miss Nellie Harcourt is a bright, vivacious Judith. In the plantation scena these two artists win loud applause.

GREENOCK.—PAVILION THEATRE.—Lessees, the Greenock Pavilion, Ltd; General-Manager, Mr. Samuel Lloyd.—The principal turn here is given by Frank Leon, dancer, and was a very humorous Sergeant Bodega; Mr. Harry A. Gribben played cleverly as Don Sebastian; and Mr. Alfred H. Majilton played vigorously as the Marquis Circumvita; Miss Beatrice Ford was principal danseuse. Mr. Sydney Payne conducted the orchestra with commendable care, the chorus was capable, and the mounting and dressing of the piece enective.

HIPPODROME THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Resident and General Manager, Mr. Albert Matnams.—The pleasing comedienne, Cissy Sinclair, heads a good programme here; the Meymotts are highly amusing in a musical interlude, Semi-Detached. The Hippodrome Bioscope exhibits among the films a very effective scene of the carnival at Nice; Maree Kean has established herself quite a favourite by her quaint impersonations; the acrobatism of the Wilfords is smart and clever; Marco decidedly excels in juggling; a superior musical comedy is introduced by Alex. Keith and Julia Kent, whose business is most amusing; quite an original turn is given by the Bouncing Dillons; Nat Watkins is a truly eccentric comedian, and scores a success.

PIER PAVILION.—Pier-Master, Mr. R. Turner; Entertainment-Manager, Mr. J. D. Hunter.—Mr. J. D. Hunter and his company are again appearing in the interesting drama entitled The Ruby Ring. Nothing could be better than the acting of Mr. Frederick Sargent in the part of Cuthbert Vaughan; Colonel Clethorpe is played very naturally by Mr. George Cecil Murray; the unthankful part of Reginald Clethorpe by Mr. Horace Pollock is a very vital realisation; a clearly-drawn sketch of Henry Jordon is submitted by Mr. Charles Langton; Mr. George Mudie does an excellent piece of work as Charles Lynton; whilst the valet, John Jenkins, is in the hands of Mr. J. D. Hunter, who brings its diverting qualities into strong relief; Mr. Walter Selby gives a fine characterisation of the solicitor, John Kendall, whose clerk, Peter Tagg, Mr. Harry Collier impersonates in a very laughable manner; Mr. A. B. Tapping as Alphonse Leloir is admirable; as the heiress, Helen Neville, Miss Alice Farleigh is charmingly natural; as Mrs. Renshaw, Miss Eva Bayley in a small part quite realises the character; Miss Bella Parkin gives a touch of distinction to her impersonation of Mrs. De Tracy-Harcourt; Miss Blanche Bayley as Helen's maid is bright and vivacious.

HUDDERSFIELD.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietors and Managers, Messrs. Milton Bode and Edward Compton; Resident-Manager, Mr. W. J. Andrews.—Mr. J. A. Campbell and company are playing Mr. Campbell's drama entitled The Little Breadwinner. The play is a wholesome piece of domestic history, admirably presented by Miss Mary Fulton as Margaret, Mr. David Gordon as Richard Lawrence, whose trials are caused by the villainies of Joseph Prior (Mr. Scott Leighton). Sympathetic friends are found in Charles Prior (Mr. Allen Charles), Bridget O'Flanaghan (Miss Jenny Bostock), and Ruth Cherry (Miss Emmie Litchfield). Two juvenile parts are cleverly embodied by Miss Lissa Young as Bobby and Little Emmie Thomas as Meg.

HIPPODROME, LTD.—Resident-Manager, Mr. N. M. Robinson.—A screaming farce entitled Miss Lancashire, Limited, is staged here by way of variety. The piece causes roars of laughter, the chief merriment-provoker being Miss Florence Baines as Mary Ellen Thompson.

HULL.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Lessee, Mr. Wm. Morton; Resident-Director, Mr. W. F. Morton.—The large number of visitors attracted to the city by the Beverley race meeting have found a fund of enjoyment in Weedon Grossmith's Night of the Party, which is paying a second visit at this house. The manœuvres of the man-servant Leslie are made even more diverting by the skilful acting of Mr. Leslie Holland, Mr. G. Stephenson making of his companion, Frank Frayne, an equal contributor to the evening's entertainment. The Lady Hampshire of Miss Evelyn Howard reveals much artistic talent. Mr. Fred Rolph is a comedian who never fails in his aims; his Mr. Flambert is a piece of work to remember.

GRAND THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. John Hart; Acting-Manager, Mr. Wynn Miller.—The Curate, a play new to this city, is filling this popular house. The Rev. John Audley is ably represented by Mr. A. Mervyn; and Dick the Trumpeter is cleverly portrayed by Miss Hettie Jeffries. Her vivacity being agreeably conspicuous. The Russian spy, Gilbert Westwood, is played with force by Mr. Whitmore Ledger; and the remainder of the cast is effective.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE.—Morton's, Ltd.—General-Manager, Mr. George Morton.—Her Lost Self fully meets the taste of Mr. Morton's patrons, and is drawing big audiences. In the rôle of Philipine Marcel, Miss Frances Delaval, the directress of the company, finds full opportunity for the display of her histrionic ability; and equally praiseworthy are the efforts of Mr. P. C. Waram as Wilfrid Daventry. The Norman Esmond of Mr. A. Brandon presents many pleasing features; Tiny Carrie Johnson supplies some well-rendered comedy songs. Good business has been done during the week.

THE PALACE.—Resident-Manager, Mr. Jno. S. Barnett.—Bransby Wiliams in his dramatic sketches secures hearty applause for his effective efforts in depicting both the humorous and pathetic. Nellie Wallace is another successful artist. Novelty is introduced by Solberg's automaton. No less than two sketches are presented by Mr. and Mrs. Harald Finden in A Desperate Remedy and Howard St. Clair, who cause much laughter. The Sisters Caselli, who sing sweetly and dance well, are vociferously applauded; Alf Holt is an excellent mimic; the Borellis, in some musical tit-bits and Frame, the Scotch comedian, complete a good bill.

THE HIPPODROME.—Lessee, Mr. Alfred Graham.—Edwin Boyde is a big favourite here; V. L. Granville gives some clever impersonations from The Silver King, &c.; the New York Comedy Four possess good voices; Queenie May is an acceptable singer; Maude Vera, a coon artist of much ability. Selbo, Will Driscoll, and J. C. Manley complete the bill.

HYDE.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Lessee, Mr. Fred Granville; Acting-Manager, Mr. A. R. Feather.—The dramatic sketch, The Maniac, heads the bill here this week. Mr. Melville Bickford excellently interprets the rôle of the maniac, Nathan Blake; Mr. William Brandon is sufficiently callous as Jaspar Woodleigh; and Miss Gladys Rose plays with pathos and feeling as Florence Woodleigh. Mr. George Wybrow creates roars of laughter by his quaint impersonation of Sammy Garret; and Miss Josie Bickford makes a sprightly Sally Jenkins, acting, singing, and dancing in a delightful manner. Yorkshire Tom is a clever mimic, and his efforts are vociferously applauded; Little Violet displays considerable talent as a male impersonator; the Juvenile Wonders give a fine boxing and wrestling display; and Mr. Frank Coyle scores as a comedian. The other turns are Miss Josie Bickford, comedienne; J. S. Scatter, comedian and dancer; and the Electric Bioscope.

ILKESTON.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. L. F. A. Rogers.—Under Two Flags is presented this week by Mr. Louis Cohn and company. Miss E. Turner-Elliott plays the part of Cigarette with much skill and animation; whilst Mr. George Steel exhibits some capital acting as Bertie Cecil. Mr. E. Bulwer-Pitt, as Lord Rockingham, gives a delightful interpretation of the part; and Miss Gwendoline Thorpe wins admiration as Princess Venetia. Mr Walter Rousby plays appropriately as Rake; Mr. Reginald Hargreaves, as Barklie Cecil; and Mr. Charles Brooke, as Lord Royellieu, both do good work. Miss Issa Steel appears with effect as Lady Beatrice; Mr. Louis Cohn makes a good Ezra Baroni; and Mr. Charles D. Pitt is meritorious as Colonel Chateauroy.

IPSWICH.—HIPPODROME.—Proprietor, Mr. E. H. Bostock.—Two performances every evening have now given place to one only, the leading turn this week being a miniature musical comedy entitled The Prince of Monte Carlo, played by Mr. Harry Roxberry's company. Mr. J. E. Nightingale is the principal of the twenty performers, and causes much laughter; while Miss Carr's singing and dancing are much applauded. Mildare's imitations of various song birds greatly delight the audience. Among other items are Elton and Edwin, entertaining banjo experts; Williams and Warden, who are very amusing; the Sisters Cora, whose tuneful singing and neat dancing are much appreciated; and Charles Russell, descriptive vocalist. The chief picture on the Biograph is an effective representation of San Franciso in Ruins.

JARROW.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Hugh Robertson; Acting-Manager, Mr. Jerold E. Reed.—Mr. Frank Bateman's company is here this week with the powerful drama entitled No Wedding Bells for Her. Mr. George C. Doughty gives a good rendering of Dick Delver; while Mr. Stuart Lomath scores in the part of Frank Hatherleigh. Mr. Louis Garton does full justice to the rôle of Montague Blair; and Mr. Archie Helsby acts powerfully as Abney Stone. Mr. Edward E. Louis gives a manly portrayal of Harold Treveiyan; Miss Lizzie Montague plays with vigour the part of Lola Delaspierre; and Miss Doris Lorraine is charming as Doris Fane. Mr. Will Skelton makes the most of the character of Simkins, and is ably assisted by Miss Alice Mattin as Peggy.

KEIGHLEY.—QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Proprietors, Messrs. Carson and Kendall; General-Manager, Mr. R. Kendall.—On Monday the variety season opened here. Mr. George A. De Gray presents a capital sketch Husband's Troubles. It is smartly played by a capable company. Conway and Garland provide a capital turn; Miss Maggie Grimshaw, the miniature Vesta Tilley, is much appreciated; Tony, the Society whistler, warbles in fine style; Miss Janette Latour sings well; and the Queen's Bioscope pictures are highly interesting.

LEEDS.—GRAND THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. John Hart; General-Manager, Mr. Edward Liston.—A distinctly creditable performance of Hoodman Blind is being given at the Royal this week by a capable company under the direction of Mr. Arnold Bell. Mr. Bell, in the part of Jack Yeulett, is powerful and convincing; Miss Frances Campbell interprets a trying dual rôle in clever style; and other leading characters are faithfully portrayed by Mr. Cuthbert Imrie, Mr. John Belton, and Miss Owlet Campbell.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Lessees, Messrs. Dottridge and Longden; General-Manager, Mr. C. H. Longden: Acting-Manager, Mr. Chas. Bush.—A Prince of the People, a powerful drama dealing with the time of the French Revolution, is the attraction here this week. Mr. F. Rawson Buckley plays the part of Victor Lafond admirably; the count's daughter, Lucille, is a capable personation by Miss Emily Sheridan; the portrayal of Berthault is a masterly effort by Mr. William H. Brougham; and Mr. H. G. Twyman, as the Marquis de Sancy, is an effective villain; the comedy parts of Badru and Marie are in the hands of Mr. Douglas Munro and Lillian Villiars, respectively; Mr. Lionel Gadsdone, Mr. R. Reginald, and Mr. Sid Leslie also do good work in leading parts.

EMPIRE PALACE.—Moss' Empires, Ltd.; District Manager, Mr. T. Gerald Morton; Acting-Manager, Mr. Alex. Galley.—The Casey Circus is a screaming farce from start to finish, and proves very acceptable fare at this hall; the Kaufmann Troupe of lady cyclists go through some wonderful evolutions on wheels; Howard Bros., display both musical ability and muscular dexterity in the handling of their instruments; the Casino Comedy Four combine comedy and vocal effort to the delight of the audience; the Cape Girls do well in song and dance, and the well-known Jurgens Trio present again their specialty; the Bros. Harrison contribute eccentric comedy, calculated to please; Will English needs no introduction as a favourite comedian; and Venie Clements is also appearing with success.

TIVOLI.—Proprietor, Mr. Thos. Barrasford; Managers, Mr. Chas. Weldon and Mr. Claude Shayler.—This is the last week for the present of the popular Tivoli, for to-day it will close for six weeks. The big attraction is John Tiller's company with the farce High Jinks, in which those popular favourites Bob Selvidge and Bessie Cohen give general satisfaction. The Four Holloways are prominent with a sensational wire act, and others in the bill are Percy Hannan, baritone vocalist; Harris and Worth, eccentrics; Mons. Slippere, expert blind pianist; A. J. Rebla, in comedy jugglery; and Fred Curran, comedian.

CITY VARIETIES.—Proprietor, Mr. F. W. Wood; General-Manager, Mr. J. C. Whiteman; Acting-Manager, Mr. S. Jones.—Wilbur Hill and Willette Whittaker are a strikingly successful lead in the week's bill here, their musical and vocal contributions being much enjoyed; Arthur Reece scores with nursery-rhyme ditties, whilst Will Dalton and Tom Yorke also do well in a similar line; Bayne and Hope present a dramatic episode in capital style; Callis and Cassati and the Brothers Ralston are well to the fore with comedy entertainment; and Rosie Reval, a pleasing comedienne, completes the bill.

LEICESTER.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Lessees and Managers, Messrs. Milton Bode and Edward Compton; Business-Manager, Mr. E. R. Beaumont.—A stirring melodrama, entitled The Way of the World, is being presented here this week by Montague Beaudyn and Sidney Crowe's excellent company, under the direction of Mr. Herbert Skardon. The staging is a special feature, especially the race-course scene. Miss Sidney Crowe makes a conspicuous success as Adela de la Roche; Miss Cissie Bellamy is good as Kate Montague; and Violet Ingram as Marion Fanshaw, and Miss Marie Fontaine as Polly Bell are also capitally placed. Mr. Harold B. Lewis as Cecil Montague is excellent, and as Captain Fred Slade Mr. Herbert Skardon shines with a portrayal of merit; Mr. Clarence Temple plays well as Matthew Malyon; Mr. Pat Quinn as Silas Montague does good work; and both Mr. Augustus Hammond as Horatio Bluff and Mr. Dick Seddon as Joe Sparrow are good.

PALACE THEATRE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; District-Manager, Mr. Hatton Wharton; Acting-Manager, Mr. George Andrews.—The premier position here this week is held by Eugene Stratton, whose delightful rendering of coon songs evokes the greatest admiration; a really fine equilibristic act is submitted by the Uessems; the Arthur Lloyd Trio give with the greatest success their well-acted comical dilemma playlet, entitled Little Charlie; Chinko, the boy juggler, goes through his performance with a smartness that is heartily appreciated; the Norman Leonard Trio prove most entertaining in their comedy musical sketch, The Itinerant; Brooks, Dale, and Blitz, with their mule, provide plenty of amusement; Marba and Verity, the gay, whirling couple of dancers, are good; Will Vokes is a clever and quaint eccentric dancer; Alfred Hurley is an excellent vocalist; and the Bioscope depicts the Royal Wedding of the King and Queen of Spain.

PAVILION THEATRE.—Proprietor and Director-General, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Acting-Manager, Mr. Walter Lapworth.—The following artists constitute the company appearing here this week: Leo Lester's canine pantomime, entitled Sports; the Brothers Herne, in their neat juggling and club manipulating act; the Elvio Trio, in their latest laughable absurdity, Those Troublesome Slaveys, in which some good acrobatic work is introduced; George Bendon, the popular white coon, in connection with whose engagement a singing competition is taking place; Kisbey, in his amusing and unique speciality, The Call Boy; George Rapley, a capital burlesque comedian; Adey Spencer, the girl from the hat-shop; and Walter H. Pallister's Bioscope is retained.

PIERROT PAVILION.—Proprietors, Messrs. Abell, Johnson, and Unsworth.—The new-comers here this week are Amy Bellwood, a dainty comedienne; Mme. Alice Smythe, a soprano of much ability; and Charlie Neary, a popular comedian. Retained from last week are Dan Lyndon, a first-rate comedian; Bert Wallace, an amusing comedian; and Jeff Lytton, pianist and conductor.

LEIGH.—THEATRE ROYAL AND OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietor, Mr. J. W. Cragg; Resident-Manager, Mr. H. Rousby.—Mr. Herbert Barrs and company is here this week with the comedy drama, entitled Life. Mr. Herbert Barrs plays with dramatic effect as Jack Lockhart; Mr. Herbert Fuller evokes much laughter as Zac Krabbe; Mr. A. Pringle gives a strong delineation of Sir Horace Lester; Miss Dorotny Oswald sympathetically embodies Ruth Thorpe; Miss Maudie Vincent is good as Jess, the London waif, her songs being well rendered; and Miss Agness Collier does effective work as Beatrice Ferrars.

LIVERPOOL.—ROTUNDA THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. M. Montgomery, jun.—A capital all-round performance of the revised version of The Prodigal Parson has been given here during the week by Messrs. Alfred Northway and W. V. Garrod's company. As the Rev. Tom Godley Mr. Garrod exhibited excellent dramatic powers; Miss Bertha Kingston in the rôle of the wife afforded every satisfaction; Enoch Jaggins found in Mr. Alfred Northway a capable exponent; the part of Ben Jaggins was in the able hands of Mr. Frank Dallas; Miss Gladys Conover was sympathetic as the blind child Myrtle Godley; and good work came from Mr. Walter Vincent as Kettlepin; Mr. Thomas Ashton in the rôle of Detective Markby; and Mr. Percy Dawsone, who undertook Phil Drive.

LYRIC THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Henry C. Arnold; Directors of Entertainments, Messrs. T. Barrasford and F. Willmot; Acting-Manager, Mr. Fred Coles.—A capital programme is provided here this week. Messrs. Fergusson and Mack, "Yankee Curiosities," are a pronounced success; the Four Scandias give a really clever equilibristic display; Messrs. Bernard and Weston are high-class comedians; Miss Katie Butler, comedienne, shows talent; Mr. Harry Conlin is a good comedian; Mr. J. S. Aitken scores with amusing patter; Miss Rosie Coleman is a dancer of ability; Sauteron, trick and fancy jumper, receives approbation; and the Lyric Bioscope has a variety of up-to-date pictures.

STAR THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Harris Fineberg.—The Poor Must Live has held the boards here during the week. Mr. Geoffrey Fulton's talented company presented it, the scenic effects being excellent. Mr. Shaun Glenville, specially engaged, gained the favour of the audiance for his Hooker Holdswitch, a character full of humour; Miss Olive Fulton as Olga D'Eyncourt ably presented a picture of a female mob leader, and earned much applause; as the Society blackguard Manville Mr. Walter Spinner was eminently successful; a dignified and well-drawn Earl of Marswood came from Mr. Charles O'Connor; and Mr. Harold C. Macartney well fitted the character of Donald. Miss Alice Buckland made the most of Moya Darling; and Miss Marguerite Thorne as Sal Darling and Miss Violet Hammersley in the rôle of Dorothy afforded good support.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. Lingford Carson; Manager, Mr. Fred L. Arthur.—It is evident from the manner in which it has been received here this week that The Ticket-of-Leave Man still possesses great drawing powers, particularly when presented by such a competent company as Mr. Carson has sent. It was a pleasure to witness the Bob Brierley of Mr. Charles Draycott, who moved his auditors to frequent applause; Miss Hettie Senior exhibited tenderness and discretion as the affectionate wife May Edwards; Mr. J. Dobson-Clyde handled the part of Dalton in masterly fashion; as Melter Moss no fault could be found with Mr. Arthur Byron; and Mr. Ernest J. Fare's Hawkshaw was full of good points. A word of praise is certainly due to Miss Daisy Norman for her Sam Willoughby; and Mr. Morley Carrol proved natural as Mr. Gibson. The staging was in every way satisfactory.

THE EMPIRE.—Proprietors, Moss' Empires, Ltd.; Resident-Manager, Mr. Horace Cole.—Alec Hurley heads an attractive programme here this week with his funny Coster's Beanfeast, the company engaged provoking great laughter; the famous Craggs in Billy are a source of keen enjoyment; Daisy Dormer is a pleasing comedienne and dancer; Sloan, the cigar-box king, goes through some clever manipulation of balls, &c.; the songs and patter of James H. Cullen go exceedingly well; Nelson's Newsboys render a number of taking songs and harmonies; a cleverly directed marionette show is Bernar's Fantoches, which appeared instead of Amaun and Hartley; Mr. Fred Erick is a quaint comedian; some clever juggling on globes earned for the Goltz Trio loud applause; and others who appeared included Leone Dixon, an accomplished dancer; and the Lunelle Sisters, singers and dancers.

ROYAL HIPPODROME.—Managing-Director, Mr Thomas Barrasford.—This place of amusement continues to do good business. Top of the bill this week are Donaldson Bros. and Ardel with their speciality in two scenes, A Zoological Comedy, which provides much amusement and is richly enjoyed; George Gilbey brings his newest songs and patter, which meet with cordial approval; the Four Madcaps supply some capital acrobatic dancing; Sable Fern pleases everybody with her well-rendered songs; the banjo playing of Evelyn Desa is very acceptable; everybody has to laugh at Will Souls; Max Waldon's transformation act is a notable item in the programme; the Brooklands are dainty comediennes and dancers; and Nora Emerald dances with taste and ability.

NEW PARTHENON.—Proprietor, Mr. Edwin W. Smith.—A change in the customary bill of fare has taken place at this cosy little theatre this week, the evening's entertainment consisting of a fine set of moving pictures, interspersed with variety turns. The Bioscope belongs to the British Imperial Company, and the pictures, both coloured and plain, are unusually steady and clear.

ROYAL PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Manager, Mr. M. Montgomery, jun.; Acting-Manager, Mr. Frank O'Toole.—The ten-tableaux sketch Her Fate has been given here this week by the "Royal" Stock company. Mr. Percy Boucher was the Bob Smith; Mr. Harry Tresham made a capital Rev. Frank Thornton; Miss Nina Nazeby, a talented actress, was the Ruth Hastings; Miss Gertrude Entwistle gave satisfaction as Lady Fenwicke; the double part of Ernest Hastings and Charles Fenwicke was well handled by Miss Gladys Evelyn; and strong support came from Mr. Sydney Grant and Mr. E. D. Allen.

PADDINGTON PALACE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Walter De Frece; Director of Entertainments, Mr. Fred Willmot.—Cavern and Cave are at the top of the bill here this week with a very laughable item, An Early Morning Dip; Shirley Barton and company present a smart three-tableaux turn entitled Convict 88; with their skit Stage Aspirants Dene and Dawson provoke endless laughter; Charles Grantley gives a neat entertainment in songs, stories, and mimicry; Lillie Coleman is a versatile artist; and Gladys Christo sings some taking songs.

PARK PALACE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Walter De Frece; Director of Entertainments, Mr. Fred Willmot.—Florence Yaymen, a coon comedienne of merit, is foremost here this week, with some catchy songs; Mr. L. Lee presents a dramatic sketch, Adrift on the World; Henri Cazman, "the one-man music-hall," is very entertaining; a neat vocal and comedy acrobatic act is given by Haig and Nevel; the singing, dancing, and speciality act of Fields and Lewis is approved; Daisy O'Malley sings and dances very satisfactorily; and others in the list are Edward Ind, character comedian, and Queenie West, vocal comedienne.

HAYMARKET.—Leesee, Mr. Fred Willmot.—The always-popular Charles Majilton and company are principal here this week with The Plumber, which has been followed by screams of laughter; Sandy and Karl are a pair of able comedians and dancers; the singing and patter of Mr. C. is pleasing; Blanche Marion dances well; some taking coon ditties are supplied by J. H. Wakefield; and Kitty Kearns does a good turn as a vocal comedienne.

WESTMINSTER.—Manager, Mr. M. Montgomery, jun.; Acting-Manager, Mr. G. Montgomery.—A big line here this week is Charles Bignell, who is pleasing everyone with his latest songs, including "Are we down-hearted?" and "Why walk about girls?" Maxford and O'Neill are overflowing with funny songs and sayings, which keep their hearers in a merry mood; Little Dot Pardy is a neat juvenile male impersonator; the Bros. Adderley, with their song and instrumental mimicry, receive a hearty welcome on their return visit; J. W. Howley is a talented juvenile comedian and sand dancer; Violet Mack supplies some favourite ditties; and Gladys Christoe has a pleasing voice.

OLYMPIA, LTD.—Manager, Mr. A. W. Young.—The always popular Miss Marie Loftus heads the bill here this week, and hosts of her admirers have enjoyed her latest songs, including "Singers past and present." There was no mistaking the warmth of the welcome accorded to the talented artist. John Lawson's Monkey's Paw has been witnessed by delighted audiences; a funny act, Flipp and Flopp, consisting of eccentric dancing, is given by the Delevines; clever vocalism and quaint humour mark the work of the accomplished Harmony Four; a smart acrobatic display is provided by the Vetter Bros; Bernar's Fantoches are wonderfully manipulated; Helen Ford sings in a very pleasing fashion; and the programme also contains the names of Marie Weston, comedienne, and Alf Kingston, vocalist.

TOM CAMPBELL'S VAUDEVILLE ENTERTAINMENT.—Sole Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Tom Campbell.—Attractive fare is billed here for this week. Mr. Will Austin, comedian, brings down the house with his humorous songs; Mr. Harry Fay is still a prime favourite; Mme. St. Albans, contralto, is in capital voice; a successful turn is given by Mr. E. W. Williams; and Lorraine, mimic, is very good.

LLANDUDNO.—GRAND THEATRE.—Responsible Manager, Mr. A. G. Pugh.—The Ian MacLaren Shakespearean and Répertoire company is here for a fortnight, and opened on Monday with David Garrick. Mr. Ian MacLaren's impersonation of the title-rôle evoked loud applause throughout. He was admirably supported by Miss G. Gilbert as Mabel Brackson, and every praise is due to her for a capital representation of a difficult part. Mr. Claud Haviland as Alderman Brackson was a typical "stern" father, and in all respects played well; Mr. François Cellier, jun., as Hon. Mon. Fairley, sustained the part of the drunken nephew in good style. The company is a capital one, and the stage effects first-class. The Merchant of Venice, Twelfth Night, Hamlet, As You Like It, Othello, and Romeo and Juliet were also down for production.

PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. C. R. Chaplin.—Mr. Millar Anderson's company occupy the boards of this theatre for six nights, Bachelor of Arts being produced on Monday. Mr. Frank Litchfield as Andrew Wylie, the moneylender, was par excellence, sustaining the part splendidly. Mr. Jerrold Heather as Harry Jasper was exceptionally good, and was ably supported by Miss Gladys Lloyd as Mrs. Thornton. A special word of praise is due to Miss Mabel Mannering for an excellent rendering of Emma Thornton. Camille was staged on Wednesday and Thursday, and Lena on Friday and Saturday.

The Promenade Concerts, under the conductorship of Mr. J. Mohr, are in full swing, Mr. Curtis D'Alton delighting audiences by his vocal abilities each evening. Like wine, he improves with age.

Perry's Minstrels have opened their season in the Happy Valley in brilliant weather. The troupe is considered the best seen here. The evergreen Billy Richardson heads the comedians, who are versatile in every respect. The vocalists, amongst whom is Sam A. Atherton, late principal Lincoln Cathedral, are accomplished. An efficient band completes an altogether good all-round show.

LOWESTOFT.—MARINA.—Managing-Director, Mr. E. A. Smith.—Messrs. Travis Green and Arthur Hinton's company are paying a first visit this week with the play When a Man Hates. The general mounting and scenery are particularly good. Mr. Arthur Hinton appears to advantage in the rôle of Pietro Danelli, and Mr. Travis Green is also praiseworthy as Detective Smart; Mr. Frank Brundell gives an amusing character-sketch as Peter Pimple, and is ably supported by Miss Florence Zillwood (Dolly Dimple); as Olgar Gwynne, Miss Leila Zillwood is exceedingly well placed, and presents a capital piece of acting.

MACCLESFIELD.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. W. K. Gatley.—Trio Alskarno, Italian comedy acrobats, have made a hit here, and Miss Blanche West, with descriptive songs, is as entertaining as ever; the Holman Sisters, in trios and dances, again meet with cordial recognition; Dancing Mac scores his customary success; Jammie and Joey, in droll duologue, are a lively pair; Taylor Snowball is very funny; the Macograf animated pictures are an attractive item; and Leopold and Lorna, with their performing dog, meet with approval.

MAIDSTONE.—HIPPODROME.—Manager, Mr. G. H. Watson.—The following are included in the bill this week:—Scottie's Waifs and Strays in their scenes from London street arab life; Amandus, a clever impersonator of celebrities; Eugene and Willie, acrobatic instrumentalists; Miss Connie Milton, comedienne; Mr. Arthur St. George, dramatic vocalist; Harry High, "the Loony on Skates," and Miss Rose Tree.

MANCHESTER.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessees, The United Theatres Co., Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. Edmonstone Shirra.—Miss Jessie Millward and company are here this week in The School for Husbands, an enjoyable costume comedy. Miss Jessie Millward is excellent throughout as Lady Manners, and Sir John Manners is played in fine style by Mr. A. Scott Craven. Mr. Philip Cunningham, a great favourite in Manchester, is good as Prince Assam; Mr. A. E. Greenaway does well as Captain Lovel, and vastly amusing is Mr. T. Wigney-Percyval, a most versatile actor, as Lord Foppington; Miss Maude Noel is delightful as Clarissa Huntleigh; Miss Mona K. Oram adds distinction to the part of Lady Aivish; and the Lady Speakill of Miss Emma Chambers is capital; Miss Maud Abbott is good in the small part of Betty, and others to be commended are Miss Maude Leslie as Lady Tattle, and Messrs. J. T. Manning and F. Delaine. The costumes are elaborate, and the scenery excellent.

ROYAL OSBORNE THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. P. B. Broadhead.—An excellent play performed by an excellent company is the audience's verdict upon The Woman who Gambles, a drama presented by Mr. Morton Powell here this week. The chief honours are divided between Miss Gertrude Hunt, who as Natalie Steinbach in her struggle between love and jealousy shows herself a powerful, emotional actress, and Mr. Horace Sinclair, who gives a very strong delineation of Baron Cratzlaw, the villain; Mr. Edward E. Ashby also does well as Count Otto; Mr. Reg. Fox is seen to advantage as Lieutenant Karl; Mr. Frank Howard gives a lively depiction of the Hon. Bertie Bray; Mr. Fred Prior is effective as the police spy; Miss Violet Sims gives character to the part of Cora Gouldhart; Miss M. Ramuz acts well as Stella Melakorf, and the Misses Florrie Hall and Brenda May acquit themselves well in minor rôles. The staging leaves nothing to be desired.

METROPOLE THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. P. B. Broadhead.—An agreeable programme here this week comprises J. Wright Aitken and company in Beneath the Mask, a well-acted sensational episode. Harry Glynn's comedy company in a comic sketch, The New J.P.; Anthony, the mysterious man in white, a clever entertainer; Charles Rowen, a lively comedian; Joe Conway, a juvenile comedian of marked ability; Rita Bell, the entertaining little Dutch girl; Burns and Bentley, smart comedians; Howard and Townsend, accomplished duettists, and Carney Brothers, pleasing duettists and vocalists.

ST. JAMES'S THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. R. Flanagan; Acting-Manager, Mr. Gus Flanagan.—A novel introduction here this week is the presentment by Mr. Flanagan of The Cricket on the Hearth twice each evening. In a very clever cast, Mr. Ricard Dalton figures admirably as Caleb Plummer; Miss Ella Thornton gives a sympathetic rendering of Dot; Mr. John Wainwright moves with commendable cleverness as John Peerybiagle; and Miss Florrie Ferguson takes advantage of her chances as Tilly Slowboy; while good work is done also by Mr. A. E. Calver as Gruff Tackleton; Miss Francis May as Bertha, and Mr. Garrett as the stranger. The smaller parts are in good hands, and the piece is quite successfully put on.

GRAND JUNCTION THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. P. B. Broadhead.—Mr. Janius Booth is paying a return visit to Manchester, this time to the Hulme house, with his costume play, Monte Cristo. Mr. Booth's depiction of the Count is a very fine piece of work. So is that of M. Nortier by Mr. E. Howard Templeton; Mr. Leonard Marshall shines as De Morcef, and Messrs. Arthur B. Morris and Chauncey Morris figure admirably; while as Mercedes Miss Joan Ellis is conspicuous for her grace and ability.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. R. Flanagan; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Berry.—The Rich and Poor of London, presented here by Mr. Sidney Dench and company, is a local favourite, and the drama was enjoyed by a fair house on Monday. Mr. Sidney Dench has a big and congenial part as Spider Jack; Miss Dora Dench does excellently as May Braithwaite, the nurse; and two correspondingly strong rôles were played in excellent style by Mr. A. Avinal and Miss Violet Lytton.

PALACE.—Secretary, Mr. Peter Watson; Acting-Manager, Mr. G. Rhodes Parry.—The top star turn here this week is provided by the Six Brothers Luck in one of their amusing pantomime burlesques. Another big turn is that of Louie Collier (assisted by Fred Hudson), whose singing is delightful; and Hettie King, male impersonator, comes in for a big share of the honours. Beside these, Harry Freeman figures with his usual success; Mabel Thorne, soubrette, sings pleasantly; the Eight Sunrays present La Maxixe with a lively grace; Mdlle. Kloet poses beautifully; Woodhouse and Wells, patter comedians and dancers, are well received; Constance Moir is a pleasing vocalist and speciality dancer; and Tom Leo, the lazy comedian, displays distinct gifts.

EMPIRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. Hall.—The well-known Bricklayers sketch of the Boisset Troupe, which sends the house into roars of laughter, and a fine little sketch called, The Master Musician, which introduces Auguste van Biene with immense success to the variety style, are alone sufficient to attract big crowds here this week. But these items are reinforced by others equally clever in their scope; Mons. Albany gives a smart exhibition of make-believe; Hall and Earle are loudly applauded for their skilful tumbling act; Frank Cumminger is surely unsurpassable as a sand dancer; Eloise Brinsmade sings illustrated songs in excellent style; the Seddons go through some clever comic juggling "in a restaurant"; Walter King, comedian, gives an amusing and popular turn; and the Bioscope pictures are interesting. The Sisters Bosanquet did not appear on our visit.

HIPPODROME.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. E. P. Morgan.—Fred Karno's Moses and Sons remains the top attraction here another week. The Riogoku Japs give a typical Eastern entertainment; the Bros. O'Brian are very clever on the bars; Vernando, the ventriloquial barber, has claims to originality; the Queen and Le Brun company are seen in a successful absurdity. The Cockney Huntsman; Charles Gardiner sings comic ditties in good style, and the choir are heard in a couple of choice selections. The Bioscope adds to the pleasure of the evening.

TIVOLI.—Managing-Director, Mr Chas. A. Wilkes; Manager, Mr. Arthur B. Wilkes.—Jake Friedman has a big reception here in his "One-man Opera" act; J. W. Rowley's quaint humour is also productive of much fun; Wyotti gives a clever and comic juggling performance; Messano is smart in his coin and card speciality act; Bessie Travis, musical ventriloquist, is well received; Ella Dean has several good songs; Gladys Archbutt sings and dances very well; the Sisters Brooke, comediennes and dancers, are favourably received; and R. C. Note, the small comedian, gives a clever turn.

KING'S, LONGSIGHT.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. P. B. Broadhead.—A delightful turn here this week is "The Fairy Grotto," a beautiful electrical spectacle presented by Mdlle. Lumiere, assisted by Mr. D. J. Birteno. Ben Harris and Nippers are good in a capital comedy speciality, entitled The Promising Pupil; and Violet Whitworth's Cycling Girls are seen to advantage in a sporting act; very amusing and clever are the Four Hearnes, acrobats; and good turns are also given by Jennis and Laune, smart young character duettists; Lou Langley, a pleasing chic comedienne; J. Hughes, baritone; the Bonanzas, acrobats; and the Zanos in a comedy bar-act. The Animated Pictures are good.

QUEEN'S PARK HIPPODROME.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. P. B. Broadhead.—An excellent contribution to this week's entertainment is given by Hinton Wootton, who plays a football match on bicycles. The Wedburns are amusing patter vocalists; Cullen and Jordison give a dainty juvenile turn; and other excellent items are submitted by A. E. Clifford in a novel sketch; the Steane Louch Trio in operatic gems; Ada Parker, comedienne and dancer; and a clever lady deputy for Jack McKenzie, Scotch comedian.

HIPPODROME, HULME.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. P. B. Broadhead.—Casey's Court tops the bill here this week. The Bonnettis give a smart and novel juggling act; Lady Fauntleroy, ventriloquist, is very good; Olga and Ivan present a clever dancing act; and other capital turns are Mignon, musicienne; Rose Pink, smart juvenile comedienne and dancer; Shiela McNeil, Sc admirable work having been enthusiastically received in all parts of the house; Mr. T. W. Rawson, as Lord Clivebrook, gives a finished representation of this striking character, and Miss Lily Bertram, as Jessie Kaber, delights everyone; Mr. Raymond Thomas gives a careful representation of Stooch, and Miss Antoinette Barrington proves a charming Gussy Bellenden. Other parts have been conscientiously played by Messrs. Leonard Booker, R. E. Evans, Ernest Cossart, C. A. Johnson, F. Douglas, W. E. Passmore; Misses Liza Coleman and Renee L'Estrade. The piece is admirably mounted.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE. — TYNE THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. F. W. Wyndham; Business-Manager, Mr. Fred C. Sutcliffe.—Mr. M. Russell Rosse's company is giving some effective productions of classical plays, including She Stoops to Conquer, The School for Scandal, A Marriage of Convenience, and The Lady of Lyons. The company includes the talented actress Miss Muriel Godfrey Turner, who as Miss Hardcastle in Goldsmith's famous comedy achieved a conspicuous success. Mr. Robert Minster was also well to the fore with a masterly interpretation of Young Marlow, his rendering being embellished with many touches of humour. Mr. Frederick D. Davis played admirably as Hastings, and Mr. A. T. Hilton sustained with much ability the rôle of old Hardcastle. There was a delightful air of humour in Mr. Charles Hann's rendering of Tony Lumpkin, and a similar comment applies to the Diggory of Mr. A. J. Harding. Miss Lilian Locke was a graceful and charming Miss Neville, and Miss Eugenie Vernie artistically impersonated the rôle of Mrs. Hardcastle. A one-act play entitled Lady Fortune preceded.

PALACE THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. T. W. Rowe; Business-Manager, Mr. E. B. Clark.—Mr. Sydney Spenser and Co. are appearing here this week in the naval drama, entitled The Hero of the Flag. Very skilfully does Mr. Spenser himself undertake the heavy part of Paul Mansfield; Mr. William Heilbronn's rendering of Jack Lawrence is characterised by clear and well-nigh perfect enunciation; that popular Novocastrian actor, Mr. Alfred Goddard, is satisfactorily placed as Captain Hilliard; and Mr. Johnny McElroy as Johnny Truckle, and Miss Amy Maitland as Jenny Stubbs provide the comedy element in a very amusing manner. Miss Lizzie Hall as Mabel Forrester dons boy's clothes for the major part of the evening, and scores a decided success. The rôle of Ruth Clifford, an adventuress, receives complete justice from Miss Roma Tremayne.

GRAND THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. Sidney Bacon.—A Rogue's Daughter is the title of the drama Miss Marie Menzies and Co. are presenting here this week. The dual rôle of Lady Mynard and Mrs. Jenkins is played in brilliant style by Miss Menzies, who is frequently applauded. Miss Madge Deverens is seen to much advantage as Letty Grey, and Miss Marie E. Robertson is a vivacious exponent of Priscilla. The villainous characteristics of Colonel Forster are ably portrayed by Mr. Richard Ferris, and Mr. Frank V. Feur does exceedingly well as Frank Tyler. Others deserving of commendation are Miss Millie Gordon as Dickie; Mr. A. Hall-Menzies as John Gibbs, Mr. William Pimm as Isaacs, and Mr. Tom Taylor as Ebenezer.

EMPIRE THEATRE.—Resident-Director, Mr. Richard Thornton; Resident-Manager, Mr. E. Leslie Conroy.—The return visit of Harry Lauder has been the means of packing the Empire to its utmost capacity this week. The famous Scotch comedian was in his best form on Monday night, and delighted his many admirers with his amusing and well-known delineations of Scotch characters. Cruikshank proves highly entertaining in song and story; the Barowsky Trio execute their acrobatic feats with a neatness and precision which win admiration; remarkably clever is the lightning drill act of the Gordon Highlanders; Marie Collins imparts rare vim and "go" into her chorus songs; and Frank Dunlop faithfully mimics various dialects in the singing of a well-known song. Francis and Melli score a success as comedy musicians; Claire Beasy's performing cats display wonderful intelligence; and the bioscope completes a good bill.

PAVILION THEATRE. — Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Barrasford; Manager, Mr. Will H. Boardman.—A popular return visit is being made here by Herbert Lloyd, "the versatile one," who again scores his usual success; Fred Earle, comedian, is a great favourite hereabouts; Lina Verdi in her imitations is still as clever as ever; the fine vocalism of Stewart and Morgan is duly appreciated; the Five Olracs, acrobatic comedians, are wonderfully clever; and Pauline Zaro, Lola Patey, and Alice Ormonde, comediennes, the Corbiacs, comic acrobats, and the Barrascope, with a picture of the local Exchange-walk, complete the bill.

NEWPORT. — EMPIRE. — Moss' Empires, Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. O. Stoll.—Little Tich has met with a hearty reception here this week; Marie Kendall scores with her taking songs; Dave, the musical Kaffir, is accorded a warm reception; and Ella Retford, in a becoming costume, renders a couple of acceptable songs. Leah Arden sings in good style; a knockabout turn by Johnson and Bert is full of fun; and Fielding and Hull give some pleasing solos and duets. Steve M'Carthy contributes songs, patter, and jokes; and the bioscope shows some excellent pictures.

NORTHAMPTON.—PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Fred H. Anderson; Acting-Manager, Mr. Robert Barton.—Kioto, the clever Japanese equilibrist, heads the bill; Happy Tom Parker scores with comic songs and a cleverly executed clog dance; May Marton, comedienne, is successful; the Korries please with their "Kurious Konglomerations"; the ragtime vocalism and dancing of Bessie Benson are good; Terry and Bentley appear in The Hunt; the Palace pictures and Taffy Foote, comedian, complete the programme.

NORTH SHIELDS.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Arthur Jefferson; Acting-Manager, Mr. Horace Lee.—Mr. and Mrs. J. Rice Cassidy's company, with In Holy (!) Russia, has occupied the boards here this week. Mr. Arthur Stratton as Colonel Arthur Forrest gives a captial representation of the character; and Mr. J. Rice Cassidy as Micky Nolan comes in for a hearty reception. Mr. Louis Norman is well placed as Michael Natoski; and Mr. Joe Cuthbertson makes the most of Baron von Pleve. Mr. Robert Cockcroft is successful as the Czar of Russia; Mr. Tom G. Warrey is effective as Count Gregoni Petroloski; and Mr. Carl Rovinelli is an able Laurice Sleragoff. As Renee Rubinoff Mrs. J. Rice Cassidy plays the part admirably; Miss Beatrice Weston is seen to great advantage as Catska Lavotski; Miss Alice Marsden is an efficient Mme Natoski.

CENTRAL PALACE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Wm. Mould.—Virto, assisted by his daughter Irene, in an enjoyable musical act, is having a cordial reception here; Mlle. Lucretia, burlesque actress and dancer, also makes a great hit; and Mr. Arthur Albert, descriptive vocalist, is as popular as ever. Mr. Pete Oswald, equilibrist, is smart; Messrs. Conan and Doyle, comedians and dancers, are clever; and Mr. George Le West, speciality artist, and the bioscope, are also billed.

NORTHWICH. — PIERROT PAVILION.—Proprietors, the Royal Pierrots Co.; under the direction of Messrs. Sidney Dooley and Glanmore Jones.—An attractive programme has been provided here this week. Miss Kessler, instrumentalist, gives a good turn; Miss Maude Clifton has met with a hearty reception for her pretty and well-rendered songs; Tom Odlin sings a good comic song; Sullie and Saroni are hightly appreciated in an excellent turn; and Milsted and Bell should be very well satisfied with the applause they receive for their American Indian sketch, in which Miss Milsted presents a well executed dance. The performance is brought to a close with a laughable sketch.

NORWICH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Manager, Mr. F. Morgan.—Closed.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. E. H. Bostock and F. W. Fitt; Manager, Mr. F. W. Fitt.—A capital programme is presented this week. Unthan, the armless wonder, gives an astonishing performance; G. W. Hunter, comedian, is a capital turn; Mlle. Sylvian's vocal tableaux is very pleasing; Lenny and Hash are successful in their poetic phantasy The Sea Nymph; Dick's Comedy Five are good as acrobats, and win much applause; Henry Hallam and Josephine Stanton do well in their comedy sketch A Broken Journey; Fraser and Halley as contralto duettists and dancers are very entertaining. The Hippodrome Bioscope is a great success.

NOTTINGHAM.—GRAND THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. Charles P. Cooke.—The Blind Foundling is paying its first visit here. The name-part is sympathetically rendered by Miss Mabel Hall, while Miss Belle Tilbury conveys the requisite winsomeness and tender feeling as Isabel; Mr. Chas. H. Phelps, the author of the play, gives a characteristic study of Gerald Dalton, an artist; Mr. Frank Harvey acts spiritedly as Parson Rays; Mr. Bernard Webb invests Mark Redman with a repulsive villainy which is effective; and Mr. Geo. Rufus makes a smart exponent of Detective Downham. There is an abundance of comedy supplied by Mr. Harry Tilbury (Dobbins), Mr. Charles Byron (Algy), Mr. Arthur Tinn (Constable Tip), Miss Amy Dalby (Viola), and Miss Millie Doris (Winnie Dobbins).

KING'S THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. Edgar O. Waller.—East Lynne is presented here by Mr. Henry George and company. The rôle of Lady Isobel is rendered with much pathetic feeling and dramatic force by Miss Laura Handson, and as Archibald Carlyle Mr. George displays histrionic capabilities; the cold-blooded villainy of Richard Levison is well depicted by Mr. Henry Watson. Raymond's Bio-Tableaux also furnishes some interesting films.

EMPIRE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting Manager, Mr. Chas. H. Bowmaker.—The jokes, patter, and songs of Mark Sheridan keep his audience in a continual roar of laughter; Marie Santoi and her smart attendants give an exceedingly interesting musical sketch; acrobatic feats are cleverly performed by the Bros. Damm, whose reception is of the most enthusiastic. The fun is helped along by Binns and Binns, and another comical pair are seen in Frank and Free; the juggling of Francis and his assistant Alfred evokes hearty cheering; and Belloni's cockatoos are a source of pleasure; the Sisters Chester dance gracefully, as also does Odeyne Spark; Alcide Capitaine contributes an agreeable item, and the American Bioscope shows films of the Spanish Royal wedding.

NUNEATON. — PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE AND ENTERTAINMENTS' CO., LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. A. F. Cross; Acting-Manager, Mr. Walter J. R. Bryan.—The Carr-Loates' Co. is this week presenting At the World's Mercy. Mr. W. L. Irvine makes a good Captain Frank Manley; Mr. Carr Loates does excellent work as Morris Goldstein; Miss A. Hunter gives a pleasing portrayal of Rosie; Little Daisy as Dot is pleasing, and gives some pretty songs and dances; Miss Cissie Wigley as Skittles wins applause; Mr. Leo Rodway is well placed as Slouching Sam, and is encored for his song, "A Sportsman"; Miss Jenny Clare is good as Kitty Knott; and Mr. H. E. Gibbon as Charlie Smart (a music-hall star) is amusing.

OLDHAM.—EMPIRE THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. E. Dottridge; Assistant-Manager, Mr. J. Hulme.—After an absence of five years, Harry Starr and his musical plays, Otto, the Outcast, and Carl, the Clockmaker, are paying a return visit. Harry Starr, as Otto, has lost none of his charm as a vocalist, and he is ably assisted by Miss Kate Norris, who plays Lara admirably; Miss Madge Blundell is sympathetic in the character of Corrine; Misses C. Hastings and F. Jacobs are good as Marchioness D'Anvilliers and Madame Chaumont; Mr. Edwin Firth is excellent as Roderique; and Mr. W. Miller scores as Daddy Bruneau, and Mr. Will Hee appears successfully as the Marquis Laporte; Mr. Fred Graham in the comedy part of August creates much merriment, and Miss Ella Crossley as Susette is well placed; Mr. Bernand Mostyn is good as the lawyer, and the other parts are played in a capable manner by Messrs. Bond, Wills, Rusher, Cooke, and Wilton. Carl, the Clockmaker is announced for the last three nights of the week.

COLOSSEUM THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. W. Eastwood.—This week Mr. Herbert Darnley and his troupe of pantomimists, including Mr. Chas. Bell, Mr. Billy Reeves, and Johnny Doyle are appearing here in the mirth-provoking sketch, Moving In. The Two Clarks provide a clever turn with the rolling globe; Marcus Boyle, quaint comedian, is well received; as is Harry Wright; Miss Peggy Fame is a clever artist, who is very popular; and Miss Nellie Gannon is well received; Miss Bertha Cousins is a bright comedienne; and Nellie Wilson is a smart top-boot dancer; Doyle and Marney are expert dancers; and Little Beano and his mechanical donkey are very acceptable. An excellent weight-lifting turn is given by Bob Hunter, a local man. Mr. Darnley produced for the first time on Monday a new comic military pantomime, entitled The Skirmishers, and another capital sketch is seen in which Messrs. Bell, Reeves, Doyle, and Herbert Belmore are the principals.

ROYAL THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. E. Dottridge; Assistant-Manager, Mr. W. Howgate.—Menetkel, or the mystic ball, heads the bill, and is introduced by Mr. and Mrs. Berol-Konorah; the Three Zaracs have a funny comedy sketch, entitled Mashing the Barmaid; and Little Ada Merry is a smart comedienne; a good juggling show is given by A. Bo-Kou; Nash and Noel are versatile comedians; a capital turn is provided by Boswell's Stage Circus, in which several highly-trained ponies, dogs, and a donkey appear; Madeline Rees is a capable comedienne; and Phil Herman is a good character comedian; the Ladderites are marvellous in their ladder act; and Master May is an excellent vocalist.

GAIETY THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. E. Dottridge; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Nuttall.—John Higgins, billed as the champion jumper of the world, is appearing here this week, and a clever exhibition is witnessed; a very amusing turn is given by Will Rain and Co. in the novelty The Motor Maniac; Pearce and Ward are good with their patter and boxing; the Brothers Onda give a capital entetainment in their gymnastic absurdity, On Deck; Beaty Foster is a clever comedienne; and Fred Tenby is a funny comedian; as is Wallace Whitney, comedian. The Dottoscope completes the programme with some excellent pictures.

OXFORD. — NEW THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Lucas, J.P.; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. C. Dorrill.—Mr. Edward Compton is paying us his annual visit this week, opening to a highly-appreciative house on Monday with the ever-popular Davy Garrick, in which he appeared in the title-rôle with his accustomed success. He was admirably supported by his excellent company. Mr. H. Crocker was just the Alderman Gresham that one looks for; Mr. A. B. Imeson was a very vigorous and effective Hon. Tom Tallyhaut; and Rumbelow, Sowerby, and Simkins found excellent exponents in Messrs. H. Pigot, A. Lucy, and G. W. Johnston. Miss M. Hassell was uncommonly good as Mrs. Rumbelow; Miss Muriel Meek made a quaint Selina; while Violet found a charming and sympathetic exponent in Miss Mackenzie. The School for Scandal, New Men and Old Acres, She Stoops to Conquer, To-morrow, and The Desperate Lover, are included in the week's bill.

EMPIRE THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Albany Ward; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. G. P. Wells.—Mr. Edward Neville's répertoire company is on a return visit here with Tempest Tossed. Mr. Gus Bowerman delineates Harry Haworth in excellent style; while the villain, Hubert Marsden, could not be in better hands than those of Mr. W. H. Wilson. Mr. Henry Gilbert does well as William Haworth; and Mr. J. N. Turner creates merriment as Jerry Joyce. Mr. Edward Neville, an old favourite here, is highly successful with his artistic portrayal of Theophilus Jewry; Miss Flora Leslie plays with due restraint as Ethel Vernon; Miss Rosie Neville makes the most of Tim; and Miss Lole Esmond leaves a good impression as Charlotte Marsden. Baby Lilybell is clever as Willie Haworth.

PAISLEY.—PAISLEY THEATRE.—Sole Proprietor and Manager, Mr. J. H. Savile.—For the last week of the season at this house the stock company organised by Mr. Herbert St. Clair and Miss Violet Maitland have staged Wee Curly. Prominent characters are capably represented by Miss Maitland, Miss Phyllis St. Claire, Miss Doris Brandon, Miss Bertha Travis, Miss Flo Cameron, Mr. Harry Rich, Mr. Herbert St. Clair, Mr. Fred Sidney, Mr. Harry Glenney, and Mr. Reginald Fox.

PLYMOUTH. — GRAND THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. C. F. Williams; Acting-Manager, Mr. Percy Williams; Assistant Acting-Manager, Mr. S. Langdon Lee.—Shadows of a Great City is here this week. Mr. Edward Lloyd is a hard-working Tom Cooper; Mr. S. Ewart makes an able Geo. Benson; Mr. T. Macfarlane is a typical Abe Nathan; and Mr. Greene Taylor gives a well-studied impersonation of Jim Farren. Miss Ethel Kay is a sympathetic heroine and Miss Caroline Fenton is very popular as the generous Biddy.

PROMENADE PIER AND PAVILION.—A smart little nautical company known as The Middies and the Maids commenced a week's engagement on Monday. Miss Millicent Davis has a contralto voice far above the average; Miss Nellie Tauer furnishes some tit-bits from musical comedies; Mr. Bert Williams is a clever Whistler, and Mr. Haydon Parker supplies the humorous element.

PALACE OF VARIETIES. — Proprietors, County Hotels and Theatres, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. J. Field.—Harry Ford is the principal attraction here this week, all his songs being vociferously applauded; the Reed Oetzman Troupe cause plenty of merriment in their sketch On Tour in the Tyrol; the Ferraris, cosmopolitan dancers, have an item of a unique description; Tom Fancourt and Jenny Ruby, old Plymouth favourites, have a rousing welcome in their sketch entitled Out of Barracks; Jessie Merrilees is a most accomplished vocalist; and Shavo and Frank perform some clever bits of jugglery. Myra Stansfield, Jock Walker, and Vernon's Pictures complete the programme.

PORTSMOUTH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. J. W. Boughton; Acting-Manager, Mr. Armstrong Bell.—Mr. Norman V. Norman and company are here this week, and opened on Monday with The Adventure of Lady Ursula, Miss Beatrice Wilson playing the impetuous and wayward Lady Ursula Barrington delightfully. Mr. Norman's Sir George Silvester was a finished performance; the Earl of Hassenden was satisfactorily portrayed by Mr. Dennis Cleugh; Mr. Brember Wills made an exceedingly effective Mr. Dent; Miss Sibyl Ruskin as Dorothy Fenton was sprightly and effusive. The week's bill includes Nell Gwynn of Drury Lane, Count Hannibal, and David Garrick.

PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. J. W. Boughton; Acting-Manager, Mr. T. E. Agate.—The domestic drama, A Woman's Past, is being presented here this week by Mr. A. Hamilton Warden and company. Mr. Horace E. Herbert acts the part of the wronged husband, David Heath, in a praiseworthy manner; Mr. Oswald Cray plays the villain, Uriah Craven, in a most unctuous style; Clement Harper is taken by Mr. Hamilton Warden in a vigorous, manly fashion that appeals to the house; Frank Dellannoy is well placed in the hands of Mr. Charles V. Sandford; Miss Maisie Hanbury's impersonation of Bessie is sympathetic and pleasing; Clara Darrel is powerfully portrayed by Miss Gertrude Harrison; Miss May Dallas as Dorothy Heath is most winsome.

EMPIRE PALACE.—Secretary, Mr. W. Pratt.—Franco Piper heads the bill here, and gives a capital exposition of the art of banjo playing; Annie Laurie is a pleasing soubrette and dancer; the Toreadors convulse the house with laughter with their antics in their comic bull fight; Kitts and Windrum have had a cordial greeting for their handsomely-staged sketch, The Cuckoo; Gwennie Hasto is a graceful dancer and capital vocalist; Carr and Rose are much liked in their humorous sketch, Domestic Episode; G. H. Elliott, the chocolate-coloured coon, an old favourite here, has had a warm welcome; acceptable terms are also given by Sisters Charnley, smart duettists and dancers; Harry Lawson, a capital taking eccentric comedian; and Payne's Biophotoscope with some good pictures.

PRESTON.—PRINCES THEATRE.—Proprietors and Managers, Messrs. Sawyer and Woodruffe.—Mr. Charles March in the sensational play, The Gamester of Metz, is appearing here this week, supported by a powerful company. Mr. March plays Paul Baldot with his usual skill and ability. He is ably supported by Miss Una Lane as Lucie Baldot and Miss Eva Lyndhurst as Countess Baldot. Captain Badaire and Louis Badaire are admirably portrayed by Messrs. Murray and Dudney. The Lieutenant Herve of Mr. George Paget is excellent, and the comedy parts are in the able hands of Miss Cissy Haighton and Mr. Victor Knight.

ROYAL HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. W. H. Broadhead and Sons; Resident Acting-Manager, Mr. E. J. Linsdell.—First place in this week's bill is given to D'Ars' mechanical theatre, which affords a clever and diverting performance; Theo Bouwmeester, protean character actor, displays remarkable ability in his sketch, Not Guilty; the Bollingers, "rag pickers," show how rags may be used to produce pictures; Stylo is an expert in the manipulation of hoops; Tokio is an excellent Japanese mimic. Other successful turns are provided by Moon and Morris, comedians and double dancers; the Two Whites, American comedy artists, and Dick Kendal, comedian. The Bioscope pictures are, as usual, a pleasing feature of the entertainment.

RAMSGATE. — SANGER'S AMPHITHEATRE. — Proprietor, Lord George Sanger; General Manager, Mr. Henry Bowman.—W. F Jury's Imperial Bioscope has furnished the main attraction at "Sanger's" this week. The most up-to-date films have been exhibited. The Madrid Royal Wedding festivities, and the bomb outrage, the San Franciso disaster, the tour of the Prince and Princess of Wales through India, and many other matters of great public interest are vividly depicted, and there are humorous and dramatic animated photographs, with a constant change of programme. Variety is lent to the entertainment by the contributions of talented vocalists and other artists. Mr. G. F. G. Burnett is general manager of the show. There have been good audiences.

ROYAL VICTORIA THEATRE AND PAVILION.—Proprietors, Ramsgate Corporation; Lessee, Mr. Jules Richeux; Secretary, Mr. G. Tyler; Acting-Manager, Mr. Harold Wallace.—The first two nights of the week at the Pavilion were blank, and Wednesday evening was set apart for a big gathering and banquet of Freemasons. On Thursday, the well-known entertainers, The Gazekas, under the direction of Mr. George Graves, were booked to commence a three nights' engagement in Mirth, Music, and Mystery, introducing songs, solos, glees, choruses, conjuring, illusions, sketches, mimicry, &c. Mr. Michael Connelly is the director of the efficient Pavilion orchestra.

RAWTENSTALL. — GRAND THEATRE. — Co-proprietors and Lessees, Messrs. W. Johnson and J. Potter; General-Manager, Mr. J. Potter; Resident Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Ellis Miller.—A welcome visit is being made here this week by Mrs. Walter Bentley's company in the romantic historical drama, A Queen's Vengeance. Mrs. Walter Bentley gave a powerful interpretation of Queen Eleanor; Miss Adele Harvey as Janet Jessop was decidedly good, her musical contributions being charmingly sung; as Henry II. Mr. Arthur Chisholm was decidedly good, his impersonation being easy and natural; Mr. J. O. Stevenson as Sir Rupert Warriner made an excellent villain; Mr. Bertram Croucher as Gilbert Ormonde also scored; Mr. R. S. Treive as Bibeau was adequate.

READING. — ROYAL COUNTY THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Milton Bode; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. E. Barnett; Secretary, Mr. Reginald Taylor.—Mr. Charles Watson Mill is presenting the picturesque and psychological melodrama A Wrecker of Men this week. Miss Amy Ellam gives a strong portrayal of the character of Risca Mallison; Mr. Eric Campbell plays the part of Jim Murley, the sworn foe of Risca, with considerable power; Mr. Milner Noble as Pharosophus, an Egyptian wanderer, acts with skill; and Mr. Matthew Boulton as Guise Strange, Mr. Alfred Maurice as Railton, a silent servant, and Miss Mabel Durham as Doris Melville play well; Mr. Henry P. Kennedy being effective in the dual rôles of Ezekial Isaacs, a Jew, and Karnaphus, a mummy.

ROCHDALE.—NEW THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietors, the Northern Theatres Co., Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. W. Robinson; General-Manager, Mr. Otto C. Culling; Resident-Manager, Mr. J. Hague.—The Streets of London occupies the boards here this week. Mr. Wm. Rokeby plays the part of Badger with good effect; Mr. Henry Moxon sustains with power the rôle of Gideon Bloodgood; Mr. H. Douglas Cottell is heard to advantage as Mark Livingstone; Mr. Clifford Bown creates much amusement as Jonas Puffy; and Mr. Ian Lloyd-Mackenzie does well as Paul Fairweather. Miss Octavia Noel acts with success as Alida Bloodgood; Miss Edyth Goodall enlists sympathy as Lucy Fairweather; Miss Violet Vivian is a motherly Mrs. Puffy; and Miss Marion Armitage is a favourite as Dan Puffy.

RUNCORN.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee, Mr. H. M. Caddick.—Variety holds the boards here this week, Mr. Geo. Le Wist's combination appearing with success, and including Armino, who performs wonderful strong man feats; Miss Ada Thompson, a pleasing descriptive vocalist; Le Wist, with his excelent ventriloquial act; Miss Nancy Lill, a vocalist of merit; Staffo, in a juggling act; Tom Ashley, comedian and dancer; and the Two Melias, artistic vocalists and dancers.

SALFORD.—PRINCE OF WALES.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. E. B. Goulden; Acting-Manager, Mr. Harold Goulden.—Messrs. E. A'Dell and Fred Chabot's company are entertaining good houses this week with The Romany's Revenge, which has been here several times previously, but has lost none of its popularity. Miss Ethel Ashleigh cleverly presents the gipsy boy Zamet; Mr. C. Gallier portrays John Hope, the hero, with spirit; and the half-sisters, Lillian and Elspie, are well sustained by Miss Eva Glaves. The villain Dave Renard is fittingly played by Mr. H. C. Robinson. Mr. David Hamilton as Bobbie Bloom, and Miss Fanny Wallace as Polly Pluck, are responsible for the comedy business, and their singing and dancing are acceptable.

REGENT THEATRE OF VARIETIES, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. W. Turner; Manager, Mr. Herbert Raymond; Secretary, Mr. J. C. Patterson.—Sib and Sib (Gertrude and Willie) do some very smart trapeze work; Minnie Wren gets much applause for her clever chorus songs; the Stavordale Quintette, on banjos and harp, give much satisfaction; and other good turns are supplied by Charlie Dillon, eccentric comedian; Nellie Dunbar, comedienne and dancer; Harry Zetter, comedian and eccentric dancer; Ernest Rees, droll comedian; and Doris Lillian, serio-comic and dancer.

ROYAL HIPPODROME.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. Percy B. Broadhead; Resident Acting-Manager, Mr. C. H. Wentworth.—Much laughter is caused by the smart conjuring of "The Demon Chef," by Picitt and Lizette; the Kyasyas, in their strong act, come in for much applause. The excellent programme also includes turns by Phedona, in her musical act; Silent Tate, a very comical conjurer; Charles Jackson, comedian and dancer; the Sheppards, with their smart patter; Sam Jesson's Little Merrymakers; Billy Burns, a pit-boy singer; Sisters Belmont, good dancers; and Adams and Reuss, comedian and comedienne.

SCARBOROUGH. — PEOPLE'S PALACE AND AQUARIUM. — Managing-Director, Mr. William Morgan; Secretary and Manager, Mr. Walter Kitchingman.—The day's programme here now extends to twelve hours. Madame Levante's orchestra of ladies is proving very popular. The vocalist this week is Miss Florence Smithson, who possesses a good soprano voice. The Uniques, in their ladder act, give a cultivated and highly finished show; Devereux's Dogs display extraordinary intelligence; Mlle. Ameda is well versed in the art of juggling; the Elbon Bros., comedians, have a penchant for heated arguments which cause amusement; Miss Bessie Willows is a clever vocalist; Miss Blanche Gerard and her dog give a popular turn; M. Edgar performs difficult tricks with ease on the trapeze; and Le Brun and Irene, equilibrists, are well received. Miss Ada Webb and her troupe of lady swimmers give exhibitions daily; and the Vernon Bioscope and Curtis Leo play important parts in a long and popular programme.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietress, Mrs. Henry Mayhew; Manager, Mr. Fred P. Morgan.—Mr. Fred L. Connynghame's company is presenting A Mother's Love here this week. Mr. Connynghame, as Mat Ruddock, shows much humour and no little pathos; Mr. Arthur Rose as Paul Wingate takes the part of a clergyman faithfully; Miss Violet Macaree as Winny Wingate acquits herself with credit in a difficult part; and as Ellaline Mervin Miss Marjorie Murray acts with great care. Miss Bertha Christobel as Marjorie Wingate shows every promise of becoming popular as a youthful actress; and Mr. George Child pleases everyone in the character of Geoffrey Mannering.

THE HIPPODROME.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. George Zalva.—Will McIvor is possessed of a fine voice, and has made a good impression here; the Sisters Lyle are versatile and entertaining artists; and Harry Hayton, comedian, introduces plenty of life into his business. The speciality is Garden's Royal Quintette of dancers, vocalists, and pipers, who are very popular, and submit a programme that would please anyone; a series of fine films, showing the Royal wedding in Spain, is also exhibited.

SEAHAM HARBOUR.—NEW THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. A. C. Harrison.—The management has secured for this week's bill of fare the animated pictures of the Britt-Nelson fight for the championship of the world. In addition, Kid Gwynn, American ball puncher, contributes a smart turn; the Sisters Mottley appear in song and dance, and win much praise.

SHEERNESS.—PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. P. Reymond.—Heading the bill this week are Dale and Vale, in the comedy act, A Lesson in Dancing. Miss Madge Rennie, comedienne and dancer, is accorded a hearty welcome; Mr. Will Garner, comedian, is also well received; and Miss Lily Denton is a pleasing comedienne. The remaining contributors include Miss Bella Bright, descriptive vocalist; and Miss Marie Florence, comedienne.

CO-OPERATIVE HALL.—The New Bioscopic Animated Picture Company is giving a series of popular entertainments here, with a change of programme each week. Included in the current productions is a highly interesting film, entitled "A Convict's Escape."

BAND PAVILION.—An excellent company, known as the Georgians, is giving capital variety concerts here, both afternoon and evening.

SHEFFIELD. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Managing-Director, Mr. John Hart; General-Manager, Mr. J. E. B. Beaumont.—Melodrama of the wholesome Adelphi type is always welcome here, and a large audience on Monday appeared highly pleased with the alternate scenes of pathos and humour unfolded in the interesting plot of A Woman's Redemption. Miss Irene Clifford acted with much dramatic ability as the heroine, and Mr. Joe Bracewell as Leonatus Brown played with his usual quiet and genial drollery. The play was effectively staged by Mr. James Hare.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE. — Managing-Director, Mr. W. D. Forsdike; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. W. Ramsay.—Those popular favourites Mr. Frank Ayrton and Miss Lilla Wilde opened to a good house on Monday in the favourite drama The Power of Gold, which was again cordially received. Miss Wilde looked well in her fashionable frocks and acted with emotional power as Lady Brandon; Miss Georgina France was a dramatic and interesting Meg; Mr. Charles Whitlock was a picturesque embodiment of Oriental villainy as Hadji Zambra; Mr. Frank Ayrton caused great merriment by his funniosities in the comic rôle of Sammy Smudge; Mr. Frank Holyoake submitted a good character sketch as the doctor; and the other parts were efficiently played by Mr. Wilson Wyte and Mr. Richard Oliver. The rather lurid story of crime was brightened up by some pleasing songs and diverting comic scenes.

EMPIRE PALACE. — Proprietors, The Moss' Empires Co., Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. Alan D. Dunbar.—This week the company includes the Macnaughtons, with their laughter-provoking patter and burlesque business; Miss Alice Lloyd, a smart serio, with elegant dresses and lively ditties; Ike Scott and Son, in their sentry act; Mr. George Formby, the unobtrusive comic singer; Mr. Edgar Forrest and company, in a comic sketch; Miss Maud Courtnay, a cultured vocalist; Miss Dora Lyric, a pleasing entertainer; Miss Lillian Lea, the handsome and accomplished opera-bouffe artist in a delightful scena; and Mr. Billy McClain and his coloured sextette, with original songs and cleverly executed coon dances. In addition there is the Bioscope with pictures of the Royal wedding, &c.

GRAND PALACE.—Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. George Dickinson.—A delighted audience cheered the following artists on Monday: Judge's famous cockatoos, put through their smart act by two pretty young ladies; Mr. King Roy, a good baritone vocalist; Barrington, in a refined and original musical show; Mr. Arthur Elvey in his song-scena At the Derby; Mr. Herbert Rule, eccentric comedian; Mr. J. G. Johnson's company, in the sketch In a Country Lane; and the Pallister Bioscope, with topical and humorous pictures.

CENTRAL HALL.—Animated pictures are going as big as ever here, and good turns are done by Miss Lillie Husker, the Gelders, Miss Lillian Melton, Pictoralia, and Mr. Fred Alberto, an old Sheffield favourite, with new and amusing character impersonations.

SMETHWICK. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Proprietor, Mr. C. Barnard; Manager, Mr. E. Hewitson.—Messrs. Hardie and Von Leer's company is here in G. R. Sims's recently-produced play For Life—and After. Mr. Vernon Sansbury as Richard Grey plays with a thorough grasp of the character. The mental anguish of the dipsomaniac is vividly portrayed, and in the second act, wherein Grey's brain gives way under the influence of drink, he holds the audience with his powerful acting. Miss Grace Heywood is a sympathetic and interesting Marion Grey, depicting with womanly charm the trials of the much-wronged wife; Miss Muriel Dean is a dainty and engaging Dora Grey, imparting to the character a grace and freshness that are most pleasing; Miss Emil Leslie gives a strong reading of Loo Hexham, whose lover and persecutor, Jim Huggett, is a typical "tough" in the hands of Mr. Henry Hare; Mr. Chris. Mason as the old showman, Joe Grimper, and Miss Evelyn Shaw as Mrs. Grimper are a quaint pair, their quiet humour being most acceptable; while Mr. H. G. Wright is also amusing as Zeke. Mr. Arthur E. Melbourne is a manly and natural Gilbert O'Neill. Others worthy of special mention are Mr. E. K. Nelson, an excellent Rube Hexham; Mr. H. F. Wright as Dr. Shand; Messrs. Stanley Field, Mayor Cooke, and H. Munro as Marks, Pilcher, and Bob; Miss Marion Fawcett as Jenny Huggett; and Miss Sissie Murdock as 'Liza Jones. Mr. Arthur E. Melborne attends to the duties of acting-manager with his usual courtesy.

SOUTHAMPTON. — GRAND THEATRE. — Sole Lessee and Manager, Mr. Fredk. Mouillot; Resident-Manager, Mr. Sydney Paxton.—The favourite, East Lynne, is this week being played by Messrs. H. Armitage and Arthur Leigh's company. Miss Julie Kennard invests the rôle of Lady Isabel with great emotional power; Mr. Eric Mayne, as the scoundrel Levison, is most convincing, and Mr. C. C. Gratton is a humorous P. C. Bullock.

PALACE.—Sole Proprietor and Director-General, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. W. Trussell.—The Empire Comedy Four and the Four Burmells are the star artistes here, and both turns are much appreciated; Oakdene, ventriloquist; Lily Sharplin, mimic; the Arleys, gymnasts; the Paragon Trio, vocalists; Lidden and Hayward, comedy pianoforte experts; Hessey Soloists; Carl Rosine, with his hoop tricks, and the Bio-tableaux pictures of the Royal Wedding are all interesting features of the programme.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. F. Mouillot and W. de Frece; General Manager, Mr. J. de Frece; District-Manager, Mr. Sydney Paxton; Acting-Manager, Mr. Harold P. Howell.—Arthur Roberts and company in The Importance of being Another Man's Wife is more popular than on the previous visit; James Fawn, comedian, is successful; and others who do well are Abel and Welsh, grotesque acrobats; the Donatos

"MARRIAGE OF KITTY" REVIVED.

The Lion and the Mouse, an excellently made play, for some unaccountable reason did not meet with the measure of success that Mr. Charles Frohman quite justifiably anticipated, and on Saturday evening the programme at the Duke of York's was again changed, the chief attraction being the adaptation in three acts, by Cosmo Gordon Lennox, of La Passerelle, by Mme. Fred Grésac and M. Francis de Croiset, entitled

"THE MARRIAGE OF KITTY."

Sir Reginald Belsize	MR. LEONARD BOYNE
John Travers	MR. ERIC LEWIS
Norbury	MR. LLOYD LOWNDES
Hampton	MR. LICHFIELD OWEN
Madame de Semiano	MISS ELLIS JEFFREYS
Rosalie	MISS ELSIE CHESTER
Kitty Silverton	MISS MARIE TEMPEST

When one listens to the somewhat salacious humour of Mme. Fred Grésac and M. Francis de Croisset's comedy La Passerelle, one is struck with the adroitness of Mr. Cosmo Gordon Lennox in his work as an adaptor, and his process of deodorisation has this immense advantage—that it has not eliminated the fun of the original from The Marriage of Kitty. The revival on Saturday at the Duke of York's, where the adaptation was originally given on Aug. 19, 1902, brought back to the St. Martin's-lane house Miss Marie Tempest, who again accentuated most charmingly her position as one of the leading comedy actresses on the English stage in the part of Kitty Silverton. It will be remembered that Kitty is an innocent country girl married to Sir Reginald Belsize in order that he may fulfil one of the conditions imposed upon him by a rich uncle who has left him a vast sum of money. Kitty, purposely deceiving the baronet as to her face and figure in the first act, becomes in the second a singularly elegant, witty, and pleasant girl, and her husband, who has not seen her since the marriage at the local registrar's office, easily capitulates to her cleverness and charm. She is in a châlet in Switzerland, where her position weighs upon her terribly. As the baronet has grown very tired of Madame de Semiano, to whom he is engaged, one may readily guess the result of his growing admiration for his own wife, with whom he "elopes" at the end of the third act, his old flame finding consolation in the devotion of a former admirer.

The revival met with a deal of favour on Saturday, and situations and dialogue were heartily laughed at by a large audience. Miss Tempest has not allowed frequent repetition of the part of Kitty to blunt her keen perception of the artistic essentials of that character, and played it once more with a gaiety and a finesse that kept the house in a state of continual delight. In the second act, which is certainly the best of the three, she indicated with no little delicacy and subtlety Kitty's growing admiration for her husband, to whom she sings most charmingly the favourite waltz song, "Tout passe, tout lasse, tout casse." Mr. Leonard Boyne repeated his easy and polished impersonation of Sir Reginald Belsize, being specially droll in the last act, wherein the vacillating baronet is afflicted with a most unmistakable attack of nasal catarrh. Miss Ellis Jeffreys, who has been winning triumphs in America, returned to her original part of Madame de Semiano on Saturday evening, and amused us again immensely by her clever rendering of the neurotic Peruvian widow. She looked exceedingly handsome in some elegant gowns, and won a very cordial reception. Mr. Eric Lewis, who takes up Mr. Gilbert Hare's old part of the solicitor Travers, played with the assured ease and lightness of touch that we expect from so accomplished a comedian. Miss Elsie Chester repeated her success as the sympathetic and observant Rosalie; and Mr. Lloyd Lowndes and Mr. Lichfield Owen were unimpeachable in the small parts of Norbury and Hampton.

The chief piece of the evening was preceded by a revival of Mr. J. M. Barrie's Pantaloon, produced at this theatre on April 5 last year. The present cast is as follows:—

Clown	MR. H. W. BASKCOMB
Pantaloon	MR. ALBERT CHEVALIER
Harlequin	MR. WILLIE WARDE
Child	MISS GERALDINE WILSON
Columbine	MISS PAULINE CHASE

This half-real, half-fanciful piece bears the Barrie impress most unmistakably, but it is a deal more interesting than curtain-raisers as a rule; and it has the supreme advantage at the Duke of York's of being excellently acted. Mr. Albert Chevalier, who returns to the regular boards after an absence of fifteen years, is responsible for a superb performance of Pantaloon. On Saturday evening he started somewhat nervously, but soon warmed to his work, winning the enthusiastic favour of the house for his touching representation of the "old 'un" who, for the sake of his professional standing—even of his bare wage—has to sacrifice his daughter to the vindictive clown. He brings out with a rare pathetic touch the old man's humiliation when he begs his former master the clown to give him a bite of his sausage and receives the reply, "I only bites with the perfession." At the close of Saturday's performance of Mr. Barrie's piece Mr. Chevalier was the recipient of a series of compliments in the way of enthusiastic calls that must have been as gratifying to the management as to himself. Miss Pauline Chase, who was the original Columbine, has grown in grace and charm since last year, and the dramatic significance of her acting has increased perceptibly. Few young actresses on our stage could mime so perfectly or pathetically or dance with such delightful ease. Mr. Willie Warde's Harlequin is another excellent bit of pantomime, and Mr. A. E. Baskcomb's Clown sounds just the right note of vindictiveness, the child being played with much intelligence by Miss Geraldine Wilson. Mr. John Crook's admirable music, which so aptly illustrates the theme of the fantasy, was delightfully played by the orchestra under the composer's direction.

BIRTHDAYS OF THE WEEK.

We wish many happy returns of the day to the following ladies and gentlemen:—

Master Harry L. Lupino—Saturday, June 16.
Kitty Loftus—Saturday, June 16.
George Giddens—Sunday, June 17.
Dorothy Hanbury—Sunday, June 17.
Constance Elgin—Sunday, June 17.
Claire Pauncefort—Sunday, June 17.
J. Selbini—Sunday, June 17.
Fred Marlow—Monday, June 18.
J. M. Glover—Monday, June 18.
Arthur Nelstone—Monday, June 18.
Dot Russell—Monday, June 18.
May Whitty—Tuesday, June 19.
George Alexander—Tuesday, June 19.
Max Pemberton—Tuesday, June 19.
H. C. Beryl—Tuesday, June 19.
Maude Jefferson—Tuesday, June 19.
Henry Neville—Wednesday, June 20.
Charles Glenney—Wednesday, June 20.
Fred Storey—Wednesday, June 20.
Sybil Arundale—Wednesday, June 20.
Marie Dainton—Wednesday, June 20.
Leah Marlborough—Wednesday, June 20.
Lionel West—Wednesday, June 20.
W. Bailey—Thursday, June 21.
Bernard Stavordale—Thursday, June 21
Arthur Bourchier—Friday, June 22.
Paul Martinetti—Friday, June 22.

THE Marlborough Theatre, Holloway, is closing for the summer season for a period of six weeks, and will reopen with the principal dramatic and musical attractions.

CHAT WITH MR. BERT COOTE.

(BY OUR OWN COMMISSIONER.)

Mr. Bert Coote, who recently concluded a highly-successful vaudeville tour in America, is once more back again in London, attending to his English enterprises. Before going on to speak of these, it might be as well to let him give his latest experiences of theatrical things in the States.

"My object in going to America last September," says Mr. Coote, "was really to keep my name before the public there, though I may tell you that I have spent, in a theatrical way, a greater number of years on the other side of the water than in Great Britain, and during that time I acquired a reputation in vaudeville. And, when I come to think of it, the salaries paid in the States to legitimate people in vaudeville are so good that it almost seems a mistake on my part to give it up, even temporarily. At the end of last September I took out a sketch company, consisting of three people. The piece bore the title of A Lamb on Wall Street, and was a condensed Stock Exchange comedy-drama, written by myself. I played in it myself, the kind of part I took being that of an English Johnnie. Being English myself, and knowing both sides of the water thoroughly, I am regarded as holding rather a unique position in the style of business referred to. Another motive of my going to America was to acquire some material for an English production; but my object in that respect was not accomplished, because I could see nothing out there which would appeal to British audiences."

Photo. by Hana.
MR. BERT COOTE.

"Then you are not of opinion that American plays would find favour with English playgoers?"

"Candidly, I am not. You see, the tastes of the people are so very different. I have lived twenty years in America, and think I understand what is appreciated there, and I also understand what it is that the English market demands. American plays, with very few exceptions, are of no use as English productions. In the first place, they generally lack refinement, which is one of the most essential qualities in our high-class West-end pieces. Secondly, it does not seem to me that the construction of American plays is as good as that of English. Everything in the States appears of so ephemeral, so superficial, a character, that it is hardly surprising that powerful acting convinces the people of that country more than a well-written, sensibly-conceived story. They will far more readily accept a highly-improbable situation than even the lowest class of our own provincial audiences."

During his recent American tour, which, by the way, lasted thirty weeks, Mr. Coote visited the Keith circuit, the Middle West, and California trip. He tells us that the travelling accommodation is very good, though with the exception of the heat in the English carriages, he prefers the latter, more especially as he is able to get civility from railway servants in this country. The tour was quite a successful one, and strong inducements were held out to him to return again for forty weeks, commencing next September. He is now considering the offer.

So far as the legitimate theatres are concerned, Mr. Coote is confining himself during the approach of autumn to two tours of The Fatal Wedding in the English provinces. In vaudeville he is arranging for the music hall appearance of two or three troupes of lady artists, notably the Irish-Indian Maids, who will open at the Holborn Empire on June 11. He is also supplying several novelties for the forthcoming pantomimes.

"Any importations of American performers?"

"No. I think England is a great deal better off without importations. I certainly do not think that there is anything in America which is likely to appeal to the people here. There have been extremely few American successes in England. I can say, in regard to The Fatal Wedding, that if it had not been for the children's scene in that play, the piece would hardly have done anything at all, and I am obliged to maintain that juvenile element. In Australia The Fatal Wedding has been the greatest popular melodramatic success they have had for years. I have let the rights of the play for that colony to Mr. Clyde C. Maynell."

Mr. Coote informs us that he has secured from American authors one or two good comedies, which are comparatively new, and not very well known in the States, which he thinks would be suited to British tastes. His present ambition is to get a London theatre, and become a West-End producer of plays. He finds, however, that the expenses in connection with such an undertaking are so great, and the public likes seem to be so variable, as to make the enterprise an exceedingly hazardous one.

The subject of this interview belongs to an old English theatrical family. His sister, Elizabeth, was at the Gaiety for years, and his sister Carrie and himself appeared for a long period at the Adelphi, Drury-lane, Gaiety, and Opera Comique theatres; while his brother Charles was for a considerable period associated with the late Mr. Wilson Barrett at the Princess's. Mr. Coote's father was Rob Coote, the composer, and his grandfather Charles Coote, proprietor of the music-publishing firm of Hopwood and Crews. Mr. Bert Coote started his professional career at Sadler's Wells at the age of four, and from the Clerkenwell house he went to the Surrey Theatre in Frank W. Green's peculiarly-named burlesque, Cherry and Fairstar. Then he was seen in pantomime in Exeter, York, Bath, Leeds, and other big provincial centres, and was juvenile clown for three years at the Adelphi under F. B. Chatterton's management, and for two years under Sir Augustus Harris, and was in the production of Gulliver's Travels, and seen in the original production of Les Cloches de Corneville, in which he played the part of the Bailie. At the age of sixteen he went to America, performing in conjunction with all the prominent stars. With The New Boy he took lead in his own company in a tour throughout the States lasting for three years. Subsequently, he drifted into vaudeville, in which line of business, in America, he has held a recognised and strong position.

ROYAL OPERA, COVENT GARDEN.

In the presence of a crowded house Signor Puccini's La Tosca was produced last Saturday night for the first time this season, Mme. Giachetti making her reappearance in the character of the unhappy heroine. Mme. Giachetti, who was in good voice, fully realised the dramatic side of the part, giving a most striking and vivid rendering in the torture scene, where Tosca, driven to despair, kills the fiendish Scarpia. The prima donna was admirably supported by Signor Scotti, who gave a most artistic and finished interpretation of the sinister villain, Scarpia, the painter Cavaradossi being impersonated by Signor Caruso, who imparted his intense and passionate singing to the music of the part. M. Gilibert, as usual, was excellent in the small character of the Sacristan, and Signor Rossi made an effective Conspirator; while praise must be awarded to Signor Campanini for the general excellence of the ensemble. The revival of La Tosca, however, deepens the impression that it is a pity so delightful a composer as Puccini should have wedded his refined art to so revolting a story.

In Rigoletto, on Wednesday evening, at Covent Garden, Signor Battistini made his welcome rentrée, giving a splendid dramatic reading in the part of the unhappy jester. There were, however, times during the evening when one felt that Signor Battistini somewhat sacrificed the vocal side of the character to his evident power as an actor. Mlle. Frances Alda proved an acceptable Gilda, though the young artist is severely handicapped by the fact that Mme. Melba has so recently sung in this part. Signor Caruso, as usual, made an excellent Duke, the artist being in fine voice. The rest of the cast was as on a former occasion, Signor Campanini conducting.

YVETTE GUILBERT AND ALBERT CHEVALIER.

It is to be hoped that the most successful results will accrue from the enterprise of Mr. Charles Frohman, who is emphasising the artistic entente cordiale by presenting Mme. Yvette Guilbert and Mr. Albert Chevalier at a series of matinées at the Duke of York's; and it was pleasant to see so large an audience assembled on Friday afternoon, the 8th inst., to enjoy so exceptional an entertainment. Both artists gave us a study in the perfection of diction. Mr. Chevalier introduced us once again to "The Fallen Star," a lifelike sketch of the broken-down actor, living on the memories of former triumphs at the Vic. The touching story of neglect and privation is not only told with penetrating pathos, but illustrated by a wealth of detail that brings home the pitiful plaint with undeniable strength. What a contrast to the neglected favourite of the footlights is found in the Hampshire rustic, overjoyed at the thought of basking in the sunshine of the affections of Meg, who asks, "Wot vur do 'e love oi?" An impersonation of a vastly different character to either of the preceding is the sharp-witted and shrewd professor of hanky-panky, who is equal to exploiting the three-card trick on a racecourse or in a bye-street when the coppers are not about. There is some wonderfully true pantomime illustrating the theme, and just a few conjuring tricks that prove the completeness with which Mr. Chevalier endows all his artistic work. "The Future Mrs. Hawkins," "Our Little Nipper," and "An Old Bachelor" are other successes that he presented with his customary success to an audience full of appreciation of his consummate ability. The accompaniments were admirably played by Mr. Alfred H. West.

Mme. Guilbert commenced her contributions to the programme by selections from her Pompadour songs, repeating, to the delight of her admirers, the piquant "Colinette," and the well-known "La Peureuse." "Les Souvenirs de Lisette," given in a contemplative mood, with just a touch of gentle melancholy, roused the house to enthusiasm, and other French songs in which the brilliant diseuse scored were a melodious Canadian song, "La Belle Françoise," "Margoton va-tà-l'eau," "Le Petit Mercerat," "Le Jaloux et la Menteuse," and "Les Cloches de Nantes." She astonished the audience by her perfect rendering of some old English country songs, evoking roars of laughter by her interpretation of the cynical sentiment of "The Dumb Wife," and by the archness of her comedy in "The Keys of Heaven" and "The Bargain." M. R. Hafemann was the clever accompanist to the great French artist.

The new Era Shield, given by the proprietors of this journal as a perpetual trophy, to be exhibited for the six months next following the date of the Annual Theatrical Sports in the theatre represented by the winning team.

WHY worry the brain when the British Calculator will instantly add up pounds, shillings, and pence, and the action is so simple that the machine can be worked by a child? The speed is generally about six times as rapid as mental addition, but quick operators can exceed this. There is no brain exertion, all the conversions of pence to shillings and shillings to pounds being done mechanically, and accuracy is absolutely assured. The British Calculator (pocket size) repeats at £500, thus making the machine effective for checking accounts up to hundreds of thousands of pounds if necessary. The working is learnt in a few minutes. This wonderful invention is to be obtained of the patentees, Messrs. Dickinson and Shields, Alliance Mills, Stoke Newington, N.

THE International Copyright Bureau, Limited, have come to an arrangement with Messrs. Selwyn and Co., by which they are able to offer the most successful American plays, more especially sensational drama, likely to suit provincial managers. Particulars may be obtained of Mr. Ernest Mayer, the managing-director of the enterprising firm, whose address is Oswaldestre House, Norfolk-street, Strand.

PLAYERS OF THE PERIOD.

MISS EDITH HERON-BROWN.

Miss Edith Heron-Brown started her theatrical career under the management of Mr. H. S. Dacre, appearing as Diana Chesney in The Sorrows of Satan, Winifred in Mamma, and Angelica in The Medium. She then joined Mr. W. S. Penley's chief Charley's Aunt company, with which she remained for over a year, achieving considerable success in the ingénue part of Ela Delahay. This was followed by a Christmas engagement at the Royalty Theatre. Next came a long engagement with Messrs. Frohman and Edwardes' company in Are You a Mason? in which she played several parts, under the management of Mr. Arthur Whittaker. During this engagement she secured much commendation for her admirable impersonation of Mrs. Roberts in A Dangerous Ruffian.

Leaving farcical comedy, this versatile actress next appeared with marked success as Mercy Merrick in The New Magdalen, and shortly after this as Violet in The Temptations of an Actress. Subsequently she was engaged by Mr. C. W. Somerset to play an important part in his production of A Stranger in a Strange Land.

Miss Heron-Brown next fulfilled an engagement with Mrs. Langtry, and accompanied her on her South African tour. She played character and comedy parts, including Susannah Verner in Mrs. Dering's Divorce, Tiny Mornington (the Eye Glass Girl) in The Walls of Jericho, Lady Stornaway in The Degenerates, More recently Miss Heron-Brown has been playing the part of Mary in Our Boys. Amongst many other parts played by her may be mentioned Juliet in Petticoat Perfidy, Violet in Our Boys, Minerva in What Happened to Jones, Mary Bazin in The Linen-Draper, and Dulcie in The New Housemaid, the Press notices of the last-named being particularly flattering.

Photo. by Sawyer.
MISS EDITH HERON-BROWN

We may add that Miss Heron-Brown is the daughter of the late W. Heron-Brown, for many years a member of the Green Room Club, and well known in journalistic and dramatic circles.

CARMEN-SYLVA CONCERT.

"Carmen-Sylva," the child soprano, gave her concert at the Steinway Hall, on Thursday evening, and the growing popularity of the young vocalist was shown in a house crowded without a vacancy. The stage was well dressed with flowers, and looked most attractive. Mr. Charles Matthews, L.R.A.M., opened with a piano solo, followed by a song by Mr. John Bartlett. Miss Rita Ramsden, an excellent singer, gave "Beloved, it is morn," accompanied by the composer, Mme. Florence Aylward. Miss Ethel Walker contributed her "Humorous Songs at the Piano," and Mr. Herbert Larratt, the gifted baritone, sang Mme. Aylward's "Garden of Roses," accompanied by the composer. Miss Maude Horne's violin solo, "Salterelle," was good in technique and expression; and in "The Nightingale" Miss Florence Dodson displayed a pleasing voice. Mr. Richard Temple's recitation was dramatic to a degree, and secured a recall. Carmen-Sylva gave as her first item a new song by Mme. Florence Aylward, entitled "The Sleepy Song," and the child's easy treatment and bright intelligence did justice to a composition which should win approval with the world. The young vocalist was heartily applauded, and her own enjoyment of success was very evident. After good items by Mr. Albert Fox, Mr. Clifton Barritt, the musical humourist, and Mr. Kingston-Smith, a cultured tenor, Carmen-Sylva, by desire, gave that famous song "Sing, sweet bird," and in this she truly showed the wonderful gift of melody she possesses, while her voice was capable of rendering every requirement of the composition She literally enthralled the audience, and was called and recalled. Such a scene is rare even in London, and in her encores, with "Spring is here" and "Home, Sweet Home," the vocalist proved her right to the title of "the child Patti." The floral offerings were more those of a great opera night than the ordinary concert. The phenomenal strength of the child's high notes, with such striking clearness, should interest all musicians and singers. Mr. Arthur Walenn, Mr. Leonard Harris (a good comic reciter), and Miss Nellie Watson followed. A fine item was Signor Bartolotta in the "Flower Song" (Bizet); Miss Hudson Smith sang; and then Carmen-Sylva finished the most successful evening with the National Anthem. Her future should indeed be a bright one.

PROFESSIONAL GOLF.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ERA.

SIR,—Seeing that there are so many in our profession who have taken up golf, will no one assist to arrange an annual match between the provincial and town actors?

Surely if it can be managed with cricket there should be no difficulty with this game. There are many keen and proficient golfers in the provinces, and they would be certain to give the West-Enders a good game.

If you will so oblige me by placing this suggestion before your readers I feel certain there will be some who will give their opinions, and in the near future we may find all sorts of good things in store for us.—Yours faithfully,

HUGH LESLIE DOBREE.
(Royal Weymouth Golf Club).

The Anchorage, Weymouth, June 12, 1906.

PRESENTATION.—At the termination of the performance at the Theatre Royal, Hanley, on the 8th inst., the staff assembled on the stage and presented Mr. Charles Howard, who is leaving the theatre, with a handsome silver cigarette case, subscribed for by the employés, and suitably inscribed. On Tuesday Mr. Howard was entertained at luncheon by Mr. Halliwell, manager at the Grand Hotel, Hanley, Mr. Alfred Edwardes, manager of the Grand Theatre, being amongst those present.

"SALOME" AT THE KING'S HALL.

Great interest attached to the performance of the late Oscar Wilde's play Salome, which was produced under the auspices of the Literary Theatre Society at the King's Hall, Covent Garden, on Sunday. The play, of which a private performance was given at the Bijou Hall, Bayswater, some two years ago, has long lain under the ban of the censor, and a similar prohibition existed in Germany for the space of twelve months, but after that period it was removed, and it has since been given with extraordinary success in Berlin and other Continental cities. The censor, in his report to his official superiors, paid special tribute to the remarkable artistic merits of the play—a unique instance of such a concession on the part of the Prussian censorship. It was then put on the stage at the Neues Theater, with an exceptionally clever actress, Gertrud Eysolt, as Salome, and was acted about 175 times. Since then all of Wilde's comedies have been acted in Berlin—Lady Windermere's Fan at the Deutsches Theater, A Woman of No Importance at the Neues Theater, The Ideal Husband and The Importance of Being Earnest (under the title of Bunbury) at the Kleines Theater. Salome, which was originally written in French, is full of that figurative and not altogether sane language to which the author descended at the latter period of his career, but the play constantly reflects the brilliant dramatic gifts of which the playwright was possessed. The little piece, of course, is founded on the Biblical story of St. John the Baptist. Salome dances before Herod, and then asks for the Baptist's head as a revenge for baffled love, kisses its lips, and is instantly killed at Herod's order. A number of prominent artists took part in the representation. In the rôle of Salome Miss Darragh seemed to be overweighted with the difficulties of a character which would tax the resources of the finest actress; but the earnestness infused into her delivery of the lines made the representation remarkably striking and impressive. Mr. Robert Farquharson limned in deep colours the imbecility of Herod, and quite succeeded in creating an impression of loathing for the unscrupulous monarch. Mr. Lewis Casson was a dignified John the Baptist, and embellished the character with many elocutionary graces which were invaluable in the part. The costumes were a feature of the production, and provoked general admiration.

Another of Oscar Wilde's plays was seen in The Florentine Tragedy, which was originally produced at the Deutsches Theater, Berlin, last January. A play entitled Flower o' the Rose, by Wm. J. Locke, having the same episode as a foundation, figured in the programme of the Clement Scott matinée at His Majesty's in the June of 1904, when Mr. George Alexander played the principal part. The piece contains only three characters—an old Florentine merchant, his beautiful young wife, and her lover. The merchant, arriving suddenly at his home after a short absence, finds his wife and his rival in her affections together at supper. At first he is affable and courteous, but gradually leads up to what, it is obvious, had been his fixed purpose from the beginning, and draws the lover into a duel. This takes place in the presence of the wife, who holds aloft a torch in order that the two swordsmen may fight the more easily. Swords are exchanged for daggers, the two men close with each other, and the younger one falls, mortally wounded. The infuriated husband is about to wreak a similar revenge on his faithless wife, but her love has been awakened by the display of his strength and superiority, and she falls into his arms. "Why did you not tell me you were so strong?" says she. "Why did you not tell me you were so beautiful?" rejoins the husband, and a reconciliation is thus effected.

THE NYE CHART BED
AT SEAFORD CONVALESCENT HOME.

	£	s.	d.
Actors' Benevolent Fund	100	0	0
H. Nye Chart	25	0	0
W. Hama-Bass	5	5	0
H. J. Infield	5	5	0
J. K. Nye	5	5	0
Messrs. Rothschild	5	0	0
A. M. Singer	5	0	0
Bert Coote	5	0	0
Sir Henry Irving	2	2	0
Sir Squire Bancroft	2	2	0
Mrs. D'Oyly Carte	2	2	0
Agnes Ingreville	2	2	0
Arthur Bourchier	2	2	0
Eccentric Club (per J. A. Harrison)	2	2	0
Edward Terry	2	2	0
H. Beerbohm Tree	2	2	0
T. G. Hales	2	2	0
Alfred Sutro	2	2	0
W. H. Kendal	2	2	0
John Hare	2	2	0
Henry Arthur Jones	2	2	0
J. M. Chute	2	2	0
Robert Arthur	1	1	0
A. E. Franklin	1	1	0
Henry Kemble	1	1	0
John Le Hay	1	1	0
Miss Nora Lancaster	1	1	0
Miss Edith Wynne Matthison	1	1	0
J. B. Mulholland	1	1	0
Lieut.-Col. H. Walker	1	1	0
Miss Wallis	1	1	0
Cyril Maude	1	1	0
H. Cecil Beryl	1	1	0
Martin Harvey	1	1	0
Miss Irene Vanbrugh	1	1	0
W. B. Smith (Yorick Club)	1	1	0
E. H. Bull (Green Room Club)	1	1	0
Viola Tree	0	10	6
Haidee Gunn	0	10	6
Charles Rock	0	10	6
Bassett Roe	0	10	6
Henry Swinerd	0	3	0
J. W. Cordiner	0	2	6
Per H. Cecil Beryl:—
Mr. E. Bridger	0	10	6
Mr. Pilbam	0	10	6
Wm. Sommerlad	0	10	6
Chas. Sommerlad	0	5	0
E. Pulleyne	0	5	0
Mr. J. Hobday	0	3	0
Miss S. Collins	0	2	6
Ch. Page	0	2	6
Total	205	15	0
Cost of bed at Seaford Convalescent Home for 12 years	200	0	0
Balance returned to Actors' Benevolent Fund	5	15	0
	£205	15	0

The above is a full list of subscriptions received, and an account of the disposal of the total amount.

F. H. PEDGRIFT,
Hon. Treasurer.

M. SAINT-SAENS puts in a strong protest in an articles in the Vienna Neue Freie Presse against the anarchistic tendency of modern music, and predicts a reaction which shall restore the human voice to its natural predominance. He says music will return to a stage in which "the keys, instead of following each other in a purposeless round, will relieve and support each other, as of old, in obedience to logical laws."

"MY ONLY DAUGHTER," a musical comedy, in two acts, by F. Kinsey Peile and Adrian Ross, with music by Eustache de Lorey, was produced for copyright purposes at the Waldorf Theatre on Tuesday.

FIFTY YEARS OF THE DRAMA—1850-1900.

(COPYRIGHT.)

In these columns it is proposed to give a strictly alphabetical arrangement of the titles of plays produced during the last fifty years. It will be the most complete list ever published, and should prove invaluable to authors desiring to discover whether a certain title has ever been used, and when. To members of the dramatic profession it will be useful in determining the dates of plays in which they have achieved successes. Our readers are politely requested to advise us of any omission or inaccuracy which they may notice.

This list as soon as complete will be published in cheap book form.

LOST HUSBAND, Belgrave Square, Nov. 21, 1884.
LOST IN LONDON, Adelphi, March 16, 1867.
LOST LOVE, Pavilion, March 8, 1879.
LOST IN NEW YORK, Olympic, Aug. 3, 1896.
LOST IN THE SNOW, Pavilion, Jan. 18, 1864.
LOST LADY OF LYNNE, Theatre Royal, Coventry, Jan. 24, 1883.
LOST LEGION, Liverpool, Nov. 7, 1898.
LOST LIFE, Gallery of Illustration, Nov. 24, 1870.
LOST OR FOUND, Holborn, Dec. 21, 1872.
LOST OVERTURE, Theatre Royal, Middlesbrough, March 25, 1892.
LOST PARADISE, Adelphi, Dec. 22, 1892.
LOST PRINCE, Crystal Palace, May 18, 1895.
LOST SHEEP, Theatre Royal, Bradford, July 13, 1891.
LOST, STOLEN, OR STRAYED, Duke of York's, April 27, 1897.
LOST, £30,000, Marylebone, March 24, 1856.
LOST THREAD, Prince's Hall, May 20, 1890.
LOST TO LIFE, Theatre Royal, Leicester, March 3, 1884.
LOST TO THE WORLD, Crewe, Feb. 15, 1892.
LOST WIFE, Britannia, Aug. 7, 1871.
LOST WITNESS, Grecian, May 22, 1880.
LOTA; OR, A MOTHER'S LOVE, Sadler's Wells, Aug. 8, 1892.
LOTHAIR, BATTI BATTI, AND SHAH DEE DOO, Theatre Royal, Liverpool, Oct. 13, 1873.
LOTTIE, Novelty, Nov. 20, 1884.
LOTTIE'S LOVE, Prince of Wales's, Glasgow, May 15, 1868.
LOT No. 1, Theatre Royal, Liverpool, Oct. 5, 1874.
LOT 49, Gaiety, Jan. 17, 1888.
LOUISIANA CREOLE, Theatre Royal, Preston, May 30, 1891.
LOUIS XI., Burlesque, Theatre Royal, West Hartlepool, July 9, 1869.
LOUIS XVI., Theatre Royal, Bath, Feb. 7, 1895.
LOVE, Theatre Royal, Gloucester, Dec. 11, 1876.
LOVE AND ART, Hammersmith, March 28, 1889.
LOVE AND AVARICE, Olympic, June 27, 1853.
LOVE AND CRIME, Grecian, May 24, 1858.
LOVE AND DENTISTRY, Greenwich, Dec. 5, 1893.
LOVE AND HATE, Olympic, June 23, 1869.
LOVE AND HALFPENCE, St. George's Hall, Jan. 31, 1888.
LOVE AND HONOUR, Surrey, Nov. 5, 1856.
LOVE AND HUNGER, Adelphi, Sept. 26, 1859.
LOVE AND LAW, Wolverhampton, Feb. 26, 1886.
LOVE AND LOYALTY, Drury Lane, March 22, 1856.
LOVE AND MONEY, Adelphi, Nov. 18, 1882.
LOVE AND POLITICS, Opéra Comique, Feb. 9, 1888.
LOVE AND STRATAGEM, Gaiety, March 15, 1886.
LOVE AND WAR, Theatre Royal, Portsmouth, June 17, 1895.
LOVE APPLE, Gaiety, Sept. 24, 1874.
LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT, Woolwich, May 3, 1889.
LOVE AT HOME, Theatre Royal, West Hartlepool, May 14, 1891.
LOVE BIRD, Vaudeville, June 19, 1872.
LOVE CHASE, Shaftesbury, June 1, 1891.
LOVE CONQUERS, Camden Town, Feb. 21, 1889.
LOVED AND LOST, Queen's, Manchester, Nov. 3, 1879.
LOVE GAME, Lyric, Ealing, Feb. 17, 1885.
LOVE IN A FLAT, Fulham, Feb. 13, 1899.
LOVE IN A MAZE, Princess's, March 10, 1851.
LOVE IN A MIST, Crystal Palace, July 9, 1891.
LOVING AND SCHEMING, Theatre Royal, Brighton, March 16, 1874.
LOVING CUP, Royalty, Nov. 26, 1868.
LOVING HEARTS, Strand, May 21, 1870.
LOVE IN IDLENESS, Theatre Royal, Brighton, March 13, 1896.
LOVING LEGACY, Eastbourne, Jan. 28, 1895.
LOVE IN TANDEM, Daly's, July 18, 1893.
LOVE KING, Reading, March 9, 1893.
LOVE KNOT, Drury Lane, March 8, 1858.
LOVE LAUGHS AT LOCKSMITHS, Albert Hall, May 13, 1899.
LOVE LETTER, Strand, May 10, 1894.
LOVE LETTER, ADVENTURES OF A, Drury Lane, Nov. 19, 1860.
LOVE LIES BLEEDING, Bayswater, April 30, 1900.
LOVE, LIMITED, Reading, Nov. 10, 1894.
LOVE LOCK, Olympic, Feb. 13, 1854.
LOVE MAKES THE MAN, Sadler's Wells, Sept. 22, 1853.
LOVE ON CRUTCHES, Comedy, July 28, 1896.
LOVE OR HATE, Prince of Wales's, Salford April 19, 1886.
LOVE OR LIFE, Olympic, June 10, 1878.
LOVE PHILTRE, Theatre Royal, Torquay, Jan. 7, 1898.
LOVER OF TWO, Theatre Royal, Preston, July 27, 1896.
LOVERS, Theatre Royal, Cork, May 5, 1886.
LOVER'S AMAZEMENT, Lyceum, Jan. 20, 1858.
LOVERS AT PLAY, Strand, May 5, 1856.
LOVERS' KNOTS, St. George's Hall, May 5, 1880.
LOVER'S LEAP, Prince of Wales's, Glasgow, Feb. 16, 1874.
LOVER'S RUSE, Theatre Royal, Dewsbury, Oct. 27, 1873.
LOVE'S ALARMS, Haymarket, Nov. 17, 1853.
LOVES AND GLOVES, Tyne, Newcastle, March 23, 1878.
LOVE'S ANGUISH, Adelphi, May 3, 1882.
LOVE'S CRONES, Theatre Royal, Wolverhampton, Jan. 28, 1881.
LOVE'S DOCTOR, Royalty, Jan. 27, 1870.
LOVE'S DREAM, Britannia, Dec. 27, 1881.
LOVE'S ERROR, Theatre Royal, Southampton, Dec. 20, 1870.
LOVE'S EYES, Prince of Wales's, Birmingham, March 5, 1891.
LOVE'S LIMIT, New Royalty, Jan. 6, 1866.
LOVE'S LOYALTY, Greenwich, Sept. 2, 1876.
LOVE'S MAGIC, Woolwich, Feb. 18, 1890.
LOVE'S MARTYRDOM, Haymarket, June 11, 1856.
LOVES OF ARCADIA, Strand, March 12, 1860.
LOVE'S ORDEAL, Drury Lane, May 4, 1865.
LOVE'S RETRIBUTION, Theatre Royal, Middlesbrough, Dec. 4, 1882.
LOVE'S REVENGE, Greenwich, Nov. 21, 1868.
LOVE'S SACRIFICE, Hastings, Nov. 25, 1896.
LOVE'S SECRET, Ladbroke Hall, Jan. 2, 1888.
LOVE STORY, THE, Strand, May 23, 1888.
LOVE'S TEST, Norwich, Sept. 4, 1874.
LOVE'S TRIAL, Opera House, Liverpool, May 5, 1882.
LOVE'S TRICKERY, Lyric, Aug. 31, 1889.
LOVE'S TRIUMPH, Covent Garden, Nov. 3, 1862.
LOVE'S YOUNG DREAM, New Royalty, March 30, 1864.
LOVE TEST, Gaiety, June 22, 1872.
LOVE THAT KILLS, Prince of Wales's, Jan. 27, 1888.
LOVE THAT LASTS, Theatre Royal, Northampton, Jan. 10, 1881.
LOVE, THE MAGICIAN, Shaftesbury, July 7, 1892.
LOVE TRAP, New Theatre Royal, Bristol, Sept., 1883.
LOVE VERSUS LAW, Princess's, Dec. 8, 1862.
LOVE VERSUS SCIENCE, S.W. London Polytechnic, May 9, 1896.
LOVE WINS, Theatre Royal, Cambridge, Aug. 11, 1873.
LOVE WINS THE DAY, Gallery of Illustration, Oct. 30, 1865.
LOVE WISELY, Avenue, April 27, 1898.
LOW WATER, Globe, Jan. 12, 1884.
LOYAL, Vaudeville, Aug. 9, 1894.
LOYALIST, Coronet, May 22, 1900.
LOYAL LOVE, Gaiety, Aug. 13, 1887.
LOYAL LOVERS, Vaudeville, Dec. 2, 1886.
LOYAL TO THE LAST, Theatre Royal, Birmingham, June 16, 1896.
LOYAL TRAITOR, St. James's, May 10, 1900.
LOYALTY, Criterion, March 13, 1876.
L.S.D., Royalty, June 29, 1872.
L.S.D.; OR, FACE TO FACE, Pavilion, July 15, 1889.
LUCETTE'S LEGACY, Theatre Royal, Brighton, Feb. 18, 1884.
LUCIA DI LAMMERMOOR, Prince of Wales's, Sept. 25, 1865.
LUCIFER, SON OF THE MORNING, Stafford, Dec. 15, 1898.
LUCK, Imperial, Nov. 15, 1879.
LUCK OF LIFE, Manchester, May 30, 1898.
LUCK; OR, A STORY OF PASTORAL LIFE, Britannia, July 19, 1869.
LUCK; OR, THE YORKSHIRE LASS, Amphitheatre, Leeds, March 8, 1869.
LUCKY BAG, Savoy, June 8, 1893.
LUCKY DOG, Strand, July 4, 1892.
LUCKY ESCAPE, Strand, Sept. 9, 1861.
LUCKY GIRL, Theatre Royal, Liverpool, Nov. 18, 1889.
LUCKY HIT, Drury Lane, Feb. 1, 1858.
LUCKY SHILLING, Standard, Feb. 20, 1888.
LUCKY STAR, Theatre Royal, Darlington, Aug. 1, 1887.
LUCKY STONE, Britannia, July 16, 1877.
LUCREZIA BORGIA, Marylebone, July 20, 1867.
LUCREZIA BORGIA, M.D., Holborn, Oct. 28, 1868.
LUCY BRANDON, Imperial, April 8, 1882.
LUCY HATTON, Marylebone, Nov. 2, 1863.
LUGGAGE PER RAIL, Her Majesty's Theatre, Richmond, July 12, 1882.
LUNACY COMMISSION, Prince of Wales's, Birmingham, March 10, 1876.
LUNATIC, THE, Theatre Royal, Bournemouth, Aug. 30, 1898.
LURED TO LONDON, Lyceum, Crewe, Feb. 14, 1889.
LURED TO RUIN, Princess's, Glasgow, June 30, 1890.
LURETTE, Avenue, March 24, 1883.
LURLINE, Covent Garden, Feb. 23, 1860.
LURLINE, Burlesque, Assembly Room, Leamington, Dec. 20, 1867.
LYING DUTCHMAN, Strand, Dec. 21, 1876.
LYNCH LAW, Theatre Royal, West Hartlepool, Sept. 19, 1874.
LYONS MAIL, Lyceum, Feb. 7, 1891.
LYSIANE, Lyric, June 21, 1898.

MISS NETHERSOLE AT CHICAGO.

Miss Olga Nethersole recently delivered an address to the Graduate Club at the Chicago University. The popular actress said:—

My mission in life, ladies and gentlemen, is to interpret the words and thoughts of others, and to give life to characters conceived and designed by dramatists. I stand before you this afternoon with no claim to be an orator. I am merely a woman representing, in my humble way, a noble profession.

One of the great regrets of my life has been that I had not the advantage of a University education; but, alas! when I was a student everybody in England looked askance at the woman who dared to claim that she was entitled to share in the higher branches of education with men, and who was bold enough to urge her claim. How different are things to-day!

Ladies and gentlemen, mine has been a struggle. My lot—at first, at any rate—was the usual experience of the ambitious. I was not believed in. I struggled and strove and worked, as it seemed to me, in the dark, without making much headway, until a gleam of light broke through the clouds of disappointment, and I was given the opportunity I sought for, and at least from that time I had secured a foothold which by persistence and endeavour has ultimately brought me to the platform of the University of Chicago.

I cannot help seeing that, while the stage of America has learned many bitter lessons and gained much experience from her elder sister, the stage of England, slowly but surely the knowledge is forced upon me that the English stage has now to reckon with the American stage as a factor for example, and we have to learn much from you. I do not know how this comes about, unless it be that you, like clever people, have adopted the best of ours, and still, like clever people, have improved upon our best, so that now, as was freely admitted in London last summer, when several of your notable managers ventured to introduce their companies into London, we English have a great deal to learn from you in acting and dramatic ensemble. I do not think we need feel much mortification on this account; we should, however, realise our obvious duty, or in the time to come you will have left us far behind, and it will come about that, in place of English actors coming to New York and Chicago, American actors will go to London, and, which is more to the purpose, will remain there. There are only two ways of averting this: One is to learn a lesson from the American stage, and the other is to establish a Dingley Tariff on dramatic art, which as apostles of Free Trade would be extremely repugnant to the English people.

THE INFLUENCE OF THE STAGE.

It is amazing to realise how the influence of the stage has gathered and grown in England and America during the past twenty-five years. In England the Renaissance began, so to speak, somewhere in the early sixties; steadily the influence has continued, and now, honoured by all ranks of society, from their Queen downward, its members, jealous of their rights, occupy a position second to no other profession.

I wonder what our grandfathers and grandmothers would have said if they could have known that, in this last year of the century, the much-maligned stage of their days would be crowned with laurels and clothed in the purple. I wonder what your grandfathers and grandmothers would have thought could they have known that you have been willing, and anxious, to have a member of my profession come here and address you in this beautiful theatre?

Several illustrious members of the dramatic profession have addressed you, from time to time, from this platform. By being invited to do so you have conferred upon them a distinction and an honour, and, not only upon them, but upon their colleagues, which we acknowledge with gratitude. By so doing you seem to recollect that the stage, as a social factor, needs all the encouragement and all the help it can acquire; and, remember, every time that you invite one of us to mingle with you you are breaking down barriers and conferring incalculable benefits upon our profession which cannot fail to be productive of good results.

Without desiring to lay before you the difficulties and trials of the stage, I should like to say just a word or so about a subject of the profoundest importance. Unless we are able to give you good plays we cannot give you performances. That is a maxim that none can dispute. A paramount difficulty, and one too little recognised, or only recognised in some of its effects, is the play supply. The good attractive plays are too few, and I venture to believe that they are too few because, under the present system, dramatic authorship is not properly developed. To give authors every opportunity, speed them in every channel, to welcome changes, to encourage the appearance of the drama in as many aspects as possible and in as many quarters as possible—that is the obvious course to pursue.

There is no means whereby the playwright can be trained and qualified to write successful plays. His college or training school must be made the public stage, and the men who pay for his education are the unfortunate managers. Playwrights are not "Heaven born." There is a large amount of technical skill needed, besides the original inventive faculty that a man must have before he can claim even to be a playwright, much less a successful one. It is only practice that can perfect the tyro in his experience, and, unless he receive encouragement, he cannot gain the experience. It is a very hard nut to crack, this paucity of playwrights and plays. I do not, myself, see how any other system can be adopted than the rough-and-ready one which is now pursued. Naturally, the public will not allow themselves to be practised upon. If they do not like a play they say so and they are justly entitled to say so.

It is upon managers that the task of encouraging young playwrights devolves. But where it is possible I do pray that the critics—the critics who are the mouthpieces of the public—will try to find out of the work of the young and inexperienced some gleam of hope for the future, and offer the word of encouragement and praise, without which many of us must, and shall, fall fainting by the wayside. Do you believe that the masterpiece of England's greatest living dramatist, which I have had the honour of presenting to Chicago during my first visit this season, would ever have been written and given to all ages and all tongues had it not been that Mr. W. A. Pinero received the encouragement and the support of managers years ago, even at the expense of their pockets? Mr. Pinero himself has admitted what a hard and thorny path he had to travel over before he could see that he had completed the first lap in his race for fame.

Speaking of Mr. Pinero, I well remember a notable speech which he made on the occasion of a public dinner over which he presided some years ago in London. He was referring to the need for encouragement of young actors, and, in a remarkable peroration, he made use of the following words:—

"I say to you in conclusion that, if you wish to elevate your stage and improve your acting, you must give praise unstintingly to the young, to the ambitious. There is one thing that they need more than any other, and that is praise—and so I say to you praise, praise, and still more praise."

I have never forgotten those words, because I have felt that, when Mr. Pinero spoke them, he spoke them from his heart, and that he recollected how hard and bitter a struggle he had had, and how much he needed praise, and what it meant to him. It is so easy to give praise to those who have achieved. They need it far less than those who are struggling, and, you may take it from me, a word of encouragement is worth a whole page of advice.

I myself very vividly remember your own great Joseph Jefferson speaking to me on the subject of my not following tradition, and praising me for my endeavour in these very remarkable words:—"My dear," said he, "some of us have roads made ready for us to tramp along to our destinies. You were born to make new roads. Go on making them, and take my praise!"

Some people seem never to be able to adopt anything but a pessimisitic attitude towards the drama and its future. They are the people who cry out from the housetops of the decay of the drama. I believe that the drama, at any rate in England and America, was never in a more optimistic condition than to-day. It seems to me in a sort of way it has shed its skin. The freedom which modern manners permit will, I think, tend to strengthen and solidify, and while, as is always the case at first, there may be some abuse of this freedom, the pendulum will swing backwards and forwards until it shall swing itself into a position of correctness, with the result that out of its freedom will come independence, and through its independence it will throw off all that which is least desirable. A new generation is constantly springing up around us, and I look with envy upon the pleasure that future generation are going to receive at the hands of the drama when this evolution shall have become an accomplished fact.

MR. HARE AND IBSEN.

I was reading recently in an English newspaper the account of a speech delivered by Mr. John Hare—with whose company I had the honour and pleasure of being associated at one period of my career—at the Playgoers' Club in London, in which he spoke of the faddists and cranks who, from time to time, spring up in every art, to disturb the existing state of things by sheer audacity and eccentricity. I take leave to believe that in these words Mr. Hare was referring to Ibsen and his followers. He went on to say that there are pleasant and unpleasant truths in life, but that the former, and not the latter, were truths in which the stage should concern itself.

In a sentence I venture to disagree with my former manager. I hold that it is the duty of the stage, as an educational factor (which, if it is anything, it certainly is), that the obvious duty of the stage is to hold the mirror up to Nature, and to deal with both pleasant and unpleasant phases of human life, not necessarily forcing the one upon the attention of the public at the expense of the other, but it is the duty of the dramatist to deal with life as he finds it, no matter whether it be pleasant or unpleasant. If you are truthful, you cannot shut your eyes to one phase and open them to the other. But I will qualify that statement by asking the dramatist not to expose the disease without suggesting the remedy.

I have spoken of Ibsen as presumably influencing the younger school of dramatists. Whatever any of us may feel or think of his work, we must in the abstract pay a tribute of respect and veneration to a man who had "such honour for the truth" that he was compelled to force himself to deal with much that is unpleasant and distasteful to all of us. "The good that men do lives after them," and you may depend upon it that the influence of Ibsen will live and live, when the man has become but a memory.

I have dwelt very elaborately on the subject of the young dramatist and our duty towards him; but there is another individual who needs as much looking after and encouragement as he—I refer to the actor. As dramatists are not born but made, so also are the actors not "Heaven born." Given the natural aptitude, there is incumbent on him or her a course of training.

THE TOURING SYSTEM.

I am grieved to say that the system which has obtained upon the English stage during the past few years has caused a crowding of the profession with people who, while not qualified actors in any sense of the word, are more or less capable to the limited extent of mimicing, which satisfies most of the requirements of a London success on tour. A play is produced in London, and becomes immediately a very great success. The manager is anxious to make money, and so he organises one, two, or three companies, to send them travelling on tour. The actors and actresses engaged to interpret the parts are told that they must mimic, or reproduce as nearly as possible, the people who created the parts in London. For this purpose the people succeed, and have the faculty for imitating well developed; and the result is that you find people playing the parts with no particular training, and they continue to play them for a year or two, without making any headway or receiving any enlightenment in their profession. The run comes to an end, the actor has learned nothing, and he waits patiently, or impatiently, according to his pocket, until another opportunity presents itself to go in and copy, as a Paris fashion, some other body's work. Whether this system reigns in America as it does in England I do not know; but if it be so it is none the less fatal to the best interests of the State. What is to be done to obviate this? I told you in the early part of my address that I could not see any possible way of training the dramatist, except at the expense of the managers; that is a rough-and-ready method that may have some possible advantage, but such a method applied to actors appears to be wrong, even to the least enlightened of us. In the old days the stock company was the rough school wherein the actor was fitted for his profession. He had to proceed by slow but sure steps, season by season, from one grade to the other, until he blossomed forth leading man or first comedian, or what not, or perchance realised that the stage was not his as either. Here your stock company days seem to be reviving in a measure, and I hail with delight the revival, as I feel that it is a step in the right direction.

TRAINING THE ACTOR.

It certainly is possible to train the actor. Why should we not take the bull by the horns and establish a dramatic conservatoire? Every other enterprise of art has its training school, and why not the stage? We find it flourishing in France, we find it flourishing in German; then why not in America and in England? It is not that its enemies can suggest that a conservatoire would not be useful, because we have the overwhelming evidence that in France and Germany there are the best and most accomplished actors, and I claim that it is because they have received proper training, and are fitted by such training to appear on the stage before the public. It is absolutely surprising that people should have the impertinence (forgive my heat) to expect to be allowed to appear before the public for the first time without any qualification whatsoever, and expect that the public shall appreciate and applaud them, when in all probability the public know a great deal more about the matter. I claim that the actor has a mission—he has a duty towards his fellow men which he can only fulfil after a course of training and preparation, and I would have the State in each country establish a college for the training of actors, and no one should be allowed to appear in public without his diploma, any more than a lawyer or a doctor is allowed to practice medicine or law without one. Until such a conservatoire is established, our profession will always be subject to a certain feeling of distrust on the part of the public.

I am so solicitous for my art that I want it invested with every dignity, and I pray that I may live to see the day when the people of England and America shall come to regard the stage so seriously as to compel them to bring ours into line with that of other professions. Our profession should be incorporated under a charter, and schools should be inaugurated. Educational qualifications should be necessary for admission to the schools, and a course of study should be prescribed. Then, after a due season of preparation, examination should be made in one, two, or three degrees; after, the student, having proved himself able and worthy, should receive his diploma as a Graduate in Dramatic Art. Until some such system is adopted we can never hope to advance ourselves rapidly, and the sooner this course is admitted the sooner we shall arrive at the solution of that which is, after all, one of the profoundest questions affecting the drama. It is a law of nature that the fittest survive, but with my conservatoire we can arrive more quickly at what is fittest than by the present method.

NEW MUSIC.

FRANCIS, DAY, and HUNTER are the publishers of "The Treasure Cave," written and composed by Mr. G. D. Fox, introduced by Ted Wootten in Little and Darcy's pantomime, The Forty Thieves. The composer is one of those experienced musicians who do so much credit to the theatrical profession, owing to their readiness and skill in arranging and composing music suitable for such pieces as the above. The composer, who resides at Brighton, has written incidental music for a host of dramas, and if anyone fancies that he has not done himself justice, we may mention that Beethoven, Weber, and other great composers have done the same thing, and Mr. Fox, who is competent in every department of musical art, is entitled to hearty praise for his bright and clever music to many popular plays. He is equally skilful in writing for the variety stage.

LEONARD and Co., 311, Oxford-street, W., are the publishers of the following:—"Knowst thou why?" is a song from the Persian music by Eileen Quayle. This has the fanciful character of Persian poetry, the music associated being simple enough. "Heliotrope," an intermezzo for the pianoforte, by James Philp, is brightly written, with sundry changes of key, not absolutely necessary, but clever in their way. The piece will make a good study for a youthful student. "Love, the Wanderer," words by Arthur Chapman, music by Wilton King, tells very pleasantly why Love wandered and where, and finishes to the melody of a pretty waltz.

GOULD and Co., of Poland-street, are advancing rapidly as publishers of popular music. Young Mr. Jacoby is our first contributor. His Six Pieces for the Violin will prove most serviceable to the amateur, teaching him (or her, as the case may be) to produce a broad, rich tone. Mr. Jacoby is not insensible to the charm of old-fashioned dances, and his "Bourrée" has much merit. In this department Mr. Siegfried Jacoby is worthy of his distinguished father, whose ballet music was so much admired at the Alhambra. "A prayer for you," by F. W. Sparrow, is a simple ballad that tells its own story. Mr. Noel Johnson, so well known as a song composer, is very successful in his sacred ditty, "Faith and Hope," set to verses by Christina Rossetti. "There is a green hill" is a setting by W. E. Sanderson of the words which Gounod so successfully used. We can compliment Mr. Sanderson on the fact that he has not imitated the more celebrated composer, but has a fairly original melody. Stephen Glover wrote some pleasant music in his time, and his part songs are not without merit.

ENOCH and SONS are the publishers of a charming Pastorale, by Mlle. Chaminade, the delightful composer of so much pretty music for the piano. A portrait of the lady, after one of Mendelssohn the artist, adorns the title-page. A song by the same fair composer, called "In happy mood," is worthy the attention of a good contralto, as the music lies in the best portion of the voice. "Songs of the desert," by G. H. Clutsam, are published for low and high voices, and have much of the romance of the desert, aided by dreamy melodies and characteristic words, also by the same musician. "In Sunshine and Shadow," the title of six songs by Landon Ronald, which have an agreeable flavour of the classic school, as we know it in the celebrated songs of Schubert and Robert Franz. The second of these songs has been sung by Mme. Melba, and is remarkable for a novel and original accompaniment. "Tom Brown," words by Weatherly, music by W. H. Squire, is a new version of "The Village Blacksmith," with the sentiment of Longfellow left out. "Tom Brown" is, in fact, a lively, humorous ditty, and would suit a genial baritone. "Day Dreams," by Emilie Clarke, has a touch of sentiment of a pleasing kind carried out in music and words. The sacred song, "Take up thy cross," by Cecil Grant, has a hymn tune, made impressive by an organ accompaniment of some merit. Alice Kuhling is the composer of "Scattered Blossoms," a song with words from the German. The music has also a Teutonic echo, by no means disagreeable. "Wings of Night," music by Arthur Vernon, employs two authors for the verses, "Bonnie dear," by Josef Holbrooke, a young composer, who is rapidly gaining fame, is hardly equal to his chamber music in quality, but has much merit of its kind.

ENOCH and SONS are also the publishers of the excellent pieces of Paul Wachs, a capital composer of pianoforte music, who combines grace and fluency with moderate demands on the executant, a fact which teachers should take into account when purchasing new music. The learned Dr. Bellairs has issued "The elements of pianoforte arranged on a rythmic basis." The doctor claims that his system saves the teacher much trouble and the pupil much labour. In any case, his plan is worthy of consideration. Herbert Bunning, who last season had an opera produced at Covent Garden, and who has written some clever songs, here produces a "Sérénade à Columbine" of much merit. "In Eighteen-five October," published by Charles Woolhouse, 174, Wardour-street, Mr. Cliffe Forrester celebrates Nelson's victory at Trafalgar. Charles Woolhouse also publishes the following:—Two dances from The Taming of the Shrew, by Noel Johnson, are a minuet and country dance, and "Trois Morceaux," by S. von Leer, in the antique style, have a freshness that makes them welcome. "Songs in Sun and Shade," by Frederick Nicholls, for contralto or baritone, have much merit, and are not without originality.

THE B. F. WOOD MUSIC COMPANY, of Boston, have also a branch at 12, Rathbone-place, Oxford-street, where Five Little Tone Pictures, by C. W. Krogmann, are published. They are fanciful pieces, the first being a polka song, "The Raindrops," and having lively words, can either be sung or played. Ten Melodious Recreations, by Wilhelm Aletter, are for the pianoforte, and are quite simple in form and execution. "The Vesper Prayer," by Frank H. Brackett, is a sacred song, with a violin and organ accompaniment, written in a devotional spirit. "What would you say, dear?" by C. S. Briggs, is a love song of a more sprightly character than those effusions generally are. "My Japanese" has a suggestion of The Darling of the Gods. The music is by Gibson Cooke.

Hopwood and Crew publish "The Young Recruit," composed by Ernest Vousden, welcome for its military flavour. "Luna," composed by W. Tate, has more sentiment.

HERR JOSEF KAINZ has, I am glad to be able to state, completely recovered from all effects of his recent severe illness. The famous actor will be seen in Berlin again before long, while at the beginning of July he will commence the season that was unfortunately postponed on account of his illness.

"THE FATAL STOCKINGS," a play in one act, by Arthur Holmes-Gore, will be produced in front of Too Many Cooks, at the Grand Theatre, Blackpool, on Monday.

LONDON & SUBURBAN THEATRES.

THE SAVOY.

On Tuesday, June 12,
A new Musical Farce, in One Act, written by Malcolm Watson, Music by Percy E. Fletcher and E. Hess, entitled "AN EXILE FROM HOME."

Signor Guglielmo Baillini ..MR. EDWARD SASS
Harry Merton .....MR. REYNOLDS DENNISTON
Beppo .....MR. THOMAS PAUNCEFORT
Miss Bulby .....MRS. B. M. DE SOLLA
Marjorie Wren .....MISS EVELYN D'ALROY

We were under the impression that we had seen the last of the gentleman known far and wide as Bill Bailey, who was so long deaf to melodious entreaties to "come home," but he bobbed up serenely in the new first piece—a musical farce—produced at the Savoy Theatre on Tuesday evening. Somewhat thinly disguised, under the title of Signor Guglielmo Baillini, he follows the calling of a teacher of singing. Amongst his pupils is a fair English maiden, Marjorie Wren by name, who, for some inexplicable reason, displays a foolish liking for the middle-aged signor, and gives the cold shoulder to Harry Merton, although he has youth on his side, and is honestly in love with Marjorie. The signor has in his service a youth known as Beppo, who is really a native of Whitechapel, but has been taught a little Italian. Marjorie comes to Baillini's lodgings in Soho, accompanied by a lady known as Miss Bulby, who complains of having been deserted by her scamp of a husband years ago. It is not necessary to be a very experienced playgoer to guess the end of the story; but before this is reached young Merton makes his appearance, and feels it incumbent upon him to inflict personal chastisement upon the supposed Italian. Then the lady who passes as Miss Bulby enters the room, and recognises in the teacher of singing her husband Bill Bailey. His excuses for deserting his wife are not flattering to that lady, but she is evidently of a forgiving disposition, and when she mentions that she has been left a small legacy Bill is easily persuaded to "come home," and the young couple, Harry and Marjorie, are speedily reconciled. The musical numbers include a song for Marjorie, a part that was brightly played by Miss Evelyn D'Alroy, who also sang in charming style; and a lively quartette in the buffo-Italian style, that was deservedly encored. Mr. Edward Sass gave an amusing embodiment of the self-styled Signor Baillini; Mr. Reynolds Denniston did well as Harry Merton; and Mr. Thomas Pauncefort made a capital representative of the pseudo-Italian youth Beppo. Mrs. B. M. de Solla gave able support as Miss Bulby, alias Mrs. Bill Bailey. The music was bright, the overture being distinguished by some striking variations upon the familiar air of "Home, Sweet Home." The new curtain-raiser, though rather old-fashioned in style, met with a favourable reception.

The last act of the powerful play by Claude Askew and Edward Knoblauch, entitled The Shulamite, which was produced at this theatre on May 12, has been so altered as to bring about a happy ending. In the original version Deborah confesses that her husband was killed by Robert Waring in order to prevent him leaving the country; but she also takes a solemn oath that the parting with her lover shall be for ever. In the new version, Tante Anna, by close cross-examination, forces Deborah to admit the truth, but her son taking sides with the lovers she is compelled to keep silence. Waring also receives news of the death of his wife, leaving him free to wed Deborah at no distant date. The acting in this play remains remarkably impressive and real. Miss Lena Ashwell depicts the feelings of Deborah with a power and intensity that evoke the warmest admiration of the audience, and hearty congratulations can be accorded the clever actress upon her success. Nor would it be easy to find a flaw in the fine performance of Mr. Norman McKinnel as Simeon Krillet, a perfect picture of the sincere, but mistaken, man, who interprets the Scriptures in accordance with his own narrow views. Mr. Henry Ainley gives a vivid representation of Robert Waring, the Englishman whose life has been ruined by an unhappy marriage; it is a performance that adds to his reputation as a clever actor. Mr. Eugene Mayeur deserves every credit for his natural embodiment of Jan Vanderberg; Miss Elsie Chester is excellent as Tante Anna; and Miss Beryl Mercer is very good in the part of the Kaffir girl, Memke.

KENNINGTON THEATRE.

On Monday, June 11,
the Farcical Romance, in Three Acts, by Captain Robert Marshall, entitled
"HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR."

A propitious start has been made by the little company of West-End players who are embarking on a short tour in the interests of the drama and of what may be called the sport of Cabinet Ministers, and a crowded audience assembled at the Kennington Theatre on Monday to give each popular favourite a hearty greeting. It would seem that in the event there is to be less golf than acting, for the little company has grown so much in demand that special matinées will in some towns militate against their frequent appearance on the links. The representation of Captain Marshall's clever comedy, in which the effects of the dust of the aloe lead to such droll results, gave the audience at Kennington a very merry evening, and the curtain was kept busy rising and falling at the end of each act. Mr. Lionel Mackinder takes the rôle of John Baverstock, the private secretary of the Governor of the Islands in the Indian Ocean, and great interest was centred in the appearance of the popular Gaiety jeune premier, shorn of the songs and dances to which he has accustomed his admirers. It was confidently to be expected that Mr. Mackinder would give a clever assumption of the part, but we were hardly prepared for the wealth of comic resource which is displayed. His sonorous voice gives added value to the lines which he has to deliver as the solemn and matter-of-fact Secretary, and his quaint by-play and action keep the audience in constant mirth. It would be sad to see the musical play robbed of Mr. Mackinder's services, but there can be no doubt that his adherence to the principles of the comedian pure and simple would be a distinct gain to that form of art. A real success must also be placed to the credit of Mr. Lennox Pawle, who plays the Right Hon. Henry Carlton, M.P., in the original style that has found for him a place among the front rank of comedians. The air of importance assumed by the pompous M.P. furnishes a mirthful contrast to his amorous wooing, and Mr. Pawle's every speech and action is followed by a round of laughter. The qualities of comedy and charm are agreeably combined in Miss Ethel Matthews' performance of Stella De Gex, the resourceful variety artist whose presence so disturbs the official equanimity of the Governor of the Islands in the Indian Ocean. The little inflections of the voice which Miss Matthews assumes give increased point to the numerous smart sayings which she has to deliver, and her constant vivacity and the charm of her presence render the impersonation completely captivating. Mr. Loring Fernie plays with undiminishing energy and power as the Governor. His dignified composure in many of the trying situations in which he is placed preserves the impersonation from the charge of extravagance, while his amorous rhapsody from the top of the pile of furniture which forms the barricade in the last act is intensely funny. Mr. H. Marsh Allen is a buoyant and soldierly Captain Charles Carew, and his chivalrous bearing as the manly young officer gives the dash of romance which is needed to preserve the piece from utter farce. A refined and ingenuous performance of Ethel Carlton is given by Miss Janet Alexander, who plays with well-varied skill in the love-making scenes of which she is the object. Miss Dolly Jones as Miss Wentworth-Bolingbroke does not hesitate to assume the dowdy appearance and querulous utterance of the typical old maid, and her enunciation of the mordant lines of the part is particularly effective. Mr. James Blakeley makes a truly comic personage of the Sentry, and the audience would fain have more of him. Mr. Blakeley has little to say, but his capacious smile is distinctly precious, and his intonation when the sentry raises his voice in the refrain of "I want yer, ma honey," has an irresistibly comic effect. The Butler of Mr. R. H. Sherrard is also a grotesque study, which adds to the merriment of the evening; and Mr. Littledale Power and Mr. Arthur Willoughby as Captain Rivers and Major Kildare respectively make the excellence of the cast complete. The performance of Captain Marshall's piece is ushered in by songs and stories of Mr. Frederick Norton, who has been recently entertaining the patrons of the Duke of York's Theatre. He was encored many times on Monday for his sweetly-rendered songs, which included selections from The Gondoliers. "The merriest fellows are we," from that popular opera, was enthusiastically redemanded, and Mr. Norton gave in response "I'll sing thee songs of Araby," which was so well appreciated that he had to repeat the last verse of Clay's immortal ballad.

THE CAMDEN.

On Monday, June 11,
the Comedy, by H. H. Davies, entitled
"MRS. GORRINGE'S NECKLACE."

Miss Mary Moore and an excellent company are here in that delightful play by Mr. Hubert Henry Davies, Mrs. Gorringe's Necklace. Every part is excellently played, and as Miss Mary Moore and Miss Marie Illington are appearing in their original rôles, it was no surprise that such a powerful attraction should have drawn the crowded house it did on Monday evening. Miss Mary Moore is seen at her best as Mrs. Gorringe; it is a delightful piece of acting, and thoroughly consistent throughout. The author has drawn a very common type, but it is one which requires delicate handling, and Miss Mary Moore is quite equal to the task. As Mrs. Jardine Miss Marie Illington submits a capital portrayal of one of those characters which she always plays so admirably and with such finish; Mr. Yorke Stephens acts the part of Captain Mowbray so well that he impresses his own personality on the character, and plays with great force; Mr. Brisco Owen embodies the rôle of David Cairn in a clever manner, and, by his quiet and effective handling of it, compels sympathy for this weak young man. Mr. Maitland Dicker is amusing as Colonel Jardine; and Mr. Reginald Walter is distinctly good as the Detective. Miss Lilias Waldegrave as Isabel Kirke gives a really fine piece of acting. She plays with a fine reserve, and the firm and resolute character is admirably delineated. Miss Isabel Fladgate is a bright Vicky, and Miss Ethel Marryat does well as Miss Potts. Mr. L. J. White lends valuable assistance as Charles. The play is preceded by a bright little trifle, entitled The American Widow, in which Miss Lilias Waldegrave and Mr. Reginald Walter appear with great success. The plays are well staged, and the whole production is under the direction of Mr. Thomas McKenzie.

GRAND, WOOLWICH.

On Monday, June 11,
the Drama, in Four Acts, entitled
"THE DRAMA OF LIFE."

Once again melodrama holds the boards at this theatre, and there was a highly-interested audience present on Monday to witness the performance by Mr. Lingford Carson's talented company of the above-named exciting drama. Miss Kate Hallam gave a tender and sympathetic rendering of the much-wronged Sylvia Beech, proving herself an actress of considerable emotional power. As Lady Jane Wilde Miss Florence French worked hard, and caused considerable amusement by her lively portrayal of this dashing member of the aristocracy; Miss Nellie Birchenough, in the rôle of Betty Black, submitted a character-study which was commendably life-like in conception and in execution; and Miss Elsie May played cleverly, and made an attractive youngster of Master Robert Beech. Mr. Geo. M. Newall was responsible for a strong and, at times, really masterly rendering of Harry Beech, and was especially successful in portraying the broken-down banker's rapidly-changing moods in the drunken scenes, while his rendering of the strong scene in the fourth act was excellent in every detail. Mr. Edward M. Hamilton made a vindictive and sardonic Walter Beech, and soon earned his reward in the loudly-expressed disapproval of the "gods." Mr. H. Maxwell Payne was amusing as Jack Lawton, and his acting, and the antics of Mr. A. McGrath as a "harmless aristocrat," did much to keep the audience in a good humour. The less important characters were all capably handled, worthy of special mention being the wily Count de Foi of Mr. Edward van Biene, and the realistic detective of Mr. Walter Steele.

THE SHAKESPEARE.

On Monday, June 11,
the Farcical Comedy, in Three Acts, entitled
"THE NIGHT OF THE PARTY."

After a long run of successful dramas a return is this week made to lighter fare, and the attraction provided is Mr. Weedon Grossmith's farcical comedy, The Night of the Party, which met with so much success at the Avenue Theatre. Excellently acted by Messrs. Cecil Barth and Arthur Eldred's company, the play goes with a swing, and the humorous situations keep the audience in uproarious laughter throughout. Mr. Sebastian Smith scores heavily with his representation of Mr. Crosbie, and is warmly applauded. Having a thorough grip of the character, and making the most of his opportunities, Mr. Smith, by his clever acting and cool self-assurance in awkward predicaments, causes much merriment. A finished performance is given by Mr. Frank G. Bayley in the rôle of Mr. Frank Frayne; Mr. Lewis Sealy, who is also stage-manager, acts with sufficient force as Sir Charles Hampshire; and Mr. Algernon Newark is amusing as Alderman Hargen. Mr. Victor Widdicombe as Mr. Flambert contributes to the gaiety of the evening by his clever delineation of the pompous butler; and Mr. Arthur Eldred gives a natural representation of Mr. Rundle, the footman. The part of Mr. Bogle is in the safe hands of Mr. J. W. Braithwaite, whose efforts are commendable. Mr. Gerald Jones as Alec Montressor, Mr. Chas. Turner as Horace Clouge, and Mr. Frank Ridley as Mr. McRoth, are good in their respective parts; and Master S. Kelly as a Page Boy is to be congratulated. Miss Hope Mayne is charming as Lady Hampshire, and gives a capital piece of quiet acting. A decided contrast is the Gipsy Vandelier of Miss Blanka Stewart, who is seen to great advantage; Miss Joan Burnett is satisfactory as Paulina; and Miss Gertrude Homewood is excellent as Mrs. Young. Miss N. Rowell as Nannie Portland, and Miss Mabel Morley as Baby Hastings, capably sustain their respective parts.

GRAND THEATRE, ISLINGTON.

On Monday, June 11,
the Drama, in Five Acts,
Adapted from Mrs. Henry Wood's Novel, entitled
"EAST LYNNE."

Mr. Samuel James is producing this ever-popular play at the above theatre this week, and capital houses have been the result. The time is long past for any critical remarks on a drama which has so endeared itself to popular audiences. Suffice it to say that once more the tribulations and trials of the unhappy Lady Isabel find a ready response from the feminine portion of the house. Miss Clara Cowper, who is starring as Lady Isabel, gives a sympathetic and acceptable performance, and her reception is very flattering. Miss Minnie Grey as Barbara is very good in a part of limited opportunity; Miss Florence Lovell is amusing as the aggressive Cornelia, Miss May Seton effective as Joyce, and Miss Florrie Black as Willie deserves a word of commendation. Mr. Douglas Vigors is dignified as Carlyle, acting with commendable discretion; Mr. Fred Morgan is quite excellent as Levison, Mr. E. T. Manning humorous as Hare, and Mr. E. J. Collins commendable as Richard. Mr. H. H. Barrington submits a dignified performance of Lord Mountsevern; and Mr. H. P. Kaye does everything possible with a poor part as Dill. The scenery and mounting of the drama are, as usual, most complete and satisfactory. Mr. Maurice, the acting-manager here, is most assiduous and courteous in the front of the house.

NEW PRINCE'S THEATRE, POPLAR.

On Monday, June 11,
the Naval Play, in Four Acts, by F. Bateman, entitled
"THE SAILORS OF THE KING."

The attraction this week at the New Prince's Theatre is a very powerful drama from the pen of Mr. F. Bateman, entitled The Sailors of the King. It is full of powerful situations and thrilling incidents, and the interest of the audience is thoroughly maintained throughout the play. Mr. Charles Harrington's No. 1 company present the drama, and right well do they acquit themselves. Mr. Harrington himself enacts the rôle of Admiral Drake, a bluff old sea dog of the old school, in a very excellent fashion. He has a natural style of acting, and his enunciation is perfect. His son Dick Drake is well played by Mr. Harry Douglas, who makes a breezy, hearty sailor and an earnest lover. Mr. Vernon Travers, who plays the rascally brother Orrel Drake, is particularly successful in his delineation of the character; and Mr. Kenneth Black, jun., as Barnet Fair is exceedingly humorous. Mr. Fred Owen as a Jew moneylender, Harris Wilkinstein, is very amusing; and Mr. Walter Farnsworth could not be bettered in the part of Rufford Dent. As the heroine Felicia Phrynne Miss Sylvia Stella is highly successful. She is possessed of a delicate and refined manner, and yet manages to add reality to her struggle with her captors in the last act. As Daisy Dent Miss Gertrude Sterroll presents a pathetic picture of a wronged woman, and quickly enlists the sympathy of her audience. Miss Hero Hathaway as Penelope Penn plays the part of a young Quakeress as if to the manner born, and added greatly to the humour of the piece. Miss Maude Digby is excellent in the character of Rebecca Crosby, a scheming adventuress, and her rendering of the passionate, revengeful woman is powerful and highly realistic. All the smaller parts are in capable hands, and the piece is admirably staged, the deck of the man-of-war and the launch being effective sets.

THE CROWN, PECKHAM.

On Monday, June 11,
the Farcical Comedy,
by Beard Frances and Herbert Laeland, entitled
"THE MEDICAL STUDENT."

A crowded audience assembled on Monday evening to welcome the above amusing farcical comedy, which was originally produced at the Strand Theatre some years ago. The piece is full of diverting complications and laughable lines, proving much to the taste of the house. Not the least merit of the comedy is the fact that it provides capital parts for those two well-known comedians Messrs. George Giddens and Fred Kaye. The company, which is under the direction of the Mr. Hilton Frances, gives an excellent interpretation of the piece. Mr. George Giddens is a dashing representative of the mercurial medical student Dick De Feetum, and acts with unflagging energy in the various amusing situations in which the authors have involved him. Mr. Fred Kaye as the eccentric little Tim Burton, who gets into terrible trouble through marrying a ward in Chancery, has an excellent part, of which he makes the most. His make-up is effective, and he is responsible for continuous laughter whenever he is on the stage. Mr. Hilton Frances is a duly fierce and domineering old gentleman as Mr. Burton; and Mr. Arthur Rodney is appropriately pompous and precise as Sir Giles De Feetum. Miss Marie Kenrick acts with animation and sincerity as Tim Burton's young wife; and Miss Dido Drake looks charming and plays sympathetically as Alice Burton, the medical student's sweetheart. Miss Muriel Langley gives a clever character sketch as the "slavey" Sarah, who takes such a warm interest in her young mistress's affairs. Mr. Charles R. Travers is amusing as the German professor of music; and Mr. Allan Brooke appears with success as the cabman. Mrs. Burton is played with refinement and intelligence by Miss Constance Groves; and Miss L. Murray, Miss Connie Shillingford, Mr. Stephen Thomas, Mr. R. C. Liversay, and Mr. Charles Arthur successfully complete the cast. The comedy is preceded by the one-act play Foibles, in which Miss Lucy Murray gives a good portrait of the young wife Lady Blanche Wintage; Sir Edward Wintage is well enacted by Mr. R. C. Liversay; and Mr. Charles R Travers is quaintly humorous in the part of the faithful old servant Shackles.

DALSTON THEATRE.

On Monday, June 11,
the Drama, by Arthur Shirley and Henry Bedford, entitled
"THE SEE-SAW OF LIFE."

Mr. Henry Bedford, supported by members of his own company, is presenting the sensational drama The See-Saw of Life at the Dalston Theatre this week to appreciative audiences. Mr. Bedford is quite at home in the character of Matt Marston, imparting to it all the necessary quaint humour. Miss Bessie Bedford plays most successfully the part of Laurie Musgrave; and Miss Frances Foley appears to advantage as Mrs. Palmer. Mr. Alec Alexander represents Sir James Dalroy with satisfactory results; and Miss Violet Alwyn embodies Judith Dalroy with no little cleverness. Others in the female cast are Miss Jennie Risley, Miss Dora Steeple, and Miss Clara Bush. Mr. Frank Denton finds an effective representative in Mr. Walter H. Domoney, Mr. George W. Hewetson is Paul Zulmar, Mr. Cecil B. Churton plays the part of a detective, and Mr. Walter Noridge puts in good service as a police-inspector.

LYRIC, HAMMERSMITH.

On Monday June 11,
the Drama, by Joseph Arthur, entitled
"THE STILL ALARM."

This week the American drama The Still Alarm, which was played with success many years ago at the Princess's Theatre, is here, being presented by Messrs. Glenville and Osmond's Company. Mr. Mathew H. Glenville gives a convincing portrait of Jack Manley, the hero, and obtains a hearty reception. Mr. Cecil Du Gue powerfully depicts Jack Bird. From the part of Doc Wilber Mr. Fred Osmond extracts much merriment. One of the most effective pieces of acting is given by Miss Hettie Zillwood as Carrie Wilber. Possessing a charming voice, she pleases the audience with an occasional song, and sustains the part in a vivacious and energetic manner. She is materially assisted by Mr. Tom Beasley as Willie Manley; Mr. J. Sutton Pateman contributes an excellent study of Franklyn Fordham; while Miss Maud Warburton completely wins the sympathy of the audience by her rendering of the sorely-tried heroine Elinor. A better portrayal of an old and loving mother than that given by Miss Mabel Veriton can hardly be desired, and she contrives to combine a little humour with her pathos. During the most important scene, which represents a modern fire station, introducing two well-trained horses, the Lyric Comedy Four impart a little variety by melodious vocal quartettes. In minor parts Messrs. W. S. Cook, Frank Wilson, Harry Smith, and George Owens deserve special praise; while Messrs. W. Edwards, E. Tudor, and H. Johnson give great assistance. Mr. G. Francis as Joe Nozzle, though only a short time on the stage, manages to evoke a good deal of laughter.

THE PAVILION.

On Monday, June 11,
the Play, in Four Acts, entitled
"THE JEWISH HAMLET."

Despite the warm weather a large audience welcomed on Monday evening a meritorious performance by the Jewish Operatic and Dramatic Company of The Jewish Hamlet, an interesting and impressive play, containing many powerful scenes, which afforded opportunity for forcible acting. Mr. Natansohn, who is in the last week of his engagement here, gave a strongly-defined reading of Avigdor, the Jewish Hamlet, in which he displayed much pathos, power, and intensity, his scene with his mother in the third act being a striking histrionic effort. An entirely satisfactory interpretation of Todris was submitted by Mr. Axelrad; and Zabel had a capable exponent in Mr. Joseph Fineberg. Mr. Schilling, who would do well to introduce a little variety in make-up, gave a capital character-sketch of Pize, and was warmly and justly applauded. Mr. J. Scherman was thoroughly successful as Benisel, brightening up the play whenever he appeared; the varied feelings and passions of Esther were cleverly portrayed by Mme. Natansohn; and Miss Rubenstein creditably represented the blind Zinele. Mme. Kayzer acted the part of Chanele with delightful ingenuousness; and the conception of Dveire by Mme. Goldstein was exceedingly natural. Mr. Marinhof deserves much praise for his well-studied and careful rendering of Sholem Dayen; Mr. Katz was a suitable Chaim; and Mr. Raitz an able Pristav. During the week Hadasse, The Savages, The Wise Man, The Jewess, and Haman the Second have been presented with excellent results.

THE WEST LONDON.

On Monday, June 11,
the Drama, in Four Acts,
by Charles Darrell and George Testo Sante, entitled
"THE LIFE OF A SHOWMAN."

There are several novel features in this play which go far towards securing it the popularity it undoubtedly enjoys. The part of Brien Leader provides Mr. George Testo Sante with many opportunities of displaying his athletic talents to the full, of which he takes ample advantage, his struggle in the second act with two powerful dray horses being most realistic and vivid. As Hendrik Marais Mr. Logan Darra gives a perfect exhibition of cool, calculating villainy that rouses the house to the uttermost. Mr. Charles Osborne is quietly effective as Sir Noel Hartland, afterwards Stickers, the circus bill-poster; Mr. Edward Ward is easy and natural as the Rev. Cyril Arliss; and Master Harry Warden is a precocious Dickie. An adequate impersonation of Agatha Winter is proffered by Miss Amy McNeill, she depicting the character in a forcible, telling manner; Miss May Neilson is genuinely funny as the mountain of adipose tissue Angelina Mutton; Miss Enid Trench is to be commended for her Lena Hartland; whilst Miss May Warden plays with intelligent interest and vivacity as little Lynnette. Others worthy of mention are Mr. Frank Sante (Tommy Allthere), Mr. John Clegg (Ben Tick-Tack), Mr. Fred Vaughan (Ned Chuckers), Mr. J. C. Sante (Laurie Grey), and Mr. Arnold Price (Andy Shivers). In the circus scene Lord, Murray, and Lord give a clever display of ball-punching, which is loudly cheered.

COUNTY THEATRE, KINGSTON.

On Monday, June 11, the Romantic Drama, in a Prologue and Three Acts,
By Adrian O'Connell and Eugene McCarthy, entitled,
"A ROYAL REVENGE."

A strong company, under the direction of Mr. J. H. Clyndes, is appearing this week at the Royal County Theatre in this attractive production, which secured a most favourable reception at each performance. On Monday evening Mr. Clyndes was to have filled the leading part, but was unable, through indisposition, to do so, and the part was accordingly ably portrayed by Mr. J. Boyd Pearson. A creditable appearance also was made by Mr. A. F. Audley as the hunchback, Count Uzeda. Miss Aimee Grattan-Clyndes won much favour by her portrayal of the gipsy dancing girl, and Miss Enid Edoni achieved a distinct success as Inez Alvarez. The Paquita Marcella of Miss Lucy Fitzroy was also very good. The mounting of the play was most admirably done.

BROADWAY THEATRE, S.E.

On Monday, June 11,
the Drama, in Four Acts, entitled
"HUMAN HEARTS."

Presented by the popular actor-manager, Mr. C. W. Somerset, the applause which greeted the many telling speeches and carefully-arranged situations showed that the above piece, one of the best melodramas ever sent over from America, met with the entire approval of the audience. Perhaps the gem of the play is the scene in the Governor's office between the Governor, Richard Markham (played by Mr. Arthur Estcourt) and Mrs. Sam Logan (acted by Mrs. L. L'Estrange). The episode is admirably depicted by both artists. Mr. George Silver is really excellent as Tom Logan. Earnest and powerful throughout, he is at his best in the Prison scene. Mr. George Jordan is a polished and easy exponent of the villainies of the unscrupulous Fred Armsdale; Mr. Ben McDale is good as the faithful Mose, as is Mr. Thomas Terry as Sirus A. Lamb. Mr. Frith Leicester is a humorous Patrick; Mr. Charles Cecil is excellent as Sam Logan; Mr. Sidney Sarl as James Shaw and Mr. Wynne Hammond as Wilson Davis are well placed; and Mr. Stephen Langton is a huge favourite as Titus Eels, his quaint style and make-up, coupled with his untiring energy, meeting with decided appreciation. Miss Winifred Pearson as Jennie Logan has an excellent grasp of the character; Miss Millie Sylvestre is a gentle and womanly Ruth Western; Miss Rena Robertson a winsome and natural Gracie; and Miss Barbara Bateman gives a clever and pathetic rendering of the character of Limpy Logan. The scenery and accessories are all that could be wished.

BOROUGH THEATRE, STRATFORD.

On Monday, June 4,
the Drama, in Four Acts, by Arthur Shirley and Ben Landeck, entitled
"TOMMY ATKINS."

This stirring military drama entered upon the concluding week of its fortnight's engagement on Monday night, and as this is the initial visit of the piece to Stratford, it continues to draw capital audiences. Mr. Ernest E. Norris has secured an excellent cast for the interpretation of the piece, and the large number of supernumeraries engaged are well up to their work. Mr. Ernest E. Norris makes a manly and buoyant Harold Wilson, and declaims his lines most convincingly; Mr. Oscar Adye contributes a powerful rendition of the scheming, cowardly Captain Maitland, whose cat's-paw, Private Mason, is graphically delineated by Mr. Fewlass Llewellyn; Mr. Wilton Reed skilfully handles the part of the narrow-minded Stephen Raymond; Mr. W. P. Sheen cleverly depicts the bibbling reprobate, Ebenezer Skindale; Capt. Bob Sparrow becomes a very popular personage in the hands of Mr. Wm. Burghill; and Mr. Chas. L. Ludlow is genuinely funny in the rôle of Serjeant Paddy Malloy. Miss Katharine Clarke brings much histrionic ability to bear upon the exacting part of Ruth Raymond, and enlists the sympathies of the audience throughout; Miss Nina Westerleigh is a charming Elsie Wilson; Miss Georgie de Lara makes the very utmost of her opportunities as Margaret Maitland; Miss Gladys King is a pleasing Rose Selwyn; and Miss Dora Hargrave makes a bright and amusing Kate Perkins.

GREEK TRAGEDY AT SYDENHAM.

On Thursday, June 7, in the Crystal Palace School of Art, Revival of the Play in Verse by Algernon Charles Swinburne, with incidental music by Muriel Elliot, entitled,
"ATALANTA IN CALYDON."

Chief Huntsman and Herald MR. LEWIS CASSON
Chorus Leader .....MISS MARY WEBB
Althæa .....MISS ELSIE FOGERTY
Atalanta .....MISS HAZEL THOMPSON
Meleager .....MR. GERALD AMES
Œneus .....MR. HILDING
Toxeus .....MR. L. PRYCE HAMER
I'lexippus .....MR. SYDNEY BROOKFIELD
Captain of the Guard .....MR. DELPH
Messenger .....MR. L. PRYCE HAMER
Second Messenger .....MISS NORAH DILLON

The careful and scholarly production of the above seldom-acted tragedy at the Crystal Palace last week aroused a duly proportionate interest, and, despite the high prices of seats, the building was filled for each performance. From first to last evidence of the thoroughness and painstaking rehearsal that had been devoted to the production was apparent, resulting in an impressive and interesting performance, on which Miss Elsie Fogerty, under whose direction it was produced, and all concerned may be congratulated. The entire representation was in the ancient Greek style, the scene, an apartment in the Palace of Queen Althæa, being set on a slightly raised platform, below which the chorus posed, sang, and danced.

The plot, briefly stated, is as follows:—The goddess Artemis, being enraged, has sent a fierce wild boar to Calydon, which has ravaged the countryside, and the highest in the kingdom have assembled to hunt and slay the monster. Chief among these are Œneus the King and his son, Meleager, together with two brothers of the Queen, Toxeus and Plexippus, between whom and Meleager there is constant variance. At the meeting appears Atalanta, daughter of the King of Scyros, huntress, too, but her coming is but coldly welcomed by all, except by Meleager, who offers her the cup of libation, thereby provoking the taunts and anger of the brothers of the Queen. At the hunt Meleager kills the boar, and offers the trophies of the chase to Atalanta, which so provokes Toxeus and Plexippus that they attempt to rob her of them, and in the end are both slain by Meleager. When their dead bodies are brought before Queen Althæa, her duty compels her to compass the death of her son in revenge, which she is able to do through a spell cast over him at his birth by the Fates, who were present, and who decreed that Meleager should live only as long as a brand which was then burning on the fire should remain unconsumed. His mother, on hearing it, at once quenched the flame, and carefully preserved the wood and her son's life, but in her anger at the killing of her brothers she cast the fatal faggot in the flames and her son's life ebbed as it was consumed. He is brought in on a litter dying, and declares his love for Atalanta, who stands sadly by as he dies. The scene closes with the death of Althæa from remorse, and after covering her hero with her veil, Atalanta sadly withdraws.

Swinburne's fine verse was ably declaimed by the members of the company. Mr. Gerald Ames made a manly figure of Meleager, speaking his lines with sincerity and conviction, and his dying scene was a clever piece of restrained acting. Mr. Hilding made a dignified Œneus, and Mr. Lewis Casson, who had the dual rôle of Chief Huntsman and a Herald, was admirable in each character, his speech describing the hunting of the boar being finely delivered. Mr. L. Pryce Hamer and Mr. Sydney Brookfield, as Toxeus and Plexippus, the jealous uncles, acted well. Miss Norah Dillon, who took a man's part as Second Messenger, was more than common tall, and acquitted herself well. Miss Elsie Fogerty had the burden of the work as Althæa, being seldom off the stage. She spoke her lines with remarkable effect, even her longest speeches being invested with interest. As Atalanta Miss Hazel Thompson took every advantage of a sympathetic part, and succeeded both in looking charming and in enlisting the sympathies of all. One of the notable features of the afternoon was the chorus, whose services are in requisition throughout the entire length of the play, which lasted three hours. During that period, the ladies constituting the chorus never left the stage, and, moreover, never ceased to act, for it is their office to anticipate and foreshadow events in the play, and to pose, sing or dance in becoming style. The music, which was on modern lines, was always subordinate to the action of the play, and showed rare control and appropriateness. The double chorus in the first Stasimon, with its echoed reply from a choir "off" was noticeable, and the Hyporcheme or Dance Song, with rolling accompaniment for 'cellos, was remarkable also. The choir was accompanied by an orchestra of stringed instruments under the conductorship of Mr. Charles Aves. Earnestness was the badge of all, the absence of staginess, was also marked, and one small particular may be cited; the actors of both sexes did not disdain to show a bare and sunburned leg, and bare sandalled feet were the only wear for all. The small actions, such as making libation to the gods on entrance, and the draping of altars with garlands, also served to give realism to the production. The piece, which was performed for the benefit of the Church of England Waifs and Strays Society, was repeated at the Palace on Saturday, and on Monday afternoon at the Scala Theatre, when it was given in aid of the Bedford College Site and Building Fund.

THEATRICAL CHARITY SPORTS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ERA.

SIR,—In last Saturday's Era, the figures given in connection with the Birmingham Theatrical Charity Sports, held on Whit Tuesday, are very excellent, and the chairman and all connected deserve the greatest praise, but they do not create a financial record. The last year but one of my treasurership (1902) of these sports—a position held by me for some years—realised in gate receipts, subscriptions, &c., over £766, and the committee were enabled to give £514 2s. in donations to the various local hospitals, institutions, &c., and to the professional charities, after paying all expenses.

In the course of my business I had to leave Birmingham, but I am glad to see my old friends on the committee are continuing the good work, and hope that next year they will be successful in establishing a record that cannot be challenged.—Yours faithfully,

HARRY LYONS,
New Prince's Theatre, Poplar, June 12.

MR. GILBERT SHORTER, the successor to the late Clifford Harrison on the platform, will give his fifth elocutionary and musical recital at Steinway Hall, this Saturday, at 3. He recited at His Majesty's Theatre on Thursday, and will also contribute to the items at Miss Hylda Stapleton's "at home" next Monday evening.

THE DRAMA IN BERLIN.

"HEIRATSLUSTIG,"
Farce, in Three Acts, by Maurice Champagne,
Produced at the Schiller O., June 9, 1906.

Aurora ..... FRAULEIN WYDA
Polykarp ..... HERR KIRSCHNER
Chamourot ..... HERR HUBENER
Frau Chamourot ..... FRAULEIN GUNDRA
Martha ..... FRAULEIN BLEYA
Paturet ..... HERR IWALD
Bachurey ..... HERR ROLAN
Gabriele ..... FRAULEIN HOHNS
Chambray ..... HERR OTTO
Pachadin ..... HERR HOLTHAUS
Wachtmeister ..... HERR MEINHARD
Oberkellner ..... HERR MEYER
Kellner ..... HERR SANDEN
Kassierin ..... FRAULEIN RUKOWSKA
Polizist ..... HERR HERTWICH

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

BERLIN, THURSDAY, June 14.—The author has obviously adopted a French-sounding name to give colour to the farce, whose action he has laid in France. Play and author are—to use the slang of the day—nevertheless as German as they make them, and the little subterfuge is apparent to all. Now, German humour—though perhaps sometimes heavy—is a very good thing in its way, but when it attempts to disguise itself in French habiliments the spectator is unconsciously reminded of a bull in a china shop. Thus it is with Heiratslustig, which, had Herr Champagne placed it in a German "milieu," might have been a successful farce. Plot there is little or none; the scenes and the characters are all more or less familiar to us, and an interminable rigmarole of misunderstandings and complications make the piece. Paul Paturet, a timid young man, is too shy to declare his love for the girl of his heart, and gets all but snapped up by an old maid named Aurora Ribouli. He cannot get away from Aurora's wiles; she has made up her mind to be married to someone, and fancies Paul an easy prey. All his struggles are in vain, and even when he is on the eve of his wedding with his inamorata Nemesis in the form of Aurora turns up. It is only by pretending to have gone out of his mind that Paul succeeds in shaking her off, and to complete the cure Aurora becomes his mother-in-law in the end. There are a few amusing "situations," which were made the most of by a capital cast, Fräulein Wyda and Herren Iwald and Holthaus (a Commissioner of Police) being the best. The piece met with a most cordial reception, the author being called before the curtain after each act and heartily aplauded.

A THREE ACT comedy, Die Teufelskirche, by Adolf Paul, was produced for the first time by the Meinhard-Bernauer company at the Lessing, last week. The author is a Finlander living in Berlin. He has written several plays, the best-known being Hille Bobbe—recently produced at the Kleines—and Die Doppelgänger, which was given some time ago at the Berliner. None of them have much literary value, and the same may be said of the latest piece, which is, to say the least of it, obscure both in plot and tendency. One of our first critics declares that no honest person in the audience could say he understood it. At the same time, some strong dramatic moments in the play must be allowed. The first act and the conclusion are well written, but all that lies between is confusion twice confounded, while the characters are one and all poorly drawn. The peasants of a Northern village want to have a new church built, but nobody is willing to give anything towards the project; on the contrary, each is eager to get some profit out of the undertaking. After a good deal of haggling the pastor decides to give up the plan, and put up with the old inadequate wooden building. In the midst of the squabble the devil appears in person and offers to build a handsome church for nothing, always supposing that the pastor will assent to deny God. The fine new church is erected in the twinkling of an eye, the pastor—who is in love with one of the peasant's wives—preaches a new doctrine, and denies entrance to the "lieben Gott," whom he takes for a beggar. After a good deal more obscure talk a free fight takes place between the devil, the pastor, and the congregation to obtain possession of the crucifix; and when this is at its height the peasant Asmus (whose wife has been seduced by the devil, alias one of the villagers) wakes up, and we learn that it was all a dream that we have been listening to and wondering at. The interpretation of the enigmatical play was good, Fräulein Arnold as the "Bäuerin" and Herr Froböse as Mephisto giving very effective renderings. The author was "called" and applauded with much cordiality, but at the risk of appearing pessimistic I must acknowledge a doubt as to anything like a long run for Die Teufelskirche.

AN interesting performance of Don Juan is announced at the New Royal Opera this week. Frau Lilli Lehmann will sing the part of Donna Anna, Signor D'Andrade the title-rôle, and Fräulein Alten takes the part of Zerline. As may be imagined, the demand for tickets is unusually great.

"ORPHEUS IN DER UNTERWELT" has reached its twenty-fifth consecutive performance at the Neues. It is proving a strong draw still, thanks to the original setting of Director Reinhardt and to the exquisite humour of Herren Engels, Pagay, and Wassmann. It is a pity that the voices are so poor, for the music—orchestrally speaking—is excellently given, and this is saying a good deal, for Offenbach's music is not so easy as the majority of people imagine. Fräulein Révy, from the Theatre des Westens, is new in the part of Eurydice; she has a pleasing voice, and uses it very intelligently. Fräulein Durieux—a most capable actress in serious plays—was utterly out of place in the cast of a burlesque opera, and her impersonation of "die öffentliche meinung" (public opinion) was the poorest thing of the evening. Orpheus is holding the boards to the exclusion of all else, and there is every probability of its popularity continuing.

AT the Kleines, Oscar Wilde's play Ein Idealer Gatte is still running smoothly, and has already passed its twenty-fifth performance. The cast has improved somewhat since the opening night, and those of the audience who are not conversant with the manners of English society and know nothing of the way in which a society piece is acted in London find nothing to object to.

THE management of the Deutsches purposes giving several of Ibsen's plays before long, thus entering into competition with the Lessing, which is the Ibsen theatre par excellence of Berlin. Hedda Gabler and Ghosts are the pieces announced at present. Early in the coming season novelties by Bernard Shaw and Frank Wedekind will also be produced at the Deutsches.

MISS GERALDINE FARRAR is back again at our Royal Opera after her series of triumphs in the South. The talented young American gave the rôle of Elisabeth in Tannhäuser on Saturday evening, making her customary mark. Herr Grüning's fine voice was heard to best advantage in the title-rôle, and Fräulein Plaischinger sang the part of Venus. Mr. Griswold, the new and admirable American bass singer, gave the Landgraf—a rôle which suits him down to the ground.

"DIE LUSTIGE WITTWE," at the Berliner Theatre, was honoured for the second time by the Crown Prince's presence last week. H.I.H., who was accompanied by a number of brother officers, invited the manager of the clever Hamburg company to his box and again expressed his warm appreciation of the performance. The charming operetta will be given there until the middle of the month, when the company move to the Lessing.

A DRAMATIC and musical recital will be given by Miss Greta Garnier at the Steinway Hall, on Tuesday evening next.

JANE HADING AT THE CORONET.

Mme. Jane Hading and her entire Parisian company are having a three weeks' season at the pretty Notting Hill Gate theatre, Le Demi Monde, the five-act comedy by Alexandre Dumas fils, being given on Monday. It is an education in itself to see and hear a supremely gifted artist of any nationality in a play written by one of their own countrymen, and acted in their own native language. Even to those who are not conversant with the French tongue there is intelligibility in the graphic gesticulation and dumb show of our friends across the water. In Mme. Hading we have an acress of the first rank, with great personal magnetism and a subtle mesmeric force, which compels admiration and reverence for her art. In Le Demi Monde there is nothing to call for any great emotional strain of tragic intensity. It is simply an attempt to depict life in "le demi monde" (as the title implies) in an easy, breezy fashion, and may strike many as a trifle artificial and old-fashioned. But it serves its purpose effectually as a vehicle to display the easy transition from grave to gay, from comedy to pathos, of which Mme. Hading is capable. The story of the social duel between Suzanne, known as La Baronne D'Ange, and Olivier de Jalin, and the wrecking of the courtezan's mercenary schemes to attain respectable married affluence, is too well known to need enumerating, more especially considering that Dumas fils' characteristic work was produced some fifty years ago. The consummate wit and skill with which the slight thread of the story is kept constantly dangling before us compels our admiration for the stage-craft of the dramatist, even while we could wish for a stronger and more durable material. Apart from the charm of her manner, Mme. Hading's captivating smile, her rich fund of humour, tinged with shades of pathetic intensity, her remarkably clear enunciation and bell-like utterance, provide a rare treat; while her wonderful confections, her sweeping feathers and flowing robes, seemingly part of herself and her personality, are alone sufficient to draw to her shrine all the feminine worshippers of beauty and fashion. In Mons. Arnaud an admirable Olivier de Jalin is found; handsome, courtly, distingué, debonair, and alert, he is just the kind of man we could imagine as a fitting adversary for the brilliant and unscrupulous demi-mondaine whom he exentually outwits. Every word he utters is distinct, and fraught with meaning, and his by-play is worthy of the best traditions of the theatre. Mons. Rouyer acts with any amount of verve and enthusiasm as the impulsive, hot-headed, ardent lover, Raymond de Nanjac, and his ebullitions of grief, despair, and the intoxication of love are cleverly and convincingly expressed. Mlle. Cath Fonteney is a charming exponent of the warm-hearted impulsive ingénue, Marcelle, and Mlle, Feriel is a vivacious and fascinating Valentine de Santis. Mme. Alcime-Leblanc is good as the Viscomtesse de Vernieres, and so is Mons. Luguet as the Marquis de Thonnerins, while Mons. Garat does excellent service as Hippolyte Richmond.

Le Maitre de Forges, the piece in which Mme. Hading appeared at the Wednesday matinée and on Friday, has been made memorable by Mr. and Mrs. Kendal's production of The Ironmaster at the St. James's, and also by Robert Buchanan's adaptation, Lady Clare, produced at the Globe in 1883. Mme. Hading enacted the rôle of Claire de Beaulieu and Mons. Arnaud that of Le Duc de Bligny.

On Wednesday evening Mme. Hading appeared in the rôle of Thérèse de Rives in La Châtelaine, the four-act comedy by Mr. Alfred Capus. The piece was adapted by Mr. Comyns Carr, and produced at the New Theatre under the title of The Lady of Rosedale. The plot of the piece may be recalled. Mme. de la Baudière, a kind of social Catherine de Medicis, disapproves of her daughter's choice, a young notary, M. de Méray, deeming André Jossan, a wealthy bachelor, a better parti. Her good-natured husband thinks otherwise, but his plan of campaign is always to agree with her and then to gradually influence her so as to gain his own ends. Jossan meets Thérèse, who is seeking a divorce from her husband, La Baudière's nephew, who, besides being faithless, has dissipated all her dowry but the Château Sauveterre, and this she endeavours to sell in order to educate her little son, Jacques. It is a case of love at first sight, and Jossan buys the château for a sum far in excess of its worth, and then pleads his suit successfully. But Gaston de Rives puts unexpected obstacles in the way, and in a jealous fury declines to allow the divorce to proceed and takes away her little boy. Eventually Gaston consents to the divorce, and having disgusted and alienated Mme. de la Baudière by trying to borrow money, this inconsistent lady allows her daughter Lucienne to receive the attentions of M. de Méray, and all ends happily.

Mme. Hading is sweetly sympathetic and womanly as Thérèse, all tears and tenderness, love and loyalty, and in her one scene of passion in the Rives Park she rises to a great height of emotional art. Mons. Arnaud is delightful as the manly, earnest cavalier André Jossan; Mons. Luguet, as the simple-minded, kind-hearted, far-seeing La Baudière, contributes a most illuminative and pleasantly amusing sketch of character; Mlle. Sauer is bright and pleasing as Lucienne; Mlle. Florian is good as La Baronne de Morénes; Mons. Rouyer, with a few deft touches, suggests the character of the worthless and dissipated Gaston de Rives; Mme. Alcime-Leblanc is amusing as the arrogant and overbearing Mme. de la Baudière; and the other small parts are suitably allotted. The scenery is very pretty and tasteful, especially handsome being the Château de Sauveterre "set" and the pretty Park Thérèse de Rives. To-day (Saturday) Mme. Hading appears in La Châtelaine at the matinée and Le Demi Monde in the evening.

MR. GEORGE GROSSMITH'S RECITAL.

At Bechstein Hall on Friday afternoon, June 8, Mr. George Grossmith gave his humorous and musical recital before a large and delighted audience. The popular reciter, after a short piano solo, gave his first illustration, "How a Lady Shops." Mr. Grossmith in this explains how ladies can spend hours in a large store without in the end purchasing a single article, and to judge by the laughter among the ladies present it seemed a very home thrust. A new song, "The lady, the dog, and the dogcart," also caused great merriment; and one of Mr. Grossmith's old favourites, "The Happy Fatherland," with many a sly hit at our Teutonic friends, caused much laughter. People often want a carriage to themselves, and in the illustration "How to Keep People out of a Railway Carriage" the reciter shows in the funniest manner how this can be accomplished. A song, "What ho! the gentle lark," a burlesque on the composer Bishop, and another on German music, entitled "Ich liebe dich, hocheimer," to which Mr. Grossmith begged the indulgence of the assembly on the score of his pronunciation, greatly amused the audience. In the second part a few selections were given from Miserable Moments, which included a laughable description of a boy who has swallowed his return ticket; and a song, "'Twas in the time of turnips," the illustrations being "Hotel Waiters" and "The Phonograph." Mr. Grossmith was also extremely funny in "The Cinematograph," giving a most comic illustration of how he was photographed and how he came out on the screen.

"THE ERA" can be obtained at the principal bookstalls throughout the provinces.

CHAT WITH MISS MIRIAM LEWES.

(BY OUR OWN COMMISSIONER.)

"If you are provincial, you're doomed!"

Thus the young lady who at the present moment is representing Queen Elizabeth in Dorothy o' the Hall at the New Theatre. Serious eyes looked at you from an intelligent face. In the earnestness of the expression there was conviction, and the decisive tone of voice confirmed it. In faith, good Queen Bess could not have uttered the words in a more authoritative, didactic manner, and history tells us that she was a lady much given to speaking her mind in terms that admitted of no refutation, no argument.

The discussion, confined to two persons—the interviewee and the interviewer—was being carried on in perhaps the most awkward place it was possible for an interview to be held—just inside a stage-door. Some folk might gain inspiration from the babel of many voices, from the rushing in and out of stage-hands and others, from the group of contemplative loafers who are always to be seen at the back of a theatre, from the shouts on the stage, the violent clamour and the sudden silence, even from the sublime dignity of the stage-door keeper—for it must be confessed that no king at his coronation ever attained the pomp and glory of the gentlemen who guard the entrances to the land of mystery known as "behind the scenes."

But inspiration did come. Scarcely had the word "doomed" fallen from the lady's lips than was heard the ominous clanging of church bells.

Photo. by Vanderbilt.

MISS MIRIAM LEWES.

It was an inspiration of terror. It seemed to accentuate the statement, as if the speaker's prototype had risen from the grave to utter a warning and a prophecy. It seemed to say, "Miss Miriam Lewes is right. Provincials are doomed."

"Surely it's not as bad as that, Miss Lewes?"

"I mean it. I played splendid parts on tour, and tried, and tried, and tried, and wrote, and wrote, and wrote, times without number, but nothing came of it. It was only through Mr. Calvert recommending me to Mr. Fred Terry that I got the opportunity of appearing in London. I feel certain that a good deal of influence is necessary to get on here in the theatrical profession. I have had tons of experience in stock seasons; yet, for all that, I consider myself extremely lucky to get an opportunity of being seen in London. And let me tell you this—ability without influence is no good."

Miss Lewes looked and spoke with such startling earnestness that one began to indulge in inward prophecies regarding her future as a tragedienne.

"If you have appeared in melodrama," she continued, "managers think that you cannot sit down properly, that you will stare into the lights, that you cannot hold your dress properly, that you cannot even speak decently."

"Evidently Mr. Terry does not hold such opinions?"

"Well, I read the part to Mr. Terry, and he was kind enough to engage me for it. That was a little time back, and at the same time he gave me the understudy to Miss Julia Neilson as Lady Blakeney in The Scarlet Pimpernel. I am also understudying her as Dorothy Vernon in the new piece. It is a very charming engagement. Mr. Terry is a splendid stage-manager."

Miss Miriam Lewes was born in Russia, and came over to this country when she was five years old. She commenced her professional career as a dancer, but, cherishing the desire to become an actress, she secured an engagement to play a small part in Driven from Home. This was followed by a stock season at Llandudno, and she was seen in such parts as Nellie Jedbury in Jedbury, jun., Nora Fitzgerald in Harvest, Kate Hardcastle in She Stoops to Conquer, Kitty Cline and understudy Peg Woffington, and Lady Teazle in School for Scandal with Lancelot Louder's Old English Opera Company. Then she was seen in various melodramas. She was playing title-rôle in The Beautiful Fiend when she was seen by Van Biene's manager and engaged for the part of the Duchess in The Broken Melody. Later she enacted the rôle of Violet in The Dear Old Dad, and from that played the part of Mrs. Hackett in In Flying Colours. Then Miss Lewes joined Mr. William Greet's company, to appear as Donna Clothilde in Captain Kettle, and was highly complimented by the author for her efforts. At the termination of that engagement Miss Lewes was secured for the pathetic comedy part of Loo Hexham in The Woman from Gaol, and in this Mr. Walter Melville was so struck by her acting that he entered into an arrangement with her to take the character of the "female Coupeau" in A Girl's Cross Roads. Subsequently she became a member of Miss Fortescue's company, and represented Constance Neville in She Stoops to Conquer, and played other parts in Miss Fortescue's répertoire. More recently Miss Lewes starred as Cigarette in Under Two Flags with Miss Ida Molesworth's company, her last engagement before becoming associated with Mr. Terry and Miss Neilson being with Mr. Louis Calvert as Princess Eleanor in The Garden of Lies.

THE Ulster Dramatic Company successfully produced on Tuesday last, at Ulster Hall, Belfast, Mr. J. B. Buckstone's three-act comedy, The Ladies' Privilege. In the rôle of Sir Solomon Solas Mr. T. B. McCandless acquitted himself with distinction; and Mr. Isaac Meharry played the character part of Mr. Dimple with undoubted skill. Mr. R. H. McCandless was a capital William Walker; and Miss Edith May as Miss O'Leary was much admired. Miss Madge Crawford deserves much credit for her clever impersonation of Flora Flowerdew; and other rôles were capably sustained by Miss Molly Mulligan, Miss N. Palmer, Miss Annie Jones, Miss Eva Lyle, and Messrs. E. Curzon, W. K. Rose, Herbert Parr, and J. M. Stockard.

"ANTHONY DEAN'S DOUBLE."

A Comedietta in Three Scenes, adapted by Paul Sylvester from the Story by Walter S. Grogan, and Produced at a Matinée Entertainment at the Haymarket Theatre on Monday, June 11.

Anthony Dean ..... MR. HUGO RUMBOLT
Tom Palmer ..... MR. HENRY HARDINGE
Enery Awkins ..... MR. MAURICE O'GRADY
John ..... HON. STEPHEN POWYS
The Stranger ..... MR. CALEB PORTER
Mrs. Tompkins ..... MISS ARMINE GRACE
Ann Tompkins ..... MISS FRANCES WETHERALL

This new piece was produced at a matinée entertainment given in aid of the poor of St. George-in-the-East, Mr. Frederick Harrison having kindly granted the use of the Haymarket Theatre for the performance. The first scene represents the bar parlour at "The Green Dragon," Slumborough. Anthony Dean, a commercial traveller, who evidently prides himself upon his smart clothes, is paying court to the landlady's daughter, Ann Tompkins, while Tom Palmer, a young grocer, is seated at a table close by moodily reading the newspaper. He is sulky and unhappy because the girl behind the bar is showing a decided preference for the company of the flashily-dressed commercial traveller, and ignoring his own claims to be regarded as her faithful adorer. A stranger enters, and with a lofty air orders half a pint of ale. Left alone with Tom Palmer, he informs him that he is a showman, a fair being held in the immediate neighbourhood. His own company, however, has deserted him, having taken advantage of a better offer. He has, it seems, noticed the rivalry between Tom and the commercial traveller, and proposes to turn it to his own advantage. For the sum of £5 he offers to communicate a scheme which he guarantees will prove disastrous to Anthony Dean's hopes of wedding the landlady's daughter. Tom is willing to go as far as £2, and the impecunious showman eagerly closes with the offer. He then discloses his plans. At Budbury Fair is to be found a pedlar known as Enery Awkins, a disreputable character who is seldom sober. In face and form, however, he bears a close resemblance to Anthony Dean; and, having learnt that Ann and her mother intend paying a visit to the fair, the showman's artful plan is that the drunken pedlar shall be mistaken for Dean. Tom makes the acquaintance of Awkins at the fair, and induces him to have a wash and put on a new suit of clothes. The scheme succeeds. Mrs. Tompkins and her daughter mistake the pedlar for Anthony. He has evidently been imbibing freely, and is singing a comic song. Disgusted with this conduct, Ann resolves to have nothing more to do with Anthony, and again takes the delighted Tom Palmer into favour, he paying the compliment to his absent rival of closely imitating his style of dress. But his triumph is short-lived. Anthony Dean returns, and to his surprise is coldly received by Ann, who, being called upon for an explanation, refers to his behaviour at Budbury Fair. He denies that he was ever there in his life; and the entrance of the pedlar causes the hasty retreat of Tom Palmer, while the subsequent explanation places matters as they were when the curtain rose. Mr. Hugo Rumbolt was an excellent representative of Anthony Dean, and Mr. Henry Hardinge was well placed as Tom Palmer. Mr. Maurice O'Grady as Enery Awkins sang in good style a coster song, words and music by Mr. Leonard Corfe. Mr. Caleb Porter gave a capital sketch of the showman. Miss Frances Wetherall cleverly depicted Ann Tompkins; and Miss Armine Grace as the loquacious landlady of "The Green Dragon" and the Hon. Stephen Powys as a barman completed the cast.

In the second scene, Budbury Fair ground, a variety entertainment was given. Miss Pauline Chase and Miss Aimée Lowther appeared in the pretty scena, Le Madrigal de Pierrot. Miss Lydia Nerville sang with much charm "Lakmé" and "Comin' thro' the Rye." Miss Lottie Venne, who received a cordial welcome, recited "A Broken Heart" and "Across the Street"; and Señor Don Alfonso de Garcia Abello and Miss Mabilia Daniell delighted the audience with their Spanish song dramas.

The programme also included the amusing one-act comedy Time is Money, admirably played by Mr. Charles Hawtrey as Charles Grahame, Miss Florence Sinclair as Mrs. Murray, and Miss Mona Harrison as Susan. Miss Hutin Britton and Mr. Matheson Lang successfully appeared as Lady Anne and Richard III. in a scene from Shakespeare's Richard III. Mrs. Beatrice Herford Hayward evoked much laughter with two monologues; Herr Franz Meisel contributed a violin solo; and Mrs. Tobin a pianoforte solo. The matinée, which was well attended, was under the patronage of Princess Louise Augusta of Schleswig-Holstein and other ladies.

"THE ERA."

EARLY DELIVERY.

SPECIAL NEWSPAPER EXPRESS SERVICES now running on the London and North-Western, Great Northern, Midland, and Great Central Railways, carry The Era to the following important cities and towns at the times named. Newsvendors and subscribers obtain their papers at a much earlier hour than was previously possible.

	a.m.
RUGBY	4.30
COVENTRY	4.54
BIRMINGHAM	5.20
CREWE	6. 5
MANCHESTER	6.50
LIVERPOOL	7. 0
CHESTER	9. 3
DONCASTER	6.10
YORK	7. 0
HULL	8.20
DARLINGTON	8.58
SCARBOROUGH	10. 5
NEWCASTLE	10.10
LEEDS (Central)	6.58
HUDDERSFIELD	7.37
BRADFORD (Exchange)	7.47
HARROGATE	7.50
HALIFAX	8.17
BURNLEY	9.28
LEICESTER	4.36
NOTTINGHAM	5.10
DERBY	5.35
SHEFFIELD	6. 6

AT the Colchester County Court, recently, John Henry Lang Sims, a captain in His Majesty's 3rd Royal Sussex Regiment, "and now or late the lessee of the Grand Palace Theatre of Varieties Colchester," attended for his adjourned examination. He originally came to the Court with a statement of affairs showing liabilities to rank for dividend amounting to £593 7s., and assets a bad book debt amounting to £25, the deficiency being put at £593 7s. Since then, sundry Colchester debtors have proved for goods supplied to Lang Sims and Le Butt for the theatre. The Official Receiver stated he had nothing more to ask the debtor, and, after various questions had been put and answered, the public examination was closed.

THE ART OF THE ACTOR.

M. Coquelin aîné, the distinguished French actor, gave a conférence on "L'Art et le Comédien," on the afternoon of Friday, the 8th inst., before the members of the Alliance Franco-Britannique, in the hall of the Society of Arts. Mr. Beerbohm Tree presided, and among those present were the French Ambassador (M. Paul Cambon) and most of the personnel of the Embassy.

Mr. Tree, in opening the proceedings, said that M. Coquelin was no stranger to us—indeed, he was an institution, and M. Coquelin represented to English minds the genius of France just as the Lord Mayor of London represented to the French mind the genius of England. It was a great pleasure and a joy to have M. Coquelin in our midst, for he did much to cement those friendly feelings which now happily existed between the two countries. It was well, indeed, that the entente should rest upon something other than the mere shifting commercial interests of the two nations.

M. Coquelin, speaking in French, said that even yet the question of actors had not been finally settled. It was still thought in certain old-fashioned circles imbued with ancient principles that actors were people apart both in art and in society. People no longer ventured to say that they were mere parrots, but they still rather thought so. Well, he would try to prove that the actor was an artist, and that he had the same title as other citizens to his place in the State. The material of the poet was language, that of the sculptor marble or bronze, that of the painter colours and canvas, that of the musician sounds; the material of the actor was himself. It was upon himself that he worked to realise a thought, an image, a human portrait. He was his own keyboard, he played on his own strings, he moulded himself like plaster, he sculptured and he painted himself! Would anyone say that that was not the work of an artist because the thought which he realised was not his own, and because the peculiar property of art was creation? Ah, creation! Did not the good sense of the public answer that objection immediately, since creation was precisely the word which it employed to describe the first realisation of a part? And the word was strictly correct. Voltaire, Marmontel, and Victor Hugo, and other authorities, could be cited in support of this assertion. Yes, the actor created, even when he interpreted the dreams of geniuses such as Racine, Corneille, Hugo; even—and this was stranger still—if the character was one thought out by those rare masters who were actors themselves, such as Shakespeare and Molière. Again, it was said that the actor did not create, because nothing remained of him after his death. That was, indeed, the great misfortune of their art. Talma deplored it in his last hour. Yet that was not absolutely true, and, even if it were, the art of the actor did not stand alone in that respect. The durability of the creations of art? Alas! It was a question of more or less. What sublime works of poetry, of sculpture, of painting had perished for ever! Still, the actor's statues fell with him, and that was the misfortune of his art, but it was not a diminution of it. "You must pity us for it, that's all," exclaimed M. Coquelin. "You should, perhaps, love us more on that account, oh dear, commiserating public, since you are at once for us the present and the future, and our immortality expires with the echo of your applause."

After touching on the utility of the stage, the lecturer proceeded to discuss the question whether an actor ought to feel the passions of his part. He was persuaded that one was not a great actor except on condition of governing one's self absolutely, and of being able to express at will feelings which one did not feel, which one would never feel, which, according to one's own nature, one could not feel. One evening Talma was playing Hamlet. While awaiting his turn to go on he was chatting in the wings with a friend; the "call boy" saw him smiling and distracted, and drew near. "Monsieur Talma, you will be wanted directly!" "All right, all right, I am waiting for my cue." His scene, the ghost scene, began in the wings, and the spectator had to hear Talma before seeing him. He continued his conversation very gaily, the cue arrived, he shook hands with his companion, and, a smile still on his lips, his friend's hand still clasped, exclaimed: "Fuis, spectre épouvantable!" The friend drew back affrighted, and a shudder ran through the house. This characteristic trait showed the artist hovering, as it were, over his own emotions, and submitting them to his judgment in order to make of them the fund to which later on he might have recourse. Just as their sufferings helped poets to write beautiful verses, so the sufferings of the actor served him to create fine parts.

An actor, however, had no more need of feeling emotion than a pianist had of being in despair in order to play the funeral marches of Chopin or Beethoven. He did not wish to deny the existence of what were called flashes of genius, but he thought that genius was more revealed by a full and constant self-possession than by intermittent moments, sublime if you like, but incoherent—a sort of trump card that one turned up by chance. And nothing was more apt to cause inspiration than good preparatory work. To acquire the spirit one must put one's self in a state of grace—that is to say, must fertilise one's brain by the meditation and the constant practice of one's parts. The opinion which he held was that of all the really great actors—Talma, Rachel, Samson, Régnier, Mme. Dorval, even. The opposite opinion was a prejudice of the mob. It was by virtue of that naïve prejudice that this same mob would not suffer—and with justice—the actor to allow his own feelings, his domestic griefs, to appear through his part, and allowed, nay, ordered, that they should play screamingly funny rôles when sometimes they were ready to cry out with pain. It was by virtue of this naïve prejudice that that same mob awaited the villain at the doors of the theatre in order to give him a warm reception. When M. Provost played the part of Hudson Lowe at the Porte St. Martin he was obliged to have an escort on his exit from the theatre. He ought to leave the subject there; but while he was telling the story of Talma he was reminded of another, a very sad one, but one which he could not refrain from telling them, because it was charming. One morning in the spring of 1849 a father was crossing the Pont des Arts with his little daughter, a very sweet child, and as the fancy took her to run, he, like a child also, ran after her, and, catching her in her flight, raised her to his lips and kissed her. "Bravo!" said some one behind him gaily, clapping his hands as if at the theatre. He who applauded was Emile Augier, the father was Régnier, and Régnier, remembering the famous saying of Henri IV., when surprised at play with his children, laughingly asked, "Etes-vous père, Monsieur l'Ambassadeur?" Three months later the father and his illustrious friend returned from the cemetery where, alas! they had left the child, and, on reaching home, Augier, who was then retouching the fifth act of Gabrielle, added these verses to it:

"Nous n'existons vraiment que par ces petits êtres
Qui dans tout notre cœur s'établissent en maîtres,
Qui prennent notre vie en ne s'en doutant pas,
Et n'ont qu'à vivre heureux pour n'être pas ingrats."

These verses, so charming and so true, were subsequently uttered on the stage by the father himself, who, as an artist, imposed silence on his grief, or, rather, by a kind of courage proper to his art, kneaded them with his part to make it an admirable creation.

THEATRICAL GOSSIP.

ALL who had the privilege of being present at the Ellen Terry matinée on Tuesday will have enduring memories of an occasion without a parallel in contemporary dramatic history. Such an outburst of reverence and affection from friends on both sides of the footlights can rarely have been witnessed, and the happiness of the event was rendered complete by the knowledge that the eminent actress, still in the fulness of her powers, remains to ornament the stage and to grace the art she loves so well.

A CHERISHED memento of the matinée will be the souvenir programme, edited by Mr. W. Nicholson, which contains eight full-page pictures of Miss Terry at various periods of her career. They consist of a crayon drawing of Miss Terry as Olivia, by Mr. Edwin Abbey, R.A.; a coloured picture of her first part as the page Mamillius in The Winter's Tale, executed by Mr. W. Nicholson; a reproduction of Mr. W. Orpen's picture of Miss Terry as Clara Douglas (1875); an impressionist sketch of the dance in Much Ado About Nothing, by Mr. Byam Shaw; a reproduction of Mr. J. S. Sargent's picture of Miss Terry as Lady Macbeth; a sketch of her as Nance Oldfield (1894), by Mr. James Pryde; an exquisite sketch by Sir Laurence Alma-Tadema of Miss Terry as Imogen (1896); and a sketch of the actress as Beatrice (1906), by Mr. Bernard Partridge. An interesting biographical review of her whole career also was supplied by Mr. Austin Brereton, who acted in the capacity of hon. Press manager. The title-page and quaint headings of the programme, which came from the clever pencil of Mr. Walter Crane, were among the most artistic features of the brochure.

THE "old sweet days" to which Miss Terry referred in her touching speech on Tuesday were those at the Prince of Wales's, where she first played Portia to the Shylock of Mr. Coghlan. It was here, too, that the accomplished actress was first seen as Blanche in Robertson's Ours, and Clara Douglas in Lord Lytton's Money.

After the moving scenes of the matinée were over on Tuesday, Miss Terry had to face another ovation in the evening, when she appeared as Lady Cicely Waynfleet in Captain Brassbound's Conversion at the Court. Miss Terry's engagement at the Court Theatre comes to an end on July 7, and in the autumn she will begin a season at His Majesty's, playing in the revival of The Winter's Tale. Subsequently Miss Terry will play a farewell tour in America under Mr. Charles Frohman's management. The tour is to be of four months' duration, and during its progress the popular actress will appear in a new play, as well as in various pieces comprised in her répertoire.

THE festivities in connection with the Jubilee of the eminent actress are by no means over, for the dinner in her honour has yet to take place. It is fixed for Sunday next at the Hotel Cecil, and the chair will be taken by the Right Hon. Winston Churchill, M.P., Under-Secretary for the Colonies. Over 400 guests are expected. Miss Terry, in addition, is to be accorded a civic welcome on the ocasion of a visit to Coventry, her native city, on the 30th inst. She will take part in a stone-laying ceremony in connection with the conversion of the Corn Exchange into a Coliseum for Mr. George Dance. After the stone-laying Miss Terry will be entertained in the ancient St. Mary's Hall at a banquet, at which the Mayor, Alderman A. H. Drinkwater, is to present her with an illuminated address on behalf of the Corporation.

MR. E. S. WILLARD arrived in London late on Sunday evening on his return from America, where he has had one of the most successful seasons in many years. Though he got back too late to take a special part in the Ellen Terry Jubilee, in compliment to his old friend he took an incidental share in the performance to attest his affectionate regard and professional esteem of the beloved artist. Mr. Willard will rest for two months, and will then begin work on the plays he is to present next season.

ONLY once in his long and honourable career has Mr. Willard acted with Miss Terry. That was in the production of The Amber Heart, at a matinée at the Lyceum, on June 7, 1887, when Mr. Willard played Coranto. Mr. Beerbohm Tree was also in the cast.

LADY BANCROFT, who was one of the principal performers in the memorable event of Tuesday afternoon, graciously officiated the next evening at the ball at Prince's Galleries, given on behalf of the St. Moritz Aid Fund, when the eminent actress bestowed the favours earned by the partakers in a cotillon danced during the evening. Sir Squire Bancroft, who takes a practical interest in the fund, was among the invited guests, Miss Mary Moore being also included in the distinguished company.

MR. BEERBOHM TREE pleaded eloquently on behalf of poor children at a meeting of the Children's Country Holiday Fund, held in the Mansion House on Thursday. "Charity," said Mr. Tree, "is the only conscience money which we pay to the poor. We give them by courtesy what is theirs by right. I hope this is no heresy. Just as we all agree that every child should have its mind equipped for the battle of life by free education, so no less should we agree that its body should be equipped for that battle by free air." The treasurer, the Earl of Arran, announced that an offer had been made at that meeting of £50, on the condition that nine others should contribute the same amount. Mr. Tree consented to form one of the nine givers.

LATER in the day Mr. Tree was again active in the cause of charity, when a matinée was given at His Majesty's Theatre in aid of the Princess Frederica's Homes for Gentlewomen, Tulse-hill. A long programme included the speaking of a prologue, by Miss Ellen Bowick, which was a poem about the Homes by Mr. Arthur Wimperis; a performance of The Balladmonger, in which Mr. Tree, Mr. J. Fisher White, and Miss Lily Brayton appeared; and The Third Time of Asking, a rustic comedy, by M. E. Francis, in which Mr. Bourchier and Miss Pamela Gaythorne took the chief parts. To the second part of the programme, which was chiefly musical, Mme. Blanche Marchesi, Miss Frances Andrews, Miss Janotha, Mme. Ella Russell, Mr. Sydney Brooks, and others contributed, and Mr. H. B. Irving gave a recitation.

MISS ADA REHAN is due to-day in England, where she proposes to spend her usual summer holiday. It is to be hoped that the famous actress, whose illness is deeply regretted by all, will enjoy a beneficial rest, and that her holiday will have the result of restoring her to perfect health.

MRS. PATRICK CAMPBELL adheres to Tuesday evening next as the date of her production of the Hon. Mrs. Alfred Lyttelton's new play, The Macleans of Bairness, at the Criterion. Mrs. Campbell's stay at that theatre cannot extend beyond a few weeks, as Mr. A. H. Canby is to produce there next month a piece entitled The Prince Chap, an adaptation by Mr. E. H. Peple of his novel of the same title, which has had a successful career in America. Included in the cast will be Miss Hilda Trevelyan, who will appear as a typical "slavey," Mr. George Shelton, and Mr. H. R. Roberts, a young Australian actor who has won a reputation in America.

MR. J. L. TOOLE'S condition has given cause for the gravest anxiety throughout the week, during which long periods of unconsciousness have taken place. On Thursday the patient's pulse had become somewhat weaker, but in the course of the day he had various periods of refreshing sleep, in the interval of which he took nourishment fairly well. At the hour of going to press we received the following telegram from Mr. F. J. Arlton, Mr. Toole's nephew:—"Toole passed restless night, and is not so well to-day. Condition very grave."

THE melodramatic monstrosity which is this year, as usual, to be an attraction at the Actors' Orphanage Garden Party on July 6, is to be called Gruesome Grange; or, the Banished Earl, and is written by Robert Marshall, Anthony Hope, and Comyns Carr, whose pens seem literally to have been dipped in gore, so blood-curdling has the play become. The piece, which boasts three acts, and is to be played continuously from noon till six by two distinct casts, will be produced under the direction of Mr. Cyril Maude, with whom will be associated Messrs. Charles Allen, Lennox Pawle, Frank Mills, W. Cheesman, Basil Gill, W. H. Berry, and George Graves, and Misses Annie Hughes, Nancy Price, Alice Crawford, and Mrs. Beerbohm Tree.

OTHER irresistible attractions will be found in a grand vaudeville entertainment from the London Hippodrome and the Palace Theatre, contributed to by the principal music-hall artists; a café-chantant, under the supervision of Mr. Arthur Wellesley; a grand hat-trimming competition, conducted by Miss Phyllis Broughton; a cricket-match, Actors versus Actresses; fortune-telling; a gipsy caravan, in charge of Mrs. Cecil Raleigh; a séance of mental magnetism, by Mr. David and Miss Dora Devant; and a Melba, Caruso, and Kubelik concert at intervals. An orphans' stall will be conducted by Miss Winifred Emery, and the appearance of Miss Edna May, together with many favourite artists, is promised.

THE Waldorf Theatre is to be turned to the purposes of a musical play in the autumn, when the Brothers Shubert will reopen it with Fantana, a piece which has proved profitable in America. Negotiations, it is said, are in progress for the removal of The Shulamite from the Savoy to the Waldorf. If this should be brought about, the run of Messrs. Askew and Knoblauch's play would be continued at the Messrs. Shubert's theatre immediately upon the withdrawal of Shore Acres.

MISS KATE RORKE'S pupils at the Guildhall School of Music will give their first performance in the school's theatre next Thursday afternoon, when W. S. Gilbert's Broken Hearts and Sydney Grundy's Man Proposes will be played. Miss Rorke herself, it is interesting to recall, played in the production of Broken Hearts at the Court in the December of 1875, creating the character of Lady Amanthis. A remarkable cast also included Miss Madge Robertson (now Mrs. Kendal) as Lady Hilda, Mr. W. H. Kendal as Prince Florian, Mr. G. W. Anson as Mousta, and Miss Bessie Hollingshead as Lady Vavir.

MR. MARTIN HARVEY drew a large audience to the Imperial Theatre on Thursday afternoon, when a special matinée of A Cigarette Maker's Romance, Mr. Charles Hannan's adaptation of Mr. Marion Crawford's novel, was given. The play is among the most successful of Mr. Harvey's repertoire, and the applause of the house was throughout enthusiastic.

"THE LITTLE MICHUS" ended its brilliant career at Daly's Theatre on Saturday, when a large audience assisted at the farewell of the pretty and tuneful piece. Mr. George Graves, the discoverer of that modern monstrosity the "Gazeka," was called upon for a speech, and in response the comedian came forward minus his hirsute adornment and said that without his wig and stiff leg he was not prepared to say much. "But," he added, "when we foregather for The Geisha we'll say something, and, in the meantime, it's good-night, and God bless you all."

"SEE-SEE" has finally been revealed as the title of the new Chinese comic opera which Mr. George Edwardes will produce at the Prince of Wales's Theatre on Saturday. The book of this translation from the French is by Charles H. E. Brookfield, the lyrics by Adrian Ross, and the music by Sydney Jones, with additional numbers by Frank E. Tours. The principal members of the strong cast will be Misses Denise Orme, Adrienne Augarde, Gabrielle Ray, Amy Augarde, Lily Elsie, Lena Maitland, and Sibyl Gray; Messrs. Maurice Farkoa, W. H. Berry, Fred Emney, and Huntley Wright.

MR. COMYNS CARR'S poetical play, Tristram and Iseult, is to be Mr. Otho Stuart's next production at the Adelphi Theatre, where it will be presented early in September. The legend that forms the subject of Mr. Carr's drama is already known to lovers of music through the medium of Wagner's opera, and is familiar in Malory's Morte d'Arthur; but the play to be presented at the Adelphi includes some essential incidents of the legend which are not incorporated in Wagner's opera. Miss Lily Brayton will play the part of Iseult, and Mr. Oscar Asche will be seen as King Mark.

"COUNT HANNIBAL," the adaptation by Messrs. Freeman Wills and Frederick Langbridge of Stanley Weyman's powerful novel, which has been playing to crowded houses at Portsmouth and Brighton, will be seen at the Grand, Woolwich, next week, with Mr. Norman V. Norman as Count Hannibal and Miss Beatrice Wilson as Clotilde de Vrillac. At Portsmouth on Thursday there were fourteen "curtains," five of which came at the end of the play.

MR. EDWARD TERRY is now completing his arrangements for the autumn, and will commence his provincial tour on Bank Holiday, Aug. 6. The popular comedian has warm admirers in all parts of the kingdom, and a hearty welcome awaits him in all the towns which he proposes to visit.

MR. SEYMOUR HICKS was the prosecutor in a case at Reigate County Court on Saturday, when John Stanley, William Andeson, and William Stanley, flower-sellers, of Croydon, were summoned for doing damage to his game covert at Cialdon. The defendants were caught in the act of gathering grasses for the purpose of tying up with flowers. They were each fined 2s. 6d. and costs.

MR. AND MRS. F. R. BENSON, who terminate a most successful tour to-day, will now enjoy a vacation until they recommence their autumn tour at the Shakespeare Theatre, Clapham Junction, on Sept. 10. Next Boxing Day Mr. Benson will begin a season of five weeks at the Queen's Theatre, Leeds, with A Midsummer's Night Dream.

MR. CHARLES MACDONA has engaged Mr. J. G. Lowther to produce and stage-manage his tour of Mr. Hopkinson in the autumn. Mr. Lowther has been connected with the piece since the original production at Wyndham's, and has completed two tours with it under the management of Mr. Frank Curzon.

M. COQUELIN'S season at the Royalty ends to-day, and on Monday Mme. Réjane will start a fortnight's engagement. The distinguished Parisienne will begin with the production of a new comedy by Dario Nicodemi, adapted from the late Henry Harland's novel "The Lady Paramount."

MR. W. L. ABINGDON, who during the last few years has made a reputation in America almost equal to that achieved here, has returned to this country accompanied by a bride. Mrs. Abingdon is the American actress popularly known as Miss Bijou Fernandez, and is the daughter of Mr. B. E. Price, a prominent business man of New York. The wedding took place at the Calvary Baptist Church in that city on May 29, and was attended by many stage celebrities, among whom were Miss Maude Adams and Miss Lillian Russell; Miss Amelia Bingham and Miss Louise Galloway were "matrons of honour"; and Mr. Charles Richman was best man, with Messrs. De Wolf Hopper, Vincent Serrano, Wilton Lackaye, John Brander, Augustus Barret, and Ernest Lawford as ushers.

A RECEPTION was given at the Astor Hotel after the ceremony, followed by the wedding breakfast, during which messages of congratulation were received from Mr. Beerbohm Tree, Miss Ellen Terry, Mrs. Cecil Raleigh, Mr. H. B. Irving, Mr. Laurence Irving, and others of the bridegroom's comrades in England. At the close of the reception Mr. and Mrs. Abingdon left for a brief trip, returning to catch the St. Louis, en route for this country, where they arrived in time for Mr. Abingdon to take part in the Ellen Terry Jubilee matinée. The bridal couple are to be present at the golden wedding celebration of Mr. Abingdon's parents to-morrow (Sunday), and after a short tour in Europe they return to New York, where Mr. Abingdon is to serve under Mr. John Drew as leading man next season. The gifts were numerous and valuable, the bride's mother presenting her daughter with a full set of table and personal linen embroidered by herself and the deed to a $15,000 cottage in Larchmont, where Mr. and Mrs. Abingdon will make their home when in America.

THE marriage of Mr. Richard S. Kendall (Messrs. Carson and Kendall, proprietors of the Queen's Theatre and the Hippodrome, Keighley, the Queen's, Liverpool, and several dramas and companies), to Miss Mary Hird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hird, of Keighley, created a great stir in the well-known Yorkshire town. The happy event took place on Thursday, the 7th inst., at Holy Trinity Church, Lawkholme, the Rev. Mr. Seely officiating. The popularity of the contracting parties was fully evidenced by the crowded state of the streets leading to the church and the packed condition of that edifice. Such interest in a wedding is rarely seen in Keighley.

AFTER the ceremony some seventy guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding breakfast in the schoolroom, where Mr. Lingford Carson presided, and in the name of innumerable friends, expressed his hope that the newly-wedded pair would be blessed with every happiness. The wedding presents were numerous and magnificent, among them being a solid silver tea-tray, suitably inscribed, from the staff and orchestra of the Queen's, Liverpool, a few friends, and the members of A Modern Adventuress and The Drama of Life companies, and a solid silver tea service from the staff and friends of the Queen's, Keighley.

MR. AND MRS. KENDALL left during the afternoon for Edinburgh, amid a scene of great enthusiasm, the railway station being besieged. On the following evening the entire staff of the theatre, together with their wives, were entertained to supper, about 140 sitting down. A very clear cinematograph film was taken of the wedding festival, and this was "bioscoped" during the week at the Keighley Theatre. Next week the patrons of the Queen's, Liverpool, will have it shown to them.

PASTORAL plays were given in the beautiful grounds of Downing College, Cambridge, on Tuesday, under the management of Mr. W. B. Redfern, J.P. In the afternoon, Mr. D. Lewin Mannering and a company excellent in every respect played Twelfth Night. Mr. Lewin-Mannering gave an artistic impersonation of Malvolio; Miss Margaretta Evelyn as Olivia rendered the part very tastefully; Viola and Maria were admirably enacted by Miss Violet Marsh and Miss Mary Mannering respectively; Mr. H. K. Ayliff was good as Sir Toby Belch, well supported by Mr. C. Clarke as Sir Andrew Aguecheek; Mr. E. H. Brooke was very distinct as Orsino; and Mr. Duncan Yarrow, Mr. Edward Comberbach, and Mr. Simon Ord also acted ably. In the evening, when the grounds were beautifully illuminated, Two Gentlemen of Verona was given.

THE name of a stage celebrity was heard in the County Court on Tuesday, when Miss May Yohe was summoned at Tower Bridge by a cabman for 30s. cab fare, but did not appear. The complainant said he had called at Savoy-mansions, and was told that the defendant had gone to America. He added that he drove the defendant to Waterloo Station on Saturday, May 26, and she asked him to wait for her. She had a lady with her whom she was going to see off by train, she said, but just before the train started she jumped in, and they went off together. The magistrate decided to hear the case in the defendant's absence, and in the result he ordered her to pay 30s. fare and 30s. costs.

THE annual festival of the Royal Society of Musicians will be held at the Gaiety Restaurant on the 28th inst. The Duke of Marlborough will preside, and an appeal is to be made to the public for financial support for this old-established institution.

AN orchestral concert, under the auspices of the Royal College of Music Patron's Fund, founded by Mr. S. Ernest Palmer for the encouragement of British composers and artists, will take place at Queen's Hall on Tuesday evening, July 3. The programme will be selected from a comprehensive list of new works.

MR. ESMONDE BRAMLEY'S Shakespearean company concluded on Saturday a successful tour at the Pavilion Theatre, Hastings, where the all-round excellence of the plays presented had attracted large and appreciative audiences. Advantage was taken by some members of the company of the opportunity afforded by an unexpected vacancy this week, and at short notice they organised a three-days' performance each of David Garrick and She Stoops to Conquer, and the result has proved very gratifying, both to themselves and to the management of the Pavilion, the audiences being numerous and enthusiastic.

A "PORTRAIT BIOGRAPHY" of the late Sir Henry Irving, by Mortimer Menpes, is being published by Messrs. Black. It is a dainty souvenir of the great actor, and has for its chief feature a set of eight portraits delicately executed in pencil and tint. Mr. Menpes' book claims to be an impression of Sir Henry as he was in real life, with all those subtle variations of expression—the elevated eyebrow, the twist of the mouth—that help to give a true idea of the celebrated actor.

"FOIL AND COUNTERFOIL," a new play by Mary Woodifield, will be produced by the members of the Wyndham Club, in conjunction with other amateur actors and actresses, at St. George's Hall, Langham-place, on Thursday evening, the 28th inst. The performance will be in aid of the Soldiers' Home, Guards' Depôt, Caterham, and the Duchess of Norfolk and other distinguished personages will give their patronage on the occasion.

MR. GEORGE ALEXANDER is following up the success of His House in Order, which achieved its 150th performance at the St. James's on Wednesday, by sending out two companies with Mr. Pinero's great play. The part of Nina in one of the companies will be taken by Miss Jean Sterling McKinlay—a daughter of Mme. Antoinette Sterling. The young actress, who has been understudying Miss Vanbrugh at the St. James's, created the part of Page Dearborn in the production of The Wheat King at the Apollo in 1894, and numbers among her principal successes that of Sunday, in the play of that name. Miss Oriel Lee has been selected for the other Nina.

MR. ARTHUR RODNEY, who scored a success as Sir Giles De Feetum, in the farcical comedy, The Medical Student, produced at the Crown Theatre, Peckham, on Monday last, also combined the duties of business management.

THE usual weekly meeting of the Council of the Actors' Association was held on Tuesday last, when there were present Messrs. Lawrence Grant (in the chair), Henry W. Mote (Hon. Solicitor), Cecil Barth, Clarence Blakiston, Burton Cooke, F. Cremlin, M. R. Morland, Walter Russell, and Charles Cruikshanks (Sec.). Mr. Boothroyd Fairclough was nominated for election. The Hon. Solicitors reported progress in several matters, and the report of the Finance and General Purposes Committee was received.

MISS EMILY CUSTANCE took up this week at very short notice the heavy part, Cora Daintry, in When Woman Hates. Owing to delay in post she did not receive the part until Saturday evening, but travelled to Ashton-under-Lyne on Sunday, and opened Monday evening. The part is a very trying one, and includes a knife fight with the juvenile lady in Act. IV., but notwithstanding these difficulties Miss Custance gave a successful performance, and was heartily congratulated by the management.

MR. STANLEY DREWITT, who played Fagin in His Majesty's Theatre version of Oliver Twist during the suburban tour of that notable play last autumn and early part of this year, accepted in the early spring an offer to play in America at the Castle-square Stock Theatre in Boston, where he has since been acting in a different play each week, adding many important new parts to his already extensive répertoire. Mr. Drewitt returns to England immediately, and is looking forward to playing again in his native land.

THE tour of A Queen Without a Crown, which has visited most of the principal towns, terminates to-day. Miss Helen Grenville, who was already popular with playgoers by her lifelike portrayal of Wally in Two Little Vagabonds, has achieved another success in boys' parts by her impersonation of the young King.

MISS AMY SANGSTER, we regret to learn, is in hospital suffering from an attack of pleurisy. She played the part of Nora Helmer in the performance of Ibsen's Doll's House, given in aid of Salford Royal Hospital, at the Victoria Theatre, Broughton, on Monday, but was suddenly seized with illness and had to seek relief in the very institution on whose behalf she had been working so ably. Miss Sangster's place was filled by Miss Katherine M. Romsey, who played Beatrice Selwyn in A Fool's Revenge, which was given on Tuesday in place of Ibsen's drama, and played for the rest of the week.

THE committee of the Ellen Terry Jubilee Matinée, in answer to a large number of inquiries, wish it to be known that photographs of the Tableaux Vivants, School for Scandal Scene, Much Ado About Nothing, and Trial by Jury, are on sale at the Dover-street Studios, Piccadilly; also that a limited reprint of the Souvenir is necessary to supply those unable to obtain a copy on Tuesday. Monday is the earliest day for this new edition. The price will be 5s. 5d. post free.

MR. EDWARD LAURI and Company, who have been touring Australia and New Zealand with phenomenal success, arrive home per R.M.S. China on July 2. Great praise has been won by the company, which was originally organised by Mr. Lauri for a six months' tour, but on May 28, 1906, they will have concluded a two years' engagement. Mr. Lauri, it may be mentioned, is empowered to purchase pieces and engage artists and novelties in all branches of the profession for a six or twelve months' tour of the colonies.

MR. FREDERICK STANHOPE, who has so admirably managed the Broadway Theatre for the past four years for the lessees, Messrs. F. Mouillot, F. Lockwood, and L. Calvert, relinquishes his post at the termination of the season next week, and goes to the New Theatre to fill a similar position under the management of Mr. Louis Calvert.

IN the Court of Bankruptcy on Wednesday, G. H. W. Burroughs passed his public examination on accounts showing liabilities £2,276, of which £1,526 was expected to rank, and no available assets. The debtor towards the end of 1905 became lessee of the White Horse Tavern, Pitfield-street, Hoxton, and of the New King's Theatre adjoining. Towards the end of March last he was unable to pay the theatrical staff, etc., and the lessors agreed to advance the necessary funds and finance the business, which they continued to do until the date of the receiving order. From December to early in March last the debtor and a partner also produced at a loss the pantomime Sinbad the Sailor at Torquay and other towns.

"CAPTAIN BRASSBOUND'S CONVERSION," the outstanding feature of which is Miss Ellen Terry's performance of Lady Cicely Waynfleet, has, despite its success, to be withdrawn from the Court Theatre on Saturday, July 7, in view of engagements previously entered into by Messrs. Vedrenne and Barker for the revival on Monday, July 9, of Bernard Shaw's comedy You Never Can Tell.

MISS VIOLET SIMS, of Mr. T. Morton Powell's company, is reciting at Levenshulme to-day (Saturday) in aid of the Manchester Hospitals and Nurses' Homes.

Two honorary medical officers of the Actors' Association were in attendance at the Drury Lane matinée on Tuesday in case of illness. They were Dr. R. Nitch-Smith and Dr. C. Stanford Read.

MR. OSWALD BRAND, whose admirable adaptations of Dicken's novels formed a feature of his management of the Grand Theatre, Islington, and who is the author of the book of The Fisher Girl also given at that theatre, will be accorded a benefit matinée on Tuesday, June 26, at the King's Theatre, Hammersmith, kindly lent by Mr. J. B. Mulholland. Sir Charles Wyndham and other leading actors and managers have promised their support, and Mr. Brand's wide popularity is bound to ensure a gratifying success.

AT West Ham police-court on Thursday, Solomon Selson, aged 20, a Russian subject, was charged with assaulting Walter Frost, a musical agent, of Regent-street, S.W. He was also summoned to show cause why certain copies of music should not be forfeited. On the evidence of copyright, Mr. Gillespie ordered the destruction of 181 copies of pirated music, but the charge of assault was withdrawn.

MISS RUTH ST. DENIS, who is shortly to give a series of Hindu dances at special matinées at a West-end theatre, under Mr. Charles Frohman's direction, is not a native of India, as has been said, but was born in New York, where she has lived practically the whole of her life. For years she has been a keen student of Hindu literature, and, possessing a highly imaginative and artistic temperament, she has succeeded in materialising her researches into Eastern traditions, which have culminated in a series of movements by which she is able to tell a story without having recourse to living accessories.

THE staging of Miss St. Denis's dances is only less wonderful than her dancing itself. One scene, representing the interior of a Hindu temple, has astonished hundreds of Eastern travellers, by reason of the marvellous accuracy of all its details. Popularity is sure to be attained by the "cobra" dance, in which the dancer's arms—her fingers are encircled by large emerald-mounted rings—are manipulated so as to convey the idea of writhing serpents. So wonderful are Miss St. Denis's movements in this dance that many in her audiences have imagined that she was literally snake-charming. She tells of two old ladies who, at the conclusion of one of her performances, begged her in future to dispense with live snakes.

THE Arts Theatre at Barcelona has been destroyed by fire, the loss being estimated at 500,000 pesetas. Twenty-one firemen, it is stated, were injured in fighting the flames.

BALLET will be restored to Covent Garden next Thursday when M. André Messager's Les Deux Pigeons will be produced. The première danseuse will be Signorina Aida Boni, a Milanese, who will be supported by a corps de ballet from Brussels. M. Messager will conduct.

"GRANDFATHER COQUESNE," a new one-act play by Cosmo Hamilton, will be among the items of the programme at the Charterhouse matinée at the Garrick. The scene is laid in a cobbler's cottage of the village of Givonne, at the time of the Franco-Prussian war. Grandfather Coquesne, cobbler, was once a sergeant in Napoleon's Guard; and the story turns upon the murder by him of a young Prussian trooper billetted in his house. Mr. Aubrey Smith will play the part of the cobbler, whose crime is induced by motives of patriotism and family pride.

MISS NETTIE WARE will play the title-rôle in She Stands Alone, a new Anglo-German drama, in four acts, by William Hibbert, which will be produced on Monday at the Lyric, Hammersmith. Other members of Mr. Samuel James's stock company who will appear in the piece will include Mr. J. J. Bartlett, Mr. Willie Scott, Mr. Lewis Gilbert, and Mr. Murray Yorke.

MR. MARTIN HARVEY and company had a splendid reception at the special flying matinée given by them at the Crystal Palace Theatre on Wednesday. The autumn season will open in September, but during the summer months it is Mr. Bannister Howard's intention to arrange occasional flying matinées.

AN original comedy, entitled Peggy, by Miss Atholie Robertson, will be produced by Mr. H. Bernhardt at the Palace Pier Theatre, Brighton, on Monday, June 25. Miss Robertson is a young actress who has written some successful little sketches.

MR. RICHARD NUGENT has been re-engaged by Mr. Lingford Carson, and will tour during the autumn with The Power of the Cross company.

MR. MATTHEW BRODIE has returned from his long sojourn in the Highlands. He is happily in the very best of health, and eager for work.

MME. SARAH BERNHARDT sailed on Thursday for Havre on the Transatlantique Company's ship La Touraine, after a successful tour in the United States, in which it is said the French actress has received £50,000. Mme. Bernhardt declared that she would not return to America unless a theatre was built for her accommodation in New York City. In that case she would have regular seasons in New York.

AN entertainment tax has been instituted in Germany, the Berlin Municipality having decided to make a levy on tickets for theatres, music halls, and other public entertainments. The taxes will be on a sliding scale according to the price of admission, a halfpenny being imposed on every ticket the cost of which does not exceed one shilling. It is estimated that the tax, which is very unpopular, will produce an annual revenue of £60,000.

WINKELMANN, the celebrated tenor, who was the original Bayreuth Parsifal, and took part in the first performances of "The Ring" in London in 1882, has just taken his farewell of the stage at Vienna, his last appearance being made as Tannhäuser. In a Vienna paper he relates some interesting reminiscences of Wagner at the time Parsifal was being rehearsed. His great aim in the staging of his music dramas was to make every gesture natural. "Whoever is not natural is my enemy," he used to say. He always insisted that all artists should sing at rehearsals, not hum, and he objected most strongly to movements he called "swimming exercises."

THE last two German performances of the season take place at Covent Garden this week. On Thursday The Flying Dutchman was again given, and will be repeated to-night without change of cast, except that Herr Raboth will sing the part of Daland. Massenet's Le Jongleur de Notre Dame and Pagliacci were announced for Friday evening, with M. Laffite as the Juggler—who proves his adoration of the Virgin by juggling before her image because he does not know how else to honour her—and M. Gilibert as his friend and adviser, Brother Boniface. A peculiarity of the work is that there are no female characters in it.

MME. MELBA, who was announced to sing at the Terry benefit, but did not appear, has taken a complete rest this week. The celebrated cantatrice has cancelled all her engagements, but has announced her intention of singing twice a week at Covent Garden till the end of the season. On July 10 Mme. Melba will give a concert at Bechstein Hall in order to introduce Miss Irene Ainsley, a New Zealand vocalist, who is credited with the possession of a remarkable contralto voice. Mme. Melba will play the accompaniments for her protégée's songs.

M. MAURICE LEFEVRE, the foremost French musical antiquarian, will lecture in London next month on French folk-songs, which are said to number 1,830, and date from the fifteenth century. The "illustrations" will be rendered by Mlle. Jeanne Thomassin, Mlle. Mariette Sully (who is to appear at Daly's in The Geisha), and Mr. Maurice Farkoa.

ARABELLA VALE, aged sixty, a married woman, who resided in Highgate-street, went with two friends on Monday evening to witness the performance of Dishonoured at the Alexandra Theatre, Birmingham. Probably excited by the dramatic realism of the play and overcome by the warm weather, she was taken ill during the production of the piece. She fainted in the theatre, and her friends at once accompanied her outside into Station-street. There Mrs. Vale sat down upon the pavement and expired immediately.

THE ELLEN TERRY JUBILEE.

A Great Event.

That Miss Ellen Terry has endeared herself to us all is a fact she long since discovered, and the festival of Tuesday, which did honour not only to a queen of the stage, but to the English theatre and the English public, demonstrated this loyalty and affection in the happiest manner. Thrice blessed the artist who can inspire such devotion as was shown outside and inside Old Drury on Monday and Tuesday; and the sweet memory of it will live in the heart of the charming exemplar of Shakespearean heroines while life lasts. Fifty years of stage work, as Lady Bancroft said in her speech of simple eloquence, is a large slice of life to be spent in the congenial work of the footlights, but Miss Terry has, we hope, many years before her of active service in the exposition of her beautiful art—years that we hope will bring her increased honour and reward. The National Theatre has seen many notable gatherings within its walls, but none more distinguished or more enthusiastic than that which filled its every corner on Tuesday. Leading representatives of literature, great painters, and prominent politicians were among those who did honour to a festival that shed lustre on a beautiful art and on its professors.

Precisely at 12.30 Mr. James W. Glover mounted the rostrum and started the overture, being received with a cheer. Then Mr. Harry Fragson sang "Tom, Tom, the Piper's Son" (new version, from Castles in Spain), words by Eustace Ponsonby and music by the Anglo-French comedian. An encore being demanded, the singing comedian replied with "Adieu, Granada," from the same musical piece. Mrs. Patrick Campbell, who was simply announced to give a recitation, chose a fragment from For the Crown, John Davidson's version of François Coppée's Pour La Couronne. It was the beautiful verses on "Butterflies," which the favourite actress first recited in her part of Militza when the piece was produced at the Lyceum in the nineties. The selection was well received, and then the audience settled themselves for one of the tit-bits of the afternoon—the dramatic cantata, by Gilbert and Sullivan, entitled

"TRIAL BY JURY."

The Learned Judge..MR. RUTLAND BARRINGTON
The Defendant .....MR. COURTICE POUNDS
Counsel for the Plaintiff..MR. HENRY A. LYTTON
Usher .....MR. WALTER PASSMORE
The Associate .....MR. W. S. GILBERT
The Associate's Wife.....MISS FANNY BROUGH
The Plaintiff .....MISS RUTH VINCENT

A Jocund Jury.

Produced under the personal direction of the author, and conducted by Mr. James Glover, this merry and amusing musical absurdity went with immense spirit, and played as closely as if it had been in the middle of a long run. Of course great interest was felt in the presence beneath the Judge's rostrum of Mr. W. S. Gilbert, who had as companions Sir Arthur Conan Doyle and Sir Francis Burnand, the creator of Sherlock Holmes and the late editor of Punch being flanked by Mr. James Fernandez, the veteran actor. Catching the Judge's eye in the jury-box were Captain Robert Marshall, Mr. Owen Hall, Mr. Cecil Raleigh, Mr. Haddon Chambers, and other interesting personalities. When about to be sworn in by the funny little Usher, Mr. Walter Passmore, who was full of quaint antics, the "good men and true" sank beneath the weight of their responsibilities, until only a show of hands could be seen. The opening statement of the Counsel for the Plaintiff was listened to with a remarkable show of interest, the musical exposition of his client's case by Mr. Henry A. Lytton being as clear as catchy music and appropriate verse could make it. As the Defendant, Mr. Courtice Pounds urged his plea to indifferent ears; but the fair Plaintiff (Miss Ruth Vincent) was all-conquering, capturing the foreman by a kiss and the Judge by a smile. It was a flagrant abuse, too, of the practice of the Courts that Miss Phyllis Broughton, who led the Bridesmaids, should receive a billet doux from the learned Judge, Mr. Rutland Barrington, who worked in a little bit of gag when, in return for a book handed up to him, he said: "Thank you, Mr. Gilbert," a remark that brought forth from the audience cheers, which the author of "Bab Ballads" had perforce to acknowledge. We attach a full list of the well-known people constituting the stage crowd:—

BRIDESMAIDS.

Miss Phyllis Broughton	Miss Mollie Lowell
Miss Adrienne Augarde	Miss Olive May
Miss Amy Augarde	Miss Gertie Millar
Miss Billie Burke	Miss Decima Moore
Miss Kate Cutler	Miss Olive Morrell
Miss Zena Dare	Miss Denise Orme
Miss May de Sousa	Miss Louie Pounds
Miss Agnes Fraser	Miss Gabrielle Ray
Miss Aida Jenoure

JURY.

Foreman, Capt. Robert Marshall.

Sir Francis Burnand	Mr. Owen Hall
Sir Arthur Conan Doyle	Mr. Cosmo Hamilton
Sir Gilbert Parker	Mr. Henry Hamilton
Mr. Alfred Calmour	Mr. Anthony Hope
Mr. Comyns Carr	Mr. Cecil Raleigh
Mr. Haddon Chambers	Mr. Brandon Thomas

SEATS BY COUNSEL.

Mr. Dion Boucicault	Mr. J. Martin Harvey
Mr. James Fernandez	Mr. Charles Hawtrey
Mr. Sydney Grundy	Mr. E. S. Willard

SEATS ON THE BENCH.

Mrs. Bernard Beere	Miss Agnes Thomas
Miss Charlotte Granville	Miss Lydia Thompson
Miss Gertrude Kingston	Miss Lottie Venne
Miss Jessie Millward	Miss Genevieve Ward
Miss Florence St. John	Mrs. John Wood.

CROWD IN COURT.

The Misses Edouin	Mr. Albert Gates
Miss Marie Illington	Mr. Gloyne
Miss Clara Jecks	Mr. H. G. Gordon
Miss Beatrice Lamb	Mr. Oliver Grey
Miss Ewerretta Lawrence	Mr. Lyn Harding
Miss Kitty Loftus	Mr. Rudge Harding
Miss Ethel Maynard	Mr. Gilbert Hare
Miss Jessie Moore	Mr. Arthur Hatherton
Miss Tina Murray	Mr. Bert Hunter
Miss Bella Pateman	Mr. Lawrence Kellie
Miss Elsie Reamer	Mr. Mark Kinghorne
Miss Cicely Richards	Mr. Knoblauch
Miss Edith Standen	Mr. Herbert Waring
Miss Gertrude Thornton	Mr. Luigi Lablache
Miss Maud Thornton	Mr. R. Lewis
Miss Gertrude White	Mr. Iago Lewis
Miss Muriel Wylford	Mr. Frank Lincoln
Miss Isabelle Agnew	Mr. W. T. Lovell
Miss Kate Bishop	Mr. Herbert Mari
Miss Rosina Brandram	Mr. Eugene Mayeur
Miss Julie Dolaro	Mr. Sydney McAlpine
Miss Pollie Emery	Mr. Norman McKinnel
Miss Emmerson	Mr. John Morland
Miss Vane Featherston	Mr. Herbert O'Brien
Miss Helen Ferrers	Mr. Robert Pateman
Capt. Basil Hood	Mr. Harry Paulton
Mr. A. Alexander	Mr. Powis Pinder
Mr. W. L. Abingdon	Mr. Nigel Playfair
Mr. Paul Arthur	Mr. Norman Salmond
Mr. J. H. Barnes	Mr. Edward Sass
Mr. Edwin Bryan	Mr. George Shelton
Mr. Robert Caradoc	Mr. Aubrey Smith
Mr. Harry Cottell	Mr. Herbert Sparling
Mr. Alec Davidson	Mr. William Spray
Mr. Albert Derrick	Mr. Ernest Terrence
Mr. William Devereux	Mr. Sydney Valentine
Mr. A. E. Drinkwater	Mr. Hubert Willis
Mr. Carr Evans

Mr. George Graves was to have furnished the next item by making a few remarks, but he was not able to answer to his number. The curtain, therefore, rose on the street scene from Molière's Le Mariage Forcé, played by M. Coquelin aîné as Pancrace and by M. Jean Coquelin as Sganarelle, in ordinary morning dress, to an accompaniment of laughter. The eminent French comedians were very heartily received.

Beauty's Kingdom.

Then came a delightful series of tableaux vivants, arranged after celebrated pictures by the first painters of the day, including among those who posed the leading London actresses. The pictures were revealed in the following order:—

1.—"Anne Boleyn."

Arranged by Mr. Luke Fildes, R.A. Scene painted by Mr. Bruce Smith.

Miss Violet Vanbrugh as Anne Boleyn	Miss Daisy Thimm
Miss Kate Phillips	Miss Lilias Waldegrave

2.—"The Ladies Waldegrave."

Arranged by Mr. Luke Fildes. Scene painted by Mr. Bruce Smith.

Miss Grace Lane	Miss Julie Opp
Miss Evelyn Millard.

3.—A Watteau Subject.

Arranged by Mr. Solomon J. Solomon, R.A. Scene painted by Mr. W. Hann.

Miss Sarah Brooke	Miss Suzanne Sheldon
Miss Alexandra Carlisle	Miss Rita Jolivet
Miss Gertrude Elliott	Miss Irene Vanbrugh

4.—"Cinderella."

After Millais' picture. Scene painted by Mr. W. Johnstone.

Miss Ellaline Terriss.

5.—"Beginners for the First Act. A Hundred Years Ago."

Arranged by Mr. James Pryde. Scene painted by Mr. Bruce Smith.

Miss Mabel Beardsley	Miss Geraldine Wilson
Miss Beatrice Ferrar	Miss Pauline Chase
Mrs. Tree	Miss Margaret Bussé
Miss Winifred Emery	Mrs. Sam Sothern
Miss Lena Ashwell	Miss Hilda Trevelyan

6.—"Rival Beauties."

Arranged by Sir L. Alma Tadema, R.A. Scene painted by Mr. Joseph Harker.

Miss Constance Collier, Miss Edna May.

7.—"Ladies of the Court of France presenting the Oriflamme to Joan of Arc."

Arranged by Mr. Percy Macquoid. Scene painted by Mr. Bruce Smith.

Miss Lilian Braithwaite (Joan of Arc)	Miss Beatrice Forbes-Robertson
Miss Nora Lancaster	Mrs. Cecil Raleigh
Miss Beatrice Irwin	Miss May Palfrey
Miss Iris Hawkins	Miss Dorothy Minto
Miss Beryl Faber	Miss Mary Mackenzie
Miss Beatrice Beckley	Miss Hazel Thompson

8.—"The Four Maries."

Arranged by Sir James Linton, R.I. Scene painted by Mr. W. Johnstone.

Miss Annie Hughes	Miss Edyth Olive
Miss Dorothy Grimston	Miss Kate Rorke (Mary Queen of Scots)
Miss Edith Wynne Matthison

9.—"Cleopatra."

Arranged by Sir James Linton, R.I. Scene painted by Mr. Joseph Harker.

Miss Dora Barton	Miss Ray Rockman
Mrs. Langtry (Cleopatra)	Miss Betty Theodora Green

10.—"The Blessed Damozel."

Arranged by Mr. Byam Shaw. Scene painted by Mr. Walter Hann.

Miss Lettice Fairfax	Miss Margaret Halstan
Miss Sybil Carlisle	Miss Mabel Hackney
Miss Muriel Beaumont	Miss Julia Neilson (the Madonna)
Miss Jessie Bateman	Miss Dagmar Wiehe
Miss Valerie Salberg

11.—"Reading Aloud."

Arranged by Mr. A. L. Baldry. Scene painted by Mr. R. C. McCleery.

Miss Lily Brayton	Miss Eva Moore
	Miss Nancy Price.

12.—"Queen Victoria as a Girl in Kensington Palace Gardens."

Arranged by Sir James Linton, R.I. Scene painted by Mr. Bruce Smith.

Miss Alice Crawford	Miss Margaret Illington
Miss N. de Silva
Miss Mary Rorke

Miss Mary Moore (Queen Victoria).

Photo by Ellis and Walery.

MISS ELLEN TERRY.

Scenic Art.

In the backgrounds of these excellent living reproductions of never-to-be-forgotten masterpieces the scenic artists more than distinguished themselves. Mr. Bruce Smith was responsible for no less than five cloths, and showed the real cleverness of his brush work in every one, but especially was this the case in No. 5—"Beginners for the First Act. A Hundred Years Ago." Mr. W. Hann found congenial work in "A Watteau Subject," a dainty piece of landscape; to Mr. Joseph Harker's fertile imagination was due a rich setting for "The Rival Beauties"; Mr. W. Johnstone realised with artistic truth the humble surroundings of the heroine of the hearth, "Cinderella"; Mr. Walter Hann was very happy in his treatment of the atmosphere of "The Blessed Damozel"; and Mr. R. C. McCleery did excellently well in the brush-work requisite for the picture "Reading Aloud." The accompanying music to this unique series of tableaux was composed and directed by Herman Finck, the gifted young musical director of the Palace Theatre.

Then came Mr. Seymour Hicks, the volatile and energetic, with a cohort of beauties known to the theatre-goer as the "Bath Buns," introduced a scene from The Beauty of Bath. Several encores were demanded, and given. The ladies assisting Mr. Hicks included Miss Mabel Ellis, Miss Pauline Francis, Miss May Gates, Miss Hilda Harris, Miss Marion Harris, Miss Agnes Hodgkinson, Miss Lillie McIntyre, Miss Elsie Kay, Miss Enid Leslie, Miss Marion Lindsay, Miss Kitty Melrose, Miss Madelein Morton, Miss Clara Rickards, and Miss Mabel Yellowy-Watson. The conductor was Mr. Carl Kiefert.

A Record Cast.

As an excerpt from Molière had been given Sheridan very rightly found a place in so unique a programme, and the picture and dinner scene from The School for Scandal brought to the cognisance of the audience the chief actor-managers of London. We append the fine cast:—

"THE SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL."

Charles Surface .....SIR CHARLES WYNDHAM
Sir Oliver .....MR. ARTHUR BOURCHIER
Moses .....MR. EDWARD TERRY
Trip .....MR. CYRIL MAUDE
Careless .....MR. GEORGE ALEXANDER
Rowley .....MR. LIONEL BROUGH
Sir Harry Bumper .....MR. BEN DAVIES
(With song: "Here's to the Maiden.")

Guests of Charles Surface:—Mr. Allan Aynesworth, Mr. Leonard Boyne, Mr. Cooper Cliffe, Mr. Frederick Kerr, Mr. George Giddens, Mr. Weedon Grossmith, Mr. A. E. Matthews, Mr. Arthur Playfair, Mr. Herbert Sleath. Mr. Cyril Maude, as that most original and imperious of lackeys, Trip, opened the scene with Mr. Edward Terry as Moses with the customary gag, "I'll take my oath of that." Mr. Terry, however, did not exaggerate the peculiarities of the Hebraic moneylender. Mr. Arthur Bourchier, though looking rather tall for "Little Premium," was responsible for a sound bit of comedy acting as Sir Oliver. Sir Charles Wyndham once more gave us a Charles Surface full of the joy of living—as genial a rake as ever handled a dice-box. The auction was carried through with great spirit, with Mr. George Alexander, an excellent Careless, as auctioneer. From Mr. Ben Davies, who, as Sir Harry Bumper, sang the song "Here's to the maiden," was extracted an encore. Mr. Lionel Brough, who was introduced as Rowley at the end of the scene, was warmly welcomed. The hon. stage-managers of the representation were Mr. Lionel Belmore and Mr. Alexander Stuart.

A Famous Family—and Tree.

Sheridan was followed by Shakespeare, the chief attraction of the afternoon being the first act and part of the second of

"MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING."

Don Pedro .....MR. FRED TERRY*
Don John .....MR. H. B. IRVING
Claudio .....MR. J. FORBES-ROBERTSON
Benedick .....MR. H. BEERBOHM TREE
Leonato .....MR. HERMANN VEZIN
Antonio.....MR. HENRY NEVILLE
Balthazar .....MR. EDMUND GWENN*
Conrade .....MR. NORMAN FORBES
Borachio .....MR. OSCAR ASCHE
Messenger .....MR. LAURENCE IRVING
Hero.....MISS MARION TERRY
Beatrice.....MISS ELLEN TERRY*
Margaret .....MISS MINNIE TERRY*
Ursula .....MISS KATE TERRY*
First Drummer .....MISS OLIVE TERRY*
Second Drummer.....MISS BEATRICE TERRY*
First Dancer .....MISS MABEL TERRY LEWIS*
Second Dancer .....MISS MINNIE TERRY*
Third Dancer .....MISS EDITH CRAIG*
First Torchbearer ....MISS LUCY TERRY LEWIS*
Second Torchbearer..MISS KATE TERRY GIELGUD*
Third Torchbearer ..MISS JANET TERRY LEWIS*
Fourth Torchbearer .....MISS PHYLLIS TERRY*
Page .....DENIS TERRY*
Page .....ROSEMARY CRAIG*
Page .....ROBIN CRAIG*
Page .....PETER CRAIG*
Servant .....MR. CHARLES TERRY*
Servant .....MR. GEORGE TERRY*

Note.—The members of the Terry family are indicated by a star (*).

The following took part in the masked dance:—Mr. H. Ainley, Mr. Gerald du Maurier, Mr. Basil Gill, Mr. Sidney Brough, Mr. Graham Browne, Mr. Frank Mills, Mr. Harcourt E. Williams, Mr. Matheson Lang, Mr. Julian L'Estrange, Mr. Charles Thursby, Mr. H. V. Esmond, Mr. George Trollope, Mr. Sam Sothern, Mr. James Carew, Mr. Vincent Sternroyd, Mr. Horace Terry, Mr. Geoffrey Morriss.

Scenery designed and dance arranged by Mr. Gordon Craig.* Hon. stage-manager, Mr. Lionel Belmore. Hon. musical-director, Mr. Christopher Wilson.

The opening speeches of this finely-written comedy were much disturbed by "receptions." There were old playgoers in the house glad to recognise Miss Kate Terry, who retired from the stage in the 'sixties on her marriage, but returned for a short space a couple of years or so ago to the now defunct Globe Theatre. She was heartily greeted on her appearance. Then came Miss Marion Terry as Hero, followed very soon by the heroine of the afternoon, Ellen Terry, looking blithe and bonnie as Beatrice. The house roared its welcome, and nothing could exceed the enthusiasm of gallery and pit, most of whom had spent many weary hours waiting for this supreme moment. The actress was visibly touched, and after bowing again and again and standing with bent head for some moments, she recalled the gaiety and abandon of the most wonderful Beatrice of our time in her opening speech, and the raillery of "dear Lady Disdain" had much of the charm that was to be noted in the magnificent revival of the comedy on Oct. 11, 1882, at the Lyceum. The applause was specially significant when this incomparable Beatrice repeated the line—"My mother cried; then there was a star danced, and under it I was born." The performance went with wonderful smoothness. Mr. Hermann Vezin's Leonato, and Mr. Henry Neville's Antonio were both conceived in the true Shakespearean spirit; Mr. Beerbohm Tree made a gallant and amusing Benedick; Mr. Fred Terry's Don Pedro reminded us strongly of the rendering of the same character by the lamented William Terriss; Mr. Forbes Robertson was again an admirable Claudio; Mr. Ocsar Asche added lustre to the cast by his impersonation of Borachio; Mr. Norman Forbes made an excellent Conrade; Mr. H. B. Irving gave the necessary sinister touch to the part of Don John; and Mr. Lawrence Irving was content with the part of the Messenger. Miss Minnie Terry, now quite grown up, was an engaging Margaret. The masked dances, arranged by Mr. Gordon Craig, were executed with immense spirit; and Mr. Christopher Wilson conducted with his usual ability.

At the conclusion of what may well be termed the scène à faire, there was another opportunity for enthusiasm, and Miss Terry was again overwhelmed with compliments, and several beautiful bouquets were thrown to her. She dragged on Mr. Arthur Collins, then she appeared with her sisters, Kate and Marion, and, lastly, brought on two of her little grandchildren.

Following this memorable scene came a dance by Mlle. Adeline Genée, who was announced to appear with Mr. P. Sundberg in a pas de deux. In consequence of this gentleman's absence the popular première danseuse contented herself with a few graceful steps, which she accomplished in a riding habit, the orchestra being directed by Mr. Glaser of the Empire. Signor Caruso had an excellent reception on coming forward with Signor Tosti, who accompanied this superb artist and phenomenal tenor in two songs from his own pen. Modern musical comedy was again in the ascendant when Miss Ellaline Terriss, in another scene from The Beauty of Bath, sang "There are lots of things you never learn at school," in which she was supported by Misses Jenny Bateman, Lilian Burns, Nell Carter, Julia James, Dorothy Lane, Sylvia Storey, and the Bath Buns. The introduction of a political verse on such an occasion was an error of taste, for which some compensation, however, was forthcoming in additional lines written concerning the event of the afternoon.

The Minstrel Mummers.

A well-devised novelty in the stupendous bill was the introduction of a number of leading comedians of the London stage as minstrels, with Mr. Seymour Hicks as interlocutor, or "middle-man"—a position that prompted a jocular reference to Mr. Willard. Mr. Hicks, after an opening chorus, introduced his troupe—which he designated as rotten—and as each name was called out black masks were raised, discovering the well-known lineaments of Mr. W. H. Berry, Mr. Will Bishop, Mr. James Blakeley, Mr. Louis Bradfield, Mr. Colin Coop, Mr. Johnny Danvers, Mr. Harry Fragson, Mr. Harry Grattan, Mr. George Grossmith, jun., Mr. Henry Lytton, Mr. Edmund Payne, Mr. Bert Sinden, Mr. Farren Soutar, Mr. Arthur Williams, and Mr. Fred Wright, jun. There were some particularly daring wheezes, and Mr. Hicks's sententious utterances as the "questioner" were in the true burlesque vein. The threat that the unabashed utterers of jokes should "sail by the boat on Wednesday" was another droll touch on the part of the young actor-manager of the Aldwych Theatre. Mr. George Grossmith, jun., was responsible for the pathetic ballad, "When the rust is off the latch-key I'll come home"; and Mr. Edmund Payne had arranged a little quartet on that perennially popular legend, "Mary had a little lamb," which was sung by the "Clare Market Warblers"—Messrs. W. H. Berry, Colin Coop, H. A. Lytton, and George Grossmith, jun. The last-named gentleman propounded the conundrum, "What is the difference between these gentlemen here and actors?" The question, put to Mr. Hicks, evoked no response. Mr. Grossmith then volunteered the information that he knew, but wouldn't say, as they wouldn't believe him. Mr. Louis Bradfield revived the plantation ballad, "Uncle Ned"; Mr. Johnny Danvers, who was for years a popular corner man with the Mohawks, gave "Tapioca" with a characteristic dance; Mr. Will Bishop and Mr. Bert Sinden burlesqued American song and dance in clever fashion; Mr. Harry Fragson sang; and the entire company wound up the minstrel interlude by singing "Dem Golden Slippers." The hon. conductor of this show was Mr. Jacques Greebe, and the hon. stage-manager Mr. E. Royce, jun. The remaining items of the programme were Miss Gertie Millar, with the song, "In Rotterdam," from The Spring Chicken; and Mr. Lewis Waller in his finely-delivered speech of Henry the Fifth at Harfleur.

Lady Bancroft's Heartfelt Words.

The last item on the programme brought Lady Bancroft, sweetly eloquent, to speak a few words of welcome. She said: "Ladies and Gentlemen,—It was suggested to me that I should make a set speech to you, but I have always been an advocate of natural acting, and I think a few simple, homely words straight from the heart, prompted only by the heart, and not by our friend in the corner—pointing to the prompter—will be more acceptable to you, and I am sure they will be pleasanter to me to speak. It is my happy privilege to welcome you here to-day in celebration of the stage jubilee of our dear mutual friend, Ellen Terry. It is a joyous occasion, not a mournful one, for she is not going to say good-bye to you. Fifty years of hard stage work is a good slice out of one's life, but when that work is congenial and Dame Fortune favours us, we can, so to speak, defy old Father Time, and

"The labour we delight in physics pain."

Nothing to us is more delightful, more enchanting, than the beautiful music of applause. We live for it; it is our food. Our dear friend, Ellen Terry, has experienced all this. She has lived in the sunshine of your affection for fifty years, and I only hope and trust that she may enjoy it for a long time yet—I was going to say another fifty years, but that is rather a large order; but of this I am assured, that, so long as health and strength hold on, she will keep herself fastened to your hearts with hooks of steel. And now I am going to raise the curtain; or rather, I am going to give the signal for someone else to do it, though, as a sort of fairy godmother—I feel I don't look the part—I should be capable of anything."

Lady Bancroft then tapped the curtain with her fan, and as its folds were swept aside one could see the heroine of the afternoon sitting in state beneath a bust of Shakespeare. Grouped round Miss Terry were the artists who had taken part in the performance, besides such notable additions as Mr. E. S. Willard, Signora Dusé, and Mme. Jane Hading Addressing herself now to Miss Terry, Lady Bancroft continued: "My dear Ellen Terry—or may I on this occasion say, Sweet Nell of Old Drury?—I have been talking to our dear friends in front, and we all rejoice that you are not going to say good-bye to us. We cannot afford to lose you. You know, as well as I and many others in Stageland, who have worked so hard, how difficult it is to reconcile the bare idea of saying good-bye to the rapture of applause and the enduring love of so many kind hearts. Some say we are soon forgotten, but I don't believe it. No; experience tells me that even after a protracted absence we are still held in sweet remembrance. I don't know what to say to you, Ellen. My heart is very full of all kinds of thoughts, remembrances, and sweetness of every kind. I am glad to see you looking so bonny—(taking her hands)—and I hope you will always remain so. May you live long in the esteem and love of your friends, and may their devotion be indelibly engraved on your heart as it is on mine in the unfading ink of gratitude."

Ellen Terry's Touching Reply.

Miss Ellen Terry, who was smiling through her tears, made a brave effort to conquer her emotion, and spoke the following touching reply to Lady Bancroft's gracious words: "My dear Lady Bancroft, my friend of many years, my manager of old, sweet days, how can I thank you? You greet me last "to make the end most sweet."

Facing the audience, Miss Terry proceeded: "I never felt so strongly till now that language was given to conceal rather than to reveal one's thoughts. I have no words at all to say what is in my heart; indeed, I really don't quite know what is in my heart. I can only trust to these my friends on the stage and to my friends in the audience to be eloquent for me. If I began to thank everybody who has had any share in making this day so wonderful for me I should never be able to stop. There is Mr. Collins, who has lent me this great historic theatre with its inspiring memories. There is the committee with their chairman and secretary always faithfully to hand, They have done with enthusiasm all that men could do and more to make the wheels go round. The gentlemen of the Press, too, have worked with a will for the success of this afternoon, and their help has been of the very greatest value. Then there are the artists and painters who have honoured me in bringing their most beautiful art to the service of this celebration. To their work and talents we owe the programme and also the tableaux. These are my brothers and sisters. It was they who first inspired this great performance, and they have since been the very head and front of it. The fact that my foreign comrades have joined with the fellow-artists of my own country has touched me much—(here she gave a hand each to Signora Dusé and Signor Caruso). My most special loving thanks are due to Mme. Dusé, who came all the way from Florence just to honour me. (Mme. Dusé here kissed the speaker affectionately on both cheeks.) This has touched me very deeply. Nor must I forget my brothers and sisters in blood and my son and daughter, who have been a tower of strength to me; and last, but not least, there is the Public—my friends for fifty years, who have been so faithful, so affectionate, so loyal. To each and all I owe a debt of gratitude, which must ever remain unpaid. If I stood here as long as the Pyramids have stood there I could never say what this day has been to me. I have the heart to wonder at all you have done, but not the tongue to praise you. I am not going to say good-bye. It is one of my chief joys to-day that I am not going to say good-bye just yet, but that I can speak to all of you as one who is still among you on the active list and still in your service, if you please."

Mr. A. W. Pinero, as an extra turn, came forward to tell the audience that the financial result of the matinée would approach the sum of £6000.

And then came cheers, and flowers, and curtain-raisings innumerable, and "Auld Lang Syne," and "God Save the King." The immense audience slowly filed out into the June sunshine, bearing away with them ineffaceable recollections of an unique tribute to a popular actress and a remarkable woman.

The Organisation.

To Mr. Arthur Collins, who directed the stage, chief thanks are due for the punctuality and smoothness of the whole performance. The stage-management was largely in the hands of Mr. Ernest D'Auban, assisted by Mr. Frank Collins. These gentlemen, of course, had many willing helpers in those whose names we have mentioned in our notice. The business management had an invaluable head in Mr. Sydney Smith; and to the hard and untiring work of Mr. Acton Bond in the organisation of the gigantic affair we must bear witness. Mr. Austin Brereton's courtesy and ready help to the Press will not readily fade from the remembrance of the journalists and critics who went a-roving. As business-managers in front on Tuesday were Messrs. Henry Dana, Bram Stoker, J. E. Vedrenne, and Alfred Courtenay. Mr. C. H. Thomas is acting as hon. treasurer and Mr. C. F. Taylor as hon. accountant.

The Crowd.

The assembly behind the footlights of Old Drury contained most of the artists appearing in the performance, as well as a large portion of the executive and general committees, in addition to the following:—

Lady Monckton
Mme. J. Hading
Mme. Duse
Miss C. Addison
Miss F. Coleman
Miss Fortescue
Miss Jennie Lee
Miss Wallis
Miss Compton
Mrs. Billington
Mrs. E. H. Brooke
Mrs. Alfred Mellon
Sir S. Bancroft
Sir A. Mackenzie
Mr. R. Arthur
Mr. M. Ball
Mr. F. B. Benson
Mr. A. Bishop
Mr. M. Bode
Mr. J. M. Chute
Mr. C. I. Coltson
Mr. C. Cruikshanks
Mr. C. J. Davis
Mr. G. Farquhar
Mr. E. German
Mr. G. Grossmith
Mr. E. Lockwood
Mr. J. B. Mulholland
Mr. William Orpen
Mr. Bernard Partridge
Mr. F. W. Wyndham

The executive committee included:—

Sir Charles Wyndham
Sir Squire Bancroft
Hon. Stephen Coleridge
Mr. Arthur W. Pinero (Chairman)
Mr. George Alexander
Mr. Arthur Bourchier
Mr. Arthur Chudleigh
Mr. Arthur Collins
Mr. Alfred Courtenay
Mr. Henry Dana
Mr. Tom B. Davis
Mr. George Edwardes
Mr. Charles Frohman
Mr. Stephano Gatti
Mr. William Greet
Mr. Frederick Harrison
Mr. Seymour Hicks
Mr. Cyril Maude
M. André Messager
Mr. J. Forbes-Robertson
Mr. Sidney Smith
Mr. Bram Stoker
Mr. Otho Stuart
Mr. Ed. Terry
Mr. H. Beerbohm Tree
Mr. J. E. Vedrenne
Mr. Lewis Waller
Mr. James Welch
Mr. Austin Brereton
Mr. Acton Bond (Hon. Secretary)

The general committee were:—

Duke of Beaufort
Duke of Bedford
Duke of Devonshire
Duke of Rutland
Duke of Newcastle
Duke of Fife
Marquis of Ormonde
Marquis of Granby
Earl of Winchelsea and Nottingham
Earl of Wemyss and March
Earl of Aberdeen
Earl of Jersey
Earl of Craven
Earl of Ellesmere
Earl of Kilmorey
Earl of Wharncliffe
Earl of Londesborough
Earl of Carrington
Earl of Crewe
Earl Roberts
Lord Tennyson
Lord Glenesk
Lord Inverclyde
Lord Campbell
Lord Iveagh
Lord Avebury
Lord Burnham
Rt. Hon. J. Chamberlain
Rt. Hon. Sir F. Milner
Rt. Hon. Sir E. Cassel
The Hon. S. Coleridge
The Hon. Sir H. Tozer
The Hon. A. Yorke
Sir D. Cooper
Sir S. Crossley
Sir F. Pollock
Sir A. Seymour
Sir J. Aird
Sir H. Parry
Sir G. Lewis
Sir T. Lipton
Sir A. C. Doyle
Sir D. Straight
Sir F. Semon
Sir C. Wyndham
Sir Squire Bancroft
Sir E. Shaw
Sir A Critchett
Sir E. Moss
Sir J. Blyth
Col. N. Davis
Dr. J. M. Bruce
Mr. P. J. Agnew
Mr. G. Alexander
Mr. W. Archer
Mr. D. Armour
Mr. A. Bond
Mr. A. Bourchier
Mr. W. L. Bradbury
Mr. A. Brereton
Mr. W. L. A. Burdett-Coutts
Mr. R. Butler
Mr. A. Calmour
Mr. C. Carr
Mr. E. Castle
Mr. A. Chudleigh
Mr. A. Collins
Mr. A. Courtenay
Mr. W. L. Courtney
Mr. F. M. Crawford
Mr. H. Dana
Mr. T. B. Davis
Mr. G. Delacher
Mr. H. F. Dickens
Mr. A. Dobson
Mr. G. Edwardes
Mr. G. Faber
Dr. F. A. Farr
Mr. T. Fraser
Mr. C. Frohman
Mr. S. Gatti
Mr. M. P. Grace
Mr. F. Green
Mr. W. Greet
Mr. J. T. Grein
Mr. O. Hall
Mr. F. Harrison
Mr. S. Heilbut
Mr. C. Hentschel
Mr. R. Hichens
Mr. S. Hicks
Mr. R. D. Isaacs
Mr. W. W. Jacobs
Mr. S. B. Joel
Mr. S. Jousiffe
Mr. R. Kipling
Mr. J. Knight
Mr. H. A. Lane
Mr. S. Lee
Mr. J. Lyons
Mr. C. Maude
Mr. M. A. Messager
Mr. C. Meyer
Mr. M. Morris
Mr. H. C. Newton
Mr. T. P. O'Connor
Mr. C. A. Pearson
Mr. A. W. Pinero
Mr. W. Reid
Mr. A. De Rothschild
Mr. J. Forbes-Robertson
Mr. S. Smith
Mr. A. Spalding
Mr. E. Speyer
Mr. B. Stoker
Mr. O. Stuart
Mr. E. Terry
Dr. St. Clair Thomson
Mr. F. Thomasson
Mr. H. B. Tree
Mr. J. E. Vedrenne
Mr. L. Waller
Mr. A. F. Walters
Mr. M. Watson
Mr. J. Welch
Mr. J. Willing, jun.
Mr. I. Zangwill

Sweet Saleswomen.

Quite an army of beautifully dressed young actresses gave their services as programme-sellers, and many of them commenced their labours in the gallery and pit as early as 10.30 in the morning. The price of the souvenir programme was 5s., but with the addition of an autograph some fetched double the price. The fair saleswomen included:—

Miss Mabel Adair
Miss Sybil Arundale
Miss Roxy Barton
Miss Evelyn Beaumont
Miss Inez Bensusan
Miss Esme Beringer
Miss May Beringer
Miss Vera Beringer
Miss Phyllis Blair
Miss Hutin Britton
Miss Enid Spencer Brunton
Miss Joan Burnett
Miss Marcelle Chevalier
Miss Daisy Cordell
Miss Mablia Daniell
Miss Mabel Ellis
Miss Jessie Ferrar
Miss Pauline Francis
Miss May Gater
Miss R. Robertson Grimston
Miss F. Glossop Harris
Miss Hilda Harris
Miss Marion Harris
Miss Agnes Hodgkinson
Miss Iris Hoey
Miss Ethelwynne Arthur-Jones
Miss Elsie Kay
Miss Enid Leslie
Miss Beatrice Lindley
Miss Marion Lindsay
Miss Mabel Love
Miss Blanche Love
Miss Ruth Erskine Maitland
Miss Lillie McIntyre
Miss Katharine Maude
Miss Kitty Melrose
Miss Ida Molesworth
Miss Madelein Morton
Miss Susie Nainby
Miss Amy Ravenscroft
Miss Clara Richards
Miss Dorothy Scott
Miss Gertrude Scott
Miss Nina Sevening
Miss May Warley
Miss Ada Webster
Miss Maud Winter
Miss Haidée Wright
Miss Hilda Wright
Miss Mabel Yellowy-Watson
Mrs. Cheatle
Mrs. Harry Grattan
Mrs. Lindsay Smith
Mrs. Lane Joynt

Among the distinguished patrons present in the house were Lord Curzon of Kedleston, the Marchioness of Granby, the Duke and Duchess of Bedford, the Earl and Countess of Dudley, the Earl and Countess of Craven, Lord and Lady Mickleham, Lady Maud Warrender, Lady Faudel-Phillips, Sir Ernest Cassel, Lord Burnham, Sir Douglas Straight, Sir Francis Burnand, Lady Newnes, Sir Alma and Lady Tadema, Miss Lawrence Alma-Tadema, Field-Marshal Sir Frederick Haines, and Sir James Linton.

HOW IT WAS ARRANGED.

CHAT WITH MR. ACTON BOND.

"I want to know how this performance was arranged and organised." The demand was made by Our Own Commissioner of Mr. Acton Bond, the honorary organising secretary of the Ellen Terry Jubilee Commemoration.

"Well," replied Mr. Bond, with business-like promptitude, "I have the whole business at my finger-tips. The idea occurred while two or three managers were discussing things in general, and they came to the conclusion that it was only fitting that there should be a tribute from the profession to Miss Ellen Terry on the occasion of her jubilee as an actress. After the preliminary debate we had a luncheon at the Garrick Club, when I was asked if I would act as honorary secretary, to which, of course, I readily assented. Then the whole subject was more thoroughly entered into, for, as you will imagine, many considerations had to be taken into account. It was decided that the most suitable place in which to give the matinée was the national theatre; and when Sir Charles Wyndham telephoned to Drury Lane on behalf of the meeting of managers, Mr. Arthur Collins and his co-director, Mr. Sidney Smith, kindly agreed to lend the famous old playhouse for the function.

"Then, of course, the question as to what the entertainment should consist of arose. It was realised that the programme and those whose names figured upon it would have to be representative from every point of view. The original suggestion was that The School for Scandal should be presented in its entirety with a star cast; but as the committee went deeper into the subject they found it was not possible to get a Lady Teazle. Certainly the name of Miss Emery did occur to us, but she was not very well at the time, and we could not therefore be absolutely sure of securing her services for the afternoon. Therefore some other plan of action had to be thought out. We were, as I have already informed you, anxious to have a representative gathering of the British stage, in addition to representatives of the foreign stage. As to the latter, the Messrs. Coquelin readily proffered their services, and Signora Eleonora Dusé wrote saying that Miss Terry had no more loyal and sincere comrade or greater admirer than the writer, and she would be happy to assist at the commemoration performance. Mme. Jane Hading, who is now acting at the Coronet Theatre, was also present, but her name was unfortunately omitted from the programme, as we did not hear from her until after we had gone to press. It was hoped that Mme. Réjane would have attended, but she was unable to get away from Paris. Mr. Dan Frohman, the president of the Actors' Fund of America, was on the stage to represent the United States; and the musical profession furnished such distinguished members as Sir Villiers Stanford, Sir Alexander Mackenzie, and Mr. Edward German; while from the world of art we had Sir Lawrence Alma-Tadema, R.A., Mr. Luke Fildes, R.A., Mr. Walter Craven, Mr. Byam Shaw, Sir James D. Linton, Mr. Solomon J. Solomon, Mr. James Pryde, Mr. Percy Macquoid, Mr. John S. Sargent, R.A., and Mr. E. A. Abbey, R.A. In the reception scene, too, were the representatives of the two theatrical funds, Messrs. C. I. Coltson and Charles Davies; while Mr. Charles Cruikshanks appeared for the Actors' Association. The Theatrical Managers' Association was ably represented in its various sections, Mr. J. B. Mulholland attending on behalf of the suburban section, Mr. Chute as vice-president of the provincial branch, and Mr. Edward Lockwood as president of the Touring Managers' Association. Others were Mr. Robert Arthur, Miss Compton, Miss E. H. Brooke, Mrs. Billington, Miss Fortescue, Miss Jenny Lee, and Miss Wallis. Among the organising non-theatrical members of the general committee of the matinée were the Duke and Duchess of Bedford, Lord Ellesmere, Lord Glenesk, Lord Burnham, and the Hon. Stephen Coleridge."

The work of organising commenced at Easter, from which date Mr. Acton Bond has attended Drury Lane daily in order to cope with the work involved. The minstrel entertainment was Mr. Collins's idea, and it was developed in good style by Mr. Seymour Hicks, at whose theatre the rehearsals were carried out. All the rest of the programme was arranged and rehearsed at the Lane, a great deal of attention being given to Trial by Jury. The tableaux vivants entailed in their arrangement no small amount of ingenuity and thought. Places had to be found for a very large number of celebrated people, and the difficulty was to discover adequate pictures for so much "talent." The School for Scandal, the Trial by Jury, and the minstrel entertainment took a good many prominent actors and actresses, but there were forty ladies and gentlemen whose services had yet to be utilised. So when the suggestion of tableaux vivants was offered it was enthusiastically supported.

Miss Terry particularly desired the committee to produce a play in which these forty or so players could take parts, but the organisers could think of no piece which would afford so large a cast, and the "living pictures" therefore admirably filled the breach.

"When we informed Miss Terry of our decision," continued Mr. Bond, "she again said she would like the ladies to act with her at the matinée. We pointed out that Lady Bancroft was going to make the address and that Mrs. Patrick Campbell would recite, and that therefore English actresses would be heard in 'speaking parts.' Well, having disposed of our leading ladies, we put the prominent actor-managers in Much Ado and The School for Scandal. Much Ado afforded an opportunity for all the Terry family appearing in the one scene."

In more than one respect has a record to be placed to the credit of the Ellen Terry Commemoration. Out of some four hundred artists who had arranged to appear not more than two were left out; while the punctuality with which the different items were introduced to the audience is a matter upon which Mr. Arthur Collins, who officiated as stage-manager, may be congratulated.

Then, as to the public who were to be entertained. Mr. Bond tells us that many and long were the discussions on this point. The committee took warning by the experiences at the Nellie Farren matinée; and, in order to prevent any awkward scenes in the streets, as soon as a sufficient number of people had assembled (allowance being made for a certain margin in the pit and gallery), the police were informed that the pavements were cleared so as to permit of reserved ticket-holders entering without inconvenience. Immediately the doors opened there was a race between a man and a woman to be first in the pit, and the woman won.

"It was extraordinary," remarked Mr. Bond, "to see how cheery and bright the people were after the all-night wait. We let them in about 10.45, in order to give them nearly a couple of hours' rest before the performance commenced. We recollected that at the Nellie Farren benefit the people who had waited outside the theatre were so tired that they could not enjoy the performance. The whole entertainment went without a hitch. We had carefully timed every item beforehand, and at the interval had only lost ten minutes of our actual time. Later we had four minutes up our sleeves, and the curtain was down at a quarter to six. This reflects great credit on the stage staff."

"How did you secure such remarkable precision?"

"Each person taking part in the scenes was provided with a card of admission on which was stated the time he or she had to appear on the stage. Mr. Vivian Reynolds and Mr. Mayer, both being intimate with the personnel of the profession, acted as stewards at the stage-door, took the cards and passed their bearers, and prevented unauthorised persons from gaining admittance."

It may be of interest to state that in the largest scene, that of Trial by Jury, there were no less than 145 actors and actresses. Mr. Bond's lowest computation of the number of the audience is 3600, and something like 2500 souvenirs were sold. A reprint of these beautifully and artistically got-up "mementoes" is now in the press, and copies can be had for 5s. 5d., post free. Among the souvenir-sellers there was keen competition between Mrs. Lindsey Smith and Miss Daisy Cordell; but Mrs. Smith came out triumphant with £29, Miss Cordell's collection being £26 17s. 11d. The lady who had the lowest amount to her credit, largely owing to her services being also required in the performances, took £3 10s. It is anticipated that the total proceeds of the commemoration will exceed £6000.

We can scarcely conclude this article without a reference to the yeoman services performed by Mr. Acton Bond in the work of organisation. He had, as will be imagined, much to do, and we now have sufficient proof that what he did was done well.

It should also be stated that Mr. A. W. Pinero took a great personal interest in his duties as chairman of the Executive Committee of the Terry Commemoration.

THE "ALL-NIGHTERS."

THE "WAITING" SCENES.

(By Our Own Commissioner.)

"Don't let 'im pass, muvver." This to a fat woman from her undersized offspring, a pale-faced and weakly-looking, but enthusiastic, young man who had been loudly expressing his opinions upon the state of the drama and the theatrical profession generally, and who claimed a right to do so by reason of his membership of some society for the early possession of pavements outside theatres on first nights. "We come here before you," they both shouted, adding indignantly, "and you shouldn't try to squeeze in."

The writer assured the good creatures that he had no intention of usurping their pride of place, and, after a little more haranguing, was allowed to pass on.

This happened in the covered courtway off Catherine-street, which provides shelter for the waiting pittites and galleryites of old Drury. The scene could scarcely be described as a picturesque one, but as a tribute of admiration and respect to the greatest actress of our age, it spoke worlds for the personal popularity of Miss Terry. At first glance one might have imagined being on board the steerage deck of a cheap excursion steamer. At once the predominance in numbers of the fair sex asserted itself. Straw hats and light summer blouses were strongly in evidence, but in anticipation of the chilly early morning air, many of the women had provided themselves with cloaks and travelling rugs. Large numbers had come furnished with deck chairs, and enterprising Covent Garden porters and loafers were doing a brisk business selling jerry-built stools and even empty fruit boxes. Creature comforts had not been forgotten. Beer and stout were the favoured beverages, while more solid nutriment took the form of sandwiches and pork pies. In one or two instances the more ambitious pic-nic basket was to be noticed. Later on vendors of ice-cream, ginger beer, oranges, and various other comestibles made their appearance, and at eleven o'clock at night seemed to be doing a roaring trade.

At any rate, it was not a silent vigil that these worshippers at the Terry shrine maintained with such wonderful pertinacity of purpose throughout Monday night and Tuesday morning. They freely joked and jested with one another, and packs of cards were brought into requisition to while the weary hours away. Two or three of the ladies busied themselves with crochet work or with knitting, and others still regaled their mental activities with Ally Sloper and any of the light literature that was to be had. Had a bookseller or a newsagent turned up with a trayful of the better class of works, he would undoubtedly have netted a nice little sum.

A record stands to the credit of a lady living in Bayswater, who was enthusiastic enough to remain outside Drury Lane Theatre for twenty-eight hours. She reached the amphitheatre entrance at half-past six on Monday morning, and as the doors were opened at a quarter to eleven the following morning, her vigil lasted exactly 28½ hours, and if the time spent inside the theatre prior to the commencement of the performance at half-past twelve be included, her total number of hours would be thirty. From ten o'clock on Monday more patient folk came along, but the real crush did not begin until some twelve hours later, and by eleven o'clock at night the colonnade in Russell-street, as well as one side of Vinegar-yard, was thickly lined with people who intended, if possible, to form a goodly portion of the audience on the following afternoon. Others were messenger boys, commissionaires, and Church Army men, who had been hired to keep places in the queues for people to whom the all-night wait did not appeal as an inviting prospect.

In the covered courtway "Uncle Green" was the central figure of an admiring little crowd of first-nighters and other similar ardent spirits. Uncle Green, it should be mentioned, is one of our oldest playgoers, if, indeed, he does not stand first in that category. He is now seventy years of age, and has been a regular theatre-goer since boyhood. His recollections go back to the days of Madame Celeste, and he remembers quite well seeing Benjamin Webster in The Quest for Gold at the old Adelphi over half-a-century ago, and he recalls, too, Macready in the character of Virginius at the Surrey Theatre. "Uncle Green" is a devoted first-nighter, and he is, as may be imagined, a living encyclopædia of the drama.

"This is a hazardous enterprise for a septuagenarian, Mr. Green, and you may have to fight for your seat at the end of the vigil."

"Ah!" replied the old gentleman, in his cheery way, "I enjoy a good struggle." And one could not help thinking that the older the playgoer the greater his enthusiasm.

One rather unfortunate feature in the long wait to secure seats was the presence of a number of loafers, who entered the crowd from time to time and sold and re-sold their places. Some of these artful gentry were assisted by touts in the streets on the look-out for clients, and there is not the slightest doubt that they proved a serious annoyance to the better class people who had taken up positions in the colonnade and in the archway.

"Make love to the bobby and you're all right," was the very excellent advice given by one young lady to a girl friend. And indubitably, even waving aside this delicate subject of romance, the "bobbies" were much sought after by the women, who plied them with all manner of questions. Great credit is due to the police for the courteous manner in which they performed what must have been an extremely irksome duty, and on several occasions they acted with commendable promptness and firmness in clearing the immediate neighbourhood from undesirable characters.

The management of the theatre considerately allowed the electric lights around the house to be kept on at full power through the night, and this kindly little act was highly appreciated, as was also the provision, from the same source, of tea at seven o'clock on Tuesday morning.

It was a curious sight, as the hours all too slowly passed away, to see one woman after another quietly falling asleep, occasionally to wake to fitful consciousness of her strange surroundings. The card-players gradually abandoned their game, and a general feeling of drowsy listlessness overcame even those who earlier in the evening had been full of boisterous merriment. The cause, no doubt, was a good one, but the question is, to what heights of dogged endurance might not the people of London be roused if they were ever brought face to face with circumstances imperilling their national existence?

Truly a wonderful tribute to a great actress!

"£1000 Reward," the popular drama by the late Charles Rogers, re-written and brought up to date by Charles Rogers, jun., will be sent on tour on Aug. 6, under the personal supervision of Frank J. Pitt and Charles Halling. Two truck loads of specially-painted scenery will be travelled, including the electrically-lighted music hall set, and the success of the piece, which is acknowledged to be a money-making drama, is sure to be repeated. The company includes Messrs. Charles Rogers, jun., Charles Halling, Frank J. Pitt, Frank Dallas, Miss Daisy Halling, Mrs. Sidney Halling, Miss Cissie Francis, and Miss Lynn Darlington (the Australian contralto).

H.R.H. Princess Christian, accompanied by H.R.H. Princess Victoria, visited the Comedy Theatre on Saturday evening, and witnessed the performance of Raffles.

TO ELLEN TERRY,

On the occasion of her Jubilee, June 12, 1906,

These lines are respectfully dedicated in a spirit of true admiration by the author.

Come, rouse, each Thespian servitor,
And wind a laurel crown!
Thalia's handmaids to the fore,
And weave a royal gown;
And let the regal garment be
The richest ever seen,
A gift to grace the Jubilee
Of England's Player Queen.

She's served her art full fifty years
In every kind of play;
Ruled both your laughter and your tears
With true magnetic sway!
The varied muse of Shakespeare's lore
For us she truly limned:
Her name will stand for evermore
A star that shines undimned.

The great may come, the great may go,
As erst they came and went;
But none will ever shadow throw
On her, bright orb unspent!
In art's annals she'll ever live,
Decade upon decade,
And all the world will homage give
Her who an epoch made!

Her art uphold in every land
Where English hearts may beat,
So that the magic of her wand
Its full reward will meet!
And may the laurels we entwine
Rest proudly evergreen
Upon the marble brow divine
Of England's Player Queen!

Oswald Brand.

FRENCH PLAYS AT THE ROYALTY.

M. Coquelin aîné revived, at the Royalty on Friday, the 8th inst., for one night only, L'Aventurière, by Emile Augier, which drew a brilliant house. The comedy, it will be remembered, was adapted by T. W. Robertson, under the title of Home; and the version of it entitled Late Love was by the late Leonard Outram; Harry St. Maur was responsible for a rendering of the story under the title of What a Woman! and the late Edward Rose, the adaptor of The Prisoner of Zenda, gave the English stage still another version produced as The Adventurers. L'Aventurière was performed in the original French at the Prince of Wales's Theatre on May 11, 1880, Miss Geneviève Ward being the Clorinde; Miss Hébert the Célie; Mr. H. Beerbohm Tree the Monte Prade; Mr. Horace Wigan the Dario; Mr. H. St. Maur the Fabrice; and M. Marius the Don Annibal. In the last-mentioned part M. Coquelin suggested admirably the gasconading Bohemian, whose direst schemes are enlivened by his unquenchable high spirits. It is a part that fits him perfectly, and his treatment of the drunken scene in Act II. was a conspicuous example of his sound discretion. He did not exaggerate, and was, therefore, intensely funny. Clorinde, a part that was originally played by Mme. Arnould Plessy, has been represented by both Croizette and Bernhardt. Mlle. Suzanne Devoyod could not hope to rival the performances of two such distinguished representatives of the Comédie-Française, but came through very creditably, and touched the hearts of her hearers in the great scene with Célie. Patient at first, under the cold indifference of the young girl, the home thrust dealt at her lawless life by the youth and purity which so cruelly contrast with herself rouses the woman within her, and with a bitter cry Clorinde pours forth an eloquent diatribe against Pharisaical society. Mlle. Devoyod sounded emotional depths that drew forth gratifying tributes of admiration. M. Monteux, in the part of Monte Prade, represented the old hidalgo—the père noble—to the life, his reading of the amorous victim and hapless dupe of the beautiful gipsy adding no little to the success of the representation. Fabrice, the prodigal son of Monte Prade, found a capable representative in M. Desjardins, who was light and humorous in the comedy passages and always the high-spirited gentleman. Mlle. Guerray also delighted everyone by her winsome impersonation of Célie, who in this instance was something more than the conventional French ingénue. M. Coquelin entertained the house in some of his monologues, giving Le Naufragé, Une Jolie Histoire and, in answer to an encore, La Chasse.

Monday evening was devoted to revivals of Tartuffe and Les Précieuses Ridicules, and Tuesday saw the reproduction of Cyrano de Bergerac, M. Coquelin re-appearing in his famous impersonation of the Gascon hero, a part with which his fame as an actor has been largely identified since the production of Edmond Rostand's five-act piece at the Porte St. Martin on Dec. 28, 1897. The titular part will be always as much associated with the name of the eminent French comedian as is that of Macaire with Frédéric Lemaitre. Indeed, to see M. Coquelin as Cyrano is a liberal education in the art of the actor, and we cannot add anything fresh to the criticisms that have been passed upon a performance that reflects lustre on the French theatre. M. Coquelin, who has been repeating the character during the week, is well supported by MM. Jean Coquelin, Desjardins, and d'Auchy, and also by Mlle. Devoyod as Roxane. Next week Réjane comes to the Royalty.

GUILDHALL SCHOOL OF MUSIC.

The concert of Wednesday last began with a clever performance by Miss Vera Leleu and Miss Dorothy Holden of Raff's duet for two pianofortes, "Chaconne." Miss Ruby C. Lee sang the cavatina "O Mio Fernando," from Donizetti's La Favorita, with certain ability, though she would have done better with less exacting music. In Saint-Saëns Concerto in A minor for violoncello Mr. Norman Attwell produced a good tone and neat execution; and Miss Lilian Branston gained hearty applause for her clever mandoline solo on airs from Verdi's Il Trovatore, arranged by Singelee. Pelissier's fine song "Awake" was remarkably well sung by Miss Rosa Graves, who has a voice pure in quality and of ample power; but Mr. W. R. Naylor was not entirely successful in Coleridge-Taylor's somewhat unattractive song "Eleanore." Miss K. Ethel Harman bravely attacked the difficulties of Chopin's pianoforte Scherzo in B minor, and not without a certain measure of success. Other interesting instrumental items were the solo violin Nocturne in E flat (Chopin-Sarasate) played by Master Leonard Connabeer; and the duet for two pianos, "Rondo," by Chopin, performed by the Misses Katie Gray and Muriel Hearson. Miss Nellie Major was heard in two songs by Findon, "If in the great bazaar" and "Allah! be with us"; and relief was afforded to the concert by the clever reciting of "Stage-struck" by Miss Gertrude A. Shill, a talented pupil of Mr. L. F. Chapuy. Miss Jenny Hyman acted as accompanist, and Mrs. Charles P. Smith superintended the appearance of the young ladies on the platform.

Mr. S. Coleridge-Taylor's incidental music to Nero is now published in various forms by Messrs. Novello. The "Intermezzo" and "Eastern Dance" are entrancing numbers, and should enjoy wide popularity.

"THE ERA" NEWSPAPER.

Notice to Contributors.

All communications intended for publication should be sent to "THE EDITOR," and be accompanied by the Writer's Name and Address, not necessarily for insertion, but as a guarantee of good faith.

The Editor will not undertake to be responsible for any rejected MSS., nor to return any Contribution unaccompanied by a stamped and directed envelope.

Notice to Subscribers.

"The Era" is sold by all Newsagents in all the leading English, Irish, and Scotch towns, every Saturday Morning. Price Sixpence.

TERMS, POSTAGE FREE.

Home Subscriptions.		Foreign Subscriptions.
One Year.....	£1 6 0	One Year.....	£1 12 0
Six Months.....	13 0	Six Months	16 0
Three Months ..	6 6	Three Months ..	8 0

Cash must accompany order.

Notice to Advertisers.

Advertisements should reach the Office early in the week, and not later than Thursday, 7 p.m. Remittances, payable to "THE ERA," LTD., and crossed Lloyd's Bank.

Address,
The PUBLISHER,
"THE ERA" BUILDINGS,
5, TAVISTOCK STREET, STRAND, LONDON, W.C.
(two doors off Wellington Street)
Telegrams, "The Era, London." Telephone, 4747, Central.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

AJAX.—The whole idea of a copyright performance is that it must be a public performance—that is to say, that the public shall have the right of entrance on payment of the entrance fee. It does not matter if the public does not avail itself of its right. It is usual for some friend to pay one entrance fee, and no "outside" witnesses are required.

NORTH.—There are at present both a theatre and a music hall in course of erection in Sunderland. The former it is proposed to name the King's Theatre. The architect is Mr. W. Hope, and the contractor is Mr. S. F. Davidson, both of Newcastle-upon-Tyne. It is owned, we understand, by a Scottish syndicate. The music hall is said to be the private venture of Mr. Richard Thornton (Moss and Thornton), and is being built by Mr. J. W. White, of Sunderland; the architect is Mr. Milburn, of the same town. The theatre is situate in Crow Tree-road, and the hall in High-street. We cannot say who are the electrical contractors. The dates of opening have not yet been fixed.

F. R. K. (Perth).—We have received many similar applications, and are sorry we are unable to comply with your request.

E. T. W.—(1) Sandow was born at Königsberg, in Prussia. (2) At the Royal Aquarium, Westminster.

H. J. H.—The Devil's Disciple, by George Bernard Shaw, was first produced in England September 26, 1899, at the Kennington Theatre, when the principal parts were played by Messrs. Murray Carson, F. H. Macklin, Creagh Henry, John Willes, Luigi Lablache, Lesley Thompson, and Edward Lennox; and Misses Bessie Hatton, Elsie Chester, and Grace Warner. When Mr. Forbes Robertson played the piece at Kennington on November 21, 1900, he was himself the representative of Dick Dudgeon.

B. B.—The Brixton Burglary was originally produced at Terry's, December 6, 1898, and was revived at the Strand, June 23, 1900.

J. WINTER.—Quality Street was withdrawn from the Vaudeville November 28, 1903.

VERNON.—The play entitled One Touch of Nature, adapted from the French by Benjamin Webster, was first performed at the Adelphi on Aug. 6, 1859.

J. H.—Sowing and Reaping was produced at a Criterion matinée on June 5, 1890, and went into the evening bill there a month later.

JOE B.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mathews made their first appearance in England after their marriage in a Haymarket revival of London Assurance, on Oct. 11, 1858, sustaining the parts of Dazzle and Lady Gay respectively.

MAC.—Charlotte Cushman appeared for the first time as Romeo, at the Princess's Theatre, on Feb. 29, 1855.

ON THE ROAD, JUNE 18.

AFTER THE BALL.—O. H., Tunbridge Wells.
ANDERSON'S MILLER. REPTR.—Colwyn Bay.
BLIND FOUNDLING.—Gaiety T., Burnley.
DARE-DEVIL DOROTHY.—Grand T., Southampton.
DISHONOURED.—Grand T., Nottingham.
GO-WON-GO MOHAWK.—T. R., Darlington.
HER LOST SELF.—Theatre Royal, Stockport.
HER ONE GREAT SIN.—Queen's T., Dublin.
HONOUR THY FATHER.—Theatre Royal, Ashton.
HOW MONEY'S MADE.—Court T., Warrington.
I DEFY THE WORLD.—Royalty T., Morecambe.
IN HOLY RUSSIA.—Theatre Royal, Scarboro'.
IN THE SHADOW OF NIGHT.—Elephant and Castle T.
KENNEDY'S KOMIKS (A) Co.—West Bromwich.
KENNEDY'S KOMIKS (B) Co.—T. R., Worcester.
KENNEDY'S KOMIKS (C) Co.—Birmingham.
KENNEDY'S KOMIKS (D) Co.—P. O. W., Nuneaton.
KENNEDY'S KOMIKS (E) Co.—T. R. Rugby.
KENNEDY'S KOMIKS (F) Co.—O. H., Dudley.
KENNEDY'S KOMIKS (G) Co.—T. R., Wednesbury.
KENNEDY'S KOMIKS (H) Co.—Empire T., Cradley.
LA COMEDIE ANGLAISE.—Low, Bentham.
LIFE OF A SHOWMAN.—Grand Theatre, Bolton.
LITTLE MARY.—T. R., Bournemouth.
LONDON FIREMAN.—Palace T., Newcastle.
MAN'S ENEMY.—Alexandra T., Sheffield.
MANXMAN, THE.—Theatre Royal, Rochdale.
MONTE CRISTO.—Crown Theatre, Peckham.
NEW WORLD, THE.—Queen's T., Farnworth.
NORMAN V. NORMAN.—Grand T., Woolwich.
NO WEDDINGS BELLS FOR HER.—Osborne, Manchester
OCTOROON.—Alexandra T., Hull.
POOR MUST LIVE.—T. R., Huddersfield.
POWER OF GOLD.—Prince's T., Blackburn.
PRODIGAL PARSON.—O. H., St. Helens.
ROMANY'S REVENGE.—Colosseum, Oldham.
ROYAL DIVORCE.—Lyceum T., Edinboro'.
ROYAL REVENGE.—Theatre Royal, Aldershot.
SAILORS OF THE KING.—Broadway Theatre, Deptford.
STILL ALARM.—Grand Theatre, Islington.
THRONE OF TERROR.—P. O. W., Salford.
TRAITOR PRINCE.—Theatre Royal, Sunderland.
TWO HUSSARS.—Theatre Royal, Leicester.
UNDER THE CZAR.—Star Theatre, Liverpool.
WAY OF THE WORLD.—Grand Theatre, Luton.
WOMAN'S PAST.—Theatre Royal, Stratford.
WOULFE, T. B.—Theatre Royal, Chesterfield.
YOUNGEST OF THE THREE.—Tunbridge Wells and Worthing.
10.30 DOWN EXPRESS.—Royalty T., Chester.

A CHARMING SENSATION.

A most delicious sensation of coolness, freshness, and purity instantly follows a bath to which a few drops of "Condy's Fluid" have been added.

A "Condy's Fluid" bath invigorates the body and braces the nerves in a manner that is unattainable by any other means. The strengthening and health-giving effects are simply magical. Tired or tender feet are instantly relieved, and all trace of odour and all other unpleasant effects of perspiration are instantly dispelled. (See Medical Reports in book on bottle.)

Sold by all Chemists, 1s. 8oz., 20oz. 2s. All substitutes are inferior. Insist on having "Condy's Fluid."—[ADVT.]

"THE ERA" LETTER-BOX.

A Stamped Envelope, plainly addressed, must be enclosed with application for each Letter. Letters, after lying at this Office for One Month, are forwarded to the Postal Authorities, to be returned to the Senders.

No Circulars or Parcels admitted to this List.

Akimoto, Mr.
Alberto, Mr.
Alexander, Miss Ada
Alexander, Mr. Gerald
Allen, Miss Madge
Allnutt, Mr. E.
Allison's, M.
Anderson, Miss Mary
Archbutt, Miss G.
Baines, Miss F.
Ballent, Mr. H
Baptiste, Mr. Alfred
Barrie, Mr. Cecil
Barry, Mr. Bert
Bayne-Smyth, Mrs.
Beardmore, Mr. J. P.
Beaumont, Miss Agnes
Bergeran, Mr. T. C.
Biddall, Bros.
Blind, Mr. Eric
Bohee, Mr. G.
Bon-Bon, Mr. Harry
Borie, Mr. H. O.
Boulton, Mr. M.
Branscombe, Mr. A.
Brantford, Mr. Bert
Brown, Mr. Thomas
Bryne, Mr. Geo
Buss, Mr. Harry
Carltra, Mr. Stanley
Carr, Mr. Harry P.
Carte, Mr. Chas.
Carter, Mrs. Hubert
Cartwright, Mr. Chas.
Cedric, Mr. A.
Chadwick, Mr. George
Challis, Miss Flo
Champion, Mr. Victor
Chard, Lieut.
Chante
Claydon, Mr. Sidney
Clyo and Rochelle
Collins, Miss Lottie
Conn and Conrad
Conway, Mr. Martin
Dallas, Mr. Henry
Dagmar, Miss Victoria
Dagmar, Mr. James M.
Dancks, Miss M.
Dare, Mr. Eric
Davis, Miss Belle
Davis, Mr.
Denelvo, Mr. R.
Dickenson, Prof.
Dillon, Miss Isabelle
Dixon, Mr. Geo.
Dover, Mr. Cliffe
Dyson, Mr. J.
Elgardo, Mr. Z.
Elton and Edwin, Messrs
Fane, Mr. Mansel
Farrell, Mr. Billy
Farren, Mr. Wm.
Fauntleroy, Lady
Fergusson, Miss Maude
Ferriss, Mr. Edward
Firth, Mr. Harry
Foote, Mr. Eugene
Forrest, Mrs. Edgar
Franklyn, Mr. Conrad
Frank's Midget
French, Mr. Ormsby
Fritz, Mr. Leo
Gaylore, Miss Vokey
George, Mr. Henry
Gilbert, Mr. A.
Glenister, Mr. Lionel
Godfrey, Mr. Sidney
Goldsmith, Mr.
Greybrooke, Miss Ethel
Grimson, Mr. H. Naylor
Grovini, Mr. James
Hall, Mr. Albert
Halma, Mr.
Hanlon and Bishop
Harcourt, Miss M.
Harlem, Bros.
Harding and Ah Sid
Harrison, Mr. F.
Hastings, Mr. John
Hemelsoët, Mons. Louis
Herbert, Miss Katherine
Hill, Miss Annie
Hoban, Mr. Stanley
Hope, Miss Alice M.
Howard, Mr. Harry
Howard, Prof. Thos.
Hylton, Mr. Robert
Jackson, Miss Beatrice
Jay, Miss Carrie
Jewitt, Mr. Arthur
Jones, Miss Alma
Jones, Miss Alfreda
Jones, Mr. J. M.
Justin, Mr. J.
Kerno, Mr. Louis
Lalla, Mr. E.
Latham, Mr. Norman
Lawton, Mr. Frank
Leedam, Mr. A. Stanley
Legarde, Miss Millie
Leighton, Miss Queenie
Leoni and Leighton
Letters, Mr. Will
Levaine, Mr. Harry
Lewis, Mr. Fred.
Lewis, Mr. Edward
Lewis, Mr. Geo. E.
Lillian, Mlle.
Linde, Herr
Linforth, Mr. Arthur
Lord, Mr. Bob
Lotto, Mr. Alfred
Lovel, Mr. L.
Lukos, Mr. Alix
Lynn, Mr. A. H.
Lyons Trio
Lytton, Miss Ruth
Mack, Mr. John J.
Mackay, Mr. Charles
Maclaren, Mr. Ian
Marti, Mr. M.
Martin and Ridgway
Martin, Miss Sylvia
Matthews Mr.
Melford, Mr. Mark
Merilcese, Miss Jessie
Milton, Mr. Arthur
Montague, Mr. Herbert
Moodie, Miss Louise
Moore, Miss Carrie
Mowbray, Mr. Gerald
Murray, Mr. S.
Negretti, Miss Bithel
Nelldon, Mr. Tom
Noel, Miss Maude
Norbury, Mr. Tom
Oliver, Mr. Joe
Olrac, Mr. J.
Ongar, Mr. D.
Osmond, Miss M.
O'Toole, Mr. Dave
Palmer, Miss Minnie
Patey, Miss Lola
Paull, Mrs. Wm.
Payne, Mr. W.
Pease, Mr. Sidney T.
Phydora, Mr. C.
Pierri, Mr. Antonio
Plumpton, Mrs. E. A.
Price, Mr. Sidney
Pringle, Mr. Ralph
Proctor's Circus
Purchase's Menagerie
Rastus and Banks
Ravensburg, Miss Elaine
Rawson, Mr. T. W.
Ray, Miss Belle
Reddish, Prof
Reeves, Mr. George
Reilly, Mr. James A.
Richards, Mrs. J. W
Richards, Mr. Sam
Richardson, Mr. J. F.
Rolfe, Mr. Alfred
Rosamond Sisters
Rowland, Capt.
Russell, Mrs. Jack. W.
Russell, Mr. Harry
Russell, Mr. Scott
Ruston, Mr. E. H.
Scherck, Herr
Searelle, Mr. L.
Seeley, Miss Mabel
Shrapnell, Mr. L.
Shelley, Miss Bessie
Sheldon, Mr. George
Sitherland, Mr. Harry
Sivado
Slater, Mdme. R.
Sleedes, Mr. Bobb
Smithson, Mr. Frank
Spencer, Mr. Austin
Stansfield, Mrs. E.
Stewart, Mr.
Stine & Evans, Messrs.
Sullivan, Mr J. E.
Tait, Mr. David
Tally-ho Trio
Taylor, Capt. Joe
Van Biene, Mr. A.
Vane, Miss Edith
Vasco
Vetter, Mr. O.
Vio, Mr. S.
Vowles and Bryan
Vyner, Mr. Leslie
Warner, Sisters
Waterfield, Mr. C.
Whaile, Mr. Ernest
Whayman, Mr
White, Miss Kitty
Winskill, Mr. Eric
Wyndham, Mr. Albert
Zuilla, Mdme.

BIRTHS, MARRIAGES, & DEATHS.

The charge for inserting in "The Era" an announcement of a Birth or Death or an "In Memoriam" notice, not exceeding twenty-four words, is One Shilling and Sixpence, every additional word One Penny.

The charge for a notice of Marriage, not exceeding forty words, is Two Shillings and Sixpence, every additional word One Penny.

As a guarantee of good faith, the name and address of the sender must accompany each notice.

BIRTHS.

DE FRECE.—On May 30th, at Albion Cottage, Brixton-road, S.W., the wife of Jack de Frece of a daughter (stillborn). Many thanks for kind enquiries.

MARRIAGES.

COSGROVE—BURNS. — On June 13, at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Chapel, Mulberry-street, Manchester, Jack Cosgrove, of Edinburgh, to Ethel A. Burns, of Manchester.

DEATHS.

HOLLENDER.—June 11, from pneumonia, Count Max Hollender (Chairman of Board of Directors Palace Theatre), age 51.

MATHEWS.—On the 7th inst., of pneumonia, at 9, Lower Seymour-street, W., Julia Isabelle Mathews, daughter of Harry R. and the late Isabelle Mathews, of New York City, U.S.

WILLIAMS.—June 7, at Paddington, Nellie Williams, music-hall comedienne, aged 41.

IN MEMORIAM.

BEST.—In loving memory of my dear wife and true friend, Louise Dorothy Best (Miss Lalo), who died June 16, 1905. Rest thee, dear one.

CRAWFORD. — In loving memory of my husband, Alexander Gumming Rutherford Crawford (Harry Linn), who died June 11, 1890.

LE FER.—In ever loving memory of our darling son, Albert, aged 13, taken from us June 17, 1905. Deeply regretted by his sorrowing mother and father.

Oh! for the touch of a vanished hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still.

FOR SYMPATHY.

HARCOURT.—Mrs. Fred Harcourt (Lilian Warren) begs to thank her many friends and sympathisers for their letters of condolence on the loss of her child.

OBERAMMAGAU, the home of the Passion Play, was the scene of an interesting ceremony on Whit-Monday, when £500 collected by Miss Milner, Mrs. Lloyd, and Mr. and Mrs. Robertson Lawson in connection with the cottage hospital was handed to the Burgomaster. The money has been collected to endow the hospital in perpetuity in memory of the Passion Play and of the late Burgomaster, Josef Mayr. Miss Milner, in making the presentation, pointed out that generous subscriptions had been given by King Edward and the Duke of Connaught, who warmly approved of the scheme.

BUREAU DE CHANGE

SPECIALLY RECOMMENDED.
HANDS and CO.,
16, STRAND,
CHARING-CROSS RAILWAY STATION,
LONDON, W.C.

"I'll swear upon that bottle."—TEMPEST, Act ii.; Scene ii.

WHITBREAD'S BOTTLED BEERS

maintain their popularity because they are brought into condition by

MATURING IN BOTTLE,

the Natural method,

without the aid of carbonating or other artificial process.

The largest Beer Bottlers in the World.

APPLY TO CHIEF OFFICES,

BRITANNIA ST., KING'S CROSS, LONDON, W.C.

(Telephone No. 366 North. Telegraphic Address, "Bearseller, London.")

FOR NAME OF NEAREST AGENT.

MARTELL'S THREE STAR BRANDY

Unsurpassed for age and quality.

PLASMON

A concentrated nutrient containing all the necessary elements for renewing muscle, brain, and nerves

DINNEFORD'S MAGNESIA.

The Best Remedy for Acidity of the Stomach Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and Indigestion. A Safe and most effective Aperient for regular use.

DELICIOUS COFFEE,

RED WHITE & BLUE

For Breakfast & after Dinner.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES.

For Sustaining the Voice.
Invaluable for ACTORS and SINGERS.
Indispensable for PUBLIC SPEAKERS.

GENTLEMEN,—For sudden affections of the Bronchial Organs I use and most cheerfully recommend "Brown's Troches." They are regarded as most eligible, convenient and indispensable by numerous artists of my acquaintance, BOTH IN EUROPE AND AMERICA. They seem to act specially on the organs of the voice, and produce a clear enunciation.—Yours truly (Signed), MARIE ROZE MAPLESON.

SOLD EVERYWHERE AT 1/1½ PER BOX.

ROWLAND'S ODONTO

FOR THE TEETH.

Whitens, Preserves, Beautifies the Teeth; prevents Tartar and Decay, 2/9, of Stores, Chemists, and ROWLAND'S, 67, Hatton Garden, LONDON.

REAL HAMBURG GROUND

KROPP RAZOR

NEVER REQUIRES GRINDING.

Black Handle.....5s. 6d.		Pair Ivory Handles in Russia Leather Case .....21s. 0d.
Ivory Handle .....7s. 6d.		Kropp Strop Paste	6d.
Kropp Duplex Strop7s. 6d.

Wholesale:
OSBORNE, GARRETT, AND CO., LONDON, W.

BIRKBECK BANK.

ESTABLISHED 1851.
CURRENT ACCOUNTS.—TWO PER CENT. Interest allowed on Minimum Monthly Balances when not drawn below £100.
DEPOSITS.—TWO-AND-A-HALF PER CENT. Interest allowed on Deposit Accounts.
ADVANCES MADE. STOCKS AND SHARES Bought and Sold.
Apply, C. F. RAVENSCROFT, Secretary, Southampton-buildings, HIGH HOLBORN, W.C.

THE MISTAKE MADE IN FURNISHING

is in having no settled plan, no fixed idea of exactly what will be required, down to the minutest detail in every room, and the exact cost. If you would furnish in STYLE, and yet with ECONOMY, you should secure the HACKNEY FURNISHING CO.'S an illustrated volume that has helped thousands, together with Prospectus of our famed "MODEL" SYSTEM, testimonials, &c.

GUIDE AND CATALOGUE,

POST FREE.

CAUTION.—Please note HACKNEY FURNISHING CO., LTD., Painted over the Premises before entering. We are compelled to notify this.

HACKNEY Furnishing Co., Ltd.

CASH BARGAINS OR EASY TERMS.

GENERAL TERMS.

Worth.	Per Month.
£10	£0 6 0
20	0 11 0
30	0 17 0
40	1 5 0
50	1 8 0
100	2 5 0
200	4 10 0
500	11 5 0

and pro rata.

Special Facilities for Members of the Dramatic and Music Hall Professions.

10 per cent. Discount for Cash.

Carpets, &c., laid free.

No Deposit Required.

TOWN HALL BUILDINGS, MARE STREET, HACKNEY, N.E., AND THE GROVE, ADJOINING.

Hours, 9 till 9; Thursdays close 4. Telegrams: "Furniments London." Tele.: 84 Dalston and 854. North Country orders packed free and carriage paid. OPEN SATURDAYS until a LATE HOUR. A. M. STEWART, Managing Director.

SHAFTESBURY
LIVERY STABLES,
25a, LISLE-ST., W.
(Close to Hippodrome and Leicester-square.)

HORSES FOR THEATRICAL ENTERTAINMENTS A SPECIALTY.

Hacks and Job Horses on Hire. Lessons given. Apply to Manager. Telephone 11,106 Central.

BEDFORD PANTECHNICON,
17, PERCY STREET, TOTTENHAM COURT-ROAD, LONDON, W.
FURNITURE, SCENERY, MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, and PROFESSIONAL WARDROBES
Carefully Packed for Removal and Warehoused.
Estimates free.

A. BLACKFORD.
LADIES' and GENTLEMAN'S THEATRICAL BOOTS and SHOES in Great Variety.
Companies Fitted.
Estimates Free on Application.
3, 4, and 5, KING-STREET, COVENT GARDEN, W.C.
Telephone, P.O. Central, 5,014.

DRESS CLOTHES LENT.—BLACKFORD has for SALE or HIRE the Finest of CLOTHES for Theatres, Balls, Parties, Weddings, Dinners, Funerals, &c. Clothes sent to any part of England. Perfect Fit guaranteed. 3, 4, and 5, KING-STREET, COVENT GARDEN (one door from Market), and 31, WELLINGTON-STREET, STRAND. Telegraphic Address, "Misfits, London." Telephone, P.O. Central, 5,014.

"THE ERA" IN PARIS.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS AND SUBSCRIBERS.

THE ANGLO-PARISIAN EXCHANGE,
22, CHAUSEE D'ANTIN, PARIS
(C. M. ERCOLE, DIRECTOR).

SINGLE COPIES ON SALE.
SUBSCRIPTIONS RECEIVED.
ADVERTISEMENTS ACCEPTED

Apply or Address,
ANGLO-PARISIAN EXCHANGE,
22, Chausee d'Antin, Paris.
Cable Address, "ERCOLE, PARIS."
Telephone 32,400.

"THE ERA" IN SOUTH AFRICA.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS AND SUBSCRIBERS.

THE CENTRAL NEWS AGENCY, LTD.

SINGLE COPIES ON SALE.
SUBSCRIPTIONS RECEIVED.
ADVERTISEMENTS ACCEPTED.

Apply or Address,
The CENTRAL NEWS AGENCY, Ltd.,
Cape Town, Johannesburg, Pretoria, Durban, Bloemfontein, &c., &c.

LONDON THEATRES.

HIS MAJESTY'S. MR. TREE.
Every Evening, at 8.15,

COLONEL NEWCOME,
by Michael Morton.
Adapted from Thackeray's "The Newcomes."

Colonel Newcome, Mr. TREE.
Matinée Every Wednesday, at 2.15.
Box Office (Mr. Watts), 10 to 10. Tel., 1777 Gerrard.

GAIETY THEATRE.
Manager, Mr. GEORGE EDWARDES.

Every Evening at 8 (doors open 7.40).

The Successful Musical Play,

THE NEW SPRING CHICKEN,

Box Office open from 10.0 till 10.0.

ST. JAMES'S.
GEORGE ALEXANDER.
To-night and Every Evening at 8.15, sharp.
In a New Comedy,
HIS HOUSE IN ORDER, by A. W. Pinero.
Mr. George Alexander,
Miss Irene Vanbrugh.

Matinée, Every Wednesday and Saturday, at 2.
Box Office, 10 to 10. Tel. 3903 Gerrard.

GARRICK. — MR. ARTHUR BOURCHIER, in Two Plays. At 8 in THE THIRD TIME OF ASKING. At 8.40, with
Miss VIOLET VANBRUGH,
in
THE FASCINATING MR. VANDERVELDT.
by Alfred Sutro.
Presented by Mr. Bourchier and Mr. Charles Frohman. Matinées Wednesday and Saturday, at 2.

DALY'S THEATRE.
Revival by
Mr. GEORGE EDWARDES.
THE GEISHA,
THE GEISHA,
THE GEISHA,
THE GEISHA,
THE GEISHA,
THE GEISHA,
on Monday next, and Every Evening, and Matinée Every Saturday.

DUKE OF YORK'S THEATRE.—Sole Lessee and Manager, CHARLES FROHMAN. Every Evening, at 9.0, Charles Frohman presents MISS MARIE TEMPEST and MISS ELLIS JEFFREYS in THE MARRIAGE OF KITTY. At 8.20, ALBERT CHEVALIER in PANTALOON. MATINEE EVERY THURSDAY and SATURDAY, at 2.20.

COMEDY THEATRE.
Sole Lessee, Mr. ARTHUR CHUDLEIGH.
Under the Management of Mr. Arthur Chudleigh.
Every Evening at 8.30.
CHARLES FROHMAN presents
RAFFLES,
THE AMATEUR CRACKSMAN,
a Play, in Four Acts,
by E. W. Hornung and Eugene W. Presbrey.
Matinée, every Saturday, at 2.30.

NEW ROYALTY THEATRE,
DEAN-STREET, W.

Friday, June 29, at 3 o'clock,
Mr. WILLIAM POEL'S SPECIAL MATINEE to Introduce Mr. SAMUEL ARTHUR KING of America.
Soliloquies from Shakespeare and Half-Hour Dialogues.
Seats at the Theatre and Libraries.

KING'S THEATRE, W.
'Phone, 119 HAMMERSMITH. Owner and Resident-Manager, J. B. MULHOLLAND.
Communications re dates at the MARLBOROUGH THEATRE, address MR. MULHOLLAND.
"THE NEW MAGDALEN."—To Let, for Special Weeks, Stock or Tour, address King's Theatre, W.

MARLBOROUGH THEATRE.
Managing Directors,
Mr. ERNEST STEVENS and Mr. R. C. BUCHANAN.

All communications re Dates, to Mr. J. B. MULHOLLAND, King's Theatre, Hammersmith, W.
All other communications to Messrs. STEVENS and BUCHANAN, Marlborough Theatre, N.
'Phone, 131 North.

WOOLWICH.—GRAND THEATRE.
The Premier Theatre of S.E. London.
Proprietor & Manager, Mr. CLARENCE SOUNES.
Monday, June 18,
NORMAN V. NORMAN and Company.
Matinée, Thursday, at 2.30.
Vacant Sept. 3, Oct. 15, Nov. 5, 19, Dec. 10.
Big First-class No. 1 Attractions only.
Add., Prince's Theatre, Poplar, London, E.

POPLAR. NEW PRINCE'S THEATRE.
The Premier Theatre of East London.
Proprietor & Manager, Mr. CLARENCE SOUNES.
Monday, June 18,
"A WOMAN OF PLEASURE."
Matinée, Thursday, at 2.30.
Now Booking 1907.
First-Class No. 1 Attractions only. Tele., 64 East.
Add., Prince's Theatre., Poplar, London, E.

ROYAL COUNTY THEATRE,
KINGSTON-ON-THAMES.
Managing Director, Mr. PETER DAVEY.
Monday, June 18, one week,
"THE SUPERIOR MISS PELLENDER."
Tel., "Theatre, Kingston." 'Phone, 58, Kingston.

ROYAL WEST LONDON THEATRE,
CHURCH-STREET, EDGWARE-ROAD, W.
June 18,
The Princess's Success,
"HOW LONDON LIVES."
June 25, "The Gambler's Daughter."

Doors open 7.30. Commence 8.0.
Saturdays 7.15.
Popular Prices. Telephone, 2,247, Mayfair.

LONDON MUSIC HALLS.

ROYAL STANDARD MUSIC HALL (facing Victoria Station). Proprietor and Manager, Mr. T. S. DICKIE. One House Nightly.
Monday, June 18.—Ben Hur and Co., in "Culture," Jake Friedman, Maud Prenton, Muir, Bartlett and Co., in "How Baggs was Bagged," Four Watsons, The Lurins, Tom Bass, Will Lytton, Millie Denham, Lil O'Gorman, Cliff and Kean, Fred Lester, Mark Reeves, Edisonograph.
Doors open 7.30 (Saturdays 7 o'clock). Rehearsal, Monday, 1 o'clock. Assist.-Manager, Mr. M. Volny.

HAMMERSMITH PALACE.
Monday, June 18.
The Great Geo. Robey, Helen Charles, Maudie Ford, Tray and Rich, Harry Rogerson, Frank Gee, Three Rubies, Bijou Russell, The Clarion Trio, Maud Prenton, Royston Dene and Co., in the Thrilling Dramatic Episode, "His Birthday," Edisonograph, Society Quartette, Johnnie Schofield and Charlie Piddock, presenting "Missing." Tele.., 106 Hammersmith. Manager, LEWIS VINCENT.

ROYAL ALBERT MUSIC HALL,
Victoria Dock-road (opposite Canning Town Railway Station). Proprietor and Manager, Mr. CHARLES RELF, sen.; Chairman, Mr. Walter Leaver; Musical-Director, Mr. R. A. Howell. Monday, June 18: Mr. Fred Lawrence, in "Muggins, V.C.," Harry Thurston, Lillie Esplin, Thursby and Alexander, Fred Bronte, Rita Ray, Walter Payne's Bio-Photoscope, Harry Talbot, Ernie Plummer, Dick Cruickshanks and Co., in "Bridget's Idea."
Popular prices, from 3d. to 1s. 6d.

QUEEN'S PALACE OF VARIETIES,
HIGH-ST., POPLAR. Telephone, 714 East.
Proprietors, Messrs. F. and M. ABRAHAMS.
Monday, June 18, twice nightly, matinée every Thursday.—Fred G. Brooke and Co., in "The Abode of Love," Minnie Wren, Fred Herbert, Forest and King, Professor Fuller's Astarte, Bert and Dora Emmie Harlow, New Bioscope, Miss Jessie M. Lyons presents "La Petite Dora."
Band rehearsal every Monday at 12.
Popular Prices.
General-Manager, Mr. JACK WOOLF.

LONDON MUSIC HALLS.

ALHAMBRA.
New Ballet, "L'AMOUR." Premiere Danseuse, Signorina MARIA BORDIN.
Varieties by Le Roy, Talma, and Bosco, Hilgert Arkas Co., Gotham Comedy Quartette, The Alfonso Trio, Musical Johnstons, Urbanora, "Marriage Fêtes at Madrid," &c., "PARISIANA" BALLET.
Manager, Mr. GEORGE SCOTT.

EMPIRE (Leicester-sq.).—COPPELIA.
New Ballet, Mdlle. Adeline Genée, Première Danseuse.

ARTHUR PRINCE, World's Greatest Ventriloquist, "Venus, 1906," Morris Cronin and Troupe, R. H. Douglass, The Australian Quartette, Wylie's Circus, Ludwig Amann, Bros. Martine, Biograph, &c. Every Evening at 8.
Manager, Mr. H. J. HITCHINS.

PALACE.
Guerrero, Rose Stahl, Matthews and Ashley, Germinal, &c., The Royal Wedding, Grand Prix, H.M.S. Montagu, Polo, &c., on the Bioscope.
Every evening, at 8 (doors 7.45).
Special Priced Matinée Every Saturday, at 2.
Manager, Mr. ALFRED BUTT.

THE OXFORD.
Vesta Victoria, Geo. Bastow, King and Benson, Dan Crawley, Madge Vincent, Sam Mayo, Six Bros. Luck, Lilian Lowe, Harriett Vernon, Jury's Bioscope, with Spanish Wedding Pictures, Drawee, Mayme Gehrue, Laurie's Juveniles, Borghetti Troupe, Will Van Allen, Billee Barlow, and "The King of Sahara" Burlesque Sketch.
Open 7.35.
Manager, Mr. ALBERT GILMER.
Saturday Matinées at 2.15.

THE TIVOLI,
Marie Lloyd, Wilkie Bard, Harry Tate, George Robey, John Ford, Victoria Monks, the Anartos, Fred Russell, Gus Elen, Tom Foy and Co., George Bastow, Edith Helena, Doody and Wright, Vesta Victoria.

Manager, JOSEPH WILSON.
Open 7.30.
Saturday Matinées (Reduced Prices), 2.15.

CANTERBURY.
Vesta Victoria, Gracie Grahame, Morton Trio, May Edouin and Fred Edwards presenting "A Bachelor's Dream," Harvey Boys, Kitts and Windrum, George Bastow, Tom Edwards, Nevill Graham and Co. in "The Man in the Street," R. H. Douglas, Rachel Lowe, Ruffel's Imperial Bioscope, presenting "Quarter-Day Conjuring," Fred Karno's Comedians in "Mumming Bird." Doors open 7.15. Performance commences 7.30. Telephone 726 Hop.

PARAGON,
Mile End-road, E.—Wilkie Bard, Lowenwirth Bros., Will Evans, F. Gillett Trio, Carrie Laurie's Juveniles, Sisters Marion, Revington and Gordyn, Wilson Hallett, Charles Norton, Sylvia Cavalho and Co., Ruffle's Imperial Bioscope, E. Rousby's Electrical Review. Prices from 3d. to 2l/- Doors open at 7.30.
Telephone, 165 Eastern.
Manager, CHARLES BEECHAM.

MIDDLESEX, DRURY LANE, W.C.
Lightning Programme.—Jack McKenzie and Co., in the New Comedy Sketch, "The Belle of Barcelona," Marguerite Broadfoote, Booker and Narbis, Syd. Godfrey, Geo. Barron, Duncan, and Godfrey, in "Me and 'Er," Sisters Albert, Cyril Carle, Cliff and Kean, New Bioscope, Sam Mayo, in his Latest Success, Lucy Coventry, H. Russell, Sisters Tinsley, Lilian Trevelli, Geoffreys and Benson, in their Comedy Duologue, "Spoofed." Commence 7.15. Saturdays one hour earlier.

THE METROPOLITAN,
Edgware-road, W.—Wilkie Bard, George Robey, Fred Karno and Co. in "The Smoking Concert," Dan Crawley, Jordan and Harvey, Fred Russell, A. Ba-Be postcard album, Geo. Thorne and Co. in "Rats," Marguerite Broadfoote, Pilar, Morin, and Lawrence Sterner in "My Twin Wife," Vernon Troupe, Lupino Bros., Bensons, Amy Russell, Edie King. Open 7.15. Prices 6d. to £1 10s.
Manager, J. W. EDGAR.

THE EUSTON
(opposite St. Pancras Station).

Twice Nightly, at 6.40 and 9.10.
The Midget Mimes, The Morton Trio, Glenroy Troupe, Rose Hamilton, Tom Leamore, Gracie Graham, John Ford, Dan Crawley, Leo Tell, Hettie Chattell.

Manager, FRED M'AVOY.

NEW BEDFORD PALACE OF VARIETIES (Ltd.), CAMDEN-TOWN, N.W.
Mr. A. F. LOVESEY, Manager.
Twice Nightly, at 6.10 and 9.10.
Next week, June 18,
Mr. and Mrs. Royston-Dene in "His Birthday," Bessie Butt, Cullane Trio, Walter King, Rosie Lloyd, Benson and Geoffreys, Luis Hardt, T. P. Carroll, Ruffell's Bioscope, the Melody Makers, George Collins.
All Artists are notified that they must send their full bill matter in two clear weeks before opening. Rehearsal, 1.0 o'clock, Mondays. All artists engaged must attend. Artists not complying with the above rules are subject to having their contracts cancelled at the option of the Management.

SOUTH LONDON PALACE,
London-road, S.E.

Twice nightly, at 6.10 and 9.10.—Wilkie Bard, The Daunton-Shaw Troupe, Rachel Lowe, Gilbert Girard, Sylvia Cavalho, Howe and Hardie, Jack Lorimer, Ruffell's Bioscope, Victoria Monks.

Manager, FRANK WEEKS.

WALTHAMSTOW PALACE.
Two Performances Nightly, at 6.30 and 9.
Band Rehearsal at 3 p.m. on Mondays.
All Artists must attend.
Elsie Molloy and Co., Valazzi, Katie Marsh, Herbert La Martine, Sid Cotterill and Co., Daisy Davidson, Clito Clifford, Zarmo, Ruffell's Imperial Bioscope.
Manager, ARTHUR J. BARCLAY.

CHELSEA PALACE,
King's-road, Chelsea.
Twice Nightly, at 6.40 and 9.10.

Monday.—G. H. Chirgwin, Alice Digby Troupe, The Korries, Maggie Carr, Harry Rogerson, Dion Wade, Tray and Rich, Booker and Narbis, The Ongars, Jordan and Harvey.

Manager, EDWARD SWANBOROUGH.

EMPRESS THEATRE OF VARIETIES,
Brixton.—Joe Elvin and Co., "Obedient Billy," Herbert Shelley, Wal Pink, "Cheap Jack," Jack Lorimer, Fred Dunstone, Maree Kean, Daisy James, "the Little Magnet," Sisters Marion, Two Bostons, The Brontés, Tom Foy and Co., The Glenroy Troupe, Doody and Wright, Will Evans, Bob Hutt and Co. in "Welcome Home." 'Phone, No. 41 Brixton. Doors open at 7.30. Half-time, 9.30. Anniversary, June 29.
Manager, NELSON FRANCIS.

Price 3s. 6d. Post free 3s. 10d

THE LAW OF COPYRIGHT
FOR ACTOR AND COMPOSER.

BY ALBERT A. STRONG, LL.B.

Mr. A. A. Strong has published a book on "The Law of Copyright for Actor and Composer," which should be in the hands of everyone who is obliged to know about this perplexing subject. Dramatic copyright in England is in a particularly unsatisfactory state, and it is much to be hoped that ere long some more rational method of securing protection for a play may be devised than the slovenly and sometimes costly "production for copyright purposes," which is at present required.—St. James's Gazette.

Published at "The Era" Buildings,
5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

LONDON HIPPODROME.
Twice Daily,
at 2 and 8 p.m.
"The Flood," Link! Lavater Lee, Bioscope, Spessardy's Bears, Les Bastions, Staley's Transformation, Inaudi, Morton and Elliott, Trapnell Family, Die Obersteiners, Three Olympiers, Jas. H. Jee, Max Yorke's Dogs, Barowskys, La Lios Alfa, &c.

MASKELYNE and DEVANT'S MYSTERIES,
ST. GEORGE'S HALL, Langham-place,
Oxford-street Tube Stations.
Daily, at 3 at 8.
Our Newest Marvels,
"Dr. Hardly's Experiment,"
"The Homing Bells," "The Problem of Diogenes,"
"The New Page," &c., &c.
Seats, 1s. to 5s. 'Phone, 1545 Mayfair.

THE BRITISH AND FOREIGN CONCERT BUREAU.

Telegrams and Cables, "Adamismic."
Valhalla, 10, Titchfield-terrace, Regent's Park, N.W.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.
Artists supplied for At Homes, Concerts, Parties, and Social Functions. Tours booked in all parts of the world. Auditions and advice to artists free. Appointments by letter only, to Secretary, as above.

QUEEN'S HALL.
Under distinguished patronage.
HYLDA STAPYLTON'S
SERIES OF GRAND CONCERTS at Popular Prices.

MUSIC OF THE NATIONS (Ancient and Modern).
Music selected from old MSS., and analytical notes prepared by E. H. Montepic, lecturer to the Society France en Angleterre.

IRISH CONCERT.
FRIDAY, JUNE 22, at 8.15 p.m.
Artists.
MISS AGNES NICHOLLS (from the Royal Italian Opera, Covent Garden).
HYLDA STAPYLTON (contralto).
RANDAL WOODHOUSE (tenor), specially engaged from Dublin.
GORDON CLEATHER (baritone).
FRANZ MEISEL (violinist).
(By kind permission of Mr. George Edwardes.)
RICHARD BARTHELEMY (pianist).
GAETANE BRITT (harpist). (Harpist to Her Majesty the Queen of the Belgians.)
At the piano,
Mr. HAMILTON HARTY.

Brinsmead piano used at this concert.

Prices of admission: Reserved seats, 7s. 6d., 5s., 3s., 2s.; Unreserved, 1s.

WELSH CONCERT,
THURSDAY, JULY 5, at 8.15 p.m.
FRENCH AND BELGIAN CONCERT,
TUESDAY, JULY 10, at 8.15 p.m.

Further particulars of these concerts later.

Tickets can be obtained at the Box Office, Queen's Hall, usual agents, and THE BRITISH AND FOREIGN CONCERT BUREAU, 10, Titchfield-terrace, Regent's Park, N.W.

STEINWAY HALL.
GILBERT SHORTER'S
DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL RECITAL,

Fifth of Series,

TO-DAY at 3 o'clock.

Artists.
Mr. STANLEY ADAMS (Canadian baritone).
Mr. GEORGE B. SHAPIRO (pianist).
Mr. JULIUS FALK (violinist).
LITTLE BERYL.
and
Miss JEAN NEWMAN.
Music to Mr. SHORTER'S recitations arranged and played by Mdme. LILLIAN ADAMS.
At the piano,
Mr. SYDNEY W. TOMS.

Tickets, Reserved, 10/6, 7/6, 5/-, 3/-, 2/6. Unreserved, 1/- At the Box Office, and the usual Agents; also of THE BRITISH AND FOREIGN CONCERT BUREAU, 10, Titchfield-terrace, Regent's Park, N.W.

FUNDS, &c.

ROYAL GENERAL THEATRICAL FUND.
FOR MEMBERS BECOMING INCAPACITATED EITHER BY OLD AGE OR INFIRMITY.
Hon. Treasurer, EDWARD TERRY, Esq.
CHARLES J. DAVIES, Secretary, Savoy House, Strand.

ACTORS' BENEVOLENT FUND,
8, ADAM-STREET, STRAND.
C. I. COLTSON, Secretary.

ACTORS' ASSOCIATION
(Incorporated under the Companies Acts, 1862 to 1900), 10, King-street, Covent Garden, London, W.C. Annual Subscription, 15s.; entrance fee 5s.
A Scheme of Insurance is now in force by which every member, whose subscription for the year is paid, is covered under certain conditions.
CHARLES CRUIKSHANKS, Sec. Telephone, No. 1753 Gerrard. Telegraphic address, "Actoris, London."

MUSIC HALL BENEVOLENT FUND.
Established 1888. Offices, 18, ADAM-ST., STRAND, W.C. Hon President, Sir JOSEPH RENALS, Bart.
President, J. L. GRAYDON, Esq.; Trustees, G. ADNEY PAYNE, Esq., and R. WARNER, Esq.; Treasurer, J. L. GRAYDON, Esq.; Secretary, HORACE MARRIOTT.
Committee:—Chairman, Frank Weeks, Esq.; Vice-Chairman, H. G. Hibbert, Esq.; Frank Allen, Angelo A. Asher, Hugh Astley, Chas. Beecham, C. Berte, E. Brown, James Chappell, C. Chapman, D. J. Clarke, W. Clarkson, J. W. Cragg, J. Dunedin, H. M. Edmunds, Joe Elvin, James Fortune, Harry De Frece, Walter De Frece, Jack De Frece, Edgar Granville, Edward Granville, Fred Griffiths, H. Griff, Henri Gros, C. E. Howell, A. Hubner, W. F. Hurndall, S. M. Hyman, John Lawson, John Leopold, L. C. J. Livermore, Joe Lyons, Alan Macey, Fred Mc'Avoy, Harry Masters, A. W. Matcham, Fred Miller, T. M. M'Naughton, D. Monro, G. W. Moore, Sir E. H. Moss, George Mozart, Joe O'Gorman, Will Oliver, Tom Pacey, C. Blyth-Pratt, Harry Randall, Phil Ray, George Robey, Fred Russell, J. D. Stuart, J. Selbini, Tom Shaw, Jack Somers, Walter Stockwell, Paul Valentine, E. Warner, B. Williams, Captain E. H. Warren Wright.
The Relief Committee Meets every Thursday, at 2 o'clock.

MUSIC HALL SICK FUND,
Founded 1867. Postal address, 1, YORK-RD., LONDON, S.E. Committee Meetings Second Wednesday in Month at 2 p.m. Sick Payments, £1, for 6d. per week; £1.10s., for 9d. per week. £10 paid to nearest Relative on death of Member. President, Mr. PAT CAREY; Hon. Treasurer, Mr. FRANK HEATH; Secretary, R. T. BAINES.

SCENIC ARTISTS' ASSOCIATION.
Next Committee Meeting and 5th Social Dinner,
ADELPHI HOTEL, JOHN-STREET, STRAND,
TUESDAY,
September 25th, 1906.

CHARLES VAUGHAN BRETHERTON,
Deceased.
Notice.—All persons having claims against the Estate of Charles Vaughan Bretherton, late of Park Lodge, Surbiton Hill Park, Surbiton, Surrey, and of Drury Lane Theatre, Electrical Engineer, who died on the 7th day of May, 1906, are required to send particulars thereof to the undersigned before 15th July, 1906, after which date the Estate will be distributed having regard only to claims then notified.
Dated 15th June, 1906.
WATKIN-WILLIAMS, GRAY and STEEL,
1, King William-street, London, E.C.,
Solicitors for the Administrator.

COLONIAL THEATRES.

AUSTRALIA.
MELBOURNE, SYDNEY, BRISBANE.
Mr. J. C. WILLIAMSON,
Manager of the Leading Australian Theatres.
HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE, MELBOURNE;
HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE, SYDNEY;
THEATRE ROYAL, SYDNEY;
HIS MAJESTY'S THEATRE, BRISBANE.

London Representative:
J. A. E. MALONE, Daly's Theatre.

AUSTRALIA.
Mr. HARRY RICKARDS'
AUSTRALIAN ENTERPRISES:—
NEW TIVOLI THEATRE, SYDNEY;
NEW TIVOLI HOTEL, SYDNEY;
NEW GRAND OPERA HOUSE, MELBOURNE;
NEW PRINCE OF WALES'S HOTEL, MELBOURNE;
TIVOLI THEATRE, ADELAIDE;
THEATRE ROYAL, PERTH.

AUSTRALIA.
Mr. HARRY RICKARDS
will arrive in England per P. and O. Steamer India, June 23, to book Artists and Attractions for the whole of 1907 and 1908.
Address all letters and wires "The Era" Office.
Private Secretary, JOSEPH F. LARKIN.

AUSTRALIA.
Mr. EDWARD LAURI and COMPANY arrive home per R.M.S. China July 2, after an enormously successful tour of Australia and New Zealand. Mr. Lauri is empowered to purchase pieces, and engage Artists and Novelties in all branches of the profession for a six or twelve months' tour of the Colonies.
The Sydney Referee, April 11, 1906, says:—Mr. Stephenson's company is one of the best, if not the best, that has ever toured this colony. Never before have we had five capable comedians, all expert dancers, in one company, while vocally there are no less than ten cultured singers.
The above company was organised and the pieces produced by Mr. Lauri in England and Australia, originally for a six months' tour, and on May 28, 1906, they concluded a two years' engagement.
Notice.—To authors, composers, artists, and others.—Mr. Edward Lauri begs to inform all whom it may concern that he terminated his engagement with Mr. George Stephenson, of Australia and New Zealand, on May 27, 1906. Address pending arrival, Care of "The Era" Office.

SOUTH AFRICA.
Messrs. B. and F. WHEELER
now control the
ONLY CIRCUIT OF THEATRES
in
SOUTH AFRICA.

Proprietors and Lessees of
OPERA HOUSE, CAPETOWN,
HIS MAJESTY'S THEATRE, JOHANNESBURG,
WHEELER'S OPERA HOUSE, PRETORIA,
THEATRE ROYAL, DURBAN.

Companies Now Touring:
George Edwardes's Gaiety Company,
Wheeler-Edwardes' No. 2 Musical Company,
Wheeler's Comedy Company,
and
The D'Oyly Carte Principal Répertoire Co.

London Representative,
J. A. E. MALONE, Daly's Theatre.

AFRICA.
LEONARD RAYNE.
Business-Manager in South Africa,
GRANT FALLOWES.

London Representative,
GEORGE RAYNE.

Portugal House, Portugal-street, W.C.

PROVINCIAL THEATRES.

ALDERSHOT.—THEATRE ROYAL.
Lessee and Manager, Mr. CLARENCE SOUNES.
Now Booking 1907.
Add., Prince's Theatre, Poplar, London, E.

BLACKPOOL.
HER MAJESTY'S OPERA HOUSE,
WINTER GARDENS.
The PRINCIPAL THEATRE,
Holds MORE MONEY at ORDINARY PRICES, and has better average business throughout the Year than any Theatre in the Town.
The most comfortable, Elegant, and Best Equipped Theatre. Large and Well Electric Lighted Stage and First-Class Orchestra.
All visitors to the Theatre have Free Admission to the Winter Gardens, Floral Hall, Empress Ballroom, and Pavilion Entertainments, thus Companies visiting Her Majesty's Opera House have this additional attraction, which no other Theatre can offer. Only best No. 1 Companies booked.
For Dates, address, JNO. R. HUDDLESTONE, Manager, Winter Gardens, Blackpool.

BLACKPOOL.
GRAND THEATRE.

Holds at Ordinary Prices more money than any Theatre in the Town, as any Responsible Manager who has visited Blackpool can Prove.

The Premier Theatre.

Mr. Beerbohm Tree says it is the most perfect and best-managed theatre in the Kingdom.

Only First Companies Entertained.

Apply for Dates to
T. SERGENSON,
Proprietor and Manager.

CAMBRIDGE.—NEW THEATRE (Ltd.)
Man. Director, Mr. W. B. REDFERN, J.P., D.L.
A theatre among the most beautiful in England.—Sunday Times. Now booking Autumn Dates, commencing Sept. 17; a few in Term dates vacant in Oct., Nov., and Dec.
Silence a polite negative.

COLCHESTER.—THEATRE ROYAL.
Sole Proprietor, Mr. CHAS. MACDONA.
Vacant Dates, Nov. 1 (3), 12, 26.
Christmas, for Pantomime, or Musical Show.

All communications to CHAS. MACDONA.
17, Shaftesbury-avenue, W.

DUBLIN. — GAIETY THEATRE.
MRS. MICHAEL GUNN
is now Booking Dates for 1907-8.
All Communications to be Addressed to her at above Theatre.

DUBLIN. QUEEN'S ROYAL THEATRE
Sole Proprietor and Patentee, Mr. ELLIS JONES.
Lessee and Manager, Mr. J. W. WHITBREAD.
July 16, Vacant through obliging Mr. John Cassidy.
Address, J. W. WHITBREAD.
Silence in all cases a respectful negative.

GRIMSBY.—PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE, LTD.
Established 1884.
Chairman, H. J. CURRY.
Managing-Director, JOSEPH H. CURRY
Open all the Year Round.

CURRY'S TIVOLI THEATRE OF VARIETIES, LIMITED.
Chairman, Mr. H. J. CURRY.
Managing-Director, Mr. JOSEPH H. CURRY.
Closed for short summer season.
Telegraphic Add., "Curry, Grimsby." Tel. No. 240.

IPSWICH. — LYCEUM.
General-Manager, MR. LEONARD GREY.

Vacant, Aug. 16 (3 nights), Aug. 27 (?), Sept. 3 (?) Sept. 17 (3 nights), Oct. 29, Nov. 5, 12, 26, a Few Spring Dates.

Apply, LEONARD GREY, LYCEUM, IPSWICH.

PROVINCIAL THEATRES.

HANLEY.—THEATRE ROYAL, LTD.
Please note:
The Staffordshire Potteries for all Dramatic Purposes
must be considered as one large town.
Hanley has undoubtedly the Largest Theatre and Stage In Staffordshire.
Lighted by Electricity.

Accommodation for 3,700 People.

Electric Trams and Trains after Performance to ends of the District, Longton, Stoke, Burslem, and Tunstall.
Vacant Dates, Sept. 10, 24, Oct. 22, Nov. 5, and 12. For First-class Companies only.

CHAS. E. ELPHINSTONE,
Managing-Director.

HEYWOOD (Manchester).—Correspondent required to supply theatre reports weekly. Address, DRAMATICUS, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

JARROW. — THEATRE ROYAL.
BARROW, ROYALTY T. and OPERA HOUSE. CONSETT, NEW THEATRE.
Lessee and Manager, Mr. HUGH ROBERTSON.

Vacant Dates: Jarrow, Oct. 22, Nov. 12, and Dec. 17 for Special Attractions. Barrow, Oct. 8, 29, and Dec. 3 for first-class Musical Attractions only. The Bookings for this Theatre include the Principal Attractions Touring. Consett, Aug. Bank Holiday, and on, with exceptions.
Re Dates, HUGH ROBERTSON, T. R., Jarrow.

KIDDERMINSTER.—OPERA HOUSE.
Elegantly equipped. Bookings include, "Duchess of Dantzic," "Girl from Kay's," "The Christian," "Blue Moon," No vacant dates until Autumn, 1906. J. P. MOORE, West Bromwich.

KINGSTOWN PAVILION and GARDENS, LTD. General Manager, Mr. C. IRVINE BACON. Concerts, Plays, Operas, Open-Air Fêtes, Fireworks, Sunday Afternoon Sacred and Classical Concerts.

NOTTINGHAM.—GRAND THEATRE.
Manager, CHARLES P. COOKE.
Vacant Oct. 15, Feb. 25. Can arrange three weeks' stock on rental from July 7.
Only responsible persons treated with.

OLDHAM. — EMPIRE THEATRE.
The Premier Theatre; Holding Capacity £200.
Vacant Sept. 3, 17, Nov 19.
Musical Attractions only.
Address, ERNEST DOTTRIDGE.

OXFORD. — NEW THEATRE.
Managers of First-class Companies are invited to apply for Dates to
Mr. THOMAS LUCAS, J.P.,
Managing-Director.
Silence a polite negative.

PONTYPOOL.—Correspondent Required to supply Theatre Reports Weekly. Address, DRAMATICUS, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, London.

PORTSMOUTH. — NEW THEATRE ROYAL.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. J. W. BOUGHTON.

Open throughout the Year.
First class Companies. Weekly Matinées.

SWANSEA.—Correspondent Required to supply Theatrical and Music Hall Reports weekly. Address, DRAMATICUS, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

TUNBRIDGE WELLS. — OPERA HOUSE.
Vacant July 16 (3 nights), Cricket Week, July 23 (week), Aug. 23 (3 nights), Nov. 19, 26, and several Spring Season dates. CHARLES CAREY.

WAKEFIELD. — OPERA HOUSE.
Sole Proprietors, SHERWOOD and Co.
Vacant Aug. 6, and onwards.
Required Pantomime Feb. 11 and 18.
Address, SHERWOOD and Co., Theatre, Wakefield.

WEST BROMWICH.—HIPPODROME AND THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietors and Manager, Mr. James P. Moore. The only permanent and successful building. A temporary Hippodrome and Pavilion has just been removed by the police. All communications re dates, J. P. MOORE, Hippodrome and Theatre.

SCOTLAND'S PROVINCIAL THEATRES.
Managing-Director, Mr. R. C. BUCHANAN.

GRAND THEATRE, GLASGOW.
First-class Attractions only.
Bookings include First Visit to Glasgow of "The Blue Moon."

KING'S THEATRE,
EDINBURGH.
At Present in Course of Erection.
Will Open in December with
Mr. Robert Courtneidge's Pantomime,
"Cinderella."

THE ALEXANDRA, GREENOCK.
THE NEW CENTURY, MOTHERWELL.
THEATRE ROYAL, COATBRIDGE.
THE NEW GAIETY, LEITH.
THE NEW GAIETY, AYR.
THE KING'S, KILMARNOCK.
THE GRAND, FALKIRK.
THE NEW GAIETY, CLYDEBANK.
THE KING'S, KIRKCALDY.

Also Booked in conjunction,
THE METROPOLE, GLASGOW and THE THEATRE ROYAL, NORTH SHIELDS.
By arrangement with Mr. Jefferson.
HER MAJESTY'S, CARLISLE.
By arrangement with Stanley Rogers, Esq.
All communications to Mr. R. C. BUCHANAN, General Office, Grand Theatre, Glasgow.
Telegraphic Address, "Bookings, Glasgow."

SCALE OF CHARGES FOR PROVINCIAL THEATRES AND PROVINCIAL MUSIC HALLS
Five Lines, TWO and SIXPENCE.
Thirteen Insertions (including a Copy of "The Era" Weekly), THIRTY SHILLINGS.
For Each Additional Line, Sixpence.
Address, the PUBLISHER,
"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.
"Wire," "The Era, London."
"Ring-up," 4,747, Central.

ACADEMIES AND SCHOOLS.

ROYAL ACADEMY OF MUSIC,
TENTERDEN-STREET, W.
Instituted 1822. Incorporated by Royal Charter, 1830.
The Academy offers to Pupils of both sexes an opportunity of receiving a thorough education in Music in all its Branches, the Drama, and Dramatic Elocution under the most eminent Professors.
For terms and all other information, apply to F. W. RENAUT, Secretary.

THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF MUSIC
(Incorporated by Royal Charter, 1883).
PRINCE CONSORT-ROAD, SOUTH KENSINGTON, S.W.
Patron: HIS MAJESTY THE KING.
President H.R.H. the PRINCE OF WALES, K.G.
Director, Sir C. HUBERT H. PARRY, Bart, C.V.O., D.C.L., M.A., Mus. Doc.
Hon. Sec., CHARLES MORLEY, Esq.
The Half-term begins on June 18.
Syllabus and Official Entry Forms may be obtained from FRANK POWNALL, Registrar.

GUILDHALL SCHOOL OF MUSIC.
The only School in London for OPERATIC and THEATRICAL
TRAINING which possesses a completely equipped Theatre.
Public Performances periodically given.
Stagecraft, Elocution, Fencing, Gesture, and Deportment Taught by Eminent Professors.
New Pupils can enter at any time.
FEES MODERATE.
Prospectus on application to H. SAXE WYNDHAM, Victoria-embankment, E.C., Secretary.

Price 3s. 6d., 8vo., Cloth. By Post, 3s. 9d.

SECOND EDITION.
Now Ready.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL LAW.

Being a Digest of the Law relating to Theatres and Music Halls, and containing Chapters on Theatrical Contracts, Theatrical, Music and Dancing and Excise Licences, Dramatic and Musical Copyright, &c. With an Appendix containing the Acts of Parliament relating thereto, and the Regulations of the London County Council and Lord Chamberlain.

By A. A. STRONG, LL.B. (London), Solicitor.

INDEX.

	Page.		Page.
Actions for Deceit ..	3	Injunct'ns, Disobey'g	40
Actor, Illness of	11	,, Interim ...	40
,, Incompetence of	17	,, irrespective of Contract	40
Advertisement of Artist's Name may be a Libel	81	Injunctions, not granted where previous compromise...	39
Agents	2	Injunction only granted where injury irreparable ..	38
,, cannot appoint other Agents	2	Injunctions party applying must have performed his part	35
Applicat'n for Theat'l Licence	53	Injunctions, there must be a negative clause	34
,, ,, Music and Dancing Licence ..	61	Injunctions to restrain Libel or Slander	40
Apprentices, Contracts with	31	Injunctions to restrain Nuisance ..	40
Ballet d'Action	52	Injunctions to restrain Performance	40
,, Divertissement..	52	Letters, Contract made by	2
Band Music	74	Libel	77
Bond to be given by Manager, &c., to Lord Chamb'l'n..54,	150	,, restraining	40
Bond to be given by Manager, &c., Form of	150	Licence, Effect of Want of 4,	55
Booth, when Licence Required for	50	Licence, Excise	63
Breach of Promise to Marry	41	,, ,, by whom granted	63
Children, Licence to Employ	32	Licence, Music and Dancing	58
Children's Dangerous Performance Act, 1879 32,	95	Licence, Music and Dancing, Application for	61
Closing Times	63	Licence, Music and Dancing, Penalties on Breach of	62
Commission Payable to Agent	28	Licence, Music and Dancing, when required	59
Consideration, Meaning of	2	Licence, Theatrical..
Conspiracy to Damn a Piece	43	,, Theatrical, Application for	53
Contract, Definit'n of.	7	Licence, Theatrical, Application, Evidence on	53
,, Form of Theatrical	5	Licence, Theatrical, Granted Subject to Conditions	53
,, General Rules as to	1	Licence, Th-atrical, Granted to Manager of Theatre only ..	52
,, Grounds for Determination of	3	Licence, Theatrical, Penalties on Breach of	55
,, in Writing or Verbal	1	Licence, Theatrical, when Required	49
,, Made by Agent	2	Licence to Employ Children	33
,, Made by Letters	2	Liquidated Damages	39
,, must have a consideration. no consideration necessary where under seal	2	London County Council, Regulations of..	120
,, Setting aside..	3	Lord Chamberlain, Bond Required by.54	150
,, Stamp on	3	Lord Chamberlain, Fees of	55
,, Variation of Written ..	2	Lord Chamberlain, Jurisdiction of	52
,, with Apprentice	31	Lord Chamberlain, Licence, Form of..	150
,, with Infant..	31	Lord Chamberlain, Regulations of	146
Copyright	66	Malicious Enticement to break Contract..	31
,, Assignment of	67	Management and Audience	43
,, Duration of..	67	Manager, Jurisdict'n of, subject to Court	19
,, Infringement	76	Misrepresentation in Contract	3
,, International	73	Mistake in Contract..	3
,, Meaning of ..	66	Music, Licence for ..	58
,, Mode of Registration of	66	,, Hall Act, 1752 58,	93
,, Musical	69	,, Copyright in Sheet of	69
,, Plays performed Abroad	69	Music and Dancing Licence (see Licence, Music and Dancing).
,, Remedies for Infringement of	76	Musical Copyright ..	69
,, Act 1842 ...67,	100	,, Compositions Act, 1882..70	123
,, (Musical Compositions) 1887 Act 70,	123	Musical Compositions Act, 1888 70,	125
(Musical Compositions) 1888 Act 70,	125	Novel, Dramatising a	74
County Council....52,	61	Nuisance caused by Crowds	47
,, ,, Discretion of as to granting Licence	53	Opera, Copyright in..	71
,, ,, Jurisdiction of	53	Order on Programme libellous	81
Criticism 43,	77	Owner of Unlicensed Premises liable	51
,, must be honest	43	Partnership in Unlicensed Theatre cannot be enforced ..	5
,, Right to ..43,	77	Payment and no Room	46
Crowds may be a nuisance	47	Payment not essential to necessity for Licence	59
Custom of the Profession 2,	22	Penalties under Excise Acts	65
Damages	34	Penalties as to Music and Dancing Licences	62
,, for Breach of Contract	41	Penalties as to Theatrical Licences	55
,, for Breach of Promise to Marry	41	Penalty on Unstamped Agreement	3
,, for Tort	41	Pianoforte Arrangement	71
,, Measure of ..	41	Plans of Theatre	52
,, must not be too remote ..	42	,, Music Hall ..	61
Dancing, Licence for	58	Playwright 66,	68
Dangerous Performances Acts, 1879 and 1897 32,	97	Principal and Agent	2
Defamatory Words..	77	Public Health Act,1890	59
Disorderly Conduct in Theatres, &c. ..	43	,, House	61
Dramatic Copyright Act, 1833	98	,, Performance..	50
Dramatic Piece, What is a?	71	,, Place	68
Dramatising a Novel	74	Re-engagement, Meaning of	28
Drunkenness no Excuse	17	Remedies for Misrepresentation in Contract	3
Duologue, when a Stage Play	52	Remedies for Fraud in Contract	3
Evidence on hearing of Application for Licence 53,	61	Representation, Right of	68
Excise Licence (see Licence, Excise).		,, Registration of Right of	68
Fame a Consideration in Contract ..	23	Retaining a Seat....	48
Fines and Forfeits must be reasonable	18	Rinking requires a Licence	59
Fraud in Contract ..	3	Riot	43
"Hire" defined	55	Room, Performance in	51
Hissing an Actor....	43	Season, Meaning of..	26
House, When Licence required for	50	Seat, Right to Retain	48
Illness of Actor	11	Services, Specific Performance of	34
,, ,, Clause in Contract as to ..	16	Slander	77
,, Manager may prevent Actor from performing	16	Song, when a Dramatic Piece	71
,, ,, when it excuses..	11	Song, when a Musical Composition ..	71
Infringement of Copyright	76	Stage Play, Meaning of	51
,, Remedies for	76	Stage Play, must be duly Licensed	54
Injunctions	34	Starring	31
,, Acquiescence will prevent	40	Sunday Act	55
,, conduct of party applying must be fair and honest	40	,, Performing on Theatres Act, 1843 ..49,	87
Incompetence of Actor	17	Theatre, Patent	50
Infants	31	,, Unlicensed 4,	50
,, Contracts with..	31	Theatrical Licence (see Licence, Theatrical).
,, Licence to employ	33

Issued at
"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-st., Strand, W.C.

A SELECTION FROM
FRANCIS, DAY, and HUNTER'S
LATEST BUDGET OF SUCCESSES.

GREAT SUCCESS OF
LESLIE STUART'S CHEF D'ŒUVRE.
"THE BELLE OF MAYFAIR."
Book by CHARLES H. E. BROOKFIELD and COSMO HAMILTON.

"CASTILE,"
Grand Waltz by KARL KAPS.
Dedicated by permission to Princess Ena.

"SHY ANN,"
Sung by MISS ELLALINE TERRIS in the "Beauty of Bath," at the Aldwych Theatre.

"IF THERE HADN'T BEEN AN APPLE ON THE TREE."
Sung by Mr. HORACE MILLS in "The Girl Behind the Counter."

"SHINING STAR"
(a charming Indian Romance by the writers of "Navaho.")
Sung with great success by Miss FLORENCE ESDAILE.

"CAN'T YOU THINK OF ANY OTHER NAME BUT BABY?"
Sung by Miss WINIFRED HARE.

"WHAT HAS THE NIGHT-TIME TO DO WITH THE GIRL?"
Sung by Miss HETTY KING.
Also Sung by H. J. CORNER in the "Coliseum Revue."

"STARLIGHT,"
Sung by Miss BELLE BRAHAM and HAMILTON HILL.

"JUST A LITTLE ROCKING CHAIR AND YOU."
Sung by Miss MYRA STANSFIELD and HAMILTON HILL.
(The above two songs are by Theodore Morse, composer of "Bluebell.")

"DO A GOOD TURN WHEN YOU'RE ABLE."
Sung by Miss CARLOTTA LEVEY.

"IT'S THE CUSTOM OVER THERE,"
Sung by GEORGE LASHWOOD, at the London Coliseum.

"COME AND MAKE LOVE TO ME,"
Sung by Miss KITTY RAYBURN.

"MY COSY CARAVAN"
and "DON'T CRY, LITTLE GIRL,"
Miss LIL HAWTHORNE'S
Latest and Greatest Hits.

"TOO LAZY TO LIVE."
Sung by TOM LEO.

"HI! JOHNNY, WHO'S YOUR TAILOR?" and "IF WE HADN'T ANY WOMEN IN THE WORLD,"
Sung by JOE ARCHER.

FRANCIS, DAY, AND HUNTER,
142, CHARING CROSS-ROAD,
LONDON, W.C.

Telephone, 5425 Gerrard. Telegraphic Address, "Arpeggio, London."
New York: 15, West 30th-street.

BRIN'S OXYGEN
for the Finest Limelight Effects.
Unapproached by Electric Light for Stage Effects.
Addresses:—
BRIN'S OXYGEN COMPANY, Limited,
ELVERTON-STREET, WESTMINSTER, S.W.
Works: 69, HORSEFERRY-ROAD, S.W.
MANCHESTER OXYGEN COMPANY, Limited,
GREAT MARLBOROUGH-ST., MANCHESTER.
BIRMINGHAM OXYGEN COMPANY, Limited,
SALTLEY WORKS, BIRMINGHAM.

TO OUR READERS.—
A SINGLE COPY OF "THE ERA"
Post-free to any Address in the United Kingdom for SIX STAMPS.

Telegraphic Address, "The Era, London."

Address, THE PUBLISHER,
"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-st., Strand, W.C.

THE ERA

SATURDAY, JUNE 16, 1906.

THE NYE CHART BED.

We are pleased to be able to inform our readers that the £200 which was needed to secure the continuance of the bed in the Seaford Convalescent Hospital for the use of any member of the profession who should require rest and kindly care during or after illness has been subscribed, and the bed is available for members of the dramatic profession for the next twelve years. While the amount was being supplied by the generosity of numerous contributors, the authorities at the hospital kindly kept the bed open; and it has been constantly at the disposal of the profession. The history of the establishment of the bed is interesting. In the February of 1892, a notable figure in provincial management passed away. Mrs. NYE CHART was an interesting type of the popular provincial manageress, familiar with every detail of her profession, and generally beloved and respected. After going through a complete training for the stage, which commenced at a small outlying London theatre, and was maintained with the accompaniments of steady study and real hard work, Mrs. CHART continued to appear in public, with unvarying success for over fourteen years. After the death of her husband in 1876, she carried on, till shortly before her decease, the management of the Theatre Royal, Brighton, one of the best-conducted provincial playhouses in the Kingdom. The good-will which Mrs. CHART enjoyed in Brighton was not confined to theatrical circles. She was immensely popular in society; and her affability and generosity made her the favourite of those who came into contact with her. Her industry and activity were wonderful; she was devoted, heart and soul, to the duties of her profession, and identified herself thoroughly with its prosperity, its reputation, and its interests. It occurred to us that the best memorial to her would be the alleviation of some of the sorrow and pain which are almost inseparable from the career of the theatrical artist. We therefore proposed, with the help of the profession, to endow a bed in a hospital to be devoted to the use of any member of the profession who should require rest and kindly care during or after illness. Mr. NYE CHART, the son, headed the subscription list; and, as usual when an appeal of this sort is made in The Era, response was prompt and liberal. After due consideration it was decided to select the Seaside Convalescent Hospital at Seaford, near Newhaven, Sussex. This institution was established in 1860 for the purpose of affording sea air, nutritious diet, repose, and, if required, medical treatment to convalescent persons in order to enable them to regain the strength necessary for them to resume their employment. The hospital affords the comforts of a home, the attentions of a competent staff, medical supervision, and a generous dietary of the best food. Hundreds of young persons in the early stages of consumption have been completely restored to health by the invigorating air of Seaford, and the care and attention they have received at the Hospital. To endow a bed in the Seaford Convalescent Hospital, and to call it the "Nye Chart Bed," seemed to be the best tribute to the many virtues of the departed manageress. The requisite legal documents were drawn up by Messrs. BOLTON and MOTE, and a cheque was handed to the treasurer of the Seaford Hospital for the endowment of the bed, the balance remaining, amounting to over £30, being forwarded to Mr. COLTSON for the Actors' Benevolent Fund, the committee of which institution sent their most sincere and grateful thanks to us for our share in the endowment, credit for which was chiefly due to the great kindness of heart and generosity of the profession.

The result of the endowment exceeded our highest hopes. Many an actor, recovering from illness, has availed himself of the Nye Chart bed at Seaford, and has blessed the generosity of the profession with deep fervency. It will be indeed a pleasant reflection for those who have subscribed to this fund, that any of their fellow-artists recovering from illness will have a "sanatorium" of which they can take advantage during convalescence without obligation, except to their fellows. Those who come back from the Hospital do so with hearts full of gratitude and mouths full of testimony to the precious value of the treatment they have received. In the words of one old actor, once in a notable position in London, he came back "feeling quite another man."

The period for which the bed was originally taken having elapsed, a new appeal to the profession was made, with the result indicated at the head of this article.

The hon. treasurer, Mr. F. H. PEDGRIFT, reports that the usual legal documents for the fresh term of years have been drawn up and completed by JOHN H. W. MOTE, Esq., honorary solicitor to the Actors' Benevolent Fund. In another column will be found a full list of subscriptions received, and a statement as to the disposal of the full amount, by which it will be seen that £200 has been devoted to the maintenance of the bed, and the balance of £5 15s. forwarded to the Actors' Benevolent Fund.

ROYAL COLLEGE OF MUSIC.

The orchestral and choral concert of Wednesday evening last was interesting as showing the great advance the pupils of the Royal College are making, the finished rendering of Symphony No. 7 in C major, by the genial old master, Haydn, being a good example. The first performance of three new songs by Mr. Ernest B. Farrar was also a feature of the concert on Wednesday. Mr. Farrar has set two poems, "The Pine Tree" and "Golden Stars," by the famous poet Heine, to music of more than average merit, the most effective being "Golden Stars." The third song, "A Song of the Open Road," to verses of R. L. Stevenson, proved the least attractive of the series. Mr. Robert Chignell interpreted the songs with skill and intelligence, both vocalist and composer being recalled and warmly applauded by the huge audience. Mr. James Friskin undertook the solo instrument in Brahms' Concerto for piano and orchestra, No. 2 in B flat, with great ability, being ably supported by the orchestra, conducted by Sir Charles V. Stanford. At the close Mr. Friskin was honoured by three hearty recalls. The part-song for ladies' voices, "Litany," by Mr. William Y. Hurlstone, whose lamented death occurred on May 30, 1906, showed that we have lost a young composer of great promise, Mr. Hurlstone's clever compositions both at these and the Patrons' Fund concerts having aroused considerable hopes for the future for the talented young artist. Mr. S. Coleridge Taylor's cantata, "Kubla Khan," for solo and chorus concluded the concert. The cantata is founded on verses by the great poet Coleridge, "who relates that during a profound sleep he composed two to three hundred lines. On awaking he began to write down the poem, but being interrupted, found he could not remember all; the poem therefore remains a fragment." The chorus, on the whole, rendered the work fairly well, the best item being the solo by Miss Maggie Kirkbride.

IBSEN'S Ghosts will form the subject of a lecture to be delivered by Dr. Stanton Coit, the leader of the ethical movement in England, at a meeting of the West London Ethical Society on Sunday morning at the Kensington Town Hall.

THE King was present at Covent Garden on Wednesday night, and listened to a superb performance of Rigoletto.

A TRANSLATION by Mr. Arthur Allen Sykes of Gogol's Russian comedy, The Inspector-General, will be produced by the Incorporated Stage Society at the Scala Theatre on June 17. The translator is the husband of Miss Nellie Ganthony, whose musical recitals have won such general popularity, and is the author of "The Coronation Cruise of the 'Midnight Sun'" and other works.

THE MUSICAL COPYRIGHT BILL.

This is the present position of the Musical Copyright Bill. Mr. O'Connor, after he had carried the second reading, was asked by Mr. Gladstone, the Home Secretary, to accept certain amendments in the Bill which the Home Office thought necessary. Several consultations were held, at which were present Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Herbert Samuel, the Under-Secretary, Mr. Boosey, and the legal representatives of the music trade; and as a result of the negotiations, the Home Office and Mr. O'Connor came to a complete understanding, and it was agreed that the measure should be amended so that now it runs thus:—

1.—Every person who sells, exposes, offers, or has in his possession for sale any copies of any musical work, or has in his possession any plates, for the purpose of printing or reproducing pirated copies of any musical work, shall (unless he proves that he acted innocently) be guilty of an offence punishable on summary conviction, and shall be liable to a fine not exceeding £5, and on a second or subsequent conviction to imprisonment with or without hard labour for a term not exceeding two months or to a fine not exceeding £10. Any constable may take into custody without warrant any person who sells, exposes, offers, or has in his possession for sale any pirated music.

2.—(1) If a court of summary jurisdiction is satisfied by information on oath that there is reasonable ground for suspecting that an offence against this Act is being committed on any premises, the Court may grant a search warrant authorising the constable named therein to enter the premises between the hours of six of the clock in the morning and nine of the clock in the evening, and, if necessary, use force for making such entry, whether by breaking open doors or otherwise, and to seize any copies of any musical work or any plates in respect of which he has reasonable ground for suspecting that an offence against this Act is being committed.

(2) All copies of any musical work and plates seized under this section shall be brought before a court of summary jurisdiction, and if proved to be pirated copies or plates intended to be used for the printing or reproduction of pirated copies shall be forfeited and destroyed or otherwise dealt with as the Court think fit.

3.—In this Act the expression "pirated copies" means copies of any musical work written, printed, or otherwise reproduced without the consent lawfully given by the owner of the copyright in such musical work, and the expression "plates" includes any stereotype or other plates, stones, matrices, transfers, or negatives used or intended to be used for printing or reproducing copies of any musical work.

4.—This Act may be cited as the Pirated Music Act, 1906; and the Musical (Summary Proceedings) Copyright Act, 1902, and this Act may be cited together as the Musical Copyright Acts, 1902 and 1906.

The Government, being thus satisfied with the Bill, resolved to add all its weight to the effort to pass it into law; and Mr. Herbert Gladstone and Mr. Herbert Samuel have attended each night in their places when the Bill has been proposed. This cannot be done till eleven o'clock. Unfortunately, by the Rules of the House it requires universal assent for a Bill to be taken after eleven o'clock and one single Member is therefore sufficient, by uttering the simple words, "I object," to stop further progress with the Bill. Mr. Caldwell, though now prevented from taking any direct part in opposing the Bill, has been active in the lobbies; and unfortunately has been able to obtain the assistance of three Liberal Members—Mr. Harwood, Mr. Byles, and lately, Mr. Lupton. Mr. O'Connor has renewed several nights in succession his attempt to get the Bill discussed, but on each occasion one of the three gentlemen named has stopped him. Mr. Herbert Gladstone has appealed to these gentlemen to desist from further obstruction of a Bill which the Government is now thoroughly able to support. Mr. Redmond, the leader of the Irish Party, has also made a similar and even stronger appeal; but the appeals have up to the present failed. There is little doubt, however, that the Government themselves will ultimately take up the Bill, and, by giving it some Government time, pass it into law. The prospects are, of course, greatly improved by the fact that it is now practically certain there will be an autumn Session; and between now and the month of December there will be ample opportunity to pass the Bill in spite of the efforts of the obstructives.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL LAW.

BY A. A. STRONG, LL.B. (LOND.), SOLICITOR.

Your book will, I am sure, be a valuable aid to all managers and actors.—The late SIR HENRY IRVING.

Mr. Strong states the whole case very clearly.—Illustrated London News.

Should be found very useful.—Pelican.

Should prove perfectly invaluable.—Weekly Sun.

Contains in a handy compass and in a clear style the law relating to theatres and music halls. The book is well up to date.—Law Times.

Furnishes useful information.—Daily News.

The work succeeds in making plain the thorny legal path that every manager and artist must tread, and by a timely consultation of its pages they may avoid much misapprehension and trouble.—Star.

Mr. A. A. Strong has compiled an exceedingly useful volume dealing carefully, intelligently, and fully with the law bearing upon things theatrical. As a book of reference this excellent digest will be found invaluable.—The Era.

MR. WILLIAM POEL will introduce Mr. Samuel Arthur King to the London public at a Shakespearean recital at the Royalty Theatre on Friday, the 29th inst. Mr. King's recital is to be preceded by a little comedy named Mamma's Opinions, and will be followed by a piece called Love and Halfpence, in which Miss Rita Jolivet and Mr. Poel are to appear.

MR. EDITOR,—Sir, in your notice last week of the Tivoli, Glasgow, you put Mons. Latharrie and Amy De Frece; it should have been, Yours very truly, "Wisper," comedy tourist juggler, and Miss Beattie Bloom.

A QUAINT missive showing that Beethoven was not entirely devoid of business instincts figured in Messrs. Puttick and Simpson's sale on the 8th inst. The letter was dated Wien, 1817, addressed to the musician in the Imperial Orchestra in Vienna, and in it the great composer says: "If you do not return to me within eight days the Salba and parts of the ballet Promotheo composed by me, I shall enforce my claim to same through the authorities. . . . You ought to be ashamed of yourself to want to cheat me in this way, or to do me ont of what is mine. Do not believe that I merely threaten. I will, and must have, the part again which belongs to me." The letter was sold for 20 guineas.

MR. JAMES WILLARD is producing the farcical sketch, The Strange Little Stranger, at the Royal, Oldham, on Monday. The bookings for the variety theatres are in the hands of Mr. Ernest Dottridge.

A COPY of "THE ERA" will be forwarded to any address in the United Kingdom for six stamps. The Era is posted on Saturday in time to reach London Subscribers by the first Town Delivery, and Country Subscribers should receive their Papers by the first London Post. Address, the PUBLISHER, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.

THE DRAMA IN PARIS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

PARIS, THURSDAY, JUNE 14.—In a few days half the Paris theatres will be closed, quite a fortnight earlier than usually is the case. Our playhouses certainly have had a bad season, and Messieurs les directeurs were probably not sorry to lock up their places and leave for their holidays, hoping for better days in September. Some of these gentlemen are inclined to accuse the "trust" with being the cause of the theatrical crisis. Such a statement could only be dictated by envy. The "trust" owns the Athénée and the Folies Dramatiques, and these are—with the exception of the Théâtre Antoine—the only houses doing a prosperous trade. The ill-starred Bouffes Parisiens, it was announced, would pass next season into the management of M. Charles Samson, backed by big capital. Everything was settled, when the Authors' Society discovered that M. Samson was supposed to be secretly connected with the hateful "trust," whereupon they withheld their consent; and the matter is still in suspense. The truth is that the crisis is attributable to the bad plays produced. Our managers show little discretion in the selection of the works they accept, or else they mount them for financial considerations that do not tend to raise the standard of their house.

Before starting on tour, M. Antoine, the new manager of the Odéon, has discharged many members of the old company. Among those he retains are: MM. Dorival, Darras, Duard, Escoffier, Violet, Brou, Chevalet; Mmes. Marcelle, Jullien, and Tessandier. We regret not to see on that list the name of Mlle. Sergine, the talented young artist who made such a brilliant début in M. Camille de Saint-Croix's great work, Armide et Gildis. But, for private reasons, that lady tendered her resignation.

M. Porel, of the Vaudeville, has engaged Mlle. Baletta, from the Théâtre Michel in St. Petersburg, to replace Mme. Andrée Mégard in the piece with which he intends to inaugurate the coming season. M. Coquet has also joined the Vaudeville to impersonate the character of Cercleux in Education de Prince. M. Porel does not intend to open before the first days of November.

At the Porte-Saint-Martin, where Les Exilés is still running, MM. Clèves and Larochelle are putting into rehearsal Strasbourg, a patriotic drama, that plays during the Franco-Prussian war. We will have the pleasure of once more beholding the spiked helmets, which, some twenty years ago, the authorities would not tolerate on the stage.

It was to be foreseen that the erection of a statue to George Sand would induce playwrights to show us the great authoress in the flesh. As it turns out, two gentlemen, M. Le Lasseur and M. A. Laget, hit upon that same idea. In both plays the principal characters will be George Sand and Alfred de Musset, who, it will be remembered, was that lady's lover, an honour he shared with Chopin.

I am sorry to have to record the death of Mlle. Henriette Baréty, who for many years appeared in important rôles in opera. She rarely sang in Paris, but always had first-class engagements in the provinces. She was the sister of Mlle. Baréty, the well-known actress of the Odéon.

It is a lamentable fact that the works of great men go out of fashion like hats and dresses. Some ten years ago the plays of Corneille were still regularly produced at the Comédie Française. But, slowly, Corneille began to lose ground, and, until quite recently, months passed without his name appearing on the bill. Fortunately for his memory, and also for his admirers, the centenary of his birth was celebrated, and he at last received his statue. Beautiful speeches were made; everybody declared he was a genius; but nobody asked why that genius's works were now only read at school, and never produced at our classical playhouse. However, attention has once more been drawn to him, and it is to be hoped that Le Cid, Horace, Cinna, Polyeucte, &c., will reappear on the Comédie Française répertoire, and, what is more, remain there.

Another spectre has made its reappearance. The Trianon theatre unearthed Hérold's Le Pré aux Clercs, and the audience seemed to take kindly to the tuneful but woefully old-fashioned music. They did, however, not go into ecstasies over it like when it was first produced in the good year 1832. Then it was a long cry of enthusiasm and admiration from every part of the house. At the close of the third act the audience rose and loudly called for the author, who, they thought, was sitting at the back of the stage box, enjoying his triumph. Alas! the box was empty, and when the curtain rose, Thénard, the famous singer, came forward, and, in a voice choked with emotion, said: "Ladies and gentlemen, M. Hérold is too ill to appear before you. He is not in the house." After the first act the excitement had proved too much for him. Coughing violently a hæmorrhage had set in, and he fell fainting into the arms of his friends. He was taken home, and never rose from his sick bed.

Our music halls are launching their summer revues, and La Cigale opened the ball with Que tu dis! in two acts and eight tableaux, by MM. P. L. Flers and Eugène Héros. The authors have not expended an enormous amount of wit on their production; but they have had the good fortune to find exponents like Maurel and Prince, who, by their drollery, imparted the necessary "go" to the revue. We see these excellent comedians at Mlle. Piérat's wedding; at Algeciras; at the Elysée, on the day M. Loubet makes room for his successor. Among the ladies I can specially mention Miss Lowler, who danced herself into favour with the public, and came in for a large share of well-deserved applause. The revue is well mounted, especially the tableau of the défilé in Saint James's Park.

A couple of years ago we referred in these columns to the "white slave trade," warning English music hall singers to make careful inquiries before accepting any engagement in the French provinces. The evil to which we alluded grew worse in the course of years, and everybody will compliment Senator Bérenger for drawing the Prime Minister's attention to the disgraceful proceedings on the part of the owners of the so-called cafés-concert. Unsuspecting girls—frequently strangers—are brought to these places, and engaged as vocalists. But, once there, they discover to their horror that a different class of work is expected from them. Fortunate even are those who are only asked by the master of the establishment to drink with the customers. In many places it is even much worse; and the wretched owners use every trick to prevent their victims from escaping. A new law, therefore, is now proposed by which the proprietor of a café-chantant renders himself liable to a long term of imprisonment if he compels the artists in his employ either to drink with the customers or to lead an immoral life. Moreover, they will have to pay a heavy fine and their licence will be revoked. It is to be hoped that this law will soon be passed, and thus put a stop to a state of things unworthy of a civilised country.

SHAKESPEARE'S country as it was in the great dramatist's time and as it is now will be dealt with in a new book shortly to be published. Mr. George Morley is the author, and the work will be illustrated with three-colour pictures by Mr. J. E. Duggins.

MR. EDITOR,—Sir,—In this week's notice of the Pier Pavilion, Dover, your correspondent styles us the Follies Concert Party. It should be the Jollies.—Yours faithfully, BERTIE RALLAND, Manager for the Jollies Concert Party, The Kursaal, Bexhill-on-Sea, June 10.

VARIETY GOSSIP.

MR. EDWARD TERRY, an old friend of Mr. Edward Swanborough, has kindly consented to say a few words of thanks at the conclusion of the matinée at the London Pavilion on June 28.

MR. FRANK WEEKS, the popular manager of the South London Palace, started last Saturday morning for a fortnight's jaunt to Jersey. Before starting he made arrangements for a matinée to-day at the "South," in aid of the Hospital Saturday Fund. The Mayor of Southwark will speak.

MR. DAVID DAY is expediting, through the Press, a humorous song by the author of "By kind permission of the Daily Mail." It is named "'In Chicago.' Canned by Edgar Bateman. Labelled by J. Airlie Dix." Professional copies will be ready in a few days.

MR. J. W. ROWLEY writes to tell us that the Jingo song, "We don't want to fight," did not "make" the late Mr. G. H. Macdermott. His terms were raised from £6 to £25 per week while he was singing "The Scamp" at the London Pavilion. No other singing comedian up to that time had received more than £12, and only George Leybourne and Arthur Lloyd were able to command that.

THE Palace Theatre mourns the loss of Count MAX HOLLENDER, who succumbed to an attack of pneumonia on Monday, at the age of fifty-one. He was chairman of the board of directors from the original formation of the Palace Theatre, Ltd., until the day of his death, and took a deep interest in all the affairs of the company. In other respects he was well-known in the entertainment world, having been interested in the financing of several theatrical ventures. Outside of theatrical business, Count Hollender was best known as a remarkably clever connoisseur of and dealer in works of art, and as one of the proprietors of the Hanover Gallery in Old Bond-street. In his early days he was associated with journalism, more particularly as a contributor to the Paris Figaro.

AMONG the many floral tributes at the funeral were wreaths from each of the Palace directors, the general-manager and the four principal members of the Palace staff, the employees of the theatre being represented by a magnificent harp over four feet in height, composed of orchids, arum lilies, and violets.

MISS ROSE STAHL'S success has been so pronounced that her engagement has been extended for a second time at the Palace, where on Monday Miss Lucy Ashton, a clever young American singer, will appear in two scenas, Skyland and The Grass Widows, supported by a chorus of pretty girls.

MR. SEYMOUR HICKS, like many other comedians on the theatrical stage, is not above borrowing from the variety patterer. Mr. Dick Knowles had a famous gag on his last visit to the Oxford. In a talk between two passengers on a liner one said to the other, "Where did you get that black eye?" "Oh, that is a birth-mark," was the reply. "Nonsense," retorted the first speaker; "you didn't have it yesterday morning." "I know," explained the other; "I got it last night by going into the wrong berth." With Mr. Hicks in The Beauty of Bath, at the Aldwych, the black eye becomes a scratch on the face.

THE ridiculous report that Miss Ellen Terry has been offered £1000 per week to appear in a series of vaudeville recitals in America under the direction of Messrs. Keith, the American variety managers, is, of course, contradicted. The famous actress is not likely to leave the legitimate for the variety stage.

A BILL extending the Dangerous Performances Acts to women, without regard to age, is promised by the Home Secretary, in view of the recent parachute fatality. Danger of life of a more or less imminent character is involved in parachuting and some performances of the "looping-the-loop" type, and in future are to be barred to women.

MISS HARRIETT VERNON, who is at the Oxford, produced last Monday an entirely new and original scena, entitled "Sunshine and Shadow," assisted by Mr. Leslie Race. This is one of the best things this well-known artist has done for some years. We hear it is a forerunner of a number of scenas. "Sunshine and Shadow" has certainly made a great hit at the Oxford.

IN consequence of the great success of Miss Marie Lloyd's new number, "The Custom of the Country," by Messrs. Harrington and Tate, the Monte Carlo Publishing Company have accepted it for early inclusion in their rapidly-growing list of "Sixpenny Successes."

MESSRS. HARRINGTON AND TATE are now busily engaged writing and composing a special new song-scena of a most novel and original type for Miss Alice Lloyd (who has been causing a furore at the Empire, Sheffield, this week, with "Bamboo Bungalow"), with which she will open at one of the leading West End halls in October.

NEVER has Guerrero looked more handsome than she does now, in The Daughter of the Mountain, at the Palace Theatre. She makes her entrance, with the inevitable soft, grey felt hat on her black hair, and a rose behind her ear, in a dress where a dozen different shades of blue—violet, purple, mauve—are mingled with grass green, and the white silk shawl twisted round her willowy figure is embroidered with delicate flowers the colours of the rainbow. At the end of the pantomime the beautiful Spanish dancer appears in deep purple and silver, one of her sleeves—a daring touch—being made of a trellis-work design of rose-red velvet ribbon.

MISS NINA GORDON, whose imitations of music hall stars are always encored at the Palace, gave an entertainment last Sunday evening, at the Grand Hotel, Folkestone, before a large and critical audience. She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Westell-Gordon—the Westell-Gordon family is as well known on the concert platform as Miss Nina on the music hall stage—and her sisters and brother. Miss Eva has hit on a somewhat novel line in the mimicry of popular actresses, Miss Baby is quite a clever little whistler, and Mr. James Gordon plays the 'cello. Signor Tosti, who is staying at Folkestone, was delighted with the performance. On a previous occasion he had paid Miss Nina Gordon the compliment of offering to accompany her in his most popular song, "Good-bye."

WHAT is virtually another edition of the revue Venus, 1906 will be presented at the Empire on Monday, when a number of new songs and novel "business" will be introduced. Coppelia, Délibes's delightful ballet, with Mdlle. Genée in the principal part, still remains the chief attraction at this variety theatre in Leicester-square.

MISS NELLIE WILLIAMS, known in variety circles as "The Lady Chevalier," died on Thursday, the 7th inst., at Paddington, after a short illness. The deceased lady had been on the variety boards since she was 16 years of age, and was much respected by her numerous friends. The funeral took place on Monday, the interment being at the Paddington Cemetery, Willesden. Miss Williams, who was 41 at the time of her death, made popular "The Whelk Stall Gal," written by Mr. Charles Wilmott and composed by Mr. H. E. Pether.

MR. JAMES CHAPPELL, that veteran performer and caterer, will open his season of beach concerts at Great Yarmouth on Monday with an excellent company. Performances will be given three times daily, and visitors to breezy Bloatertown will again be able to enjoy harmony and hilarity within sound of the wild waves.

To Mr. Fred Leighton, who is retiring from the management of the Empire, Bristol, to take up a position in London, was given a complimentary supper on Friday evening, the 8th inst., at the Crown and Dove Hotel, Bridewell-street, Bristol.

THERE were nearly 100 guests present, including a number of ladies; and the genial manager of the People's Palace, Mr. Horace Livermore, was in the chair. After supper and the loyal toasts had been disposed of with enthusiasm, Mr. Livermore proposed the toast of the evening, "Our Guest," speaking in felicitous terms of the courtesy invariably shown by Mr. Leighton. To the toast of "Music Hall Performers," Mr. Fred Neiman replied, and Miss Annie Purcell responded for "The Ladies." Mr. Leighton gratefully acknowledged the kindness and support he had received in Bristol from the Press and public.

AMONG other presentations to Mr. Leighton have been several illuminated addresses, a cheque for £10 10s. from Mr. B. Pearce Lucas and Mr. Day, and a case of silver fish eaters from Mr. and Mrs. Lucas, of the White Hart Hotel. At the Empire on Saturday night a Bioscope picture was shown containing Mr. Leighton's photograph, with appropriate wording, and it was greeted with prolonged cheers.

A PLEASANT surprise awaited both Mr. George Leyton and his audience on Saturday last at the Birmingham Hippodrome, where and when the popular actor-vocalist, who was finishing a brilliantly successful two-weeks' starring engagement, was made the recipient of a gratifying and certainly most deserved presentation of a beautiful oak-cased clock with the explanatory inscription: "Presented to Mr. George Leyton by the committee of the Birmingham Military Veterans (Crimean and Indian Mutiny), as a token of gratitude for services rendered by him to the needy military veterans of Great Britain, 9 June, 1906."

MR. COUNCILLOR MARCH, who was supported by Mr. A. W. Matcham, treasurer, Mr. P. D. Elbourne, resident-manager, Hippodrome, and others, made some pertinent remarks anent the Government, which were strenuously cheered by the veterans themselves present, as well as by the audience. Mr. Leyton, in responding, expressed his determination to persist in his efforts until the Government took up the work. Mr. Leyton's efforts have, so far, realised the magnificent sum of £1,276 11s. 6d.

MR. WALTER SMITH, the courteous and energetic resident-manager of the Hippodrome, Eastbourne, is to be given a complimentary benefit on Friday, June 22nd. Mr. Smith will be remembered by many members of the profession as head of the stage staff at some of the Brighton theatres. Since his transference to the front of the house at the Hippodrome, Eastbourne, he has fully justified his position, and his many friends will wish him a bumper house on the occasion of his benefit.

MR. ARTHUR D. BURTON, the enterprising manager of the old-established George Burton gala agency, was entertained by the members of the Sheffield Garrick Club on the 9th inst. The genial Arthur was felicitated by the members on his recovery from his recent indisposition and safe return from a continental tour. As a little souvenir of a happy event, Mr. Burton was presented by Mr. Edward Hamilton, on behalf of a few close friends, with a diamond scarf-pin.

THE Tivoli, Leeds, will to-day (Saturday) close for six weeks, during which time extensive structural alterations are to be carried out and the interior renovated and upholstered in sumptuous Barrasfordian style.

MR. A. VIC. CARNELL, the courteous and popular manager of the St. Helens Hippodrome, was married at Christ Church, Nottingham, on Monday to Miss Florence North, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. North, of Nottingham. Mr. and Mrs. Carnell have been the recipients of numerous handsome presents, including a cheque for nearly £50 subscribed for by Mr. Carnell's many St. Helens friends, and valuable gifts from Mr. Fred Willmott, Mr. Fred Weisker, Mr. W. H. Crooks, and the staff and orchestra of the St. Helens Hippodrome.

AT the top of the bill at the Palace, Tottenham, this week, are the Montague Brothers, in their famous act, "The Sculptor's Dream." It is a pity that these fine artists are not seen West, for their show is clean and neat and excellent in every way. Little Zola is another performer who scores during the evening with his funny ways, the audience enjoying his turn immensely. The bottom of the bill is occupied by a Chinese sketch, entitled La Chang, depicting the horrors of the opium den. It is well played by Mr. W. Bradford, Mr. Stanley Grosvenor, Misses Ethel King, Mabel Wynne, and Laura Reed. Lily Black dances and sings in the best style; and Kitty Gresham, the Society Girl, and the Sisters Selwyn, with illustrated songs, conclude a strong programme.

MR. CHARLES CLIFFORD, the favourite harpist and humourist, leaves town this week to fulfil a long series of provincial engagements, commencing at the Empire, Portsmouth, next Monday.

AN application to the Grimsby Town Council was made on Friday, the 8th inst., by Mr. Matthew Dowse for a dramatic licence for the performance of stage plays at the Hippodrome. Mr. Wilkin said that the Council would remember a similar application made on behalf of the Palace Theatre, and also that when applications of this kind were made the granting of a dramatic licence carried with it the right to an excise licence. He should therefore move that a dramatic licence should be granted, subject to the applicant giving an undertaking that no intoxicating liquors should be sold or served in the Hippodrome. The Council decided to grant the licence, inserting upon it the restriction that no intoxicating liquors should be sold under certain pains and penalties.

THE greater portion of the audience at the second performance at the Birmingham Gaiety on Thursday week became the involuntary spectators of a "turn" of which the programme gave no inkling. Upwards of a score of young men, said to be Birmingham University undergraduates, who had booked seats in the stalls, behaved in a very disgraceful fashion, interrupting the performance and creating such a hubbub that at last Mr. Albert Bushell, the resident manager, whose persuasive appeals to the unruly visitors had been treated with contempt, summoned the members of his staff and had the delinquents turned out neck and crop.

MR. BUSHELL states that the students had not been in the place above five minutes before they commenced caterwauling and uttering other cries that disturbed the artists and audience alike. He personally appealed to the offenders to desist, but as the evening advanced they became more obnoxious, and so objectionable was their behaviour during the time the Kellinos were appearing that the performers refused to continue their turn. The management then had the disturbers summarily ejected, a scene of considerable excitement ensuing. Quietude being thus restored, the performance was continued.

THE Lyceum again closed its doors on Saturday night. The future of the theatre has been discussed in the daily Press during the week. Reports have been current that the famous house will be taken by a well-known actor-manager who spent his novitiate there during the most brilliant days of the Irving régime.

THE sports in aid of the Music Hall Benevolent Fund, to be held at Stamford Bridge Sports Ground, Fulham, on Thursday, July 12, will be blessed with a very entertaining programme of events. For the competitors valuable prizes will be offered, including a challenge cup for the one-mile walking handicap, presented by Mr. Frank Allen, the popular manager of Moss Empires, and another cup from the "Terriers'" Association for the half-mile running handicap. Comic interludes are being arranged by the leading artists of the day. Mr. Horace Marriott will be glad to receive at once the names of ladies and gentlemen who will be willing to give prizes to be competed for.

THE announcement that the entire staff of the Coliseum had been given a fortnight's notice that their services would no longer be required has led many to believe that the fine establishment in St. Martin's-lane was possibly to be closed for good. Everyone will therefore be delighted to know that this is far from being the case. Mr. John Donald, the acting manager, was good enough the explain the official situation to a representative. "When the present run of the Revue terminates," he said, "the Coliseum will close for the production of an autumn Revue, and to permit of preparations for the pantomime, Cinderella, which is to be staged at Christmas. The run of the present performance may terminate ten days hence or last for another month. Our notice to the staff has been issued as a precautionary measure, in order to safeguard the management in any new arrangements they might think it desirable to introduce.

"THE public may rest assured that there has never been any thought of closing the establishment permanently. It will remain closed only during the minimum time required to rehearse the new production, which is to be another Revue, with altogether new scenes and novel effects, which will probably be arranged by M. de Cottens. His present work, you know, has been most flatteringly received by the London public, and will reach its 150th performance next Saturday. The next production will be under the auspices of a reconstructed company. The idea is, I believe, to thoroughly reorganise the theatre and start afresh with the next production, under altogether happier and more promising circumstances."

MR. CHARLES COBORN'S many friends will be pleased to learn that his daughter, Miss Frances McCallum, is doing very well indeed in Yokohama, and is immensely enjoying her many novel experiences. In a recent letter to her parents she describes her first experiences in the use of the chopsticks in a Japanese tea house, where the customers have to remove their shoes. There is, it appears, an amateur dramatic club in Yokohama, and their last performance was Mrs. Musgrave's farcical comedy, Our Flat.

THE Palace dog, Jack, whose death was recently announced, to the regret of his many friends, will not be readily forgotten behind the scenes at the popular house in Shaftesbury-avenue, for the faithful fox-terrier has been stuffed and placed in a big glass-case in the green-room. He wears his old collar round his neck, and looks most life-like. A comic Phil May sketch has also been added to the interesting little collection of pictures in the Palace green-room. It comes from a Brighton hotel, and shows the effect on the artist of three days' good living. In the first sketch he is as thin as a knife, and in the second place he looks as poor Phil never looked, as stout as Falstaff.

DURING his recent engagement in South Africa, Mr. Tom McNaughton (a partner in the Monte Carlo Publishing Company) entered into an important contract with one of the leading houses in Capetown, whereby the latter will act as exclusive agents for the London firm's "Sixpenny Successes" in South Africa. The first order, received by cable, at 6 p.m. on Tuesday last, was for 15,000 assorted copies of the Monte Carlo Company's publications, and the consignment was dispatched by Wednesday, 5.40 p.m., to the shippers, Messrs. Ledger, Sons, and Co., St. Mary Axe, E.C., in time to catch the R.M.S. Carisbrooke Castle, sailing from Southampton to-day (Saturday) for South Africa. This is truly a record order for so young a firm, and for promptness and dispatch, we think, hard to beat.

A GALA performance, under distinguished patronage, was given at the Coliseum on Monday in aid of the funds of the Charing-cross Hospital. The Duchess of Devonshire, the Duchess of Newcastle, the Duchess of Norfolk, the Duchess of Montrose, and the Marchioness of Ormonde were amongst the purchasers of seats; and the attractions of the Revue, with Miss Billie Burke as commère and Mr. Tom E. Murray as compère, were watched with great interest.

MR. HARRY SOFTLEY, who plays The Clincher in Mr. Geo. Gray's Fighting Parson company, is now in his old part again, having been two weeks in the Northern Hospital, Liverpool, under the care of Dr. Owen, the M.H.R.R.A.'s doctor of that town. He thanks his many kind friends for their thoughtful inquiries, and desires to express his indebtedness also to Dr. Owen for his great care.

THE latest sketch from the pen of Brien McCullough is named The Wrong Letter. It is in one scene, and there are three in the cast. It will play about fifteen minutes. With complications that are extremely funny, the sketch should do well. It will shortly be produced in London.

THE Secretary of the Music Hall Benevolent Fund has received the sum of £3 4s. 1d., collected by Mr. Frank Weeks at the South London Palace; also £3 6s. 3d. from Mr. Fred Miller, collected at the Canterbury; and £2 1s. 11d. from Mr. S. Greenwood, collected at the Islington Empire.

MR. WALTER MUNROE has in active rehearsal, and will produce at all his engagements, at an early date, the Monte Carlo Publishing Company's tuneful Irish chorus song, "Widow Doolin," written and composed by Mr. J. F. Lambe.

MISS NORAH HAYWARD is, it appears, a cousin of Tom Hayward, the famous Surrey batsman, who has distinguished himself both north and south of the Equator by his brilliant performances with the willow. Miss Norah is also scoring in quite another way at the London and Collins's.

THE latest quotations of Music Hall shares are as follow:—Alhambra 1½, Canterbury 1, Drury ½, Empire (15s. paid) 1½, Ditto (10s. paid) 1½, Lane Gaiety 1, London Pavilion Ord. 4, Ditto Pref. 4¾, London Coliseum ¼, Metropolitan ⅞, Moss Empire 4⅝, Ditto Pref. 4, Oxford 6⅞, Palace 10s., Tivoli 6⅛, Varieties Cons. Theatres ½.

MRS. CISSIE LOUIE LAWSON has just written a sketch entitled The Daughter of Spain, which she will produce at the Palace, Tottenham, on Monday.

MISS EDITH MUIR AND MR. HUBERT BARTLETT will re-appear on Monday evening next (after an absence of only six weeks) at the Standard, Pimlico, in another of Mr. Bartlett's tabloid comedies, entitled How Baggs was Bagged. The parts in the new production will be taken by Miss Muir and Mr. Bartlett, assisted by Miss Pollie Marsh and Mr. Arthur Wallis.

MR. HARRY RICKARDS will arrive in England on Saturday next to book artists for his various enterprises for the whole of 1907 and 1908. His address is care of "The Era" office, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

MISS VESTA TILLEY commenced the last week of her phenomenally successful New York engagement at the Colonial Theatre there on June 4, and sailed for home yesterday on board the s.s. Cedric. The London idol long since became the adored of New York, and was tendered a farewell at a special matinée given in her honour by Mr. Joe Weber and his company at Weber's Theatre before she sailed. Miss Tilley's first appearance at Mr. Williams's New Alhambra Theatre resulted in another record week's business, and she brings home another silver loving-cup, suitably inscribed, to commemorate another record. She returns to play the same circuit in 1908.

MISS MARIE LLOYD will open on Monday with new songs at the Tivoli, where the powerful company includes Wilkie Bard, in his funny new song, "Let me Sing." Mme. Helena, the phenomenal soprano, will on Monday sing the Jewel Song from Faust in costume and with garden scene, thus reviving in part the conditions under which Gounod's masterpiece was originally given in London, the late Miss Russell being the Marguerite.

THOSE theatrical and variety artists who so readily and heartily gave their services to the cause of charity in January last, when the annual Liverpool Theatrical Football Gala was held, will be gratified to learn that the sum of £1,382 was realised from all sources—a fine record. Thanks are especially due to the indefatigable chairman of the gala, Mr. Lewis Peake, and the treasurer, Mr. Tom Bush, both of whom worked hard towards attaining success.

UNDER the chairmanship of Mr. W. W. Rutherford, M.P. (the president), a meeting of the Council has been held, when it was decided to distribute £1000 among the following institutions:—Liverpool Stanley Hospital, £200; Consumption Hospital, £100; Woolton Convalescent Home, £100; Actors' Benevolent Fund, £40; Actors' Orphanage, £40; Music-Hall Benevolent Fund, £40; Music-Hall Home, £40; Musicians' Union, £10; Police Orphanage, £50; Bootle Hospital, £50; and the remainder among several worthy local charities.

THE following amounts have already been distributed at the request of Mr. George Robey, whose generosity and kindness, while engaged at the last Royal Court Theatre pantomime will not soon be forgotten:—General Booth's charities, £38; Sandon Tug Disaster Fund, £25; making a grand total of £1063.

ORIGINALLY the Theatrical Gala funds were distributed among Liverpool hospitals, but it was felt that as the members of the profession were the real attraction, appearing in all their war-paint, and throwing themselves with genuine enthusiasm into the noble work, some recognition of their kindness should be made. The result was that years ago institutions connected with the stage were given a fair proportion of the total funds. This year the amount is £170, a good share of the several hundred pounds obtained on the football grounds. Since the inauguration of the gala, eighteen years ago, the sum of over £11,000 has been handed to charities.

PRINCE CHRISTIAN, with Lady Gerrard, Baron and Baroness De Forest, and the Earl of Lonsdale, witnessed the performance of the successful ballet Coppelia at the Empire on Saturday night.

MR. HERBERT SHELLEY has been topping the bill at the Paragon with his protean sketch Dan the Outlaw, and doing it twice a night at the Holborn Empire with brilliant success. Taking into consideration that he has to do twenty-two minutes for each show, with only himself in the cast, his task may be considered pretty stiff work for an artist in these glorious summer days; but his early bathe in the Thames every morning at picturesque Chiswick keeps him fit.

W. SCOTT PHIPP has been engaged by Servais Le Roy as his general business manager, from which association we may expect enterprising and interesting developments.

MR. TOM VINE, who was singing last week at the Hippodrome, Dartford, unfortunately lost a very valuable diamond stud, for which a large reward is offered.

MISS WINIFRED HARE, the charming and popular actress, has had a theatrical career of unvaried brilliance and success. From December, 1900, when she appeared as Dick Whittington in the pantomime at the Coronet Theatre, Notting-hill-gate, she enacted for three consecutive years the rôle of principal boy in the annual pantomime at that popular playhouse. She is also a well-known favourite in opera-bouffe, and has played with great success the part of Mademoiselle Lange in the production of Madame Angot, the late Clement Scott having remarked that her impersonation of the rôle was quite the best he had ever seen in English. Miss Hare also played the leading rôle of Stella in the Silver Slipper, at the Lyric, and in 1903 appeared as Fredegonde in the revival of Chilperic.

MR. W. F. FRAME, of "Hooch-Ay" fame, concludes the Moss Empire tour on June 30 at Manchester, and will rest a month on the banks of the Clyde, opening his vaudeville tour for thirteen weeks at Saltcoats on July 30.

THE monthly meeting of the committee of the Music Hall Sick Fund was held on Wednesday at the York Hotel, York-road. Mr. Pat Carey (President) occupied the chair, and there were also present Messrs. W. J. Wainratta (vice-president), Frank Heath (hon. treasurer), Tom Carney, G. Desmonti, W. Brisco, Seth White, and W. West. The chairman pointed out that some misunderstanding appeared to exist in certain quarters with regard to the case of a late member of the society who unhappily took his own life. An application was made to the society on behalf of the widow; but while the committee deeply sympathised with her, they were unable to make the usual grant, being bound by rule 3 (par. 4), which states: "In all cases of death (except in a case of death caused by suicide) the sum of £10 shall be paid to the widow, widower, or nearest of kin of the deceased member." If the committee were to grant such an application they would render themselves personally liable should legal action be taken; and, besides, it would be setting a very bad precedent. Mr. Wainratta said it was highly important that the president's explanation should be made public, to prevent a wrong impression from getting abroad.

MR. FRANK HEATH mentioned that nearly all the managers of the London and suburban halls had readily given their consent to framed bills, calling attention to the objects of the society and giving particulars, being placed in the dressing-rooms. This could not fail to make the Fund better known amongst the variety profession, and he hoped there would be a large accession of members. The secretary (Mr. R. T. Baines) announced that the annual general meeting of members will be held on the second Wednesday in July, in accordance with the rules of the society; and the proceedings then terminated with a vote of thanks to the chairman.

THE attention of our readers is directed to the amended provisions of the Musical Copyright Bill, which will be found printed on p. 19 of our present issue.

MRS. T. HAY RITCHIE, who collaborated with Mr. Charles Wilson in the scenario of L'Amour, is the inventor of a most amusing puzzle that was "all the rage" about ten years ago. It was a small box in the shape of a drum—the Orangeman's drum—one end being painted to represent the map of Ireland, with a coffin beside it into which it was possible, by gently tapping the drum, to jerk half-a-dozen little nails, the coffin being labelled "Home Rule." Mrs. Ritchie has written another ballet, and the success of L'Amour will ensure a cordial welcome for her work in the future.

IN reference to the different reports which have arisen as the result of the new vaudeville combination in the United States, Mr. H. B. Marinelli, who represents Messrs. Oscar Hammerstein, Percy Williams, and William Morris in Europe, writes us that these gentlemen have informed him by cable that "all artists will play contracts as originally signed." The above-mentioned managers, without joining the Trust, will play big acts ten to twelve weeks in New York alone. The Eastern and Western tours to follow will pan out to twenty-five or thirty weeks.

OF all the costumes in L'Amour, the new ballet at the Alhambra, the most beautiful are worn by the throng of dancers in the second scene, when they attempt to fascinate Prince Nashar el Din (Signor Alfredo Curti). Their floating draperies are made of silk gauze of pale violet colour, while the wreaths on their long red hair are big white blossoms. A ballet of flowers and bees gives an opportunity for much wealth of detail, the dresses of the flowers being composed of pink silk petals, the foliage being delicately suggested in softest green silk. The effect of the bees is greatly enhanced by the black stripes across the yellow of their costumes, and the head-dresses are exceedingly realistic—great bees with outspread wings, the bodies curving down over the hair.

SIGNORINA MARIA BORDIN looks her prettiest in a pink tulle ballet dress in the last scene—like a full-blown rose—with flowers and sparkling jewels in her dark hair. Signorina Enrica Varasi, who only dances once, wears satin and chiffon of the brightest orange tint. Miss Edith Slack appears in the only dress that can be called simple, and only then by comparison with her surroundings. It is white and gold, clinging and soft, with a wide, jewelled belt. Of the men, Signor Curti makes a very handsome lover for the captivating prima ballerina, his crimson costume being heavily embroidered in gold; and Signor Giovani Rosi, wonderfully made-up as Nanour, the High Priest, wears an elaborate robe of many dull colours cleverly intermingled.

A MOST successful matinée ever given in a Newcastle music hall was that which was held in the Empire Theatre on Tuesday afternoon. The object of the function was to benefit the funds of the Home for Destitute Crippled Children at Gosforth, and seldom have the more wealthy class of Novocastrians come to the aid of charity more handsomely. The local managing director of Moss Empires, Mr. Richard Thornton, procured the use of the hall quite readily free of charge, and Mr. Leslie Conroy, the resident-manager, threw himself into the effort with characteristic energy.

THE case of George Isenthal v. Jean Priver came before his Honour Judge Woodfall at the Westminster County Court this week. The plaintiff was represented by Mr. Valentia (instructed by Messrs. Osborne and Osborne), and the defendant by Mr. William Whately (instructed by Mr. Wilfrid Powell, of 28 and 29, St. Swithin's-lane, E.C.). The plaintiff claimed for the sum of £41, being balance of the amount due for thirty-one weeks at £2 per week after giving credit for the sum of £19 15s., which he admitted he had received from the defendant. The defendant proved to the satisfaction of the Judge that the plaintiff was only entitled to receive salary when the troupe of the "Eight Mysterious Guards" were performing, and when it was not performing the plaintiff was not entitled to receive any salary. Judgment accordingly was given for the plaintiff for the sum of £15, being the balance due at the rate of £2 per week when the troupe was performing.

MY FANCY, who is a great favourite in the Isle of Man, has just been secured to appear there for four weeks, commencing Monday, June 25.

MR. W. J. CHURCHILL, the comedian, has become the lessee of the Happy Valley, Llandudno, having been chosen out of several applicants. His selection has caused no surprise, for it was Mr. Churchill who helped, with the late Mr. Alfred Allan, to make the Happy Valley the success that it was in former years.

THE Terriers' "up-the-river" outing takes place on Sunday. The happy party starts from Paddington by rail to Reading, and from thence to Staines by steam launch, returning to Waterloo by train in the evening.

MR. JOHN HYMAN has presented Mrs. John Lawson's latest daughter with her first Court dress. The little lady will wear this when she is presented at Court by the "King's Minister"—Humanity John.

MADAME DORINA NATALIA, the South African contralto, who is fulfilling a successful engagement this week at the Empress, Brixton, has appealed successfully to the lovers of popular ballads by her rendering of Angelo Mascheroni's "For all Eternity" and "Annie Laurie."

THE 467th meeting of the committee of the Music-Hall Artists' Railway Association was held on Tuesday, when there were present Messrs. Fred Herbert (in the chair), Harry Blake, Albert Le Fre, Fred Neiman, George Preston, C. Douglas Stuart (secretary), and Douglas White (hon. treasurer). Minutes of the previous meeting was read and passed, and matters arising therefrom dealt with. Mr. James Bell, acting-manager of the Theatre Royal, Darlington, was appointed agent for the Association in that town. Cases of refunds were considered, and in regard to the objection of a member to pay for the conveyance of luggage from one London terminus to another, it was mentioned that railway companies did not undertake to transmit luggage by road free on Sundays.

A LETTER of thanks was read from a member, acknowledging the help given by the Association in a recent law case. The financial statement for the week ending June 10 was read, showing that the receipts were £31 15s., and the expenditure £14 4s. 5d., the number of new members being thirty-six. The financial report of the hon. treasurer, giving the number of members as 4351, and the total amount standing to the credit of the Association as £1312 17s. 7d., was also passed.

THE report of the sub-committee which was appointed to deal with the insurance premium was presented by Mr. Harry Blake, who announced that they had been successful in obtaining a rebate of the odd £23 15s. 11d. from the total amount due of £423 15s. 11d.—a reduction of nearly 1d. a head on the membership. A vote of thanks to the sub-committee was passed nem. con. The hon. treasurer's offer of a number of pictures to hang in the rooms of the Association was accepted with thanks.

LONDON VARIETY THEATRES.

THE CANTERBURY.

The Canterbury programme numbers amongst its many attractive items a large proportion of artists who have won popularity by reason of the conspicuous ability they have shown as comedians. Selecting them in the order of their appearance, we have first Mr. Tom Leamore, who meets with a very flattering reception from his South London admirers. In the rôle of a park-keeper in the employ of the L.C.C. Mr. Leamore is quite in his element. His description of the various duties which devolve upon the park-keeper is genuinely funny, more particularly his allusions to the ducks, of which his wife is so extremely fond when the birds are served up for the Sunday dinner. For some reason or other, not altogether unconnected no doubt with a determination to overawe mischievous youths, Mr. Leamore's park-keeper wears a policeman's helmet and a long overcoat. Presenting a complete contrast, the popular comedian next appears as a red-haired gentleman in a light suit, who sings a ditty, the burden of which is, "Oh Rufus," this greeting from the ladies being a delicate allusion to the colour of his flowing locks. Mr. George Bastow, another favourite comedian, gives a capital portrait of a hale and hearty old countryman, who, in spite of the burden of his years, is still active and full of vivacity. He is a genial old fellow, and quickly gets on good terms with the audience. A quick change, and Mr. Bastow reappears as "the galloping major," an elderly officer wearing riding breeches, who in the chorus of his song imitates the actions of the rider of a spirited horse. Mr. Bastow's reception is of the most cordial description; and a similar welcome awaits Mr. Wilkie Bard, a comedian whose stage business in invariably marked by a humorous exaggeration that proves most effective. In his character of a scene-shifter he introduces some very amusing patter; but funnier still is this clever comedian's representation of an elderly female, with a doleful ballad called "Let me sing." The lady has a warm discussion with a fireman, who objects to being mentioned in the ditty. Eventually he threatens to put her out. "Put me out!" indignantly cries the ancient female. "Why, I'm not a fire!" Having temporarily got rid of the interfering official, she asks some boy in the gallery to join in the chorus of the song, whereupon an individual with a long grey beard comes to the front of one of the private boxes and accepts the invitation, much to the simulated astonishment of the lady. Later in the evening Mr. Sam Mayo, known as "the immobile comedian," makes an eminently successful appearance; and Mr. James Stewart, the "Tramp at the Piano," is also greeted with loud applause.

One of the most pleasing turns in the programme is that of Miss Lily Burnand, who happily retains all those attractive qualities which originally brought this clever and attractive comedienne so prominently to the front. Displaying admirable good taste in her costumes, Miss Burnand also shows discrimination in the selection of suitable songs. "When she was in the ballet they called her Sally" is distinguished by a very catchy melody, and Miss Burnand sings the ditty excellently, winning the appreciative applause of her audience. Another melodious number is "When my ship comes sailing home," which is also given in spirited style. Miss Rachel Lowe contributes a couple of songs with successful results, the one in which she impersonates a lady who chatters about her neighbours being specially good. Mr. John Ford's skill as a step-dancer receives, as it deserves, generous recognition. It is indeed a remarkable exhibition. Mr. Rex Fox, in his ventriloquial and musical act on the wire, gives a very clever and original show; and Miss Carrie Laurie and her Juveniles are as popular as ever. Mr. Fred Karno's latest production, The Smoking Concert, is one of the leading items in the current programme, which also includes Howe and Ardie, comedians, Herr E. Rousby's cleverly-worked electrical review, entitled "Round Paris; or, Paris in London," and Ruffell's Imperial Bioscope. The front of the house is carefully looked after by Mr. Fred Miller, the popular general manager.

BOW PALACE.

"There's many a sensible story told in a good old chorus song" is the statement which forms a couple of lines in one of Miss Lottie Lennox's verses this week at the Bow Palace And no one, we are sure, will be inclined to disagree with the lady. Seemingly there is a special reason for eulogising the chorus song, for a competition was arranged to take place at the hall referred to last night, local amateur vocalists being offered prizes for the best rendering of any of Miss Lennox's ditties. East-enders were permitted the choice of three, with all of which Miss Lennox has been delighting crowded houses during the past few days. In addition to her chorus song, the clever comedienne treats the audience to her popular numbers, entitled "One, two, three, four" and "Don't keep them waiting any longer," which bears a reference to the shameless way in which ladies are imprisoned by suspense for the long-delayed proposal of marriage. And after this we shall reasonably anticipate agreeable announcements being made in the Bow churches, while the local registrars should have their hands full for a few weeks. Miss Lennox has a nice style and delivery, and her performances are much appreciated.

Walker and Lane, the popular purveyors of patter, provide a turn that is full of merry quips and cranks; and Mr. Will Farrell also makes for mirthfulness with his "express" comedy. The Lynches are seen in a refined act, which consists of the singing of dainty songs illustrated by charming pictures, the series depicting "the old home" being perhaps most in general favour. Mr. Johnny Walker gives us much to laugh at in his tale about a shopkeeper, a rôle he presents in comical fashion for the time being. Then he perpetrates a number of exceeding apt puns, and concludes with imitations of the sounds made by animals and by artificial means. It is a capital vocal representation that we get from him of the sawing of a piece of timber, while his other efforts in the directions of mimicry are not less realistic. A sprightly comedienne and sand-dancer comes along in the person of Miss Edie Endon, whose rendering of "You shall have a lovely home" is most ear-enchanting. As to the latter portion of her show, it is sufficient to say that she is an admirable disciple of Terpsichore. Some men are well enough content to pursue their peregrinations on their appropriate pedal extremities. Not so Mephisto, who shows us that he can travel along upon his hands almost as well, if not as quickly, as with his feet. There is nothing in his contortionistic feats which leaves an unpleasant feeling with the spectators. Whatever he does is done neatly and gracefully, and particularly commendable is his balancing of a wineglass full of water as he twists his body round from a peculiar-seated posture.

Mr. Joe Oliver appeals to one's sentiments with a song, delivered with feeling and expression, concerning an aged mother who is anxiously waiting, lone and weary, for the return of her son to her little cottage over the hills of old Virginia. The lines are touching in the extreme, and are met by a responsive echo from Mr. Oliver's hearers. The Musical Vaudeville Sketch Company, under the direction of Mr. Fred Lawrence, furnish a distinctive feature of the programme with their absurdity, Muggins, V.C. Mr. Fred Lawrence makes us laugh with his impersonation of a comic waiter and his rendering of "The very next day." Mr. Horace Selby ably presents the rôle of an irascible colonel; and Mr. C. Herbert Summers is entertaining as Captain Slashington. Miss Edith Harmer gives a good account of herself as Lady Slingsby; and the other rôles are well looked after. Miss Lottie Stone's twelve black and white girls dance admirably, and the whole piece goes with a hilarious swing from beginning to end. Miss Sadie Simpson wins golden opinions for her coon singing and dancing; and Lacey's Erascope entertains us with amusing and serious pictures.

HAMMERSMITH PALACE.

Mirth and melody are agreeably combined in Dotty, an absurdity presented by the Ten Loonies, which occupies a prominent place in Mr. J. C. Coe's entertaining programme at the Hammersmith Palace this week. The Loonies represent a number of "music mad" inmates of an asylum, and their eccentric behaviour is a source of continued annoyance to their keepers, a "loony" who will persist in playing the big drum being especially irritating. The combination includes some excellent instrumentalists, the many popular selections played all being well rendered, especially a brass quartet. It is the first visit of this troupe to Hammersmith, but it will certainly not be the last, for laughter was almost continuous during their occupancy of the stage, and their various musical numbers were loudly applauded. Another item which made for hearty laughter was How to Treat a Burglar, a humorous little duologue given by the Maples, who enact a Benedict who has been out on the spree and his decidedly better half. The wife determines to give "hubby" a lesson, and treats him as she declares she would a burglar, "flooring" him repeatedly, and administering most severe punishment. Some exceptionally clever and attractive dancing is included in this very amusing trifle, and the talented and hard-working couple are warmly acclaimed at its conclusion.

Mr. Richard Novel gave some excellent imitations of the voices and mannerisms of Mr. Wilkie Bard and Mr. Harry Lauder; and was also fairly successful in his mimicry of Mr. Beerbohm Tree playing Hamlet, especially in his reproduction of the voice of the distinguished actor-manager. Mr. Novel also amused with a smartly-written recitation composed almost entirely of the titles of plays, and his imitation of Mr. Huntley Wright in the Gollywog dance from The Cingalee was heartily applauded. The vocal imitations of Miss Elsa Joel included a French lady singing a serenade and "Because I love you," an Italian operatic singer, and a damsel from the East-End warbling "I can't tell why I love you"—all admirable impersonations and well received, as was also the cultured singer's first selection, a number which displayed her vocal gifts to much advantage. King and Benson were responsible for a welcome interlude of comedy and vocalism, the playful banter of the couple compelling laughter, and their melodious singing of "Sally in our Alley" and other popular songs evoking applause.

Some of the heartiest laughter heard during the evening was created by the Karno Trio in The Travellers' Rest, a comic offering that includes some smartly-worked if familiar business; and the wonderful eccentric dancing and clean high-kicking of Mr. Herbert La Martine evoked enthusiastic plaudits. Miss Gertie Gitana was responsible for some clever impersonations in her attractive scena A Schoolgirl's Holiday; and the programme also included Mr. Charles Lilburn, comedian; Percival and Morley, in a comedy duologue Turtle Doves; Cul Pit, assisted by Mlle. Adele; the popular comedian Mr. Harry Tate in Motoring, and the Edisonograph.

THE GRANVILLE.

Walham Green is bestowing liberal patronage this week on the Granville, which is going well under the genial auspices of Mr. Robert W. Duce, the acting-manager. Mr. Joe Elvin and company are appearing in the screaming knockabout farce entitled The Bookie, in which the usual mix-up of nomenclature and jealousy of an inamorata, who bears the same name as a mare, are to the fore. In this case the gee-gee does not romp home, but the respective wives rush to one another's arms in anything but a friendly way. Joe Elvin as Mr. Jay is as irresistibly funny as ever, and his dire experiences as a bookie are sufficient to warn off any aspirant to the art of a "penciller." Miss Billie Barlow scores considerably in her songs, "Oh, nursey, nursey, won't you kiss the pain away" and a recital of how she went on the stage, with a lively refrain of "The fidgetty fits he had that day," interspersed with smart patter and personalities. Datas, the human almanac and encyclopædia of chronological sequence, puts to flight all his would-be posers and detractors, and instead of being scored off invariably performs that operation on his opponents. Mr. Carl Lynn, the marvellous animal mimic, gives a capital turn. He asks us to imagine we are starting out into the country on a motor-car, and imitates with life-like realism the getting up steam and tooting of the automobile; then come the arrival at a country house and the yapping of a little dog which objects to the invasion. Next is heard the whinnying of a frightened horse and the welcome of a more friendly equine. A cow and a calf are then introduced; incidentally a little girl in trouble invites attention, and then the pigs and the ducks squeal and quack respectively as to the manner born. At a menagerie hard by we are introduced to a cage of lions. The cats on the tiles afterwards claim attention, and finally a donkey brays realistically. Altogether this is a most novel exhibition of mimetic skill in the exposition of animal life. Jolly and Neilson are a pair of sweet-voiced duettists, who sing songs in character costume very charmingly, whether it be "Alice, where art thou?" or a Spanish serenade. The Sisters Morgan deserve a word of praise for their lively, bustling duets, rendered with great verve and vivacity and apparent enjoyment, pretty types of song being chosen in "There's nobody just like you, sweetheart" and "You'll be my Snowdrop Queen." The Leonards are highly successful in their vocal comedy entente cordiale act as the English sailorman and the gay Parisienne, and again in the duet and dance, "My Irish Ivy." Miss Daisy Lane is a saucy soubrette, who sings "Girls, don't you wish you had a nice little boy like mine" and "I don't want any motor-car." Dusty Rhodes is a very peculiar comedian and an excellent raconteur, who is determined to make his audience laugh. He is remarkably clever, his best effort being the old-fashioned and new-fashioned love songs. Mezzetti and Mora, in their triple-bar act, make one's hair stand on end by reason of their daring and dexterity; and Luis Hardt, the mighty atom, gives a marvellous exhibition of weight-lifting both of human beings and inanimate objects. Four men and a 131lb. weight appear to be a mere bagatelle to him, whilst he raises 171lb. (literally) single-handed. James Stewart, the tramp at the piano, runs through the usual gamut of pianoforte exercises, and introduces a novelty in the shape of playing a dance and dancing to it at the same time. Mr. Walter Clyde is an excellent tenor vocalist, whose renditions of "Children of the City" and "Always" are extremely popular. Starr and Leslie's turn with the "watch the lamp" episode, is well known and always interesting. Vernon's bioscope shows the Royal Wedding of Queen Ena Victoria and King Alfonso, including a picture after the outrage, and Royalty arriving at the Olympic games at Athens and a comic sketch "In the Summer-time; or, Hoodwinking Ma."

MR. WALTER DE FRECE, who sailed from America yesterday (Friday) with his accomplished wife, may add a New York house to his rapidly-increasing circuit. Plans are being prepared for a magnificent up-to-date theatre to be erected on a fine site in 44th-street and Broadway, to be run by Mr. de Frece on the lines of the Empire and Alhambra, London.

CHAT WITH MISS VESTA VICTORIA.

(BY OUR OWN COMMISSIONER.)

Miss Vesta Victoria, who is at the time these lines are being penned, fulfilling contracts at the Tivoli, Oxford, and Paragon, speaks in enthusiastic terms of her recently-concluded American engagement. "They say I made the greatest success that has ever been known there," she says in her vivacious manner. "The Press and the public were awfully good to me; in fact, I have never even been treated so well in my own country. I was away from home for three months, and I performed all the time in New York, appearing under the management of Messrs. Percy Williams, Hammerstein, and Proctor. Had it not been for the fact that I had arranged to open in London on June 4 I should undoubtedly have stayed much longer in the States. Mr. Louis Fields wanted me to play the leading comedy part in his new play at the Herald-square Theatre in New York. If I had been able to comply with his wishes, I should have been with him for thirty-five weeks—the period for which the piece is to run."

Miss Victoria's statements as to the hearty reception she experienced in New York is fully borne out by certain Transatlantic newspaper extracts which have been placed at our disposal. Here is one from the Brooklyn Daily Eagle: "The little English music-hall star, in her eccentric characters and comic songs, has proved the best vaudeville attraction Mr. Williams has ever had."

[Photo by Otto Sarony and Co.
MISS VESTA VICTORIA.

That is saying a good deal, but there is no doubt that it is the truth, as a consensus of Press opinions indicates. Miss Victoria is going back to America in October. She tells us that the salaries given in the land of dollars and dimes are far better than those to be got in England, and she herself has such an admiration for American people that she is already looking forward with keen pleasure to the renewing of their acquaintance. She finds very little difference between the variety theatres of the two countries. "Our high-class music halls," she says, "may be somewhat more elaborate in their appointments and decorations, but that is about all. No; I did not play in any of the theatres where continuous performances are given. My longest appearance for one night? Well, I was on the stage for forty-seven minutes, that was my record. Every night there were continual shouts for encores, and I had to make speeches to the people."

"Then they were not satisfied with two or three songs, Miss Victoria?"

"I used to sing six or seven songs at each performance, my répertoire including "It ain't all honey," "The artist's model," "Waiting at the church," the "Hunting song," "The country girl," and 'The Turkey girl.' All of them proved immensely popular. I happened just to take out the stuff they particularly liked. American audiences are most demonstrative. I had no end of bouquets, flowers, presents, and congratulatory letters."

A reference by Miss Victoria to a couple of new songs she was producing at the London halls suggested a question.

"I suppose the bringing out of a new song is something akin, from the artist's point of view, to the playing of a new part?"

"I am always very nervous," replies the lady, "concerning the singing for the first time in public of a new song. Of course, I know that, having been on the stage since I was four years of age, I ought to have got used to the work by now. But the fact is, you never can foretell how a song is going to turn out at its introduction before a crowded house. I sang songs in America that lots of people said would fall flat there. The only way to test a song is to render it before an audience, for there are lots of songs which the artist may think are suitable, but which do not appeal to the audience. Another set of verses which, in one's own opinion, possesses no artistic merit, may go splendidly with the house. Now, the songs I prefer are those which afford opportunities for plenty of comedy work and burlesque acting. Anybody can sing a chorus song. I think my new song, 'Waiting at the church,' will prove almost, if not quite, as popular as 'Our lodger's such a nice young man.' I only put that song on just before I sailed for America, and it was the most successful thing I did over there."

"How long will you be away from us the next time?"

"I have engagements in the States offered me for six months. I should probably remain in New York for four months, and the rest of the time would be spent in some of the other big towns."

Miss Victoria made her first big hit with the song of "Good-for-nothing Nan," when she was a child of ten. She dressed and made up as a wayward, Topsy-like character. From that she went on to do broad low comedy as well as light comedy. But a greater triumph came with "Daddy wouldn't buy me a bow-wow," which created a sensation in variety circles. The tune was whistled and hummed in the streets of every town and city in the Kingdom, as well as in America, where Miss Victoria was awarded with rapturous applause. The clever artist could have made a nice little sum of money by the sale of dogs, for specimens of every breed of the canine family were presented to her while the "Daddy wouldn't buy me a bow-bow" craze was at its height. She had a similar experience, though the presents were not of the live-stock order, when she sang the song "Just because they put me into trousers," a song which, among many others, that became equally popular, was written by Miss Victoria's brother, Mr. Lawrence Barclay.

Admirers of Miss Victoria may be interested to learn that the grotesque dresses which she has been seen wearing on the stage have been designed by herself, and made by her mother.

"L'AMOUR" AT THE ALHAMBRA.

There have been spectacles of Eastern richness and brilliance before at the Alhambra, but the latest production there on Monday evening surpasses in the magnificence of its stage-setting and mounting anything of the same kind—even if we go back to the palmy days of Pitteri and Charles Morton. L'Amour, too, bore a special significance for the fashionable world, for Mrs. Hay-Ritchie, who, with Mr. Charles Wilson, is responsible for the scenario, is a relative of Mrs. Ronalds, a famous leader of society, and this fact and the visit of Mr. and Mrs. Longworth (Miss Alice Roosevelt) to the famous ballet house drew an immense audience, which gave a warm welcome to the American President's daughter. Among others observed in a memorable gathering were the Princess Hatzfeldt, Baroness Cederström, Mrs. Ronalds, Mrs. Hay-Ritchie, Lord and Lady Cheylesmore, Lord Kilmorey, Mrs. Bradley-Martin, Mrs. Baring, Mrs. Henry Sturgis, Lady Newborough, Colonel Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Ronalds, and Lord Athlumney.

L'Amour is really a reversion to grand ballet; and the buried glories of the ancient Assyrian Empire have not only inspired the authors to sound dramatic depths in their principal scene, but have given opportunity to M. Francis Thomé to compose some alluring and melodious music. Perhaps he has not sufficiently emphasised the barbaric note by the use of brass, and has suggested by flowing cadences a more restful and placid story than is to be found in Mrs. Hay-Ritchie and Mr. Charles Wilson's scenario; but the musical listener can listen with unfeigned pleasure to a score that is always graceful, appealing, and admirably orchestrated. The cast of the ballet is as follows:—

Prince Nashar el Din....SIGNOR ALFREDO CURTI
Darius ....M. HENRI FRIELLI
Nanour ....SIGNOR GIOVANI ROSI
Nanarus ....SIGNOR AMEDEO SANTINI
Sethos ....MISS NELLIE HILL
Agron ....MISS BATON
Assarai ....MISS G. EDWARDS
Asti ....MISS EDITH SLACK
Crysis ....MISS ROSIE DEAN
Bacchis ....MISS JULIA REEVE
Sèlika ....SIGNORINA ENRICA VARASI
Mylitta ....SIGNORINA MARIA BORDIN

The action of the ballet centres round the beautiful Princess Mylitta (the Assyrian name of Venus), whose father Darius, King of Assyria, desires to find a husband worthy of her. There are numerous suitors among the Assyrian nobles, but these find the task set them by the powerful and ambitious Assyrian ruler entirely beyond their capabilities. They have to pierce with a javelin taken from the altar of Love the single golden apple on the tree of life, but each in turn is baffled by a blinding light from the sacred flame of purity. For the benefit of Nanarus, the son of King Assur, Asti, Mylitta's handmaiden, pours upon the flame a philtre to dim its glare, but the gods interfere, and Nanarus is dashed to the earth by the bolts of Jove. More successful is Prince Nashar el Din, commanding the invading Persian army, whose eyes are protected from the blinding flame by Mylitta's tresses. He hurls the javelin, and cleaves the golden fruit! Mylitta takes one half, he the other. But the future husband of a Royal Assyrian princess must submit to a further test; and it is ordained by the priesthood that he must pass one long probationary night alone in the temple, subject to the fascinating wiles and erotic allurements of a number of dancing sirens—another temptation of St. Antony. Until Mylitta herself, jealously doubting the honour of her lover, appears disguised, Nashar is as impassible as cold steel, but her sinuous grace is too much for him, and he succumbs. In the last scene Darius and Mylitta await in the Palace the coming of Nashar, who is imprisoned by the priests. The girl claims his release, and her claim is successfully upheld by the nobles. Thus all ends happily.

Though it has been stated by a contemporary that Signorina Maria Bordin made her first appearance in England on Monday evening at the Alhambra, this statement is not correct, for this clever ballerina first delighted a British public at the Lyceum in Mrs. Barrasford's production of the ballet Excelsior, wherein she represented Civilisation. It was again apparent on Monday that we have in this lady, who played the Princess Mylitta, a dancer of the first rank, and a mime of great intelligence and culture. Her reception at the conclusion of L'Amour on the first representation was most cordial, and she was the recipient of several bouquets. Signor Alfredo Curti as Prince Nashar realised the dramatic possibilities of his part to the full, especially in the "temptation" scene, which will bear judicious pruning. Here, too, Signorina Enrica Varasi, another distinguished Italian prima ballerina, also won honours. Miss Edith Slack, a great Alhambra favourite, did well in the part of Asti, the high priestess; M. Henri Frielli made a dignified and imposing figure of the aged Darius; Signor Giovani Rosi was effective as Nanour, the High Priest; and Signor Amedeo Santini was quite equal to the pantomimic stress of such a part as Nanarus. Others who added to the general excellence of the first representation were Misses Nellie Hill, Baton, G. Edwards, Rosi Dean, Julia Reeve, A. Mortimer, B. Davis, L. Bryant, G. Cormani, Q. Wood, and Ida Bailey. The scenery, by E. H. Ryan, discloses three wonderful pictures, the last of which—the Palace—reveals a luxury and gorgeousness which, in spite of great richness, have no garishness. The ballerine in Comelli's tastefully-designed dresses become a swaying, moving mass of glowing colour, always harmonious. In the Temple (Scene II.) the necessary air of mysticism is not lacking, and one is naturally interested in the dances of les aphrodysiaques, les charmeuses, and des cheveux. In the last-mentioned dance a quatrain of coryphées wear lovely tresses of great length, supplied probably from the atelier of Gustave, who is responsible for the wigs. L'Amour, the performance of which was ably conducted by Mr. George Byng, will have to be compressed, but it has so much of brilliancy and beauty of spectacle and charm of mise-en-scène that its attractiveness would not suffer thereby in the least.

The Urbanora pictures have become a permanent attraction of the Alhambra, and the highly interesting series now being exhibited includes a view of the Royal coach—in which the King and Queen of Spain were returning from their wedding—immediately after the bomb outrage, showing the wounded horse struggling on the ground. The Royal bull fight is another film of considerable interest, as it was the first function of the kind ever attended by an English Princess. The most famous matadors are here represented in rich costumes, and all cruelty has been eliminated from the spectacle as shown on the screen.

MR. C. E. PARLATO, who has been on tour this season with his animated picture and vaudeville company, is now terminating a successful tour at Mansfield, after booking an extra week. He is spending two weeks' vacation on the Continent, then returns to rehearse his pierrot teams at Scarborough. At the close of the summer season he contemplates touring a No. 1 and No. 2 company in the provinces.

MR. MARK MELFORD is making a wonderful recovery from the operation which ensued after his accident with the gun, and proposes to open on the 25th inst. at Swansea for a long Moss and Thornton tour. A season of pantomime at the Shakespeare, Clapham, where Mr. Melford will play the Widow Twankey in Aladdin, will follow, and a visit to America in 1907 is not unlikely.

THE SOUTH LONDON.

Reports of the most favourable kind may be given of the South London, whose manager, Mr. Frank Weeks, is just now enjoying a holiday trip to the Channel Islands. The vast house is constantly crowded, and the appreciation of the audience at the items of the programme is invariably manifest. The current bill of fare is noteworthy for the inclusion of a new sketch, by William Felton, entitled Under the Seal. The "Seal" referred to is that of the confessional, a subject to which the drama on the regular boards has at various times been devoted with more or less regard to theological exactitude. Mr. Felton, however, has managed to construct an effective little piece without misrepresentation, and the playlet held the house in silent appreciation until the close, when hearty cheers were bestowed. On the rising of the curtain a "village priest" named Father David has just absolved a ruffian named Isaac Fogdale, who some months previously had murdered the priest's brother in revenge for having had him sent justly to prison. Fogdale also cherishes hatred towards the priest, and conceives the fiendish idea of revealing his crime under the seal of confession in order that the clergyman may be tormented with the secret and yet not be able to bring the murderer to justice. Father David has a rough but good-hearted maid-servant named Bet, whom he has rescued from the gutter, and who holds both the priest and his murdered brother in reverence. She endeavours to extract from the priest the reason for the melancholy under which he is labouring, but Father David preserves his vows. Bet becomes suspicious of Fogdale, and when he returns to taunt the priest with his terrible secret she hides behind the door, and overhears the villain boast of the deed, she fetches the police, and Fogdale endeavours to escape, but is prevented by Father David. A struggle ensues, and Fogdale, drawing a knife, is about to stab the clergyman when Bet throws herself between the two men and receives the fatal thrust. The little piece is thoroughly well performed by a company headed by Miss Margaret Parker, who plays the part of Bet—a hoydenish maiden—first-cousin to Nan in Good-for-Nothing. Miss Parker acted the low-comedy episodes effectively, causing great merriment, and the pathetic scene at the end was very touchingly played. Mr. Herbert Harden's mellow voice well suited the rôle of Father David, and he acted the priest admirably. A picturesque portrayal of a villain in corduroys was given by Mr. Morrice Seaton; and Mr. E. J. Wooley appeared as a policeman.

Excellent melodrama is supplied in the sketch Betrayed Friendship, the scene of which passes from a British encampment in South Africa to a street in London and thence to a country cottage. The story, which deals with the frustration of a villainous plot, is a military one, and affords chances of dramatic distinction, of which Mr. Watts Phillips and company take full opportunity, the audience being moved alternately to laughter and cheers. The duologue, Four-a-shilling, Fine Mackerel, is responsible for a good deal of the laughter which is aroused in the course of the evening. Mr. George English, whose name will be easily recalled in connection with stirring recitations delivered in times past, appears as a coster, and who makes up as an actor in order to win the affections of a comely maid-servant. Mr. English's representation of the "mummer" is a clever and quaint characterisation, involving a neat quick-change. And Miss Flo Penley plays a vivacious servant-girl on original lines, and secures unbounded merriment by her funny sayings as well as by her singing of a "lunatic asylum" song. The sketch may certainly be set down as one of the successes of the evening.

Admiration of the Dickens impersonations of Miss Arabella Allen is general throughout the house, her vivid reproductions of Uriah Heep and the Grandfather of "The Old Curiosity Shop" being among the finest examples of her art, and calling forth enthusiastic applause. The Two Anartos first put their heroes into throes of mirth by their exceedingly comic exchanges, and then enthrall them by their music dispensed on concertina and saxophone, and later by a violin solo, which the low comedian conducts à la Sousa. The ticket craze furnishes Mr. Walter Stanley with material which he puts to droll uses in a song, and his pointed refrain, "I'm glad I live in England," with his quaint dance, serves thoroughly to amuse the house. Blarney and Kennard attain popularity by means of their songs, sayings, and dancing, and the success which they achieve is assisted not a little by the antics of two pretty little dogs, who are prevailed upon to execute a waltz. Mr. Harry Maynard's comic songs are thoroughly enjoyed, and the programme is strengthened by the appearance of Miss Sadie Seymour, a smart comedienne, and the up-to-date pictures of Ruffell's Imperial Bioscope.

"A HOT TIME FOR NODDLES."

A Farcelet, by W. Scott Phipp, Produced for the First Time at the Lyceum Theatre, on Thursday Afternoon, June 7.

Mr. Noddles ....MR. A. WRIGHT
Mrs. Noddles ....MISS BEATRICE BRADDON
Mr. Frank Endale ....MR. VIVIAN WILLIS

The scene of the "farcelet," which was introduced into the programme at the matinée at the Lyceum on the 7th inst., is the drawing-room of Mr. Noddles, who is described as a domestic tyrant. Mr. Noddles accuses his wife of exhibiting too much freedom towards other men, and declares he will not permit it. On the peppery gentleman retiring with the significant utterance that he "will return soon," in fact "sooner than the lady expects," he exits with the specific object of disguising himself as a process server, and coming to the house to watch his wife. The lady's brother, Frank Endale, becomes aware of the jealous husband's intentions, and a plot is accordingly hatched by Frank and his sister to checkmate him. Frank is to visit the place in various disguises while the husband is on the watch, and to make it very warm for the pseudo process-server. Mr. Noddles duly puts in an appearance, and there is a funny scene between himself and Mrs. Noddles in which he fondly imagines he is safe from recognition. Frank Endale then comes on in rotation as Gussie, a dandy, Crackandslit, a wrestler, and Nicholas Spitski, a terrible Nihilist; and in every scene he contrives to make things very uncomfortable for Mr. Noddles, who ultimately comes to the conclusion that he has made a great mistake, and pleads for forgiveness. It will be seen that there is plenty of opportunity for the introduction of ludicrous situations and harmless fun, and we have no doubt the sketch will be very acceptable to music-hall audiences.

AT the recent benefit for the San Francisco sufferers at the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, Miss Vesta Tilley made the hit of the evening, and afterwards autographed a programme, which was sold by auction and realised 1000 dollars (£200). Mr. Howard E. Cotter, of Broadway, who obtained Miss Tilley's signature, sent the "favourite boy" a congratulatory letter of thanks, announcing the above result, and stating that he had enjoyed Miss Tilley's entertainment six times during her visit to the city.

MR. DION WADE, who has been unable to fulfil his engagements for the past two months through severe throat trouble, is quite well and strong again, and will open at the Chelsea Palace on Monday.

MARK MELFORD'S OPERATION.

A wonderful recovery is being made by Mr. Mark Melford from the results of the accident which he suffered by the sudden explosion of a gun while out shooting, and we give in his own quaint words an account of the operation which he recently had to undergo:—

"In Epping Forest I accidentally shot myself, and although the bullet travelled a foot along the fleshy border of my ribs and embedded itself in the muscles of the back, I was up and about in a week, feeling better for the first real rest after thirty years of continuous acting. Just to vary matters a bit I broke a blood-vessel a month later at Manchester, and once again overheard an ominous remark of the doctor who had been fetched while I was insensible. At the shooting episode I came to in time to hear the police discussing the mechanism of my gun, and they appeared a little surprised to suddenly hear from me: 'You had better keep the gun; you'll want it for the inquest!'

"On the Manchester occasion my doctor's remark was the first thing I heard on recovering consciousness: 'If he's sick again he'll go!' supplemented by the voice of an eccentric landlady, who somewhat aggressively addressed my little daughter: 'Why don't you kneel and pray for your father?' Once again the voice of the invalid was heard: 'Don't make me laugh, or I shall be sick.' Two months later I am confronting a specialist with a frank demand to know the nature of the complication that is making my health an anxiety to my friends. With a grave face, but perfectly business-like air, the oracle of Weymouth-street speaks: 'You must undergo a critical operation. You may come out alright; but there's a risk.' Thus was facing me episode No. 3, that amounted to the tossing up of a copper—heads he dies; tails he lives! A curious and novel sensation to a man who had never known a day's illness in half-a-century, or missed a single night's engagement for thirty years.

"May 24. Call 10.30 for the operation. Bathed, trimmed, and trussed up the night before, I awaited the signal to be conducted to the theatre of operations. Precisely at the hour the nurse entered languidly, and remarked in tones of studied indifference, 'Now, if you will follow me.' I afterwards learnt that my case was agitating the Home to an unusual extent on account of its evenly-balanced danger. I nipped out of bed, and followed my nurse through several passages and down two flights of stairs, when the sight of the front door for an instant suggested comedy—the astonishment of all if I suddenly bolted out and did two or three laps round Regent's Park in my weird costume. Two more turnings, and I suddenly found myself in a kind of studio, with a trestled slab-like bed in the centre, and an exceedingly business-like group of seven people standing round. Dr. Furnival, the eminent surgeon (my leading man), was tucking up his sleeves with a glint of scientific enthusiasm in his eye, and within reach an exceedingly suggestive-looking array of cutlery peeped out from beneath a spotless serviette. Dr. Hutchinson, the well-known specialist, stood on my right, with Dr. Walker, my own genial doctor and expert golfist, at the foot of the operating-table, on which, after an elaborate bow to the little company, including the matron of the establishment and her attendant nurses, I obediently stretched myself. All was ready—the dull buzz of the anæsthetic apparatus and pungent smell of ether prevailed.

"'One word,' said I. The situation is so novel, the possibility that this may be my last glimpse of daylight so interesting to a philosopher like myself, that the opportunity to test my nerve by a moment's pause is irresistible. 'Look! my hand'—I held it out; not a tremor, steady, firm, and cool! In ten seconds I was insensible. In seven hours I awoke to hear the words 'Half-past five.'

"All was over; but the thirst—thirst for twenty-four hours—each minute counted. When a teaspoon half-full of water was dropped into my mouth it was like dropping the same into a hot saucepan on the hob. It fizzed; it didn't go down my throat. It turned to steam! In duty bound they ignored my entreaties for water. I pestered them with applications for one whole day and one whole night. The period of peril was up. Twenty-four hours had gone by, and my blessed doctor dropped a piece of ice in my mouth. The spell was broken. I slept.

"My rapid recovery—'a record,' the surgeon says—finds me eager to rejoin my many good-natured colleagues of the halls. Another fortnight and I shall be amongst them, snatched from a very permanent engagement—for the investigation startled the doctors into pronouncing my chances very small indeed; and but for the operation a month at the most would have put 'Curtain' to the career of Mark Melford."

THE FRED LOCKE FUND.

The following additional subscriptions have been received by Mr. J. G. Crichton, 9, Bridge-street Glasgow. The Fund is now being held in trust in the joint names of Mr. Richard Waldon, Roya Princess's, Glasgow, and Mr. Crichton:—

	£	s.	d.
Caledonian Railway Lodge (No. 354)	2	0	0
Neptune Kilwinning Lodge (No. 442, Saltcoats)	2	0	0
Montefiore Lodge (No. 753)	1	1	0
J. F. Elliston, Bolton, P.M. of the E.C.	1	1	0
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dent	1	1	0
Harry Tate	1	0	0
Employees in Royal Princess's, Glasgow	1	0	0
Sawers and Co.'s Girls, Glasgow	0	9	0
Carter Livesey	0	7	0
Lillian Rosebery	0	7	0
Frank Bertram	0	5	0
J. B. Cousin, Gourock	0	5	0
H. Arnold, jun.	0	2	6
George D'Albert	0	2	6
R. Barton	0	2	6
Arthur Redgby	0	2	6

Wizard Stone, who hails from Denver, Colorado, arrived in England a few weeks ago with the most sensational act ever attempted on a motor-cycle. He loops the loop in an enormous spherical cage, constructed of the finest steel, riding at the speed of fifty miles an hour. Before mounting his motor, Mr. Stone gives an exhibition of quick riding on an ordinary machine inside his huge ball, accompanied by his sister, Miss Irene Stone. He is a man of iron nerve, trained as a professional rider—a "speed merchant," as it is called in the United States—and he has only met with one accident during the two years he has been performing his daring feat. On that occasion something went wrong with his motor-cycle, and he came down from the roof of the cage, but succeeded in turning over as he fell, to get the machine underneath, and so escaped unhurt.

Mr. Walter Hassan, manager of the Royal Hippodrome, Liverpool, was presented by Dr. Walford Bodie on Saturday last, 9th inst., with a very handsome diamond ring.

Dolly and Madge McCalla, who were engaged at the Alhambra, Brighton, last week, won such popularity that Mr. Graydon immediately extended their visit for another six nights. They have introduced a new number this week, entitled The Millionaire's Daughters.

EDWARD SWANBOROUGH.

A VETERAN MANAGER.

Mr. Henri Gros is at the head of the movement to give a matinée and testimonial benefit to Mr. Edward Swanborough, to take place at the London Pavilion on Thursday, June 28.

Mr. Swanborough has recently been afflicted with a serious illness, which, in all probability, will prevent him from resuming active work for a very long period at least, but most likely for ever. The present, therefore, would be an opportune time to honour this trusty public servant with a testimonial matinée and benefit, and in order that this should take place at a central West-End establishment, the directors of the London Pavilion have been approached, and have cordially agreed to assist the deserving cause by lending their hall for the matinée.

Photo by Hellis.

EDWARD SWANBOROUGH.

The object of this matinée is to raise a substantial sum which will be placed in the hands of trustees, and thus enable them to make the beneficiaire a weekly allowance.

Before his appointment as manager of the Chelsea Palace, Mr. Swanborough was out of employment for a considerable period. For a long time he has been hampered with financial responsibilities not of his own creation, and which he has honourably and secretly discharged to keep his good name. An appeal is now made, therefore, to the dramatic and musical professions to recognise his many sterling qualities by substantially assisting, thus giving to the man we have learned to know and appreciate so well a substantial token of respect and goodwill.

Mr. Swanborough has many happy and humorous recollections of the old Strand Theatre. On two occasions as a youngster he decorated the house with cheap gold and red French paper bought in Cannon-street, being assisted in this undertaking by the painter's labourer, Tom Christian—who, by the way, had a pension from the proprietress until the day of his death—and Mr. Swanborough recalls now, with a laugh, that the newspapers at the time highly complimented him upon his artistic and decorative abilities. Another little anecdote he has to relate does not appear to flatter the old playhouse in the Strand. A piece, called The Woman in the Dusthole, written by John Oxenford, was produced there, and Oxenford wrote his own criticism upon it in the Times, stating in the course of his remarks that a more appropriate title could not have been chosen, as the place in which the play was produced was, indeed, a dusthole. Later on, however, when Mr. Swanborough's sister (now Mrs. Major Lyon) took possession of the old Strand very great alterations and improvements were effected.

Mr. Swanborough regards it as a rather curious thing that he has always been called upon during the terms of his different appointments to personally pay the salaries of the artists, and even in the case of his present responsible position his managing-director, Mr. Henri Gros, has requested him to fulfil the same duty at the Chelsea Palace. Our old friend thinks he has never been in a more beautiful and interesting neighbourhood than Chelsea, and he feels that he is quite back among old associations, for his father's country house was in Beaufort-street (now pulled down), where he and his two brothers used to stay from the Saturday night to the Monday morning. In those days Mrs. Keeley also lived in Beaufort-street, as well as Miss Woolgar and her parents, and Alfred Mellon, whom she afterwards married. At that period Beaufort-street was almost a recognised place of residence for artists who moved in the higher circles. What times those were! And now, as Mr. Swanborough occasionally indulges in a retrospect, he is inclined to share with Tennyson's Princess that "divine despair" and melancholy regret

In looking on the happy autumn fields,
And thinking of the days that are no more.

Among the old-time celebrities who were in the habit of meeting at the old Strand Theatre were Charles Dickens, William Makepeace Thackeray, and "Frank" (now Sir Francis) Burnand, the editor of Punch. When the doors were shut they used to form into a little party and regale themselves by way of supper at one Charlotte Goodwin's oyster shop opposite the theatre. Mr. Swanborough tells the story that on one occasion Douglas Jerrold called often and vociferously for a glass of grog. Charlotte at last condescended to put it down on the table, with the remark, "There! you troublesome little man, and now you've got it mind you don't fall in!"

The Prince of Wales (now the King), accompanied by the Princess and their children, as a rule paid three or four visits a month to the Strand, and the Prince's first request was always, "I want to be received by my boys," meaning Mr. Swanborough and his brother Arthur. Mr. Swanborough was the first theatrical manager who went over to the music halls. At the time of his becoming connected with the London Pavilion—which, by the way, has been rebuilt since he managed it—there were no stalls, the space where these are now being then occupied by lounges and tables.

The subject of this interview stands on a high rung of the ladder of Masonry. In December, 1864, he was passed into the Lodge of Joppa, 188, some years later becoming a member of the Asaph Lodge, with which he has been associated for nearly thirty-four years. In 1879 he was a Master of this Lodge, and journeyed to Truro with the Grand Lodge of England to witness the Prince of Wales lay the foundation-stone of Truro Cathedral. He is also, together with Mr. James Willing, jun., one of the founders of the Strand Lodge, and its first Senior Warden.

Mr. Swanborough's sister, Mrs. Major Lyon, is the original Miss Swanborough who played at the Olympic with Robson and Emden, and, prior to that, she was at the Haymarket Theatre, under J. B. Buckstone's management, playing Juliet to Miss Cushman's Romeo. It was William Swanborough, a brother, who built the Prince of Wales's Theatre in Birmingham, the other brother, Arthur, being the acting-manager of the Strand for many years, and managed the Royal for five years, up to the time of his death.

Subscriptions will be gladly received and duly acknowledged in The Era. They may be addressed to the Hon. Treasurers, Mr. George Adney Payne, 1, Durham House-street, W.C., or to Mr. F. H. Pedgrift, The Era Office, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.

Miss Rose Stahl, whose one-act comedy, The Chorus Girl, has been such a success at the Palace Theatre, is a New Yorker who was educated at a convent in Montreal. She has played Miss Patricia O'Brien, the chorus girl, over a thousand times in America, having previously made her name as an actress of straight parts. In the famous sketch that she is presenting for the first time in England she has no opportunity to wear pretty clothes, although the clinging Greek robe with a jewelled belt, in which she finishes her clever sketch, is very effective, especially when she stands for a minute with a great bouquet of crimson roses in her arms.

The Athenæum, Lancaster, closed on Saturday evening until August.

Raku, a new Japanese wrestler—said to be the best exponent of jiu-jitsu on the stage—is appearing at Stratford Empire this week. Wearing spectacles and attired in evening dress, he shows how to defend oneself against footpads. Even the other sex can do this, and a lady supplements Raku's show by giving forcible examples of how a frail girl may repel a sudden attack, and become in turn the assailant.

FRANK MACNAGHTEN'S RETURN.

Mr. Frank Macnaghten, the enterprising originator and director of the famous Macnaghten Vaudeville Circuit, has returned to England after his tour round the world. A small but influential gathering met him on the Prince's Landing Stage at Liverpool on Saturday evening last, and the heads of the Circuit—Mr. E. P. Lawton, general-manager; Mr. Fred Baugh, general-manager of the London Circuit; and Mr. Brandon Blake, assistant general-manager—warmly welcomed their chief on disembarking from the s.s. Cedric.

FRANK MACNAGHTEN.

To celebrate Mr. Macnaghten's return, the London and provincial managers of the circuits gave a dinner in his honour at the Monico, on Sunday evening last. The menu was as follows:—

Délices des Gastronomes.
Tortue Claire au Madere.
Bisque d'Ecrevisses.

Truite Jaunonée à la Chambord.
Filets de Sole en Whitebait.

Poularde Soufflé Alexandra.

Tournedos Marie Louise.
Granit Duchesse.
Chaudfroid de Caille Bellevue.

Caneton Rouennais à la fine Champagne.
Coeur de Laitues à la Crème.

Asperges Ice. Mousseline.

Pèches Melba.
Corbeille de Friandises.

Canapé Madhi.

Fraises aux Liqueurs.

Mr. E. P. Lawton proposed the health of "The Chief" in a graceful and well-turned speech, and was supported by Mr. Baugh, Mr. Harrison, Mr. Will Murray, Mr. H. C. Arnold, and Mr. Brandon Blake, the toast being received with all the honours. Mr. Macnaghten, in responding, gave an interesting summary of his travels. He witnessed the volcanic outbreak of Vesuvius, and the appalling catastrophe at San Francisco. He arrived at the latter place on the second day of the earthquake, and had to return to his vessel to sleep each night. The band of the Surrey Theatre attended, and performed a very fine selection of music, including a "Welcome Home" marche triomphale, specially composed for the occasion by Mr. Hinkinson, the musical director of the house across the bridge. The dinner was admirably served in the Louis Quatorze Suite of the Monico, beautifully decorated for the occasion.

Among those present were:—Mr. E. P. Lawton, chairman; Mr. F. Baugh; Mr. Brandon Blake, vice-chairman; Mr. Sydney Arthur (Lincoln), Mr. Wm. Trussell (Southampton), Mr. C. Schuberth (Bath), Mr. Wm. Murray (Blackburn), Mr. E. Harrison (Halifax), Mr. R. E. Liston (Leeds), Mr. H. C. Arnold (Bradford), Mr. J. Simpson (Hartlepool), Mr. J. Lawrence (Leicester), Mr. W. Lapworth (Leicester), Mr. C. Craig (Surrey), Mr. C. Harvey (Bow), Mr. J. Kutland (Foresters), Mr. J. Macarthy (Britannia), and Mr. Thurston G. Nourse, of Philadelphia, who was Mr. Macnaghten's compagnon de voyage.

"WELCOME HOME" DINNER TO MR. FRANK MACNAGHTEN. Photo by Brandon Blake.

"THE SECRET SPY."

A Dramatic Sketch,
by Dora Deane and Fred G. Brooke, produced at the Queen's, Poplar,
on Monday, June 11.

Sir Francis Tunbridge ..Mr. Walter Thornton
Lieut. Harry Tunbridge..Mr. Ernest Owtrim
Dr. Redfern .....Mr. Wellesley Draper
Private Adams .....Mr. Fred G. Brooke
Ethel Danby .....Miss Isla Garnet-Vayne
Cora Leclercq .....Miss Dora Deane

Miss Dora Deane and Mr. Fred G. Brooke have proved themselves to be prolific writers of sensational sketches for the music-halls. They seem to have treated every subject possible for dramatic treatment. In their latest work, The Secret Spy, they touch upon a fairly up-to-date topic. The story contains several thrilling situations, which should make it popular with patrons of variety entertainments. Lieut. Harry Tunbridge, who is in love with Ethel Danby, has, unfortunately, in the past had dealings with an adventuress, one Cora Leclercq, who, along with her paramour, Dr. Redfern, make their unwelcome appearance at the house of Harry's father, Sir Francis Tunbridge. Apparently some time previously a form of marriage had been entered into between the lieutenant and Cora Leclercq, and Dr. Redfern, who is a spy in the pay of the German Government, fails not to remind the hapless young man of the unhappy recollection. Sir Francis wishes his son to proceed upon a secret mission to St. Petersburg, which the young man is not particularly willing to undertake. However, he agrees to go. Then the scheming goes on in real earnest. The despatch papers are to be stolen from the lieutenant's bag by the German spy and false papers substituted, together with letters written by Cora incriminating Harry Tunbridge. Private Adams, who has escaped from a Durban prison and who is supposed to be a hopeless drunkard, begs Sir Francis to allow him to redeem his past, and Sir Francis affords him the opportunity by way of the despatches. Dr. Redfern persuades Ethel Danby to make an attempt on the life of Adams, which she does, without, however, fatal results. Then Adams kills her, and secures the documents stolen by Dr. Redfern. Subsequently there is an angry scene between Sir Francis Tunbridge and his son. Sir Francis feels that the young man has betrayed the trust placed in him, and tells him that the best thing he can do is to end his life. The lieutenant is on the point of acting upon his father's suggestion and shooting himself with a revolver when Adams bursts in upon the scene and exonerates Harry Tunbridge, at the same time denouncing Dr. Redfern. The end may be guessed. Mr. Fred G. Brooke gives us a clever character study of the soldier who through drink has fallen, but who is yet capable of noble acts in the service of his country. Mr. Ernest Owtrim is manly, vigorous, lover-like, and earnest as Lieut. Tunbridge, and Mr. Walter Thornton adequately represents the dignity and age and soldierly qualities of Sir Francis Tunbridge. Mr. Wellesley Draper acts with considerable subtlety in the difficult part of the villainous Dr. Redfern. Miss Dora Deane played the part of the adventuress, Cora Leclercq, in her usual good style, and Miss Isla Garnet-Vayne is delightfully sympathetic, pretty, and engaging in the rôle of Ethel Danby. The scene in which the story is told is quite of the superb order.

Miss Alice Hollander, the Australian contralto, made her Palace début this week in Gibson Girl black velvet, beautified by a big spray of lilies-of-the-valley. Miss Ethel Negretti sings her two songs in a smart little satin frock of vivid orange colour, with bunches of red berries in her hair. Miss Alice Russon looks delightfully fresh and girlish in a pale pink coat with puff sleeves, worn over a white silk dress, much be-ribboned, her stiff muslin cap being adorned with pink rosettes, that look like Malmaison carnations. A striking contrast in costume is the fit-like-a-glove blue Paris frock of Mlle. Trombetta. The lady gymnast, in the turn given by Toledo and Price, is not only in excellent taste for her style of work, but exceedingly dainty into the bargain.

Messrs. Tom Carney and Charles West, both favourites with frequenters of Dunn's concerts on the Old Britannia Pier, Great Yarmouth, open for the season with their refined London Vaudeville Concert Party at the Pavilion, Gorleston, on July 9.

THE SHOWMAN WORLD.

THE fairs ahead for next week are Tetney, Thorne (Yorks.), Cinderford, Coleford, Lambert Castle, Maidstone, Kidderminster, Rawtenstall, Chepstow, Newport Pagnell, Selby, Cambridge, Coal Aston, Farnham, Handley, Marbury Park, Mexboro' Feast, Norbriggs, Shipton-on-Stour, St. Just, Tideswell, Unston, and Willersey.

KIDDERMINSTER is an excellent fair on the Midland round, its charter dating from the reign of Charles I. The population is stationary, and amounts to nearly 25,000. Besides extensive carpet works, there are worsted spinning mills, tinplate works, and dye works. The railways are the Oxford and Wolverhampton and the Great Western.

MAIDSTONE has many old charters under which its fairs and markets are secured. It is a great centre of the hop-growing country, and has excellent railway connection by means of the South-Eastern and the London, Chatham, and Dover lines.

RAWTENSTALL, a Lancashire town chiefly engaged in cotton spinning, is the chief borough in Rosendale, and is well served by the Lancashire and Yorkshire Railway Company, with four stations—Clough Fold, Waterfoot, Ewood Bridge, and Rawtenstall itself; and at the time of the fair the neighbouring towns and villages take full advantage of these railway facilities.

CAMBRIDGE was incorporated by charter of Henry I. and confirmed by several other monarchs, but was forfeited at the time of the riots between the town and university, to be reinstated in the reign of Henry VII. It is a principal station on the Great Eastern Railway and a terminus on the Great Northern, London and North-Western, and Midland Railways.

A LARGE horse and pleasure fair is held on June 26 at Pershore, a small town in Worcestershire on the River Avon. It is nine miles from Worcester, six from Evesham, and about seventeen from Redditch. The chief industries are market gardening, fruit growing, jam factories, and agricultural implement works. The pleasure fair is held in Broad-street, a very wide thoroughfare in the centre of the town.

FOSSETT'S circus and hippodrome has been paying a visit to Upton-on-Severn and Pershore, and gave some excellent performances. At Malvern Link Common Strickland's steam galloping horses, park swings, shooting saloons, bottle battery, and cokernut sheets were among the attractions.

MR. FRED M. BARBER'S grand auction pavilion is paying a return visit to the Royal Hotel Yard, Redditch.

BROADWAY WAKES was maintained by Mr. T. Clarke's electric racing motor-cars, Mr. Albert Curtis's roundabouts, Chipperfield's Hall of Laughter, and other attractions.

AT Harvington were Mr. H. Ayers, with steam roundabouts, park swings, shooting saloons, bottle battery, cokernut sheets, &c.

ELSECAR FEAST was held on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. The chief attractions were: W. H. Marshall and Sons' grand motor-cars; T. Harness's flying motors and other minor roundabouts; cinématograph shows were exhibited by Messrs. Farrar, Lawrence, and Proctor; and other shows included boxing, midgets, &c. T. Burgin's steam swings were here, also Messrs. Hepworth, Pullen, &c., with swing boats; rifle saloons by Messrs. Bentley, Reany, Pullen, &c.; and pannun, cokers, &c., galore. Toys and presents were sold at Gledstone bazaar.

THE Bank Holiday amusements at Richmond Park, Surrey, were in the capable hands of W. Matthews, the local showman, whose headquarters are at Farnborough. Mr. Matthews provided roundabouts, shooting ranges, side-shows, and throwing games. The glorious weather ensured good business, and there was a record attendance.

THE ancient city of York kept its historic Whitsun fair in grand style, the principal exhibits being provided by Messrs Aspland, Howden, and Son. This up-to-date fair had motor-cars, whirling the whirl, and steam horse sets. Steam horses were also supplied by Messrs. Shipley and Warrington, and swings, highfliers, etc., by Messrs. Richards, Fisher, and W. Fisher, Rifle saloons were provided by Messrs. Culine, Fisher, and Warrington; other fair-ground novelties by Fisher, Flood, and Mrs. Johnson.

PENRITH, on the Far North round, had for its fair-ground entertainers Mrs. Sarah Johnston, with circus; Mr. S. Biddall, with freak exhibition; Mr. J. Wilmot, with flying motors; Mr. T. Day, with steam horses; Mrs. Palmer and Family, with highfliers and throwing games; the Day Family, with shooting range, pipe breaker, cup smasher, and striking machine, and coker sheet; Mr. A. Broughton, with shooting range and pipe breaker; Mr. J. Hughes, with shooting range and football game; the Palmer Family, with throwing games and football game; Mr. Mackintosh, with dolly stalls; Mr. W. Hiscoe, with Emma sheet; and Mr. J. Hunscathe, with football frame.

AT Carlisle Fair the best of the shows on the North Round forgathered. These included J. H. Chipperfield's Menagerie, Buff Bill's Menagerie and Cowboy Experts, James Biddall's Circus, Senator J. Leo's American Enterprise and Animated Photography, Styles and Gould's Temple of Magic, C. Relph's Mirror Show, S. Biddall's Freak Exhibition, Prof. W. Moore's School of Boxers, and Prof. Wood's Boxing Booth. The array of up-to-date machine novelties included James Wilmot's motor-cars, J. Wingate's Whirling the Whirl, T. Day's galloping horses, M. Mitchell's steam horses, and swings, highfliers, and miniature sets by Messrs. Newey, Wilmot, S. Biddall, M. Mitchell, Day, and Palmer.

THE shooting ranges, rifle saloons, and batteries were by Messrs. Palmer, Strand, Mitchell, J. Day, J. Hughes, S. Biddall, Black, Dawson, Broughton, and Hughes. The olla podrida of fairground varieties were by Messrs. O'Brien, McIntosh, Irving, Black, Slater, Wheatley, Palmer, W. Day, Strand, jun., Blockley, Ross, Gow, Golberg, Gandy, Kelly, O'Neil, Franklin, Drummond, and others.

FOLLOWING Carlisle, the next big fair is Cockermouth, and here were found Chipperfield, Leo, Keyes, Ralph and Pedley, Moore and Wood, with their high-class exhibitions. Ralph and Pedley also headed the machine list with their new money magnet, Whirling the Whirl. Caris and Fox exhibited their switchback, and Cross steam horses and swings. Highfliers by Newey, shooters by McGregor, Potts, Lawrence, and Merrick; minor novelties by Slater, Blockley, Irving, and others.

ON the Lancashire Round, following Preston Fair, we have Bolton. Here were Payne and Kemp's cinematograph shows, Haydon's Mystic Temple, Layland's Marionettes, Wright's Fine Art Academy, Whiting's gondolas, Mitchell and J. Green's motor car sets, T. Hurst and Ben Mitchell's birds, R. H. Williams's railway roundabout, W. Mitchell's steam yachts, and gem horses by Humphreys and Sharp, shooting ranges and bottle batteries by Geo. Cornwell, A. Jewell, and Mrs. John Cornwell, refreshment booths by Mrs. Bowser and Mr. J. W. Butterworth. The other fairground caterers were: Messrs. W. H. and J. Taylor, W. Holmes, T. Forshaw, A. Jewell, W. Lee, E. Harrington, T. J. Mitchell, J. Whiting, C. Wright, and Kate Lorenzo.

THE principal shows and roundabouts at Long Melford Fair were supplied by Messrs. Barker and Thurston, and included their East Anglian Circus, their Coliseum of Varieties and cinematograph, the fine art gallery, and two superb machine sets, the Venetian gondolas and the switchback. Gem horses, shooting galleries, and minor novelties were supplied by Messrs. Horne, Duffield, Hearne, Wilson, Brigg, Summers, Holmes, Wheatley, and T. Bond.

THE Welsh meeting of the members and friends of the Showmen's Guild will take place at Porth on Sunday, June 24th, and not on the 17th, as previously advertised.

SUBSCRIPTIONS to Guild funds this week:—Per Mr. Ashington, W. Bassett, 5s.; per Mr. Mitchell, J. Butterworth, 5s.

A SHOWMAN'S WEDDING.

At Holy Trinity Church, Nantyglo, on Tuesday, the 5th inst., the wedding took place of Mr. Richard Dooner, cinématograph proprietor, and Miss Nellie Wadbrook, youngest daughter of the late Mr. Alfred Wadbrook, of Wadbrook's well-known cinématograph show. The church was crowded with the élite of the travelling world, and large numbers of people waited outside the church to catch a glimpse of the wedding party. The Rev. Mr. Griffiths (vicar) officiated. The bride was given away by Mr. Henry Scard (Wadbrook's show), the best man was Mr. F. Pillinger (Bristol), and the bridesmaids were the Misses Lillie and Harriot Dooner.

The bridal party were afterwards photographed on the Vicarage lawn, and then drove to the Griffin Hotel, where a large number sat down to breakfast. The usual toasts were given, and in the afternoon the couple left for London. The bride was dressed in a dark grey costume trimmed with grey silk, white silk blouse trimmed with Maltese lace, and wore a grey hat trimmed with grey tips. The bridesmaids' dresses were of navy blue, trimmed with white silk, with picture hats trimmed with roses, and all carried shower bouquets. As the bridal couple left the Brynmawr Railway Station they received an ovation from a large number of spectators.

The happy couple were the recipients of a large number of costly presents, including:—Bridegroom to bride, handsome diamond necklace and brooch; Henry Scard (brother-in-law), silver coffee service; Mr. Alfred Wadbrook (brother), gold-mounted brushes and rack; Henry Wadbrook (brother), silver-mounted brush and comb; Lily Wright (sister), silver bread-tray; Flo Johnson (sister), tea service; Henry Scard, jun. (nephew), half-dozen Doulton wishing cups and saucers; Flo Scard (niece), silver egg cruet; Mrs. Brown (aunt), set of household Irish linen; James Knight (uncle), marble and gold-mounted timepiece Wadbrook's employees:—Mr. and Mrs. Jeffreys, silver hot-water jug; Lily Russell, table linen; Mary Davies, silver cake dish; Mr. and Mrs. Harrington, fancy tablecloth and silver spoons; Miss E. Phillips, nickel-plated pickle-jar; Brothers Costello, pickle-jar and silver butter dish; six employees, silver biscuit barrel; Mr. Dooner, sen., gave a gold brooch, and presents were also received from the Misses Mary Ann, Harriot, Lilly, and S. Dooner, Mrs. E. Birchall (sister), Dooner's employees (Mr. and Mrs. Ward, M. A. Miller, P. Nash, Working Staff, Miss Godfrey, and W. Lashmar), Mr. John Studt (Cardiff), Mrs. John Studt, Mr. Jacob Studt, Mr. and Mrs. Pillinger (Bristol), Mr. and Mrs. John North (Swansea), Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Butlin (Cardiff), Brothers Plinston (Warrington), Mrs. Bunter (Bristol), Z. Wheatley (Abergavenny), Abergavenny Athletic Association, A. Griffith (Rhymney), Mrs. Evans (Pontypridd), Miss G. Freeman (Cardiff), Miss L. Skinner (Pontypridd), Mrs. J. Davies, jun. (Cardiff), Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lewis (Brynmawr), and others.

THE LATE JOHN DEE HUMPHREYS.

The letter from Mr. Arthur Reeve, published in our columns recently draws attention to the necessity for helping Mrs. Humphreys and her family. We strongly commend this most deserving case to the generosity of the showman world.

The many friends of the deceased, who was one of the founders of the Music Hall Artists' Railway Association, will, we are confident, now that they know the urgent necessity of the case, respond with readiness to this appeal.

During the whole course of a laborious and honourable career John Dee Humphreys was ever ready to assist his brother showmen. His open-handed generosity and unfailing kindness endeared him to a wide circle of friends and comrades in the circus and show world.

The object of the fund is to enable the widow and family to maintain their home until such time as the children are able to earn an income sufficient for that purpose.

Second list of subscriptions:—

Lord John Sanger	£5	5	0
Lord G. Sanger	5	0	0
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reeve	2	2	0
James Upton, Esq.	2	2	0
John Hyman	2	2	0
E. H. Bostock	2	2	0
Terriers' Association	2	2	0
Mrs. Ellis Frederick	1	1	0
H. Hales	1	1	0
Thomas Holden	1	1	0
J. R. Philpotts	0	5	0
Harry Lester	0	5	0
Arthur Simmons	0	5	0
G. H. Smythson	0	5	0
John Moore	0	5	0
W. H. Atlas	0	5	0
F. W. Millis	0	5	0
George Wyman	0	3	0
E. E. Cooke	0	2	6
E. D'Almaine	0	2	6
Total	£26	1	0

Subscriptions sent to The Era to Mr. F. H. Pedgrift, hon. treasurer, will be acknowledged week by week.

THE Press of Belfast have been unanimous in praises of Miss Dorothy Southgate's cultured soprano voice, and a great future is prognosticated for the young lady who helped to make the miniature grand opera, The Gamester, at the Theatre Royal the success it was, as reported in these columns recently. Aiulf Hjorvard, the composer, is delighted with the talent displayed by the lady, and has also given expression to high encomiums of praise to Reginald Allan for his musicianly orchestration of the work. Mr. Allan, it will be remembered, was selected by Mr. James Glover to arrange the parts for his splendid Alhambra success Parisiana.

MR. TOM FANCOURT and Miss Jennie Rubie are about to produce shortly a novel and beautifully mounted duologue with a scene that has cost £100, and with electrical fittings by Florador and Matthews. The trifle is written by Mr. Charles D. Hickman and Miss Jennie Rubie, and the music is composed and arranged by Vincent Exley.

THE popular description of juggler does not apply at all to the elaborated act which Valazzi is presenting this week at the Chelsea Palace. Mr. Valazzi's show is practically a pot-pourri of the cream of juggling, acrobatic, and equilibristic work, and his crowning feat, "Sloping the Slope on a Cannon Ball," still remains quite unsurpassed in its daring and skill.

STORIES OF SHOWMAN LIFE.

By the REV. T. HORNE, Hon. Chaplain Showmen's Guild.

(Copyright.)

"THE SHOWMAN PATRIOT."

The showman's greatest asset is peace. When a nation is at war, the first class in the community to suffer are the travelling show-people. This is eminently true of nations subject to either internal war or revolution.

The great Russian Empire, made up of so many nationalities, tribes, and people, has its polyglot showmen, who range the vast limits of the hybrid Empire and exhibit wherever they can find an audience. The great Russian fairs, lasting some of them for six and seven weeks at a stretch, afford a splendid field for showman enterprise, for, although the primitive idea of the fair as a trading centre is still maintained, the merchants, traders, and buyers are ready at all times to blend pleasure with trade and profit, and to visit in the intervals between their marketing the shows and entertainment always ready to hand.

A notable showman at the beginning of the late struggle of Russia with Japan was Dradj Poupowski, the greatest Russian expert with marionettes. The last of a long line of marionette workers, he was famous in every city and commune of great Russia, with his wonderful exhibition of fantoccini and marionettes.

Travelling from town to town, deeply intimate with the life of the people, and intensely sympathetic with their aspirations for liberty and constitutional Government, Poupowski as a citizen was fully in touch with the best liberal thought of the Empire. But however keen his sympathies and deep-rooted and earnest his political convictions, he never obtruded them upon public notice, This he did upon the very understandable principle that the showman is in a very real sense the servant of the people, and that to take sides in any great political appeal would be to lose one of the greatest securities of his class in the economy of the national life.

When war was declared Poupowski, with his marionette theatre, was stationed at St. Petersburg. Upon more than one occasion the show had been patronised by younger members of the Imperial House, and Poupowski had received a commission from Prince Alixovitch, a grand-nephew of the Emperor, to erect for him a marionette stage and equip it with a full company of his ingenious fantoches. The young Prince, a bright youth of but sixteen years, had been fully initiated by Poupowski into the mysteries of marionette working. The above details are given merely to show the intimate connection between the Imperial House and Poupowski, and how that intimacy was seized upon by the Anarchist wing of the Revolutionary Party to further their nefarious and dastardly schemes.

Within a fortnight of that memorable black Sunday, in the January following the opening of the war, when, owing to the mistaken action of the Emperor, the whole of Russia was crying out for revenge upon the Czar and the bureaucrats, Poupowski was approached by an agent of the extreme Revolutionary Party to lend himself to one of the many schemes then being concocted with a view of assassinating the Imperial Family. Poupowski, a true son of the people, felt most keenly that red murder had been inflicted upon innocent men, women, and children, and that his beloved Russia was suffering from one of the most awful and tragic of those recurring periods of reaction and tyranny that hitherto had fatally dogged all her steps in a progressive direction. Granting all this, however, and, keen patriot though he was, Poupowski refused with the greatest indignation the overtures of the conspirators.

Russian Anarchism is a relentless, pitiless, and determined force, so that within ten hours of his refusal a bomb was exploded under Poupowski's stage-van, and his magnificent outfit, scenery, and figures almost utterly destroyed.

Poupowski, though subjected to the most severe interrogations of the Minister of Police, did not divulge the nature of the negotiations that the Anarchists had opened up with him. He, like many another good citizen, whilst utterly repudiating the murderous schemes of the Revolutionary Party, yet felt that in silence was the only policy of individual safety; and also the known methods of the police were so repugnant to justice-loving citizens that the least said to the so-called agents of law and justice the better.

The outbreak of the Revolution, the stoppage of the railway by the national strike, the paralysis of trade and enterprise completely prevented Poupowski from following his calling as a showman, and brooding upon the injuries thus heaped upon him, it is not to be wondered at that his whole heart and soul were bent upon some means of helping forward all that was good and peaceful in the national life.

Genius as he was, and talented beyond most men of his class, he had yet all the simple Russian's faith in the goodness of the "little white Father." He saw, like all true Russians, that the head of the State was prevented by the very securities of his position by coming into direct touch with the heart or voice of the people. To Poupowski, as to many another compatriot before him, impelled by the same faith in the almost divine goodness of the Czar, the one thing needed was to get the people's needs voiced in the Imperial ear, and the people's heart and mind understood of their beloved Emperor.

Still the Revolution rolled on; disaster at home and disaster abroad, the misery of the people, the despair of the Imperial House, the tyranny of the Grand Dukes, assassination, fire and bloodshed—all these together made one of the darkest tragedies ever known in the history of the Empires of the world. It is such tragedies of national life that inspire poets, patriots, and martyrs, and it was this inspiration that impelled the showman Poupowski to a deed of heroism that will rank as a classic of patriotism as long as the world lasts.

Here was a prophet of the people (not a Revolutionist) with a message to deliver, not a death-dealing missile to throw, but words of truth and courageous wisdom. The prophet was ready, the message in his mouth, and the "Great Father" gave him the opportunity according to the Russian peasant's simple creed of voicing that message to the "Little Father," the Czar of all the Russias.

It was towards the end of the war when this opportunity came to Poupowski, through the young Prince Alexovitch, who, in order to afford some slight relaxation to the overstrained mind of the silent, overwrought Emperor, proposed to exhibit his marionettes to the Imperial children at Tsarskoyeselo.

At the very last moment the young Prince suffered from stage fright, the inevitable penalty of all amateur effort, and begged that he might have the professional assistance of Poupowski; but, knowing how jealously the Imperial Family was guarded, he had very little expectation of his request being granted. To his great relief, however, the secret police reported that Poupowski was absolutely loyal, and that they had reason to believe that the showman had suffered the bomb outrage because he had refused to identify himself with the red Revolutionary Party.

Greatly elated with his success, Alexovitch hastened to the showman's residence and told him of the proposed entertainment at the Imperial Palace. The showman said: "My Prince, I thank God for this opportunity of being of some use to the poor distracted Czar, and I trust to be able to bring some little relief to his overburdened mind."

The princely amateur showman was too busily employed in thinking out the forward arrangements of the Imperial marionette performance to notice either the strange behaviour or abstracted manner of the real showman.

The play chosen for the marionette theatre was that well-known classic of the mimic stage The Miller and His Men. The Imperial Family, headed by the Czar himself, were present, and the entertainment was more than a success: it was a veritable triumph for Poupowski and the princely amateur. The Czarina and the young Princesses forgot for a brief time the terrors that haunted them daily, and the great Emperor himself was seen to lose his brooding sadness and to actually enjoy the show.

After complimenting Alexovitch, the Emperor said: "Send Poupowski to me. I have heard of this showman, and I know that I possess in him a loyal subject, for already he has suffered in my cause. I would speak with him."

At the Prince's bidding the showman came; and, after making a lowly obeisance to the Emperor and Empress, was bidden to stand.

"You travel the country with your show, I understand, and you are the last descendant of a long line of showmen who have carried on your trade and art in the Russian Empire."

"That is true, O mighty Emperor. I know Russia and its people as but few men know it. I know what its people feel, and think, and say. I understand its great heart, and I feel for its sorrows and for its many sufferings. In the thronged cities and towns, in the village communes, I have heard Russia speak. I have heard the whole-hearted loyalty and simple faith of your people, sire; and I know that her bravest sons and daughters are found amongst the vast multitude of those who believe that if you did but know the strength and depth of their love for you and yours you would trust them more and let them bear with you some of the heavy burden of rule and government."

The Emperor had risen from his seat in his keen interest and eagerness to hear the showman's strange speech. With regard to the rest of the Imperial audience, it is using a mild word to say that they were astounded.

When the showman paused for a moment, as though waiting the Czar's permission to proceed, or his order of instant dismissal, the Grand Duke Androwski shouted in furious rage: "Officers of the Guard, arrest that mouthing Revolutionary!"

The Emperor turned and looked upon his uncle, the despot Duke, and said, in that awful, even-toned voice of his: "Uncle, you forget yourself."

"Yes," continued the bold showman patriot. "The noble Prince forgets that in the scene of the burning mill just finished on the stage a Revolutionist would have found full opportunity for the horrors of assassination and death. The Prince must know from his Chief of Police that I refused to lend my show to Anarchist plotters, and that I suffered for so doing."

"We have heard of that, my brave showman," said the Czar. "We know your loyal heart. You have secured the right of audience with your Emperor—a right belonging to every son of Russia. Speak on."

The showman, now in the throes of the most intense emotion—a veritable prophet of the people inspired with a message of historic moment to the House of Romanoff—again bowed himself in lowliest homage to that noble figure, "every inch a king," the Great White Czar.

"With my heart and soul, O Emperor, I love you, and want you to know that your people love you. Build your throne upon the love of your people. Seek your people's peace and trust them. Heed not the counsels of those who tell you that it is not wise to let the people have liberty. Give your great powers to the divine task of securing your people's welfare. I have prayed for this golden moment—to speak what is in my heart to you. I know that my boldness in so doing may merit punishment. I am in that matter entirely in your hands. Of this truth I am certain, that half the wrongs—nay, more than half the wrongs—of our afflicted Motherland arises from the sad fact that you, our beloved Father, never get near enough to the heart of your down-trodden children to understand their agonies or to hear their heart-cries."

Still standing, the Great White Czar listened with infinite patience to the burning words of the inspired showman. The Ruler of All the Russias heard his humble subject in silence unto the end of the oration

Then, speaking more to his Imperial uncle and the attendant courtiers and Ministers than to Poupowski, the Emperor said: "We were about to thank you, faithful Poupowski, for the pleasure your performance has given us and ours to-day. For that ministry of your talent we do thank you, and we will think of some mark of appreciation to follow our words.

"For the courageous words of your message to us, as coming from your intimate knowledge of our people, we can find no words equal to our thanks. You know, you say, the real heart of our people, and how deeply founded our dynasty is in the love of the people. Go, my noble, outspoken Poupowski. No man shall dare to stay you. It is the birthright of every son of Russia to speak face to face with the Czar.

"You have exercised that right. We have heard your brave words and wise counsel, and we should fail in our duty if we did not heed them, and, when God sends us opportunity, profit by them."

With the Empress and the young Princesses the Emperor left the great hall, and retired to the closely-guarded inner apartments of the palace.

Prince Alexovitch heartily sympathised with Poupowski; and, feeling sure that the showman had won the heart of the Emperor, assured the overwrought showman that he had nothing to fear from the Grand Duke Androwski.

The after events are so very recent that it will remain to the future historian to determine what real effect Poupowski's brave words had in the promulgation of that progressive and constitutional reform that now marks the rapid evolution of the Russian Empire.

MESSRS. ARTHUR RODNEY and Montague Turner are presenting their new farcical sketch, A Dead Certainty, at Collins's, on Monday. The sketch has been well received at the South London.

MR. GUS ELEN

IN HIS NEW SONG SCENA ON THE .. UNEMPLOYED QUESTION. ..

Mr Gus Elen's actions in his song-scena are truly eloquent. Full of irresistible comicality. One of the best things the famous coster comedian has given us.—The Era, May 26, '06.

Music composed and business arranged by Mr. Elen.

Written by Charles Cornell and T. Leybourne.

Mr Gus Elen has an excelle t number in his song-scena, "The Unemployed Questi n." Mr. Elen's "out-of-work" is quite an optimist in his way. He doesn't "worrit" himself about his enforced idleness, and he doesn't become footsore in his search for "graft." As he aptly reasons—

If you don't get work,
Well, you can't get the sack—
That's an argyment that seems to me most sound.
With the swells in Rotten-row,
You can sit and take a blow
And wait till the work comes round.

This is the best thing we have had from the famous coster comedian for some time.—The Era, April 21.

Scene—
THE WRONG-UN'S BEDROOM

Time—
12 o'clock in the day.

PROVINCIAL THEATRICALS.

(Continued from page 9.)

ST. LEONARDS.—PIER PAVILION.—Pier-Master and Entertainment Manager, Mr. Elvey Thomas.—This week Esmonde Bramley's company is appearing in two old comedies, David Garrick and She Stoops to Conquer. In the first-named play Mr. Owen Chambers, in the title-rôle, distinguishes himself by the natural and faithful representation of the character; Mr. Phillip Gordon is equally successful in the part of Squire John Chase; Mr. David Beattie gives a good character sketch of the alderman, Sir Humphrey Basing, and does the part ample justice; Tattfallow, Crabshaw, and Snifkins are divertingly personified by Mr. L. Evans, Mr. C. Doyle, and Mr. Frederick Scarth; Mrs. Bernard Parkin is well suited as the bonny Mrs. Crabshaw; Miss Mildred Surrey plays Miss Tattfallow in a well-studied manner; Basing's daughter, Lillian, could not be more delightfully played than it is by Miss Maud Garth.

STOCKPORT. — THEATRE ROYAL AND OPERA HOUSE.—Sole Owner and Manager, Mr. Charles Revill; Acting-Manager, Mr. William Revill. — Satisfactory audiences have been attracted here this week by Mr. T. Morton Powell's company in Honour Thy Father. Mr. Douglas B. Watson gives a manly impersonation of Jack Halyard; and the character of Duncan Bly is effectively presented by Mr. Clavering Craig; Mr. Sinclair Holden is seen to advantage as Mike Connlestone; and as Ned Pennycumquick, Mr. W. H. Melrose acts with ability. Mrs. Clavering Craig plays sympathetically as Gertrude Garth; and Miss Mabel Coleman makes a capital Lilian Garth; whilst Miss Winnie Donovan charmingly fills the part of Mercy Merry.

EMPIRE.—Proprietors, The Stockport Empire Theatre Co., Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Black. —Ethel Arden and Geo. Abel's successful comedy sketch, Three of a Kind, forms a big attraction here this week, and, as presented by this talented company, has been thoroughly enjoyed. Included in the evening's entertainment are the Brothers Artois, in their clever and amusing horizontal bar act; the Swift Trio of trick cyclists; an old favourite here in Gus Balsiger, comedian; Harry Morris, character comedian, with up-to-date patter; Elsie Rubina, expert wire dancer; and the Lizette Troupe, comprising a quartette of charming and graceful lady acrobats.

STOCKTON-ON-TEES. — HIPPODROME. — Proprietors, Geo. and R. A. Nicholson; Manager, Mr Wm. Ainsworth.—Another good bill is presented here, headed by the Novello's Elephants, Ponies, Dogs, &c., a really clever turn; Jack and Evelyn are exceedingly funny; Magner, in classical poses, is interesting; Frank Hartley is a clever juggler; Tom Moore, comedian, scores a success; the Musical Keiths, Harry Lee, mimic, and Miss Madge Northcote, vocalist, along with the Pictoscope, assist in drawing good houses.

GRAND THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. John Batty; Manager, Mr. Walter Batty.—At the top of the bill is Neil Kenyon, Scotch comedian, who is decidedly funny; George D'Albert is well received; Burley and Burley introduce some novel acrobatic feats; the Three Henriques are smart; and the Virginians also score; Lambert and Hands possess good voices; Miss Lilly Currie is acceptable; and the Bioscope completes the bill.

STOKE.—HIPPODROME.—Proprietor, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; Manager, Mr. H. Miller.—An admirable turn heads the bill this week in the Regal Operatic Quartette, who give selections from Maritana. Mr. Edward Wynn as Don Cæsar, Mr. Albert German as Don Jose, Mme. Marie Burnett as Lazaretto, and Mlle. Adele Prescott as Maritana. The Brady and Johnson company, in their sketch, Turning the Tables, are uproariously funny; Lytton and Bland, in their Lessons in Love are capital; May Fallowfield is a smart comedienne; the Three Rubys as athletes are clever, their trapeze business being an excellent feature; Ernesto juggles admirably, and is well received; Percy Curry is a comedian of much merit; the Sisters Lytton sing well together; and the Bioscope shows the destruction of San Francisco. Business continues excellent.

SUNDERLAND.—AVENUE THEATRE.— Director and Manager, Mr. Charles E. Machin.—The popular manager's Stock Season company is this week playing the Bullock version of East Lynne. Miss Nina Vaughton in the title-rôle is seen to advantage, giving full scope to her versatility; Mr. Albert Jember also scores strongly with his fine recollection of Archibald Carlists. The lighter comedy is safe in the experienced hands of Mr. Charles M. Daly, who is responsible for the rôle of Bullock; Mr. Henry Belding finds scope for his undoubted ability in the part of Justice Hare; Sir Francis Levison has a capital exponent in Mr. Stanley S. Gordon; Miss Maud Leslie Cudd is excellent as Cornelius Carlists, and Miss Hilda Merrilese, as Barbara Hare, leaves little to be desired; whilst Joyce has a capable exponent in Miss Violet B. Clarke.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Chas. E. Machin; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Hemingway.—Mr. Jack Haddon's company is here in the stirring military drama, Under the Russian Flag. Mr. Cecil Melton impersonates the hero, Ivan Romanoff, in incisive style, and as Michael Mr. Bernard Mervyn plays with force and boldness; Mr. Jack Haddon, who sustains the rôle of Captain Demetrius, gives a really fine performance; Mr. George Herbert submits a creditable study of the old General Romanoff; Mr. W. Wilson is impressive as Colonel Souvaroff, and Mr. Fred Haming amusing as Lieutenant Alexis Ikopolopi; Mr. William Rivers is equal to the demands of the part of Doctor Keroff, and Mr. Charles Giddon's study of Wolf Marischia is good; Mr. Hal Forde causes much amusement by his humorous interpretation of Peter Poulski; Miss Elaine Vanbrugh's delineation of the rôle of Vera Vassiloff is charmingly natural; Miss Marie Rayner's embodiment of Luka Marischia is deserving of praise; Miss Agnes Howard is pleasingly saucy and piquant as Ogurita. Others rendering valuable assistance are Mr. Wm. Parkin (Nicholas), Mr. J. H. Ward (a sentry), and Mr. Frank Watson (an orderly).

PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Lessees and Managers, Messrs. Rosen and Bliss; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Stringer.—A well-diversified bill is submitted here by Bella and Bijou, whose clever comedy is appreciated to the full; C. Wordley Hulse and company, who appear in a stirring sketch, entitled The Fight in the Forge; the Three Romas, who score in their gladiatorial feats; Princess Lucie, the Russian fat girl; Gracie Lawn, vocalist; Martini and Ion, American song illustrators; the Alaskas, in a novel and refined comedy act; Harry Newburn, comedian; and the Bioscope pictures.

SWINDON.—QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Proprietor and Responsible Manager, Mr. Alfred Manners.—The management of this popular house have followed comedy with a strong variety programme, opening on Monday to a large and appreciative audience. The turn provided by Mlle. Alice Lorette was an excellent one, her delightful series of classic poses, with her wonderful dog Ben, being received with the utmost enthusiasm. Another smart and entertaining turn was Zelda, who played on a number of novel musical instruments; Mr. T. C. Jacques fully merited the applause that followed his efforts as an actor-vocalist; Little Boden and Bell proved themselves clever juvenile entertainers; and Mr. Percy Hayes, who made a "hit" as a lecturer, also undertook the duties of stage-manager.

TON-Y-PANDY.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Mr. D. Haggar and company opened here for the stock season with an extensive repertoire. On Monday evening a well filled house greeted the presentation of Our Guardian Angel. Other plays billed for this week are Jane Shore, Oliver Twist, London Life, and The Iron Chain

TORQUAY.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Licensee and Managing-Director, Mr. R. Smerdon; Secretary, Mr. Arthur Pearse. La Fille de Madame Angot is the attraction this week, and is very well put on by the Elster-Grime Opera company. The principal character is taken by Miss Marie Elster, who is an exceedingly accomplished actress, and evokes much applause. She is well supported by Mr. Albert Kewley, who gives a very finished performance of Pomponnet, his betrothed being ably represented by Miss Elsie Lynham, who contributes considerably to the success of the production. Mention should also be made of the Larivandière of Mr. M. Kemble, of the Ange Pitou of Mr. Payne Clarke, and also of Miss Madge Quilliam and Miss Nellie Russell.

PRINCESS PIER CONCERT HALL.—Proprietors, Torquay Town Council; Manager, Mr. A. T. Tremlett.—The Olympian Entertainers, under the direction of Mr. Paul-Mill, are paying a visit here this week. Mr. Paul Mill and Mr. J. G. Taylor, who is also stage-manager, afford plenty of amusement with their humorous songs, and are encored nightly. Miss Haidee St. George and Miss Winifred Channing sing with much acceptance, and the fine tenor voice of Mr. Philip Ritte is much appreciated. Other members of a capable party include Miss Doris Lee, and Messrs. Robert Macaig, Harry Harmet, and Eric Davidson.

TYNEMOUTH.—PALACE-BY-THE-SEA. — Proprietor, Mr. J. H. Graham; Manager, Mr. Lindon Travers. —The programme is this week headed by Adeler's Entertainers, whose various items are highly appreciated; the Gustave Fasola's Indian wonders and mystifiers remain over from last week, and prove as popular as ever; W. H. Clemart is a clever and amusing ventriloquist; Harry Morgan scores with his smart songs and dances; Vasey and Ramsey, duettists and dancers, also find favour; an entertaining sketch is submitted by Stephens and Reed. The Bioscope pictures are also shown.

WAKEFIELD.—ROYAL OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietors, Sherwood and Co.—The play The Octoroon is the attraction this week, and is receiving good support.

HIPPODROME.—Lessee, Mr. Alfred Selwyn; Manager, Mr. Henry Lucas.—Mr. Harry Kardoc heads the bill this week and displays great skill as a handcuff manipulator; the Brothers Arnold, illusionists, are smart; Abex performs great feats of strength; Mlle. Florence, globe performer, wins applause, and the bill also includes the Woolhafs, an amusing couple; Harry Balfour, eccentric comedian; Lead and Lead, comedy artists; Miss Mabel Welfare, comedienne; Frederick Austin, minstrel comedian; and Dale and D'Argan, acrobats, who win favour.

WALSALL. — HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE, LTD. — General-Manager and Secretary, Mr. W. H. Westwood.—The programme here is headed by Horace Wheatley, a capital Irish comedian and dancer; Nellie Martell, comedienne, is well received; Ernest Tilbury sings with good effect; Conn and Conrad, the amateur burglars; Avolos, novelty acrobats; Kathleen Cogan, juvenile singer and dancer; and the New York Nippers, in their speciality scene Bed-time, all meet with a favourable reception, and the American Bioscope proves a great attraction.

GRAND THEATRE, LTD.—General-Manager and Secretary, Mr. W. H. Westwood.—Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Kimberley's company is here this week with A Sister's Sin. Mr. Horace Custins acts with distinction as Larry Murphy; Mr. William Vane is well placed as Harold Raymond; George Oakley is in the capable hands of Mr. Andrew Money; Mr. Erneson Frere makes a capital Ikey Moses; Miss Violet Langley displays ability as Minnie Hastings; Miss Isa Lyndon makes a charming May Raymond; and Miss Dorothea Vivian sustains the rôle of Jack with credit.

WALTHAMSTOW.—PALACE.—Managing-Director, Mr. G. Adney Payne; Manager, Mr. Arthur J. Barclay; Acting-Manager, Mr. George F. Slatter.—Variety in the truest sense may be said to be the distinguishing feature of Mr. Barclay's programme this week, almost every species of popular entertainment being represented. Mr. Leonard Mortimer and his company present a thrilling melodramatic sketch, entitled The Earl of Enniscare. This "society sensation," the scene of which is laid in a Park Lane mansion—a really beautiful set representing the interior of a conservatory—deals with the attempt of a gang of villains to steal "the great Princess diamond, valued at £500,000," from its rightful owner, Algernon Conyers. How their schemes seem to succeed; how they are ultimately baffled, and how the millionaire meets his death, combine to form a plot full of movement and vigour. Mr. Leonard Mortimer plays the dual rôle of the two brothers Conyers—the millionaire mentioned, and his brave twin, Gerald, a captain in the Royal Navy; Mr. Mortimer very finely contrasts the two dissimilar characters, and acts each equally well; Mr. Leonard Robson acts well as Fenton Lorrimore, a South African detective, and speaks with admirable distinctness; Mr. J. G. Leighton does very well as the adventurer; James Fromner and Mr. Reginald Weighill are both intense and amusing as the Marquis St. Middlesex; Miss Edith Lewis plays powerfully as Stella Conyers, and Miss Ida Clifford puts every scrap of acting into the part of Doris Lyle of which it is capable; a dainty little dancer is Miss Maudie Forde, who also sings with successful results; Oakley and James keep the ball of fun rolling merrily in their scene in which tumbling, singing and knockabout business add to the merriment. One of the finest singers we have had here for a long time is Miss Lilian Lowe, whose admirable voice is displayed to the utmost advantage in "It was a Dream," and "The Song that Reached my Heart." A turn that meets with huge success is introduced by the Athlones, who, as physical culture artistes, can hold their own against anyone; they give an exhibition of combined strength and grace that fairly rouses the audience to enthusiasm. A great success is achieved by Mr. Joe Archer, who sings "Johnny, where's your Tailor?" and "If we Hadn't any Women in the World," most amusingly. Dale and O'Malley are excellent comedians. Ruffell's Bioscope completes the programme.

WARRINGTON.—ROYAL COURT.—Proprietors, Messrs. W. Johnson and J. Potter; General-Manager, Mr. J. Potter; Acting-Manager, Mr. Fred J. Reece.—Miss Marie Dagmar is here another week, and a successful production of East Lynne has been attended by good audiences. Miss Dagmar as Lady Isabel has proved herself to be an accomplished emotional actress; Mr. Fred C. Somerfield is well placed as Archibald Carlyle; and Mr. Alfred Grier is good as Sir Francis Levison. Mr. Walter Roberts is a dignified Lord Mountsevern; Mr. George C. Hall as Richard Hare, Mr. Willie Barratt as Mr. Dill, Miss Geraldine Montrose as Corney Carlisle, and Miss Podmore as Barbara Hare are all excellent in their respective parts.

ROYAL THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietors, Messrs. W. Johnson and J. Potter; General-Manager, Mr. J. Potter; Director of Amusements, Mr. Fred Willmot.—Haley's Prize Juveniles head the bill here this week, and their charming vocalisation has won all hearts; George Ripon is a capital comedian; and other excellent turns are Harry Christie, comedian; Sisters Hall, duettists; Akbar, ring performer; Belle Leaburn, comedienne; Halma, juggler; and the Royal Bioscope pictures.

WEST HARTLEPOOL. — PALACE. — Director-General, Mr. Frank Macnaghten.—The performance by Ford and Barris, the street arab dancers, is novel in its way and attractive; a Ba-Be Picture Postcard Album is artistic and well worked, the grouping and harmony of colours are perfect. Aerial and Astarte are first-class entertainers in their gymnastic act; the sensational performance of the Yags Mary Trio in a cycle somersaulting act is one of the hits of the evening; Lily Morris's talents are indisputable as a chic comedienne; Henri Bekker does some wonderful things in the conjuring line—many of his tricks are quite mystifying; the Sisters Varley are harmonising vocalists of no mean order, and their reception is flattering; George Grogie, the Sussex comedian, makes a favourable impression; an acceptable number is filled in by Ted Lowan, comedian; and the pictures form a pleasing conclusion to the programme.

WESTON-SUPER-MARE. — KNIGHTSTONE PAVILION AND OPERA HOUSE.—Manager, Mr. W. Payne.—Mr. Charles Otley's company is here this week in War to the Knife and Miriam's Crime. The former was presented on Monday. Mr. C. Otley's impersonation of Mr. Nubby was richly humorous; Mr. Herbert Robinson gave a highly artistic interpretation of Captain Thistleton; Mr. William Allison made an excellent Mr. Harcourt; and a good performance too was the John Blunt of Mr. C. Pilling Baird. Mrs. Delacour found a charming exponent in Miss Phyllis Manners; Miss Olive Palmer was a praiseworthy Mrs. Harcourt; Miss Marie Jonquil as Mrs. Penson, and Miss Edith Heron Brown as Jane Trimmer both deserve commendation.

GRAND PIER PAVILION. — The Æolian Opera Singers are paying a welcome return visit here this week, the vocalists including Miss Jennie Johns, Miss Florence Kay, Miss Rose Alderman, Mr. Vivian Munro, and Mr. Charles Parker. Mr. Richardson Taylor scores with his marvellous imitation of birds and his ventriloquial act. Herr Julian Kändt's Austrian Blue Band commenced the third year of their engagement, and have had a flattering reception. Mr. Frank Lews shows some excellent pictures on the Bioscope.

WEST STANLEY.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietors, The Stanley Theatre Co.: Managing-Director, Mr. Mark H. Lindon.—Mr. Pringle's North American Animated Picture Company is paying a prolonged visit here. The Two Eltons give a good performance on the triple bar; the Marblesques submit realistic representations of statuary which are well received.

WEXFORD.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietor, Mr. E. P. RONAN.—Mr. Allen Wilkie's dramatic company is here this week in a selection of first-class plays, and is meeting with a full measure of support. The Merchant of Venice was produced on Monday night, when Allen Wilkie gained much praise for his portrayal of the rôle of Shylock, and Mr. George T. Greig gave a very consistent and meritorious performance as Antonio. The impersonation of Bassanio by Mr. Clifford Rean left nothing to be desired, and Mr. George Lambton and Mr. Malcolm Tearle as Gratiano and Salarino respectively were well suited to their parts. Mr. Alfred Gray was a manly Lorenzo, and Mr. R. Seeth Innes as Launcelot Gobbo was excellent. Miss Ine Cameron was a very pleasing Portia, and Miss Lizzie Maddocks made the most of the part of Nerissa, Miss Barbara Pigott being very winsome as Jessica. After to-night (Saturday) the theatre will remain closed until the end of August.

WIGAN.—ROYAL COURT THEATRE. — Managing-Director, Mr. John Worswick.—Messrs. Garside and Knowles' company have presented the popular drama, The London Fireman. The play is admirably produced by a strong and numerous cast, including Mr. J. Forbes Knowles as Colonel Fleming and Mr. Edward L. Garside as Hal Curtis. The part of Ida Curtis, the fireman's wife, is admirably played by Miss Nellie Shirley, and other lady characters are gracefully impersonated by Miss Nellie Waddington, Miss Florence M. Daly, and Miss Nellie Garside.

THE HIPPODROME.—Managing-Director, Mr. John Worswick.—The Tom Davies' Trio give a sensational motoring act in mid air, and the Arizona Troupe are exceedingly accomplished acrobats. The Du Gros Trio give an aërial comic gymnastic act; and Will Percival is a clever comedian and clog dancer; Amy Neild is a comedienne destined to rise high in estimation; and other excellent performances are given by Will Poluski, jun., comedian and dancer; Tom Taylor, capital baritone vocalist; Arthur Bond, comedian and dancer; Semi and Demi, instrumentalists; and Raynor and Reece, humorous singers and dancers.

WORTHING.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Manager, Herr C. Adolf Seebold.—Mr. E. St. Alban's Opera company is here this week presenting Les Cloches de Corneville. Mr. Geo. A. Fox as Henri Marquis de Corneville has a fine voice and excellent presence; Mr. E. St. Alban gives an excellent rendering of the part of Gaspard; Mr. William Everard is heard to advantage as Grenicheaux; Mr. Fred Dark as the Bailie, and Mr. Richard Martin as Gobo are extremely funny. Miss L. Rhodes does well as Christophe; Miss Marion Ayling has a good soprano voice, and is winsome as Germaine; Miss May Bradbury is successful as Serpolette. Special mention should be made of the fine chorus.

WREXHAM.—EMPIRE MUSIC HALL.—Proprietor, Mr. J. J. Scott; Manager, Mr. Herbert Nicholls.—This week the attractions are Mr. Sid Bandon, who sings in effective style; the Rosslyns, singers and dancers, in a pleasing show; the Sisters Grenville, duettists, in clever and pretty dancing; Mr. George Raper, comedian; Miss Alice Dora, comedienne and dancer, and the Pictures.

YORK.—OPERA HOUSE AND EMPIRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. W. Peacock; Acting-Manager, Mr. Sidney Brook.—An exceptionally good programme is given this week. Henry Carlton, the popular comedian, and company cause much laughter with the sketch The Window Cleaner; the Percys' duets are exceptionally well rendered and their dancing is much appreciated; Fred Keeton, comedian, is amusing and secures well-merited applause; McPhee and Hill are novel gymnasts, and their marvellous feats received well merited applause; Learto, musical comedian, assisted by his clever dog Mabs, is very funny, and keeps the audience in good humour. The Coolvilles, vocalists and dancers, are exceptionally good; Lillian Victoria, soubrette and male impersonator, is well received; the Clavers, equilibrists and jugglers, perform some clever and neat feats, and the programme is brought to a close by some amusing pictures thrown on the Bioscope.

THE LATE JOHN DEE HUMPHREYS.

The letter from Mr. Arthur Reeve, published in our columns recently, draws attention to the necessity for helping Mrs. Humphreys and her family. We strongly commend this most deserving case to the generosity of the showman world.

The many friends of the deceased, who was one of the founders of the Music Hall Artists' Railway Association, will, we are confident, now that they know the uregent necessity of the case, respond with readiness to this appeal.

During the whole course of a laborious and honourable career John Dee Humphreys was ever ready to assist his brother showmen. His open-handed generosity and unfailing kindness endeared him to a wide circle of friends and comrades in the circus and show world.

The object of the fund is to enable the widow and family to maintain their home until such time as the children are able to earn an income sufficient for that purpose.

Second list of subscriptions:—

Lord John Sanger	£5	5	0
Lord G. Sanger	5	0	0
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reeve	2	2	0
James Upton, Esq.	2	2	0
John Hyman	2	2	0
Terriers' Association	2	2	0
E. H. Bostock	2	2	0
H. Hales	1	1	0
Thomas Holden	1	1	0
Mrs. Ellis Frederick	1	1	0
J. R. Philpotts	0	5	0
Harry Lester	0	5	0
W. H. Atlas	0	5	0
John Moore	0	5	0
Arthur Simmons	0	5	0
G. H. Smythson	0	5	0
F. W. Millis	0	5	0
George Wyman	0	3	0
E. E. Cooke	0	2	6
E. D'Almaine	0	2	6
Total	£26	1	0

Subscriptions sent to The Era to Mr. F. H. Pedgrift, hon. treasurer, will be acknowledged week by week.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL LAW.

BY A. A. STRONG, LL.B. (LOND.), SOLICITOR.

Your book will, I am sure, be a valuable aid to all managers and actors.—SIR HENRY IRVING.

Mr. Strong states the whole case very clearly.—Illustrated London News.

Should be found very useful.—Pelican.

Should prove perfectly invaluable.—Weekly Sun.

Contains in a handy compass and in a clear style the law relating to theatres and music halls. The book is well up to date.—Law Times.

Furnishes useful information.—Daily News.

The work succeeds in making plain the thorny legal path that every manager and artist must tread, and by a timely consultation of its pages they may avoid much misapprehension and trouble.—Star

Mr. A. A. Strong has compiled an exceedingly useful volume dealing carefully, intelligently, and fully with the law bearing upon things theatrical. As a book of reference this excellent digest will be found invaluable.—The Era.

MR. FRED G. BROOKE will produce a new sketch, written by himself and Miss Dora Deane, entitled The Destroyers, at the Royal Albert, Canning Town, on August Bank Holiday.

MISS MABEL SINCLAIR, the youthful lady ventriloquist, who is rapidly making herself a favourite at the London Pavilion, has been specially retained by Mr. B. E. Keith for his circuit of American Theatres.

MISS LIL HAWTHORNE has made a great success with Mr. H. K. Hamilton Field's quaint and tuneful number, "That's your cactus over there," at the Gaiety, Birmingham, this week, and the local Press speaks most eulogistically of both singer and song. It forms No. 26 of the Monte Carlo Publishing Company's "Sixpenny Successes."

THE DECLINE OF BALLET IN ENGLAND.

The earliest ballets, which closely resembled the old English masques, consisted not of dancing only, but also of vocal and instrumental music. In his book on the subject of "La Danse" M. Castile Blaze traces back the ballet from France to Italy, from Italy to Greece, and through the Greek stage to festivals in honour of Bacchus. But the ballet as signifying an entertainment exclusively in dancing dates from the foundation of the Academie Royal de Musique or soon afterwards. It is on record that Louis XIV. of France took such a delight in ballets that he frequently appeared as a ballet-dancer, or rather as a figurant, himself. The ballet never possessed in London anything like the importance which was attached to it in France from the beginning of the eighteenth century until a comparatively recent time.

To the June number of Macmillan's Magazine Mr. T. L. Bensusan, in an interesting article, deals with "The Decline of Ballet in England." He believes that in London ballet is entirely misunderstood, and suffering from neglect it has done nothing to deserve. There are scores of citizens, he says, who regard a ballet as an entertainment designed primarily for the delectation of elderly gentlemen who have lost most of their hair, all their sense of propriety, and so much of their sight that they must seek the aid of opera-glasses even when they sit in the front row of the stalls.

And yet time was, and not so long ago, when ballet taken seriously was one of the attractions of our opera houses; and even when it passed from there it seemed destined to find an honoured home at the Alhambra and afterwards at the Empire as well. Ballet lifted these houses into a position altogether different from that of mere variety theatres, and helped to attract a class of audience that would never have entered Leicester-square to see a variety show.

It is to be feared that very many people, in England at least, go to see a ballet in these days with no further wish than to have their ears tickled by lively music, and their eyes charmed by the figures and costumes of the dancers. They refuse to realise that ballet d'action has any other than mere sensuous attractions, and that a good ballet has all the qualities of a serious stage-play in addition to many to which no play can lay claim. It sets out to tell a simple yet dramatic story, and in place of speech there is gesture, strengthened by music, which in a sense takes the place of the human voice.

Of course, it is not necessary to go far back in stage-history to point out how large a measure of appreciation ballet has secured in England. It is not so very long ago that ballet was closely associated with opera. Then, when it had been appropriated by the music halls and was beginning to thrive in Leicester-square, there arose a generation that found ballet tiresome, not because it was less interesting than before, but because it was ceasing to be understood. This is a recent matter, and synchronises with the movement of burlesque towards musical comedy. Artistic salvation, so far as dancing is concerned, was held to lie in the long skirts, and with the rise of very charming manipulators of those garments there came an outcry against the skilled work of the prima ballerina, and the often delightful achievements of her less gifted sisters. The newer work was found more easy to understand. Of course the protests may have been genuine; but it is difficult to avoid the belief that the outcry was founded, in part at least, upon the fact that almost anybody can become a skirt-dancer, while to become a real dancer years of hard work are demanded.

A great dancer is a great artist, and in using this hackneyed term I am thinking of Ruskin's well-known definition of an artist as "a person who has submitted to a law which it is painful to obey, in order to bestow the delight which it is gracious to bestow." The only alteration one might make in the definition would be to substitute laws for law, in as much as the great dancer finds herself beset on all sides by restrictions. Not only must she practise every day, but she must not ride nor run, or play tennis or hockey; she must develop her ear for music, seeing so much depends on her sense of rhythm; and she must have an innate or carefully-cultivated sense of beauty of line and curve, must, in short, have a feeling for sculpture. She must be strong-minded enough to refrain from the pursuit of what is merely popular, and to withstand the temptation of the big offers that are always awaiting her if she will degrade her art by appealing to the lower forms of what is quaintly termed the public taste. When we remember, moreover, that no measure of work and no amount of restrictions will avail to make a dancer unless she happen to begin with natural gifts of an uncommon order, it will be seen that her art is as rare as it is difficult.

Unfortunately, in this country nobody seems to think that dancing need be studied at all, and English dancers encourage the fond illusion. In the Continental schools attached to great opera houses, and sometimes subsidised by Government, the work of the dancer is not of the kind that can be learnt in a year or so. Life in the dancing-school begins when a child is no more than eight or nine years old, and the ordinary course demands some nine years of study.

Not only are many of the steps that must be studied exceedingly difficult, but the dancer who has learnt her work in the schools of Vienna, Milan, Moscow, or Paris knows well enough that should she falter in their execution she will have no chance at all with the public. In London, on the other hand, several great dancers have told me that it is not worth their while to take trouble about very difficult steps, because unfortunately they are not understood; while something that is obvious and childlike in its simplicity, like a pas de bourrée, is safe to meet with a measure of applause at least as great as that which rewards some movements which can only be acquired at the end of long years of study by a very few dancers whose natural gifts are exceptional. If you watch a really distinguished dancer, you are bound to notice that she never has an ungraceful movement or unhappy pose. It is not a case of occasional happy moments, but of one long succession of movements whose rhythm has the beauty of fine verse. The results that make great dancers so much admired by those who are at any pains to study their work are quite within the reach of English girls; but it is an unfortunate fact, for which every great ballet-mistress will vouch, that English girls as a class do not take the trouble to work hard enough to acquire the perfect control over limbs and movement that is the reward of their Continental sisters. It is on this account that what is sometimes called English dancing cannot be taken seriously. Of course one cannot blame the English dancers altogether; it is of very little use to prepare a delicate dish for the delectation of the sturdy animal whose favourite food is thistles; and while the public remain content with a pretty face, a pleasing figure, a dainty dress, and an air for which barrel-organs cry aloud, English girls may regard it as a labour lost to give them anything better. And yet the successes in years past of dancers like Katti Lanner and Malvina Cavallazzi, and the triumph that has fallen to Adeline Genée to-day, must prove that there is an English audience for better things. Perhaps, if we had more dancers who could and would take their work seriously, the tone of what so many people are generously pleased to call their taste might cease to be contemptible.

REVISED SCALE OF CHARGES FOR

MANAGERS WANTING ARTISTS, ARTISTS WANTING ENGAGEMENTS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

This Scale does not apply to "Trade" Advertisements in these Columns.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION (Post Free).

	UNITED KINGDOM.	FOREIGN.
One Quarter	6s. 6d.	8s.
Half Year	13s. 0d.	16s.
One Year	26s. 0d.	32s.

The Offices of "The Era" are
"THE ERA" BUILDINGS,
5, TAVISTOCK-STREET, STRAND, W.C.
For the convenience of Advertisers, Replies to Advertisements are received. They can remain until called for, or be forwarded by Post, FREE OF CHARGE.

NO STAMPS.

Advertisers and Subscribers are politely requested to forward Cheques or Postal Orders in payment of their Advertisements and Subscriptions, crossed "Lloyd's Bank, Ltd." Remittances should be made payable to "The Era," Limited, and addressed,

THE PUBLISHER,
"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-st., Strand, W.C.
"Wire," "The Era, London."
"Ring-up," 4,747, Central.

IN case of the non delivery of "THE ERA" by the First Post, the Publisher will be greatly obliged if Advertisers will forward their Postal Wrappers, with the time of delivery marked upon them.

COMPANIES WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

MILTON BODE'S THEATRES.
WANTED, First-class Companies, for DALSTON THEATRE, LONDON, N.E.
Oct. 1, 15, 22, 29, Nov. 5, 19, 26, Dec. 10, 17, on.
COUNTY THEATRE, READING.
June 25, Nov. 19, 26, Dec. 10, 17, Jan. 7, 14, on.
OPERA HOUSE, LEICESTER.
Aug. 13, Oct. 8, Nov. 19, 26, Dec. 10, 17.
Jan. 21, Feb. 11, 25, on.
ROYALTY THEATRE, CHESTER.
Oct. 8, 29, Nov. 5, Dec. 10, Jan. 21, 28, on.
GRAND THEATRE, WOLVERHAMPTON.
Aug. 20, Sept. 10, Nov. 12, 19, Dec. 3, 10, Jan. 7, on.
THEATRE ROYAL, LEAMINGTON.
Sept. 13 (three nights), 17, 24, Oct. 8, 15, 22 (three nights), 29, on.
Address, MILTON BODE, THEATRE, READING.

WANTED, First-class Companies, for Huddersfield, Oct. 8, 22, 29, Nov. 12, 19, Dec. 3, 24 (Xmas week).
Reading, June 25.
Leamington, Sept. 13 (3 nights), 17, 24, Oct. 8, 15, on.
Theatre Royal, Leicester, July 9, 16.
Northampton, July 23, 30, Xmas week.
Opera House, Leicester, Aug. 13.
Address, MILTON BODE, Theatre, Reading.

WANTED, First-Class Companies, GRAND THEATRE, NEWCASTLE, Aug. 27, Oct. 18, Dec. 3, 17.
METROPOLE THEATRE, GATESHEAD, Aug. 13, 27, Oct. 29, Dec. 3, 17, 24.
Address,
SIDNEY BACON, Metropole Theatre, Gateshead.
Telegrams, "Bacon, Gatesehad."

WANTED, First-class Companies, for COUNTY THEATRE, BEDFORD;
GRAND THEATRE, LUTON;
Aug. 6, 20, 27, Sept. 3, 10, 24,
Oct. 8, 22, Nov. 12,
onwards, with exceptions.

E. GRAHAM FALCON,
County Theatre, Bedford.

CAMBRIDGE THEATRE, SPENNYMOOR.
Lessee, Mr. HARDING THOMAS.
WANTED, Dramas and Musical Companies, Aug. 6, Nov. 19, Dec, onwards.
Address, HERBERT VERE.

THEATRE ROYAL, RYDE.
Lessee, J. BANNISTER HOWARD.
WANTED, good Opera or Musical Company, for June 25. N.B.—This being Coronation week is a public holiday in the Isle of Wight, and quite as good as a Bank Holiday week.
Address, 3, Bedford-street, Strand.

THEATRE ROYAL, MARGATE.
Under the Direction of EDWARD MICHAEL.
WANTED, First-Class Musical or Comedy Company for June 25 and July 9, only open dates.
Bookings include: "Mr. Popple," "His House in Order," "The Cingalee," Mrs. Weedon Grossmith and Fred Kerr, "Duchess of Dantzic," "Mollentrave on Women," "The Blue Moon," "Walls of Jericho," "Sergeant Brue," Aubrey Fitzgerald and West End Company, "Faust Up to Date," "Charley's Aunt," "Earl and the Girl," "Public Opinion," "Gay Parisienne," "Florodora," &c.

THEATRE ROYAL, CANTERBURY.
Vacant Aug. 13, 20, and 27 (three nights each), Sept. 10 and 17 (three nights).

GRAND THEATRE, DERBY.
WANTED, First-class Dramatic or Musical Attractions, Aug. 20, Sept. 17, Oct. 15, Nov. 5, Dec. 10, 17, Jan. 23, Feb. 18, and onwards.
Address, T. ALLAN EDWARDES.

HARROGATE GRAND OPERA HOUSE.
WANTED, First-Class Company, for July 5, 6, 7, (three nights).
Apply, WILLIAM PEACOCK.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE, WIDNES.
WANTED, Sound Attraction for Aug. 6 (Bank Holiday), also vacant Aug. 13, 20, and onwards, with exceptions.
Address, THOS. SWINTON.

P. O. W., NUNEATON.
WANTED, Sound Musical Attractions, for the following reserved dates: Sept. 3, Oct. 22, Jan. 14, Feb. 18, March 11, 18. A. F. CROSS.

WANTED, Companies, T. R., Rugby, Aug. 13, 20, Sept. 3, 17, 24, Oct. 15, 29 (three), Nov. 19, Dec. 3; also Spring dates, for new theatre. A. F. CROSS, Nuneaton.

WANTED, First-Class Companies, three nights, one matinée, July 2, 5, 9, several dates on, only good Attractions entertained. Silence a polite negative. SEEBOLD, Worthing Theatre Royal.

WANTED, Known, only Vacant Dates for the Spa Theatre, Bridlington. Just completed. Electric light throughout. First-class Attractions (no dramas) for week July 30 (3 or 6 nights) also July 30 to Aug. 4, Aug. 9, 10, 11, 27, 28, 29, Sept. 13, 14, 15.
HAGUE, General Manager.

WANTED, for the Prince of Wales' Theatre, Salford, First-Class Companies, for July 2, 9, and 16. Address, E. B. GOULDEN.

WANTED, good Companies (Musical preferred), Autumn and Spring.
CLAYTON, King's Theatre, Sutton-in-Ashfield.

WANTED, First-class Dramatic Companies June 25, onwards.
WM. B. BROADHEAD, Hippodrome, Manchester.

WANTED, First-Class Companies, Aug. 6 (unexpectedly vacant), 13, and Sept. 24. Apply, MANAGING-DIRECTOR, Theatre Royal, Exeter.

PALACE THEATRE, NEWCASTLE.
WANTED, Strong Dramatic Attraction,

COMPANIES WANTED.

ARTHUR CARLTON THEATRES, LTD.

WANTED, First-class Companies, Wanted, First-class Companies

METROPOLE THEATRE, DEVONPORT.
METROPOLE THEATRE, DEVONPORT.
METROPOLE THEATRE, DEVONPORT.
Vacant July 30, Aug. 20, Oct. 1.

CARLTON THEATRE, BIRMINGHAM.
CARLTON THEATRE, BIRMINGHAM.
CARLTON THEATRE, BIRMINGHAM.
Vacant Aug. 6, 13, 20.

LYRIC THEATRE, BROMLEY.
LYRIC THEATRE, BROMLEY
LYRIC THEATRE, BROMLEY.
Vacant June 18, 25, July 2.

KING'S THEATRE, GAINSBOROUGH.
KING'S THEATRE, GAINSBOROUGH.
KING'S THEATRE, GAINSBOROUGH
Vacant June 18, 25, July 2, 9.

GARRICK THEATRE, HEREFORD.
GARRICK THEATRE, HEREFORD.
GARRICK THEATRE, HEREFORD.
Vacant June 18, 25, July 2, 9.

THEATRE ROYAL, WORCESTER.
THEATRE ROYAL, WORCESTER.
THEATRE ROYAL, WORCESTER.
Vacant Sept. 3, Nov. 5, Dec. 3, 10.

GREENWICH THEATRE, S.E.
GREENWICH THEATRE, S.E.
GREENWICH THEATRE, S.E.
Vacant June 18, 25, July 2.

CARLTON AND DUCKWORTH THEATRES.

LYCEUM THEATRE, PENTRE.
LYCEUM THEATRE, PENTRE.
LYCEUM THEATRE, PENTRE.
Vacant June 18, 25, July 2, 9.

THEATRE ROYAL, TON-Y-PANDY.
THEATRE ROYAL, TON-Y-PANDY.
THEATRE ROYAL, TON-Y-PANDY.
Vacant July 23, 30, Aug. 6, 20.

THEATRE METROPOLE, ABERTILLERY.
THEATRE METROPOLE, ABERTILLERY.
THEATRE METROPOLE, ABERTILLERY.
Vacant June 18, 25, July 2, 9.

"SPAN OF LIFE" CO.
Vacant Oct. 15.

"CINDERELLA."
Vacant Jan. 21, 28, Feb. 4, 11.

"ALADDIN."
Vacant Dec. 31, Jan. 7, 14, 21.

All communications to ARTHUR CARLTON, Theatre Royal, Worcester.

Telegrams, "Carlton, Worcester."

OPERA HOUSE, DUNFERMLINE.
Grand Re-opening Aug. 16, after Re-decoration and Renovating, with R. A. P. Williams's New Comic Opera Co., "Les Cloches de Corneville."
WANTED, Attractions, Aug. 27, Sept. 3, and on, with exceptions. New Year's Week Vacant for First-class Pantomime. W. E. POTTS.

NEW PRINCE'S THEATRE, BLACKBURN.
WANTED, First-class Attractions, July 30, Aug. 6, 13.
E. H. PAGE.

NEW THEATRE ROYAL, BLYTH.
WANTED, First-Class Companies, for the following dates: Aug. 13, 20 (Flower Show week), and 27, Oct. 1 and 15, Nov. 12 and 26, Dec. 3, 10, 17, and 24. Pantomime Companies from Jan. 7, 1907, onwards.
Apply, A. C. MOODY, Lessee and Manager.

THEATRE ROYAL, DARLINGTON.
WANTED, High-class Attractions, Aug., Sept., and Oct.
Musical Comedies preferred.
JAMES BELL.

LYCEUM THEATRE, STAFFORD.
WANTED, Companies, July 2, 9, 23, and on; Bank Holiday vacant.
JAMES ELPHINSTONE.

NEW GRAND THEATRE, MANSFIELD.
WANTED, No. 1 Companies, for this New Brick and Stone Theatre, now being erected in Main Street, Centre of Town,
Holds 1,200. Stage 60 by 40. 40 to Flies.
Bookings include Best Companies on Road.
Will Open in September.
Vacant for First-class Company for Opening.
CLAYTON, 53, Grosvenor Park-road, Walthamstow.

WANTED. Wanted. Wanted, through obliging a Manager,
Good, Sound Attraction, Musical preferred, for July 2, week.
Particulars to MANAGER,
Palace Pier, Brighton.

WANTED, First-class Company, for Aug. 6. Apply,
WADDINGTON and SONS, Theatre Royal, York.

PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE, GRIMSBY.
WANTED, Company, for July 23.
Copy of day-bill and particulars to
J. H. CURRY, as above.

WANTED, Musical Comedy, for Important Theatre on the South Coast, Aug. 27. J. HERBERT JAY, 10, Jermyn-street, Piccadilly.

KNIGHTSTONE PAVILION and OPERA HOUSE, WESTON-SUPER-MARE.
WANTED, First-Class Attractions, June 25 (three or six nights), July 12, 13, 14, 16, and 23 (six nights). W. PAYNE.

GRAND THEATRE, EDINBURGH.
WANTED, First-class Attraction, July 30. Musical preferred. HARRY FISCHER.

WANTED, for Theatre Royal, Barnstaple, Companies for two Nights, Musical or Comedy preferred. Apply, H. ASHTON, Strand, Barnstaple.

WANTED, Dates. Touring Companies and Concert Managers. King's Theatre, Walton-on-Naze. Seating 600 July, Aug., Sept. Particulars, MANAGER, 87, Sutton-court, Chiswick.

WANTED, for Prince's Theatre, Llandudno, Public Hall, Colwyn Bay, good Companies, July 2, 9, 16, 23 (three or six nights). Address, CHAPLIN, Colwyn Bay.

ST. MARGARET'S HALL, CANTERBURY.
Seats 600. Lighted throughout with Electricity. Electric Current for Cinématograph, 220 volts.
WANTED, First-class Attractions, onwards, Share or Rent. Apply, W. J. COTTON.

COMPANIES WANTED.

NEW THEATRE ROYAL, BIRKENHEAD.
NEW THEATRE ROYAL, BIRKENHEAD.
NEW THEATRE ROYAL, BIRKENHEAD.
WANTED, through disappointment, First-class Attraction, for week of July 9.
Wire, "Hustler, Birkenhead."

THEATRE ROYAL, BLACKBURN.
WANTED, First-Class Attraction only, Aug. 27, only vacant date this year.
Address, HARRY YORKE.

QUEEN'S THEATRE, LIVERPOOL.
WANTED, First-class Companies, July 2, and several Autumn Dates vacant. Managers can always depend on doing a good week's business at the Queen's. Apply, L. CARSON, Keighley.

IRVING THEATRE, SEACOMBE.
WANTED, First-class Attractions, Aug. Bank Holiday, Aug. 27, Sept. 3, and Sept. 24, Oct. 15, Oct. 22, Oct. 29, Dec. 10.
Apply to Owner and Manager, JAMES KIERNAN.

PIER PAVILION, TEIGNMOUTH, S. DEVON.
WANTED, June 18, July 2 and 9, Good Bright Complete Entertainments and Concert Parties, for above dates. Share terms. Wire for June 18. E. A'DELL, Pier, Teignmouth.

THEATRE ROYAL, BOLTON.
WANTED, to Let, for Eight Weeks, for First-class Shows, complete in themselves, on rental or share (not dramatic).
Address, J. F. ELLISTON, Bolton.

THEATRES WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

"HER SECOND TIME ON EARTH."
By Walter Melville.
WANTED, Theatres, Aug. 6 (?), 13, 20. Oct. 1, 15.
WALTER MELVILLE,
Oakley House, 14, Bloomsbury-street, W.C.

"A GIRL'S CROSS ROADS."
By Walter Melville.
WANTED, Theatres, Aug. 13, Nov. 26.
WALTER MELVILLE,
Oakley House, 14, Bloomsbury-street, W.C.

FREDK MELVILLE'S DRAMATIC COS.
WANTED, Theatres, Aug. 13, Sept. 17 24, Oct. 1.
FREDK. MELVILLE,
Oakley House, 14, Bloomsbury-street, W.C.

"THE WORST WOMAN IN LONDON."
WANTED, Theatres, Sept. 24, Oct. 22, Nov. 5, Xmas, on, with exceptions.
TOM H. TAYLOR, Standard Theatre, E.

"THE FEMALE SWINDLER."
WANTED, Theatres, Aug. 6, Sept. 17, Oct. 8, Nov. 26, Xmas, on, with exceptions.
TOM H. TAYLOR, Standard Theatre, E.

"THE GIRL WHO LOST HER CHARACTER."
WANTED, Aug. 20 and Nov. 26.
DOUGLAS BRUCE,
Bruges, Willow-avenue, Edgbaston, Birmingham.

"A ROYAL DIVORCE."
"A ROYAL DIVORCE."
"A ROYAL DIVORCE."
WANTED, for the Scala Production, Week of July 2.
Wire,
"Hustler, Birkenhead."

"UNCLE TOM'S CABIN."
WANTED, Theatres, July 2, 16, on, with exceptions.
"SAILORS OF THE KING."
Aug. 6, 27, on, with exceptions.
CHARLES HARRINGTON,
Broadway Theatre, London.

"DARE-DEVIL DOROTHY."
WANTED, July 30, Aug. 27, Sept. 10, Oct. 1, 22, 29, Nov. 12, and Dec. 31.
J. W. CORDINER, Grand Theatre, Southampton.
See Companies Advertisement, Page 2.

WILLIAM A. ARMOUR'S COMPANIES.
"WHAT A WOMAN DID."
WANTED, June 25 and on, with exceptions.
"THE BEST OF HER SEX,"
Wanted, July 23, 30, Aug. 6, and onwards, with exceptions.
WILLIAM A. ARMOUR,
Queen's Theatre, Farnworth.

"THE PRIVATE SECRETARY" TOUR.
Eugene C. Stafford's Company.
WANTED, Nov. 1 (three nights) and 12, Dec. 3 and 24, also Spring, 1907. Apply, care of FRENCH, Ltd., 26, Southampton-st., Strand, London.

"THE POWER OF GOLD."
Forty-third Week of Present Tour.
Bookings and re-bookings extend into March, '07.
WANTED, July 23 and 30, follow W. London.
Aug. 20, Sept. 10, 17, Oct. 1.
FRANK AYRTON,
Prince's Theatre, Blackburn.

Mr. H. F. MALTBY and COMPANY,
"THE YOUNGEST OF THREE."
WANTED, First-class Theatres, Aug. 13, onwards, with exceptions, and Spring, '07.
WYN WEAVER, T. R., Dover.

"A TRAITOR PRINCE."
The great Oriental Play.
WANTED, June 25, July 2, 9, 16, 23, Aug. 27, on, a perfect production, going stronger than ever. E. CARTER LIVESEY, to-day, Metropole, Gateshead; next, T. R., Sunderland.

"SAPHO."
"SAPHO."
WANTED, Sept. 10, 17, Oct. 8, 15. No greater success touring. Miss Annie Bell as Fanny Le Grande. Address, JAMES BELL, Theatre, Darlington.

GRANVILLE AND THORNE'S TOURS.
"NAPOLEON THE GREAT."
WANTED, for this First-Class Attraction, Aug. 27, Sept. 10 and 24.
Apply,
FRED GRANVILLE, Park View, Crosby, Liverpool.

"THE GOLDEN LADDER."
WANTED, through misunderstanding, Aug. 6, Sept. 3. Address, E. VIVIAN EDMONDS, 2, Sunnyside-terrace, Weston-super-Mare.

WANTED, for Arthur Shirley's Great Domestic play, "THE BOOM OF BIG BEN," Exceptionally Powerful Company,
June 25, July 2, London or near.
"THE GRIP OF IRON."
Aug. 27, Sept., and onwards, with exceptions.
GEORGE DENHAM, County Theatre, Reading.

WANTED, Theatres for "Her Lost Self," by Nita Rae; "The Biggest Scamp on Earth," by F. A. Scudamore. Miss Frances Delaval, Mr. Percy Carne Waram, and powerful company. "Scamp" vacant Aug. 6. Both plays Aug. 27, Sept. 3, 17, Oct. 1, 8, Nov. 5, Xmas, New Year. Wire, Alec., Hull; next, T. R., Stockport.

"RICH AND POOR OF LONDON."
Miss Dora Dench
and Powerful Company.
WANTED, Good Theatres, for June 25, July 2.
Wire, DENCH,
Queen's, Manchester; next, North Shields.

"AN ABANDONED WOMAN."
WANTED, First-class Theatres only, July 2, Aug. 13,
Refer Messrs. W. Morton, H. Fineberg, T. W. Rowe, S. James, L. Collingwood, W. Bailey, J. W. Boughton. To-day, HARRY FOXWELL, Prince's T., Blackburn. June 18, Theatre Royal, Smethwick.

FRANK BERTRAM'S TOURS.
"THE NEW CLOWN."
"THE NEW CLOWN."
WANTED, June 25, to follow Southend. wire, to-day, EUGENE BERTRAM,
O. H., Coventry;
Next, Empire, Southend-on-Sea.

"THE STREETS OF LONDON."
WANTED, June 25, July 2, 9,
EADE MONTEFIORE, Kennington Theatre.
Wire, "Busily, London."

"LIFE'S SWEETEST SINS."
WANTED, Best Theatres Only, July 2, Aug. 6, Sept. 17, 24, Xmas. T. ARTHUR JONES, Star Theatre, Swansea.

"THE TRAITOR."
WANTED, Aug. 20 and 27.
HILL-MITCHELSON, Star Theatre, Liverpool.

THEATRES WANTED.

"THE DRAMA OF LIFE."
WANTED, for this Magnificent Production, July 9 and 16, to follow Chatham. The company is of such all-round excellence that I can guarantee good business at any theatre. Several dates vacant, autumn. Address,
L. CARSON, Keighley.

"BABES IN THE WOOD."
A Production that will be Second to None Touring. Beautiful Dresses, and, above all, a Company of Carefully-selected Artists.
WANTED, Jan. 21, Feb. 4 and 18. Can only entertain first-class theatres for this undoubted success. Address, L. CARSON, Keighley.

LINGFORD CARSON'S PRODUCTIONS.
WANTED, Managers to kindly Note that all the above Plays are beautifully staged and well played, and any production not satisfactory to the resident management, I shall take it as a personal favour if they will acquaint me immediately, so that I may have an opportunity of rectifying same.—Faithfully yours, LINGFORD CARSON.

LINGFORD CARSON'S REPERTOIRE CO.
"THE HEART OF A HERO."
"THE TICKET-OF-LEAVE MAN."
"THE OCTOROON."
"A MODERN ADVENTURESS."
WANTED, Good Theatres, July 9, and onwards. Can arrange for four plays in one week. L. CARSON, Keighley.

ARTHUR JEFFERSON'S AGENCY.
WANTED, Dates,
"QUEEN OF VILLAINY"
(including Miss Edith Blande). June 18, 25 (between London and Leicester preferred), July 9, various onwards.
"IN SIGHT OF ST. PAUL'S."
Aug. 6, 13, 27 (Midlands), various onwards.
"ORPHAN HEIRESS" and
"WORLD'S VERDICT."
Aug. 20, 27, various, onwards.
"SAINTS AND SINNERS" and "MIDDLEMAN."
Sept. 24, Oct. 1 (North), Dec. 3, 17.
Address, Metropole, Glasgow.

ALFRED B. CROSS'S TOUR.
"THE MANXMAN."

WANTED, Best Theatres, Vacant Oct. 8 (North), Oct. 29, Nov. 5 and 19, Dec. 24.
Present Bookings: R., Cardiff; G., Swansea; L., Newport; Sunderland; S. Shields; Brixton; G., Croydon; Broughton; A., Sheffield; G., Wolverhampton; Llandudno; Edinburgh; Bootle; Seacombe; &c. Now Booking Spring, 1907.
T. R., Rochdale, June 18.

"THE LIGHTS O' LONDON,"
"THE LIGHTS O' LONDON,"
"THE LIGHTS O' LONDON,"
by Geo. R. Sims.
The Ninth Tour, under the direction of Herbert Hollister, of this famous Drama commences in August.
WANTED, First-class Theatres only, for Sept. 3 (?), 10, Oct. 15 (London or South), Nov. 12, 19, Dec. 3 and 10 (North). Spring fully booked with two exceptions.
H. HOLLISTER, c/o David Allens, Ltd.,
17, Leicester-street, Leicester-square, W.C.

"BLUEBELL IN FAIRYLAND."

Mr. Edward Graham Falcon has secured the entire rights from Messrs. Gatti and Frohman, and has purchased the
No. 1 Production
from Messrs. Murray King and Clark.
WANTED, Theatres, Sept. 17, 24, Oct. 8, 29, and Four Weeks at Christmas.
Managers send Spring Dates.
E. GRAHAM-FALCON, County Theatre, Bedford.

MR. and MRS. F. C. KIMBERLEY'S COS.
"A SISTER'S SIN."
WANTED, July 2 (Midlands), for this Great Attraction, only vacant date this year.
Wire, F. G. KIMBERLEY,
Vauxhall, The Scotlands, Wolverhampton.

WANTED, Theatres, for the Elster-Grime Opera Co., July 9 (to follow Swansea), 16, 23, Aug. 6, 13, and on, South preferred. O. H., Torquay; next, Alexandra Hall, Ilfracombe.

WANTED, July 30, Aug. 6, on, for "A London Actress."
STUART CLEVELAND, St. James's Theatre, Manchester.

WANTED, for First-class Pantomime, with Big Cast, Jan. 21, and on. Only Theatre capable of holding money can be entertained.
Please address, J. F. ELLISTON, Bolton.

"SENTENCED FOR LIFE."
WANTED, First-class Theatres, Xmas Week, on, with exceptions.
FRED. BULMER (Vacation add.), Care of "The Era."

WANTED, "Assassin," Oct. 29.
AUGUSTINE KNIGHT,
19, Dunalley-parade, Cheltenham.

MISS MURIEL GODFREY-TURNER AND REPERTOIRE COMPANY.
WANTED, June 25, between Cheltenham and Douglas. Wire, RUSSELL ROSSE, O. H., Cheltenham.

MADGE McINTOSH and LUMSDEN HARE'S CO.
"MOLLENTRAVE ON WOMEN,"
by Alfred Sutro, from the St. James's Theatre.
WANTED, Aug. 6, Special
Aug. 13, Scenery,
Aug. 20, Attractive
Sept. 10 (?) Printing.
Address, LUMSDEN HARE, Criterion T., London.

"THE GAYEST OF THE GAY."
The Most Successful Play produced during the year 1905. Miss Edith Cole as Belle Bascombe and Susan Meredith.
WANTED, Dates, in First-class Theatres only. Vacant Oct. 22, 29, and Nov. 5. Wire or write, W. W. KELLY, 8, Hamilton-sq., Birkenhead.

Managers who are looking for money, book
"THE MASTER CRIMINAL."
WANTED, Good Theatres, June 25, July 9, 30, Aug. 6. Wire,
OSMOND, Queen's, Longton; next, Mexborough.

"A WOMAN'S REVENGE."
WANTED, Good Theatres, July 9, 16, Aug. 6.
HENRY L. OSMOND, Queen's, Longton; next, Mexborough.

"THE INDIAN MUTINY."
WANTED Good Theatres,
July 16, 30, Aug. 6.
FRANK E. BURDETT, 161, Chesterfield-rd., Sheffield.

"THE SWISS EXPRESS."
WANTED, for this Unique Attraction, First-class Theatres, for Aug. 27,
Sept. 10, 24,
Oct. 8, 15,
Nov. 12.
Address, C. and F. RENAD, c/o "The Era."

PANTOMIME.
WANTED, Theatre, Jan. 21, 1907, to follow month at London house. Address, for particulars, G. BRYDON-PHILLIPS, c/o "The Era."

"THE THRONE OF TERROR."
WANTED, June 25, on, Aug. 20, various, on. Refer last week, Stockton; this, Muncaster, Bootle. MILLER, this Bootle; next, Prince of Wales', Salford.

"LIFE," "EAST LYNNE," &c.
WANTED, June 25, July 2, 9, 16, 23, Aug. 6 (follow Metropole, Glasgow), Powerful Co. Splendid pictorials. HERBERT BARRS, Grand Theatre, Hull.

"PUSS IN BOOTS."
WANTED, Important Theatre only, for Feb. 4 and 11.
Company of Seventy Artists.
Address, C. and F. RENAD, c/o "The Era."

Christmas Pantomime, 1906-1907.
WANTED, Dates, "Cinderella," by Henry Austin, original and sparkling music, ten magnificent scenes, specially painted by Walter Drury, fourteen principal Artists, troupe of trained juveniles, full chorus, strong specialities for Palace scene; up-to-date in every detail; produced by Walter Drury. Managers write to DONALD ARTHUR'S Agency, 434, Strand, W.C.

"THE TEMPTRESS."
WANTED, Aug. 13. W. H. HALLATT, 1, St. John's-road, Richmond, Surrey.

THEATRES WANTED.

Success! Success!! Success!!!
Miss MARY NEIL and Mr. GEORGE KIRK'S
"HER LUCK IN LONDON" CO.
By Charles Darrell.
Bookings include
Junc. and Osborne, Manchester (R.); Alex., Hull (R.); P., Blackburn (R.); T. R., Castleford (R.); T. R., Bolton; Alex., Sheffield; Grand, Blackpool; T. R., Lincoln; G., Derby; T. R., Leicester; T. R., South Shields; O. H., St. Helens; T. R., Sunderland; Q., Liverpool; Wigan; Prince's, Bradford; T. R., Barnsley; T. R., Middlesbrough; T. R., Chatham; T. R., Smethwick; T. R., Aston; Grand, Nottingham; Rotunda, Liverpool; Col., Oldham; Palace, Newcastle-on-Tyne; Prince's, Portsmouth; A'exandra, Birmingham; P.O.W., Grimsby; and Grand, Islington, N.
Thanks for offers of T. R., Bristol; Grand, Swansea; G., Burnley; Accrington; Victoria, Broughton.
WANTED, Theatres, Sept. 3, and few Autumn Dates Vacant, for really good Theatres that can hold money. Rapidly booking 1907. Managers are invited to forward Autumn vacancies to GEORGE KIRK, this, T. R., Chatham; next, 210, Barbury-street, Birmingham.

"£1,000 REWARD."
By the late Charles Rogers.
Re-written and brought up to date by Charles Rogers, jun.
This Sterling Drama will be sent on Tour Aug. 6, under the Personal Supervision of Frank J. Pitt and Charles Halling.
Bookings include
Mexborough,
Attercliffe,
Rotherham,
Chesterfield,
Leeds, T. R.,
Rawtenstall,
Ton-y-Pandy,
Penire,
Stourbridge,
Walsall,
&c., &c.
Two Truck Loads of Specially-painted Scenery will be Travelled, including the Gorgeous, Electrically-lighted Music Hall Set.
Special Printing has been Struck for this Tour, by Stafford and Co., bringing the aggregate up to 244 D.C. Sheets, without a Repeat.
Everything Carried. Clear Stage only required.
The Company includes
Charles Rogers, jun., Charles Halling, Frank J. Pitt, Frank Dallas, Miss Daisy Halling, Mrs. Sidney Halling, Miss Cissie Francis, and Miss Lynn Darlington (the Australian Contralto).
"£1,000 REWARD."
Sumptuously Staged, Adequately Advertised, Artistically Performed. This Favourite Drama has been, and will be, a Money-maker.
WANTED, Sept. 3, 17, Oct. 8, 22, 29, Nov. 5, 12, 19, 26, Dec. 3, 10, and Xmas Week.
Rapidly Booking Spring. Re Dates.
FRANK J. PITT, VINE HOUSE, WORCESTER; Other Coms.,
CHARLES HALLING, OPERA HOUSE, ST. HELENS.

LESTER COLLINGWOOD'S PANTOMIME.
"BLUE BEARD," "BLUE BEARD."
WANTED, Jan. 21 and 28, good Theatres, with holding capacity, for the above superlative Attraction, only vacant dates. Everything carried; beautiful scenery, costumes, and electrical effects.
LESTER COLLINGWOOD,
Alexandra Theatre, Birmingham.

Company A.
Under the direction of JOHN LAWSON.
Episode "HUMANITY." Episode
"THE MONKEY'S PAW."
by W. W. Jacobs and Louis N. Parker.
VAUDEVILLE COMPANY.
The production equal in every way to original, and individuality has been selected for respective parts.
WANTED, June 25 and intermediate Dates.
Wire, V. NEWMAN, Olympia, Liverpool.

COLLEY-DRYDEN COMPANY.
WANTED, First-Class Dramatic and Variety Theatres, Share or Certainty. Thanks to numerous Managers for offers.
Call, Hippodrome, Bury, June 18: Madame Ada Colley, Mr. Ed. E. Ford, Miss Madge Mayfield, the Arizona Troupe, Lytton and Bland, Mr. Will Percival, Mr. Mike Johnson, Pictures, The Indian, and Mr. Leo Dryden.
Rehearsal, 11; matinée, 2.30.

ARTISTS WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, in the Autumn, for the Bandmann Opera Company, to Tour in the East,
Principal Comedian, Principal Soprano and Contralto, Soubrette, Principal Baritone, Principal Dancer, and Chorus. All for répertoire. Write full particulars, enclosing photo., marked "Bandmann," to KELSON TRUEMAN, Regent House, 233A, Regent-street, W.

WANTED, for Aug. 6, Artists to complete Cast for "Bluebell," Children (all over 14), Conductor, Stage Manager, Carpenter, Baggage Man, Agent in Advance, Wardrobe Mistress, to commence immediately. No notice will be taken unless age, height, lowest terms, ladies' photos., and full particulars are forwarded.
E. G. FALCON, County Theatre, Bedford.

"CLAUDIAN."
WANTED, Artists, to complete Company. Two tall experienced responsible Gents., First-class Advance Man, Ladies for Chorus, Soprano, and Contralto; Young Woman as Dresser. Age, height, terms, recent photos., references, &c.
WM. MACLAREN, Gowanlea, Navarino-rd., Worthing.

WANTED, Artists, in all Lines, for Autumn Tours of my No. 1 and No. 2 Animated Picture Companies; also a Responsible Manager, who can give substantial security. A reliable and smart Advance Agent wanted. C. E. PARLATO, 1, Brinkburn-road, Scarborough.

WANTED, Small Part and Chorus Ladies, London and Provincial Pantomimes. Good Salaries Paid. Write, EDWARD CRANSTON, 8A, Oxford and Cambridge-mansions; or apply, with photograph in costume, Tuesday and Thursday next, between 2 and 3, Bedford Head, Maiden-lane.

WANTED, for Arthur Carlton's Autumn Productions, Artists in all Lines. Send age, height, lowest salary, and last two refs., to ARTHUR CARLTON, T. R., Worcester. Mark envelopes "Tours."

JUNIUS BOOTH and CO.,
"MONTE CRISTO."
WANTED, Young Leading Lady, Character Actor. H. G. GRIFFIN, Crown Theatre, Peckham.

WANTED, Young, Handsome, Intelligent Lady, for a lengthy Engagement in Wordless Plays; must understand Stage Business. Apply, WARNER and Co., Ltd., 20, Wellington-street, Strand, Tuesday next, between 1 and 2 o'clock.

"THE GAZEKAS," under the direction of GEORGE GRAVES, Daly's Theatre, W.
WANTED, Soubrette, must be first-class Vocalist. Call, AUDITION Co., Ltd., 10, Bedford-chambers, Covent Garden, W.C.

"THE HERO OF THE FLAG."
WANTED, Smart Comedian, Short, with Good Songs, rehearse 25th, Manchester. Apply, stating age, height, summer terms, references, SYDNEY SPENSER, Queen's T., Liverpool.

WANTED, for King Charles and Buckingham, Gentlemen, must be tall; Sketch. ADDERLEY HOWARD, 14, Kingsdene, Vassall-road, Brixton.

Amateurs.
WANTED, Known, Two Ladies, Young, Good Appearance, and with Dramatic Ability, can be received into a first-class comedy company, now on tour. Apply, in first instance, Box 3,362, "The Era" Office.

WANTED, Amateur, Lady or Gentleman; usual terms. Apply, MOORE and SEYMOUR, 132, Kennington Park-road. Also a good Bioscope wanted.

WANTED, Hybert's "U.T.C." Fit-up Tour, starting August, Coloured Singers, Gent. for Tom (vocalist), other vacancies, coloured men for baggage, &c. J. A. HYBERT, Uphill, Weston-s-Mare.

WANTED, for Al-fresco and Hotel Business, Seaside, good vocalist, lady or gentleman. Address, PIANIST, 8, College-place, St. Albans, Herts.

ARTISTS WANTED.

ACCRINGTON AMATEUR OPERATIC SOCIETY.
WANTED, Coach, for production of "Trial by Jury" and "The Sorcerer," Feb. 4 to 9, 1907; engagement for three weeks before and the week of performance. Apply, with references, to CHAS. S. HAYWOOD, Hon. Sec.,
Post Office-chambers, Accrington.

WANTED, for Autumn, Lady Soprano and Gentleman Tenor, who can yodel well; also Ladies and Gentlemen for Chorus. Apply immediately, C. ST. JOHN DENTON, 34, Maiden-lane, Strand.

WANTED, immediately, good Sopranos, Tenors, Basses; also Principals for Musical Comedy. Apply immediately, F. DARRELL and Co., 415, Strand.

WANTED, Immediately, for Randal's Original Middies and Maids Party, first-class Baritone, used to concerteds; must be gentleman. Fullest particulars, terms, and photo., to RANDAL, Pier Pavilion, Skegness.

WANTED, Boy Singers, permanent Engagement; good salary, for exceptional Soloists, well-known Professional Troupe. 107, Grosvenor-street, Manchester.

WANTED, immediately, First-Class Banjoist. Apply personally to
THE AUDITION Co., Ltd.,
10, Bedford-chambers. Covent Garden, W.C.

WANTED, Pianist-Humorist, for Week, July 23, near London; must be strong in both lines. Apply by letter, 80, Union-rd., Clapham, S.W.

WANTED, Dramatic Artists who experience difficulty in obtaining copies of "The Era" at any of Messrs. Smith and Son's Bookstalls to kindly communicate with the PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-st., Strand, W.C.

ARTISTS' WANTS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Known, the Stanford Quartette, on Tour, Pier Pavilion, Dover. For terms and vacant autumn and winter dates, Mr. LLOYD STANFORD, 11, Pennard-road, Shepherd's Bush, W.

WANTED, Engagement, by Two Comediennes, Vocalists, Instrumentalists, experienced Performers (Cornets, Banjos, Mandolines, E. Concertina, Harmonica, Piano). Can play parts in sketches, &c. Disengaged June 25. Write A. C., 153, Kennington Park-road, S.E.

WANTED, by Young Lady, Trained Contralto, Engagement with Choir Company. Wire, WILSON, Water-lane, South Normanton, Derbyshire.

WANTED, Known, Operatic Tenor, of well-known company, extensive high-class répertoire, liberty. Best offers only entertained. F., 39, Runswick-terrace, Bradford.

WANTED, Engagement, by Contralto, experienced, very large répertoire; can play piano. Address, MARJORIE IRVINE, care of Mrs. Lavender, Brent-st., Hendon, N.W.

WANTED, Summer Engagement, by experienced Quartette or Quintette of Ladies. Highest testimonials. Miss MABEL MILLER, 32, Montrell-road, Streatham Hill.

PANTOMIME ARTISTS WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, for "Babes" Pantomime, '06-7, Dashing Principal Boy and Girl, both must sing and dance well; experienced Comedian for Dame. Latest photographs and references; also Musical Director, and Forty tall, handsome Chorus Ladies. Address, LINGFORD CARSON, Queen's Theatre, Keighley. Endorse envelopes "Panto."

WANTED, for Panto. A few good Dancers, those well up in Acrobatic and Step-dancing preferred; good money to those who know their business; 8 weeks' certain and run.
Write full particulars to MANAGER,
65, Ivy-road, Northampton.

WANTED, Artists disengaged for Pantomime next Christmas to send photos., terms, and particulars to BROOKS'S Agency, 36, Shaftesbury-avenue, W.

SCENIC ARTISTS' WANTS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Contracts for Scenery. High-class work and best materials at reasonable prices. Large and well-appointed studio. Address, CHARLES J. SAYER, Scenic Artist, 2, Clarendon-road, Croydon.

WANTED, Known, S. Beltram, at Liberty to accept Contracts. Quotations given; travelling scenery repainted, &c. Letters, The Ark Painting Rooms, Chester-street, Liverpool.

WANTED, Known, for Scenery. Roberts and Co. supply bright, effective, cheap scenery. Studio, Blucher-st., Liverpool-st., Salford, Manchester.

WANTED, by Philip Small, Scenic Artist, Engagement or Contract, town or provinces. Refs. Address, 44, Randolph-gardens, Maida Vale, London.

WANTED, by A. W. Moore, Scenic Artist, Engagement, now or autumn.
Address, 20, Park-street, Middlesbrough.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Manager, for Variety Music Hall, Pier Pavilion, Southport. State age and salary required. Apply, Southport Pier Co.

WANTED, Lady or Gentleman, with Small Capital, to manage a fit-up tour, for well-known manager. Address,
Box 3,364, "The Era."

TENTING CIRCUS, IRELAND.
WANTED, Agent, at once (Thompson or Cullen wire); also Musicians, Cornet, Euphonium, &c. Route, Sat., Balbriggan; Monday, Dunleer; Tuesday, Castlebellingham; Wednesday, Louth. Address, MANAGER, Circus.

WANTED, a Youth, learn management, good home, all found. Send photo. (full length), age, height, &c., CRANE, Pavilion, Matlock Bath.

WANTED, good Bill Posters, permanent shop for steady men, must be sober and reliable. Wages 24s. per week. No fares advanced. Apply, DE REES, Ltd., Newport, Mon.

H. and F. POOLE'S MYRIORAMA.
WANTED, Experienced Picture Workers and Assistant Window Billers, &c., commence Aug. 6. Apply, POOLE, Theatre, Merthyr.

Apprentice.
WANTED, Known, the Hana Studios can take a suitable Youth, and give him a thorough training in photography; premium required. Apply, 22, Bedford-street, Strand.

WANTED, Experienced Wardrobe Mistress, to Make, Cut-out, and Design Pantomime Costumes; must have own machine; a long engagement to a thoroughly competent, trustworthy person. (Mark envelope "Wardrobe.") Add., JOHN A. THOMSON, Pelham House, Paignton.

WANTED, Engagement, Acting-Management, resident or tour, experienced, smart, highest refs., security or small investment. Box 3,367, "The Era."

WANTED, Known. Entrepreneurs who contemplate change of Management. Langley Wyatt wants Engagement, Resident or Tour. 112, Canterbury-road, London, N.W.

WANTED, Young Man, as Advance, one able to play Piano or do small turn preferred; must have knowledge of working institutions. BANVARD, c/o P.O., Doon, County Limerick, Ireland.

WANTED, Known, Billposter requires situation. High-ladderman; good references. Apply, J. PRIESTLEY LOCKE, 106, St. Hugh-road, Anerley.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED, Engagement, by a thoroughly competent Wardrobe Mistress; experienced in all classes of Costume. M., 12, Sunnyside, Waldegrave-road, Teddington.

WANTED, by Youth, Situation as Valet. Address, Box 3,356, "The Era."

MUSICIANS' WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

H. AND F. POOLE'S MYRIORAMA.
WANTED, to Commence Aug. 6, Violin (Conductor), D. Bass, Trombone, Cornet, Pianist, Drums (all effects), Flute, and Piccolo; all wear evening dress, and assist fittings when travelling (conductor excepted). Rowland Rudge and Ben Morris see "The Era" Letter-Box for letters waiting them, or write me. Apply, POOLE, Theatre, Merthyr.

WANTED, at Once, First-class Solo Violinist, with extensive solo répertoire and good orchestral experience, for high-class string orchestra of 25, seaside. Only really excellent soloists of good appearance need apply. Reference, full particulars of solos, Box 3,370, "The Era."

EMPIRE, SOUTH SHIELDS.
WANTED, at Once, Solo Cornet. Apply, stating references and salary, to R. THORNTON.

WANTED, Cornet, for Hippo., Colchester, used to Variety Business, open Monday, 18th. Lowest terms to J. HARGREAVES, Conductor.

WANTED, First-class Clarionet, open Monday, thoroughly experienced in varieties. Wire terms, HINCHCLIFFE, Conductor, Palace Theatre, Carlisle.

WANTED, for Ramsgate Town Band, Solo Clarionet, Euphonium, and Horn; Shares. Add, H. YATES, Ship Inn, Harbour-st., Ramsgate.

WANTED, Trombone and Double Drums, permanent shop for steady performers, in London and Glasgow. Will Messrs. Leah, Wilford, and Wordsworth write in? Terms, 35s.

Box 3,359, "The Era."

WANTED, for Duffy's Circus, Touring Ireland, Trombone and Bombardon; must be steady and reliable, and take shop up to finish of season; if not, useless. Address, Monday, Mill-street; Tuesday, Killarney.

WANTED, Really First-class Solo 'Cellist, for important orchestra. References, age, lowest terms, and full particulars, to Box 3,365, "The Era."

RHYL PROMENADE BAND.
WANTED, at Once, Flute and Piccolo, sobriety indispensable. Wire, BECKER, Bandmaster.

WANTED, for Hancock's Palace of Varieties, a Pianist; must be used to fair business, and able to read music; can join at once. Only those thoroughly used to the business need apply. W. C. and S. HANCOCK, Penzance, Saturday; Falmouth next week.

WANTED, Pianist, Lady or Youth, read MS. at sight. Photo., age, lowest terms, and particulars, CRANE, Pavilion, Matlock Bath, Derbyshire.

WANTED, genteel Pianist, and wife (Vocalists, &c.), read, transpose, accompany well. Age, photos., refs., salary, to LISTON, St. George's H., W.

WANTED, Good Pianist, and Double-bass Players, 2 months, concert work; pianist must be experienced accompanist. ORCHESTRA, 89, Linden-crescent, Folkestone.

WANTED, Immediately, Brilliant Pianist, preferably tall, able to sing. Apply, at once, MEHER, 1, Clifford's-inn, E.C.

WANTED.—Musicians "Out of Shop" and Bandmasters requiring Instrumentalists will do well to try an advertisement in the "Wanted" Columns of "The Era." One Shilling expended on Twenty Words (each additional Six Words Sixpence) is likely to bring successful results, as explained in the following letters from grateful Advertisers:—

FROM A MUSICIAN:—
To the Manager of "The Era" Advert. Dept.,
"The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C.,
"Re Advertisement
"'WANTED, ENGAGEMENT BY CORNET.'
"Thanks for inserting above in the last number of your paper. I have obtained a comfortable shop. Had seventeen replies. You need not put in the second insertion.
"Yours truly, 'A GRATEFUL MUSICIAN.'"

FROM A BANDMASTER:—
"Re Advertisement 'WANTED, A DRUMMER.'
"Please do not insert my advt. for the second insertion, as I am pleased to say I have had twenty replies and secured a Drummer.
"Yours truly, PHILIP GERMANN, Bandmaster,
"Littlehampton."

WANTED, Musicians who experience difficulty in obtaining copies of "The Era" at any of Messrs. Smith and Son's Bookstalls, or from any Newsagent in the United Kingdom, to kindly communicate with the PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-st., Strand, W.C.

MUSICIANS' WANTS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Known, Michael Connelly, Musical-Director, Victoria Theatre and Pavilion, Ramsgate, Summer Season; enormous success with own First-Class Band.

WANTED, Known, M. Jules Guitton, Musical-Director, Composer, and Arranger, Disengaged after June 20. 51, Fairland-road, West Ham, E.

WANTED, Known, Thomas C. Poyser, Musical Director, Composer, and Arranger, now at Liberty. Exceptional references. Address, 49, Cowper-street, Leeds.

WANTED, Known, Jules Koopman, Conductor, Musical Director, London Orchestral Societies in Hampstead, Highgate, Chelsea, and South Kensington, Leader (Solo), at Liberty. Field End Villa, 19, Worsley-road, Hampstead, N.W.

WANTED, Engagement, as Musical Director (violin), thoroughly experienced in variety business, five years last engagement. Add., T. RICHARDSON, 13, Roberts-rd., Leicester.

WANTED, Known, Thomas P. Fish, Musical Director (Violin and Piano), Disengaged. Composer and Arranger. 6 years last engagement. 519, Holloway-road, N.

WANTED, Engagement by experienced Conductor (Pianist, Violinist, and Composer), of the Grand Opera in Amsterdam. ANTON PEERS, 53, Tottenham Court-rd, W.

WANTED, Known, Mr. Edgar Haines, Conductor (Violinist), Gaiety Theatre, Dublin, Prince's Theatre, Manchester, for Panto., 1905-6, at Liberty the end of June. Address, Gaiety, Dublin.

WANTED, Engagement, as Leader or First Violin, last reference three years London theatre. Address, STRANK, 42, Rutland-st., Pimlico.

WANTED, Engagement, as Leader or First Violin. Address, V. R. CHALDER, Leader, Grand Theatre, Croydon.

WANTED, by Bachelor of Music, of Oxford, Engagement, experienced Musical-Director, Conductor, Chorus Trainer, Pianist, powerful baritone voice. MUS. BAS., 58, Warwick-avenue, Maida Hill, W.

WANTED, by Experienced Conductor, capable of producing, engagement for autumn; successful composer and arranger. Box 3,366, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement, immediately, as Leader or First Violin, thoroughly experienced; good refs.; any business. Address, SEYMOUR, 75, Steiner-street, Accrington.

WANTED, Engagement, until End of July, by two violinists, or violin and viola, together or separate. VIOLINIST, Theatre Royal, Cardiff.

WANTED, Engagement, in Lady's Orchestra, as second violin, experienced. Miss HELEN IZETT, 18, Albion-place, Hanley.

MUSICIANS' WANTS.

WANTED, Engagement, by Violinist, any Business; total abstainer; 6 years Greenwich Theatre. A. GATES, 26, South-street, Greenwich.

WANTED, Summer Engagement, Second Violin, reliable experienced; Seaside preferred; Disengaged June 21. JOHN KEMPSTER, New Theatre, Oxford.

WANTED, Known, Mr. S. Barker, Solo Violinist, London and Provincial Concerts, is Open for Summer Engagement in First-class Orchestra. Park-road, Northampton.

WANTED, Engagement, Violin, combine Trombone, First-class on Both Instruments. Late Buxton and New Brighton Orchestras. LEADER, New Theatre, Oxford.

WANTED, by Violinist, Engagement, Theatre and Variety; experience; age 28; abstainer good refs.; Disengaged. HERBERT PHIPPS, 5, Hardman-street, Liverpool.

WANTED, Engagement, by Violinist and 'Cellist (Ladies), well experienced. Address, L., 2, County-grove, Camberwell, London, S.E.

WANTED, Engagement, by good Violinist, First-class refs., Scottish Orchestra, North Pier, Blackpool, &c. VIOLINIST, 8, Oakfield-terrace, Pendleton, Manchester.

WANTED, by Two Ladies, Violinist and 'Cellist, Engagement, experienced in orchestra and theatre. Address, Box 3,368, "The Era."

WANTED, Engagement, by First-class Cornet Soloist, Orchestral or Military Band; thoroughly experienced. CORNETIST, 134, Stanhope-st., Regent's Park.

WANTED, Engagement, by Cornet, Solo or First, prefer Military or String; good military experience; good refs. A. R. E., 14, Dudley-road, Eastbourne.

WANTED, Engagement, as Cornet, Orchestra or Military. Address, 29, Walham-grove, Fulham.

WANTED, Known, Good Cornet, at Liberty June 17 till July 1; good refs. G. TOOMEY, 26, Pyramid-street, Everton, Liverpool.

WANTED, Engagement, by an experienced Cornet, for Season or Permanency, any Business. DAWSON, Beryl, Ravenscar-road, Tolworth, Surbiton.

WANTED, Engagement, as Cornet, or Second Violin, through closing. STEELE, c/o Mrs. Murphy, 64, Georgiana-street, Bury.

WANTED, by Cornet, First or Second, Engagement, disengaged, military or string, experienced, sober, reliable. Address, CORNET, 94, Wyndham-rd., Salisbury.

WANTED, Known, Cornet, Disengaged after 16th inst., through closing; good deputising, London and suburbs. BROWN, 22, Byfield-road, Isleworth.

WANTED, Summer Engagement, by Clarionet, Orchestral or Military; experienced and reliable; good references. G. J. BREWSTER, 7, Cranstoun-street, Northampton.

WANTED, Engagement, for Clarionet. Address, W. E. HARRISON, 14, Rockingham-street, Leeds.

WANTED, Known, Clarionet, Solo or First, at Liberty June 19, through disappointment. BEARE, 14, Albany-rd., Birches Head, Hanley, Staffs.

WANTED, Engagement, by Clarionet, string or military, reliable and steady, at Liberty June 18. MCCRUDDEN, Pavilion Orch., Buxton.

WANTED, by experienced and reliable Clarionet, Summer Engagement; good references. D. CRAIG, 71, Lavender-sweep, Lavender Hill, London, S.W.

WANTED, Summer Engagement, Clarionet and Horn; experienced and reliable. WRIGHT, 39, St. Mary's-road, Hastings.

WANTED, Engagement, as Clarionet, thoroughly experienced in all lines, good refs., and reliable. CLARIONET, 82, Windsor-rd., Bexhill, Sussex.

WANTED, immediately, Engagement by thoroughly experienced Clarionettist; any business; open to deputising. Wire, H. PRICE, 8, Church-street, Kennington, London.

WANTED, Engagement, from 16th inst., Clarionet and 'Cello; excellent refs. IRWIN, 37, Badlis-road, Walthamstow.

WANTED, by Double Bass, Engagement, steady and reliable, good refs., could join at once. HARRY HARE, 21, Station-square, Harrogate.

WANTED, by Bassoonist, Engagement, any business, thoroughly experienced, join at once; would deputise. HENRY TAYLOR, 12, Adelaide-road, Kensington, Liverpool.

WANTED, Engagement, by First-class Double Bass, also First-class Trombone (combine Euphonium), after June 23, any Bus. Opera House, Cheltenham.

WANTED, by Experienced Bassoon, Engagement, for summer. Apply, "The Era" Office.

WANTED, Engagement, at once, Double Bass, any business; sober and reliable; splendid refs. J. PAYNE, 9, Somers-road, Worcester.

WANTED, Engagement, as Double Bass Player, String or Military Band; good experience and references. BARSON GERMAINE, 29, Harcourt-street, Marylebone-road.

WANTED, Engagement, by Experienced Double Bass (four strings), theatre or music hall preferred. Best refs. L. WITTIG, Victoria Hall, Portsmouth.

WANTED, Engagement, by good Double Bass, any Business. J. ALLAN, 1, Buckland-street, New North-road, London, N.

WANTED, Engagement, Double Bass, on account of theatre closing, present engagement over ten years; other refs. WM. SMITH, Theatre Royal, Bolton.

WANTED, Known, G Trombone, 12 years' experience, just leaving the Army, would like to join a good Band where work is found; good refs.; total abstainer. Apply J. WINCH, No. 70, Aldbridge-street, Surrey-square, London, S.E.

WANTED, Known, Experienced Trombone and Solo Cornet. Disengaged owing to closing, London or Suburbs preferred. BRAIN, 195, Sandycombe-road, Richmond, S.W.

WANTED, Engagement, or Deputising, Trombone, any business. S. FREDERICK, 44, Harders-road, Peckham.

WANTED, Engagement, by competent Trombonist, any Business; splendid references. Can commence at once. BERT ROBINSON, Carr Green, Rastrick, Brighouse, Yorkshire.

WANTED, by Trombone, Prince of Wales's Theatre, Birmingham, Summer Engagement, any Business. Address, J. LONG, Cannon Hill-place, Hallam-street, Birmingham.

WANTED, for Trombone, Engagement, any business, steady and reliable, good refs. CHAS. TOPPING, 14, Clift-terrace, Carlisle.

WANTED, by Experienced Euphonium, Engagement; good refs. Can open at once. Address, CHAS. GRICE, 63, Harley-road, Great Yarmouth.

WANTED, Engagement, by experienced Euphonium; reliable. A. F., 4, Rydon-crescent, Rosebery-avenue, E.C.

WANTED, by E flat Bombardon, season or permanent; experienced and reliable; undeniable references. J. GRAINGER, 17, Glenfall-street, Cheltenham, Gloucester.

WANTED, Engagement, as Bombardon, Seaside or Tenting; steady and reliable; can open at once. A. BLUNT, 36, Forest-rd., Dalston, N.E.

WANTED, to Deputise, from July 9 till Aug. 3, French Horn, any business; thoroughly experienced. S. GATES, 4, Odsey-street, Needham-road, Liverpool.

WANTED, Orchestral Practice for Little Girl on 'Cello; also Good Engagements for 'Cellist. Mr. CASSELLE, 35, Granville-sq., King's Cross-road, W.C.

WANTED, by experienced 'Cellist, Deputising, any business. FLETCHER, 100, Bishopsgate-street, Without, E.C.

MUSICIANS' WANTS.

WANTED, Summer Engagement, by Lady 'Cellist, good soloist; experienced any business; disengaged from June 21. L. H., 21, Beaumont-buildings, Oxford.

WANTED, Engagement, by experienced 'Cellist, any Business, through reducing Orchestra; good references. GEO. HIRST, 'Cellist, Palace T., Carlisle.

WANTED, by 'Cello, Engagement, any business. 'CELLO, 3, Lyndhurst-grove, Camberwell, London, S.E.

WANTED, Engagement, Viola or Violin, any business; good references. F. W. ESKE, 29, Falcon-grove, Clapham Junction, S.W.

WANTED, Engagement as Oboe or Double Bass, any business, Season or Permanent. J. CRABTREE, 10, Bethesda-street, Hanley, Staffs.

WANTED, Engagement, by thoroughly Experienced Oboe Player, any business, summer or permanent. First-class references. WILLIAM, 22, Charman-rd., Redhill.

WANTED, by Maud Estlin Grundy (age 18), Harpist, Hotel Cecil, London, Four Times; Three Months, Court Theatre, Liverpool; Three Months, Britannia Pier, Yarmouth; &c.—7, Provost-road, Hampstead, London.

WANTED, Known, Mme. Fortescue, LL.C.M., Harp Soloist, Albert and Queen's Hall, accepts Engagements for Concerts, At Homes, Receptions. Herself or Concert Party. Pupils received, Harp, Pianoforte. 24, Waldemar-mans., Fulham.

WANTED, Known, Florence Maye, L.R.A.M., Solo and Orchestral Harpist; can accept Summer Engagement. 180, Blomfield-terrace, W.

WANTED, Engagment by Flute and Piccolo, Military or String; good military experience; good refs. E. FRANKLIN, 14, Dudley-road, Eastbourne.

WANTED, Summer Engagement, by Flute and Piccolo Player. Address, W. BENNETT, 13, Church-street, Beeston, Notts.

CAMBRIDGESHIRE ASYLUM, FULBOURN, near CAMBRIDGE.
WANTED, Male Attendant, Pianist or First Violin preferred. Apply, stating age and height, and enclosing copies of testimonials, to THE MEDICAL SUPERINTENDENT, at the Asylum.

WANTED, Engagement, as Pianist, Conduct and Arrange, Halls, Pierrots, &c. Nine years Palace, Portsmouth. Has finest monster portable organ ever built, 200 reeds, new, splendid novelty. LORENZO LEWIS, 744, Oxford-road, Reading.

WANTED, Situation, Wm. Boardman, Pianist, brilliant soloist, used to any business. 15, Wolseley-road, Sheffield.

WANTED, Known, Pianist, Disengaged; thoroughly experienced; good sight-reader, transposer, &c. FORTESCUE, 48, Doughty-street, W.C.

WANTED, by Young Lady Pianist, Engagement; used to Variety Company; good sight reader; in Music Hall or a good Society Company. Address, J. M., 81, Abbey-mansions, Abbey-street, Bermondsey, S.E.

WANTED, Known, Richard Mason, Pianist, late Cremona Orchestra, seeks Engagement, Seaside or otherwise; good Accompanist and Sight-reader. 46F, Caulfield-road, East Ham.

WANTED, Summer Engagement, by First-class Pianist-Vocalist (Tenor); refined répertoire; gentlemanly and steady. WATSON, 150, Clifton-st., Brook's Bar, Manchester.

WANTED, Engagement, by Double-handed Man, Piano and Cornet, or singly. W. B., 31, Lillie-road, West Brompton.

WANTED, Known, Smart Youth, Pianist, open June 27, for Season; good reader, used to Variety. FRED GRIMSHAW, 23, White-st., Seedley, Manchester.

WANTED, by experienced and reliable Tympanist, Drums, &c., Engagement. Address, R. HARRIS, 6, Firth-street, Oldham.

WANTED, by Double Drummer, Engagement, experienced music hall or theatre. Highest refs. DRUMS, 49, Manor-street, Chelsea, S.W.

WANTED, Engagement, competent Drummer, now at Liberty; all effects; sober and reliable; experienced, any Business. HAYES, 165, Breck-road, Liverpool.

WANTED, Seaside Engagement, by the Golden Marguerite Orchestra, at Liberty end of June; splendid répertoire of music, dainty costumes, excellent performers. Terms, &c., apply, Miss CLIFFORD, 44, Burton-crescent, London.

WANTED, Known, the Shikissimma Band, Ladies' Japanese Orchestra, can supply Ladies' Bands, any number, brilliant costumes, latest music. Address, CONDUCTRESS, Volthurst, Newbury.

WANTED, Known, for Lady Instrumentalists and Bands. Apply, Bureau, 8, Bedford-ter. Kensington. Bookings Johannesburg, Jan. to July; Margate, April, May.

WANTED, Summer Engagement, for Dodsworth's Northern Military or String Bands, from 12 upwards. Neat uniform. For terms, apply DODSWORTH, 9, Victoria-street, Bradford.

WANTED, Engagement, Small Orchestra, Piano, Violin, Flute, Cornet, Bass through theatre closing. Can open at once any Business. Address, CONDUCTOR, 55, Denmark-street, Bedford.

WANTED, Mr. G. M. Gates' celebrated London Orchestra, at Liberty. Theatre closed. Any business, any part. 26, South-street, Greenwich.

WANTED, Summer Engagement, Garner's Elysée Band, from three performers or first-class Orchestral Pianist; large music library. 55, Richmond-road, Barnsbury.

WANTED, Known, Miss Nellie Rennison's Ladies' String Quintette (or part), Liberty July 28, played together 2 years. DERWENT, Station-road, Harborne, Birmingham.

WANTED, Known, the A.M.U. National Musical Agency (Incorporated with the British Imperial Bands Company) can supply Musicians, Orchestral and Military Bands, on the shortest notice. Write for Booklet to either of the following:—J. B. WILLIAMS, 135, Moss-lane, Manchester; Tel. address, "Amuse, Manchester"; Telephone, 5489 Manchester. C. JESSON, 96, Long-acre, W.C.; Tel. address, "Amusologia, London"; 'Phone 9327 Central. F. J. LEES, 104, Crompton-road Handsworth, Birmingham. J. BARTLEY, 9, Seamore-st., Glasgow. Tel. 208 Y6, Charing-cross.

CIRCUS ARTISTS WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, July 15, Aug. 5, 6 (Ireland), June 30, July 2, 7, 9, 14, 16, 23, Aug. 6 (near Bristol), Aug. 6, onwards, for S. Wales, Specialities. GANNON, West-grove, Bristol.

WANTED, for Duffy's Circus, Touring Ireland, ground acts, or gymnasts, doing double turns preferred. Monday, Mill-st.; Tuesday, 19th, Killarney.

WANTED, Acrobats, Ring Performers, for outside work. State lowest terms. JOHNSON, 19, Cambridge-street, Belfast.

WANTED, Good Ring Performer, one doing few Tricks on Bars preferred. State age, weight, terms, tricks, &c., Box 3,357, "The Era."

WANTED, Circus Artists who experience difficulty in obtaining copies of "The Era" at any of Messrs. Smith and Son's Bookstalls to kindly communicate with the PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

CIRCUS ARTISTS' WANTS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Known, Miss Ella's Lion Show, Disengaged July 2, 9, 16, 23, and Aug. 13. Share or Certainty. Suitable for Fête and Gala. Comm. week June 18. Grand Theatre, Stalybridge.

WANTED, all July, by Billy, the Educated Horse, the marvel, through cancelling Continental engagement. Work anywhere. Address, DE VOYE, Empire, Burnley.

CIRCUS ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, Fêtes and Galas, &c., The Holmars, Acrobatic Clowns; Alex and Jolly, Comic 3-Bar Act. Booked for Leeds District Hospital Sports, Yeadon Fête, Rhymney Fête, &c., &c. Address, 13, Westfield-terrace, Sheffield.

WANTED, Known, Onda and Leon, Comedy Triple-bar Act, Vacant June 25. Address, 123, Kennington-road, London.

WANTED, Known, Bodey Bros., the great Triple Bar Act. This week, Hippo., Ashford; next, Hippo., Sittingbourne. Wire for Monday, June 25.

WANTED, Known, The Maros, Comedy Bar Athletes, quick, quaint, and clean. Liberty 18th, 25th. Address, 126, Porter-street, Hull.

WANTED, Known, Don Pedro, the Modern Blondin, most daring High-rope Performer, open for fêtes and galas. Enormous success. 121, Rhyddings Park-road, Swansea.

WANTED, Le Brun and Irene, Novel Equilibrist and Lady Juggler, vacant Monday next. Wire, Aquarium, Scarborough.

WANTED, Known, the Wongos, Indian Jugglers, Balancers, and Plate Manipulators, Liberty Monday next. 18, Tower Hamlets-rd., Forest Gate, Essex.

WANTED, Known, Vilo, Juggler, Lamp and Japanese Block Manipulator, Liberty, Galas. Address, 28, Pingle-street, Leicester.

WANTED, Tenting Season, by Dartigan, as Le Diabelo, to Open July 7, in the Greatest Cycle Sensations in the World.
Riding the Devil's Wheel.
Trick Cycling in the Devil's Wheel.
Looping the Devil's Wheel.
Riding Outside the Devil's Wheel, and Dashing Down a Steep Incline of 45deg. into net.
Three of the Greatest Sensations in One Act.
This Act is entirely different to any other Act produced.
Speciality, Novelty, Sensation combined.
Now Touring with Alexandra Taylor's Circus.
Reason for leaving, misunderstanding.
18-sheet posters in colours of this Act, by David Allen and Sons.
Send for postcard, and address all offers to 37, Chipley-street, New Cross, London, S.E.
Bosco please write.

WANTED, Offers for Miss Beatrice Kerr, Australia's Champion Swimmer and Diver, along with her latest Sensational Acts. Just finished tour through Australia. Gave 366 performances at Prince's Court, Melbourne. S. REDMOND, 33, Hare Hill-road, Littleborough, Lancs.

WANTED, Engagements, Balloon and Parachute; One Balloon still vacant August Holiday. FLEET, 53, Grosvenor Park-rd., Walthamstow.

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS WANTED.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, for the New Hippodrome, West Bromwich, August and onward, First-Class Variety Artists of every description, big Top Liners, Specialities, Animals Acts, and every class of Novelty and Attraction for a First-Class Hall. Pantomimes and Ballets of exceptional large production, Continental and American Novelties are invited to send vacancies and terms for the above Hall, good Electrician and General Staff.
A First-Class Stage-Manager wanted, one who thoroughly knows his business, and not afraid of work.
Apply, T. M. SYLVESTER, Sites, Limited, 213, Piccadilly, W.

WANTED, for the West Bromwich Hippodrome, First-Class Musical Conductor, to supply an Orchestra of from twelve to twenty performers, all must be first-class Artists, and well up in the Variety business. Apply, stating terms for twelve or twenty performers, to T. M. SYLVESTER, Sites, Limited, 213, Piccadilly, W.

HARMONIC ASSOCIATION.
Saturday Evening Soirées and Concerts.
WANTED, Refined Variety Artists, all classes, to work three Halls, one night only (Saturdays), during Season, from Sept. 1, 1906, to March 23, 1907. Vacant dates and lowest terms to WM. BIGGAM, Mus.-Sec., 126, Rotten-row, Glasgow.

WANTED, Variety Artists, all Lines, July 9, and other dates.
Artists having been with us before, or having worked on same bill with us, preferred.
Terms must be Low, but Money Sure, and Comfortable Engagements.
Combination Summer Terms to THE DAYTON FAMILY, Oxford, Middlesbrough.
Marion Sisters please write address.
P.S.—Friends, Agents, and Artists please note, we cannot answer all.

WANTED, Wanted, Wanted,
Variety Artists, Big Specialities, Star Comedians,
Star Comediennes,
Comedy Acts,
Sensational Acts.
In fact, anything that is New and Novel.
Send list of bookings, lithos., and terms,
WILL SLEY, 41, Oxford-street, Manchester.
Telegraphic Address, "Variety, Manchester."
Telephone, 09144.

The JOSEPH POOLE'S MYRIORAMAS and VARIETY ORGANISATIONS.
Season 1906-7.
WANTED, to Commence, Aug. 6, First-class Variety Artists, for Long and Short Engagements, also Musicians, Graph Operators, Carpenters, Picture Workers, Window Billers, and Agents who can use the brush and sticks and not afraid of opposition. Long engagement to suitable people. Absolute lowest terms in each case. J. WOLSELEY POOLE, "Verona," Malmesbury, Wilts.

WANTED, Variety Artists, Specialities, Serios, Sisters, Comedians, Al Fresco Artists, shares or salary. Lowest terms to CRANE, Pavilion, Matlock Bath, Derbyshire.

WANTED, Variety Artists, all Lines, June 25, July 2, onwards.
MARCUS BOYLE, G.P.O., Darlington.

SCARBOROUGH.
WANTED, June 25, and onwards, Variety Artists in all Lines. Full particulars, with permanent address (if any) to MORGAN, Aquarium.

WANTED, Variety Artists, all Lines, Musical excepted, June 25 and July 2. Lowest terms, The Bohemians, T. R., Tyldesley, Lancs.

WANTED, Artists, Sisters, Serios, Comedians, Small Sketch Companies, for June 25, REYMOND, New Palace, Sheerness. Quote lowest; Hall small.

WANTED, Artists, all Lines, for Immediate and Future Dates.
WILLIAM MOULD, Central Palace, North Shields.

WANTED, High-class Minstrel Artists, Good Singers, Corner Men, Musical Acts, Pianist, and Humorous; all must understand the business; dress well. Apply before 12 o'clock, HEARN BRATTON, 13, Wroxton-road, Peckham.

WANTED, Artists, in all Lines, from now, onwards.
Apply, Mr. J. J. SCOTT, Empire, Wrexham.

WANTED, Artists, Single and Double Turns, two weeks, July 2, 9, 23. CHARLES A. JAMES, Waxworks and Music Hall, Dublin.

WANTED, Artists, in all Lines, for June 18, on. Big stars wire lowest. DEETRICH'S Vaudeville Bureau, 15, Hotham-street, Liverpool.

WANTED, Speciality Artists, Conjurers, Vents., for North. Vacancies, particulars, and absolute lowest, to J. HIGHAM, 60, Smeaton-street, Barrow.

WANTED, Music Hall Artists, all Lines. Big Gala Acts, Aug. 6, on. Terms, EDGAR STEBBINGS, 23, Egerton-street, Manchester. Telephone 09261. Telegrams, "Stebbing."

WANTED, Artists all Lines, big Tops on Shares; big hall, Lancashire, Seaside, June 25, July 2. SOROS, Theatre Royal, Bury.

WANTED, Artists, for Pavilion, Coventry. Good Stage-Manager write; able to produce concerted numbers. Open Monday. Lowest terms first letter. Address, ALBERT VENTER.

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS WANTED.

WANTED, a few good Artists for Lancashire, June 25; also Responsible Man, to provide Show for a large tent, on sharing terms; with good stand preferred. Apply, Dr. CARL HERMANN, Hippodrome, Bury.

WANTED, Artists Known to me keep me Posted. Send bookings and lowest terms, Alhambra, Brighton. BILLY HENDERSON.

WANTED, Artists, Town, Country, Seaside. See "Amusement," 6d. everywhere. EDWIN DREW, 7, Whitefriars-st., E.C. Steinway Hall Entertainments.

COVENTRY HIPPODROME.
Proprietors, COVENTRY HIPPODROME CO., LTD.
WANTED, Agents and Artists to please Note that from Dec. 23, 1904, no Contract will be recognised unless signed by the Secretary and Manager.
T. M. SYLVESTER, Manager.
G. E. WRIGHT, Secretary.

HIPPODROME,
DARLINGTON.
DARLINGTON.
WANTED, Artists to note that the above Theatre closes June 30, until the second week in August, and that all Contracts for dates during that period are therefore cancelled. If the Artists in question will forward their vacancies Oct., onwards, other dates will be arranged in lieu of those cancelled. Signed, JAMES BELL.

TIVOLI THEATRE, DUBLIN.
WANTED, for the Tivoli Theatre of Varieties, Dublin,
All the Greatest Stars in the Profession,
Acts New in Dublin for the above,
the Premier Variety Theatre in Ireland,
Direct or through Agents.
All communications to WILL SLEY, 41, Oxford-street, Manchester.
Telegraphic address, "Variety, Manchester."
Telephone 09144.

WANTED, Stars, Stars, Stars, for Immediate and Future Dates.
Send full list of bookings, terms, &c., to JESS VERNO, 61, West Derby-street, Liverpool.
Telegrams, "Merriment." Telephone, 2,076 Royal.

WANTED, June 25, July 2, Stars, London and Provinces, also for Pantomime. GEO. AYTOUN, 22, Wilson-road, Camberwell, London. Wires, "Antics, London." 'Phone, 1949 Hop.

WANTED, Stars and Specialities for immediate and future dates. Terms and particulars to BROOKS'S Agency, 36 Shaftesbury-avenue, W.

GOUROCK PAVILION.
WANTED, Comedy Turns, Speciality Artists, one or two weeks' Engagement.
H. L. SKIVINGTON.

WANTED, Wanted, Wanted,
Sound Attractions,
June 25, July 2 (North),
Silence in all cases a polite negative.
G. and F. PEEL,
Granville House, Arundel-street, Strand, W.C.

WANTED, Gala Acts, Aug. 6, Gala Acts, Aug. 6.
DALTON'S AGENCY, 5, Matlock-avenue, West Didsbury, Manchester.

AYTOUN'S AGENCY.
WANTED, Star Acts to send lowest terms and bookings to FRANK LYNNE, Palace Theatre, Manchester.

WANTED, Aug. 6, onwards, for Important Palace of Varieties, near Bristol, Variety and Star Acts, all kinds. GANNON, West-grove, Bristol.

WANTED, for July 12, for Nine Days, Big Acts, suitable for open-air or large covered stage, big animal acts, high wire walkers, high stilt performers, &c. Talking and ground acts have stamps. Apply, GREEN, The Carnival, Glasgow.

WANTED, Big Sensational Novelty Act, for Fête, August Bank Holiday, to follow Dare-Devil Schreyer. Specimen litho. Terms no object if suitable. SYLVESTER, Agent, 271, Clapham-road, London, S.W.

WANTED, Acts, in all Lines.
MARTINO'S AGENCY, 125, Barcroft-street, Grimsby.

TOMKINSON'S ROYAL GIPSY CO. Estab. 1888.
WANTED, for Season 1906-7 (nine months' tour), commence Sept., big Specialities and Variety Acts, refined Sisters, Serios, and Comedians. Apply, with full particulars and where can be seen performing, to JOHN H. TOMKINSON, Smallthorne, Stoke-on-Trent.

THE PAGODA (AL FRESCO),
LITTLEHAMPTON-ON-SEA.
WANTED, Good Specialities (Stage 36ft. by 20ft.), During Promenade Concert Season. Full particulars to Sole Proprietor, HARRY E. JOSEPH.

WANTED, Specialities, July 2, on. Absolute lowest summer terms, or no notice taken. ENTERTAINMENT MANAGER, Tower, New Brighton.

WANTED, Known, Palace, Lancaster, closed for alterations; reopens Sept. 3. Proprietor and Manager, Mr. JOHN FELL. Wanted, Drawing Novelties.

WANTED, Variety Novelties, Hugh Wiggles-worth's Agency, late Manager, Blackpool, Morecambe, &c. 164, Meadow-st., Alexandra Park, Manchester.

WANTED, for Monday next, Doubles doing Singles, good Comedians. Lowest terms; big Acts can have shares. Wire, POOLE'S PIERROTS, Palace, Boston.

WANTED, really good First-class Combination, for Theatre (not public hall), near Birmingham, July 2 and 9. Write full particulars, MONTAGUE, 14, Tower-street, Dudley, Birmingham.

WANTED, Combinations, Choirs, Minstrels, Pierrots, &c., June 11, onwards, finest open-air grounds, Portobello, splendidly advertised, good stage, dressing-rooms, &c. Will buy good seats, cheap. Wire, PROPRIETOR, Rathbone House, Promenade, Portobello.

WANTED, Good Combination, June 25.
Wire, LINDON, Royal, Stanley, Durham.

WANTED, a Troupe of Pierrots for the Devil's Dyke, Brighton.
Apply, Mrs. BARRASFORD, Dyke Hotel, Devil's Dyke, Brighton.

WANTED, Cyclists, with Tea-cup Track, One-day Gala, July 20, Scotland.
Full particulars and lowest terms,
DALTON'S AGENCY, 5, Matlock-avenue, West Didsbury, Manchester.

WANTED, Duets, Tercets, Quartets, and Octets of Lady Troupes, forty-five weeks, North America. State lowest terms and forward good photos. GUISE, 27, Bonham-road.

WANTED, Figure-workers, Comedians, Instrumentalists, Conjurers, Jugglers, Vents. Photo., particulars, age, experience, V. BENSON, 5, Wesley-terrace, Douglas.

WANTED, Immediately, for High-class Combination, touring during summer season, Talented Lady or Gentleman desirous of entering the music hall profession. Small premium required as a guarantee, which will be returned in salary. Box 3,363, "The Era."

WANTED, Serios, Comedians, and Specialities, for Aldershot. Quote absolute lowest as work is for longer than one week if suitable. WILL AVIS, A. W. GAMAGE, Ltd., Aldershot.

WANTED, Good Serios, Doubles, doing Single, &c., Cavalry Theatre, &c., Harry Saunders Entertainment Caterer, 1st Army Corps, Tintern Villa, Grosvenor-road, Aldershot.

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS WANTED.

WANTED, Refined Serio, Smart Dancer, for concert party, long engagement. State lowest terms. Railway fares paid after joining. To open Saturday, Aug. 4. J. M. HAMILTON, 24, Pollok-street, Glasgow.

ORIGINAL SCARBOROUGH PIERROTS.
(12th Season.)

WANTED, First-class Comedian; must be refined, versatile, and have good speciality; eleven weeks, commencing July 2, private enclosure. Send age, refs., répertoire, and lowest terms, to TOM CARRICK, Constitutional Club, Scarborough.

WANTED, to Complete Troupe, one Comedian, refined, and with thoroughly up-to-date répertoire. Send photos. and last three references. Open North Side, Scarborough, July 16. Those who wrote Gainsborough, kindly write again, Parlato's Pierrots. C. E. PARLATO, 1, Brinkburn-road, Scarborough.

WANTED, Refined Comedian, well up in Gags, Sketches, &c., Pavilion, Gorleston. CARNEY & WEST, 172, Cassland-rd., South Hackney, London.

WANTED, Immediately, Young, Smart Humorist, dance preferred, good voice, for duets, with soubrette, and concerted numbers. LEIGHTON, Sydney Gardens, Bath.

Al Fresco.

WANTED, real Comedian, powerful voice, large répertoire, well up in gags, sketches, &c., with Speciality preferred. Lowest, CLIFTON, Cinque Ports Hotel, Margate.

WANTED, Young Man, to Sing to Illustrated Songs, Tenor or Baritone, used to shows preferred. LAWRENCE, Cinematograph, Dodworth, Barnsley.

WANTED, pair Acrobatic Grotesques, for Gala, August Bank Holiday. CLAYTON, 53, Grosvenor Park-road, Walthamstow.

WANTED, Boy 14, small for age; must sing, dance. Apply Monday, 12 o'clock, VALENTINE'S, 8, Dean-street, Oxford-street.

WANTED, Operator, for Bioscope, Electric, continuous; must be steady and capable. Terms and references. PARRY, 19, Ashdale-road, Wavertree, Liverpool.

WANTED, Music Hall Artists who experience difficulty in obtaining copies of "The Era" at any of Messrs. Smith and Son's Bookstalls to kindly communicate with the PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS' WANTS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, Known,
Florence Challis arrives in England, after Overwhelming Success in Australia, third week in June.

WANTED, by Young Lady, Engagement, as First-Class Seaside Resort, as Sentimental or Serio Comic Singer. Box 3369, "The Era."

WANTED, Monday, onwards, by Sisters Grenville, Vocalists and Speciality Dancers; and George Raper, Character Comedian. Sure success. Wire, Empire Wrexham.

WANTED, by Dolly and Madge McCalla, next two weeks. Wire, Alhambra, Brighton (second week, thanks to enormous success). See reports.

WANTED, by Grosvenor Sisters (Three), Harmonising Vocalists, June 25, July 2, 23. Offers invited; handsome costumes. 39, Electric-avenue, Brixton.

WANTED, Two Roses, Dashing Duettists and Acrobats, Dancers, at Lib. June 18, 25, July 2. 8, Heathfield House, Rushcroft-road, Brixton.

WANTED, Known, Neddy Vokes, Europe's Funniest Single-handed Musical Comedian, Liberty June 25, July 2. Address, 16, Moreton-st., Strangeways, Manchester.

WANTED, Known, Tony Iveson, Vacant Monday next, through closing of Tivoli, Grimsby; Tony Iveson, "the Aristocratic Ragman and the Piano." Wire, wire, wire quick for this Act. Only vacant week this year. To-day, or till Monday, Empire, Wolverhampton.

WANTED, June 25, Cambo, the Musical Monkey, also Ventriloquist. Big Success with both Acts, Palace, Dundee. Monday, Palace T., Aberdeen.

WANTED, Proprietors and Managers to note on and after July 2, I, Frank Dunlop, will be known as Evan Evans.

WANTED, Monday next, and later, by J. H. Kavanagh, star comedian. Wire, 7, James-street, Spennymoor, Co. Durham.

WANTED, by Harry Rylton, Swell Comique and Dancer, Liberty Monday, on, Al-fresco not objected to; thoroughly used to sketches. Wire, Wonderland, Sheffield.

WANTED, by Oliver Conroy, Comedian, June 18, 25, or later; also Pantomime, 1906-7. Address, care of Central Pier, Morecambe.

WANTED, July 2, 9, 16, Harry Keeble, Comedian and Ventriloquist, two distinct turns if necessary. June 18, Hippodrome, Sittingbourne.

WANTED, Monday next, also 25th, July 2, onward, by Jimmy Shields, the great One-legged Comedian and Dancer, Halls or Al-fresco; or could Manage a Show. Address till Saturday, Cavendish Hotel, Derby. After, 167, St. Mary's-road, Sheffield.

WANTED, by Clive Watts, Comedian and World's Greatest Wooden Shoe Dancer, Mon. next. Wire, 29, Stockwell-rd., Clapham, London, S.W.

WANTED, June 25, onward, Rodin, eccentric Knockabout Comedy Cycle Act, at Liberty for Galas, two acts. Address, Hippodrome, Stockton-on-Tees (second week).

WANTED, June 25, July 2, to Aug. 20, by Kyoto, the original one, versatile comedy Japanese speciality act. The laughing and applauding hit, on every bill. Also May Geraldine, the daintiest of comediennes and dancers. Monday, June 18, Gaiety, Birmingham. Wire, one or both.

WANTED, Monday, by Jack Sheppard, the World's Greatest Handcuff King and Prison Breaker; sure draw (see Cards); also May Tyler, Comedienne and Dancer. 6, Oakden-st., Kennington-road, S.E.

WANTED, by the St. Johns, June 25, onward, an Act, comprising Operatic Selections, Campanology, and Dancing. Palace, N. Shields.

WANTED, Monday next, onwards, The Percys (Harry, Lillie), Duettists, Dancers, Speciality performers; distance no object. Wire, Empire Music Hall, York.

WANTED, Monday next and June 25, by The Monckton, in their excruciatingly funny Musical Comedy Acts. 7, Charles-st., Blackpool.

WANTED, Known, Townend and Burnard, in successful Duologue, entitled "A Scene in a Dream," vacant Monday. Wire, 27, Henry Nelson-street, South Shields.

WANTED, Dates, by Keen and Waller,
Leading Novel Eccentrics.
Our seventh week,
Alhambra, London.

Managers requiring a good
Top or Bottom of Bill for June 18 or 25,
Wire, KEEN and WALLER,
Alhambra, London.

WANTED, Known, Clark and Gold, meeting with great Success
in Milano, Italy.

WANTED, by the Bros. Webb, July 9, 23, and 30.
Winter Gardens, Blackpool.

WANTED, Monday next, by Bass and Guinness, Comedians, Patterers, and Dancers; also Aug. 6, 13. Wires, Circus, Bury.

WANTED, Monday next, by Fields and Lewis, great comedy act. For a sure hit, wire, Park Palace, Liverpool. Only vacant date.

MUSIC HALL ARTISTS' WANTS.

WANTED, Known, Bros. Lloyd, on Tour, in the last Successful "War of Words." Vacant Aug. 6, on. Perm., 44, Dover-street, Maidstone.

WANTED, Monday next, by The Boultons and Mlle. Bartenelli; two acts. Wire, 18, Alexandra-road, Lake-road, Portsmouth.

WANTED, 18th, 25th, by the Meltons, Pantomimists, Musicians, and Eccentric Comedians, novel properties. Wire, Theatre Royal, Stratford, London, E.

WANTED, Known, Swift Trio, Humorous Cycle Speciality, vacant June 18, 25, also July 2. Wire, Empire, Stockport. After, 32, Cobden-street, Everton, Liverpool.

WANTED, June 25 and July 2, by Stanley's Urchins, and Mlle. Du Roche. 2 distinct acts. Address, Empire, Bristol.

WANTED, Comical Walker, Local Nippers, Reklaw, Globe Performer, Success, Zoo Gardens, Bristol. Two Good Turns. Vacant Monday, Halls, Galas, &c. Wire, Bricklayer's Arms, Peterborough.

WANTED, Known, Los Granadas, free June 18, onward, for Theatres, Galas, or Sports; no fixings required. 238, Victoria-road, Aston, Birmingham.

WANTED, Known, Walter Roselle, Ventriloquist, at Liberty Monday next, and June 25. Add., 18, Farnworth-street, Kensington, Liverpool.

WANTED, by Hulbert, Ventriloquist; and De Lil, Illusionist, July 16, 23, two First-class Acts. Offers invited. Letters, Union-rd., Macclesfield.

WANTED, by Bessie Travis (daughter of Lieut. Travis) only Lady Ventriloquist-Pianist in the World, Monday, June 18, wire, Tivoli, Manchester.

WANTED, for "Dobson's Day Off," furiously funny farce, dates in August and September, four artists. M. ELLISTON, Palace, Hull.

WANTED, all July, by Billy, the Educated Horse, the marvel, through cancelling Continental engagement. Work anywhere. Address, DE VOYE, Empire, Burnley.

WANTED, few Bookings, Piers, &c., Liston and Lumley's "Merry Moments" (registered) Co., St. George's Hall, London, W.

WANTED, Known, Alice Fontainbleau's Marvellous Dogs were a big success, Longton Park, also Kettering Show, to follow, Northwich, Bournville, Walsall, Stourbridge, Tutbury, Cannock, Swindon, Burton, Selby, Ashby, and Knighton. Agents, WILDER BROTHERS, Birmingham. Liberty Winter Season. Address, Red Lion Hotel, Coleshill, Warwickshire.

WANTED, Known, Devereux's Great Dog Show, at Liberty July 2, for Galas, Piers, Halls, &c. Big show, sure draw. Palace, Grimsby.

WANTED, Known, that Le Clair's Bioscope and Dogs re-engaged for another 16 weeks, making 70 consecutive weeks at Pier Pavilion, Southend.

WANTED, Re-engagement, by Experienced Operator, for Cinématograph, Mechanic and Electrician; understands every kind of machinery. R., 28, Osnaburth-street, Portland-rd., W.

SHOWMEN'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

SHOWMEN'S GUILD.
President, LORD GEORGE SANGER.
Postponement of Welsh Meeting.
WANTED, Known, the Meeting at Porth, advertised for June 17, will take place next Sunday, at 3.30 in the afternoon.
Speaker, Rev. T. Horne.

WANTED, it Known, that Chiappa and Sons, Limited,
of London and Manchester,
have just delivered
two new (1906 model) 110-key Gavioliphones—one to Mr. William Wilson, of Preston, and the other to
Mr. Monte Williams, of Hartlepool.
Both our clients state that the Organs more than surpass their expectations.

Two 110-key organs of different design will be on sale by the end of month. Intending purchasers are invited to send us their names and addresses, and we will wire them as soon as organs arrive.
These 110-key Organs have a Complete Scale, making it absolutely unnecessary to ever require any larger size, as the tone and design is perfection, and no show will be up-to-date without one of these works of art.

WANTED, Showmen and others to Know that
T. Brittain and Sons
Build High-class Motor Cars, for Roundabouts.
Several on View,
Built for Eminent Showman.

Bristol-street, Birmingham.

WANTED, Known, if you want to make money easily, quickly, cheaply, and strictly on the square, set up a Mills' Bag Punching Machine. Write Sole Agents for particulars. Graduated payment to responsible buyers. MINERVA AUTOMATIC CO., 120, York-road, King's Cross, London, N.

Auctioneers.

WANTED, Known, Great Value Offered in Secondhand Silver Watches. Auctioneers only supplied. Write to-day for particulars. C. G. CLACHER, 22, Argyle-street, Glasgow.

WANTED, Auctioneers to Know, Simons, the up-to-date Warehouseman for Auctioneers' Wants, has removed to larger premises. Note New Address, 100, 101, 102A, Houndsditch. Second-hand Watches and Pawnbrokers' Forfeits Stocked to any amount.

WANTED, Known, Electrical.—Simpkin, Wilkinson, and Gibson, Kirkstall-road, Leeds, manufacture showmen's dynamos, new type flare arc lamps, organ motors, &c.; also convert old type lamps to flare pattern. Large stocks cable, carbons, globes, ordinary and miniature incandescents, &c. Repairs done. Write for free samples. Special line.—Portable petrol plants.

WANTED, Known.—Write or call at Greene's, 56, Falmouth-road, London, S.E., for .22 Ammunition, Rifles, &c. Absolutely the cheapest market.

WANTED, by Chiswick Annual Sports Committee, tenders for Side Shows, Roundabouts and Amusements (no catering of any kind allowed), for their Sports at Chiswick Park, to be held on Aug. 16, 1906. Last year it was estimated between 8,000 and 10,000 people were present. Address tenders to SECRETARY, Chiswick Sports, 334, High-road, Chiswick, W.

WANTED, for Outside of Show,
Jugglers,
Dancers,
or any suitable Act,
for Show Front.
Long Engagement to suitable people.
Apply, stating lowest terms in first letter, to
RANDALL WILLIAMS,
Howcroft's Works,
West Hartlepool.

WANTED, for Chas. Thurston's Royal Show, Knockabouts and Paraders, to make themselves useful about Show. Winter and Summer Job for suitable people. Money sure; state terms first letter. THURSTON, Cricket Ground, Newmarket.

WANTED, Quick-showing Novelties, good flash paintings preferred; half share; 2 months certain. L. P., c/o Mrs. Morison, 8, Bloomfield-rd., Blackpool.

WANTED, at Once, Handseller and Planksman; must be steady and reliable, and not afraid of work.
Apply,
Auction Tent, East Greenwich.

WANTED, an experienced Planksman, also Comedian; good shop all the year round; money sure. Send lowest terms. W. H. GRANT, Klondyke Bazaar, Omagh, Ireland.

WANTED, Good Doorsman, used to Aërial Flight preferred. Spaces to Let, Carnival Grounds, Promenade, Portobello. Wire, PROPRIETOR, Rathbone House, Portobello.

SHOWMEN'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

WANTED, Living Freaks and Novelties, open at once; sale of books and postcards allowed. Wire, CHARLES JAMES, Waxworks, Dublin.

WANTED, Freaks, Novelties.
Wire or write,
Glasgow. A. E. PICKARD.

WANTED, Good Doorsman; must be willing and reliable. Apply, PAUL'S Waxwork and Glass Exhibition. 40, Westgate, Rotherham.

WANTED, Galas, Carcass's Punch and Judy. This, Heaton Park; next, Botanical Gardens. Perm., 5, Old Elm-st., Ardwick, Manchester.

WANTED, Known, Jim Styles, the only Actor Describer of Animated Pictures in this country, seeks Engagement. References, Relph and Pedley, five years. Address, STYLES, Whalley 85, Oxford-street, Avenham-lane, Preston, Lancs.

WANTED, at Liberty to Manage Show of any Kind, Exhibition, Shops, or Fairs, or Advance for same. ARTLEY, 7, Higham-place, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

WANTED, Known Treharris First Annual Midsummer Fair will be Held on the New Athletic Grounds on July 7, 9, 10. Space to Let for Roundabouts, Bioscope Side-shows, Cocoanut sheets, Swings, Circuses, Menageries, Flannel Dealers, Stall Owners, &c. DAVIS, Auctioneer, Treharris.

WANTED, to Let, Spaces in Summer Pleasure Gardens, for Stalls (Wire-workers, Jewellery, Fancy, &c.). Full particulars, SYMONDS, 20, Pelham-street, Brighton.

GREAT MANUFACTURING AND INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION,
BRISTOL.
Sept. 24 to Oct. 20, inclusive.

WANTED, to Let, Large Room, 60ft. by 30ft., adjoining main hall, suit large working model, &c.
Apply,
WILLIAM EDWARDS,
Exhibition Offices, 9, Richmond-road,
Exeter.

WIMBLEDON.

WANTED, to Let, fitted Shooting Range, rifles, and all accessories, automatic machines, &c. Inclusive rent, £1 weekly. Splendid chance for smart business man. Full particulars, L. J. SANDERS, 12, Merton-road, Wimbledon.

WANTED, to Sell,
the magnificent Organ
and Show Front, complete, same as used by us this season.
Reason for selling,
have purchased a larger one.
Cash or easy terms to suitable people.
Apply,
RANDALL WILLIAMS' Show,
Howcroft's Works,
West Hartlepool.

WANTED, to Sell, Roundabout, Four Abreast set of Gallopers, Horses and Birds, Engine by Savage. Bargain for immediate purchaser. Can be seen working at Burton-on-Trent. Apply, C. J. SPOONER, Swan Works.

WANTED to Sell, Automatic Fortune Machines, Money-takers, one to six drawers, cheap. Catalogue; samples free. MEURICE, 39, Argyle-square, London.

WANTED, to Sell, Automatic Machines, Husbands, Babies, Love-Letters, Palmistry, Lunatics', Marriage, and Liars' Licences. MEURICE, 39, Argyle-square, W.C.

WANTED, to Sell, Automatic Machines of every description; best and cheapest. WORMALD, 123, Blythe-rd., West Kensington, London. Established 1887.

WANTED, to Sell, Automatic Kalloscopes, in good order, 18s. each, containing eighteen pictures; one Automatic Piano, £14. Clearance required; other automatics. New Machine wanted. GEORGE ROSE, 97, Graham-road, Dalston, London.

WANTED, to Sell, Slot Machines, Genuine Bargains. Chocolate, electric, lung testers, postcard, character, fortune, photo., love-letter, &c. List free. MASON, Settles-st., London, E.

WANTED, to Sell, latest Automatic Fishing Pond, polished wood, zinc lined, worked with motor, made for travelling purposes, to lock up, complete with motor, rods, fish, electric bell, £5; also latest patent working model target, consisting of revolving pipes, moving cats, swinging and jumping balls, made to be used with 22 calibre saloon rifles, £5. R. BOLTON, 49A, Poulton-st., Kirkham, Lancs.

WANTED, to Sell, 50,000ft. of Films, just received from the Myrioramas, majority good as new, from 1d. per ft.
POOLE, Theatre, Gloucester.

WANTED, to Sell, Waxwork Exhibition, complete and perfect, now Open in Wonderland, 10, Foreshore-road, Scarborough. Apply as above.

WANTED, to Sell, Waxwork Exhibition, complete, forty figures, dress, scenery, piano organ, &c. Part purchase could remain to MASON, Settles-st., London, E.

WANTED, to Sell, Established Novelty Exhibition, with Rifle Range, Punch Ball, Lifter, &c., splendidly situated, £100, or nearest offer. Good reason for selling. Box 3,358, "The Era."

WANTED, to Sell, a Set of Eight Full-size Distorting Mirrors, cheap, or exchange for good automatics. BURLEY, Colwick Hall, Nottingham.

WANTED, to Sell, Splendid Portable Engine, by Savage, perfect order, has driven 14 lamps. LAWRENCE, Fair, Dodworth, Barnsley.

WANTED, to Sell, Lifter, cost £10, price 60s.; Puncher, 60s.; Weighing Chair, 100s.; Thama and Cleopatra Illusions, 80s. each; genuine sacrifice. STACEY, Settles-st., London, E.

WANTED, to Sell to Showmen, Fair Keepers, Rifle Saloons, &c. STACEY and Co., Showman's Specialist, Settles-st., London, E. Everything for the business. Estd. 60 years.

To Owners of Roundabouts.

WANTED, to Buy, New or Good Secondhand Gondolas, Steeplechase, or Newest Riding Machine, for use at Fairs. Send photographs and absolute lowest price to J. F. PERCIVAL HYATT, 48, Strand, W.C.

WANTED, Good Distorting Mirrors, on sharing terms, permanency. Third year of unbroken tour. Apply, MANAGER, "Japan" Scenic Exhibition, Pavilion, Keswick.

WANTED, Engine Driver, to drive 6-horse traction (Burrell's); none but steady and reliable man need apply. Good wages to the right man. Address, COTTRELL'S American Enterprise Show Ground, Millom, Cumberland, one week.

WANTED, experienced Traction Engine Driver, used to attend to Electric Light.
Address, terms and references,
LAWRENCE, Fair, Dodworth, Barnsley.

WANTED, the address of Madam Howard, Lion-faced Lady; also Sylva Vigo, Armless Wonder. L. P., c/o Mrs. Morison, 8, Bloomfield-road, Blackpool.

WANTED, Known, the Seventy Thousand Showmen who use the Columns of "The Era" and are moving about should know that they can make "The Era" Offices their Permanent London Address. Letters received will be held till called for, or immediately re-addressed, according to instructions. Address all communications respecting the Letter Department to the PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

WANTED, Showmen who experience difficulty in obtaining copies of "The Era" at any Railway Bookstall to kindly communicate with the PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

WANTED TO SELL.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, to Sell, Small Portable Pavilion, marquee top, ten shutters, 30 by 40, extension to 50, £20, lowest. MANAGER, 175, Greet's Green-rd., West Bromwich.

WANTED, to Sell, Bungalow, on Seashore, Kingston, near Brighton; not overlooked, perfect health resort, boating, bathing, fishing, 4 reception, 5 bedrooms, 2 dressing, 3 lavatories, boathouse, Telephone. Beach Haven, Shoreham.

WANTED TO SELL.

WANTED, to Sell, Handsome, Solidly-built, Imitation Rockery, electrically fitted, with travelling crates, complete, is suitable for stage-work, bazaars, exhibitions, or foyers. Cost £40 three months ago; no reasonable offer refused. C. E. PARLATO, 1, Brinkburn-road, Scarborough.

WANTED, to Sell (or Let with or without Operators), Two Up-to-date Picture Machines, with complete Installations, Lime or Electric. C. E. PARLATO, 1, Brinkburn-road, Scarborough.

WANTED, to Sell, two Friscos, two Hackenschmidts, two Royal Weddings; would also let or hire about 25,000ft. of miscellaneous subjects, used on spring tour, and as good as new.
C. E. PARLATO,
1, Brinkburn-road, Scarborough.

WANTED, to Sell, Films, Motor Highwayman, 600ft.; That Awful Baby, 425ft.; Cheeky Traveller, 225ft.; Cleopatra's Tomb, 150ft.; Devil in a Convent, 200ft.; His First Cigarette, 200ft.; &c. All at 2d. per foot, perfect condition. DYKE, 85, Wingrove-gardens, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

WANTED, to Sell, a Quantity of Second-hand Up-to-date Films. Particulars, BENN, Spring-gardens, Pontefract.

WANTED, to Sell, Two Handsome State Coaches (the property of the late Duke of Cambridge), excellent advertising medium, together with four-in-hand harness, cheap. K., 28, Vaughan-road, Camberwell, S.E.

WANTED, to Sell, a Jumping Dog, jumps Sixteen Chairs high, jump 10ft.; will work him anywhere if expenses paid. HUNT, Jumper, Warrington.

WANTED, to Sell, several Toy-bred Yorkshire Puppies perfect pets, excellent type and style. Particulars, CHALLINOR, Ansdell, Ormskirk-road, Wigan

WANTED, to Sell, cheap, small Troupe of Clever Performing Dogs, Goat, and Unrideable Donkey. Address, MLLE. PARKER, care of C. E. Parlato, Esq., 1, Brinkburn-road, Scarborough.

WANTED, to Sell, good Dog Show, different from all others. For particulars apply, Box 3,361, "The Era."

WANTED, to Sell, Large Orchestrion, with Tunes, equal to full Band, with Water Motor. Wanting room, must sell quickly. Grand Attraction for place of Amusement.
DUCKWORTH,
55, Fitzwilliam-street, Huddersfield.

WANTED, to Sell, Royal Rock Harmonicon, the only instrument of its kind in the world, a huge novelty; also set of specially manufactured Chromatic Musical Glasses. Full particulars, ORMONDE, 5, Murieston-place, Edinburgh.

WANTED, to Sell, Brand New Oboe, cost £7 7s., never been used. Sacrifice £4 10s. Apply, J. ELIAS, Hairdresser, Pwllheli, North Wales.

WANTED, to Sell, all Kinds of Trick Musical Instruments, electric and otherwise. Try Resonated Xylophones. Sole British Manufacturer, LISLE, 5, Cuthill-rd., Camberwell. A Blondin Donkey for sale.

WANTED, to Sell, Set Musical Bells, cheap.
Address,
"BELLS," W. Porteous and Co., Glasgow.

WANTED, to Sell, Woven Animal Dresses, Paddings, Tights, Opera Hose, in all Materials. Lowest prices. H. J. BOXALL, 166, Waterloo-road, London, S.E.

WANTED, to Sell, "The Convict's Escape Cage," with beautiful plush curtains, everything in splendid working order, £7, or best offer. ORMONDE, 5, Murieston-place, Edinburgh.

WANTED, to Sell, all kinds of Wardrobe. State wants.
WARDROBE MISTRESS, County Theatre, Bedford.

WANTED, to Sell, Glass, Gas Fittings, &c., for working La Mote Illusion, or would exchange for other Illusion. GIBSON, Post Office, Todmorden.

WANTED, to Sell, Balloon Net, Parachute, &c., in good condition. Captain ORTON, 150, New Barn-street, Plaistow, London, E.

WANTED, to Sell, or Let on Hire, Original one-act Musical Comedy, suitable for Music Hall or Theatre; plays thirty minutes; six principals, one scene only; every number a winner. ALBERT VOYCE, Theatre Royal, Halifax.

WANTED, to Sell, New Dramas, Comedy and Dramatic Sketches, Stock Dramas, and Parts. HAL COLLIER, York Casino, Bexhill-on-Sea, Sussex.

WANTED, to Sell, Duologues and Comedy Sketches. Sketches written to order for any number of parts. BERG, 7A, Station-road, Balham.

WANTED TO BUY.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, to Purchase or Lease, established Theatre or Music Hall. Communications treated confidentially. Money waiting for right place. STANHOPE and Co., Ltd., 63, Regent-street, London.

WANTED, to Purchase, Pantomime, "Dick Whittington," also to Sell Pantomime "Aladdin."
ARTHUR CARLTON,
Theatre, Worcester.

WANTED, to Purchase, for Immediate Cash, Complete Pantomime (full size), Crusoe preferred; must be in excellent condition, and well painted. Full particulars, &c. (mark envelope scenery). Add., JOHN A. THOMSON, Pelham House, Paignton.

WANTED, to Purchase, Complete Sets of Pantomime Dresses, also Principals. Immediate cash for good bargains. (Mark envelopes "Dresses.") Add., JOHN A. THOMSON, Pelham House, Paignton.

WANTED, Scenery, any amount, any kind, any size, but must be in splendid condition. Terms, if bought, 20 per cent. more than any dealers offer, and ready money dow. Address, The Moody-Manners Stores, The Hyde, Hendon, London, N.W.

WANTED, to Buy, Cannon, to shoot a man 20ft. to 30ft. Lowest price to H., care of GORING, 72, Fleet-street, E.C.

Boomerang.

WANTED, Boomerangs.
Will thrower
write
WEBB,
10, Colonnade,
Cheltenham.

WANTED, 400 Strong Chairs, suitable for Al-fresco. Apply, stating lowest terms, to MCINTOSH, 6, Cherry-street, Birmingham.

WANTED, to Buy, a Demon Cloth, in good condition. Full particulars to MARTI, Longfield Cottage, Urmston, Manchester.

WANTED, French March Songs, Words and Violin Copy. Address, DYKE, 85, Wingrove-gardens, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

WANTED, to Buy, few more Registering Turnstiles; must be cheap. State maker's name and full particulars. A. E. PICKARD, Britannia Panopticon, Glasgow.

WANTED, Hand Bells, C key, fourteen or more; also twelve straps of Sleigh Bells, G key. HANSON, 48, Well-close View, Leeds.

WANTED, a Good Sensational or Comic Sketch, for two or three persons. Particulars to REYNOLDS, 29, Gloucester-road, Kew.

WANTED, Posters for the "Cradle" Illusion. Reply, J. LEWIS, 29, Salisbury-avenue, Colchester.

WANTED, to Buy, for Cash, any Quantity of Wardrobe Baskets; must be in good condition. State lowest price and where to be seen, EUGENE BERTRAM, Empire Theatre, Southend-on-Sea.

WANTED, to Purchase, a Good Feeding Seal.
Address,
BOSTOCK,
Zoo, Glasgow.

WANTED TO LET OR HIRE.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

WANTED, to Let, Victoria Rooms, Cheltenham, seat 1,000, for Concerts, Lectures, &c.; also Montpellier Rotunda, seat 500. Apply, EDWARD B. SHENTON.

WANTED to Let (Rental), Byculiah Athenæum, Enfield. Any kind of Entertainment. Scenery. Address, MANAGER, as above.

WANTED, to Let, for Rehearsals, a spacious Hall, with Stage and Piano. SECRETARY, Chandos Hall, 21A, Maiden-lane, W.C.

CLIFTONVILLE HYDRO, MARGATE.
WANTED, to Let, Empress Rooms, for Concerts and various Entertainments, four nights weekly, during the season, July, Aug., and Sept. For terms and other particulars, apply, MANAGER.

WANTED, to Let, Shares or Certainty, a First-Class Tent, complete, seating, curtains, &c., suitable for Variety, Pierrots, or Circus. Particulars, H. WHITE, Hildathorpe, Hay Mills, Birmingham.

WANTED, to Let, or Sell, Camera Obscura, in the best position on the South Coast. Particulars write Box 3,360, "The Era."

WANTED, to Lease, Good Provincial Theatre. Particulars, E. VIVIAN EDMONDS, 2, Sunnyside-terrace, Weston-super-Mare.

WANTED, to Hire, or take upon Sharing Terms, for the Summer Season, First-class Pier Pavilion, Hall, or Site, suitable for the erection of a fit-up stage, for a strong concert party of well-known London artists. HERBERT JAY, 10, Jermyn-street, Piccadilly.

WANTED, to Lease or Rent, a Music Hall, in London or Suburbs. Address, with full particulars, HARRY LEAMAR, Albemarle Syndicate, 157, Strand, W.C.

WANTED, to Hire for Summer Season, Small Hall or Building, in quiet Seaside Locality, and suitable for Concert and Animated Picture Entertainments. C. E. PARLATO, 1, Brinkburn-road, Scarborough.

PARTNERS WANTED.

WANTED, by Well-known Manager,
Partner, with £500,
for Touring Rights of Big London Success.
Address,
Box 3,371, "The Era."

WANTED, Refined Young Comedy Actress, who could take High-Class Comedy Sketch on Halls, own Company; must be well-known. Write, AUTHOR, 8, Woodsley road, Leeds.

WANTED, Lady or Gentleman, with £200 to invest in a Big Attraction under very good terms. Apply, S. WALLON, 35, Russell-st., Brixton.

WANTED, Partner, for Comedy Act, rehearse immediately; must be good Comedian, no amateurs. Age, height, and full particulars, to LEON, 34, Corporation-road, Newport, Mon.

WANTED, to join Musical Troupe, Pantomime, or Good Partner; home or abroad. LESTER, 3, Prudoe-street, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

WANTED, by Comedian, Sing, Dance, Patter, and Tumble, with good Act, to join Good Straight Man. Reply letter, COMEDY, 6, Englefield-road, Kingsland.

WANTED, Known, Troupe of Performing Dogs, together or separate, join performer, to work same. CLACKSON, 9, Rosoman-st, Clerkenwell, E.C.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TWENTY WORDS, ONE SHILLING.
Each Additional Six Words, Sixpence.

THE AMERICAN SHOW PRINTERS' AGENCY,
12, Cecil-court, Charing Cross-road, W.C.
WANTED, Managers requiring Novel and Attractive Posters and Lithographs, to give us a call before ordering elsewhere. The above agency, representing the principal show printing houses of the United States, has the largest variety of stock printing in this country. An enormous selection of printing always on hand, for circuses, menageries, cinématographs, and variety combinations. Add., A. DE FRECE, Manager.

WANTED, Managers and Proprietors to know that we cover the earth with our beautiful posters for Circus, Menagerie, Cinématograph, &c., &c. We have posters to suit everybody and everything. Say, we have just sold Graham, the Human Marionette, 5,000 Say posters.
Apply, JOHN MOORE, LONDON, LTD.,
23, Oxendon-street, Piccadilly Circus, S.W.

WANTED, Known, F. G. Wright, Gymnastic Apparatus Maker, Electrical Engineer, and Theatrical Blacksmith. 66, Kennington-road, S.E.

WANTED, Known, C. Kinch, Gymnastic Apparatus Maker, Theatrical and General Blacksmith. 17, St. Mary-square, Kennington-road, London, S.E.

WANTED, Known, for Ventriloquial and Marionette Figures and Specialities, LE MARE and SON, 28, Coupland-st., Oxford-rd., Manchester.

WANTED, Authors having Plays for Copyrighting, to forward same for reading. Address, CHAS. E. PRICE, Secretary, National School of Acting, 17, Werrington-st., Oakley-sq., N.W.

WANTED, Known, Fifty Years Ahead, the Student's Book of Scales for Violin, carefully fingered, with or without a master.

WANTED, Known, Violin Student's Scales, with a systematic fingering, invented by J. Stewart King, 9, Upper Mall, Hammersmith, London, including postage, 1s. 6d.

WANTED, Known, Melodies Composed from 7s. 6d., by G. D. Fox, the successful composer. Permanent address, 134, Queen's Park-road, Brighton.

WANTED, Known, Band Parts, 3s. 6d.; Composing, Arranging, Transposing; Books, 4s. 7d. ten; Songs, Duplicating, Bands, &c. COTTLE'S Bureau, 86, Coldharbour-lane.

WANTED, Magicians to send for details of Bottomless Box, for Productions; also several tricks for immediate sale. NOBLE, 30, Lily-st., Sunderland.

WANTED, Known, for Artistic and Cheap Lithos., write to EDWARD HARRISON, Litho. Studio, 125, Broomspring-lane, Sheffield.

WANTED, Scenic Artists, Theatre Managers, &c., to write for Leete's Catalogue of colours, varnishes, painting brushes, and every requisite for scene painting and theatre decoration. The fullest range of colours in the trade. A. LEETE and Co., 129, London-road, Southwark, S.E.

WANTED, Known, that we do Picture Postcards, 100 5s., 250 8s., 500 12s., 1,000 16s. Send photo and cash. SENIOR and Co., Cotham Hill, Bristol.

WANTED, Known, the Godfrey Sutcliffe Food Model and Advertising Novelty Specialist, medalist London exhibitions, &c. Special properties made to order. G. S., 1, Weighton-rd., Anerley.

WANTED, Known, Patterson, 105, Vauxhall Bridge-road, Westminster, made props. and scenery for "Casey's Court," "Casey's Circus." Didn't we, Bess?

WANTED, Known, Al Fresco Artists and others to secure the New Popular Song, "The Seaside Princess." For copies and singing rights, address, SID DINAH, 125, Oakley-st., Lambeth, S.E.

WANTED, Known, any Persons having Goods in Cragg's Gymnasium, 68, Kennington-road, must remove same by June 24, or communicate with F. G. WRIGHT, Apparatus Maker, 66, Kennington-road, who takes over the premises on that date.

WANTED, Known, Madame Norrisie, 75, Gray's Inn-road, Holborn, Theatrical Costumier, can undertake the Warehousing and Renovating of Touring Wardrobes on very reasonable terms. Costumes for Sale or Hire. Write for Estimates.

WANTED, Known, Mon. Calverto, Giffnock, Glasgow, would like to hear from his old friend Mons. G. M. Andre (of Max O'Rell's Co.).

WANTED, Known, Carlyle Lester's
Address is 66, High-street, Manchester.

MOSS' EMPIRES, Ltd. & STOLL COMPANIES

(Moss Thornton & Stoll Theatres, Amalgamated.) WORKING IN CONJUNCTION. (Including the London Coliseum, Ltd.)

Capital £2,086,000.

Chairman: Sir EDWARD H. MOSS.

CO-OPERATIVE OFFICES: CRANBOURN MANSIONS, CRANBOURN STREET, LONDON, W.C.

Managing Director: OSWALD STOLL. INTERVIEWS BY APPOINTMENT ONLY. Assisting Director and Chief of Staff: FRANK ALLEN.

Telephone:—1399 Gerrard. Wires:—"Twigsome, London."

CALLS FOR MONDAY, JUNE 18, 1906.

THE LONDON HIPPODROME.

"The Flood," Barowsky Trio, Morton and Elliott, Lios Alfas, Staley's Transformation, Trapnells, Jas. H. Jee, Ob r Steirer Troupe, Les Bastiens, Inaudi, Link, Spessardy's Bears, Yorke's Dogs, Three Olympiers, Bioscope, Lavater Lee.

EMPIRE PALACE, EDINBURGH.
Rehearsal at 1.30 for :—
Gordon Highlanders, Nellie Martell, Jagos, McConnells, Francis and Melli, Bioscope, Klos Sisters, Eily Adair, Myra Stansfield, Alfred Barker, Walton and Lester, New York Nippers.

EMPIRE THEATRE, GLASGOW.
Rehearsal at 12 for :—
Carter Livesey and Co., Bioscope, Lily Langtry, Galletti's Monkeys, Mignonette Kokin, Kaufmanns, Jackson Family, Tom Woottwell, The Raies, Ancillotti and Pilu.

ZOO AND HIPPODROME, GLASGOW.
Rehearsal at 12 for :—
"High Jinks," Bioscope, Guy Ryder, The Seddons, Spry and Monti, The Gems, Billy Hobbs.

COLISEUM, GLASGOW.
Rehearsal at 12 for :—
The Leopolds, Bioscope, Harry Weldon, Warsaw Bros., Wyndham and Kitty, Attab Bros., Alice Lloyd, The Sutcliffes, McNaughtons, Corrie and Dereve's Co. in "Heart-strings."

EMPIRE, NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
Ernest Shand, Maud Ross, Howard Bros., Will Mitcham, Abdullah's Arabs, Bioscope, Ray Wallace, Althoffs, Alf Holt, Casino Comedy Four.

PALACE THEATRE, HULL.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
"The Fighting Parson," Kitty Wager, Jurgens Trio, Lilian Lea, Fred Poplar, Roberts, Hayes, and Roberts, Will McIvor, Bioscope, Mount and Corelli.

EMPIRE PALACE, LEEDS.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
Bransby Williams, Caselli Sisters, Howard and St. Clair, Findens, George Formby, Borrellis, Automatos, Nellie Wallace, Frank Dunlop, Bros. Egbert.

EMPIRE THEATRE, BRADFORD.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
Gertrude Sandiford, Paul Cinquevalli, Bros. Harrison, Brett and Orford, Ike Scott and Son, Sisters Lunelle, Bernar's Fantoches, Jas. H. Cullen, Bioscope, Five Delevines.

EMPIRE PALACE, SHEFFIELD.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
Marie Loftus, Starr and Leslie, Harry Freeman, Georgina Leonard, Conn and Conrad, Bioscope, Wm. Lee and Co., J. A. Wilson, Martin Adeson and Co., "The Masked Lady."

EMPIRE PALACE, BIRMINGHAM.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
"Moses and Son," Bioscope, Eloise Brinsmede, Cape Girls, Frank Cumminger, Ferguson and Mack, Duncan's Dogs, Alexandra Dagmar, Dolly Moore.

BORDESLEY PALACE, BIRMINGHAM.
Rehearsal at 1 for :—
"Casey's Court," Bioscope, Athas and Collins, Will English, Jonghmann Sisters, Avolos, Leonie Dixon, Kathleen Cogan.

EMPIRE PALACE, LIVERPOOL.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
Harry Lauder, Bioscope, Ernest Tilbury, Florence and Lillian, Derenda and Green, Florence Deighton, Rene Best, Canary Co., Rex King, Celeste, Palles and Cussick, "Home from the Honeymoon."

OLYMPIA, LIVERPOOL.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
Fred Conquest and Co., Bioscope, Belle Braham, Harding and Ah Sid, Olive, Albert and Edmunds Troupe, Gladys Mavius, Lloyd Morgan, Terry and Lambert, Dronza.

EMPIRE, HACKNEY.
Rehearsal at 1 for :—
Ten Loonies, Rich and Rich, Elsie Robey, The Leonards, Sisters Pine, Drew and Alders, Minnie Cunningham, Goltz Trio, The Zanettos, Winifred Hare, Bioscope.

EMPIRE, HOLLOWAY.
Rehearsal at 1 for :—
Griffiths Bros., Harry Leybourne, Tally Ho Trio, The Tupps, Tatten Hall, Max Wessellys, Sisters Iris, Leonard and Francis, J. W. Hall, Howard and Elsworthy.

EMPIRE, NEW CROSS.
Rehearsal at 1 for :—
Harry Ford, Spry and Austin, Atroy, Violi, Pat Rafferty, Ambrose Thorne, Bros. Horne, May Evans, Tina Clementa, Conway and Leland, Harry Carsdale.

EMPIRE, STRATFORD.
Rehearsal at 1 for :—
Clarke and Hamilton, Florrie Gallimore, Four Figaros, Margaret Ashton, Alix Lukos, Nancy St. John, Flo D'Orville, Will Cornish, Tribune Trio, Pit and Cute.

EMPIRE, SHEPHERD'S BUSH.
Rehearsal at 1 for :—
George Lashwood, Flo Esdaile, Sanford and Lyons, Will Musgrave, Jack Lane, Irene Rose, The Clarkes, Remingtons, Wille Bros., Bioscope, Clement Trio.

EMPIRE, CARDIFF.
Rehearsal at 3 for :—
Annie Abbott, Frank Seeley, Hamilton Hill, Sisters Oswald, Henri Taylor Trio, Will Haines, Amber Austa, Classicum Quartette, Belle Davis and Piccs, Bioscope.

PHILHARMONIC HALL, ST. MARY-STREET, CARDIFF.
Cinématograph Exhibition, Curio Halls, Roller Skating, Phonograph, Waxworks, Galatea, Magic Maze, Shooting Ranges.

EMPIRE, SWANSEA.
Rehearsal at 3 for :—
R. A. Roberts, Prof. Vox, Johnny Gilmore, Chas. Austin, Cole de Losse Duo, Flem and Brok, Baker and Balfe, Stella Troupe, Nellie Young, Josh Dixon.

EMPIRE, NEWPORT.
Rehearsal at 3 for :—
Ben Albert, Austin Rudd, Sisters Hayden, Sisters Urma, Sisters Terry, Three Phydoras, George Ridgwell, Cooke and Rothert, Bioscope.

EMPIRE, NOTTINGHAM.
Rehearsal at 3 for :—
Little Tich, Marie Kendall, Steve McCarthy, Fielding and Hull, Ella Retford, Stave, Leah Arden, Johnson and Bert, Frank Elliston and Co., Bioscope.

PALACE, LEICESTER.
Rehearsal at 2.30 for :—
"Moving In," Mark Sheridan, Sisters Chester, Alcide Capitane, Binns and Binns, Belloni's Cockatoos, Frank and Free, Francis and Alfred, Odeyne Sparke, Bioscope.

ARDWICK EMPIRE, MANCHESTER.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
The Boissetts in "A Trip to the Continent," Johnson and Dean, Brooks, Dale and Blitz, Will Vokes, Arthur Lloyd Trio, Henry Helm, Bioscope, Helen Forde, Marba and Verity.

HIPPODROME, MANCHESTER.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
Eugene Stratton, Chinko, Alf Hurley, Nelson's Newsboys, The Craggs, Holles Trio, Illustrated Song, Bioscope, Norman and Leonard Trio, The Uessems.

THE LONDON COLISEUM.

Programme for 3—5, 6—8, and 9—11 o'clock Performances :—
"The Revue." Tom E. Murray, Billie Burke, The Price Troupe, The Dandies, Louis Bradfield, Arthur Conquest, The Trumpeting Girls, The Rocking Girls, George Lashwood, Harry Lupino, R. H. Douglass, Godwynne Earle, Charles Trevor, &c.

THE FOLLOWING ARE BOOKED IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE ABOVE:

EMPIRE THEATRE, DUBLIN.
Rehearsal at 1 for :—
Dumond Minstrels, Lizzie Daniels, Les Voces, Four Olympian Stars, The Mackweys, Pictures, Maud Mortimer, George Brooks.

EMPIRE THEATRE, BELFAST.
Rehearsal at 1 for :—
Mike S. Whallen, Pictures, Howard and Collinson, Madge Osmond, Northern Troupe, J. Alexander and Co., Gus Garrick, Ross and Grayson.

EMPIRE PALACE, SOUTH SHIELDS.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
John Lawson and Co., Florence Carlow, Ernie Mayne, Pictures, Claire Beasy's Cats, Jess Thorne, Zasma, J. W. Rickaby.

RICHMOND THEATRE, RICHMOND.
Proprietor, Mr. George Dance.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
Closed for cleaning and redecoration.

HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE, WALSALL
Rehearsal at 12 for :—
Hermann Melot, Dot Stevens, Mark Merry, Bros. Damm, Rita and Roma, Albany, Bioscope, Harwood's Juveniles.

THE GRANVILLE, WALHAM GREEN.
Rehearsal at 3 for :—
Gus Elen, Tom Edwards, Walter Munroe, Cruikshank, Amy Russell, Gwennie Hasto, Sisters St. Julian, Peggy Pryde, Harriett Vernon, Ada Cerito, Bandurrias, Kitts and Windrum, Wal Pink, Three Prestons, Jackley Wonders, "A Bit of String," Pictures.

THE PALACE, CAMBERWELL.
Rehearsal at 2 for :—
Harry Tate, Walter Stanley, Tom Edwards, Dusty Rhodes, Tom Stuart, Gwennie Hasto, Alma Curzon, New York Quartette, Ada Cerito, Les Reubens, Barrett and Knowles, Doody and Wright, Hale-Davis Comb, The Dillons, "True to His Trust," Laurie's Kindergarten, Pictures.

EMPIRE, SUNDERLAND (in course of erection).
Artists should be careful to keep Dates Open for this Theatre, Booking for which will shortly commence.

INSTRUCTIONS TO ARTISTS.

Artists must have Band Parts for at least Twelve different Instruments for the Orchestras (Fifteen for the London Coliseum). Matter for Bill, Blocks, and Specimens of Pictorials FOR ALL THE ABOVE THEATRES must be sent to CO-OPERATIVE OFFICES, at above address, THREE WEEKS before Opening, or at least TWO WEEKS, failing which Artists will run the risk of having their Engagements Cancelled.

IMPORTANT.—Artists must forward Copies of Songs to the STAGE DEPARTMENT, ABOVE ADDRESS, TWO WEEKS previous to Opening, with Assignments for same, which will be returned. Artists are requested to note carefully that the clause in their contracts relating to rehearsals will in future be strictly enforced.

ARTISTS WILL CLEARLY UNDERSTAND THAT THEIR BUSINESS MUST BE FREE FROM ALL VULGARITY.

N.B.—Silence in every case a polite negative. Artists are requested not to enclose stamped envelope. Letters marked "Private" will be delayed.

Telephone, 1399 Gerrard. Wires, "Twigsome, London."

The Greatest Aggregation of Variety Theatres in the World.

FRANCIS, DAY, AND HUNTER'S

SUMMER NOVELTIES

SEASIDE BALLADS:

"SEAGULL,"
"IN THE SHADE OF THE OLD APPLE TREE,"
"THE ROSE OF MY HEART,"
"SNOWFLAKES."

THREE GREAT IRISH SONGS:

"BRIDGET,"
"MY IRISH DAISY,"
"BARNEY, YOU'RE FULL OF BLARNEY."

POPULAR CHORUS SONGS:

"STARLIGHT,"
"PUT A LITTLE BIT AWAY FOR A RAINY DAY,"
"KEEP ON THE SUNNY SIDE,"
"BARBADOES,"
"JUST A LITTLE ROCKING-CHAIR AND YOU,"
"WHAT HAS THE NIGHT-TIME TO DO WITH THE GIRL?"
"GOOD-BYE, MY LITTLE LONDON GIRL."

FOUR GREAT COON SONGS:

"GOOD-NIGHT, MR. BROWN, I'M OUT,"
"SYMPATHY,"
"AIN'T YOU GOING TO SAY 'HOW DO?"
"CAN'T YOU FIND A SWEETHEART OF YOUR OWN?"

FOUR GREAT HUMOROUS SONGS:

"IT'S THE CUSTOM OVER THERE,"
"A DIFFERENT GIRL AGAIN,"
"ISN'T IT WONDERFUL?"
"FATHER'S BOX OF TOOLS."

For full list of our Seaside Successes, apply :—

FRANCIS, DAY, & HUNTER,
142 CHARING CROSS ROAD, LONDON, W.C

FREE FOR MUSIC HALLS.

Murphy and Castling's Latest Creation,

"IS LONDON LIKE IT USED TO BE?"

NO PREFERENTIAL RIGHTS WILL BE GIVEN.

 WILL BE THE RAGE.  STRONG ACTING VERSES. Band Parts Ready. PRICE 1s.  REMEMBER OUR RECENT HITS. **

B. FELDMAN & CO., 2 & 3, Arthur St., W.C.

MOSS' EMPIRES, LIMITED

(MOSS, THORNTON, AND STOLL THEATRES, AMALGAMATED), AND

STOLL COMPANIES

(INCLUDING THE LONDON COLISEUM, LTD.).

RE APPLICATIONS FOR ENGAGEMENTS

All applications by either Artists or their Agents must be made to the Head Office.

Lowest terms must be stated, and distinction made between salaries required for larger and smaller towns.

Vacant dates should be stated. If a list of existing bookings be sent, it will render selection easier.

Artists employing Agents should accredit one only at one time, as the friction arising when several Agents are employed at the same time, all expecting the one booking to go through each of them, often renders it expedient to avoid that booking altogether rather than give undeserved offence to several Agents.

New Acts seeking engagements, or turns not rebooked (possibly because they have played a series of dates without introducing new business), will facilitate matters by having their acts seen by our District Managers. Their Districts and Postal Addresses are as follows :—

MANCHESTER, LIVERPOOL, AND DISTRICT.
MR. ALAN W. YOUNG,
Empire Theatre, Liverpool.

EDINBURGH, GLASGOW, NEWCASTLE, AND DISTRICT.
MR. S. GETHING,
Empire Theatre, Glasgow.

LEEDS, SHEFFIELD, HULL, BRADFORD, AND DISTRICT.
MR. T. GERALD MORTON,
Empire Palace, Leeds.

BIRMINGHAM, NOTTINGHAM, LEICESTER, AND DISTRICT.
MR. HATTON WHARTON,
Empire Theatre, Nottingham.

SOUTH WALES DISTRICT.
MR. W. LEA,
Empire Theatre, Cardiff.

LONDON DISTRICT.
MR. WILLIAM COLLINS,
The Empire, Shepherd's Bush, W.

N.B.—Mr. OSWALD STOLL or Mr. FRANK ALLEN can be seen by appointment on all matters arising out of the above, and for the discussion of entirely new Numbers.

All Artists or Agents who communicate with our District Representatives must have made definite applications, in accordance with above directions, to the Head Office, at the same time, or just previously.

Co-operative Offices :
CRANBOURN MANSIONS,
CRANBOURN-ST., LONDON, W.C.

THOMAS BARRASFORD TOUR.

CALLS for MONDAY, JUNE 18, 1906.

REHEARSAL EVERY MONDAY AT ALL OUR PLACES AT 12 NOON.

HIPPODROME, BRIGHTON.
Harmony Four, Rose Harvey, Dan Thomas, Lawrence Barclay, Simms and Simms, Olive Trio, Jack Pleasants, Pictures, George Leyton.

TIVOLI, LEEDS.
Closed for Alterations.—Re-opening on August Bank Holiday.

HIPPODROME, LIVERPOOL.
Edwin Boyde, Harris and Worth, Maud Vera, T. E. Finglass, Australian Twin Andersons, Otto and Olga, Arthur Kenny, Arthur Reece, Fred Curran, Geo. Prince, Pictures, George D'Albert, Yamamoto and Koyoshi.

HIPPODROME, BIRMINGHAM.
De Marce, Sisters Cora, Mlle. Haydee, Graham-Reed Trio, Sable Fern, Fred Cary, Max Waldon, Musical Silvo, Tiny Arnold, Pictures, Foreman and Fannan.

PAVILION, NEWCASTLE.
Four Holloways, Will Souls, Percy Hannan, Webb and Branston, Gipsy Woolf, Martin Conway, Maidie Scott, Will Driscoll, Schivonis, Pictures, &c.

ALHAMBRA, PARIS.
"Harvest Home," Mons. D'Musto, Sisters Carina, Speedwell, Ada and August, Paul Vandy, Mlle. Clotilde, Pictures, Abdullah and La Superbe.

BRITANNIA, HOXTON.
Grand Variety Company.

LYRIC, LIVERPOOL.
Grand Variety Company.

HIPPODROME, ST. HELENS.
Grand Variety Company.

Bill Matter must be sent to the London Office Two Weeks before opening, or Artists will run the risk of having their Engagements cancelled.

All Artists must carry Band Parts for Full Band.

All communications to be addressed to the London Office,

11, LEICESTER PLACE, LEICESTER SQUARE, W.

Telephone—6824 Gerrard. Telegrams—"Barrasford, London."

THE MONTE CARLO PUBLISHING CO.,

3, BERNERS STREET, OXFORD STREET, W.

"SIXPENNY SUCCESSES." CHAMPION "SONG-PLACERS" OF THE WORLD!

PIERROTS! DO NOT MISS OUR GREAT SEASIDE SUCCESS!

"EV'RYTHING'S AN 'EXTRA' IN THE SEASON."

(By H. K. HAMILTON FIELD.)

Other Terrific Pierrot Successes.

"BAMBOO BUNGALOW." (LAWRANCE & MELLOR.)
The Rag-time Rage of the Seaside.

"WIDOW DOOLIN." (J. F. LAMBE.)
An Irish Lilt which the very waves repeat!

"ZING TA-RA-RA BAND." (BERT DELMAR & GEORGE BURTON.)
A Brilliant Ensemble March Song, full of "Ginger."

PROFESSIONAL COPIES OF ANY OF ABOVE, 3 STAMPS EACH, POST FREE.

WRITE FOR OUR COMPLETE LIST OF POPULAR SONGS.

Professionals in search of "FREE SONG HITS" Write or Call! Write or Call!
THE MONTE CARLO PUBLISHING CO., 3, Berners Street, Oxford Street, London, W.
Telegrams, "Lyrical, London." Telephone, 12805 Central.

LIVERMORE PALACE TOUR.
ABERDEEN,
DUNDEE,
SUNDERLAND,
BRISTOL,
PLYMOUTH.

Address all Communications, Billing, Matter, &c., (3 clear weeks in advance of opening) to Messrs. ROSEN and BLISS, 66, Whitcomb-street, Leicester-square, London, W.C.
Telegrams: "Twopence, London."
'Phone, 7623 Gerrard.
N.B.—Interviewed by appointment only.

GLASGOW PAVILION.
CALL for Monday, June 18, 1906.
Rehearsal at 11 o'clock sharp for Harry Tate's No. 1 "Motoring" Co., Ethel Dove, Avrignys, Tom Lloyd, Carlotta Levey, Mat Wilkinson's Co., Ruby Bijou, Two Cabiacs, Robert Beever's Comicscope, Kelly and Gillette.
PAVILION, Ltd., GREENOCK, (late Palace).
Rehearsal at 2 o'clock for Burmese Gong, Charles Dillon, Beattie Bloom, Redferns, Whisper, O'Malley and Brown's Pictures.
All bill matter to be sent fourteen days ahead to Pavilion Theatre, Glasgow. Artists are also requested to send words of choruses and music in advance, so that the permanent ladies' choir may learn them.
SAMUEL LLOYD.

THE PALACE, GLASGOW.

TO ARTISTS AND AGENTS.
All future bookings from April 7, 1906, will be made direct from the above hall. Artists holding Contracts must please forward bill matter direct to the Palace, Glasgow, two weeks in advance. Call for Monday, June 18: Peter Bermingham, Heeley and Meeley, Two Eltons, Hill and Whittaker, Herbert Lloyd, Tom Lowen, Arthur Rigby, V. L. Granville, Jose Collins.

Address, MANAGER, Palace Theatre, Glasgow.

Rehearsal every Monday at 12 o'clock.

NOTICE TO ARTISTS AND AGENTS.
All Artists holding contracts with the LONDON and COLLINS'S MUSIC HALLS are hereby notified that these Halls WILL BE CLOSED for redecorations from July 9 to August 4, 1906.

Contracts for this period can be cancelled or dates re-arranged.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO ARTISTS.
Notice is hereby given that Mr. CHARLES PARKER terminates his proprietorship of the Pier Pavilion, Southport, on Saturday, June 23, and all Contracts after that date will be null and void unless sent in to the new proprietors,
The Southend Pier Co., Ltd., for endorsement.
Dated this 9th day of June.
CHARLES PARKER.

LEST YOU FORGET,
send to-day for a list of our Travelling Hampers, the most reliable on the market; they wear the longest.
W. T. ELLMORE and SON, Ltd.,
Thurmaston, near Leicester; 16, City-road, E.C.; 162, London-road, Manchester.

CHAPPELL'S PROMENADE CONCERT COMPANY, GREAT YARMOUTH.

Sole Proprietor, Mr. JAMES CHAPPELL.

Commencing, Monday, June 18.

Every morning at 11. Afternoon, at 3. Evening, 7 till 9 o'clock.

The following Artists appear during the season:—
The Falcons, Miss Edie Cameron,
J. H. Crew, Harry Barker,
Leslie Reed, Ernest D'Almaine.
Will Netta, The Nettas,
The Camerons, Sisters Hula,
Bros. Hannaway, Ada Victor,
Miss Minnie Leverentz, Pauletti,
Clyo and Rochelle, Bernard and Weston,
Miss Adrienne, Harry Mansfield,
Caselli and James, Bros. Lavelle,
Prof. Deveraux, The Bowery Boys,
Carl Howard, Mdlle Sylvesto,
Joe Cookson, Hurley and Late,
Fred Dice, Amy Allnutt.

HOWARD LESLEIGH, Pianist and Accompanist.
HARRY BARKER, Acting-Manager.
HARRY BARTLETT, Stage Manager.

THE WARWICK PAGEANT
(On the Banks of Shakespeare's Avon),
IN THE BEAUTIFUL GROUNDS
OF WARWICK CASTLE,
JULY 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 1906,
Living, Moving, Speaking Pictures of the History of England from A.D. 40 to A.D. 1694.

This GREAT FOLK PLAY, organised and conducted by LOUIS N. PARKER.
Will be acted by Two THOUSAND Inhabitants of Warwick, in Magnificent Costumes, accurately copied from contemporary designs. COVERED AUDITORIUM. EVERY SEAT NUMBERED AND RESERVED.
PRICES: £2 2s., £1 1s., 10s. 6d., 5s., and 3s. 6d.
Early application advisable. Special railway facilities.

For Seats, Lodgings, and all information, apply to THE SECRETARY, WARWICK PAGEANT, WARWICK.

ARTISTES WANTED
requiring Sound Investments and Residences for Occupation, Rents Collected, Estates Managed, Mortgages Arranged, Surveys and Valuations made, to consult Messrs. CRABB & SON, Auctioneers, Surveyors, Estate Agents, and Valuers, 100, Brixton Hill, S.W. (close to Water Lane). Telephone 643, Brixton, Manager, Mr. WALTER INGS.
Note.—Messrs. Crabb and Son have the honour of being Estate Agents to the élite of the Profession.

MACNAGHTEN VAUDEVILLE CIRCUIT.

Proprietor and Director General:
Mr. FRANK MACNAGHTEN.
Business Manager for the Circuit:
Mr. E. P. LAWTON.
Special Representative:
Mr. BRANDON BLAKE.
Secretary:
Miss AMY ROBINSON.

EXECUTIVE OFFICES:
KING'S CHAMBERS, ANGEL STREET, SHEFFIELD.
Telegraphic Address, "MACNAGHTEN, SHEFFIELD."
Telephone No. 3449, SHEFFIELD.

Accountants: Messrs. HARDY, LAWTON and MOULSON, York-street, Sheffield.

CALLS
FOR WEEK COMMENCING
MONDAY, JUNE 18, 1906.

PROVINCIAL CIRCUIT.
SPECIAL NOTICE.
Rehearsal at all Halls, Monday, at 12·0 sharp.

PAVILION, LEICESTER.
Matinée Thursday.
J. G. Johnson and Co., Daisy Rhyl, George Grogie, Keith and Merson, Pallister's Bioscope, Duncan and Brasque.

PALACE, LINCOLN.

GRAND, SHEFFIELD.
Diana Hope and Co., Kisbey, Louie Hurman, Adey Spencer, Jack Foley, George Bendon, Pallister's Bioscope.
Matinée Monday.

PALACE, BATH.

PALACE, BRADFORD.
La Faille Troupe, The Henres, Lily Sharplin, Virto, King Roy, Paragon Trio, Harry Pleon, Tennyson and Wallis, Raymond's Bio-Tableaux.
Matinée Thursday.

PALACE, BLACKBURN.
Nat Clifford, The Elgars, Molly Doon, Ariel and Astarte, Ruth Lytton, Lambert and Hands, Percy Curry, Eight Sunrays, Raymond's Bio-Tableaux.
Matinées Thursday and Saturday.

PALACE, HALIFAX.
Yags and Mary Trio, Les Laurens, Marion Scott, Emma Don and Co., Bros. Redmond, Theresa and May, Four Burnells, Ford and Barris, Baroni and Kemp, Raymond's Bio-Tableaux.
Matinée Thursday.

PALACE, W. HARTLEPOOL.
Harry Roxbury and Co., in "The Prince of Monte Carlo," Barrington, Three Delaries, Ray Royal, Goldini Trio, Carlton, Raymond's Bio-Tableaux.

PALACE, SOUTHAMPTON.
Chung Ling Soo and Company, Raymond's Bio-Tableaux.

KING'S, NOTTINGHAM.

THEATRE ROYAL, ROTHERHAM.
Dr. Walford Bodie and Company.

THEATRE ROYAL, ATTERCLIFFE.
Closed.

THEATRE ROYAL, CHESTERFIELD.
"Lady Godiva."

THEATRE ROYAL, LEEDS.
"Defending His Honour."

LONDON DISTRICT.
General Manager, Mr. FREDERIC BAUGH.
Telephone, 5954 Avenue.
Telegrams, "Stageyness, London."
Rehearsal at all Halls, Monday at 12 o'clock.

PALACE, BOW.
Telephone, 417 East.
Matinée every Monday.
Marie Blythe, Ethel Loftus, Gladys Williams, Lacey's Erascope Albert Wyndham and Co., F. Hardie and Co., Jack Mackenzie and Co., Percy Dalton, Martinelli and Wallace.

LYCEUM THEATRE.

THE BRITANNIA.
Telephone, 7285 Central.
Matinées, Monday and Thursday.
Mephisto, Bensley Evans and Company, Edie Endon, Flo Warner, Carl Rosine, Charles Coborn, Gus Harris, Raymond's Bioscope, the Gilbert Girls, Percy Murary and Company, Joe Oliver, the Lynches.

FORESTERS.
Telephone, 5954 Avenue.
Matinées Monday and Thursday.
Dave O. Toole, Larry Lewis, Andy Fagan, Society Quartette, Raymond's Bioscope, Madge Morley and Company, Carlotta De Yonson and Company, Lew Lake and Company, "My Pal Jerry," G. H. Keith, Andie Burn.

SADLER'S WELLS.
Telephone, 5890 Central.
Matinée every Monday.
Will Farrell, Lottie Lennox, Raymond's Bioscope, Frances Drew, Eugene Miska, G. M. Marriott and Company, the Two Wiltons, Sadie Simpson, "Muggins, V.C.," Kittie Corrie.

SURREY THEATRE.
Telephone, 1460 Hop
Matinée every Monday.
Raymond's Bioscope, The Katos, Mansell Fane, Walker and Lake, Emmie Ames, Harry Bancroft, B. H. Almon, Johnny Walker, Vaudeville Sketch Company, Helms and Cozens, Amiel, J. L. Shine and Co.
All Artists engaged for Surrey Theatre must bring 14 Band parts.

Artists please Note.
That under no circumstances whatever will permission be given to Artists who are booked the Macnaghten Circuit to appear at the Queen's, Poplar.

All Bill Matter or Notification of Appearance must be sent in 14 days prior to opening. All Artists must attend Band Rehearsal, or their Contracts may be cancelled at the option of the Management.

N.B.—All Billing Matter and Business Communications relating to the Provincial Circuit must be addressed to "King's Chambers, Angel-street, Sheffield."

PROFESSIONAL APARTMENTS.
Three Lines, ONE SHILLING.
Thirteen Insertions, TWELVE SHILLINGS.
Address, PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

BIRMINGHAM.—Sitting-rooms, Bedrooms, Bath (h. and c.), Pianos, Good Cooking, Ten Minutes Theatres. 21, Duchess-rd., Edgbaston.

BRADFORD.—Professionals' House of Call is the Oddfellows' Arms (Saloon Bar Entrance, opposite People's Palace). John Bramham.

BRIGHTON.—Seven Stars, Ship-street, opposite G.P.O. The Professional House. Sunday Réunions. Always a hearty welcome. Luncheons, &c., at pop. prices. DE COSTA, Proprietor.

BRISTOL.—Prince's Hotel, adjoining Prince's Theatre; select, comfortable; good cuisine. Terms upon application to John Hobbs.

EASTBOURNE. — Devonshire Hotel, adjoining the Hippodrome. The Professional House. Agent for M.H.A.B.A. W. Webb.

HULL.—Clifton House, 110A, Anlaby-rd. Near Theatres and Halls. Very best at moderate charges. Manageress, Mrs. W. Horton.

LEEDS.—Mrs. Pincus, Rockingham Arms. New room, the Salon Victoria, for Pro.'s Only. Social Réunions every Sunday Evening.

LONDON, S.E.—Mrs. Bartlett, 41, St. Mary's-square, Kennington. Combined Rooms, Vacant Sunday; gas, good cooking.

LONDON, S.E. — Apartments. Good and Reasonable. EVANS, 198, Kennington-road.

LONDON, S.E.—Sitting-room, Front, Piano, Bedroom, also Combined, Moderate. Liberty Sunday, 1d. Motor Strand. Davis, 30, Grosvenor-terrace, Walworth-road.

LONDON, S.W.—Cards not allowed in window, but comfortable rooms, with piano, can always be found at 9 and 11, Claverton-street.

LONDON, S.W.—Well-furnished Bedroom and Sitting-room to let. Extra Bedroom if required. Also a large combined room.—Mrs. Cope, 122, Brixton-road.

LONDON, W.C.—21, Guilford-st., Russell-sq., F. Apartments, Superior; Electric Light, Bath, Tele. Moderate. Board if required.

LONDON, W.C.—The Artists' Home. Apartments and Board Residence, Small and Large Parties specially catered for; close to theatres. Catalpha, 6, Torrington-square.

MANCHESTER.—Bed-sitting and Combined Rooms; pianos, bath, &c.; good cooking. Mrs. Prince, 37, Rumford-st., Oxford-st.

PRESTON. — Stanley Arms Hotel. Sitting-rooms, Bedrooms, Bath, Piano, 3 minutes from all places of amusement. F. Halliday.

THE CABIN RESTAURANT,
Union-passage, Bull-street, End, Birmingham. Bass from the Wood, London Imperial Stout from the Wood, genuine Munich Beer, Snacks, Oysters, Sandwiches, and Salads, Fully Licensed. Only the Best. Proprietor, H. WORMALD. Open on Sunday.

BRAID HILLS HOTEL, Morningside, Edinburgh. — Charmingly situated Hotel, completely appointed, every modern luxury, uninterrupted views of the City and the surrounding district; 450ft. above sea level, pure mountain air, splendid public golf course adjoining Hotel; also Ladies' Course; cable cars to and from City every three minutes up to 11.30 p.m. Terms moderate. For descriptive Brochure apply to Manager.

HOME SCHOOL FOR GIRLS AND LITTLE BOYS. Every care. Professional Dancing taught. Recommended. Healthy Situation. PRINCIPAL, 103, Balham Park-road, Wandsworth Common, S.W.

MRS. BANDMANN-PALMER'S TOUR.
MRS. BANDMANN PALMER can receive a Lady and Gentleman as Pupils in her Répertoire Company for the Autumn. Address, 36, Gloucester-road, Kew, Surrey.

H. & M. RAYNE,
115, 117, 119,
WATERLOO-ROAD,
LONDON, S.E.
(opposite Waterloo Stn.)
THEATRICAL STORES, SHOEMAKERS,
and COSTUMIERS.

We supply the Leading Proprietors of the Show World with Smart Up-to-Date Parade Costumes, Tights, and Wigs.

DANCING BOOTS and SHOES a Speciality.

Everything for the Showman's use at the lowest possible prices.

TO SHOWMEN ENTREPRENEURS, AND CINEMATOGRAPH SHOW EXPLOITERS.

A CINEMATOGRAPH SHOW.

THE
"CRUISE OF THE OPHIR."

ONE THOUSAND POUNDS
FOR TWENTY-FIVE SHILLINGS.

TO THE PUBLISHER, "THE ERA."

Sir,—
It may possibly interest you to learn that a Quarter-Column Advertisement in "The Era" (One Insertion) resulted in over £1,000 Bookings for an Entertainment with which I was connected some little time ago. The Entertainment was entitled

"THE CRUISE OF THE OPHIR,"

Cinématograph Show, and the Bookings were effected within a week.
Yours faithfully,
H. GOLDSMITH-WHITTON,
Late Manager, West's "Our Navy," &c.
London, May 19, 1904.

"THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE AMERICAN THEATRICAL PROFESSION."
ON SALE WHEREVER THERE IS A PLACE OF AMUSEMENT.

NEW YORK DRAMATIC NEWS.

ISSUED WEEKLY with from 24 to 28 Pages, handsomely Illustrated, with Reports from over 1,000 Cities and Towns in the United States and the Foreign Stage, covered by Special Correspondents.
Has the exclusive patronage of Messrs. CHARLES FROHMAN, KLAW and ERLANGER, LIEBLER and CO., WILLIAM GILLETTE, NIXON and ZIMMERMAN, GEORGE EDWARDES, NAT C. GOODWIN, HENRY W. SAVAGE, and, in fact, every prominent Theatrical Manager.
Foreign Subscription, ONE POUND A YEAR. Advertising Rates, One Shilling per Line.
London Office, Clarence House, King William-street, E.C. JOHN PARKER, Manager.
Communications may be addressed to MAX ELIOT, Special London Correspondent, 3, Queen's Gate Terrace, S.W.

NEW YORK DRAMATIC NEWS,
BROADWAY THEATRE BUILDINGS, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

THE NEW YORK DRAMATIC MIRROR.

HARRISON GREY FISKE, Editor and President.

ESTABLISHED JAN. 4, 1879.

Publication Office: 121, WEST FORTY-SECOND-STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Leading American Publication devoted to the Dramatic and Vaudeville Stage.
Correspondence from European Cities. Telegraphic Reports. Criticism.
On Sale at Norman's Agency, 33, Haymarket, S.W.; Pall-mall Exchange, Carlton-street, Regent-street, and elsewhere.
Subscription, £1 3s. per year. Single Copies, 6d.
Members of the Profession visiting America are invited to use the "Mirror's" Post-Office Facilities.

If you contemplate an American Tour send the news ahead through the medium of an advertisement in

THE BILLBOARD

AMERICA'S LEADING THEATRICAL WEEKLY.
It has the largest circulation in the United States of any paper in its class. Advertising Rates 8s. 4d. per single column inch. This double column space 16s. 8d. single insertion.
London Offices: Lisle Street, corner Leicester Place, W. C. C. Bartram, Manager.

THE PATHÉ CINEMATOGRAPH COMPANY, LTD,

Telegrams: "PATHE, LONDON." 14, 16, 18, Lamb's Conduit Street, High Holborn. Telephone: 2298 CENTRAL.

HOLIDAYS.

Code Word, "BRIDE."

A most delightful film, depicting the holiday adventures of three little children sent to the country by their father to a brother farmer. Beer taps are turned on, fowls, geese, &c., are set loose and chased, donkeys ridden, cows milked in the most mischievous way. In desperation the farmer writes to his brother to take the children home, which he does, much to the chagrin of the young imps.

The quality, as usual, is perfect. About 560ft. The Subject, £14.

EXTRAORDINARY DISLOCATION.

Code Word, "BRISQUE."

The very amusing antics of a clown are shown. His head flies off in a most natural way; he shrivels to a skeleton; drinks from a bottle in an extraordinary manner. About 100ft. The Subject, £2 10s.

THE TROUBLESOME FLEA.

Code Word, "BROCATELLE."

At an evening reception one of the guests is attacked by this unpleasant little insect, and out of sheer annoyance removes his nether garments in an adjoining room. Unfortunately they fall out of the window. The other guests, bursting into the room, finding him in this dilemma, chase him into the street. He runs full tilt into a policeman, who likewise gives chase—into the country—up a tree—when the guest removes the policeman's trousers and tries to don them instead—finally coming a cropper in an outhouse.

Exceptionally clear, fine detail, and very amusing. About 328ft. The Subject, £8 4s.

MARRIAGE OF PRINCESS ENA AND THE KING OF SPAIN.

Code Word, "BRODERIE."

Unequalled for quality and steadiness. Comparison will prove our statement. Judge for yourselves. About 540ft. The Subject, £13 10s.

THE ELECTIONS.

Code Word, "BRIBE."

The candidate at home to callers. Double bribery. An interrupted meeting. The rival bill-stickers. A small coin makes a big row. Nursing baby, and the consequences. A very fine pig, and nice-tasting food he is fed on. A visit to a laundry. A quarrel ends in a ducking. Black-balled. Meetings.—Persons who greeted a prospective member enthusiastically now change sides, and the candidate has a very unpleasant time. Eventually he arrives home with a black eye and his clothes torn, and altogether in a very deplorable state. About 540ft. The Subject, £13 10s. 0d.

THE RIDERLESS BICYCLE.

Code Word, "BRASSARD."

The circus. The ringmaster and his friend. Amusing antics. A bicycle is brought into the ring, and, urged by a whip, careers round and round, jumping over obstacles and through a hoop. A back-kicker. The bicycle will only own one master, and finally bows its adieus to the audience.

About 200ft. The Subject, £5.

THE RAJAH'S CASKET.

Code Word, "BREVETER."

The Rajah's Casket is very closely guarded, but a wizard manages to disappear with it. The Rajah summonses another wizard, who, after showing a vision of the casket being taken through the air on the back of a dragon, leads the Rajah through the country and over the mountains to a cave where it has been carried. The Rajah here witnesses a series of beautiful scenes, the stalactites being transformed into gorgeously-dressed women who dance before him, and while they are dancing many beautiful changes are made in the colours of their dresses. The Rajah is so pleased at the recovery of the casket that he presents each of the dancers with a string of pearls. About 560ft. The Subject, £14. Colouring extra, net £5 10s.

A DETECTIVE'S TOUR ROUND THE WORLD.

Code Word, "BRIMER."

A Detective's life is full of ups and downs, and many exciting incidents are faithfully portrayed in this excellent film, which shows a detective's pursuit round the world of a fraudulent bankrupt.

The flight in disguise. The detective just misses the train. At the Suez Canal. Scenes on the banks. A narrow escape. Bankrupt drugs the detective's drink. False arrest of the detective. A festival in Calcutta. Brilliant procession of elephants, &c. Bombay Pagoda. Close pursuit and another narrow escape on horseback. Chased on an elephant, In an opium-smoker's den. Visions of the bankrupt and his pursuer. In Yokohama. Missed by a hair's breadth. Flight to America. The detective is foiled again through getting mixed up with a procession of citizens advocating the election of President Roosevelt. The detective is captured by redskins, bound to a tree, and badly wounded. Rescue by the bankrupt. Pursuer and pursued are now close friends. The bankrupt saves the detective's life, and the latter tears up his warrant. Leaving New York. A friend in need. An unexpected partnership.

About 1,150ft. The Subject, £28 15s. Colouring extra, net, £3.

REMEMBER—Our Pictures are absolutely steady. 20% DISCOUNT TO ALL CUSTOMERS OFF LIST PRICES. Send for list of our Stock Soiled Films.

NEW FILMS

MARVELLOUS SWORD FEATS
by Sq.-Corpl. Major F. EGGELTON,
Instructor of Fencing,
Royal Horse Guards.
Length, 280ft. Price, £7.
Code Word, "Sword."

SCENES ON A SWAN FARM.
Taken at Abbotsbury, Dorset, by special permission of the Right Hon. Lord Ilchester. One of the prettiest natural pictures ever taken.
Length, 280ft. Price, £7.
Code Word, "Swans."

A LONDON STREET BALLET.
One of the sights of London is to see the remarkable agility of slum children in dancing to street organs.
Length, 220ft. Price, £5 10s.
Code Word, "Ballet."

TO EXHIBITORS.
Please note that the Prices of all our Films are subject to a discount of 20 %

Write for Illustrated Price List post free.

CRICKS & SHARP
76 Queen's Rd. Kingsway W.C.
Telegrams: Disclosure London

NEW BIOSCOPE PICTURES

FILMS FOR HIRE.
FILMS FOR HIRE.
FILMS FOR HIRE.

NEW BIOSCOPE PICTURES

Are shown all over the world nightly. Mr. J. Woolf at the QUEENS, POPLAR, is starring us weekly, and makes no secret of the fact that we are his mainstay by giving us a life's contract.

Telephone, No. 6,473 Central.
Telegraphic Address, "Newbio, London."
5, Cecil-court,
Charing-cross, W.C.

FILMS FOR HIRE.
FILMS FOR HIRE.
FILMS FOR HIRE.

NEW BIOSCOPE PICTURES

NEW FILMS.

THE SPANISH ROYAL WEDDING.

A magnificent film, showing the gorgeous procession and the King and Queen leaving the church after the ceremony.

Splendid Portraits. 305ft. Usual Price.

A TRIP TO PORTUGAL.

A series of surpassing beauty—absolutely stereoscopic on the screen. Full of interest and animation.

No. 453. PANORAMA OF VIGO. A splendid view from the shore.
Length 135 feet. Price £3 7s. 6d.

No. 454. SCENES IN VIGO. Showing the market place, &c., &c.
Length 220 feet. Price £5 10s.

No. 451. APPROACHING LISBON. A very fine picture, showing the shipping and small craft fringing the shore, in stereoscopic photography.
Length 260 feet. Price £6 10s.

No. 448. LISBON FROM AN ELEVATOR. A magnificent panorama.
Length 168ft. Price £4 4s.

No. 449. TRAMWAY RIDE THROUGH LISBON. Showing the American Embassy, the Avenida, and the Praca de D. Pedro.
Length 158ft. Price £3 19s.

No. 463.
THE CATCH OF THE SEASON.

A young lady, of uncertain age, advertises for a husband. Suitors galore arrive. A chase ensues, full of "go," and eventually a victimised man is caught in the toils.

Length 446 feet. Price £11 3s.

No. 427.
THE TRAITOROUS GUEST.

Thieves make a big haul at a silver-wedding banquet, and are eventually captured in a sewer in the act of flying from justice. Striking situations. Excellent quality.

Length 550 feet. Price £13 15s.

No. 467.
SAN FRANCISCO AFTER THE DISASTER.

A unique series of pictures, showing the awful results of the Earthquake and Fire. The pictures are all genuine.

Length 345 feet. Price £8 12s. 6d.

NEW CLARENDON FILM, "HOW THEY KILLED THE CAT."

The opinion of a well-known exhibitor:
"As good as 'OFF FOR THE HOLIDAYS.'"
Length 425ft.

ENGLAND VERSUS JAPAN.

By the courtesy of Messrs. Gale & Polden we are able to offer a magnificent series of films, illustrating the Sports at the Royal Naval Barracks, Portsmouth, on June 6th, between the Japanese and British Sailors. The series is intensely interesting, and abounds in humorous incidents.

COPIES ARE NOW READY FOR DELIVERY.

LOCAL PICTURES.

We can send an operator, equipped with camera and film for taking films of local interest, at an hour's notice. Our work is the best; and we still hold the record for quick delivery. Prices on application.

RENTING DEPARTMENT.

A unique collection of films, embracing every class of subject—and including the latest and most successful pictures—available for hire. Full particulars on application.

THE CINEMATOGRAPH SPECIALISTS,
LONDON:
22 to 27, CECIL COURT, W.C.
(OPPOSITE ALHAMBRA.)

L. Gaumont & Co

And at PARIS, BARCELONA, and BERLIN.

Telephone: 2430 Gerrard. Telegrams: "Objectil, London."

Hepaix

No. 1061.

WHEN FATHER ELOPED WITH COOK.

Cook and her employer being on very affectionate terms give vent to their feelings during the absence of the young master. They are interrupted in their cooing by his sudden return, and he at once bundles the cook out into her own apartment, and sternly rebukes his protesting parent. The son, having to go out again, orders the old man with many threats to abstain from any more love-making. As soon as the old chap is alone again in walks cook, and after glancing to see that their disturber has quite departed, she discloses her plan for elopement, to which he readily agrees. She places him in a chair and gives him a quick clean shave. Then, producing some female attire, she dresses her beau so as to completely disguise him. The scheming woman withdraws to put on her own hat, and the old man, after clearing out the contents of the cash box, sits down at the desk to write a farewell note to his son, which he pins on to an overcoat hanging up. The old chap breaks down as he is dragged outside by the cook, but with pleadings and stronger persuasion, she leads him to an organ barrow drawn by a donkey which is outside waiting, and taking their seats she drives off.

The note is very soon discovered upon the son's return, and he at once makes preparations for forcible methods for their return. He arms himself with a whip, and, mounting a bicycle, follows in hot pursuit, picking up on the road a handkerchief which he recognises; he puts on speed, hoping to catch the erring pair. The runaways, abandoning their conveyance, proceed on foot, but are overtaken by the irate son. Seizing his parent he unmasks him in the presence of a constable, who seeing a "lady" apparently roughly handled, pounces upon the assailant and throws him down. The artful old man realising the only way of escape, smashes a window, and he and his companion are marched off to the police station and charged.

A week later:—The lover, having served seven days, has his money returned to him, and with bribes to the inspector and the policeman in charge is allowed to quit by the back door. The wrathful offspring is waiting outside, whip in hand, for the prisoner's release, but with astonishment he sees the pair come round from the back, arm-in-arm. Rushing at them he is about to belabour the old man, but is quickly pulled up by the bribed policeman, who drags him inside for brawling, and the happy pair, relieved of pressing attentions, walk away to be married.

Length, 500ft. Price, £12 10s.

HEPWORTH MANUFACTURING Co LTD
TELEPHONE No. 2451 GERRARD.
Telegrams: "HEPTOIC," London.
CINEMATOGRAPHERS,
15 and 17, Cecil Court, Charing Cross Road, London, W.C.

PAUL
LATEST FILM.

Curate's Dilemma;
OR THE Story of an Ant Hill.

SHOWING:

Off to the Country for a Picnic.
Merry Games—Kiss in the Ring—Blind Man's Buff—Potato Race.
Tired Out.
The Curate Rests—Upon an Ant Hill.
Covered in Ants.
Departure for Home.
Relief, a carriage to myself, I will take my trousers off and shake them out of window—Alas, the wind too strong,
Trousers Blown Away.
The Curate's Predicament.

Code Word, "CURATE." Length, 290ft.

ROBT. W. PAUL,
68, HIGH HOLBORN, LONDON, W.C.
Telephone: 4614 Holborn.
Telegrams: "Calibrate, London."

RUFFELL'S IMPERIAL BIOSCOPE.
CLEARING SEASON.

20,000ft. at ¾d. per foot.
14,000ft. at ¾d. per foot.
12,000ft. at 1d. per foot.
13,500ft. at 1½d. per foot.
11,350ft. at 2d. and 2½d. per foot.
9 copies of the Boat Race.
12 Football Final, 1906.
6 Launch of the Dreadnought.
17 Derby's, 1906.

Write for List,
Head Office,
12, Little Newport-street, W.
Telephone, 6695 Gerrard.
Telegraph, "Ruffoscope. London."

LIVING PICTURES.
FILM LIBRARY,
FILMS ON HIRE.
Reasonable Terms. Good Programmes.
THE MICROGRAPH CO., LTD.
7 Great Queen Street, Kingsway, London.

SPENCER BROTHERS, Ltd.,
AERONAUTS
TO THE CRYSTAL PALACE AND PRINCIPAL FETES AND GALAS.
Airship Flights, Balloon Ascents, Captive Balloons, Balloon Races, Parachute Descents (from Gas Balloons or Hot Air Balloons), Lady and Gentlemen Parachutists, Displays of Small Balloons and Figures.
Terms upon Application.
45B, Aberdeen Park, Highbury, N.
Telegrams: Aeronaut, London. Phone, 1893 Dalston.

ROYAL WEDDING AT MADRID.

WARWICK - -	1st	to Show	in	PARIS.
,,	1st	,, ,,	,,	LONDON.
,,	1st	,, ,,	,,	NEW YORK.
,,	1st	,, ,,	,,	NEW ZEALAND.
,,	1st	,, ,,	,,	AUSTRALIA.

Without any exception whatever absolutely the Finest Picture taken of the event.

ASK ANYONE.

No. 8,030. Length, 425ft. Price, £10 12s. 6d. (Subject). Code, "ENA."

SUPERB PHOTOGRAPHIC QUALITY. ROCK STEADY.

TWO FINE BOAT PICTURES.

H.M.S. MONTAGU ON THE ROCKS AT LUNDY.

A fine subject. Taken during the terrible gale of Friday, June 1.
No. 8,029. Length, 200ft. Price, £5 0s. 0d. (Subject). Code Word, "MONTAGU."

LAUNCH OF SS. LUSITANIA.

An Exclusive Picture, secured by courtesy of the Cunard Steamship Company.
An extremely pretty picture of a Launch.
1. On the Decks. A Marvellous Sight. 3. Off Down the Slips.
2. The Christening Ceremony. 4. Taking the Water. Propellers, End View.
No. 8,033. Length, 268ft. Price, £6 12s. 6d. (Subject). Code Word, "CUNARD."

THE GRAND PRIX.

No. 8,034. Length, 155ft. Price, £3 17s. 6d. (Subject). Code Word, "PRIX."
Very Good Quality. An Excellent View of the Race.

WE ARE TAKING THE CORONATION IN NORWAY.

The WARWICK TRADING CO.,
THE WORLD'S HEADQUARTERS FOR ANIMATED PHOTOGRAPHY,
4 & 5, WARWICK COURT, HOLBORN, LONDON, W.C.
Telephone: 1135 Holborn. Telegrams: "COUSINHOOD, LONDON."
PARIS HOUSE—16, RUE ST. CECILE.

The Reason We Excelled in our Productions of the Grand Series illustrating the principal events of

THE ROYAL MARRIAGE FÊTES, MADRID, was due to the fact that we had expert Photographers at Work, and that we had EXCLUSIVE CONCESSIONS Graciously Granted us by His Majesty, King Alfonso XIII., of Spain.

SOLE PROPRIETORS and MANUFACTURERS of the celebrated

URBAN BIOSCOPE

Used at the Alhambra, Hippodrome, Coliseum, Polytechnic, Twenty Moss-Stoll Empire Theatres, Lyceum and all other Barrasford Theatres, West's Our Navy, Modern Marvel Company, and Hundreds of other Principal Theatres and Exhibitions throughout England.

To amuse and entertain is good.
To do both and instruct is better.

URBANORA

We Put the World Before You.
(COPYRIGHTED.)

The Most Perfect, Up-to-Date, Exclusive Pictures in the World.

SOLE REPRESENTATIVES—
WIELAND AGENCY,
16, St. Martin's Street,
Leicester Square, London, W.C.
Telephone, 6788 GERRARD. Telegrams, "WIELDERS, LONDON."

WE THUS OFFER THE SPLENDID PICTURES OF:

THE ROYAL WEDDING PROCESSION. (Which no other Firm procured.)

THE ROYAL COACH, 30 SECONDS AFTER THE BOMB OUTRAGE.
(One of our operators was photographing within 60 yards from scene of explosion, and got to the spot before any other photographer arrived. Absolutely no other Cinematographer allowed near the scene.)

THE QUEEN'S CORONATION PROCESSION FROM CHAPEL TO PALACE. (No other Photographer allowed.)

THE KING OF SPAIN LEAVING THE CATHEDRAL. (No other Firm could procure.)

THE ROYAL BULL FIGHT, MADRID. (We were absolutely the only Photographers allowed in the Bull Ring.)
Do not have pawned off on you an ordinary Bull Fight as the Royal Bull Fight by any other firm. It is the first time in 20 years that the Royal Coach has entered a Bull Ring, and our picture is therefore the only genuine one. Look out for the Royal Coach and the King and Queen in the Royal Box.

THE GREAT AUTOMOBILE FÊTE, THE ROYAL REVIEW, ETC. (All Magnificent Pictures of Great Historic Interest.)

"SPEARMINT'S VICTORY." THE DERBY WINNER CAPTURES THE GRAND PRIX-PARIS. (We have been accorded the Exclusive Rights of "THE WARWICK PAGEANT.")
Excellent Views, including Arrival of President Fallieres, Grand Duke Vladimir, &c., &c. Length, 200 feet.

SEND FOR DESCRIPTIVE LIST, FREE.

The CHARLES URBAN TRADING CO., Ltd., 48, Rupert St., LONDON, W.

Telegrams and Cables, "BIOSCOPE, LONDON." Telephone, 3118 CENTRAL.

MANCHESTER: 46, Market St. PARIS: 33, Passage de l'Opera. BARCELONA: Calle Valencia 266. NEW YORK: 116, Nassau St.

JUST OUT.

FAIRS, SHOWS, WAKES.

70,000 SHOWMEN OF THE UNITED KINGDOM

Required to send for

THE SHOWMEN'S YEAR - - - - BOOK

FOR

1906.

EDITED BY THE

Rev. T. HORNE.

ENTIRELY RE-ARRANGED, CORRECTED AND ENLARGED.

100 Pages.

PRICE - - ONE SHILLING.

PRINCIPAL CONTENTS.

British Shows and Showmen.
Constitution and Rules of the "Showmen's Guilds."
Lists of Fairs.
Local Feasts and Wakes.
Synopsis of Bye Laws, &c., &c.

INVALUABLE TO ALL WHO FOLLOW THE FAIR.

SOLD AT

THE ERA BUILDINGS, 5, TAVISTOCK-STREET, LONDON, W.C.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

TO BREWERS, THEATRICAL SYNDICATES, AND OTHERS.
By Order of the Mortgagees.

Messrs. BARKER and FINCH have received instructions to submit to Public Auction at an early date, unless sold privately in the interim, the valuable Lease and possession of the WHITE HORSE (Public House), No. 20, Pitfield-street, Hoxton, N., together with possession of the truly celebrated THEATRE OF VARIETIES, PITFIELD-STREET, both licensed concerns, and now in working order. The theatre has for years past been a highly successful concern, and earned fortunes for previous proprietors. Given good talent and management, a sure return of its former prosperity is sure to accrue.

The Public House is doing a capital counter trade at good profits.

The lease has an unexpired term of ten years at £200 per annum rent.

Full particulars in hand.

Auction offices, 13, Hart-st., Bloomsbury-square.

BIRMINGHAM CITY POLICE.

WANTED, MUSICIANS,

for the BAND of the above-named Force,
Men who can play
the following Instruments:—
OBOE, 1st E FLAT CLARIONET,
B FLAT CLARIONET,
2nd BASSOON or BASS CLARIONET,
BRASS BASS.

Applicants should be between twenty-one and twenty-six years of age, 5ft. 9in. in height, 36in. round chest (in case of a really good performer a slight departure will be made from these conditions), able to read and write well, and to produce satisfactory testimonials as to character.

Wages 25s. a week, rising to 33s. a week, which may be increased by merit to 35s. a week. In addition, each Bandsman is allowed 2s. per week, and when playing at various places other than parks a refreshment allowance of 2s. per day.

Pensions can be obtained on the maximum scale under the Police Act, 1890—after twenty-five years' service equal to 31-50th of annual pay, and after twenty-six years' service equal to two-thirds of annual pay. If injured before then a pension can be obtained under the schedule of the Act.

The Band plays in the parks of the city every evening (except Sunday) in the summer, and during that time it performs ordinary police duty for four hours only. The Band never performs night duty. Every Bandsman has opportunities of obtaining promotion to a higher rank.

Applications to CHARLES HAUGHTON RAFTER,
Chief Constable, Birmingham.

CARL HAGENBECK, THIERPARK, STELLINGEN, NEAR HAMBURG.

Having lately received several consignments of various wild animals and birds, I can offer at very reasonable prices the following:

Four pairs splendid White-Tailed Gnus, fine animals, in perfect health and condition.
Several pairs Eland Antelopes.
Some Beisa, Leucoryx, and Addax Antelopes.
West African and East African Water-Bucks.
And various sorts of Antelopes of the smaller tribe.
A flock of 20 African Ostriches from the Senegal as well as from Somaliland.
I further can offer:
A great collection of the various sorts of Deer, and for Circus, Menageries, and other shows:
18 Elephants, 40 Lions, 12 Tigers, Lots of Panthers, Leopards, and Jaguars.
And hundreds of other animals of various kinds are always on view in my Thierpark at Stellingen.

For particulars apply to above address.

LIVE STOCK NOVELTIES.
JOHN D. HAMLYN,
221, St. George's-street, London Docks.
Telephone, 6341, Avenue. Telegrams, "Hamlyn, London Docks."
White-tailed Gnus,
Ten Sold in Fourteen Days.
only.
1 Adult Pair, in splendid Condition, and
2 half grown Bulls, very Reasonable, at Present for Sale.
The Three Ostriches are sold, so my flock is entirely dispersed; in fact, the whole of the last consignment is disposed of, with the exception of two male springboks, one male steinbok, four penguins, three Cape jumping hares, two Cape sealions, fourteen geese, and four gannets, constituting a Record Fourteen Days' Sale.
Australian Stock Arrived.
Three pairs Bridle Kangaroos, two pairs Red-bellied Kangaroos, one female red, one female Wallaroo, one male Bennett, six splendid emus, usual other stock, Cranes, Monkeys, Wolves, Armadilloes, Baboons, all to be seen at any time at above address.

THE ERA ANNUAL, 1906.
"The Era" Annual for 1906, published at a shilling from 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, combines utility and entertainment. Its former aspect is exemplified by the record of the plays produced last year in London, the provinces, Paris, and Berlin; it also includes an obituary for the year, and lists of the United Kingdom's theatres and music halls. The attractive side of the Annual comprises numerous stories by stage celebrities, whose portraits illustrate the text. It is a delightful budget of good things. Mr. T. P. O'Connor's appreciation of the late Sir Henry Irving is brief, but tender and impressive.—Financier, Jan. 23, '06.

THE ERA ANNUAL, 1906.
"The Era" Annual is published from the offices of the old-established organ of the theatrical profession, 5, Tavistock-street, W.C. As usual, it is a carefully-compiled record of notable events of the year 1905. A pleasing feature is the selection of short stories, after recounting strange experiences, by "stars" of the dramatic and music-hall professions, these being in every case accompanied by photographs of the writers.—Newcastle Daily Journal, Jan. 27, 1906.

THE ERA ANNUAL, 1906.
"The Era" Almanac and Annual for 1906, is not only a valuable collection of information and a history of the dramatic and musical year. It is also a very amusing and entertaining shillingsworth. It contains contributions from many well-known actors and actresses. Mr. Frank Desprez, the editor, contributes a delightful story about an actress who sold her collection of Press notices in order to help a colleague in distress. There are numerous portraits. The lists of English, French, and German plays produced during the year are very useful. Altogether, "The Era" Almanack is indispensable to all interested in the stage.—The Star, Jan. 24, 1906.

THE ERA ANNUAL, 1906.
"The Era" Annual for 1906, 1s. 5, Tavistock-street, W.C. This useful little work, which brings nearly up to date the calendar of dramatic events which is so excellent a feature, is, as usual, full of stories over the signature of prominent stage lights. To those interested in the business of the theatre the work has become a necessity by reason of its valuable record of the progress of the drama.—Financial Times, Jan. 22, '06.

THE ERA ANNUAL, 1906.
"The Era" Annual again makes its welcome appearance. I say welcome because, as a work of theatrical reference, it is always handy to have in the house—or office. In this connection I am glad to note that the lists of play-productions for the past year are given in better type and altogether in a much clearer manner. As of yore, there are sundry stories in prose and verse. The best of these include "Stage Superstitions," by Charles Warner; "Boy Bob at Sea," a poem by Louie Freear; "The Last Muster," a weird tragic military story, by Mr. Joseph Wilson, who has been a soldier himself; and "Nellie Bligh's Notices," a capital theatrical story, by Mr. Frank Desprez.—Referee, Jan. 28, 1906.

SCENE FACTORY,
HULL THEATRE ROYAL AND ALEXANDRA
DON'T be afraid to write for Prices. Nothing too small or too big. Strong Framework. Good Quality Canvas. Models submitted. Properties.
Principal Artist: TOM BOGUE Address: W. MORTON

WILLSONS
Supply STREAMER LETTERS, Mammoth Posters, Day Bills, and the General Run of Show Printing, in First-Class Style.
Streamers—the Largest Assortment in the United Kingdom—
Day Bills, &c., at our Usual Low Rates.
NEW-WALK PRINTING WORKS, LEICESTER.

PIERROT POSTERS and PLANTS for STOCK SEASONS.

STAFFORD & CO., Ltd., Netherfield Notts.

ADMISSION TICKETS In ROLLS or PACKETS for Checking the Drawings.
Printed & Numbered to suit all requirements.
THE GLASGOW NUMERICAL TICKET AND CHECK BOOK PRINTING CO.,
Write Dept. "E" for Prices.
31 Finnieston Street, GLASGOW.

BLOCKS MEMOS
And all PROFESSIONAL PRINTING
WRITE OR CALL FOR SAMPLES
BUNKER 53, CHANDOS STREET, LONDON, W.C.

ENAMELLED IRON SIGNS FOR THEATRES, MUSIC-HALLS, &c.
BUY DIRECT FROM MAKERS
Sanders Enamel Works, BIRMINGHAM.

GOOD PHOTOGRAPHS

are a PERMANENT REMINDER and PERSISTENT RECOMMENDATION.

HAVE THE BEST POSSIBLE. They need cost no more than the other kind.

See our Professional Price List.

THE Hana STUDIOS, Ltd.,
22, BEDFORD STREET, STRAND.

SPECIALTY.—ARTISTIC SHOW FRAMES of Striking and Original Designs for Front of the Theatre.

FIVE HUNDRED REPLIES

IN ANSWER to ONE ADVERTISEMENT in the WANTED COLUMN of
"THE ERA."

Mr. ALBERT HENGLER, writing from the HIPPODROME, GLASGOW, says:—
MY ADVERTISEMENT IN THE LAST ISSUE OF YOUR PAPER BROUGHT ME CLOSE ON 500 REPLIES.

AN EXCELLENT RESULT.

Particulars of THE PUBLISHER,
"THE ERA" BUILDINGS,
5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C
(Two Doors off Wellington-street).

HOTEL PROPRIETORS.
To Hotel Proprietors who regularly file "The Era."
HANDSOME ILLUMINATED METAL TABLETS
of
"THE ERA"
will be supplied gratis on application to the PUBLISHER, "The Era" Buildings, 5, Tavistock-street, Strand, W.C.

IN case of the non delivery of "THE ERA" by the First Post, the Publisher will be greatly obliged if Advertisers will forward their Postal Wrappers with the time of delivery marked upon them.

INDISPENSABLE!

RAYNE'S
POCKET DATE BOOK

JUST PUBLISHED.
Price, ONE SHILLING.

Five Shillings' worth of information for One Shilling. Purchasers of this work will not only be making a good investment, but will be also adding to the funds of two deserving charities. The above work, got up in a convenient size for the waistcoat pocket, should be in the possession of every Actor, every Music Hall Artist, and every Entertainer, in fact.

CONTENTS.

All About Artists' Luggage.
List of Clubs.
Information about Stamping Contracts.
Foreign Money Table.
London Music Halls and Theatres.
Their Telephone Numbers.
List of Brougham Proprietors.
List and Address of Photographers.
Size of Theatrical Printing Paper.
Names and Addresses of Theatrical Railway Managers, &c., &c.

RAYNE'S
POCKET DATE BOOK

The Book will be Sold at ONE SHILLING, post free.

The proceeds from the Sale will be divided equally amongst the two great charities of the Dramatic and Musical Professions, THE

ACTORS' BENEVOLENT FUND
.. AND THE ..
MUSIC HALL BENEVOLENT FUND.

Mr. Arthur Bourchier, Garrick Theatre, writes:—
"I thank you for the little book, which I am sure will be very useful."
Mr. George Scott (Manager), Alhambra, W.C., writes:—
"Many thanks for the little book to hand, which will prove of valuable assistance to me."
Mr. Seymour Hicks, Aldwych Theatre, writes:—
"I thank you for the Telephone Book, which I find most useful."

Send 12 Stamps to the Publisher,
"THE ERA" BUILDINGS,
5, TAVISTOCK ST., W.C.
'Phone: Four-seven-four-seven Central.
Telegraphic Address: "The Era," London.

MUSIC HALL CARDS.
Alphabetically Arranged—Limited to Three Lines.

ABADAROFFS, FOUR, Great Comedy Act, "Prehistoric Peeps." Coms., 95, Stretford-road, Manchester.

ABDULLAH ARABS, THE TWELVE, the biggest Troupe on the Market. June 18, Empire, Newcastle.

ABEL and WELSH. Got a bit of string? Hippodrome, Boscombe, Bournemouth.

ACHMED IBRAHIM'S Marvellous Troupe of Ten Bedouin Arabs, the greatest of all Tumblers and Acrobats, Theatre Royal, Dublin.

AKBAR, Gymnast; BELLE LEABURN, Comedienne. This, Warrington; Next, Hip., St. Helens. Vacant 25th, July 2.

ALBANO TROUPE. Vacant June 18, 25, July 2, and 9. 39, Newcastle-rd., Wavertree, Liverpool.

ALBERT, ARTHUR, Address all communications to permanent address, 72, Brook-street, Kennington, London, S.E

ALEXANDER'S, JOHN, Burlesque Company. Empire, Belfast.

ALLSOPP and BEKWITH, This, Metropolitan (9.0), Middlesex (10.10); Next Collins's. People remark "They must be good."

ALMO, BROS., Comedy Three Bar Act. Vacant July 23, 30. 34, Highfield-street, Beeston Hill, Leeds.

ALVANTEE, King of Slanting Wire. Through my Great Success at Estham Gardens, Cheshire, I am engaged for the Season.

AMEDA, MDLLE., Lady Contortionist and Foot Equilibrist. Agent, TOM CLAXTON.

AMERICAINES, LES BELLES, Usual success, this week, Empire, Bristol. Next, Lyric, Liverpool. Agent, H. DAY.

ARIZONA TROUPE, Acrobatic Tumblers, Jugglers, and Japanese Top Spinners. Hippodrome, Bury.

ASHCROFT, W. J., the Solid Man, with J. W. Morton, in Irish and American Comedy. Care of TOM SHAW and Co.

ASHDOWN, PERCY, 1, Holland-st., Brixton, S.W., Author-Composer Hamilton Hill's "Mignon," published by F., D., and H.

ASHLEY, BROS. "Next, Please." Empire, Burnley; 18th, City, Leeds. FORTUNE AND GRANVILLE and G. BARCLAY.

ATHLONES, THE, This week, Palace, Walthamstow. Next Week, Hippodrome, Norwich.

ATLAS, the Beautiful MISS VULCANA, and the Lovely SISTER ATLAS, Society Athletes. London Pavilion.

AUBREY, STAN, the Eccentric Comedian with the Legs. Palace, Attercliffe. June 18, Hippo., Scarboro'.

BADDOW, Ventriloquist, Clement's Entertainers. The Lawn, Skegness.

BALSIGER, GUS, Vocalist, Trick Musician, and Human Steam Engine. This week, Empire, Stockport. Liberty June 18 and 25.

BANCROFT, HARRY, Enormous Success, Sadler's Wells. Monday Next, June 18, Surrey Theatre.

BANDONI, One Man Band and Original Concertina King. Palace, Rotherham, Dr. Bodie's Co.

BANKS, FLO, the Smart Comedienne, Thanks Joe May for 2 return dates for Gateshead, at an increase on each date; more to follow.

BARCLAY, GEORGE, and CO., Variety Agent. Telephone, 84 Streatham. 221, Brixton-hill, London, S.W.

BARD, GRACIE, Character and Coon Speciality, Terrific Success, Nightly, at Gaiety, Dundee. Offers Invited for 1907. See Back Page.

BARRETT and KNOWLES. "Are we Down-hearted? No." Palace, Camberwell, or TOM SHAW and Co.

BARTHOLOMEW SISTERS, Different from all other Sister Turns. A. H., Southport. 18th, H., Blackpool.

BARTLETT, ROSIE, Hippodrome, Colchester. Address, 12a, Hill-street, Woolwich.

BAWN'S, AGENCY, 145, Balham Hill, London, S.W. 'Phone 1178 Battersea. Tels., "Orderless, London."

BAYNE and HOPE (RONALD and EVELYN), in "An Emperor's Divorce," Varieties, Leeds. June 18, vacant.

BEATRICE, SISTERS (NELLIE and MAY), Duettists and Dancers. Monday, Queen's T., Swindon. At Lib. June 25 and July 2.

BELL, CHARLES H., is still making a big success as the Boy in "Moving In." Next week, Empire, Leicester.

BELLA, MISS PATTIE, Comedienne. Vacant Panto., Prin. Boy or Girl, also Immediate. Com., 139, Beaumont-road, Plymouth.

BELLONINI, WALTER, On Tour. C/o "The Era" Office.

BELROSE and DE VELIN (GEO. and MAUD). Basso and Soprano, Speciality Duettists and Soloists. Palace, Aberdeen.

BENET, MR. HARRY, Proprietor Alhambra, Sandgate. Artists communicate FRED DURHAM'S Agency.

BENT, HARRY, Mimic; CARLOTTA LUNN. This week, Dundee. Mon., Queen's, Keighley. Booked by E. Dottridge, Esq. No vacs.

BENTLEY'S VARIETY AGENCY, 169, Stamford-street, London, S.E. Telegrams, "Yeltneb, London." 'Phone, 12706 Central.

BERNARD, GEO., Vocal Entertainer. Bus. and Pleasure, The Den, Teignmouth. Letters, Pendennis Hotel, Teignmouth, Devon.

BERT and DORA, Comedy Artists. This, Hippo., Accrington; next, Queen's, Poplar. Vacant 25th. Wanted, Good Agent.

BIOSCOPE, BENDON'S, Always Up to Date. For Terms apply 301, Cathcart-rd, Glasgow.

BLAKE and GRANBY, Australia. Perm. add., 65, Southchurch-av., Southend-on-Sea.

BLANCHE and DIACOFF, The Great Cycle Whizz. This week and next, Rosherville Gardens, Gravesend.

BLISS and BLISS. Address, King Alfred Hotel, Walney, Barrow-in-Furness.

BLYTHE, MARIE, The Popular Contralto. June 18, Palace, Bow. Agents, S. M. HYMAN, Ltd.

BODEY BROS., Comedy Triple Bar Act. Hippo, Ashford. Next, Hippo., Sittingbourne. Wire for June 25.

BOHEMIANS, THE (WILL and MADGE), Instrumentalists and Comedy Artists. Theatre Royal, Tyldesley. G. FOSTER.

MR. GEORGE STONE,
Resident-Manager (Twelfth Year).
Royalty T. and Opera House, Barrow-in-Furness.

MR. STORY-GOFTON,
At Liberty, Recitals, Productions, Parts, &c.
Address, care of "The Era."

MR. WALLACE STRANACK,
Engaged by Mr. Chas. Macdona.
Arrangements complete. 180, New Kent-rd., S.E.

MR. AUGUSTIN SYMONDS, Dis.
Com., Char. MISS KATE PARRY, Light Com., Juv. Coms. only. 57, Denbigh-street, S.W.

MR. TAPPING.
Address,
28, Leyland-road, Lee, S.E.

MR. and MRS. J. MILNE TAYLOR,
"The Golden Ladder" Co. Vacation.
77, Edge-lane-road, Oldham.

MR. E. HOWARD TEMPLETON,
Disengaged for few weeks.
Comedy or Character Comedy. Actors' Association.

MR. and MRS. EDWARD THANE
(Miss Louise Hampton),
New King's Theatre, Pitfield-street, Hoxton, N.

MR. FOWLER THATCHER,
Disengaged June 30, Autumn and Xmas.
51, Bridge-road, Hammersmith, W.

MR. and MRS. E. W. THOMAS
(Agnes Knights). The Attic, 38, Grafton-square, Clapham Common.

MR. WYLIE A. THOMPSON,
Disengaged. Boys, Dudes, Light Comedy.
"Bridgen," Bexley, Kent.

MR. and MRS. WALTER THORNTON.
Arrangements Complete,
Address, 35, St. John's-park, Upper Holloway, N.

MR. HARRY TOWNLEY,
Character Comedian and Vocalist, Lib., Combinations, Piers, &c. 113, Lisson-grove, London.

MR. GEORGE TRAILL,
Disengaged, Character Business, Comedy, or Old Men. Add., 47, College-place, Camden Town.

MR. R. S. TRELAWNEY, Dis. for Juvs. or Heavies. Late of "Tom, Dick, and Harry," &c. Castlewich, Callington, Cornwall.

MR. and MRS. EDWARD VAN BIENE
(Kate Hallam). Gen. Mgt. and Star Lead, Drama of Life" Co., T. R., Smethwick.

MR. and MRS. CHAS. B. VAUGHAN
Miss Miriam Lewes, New Theatre, W.
Mr. C. B. Vaughan, Criterion Theatre, W.

MR. PERCY H. VERNON,
Open to offers for Autumn.
Opera House, Southend-on-Sea.

MR. FREDERICK VICTOR,
Disengaged now and autumn.
71, St. George's-road, S.E.

MR. and MRS. DOUGLAS VIGORS
(Miss Lucy Beaumont). Disengaged July 2 and for Autumn. Next, Palace Pier, Brighton.

MR. ARTHUR WALCOTT,
"Dronza."
Palace Theatre, Belfast, June 25.

MR. A. E. WALKER,
Re-engaged autumn tour "Lucky Durham" Co. 172, Kensington Park-rd., Bayswater, W.

MR. PERCY CARNE WARAM,
23, Cromwell-road,
Whitstable-on-Sea.

MR. ALBERT WARD,
Lead. Disengaged Autumn.
55, Doddington-grove, Kennington Park.

MR. HYLTON WARDE,
Messrs. B. & F. Wheeler's Comedy Co., South African Tour. Perm., 17, Doris-rd., Norwich, or A.A.

MR. W. LEMMON WARDE,
Disengaged.
47, Algiers-rd., Ladywell, S.E.

MR. FRANK WEATHERSBY,
Theatrical Agency, 3, Bedford-street, Strand,
'Phone 3781 Cen. Tel., "Frivolous, London."

MR. WYN WEAVER.
June 25,
T. R., Worthing. Six Nights.

MR. & MRS. ARTHUR V. WEBSTER,
Mr. and Mrs. William Maclaren's "Claudian" Co., Vacation. 18, Gloucester-street, Jersey.

MR. CHARLES WEIR,
Disengaged.
Letters, 19, Ossington-street, W.

MR. & MRS. ALFRED WELLESLEY
Disengaged shortly. This, L., Edinburgh.
June 25, Royalty, Barrow-in-Furness.

MR. C. A. WHITE,
Character Comedian, Disengaged.
Address, Park House, Harewood-rd., Merton, S.W.

MR. WILL WHITE, F.O.S.,
Touring "The New World."
Queen's, Farnworth. Next, Queen's, Longton.

MR. HERBERT WILLIAMS,
Six Brothers Luck Co.
Metropolitan and Oxford.

MR. LEONARD WILLIAMS,
Juvenile Lead. At Liberty for a Few Weeks.
The Blorenge, Taunton, or A.A.

MR. BREMBER WILLS,
Charles IX., "Count Hannibal," Grand, Woolwich. Next, 20, Jessica-road, Wandsworth.

MR. A. WOOD.
Address,
59, St. Mary's-road, Peckham, S.E.

MR. and MRS. GRAHAM WOODS
(Miss Marie Robson), At Lib., Now and Autumn. Address, 1A, Kender-st., New Cross, S.E.

MR. FREDERICK WRIGHT, Sen.,
At Liberty until Autumn.
Address, 67, Oxford-road, Gunnersbury, W.

MR. EDWIN H. WYNNE,
Comedy, Character, Musical Comedy.
Disengaged. 3A, North-avenue, Kew Gardens.

MISCELLANEOUS.

APPLICATIONS FOR POSITIONS on the FRONT PAGE of "The Era" should be addressed to the PUBLISHER.

LITTLE TINA,
The only Child Monologuist on the Halls.
Panto. Settled June 25, Hippo., St. Helens.

AUTHORS' COLUMN.

THE Late HENRY PETTITT'S PLAYS.

All Business communications to A. J. FLAXMAN, the Executor of the late Mr. Henry Pettitt, to be made to the care of
H. M. PIKE,
26, Old Burlington-street, London, W., Solicitor.

J. W. WHITBREAD'S PLAYS.
"LORD EDWARD; or, '98," "THE INSURGENT CHIEF," "THE IRISH-MAN," "THE NATIONALIST," "IRISH DRAGOON," "THE SHAM SQUIRE," "THE VICTORIA CROSS," "WOLFE TONE."
Address, J. W. WHITBREAD,
QUEEN'S THEATRE, DUBLIN.

"ARRAGH-NA-POGUE," "AFTER DARK," "HOW LONDON LIVES," "DUCHESS OF COOLGARDIE," and others. For terms and catalogues, giving Cast, Scenes, Special Printing, apply MUSKERRY TILSON, 26, Southampton-street.
Also the following, by Arthur Shirley and others: "UNDER A MASK," "LION'S HEART," "A CITY OF SIN," "HUE AND CRY," "BOOM OF BIG BEN," "WORKGIRL," "LIGHTNING'S FLASH." To Let, with fine Plants of Pictorials, to Responsible Managers.

DRURY LANE DRAMAS.
THE ARMADA, PLUCK,
HUMAN NATURE, A RUN OF LUCK,
LIFE OF PLEASURE, THE DERBY WINNER,
A MILLION OF MONEY, YOUTH,
THE PRODIGAL DAUGHTER, THE WORLD,
CHEER, BOYS, CHEER, FREEDOM,
A SAILOR AND HIS LASS,
QUEEN'S EVIDENCE, THE ROYAL OAK.
Other Plays and Operas, the property of the late Sir Augustus Harris.
List and Particulars apply to the Executors, 5, Victoria-street, London, S.W.

"IDOLS; or, King Solomon's Folly," a new Biblical Melodrama, by Thompson Jackson. The rights of this superb Hierarch to let, or Gentlemen wanted to form Syndicate. Big people or their solicitors only need communicate address of author, South Ferriby, via Hull.

TOURING MANAGERS who are Looking for a Powerful and Attractive Drama, with a pure love interest and strong in dramatic situations are invited to witness the production of "IN HOLY ORDERS," by Wyn Weaver, at the THEATRE ROYAL, WORTHING, on June 28, 29, and 30. (Matinée Saturday.)

"THE LAZARUS"
LATEST PATENT

AUTOMATIC TIP-UP SEATS
GREAT SUCCESS.
APPROVED BY THE LONDON COUNTY COUNCIL.
15 per cent. more Seating Accommodation Gained with these Seats.
Supplied to KING'S THEATRE, GLASGOW, THE LONDON COLISEUM, THE MANCHESTER HIPPODROME, &c., &c.
The Patent Fittings can be supplied to most Tip-up Seats in use.
Prices upon application.
A leading Managing-Director writes:—"That your new Automatic Seats are giving every satisfaction, both in the working and the advantage gained in space by their automatic action, and the comfort and convenience ensured thereby."
Catalogue, "Examples of Theatre Seating," Post-free.
H. LAZARUS & SON,
UP-TO-DATE THEATRICAL UPHOLSTERERS,
21, GREAT EASTERN STREET, LONDON, E.C
Telegraphic Address, "Malleable, London." Telephone, Nine-one-five-three London Wall.

"THE ERA" IN PARIS.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS AND SUBSCRIBERS.

THE ANGLO-PARISIAN EXCHANGE,
22, CHAUSEE D'ANTIN, PARIS
(C. M. ERCOLE, DIRECTOR).

SINGLE COPIES ON SALE.
SUBSCRIPTIONS RECEIVED.
ADVERTISEMENTS ACCEPTED

Apply or Address,
ANGLO-PARISIAN EXCHANGE,
22, Chausee d'Antin, Paris.
Cable Address, "ERCOLE, PARIS."
Telephone 32,400.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

EARLY TRAINS.

The Railway Companies are moving with the times, and are despatching many morning trains earlier than hitherto. This will enable subscribers and advertisers in the provincial towns to get copies of "The Era" in time for the breakfast table. Advertisers are requested to forward their advertisements in time to reach the office on Thursday.

Address:
THE PUBLISHER, The Era Buildings, 5, Tavistock Street, W.C.

FIFTY YEARS OF THE DRAMA.

Kind expressions from Authors and Managers.

SIR SQUIRE BANCROFT.

"I congratulate you on your 'Fifty Years of the Drama': the list must prove both interesting and useful to lovers of and workers for the stage."

MR. GEORGE EDWARDES.

"I think the new feature of The Era is most interesting and useful. A list of plays produced from 1850 to 1900 will certainly be of great service to a very large number of your readers."

MR. EDWARD TERRY.

"An admirable idea, and will prove a most valuable record."

MR. FRANK CURZON.

"Your list, I think, will be most useful for reference."

MRS. W. K. CLIFFORD.

"I think the list will be immensely useful."

MR. SYDNEY GRUNDY.

"Your list will be exceedingly useful. But, of course, there is no reason why old titles should not be used again. Indeed, some day we shall have to go back to them. Some of our modern titles, when they are not mere proper names with an adjective attached, display the desperation of the dramatist in too ludicrous a light. Such a title as 'The Importance of Being Earnest' amounts to a misdemeanour."

MR. ARTHUR W. PINERO.

"The list of plays produced during the last half-century is a most valuable record. The thanks of those interested in the theatre are due to The Era for this and many other enterprises."

MR. ALFRED SUTRO.

"The list you are compiling will be of very great benefit, and I am looking forward to the time when it shall be complete, and obtainable in pamphlet form."

MR. JUSTIN HUNTLY McCARTHY.

"I have watched with the greatest interest the progress of your alphabetical list of the plays published during the last half of the nineteenth century. It is a most useful undertaking, and when it appears in volume form it must prove of great value to all who are concerned with the drama."

MR. ISRAEL ZANGWILL.

"The list of plays will be very interesting and useful when published in complete form. The etiquette of the profession apparently still allows of novelists' titles being used by playwrights. Thus, The Master, which will appear in your list as a play by somebody else, is the name of a book of mine; while the new play, Noah's Ark, has the same title as a shorter story of mine."

MR. ARTHUR LAW.

"The publication in The Era of a list of plays produced during the fifty years, 1850-1900, is an excellent idea, and will be most useful to authors who may be in doubt as to their right to a certain title. When it is issued in book form I shall be very glad to possess a copy."

MR. ARTHUR BOURCHIER.

"Mr. Arthur Bourchier thinks the list very useful indeed."

MR. TOM GALLON.

"Your idea seems to me to be a most excellent one. Quite apart from the fact that there is always a difficulty in knowing what titles have been used, there very often arises the question of when and where a play was actually produced—a question difficult to be answered. Actors and authors should alike be grateful to The Era."

MR. HAROLD MONTAGUE.

"I think the idea of printing a list of plays produced during the last fifty years an excellent one. It should be of great value to authors."

MR. ARTHUR SHIRLEY.

"The list of produced plays was not merely a happy thought, for the same idea has probably occurred to many, though until The Era carried it out no one took the pains to collect and publish such a truly valuable record.

"Managers, dramatists, as well as would-be authors, will henceforward have a long list of titles to refer to, and there will be neither reason nor excuse for encroaching on pre-existing copyright in play titles. What a lot of trouble it should save us all!"

MR. WALTER MELVILLE.

"I think it shows great enterprise on the part of your journal, and likely to prove most useful and at the same time interesting to the general profession."

MR. ARTHUR MORRISON.

"The list you are publishing will be a most valuable work of reference to everybody taking an interest in the stage, and I have no doubt that when it is published as a book you will find its success warrant you in issuing fresh editions from time to time, with the information brought to date in each case."

MR. J. J. DILLEY.

"The idea is an excellent one, and there can be no question at all of the usefulness of such a summary. Cousin Grace has not been included. This is a little piece from the French, played at a matinée performance at the Gaiety Theatre, Dec. 4, 1884."

MR. COSMO HAMILTON.

"I think that your new feature is an excellent and most useful one. A list of plays produced during fifty years is interesting not only to the playgoer, but essentially so to the manager and the playwright. They will only have to consult it to be sure that a title has not been used before."

MR. CHARLES H. E. BROOKFIELD.

"My attention has been called to your list of plays produced between 1850-1900. I have no doubt it will prove interesting and useful to many."

MR. F. FRANKFORT MOORE.

"The list of plays produced during the past fifty years, now appearing in The Era, will, I am certain, prove, when completed, extremely valuable to everyone associated with the drama in England. I am convinced—and I have had a considerable amount of experience in this direction—that it will be especially valued by all writers upon stage matters. The advantage of being able to refer at a moment's notice to the criticisms upon the production of various plays in various newspapers must be apparent to everyone. If such a list had been in existence some years ago I would have been saved a vast amount of worry and vexation of spirit. The Era has once again proved itself appreciative of the conditions under which the best interests of the drama in England are maintained."

MR. LOUIS N. PARKER.

"I think your list of plays, produced between 1850 and 1900, will, like the other contents of your paper, be invaluable."

NEW PLAYS OF THE MONTH.

LONDON.

MAY 1. The Knight of the Bath, farce, in three acts, by Arthur Applin—Terry's.
" 5. Vienna by Night, burlesque operetta (produced by Herr Gabor Steiner's company)—Summer Theatre, Earl's Court Austrian Exhibition.
" 5. A Girl on the Stage (revised version of The Little Cherub), musical play, in two acts, book by Owen Hall, music by F. E. Tours, Jerome D. Kern, and Ivan Caryll, lyrics by Adrian Ross, Percy Greenbank, and Ralph Roberts—Prince of Wales's.
" 7. The Plucky Nipper, comedy-drama (for the first time in London)—Carlton, Greenwich.
" 8. Olf and the Little Maid, comedy, in one act, by M. E. Frances (Mrs. Francis Blundell)—Haymarket.
" 11. The Vagabond and the Princess (Der Vagabund und die Prinzessin), opera, in one act, libretto by Herr A. F. Seligmann, music by Edouard Poldini (originally produced at Buda-Pest, 1904)—Royal Opera, Covent Garden.
" 11. The Barber of Bagdad (Der Barbier von Bagdad), comic opera, in German, in two acts, by Peter Cornelius (produced at Weimar, under Liszt—one performance only—Dec. 16, 1858; revived at Munich, Oct. 15, 1885; given in English by the pupils of the Royal College of Music, at the Savoy Theatre, Dec. 9, 1891)—Royal Opera, Covent Garden.
" 12. Raffles, the Amateur Cracksman, drama, in three acts, founded by E. W. Hornung and E. W. Presbrey on tales written by the former—Comedy.
" 12. The Shulamite, play, in three acts, adapted from the novel of the same name, by Claude Askew (one of the original authors) and Edward Knoblauch—Savoy.
" 13. Midsummer Fires (Johannisfeuer, originally produced at the Royal Schauspiel-Haus, Berlin, Oct. 5, 1900), play, in four acts, by Hermann Sudermann, faithfully rendered into English by Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Grein—Scala.
" 14. As Good as Gold, drama, in four acts, by Frederick S. Jennings—Lyric Opera House, Hammersmith.
" 15. The Lonely Millionaires, comedy, in three acts, by Mrs. Henry de la Pasture—Adelphi.
" 19. Boy O'Carroll, comedy, in four acts, by Mrs. B. M. Dix and Evelyn G. Sutherland (originally produced at the Theatre Royal, Newcastle-on-Tyne, April 27, 1906)—Imperial.
" 20. Compromising Martha, comedy, in one act, by Keble Howard—Royalty.
" 20. Out of Sight, comedietta, by Frederick Fenn and Richard Pryce—Royalty.
" 20. Daughters of Shem, play, in one act, adapted by Samuel Gordon and Carmel Goldsmid from the former's story of the same name—Royalty.
" 21. Mary Stuart, Queen of Scots, romantic play, in four acts, by Reginald Kennedy Cox—King's Theatre, Hammersmith.
" 21. Shore Acres, play, in four acts, by James A. Herne (originally produced in America)—Waldorf.
" 22. The Lion and the Mouse, play, in four acts, by Charles Klein (originally produced in America)—Duke of York's.
" 23. The Whirlwind, play, in three acts, translated by Harry Melvill from the French of Henri Bernstein's La Rafale (Paris Gymnase, Oct. 20, 1905) (Mrs. Patrick Campbell's season)—Criterion.
" 23. Undine, first act of Mr. W. L. Courtney's dream play, adapted from De la Motte-Fouqué (and produced originally in America) (Mrs. Patrick Campbell's season)—Criterion.
" 24. New Year's Lesson, dream play, in one act, by Lauderdale Maitland—Coronet.
" 24. Her Grace, comedy, in one act, by Forbes Dawson—Coronet.
" 24. Greysteel: The Bearsarks Come to Surnadale, opera, in one act, the text by Mr. R. Gatty, the music by Mr. Nicholas Gatty (the plot based on Sir George Dasint's translation of the Icelandic saga of "Gisli the Soursop") (originally produced at Sheffield, March 1)—Crystal Palace Theatre.
" 26. Petronella; or, A Royal Romance, Spanish comic opera, by Montague Turner, composed by W. T. Gliddon, with additional lyrics by Miss Stafford M. Smith—Great Queen-street Theatre.
" 28. Les Romanesques, comedy, in three acts, in verse, by Edmond Rostand (originally produced at the Comédie Française on May 21, 1894; adapted into English by "George Fleming," under the title of The Fantasticks, and produced by Mrs. Patrick Campbell at the Shaftesbury Theatre on May 29, 1900) (opening of the season of M. Coquelin aîné)—New Royalty.
" 28. The Scarlet Clue, drama, in four acts, by St. Bernard Wyntour (originally produced at the Theatre Royal, Windsor, on March 30, 1905)—Grand, Islington.
" 29. Colonel Newcome, version, in four acts, of W. M. Thackeray's novel, by Michael Morton—His Majesty's.
" 30. The Third Time of Asking, rustic comedy, by M. E. Francis—Garrick.

PROVINCES.

MAY 7. Hounslow Heath, drama, in one act, by H. F. Maltby—Theatre Royal, Plymouth.
" 7. Lucky 'Liza, farcical musical play, in three acts, by Fred Locke—Paisley Theatre.
" 9. A Tight Corner, light comedy, in three acts, by Herbert Swears—Theatre Royal, Portsmouth.
" 9. Breaking It Gently, comedietta, in one act, by Richard Warren—River Parish Room, Dover.
" 10. Piccalilli, Anglo-Japanese musical play, written and composed by Catherine Adams—Drill Hall, Basingstoke.
" 10. The Thunderbolt, comedy, in three acts, by Richard Ganthony—Theatre Royal, Dublin.
" 11. The Traveller Returns, melodrama, in one act, by C. Hamilton—New Palace Theatre, Brighton.
" 15. A Japanese Dance, sketch, by W. G. Hyde Lees—Chiswick Town Hall.
" 17. Poor Old Charley, farce, in three acts, by Charles H. E. Brookfield, from the French of MM. Labiche and Delacour—Theatre Royal, Newcastle-on-Tyne.
" 24. Fannikin, musical comedy in a nutshell, book and lyrics by H. F. Maltby, music by Katherine Barry and H. F. Maltby—Pier Pavilion, Hastings.
" 28. Cupid's Dream, interlude, by Henry Austin—Palace Pier Theatre, Brighton.
" 28. A Warning to Woman, romantic drama, in four acts, by C. Watson Mill—Lyceum Theatre, Eccles.
" 28. The Shadow of a Crime, drama, in four acts, by Nita Rae—Pier Pavilion, Hastings.
" 28. The Young Lieutenant: A Tale of 1805, comic opera, in two acts, words by Herbert Dawson, music by R. A. Smith, jun. (produced by amateurs)—Tyne Theatre, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

REVIVALS.

MAY 17. Othello, Shakespeare's tragedy (Mr. Lewis Waller, Mr. Henry B. Irving)—Lyric.
" 28. La Joie Fait Peur, drama, in one act, by Mme. Emile de Girardin (M. Coquelin aîné)—New Royalty.
" 30. Notre Jeunesse, comedy, in four acts, by Alfred Capus (produced at the Comédie-Française on Nov. 16, 1904; first presented in London at the Shaftesbury Theatre on June 9, 1905) (M. Coquelin aîné)—New Royalty.

BERLIN.

May 1. Die Lustige Wittwe, three-act operetta, by Franz Lehár (Hamburg New Operetta Company season)—Berliner.
" 7. Tragœdie der Liebe, four-act play, by Gunner Heiberg—Kleines.
" 12. Aus altem Geschlecht, five-act play, by Carl Wendt—Carl Weiss.
" 12. Alpenkönig und Menschenfeind, opera, in three acts, by Leo Blech—New Royal Opera.
" 18. Kameraden, comedy, in four acts, by August Strindberg—Lessing.
" 26. Das Lebensfest, three-act farce, by Karl Roessler—Lessing.
" 26. Der Wegdes Märtyrers, play, in five acts, by H. Rolf—Carl Weiss.

PARIS.

May 7. La Pitié, play, in three acts, by Maurice Leblanc—Antoine.
" 8. Le Roi Aveugle, lyric play, in two acts, by Lavigne—Opéra Comique.
" 8. Nos Salariés, play, in five acts, by Mme. Tola Dorian—Molière.
" 11. Roule-Ta-Bosse, melodrama, in six acts, by Jules Mary and Emile Rochard—Ambigu.
" 15. Le Paradis de Mohamet, operette, in three acts and four tableaux, by Henri Blondeau, music by Robert Planquette.
" 16. Le Tour de Main, comedy, in three acts, by Francis de Croisset and Abel Tarride—Gymnase.
" 16. La Chance du Mari, comedy, in one act, by G. A. de Caillavet and Robert de Flers—Gymnase.
" 18. Le Virage, comedy, in four acts, by Mme. Jane de la Vandère—Bouffes-Parisiens.
" 18. Tout s'arrange, opera-comique, in one act, by G. Signan—Bouffes-Parisiens.
" 21. L'Etrange Avanture, comedy, in three acts, by M. L. Gleize—Odéon.
" 21. Le jeu des ans et de l'Amour, comedy, in two acts, by Aderer and Ephraim—Odéon.
" 23. Chaine Anglaise, comedy, in three acts, by Camille Oudinot—Vaudeville.
" 26. Le Mari de Loulou, farcical comedy, in three acts, by Maurice Soulié and Henry de Gorsse—Nouveatés.
" 28. Le Réformateur, in three acts, by Edouard Rod—Nouveau-Théâtre.
" 28. Le Cloaque, one act, by Jean Dobry—Nouveau-Théâtre.
" 28. Le Bon Inventaire, ô Gué, comedy, in one act, by Rip and Paul Ardot—Palais-Royal.

MISS GRETA GARNIER'S RECITAL.

At Steinway Hall on Tuesday evening Miss Greta Garnier gave a recital, assisted by the well-known violinist, M. Tivadar Nachèz. Miss Garnier is possessed of a fine, well-modulated voice and clear enunciation, the lady also has the good taste not to give the usual hackneyed recitations; the audience therefore were not told that the "Curfew shall not ring to-night," or inflicted with the sorrows of the "Princess May," "The Jester Dagobert," or "Lorraine, Lorrée." Miss Garnier's first recitation was "The Monk," by the Baroness de Bertouch, with incidental music composed and played by Miss Lucille Merle. "The Monk" is a work of a serious character, containing here and there some fine imaginative touches to which Miss Garnier gave due importance, the incidental music also was in good taste. A monologue, "What a pretty tale," one of Browning's last poems, served to display the versatility of the reciter, which was further shown in the American sketch, The Appreciators (the Smart Set), by Zona Gale, a work which beyond giving Miss Garnier the chance of showing her skill in the American dialect, was otherwise hardly worthy of the reciter's ability. The fine poem of William Morris, "Atalanta's Race," was one of Miss Garnier's best efforts, and the reciter may be heartily thanked for reviving a work that has formed the subject of many a noble picture. Lever's amusing Irish sketch, The Widow Malone, greatly pleased the audience, as well as the quaint "The Duel," by Field, a fight between a rag cat and a nankeen dog, related by a Chinese plate. This served to show how admirably the reciter would give some of Anderson's charming little stories. Later in the programme Miss Garnier gave a piece of her own adaptation, "The First Kiss," a French-English monologue, "The Children's Hour" with music, and a short piece, "The Fair Circassian," by Dr. Richard Garnett. The reciter was warmly greeted by the audience, and received many recalls. Some clever violin solos were given by M. Tivadar Nachèz, who was first heard in "Thème Varié in F," by Tartini (1692), a pleasing Adagio of Nardini's (1760), and "Tambourin" in C, by Le Clair (1697), the charm of the quaint old-world music being given in a most expressive manner by the talented violinist. M. Nachèz, later in the programme, played "Ein Albumblatt (Wagner), Tschaikowsky's "Scherzo" in C Minor, Dvorak's "Humoreske," C. V. Stanford's "Irish Fantasias," and the "Poème de la Pusxta," Hungarian rhapsody of his own composition. Mr. Hamilton Harty acted as accompanist with great efficiency.

ACTORS' ASSOCIATION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ERA.

SIR,—In connection with the Association there is a body of workers known as "missioners," whose aims are to enlist new members and promote the welfare of the Association. The idea emanated from Mr. Cyril Maude originally, and much good work has been done by its members. It has been thought desirable that a meeting of the "missioners" should take place, and this has been arranged, under the auspices of the Council, for Thursday next at 10, King-street, Covent Garden, at three o'clock.

In addition to the "missioners" all members of the Association are invited to attend, and volunteers to enrol thei rnames.—Yours faithfully,
CECIL BARTH.

THE staff of the Theatre Royal, Colchester, had their annual outing on Saturday, a journey to the metropolis being made for the occasion. Despite the fact that rain was falling heavily during part of the day, those superintending the arrangements so arranged matters that the excursion was thoroughly enjoyable. Following a visit to the Tower was a luncheon at Pinoli's of Wardour-street, at which Mr. Charles Macdona, the sole proprietor of the Royal, presided, supported by Mr. F. Graham Macdona and Dr. J. Becker. The afternoon was spent in a circular trip to Greenwich, and then the whole party, through the courtesy of Mr. Jno. Donald, witnessed The Revue at the Coliseum. The evening was wiled away at Earl's Court, and the homeward journey commenced by the 12.3 train from Liverpool-street. The secretarial duties were ably performed by Mr. H. O. Cousins, the duties of treasurer being undertaken by the popular resident-manager, Mr. F. C. Upton.

PROVINCIAL THEATRICALS.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENTS.)

ABERDEEN.—HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. C. Cavanah, C.A.—Mr. Edmund Tearle and company are here for a short season with a repertoire of popular plays. On Monday The Three Musketeers was presented. Mr. Tearle makes a very picturesque figure as D'Artagnan, and he is admirably supported by Mr. Bernhardt Turner as the Cardinal and Mr. T. W. Benson as Boniface, and Miss Kate Clinton gives a good representation of Miladi; and the other members of the company are all efficient. The remaining pieces for the week include Macbeth, Ingomar, Jeanie Deans, Hamlet, and The Octoroon.

PALACE THEATRE.—Lessees, Messrs Rosen and Bliss; Manager, Mr. Walter Gilbert.—The principal attraction this week is Taro Myaki, the Japanese wrestler, who provides a splendid Jiu-Jitsu entertainment, assisted by S. K. Eida. There is also a capital variety company, including Newhouse and Ward, comedy cyclists; Campo, the musical man-monkey; Mr. Charles Bignell, the talented comedian; Miss Alma Burton and Miss Ethel Yorke, comediennes, and Mr. Joe Edmunds.

ACCRINGTON. — HIPPODROME. — Proprietors, Messrs. Willmot, Vandy, Potter, and Wusker; Acting-Manager, Mr. L. Campkin.—Alec Hurley and company top the bill this week; Hector and Sultan must be complimented on their smart acrobatic act; Vardon is a good ventriloquist; Willie Quinn a quaint comedian; and Jack Ross a pleasing vocalist. The same may be said of Lilian Victoria, and Luigo's Serenaders are well received. Smith and Johnson have made themselves special favourites, and the Hippo Pictures complete a good show.

ALDERSHOT.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Clarence Sounes; Acting-Manager, Mr. G. Williams.—Mr. J. H. Clyndes and a capable company are playing A Royal Revenge here with distinct success. Mr. Clyndes, as Esteven, is a conspicuous success, his acting still showing true dramatic eloquence and vigor; Miss Enid Edoni's embodiment of Inez is realistic, the many pathetic incidents receiving capital treatment; Miss Aimee Grattan Clyndes enacts the difficult rôle of Cora with effect; as Musid, Mr. A. Dudley is clever, and Old Nick is excellently personated by Mr. John Foxhill; Mr. Ellerslie Pyne proves a dashing Manuel, and Mr. Paul Beckett is good as the King of Spain. The comedy side of the play is well represented by Mr. A. Bradley and Miss Connie Bradley; Miss Grace Jones, as Mother Superior, and Mr. Leslie Parker (Monk), are worthy of mention.

ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE.—THEATRE ROYAL. — Sole Owner and Manager, Mr. Chas. Revill; Acting-Manager, Mr. Armstrong Fairbairn.—The play with the Scriptural precept as title, Honour Thy Father, is the attraction at the Theatre Royal this week. Mr. T. Morton Powell's company is responsible for the representation. Mr. Douglas B. Watson finds scope for his marked ability as the naval hero. The villain, Duncan Bly, is capably portrayed by Mr. Clavering Craig; Mr. Walter M. Cameron as Garth, an old farmer, plays with commendable force in the early scenes, and with much pathetic feeling in the latter portion of the play. The humour is supplied by Messrs. W. H. Melrose, a farm labourer, and Mr. S. Holden as a comical scoundrel; Miss Mabel Coleman, as the heroine, is well suited, and Miss Winnie Donovan as the sweetheart of the naval officer, Mrs. Clavering Craig, and Miss Lizzie Morley, as a lively slavey, also do well.

THE EMPIRE HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. W. H. Broadhead and Sons; Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. Percy B. Broadhead; Resident Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Leech.—The company here includes the Kyasyas in their wonderful feats of lifting heavy weights; Desmonti and Mori, clever at triple-bar gymnastics; the Sisters Valli, a versatile pair; Chas. Rowen, comedian; J. Hughes, Lancashire baritone; Brothers Carney, duettists; the Eight Sarnthalers, a "star" turn; and Adams and Rouss, a funny couple.

ATTERCLIFFE.—PALACE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Lacy Lyne; Assistant-Manager, Mr. J. Gibbons.—The Royal Tokio Troupe of Japanese head the bill here, and give a clever exhibition of equilibristic skill, top-spinning, and rope-walking; Mr. Alf Bishop, aptly described as the "little lump of fun," has a quaint style which is highly appreciated; Miss Agnes McKellar is a charming Scotch soprano, whose songs are rendered in a finished manner; the earthquake at San Francisco is realistically presented by Mr. Clayton on the "Attergraph"; Mr. Carl Vernon is responsible for some good conjuring tricks; a laughable comedy-illusion, entitled Mystery Fair, is given by Major and Thurgate's combination; and Mr. Will Daniels, comedian, is well received.

BARROW-IN-FURNESS.—ROYALTY THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Hugh Robertson; Resident-Manager, Mr. Geo. Stone.—Mrs. T. Greenwood-Croft and Co. in A Bunch of Violets are here this week. She herself as Mrs. Murgatroyd plays with much distinction, and Mr. Norman Partriege as Sir Philip Marchant is particularly artistic; Mr. William Attfield is a good Lord Mount-Sorrel, and Mr. Patrick Evans a capable Hon. Harold Inglis, while Mr. Wilson Coleman represents the broad, breezy Mark Murgatroyd to the life. Lady Marchant is pleasantly drawn by Miss Florence Russell-Spiers; Miss Tessa Myers is a convincing and winning Violet; and the Jacob Schwartz of Mr. C. W. Spencer and the Harker of Mr. Leon Aynscliffe are both capable studies.

HIS MAJESTY'S THEATRE.—Lessees and Managers, Mr. and Mrs. Calvert Routledge.—Mr. W. F. Jury's Animated Pictures are much appreciated. There are several illustrated pictures, and Mr. J. W. Merton renders the vocal part in a pleasing manner.

TIVOLI.—Sole Lessee and Manager, Signor Pepi; Stage-Manager, Mr. Tom Whiting.—The Waldrons top the bill here with a comical sketch, The Silly Burglar; Spencer and Marks are good in an original act, The Stage-struck Waifs; Charles F. Best gives a unique comedy act, McBunker, the Mountebank, in an exceedingly clever manner; the Floradora Girls are successful in song and dance; and Sidney Dolf gives an excellent entertainment of conjuring, juggling, and vocalism.

BEDFORD.—THE ROYAL COUNTY THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. E. Graham-Falcon; Acting-Manager, Mr. Walter R. Wilson.—This week the boards are occupied by the Gazekas, under the personal direction of Mr. George Graves. Mr. Wellesley Lynn, assisted by Mr. Charles Leverton, Mr. Cyril Dane, Miss Florence Wix, Miss Bessie Graves, gives a unique and original entertainment of mirth, mystery, and music. Miss Thelma Leighton is the accompanist.

BELFAST.—PALACE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietors, Warden, Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. Fred W. Warden; General-Manager, Mr. J. de Freece; Resident-Manager, Mr. George Harris.—The leading feature at this popular theatre is the production of the equestrian spectacle, Turpin's Ride to York. Mr. Ginnett impersonates Dick Turpin cleverly, and the piece has been received with enthusiasm; Dandy George introduces his marvellously-trained dog, Rosie; Mr. Ernest Rees, aptly described as a droll comedian, commands success; and a hit has been made by Miss Dolly Harmer, a charming comedienne with an engaging style; Haig and Novel; Miss Rosie Reval, comedienne; the Musical Schafers, in their attractive speciality; the Sisters McNulty; Miss Constance Mori, comedienne; and the Palace Pictures complete the bill.

EMPIRE THEATRE OF VARIETIES, LTD.—General-Manager, Mr. Frank Allen; Acting-Manager, Mr. John A. Walker.—Mr. Mike S. Whallen, the clever comedian, tops the bill; Ross and Grayson, a comedy duo of much excellence, gain a big reception for their songs and performance at the piano; Alexander and company create roars of laughter with their exhilarating sketch, Troubles of a Tourist, and the Northern Troupe execute International dances with undoubted ability; Howard and Collinson appear to much advantage in their comedy-act, The Porter and the Parcel, and Mr. Gus Garrick is an exceptionally clever mimic; Miss Madge Osmund, male impersonator, and the Bioscope complete.

NEW ALHAMBRA THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—General-Manager, Mr. Henry T. Downs.—Undoubtedly the dramatic season which opened on the 17th inst. at this old-established hall has proved a success. This week A Marriage of Vengeance is the attraction. Mr. Hilliard Vox, a clever actor, furnishes a manly impersonation of Paul Earnscliffe; and the villainies of Geoffrey Vannock are realistically portrayed by Mr. Herbert Cecil; Miss Nina Blake-Adams, a delightful actress, is a charming Elsie; and Miss Beryl Ravenswood acts with undoubted skill as Stella; Mr. Cecil Ravenswood is a capital Glynn Earnscliffe; and Mr. Stephen S. Scanlan is all that can be desired as Rheinardt; Mr. Luke Forster is decidedly humorous as Bob Shorner, causing roars of laughter; and other rôles are adequately sustained by Miss Evelyn Marrable; and Messrs. Victor Gordon, R. Lascelles, etc. Mr. Herbert Cecil is responsible for the stage management.

BIRKENHEAD.—NEW THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee, Mr. W. W. Kelly; Aacting-Manager, Mr. Charles Bell.—A visit from Mr. James Hare's company in the domestic drama, A Woman's Redemption, has created an excellent impression. Miss Irene Clifford displays remarkable power as Ruth, a gipsy, and secures the interest of the audience throughout; Reuben Griffiths is well impersonated by Mr. Albert H. Clarke; Mr. Percy Brown plays the Rev. John Ganthony with suitable effect, and Mr. James Hare is a commendable Hon. Bernard Sutcliffe. The humour of the piece is abundantly supplied by Mr. Joe Bracewell, Miss Jenny Haleworth, and Master Freddie Bentley; Miss Ethel Bracewell displays considerable skill as Mary Griffiths, and minor parts are all well sustained. The scenic effects and appointments are highly creditable.

ARGYLE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Manager, Mr. D. J. Clarke.—Miss Lil Hawthorne, the popular comedienne, is on a welcome return visit, and is repeating previous successes, and Mr. Charles R. Whittle, a talented versatile comedian, is also renewing acquaintance with hosts of admirers. The capital company likewise includes the New Macs, amusing knockabouts; Miss Millie Howell, an accomplished comedienne and descriptive vocalist; Barton and Franklin in their clever musical entertainment; Mr. Fred Keeton, character comedian; Miss Cora Casseli, a charming danseuse; the Dorrells, duettists and dancers, and an effective Bioscope display.

BIRMINGHAM.—PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE.—Lessees, Messrs. Rodgers, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. J. F. Graham; Acting-Manager, Mr. Henry Johnston.—A Prince of the People has been witnessed here with much interest and favour. Miss Emily Sheridan is particularly successful as Lucille; Mr. T. Rawson Buckley as Victor Lafond voices the aspirations of the part in a manner that arouses the audience into quick and enthusiastic sympathy; Mr. William H. Brougham depicts the commandant Berthaut in fine style; Mr. H. G. Twyman is most effective as the Marquis de Sancy; and Mr. Léonel Gadsden as Count de Valriere, Mr. R. Reginald as De Rouvert, and Syd Leslie as Antoine contribute well-drawn characters. The picture is completed with the admirable comedy vouchsafed by Miss Lilian Williams as Marie, and Mr. Douglas Munro as Badru. Mr. T. R. Foster, one time acting-manager here, is renewing old friendships as agent and advertising manager to the company.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Lester Collingwood; Acting-Manager, Mr Fred Bernardo.—The Gamester of Metz, which the author, Mr. Charles March, presents with his own company, is enjoying extensive patronage here. Mr. March, as usual, works his way cleverly to the fore with his protean character of Paul Baldot, which his versatility invests with frequent startling and dramatic effect. Miss Una Lane endows the rôle of Lucie Baldot with many fascinating features, and the Comtesse Baldot is ably portrayed by Miss Eva Lyndhurst. The remaining male parts are worthily filled by Mr. Fred Aldworth as General Monparasse, Mr. John B. Murray as Captain Badaire, Mr. George Paget as Lieutenant Herve, Mr. P. Wentworth as D'Artris, Mr. W. Brinklow as Courcelli, Mr. W. G. Dudeney as Louis Badaire, and Mr. Wilfred Protheroe as Du Basson, while Miss Cissy Haighton scores as Gwendolin Pearson.

CARLTON THEATRE, SALTLEY.—Owner and Manager, Mr. Arthur Carlton; Resident-Manager, Mr. James Alexander.—Kennedy's Komiks remain the attraction here with the Electric Animated Pictures. The artists engaged include Landes and Vincent, burlesque artistes and acrobatic dancers; the Three Sisters Horsley, the fair and clever comedy trio; James Dunn and Mabel Lenden, in a smart rifle and living statuary act; Mr. Frank Gibson, vocalist; Kino and Kirby, the local boys; and Aylmer and Turner, comedy artists.

THEATRE ROYAL, ASTON.—Lessee, Mr. Charles Barnard; General-Manager, Mr. E. Hewitson; Acting-Manager, Mr. Frank Whittles.—The Drama of Life, played by Mr. Lingford Carson's company, has drawn large audiences here this week, Mr. George M. Newall being a powerful factor in its success with his exceedingly strong and popular exposition of the leading rôle, Harry Beech. Mr. Edward M. Hamilton is also to be credited with much of the success with his convincing rôle of the less popular Walter Beech, and Miss Kate Hallam as Sylvia Beech is generally admired for her rare and graceful acting. Mr. Edward Van Biene presents the Count de Foi on clever lines; Mr. Fred Luard is a humorous Sir Dobson Wilde; Miss Florence French distinguishes herself as Lady Jane Wilde; Miss Nelly Birchenough acts the rôle of Betty Black to much and well-studied effect.

EMPIRE PALACE.—Resident-Manager, Mr A. W. Matcham.—Mr. Fred Karno's Company of Comedians in their new sketch Moses and Sons is proving a great attraction here this week. Fred Kitchen is more amusing than ever; Alexandra Dagmar, who has some good songs, wins loud applause; Frank Cunminger is an amusing comedian; Ferguson and Mack give a capital comedy turn; the Three Cape Girls are smart comedy vocalists and long-boot dancers; Duncan's dogs are an interesting turn; Eloise Brinsmade, with illustrated songs, and Dolly Moore, juvenile male impersonator, conclude the programme.

GAIETY THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. Albert Bushell.—Hetty King is starring here this week; the Tom Davis Trio in Motoring in Mid-air perform a most daring and sensational feat; Kijoto is a mysterious Japanese juggler and comedian; as a wheel comedian with plenty of go Bert Woodward makes a big hit; Vernando has a ventriloquial sketch, which is up to date; Rose Tilley is applauded for her songs, as also are Daisy Martell and May Geraldine; Baroux and Bion are amusing acrobats; and Will Johnson is a good comedian.

HIPPODROME.—Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Barrasford.—Foreman and Fannan and the popular Irish comedian Fred Cary are appearing here with their usual success; Sable Fern has established herself here as a favourite; the Sisters Cora have a new song scena, Sweethearts, which is well received; Mlle. Haydee presents her miniature vaudeville theatre; Max Waldon is a lady whose impersonations are far above the average; Tiny Arnold has made a good impression with her singing and dancing; Silvo, in a musical turn. F. De Marce, with his horses, and J. G. Grahame's company in a dramatic episode, The Downfall, contribute to the long bill.

BORDESLEY PALACE.—Resident-Manager, Mr. Edward Foster.—Casey's Court, an amusing juvenile sketch, is the leading attraction here; the Avolos achieve some daring feats on upright poles; Will English is a capital coon comedian; Athos and Collins give a good comedy turn; Kathleen Cogan is an attractive comedienne, as is also Leonie Dixon. The glees rendered by the Jonghmann Sisters are well received.

BLACKBURN.—PALACE THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. Will Murray.—Nat Clifford is paying a return visit here, and his inimitable humour has convulsed the audiences; Percy Curry wih his "Candy Man" song is also a good comedian; and other artists are Lambert and Hands, vocal duettists; Oriel and Astarte, clever gymnasts; Ruth Lytton, Scotch comedienne; the Elgars, vocal entertainers; Mollie Doon, comedienne, and the Eight Sunrays, dancing girls.

PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. E. H. Page.—Mr. Frank Ayrton's company in The Power of Gold is playing here to large houses.

BLACKPOOL.—HER MAJESTY'S OPERA HOUSE.—General-Manager, Mr. J. R. Huddlestone.—Mr. F. Douglas Wentworth presents The Bauble Shop here this week, and the production is meeting with a very cordial reception. The Lord Clivebrook of Mr. C. F. Collings is a painstaking performance, and Mr. Leonard Booker contributes a clever study of the Earl of Sarum; Mr. Wentworth carefully embodies Sir John Stradbrook, and Mr. William E. Passmore scores a success as Matthew Kebor; Messrs. Raymond Thomas and R. E. Evans as Mr. Stoach, M.P., and Mr. Bussey, M.P., also give satisfaction; a charming Jessie Keber is found in Miss Lily Bertram, and Misses Lisa Coleman, Antoinette Barrington, and Renee L'Estrade are good in their respective parts. The Married Bachelor supplies a pleasing curtain-raiser.

GRAND THEATRE.—Owner and Manager, Mr. T. Sergenson.—Too Many Cooks, as enacted by Mr. Wentworth Croke's company, is the attraction here this week. A tower of strength is found in Mr. Arthur Holmes-Gore, who plays the part of Arthur Winton with unqualified success; Mr. Jackson Wilcox is well placed as the fiery Major Bracket; Mr. Wilfred Noy is an efficient Lieutenant Alfred Ashurst, and Mr. Willis Searle provides amusement as John Bimbleby; the Sinkin of Mr. George Ide is also a very creditable performance; Miss Lilian Rogers wins golden opinions as Dora Brasket; Miss Hilda Fairfax acts very naturally the part of Georgina Winton, and Miss Dorothy Maud does well as Susan. The curtain-raiser is The Fatal Stockings, a new production, full particulars of which will be found in another column.

PALACE.—General-Manager, Mr. G. H. Harrop; Acting-Manager, Mr. Fred Waller.—Neil Keynon tops a big bill here this week. Mr. G. H. Elliott, the chocolate-coloured coon, is paying another visit, and his efforts are cordially received. Other capital turns are supplied by Lerarni in a wire-act; Mari Santoi in a musical scena; the Sandwinas, acrobats; De Vere and Kenwick, vocalists; Claver and Piccolo, jugglers, and Queenie May, comedienne.

HIPPODROME.—Lessees, Messrs. Whitehead and Ramsden; General-Manager, Mr. T. P. Duignan.—An excellent and well-varied programme is provided here this week; Tom and Marie Motramo appear with great success in a musical act; the Sisters Walmsley supply a sketch; Les Bollingers are clever painters; Beatty and Blanche sing and dance well; Babs Lloyd is a clever juvenile comedienne; the Two Kanes are skilful musicians; Mlle. Aladina exhibits some well-trained birds; De Henau shows that he can use his toes in a wonderful manner, and the Two Kanes appear in a musical act.

BOLTON. — GRAND THEATRE, LTD. — Managing-Director, Mr. J. F. Elliston; Acting-Manager, Mr. Harry Kenyon.—This week we have a return visit of George Testo Sante and company in The Life of a Showman. The drama is well mounted and staged, and the various parts are ably portrayed by a good company.

BOOTLE.—MUNCASTER THEATRE. — Proprietors, Messrs. Pennington; Manager, Mr. H. Pennington; Acting-Manager, Mr. Albert E. Wilson. — The last week of the season here was opened on Monday by Miss Violet Maitland and Mr. H. St. Clair's company in The Ticket-of-Leave Man. Mr. Harry Glenny makes a capable Jem Dalton, and the part of Gibson is well played by Mr. H. Rich; Miss Violet Maitland is a sympathetic May Edwards, and Mr. Herbert St. Clair gives a good reading of Bob Brierly. The cast is materially strengthened by Mr. H. Hesslegrave, who gives a powerful rendering of Hawkshaw, the detective. Other characters are in capable hands. On Wednesday and Thursday Tempest Tossed was produced, and on Friday, The Shadows of a Great City.

BOSTON.—PALACE THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. Geo. Eaphraim.—Poole's Pierrots continue to draw large and enthusiastic audiences. This week the new arrivals are Belford and Mars, who are accorded a flattering reception on their reappearance, and were doubly encored. Barney Noble made a good impression, and should prove a draw during the season. On Thursday afternoon the same entertainment is given on Freiston shore. Permission has been granted by the Mayor for the Pierrots to perform on "the Green" fine evenings.

BOURNEMOUTH.—THEATRE ROYAL AND OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietors, Messrs. David Allen and Son; Sole Lessee, Mr. Mouillot; Manager, Mr. Rowland Stewart.—Mr. Maxwell's principal company, which is paying a return visit with Little Mary, opened to an appreciative house on Monday. As the Earl of Carlton Mr. Ben Field gave a capital impersonation, and the Lord Rolfe of Mr. Arthur Kightley was a sound piece of acting. Mr. Gerald Malvern as Sir Jennings Pyke, Mr. Lewis Edgard as Plumleigh, and Mr. Dyer as Dighton are also well cast. Miss Christine Silver

Tableaux Curtains, Box Curtains, & Draperies.

HEAVY TABLEAUX CURTAINS.

Dear Sir,

It gives me much pleasure to testify to the admirable work done by you in the cleaning of the exceptionally heavy tableaux curtains of this theatre. It must have been no easy task, especially the bringing up of the gold to the state of perfection you have achieved.

Yours truly,
HERBERT BEERBOHM TREE,
His Majesty's Theatre, March 4th, 1905.

Mr. Harris,
The Chemical Cleaning Co.

Our Works are busy with orders from all parts of the United Kingdom, from Managers of Theatres and Music Halls who desire to take advantage of the present season in which to make their places of entertainment look "SPIC AND SPAN."

NOW IS THE TIME TO CLEAN UP AND RENOVATE!

IF TIME IS OF MOMENT
HARRIS WILL UNDERTAKE TO CLEAN UP
THE THEATRE OR MUSIC HALL
BETWEEN THE SHOWS.

Read the following: A Smart Feat.

EVOLUTION OF AN ORDER IN FIVE STAGES.

STAGE I. ACCEPTATION.	STAGE II. CONFIRMATION.	STAGE III. CONSIDERATION.	STAGE IV. INSPIRATION.	STAGE V. REALIZATION.
Call from Nottingham, Monday. "Is that you, Harris?" "It is." "Can you clean up my box curtains and draperies by to-morrow night? I am expecting the Mayor." "Why, certainly," says Harris.	"Put the things in the train leaving Nottingham for London at 10 a.m. I'll do the rest."	Meet the 4.20 a.m. at Marylebone. Works at 7.0 a.m. Finish 1.0 p.m. Catch 1.15 p.m. to Nottingham.	Annihilation of time and distance. Quite an easy matter when you know how to do it.—T. HARRIS.	Call from Nottingham, Tuesday. "Is that you, Harris?" "Yes." "I've called you up to tell you that at 7 p.m. the things were all fixed. Theatre opened looking like a new theatre, thanks to you. You're a wonder." "Glad to hear it. Recommend me to your friends."—T. HARRIS.

Harris is continually repeating the Nottingham feat. His motto—"NEVER ASLEEP."

'Phone, Three-nine-two-three Gerrard.
Wire, "Cleaning, London."

WRITE 6, ARGYLL STREET, REGENT STREET, LONDON, W.,

Or demand Harris to attend anywhere and at any time. He never fails.

CHEMICAL CLEANING & DYEING COMPANY,

'Phone to T. HARRIS to Come and See You Anywhere.

ORIGINAL THEATRICAL CLEANERS AND DYERS.

has made a careful study of Moira Loney, and renders it with much effect, and Miss Elspeth Dudgeon as Lady Plumleigh is excellent.

BRADFORD.—PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. F. Laidler; Acting-Manager, Mr. N. Hepworth.—Darkness, Mr. S. Buchanan Rogerson's adaptation of Mr. Guy Thorne's novel, "When it was Dark," was presented for the first time here on Monday by Mr. Morton Powell's company, and great interest was manifested in the thrilling incidents of the piece. Mr. Ernest Griffin presents a Mephistophelian portraiture of Constantine Schwabe, which is intensely dramatic, and Miss Laura Walker wins golden opinions for her powerful acting as Gertrude Hunt; Mr. Edward Valentine's Sir Robert Llewellyn is a fine performance, and the Rev. Basile Gortre is an earnest and convincing effort on the part of Mr. John Davidson; Mr. Louis Lingard as Harold Spence, Mr. Eric North as Mr. Ommaney, and Mr. Harry Heller as the Rev. Mr. Byars do excellent work; and the comic relief is admirably brought out by Mr. Millar Wilson as the Hon. Charlie Gayfly, Mrs. Morton Powell as Helena Byars, and Miss Nellie Freeland as Gracie Goldeneye.

THE EMPIRE.—Moss' Empires, Ltd.—Resident-Manager, Mr. Percival Craig.—That prince of jugglers, Cinquevalli, is creating great enthusiasm on his return visit here this week; he is as graceful, artistic, and wonderful as ever, and has assistance from an attendant who is delightfuly humorous; the Delevines also re-appear in a new comic sketch, Flipp and Flopp, which is clever and very funny; Brett and Orford again present one of their bright and popular sketches; Bernard's Fantoches, a clever marionette show, varies the programme agreeably; a smart turn in singing and dancing is presented by the Lunelle Sisters; Ike Scott and Son, greatly entertaining as usual, are on a return visit; the Harrison Brothers are a capital comedy couple; James H. Cullen submits parodies of familiar songs in quaint style; Gertrude Sandford, contralto, renders ballads with taste and skill; and the American Bioscope shows some fine films.

PALACE THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Resident-Manager, Mr. H. C. Arnold, jun.—The La Faille Troupe of gymnasts and equilibrists are very prominent here in a daring performance easily and gracefully accomplished; King Roy submits basso songs finely; an excellent turn by the Henres in juggling and club-swinging finds favour; Virto on a variety of wind instruments displays great proficiency and skill; Harry Pleon in a burlesque sketch, P.C. Pudden (assisted by Chris. V. Bern and Celia Kent) is very diverting; Lily Sharplin is responsible for some good mimicry; excellent harmony is submitted by the Paragon Trio of Vocalists; Tennyson and Wallis supply good comedy, patter, and dancing; and some capital films shown by Raymond's Bio-Tableau prove very interesting to the audience.

BRIGHTON.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. H. Cecil Beryl; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Harcourt M. Beryl.—His Excellency the Governor occupies the boards here this week, and is admirably performed by an excellent company of London West-End players. Mr. Lionel Mackinder gives a very fine impersonation of Mr. John Baverstock; Mr. Loring Fernie is vivacious and convincing as His Excellency Sir Montague Martin; Mr. Lennox Pawle's Sir Henry Carlton is cleverly played; Mr. H. Marsh Allen achieves conspicuous success as Captain Charles Carew. Miss Janet Alexander's Ethel Carlton is a delightfully ingenuous piece of acting; Miss Ethel Matthews is bright and winsome as Stella de Grex; Miss Dolly Jones does well as the sedate Miss Wentworth Bolingbroke; and Mr. James Blakeley is decidedly funny as the Sentry. The remaining characters are ably sustained. The farcical romance is preceded by a variety entertainment entitled A Waste of Time, in which Mr. James Blakeley sings "Willie won't be seen for a long time now." Mr. H. Marsh Allen recites a parody on "The Wreck of the Hesperus," and Mr. Lionel Mackinder sings "Clementine," and also dances in his own inimitable style. The apparently impromptu prelude proves very enjoyable.

GRAND THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Ernest Carpenter.—It's Never Too Late to Mend is the attraction here this week. Mr. Ernest Carpenter makes a manly and popular Rev. Francis Eden; and Miss Daisy Halling is a charming and convincing Susan Merton; Mr. Wilton Charles is duly aggressive as the Prison Governor; Mr. Ronald Adair's representation of Tom Robinson merits unstinted praise; Mr. Marmaduke Wetherell's George Fielding and Mr. Sam T. Pearce's Peter Crawley are admirably played; Mr. Paul Barry Leevers is forcible as George Meadows; while Mr. George H. Asquin as Jackey and Miss Lucy Murray as Josephs are capitally suited.

ALHAMBRA.—Managing-Director, Mr. J. L. Graydon; General-Manager, Mr. Ernest Lepard.—There is a capital company here this week. Datas, "the marvellous man of memory," submits an interesting turn; Albert Whelan, the Australian entertainer, wins very hearty applause; the Fred Moule and E. D. Nicholls' combination are highly amusing in the comedy sketch The Battle of the Belles; May Henderson, "the dusky comedy queen," is as popular as ever; Frazer and Mac are capital comedy and vocal entertainers; Harry Bedford is an eccentric comedian; Sterling and Love are well received in their vocal and instrumental comedy act; Beatrice Willey is heard to great advantage in a medley of old-flower songs; Edgar Budden, comedian, bone soloist, and roller skate dancer, gives a good turn; Ruby Aston is a pleasing comedienne and dancer; Dolly and Madge McCalla sing and dance themselves into favour, and the Alhambrascope pictures are interesting.

HIPPODROME THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietors, Messrs. Barrasford and Smith; Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Barrasford.—An attractive programme is sustained here this week. George Leyton achieves great success in his military scena, Boys of the Chelsea School; the Harmony Four are clever and humorous in their musical comedy performance; Dan Thomas is a very amusing comedian; the Original Arleys combination win warm applause for their refined and amusing turn, in which three small dogs figure successfully in their display of heading a large air-ball; Rose Harvey and her company of ladies submit a musical act, Black and White, which is cordially appreciated; Simms and Simms are talented musical comedians; Jack Pleasants proves himself an original and eccentric comedian; the Olive Trio are dainty vocal comediennes and dancers; Lawrence Barclay is a droll comedian; and the Barrascope pictures are entertaining.

WEST PIER.—Secretary and Entertainment-Manager, Mr. A. D. Norman.—Mr. Leonard Pagden, a prime Brighton favourite, and company are here this week with The Idler. Mr. Leonard Pagden presents a fine enactment of Mark Cross; Miss Margaret Damer is a charming Kate Merryweather; Mr. Douglas Vigors achieves great success as Sir John Harding; Miss Ida Phillips is an admirable Lady Harding; Miss Rosalind Ross makes a capital Mrs. Glynn-Stanmore; Mr. Arthur Vezin deserves warm commendation for his Simeon Strong; Miss Constance Grover is very effective as Mrs. Cross; and Mr. A. Willoughby gives an able representation of General Mereweather.

NEW PALACE PIER THEATRE.—The Ticket of Leave Man is performed here by the Comedy Répertoire company. Mr. Yorke Hatton is highly successful as Bob Brierly; Miss Mabel Durrant gives a charming impersonation of May Edwards; Mr. Grahame Herington renders good service as Mr. Gibson; Mr. Robert Whyte, jun., makes a capital Hawkshaw; Mr. Ernest Percy's Jem Dalton and Mr. Stanley Harrison's Melter Moss are praiseworthy enactments; Miss Ella Danecourt is well placed as Sam Willoughby, and Miss May Wymond is effective as Mrs. Willoughby. The play is preceded by a new comedietta, The Princess of Pain, which is fully noticed in another column.

AQUARIUM.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. J. J. Sallmayer; Acting-Manager, Mr. Henry de Groot.—Mr. Frank Major's party of refined entertainers and Miss Minnie Letta's Sporting Girls are still here. Mr. B. S. Rutley's répertoire company, continuing their engagement in the theatre, give afternoon and evening performances of the musical comedy burlesque, Cinderella, the Little Slavey.

BRISTOL.—PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. James Macready Chute.—San Toy is the attraction this week. The musical comedy is staged well, the chorus is strong and tuneful, and the augmented orchestra is ably conducted by Mr. Albert Bartlett. Miss Fanny Dango is decidedly pleasing as San Toy; Miss Maud Darling is highly successful as Dudley; Mr. Frank Danby is capital as Li; Mr. John Humphries distinguishes himself as Yen How; Mr. Dennis Drew both acts and sings well as Bobby Preston; Mr. W. J. Manning is decidedly smart as Li Bingo Preston; and Miss Rhoda Gordon is well placed as Poppy Preston. Some clever mock-operatic and other singing is introduced by Mr. Frank Wood and Miss Louie Collier, who successfully play the parts of Fo Hop and Chu San; and some graceful dancing is contributed by Miss May Gould.—Mr. Chute's annual benefit is announced for Saturday evening, the performance being under the patronage of the High Sheriff of Bristol (Mr. H. L. Riseley); Sir George White, Bart.; his Honour Judge Austin; the Master of the Merchant Venturers (J. Russell Harvey, Esq.); the President of the Chamber of Commerce (Sidney Humphries, Esq.), and other notable citizens.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Ernest Carpenter; Resident-Manager, Mr. W. F. Crowe.—Messrs. Stillwell and Teulon's company is here with The Branded Woman, a romantic drama which is very well staged. Miss Zana St. George acts with considerable power as Genevieve Larouche; Miss Katherine Barnett is pleasing as Marie; Mr. James Stillwell distinguishes himself as Philip Maurice, successfully assuming several disguises; Mr. Edward Fryer acts with care as Baron Hauber, obtaining good support from Mr. Paul E. Teulon as Louis Duroc; and the comic parts of Dick Brown and Jacqueline are capitally taken by Mr. Beckett Bould and Miss Florence Lambeth.

PALACE.—Resident-Manager, Mr. Horace Livermore; Secretary and Treasurer, Mr. F. J. V. Welchman.—Yukio Tani, the Japanese wrestler, is attracting a large attendance, and prizes are offered to local amateurs. There are several bouts each evening, and some of the Bristolians have made a stout resistance. Shavo and Frank do a good turn as comedy jugglers, &c.; Florrie St. Roy presents a pleasing turn of song and acrobatic dance; Brothers Bright are exceptionally capable gymnasts; Tom Fancourt and Jennie Rubie have a good comedy act, Out of Barracks; Amy Elcock is an effective coon vocalist and dancer; Charles Ashdowne amuses with eccentric songs, patter, and dancing; Lulu Brooke, comedienne, obtains considerable appreciation; and the performance concludes with a good display of animated pictures.

EMPIRE.—Proprietor, Mr. B. Pearce Lucas; Resident-Manager, Mr. Sid Macaire.—Maxmilian Gruber is here with his performing elephant, horse, and pony, the animals being very cleverly trained; Ara, Zebra, and Vora amuse with their speciality Indian Pastimes; Stanley's Urchins (five in number) obtain applause for their singing, dancing, &c.; Zanfretti and Napio score as musical eccentrics; Wilton Heriot and company provide a good sketch An Anglo-American Alliance; Harry Coates, singing navvy, has a good voice; Mlle. Du Roche is a pleasing vocalist; Nat Watkins, patter comedian, is appreciated; and Nellie Wilson scores both in song and dance. The performance concludes with some good animated photographs of San Francisco before and after the earthquake.

BROUGHTON.—VICTORIA, LTD. — Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Fred Watson.—Mr. Frank Lindo commenced on Monday an engagement which began well with Home, Sweet Home, a domestic drama, written by himself, and the principal rôle of which, Stephen Armitage, is ably sustained by him; Miss Marion Wakeford is excellent as Joan; Little Miss Daisy Rochefort is a clever little Dora; valuable support comes from Mr. D. Laurence Doyle as David Armitage; Captain Gerald Gambier as Duke of Ancaster; Mr. J. W. Henson as Lucas Lyle; Mr. Sydney Bryant as the Hon. Percy; Mr. George Overs as Dick Redmayne; Mr. Ernest E. Owens; Mr. Helsby Wright as Gaffer; Miss Mary Denver as Lady Summerton, and Miss Hetty Webster as Sybil Fay, each contributing to the success of the play.

BURNLEY.—EMPIRE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. W. C. Horner.—There is a good bill here this week. Tom Grave, in Flying the Wheel, is re-engaged; the Rigolette Brothers, who perform on a revolving ladder, are loudly applauded; L. B. Athol is excellent in his song, "Dreamland"; and Ross and Lewis create much laughter. Arthur Croxen is a clever punster; the Gilberts are smart gymnasts; a unique novelty is James de Voyes's horse "Billy," who is possessed of extraordinary intelligence; and Will Vay's Juveniles in Life in the Slums are well applauded.

BURY (LANCS.).—THEATRE ROYAL AND OPERA HOUSE.—General Manager, Mr. Otto C. Culling.—The New Empire Theatrescope and Vaudeville company provides the entertainment here this week. A large number of pictures are shown. Hurman is a clever juggler and hoop manipulator; Goros, the Egyptian mystifier, is very good; J. C. Jaques, actor vocalist, and Boden and Bell, dancers, are successful turns.

THE HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. W. H. Broadhead and Sons; General-Manager, Mr. Broadhead, jun.—A really good bill here includes Miss Ada Colley, the Australian prima donna; the Arizona Troupe of jugglers and acrobats; E. E. Ford, a humourist with a good voice; Lytton and Bland, comedians; Will Percival, clog dancer; Mike Johnson, Dutch comedian; and Leo Dryden. The Bioscope pictures are excellent.

CARDIFF.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Robert Redford.—The famous comedy, Caste, has attracted good audiences to the popular Royal this week. Mr. W. Charles Otley in his impersonation of Eccles gives an exceptionally fine piece of acting; as Polly Eccles Miss Marie Jonquil would be difficult to surpass; while Miss Olive Palmer as Esther is particularly charming and graceful. Mr. William Allison as the honest Sam Gerridge presents a clever piece of character acting; and Mr. Arthur Bawtree as the manly George D'Alroy and Mr. Herbert Robinson in a capital representation of Major Hawtry deserve mention; and the Marquise de St. Maur receives an excellent representation at the hands of Miss Phyllis Manners.

KING'S THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Samuel James; Acting-Manager, Mr. A. C. Duncan.—The Blind Foundling, capitally presented by Messrs. Phelps and Tilbury's company, is the drama occupying the boards here. Miss Belle Tilbury proves a capable exponent of Isabel Dalton; Mr. Chas. H. Phelps's rendering of Gerald Dalton does not lack power; and the sympathetic impersonation of Fairy, the blind foundling, by Miss Mabel Hall, is in a large measure the success of the piece; Mr. Harry Pilbury as Dick Dobbins delights the audience with his clever comedy.

EMPIRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll. Acting-Manager, Mr. C. H. S. Dring.—Annie Abbott, described as "The Little Georgia Magnet," is appearing here with her wonderful performance; Belle Davis and her Pick-Chicks are funny, the merry nigger boys excelling as step dancers; A Venetian Love Scena by the Classicum Quartette is an entertaining turn, very effectively staged; delightful Amber Austa quickly wins popularity; the Henri Taylor Trio are expert equilibrists and jugglers; and Frank Seeley, with his diverting songs, secures a good reception; the Sisters Oswald in a dainty dance; Hamilton Hill, the well-known baritone; Will Haines, light comedian; and the amusing pictures on the Bioscope, are also included in this week's bill.

CARLISLE.—THE PALACE.—Proprietors, Palace Theatre, Carlisle, Ltd.; Managing-Director, Signor Rino Pepi; Acting-Manager, Mr. A. E. Nicholls.—Another attractive programme is submitted here this week. Messrs Rezeni and Robini are making a first appearance here, and their novel comedy and clever trapeze work is immensely popular. A pleasing performance in contributed by Mlle. Renée, who plays selections on the saxophone, piano, and cornet; Les Ralli's wonderful acrobatic work in their act, entitled The Artist and His Monkey, is much appreciated. Cherry Lass, a dainty dancer and comedienne; Harley and Hardon; and Bionetti and Corrie, eccentric jugglers, are all excellent turns which meet with well-deserved approval. Miss Marie Collins, who tops the bill, is well received, and Vernon's Bioscope, with new pictures, completes a most interesting programme.

CHATHAM. — THEATRE ROYAL. — Proprietors, Messrs. C. and L. B. Barnard; Acting-Manager, Mr. Lionel Barnard; Secretary, Mr. Geo. G. Ridley. —The Plucky Nipper, with Miss Bonwin Carlton in the title-rôle is the attraction here this week.

BARNARD'S PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Sole Proprietor, Mr. L. B. Barnard.—The star turn here is provided by the Charles Troupe, in a clever acrobatic and juggling act; Phillips and Terry remain from last week with The Dummy; Rose and Calvert contribute a merry entertainment; Harry Wenburn's 'Ave-a-Couple just suits the patrons of this hall; Cul Pitt gives his pot-pourri act; Kate Perrier is also announced; while Lacey's Erascope exhibits interesting pictures.

GAIETY THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor Capt. H. E. Davis; Acting-Manager, Mr. F. J. Donne.—Captain Davis's trump card is the engagement of Hackenschmidt, whose wrestling act is proving very attractive. Childe Stuart is billed, but in her stead we have Charles Russell, comedian; the Delornes are smart dancers; Johnny Holland and company score with a comedy sketch entitled The Millionaire; Carrie Joy gives "Remember me" in good style; Ailsa Douglas, ballad vocalist, and Dan Conroy, comedian, raconteur, and dancer, complete the company.

CHESTERFIELD. — THEATRE ROYAL, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Resident-Manager, Mr. Richard Ralli.—Mr. John F. Preston's company is this week appearing here in Lady Godiva. Mr. F. B. Woulfe gives a capital portrayal of Tom of Coventry; Mr. Clifford Marle is most effective in the part of Leofric; Mr. James Duncan proves a success as Algar; Mr. E. Hamilton is good as Unwolf; Miss Ethel Griffies plays the title-rôle with dramatic power; Miss Catherine Brook is successful as Lady Aldyth, and Miss Edith Lorraine is a charming Elfrida.

COLCHESTER.—HIPPODROME.—Joint Proprietors, Messrs. Fred K. Mouillot and Walter de Frece; Acting-Manager, Mr. George Alen.—The bill here this week is headed by the New York Comedy Four, a turn distinguished by good vocalism and a sprinkling of timely humour. The Fitzroys, society gymnasts, on the trapeze and perpendicular rope, give a decidedly clever exhibition; Frank Couch provides a topical and thoroughly up-to-date entertainment, whilst good dancing comes from the Two Coolvilles, who are also a dainty pair of vocalists; Nellie Chandos quite confirms the good opinions formed of her during her last visit, being as charming as ever; the Two Heros are a comic pair of acrobats and benders, and a particularly welcome item is a violin solo by Mr. James Hargreaves.

COVENTRY.—OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietor, Mr. William Bennett.—A well filled house gathered on Monday night to witness Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Kimberley's company in the melodrama by Mrs. Kimberley, entitled A Sister's Sin. Mr. William Vane achieves a success as the hero, Harry Raymond; and as the heroine, Minnie Hastings, Miss Langley is seen to great advantage; Miss Edie Macklin and Miss Alice Granville do themselves full justice as Floss Perks and Nell Stubbs. The impersonation of the villain, George Oakley, is in the capable hands of Mr. George Money; and other characters worthy of mention are Mr. Chas. Locke as Walter Hastings, Mr. Harry Lyndon as Theophilus Hope, Miss Augusta Tullock as Charzel, and Miss M. Eversleigh as Redempta.

THE HIPPODROME.—Manager, Mr. T. M. Sylvester. —A good variety programme is this week being appreciated by large houses. Mr. Claude Ginnett and company appear in a very successful military spectacle on the Zulu War, and the exciting incidents are followed with interest. Alf Chester makes a welcome reappearance as a comedian, and is very popular; Mlle. Roza's Canine Hippodrome is another clever turn, the dogs performing some clever and original tricks; Norman Mint is a capital comedian, while Frank and Violet Payte in a comedy duologue, Harry Litter, comedian, Robins and Collier in a musical comedy scena, entitled The Lady and the Porter, all considerably add to the success of the evening.

CRADLEY HEATH.—EMPIRE THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Jno. H. Morton.—Kennedy's Komics are here this week; the Four Sisters Godfrey, dancers, give a capital terpsichorean entertainment; Professor Brier introduces his performing donkey with great success; Teddy Lennon has several good songs which are well received; Little Hatch scores as a comic singer and dancer; Professor Clowe Harley gives a smart ventriloquial entertainment; and Miss Osborne wins applause as a ballad vocalist.

CROYDON.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Samuel James; Acting-Manager, Mr. Charles Herrick.—The boards here are occupied by Mr. Lewis Gilbert's company in Partners in Crime. Miss Marie Clavering, always reliable, renders valuable services as Gladys Davenport; Miss Gladys Summers is painstaking as Jessie Davenport; Miss Ella Seton makes the most of Nancy; and Miss May Grahame is quite suitable as Jim; Mr. Percy Maitland is a whimsical Tennyson Scott Burns; Mr. H. H. Barrington powerfully enacts the heavy part of Noel Cranford; Mr. Aubrey Johnson makes a big hit as Ben Halliday; Mr. F. Thorpe Tracy is satisfactory as Aaron Moss; and adequate assistance is given by Mr. Johnnie Leonie, as Jack Cartwright, Mr. A. J. Robins as Sergeant O'Hara, and Mr. Ashton Winslow as a policeman.

EMPIRE PALACE OF VARIETIES. — Proprietor, Mr. Walter Gibbons; Manager, Mr. Eustace H. Jay.—The entertainment here is up to the usual high standard. The Poluski Bros. (Will and Sam) are effective in their amusing act, Laughs; Fred Karno's company of comedians are irresistible in the extravaganza, The Dandy Thieves; the Arcadians are pleasing pastoral players and vocalists; Tate and Tate are clever comedy crobats; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Lucas in their scenes from Dickens are appreciated; Kahn and Kahn appear in a smart exposition of magic; R. Dunning's ventriloquial efforts are in the right direction; Frank Sylvo, comedy juggler, is well worth seeing; Edie Veno is a taking comedienne and dancer; and the Bros. Lang are quaint knockabout comedians.

DARLINGTON.—THEATRE ROYAL AND HIPPODROME.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. James Bell.—The entertainment this week is given by a capital variety company, headed by Edward Stillward and company in the sketch, entitled Satan; Miss Marie Weston, vocalist, banjoist, and dancer, delights the audience; Marcus Boyle, comedian, well maintains his reputation; Vincent, acrobatic table expert, gives a clever performance; the musical prodigy, little Luigi Salvino, is much applauded; the Bros. Relton are clever vocalists; the Carvers and the Bellograph conclude the programme.

DERBY.—GRAND THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE.—Sole Proprietor and General Manager, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; Acting-Manager, Mr. Charles Denley; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Albert Orton.—Mr. F. Wybert Clive's company is here this week with The Conscript. Mr. Harry Cullenford fills the rôle of Karl Truevitch with notable success, and Nadia is charmingly impersonated by Miss Violet Carlyle; Mr. Watts Steele plays Ivan Manloff with conspicuous ability, and Mr. Charles E. Johnson is deserving of commendation as Paul Hardiski; Mr. Edward Lowrie is thoroughly successful as Doggervitch, and the same can be said of Mr. F. H. Bellwood as Maxim Fedka; considerable fun is provided by Mr. Tom Breen as Tretch Trotoff, a postman, and Miss Connie Meadows as Wanda Khoval, and the other characters are in excellent hands. The scenery is effective.

PALACE.—Lessee and General-Manager, Mr. T. Allan Edwardes; Assistant-Manager, Mr. H. Taylor.—The attraction here this week is Edwin Barwick, the clever character-comedian, who has a hearty reception. Another good turn is that of Will Godwin, who appears in "Re-united," and is deservedly recalled; the Saxonias appear in great advantage in a capital musical speciality; Herbert Rule is a decidedly droll comedian; Cris, ventriloquist, has as good a reception as ever; Carlin is an acceptable foot equilibrist; Ruby Wentworth is a charming comedienne; and the Palace Bioscope submits an interesting film of the Royal Spanish Marriage, with the subsequent disastrous effects of the bomb outrage.

DEWSBURY.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessees, the Northern Theatres Co., Ltd.; Resident-Manager, Mr. J. H. Asquith.—Miss Lancashire, Limited, is the bill of fare this week, with Miss Florence Baines in the leading rôle. The audience on Monday evening went into recurrent fits of hilarity over the unorthodox behaviour of Mary Ellen Thompson in her sudden incursion into "high society." Miss Baines is truly the "life and soul" of the play. Her assumption of the Lancashire dialect is "as to the manner born." The popular comedienne was enthusiastically encored for her songs. Eva Lancashire, "the real article," is demurely represented by a very charming ingénue actress in Miss Anena Walton. Mr. Robert Turley as Harry plays the part ably, but needs to speak his lines more boldly. Other rôles are satisfactorily filled by Messrs. David Donaldson, Richard C. Hicks, Will Casey, Chas. Reeves, Allan M. Servington, Payne Fletcher, Miss Mabella Tinton, and Miss Pattie Groves.

DONCASTER.—NEW GRAND THEATRE AND OPERA HOUSE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. J. W. Chapman.—Wep-Ton-No-Mah is the attraction here. Mr. C. W. Charles is a breezy and manly Colonel Stockton; Mr. Edward Leroy scores as Manuel Lopes, and Mr. Ike Shawcross acquits himself well as Capt. Franklin. Extremely realistic is the portrayal of Chief Ga No-Gua by Mr. Theo. Alker; and Mr. Guy D. Hackney's assumption of Sam White, a happy Hottentot, is a popular one. Garry Cullen is ably represented by Mr. Dan Ryan; Miss Minnie Goepel is a dainty Nellie Stockton; Miss Matilda Shiffles, the Colonel's housekeeper, is quaintly represented by Miss Dorothy Neville; the title-rôle is undertaken by Miss Go-Won-Go Mohawk, who, in spite of a recent unfortunate accident, continues to give a telling embodiment of the Indian mail carrier.

DOUGLAS.—GAIETY THEATRE.—Proprietors, The Palace and Derby Castle, Ltd.; Manager and Secretary, Mr. Charles Fox, jun.; Acting-Manager, Mr. George Gray.—A Pair of Spectacles is the attraction here, and the members of the capable company which Mr. Herbert Ralland has gathered together for his stock season have deserved the generous applause which has rewarded their artistic efforts. Mr. Arthur Dennis as Benjamin Goldfinch was admirable in his presentment of the guileless gentleman who has only faced the problems of the simple life; the man from Sheffield, Uncle Gregory, could not have been better interpreted than it was by Mr. William Griffen. The young men of the comedy were most pleasantly played by Mr. James Geldred and Mr. J. Herbert Beaumont. Mr. Richard Walsh, a young actor of great versatility, emphasised his dramatic capacity as Lorrimer. The Bartholomew of Mr. Fred Fowler was a quaint study; and other characters were suitably sustained by Mr. Fred Birch and Mr. J. Mason. Miss Chrissie Ralland, a smart comedienne, was pleasing as Lucy; Miss Kitty Cavendish was excellent as Mrs. Goldfinch; Miss Minnie Walsh, a clever actress, had too little to do as Charlotte, but she did it very well; Mr. Harry Nicholls' farce, The New Butler, was the curtain-raiser. It evoked roars of laughter, being well played by Mr. Fred Fowler, Miss Nina Zambray, and Miss Chrissie Ralland.

DERBY CASTLE.—Proprietors, The Palace and Derby Castle, Ltd.; Manager and Secretary, Mr. Charles Fox, jun.; Business Manager, Mr. W. Kelly.—An excellent variety programme is provided here. The ballroom floor is in superb condition. The variety performers include Mr. Chris. Richards, a clever comedian and dancer; Messrs. Jack and Evelyn, eccentric artists, with an amusing interlude; and the Boganny Troupe, with their laughter-provoking sketch, The Lunatic Bakers.

Mr. Frederick Buxton, with his up-to-date tea village and pierrots, attracts large audiences.

Mr. Charles Dare, with his burnt cork comedians, on Douglas Head, deservedly secures a fair share of patronage.

DUBLIN. — GAIETY THEATRE. — Sole Representative and Patentee, Mrs. Michael Gunn; General-Manager, Mr. Charles Hyland.—On Monday afternoon and evening M. Coquelin and company appeared here in two of his famous creations Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme and Cyrano de Bergerac. On Tuesday Mr. Andrew Moir's company commenced a five nights' engagement with a triple bill. In a dramatic episode in one act, entitled Andrew Patterson, Mr. Percy Marshall was commendable in the rôle of Seymour O'Neill, and he was ably supported by Miss Lilian Hallowes as Rosie and Mr. Charles Hanbury as Dick Poole. The second piece was the three act comedy, The Major's Double. The rôle of Major Prendergast was cleverly enacted by Mr. J. B. Gordon, and Norah Sullivan had a capable representative in Miss Eily Helene; Mr. Charles Hanbury was good as Jack Jannaway, and Miss Dora Roberts ably depicted the part of Daisy; John Cockle had an able exponent in Mr. Percy Marshall, and Miss Lilian Hallowes was excellent as Madge; the rôles of Tim Blake and Dick were well filled by Messrs. James Danvers and W. B. Freear. The one-act miniature grand opera, The Gamester, in which Mr. Audry Roy, Miss Dorothy Southgate, and Mr. Charles Cautley appeared, concluded the programme.

THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. Mouillot; Resident-Manager, Mr. George Parrington.—The second week of the Hippodrome season commenced here on Monday night, the principal attraction being "Menetekel, or the Mystic Ball," a marvellous show, which is introduced by Mr. and Mrs. Max Berol-Konorah. The Manhattan Comedy Four are funny in their travesty of the prison scene in Faust; and the Matweef Hugoston troupe are nightly recalled; the Five Whiteleys submit a smart acrobatic and wire-walking act, anr Harry Tate's company, in the sketch Fishing, is highly amusing; Onda and Artell are capital gymnasts, and the ventriloquial turn of Russell Carr is well received, as is also that of Frank Lawton, sifleur; the Three Romas, gladiatorial marvels, make a decided hit, and Oldham is a clever female impersonator. The pictures of recent events are interesting.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager Mr. J. W. Whitbread; Acting-Manager, Mr. John M. Dawson.—The boards are occupied here this week by Miss Blanche St. Albans and Mr. J. Leicester Jackson's company, and on Monday night the emotional drama, Her One Great Sin, was produced and favourably received. Mr. Sam Arthur gives a clever rendering of Reuben Warhurst, and as Grace Warhurst Miss Lydia Donovan quite wins the sympathy of the audience by her able exposition; Mr. Fred Hodson is highly amusing as Jerry Jumble, and Miss Nellie Lambert displays ability as Nancy Winpenny; villainy is well presented by Mr. Quinton Fulford as Arnold Thornhill, and as Dan Hundle Mr. Charles E. Lambert is exceedingly good; Mr. Sam Roberts as Jack Hundle, Mr. J. Nella as Mr. Benton, and Miss Maudie Lambert as Little Gracie are also creditable in their respective parts. The Penalty of Crime is billed for Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

PAVILION, KINGSTOWN.—Manager, Mr. C Irvine Bacon.—At this popular resort the Red Cloaks, under the direction of Mr. George Reynolds, are appearing this week. The company includes Miss Eva Hambhin, Mr. Fred Milner, Miss Conyers, Mr. Barry, and Mr. Davidson, whose vocal duets, solos, and some excellent 'cello and piano playing, are heartily enjoyed.

EMPIRE. — General-Manager, Mr. Frank Allen; Acting-Manager and Secretary, Mr. George H. Marsh.—In the strong and varied programme presented here this week the principal feature is the Dumond Minstrels, whose vocal and instrumental turn scores successfully. George Brooks is a droll comedian, who creates plenty of amusement with his songs and patter, and Lizzie Daniels is a vivacious comedienne; the Mackweys, in their comedy wire act, cause roars of laughter, and the Four Olympian Stars are a popular item; Maud Mortimer, actress vocalist, is deservedly applauded for her serious and humorous contributions, and Les Voces, operatic vocalists, are an acceptable turn; Ted Waite, who remains over from last week, is going as strong as ever, and the Empire pictures are interesting.

TIVOLI.—General-Manager, Mr. Charles M. Jones; Secretary, Mr. H. A. Murphy. At the top of the bill here this week is the old Dublin favourite Horace Wheatley, who receives an ovation nightly; Angeline, lady juggler, performs some pleasing feats; and the Four Jumels are accomplished instrumentalists; Lillie Soutter, comedy artist, sings her songs in good style, and J. F. Farrelly is an excellent baritone vocalist; Miss Frederiga's troupe of terriers are an interesting turn, and Kendrick and Laura are successful in their drawing-room entertainment; Will Sullivan is a capital comedian, and Maud Clifton a pleasing comedienne; the Bioscope pictures conclude the programme.

DUDLEY.—OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. J. Maurice Clement; Acting-Manager, Mr. J. W. Tilley.—Kennedy's Komiks have taken possession of this house for the summer season, and are giving a fresh programme each week at popular prices. Miss Daisy is a smart and vivacious comedienne, and Miss Marie Liston performs with much confidence; Percy Victor and his performing dogs are an entertaining turn; Dudley Gibson (tenor), Kitty Vivian (in musical comedy), Frank Aylmer (comedian), Ellis and Liston (speciality artists), and several other good turns, including Loder Lyons, a clever ventriloquist, make up a fine programme.

EMPIRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Fred H. Anderson.—Sam Redfern tops the bill, and is responsible for some clever and original lightning patter; Ada Clair is a dainty serio and dancer; Millie Butler is a powerful contralto; the Boston Twins are clever as boxers, vocalists, and mimics; the Izons and the Sisters Stratton are both good turns, and the Empire pictures retain their popularity.

DUNDEE.—PALACE THEATRE.—Managing-Directors, Messrs. Rosen and Bliss; Manager, Mr. E. J. Dexter.—There is a capital company appearing here for the last week of the season, the principal item being Prinz's performing lions. Arthur Richards' turn is marked by originality; Flora Donaldson sings Scotch ditties sweetly, and Renu Walon is a clever vocalist and dancer; the comic element is well looked after by J. C. Scatter and J. W. Hennessey, comedians; Carrie Bernard pleases immensely with her catchy songs, and Vernon's animated pictures complete a good bill.

EMPIRE THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Frank Percival.—The Kingston Dramatic Company appeared here on Monday in Eileen Alannah, which, by reason of its fine sentiment and fund of humour, is sure to prove a success. The stage setting was very creditable, and included a scene depicting Ballyshannon Fair, in which over thirty local children sing and dance. Mr. A. W. B. Kingston, as Barney O'Regan, a persecuted young Irishman, plays with fine power, and Mr. Harry Egan represents Michael Finegan humorously. As Lady Bertram, Miss Emily Peel acts well and sings sweetly, and Miss Dora Hamilton makes a vivacious Mary Quick.

GAIETY THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. R. A. P. Williams. The top-liner here is R. C. Note, who is accorded a flattering reception; Daisy Davenport sings sweetly and dances bewitchingly; Myles and May score in a well-worked act; C. W. Walker is successful as a vocalist; Nellie Nora, society entertainer and mimic, proves very entertaining; and W. Hughes, boy vocalist, is much applauded. The Gaiety Bioscope, as usual, has some interesting films on view.

EASTBOURNE.— PIER PAVILION.— Manager, Mr. George Hayes.—Mr. J. D. Hunter and company are appearing here in a drama, entitled The Ruby Ring. Mr. Frederick Sargent is a thoroughly convincing Cuthbert Vaughan, and plays well throughout; Mr. Horace Pollock gives a cleverly restrained and effective performance as Reginald Clethorpe; Mr. George Mudie, jun., is a breezy and buoyant Charles Lynton; and Mr. George C. Murray is a capable Colonel Clethorpe. Mr. A. B. Tapping submits a fine character-sketch in the part of Leloir; Mr. Hunter as Jenkins and Mr. Harry Collier as Peter Tagg are excellent and favourite comedians, and Mr. Charles Langton is a good Henry Jordon. Miss Alice Fairleigh has an attractive appearance, and as Helen Neville soon wins the sympathy of the audience; Miss Clarissa Selwynne is delightfully natural and bright as Jane; Miss Edith Matt is seen to advantage in the trying part of Mother Hicks; Miss Blanche Bayley makes the most of her opportunities as Mary Richard, and Miss Eva Bayley lends excellent help as Mrs. Renshaw.—Messrs. Arthur and Mills' Olympian Concert Party, under the management of Mr. Idris Perkins, is giving daily concerts in the band stand. The pierrot party is individually a very strong one. Miss Edith GATESHEAD.— METROPOLE THEATRE.— Lessees, Messrs. Bolam and Bacon; General-Manager, Mr. Sidney Bacon; Acting-Manager, Mr. Thomas France.—Mr. Fred L. Connynghame's company is presenting A Mother's Love here this week. Mr. Connynghame is the central figure, and his depiction of the rôle of Mat Ruddock is most humorous; Mr. George Child portrays Geoffrey Mannering in finished style, and Mr. Arthur Rose gives a powerful rendering of Paul Wingate; Mr. Robert Lynn makes the most of his opportunities in the comedy part of Joe Jackson. Miss Violet Macaree's representation of Winnie Wingate leaves nothing to be desired, and Miss Marjory Murray is successful as Ellaine Mervin; Miss Dorothy Monkhouse as Mary Smart lends able assistance.

KING'S THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. M. S. Hammond; General-Manager, Mr. Joe May.—Novello's India in Europe heads the bill here. In this turn there are introduced clever elephants, ponies, dogs, and some excellent acrobats; Lennie and Hast in a poetic phantasy named The Sea Nymph, are deserving of all the praise expressed by delighted audiences; C. Wordley Hulse and a clever company play a dramatic sketch, entitled The Fight in the Forge; N. T. Kioto is a smart young Japanese equilibrist; Mlle. Zelda has an entertaining musical act, and Martine and Son with their illustrated songs make a big hit. Geo. Antill, comedian, and the King's Bioscope complete the bill.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Proprietors, Messrs. Bolam and Bacon; General-Manager, Mr. Sidney Bacon.; Acting-Manager, Mr. Stephen Smith.—The pictures of the Britt v. Nelson boxing contest have been drawing large audiences to this house. Also appearing are Kyd Gwynne in a ball-punching act, and Miss Addie Dorina, an exponent of the quick-changing art, who impersonates six distinct characters in a sketch bearing the title How it Was Done.

GLASGOW.—KING'S, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. F. W. Wyndham; Business-Manager, Mr. H. Macfarlane.—Hearty and continuous laughter greets the new farcical comedy, Good Old Charley, given here by Mr. James Welch and company. As the gay young dog, Charley Ingleton, Mr. Welch has an excellent part, which he plays in his own inimitable style, making his points tell easily and naturally in all the amusing complications of the plot. Mr. John W. Deverell is well placed as the elderly husband, Gabriel Peploe, and the lugubrious Thomas Dumphie is most amusingly played by Mr. Fred Lewis. Miss Estelle Winwood makes a charming Agnes, and Mr. George F. Tully and Miss Helen Vicary ably hit off the characteristics of the "parents-in-law," Colonel and Mrs. Fishbourne. Mr. Leopold Profeit as Purkitt, and Miss Ethel Hollingshead as Reeves complete an able cast. The Man in the Street, with Mr James Welch in his clever and elaborate study of Jabez Gover, acts as a curtain-raiser.

METROPOLE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Arthur Jefferson; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Gillespy.—The second week of Mr. J. W. Whitbread's season of Irish drama commenced on Monday, when his new historical play, The Ulster Hero, was performed in capital style before a large and enthusiastic audience. Mr. Robert Faulkner gave a dashing impersonation of the revolutionary hero, Henry Joy McCracken, while the traitors Hughes and Niblock were played with strong dramatic effect by Mr. James Daly and Mr. Ion Ireland respectively; the favourite Irish comedian, Mr. James O'Brien, was provided with a good part in James Hope; Mr. Dane Clarke's clear, incisive style was well suited to the rôle of Captain Fox; as Lieutenant Ellis, Mr. Henry Forrest bore himself admirably; and other clever assumptions were the Russell of Mr. T. W. Rooney and the Wolfe Tone of Mr. T. Johnson; Miss Cecilia Dare made a sweet and sympathetic Norah Bodel; Miss Madeline Hurst gave strength and character to the part of Mary Tomb; the Mary McCracken of Mrs. E. H. Brady was a pleasing study; and the Rose Mullen of Miss Monica Kelly created a deal of amusement. The play was repeated on the three nights following, the remaining evenings being devoted to The Insurgent Chief, another of Mr. Whitbread's historical dramas.

EMPIRE.—Proprietors, Moss Empires, Limited; District-Manager, Mr. Sam Gething; Resident-Manager, Mr. Charles Mussett.—A distinct novelty is provided here in the thought-reading dog "Pilu," introduced by M. Ancilotti, the tricks done by the animal being marvellous; the Jackson Family are clever musicians, whose items are all heartily received, their selections from Martha in particular; the Kauffmann troupe of lady cyclists perform the most difficult feats with astonishing neatness and skill; Lily Langtry, lively as ever, comes provided with some new ditties, built on her favourite methods; Tom Woottwell's eccentric songs prove highly popular; Carter Livesey and Lilian Rosebery make a decided hit with their Would-be Actors sketch; the Two Raies, expert dancers; Mignonette Kokin, American soubrette; and Salletti's monkeys complete a varied bill.

ZOO HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Moss Empires, Ltd., and E. H. Bostock; Resident-Manager, Mr. E. H. Bostock.—The chief attraction here this week is supplied by John Tiller's company in the comedy sketch, High Jinks, or Doon the Watter. The company is so well known in Glasgow that comment is needless, but special mention may be made of the abilities of Messrs. Bob Selvidge, Teddy Gibbs, Barney Dixon, and Misses Bessie Cohen, Rene Howard, and Lizzie Hay in their respective characters. The piece is well mounted, and was much enjoyed. A unique entertainment, entitled Song, Play, and Mirth, is provided by The Gems, under the direction of Mr. Wallace Kennedy, the motor-car act being exceptionally clever; the efforts of Spry and Monti met with deserved appreciation, and other members of the company include Guy Ryder, the boy siffleur; Billy Hobbs, clever coon comedian and dancer; and the Hippodrome Bioscope, with new and interesting pictures.

PAVILION, LTD.—General-Manager, Mr. Samuel Lloyd.—An excellent programme is provided here this week, and attracts large houses. Harry Tate and company are responsible for endless amusement with the absurdity, Motoring, the witticisms and antics of the cranky automobilist creating roars of laughter; Miss Carlotta Levey, comedienne, also has a flattering reception, and sings several songs in her usual taking manner; other notable artists include Tom Lloyd, the popular eccentric comedian; Ethel Dove, comedy artist; Chanti, quick change artist; the Avrignys, jugglers; Kelly and Gillette, comedy artistes, in their well-known billiard table act; Matt Wilkinson and company, sketch artists, in the amusing farce, The Registry Office; Ruby Bijou, expert dancer; Robert Beivers, vocalist; and the Two Cabiacs, acrobats.

PALACE.—Acting-Manager, Mr. Harry McKelvie.—A really excellent company is here this week, and capital houses are the result, in spite of the fine weather; Jose Collins, a Glasgow pantomime favourite, is well received for her pleasing songs and graceful dancing; and Tom Lowen is truly named a funny fellow; in a comedy bar act, the Two Eltons submit an enjoyable performance; Hill and Whittaker give a musical treat of high excellence, in which the harp, banjo, and violin are played in a manner denoting fine artistic skill, while Miss Whittaker excels in the American song, "Hallelujah"; in leading parts from famous plays V. L. Granville proves an impersonator of great resource, talent, and versatility; Peter Bermingham is in fine trim, and makes a hit as a Scotch patterer and comedian; the "two lucky tramps," Heeley and Meely, have undoubted originality, and are par excellence in their line; Herbert Lloyd's humour is irresistible; "The March of the Married Men," in which Mr. Arthur Rigby appears, was repeatedly and deservedly encored.

COLISEUM.—Proprietors, Moss Empires, Ltd.; District-Manager, Mr. Sam Gething; Resident-Manager, Mr. B. G. Maclachlan.—The McNaughtons are the stars here this week, and they come provided with lots of new patter and business, with the result that the audience are kept in one continuous roar of laughter; Dainty Alice Lloyd, too, has always a hearty welcome here, and her new songs are quite in her best style; Wyndham and Kitty give a wire walking act, with which a lot of original ideas are incorporated; Miss Gladys Horley appears in a new sketch entitled Heartstrings, in which she displays a wonderful command of the violin; Miss Annie Milburn and Mr. Harry J. Crane sustain the more serious acting parts in the sketch; John Leopold's company give a lively acrobatic sketch called The Houseboat, which is well received; and clever turns are also given by the Brothers Warsaw, comedy musicians; Harry Weldon, comedian; the Sutcliffe Family; and Brothers Attab.

TIVOLI.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. B. M. Armstrong.—This house is now closed on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings, but open on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday with boxing and variety entertainments.

GREAT YARMOUTH.—ROYAL AQUARIUM.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. J. W. Nightingale.—Mr. George Stephenson's company is here this week with the popular farcical comedy, The Night of the Party. Mr. Leslie Holland is a host in himself as Mr. Crosbie, and is excellently supported by Mr. George Stephenson as Frank Fagne. Mr. Fred Rolph, Mr. George Sade, Mr. H. V. Surrey, Mr. Ernest Cresfan, and Mr. William Consett appear successfully in other characters. Miss Evelyn Howard is a capital Lady Hampshire, Miss Evie Erskine does well as Gipsy Vandelier, and Miss Hilda Saros plays Nannie Portland creditably.

BRITANNIA PIER PAVILION.—Managing-Director, Mr. J. W. Nightingale.—The programme for the week includes Harry Roxbury's brilliant vaudeville company in the new musical mélange, The Prince of Monte Carlo; Hilda and Gilda in a musical entertainment; Ross Warren, eccentric patter comedian; the Romany Four, in their scena, Life in a Gipsy Camp; and Tommy Dodds and Cissie Sephten, duologue artists. A series of new pictures is shown by the Britanniscope. On Sunday afternoon and evening the celebrated Besses o' the Barn Band gave two concerts. Highly appreciative audiences applauded loudly the various selections, half of which consisted of sacred music.

THE HIPPODROME.—Proprietor, Mr. Geo. Gilbert.—The Royal Italian Circus is the attraction for the week, and nightly Signor Volpi's highly trained performing animals win unstinted applause for their clever tricks. Dogs, ponies, monkeys, goats, a bear, and an elephant take part in the entertainment.

GREENOCK.—PAVILION THEATRE, LTD.—General Manager, Mr. Samuel Lloyd.—Max Sterling, illusionist, heads the bill here, and his act entitled "The Burmese Gong," is much appreciated; other good items are The Redferns, banjoists, vocalists, and dancers; Allan and Hart, dancers and vocalists; O'Malley and Brown, in a comedy act, entitled The Day I came Back; Wisper, comedy juggler; Charlie Dillon, eccentric comedian; and Beattie Bloom, comedienne.

EMPIRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. H. L. Skivington.—Mr. Barney Armstrong presents the principal turn here, an amusing sketch entitled Bertie's Birthday Party, and the remainder of the programme is ably sustained by Lena Brunton, mimic; Georgina Nicol, vocalist; and Little Barney.

GRIMSBY.—PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. J. H. Curry; Assistant-Manager, Mr. Sydney Tolfree.—Mr. Lingford Carson's répertoire company has presented three popular dramas. Mr. Carson's own play, The Heart of a Hero, was staged on Monday and Tuesday. Mr. Charles Draycott is now seen in the character of Jem Resdale, the Lancashire lad, and imparts a manly vigour to it. The Ticket-of-Leave Man was the attraction on Wednesday and Thursday, Mr. Draycott playing Bob Brierley; whilst the remaining play was the ever-popular The Octoroon, with Mr. Draycott as Salem Scudder and Miss Hettie Senior as Zoe. Others who have taken prominent parts in the various plays are Mr. J. D. Clyde, Mr. Ernest J. Fare, Mr. Arthur Byron, Mr. Sidney C. Cranston, Mr. Morley Carroll, Mr. Harry Scatchard, Miss Louise Millward, Miss Laurie A. Pardy, and Miss Daisy Norman.

THE PALACE.—Managing-Director, Mr. T. A. Edwardes; Resident-Manager, Mr. T. W. Moyes; Assistant-Manager, Mr. A. V. Allton.—Uncle Willie, otherwise J. W. Churchill, is a comedian essentially of the eccentric order. His funny songs, amusing patter, and grotesque make-up all combine to render him a popular artist with Grimsby audiences. A novelty was presented in the shape of an abridged performance of Wallace's ballad opera, Maritana, this including two of the principal scenes and most of the favourite numbers. The characters were represented by the Regal Quartette, composed of Mlle. Adele Prescott, Mme. Marie Burnett, Mr. Edward Wynne, and Mr. Albert German, each of whom proved talented vocalists. The remainder of the programme was contributed by the Ringling Trio, smart tumblers; Brady and Johnson, whose sketch, Turning the Tables, was pleasingly original besides being laughable; Bishop and Vale, comedians and dancers; Vera Mayne, burlesque actress; the Woelhaffs, vaudeville artists; and Captain Devereux's dogs, who gave an interesting speciality.

HALIFAX.—THEATRE ROYAL, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. William Robinson; Manager, Mr. S. Winks.—The Riogoku family troupe of Japanese equilibrists head the bill here; mysteries reign supreme while Morimura occupies the boards, his conjuring being especially clever; the four elephants introduced by Miss Taylor perform some wonderful tricks; Verno and Voyce are funny in their Butcher and Baker and Dear Old Pals; a comedian with a winning style is Tom Hughes, whose songs and gags are very popular; the same can be said of George Reeves; Lena Verdi's delineations of leading lights are artistically conceived; Flo Cecil is a sprightly little lady.

PALACE THEATRE, LTD.—Sole Lessee and Manager, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. Edward Harrison.—Ford and Barras are here this week, and their singing and dancing are highly appreciated; some dexterous cycling work is introduced by the Yags and Mary trio; the sketch On the Links, submitted by the Four Burnells, convulses the audience with laughter. Other capable artists are Marion Scott (comedienne), Theresa and May (singing protean artists), Baroni and Kemp (quick-change artists), Bros. Redmond (acrobatic comedians), and Emma Don and Co. in their musical mélange, The Prodigal Son.

HANLEY.—GRAND.—Managing-Director, Mr. Chas. Elphinstone; Manager, Mr. Alfred Edwardes.—Mlle. de Dio heads the bill in her wonderful dance, "Terpsichore's Dream," which is much admired and appreciated; Paul Conchas is a juggler and strong man, and several of his feats are most astounding; the Five M.P.'s in their musical act are always appreciated; Gerti Gitana meets with success; and O'Connor and Brady prove an amusing pair of comedians. Frank Leon is a capital dancer, and Lizzie Kirk is a comedienne of much merit. Fred Lincoln sings in good style. The pictures are, as usual, excellent.

HARROGATE.—GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—Managing-Director, Mr. William Peacock; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. Fielding Smith.—On Monday and two following nights Mrs. Gorringe's Necklace was presented by M. Thomas McKenzie's company. That excellent actress Miss Marie Illington plays the part of Mrs. Jardine excellently; Mr. Yorke Stephens is good as Capt. Mowbray; and the same remark applies to Mr. Maitland Dicker as Colonel Jardine. Miss Frances Vine gives a clever and amusing study of the foolish Mrs. Gorringe; Miss Mary Webb is well placed as Isabel Kirk; and Mr. W. B. Owen scores as David Cairn. Camille, with Miss Mabel Mannering in the title-rôle, was played on Thursday and Friday evenings.

HARTLEPOOL. — EMPRESS. — Proprietors, Messrs. Councillor Everton and J. W. Cragg; Manager, Mr. Harry Burns.—The programme this week is somewhat of a novelty, inasmuch as it consists entirely (with the exception of a series of bioscope films) of the farcical sketch, McKenna in Love, played by Mr. Edwin Garth and company. Timothy McKenna, as depicted by Mr. Joe English, is an exceedingly funny character; and he is well supported by Mr. Garth as Michel Ryan. Some capital singing is contributed by Miss Hettie Lind, who is exactly fitted to the rôle of Miss Mary Ellen Ryan; whilst the character of Mrs. Mary Ellen Ryan has an able exponent in Miss Amy Knott, whose singing is also much appreciated.

HASTINGS.—GAIETY THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. H. W. Rowland; Resident Acting-Manager, Mr. Charles E. Scutt.—Farcical comedy is successfully presented here this week by Mr. Lawrence Brough and company, who opened on Monday with The Lady of Ostend. Mr. Lawrence Brough's impersonation of Le Baron de Longueville created much amusement, and was decidedly clever; Mr. Henry Hampson was distinctly good as Dick Whortles, and won hearty plaudits. Miss Daisy Cook showed marked ability in the title-rôle; and very effective aid was rendered by Miss Kate Milford as Dorothy Whortles; Mr. H. Gomer May made a formidable Toby Krockitt, and cleverly acted the part; Mr. Charles Groves, jun., made a hit as Joseph Carbury; and the part of Matilda Carbury was well filled by Miss Eleanor Gilbert. Margaret's Stratagem preceded the farce, and was ably played by Messrs. H. Gomer May, Chas. Groves, jun., and Miss Daisy Cook. On Thursday and remainder of the week The Cruise of the Saucy Sally was played, with Mr. Lawrence Brough in the rôle of Herbert Jocelyn.

HIPPODROME THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Resident-General-Manager, Mr. Albert Mathams.—Miss Jeanette Reynolds, a pleasing singer, opens a good programme; Mr. Arthur Goodman, the tramp juggler, is highly amusing; the comedy acrobats, Lack and Ford, introduce a laughable turn; the Hippodrome Bioscope gives scenes from Dickens's "Oliver Twist," which prove exceedingly interesting; a decidedly novel turn is given by Cordite and Buffalo, showing in a clever manner the system of Mexican lasso throwing and rope spinning; another well appreciated turn is Russell Wallet, who assumes the character of a refined lady vocalist and pianist in a piquant sketch; the Seener-Fridkin troupe of Russian singers and dancers display marked ability.

PIER PAVILION.—Pier Master, Mr. R. Turner; Entertainment-Manager, Mr. J. W. Hunter.—Mr. Thomas Sidney and his company are producing the interesting comedy, The Case of Rebellious Susan. The company are smart and clever, and their performance gains well merited approval. Mr. Thomas Sidney as Sir Richard Kato, K.C., gives a polished interpretation, elegant, natural, and neat; Mr. Frank Sutherland submits a telling interpretation of the part of Sir Joseph Darby; a good character sketch of James Harabin is given by Mr. Bonhote-Wilson; and Fergusson Pybus has a capital exponent in Mr. Alfred Mansfield. Mr. Cecil Klein successfully impersonates Lucien Edensor; Miss Dorothy Sidney gives a sweet rendering of the part of Lady Susan Harabin, playing the heroine with gentleness and grace; Miss Josephine Rae is well suited as Lady Darby; Miss Kathleen Russell does full justice to the part of Mrs. Quesuel; and high praise can be awarded to Miss Marjorie Cassini, her comedy in the part of Elaine Shrimpton being excellent.

ST. LEONARDS PIER PAVILION.—Pier Master and Entertainment-Manager, Mr. Elvey Thomas.—Miss Grace Warner and company were appearing the early part of the week in the musical, farcical comedy, entitled The Little Widow. The musical numbers are lively and tuneful, and several pleasing songs are introduced. Miss Grace Warner is a brisk and natural representative of Mrs. Constance Rattlebrain, the principal character in the piece; Mr. George Gordon gives a realistic piece of acting in the part of Mr. Wilkins Potter, an enthusiast on mesmerism; and Mr. Leighton Leigh gives a finished study of a medical student. Sophinisba is represented in a highly amusing manner by Miss Kathleen Cranston; Mr. J. E. Tomlinson makes a capital landlord; Mr. Horace Moseley is a diverting butler; Mrs. Wilkins Potter is well represented by Miss Ellen Beverley; Miss Lizzie Palmer quite realises the character of Emily Randal; and the juvenile Potters are represented by Miss Phyllis Massey and Miss Edith Rutland. For the last three evenings of the week East Lynne was announced.

HUDDERSFIELD. — THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietors and Managers, Messrs. Milton Bode and Edward Compton; Resident-Manager, Mr. W. J. Andrews.—This week's piece is entitled The Poor Must Live, and is being played with considerable ability by Mr. Geoffery Fulton's company, which includes Miss Olive Fulton in the strong part of Olga D'Eyncourt; Miss Violet Hammersley, a sympathetic Dorothy; Miss Marguerite Thorne, in a weird and repulsive make-up as Sal; Mr. C. O'Connor as the hard Earl of Marswood; Mr. Harold C. Macartney as Donald; Mr. Walle Spinner as the crafty Manville; Mr. F. H. Dale as Dick, and Miss Alice Buckland as Moya, a couple of lively youngsters; and Mr. Shaun Glenville, a comedian of originality as Hooker, also contribute to the success of the production.

HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, The Northern Theatres Co., Ltd.; Resident-Manager, Mr. N. M. Robinson.—Miss Minnie Hunt and Rhys Thomas are at the top of the bill, playing in an agreeable manner a smart comedietta, entitled Her Birthday. The other turns are Mlle. Yetta, a clever slack wire artist; the Three Renards, in a daring acrobatic performance; Miss Alice May and company in a sketch; Tom Moy, vocalist; Six Lancashire Lasses, a set of smart dancers; Griff, the imperturbable humorist; the Twin Brothers Dean, a couple of accomplished graceful dancers; Hall and Earle, in their acrobatic absurdity; and the Hippodrome Pictures are also in the bill.

HULL.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Lessee, Mr. Wm. Morton; Resident-Director, Mr. W. F. Morton.—As befitting the summer season, the entertainment provided this week is of the lightest possible character. It claims to be a farcical absurdity, and no one will seriously contest its pretension to rank as such. Its title is Lucky Liza. For much of the fun Messrs. J. Chippendale (Peter Pettitoe) and L. Maitland (Paul Pettitoe) are responsible. Miss M. Brownie figures as Eliza Bird, and is also much appreciated for her vocal effort.

GRAND THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. John Hart; Resident-Manager, Mr. Wynn Miller.—Dion Boucicault's famous drama, The Streets of London, figures on the programme this week. The rôle of Badger provides Mr. Herbert Fuller with ample scope to shine; whilst Mr. E. Cheetham does well as Puffy. The sympathy gained by Miss E. Bateman as Mrs. Fairweather and also accorded Miss D. Oswald as Lucy are tributes to their skill. Miss Lilly Fuller proves herself to be a very acceptable Little Johnnie.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE.—Morton's, Ltd.—General-Manager, Mr. George Morton.—A very popular play in this city is The Octoroon. All the characters are household friends. The Salem Scudder of the current week is Mr. Hugh Montgomery, whose reading of the rôle is strictly conventional, hence its success. Zoe, the Octoroon, is pathetically presented by Miss L. Warner; the Jacob M'Closky of Mr. J. O. Stewart is cast in familiar lines. The remainder of the company give a very fair representation of this old standard play.

ILKESTON. — THEATRE ROYAL.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. L. F. A. Rogers.—Mr. Louis Cohn's company is here this week in The Danites and Trilby. In the first-mentioned play the double part of Nancy Williams and Billy Piper is very capably sustained by Miss E. T. Elliott; Mr. George Steel acts with much force as Alexander McGee, and is applauded for his rendering of "The Blind Collier"; whilst Miss Gwendoline Thorpe gives satisfaction as Hulda Brown. Mr. Clement Wakefield does well as Thomas A. Grosvenor; and Mr. R. Hargreaves scores as Washee-Washee. Mr. Charles D. Pitt as Charles Godfrey does the work entrusted to him cleverly; and Mr. E. Bulwer Pitt as William Wise fills the rôle admirably. Mr. Louis Cohn and Mr. John Ford appear as Danites.

IPSWICH.—HIPPODROME.—Proprietor, Mr. E. H. Bostock.—The most striking attraction in this week's programme is the extraordinary performance of Charles Unthan, known as the "Armless Wonder." Another special turn is that of Dick's Comedy Five, who contribute an amusing performance of singing and tumbling; Fraser and Haley are a couple of clever dancers and vocalists. Other items of a strong programme include Charles Terra, an expert gymnast and hand balancer; Conan and Doyle, eccentric comedians; Rose Elliot, whose songs are received with much applause; and Jack Vincent, whose clever instrumental selections on the adeophone are much appreciated.

JARROW.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. Hugh Robertson; Acting-Manager, Mr. Jerold E. Reed.—Mr. C. Watson Mills's company is here this week with the powerful drama, entitled A Warning to Women. Mr. Mills gives a forcible rendering of Dr. Marcus Dread; Mr. Henry Lonsdale is good as Shaun; Mr. Lawrence submits a manly portrayal of Fergus McNaughton; the character of Lord Eversleigh is done full justice to by Mr. N. C. Slaughter; the part of Squire Kennion is in the capable hands of Mr. Henry Rutland; Miss Rosalind Tate gives a charming performance as Moira Kennion; Miss Emmie Barton is quite at home as Shella Kennion, and Miss Ellen Beverley scores as Molly O'More.

LEEDS.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; General-Manager, Mr. R. Ernest Liston.—Melodrama continues to be popular fare here, a condensed version of that powerful piece Defending His Honour being well supported twice nightly. Mr. F. W. Goddard plays the part of Douglas Bryce in manly and effective style; the heroine, Ethel Bryce, has a pleasing and winsome exponent in Miss Chrissie Dunbar; the evil Stephen Graid is presented in approved style by Mr. Carthage Caldcleugh; Mr. Charles Walker does extremely well as Harry Denby; the part of Denby's wife is ably exploited by Miss Norah Egerton; and in other prominent parts Mr. A. Balfour Mackay and Mr. Willie Black are seen to advantage.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Lessees, Messrs. Dottridge and Longden; General-Manager, Mr. C. H. Longden: Acting-Manager, Mr. Chas. Bush.—Mr. Charles Carte is here with a strong company presenting the drama A Noble Brother to large audiences. Mr. Carte is very happy in his delineation of Jerry the Tramp, and evokes much approval, as also does Miss Doris Brooks, in a charming sketch of the heroine Nina Leigh. Mr. Frank Lyndon is very effective as the villain, Henry Travers; Mr. Howard Thorne faithfully depicts the character of Colonel Leigh; Mr. Arthur A. Tomlin is responsible for a capital effort as the manly Jack Elsworth; the comedy element is well looked after by Mr. Michael Madden and Miss Rosie Conroy. Other leading parts are well and carefully played by Miss Alice Ballard, Mr. Payne Reynolds, and Miss N. Faithful. A new play, entitled A Ranchman's Romance, was produced here on Wednesday. A full description will be found in another column.

EMPIRE PALACE.—Moss' Empires, Ltd.; District Manager, Mr. T. Gerald Morton; Resident-Manager, Mr. Alex. Galley.—This hall has been filled to overflowing to welcome Mr. Bransby Williams, the inimitable versatile character actor, whose excellent turn has aroused manifest enthusiasm. A clever duologue, Two to One, by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Finden, is a diverting entertainment. The Borellis continue big favourites with musical and vocal tit-bits. Howard and St. Clair are seen to advantage in comedy sketch; the Bros. Egbert are again provocative of great merriment in their knockabout sketch; Nellie Wallace is very successful as a low-comedy artist; and George Formby is the essence of quaint comedy, provoking continual merriment. Other capital turns are submitted by the Caselli Sisters, in clever song and dance; and Frank Dunlop, comedian; whilst Solbrig's Automatas are well manipulated and prove entertaining.

CITY VARIETIES.—Proprietor, Mr. F. W. Wood; General-Manager, Mr. J. C. Whiteman; Acting-Manager, Mr. S. Jones.—Henry Carlton, a clever comedian, heads the list here this week with a good company in the presentation of a farcical comedy, The Window Cleaner. The Bros. Ashley score heavily with their novel screamer Next, Please; an original speciality by Hill and Lane is a much-enjoyed item; J. P. Ling does well as comedian and mimic; and H. Cotton is also successful in the comedy business. W. H. Downs, the popular coloured vocalist, is on a welcome return visit; E. Gray and Coons prove to be harmonious vocalists; we are pleased to renew acquaintance with Edna Cragge, burlesque actress; and Thelma, a novel lady clay-modeller, also appears with success.

LEICESTER.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Sole Lessees and Managers, Messrs. Milton Bode and Edward Compton; Acting-Manager, Mr. E. R. Beaumont.—The military play, entitled The Two Hussars, presented by Messrs. Fred J. Webb and Wilson Benge's company, is the attraction here this week. Prominent parts are played by Mr. Wilson Benge (Harry Alford), Mr. F. J. Webb (Captain Paul Villiers), Mr. J. Stuart (Colonel Manners), Mr. Louis Nanton (Robert Runn), Mr. Paradise (Sergeant M'Finnie), Miss M. Danvers Smith (Ellen Maythorne), Miss Lalah Price (Molly Cutts), and Miss Sadie Smith (Marie).

PALACE THEATRE, BTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; District-Manager, Mr. Hatton Wharton; Acting-Manager, Mr. George Andrews.—Herbert Darnley's company of comedians have made their first appearance here this week, and are presenting, with the greatest success, the mirth-provoking skit, entitled Moving In, which keeps the audience in a continual roar of laughter. Another big favourite here, and deservedly so, is Mark Sheridan, a droll comedian, whose song, "Come for a Stroll in the Park," is enthusiastically received; Binns and Binns are funny and popular musical comedians; Belloni's Cockatoos are aptly described as a marvellous example of bird-training; Francis does some wonderful feats with a 28lb. cannon ball, and is also a clever juggler; a word of praise should also be accorded his smart assistant Alfred; Alcide Capitaine goes through a gymnastic performance on the trapeze in a clean, clever, and graceful manner; the Three Sisters Chester are well received for their singing, dancing, and banjo-playing; Frank and Free, the comedy couple, are very good; Odeyne Spark is an excellent comedienne and dancer. The American Bioscope is depicting in twenty scenes a tour through Cornwall with a travelling menagerie.

PAVILION THEATRE.—Proprietor and Director-General, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Acting-Manager, Mr. Walter Lapworth.—The chief attraction here this week is Mr. J. G. Johnson and company, who are presenting in capital style the sensational sketch, The Unknown, and the comedy-sketch, My Wife's Jealous, in which Miss Leah Marlborough, Mr. J. G. Johnson, and Mr. Bert Morley appear with success. An enjoyable turn is given by Duncan and Brasque, entitled A Dressing Room Romance, an interesting and refined musical dramatic episode; Keith and Merson are smart in their acrobatic hunting absurdity, entitled The Meet. Others who contribute to the programme are George Grogie, comedian; Daisy Rhyl, comedienne; and Walter H. Pallister's American Bioscope.

PIERROT PAVILION.—Proprietors, Messrs. Abell, Johnson, and Unsworth.—The following artists are contributing to an enjoyable entertainment here, and are accorded well-merited applause:—Dan Lyndon, comedian; Edith May, soubrette; Ernest Hildred, baritone and descriptive vocalist; Charlie Neary, comedian; Gertrude Lytton, comedienne; the Bohemian Glee Singers; and Jeff Lytton, pianist and musical director.

LEIGH.—THEATRE ROYAL AND OPERA HOUSE.—Proprietor, Mr. J. W. Cragg; Resident-Manager, Mr. H. Rousby.—Mr. C. Watson Mill's company is this week occupying the boards here with the sensational melodrama, entitled A Wrecker of Men. A powerful delineation of the title-rôle is given by Miss Amy Ellam; Mr. Alfred Maurice is effective as the silent Railton; Mr. Matthew Boulton plays the part of the hero, Guise Strange, in a praiseworthy manner; Mr. Eric Campbell has a part well suited to his abilities as Jim Murley; Mr. Milner Noble is a success in the villainous character of Pharosaphus; Miss Mabel Durham sympathetically portrays Doris Melville; Miss Kitty Melville causes much laughter as the maid-of-all-work, Slopper; Mr. T. Carruthers is highly successful as Erric Melville; Mr. H. P. Kennedy well sustains the dual rôles of Ezekiel Isaacs and Karnaphus.

LIVERPOOL. — ROTUNDA THEATRE. — Manager, Mr. M. Montgomery, jun.—Despite the summer weather that has prevailed during the week, the popular north-end house has enjoyed a deal of patronage, on account of the production of The Luck of Life, one of the late J. K. Murray's best-written dramas. Certainly the play is not new to Liverpool, but on the present occasion an excellent company, sent by Mr. Reginald H. Adair, has staged it in first-class style, a fact which has added to the work additional charm and interest. Mr. Ronald Yorke held the part of Michael Basilovitz, the leader of the Nihilists, and at times carried his audience with him; Miss Mary Dawson as Rene acted with every discretion and judgment; Miss Gertrude Bonser made an admirable Countess Vlame; every justice was done to the rôle of Count Petroff by Mr. Leonard Thackeray; Mr. Albert Cuthbertson handled the character of Ivan Polowski with care; a naturally-drawn solicitor was presented by Mr. Joseph Millaine in the part of George Stanhope; some good points were made by Mr. Polson Turner as the Hindoo Bahadur; and Miss Kate Perowne afforded satisfaction as Mlle. Beaudyn. A clever comedian, Mr. Fred Danvers, as the solicitor's clerk Simon, and Miss Dora Huggett in the character of Laura North, provided a deal of fun.

STAR THEATRE. — Proprietor and Manager, Mr Harris Fineberg.—The stirring drama, Under the Czar, has been here this week with Mr. Jarman's company. Well staged and costumed, the play has proved most enjoyable. Mr. Jack Fortescue presented a powerful Chief of the Russian Police; Miss May Fortescue proved exceedingly pleasing as the noble Russian girl, Sonia; Zara, the gipsy, was ably undertaken by Miss P. Carewe; Mr. Gerald Smythe was a manly Captain Johnson; as Zakhar, of the Russian police, Mr. W. H. Riley gave satisfaction; credit is due to Mr. Louis Weston for his Paul Ignat; also to Mr. J. Leicester for his Egor; and to Mr. Lawrence Brien, who undertook Alexis Petroff.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. Lingford Carson; Manager, Mr. Fred L. Arthur.—Large audiences have been present in this favourite theatre during the week to witness The Hero of the Flag, presented by Mr. Sydney Spenser's company. The drama has proved particularly satisfactory. Miss Lizzie Hall, an actress of exceptional ability possessing a pleasing delivery, was the Mabel Forester, and speedily earned the favour of her auditors; a well-presented type of schemer came from Mr. Sydney Spenser as Paul Mansfield; with the utmost reserve and care Mr. Alfred Goddard held the part of Captain Hilliard; a manly Jack Lawrence was offered by Mr. William Heilbroun; endless laughter followed the work of Mr. Johnny McElroy as Johnny Truckle, and that of Miss Amy Maitland in the rôle of Jenny Stubbs; Miss Roma Tremayne was a sympathetic Ruth Clifford; and valuable assistance was offered by Mr. G. F. Royd as Stephen Clifford, and Mr. Wilton Hardcastle as Hancher Hicks. The scenery and seamen's costumes were picturesque, and the naval fight in the third act very effective.

THE EMPIRE.—Proprietors, Moss' Empires, Ltd.; Resident-Manager, Mr. Horace Cole.—Harry Lauder heads the bill here this week, and has had a cordial reception; Derenda and Green go through some smart juggling; the Canary Company have a smart sketch; Palles and Cussick are appreciated for their comedy work; and other artists who appear are Florence and Lilian, drawing-room entertainers; Ernest Tilbury, with illustrated songs; Celest, with his wire act; Flo Deighton, vocalist; Rex King, "the one-man programme"; and Rene Best, vocalist.

ROYAL HIPPODROME. — Managing-Director, Mr Thomas Barrasford.—As usual, an excellent bill of fare is presented at this popular hall. Edwin Boyde, so well known in Liverpool, tops the bill, and has had a most gratifying reception; George D'Albert's latest successes were received with every pleasure; Arthur Kenny went through some remarkable tricks on the bicycle; Otto and Olga presented an excellent musical and mock opera sketch; T. E. Finglas rendered several clever coon songs; Fred Curran's parodies on well-known ditties were especially smart; the Australian Twin Andersons gave a pleasing turn as singers and dancers; and others on the list were Harris and Worth, the huntsmen; Maude Vera, vocalist and coon artist; Arthur Reece, comedian; and George Prince, comedian.

NEW PARTHENON. — Proprietor, Mr. Edwin W. Smith.—This week a new set of animated pictures are being shown here, interspersed with several variety turns. The audiences have been large and enthusiastic.

ROYAL PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Manager, Mr. M. Montgomery, jun.; Acting-Manager, Mr. Frank O'Toole.—The dramatic sketch, given here this week by the "Royal" stock company, has been The Flowers of the Forest. Mr. Percy Boucher was particularly amusing as Cheap Jack; Miss Florence Palmer, an old favourite here, had a cordial reception on her return, playing Cynthia with effect; Miss Tina Nazeby made an excellent Starlight Bess; a powerful Hugh Laverock came from Mr. Sydney Grant; Mr. Harry Tresham was a manly Alfred; as the Kinchen, Mr. E. D. Allen played in excellent style; and Mr. John Burton, an able actor, was the Wolf.

PADDINGTON PALACE, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. Walter De Frece; Director of Entertainments, M

Feldman's troupe of clever juveniles; the Sisters Belmont, very good dancers; and the Bioscope pictures complete an enjoyable programme.

ST. JAMES'S THEATRE.—Lessee, Mr. R. Flanagan; Acting-Manager, Mr. Gus Flanagan.—Miss Emma Letchfield's company, under the direction of Mr. Stuart Cleveland, is once more at this theatre in the well-known successful drama A London Actress. Miss Litchfield (authoress of the play) is seen in the rôle of Hilda Mannering, which she tenders with great success. Mr. Stuart Cleveland is also prominent as Sergeant-Major Crawford; while Mr. George H. Doyle gives a powerful delineation of Moses Mendoza. Mr. Harry Stuart is well suited as Lieut. Kingstone, and Mr. John Hitchens makes a success of the lighter rôle of Pat Maloney. The remaining parts are correspondingly well played by the various members of the cast, and the general staging is all that could be desired.

GRAND JUNCTION THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. P. B. Broadhead.—Last week's attraction at the Royal Osborne Theatre, The Woman Who Gambles, is presented here successfully this week by Mr. Morton Powell's company.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. R. Flanagan; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. Berry.—Mr. Jerrard Grant-Allen's company is here this week in Arthur Law's well-known farcical comedy The New Boy. At the head of the clever people employed, Mr. Leon M. Lion sustains with excellent spirit the part of Archibald Rennick; and Miss Maud Magrath acts with admirable vivacity as Nancy Roach. Mr. A. Corney Grain makes a capital Dr. Candy; Mr. Talbot Homewood is good as Felix Roach; Mr. Harold Weston gives a characteristic sketch of De Brizac; a good idea of Bullock Major is presented by Mr. Stanley Logan; Miss Katherine Harrington is well suited as Mrs. Rennick; Miss Margaret Fareleigh is satisfactory as Susan; and Mr. Stubbes and the Constable are well handled in a quiet way by Mr. M. A. Scott and Mr. W. Corneille. The piece is preceded by a short sentimental comedy called The Borrowed Uncle.

PALACE.—General-Manager, Mr. Walter De Frece; Secretary, Mr. Peter Watson; Acting-Manager, Mr. G. Rhodes Parry.—Mrs. Brown-Potter and an excellent company head the bill here this week in a dramatic episode, entitled Mary Queen of Scots, and are well received. George Newburn, a capital mimic, meets with a flattering reception; the Carlyles are exceptionally graceful and clever Spanish and whirlwind dancers; and Barmaids is a highly amusing sketch, well acted by Harry Lowther and company. Other capital items are those of Yorkshire Tom, a first-rate animal mimic; A. B. Houghton, trick pianist; May Morton, chic comedienne; and a series of animated pictures.

EMPIRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. H. Hall.—The Boissets are here another week in their elaborate farcical knockabout sketch, A Trip to the Continent, which keeps the audience lively for upwards of forty minutes. A big turn also is that of Johnson and Dean, "the coloured fashion plates," whose general business is extraordinary. The Arthur-Lloyd Trio give their amusing sketch, Little Charlie, with distinct success; Henry Helme, the French baritone, makes a great hit by his vigorous and excellent singing; Marba and Verity present their eccentric and amusing acrobatic act; Will Vokes amply justifies his description as a quaint and eccentric dancer; and Helen Ford gives a pleasing vocal turn. As usual, the Bioscope presents a series of interesting and sensational pictures, including the Royal Bull-fight at Madrid.

HIPPODROME.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. E. P. Morgan.—As usual, the programme here is excellent. Eugene Stratton, the Exceptional, tops the bill, and makes a big hit, especially with his song "The Spoony Coon," with its capital dance; the famous Craggs are wonderfully clever and amusing in Billy, a sketch full of good business; the Uessems are equilibrists of high merit; Chinko, the boy juggler, does some astonishing feats in a highly effective manner; and Alfred Hurley, vocalist, is very popular. The Holles-Goldman Trio create much laughter with a funny sketch; Nelson's Newsboys sing and dance well; and the Norman-Leonard Trio present an enjoyable comedy musical sketch. "Strike the Lyre" is well rendered by the Choir, who also assist Mr. J. Foye with an illustrated song, "In the shade of the old apple-tree." The Royal Bull-fight at Madrid is shown on the Bioscope.

TIVOLI.—Managing-Director, Mr. Chas. A. Wilkes; Manager, Mr. Arthur B. Wilkes.—Charming La Cigale sings beautifully here this week, and meets with deserved approval; Mabel Osborn and Gordon Brookes are delightful in a musical comedy sketch, and are well received; Herbert Clifton, a mimic with a good singing voice, is loudly applauded; and the Columbia Comedy Trio, in operatic and humorous selections, are good. Others who contribute to an excellent programme are Andrews and Thompson, good singers, in a humorous act; Charles Faning, a comedian who "gets there"; the Wilsons, quick-fire conversationalists; the Sisters Troy, Continental gymnasts; and George Rapley, comedian. Raymond's Vivagraph pictures are very good.

KING'S, LONGSIGHT.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. F. B. Broadhead.—A Soldier's Revenge is the attraction here this week, presented in fine style by Messrs. Beaudyn, Livesey, and Hardy's company. It is a melodrama of the days of Cromwell, and has many thrilling moments. Mr. Montague Beaudyn is particularly good as Ironhand; Mr. Robertson Foulis as Sir Marsden Mardyke does well; and Mr. Albert Wray is suitably placed as Walter Clifford. Miss Irene Munroe makes a pleasing Ruby Avondale; and considerable fun is added to the play by Messrs. Harry C. Momber as Toby and T. R. White as Shadrack Shadwell.

QUEEN'S PARK HIPPODROME.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. P. B. Broadhead.—The chief item here this week is provided by the famous Dutch protean actor, Theo. Bouwmeester, in Who is Guilty? in which he performs seven distinct parts in a most effective manner. Wee Mona, a clever juvenile comedienne, sings and dances nicely, and deserves the hearty applause accorded her; Phedons gives a pleasing musical act; the Three Templers are excellent vocalists; Victoria Dagmar and Clown are smart on the horizontal bar; Sheila McNeil is an amusing Scotch comedienne with good patter; the efforts of Jack Cosgrove and Ethel Burns, a smart comedy duo, are appreciated; and Dick Kendall, comedian, and Rita Bell, the Dutch Girl, acquit themselves well. Bioscope pictures complete the programme.

HIPPODROME, HULME.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. P. B. Broadhead.—The great Hughes is here this week in his vastly amusing "Codology," a screamingly funny exposture of mesmerism. The Wedburne, instrumentalists, vocalists, and patterers, contribute a most enjoyable turn; the Westwoods are exceptionally clever cyclists; Howard and Townsend are good duettists; and very pleasing is Lou Langley, comedienne. Other good turns are those of the Steane Louch Trio in a scena from The Daughter of the Regiment; Theodore Jones and company in Jack Sheppard; Wyndham and Waters as the "Professor and the pupil"; and Charles Jackson, comedian. "Father's Blackpool Picnic" is depicted on the Bioscope.

RUSHOLME PAVILION.—Proprietor, Mr. Harry Leslie; Acting-Manager, Mr. Charles North.—Another capital programme is submitted here this week, and business is good.

MARGATE.—THE HIPPODROME.—Sole Proprietors, Messrs. F. Mouillot and W. de Frece; General-Manager, Mr. J. de Frece; Resident-Manager, Mr. C. F. Bawtree.—A big attraction here this week is Dinah Morris, the American comedienne, and her company, including Bessie Morris and the Southern Belle troupe of dancers, in the musical comedy The Lost Coon; or, Black Michael's Revenge. Dinah Morris, as the belle of Lucanna, is really good, her dancing being especially captivating. Bessie Morris is vivacious as captain of the Dixie Brigade; and a full chorus gives good support. Silent Tait, the eccentric wizard, is amusing; Curtis and Vanity, in a smart dance act, Lena Willard, comedienne and impersonator, Ernest Montefiore and company, with the musical scena The Little Colonel, the Mezzettis, exceedingly clever triple-bar performers, and the Hippodrome Pictures, go to make up one of the best programmes ever put upon the boards here.

MERTHYR TYDFIL.—THEATRE ROYAL AND OPERA HOUSE.—Sole Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Will Smithson.—Another capital variety programme is arranged here this week. At the head is Martin Melia, Irish comedian and expert clog-dancer; Les Louberts contribute an amusing sketch, Uninvited, which is well received; the Mays are good burlesque artists and dancers; Sleath and Aldin supply a musical novelty, Dashing Duval; Piccollo and Fiori are amusing as Continental clowns; Chester and Lee's marionettes are pleasing; and Miss Lill, contralto vocalist, is successful in her musical numbers. The bioscope is entertaining with a series of up-to-date pictures.

TEMPERANCE HALL.—Manager, Mr. Israel Price.—The attraction here this week is Charlie Green, Edie Bracewell, McClemo, Louie Ginnett, Esdale Bros., E. W. Selwas, Gillin's Arabs, Louie Dallas, Alveno and Cleo, George Mackintosh and Tina Royal, Chard's Dogs, and biograph animated pictures.

MEXBOROUGH.—PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. W. H. Melton.—The closing attraction of the season here is Miss Winifred Chalmers' company in the melodrama, The Master Criminal. Mr. Hy. L. Osmond is prominent with a vigorous and skilful embodiment of Telford Lestage; the Philip Manners of Mr. Alex. Haviland is a well-studied rendering; Mr. E. Frith (Ben Beaudy) and Mr. J. W. Gallagher (Gentleman Jim) also work successfully; Mr. Hy. Cooke is an amusing Tommy Dale. Miss Winifred Chalmers plays with rare dramatic skill the rôle of Cecile; Miss Phyllis Vaughan sympathetically treats the character of Mabel Manners; Miss Mabel Tremere is a vivacious and pleasing Peggie Perks.

MIDDLESBROUGH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Chas. Imeson.—Mr. Eade Montefiore's company, in the domestic drama The Streets of London, is here this week. Mr. William Rokeby plays the character of Badger with great effect; Mr. Henry Moxon sustains with power the rôle of Gideon Bloodgood; and Mr. Douglas Cottell is seen to advantage as Mark Livingstone. Mr. Clifford Bown creates much amusement as Jonas Puffy; and Mr. Ian Lloyd-Mackenzie does well as Paul Fairweather. Miss Edith Goodhall is exceedingly good as Alice Bloodgood; and Miss Violet Vivian leaves nothing to be desired as Mrs. Puffy. The other rôles are ably sustained, and the scenery and stage effects are excellent.

OPERA HOUSE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Robert Arthur; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. K. Chatto.—The Shaughraun is being presented here this week. Mr. John S. Chamberlain, in the character of Conn, the Shaughraun, causes roars of laughter; as does Mr. Charles Antley, as Harvey Duff. Miss Nora Malone gives a fine impersonation of Moya; Miss Rosamond Mayne Young does well as the Sligo Lady. Miss Nora Bedford and Miss Grace Fainton are excellent in their respective rôles; and Mr. Godfrey Fearle is good as Robert Folliot.

EMPIRE PALACE.—Managing Director, Mr. John Brill; Manager, Mr. Chas. Rembges.—A programme of excellent variety is being presented here this week. George Mozart, the well-known comedian, is well received; and Ada Parker, with coon songs, proves a popular favourite. Selbo delights the house with his juggling tricks; the Paul Kramer's troupe provides an excellent acrobatic turn; and the Sisters Vincent dance well. The Wyffs give a funny sketch, entitled The Parson's Mishap in a London Flat; and Gallando proves himself a clever sculptor. Other turns are provided by Tom Yorke and the Bioscope.

OXFORD PALACE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Alf Graham.—Frame, a big favourite, is paying a return visit here, and as usual his breezy songs and racy humour delight the audience. The Dayton Family, a troupe of acrobats, provide an interesting turn; and Frank Cass, vocal comedian, sings well. David Poole, ventriloquist, causes much amusement; and Mandoline Rees, comedienne, does well. Other turns are provided by George Penn, eccentric; Katie Butler, comedienne; and Mabel Kessler, vocalist.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE.—TYNE THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. F. W. Wyndham; Business-Manager, Mr. F. C. Sutcliffe.—The National Theatre Society are presenting a number of Irish plays here this week. They produced no less than four each night and their répertoire at the opening performance comprised A Pot of Broth, Riders to the Sea, Spreading the News, and The Building Fund. An entire change in the programme was announced for the second part of the week. A flying visit of the famous French artist M. Coquelin with Cyrano de Bergerac was announced for yesterday (Friday) afternoon.

PALACE THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. T. W. Rowe; Business-Manager, Mr. E. B. Clark.—Messrs. Garside and Knowle's company is appearing here this week in the drama The London Fireman. A strong all-round company includes Mr. J. Forbes Knowles as Colonel Fleming and Mr. Edward L. Garside as Hal Curtis, both of whom are seen to distinct advantage; Miss Nellie Shirley, an accomplished actress, makes a charming heroine; and Mr. Charles A. Preece and Miss Nellie Garside are the clever exponents of the comedy element. The drama is staged in excellent style.

GRAND THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. Sidney Bacon.—The bill of fare here this week consists of the sensational drama entitled Under the Russian Flag, produced by a company under the direction of Mr. Jack Haddon. Miss Marie Rayner undertakes with complete success the long and arduous rôle of Luka Marischia, an adventuress; Mr. Haddon impersonates the character of Captain Demetrius with force and vigour; the comedy work of Mr. Fred Haming and Miss Agnes Howard leaves little to be desired; and admirable support is also forthcoming from Mr. Bernard Mervyn, Mr. Cecil Melton, Mr. Charles Liddon, and Miss Elaine Vanbrugh.

EMPIRE THEATRE.—Resident-Director, Mr. Richard Thornton; Resident-Manager, Mr. E. Leslie Conroy.—Mr. Ernest Shand has proved highly entertaining and amusing here this week; Ray Wallace, the popular mimic, continues faithfully to portray popular performers; the "madness" imported into the tumbling feats by the Hadj Abdullah troupe is quite effective; the Howard Brothers open their act with some trick banjo playing, and then give a fine rendering of the overture "Poet and Peasant"; the Casino Comedy Four are a quaint quartette of vocalists; Will Mitcham always commands attention as a musical comedian; and the Althoffs, musical sketch artists, Alf Holt, mimic, Maud Ross, dancer, and the Bioscope, with a beautiful picture of the recent Royal wedding, constitute the remainder of the programme.

PAVILION THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Barrasford; Manager, Mr. Will H. Boardman.—Despite the warm weather we are experiencing just now, the Pavilion is always well filled, and on Monday a large audience was greatly amused with the funny antics of Martin Conway, "the quaint one." The tight-wire performance of the Four Holloways gained much appreciation; the eccentric acrobatic act of the Five Schiavonys is decidedly clever; Maidie Scott in song and dance won cordial approval; Frank Bernard and company, in an amusing sketch, Percy Hannon, baritone vocalist, Gipsy Woolf and her Six Sunbeams, Webb and Branston, vocalists, and Will Souls and Will Driscoll, comedians, and the Barrascope, are the remaining turns.

NEWPORT.—EMPIRE.—Moss' Empires, Ltd.; Managing-Director, Mr. O. Stoll.—Austin Rudd is warmly received here; Cooke and Miss Robert are responsible for amusing knockabout business; and Geo. Ridgwell earns well-deserved applause with his fine baritone voice. The Three Hayden Sisters sing delightfully; the Sisters Urma do some amazing tricks on the trapeze; and the Sisters Terry are capable mimics; the Phydoras (musicians) are entertaining; Ben Albert evokes much laughter; and the Bioscope pictures are attractive.

NORTHAMPTON.—PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Fred H. Anderson; Acting-Manager, Mr. Robert Barton.—Rex Fox heads the bill this week with his clever wire act; Fred Erick is highly successful as a quaint comedian; York, Mac, and York furnish a capital comedy act; Sylvia Spiers appears with success as a coon vocalist and dancer; San Juan, novelty ventriloquist, gives a good turn; Molly Seymour, comedienne and dancer, scores in a vocal and dancing scene, in which she is assisted by a clever child; Tom E. Cliffe, comedian, does well; and the Palace Pictures are of the newest. This theatre now closes for the annual vacation.

NORTHWICH.—PIERROT PAVILION.—Proprietors, the Royal Pierrots Company.—The programme this week has been provided by Mr. Lindon Wyatt and his costume concert company. Miss Isabel Jardine is an accomplished soprano, and is very successful in her songs; Miss Flo Holroyd, coon soubrette, is heartily applauded for her several contributions; Mr. Bob. Taylor, buffo vocalist, sings with good effect; Mr. G. W. Nicholson, in his humorous songs, is vociferously encored; Mr. Glanmore Jones is again in good voice, and gives one of his popular selections; Mr. Lindon Wyatt's performance is appreciated; and Mr. Len Robinson has proved himself a talented musician.

NORWICH.—HIPPODROME.—Proprietors, Messrs. E. H. Bostock and F. W. Fitt; Manager, Mr. F. W. Fitt.—This week Mr. Jackson's eight Lancashire lads head the bill, and high compliments are paid to their pleasing singing and dancing; Elton and Elma, in their eccentric bar act, come in for a fair share of approbation; whilst the Clevelands, in their dancing, tumbling, and juggling acts, create great fun. Walter Ray, comedian, is well received; and Ian Colquhoun renders his baritone solos excellently. Espinosa and Neilson, terpsichorean artists, are well received; the Athlones are refined athletes; whilst Charles A. East and company convulse the audience with laughter in their funny sketch £1000 for a Baby.

NOTTINGHAM.—GRAND THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. Charles P. Cooke.—Dishonoured has been presented for the first time here by the company of Miss Blanche St. Albans and Mr. J. Leicester Jackson. Mr. Percy Ballard plays Philip Cunningham with a manliness and intensity that call forth unbounded enthusiasm; the embodiment of Leslie Maynard by Miss Violet Craufurd has the requisite dramatic intensity and pathetic touch; as the scoundrelly Captain Peyntland Mr. Jackson Hayes plays with subtlety and power; Mr. Geoff. Broughton makes a capable Sir Wm. Cunningham, and Mr. Louis Scott effectively impersonates the faithful friend Cholmondley; Miss Jessie Merrick gives a charming portrayal of Sybil, and Miss Walton earns distinction as Lady Cunningham. There is some excellent comedy, well rendered by Miss Pollie Denville, Miss Annie Thompson, Miss Georgie Allen, and Messrs. Harold B. Ford, Val Gully, and Cecil Morand.

KING'S THEATRE.—Proprietor, Mr. Frank Macnaghten; Manager, Mr. Edgar O. Waller.—The Royal Animated Picture Company presents a succession of films that prove highly interesting and amusing, and songs are contributed at intervals by Mr. Steve Fitzgerald.

EMPIRE THEATRE OF VARIETIES.—Managing-Director, Mr. Oswald Stoll; Acting-Manager, Mr. Chas. H. Bowmaker.—An uproarious welcome awaited Little Tich on Monday night, and his songs, quips, antics, and comical patter evoked the highest merriment. A medley of tuneful songs were capitally vocalised by Fielding and Hull; and a song by Leah Arden was well received; the cross-talk and smart acrobatic feats of Johnson and Bert gave the greatest pleasure, and a humorous sketch entitled Aunt Matilda caused hearty laughter as played by Frank Elliston and company. Marie Kendall's effervescent style of song called forth abundant applause, as did also the dancing of Ella Retford. Stave, the Musical Kaffir, Steve McCarthy, comedian, and the American Bioscope, with new films, added their share to the general enjoyment.

NUNEATON.—PRINCE OF WALES'S THEATRE AND ENTERTAINMENTS CO., LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. A. F. Cross; Acting-Manager, Mr. Walter J. R. Bryan.—Kennedy's Komiks are providing an exceptionally good variety entertainment here; excellent turns are given by Miss Florrie Mears (ballad singer), Mr. Feen Pounds (actor vocalist), Miss Veronica Brady (with songs and dances), and Mr. Herbert Cullum (comedian). The Two Cedrics give some clever comic turns, and Mr. Frank Lyndon introduces an interesting musical performance. A musical comedy sketch, The Rag-Time Queen, is thoroughly enjoyed; and some excellent pictures are shown on the Cinematograph.

OLDHAM.—EMPIRE THEATRE.—Closed for renovation.

COLOSSEUM THEATRE.—General-Manager, Mr. W. Eastwood.—The Romany's Revenge is being presented here by Messrs. E. A'Dell and Fred Chabot's company. Miss Ethel Ashleigh plays the part of Zamet in a clever manner; Mr. C. H. Gallier is excellent as John Hope, the hero; and Mr. H. C. Robinson is a good exponent of villainy as David Renard. Miss Eva Elwes cleverly doubles the parts of Lillian Hope and Elspie; Mr. L. Eykyn scores as Archibald Heath; and Miss Lil Francis does well as Archie. Miss Fanny Wallace and Mr. David Hamilton, as Polly Pluck and Bobby Bloom, cause much merriment, and contribute some capital songs and dances.

ROYAL THEATRE.—Manager, Mr. E. Dottridge; Assistant-Manager, Mr. W. Howgate.—Park's Eton Boys are well received for their excellent singing; the Four Geraldos give a neat and clever exhibition of juggling with clubs; Miss Venie Clements has proved herself to be a refined comedienne and dancer; and Inez Clough is a capable vocalist. Woodhouse and Wells, popular story-tellers, are good; and Bugler J. Carr gives a marvellous balancing turn; Miss Mabel Le Blanche is a pleasing comedienne; and the Three Missouris are smart acrobats. Mr. James Willard produced on Monday a new farcical sketch, entitled Strange Little Stranger, in which Little Tony, Miss Nora Layton, Johnnie Wilkinson, and Tom Taylor appeared. This capital sketch is full of fun, and it was well played.

OXFORD.—NEW THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. Thomas Lucas, J.P.; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. C. Dorrill.—Mr. Brandon Thomas is paying us his most delightful annual visit with the ever-popular Charley's Aunt, which was received on Monday with all the old enthusiasm by a delighted house. Mr. Brandon Thomas repeats his finished and artistic performance of Col. Chesney; Mr. W. Beaumont is well suited as the lawyer Spettigue; Mr. Stanley Cooke is as good as ever in his mirth-provoking impersonation of Lord Babberley; his two companions at college find excellent exponents in Messrs. Hastings Lynn and R. S. Mason, and Mr. Sidney Compton scores heavily as the scout Brassett; the ladies' parts could hardly be better played than they are by the Misses Lena Macnaughton, Marian Ripley, Dorothy Deacon, and Gladys Storey.

PLYMOUTH.—GRAND THEATRE.—Lessee and Manager, Mr. C. F. Williams; Acting-Manager, Mr. Percy Williams; Assistant Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Langdon Lee.—Mr. Percy Williams' stock company opened their season's engagement with Walter Howard's Man and Wife. Mr. Edward Lloyd earns high encomiums as Paul Revere; Mr. Stephen Ewart is distinctly good as the intriguing Captain D'Esparre; Messrs. Cecil Collins and Frank Harrison as Sergeant Jacques and Colonel Lateur respectively are commendable exponents of these parts. Miss Ethel Kay as Marcelle is satisfactory in the leading female part, and others contributing are the Misses Hammersley, Whitney, and Fenton.

DEVONPORT METROPOLE THEATRE.—Owners, Carltons, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. S. Mitchell.—The Union Jack forms a great attraction in the service town. Mr. C. Phelps as John Medway is fresh as ever, notwithstanding he has played this part some hundreds of times, and Miss Grace Harlington gives excellent support as Ruth Medway; as the villain, Captain Norton, it would be difficult to better Mr. L. Aardale's representation.

PROMENADE PIER AND PAVILION.—Manager, Mr. J. Higson.—Mr. Victor Stevens' Premier Pierrots are drawing large audiences, and well deserve the patronage bestowed. Miss Vera Neville is a smart banjoist; Miss Alice Brookes is a fascinating little dancer; Mr. George Neilson's songs caught on immensely, and Mr. Arthur Tomlin is a delightfully refreshing humorist. Mr. Victor Stevens and Mr. Will Pettitt also contribute acceptable items.

PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietors, County Hotels and Theatres, Ltd.; Manager, Mr. J. Field. Treasurer, Mr. N. Carlton.—Notwithstanding almost tropical heat the Palace was packed on Monday evening at both performances. Fred Karno's comedians in Mumming Birds kept the audience convulsed with laughter. The Davis and Gledhill Trio have a most remarkable turn, and by the assistance of some cleverly-contrived mechanical appliances are enabled to furnish a most exciting bicycle race on the stage; Mons. Slippere, the blind pianist, introduces a touch of pathos into the entertainment, and richly deserved his encore; Winnie Derson is a vivacious comedienne, and Hans and Lux, argumentative college chums, have some very original gag. Others contributing to an exceedingly well balanced programme were the Bros. Brooks and Harry Anderson, comedians, and Vernon's animated pictures.

PORTSMOUTH.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. J.W. Boughton; Acting-Manager, Mr. Armstrong Bell.—That bright and amusing comedy, On the Love Path, is being presented here this week by Miss Emma and Mr. Percy Hutchison's company. The impressionable Arthur Frederick Adolphus Taunton is played by Mr. Percy Hutchison with good judgment and untiring energy; Mr. George Mudie as the matrimonial diplomatist, John Gripleigh, handles this part in a thoroughly capable manner; Peter Concannon is amusingly depicted by Mr. Frank Hill; Denbigh Thraile and Gerald Marvel are admirably sustained by Messrs. Townsend, Whitling, and Mr. Greet. Miss Lilias Earle in the rôle of Charity Concannon is delightfully bewitching; Mary and Nora Concannon are satisfactorily played by Miss Margaret Marshall and Miss Hilda Honiss respectively. The curtain-raiser each evening is the one-act farce His Landlady.

PRINCE'S THEATRE.—Licensee and Manager, Mr. J. W. Boughton; Acting-Manager, Mr. T. E. Agate.—The highly sensational piece The Trail of the Serpent is being played here this week by Mr. E. Oswald Brooks's No. 1 Co. Mr. Wilford Cheetham as Ralph Hammond plays vigorously and well; the hero, Gerald Kingston, is portrayed in manly fashion by Mr. A. Campbell-Kelly; Miss Marjorie May is a sympathetic and capable Ethel Maynard, the much-persecuted heroine.

EMPIRE PALACE.—Secretary, Mr. W. Pratt.—The leading attraction here this week is Phil Ray, the popular comedian, who with his quaint songs delights the audience; Rosie Coleman, a pleasing soubrette and sand dancer, is most acceptable; the Smythsons, with the amusing sketch, A Tea-House Flirtation, are well received; Edie Sylvesto is exceedingly supple and graceful in contortionistic evolutions; Harry Conlin, a versatile comedian, has a fund of amusing patter; the Lannons are duettists, and for their pedestal dancing received well deserved applause; Jessie Albini, a smart comedienne, is much liked; Charles Clifford as a vocalist and solo harpist is clever; Lee and Kingston in the interlude Practical Joking, and Payne's Biophotoscope complete the bill.

PRESTON.—PRINCES THEATRE.—Proprietors and Managers, Messrs. Sawyer and Woodruff.—Miss Adria Hill and Mr. Robert Ayrton's company is presenting this week the well-known play, A Gambler's Daughter. Miss Hill in the dual rôle of Mildred Grant and Miriam Grant wins the complete sympathy of the house; Desmond O'Dare, a rollicking Irishman, is ably portrayed by Mr. Robert Ayrton; Mr. Lincoln Calthorpe ably sustains the difficult part of Stephen Brand; Mr. Alfred Sanders acquits himself well in the part of Solomon Solomons; Mr. H. Barham as Dick, the Weasel, is accorded hearty applause; Mr. Vincent Carlyle displays great dramatic ability as Ralph Gillman; Mr. Victor Millard merits praise for his conception of Jack Grant; Mr. Harriet Loydall keeps the house convulsed with laughter in the part of Auntie Zeb. Others who ably sustain their respective characters are Miss Lizzie Gordan as Carman Sancho, and Mr. George Vinning as Tom.

ROYAL HIPPODROME.—Proprietors and Managers, Messrs. W. B. Broadhead.—An exceedingly good programme is presented here this week. The Hohamed Ben Mohamed troupe of eight Arabs give a very fine tumbling display; a most artistic and pleasing show is Mlle. Lumiere's "Fairy Grotto"; Henderson, the blind musician, delights the audience with his brilliant instrumental playing; Mr. Harry Marlow and Miss May Manton appear in an amusing sketch, entitled Other People's Babies; Miss Evelyn Taylor gains a cordial reception with her catchy chorus songs; a bright and clever song scena, entitled The Shoeblack's Dream, is presented by Messrs. Fuller Graham and Co.; Mr. Chas. Hulbert receives deserved applause for his smart ventriloquial entertainment; Master Joe Conway, a clever juvenile comedian, sings some good parodies on popular songs; a skilful sleight-of-hand performance is that of Paul de Lil. Some exceedingly good pictures of the destruction of San Francisco are depicted on the Bioscope.

RAWTENSTALL.—GRAND THEATRE.—Co-proprietors and Lessees, Messrs. W. Johnson and J. Potter; General-Manager, Mr. J. Potter; Resident Acting-Manager, Mr. J. Ellis Miller.—Princess Leah gives an interesting opening turn. Billy Bint has scored a great success as a character comedian. The Two Dianias give a clever display as eccentric comedians and acrobats; Miss Fanny Robina delights her audience with her pleasing contributions; the Fontains give an amusing marionette entertainment; Arielello's illusion is an interesting item; Miss Florry Cooper sings in decidedly good style; the De Roys give clever and amusing conjuring specialities, and the Marvellous Howards submit an exceedingly interesting display; the Revell Troupe appear in a comical pantomime sketch Mischief, which causes roars of laughter.

READING.—ROYAL COUNTY THEATRE.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. Milton Bode; Acting-Manager, Mr. W. E. Barnett.—Messrs. E. H. Knight and George Denham are presenting here the successful drama The Boom of Big Ben. Mr. Fred Powell gives a powerful rendering of Captain Joe Galloway; other characters are well sustained by Messrs. Harry Scott, Geo. Denham, Stanley Bedwell, J. Brittain, Harry Agar Lyons, Leonard Howe as Dr. Forbes, Mr. G. Child as Inspector Denver, Mrs. G. Child as Mrs. Pennythorp, Miss Hilda Baynton, Miss Nellie Fletcher, and Miss Mildred Cottrell.

RHYL.—PIER PAVILION.—Lessees, Messrs. Adeler and Sutton; Manager, Mr. Jack Macdermott.—An attractive programme is arranged here this week. Bob Hamilton is a deservedly popular comedian, and his turn is a merry one; Elsie Steadman once more delights everyone, and with J. H. Scotland renders some charming duets; Tom Percy is a clever juvenile comedian; and A. W. Parry, solo pianist, renders valuable assistance; the Pierrots are under the management of Mr. Jack Macdermott, who has become a great favourite.

ROCHDALE.—NEW THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. W. Robinson; General-Manager, Mr. Otto C. Culling; Resident-Manager, Mr. J. Hague.—The Manxman is the attraction here this week, and a really fine production of this interesting play is presented by a clever all-round company. Mr. Alfred B. Cross takes premier honours with an impassioned portrayal of Pete; Miss Minnie Watersford acts the part of Kate Cregeen to the life; Mr. David Phillips as the unbending Cæsar Cregeen plays with effect; Mr. Sydney C. Kearns scores a distinct success as Philip Christian; Mr. George Marriott, jun., deserves a word of praise as Ross Christian; and Mr. Arthur J. Moss does well as Tom the postman; Miss Nancy Mitchell submits a spirited embodiment of Nancy, and Miss Mona Spearing appears to advantage as Miss Christian.

RUNCORN.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Lessee, Mr. H. W. Caddick.—Mr. J. Gar Kiddie's company is here for the week. Mr. Oliver Leach heads the list with a pleasing rendering of several classical numbers; Jimmy Taylor is a clever comedian; and other contributors are Harry Lautenberg, with humorous songs; Basil Baker, a first-rate singer of bass songs; Will Gordon and Jimmy Macklin, eccentric comedians; Fred Martley, good tenor vocalist; Albert Garner, baritone; and Mr. J. Gar Kiddie, whose comicalities are the source of continuous laughter.

SALFORD.—PRINCE OF WALES.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. E. B. Goulden; Acting-Manager, Mr. Harold Goulden.—The French romantic play, The Throne of Terror, drew a good house on Monday, when Mr. Wm. J. Miller ably sustained the principal part of Maximilian Robespierre and Miss Ethel Lanyon Maude successfully portrayed Robespierre's accomplice, Victorine D'Almonte; Captain Eugène de Lisle was well played by Mr. Roy Milton; Mr. Bert Ellis as Joujou and Miss Eva Norman as Peppietta, were seen to advantage in the comedy business. Good support was given by Mr. Frank Fuller, as Comte de Roquefort, and Miss Katherine Maude Davies, as Marguerite de Roquefort.

REGENT THEATRE OF VARIETIES, LTD.—Managing-Director, Mr. W. Turner; Manager, Mr. Herbert Raymond; Secretary, Mr. J. C. Patterson.—Some smart conjuring by Germaine gives much pleasure; Bonnie Goodwin and her piccaninnies are much applauded for their clever dancing; An Early Morning Dip is a very funny extravaganza by Cavern and Cave; other good turns include Ernie Myers, patter comedian; Lily Lonsdale, soprano vocalist; Fentoni, with his sand and smoke painting; Ted Saunders, popular mimic; Nash and Noal, comedians and dancers; and Violet Stockelle, chic comedienne.

ROYAL HIPPODROME.—Manager, Mr. W. B. Broadhead; Acting-Manager, Mr. Percy B. Broadhead; Resident Acting-Manager, Mr. C. H. Wentworth.—The sketch, The Demon of the Cellar, worked by the Six Brothers Luck, is very comical; the two dainty juveniles, Cullen and Jordison, are clever duettists and dancers; the Violet Whitworth cycling girls have a novel racing machine, which gives much pleasure. There are several other acceptable turns, including the Three Seymons, in an equilibrist juggling act; Myra Love, a charming serio; Harry Nelson, character comedian; Ionia and his human target; Burns and Bentley, song and dance; and Tennis and Laune, duettists.

SHEERNESS.—PALACE OF VARIETIES.—Proprietor and Manager, Mr. P. Reymond.—A capital bill is submitted here, and comprises the Rosslyns, who provoke much amusement with their comedy-act, The Shoeblack and Country Girl; Dan Conway, eccentric comedian and dancer, pleases immensely; Miss Alice Dora, comedienne and dancer, is much appreciated; Miss Marie Florence, comedienne, is also deserving of praise; and the Eltons, comedy-sketch artists, complete the programme.

SHEFFIELD.—THEATRE ROYAL.—Managing-Director, Mr. John Hart; General-Manager, Mr. J. E. B. Beaumont.—Mr. Alex. Loftus, accompanied by Mr. C. Edwards's company, opened to a good house, on Monday, in The New Barmaid. Mr. Charles Adeson proved very successful as Bertie White; and Mr. Alexander Loftus again provided abundant excuses for hearty mirth as the waiter, William White; Miss Violet Osmond was smart and vivacious as the lady journalist, Dora Heather; Miss Maisie Ellenger made a pretty and tuneful representative of the "New Barmaid," Ethel Joy; Mr. Leslie Austin was first-rate as Captain Lovebury; and Mr. James Grant's Col. Claymore was a diverting character impersonation. There was a well-dressed chorus and several new lyrics and interpolated skits were loudly applauded.

ALEXANDRA THEATRE.—Managing-Director, Mr. W. D. Forsdike; Acting-Manager, Mr. C. W. Ramsay.—Man's Enemy; or, The Downward Path, a play with a strong moral purpose, is again being acted here to delighted and approving audiences, under the direction of Mr. John Power, who gives a strong portrayal of the temptations and trials of Dan Blake.

EMPIRE PALACE.—Proprietors, The Moss' Empires Co., Ltd.; Acting-Manager, Mr. Alan D. Dunbar.—Marie Loftus, graceful and charming as ever, with the same irresistible style, and the bright smile that won the proudest position possible on the variety stage years ago for "Our Mollie," is again bewitching large audiences at the Empire, in her skit, Singers — Past and Present, in a parody on the music-hall sketch, and, finally, in an Indian scena she demonstrated her wonderful versatility and mimetic talent. Miss Loftus was recalled again and again at the end of her long turn. A smart little sketch by Lee and Bentley was deservedly applauded; Conn and Conrad, in their daring and original act on the revolving spar, were enthusiastically received; Mr. J. A. Wilson and his soldier dog are again cordially applauded; and other welcome favourites are Starr and Leslie, comic jugglers; Miss Georgina Leonard, burlesque actress and ballad vocalist; and that old and always welcome favourite, Mr. Harry Freeman, in new and mirth-provoking comic creations; in addition, there is the Bioscope, with up-to-date films.

GRAND P

"SHE STANDS ALONE."

Drama, in Four Acts, by William Hibbert, Produced at the Lyric Opera House, Hammersmith,
on Monday, June 18.

Major Terence O'Malley ....MR. LEWIS GILBERT
Baron Von Karl Werter.....MR. J. J. BARTLETT
Sir Hugh Ferguson .....MR. J. A. ROSIER
Captain Von Shelling .....MR. MURRAY YORKE
Timothy O'Dowd .....MR. WILLIE SCOTT
Zobeski .....MR. FRED HORNBY
Kowtow .....MR. E. CUTHBERT
Rudolph .....MR. R. WATSON
Doctor Heaton .....MR. FRANK WILSON
Miss Rose Ferguson .....MISS DAISY MURCH
Rebecca Moggs.....MISS BLANCHE STANLEY
Maggy Smith .....MISS AGNES PAULTON
Little Katrine Shelling .....MISS IDA THOMSON
Countess Zara .....MISS DAISY MARSHALL
Clotilde Marnoff .....MISS NETTIE WARE

Female villainy has lately been a particularly favourite theme with writers of melodrama, and in She Stands Alone, the latest play from the pen of Mr. William Hibbert, an author who has written two or three pieces which have met with success in the provinces and the outlying London theatres, it is again a woman, fair, fierce, and fascinating, who is largely responsible for the righteous indignation of gallery and pit. Clotilde Marnoff, alias Zenia, the traitress, is the "tool" of Baron Von Carl Werter, a German political agent. The British Ambassador at Pekin, Sir Hugh Ferguson, has in his possession some papers incriminating Germany, and Werner is determined to obtain them at any cost. Clotilde is entrusted with the task, and, disguised as an old lady, quickly gets to work. Feigning sickness, and thereby gaining admittance to the Ambassador's house, she soon discovers the all-important documents, and of course annexes them. The theft is at once discovered, but the aged Sir Hugh is rendered insensible by a blow from the crafty Werter. The recovery of the papers seems hopeless, but Major Terence O'Malley, chief of the British Secret Service, who has been hovering around disguised as a brainless "dude," promises to do his best to get them back. Clotilde and Werter are members of an Anarchist gang, and Werter, scenting danger from the "traitress," and anxious to get her out of the way, informs Zobeski, the chief, that she has betrayed them. In an impressive scene in the den of the Anarchists she is sentenced to death, and is about to be hurled down an opening that leads to the sea, when the gallant O'Malley and his volatile servant, Timothy O'Dowd, who have managed somehow to attend the meeting as members of the society, rescue her—and also the papers. In the next act we discover that O'Malley has capitulated to the charms of Clotilde, of course quite unaware as to her real identity, and proposes marriage. There is a prospect of happiness for the "traitress," and she will redeem the past; but Werter again comes on the scene, and threatens that if she does not secure the papers a terrible punishment shall be hers—captivity in the mines. Eventually she consents to Werter's cowardly plan, which is that O'Malley shall be persuaded to play cards, be accused of cheating, and in the duel which is bound to follow his adversary, Captain Von Shelling, a German spy, shall wear mail beneath his uniform, O'Malley's death being thus certain. Clotilde, however, warns him not to fight with swords, and pistols are used, neither combatant being seriously injured. Clotilde discovers that the Ambassador's daughter, Rose, has a fondness for O'Malley, and, her jealousy being aroused, she lures the girl from the cholera hospital where she has been acting as nurse by telling her her father is seriously ill. She (Rose) is forcibly taken to an apartment by a couple of soldiers, and Werter makes dishonourable proposals to her; but she is rescued by Von Shelling, whose little daughter she nursed through a dangerous illness. In the last act the "traitress" drugs O'Malley, taking the papers from inside his coat. He is, of course, blamed for his foolishness by the Ambassador, who, however, afterwards regrets his hasty words. O'Malley quickly transfers his affections to Rose, and in the end Clotilde restores the papers to O'Malley, Werter and the "traitress" both expiring from shots fired at each other.

The prominent part of Clotilde was admirably enacted by Miss Nettie Ware, who will do even better when relieved of the anxiety attendant on a first-night performance. She was especially successful in indicating the jealousy of the "traitress" when she discovers Rose's love for O'Malley, and also in the scene where she has to choose between captivity in the mines and betraying the only man she has ever loved. Miss Ware, who was charmingly costumed throughout the play, was supported by an excellent company. Miss Daisy Murch was a refined and in every way satisfactory representative of Rose, the lady's elocution being particularly praiseworthy; Miss Ida Thomson submitted a bright and intelligent portrayal of little Katrine Shelling; and an impressive impersonation of Countess Zara was given by Miss Daisy Marshall. Mr. Lewis Gilbert made a manly, sincere, and in every way commendable Major Terence O'Malley; that experienced and finished actor Mr. J. J. Bartlett submitted a convincing impersonation of the cruel and crafty Werter; Mr. Murray Yorke is entitled to commendation for his excellent enactment of Captain Von Shelling; and Mr. J. A. Rosier played Sir Hugh Ferguson quite capably. Mr. Hibbert has supplied plenty of comedy relief, some of the lines being especially funny, and is most loyally served by the interpreters of the comic rôles A particularly humorous impersonation was the Timothy O'Dowd of Mr. Willie Scott, a comedian who was untiring in his efforts to create merriment. O'Dowd during the greater part of the play appears as a Chinaman, and his numerous funny sayings and quaint bits of business compelled laughter whenever he was on the stage. He received valuable aid from Miss Blanche Stanley, who is to be warmly congratulated on her really comic portrayal of Rebecca Moggs, a damsel of uncertain age but very decided opinions; and the scene where she prepares a meal for "Wun Lung"—canned beef and bull-pup soup—simply convulsed the house. Miss Agnes Paulton was a bright and engaging representative of Maggy Smith, and also largely contributed to the merriment of the evening; and the other rôles were all adequately undertaken. The scenery deserves a word of praise. She Stands Alone, which is a well-written and constructed play, was favourably received by the large audience at the Lyric on Monday. The play was produced by Mr. J. M. East, and went very smoothly for a first performance. Drama still attracts at Hammersmith, especially when played by such an excellent all-round stock company as Mr. Samuel James, the enterprising managing-director, has gathered together. Mr. Fred S. Jennings is the popular acting-manager here, and his extensive experience and thorough knowledge of every branch of the theatrical business must be of valuable assistance to his chief.

THE annual benefit to the staff of H.M. Theatre, Carlisle, took place on the 14th inst., when the house was crowded in every part. Still Waters Run Deep was the principal piece, and Mr. Stanley Rogers (the acting-manager) as John Mildmay, Mrs. Stanley Rogers as Mrs. Mildmay, and Mr. Frank Stanley (assistant acting-manager) as Mr. Potter contributed performances which gained enthusiastic appreciation. After the performance Mrs. R. Stewart M'Kim, on behalf of the theatre staff, presented Mr. Rogers with a handsome silver spirit kettle and teapot. Mr. Rogers in reply said that almost every touring manager that visited the theatre complimented him on his courteous and obliging staff, which compared favourably with that of any provincial theatre.

"IN HOLY ORDERS."

A Drama, in Four Acts, by Wyn Weaver.
Produced for the first time on any stage at the Theatre Royal, Dover,
on Monday, June 18.

Lord Midhurst .....MR. RALPH HUTTON
Richard Finch .....MR. GEORGE MORTIMER
Lewis Finch .....MR. ERNEST NOBLE
Hardy Challis .....MR. W. HENRY HARGREAVES
Bairn .....MR. H. F. MALTBY
Guy Rolleston .....MR. A. E. WYN WEAVER
Andrew de Ville .....MR. REGINALD FAVELL
An Office Boy .....MISS NANCY YORKE
Lady Hazel .....MISS BEATRICE MARSDENE
Mrs. Baxter .....MISS MABEL MELLOR
Joan .....MISS MARA MALTBY

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

This new drama, a pleasing compound of romance, sensationalism, and pathos, enlivened with some excellent comedy, had a most gratifying reception on its production at the above theatre on Monday. There are several really stirring and exciting scenes, and Mr. Weaver must be congratulated as the author of a cleverly-constructed and intensely interesting play.

The opening scene is at Midhurst Hall, where we learn that in his youth Lord Midhurst was responsible for the ruin of a little country girl named Joan Challis. To completely deceive her he went through a marriage ceremony, performed by one Guy Rolleston. Midhurst is not aware that Rolleston was once in Holy Orders, but had been forced to leave the Church owing to his disgraceful life. Tiring of Joan, now the mother of his two-year-old son, Midhurst tells her that she was never his wife, and the poor woman, in despair, leaves him, taking the child with her. Two years later the boy is brought back, and the baronet learns that Joan is dead. He adopts the child, who is known as Hardy Challis, and brings him up ignorant of his true identity. Richard Finch (Lord Midhurst's brother) and his son Lewis are anxious to obtain the title and estate, there being no legitimate issue, and helped by a rascally lawyer, De Ville, bribe Rolleston to aid them in the nefarious designs. Lord Midhurst has long repented of his blackguardly act, and would do anything to recall the past. Hardy, who is Lewis's successful rival for the hand of Lady Hazel, is forced into a quarrel with Finch, jun., who, in a moment of passion, reveals the fact of Hardy's illegitimacy. The boy is stunned by the shock, and refusing to forgive his father the wrong done his loving and trusting mother, leaves the house, to work his own way in the world.

The principal scene in Act II. is that in Chanstone Churchyard. Joan, who circulated the report of her death eighteen years ago, has been abroad, but the mother love within her is too strong, and she returns to try and obtain one glimpse of her boy. In this she is aided by Bairn, a faithful servant of the family. In a most pathetic scene she meets and has conversation with Hardy, but does not reveal her identity, and he has no idea that the broken-hearted woman to whom he speaks kind words is his own mother. Richard Finch, Lewis, and De Ville meet at Rolleston Hall, and learning from the latter (who overheard the conversation between Bairn and Joan) that the woman is alive, decide to render their schemes secure by killing her. They leave Rolleston, now sunk in a drunken stupor, from which he is awakened by Bairn with the news that Joan is alive. The remorse which he has long felt for his part in her betrayal comes to him again, and he determines to right the wrong, and proclaim before the world that he was still in Holy Orders when he performed the marriage, and that, consequently, it was both legal and binding. Bairn has told Hardy that his mother is alive, and they are just in time to rescue her from De Ville, who makes an attempt to murder her at the old barn in which she has taken shelter for the night. There is an undying hatred between Rolleston and De Ville, who was responsible for the latter's financial ruin, and in a fight between them De Ville is accidentally killed. Rolleston covers the body with a blanket, and assuming the lawyer's disguise, helps the Finches consign it to the river, they being under the impression that they have rid themselves of the woman who stood between them and fortune.

The last act is again at Midhurst Hall. Hardy is devoted to his mother, and Bairn is trying to reconcile father and son. Robert Finch learns from Rolleston the fact of De Ville's death, and, furious at his treachery, shoots and mortally wounds him. Midhurst enters and learns from the erstwhile parson that Joan was his legal wife. Hardy breaks the news that his mother is still alive, and the weary and remorseful old man falls at last at the feet of the woman he so cruelly wronged, and learns from her own lips of her forgiveness and love.

The drama is capitally mounted and staged, and receives an exceptionally fine interpretation at the hands of a decidedly capable company of players. One of the most striking character-studies is that of Guy Rolleston, whose natural impulses for good have been stifled by years of dissipation, but who eventually makes retribution for the greatest of his misdeeds, and pays the penalty with his life. The part is played by Mr. Weaver himself, whose artistic and finished performance it would be hard to improve upon, and which adds considerably to his reputation as a clever artist. Mr. George Mortimer as Robert Finch acts with his customary ease; unaffected, yet earnest and intense, he earns golden opinions by his powerful and virile embodiment. Mr. Ralph Hutton as Lord Midhurst is excellent. Every phase of the character is done justice to, and one cannot imagine a more effective portrayal. Mr. Henry Hargreaves chivalrous bearing as the hero, Hardy Challis, gives a touch of romance to the part, and the impersonation must be pronounced a decided triumph for the young actor. A clever rendering of De Ville is contributed by Mr. Reginald Favell; while Mr. Ernest Noble as Lewis Finch is excellent. A fine character-sketch of the old servant, commendably life-like in conception and in execution, is given by Mr. Maltby. Miss Beatrice Marsdene, by reason of her charm of person and histrionic ability, was well chosen for the rôle of the fascinating Lady Hazel. Miss Mara Maltby depicts the feelings of Joan with a power and intensity that evoke the warmest admiration of the audience. Miss Mabel Mellor as Mrs. Baxter plays with genuine humour the rôle of the matrimonially inclined widow, and succeeds in causing considerable mirth; and Miss Nancy York is funny in portraying the antics of a precocious office boy.

At the conclusion of the play an enthusiastic scene was witnessed, the curtain having to be raised again and again, while loud cries of "Author" brought forward Mr. Wyn Weaver, who thanked the audience for the more than kind reception accorded him, and paid a generous tribute of thanks to Mr. H. F. Maltby and company, who had worked so hard and so well in winning for the play the success it had achieved.

DR. OSCAR BLUMENTHAL has just completed a new three-act comedy entitled Das Glashaus, which has been accepted by the management of the Royal Schauspielhaus, Berlin, and will be produced early next season It has also been acquired for almost simultaneous production at the Imperial Burg Theatre at Vienna.

THE autographed vellum which was presented to Miss Ellen Terry, containing the names of those taking part in the matinée at Drury-lane on the 12th inst., has been reproduced on vellum paper, fac-simile double crown size, and can be obtained from Mr. Alfred Courtenay, Parliament Chambers, Great Smith-street, Westminster, for 1s.

MR. LEONARD SHEPHERD.

Mr. Leonard Shepherd and Miss Helena Head have just returned from the States, after an absence of nearly two years, and have many pleasurable experiences to recount. Amongst others, Mr. Shepherd tells of a compliment to his acting and make-up he recently received while playing Trivulzio in Monna Vanna in Washington. Some friends of his who came in as the curtain was going up and were consequently unable to get a programme, knowing he was in the cast, were looking for him, and wondering why he did not come on. However, although failing to recognise him, they singled out the part he was playing, and one turning to the other, said: "Isn't that a wonderful piece of acting?" "Yes," said the other,

MR. SHEPHERD AS TRIVULZIO, in production of Monna Vanna in New York.

"wonderful; but the poor old chap will never play another season."

Mr. Shepherd, who has been stationary in New York for about a year of the time, estimates that during the twelve months he was travelling he covered about 30,000 miles.

"THE FATAL STOCKINGS."

A Trifle in One Act, by Arthur Holmes-Gore, produced for the first time at the Grand Theatre, Blackpool,
on Monday, June 18, 1906.

Mrs. Daisy Crawford .....MISS LILIAN ROGERS
A Stranger .....MR. A. HOLMES-GORE

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

The above "trifle," which is the description the author modestly gives to a very clever little play, illustrates an unsuccessful attempt at revolt on the part of Desmond Crawford's young wife, Daisy. The scene is at Monte Carlo. Forbidden to go into the streets to see the fun of the fair at carnival time, Daisy has been told by her husband she "can watch the procession from the balcony" of their rooms at the Hôtel des Ambassadeurs. This restriction galls Mrs. Crawford, who is a girl of spirit, and her husband, having gone to the club, she goes to a costumier, selects the loose trousers and gaberdine of a pierrot, and so arrayed, with a big false nose, sallies forth to see the fun. The piece opens with her return, panting and in terror—on the verge of hysterics. She relates how she has been followed through the streets by a horrid Frenchman, also in pierrot's garb, whose pressing attentions have alarmed her, and sent her scuttling home. She dashes into her dressing-room to change the treacherous pierrot's garments, and is sent back in horrified alarm on finding it already occupied by the stranger who had persecuted her all the morning. An amusing scene follows, the Frenchman, in broken English, volubly maintaining that as "all things are permit at carnival time," she should reward his devoted persistence with a "little keess." She evades him, and runs into her dressing-room, locking herself in. Whereupon the intruder proceeds to divest himself of his false nose and pierrot clothes in view of the audience, revealing himself the debonair young Englishman in smart flannels whose instructions his wife had so rashly defied. She had realised her dangerous folly when the stranger had coolly declared that he had recognised her "by ze stockings," which, he explained, he had admired when he had fitted her with American boots at his master's shop the day before. Desmond now calls to his wife in his natural voice, and Daisy tremblingly emerges, clad in a loose kimono. She essays to make a clean breast of it, trusting to win his forgiveness by her candour and undisguised penitence. He mischievously makes the task of explanation difficult, till she finally blurts out that "the impudent pursuer had recognised her by her stockings." Desmond feigns surprise and righteous horror at the suggestion implied, and the wretched Daisy, shocked at the innuendo, turns on him in majestic indignation, but is suddenly brought up by the sound of the Frenchman's voice, as Desmond quotes from their previous scene. She realises the trick that has been played on her, and in mingled relief and mortification and a flood of tears she subsides in her husband's consoling arms.

The play went exceedingly well and found great favour with the audience. The idea has been cleverly conceived by the author, and is ably demonstrated by two very clever artists. Mr. Holmes-Gore's versatility is well known, and his disguises are cleverly assumed, the audience being as completely deceived as the young wife is supposed to be. Miss Lilian Rogers as the wayward Daisy also scores a great success. She depicts her intense anxiety in the manner of a true artist, and the mock solemnity of the interview with her husband, when she describes her adventures, is highly diverting. Mr. Gore is indeed fortunate in having such a clever associate to assist him in the production of a play which, no doubt, will have the prosperous career it merits.

No less than sixty-seven MSS. were submitted to the judges in connection with a "phantasy competition," promoted by the Worshipful Company of Musicians, to bring forward a short form of the string quartette. The judges appointed were Sir Alex. Mackenzie, Mr. A. Gibson, Mr. W. W. Cobbett, and Mr. H. Sternberg, the first prize being awarded to W. Y. Hurlstone, and five other prizes to the following composers (mentioned alphabetically): Frank Bridge, James Friskin, Josef Holbrooke, Waldo Warner, and Haydon Wood. These works were to constitute the programme of a concert announced for yesterday (Friday) at Bechstein Hall.

KEEPS THE SKIN COOL AND REFRESHED during the Summer.—Beetham's "LAROLA" preserves the Skin from the effects of the sun, winds, and hard water. Entirely removes and prevents all roughness, redness, heat, irritation, tan, &c., and KEEPS THE SKIN SOFT, SMOOTH, and WHITE at all Seasons. INVALUABLE for the COMPLEXION, DELIGHTFULLY SOOTHING and REFRESHING after walking, golfing, cycling, motoring, boating, &c. Gentlemen will find it wonderfully soothing if applied after shaving. Bottles, 1s., 1s. 9d., and 2s. 6d. each, of all Chemists and Stores. M. BEETHAM and SON, CHELTENHAM.—[ADVT.]

AMERICAN PLAYS FOR ENGLAND.

CHAT WITH MR. A. H. WOODS.

(BY OUR OWN COMMISSIONER.)

That American dramatists can be appreciated in this country has been proved over and over again. We need only refer to two fairly recent instances to point to the truth of our observation. Those instances are Her Fatal Wedding and Leah Kleschna, both of which were written by American authors, and both of which gained great favour with British audiences. It would, therefore, scarcely seem too much to expect that there are other American productions which might, if tried, be found to attain a similar plane of popularity.

At any rate, there is one gentleman at present on a visit to this country from the United States who is determined to leave no stone unturned to give the English playgoer an opportunity of sampling American dramas. That gentleman is Mr. A. H. Woods, a well-known producer and manager on the other side, who at the present moment has no less than fourteen companies running in his own country. He intends to add to that number by four new plays, which he will shortly produce in the States. In the course of conversation Mr. Woods informs us that he does not think that there is anyone who produces more plays in America than he.

"Is there any special principle on which you secure your plays?"

"Well," came the answer, "I generally give the authors the ideas and they write plays around them."

"An excellent system for the playwright, since it take so much responsibility off his shoulders. So that if a play turns out a failure, you yourself share the blame with the author?"

"Well, I've been in this business about seven years, and I've never had a failure. I guess that's a pretty considerable record. Now, with all my attractions I employ somewhere in the neighbourhood of 2,500 people. My New York offices are at the Knickerbocker Theatre Building, and I control two playhouses in New York, namely, the Thalia and Third Avenue Theatres."

"Tell me something about the condition of things theatrical in America."

"Well, we never had a more prosperous season than the season of 1905-6, and things look as if they were going to be pretty bright for some time to come. I find that the American public to-day are looking for the better class of melodrama, with heart interest and big scenic effects."

"Is there much difference between the salary paid to American actors in drama and their English compeers?"

"They tell me here that a leading man in a touring company gets three and a half pounds a week. My average actor gets £7, and some of my people receive as much as £25."

"This is your first visit to London, Mr. Woods. What do you think of us and our city?"

"I think you're just beginning to realise that you want some new buildings in London! Of course, I haven't been all over yet. I think that your Scala Theatre is the most beautiful theatre in the world.

"I've come to England for the purpose," went on Mr. Woods, in reply to a question, "of putting on the market here a number of American plays. I am prepared to sell the English rights, or to rent on a reasonable royalty to responsible managers, the following plays:—Queen of White Slaves, King of Detectives, Gambler of the West, Secrets of the Police, Confessions of a Wife, A Race for Life, Queen of Convicts, Dangers of Working Girls, Queen of High-binders, Rachel Goldstein (a Jewish melodrama), Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl, Fast Life in New York, Wedded and Parted, Lured from Home, Fallen by the Wayside, Chinatown Charlie, For Her Children's Sake, Secret Service Sam (now being played by Mr. Charles T. Aldridge), Ruled Off the Turf, Dealers in White Women, Tracked Around the World, and Lost in a Big City. All these plays are equipped with pictorial printing.

"The first play I handled," continued Mr. Woods, "was a piece called The Bowery After Dark, in which I was associated with Mr. P. H. Sullivan and Mr. Sam H. Harris, the last-mentioned being now the manager for Mr. George M. Cohan. The firm at that time was known as Sullivan, Harris, and Woods. Since then I have launched out for myself, and I may tell you that I like the show business very much. If you are successful in it, there is no other department of work which can offer such big returns. Perhaps you will be interested to know that the most successful melodrama in America to-day is Bedford's Hope, written by Mr. Lincoln J. Carter, and produced by Messrs. Stair and Havlin. There is a sensational scene, in which an automobile races a train. I think that English people would appreciate the piece very much, and I believe that it is intended to bring it to this country before very long."

Mr. Woods is accompanied by his capable general manager, Mr. J. B. Isaacs, who has been associated with him for six years. After leaving London, they will spend some three weeks in Paris, Berlin, and Vienna, leaving for the States in June.

"THE PRINCESS OF PAIN."

An Episode written by E. Nolan O'Connor, and produced at the New Palace Theatre, Brighton, on Monday Evening, June 18, 1906.

Captain Dranovitch ....MR. STANLEY HARRISON
Count Michael Zodoff .....MR. R. WHYTE, JUN.
Princess Zodoff .....MISS E. NOLAN O'CONNOR

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

A very cordial reception was given this new piece on its production at the New Palace Theatre, Brighton, last Monday evening. The piece is admirably written, the brief story is interesting, and the characters are ably drawn. When the curtain rises the Princess Zodoff is seen in the study of her brother-in-law, Count Michael Zodoff, where she receives a visit from Captain Dranovitch, who is several years her junior, and of whom she was enamoured before her marriage. The captain is very depressed, and appeals to the Princess as his fairy godmother to help him. He is deeply in love with a young lady named Olga, but has a rival in Count Zodoff, who holds incriminating papers written by the captain. The latter realises that if the documents were made public he would be banished to Siberia, and he implores the Princess to secure the papers from her brother-in-law, and thus enable him to fearlessly declare his love for Olga. The Princess, sympathising deeply with the captain, approaches the Count, but the wily diplomatist realises the whole situation. He, however, makes the Princess a proposition with regard to the papers, which are in a safe in the study. The Princess must take the key, and open the safe herself; but she is warned that in doing so she will receive a shot from a revolver secreted in the interior. After much hesitation, she opens the safe, obtains the papers, but receives a fatal wound. The captain, hearing the shot, enters the study, and the Princess, as she falls to the ground, hands the papers to him.

Miss E. Nolan O'Connor submitted an artistic and impressive enactment of Princess Zodoff; Mr. Stanley Harrison displayed easy and natural acting as Captain Dranovitch; and Mr. R. Whyte, jun., was admirably suited as the cool and clever diplomat, Count Michael Zodoff.

MR. ARTHUR MELVILLE'S company in A Girl's Cross Roads, has continued to attract large houses during the second week of their stay at the Elephant and Castle Theatre. The mounting of the piece is particularly effective, the various striking scenes being elaborately staged.

THE DRAMA IN BERLIN.

"DER TRAUM,"

Burlesque Tragi-Comedy, in One Act, by Rideamus, Produced at the Lessing,
June 14, 1906.

Lulatsch .....HERR FISCHER
Carline .....FRAULEIN BUENGER
Dünnelier .....HERR BERNAUER
Königin .....FRAULEIN GERNOD
Fürst .....HERR HEPNER
Gygas .....HERR DAPPER
König von Lydien .....HERR LEHNDORFF
Ausrufer .....HERR HOFFMANN

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

BERLIN, THURSDAY, June 21.—This is one of three one-act pieces, novelties that I fear are doomed to early extinction. The author prefers to veil his real name under a nom de plume, and as the applause was not strong enough to bring him forth from his place of concealment our curiosity to see him was not satisfied. Of the piece itself there is little to be said. The title in its entirety runs as follows: "The dream of the Kanzleidiätar, Casimir Lulatsch, from Potschapel, near Dresden." Had the rôle of the under-clerk Lulatsch been played with less humour than it was by Herr Fischer the piece would have scarcely been listened to at all, and as it was a goodly number of hisses mingled with the applause. Lulatsch has a deep grudge against his chief in the office, who tyrannises over his subordinates. One day the clerk has to copy a piece called "Die Königin von Samakand," and this makes such an impression on him that he dreams about it at night. He is—in his dream—the King of Samakand, surrounded by every luxury. His lightest wish being law, the pseudo potentate takes it out of his former chief by a sound thrashing, and when Lulatsch awakes to the sad knowledge that he has only been dreaming there still remains a crumb of consolation in the recollection. Herr Fisher was screamingly funny in the rôle, his Saxon dialect with good-humoured exaggerations creating roars of laughter; Fräulein Gernod, too, was very good in the part of the Queen of Samakand. For such an indifferent play a great deal of scenery had to be employed, and it was skilfully staged.

THE first of the three pieces, Mitzi-Mutzi, is called a "psychological bluette"—whatever that may be. Despite the fact, however, it is a crude piece of work based upon several similar plays. At a jovial supper-party two young society men learn that they have the same mistress—Mitzi-Mutzi by name—who has succeeded hitherto in making each of them believe he is the only favoured one. Herr Fischer in the part of a Pole named Ingelmaier made a hit. As to the third one-act piece, it was the cause of a conflict, and for a while it was a toss-up as to whether hissers or applauders would gain the upper hand. The scene of the burlesque—which is entitled Die Tuskaroras—is laid in Berlin W. Two married ladies, to whom the word "fidelity" signifies nothing, have carried their flirtations to the length of inviting a couple of Indian chiefs of the Tuskarora tribe—on show here—to their house. Taihuhu and Brown Horse arrive at an unexpected moment to fetch their squaws, and the husbands are treated as enemies of war. The whole scene is very wild and confused, but there is plenty of broad fun, and had the piece been given at a different class of theatre it might have made a more favourable impression. At the Lessing it only appears to be a poor attempt to follow in the footsteps of Voltaire's L'Ingénu. The acting was bright as far as the artists had any chance at all, but cries of "Down with the curtain!" are not encouraging.

FRAULEIN MARIA POSPISCHIL began a season at the Berliner on Saturday with her own company. This famous actress is an old favourite here, and her welcome was very cordial. The opening performance was Adolf Wilbrandt's adaptation of Sophocles' tragedy Electra—a scholarly and interesting piece of work, if less popular, perhaps, than the adaptation by Herr von Hoffmannsthal. Fräulein Pospischil—who is more at home in tragedy than anything else—gave the title-rôle with great power and feeling, and she was admirably supported by Herr Stockhausen as Orestes, by Fräulein Serda as Chrysothemis, and others of the company. Goethe's Iphigenie auf Taurus followed, Fräulein Pospischil giving a very artistic rendering of the name-part, and being compelled to come before the curtain a great number of times.

THE Royal Opera and Schauspielhaus are closed for the holidays, reopening the middle of August. During the past season only three works were performed for the first time at the Opera House—Beethoven's Lenore, Stenhammer's Fest auf Solhaug, and Waikowsky's Der lange Kerl. This was the poorest season in the way of novelties that we have had for many years.

A CROWDED house was the result of the announcement that Frau Lilli Lehmann was to sing the Donna Anna to D'Andrade's Don Giovanni last week at the New Royal Opera. By the time the doors were open there was not a ticket to be had, and many people had to leave disappointed. It would be superfluous to add one word of praise to the impersonation of this world-renowned queen of song. Frau Lehmann's voice was fresh and beautiful as ever, and her art is incomparable: age cannot wither her, and the enthusiasm of the audience rose to the point of frenzy. Signor D'Andrade's rendering of Don Juan is well known and appreciated; it is the clever artist's best rôle, and the one in which he made his début here—also with Lilli Lehmann—some sixteen years ago. He still sings it in Italian, which is a pity, as it disturbs the ensemble, and there is really no reason for it, for D'Andrade has settled in Berlin and speaks German fluently. Fräulein Alten gave the part of Zerline adequately, but the Elvira of Fräulein Villani was lacking in temperament. Dr. Kunwald was the conductor, and fully confirmed the favourable impression of former occasions. The performance will be repeated, with the same cast, two evenings this week.

THE Morwitz summer opera season has begun at the Schiller Theatre. Meyerbeer's dramatic opera Die Afrikanerin was the opening performance—a somewhat over-ambitious experiment. The work is not easy either to sing or mount, and the results were on the whole unsatisfactory. In lighter works no doubt the company will prove efficient. Herr Albert Fischer, who gave the rôle of Nelusko, possesses a fine baritone voice of great power and compass, and he uses it well, but his acting is immature. Frau König sang the part of Selica and Fräulein Heinze that of Ines sympathetically; and the remainder did their best to give satisfaction. Kapellmeister Grimm conducted with judgment, orchestra and chorus responding accurately. The theatre was very full, and the audience appreciative. Der Rattenfänger von Hamelu—a time worn opera by Nessler—is in rehearsal.

"DIE LUSTIGE WITTWE"—the most successful operetta we have had for a number of years—has removed, with its Hamburg company, from the Berliner to the Lessing, where it shows no decrease in public favour. It is filling the bill to the exclusion of all else.

THE famous Austrian actor Adolf Sonnenthal has just been the subject of many honours on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of his first appearance in public. The Emperor conferred the Komtur Cross of the Franz Josef Order upon him, and a jubilee performance was given at the Burg. In a happy little speech Herr Sonnenthal declared it was his fiftieth birthday that was being celebrated at the Imperial theatre, for it was only since he became an actor that he began to live.

FIFTY YEARS OF THE DRAMA—1850-1900.

(COPYRIGHT.)

In these columns it is proposed to give a strictly alphabetical arrangement of the titles of plays produced during the last fifty years. It will be the most complete list ever published, and should prove invaluable to authors desiring to discover whether a certain title has ever been used, and when. To members of the dramatic profession it will be useful in determining the dates of plays in which they have achieved successes. Our readers are politely requested to advise us of any omission or inaccuracy which they may notice.

This list as soon as complete will be published in cheap book form.

MABEL, Olympic, Oct. 16, 1880.
MABEL LAKE, Britannia, Feb. 10, 1873.
MABEL'S LIFE, Adelphi, Nov. 2, 1872.
MABEL'S SECRET, Derby, March 1, 1870.
MABEL THE FORSAKEN, Longton, Sept. 27, 1869.
MAB'S MANGLE, Sefton, Liverpool, Aug. 27, 1883.
MACAIRE, Crystal Palace, Sept. 20, 1887.
MACBETH, Travesty, New Cross, June 3, 1889.
MACBETH MYSTIFIED, Theatre Royal, Brighton, May 3, 1869.
MACDUFF'S CROSS, St. George's Hall, Dec. 8, 1887.
MACFARLANE'S WILL, Imperial, Dec. 26, 1881.
MACHAGGIS, Theatre Royal, Peterborough, Feb. 22, 1897.
M'KENNA'S FLIRTATION, Opera House, Coventry, Aug. 1, 1892.
MA COUSINE, Garrick, July 1, 1895.
M'TAVISH, THE, Glasgow, Oct. 5, 1896.
MAD, Olympic, June 12, 1880.
MADAME, Opera Comique, Dec. 7, 1895.
MADAME ANGOT, Royalty, June 4, 1875.
MADAME BERLIOT'S BALL, Royalty, Dec. 26, 1863.
MADAME BONIVARD, Comedy, Nov. 16, 1900.
MADAME BUTTERFLY, Duke of York's, April 28, 1900.
MADAME CARTOUCHE, Opera House, Leicester, Sept. 21, 1891.
MADAME DE RAIMONT, Gaiety, May 8, 1883.
MADAME FAVART, Strand, April 12, 1879.
MADAME L'ARCHIDUC, Opéra Comique, Jan. 13, 1876.
MADAM MIDAS, Theatre Royal, Stratford, July 7, 1888.
MADAME OR MISS, Bayswater, Nov. 14, 1900.
MADAME RECOIT-ELLE? Prince of Wales's, May 24, 1886.
MADAME SANS-GENE, Gaiety, June 23, 1894.
MAD AS A HATTER, New Royalty, Dec. 7, 1863.
MADCAP, Royalty, Feb. 7, 1878.
MADCAP MADGE, Theatre Royal, Edmonton, June 22, 1895.
MADCAP MIDGE, Opéra Comique, Dec. 5. 1889.
MADCAP PRINCE, Haymarket, Aug. 3, 1874.
MADCAP VIOLET, Sadler's Wells, March 18, 1882.
MADEIRA; OR, W(H)INES FROM THE WOOD, King's Cross, Oct. 25, 1875.
MADELAINE MOREL, Queen's, April 20, 1878.
MADELEINE, Vaudeville, Feb. 1, 1873.
MADELINE MARTEL, Theatre Royal, Northampton, Feb. 9, 1882.
MADEMOISELLE DE LIRA, Comedy, Jan. 7, 1890.
MADEMOISELLE DELPHINE, Camberwell, June 11, 1900.
MADGE, Theatre Royal, Middlesbrough, March 24, 1888.
MADGE WILDFIRE, Standard, Oct. 18, 1868.
MADMAN, THE, Theatre Royal, Gloucester, May 6, 1881.
MAD MARRIAGE, Theatre Royal, Northampton, Jan. 16, 1884.
MAD MATCH, Great Malvern, Oct. 28, 1887.
MAD MEG, Theatre Royal, Workington, Nov. 9, 1885.
MAD MOTHER AND HER LOST SON, Theatre Royal, Scarborough, April 21, 1884.
MAD; OR, BACK TO LIFE, Theatre Royal, Castleford, Jan. 2, 1893.
MAD PAINTER, Alhambra, Oct. 6, 1879.
MAD PASSION, Theatre Royal, Castleford, Jan. 23, 1888.
MAD REVENGE, Theatre Royal, Scarborough, Feb. 2, 1880.
MAD RUTH OF WILTON, Pavilion, Salisbury, Jan. 29, 1872.
MAD WOMAN THROUGH LOVE, Manchester, Aug. 10, 1885.
MAELSTROM, THE, Shaftesbury, April 9, 1892.
MAEVE, Dublin, Feb. 19, 1900.
MAFEKING NIGHT, Balham, Oct. 15, 1900.
MAGDA, Daly's, June 10, 1895.
MAGGIE LORME, Olympic, Feb. 3, 1873.
MAGGIE'S SITUATION, Court, Jan. 27, 1875.
MAGIC CUP, Morley, Oct. 21, 1895.
MAGIC FIFE, Gaiety, Jan. 25, 1873.
MAGIC FLUTE, Lyceum, Dec. 12, 1899.
MAGIC FOUNTAIN, St. George's Hall, Feb. 1, 1894.
MAGIC GLASS, Brighton, Nov. 8, 1887.
MAGICIAN'S DAUGHTER, Theatre Royal, Bradford, Dec. 16, 1889.
MAGIC LOVE PHILTRE, Upper Clapton, Nov. 20, 1896.
MAGIC MOONSTONE, Britannia, Dec. 26, 1899.
MAGIC MULE, Britannia, Dec. 26, 1878.
MAGIC OPAL, Lyric, Jan. 9, 1893.
MAGIC PEARL, Alexandra, Sept. 29, 1873.
MAGIC RING, Grand, Oct. 11, 1886.
MAGIC WHISPER, Britannia, Nov. 14, 1870.
MAGISTRATE, Court, March 21, 1885.
MAGLOIRE THE PRESTIGIATOR, Adelphi, April 1, 1861.
MAGNA CHARTA, Lancaster, Jan. 12, 1888.
MAGNET, THE, Bayswater, April 27, 1893.
MAGPIE AND THIMBLE, Globe, March 17, 1877.
MAID AND THE MAGPIE, Strand, Oct. 11, 1858.
MAHATMA, Lichfield, Feb. 15, 1894.
MAIDENLY MANŒUVRES, Hackney, Nov. 14, 1900.
MAIDEN WIFE, Empire, Aug. 21, 1886.
MAID MARIAN, Camden Town, Sept. 20, 1890.
MAID OF ARTEMIS, Kingston-on-Thames, July 13, 1895.
MAID OF ATHENS, Opera Comique, June 3, 1897.
MAID OF BIGGAR, Theatre Royal, Barrow, Sept. 9, 1872.
MAID OF CEFN YAFA, Aberdare, April 21, 1870.
MAID OF CROXDALE, Spennymoor, Jan. 8, 1877.
MAID OF GLENDALOUGH, Prince of Wales's, June 13, 1899.
MAID OF HONOUR, Strand, May 16, 1864.
MAIDS OF HONOUR, Mirror, April 24, 1875.
MAID OF ST. AUBYNS, Jersey, March 15, 1870.
MAID OF THE MILL, Folkestone, Jan. 5, 1897.
MAID OF YESTERDAY, Queen's Gate Hall, May 11, 1896.
MAIN CHANCE, Prince of Wales's, Liverpool, Dec. 16, 1873.
MAIN HOPE, Theatre Royal, West Bromwich, Aug. 31, 1885.
MAINTOP WATCH, Royal Court Theatre, Liverpool, Sept. 14, 1868.
MAJOR, THE, Prince of Wales's, Wolverhampton, Oct. 20, 1882.
MAJOR AND MINER, Olympic, Aug. 6, 1881.
MAJOR BAGGS, Theatre Royal, Barrow, Sept. 2, 1878.
MAJOR HOPE, Vaudeville, Feb. 11, 1892.
MAJOR MARIE ANNE, Britannia, May 17, 1880.
MAJOR PROPOSES, Theatre Royal, Rotherham, March 16, 1884.
MAJOR RAYMOND, Terry's, June 25, 1896.
MAJOR'S DILEMMA, Theatre Royal, Jersey, Sept. 26, 1894.
MAKE BELIEFS, Royalty, May 27, 1892.
MAKE YOURSELF AT HOME, Mirror, April 24, 1875.
MAKING IT PLEASANT, Theatre Royal, Woolwich, Aug. 22, 1887.
MALALA, Gaiety, April 8, 1871.
MA MIE ROSETTE, Globe, Nov. 17, 1892.
MAMMA, Gaiety, Dublin, May 8, 1876.
MAMMA'S OPINIONS, St. George's Hall, Jan. 31, 1893.
MAMMON, Strand, April 7, 1877.
MAMON, Standard, Sept. 21, 1896.
MAM'ZELLE NITOUCHE, Gaiety, June 13, 1884.
MAM'ZELLE; OR, THE LITTLE MILLINER, Prince of Wales's, Liverpool, Oct. 22, 1894.
MAN, Theatre Royal, Gloucester, Jan. 5, 1874.
MAN ABOUT TOWN, A, Avenue Theatre, Jan. 2, 1897.
MANAGER, THE, Court, Feb. 15, 1882.
MANAGER IN LOVE, Haymarket, Feb. 3, 1873.
MANAGING DIRECTOR, THE, Victoria, March 16, 1863.
MAN ABOUT TOWN, Avenue, Jan. 2, 1897.
MAN AND HIS MAKERS, Lyceum, Oct. 7, 1899.
MAN AND HIS MASTER, Opera House, Ashton, July 16, 1883.
MAN AND THE SPIRIT, Britannia, Feb. 28, 1881.
MAN AND THE WOMAN, Criterion, Dec. 19, 1889.
MAN AND WIFE, Theatre Royal, Belfast, Sept. 2, 1870.
MAN AND WOMAN, Opéra Comique, March 25, 1893.
MANCHESTER BY DAY AND NIGHT, Manchester, Sept. 17, 1900.
MANDARIN'S DAUGHTER, Strand, Dec. 26, 1851.
MANHOOD, Theatre Royal, St. Helens, March 27, 1876.
MAN HUNTER, Newport, May 11, 1891.
MANY HAPPY RETURNS, St. George's Hall, March 28, 1881.
MAN IN A THOUSAND, Theatre Royal, N. Shields, Aug. 11, 1890.
MAN IN BLACK, Vaudeville, Sept. 3, 1897.
MAN IN LOVE, Wimbledon, Nov. 1, 1895.
MAN IN POSSESSION, Gaiety, Dec. 4, 1876.
MAN IN THE CLOAK, Victoria, Feb. 7, 1870.
MAN IN THE HOUSE, Theatre Royal Huddersfield, Aug. 14, 1884.
MAN IN THE IRON MASK, Marylebone, Feb. 5, 1855.
MAN IN THE MOON, Princess's, April 10, 1871.
MAN IN THE STREET, Avenue, May 14, 1894.
MAN IN THE ULSTER, Britannia, Nov. 16, 1874.
MAN IS NOT PERFECT, Adelphi, Oct. 14, 1867.
MANKIND, Surrey, May 22, 1893.
MANKIND; OR, BEGGAR YOUR NEIGHBOUR, Surrey, Oct. 3, 1881.
MANŒUVRES OF JANE, Haymarket, Oct. 29, 1898.
MAN O' AIRLIE, Princess's, July 20, 1867.
MAN OF BUSINESS, St. George's Hall, March 26, 1887.
MAN OF DESTINY, Croydon, July 1, 1897.
MAN OF FORTY, King's Cross, June 29, 1880.
MAN OF IRON, Theatre Royal, Great Grimsby, June 15, 1885.
MAN OF LAW, Haymarket, Dec. 9, 1851.
MAN OF MANY FRIENDS, Haymarket, Sept. 1, 1855.
MAN OF NO PRINCIPLE, Theatre Royal, Hyde, March 4, 1895.
MAN OF QUALITY, Gaiety, May 7, 1870.
MAN OF THE PEOPLE, Theatre Royal, Liverpool, March 17, 1879.
MAN OF THE WORLD, Treharris, March 7, 1894.
MAN OF TWO LIVES, Drury Lane, March 29, 1869.
MANOLA, Strand, Feb. 11, 1882.
MANOLA; OR, THE GITANA'S LOVE, R.M., Plymouth, Oct. 21, 1872.
MANON, Court, Liverpool, Jan. 17, 1885.
MANON LESCANT, Covent Garden, May 14, 1894.
MAN OR MONEY, Surrey, May 7, 1860.
MAN; OR, GOLDEN FETTERS, Amphitheatre, Leeds, Nov. 10, 1873.
MAN-O-WAR'S MAN, Mexborough, Aug. 10, 1894.
MAN PROPOSES, Duke's, March 18, 1878.
MAN'S ENEMY, Blackburn, Jan. 14, 1897.
MAN'S LOVE, Prince of Wales's, June 25, 1889.
MAN'S MERCY, Theatre Royal, Darlington, May 5, 1874.
MAN'S SHADOW, Haymarket, Sept. 12, 1889.
MAN SUCHT EINEN ERZIEHER, Opera Comique, Oct. 24, 1894.
MAN'S TALISMAN—GOLD, Britannia, Dec. 17, 1877.
MANTEAUX NOIRS, Avenue, June 3, 1882.
MAN THAT HESITATES, St. George's Hall, Feb. 28, 1888.
MAN TO MAN, Queen's, Manchester, March 24, 1884.
MAN WHO FOLLOWS THE LADIES, Strand, July 19, 1856.
MAN WITH A PAST, Strand, Sept. 9, 1895.
MAN WITH THREE WIVES, Criterion, Jan. 23, 1886.
MAN WHO WASN'T, Bayswater, Feb. 22, 1895.
MANXMAN, Leeds, Aug. 22, 1894.
MARAH, Prince of Wales's, May 30, 1889.
MARBLE ARCH, Prince of Wales's, Feb. 2, 1882.
MARBLE HEART, Adelphi, May 22, 1854.
MARBLE MAIDEN, Royalty, July 24, 1873.
MARCH HARE HUNT, Lyceum, Aug. 29, 1877.
MARCH ON MAGDALA, Queen's, Dublin, Feb. 21, 1870.
MARCH WINDS AND APRIL SHOWERS, Marylebone, May 21, 1860.
MARCO SPADA, Princess's, March 28, 1853.
MARDEN GRANGE, Queen's, Dec. 4, 1869.
MARDO, Queen's, Manchester, July 7, 1883.
MARE'S NEST, Vaudeville, Nov. 17, 1887.
MARGARET BYNG, Criterion, Dec. 8, 1891.
MARGATE, Terry's, Feb. 5, 1895.
MARGATE SANDS, Strand, Jan. 10, 1864.
MARGERY DAW, Adelphi, Dec. 17, 1861.
MARGERY'S LOVERS, Court, Feb. 18, 1884.
MARGOT, Britannia, March 29, 1875.
MARGUERITE, Alexandra, May 31, 1873.
MARIA DI GAND, St. George's, July 18, 1877.
MARIAGE BLANC, Royalty, June 15, 1891.
MARIAN, Southminster, Edinburgh, June 6, 1870.
MARIANA, Court, Feb. 22, 1897.
MARIAN AND THE KNIGHT TEMPLAR, Greenwich, Nov. 25, 1871.
MARIE, Opéra Comique, Aug. 26, 1871.
MARIE ANTOINETTE, Walnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia, Oct. 6, 1868.
MARIE DE COURCELLES, Olympic, Nov. 9, 1878.
MARIE JEANNE, New Theatre Royal, Bristol, March 10, 1879.
MARIETTE'S WEDDING, Adelphi, Sept. 30, 1882.
MARIGOLD, Olympic, Oct. 29, 1879.
MARIGOLD FARM, Opera Comique, Feb. 7, 1893.
MARINA, Gaiety, Aug. 4, 1888.
MARINER'S COMPASS, Astley's, March 4, 1865.
MARINERS OF ENGLAND, Nottingham, March 1, 1897.
MARION, Royalty, Dec. 6, 1899.
MARION DE LORME, Princess's, June 28, 1887.
MARIONETTES, THE, Haymarket, June 16, 1879.
MARISHKA, Theatre Royal, Great Grimsby, Aug. 4, 1890.
MARJORIE, Prince of Wales's, July 18, 1889.
MARJORIE'S COUSIN, Westminster, May 10, 1886.
MARJORY GITZEAN, Elgin, Nov. 16, 1888.
MARKED FOR LIFE, Walthamstow, Oct. 29, 1900.
MARKED MAN, Theatre Royal, Colchester, Jan. 2, 1893.
MARK OF CAIN, Prince of Wales's, Greenwich, July 25, 1887.
MARLBOROUGH, Theatre Royal, Brighton, Oct. 21, 1872.
MARLEYVALE, Eastbourne, May 31, 1886.
MARMADUKE SNOOKS, Opera House, Leicester, Feb. 10, 1879.
MARMION, Theatre Royal, Glasgow, April 8, 1891.
MARQUESA, Opéra Comique, July 11, 1889.
MARRIAGE, Court, June 7, 1892.
MARRIAGE A LA MODE, Queen's Hall, Nov. 29, 1895.
MARRIAGE A LOTTERY, Strand, May 20, 1858.
MARRIAGE AT ANY PRICE, Strand, July 28, 1862.
MARRIAGE BELLS, Vaudeville, Nov. 28, 1881.
MARRIAGE CERTIFICATE, Britannia, June 10, 1867.
MARRIAGE KNOT, Ramsgate, June 8, 1894.
MARRIAGE, NOT DIVORCE, Britannia, May 2, 1870.
MARRIAGE LINES, Court, March 17, 1873.
MARRIAGE OF CONVENIENCE, Haymarket, June 5, 1897.
MARRIAGE OF FIGARO, Adelphi, March 28, 1878.
MARRIAGE OF GEORGETTE, Covent Garden, Nov. 26, 1860.
MARRIED, Royalty, Nov. 29, 1873.
MARRIED ANOTHER, Opéra Comique, Sept. 1, 1877.
MARRIED BENEATH HIM, Workington, Oct. 12, 1900.
MARRIED BY PROXY, Theatre Royal, Greenock, Jan. 19, 1894.
MARRIED FOR MONEY, Drury Lane, Oct. 10, 1856.
MARRIED FROM SCHOOL, Queen's, Manchester, March 10, 1876.
MARRIED IN HASTE, Haymarket, Oct. 2, 1875.
MARRIED, NOT MATED, Theatre Royal, Brighton, Aug. 31, 1877.
MARRIED TO-MORROW, Opera House, Chatham, March 28, 1898.
MARRIED UNMARRIED, Princess's, March 25, 1854.
MARRY YOURSELVES, Theatre Royal, Edinburgh, March 4, 1873.
MARSAC OF GASCONY, Birmingham, Nov. 11, 1899.
MARTHA, Gaiety, April 14, 1873.
MARTHA'S DOUBLE, Bayswater, July 24, 1896.
MARTIN CHUZZLEWIT, Olympic, March 2, 1868.
MARTIN GUERRE, Theatre Royal, Woolwich, Sept. 13, 1873.
MARTYR, Vaudeville, Nov. 3, 1892.
MARTYR OF ANTIOCH, Edinburgh, Feb. 25, 1898.
MARTYR OF FREEDOM, Theatre Royal, Coatbridge, Aug. 28, 1882.
MARVELS OF ELECTRICITY, Holborn, Dec. 28, 1868.
MARY, Avenue, Feb. 16, 1897.
MARY BARTON, Victoria, Feb. 17, 1851.
MARY GRAHAM, Grecian, Dec. 8, 1862.
MARY JONES, Queen's, March 30, 1868.
MARY PENNINGTON, SPINSTER, St. James's, April 24, 1896.
MARY QUEEN OF SCOTS, Princess's, Feb. 23, 1874.
MARY'S DEVOTION, Surrey, April 29, 1898.
MARY'S HOLIDAY, Surrey, Sept. 29, 1879.
MARY'S SECRET, Criterion, May 15, 1876.
MARY STUART, Court, Oct. 9, 1880.
MARY, THE CHILD OF MISFORTUNE, Strand, Oct. 17, 1893.
MARY TURNER, New Holborn, Oct. 25, 1867.
MARY WARNER, Haymarket, June 21, 1869.
MASANIELLO, Olympic, July 2, 1857.
MASCOTTE, Comedy, Oct. 15, 1881.
MASKED, Britannia, April 18, 1870.
MASKED BALL, Criterion, Jan. 6, 1900.
MASKED MAN, Effingham, July 23, 1866.
MASK OF DEATH, Burslem, July 19, 1897.
MASK OF GUILT, Surrey, June 21, 1894.
MASK OF LOVE, Theatre Royal, Plymouth, May 23, 1877.
MASKS AND FACES, Haymarket, Nov. , 1852.
MA'S MISTAKE, Dublin, Aug. 26, 1895.
MA'S OLD BEAU, Theatre Royal, Leigh, Oct. 16, 1888.
MASQUERADERS, St. James's, April 28, 1894.
MASSACRE OF ABERGAVENNY, Llandudno, Sept. 18, 1897.
MASSARONI, Dublin, Jan. 23, 1894.
MASSE-EN-YELL-OH, Comedy, March 23, 1886.
MASTER, THE, Globe, April 23, 1898.
MASTER AND MAN, Prince of Wales's, Birmingham, March 18, 1889.
MASTER BUILDER, Trafalgar Square, Feb. 20, 1893.
MASTER CHRISTIAN, Grand, Leeds, Aug. 18, 1900.
MASTER JONES' BIRTHDAY, Princess's, Aug. 24, 1868.
MASTER OF HOPE, Stalybridge, Dec. 3, 1898.
MASTER OF RAVENSWOOD, Lyceum, Dec. 23, 1865.
MASTER OF THE CHAIN, Theatre Royal, Plymouth, Feb. 21, 1900.
MASTER OF THE SITUATION, St. Leonards, July 24, 1899.
MASTER PASSION, Olympic, Sept. 1, 1852.
MASTERPIECE, Royalty, April 15, 1893.
MASTER'S LODGE NIGHT, Surrey, Feb. 24, 1872.
MASTER TOMMY'S SCHOOL, St. George's Hall, Dec. 22, 1883.
MASTER TOMMY'S THEATRICALS, St. George's Hall, Dec. 26, 1881.
MATAMOROS, Ealing, Dec. 18, 1889.
MATCHES, Comedy, Jan. 17, 1899.
MATCHMAKER, Gaiety, Oct. 11, 1871.
MATE, Ladbroke Hall, Jan. 31, 1895.
MATED, Criterion, June 28, 1879.
MATERNAL INSTINCT, Duke of York's, June 9, 1898.
MATES, Theatre Royal, Burnley, June 20, 1881.
MATRIMONIAL, Novelty, June 9, 1891.
MATRIMONIAL ADVERTISEMENT, Camberwell, Oct. 28, 1895.
MATRIMONIAL AGENCY, Bayswater, Nov. 15, 1888.
MATRIMONIAL NOOSE, Prince's, May 1, 1885.
MATRIMONIAL PROSPECTUSES, Strand, March 4, 1852.
MATRIMONY, Theatre Royal, Huddersfield, May 14, 1883.
MAUDE MULLER, Alexandra, Walsall, Nov. 1, 1883.
MAUD'S PERIL, Adelphi, Oct. 23, 1867.
MAUREEN NA LAVEEN, Theatre Royal, Greenock, Feb. 7, 1873.
MAY AND DECEMBER, Prince of Wales's, 1865.
MAYFAIR, St. James's, Oct. 31, 1885.
MAYFAIR AND RAGFAIR, Globe, Aug. 31, 1878.
MAYFLOWER, THE, Opéra Comique, Jan. 9, 1892.
MAY MEETINGS, Reading, Oct. 6, 1894.
MAY MORNING, Bayswater, Dec. 3, 1895.
MAY MYRTLE, Theatre Royal, Dundee, April 26, 1875.
MAY; OR, DOLLY'S DELUSION, Strand, April 4, 1874.
MAYOR OF MONTILLADO, St. George's Hall, May 9, 1900.
MAYPOLE, THE, Theatre Royal, Limerick, Oct. 6, 1887.
MAY QUEEN, Theatre Royal, Leicester, March 2, 1874.
MAZEPPA, Olympic, Dec. 27, 1858.
MAZOURKA, Burlesque, Strand, April 27, 1864.
M.D., Garrick, June 9, 1879.
M.D.; OR, SWEETS AND BITTERS, Theatre Royal, Liverpool, March 7, 1874.
MDLLE. CLEOPATRA, Avenue, March 2, 1891.
MDLLE. DE LA SEIGLIERE, Drury Lane, June 24, 1893.
MEADOW SWEET, Vaudeville, March 5, 1890.
MEAN ADVANTAGE, Theatre Royal, Newcastle, June 29, 1888.
MECHANIC, THE, Ladbroke Hall, Sept. 28, 1889.
MECHANICAL PARTNER, Gaiety, Dublin, May 10, 1873.
MECHANICAL TOY, Britannia, March 21, 1870.
MECHANIC'S WIFE, Rotunda, Liverpool, Aug. 13, 1883.
MEDAL OF DEATH, Effingham, Nov. 19, 1866.
MEDDLE AND MUDDLE, Royalty, Glasgow, June 3, 1887.
MEDEA, Her Majesty's, June 6, 1865.
MEDEA, Burlesque, Adelphi, July 10, 1856.
MEDEA IN CORINTH, Lyceum, July 8, 1872.
MEDICAL MAN, St. George's Theatre, Oct. 24, 1872.
MEDICAL STUDENT, Strand, July 4, 1893.
MEDICINE MAN, Lyceum, May 4, 1898.
MEDICO, THE, Ladbroke Hall, May 7, 1894.
MEDIUM, THE, Acton Green, Oct. 12, 1899.
MEDUSA, St. James's, March , 1882.
MEFISTOFELE, Her Majesty's, July 6, 1880.
MEFISTOFELE II., Alhambra, Dec. 20, 1880.
MEG MERRILIES, Theatre Royal, Glasgow, Nov. 10, 1873.
MEG'S DIVERSION, Royalty, Oct. 17, 1866.
MEHALAH, Gaiety, June 11, 1886.
MEIN LEOFOLD, Opéra Comique, Oct. 13, 1894.
MEISTERSINGERS, Theatre Royal, Manchester, April 16, 1896.
MELITA, Novelty, Dec. 9, 1882.
MELTING MOMENTS, Prince of Wales's, Birmingham, Feb. 18, 1884.
MELODRAMA, THE, Lyceum, May 2, 1899.
MELODROMANIA, St. George's Hall, Dec. 20, 1894.
MELUSINE, Holborn Amphitheatre, Oct. 7, 1874.
MEM 7, Royalty, Oct. 20, 1879.
MEMBER FOR SLOCUM, Royalty, May 4, 1881.
MEMORIES, Court, Oct. 12, 1878.
MEN AND WOMEN, Surrey, July 17, 1882.
MENASSAH BEN ISRAEL, Opera House, Liverpool, Aug. 10, 1885.
MEN OF METAL, Theatre Royal, Barnsley, Oct. 3, 1890.
MEPHISTO, Royalty, June 14, 1886.
MERCEDES, Grand, March 24, 1896.
MERCHANT OF PAISLEY, Theatre Royal, Paisley, Nov. 17, 1870.
MERCHANT'S VENTURE, Theatre Royal, Nottingham, Feb. 3, 1868.
MERCILESS WORLD, Hammersmith, Oct. 12, 1896.
MERCY, Theatre Royal, Norwich, Nov. 17, 1879.
MERE CHILD, Haymarket, Dec. 26, 1866.
MERELY ACTING, St. James's Hall, June 28, 1898.
MERE QUESTION OF TIME, Kilburn, July 14, 1897.
MERMAID, Ladbroke Hall, Feb. 15, 1887.
MERMAIDS, THE, Avenue, Oct. 2, 1897.
MEROFLEDE, Theatre Royal, Preston, Dec. 31, 1892.
MERRIE FAMILIE, Brentford, March 3, 1886.
MERRIE PRINCE HAL, Sadler's Wells, Aug. 31, 1891.
MERRIFIELD'S GHOST, Vaudeville, Nov. 13, 1895.
MERRY BLACKSMITH, Vaudeville, Sept. 25, 1893.
MERRY CHRISTMAS, Strand, Feb. 1, 1897.
MERRY DUCHESS, Royalty, April 23, 1883.
MERRY-GO-ROUND, Gaiety, Jan. 13, 1898.
MERRY MADCAP, Ealing, Aug. 3, 1896.
MERRY MARGATE, Comedy, March 27, 1889.
MERRY MEETING, Opéra Comique, Feb. 26, 1887.
MERRY MIGNON, Court, Liverpool, April 26, 1882.
MERRY MONK, Matinée, July 15, 1897.
MERRY MR. MERLIN, Elephant and Castle, Feb. 11, 1895.
MERRY PIPER OF NUREMBURG, Savoy, June 8, 1893.
MERRY SELL, Woolwich, May 21, 1888.
MERRY WAR, Alhambra, Oct. 16, 1882.
MERRY WIDOW, St. James's, Jan. 31, 1863.
MERRY WIVES OF WINDSOR, Opera House, Aberdeen, Oct. 10, 1877.
MERRY ZINGARA, Royalty, March 21, 1868.
MESMERIC MYSTERY, Victoria, Aug. 17, 1867.
MESMERISM, Opéra Comique, May 22, 1890.
MESMERIST, Grecian, Oct. 4, 1879.
MESSAGE FROM MARS, Avenue, Nov. 22, 1899.
MESSAGE FROM THE SEA, Prince of Wales's, Birmingham, Aug. 30, 1869.
MESSALINE, Covent Garden, July 13, 1899.
MESSENGER BOY, Gaiety, Feb. 3, 1900.
MEXICAN BILL, Theatre Royal, Birkenhead, Aug. 29, 1887.
MIAMI, Princess's, Oct. 16, 1893.
MICHAEL AND HIS LOST ANGEL, Lyceum, Jan. 15, 1896.

LONDON & SUBURBAN THEATRES.

KENNINGTON THEATRE.

On Monday, June 18,
the Drama, in Four Acts, by Sir Augustus Harris, Henry Hamilton, and Cecil Raleigh, entitled
"CHEER BOYS, CHEER."

The banner of an intrepid invader from the North was raised in South London on Monday, when Mr Eade Montefiore, one of the most successful entrepreneurs of Scotland and of many provincial towns, began his summer season of Drury Lane drama at the handsome Kennington Theatre. The success of his enterprise was foreshadowed in a large audience, which filled every part of the theatre, and in the cheers and recalls which awaited each curtain. There are many stirring moments in Cheer, Boys, Cheer, the drama constructed on the famous melody of the late Henry Russell by the trio of Drury Lane dramatists named above; and none of the excitement was permitted to lapse at the hands of the capable and experienced players whom Mr. Montefiore has enlisted in his company. A pleasing feature of the production is the presence in the cast of Miss V. St. Lawrence, an actress who has attained much popularity by reason of her meritorious work in the metropolis both as actress and manageress. She is seen in a favourite character in that of Lady Hilyard, the gracious and whole-souled society lady, whose kind-heartedness is so agreeable a feature of the play Her handsome and stately presence gives added significance to the rôle, and her passionate outburst at the end of Act II., when she showers her scorn and contempt upon the littleness of social conventions, created such an impression on Monday that the curtain had repeatedly to be raised. Miss Hilda Stewart plays with quiet emotional fervour as the persecuted Blanche Lindesay, and secures the utmost sympathy throughout. A well-studied portrayal of the Marquis of Chepstowe is given by Mr. Arthur Royston, an actor of wide experience, who surmounts the difficulties of the part with ease, his acting in the scene of the massacre of the British by a horde of Matabele being particularly natural and effective. Lord Archibald has a bright representative in Mr. Templer Powell, whose manly bearing and elocutionary skill combine to secure perfection. Mr. Cyril Austin-Lee, who not long since was giving evidence of his comedy powers in the leading part in A Message From Mars, well suggests the chivalry and manliness of George Hilyard, and adds by many dramatic touches to the effect of the character. Mr. Harry H. Rignold, who appears as Wolf Meikstein, takes up a class of character that has long been associated with his name, and the many sly touches of humour with which he embellishes his portrayal of the designing Jew give rise to general mirth. The vivacious Kitty Parker is played with assurance and a lively sense of humour by Miss Lena Delphine, who creates abundant hilarity. Similar agreeable methods are pursued by Mr. Augustin Symonds, who makes a droll character of the socialistic but amorous Oliver C. Brown; and a quaint impersonation of the wily Cyrus Trueman is given by Mr. James R. La Fane, who also makes a successful appeal to the risible faculties. Mr. Riddell Robinson is the embodiment of callous roguery as Reginald Fitzdavis, giving colour to the nefarious schemes of the villain by cleverly-varied emphasis. The spite and malevolence of Lady Kesteven are vividly expressed by Miss Octavia Noel, who assumes a metallic utterance and repellent demeanour that well befit the part. Mr. John Richter gives a sympathetic sketch of the Rev. Mr. Nugent; Mr. Alick Macmillan looks well as the youthful soldier, the writing of whose last letter supplies such a touching episode of the second act; and the host of smaller parts are ably portrayed by the rest of the company, some of whom double parts skilfully. The elaborate setting demanded by the play is fully conceded by Mr. Montefiore, who appears to have hesitated at no expense in his determination to make the production complete.

THE CAMDEN.

On Monday, June 18,
the Drama, entitled
"EAST LYNNE."

The playgoing public never seem to weary of seeing the play adapted from Mrs. Henry Wood's famous novel, "East Lynne," and a very large audience was present when that charming actress, Miss Lilian Dundas, and company appeared in what is termed an entirely new version of the story. The present production has been produced under the direction of Mr. Henry Dundas, and it is practically the same version that he used to tour with, though undoubtedly the changes are for the best in every case. As Lady Isabel Miss Lilian Dundas repeats the fine performance which has marked her out as an emotional actress of great merit. It is a very fine piece of acting, and never fails to impress the audience and elicit full sympathy for the character. Mr. Hamilton Stewart embodies Captain Levison in an admirable manner; with a quiet voice and the bearing of a gentleman there is always the undercurrent of treachery and deceit to be observed. It is a long time since we saw the villain's part in a drama so excellently played. Mr. George Mitchell represents Archibald Carlyle with great force and earnestness; and Mr. Trueman Towers is good as the excitable Justice Hare. That clever actor, Mr. Adam Alexander, gives a dignified and impressive portrait of Lord Mountsevern; Miss Leslie Dane is charming as Barbara Hare; and Miss Cornelia Carlyle is amusingly portrayed by Miss Esther Carthew. Another humorous character is that of Lawyer Dill, as played by Mr. Arthur G. Brown. Miss Mabel May and Miss May Darling acquit themselves well as Willie and Isabel Carlyle; Miss Florence Melville is capital as the faithful Joyce; and Miss Jessie Dunbar smart as Suzanne. Richard Hare is carefully acted by Mr. James Jarrett; and Mr. Angus Alexander causes much laughter as Obadiah Stiggins. The various other characters are in suitable hands. The play is capitally mounted, and some of Miss Dundas's dresses are very handsome. Mr. Trueman Towers is the general-manager for Miss Dundas.

THE SHAKESPEARE.

On Monday, June 18,
the Drama, in Four Acts, entitled
"EAST LYNNE."

A cordial greeting was extended at the Shakespeare on Monday to Messrs. H. Armitage and Arthur Leigh's company, who presented the original Heath Barrett adaptation of Mrs. Henry Wood's famous novel "East Lynne." A large and enthusiastic audience followed the play with keen interest. Of Miss Julie Kennard's Lady Isabel it would be difficult to speak too highly, and the applause that greeted her at the fall of the curtain was thoroughly deserved. Miss Ethel Hardacre as Cornelia Carlyle acts her part with marked ability; Miss Violet Thorold as Barbara Hare gives a pleasing performance; and Miss A. Byrom as Joyce is also excellent. Miss Ethel Russell capably sustains the rôle of Lady Mountsevern; and a capital study of the French maid Suzanne is given by Miss Emily Frith. Miss Dorothy Townrow as Little Willie acts with rare feeling and pathos; and Miss Ethel Rae is a satisfactory Little Isabel. Mr. Eric Maine submits an effective impersonation of Francis Levison, and the resourcefulness of his acting is very pronounced. Mr. Alfred Beaumont as Archibald Carlyle gives a very natural representation, and acquits himself with complete credit; Mr. Campbell Goldsmid makes the most of his opportunities as Richard Hare; Mr. Spencer Goodwin is a dignified Lord Mountsevern; and Mr. Paul Belmore, who is frequently applauded, gives a meritorious picture of the irascible Justice Hare. Some welcome touches of humour are contributed by Mr. Cyril Hayward as Lawyer Dill; and Mr. C. C. Gratton as P.C. Bullock keeps the audience in continual merriment during the time he is on the stage.

GRAND, WOOLWICH.

On Monday, June 18,
the Historical Comedy,
"NELL GWYN OF DRURY LANE."

Mr. Norman V. Norman's excellent company has been the attraction here this week, and has been drawing good houses with a well-selected répertoire, consisting of Nell Gwyn, The Adventure of Lady Ursula, David Garrick, and Count Hannibal. The first-named comedy was chosen for presentation on Monday and Tuesday evenings, and was well received by an attentive and deeply-interested audience. The title-rôle was admirably filled by Miss Beatrice Wilson, who soon succeeded in making the girl of the people as great a favourite at Woolwich as her historic prototype had been at Whitehall. Miss Wilson played the part in the true vein of high comedy, and never missed one of the many chances afforded her. As Charles II. Mr. Norman V. Norman submitted a character study as original in conception as it was brilliant in execution; and, while keeping sufficiently near to the historic idea of Old Rowley, gave a convincing impersonation of the man as distinct from the King. Miss Sybil Ruskin acted prettily and unaffectedly as Betty Arundale; and Miss Hilda Gregory was well suited as the virago Lady Castlemain. Mr. Dennis W. Cleugh made a manly Ralph Cursitor, and played several love scenes with tenderness and good effect; Mr. Norman Leslie was sufficiently vindictive as Lord Dellans, and came with commendable ease through the somewhat trying soliloquies with which the character is liberally endowed; as Colonel Blood Mr. Sam Wilkinson, jun., was amusingly ferocious; Mr. Francis Hope made the most of the old servitor Adam Bareacres; Mr. Alexander Cassy was a distinguished Lord Rochester; and the minor characters were ably rendered by actors who were completely at home in regard to their lines and their costumes.

GRAND THEATRE, ISLINGTON.

On Monday, June 18,
the Drama, in Four Acts, by Joseph Arthur, entitled
"THE STILL ALARM."

This drama, which has not been seen here for some years, opened for a week's engagement with a capable company, under the direction of Messrs. Matthew H. Glenville and Fred Osmond. The elaborate scenery and effects continue to arouse much interest in this exciting play. Mr. Matthew Glenville himself as Jack Manley gives a sound and convincing performance; Mr. Cecil du Gue as Bird submits a vigorous portrayal of that very unpleasant gentleman; Mr. Tom Beasley is good as Tom Manley; and Mr. J. Sutton Pateman scores as Fordham. Mr. Fred Osmond gives a neat character-study as Doc Wilber, that gains flattering recognition; Miss Mabel Verilon as Mrs. Manley is excellent; Miss Hettie Zillwood as Carrie Wilber is bright and amusing; and Miss Maud Warburton as Elinore acts with a sympathetic touch that proves effective. The Lyric Comedy Four enliven Act III. with some capital quartettes, and this, together with the horses and the realistic turn-out to a fire, make this scene the hit of the piece.

DALSTON THEATRE.

On Monday, June 18,
the Drama, entitled
"THE UNKNOWN."

Mr. Henry Bedford, with the members of his company, are appearing at the Dalston Theatre this week in the drama entitled The Unknown. Mr. Bedford sustains the part of Harold Merribright (the unknown), whose first introduction to the audience is in the guise of a seafaring man. In his subsequent appearances as a mysterious individual, whose identity is impenetrable, he acts with subtle power and intensity, which arouses widely-expressed admiration. Miss Bessie Bedford appears to great advantage in the part of Bessie Merribright, Harold's sister; Mr. J. Monkhouse brings a stentorian voice and a dramatic method to bear on the part of Jack Salt, a bo'sun; Mr. Walter H. Domoney adequately represents the villainous and cowardly Dr. Brinkton (Bessie's guardian); and Miss Violet Alwyn is the doctor's sister, Alga, who, it is satisfactory to contemplate, has very few counterparts in real life in the matter of cool, calculating wickedness; Mr. Alec Alexander is good as Lieut. Albert Stormking. Mr. Sidney Bedford as Blimey Jim, Mr. Arthur Wynne as Coster Joe, Mr. George W. Hewetson as an Irish servant, and Miss Jennie Risley as Louise, fill in the humorous element.

NEW PRINCE'S THEATRE, POPLAR.

On Monday, June 18,
the Military Drama, in Four Acts and a Prologue, by Mr. James Willard, entitled
"A WOMAN OF PLEASURE."

Mr. Morice Prendergast's company with A Woman of Pleasure, is providing plenty of excitement for the habitués of this theatre during the present week. As Lord Carlingforth Mr. Jerrold Ord gives a masterly representation of a nobleman of the old school. Mr. H. T. Wood as Rev. Luke Goddard presents a fine study of the country parson, playing the part with adequate vigour. Mr. Arthur Gilroy as Major Burrows, the villain, gives a fine rendering of the part. His acting in the scene at the Boer headquarters is specially excellent, being full of life and force. Bobby Bumpwell, as played by Mr. Deane Cliffe, provides plenty of amusement of a wholesome sort; and Mr. Alec Brady as Joe Ploughman, a Devonshire yeoman, is admirable. Captain Zoratoff, of the Boer Foreign Legion, is well played by Mr. Sid Vincent; as is also the part of Michael Issett by Mr. Fred Laws. A fine portrayal of the much-tried Countess of Carlingforth is given by Miss Theodora Henries, who proves herself to be an actress of considerable power. As Mrs. Josiah Bumpwell, Miss Carlotta Blondin affords much amusement as a lady from Chicago; and little Flo Florence as Lord Arthur Selwood is an attractive youngster. Miss Dolly Gilroy as a Devonshire lass is bright and winsome; Mr. Percy Scott as Captain Fairdale is well placed; and Mr. John Freeman as a Cornet in the Boer forces, does good service. All the smaller parts are in capable hands, and the incidental music, under the direction of Mr. Stephen E. Blythe, is well rendered.

THE CROWN, PECKHAM.

On Monday, June 18,
the Drama, adapted from the novel of the same name, entitled
"MONTE CRISTO."

Despite the weather, which has been all against indoor amusements, very fair audiences have assembled to witness Mr. Junius Booth and company in the old favourite, Monte Cristo. In the present adaptation, the leading incidents of Dumas's famous novel have been carefully preserved, and the spectators follow the adventures of the hero with the utmost interest. Mr. Junius Booth acts with great ability and reserved force as Edmond Dantes, and the disguises he assumes are effective. Mr. Booth is deservedly recalled several times at the end of each act. Miss Joan Ellis plays sympathetically and prettily as Mercedes, afterwards the Countess de Morcerf; Mr. E. Howard Templeton, who also acts as stage-manager, is well placed as the good-natured Nortier; Mr. Alfred Terriss is adequate as Baron Danglass; Mr. Laurence Grove makes a capital representative of the Count de Morcerf; Mr. W. Uridge plays excellently as the wicked M. Villefort; Mr. Leonard Marshall is admirable as the young lieutenant, Albert de Morcerf; Mr. Walter Martin is impressive as the luckless prisoner, the Abbe Faria; Miss Kate Maynard is good as the hag, La Carconte; and Mr. Chauncy Morris gives a powerful character-study as the dissipated, but good-hearted, Caderousse. The scenery and effects are quite adequate, the mechanical change from the exterior of the Château D'If to the open sea, being excellently done.

THE WEST LONDON.

On Monday, June 18,
the Drama, in Five Acts, entitled
"HOW LONDON LIVES."

This popular Princess's drama is an exceedingly well-concocted one, and Mr. Ernest E. Norris's company interprets its many varied situations in most intelligent fashion. The principal burden of the piece falls on the capable shoulders of Mr. Ernest E. Norris, who as Jack Ferrers, known as Happy Jack, plays in a light, buoyant style, his conception of the part being admirable, and his success undoubted. The rascalities of Stephen Grainger are well brought out by Mr. Oscar Adye, who interprets the character in a vigorous and finished way; Mr. Fewlass Llewellyn is an easy but dignified Mr. George Ferrers; whilst Mr. William Burchill lends valuable assistance as Lieut. Harry Maxwell. The important rôle of Gladys is sustained by Miss Theresa Osborne in a natural and sympathetic way; Miss Georgie de Lara scores by her passionate intensity in her portrayal of the wilful Lady Ferrers; and Miss Florrie Green is quietly confident as Katie. The rest of the cast all work with pleasing energy and will, and the whole production is most praiseworthy.

ELEPHANT AND CASTLE.

On Monday, June 18,
the Drama, in Four Acts, by James Willard, entitled
"IN THE SHADOW OF NIGHT."

Though the dog days of summer are upon us, there is no diminution of interest in melodrama at this theatre, and crowded houses testify to the attraction of the drama In the Shadow of Night, which Mr. John M. East has secured for this week. Mr. James Willard has provided a strong company. Mr. George R. Montford, in addition to the responsibility of rehearsing and producing the piece, takes the part of Clifford Yorke, the villain, and his performance stands out as a really polished and refined piece of acting. As Gordon Allington, the much-wronged cousin of the villain, Mr. Austin Mortimer plays in a convincing way; and Mr. George Harvey is effective as Squire Allington, who is murdered in the early scenes of the play. Mr. E. Arnold Palmer as Tom Nainby, a dashing young soldier just back from active service, becomes soon a great favourite by reason of his light-hearted impersonation; Mr. Fred Norburn presents a fine piece of character-acting as Jake Grudgewell, a poacher, and is repeatedly applauded; and Mr. Harry Emmerson, who also does the stage-management of the piece, portrays the old farmer James Woodstock with much skill. Mr. C. P. Wentworth very ably doubles the characters of the Rector of Hazelmere and Joe Jackson, the deaf village postman. In the latter character he scores heavily, and is responsible for one of the funniest scenes of the play. Miss Phyllis French plays the little tramp Bob very naturally; Miss Phyllis Dailly gives a sympathetic and unforced reading as Violet Kingston, the squire's ward, her fine presence and easy manner being well suited to the part. As the farmer's daughter Mollie Woodstock Miss Nellie Sheffield, by her vivacious rendering, is responsible for much fun and brightness. The remaining small parts are all in good hands. The staging is everything that could be desired, such heavy scenes as the Wharf Fire and the River Thames by Night, when the stage is flooded with water, being thoroughly realistic.

COUNTY THEATRE, KINGSTON.

On Monday, June 18,
the Comedy, in Three Acts, by Sidney Bowkett, entitled
"THE SUPERIOR MISS PELLENDER."

The attendances at the Kingston playhouse this week, where this charming little comedy is being presented, have been utterly out of proportion to its merits. Those who patronised the cosy little theatre, however, were amply repaid by seeing one of the best of modern comedies ably acted by a company engineered by Mr. William Fraser-Brunner and Mr. Gilbert Heron. Each artist in the small cast gave a most capable interpretation of the part allotted to him or her. The parts were filled as follows: Mrs. Pellender, Miss Jessie Danvers; Miss Pellender, Miss Alice Esther Belmore; Edith, Miss Jessie Ramsey; Nancy, Miss Alice Bowes; Noel, Mr. George Belmore; and Mr. Lister, Mr. Gilbert Heron. The play was admirably staged. Preceding the comedy was played Kit's Atonement, in which the parts were sustained as follows: Dick Russell, Mr. George Belmore; Boer Officer, Mr. W. H. Gainsford; Marie, Miss Queenie Fraser-Brunner; and Kit Denver, Mr. William Fraser-Brunner.

THEATRE ROYAL, STRATFORD.

On Monday, June 18,
the Drama, in a Prologue and Four Acts, by H. F. Housden, entitled
"A WOMAN'S PAST."

A woman led astray in early life by a specious scoundrel, and who, when freed from evil associations, develops into a true and faithful wife, thereby obliterating the past, provides a theme which, while possessing nothing of newness, can always be relied upon to appeal to popular audiences; and the piece under notice being lucidly written, with many well-contrived situations, it is meeting with every success at the Stratford Theatre Royal this week. Miss Maisie Hanbury as Bessie, whose chequered career suggests the title, plays with considerable power and feeling, and enlists the sympathies of the audience throughout. Mr. Horace E. Herbert acts with earnestness and dignity as David Heath, and carries conviction with every line he utters; Mr. Charles V. Sandford plays Frank Dellaney in bright and buoyant style; Mr. A. Hamilton Warden contributes a sound performance in the genial character of Clement Harper; and Mr. Oswald Cray depicts the villainous Uriah Craven in light, cynical vein which is most effective. Miss Gertrude Harrison contributes a most incisive portraiture of the scheming Clara Darrell; and Miss May Dallas makes a vivacious and pleasing Dorothy Heath. Remaining parts are all played with intelligence and care.

MR. F. W. DAVIES, lately resident-manager of the New Century Theatre, Motherwell, who has received an appointment at the Opera House, Londonderry, and to manage Mr. W. Payne Seddon's Irish circuit, was entertained at a social gathering in the Royal Hotel on the 15th inst., when he was presented with a purse of gold and a handsome walking-stick as tokens of goodwill. At the conclusion of his engagement with the Motherwell Theatre Co., Ltd., Mr. Davies was made the recipient of a handsome cheque as a mark of appreciation of his work by the directors of the company.

THE Hon. Harry Lawson will preside at the sixty-seventh anniversary festival in aid of the funds of the Newsvendors' Institution at De Keyser's Royal Hotel on Monday, Nov. 5. Grants in aid of worthy and necessitous newsvendors have trebled in the past five years, consequently this Society's need of funds has increased greatly.

THE STATUS OF A GIBSON GIRL.

In the Court of King's Bench on Wednesday, before Mr. Justice Grantham and a special jury, the action brought by Ethel Lucy Karri Thomas, now Mrs. Hawkins, to recover from Messrs. Gatti and Mr. Charles Frohman, proprietors of various theatres, damages for wrongful dismissal, came on for hearing. This was the third trial of the case.

Plaintiff, who had been engaged by Mr. Seymour Hicks, the defendants' representative, as one of the ten Gibson Girls, was dismissed at a fortnight's notice, and she now contended that she was engaged for the "run of the piece." Owing to the inopportune time at which this took place she was unable to obtain employment at once. She estimated that she had lost £150 by the dismissal, and against that she set off £32 which she earned as the Fairy Queen in The Babes in the Wood pantomime at Croydon. The defence was that the plaintiff was engaged subject to a fortnight's notice, and that notice she received.

Mr. Eldon Bankes, who appeared for the defendant, stated that owing to the illness of Mr. Seymour Hicks he should not be able to call him as a witness, but he thought his evidence in the box might be dispensed with, and his evidence given at a previous trial could be read if necessary.

Mr. Marshall Hall, plaintiff's counsel, regretted the illness of Mr. Seymour Hicks, whom he would have liked to cross-examine. This action, he said, had had the misfortune of being twice tried before. On the first occasion the jury disagreed, and on the second trial the jury agreed on all statements except one. Miss Karri Thomas had played the part of the Princess in a well-known piece called The Country Girl, and she had also played other parts; but in August, 1904, she was out of an engagement, and she met Mr. Stanley Brett, the brother of Mr. Seymour Hicks, who asked her if she would like to play in a piece, about to be produced at the Vaudeville Theatre, called The Catch of the Season, in which she would take the part of "a Gibson Girl." The plaintiff, by appointment, attended at the theatre, and saw Mr. Seymour Hicks, the result of the interview being that she was engaged for the run of the piece at a salary of £3 per week. After five weeks' rehearsal she played in the piece for a period of three weeks, and then on Sept. 30 she was given a fortnight's notice to leave. She put the matter into the hands of her solicitor, when the defendants set up the plea that she was engaged as a chorus girl and subject to a fortnight's notice.

The plaintiff was then called, and bore out her counsel's opening statement, adding that her stage name was Ethel Karri. After leaving the Vaudeville Theatre she performed as the Fairie Queen in The Babes in the Wood pantomime at Southend and Croydon, and altogether, from that time to The Catch of the Season being taken off, she had earned about £32.

Mr. Eldon Bankes: You have been married since then?—Yes.

Mr. Justice Grantham: "The catch of the season."

In further cross-examination, plaintiff said she was married in January of the present year. When engaged by the defendants she was engaged for the run of the piece, and nothing was said about the engagement being subject to a fortnight's notice.

The evidence of Sir Charles Wyndham, taken on commission, was then read. It was to the effect that unless specified in the contract an actress engaged in a piece in London could not be dismissed upon a fortnight's notice. If there was no written contract it went without saying that an actress was engaged for the run of the piece. Sir Charles, in his testimony, said the plaintiff was an "actress," because she was called upon to exercise her own intelligence. It did not matter in that case whether it was one line or two. The words were so foolish that it required a lot of intelligence to give them life.

In cross-examination, Sir Charles said he produced the first musical comedy in London, Miss Decima, but had not produced any lately. He was asked whether one of a stage crowd on a racecourse who said, "I'm a wonder at spotting winners, and I have just backed this winner," would become an actor by those words; and he replied, "Yes, he had to exercise his intelligence as an actor."

Mr. Hayden Coffin said he agreed with Sir Charles Wyndham that when nothing was said to an actress upon engagement it meant that she was engaged for the run of the piece.

In cross-examination, witness said that not having been in the position of a manager he could only speak of the custom in the profession from an actor's point of view.

Mr. Eldon Bankes: If a super came on with a file of soldiers and had to say "Halt—front" would that take him out of the class of super and promote him to being an actor?—It would show that he had been picked out as the most intelligent of the lot, and if he did his work satisfactorily he would be permitted to hold the part, and no doubt in another piece would be chosen for another small part. The management would call him a super still, but——

Mr. Justice Grantham: Yes, but what?

Witness: I was going to say that his friends among the supers would call him a leading man.

In re-examination, witness said he entirely agreed with the evidence of Sir Charles Wyndham.

In reply to Mr. Justice Grantham, witness said that a part like that of a Gibson Girl could not be compared with that of a super who had a few words to say.

Mr. Montague Perkins, the plaintiff's solicitor, gave evidence of an interview with the defendants' representatives, and stated that nothing was then said about it having been stipulated that the plaintiff was engaged under a fortnight's notice.

Mr. John L. Shine gave his opinion that the plaintiff was an actress. He agreed with the evidence of Sir Charles Wyndham.

Mr. James Davis, professionally known as Owen Hall, the author of The Geisha and Florodora, said he should call the plaintiff a "small part principal." He considered the term "show girl" offensive, and one that was not used in high-class theatres.

Other corroborative evidence having been given, the plaintiff's case ended.

For the defence, Mr. Bankes said there were two distinct points for the jury The plaintiff said that she was engaged for the run of the piece. The defendants said that she was definitely engaged upon the terms that either side could give the other fourteen days' notice. He impressed upon the jury that if the plaintiff was to be engaged as an actress she would have undergone a different examination to that which she did on her application for an engagement. His case was that she was not an actress, but one of the intermediate class between an actress and a chorus girl, called a show girl, and that she was engaged subject to fourteen days' notice.

The evidence of Mr. Seymour Hicks given at the last trial was read by Mr. Frampton. Mr. Hicks expressed the opinion that the Gibson Girls were "very attractive show girls," but not actresses.

Mr. Mervyn Deane, chorus director of the Vaudeville Theatre, gave evidence that he engaged the plaintiff as a Gibson Girl at £3 a week with a fortnight's notice. When he gave her the notice she was much upset. If she had not gone to her solicitors he would have tried to find her something somewhere else. In his opinion, the plaintiff was not an actress.

Mr. Stanley Brett, a brother of Mr. Seymour Hicks, gave evidence, and said he did not engage the plaintiff. He recommended the plaintiff to his brother.

Mr. Clark, business manager to Messrs. Gatti and Frohman, stated that many of the Gibson Girls had contracts. He gave the plaintiff notice.

At this point the case was adjourned till Thursday, when the managing clerk to defendants' solicitor said he took instructions from Mr. Clark to defend the action, and Mr. Clark told him that there was no written contract, and that the engagement was on the footing of a fortnight's notice on either side. When the defence was read over in its original form to Mr. Seymour Hicks, he said it was wrong, and that the lady had been specifically engaged upon a fortnight's notice. He then applied for leave to amend the defence.

Mr. James Glover, musical director at Drury Lane, did not think the plaintiff in the part she played could be described as an actress.

Cross-examined by Mr. Marshall Hall, K.C.: It did not make the slightest difference in his view that plaintiff had played the Princess in The Country Girl.

Mr. Hall: Mr. Seymour Hicks asserted that once a show girl always a show girl, and reluctantly had to admit the corollary that once an actress always an actress. Now, Miss Thomas was an actress?

Witness: I am not here to corroborate corollaries.

Mr. Hall: That may be funny, but why is the lady who played Miss Stella Gibson in The Catch of the Season an actress?

Witness: If I may say so, that is a conundrum.

Mr. Hall: You are here to answer conundrums.

His Lordship: The jury will answer the question.

Witness went on to explain that when the lines for the chorus girls are given out, they are given out promiscuously, and there was a general battue for lines.

Mr. Hall: There is a general battue—who does the driving?

Witness went on to say that the giving-out of the lines did not immediately make them actresses, though it did require a certain amount of intelligence to speak intelligently.

Mr. Hall: And it requires a certain amount of intelligence to give evidence intelligently.

Witness: That depends how counsel puts the question.

Shown the cast of The Beauty of Bath, Mr. Glover emphatically denied that the "Bath Buns" were members of the cast.

Mr. Hugh Moss, with twenty-six years' experience as a stage manager, and Mr. Augustus Moore, who had been literary adviser to the late Sir Augustus Harris, and who had twenty-seven years' experience of theatrical matters, both stated that, in their opinion, the Gibson Girls were not actresses.

Mr. Courtneidge, who produced The Dairymaids at the Apollo, asked by Mr. Marshall Hall to define an actress, said that the definition given by another witness in the case was most excellent: "An actress would express her own individuality apart from the chorus, who expressed their part collectively."

Other evidence of a similar character having been given, counsel on both sides addressed the jury.

In summing up, the Judge said that if an actor was engaged for a piece he was engaged for the run of the piece, whether it ran for one day or through centuries of performances. To show that it did not depend upon the number of lines spoken as to what constituted an actor or actress, his lordship observed that had Mr. Glover been in the famous Trial by Jury play and had given the retort "It depends how counsel puts such questions," as he had done that morning, the house would have been "brought down." That one answer would have made the play a success.

Eventually the jury found for the plaintiff on all points, and gave damages to the amount of £200, certain deductions to be made and agreed upon by counsel on each side.

His Lordship entered judgment for plaintiff, with costs of the three trials.

ACTORS' DAY.

The following, in addition to those whose names have already been published, have promised their support on Actors' Day:—

Anton-Laing, Edith; Atkins, Robert; Bawtree, Arthur; Beaufort, Anne; Bell, Beatrix; Bertram, Eva; Cadell, Jean D.; Chevalier, May; Clarence, Nellie; Clarke, Charlie; Cooper, Horton; Cordova, Rudolph de; Couch-Johns, B.; Crawford, Percy; Cross, A. F.; Crow, K.; Danvers, Jessie; D'Arragan, Agnese; Despa, Estelle; Elliott, Beth; Elworthy, W. T.; English, James; Fanchette, Amy; Fawcett, Anthony; Forsyth, Lallie; Fraser-Brunner, Queenie; Fraser-Brunner, Wm.; George, H. Cannon; Gibbon, C. Robertson; Gilbert, Robert; Glenville, T. C.; Gordon, David; Grose, Christmas; Hallows, Lilian; Hames, John; Harris, Owen; Harwood, John; Hawthorne, Gladys; Heron, Gilbert; Hill, Annie; Hiller, Harry; Hone, Beatrice; Hudson, Marcella; Huggett, Dora; Humber, S. Herbert; Hunter, Reg. C.; Jeffries, Hettie; Johnstone, A. E.; Lawrence, Lorna; Ledger, Whitmore; Lee, Edward; Ling, Edwin; Lohr, M.; Lomax, Fawcett; Lowe, Wm.; Lowe, Mrs. Wm.; Mannering, D. Lewin; March, Daisy; Marsdin, Dorothy; Maud, Morris; Mayeur, Eugene; Melstead, Frances; Mervyn, Edward; Mills, Frank; Moody, Louise; Moore-Lane, Dorothy; O'Connor, Kathleen; Ouston, Edward; Owen, Reginald; Payne, Ben Iden; Penley, Fred; Phipp, W. Scott; Pierpoint, Lena; Powell, David; Price-Evans, Donald; Prittie-Tydd, Lucy; Ramsey, Alicia; Reeves-Smith, H.; Rignold, Harry H.; Rogerson, Amy; Roland, Isabel; Rooke, Irene; St. Clair, Stuart; Seilby, Dot; Selwyn, Archie; Seymore, Charles; Shine, J. L.; Stockley, Emma; Taylor, Robert M.; Turner, Alfred; Vaile, Doris; Van Raalte, Berta; Verona, Irene; Walsh, Edward; Warley, May; West, Harold; Winiard, May; Wynton, Dudley; Yates-Southgate, S.

As it is, unfortunately, impossible to communicate directly with all who are interested in Actors' Day, the committee ask for the co-operation of all who are willing to assist in the work of organisation. Copies of the appeal, and forms for signature, will be sent to those who will be kind enough to write for them.

If one member in each company playing, and residents in different parts of the country, would do this, and endeavour to obtain promises of help from their friends, they would be rendering excellent service.

All communications should be addressed to the Actors' Day Organising Committee, 10, King-street, Covent Garden, W.C.

LATEINER AND FRIDZEL'S operetta, Gabriel, as presented by the capable members of the Jewish Operatic and Dramatic Company at the Pavilion Theatre, was again repeated on Monday evening to a full house. During the week performances have been given of Haman the Second, The Greenhorn, The Somnambulist, The Countess, Captain Dreyfus, and Blimele. The company is now under the direct management of the Pavilion, and increased support is the result.

WE regret to say that Mr. T. W. Rawson met with an accident at Morecambe last week, sustaining a serious fractured ankle, through which he will be confined to his bed at Morecambe for some weeks to come. The popular actor will be the object of sympathy from his many friends and admirers. At the time of the mishap Mr. Rawson was playing Lord Clivebrook in Jones's play, The Bauble Shop, under Mr. F. Douglas Wentworth's management.

BANQUET TO ELLEN TERRY.

Never before in theatrical history has an English actress received such honours as have fallen to Miss Ellen Terry on reaching the jubilee of her first appearance on the stage which she has graced with her presence and enriched by her genius; and the celebrations which have been held in recognition of the occasion came to a brilliant conclusion on Sunday evening, when the distinguished actress was the honoured guest at a festival banquet given at the Hotel Cecil. The Victoria Room, in which the dinner took place, was charmingly decorated with flowers. Above Miss Ellen Terry's seat was a large canopy composed of dark red and white roses, the tribute of her son, Mr. Gordon Craig, with a pendant of pink rambler roses in the form of a horseshoe. All the tables were bedecked with beautiful orchids, blooms of a different tint being assigned to each table. The menu card had on its cover a portrait of the guest of the evening, and the menu itself was arranged in her honour, some of the dishes being distinguished by her name or the names of characters which she has made famous. Each guest was presented with a souvenir scroll, on which were represented all these characters, beginning with the Mamillius of 1856, and ending with the Lady Cecily Waynflete of 1906. During dinner a selection of music (arranged by Mr. Edward German) was performed by the members of the London Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Mr. John Ansell.

The guests numbered nearly two hundred. Mr. Winston Churchill, M.P. (Under-Secretary for the Colonies) presided. On his right hand were Miss Terry, Mr. Franklin Thomasson, M.P., Mrs. Thomasson, and the Hon. Stephen Coleridge. To the left of the chairman were Mrs. Kate Terry Lewis, Mr. Beerbohm Tree, Miss Marion Terry, Mr. William Archer, and Mrs. Craigie.

Among the other guests were Sir Alfred and Lady Turner, Lord and Lady Rosmead, Sir Albert Seymour, Sir Frederick Milner, Sir Alfred and Lady Cooper, Sir Charles Scotter, Lady Alex Egerton, Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander, Professor Von Herkomer, Mr. Fred Terry, Mrs. Cummings, Miss Edith Craig, Miss Beatrice Harraden, the Hon. Constance Crichton, Miss Susan Stewart, Mrs. Bernard Beere, Miss Lilian Braithwaite, Miss Nina Sevening, Mr. R. Stewart, Miss Maria Davis, Mrs. Langtry, Miss Nancy Price, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Abingdon, Mr. Acton Bond, Mr. Joseph Knight, Mr. Harcourt Williams, Mr. J. A. Nicklin, Mrs. Fagan, Miss Onslow, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Harvey, Miss Pauline Chase, Mr. F. B. O'Neill, Mr. Arthur Collins, Mr. C. Hayden Coffin, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Vedrenne, Mr. Alfred Courtnay, Mrs. Max Heinrich, Mr. Sydney Smith, Mr. J. Y. MacAlister, Mr. C. Lander, Mr. F. M. Fisk, Mr. W. Nicholson, Mr. Bernard Waller, Mr. and Mrs. Granville Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bowater, Mr. George A. Delacher, Mr. George Spencer Edwards, Mr. Charles Fry, Mr. Edward German, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Knoblauch, Mr. McLeod Moore, Mr. Mostyn Pigott, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Robbins, Mr. F. Topham, Mrs. Wood, and Miss Florence Wood.

Mr. William Hill, Mr. Bram Stoker, Mr. R. Balch, and Mr. S. A. Bartlett were the four vice-chairmen.

The following message had been received from Lord Tennyson: "Ellen Terry's noble interpretations of Portia and Beatrice, and her great imaginative creations of Camma and Rosamund, will always live in our memories—and how can we thank her enough for all that she has done for our English stage? The sound of that dear voice, so musically low, chokes all the syllabies that strive to rise from all our hearts.—TENNYSON."

The toast of "The King" having been duly honoured, the Chairman said: Ladies and gentlemen,—After the various public demonstrations of respect and admiration for Miss Ellen Terry which have marked the last three months a number of those who are among her most intimate personal friends have gathered together here to render her one further tribute of respect and of good feeling. I am not going to try to collect the phrases, to repeat the universal and deserved eulogiums which we have heard and read on all sides in the last week. I will simply, as it were, pick a flower here and there from a path which is strewn as well as overshadowed by roses, and present them in a bouquet—a bouquet in which no danger lurks—to the guest of this evening. The great demonstrations of admiration which have been so general lately to the great actress show, I think, that the English people are sincere lovers of the drama, and are genuinely grateful to all who raise its tone and its quality in our country. Well, I think they ought to be grateful, because we do not in this country do very much for the dramatic art. We leave it to shift for itself. We leave it to take its chance. We are content to let it be governed and guided, to ebb and flow hither and thither, simply by chance and by caprice, and to regulate it, as far as the nation is concerned, only by commercial considerations. I cannot help thinking that it is a great pity. We do not, as in Germany or France, endeavour to sustain the drama by national influence and national agency, and although I know that this is a subject on which opinions are widely divided, I think it a pity, and even a folly, that we do not make some national effort to aid and assist dramatic representation. I am not going to decry the great principle of self-interest. It is a very flexible principle, and it has this advantage, that, as a motive power, it is almost universal. But, after all, it is self-sacrifice and not self-interest which is the parent of the arts. I am one of those who hold that it is the duty of the State to be the generous but discriminating patron of the arts and the sciences; and I think if we could only divert national attention from the often senseless process of territorial expansion and the ugly apparatus of war to the more graceful and gentler flights of fancy and ambition which are associated with the theatre and the drama we should more securely vindicate our claims to be a civilised people. After all, think how easily money can always be obtained for any purpose involving the destruction of life and property. Think with what excitement and interest this nation witnesses the construction or the launching of a Dreadnought. What a pity it is that some measure of that interest might not be turned upon the launching of—shall I say?—a national theatre. I confess that I look forward to some time when that reproach upon us will be removed, and when we shall imitate the example of Germany and France in lending the recognition and stimulus which the State can supply to what is, after all, the most essentially human and the most intimately connected with popular life of all the arts, which are developed in a free and enlightened community. I confess I have the idea that a great national theatre, with branches in the great provincial cities, and with connections in the great Colonies, would have a great effect upon the solidarity of the English-speaking people all over the world. In the Shakespearean drama we have links of gold if we could only use them, strong enough in themselves to resist the shocks and changes of time, which are strengthening and must strengthen with every development of wealth and of culture, and which unite in the sympathy of a common admiration all the English-speaking branches of the human family. We suffer because we do not attempt more thoroughly to organise this great branch of human effort. Why is it we do not suffer more? It is because we have been singularly fortunate in this, as in other spheres of human activity. The drama in England is supported by a comparatively small number of gifted individuals, individuals of grace and power and distinction, who, in their own persons, elevate and sustain the dramatic art in this country. We owe, I think, a great deal to Mr. Beerbohm Tree, and to others who are gathered round this board to-night; but, perhaps, most of all we owe this great advantage to the guest of the evening. It is her interpretations of the great characters of Shakespeare which more than anything else will constitute the memorable achievements of her life. I have heard it often deplored that dramatists should hamper themselves by writing particular parts for particular players, but I am quite sure that lovers of Shakespeare will never regret that marvellous foresight which induced him to write the parts of Beatrice and of Portia specially for the representation of our guest, Miss Ellen Terry. I think it no exaggeration to say that the happy conjunction of her charming genius with the mysterious and sinister grace of Henry Irving kept Shakespeare upon the English stage during the 'seventies and the 'eighties of the last century. And if this evening we are gathered together to do Miss Ellen Terry honour, it is not only because we are anxious to show ourselves grateful for the pleasure and instruction we have so often derived from seeing so many famous characters of history and romance vivified and illuminated by her delightful personality, but it is also because we know by her personal gifts and power she has elevated and sustained the quality and distinction of the theatrical art in England during long years when that duty was somewhat discreditably neglected by the State.

MR. ALFRED COURTNAY then read the following poem, written for the occasion by Mr. Justin Huntley McCarthy:—

"The years that are your friends, with each a rose
And each a laurel, for the love, the fame,
That ever constant with their progress came.
The years that smile at Time and scorn his woes
Gather to-day, fair angels of repose,
About your radiant presence, while your name
Rings from a thousand voices, with the same
Rapture of homage that the whole world owes.
Delicate Nell, delightful Nell, bright queen
Of all the heart's best kingdoms, on this day,
Of many days the crown and flower,
Rejoice to be what you have ever been,
The living spirit of mirth, the muse of May,
Whom Heaven gave abiding youth for dower."

MR. WILLIAM ARCHER, who was the next speaker, said he had been searching for precedents, but there was not in history any precedent for such world-wide homage being paid to an actress. The nearest approach in theatrical annals was in the case of Anne Oldfield (who was buried in Westminster Abbey), but that was only post mortem homage. He thought that they had a better way of expressing their admiration for and gratitude to the genius which had delighted them so long. From their applause he gathered that they agreed with him. In referring to Miss Terry's career he said he could not boast of being present on the occasion of her first appearance on that memorable 28th of February, 1856, but he had for thirty years witnessed all her performances. He had memories of her beautiful Portia at the old Prince of Wales's Theatre; it was also his privilege to see her as Mabel Vane in Masks and Faces—an exquisite performance—and also as the heroine in Olivia at the Court Theatre. He sat in the pit of the Lyceum Theatre when she took the town by storm as Ophelia. He yielded to no one in his admiration for her Shakespearean performances. In the great scene on Tuesday last at Drury Lane an instalment of the debt of love felt towards Miss Terry was paid, but yet the stock remained quite undiminished. That night they were paying another large instalment, and yet the debt was as far as ever from being paid off. When the shouting and the tumult had passed Miss Terry would know that the love which was borne towards her had not died; indeed, such was her art that they might confidently prophesy that for centuries—so long, in fact, as English stage history was read—they would attach an inseparable association—a sort of haunting aroma of love and tenderness—to the name of Ellen Terry.

MR. TREE, who spoke next, said he understood that there were to be no formal speeches, but he felt he must say a few words from the point of view of the fellow-actors upon their dear guest. He remembered his first vision—what a vision it was!—of Ellen Terry as Portia. He had undergone many changes since then, and had lost many illusions, but his adoration for Miss Ellen Terry remained unchanged. She seemed to be then as she seemed to be that night, a thing apart in her native bower. Her beauty was something of her own. Like other great women in history, she had created her own type of beauty, and that remained for many an ideal of beauty. He remembered the first time that he acted with Miss Terry in The Amber Heart how much he was astonished to find in her whose art seemed so spontaneous what great trouble she took at rehearsals. Her success, beyond her personality, was in a large measure due to that seriousness towards her art. That taught them much. Referring to the remarkable scene at Drury Lane, Mr. Tree said: We did not render lip service, but heart service, and one and all in our profession are devoted to this dear lady—not only actors and actresses, but many others who serve in the theatre share that adoration, for she never loses an opportunity of doing an act of kindness to the humblest servant. I will only join with other speakers in wishing this dear lady long and continued health and happiness, so that she may enjoy the fruits of the splendid tribute which has been offered to her, and may Heaven send her every blessing.

MRS. CRAIGIE ("John Oliver Hobbes"), in the absence of the American Ambassador, expressed the admiration of her countrymen and women for Ellen Terry, to whom, she said, they owed their finest ideal of women's work in the classic and romantic drama of our English race. Mrs. Craigie then read the following cablegram from Mr. Choate, the late American Ambassador to Great Britain: "Many thanks to Miss Terry from America for the great delight she has given for so many years by her charming sympathetic rendering of her favourite characters. Her interesting and brilliant career will always be cherished in loving memory by all American lovers of dramatic art." Mrs. Craigie said that Miss Terry had given them a series of impersonations which for pathos and gaiety had never been equalled by any actress of our time.

THE HON. STEPHEN COLERIDGE (hon. treasurer of the Tribune fund) stated that the fund amounted to 53,563 shillings. The American contribution reached £322, making a total of £3000. The Drury Lane performance brought in £5783, so that the grand total of the Terry Fund was £8784. Mr. Coleridge, in the course of a warm appreciation of Miss Terry's career, declared that her laughter and her tears had always come straight from her heart into the hearts of her admirers, and had made every one of them better men and women.

MR. FRANKLIN THOMASSON said he rose to present Miss Terry with another token of the affection and esteem in which they held her. It was a volume containing a history of her jubilee celebration from the beginning, and included reports—newspaper and otherwise—of everything that had taken place in connection with the festival. It contained the originals of the letters which were received, and the autographs of those who knew Miss Terry and who had written in connection with the jubilee. The volume covered not only this country, but practically the entire civilised world. "I have only to express the hope," concluded Mr. Thomasson, addressing Miss Terry, "that this volume will in the many long years which I trust you will yet enjoy recall to your mind many pleasant days and happy memories." The large volume is bound in English oak and ornamented with red morocco. The hinges are of hammered iron, and the book bears a medallion of hammered iron, inscribed on which is the name of Ellen Terry.

Amid an enthusiastic demonstration from the company, MISS TERRY rose to reply. She said: Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen,—I have made many speeches in my time, but they were all set down for me in my parts, and I took great pains to con them. To-night, when I want to speak to you in my own words, I think of those beautiful, express, and admirable speeches of Shakespeare with something like despair! But our chairman's brilliant and delightful use of words has made them seem not such stubborn things after all. I feel like an amateur who sees the professional act, and thinks, "Oh, how easy!" I shall not be even with the Under-Secretary for the Colonies until he acts a part with me. Alas! even if he could spare the time from controlling the destinies of Empire, I am afraid he is a little too young to support me. Frankly, I feel I have lately become a perfect nuisance to people. One really can have too much of—a good thing! I think a little jubilee goes a very long way. For months you have had Ellen Terry poked under your nose, until—well, if you will bear with me this evening, I promise to go to America in January. It is an ill wind that pleases nobody, and I have had a lovely time. The heart of my message is gratitude. Lately it has seemed to me that there were only two words in the whole world—"Thank you." If I could inventory my thanks the roll would be a long one indeed, far longer than Mr. Nicholson's souvenir. First on the roll I see the name of the Tribune. I can never forget that London's youngest newspaper first conceived the idea of celebrating my stage jubilee. From my heart I thank all who are connected with the paper (Mr. Franklin Thomasson most especially) for their immense work and thought for me. Often and often I have asked myself during the last few months what I have done to deserve this, and the great show of honour in which my comrades in art, my dear French and Italian friends, as well as my American and English brothers and sisters, have joined with the public to give me, and I have found no answer. One thing more I must say, and that is that the testimony of affection and homage that I have received is, I believe, very greatly due to the intention of the public to honour Henry Irving and myself together. Never for one instant have I forgotten this, nor that his light shines on me now as it did in the old days when we acted together at the Lyceum Theatre. Through the whole-hearted co-operation of Press, public, and fellow-artists this player has been well bestowed indeed, beyond the dreams of Hamlet, the Prince of Dreamers. The practical gift to me which the Tribune has organised so magnificently can be valued, but I have been given other things which are beyond price as they are quite beyond speech. My fifty years of work have been crowned in the most unexpected and wonderful way, and I could never express myself to tell you how happy it has all made me. My sole object in speaking this evening is to thank you, but I cannot in words. Only let me tell you I shall always feel "The debt immense of endless gratitude."

At the close of the speech, the audience sang with great heartiness "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

MR. GEORGE ALEXANDER, in proposing a vote of thanks to the Chairman, expressed a hope that the time would come when Mr. Winston Churchill's idea of a national theatre would be realised. No one was more gratified than himself at the splendid tribute which had been paid Miss Terry that night.

MR. JOSEPH KNIGHT, the veteran critic, having been called upon, made a few remarks, in the course of which he described Miss Terry as an honour to English art, and caused some laughter by declaring that he was in love with her himself.

At the conclusion of the proceedings Miss Terry paid a visit to the office of the Tribune, and there wrote a note, which was cabled in her presence to Mr. Choate, at New York, stating that she could not let the happy day pass over without thanking him and his friends in America for all their sweet remembrances of her stage jubilee.

A NATIONAL THEATRE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ERA.

SIR,—May I be permitted to express the fervent hope that, in view of the weighty and valuable words of Mr. Winston Churchill, M.P., at the Festival Dinner in honour of Miss Ellen Terry's Jubilee, as regards the need and formation of a National Theatre, we may now make a very serious national effort to effect its permanent establishment in our midst? It would, as Mr. Winston Churchill so ably pointed out, "have a great effect upon the solidarity of the English-speaking people all over the world," whilst we are all aware that it would feed the soul of art and lift the motif of both play and players far above the exigencies of the box office.

We surely cannot, in view of such a pronouncement, leave our drama to chance any longer, or to that caprice which is regulated solely by commercial considerations.

A great opportunity now presents itself to the nation to acquire the Lyceum Theatre for this purpose, and I am sure I voice the heartfelt wish and desire of Miss Ellen Terry when I state that, like many others, she still awaits to see some such movement started, which would also serve as a worthy memorial of our late great actor and lamented chief, Sir Henry Irving, whose earnest and constant advocacy of a National Theatre was also so well known.

I would suggest that the building should be called the Irving Repertory Theatre, and that Parliament should be asked to grant an annual subsidy, and the whole nation be invited to subscribe to a fund to place the movement and scheme on a sound and permanent financial basis.

I shall be most happy to do all in my power to support, financially and otherwise, such a national movement, and I shall also be pleased to hear from all those who desire to co-operate with me in the matter, and who, whilst realising that the State should always be a discriminating yet generous patron of the arts and sciences, yet also wish to more securely vindicate our claims to be a civilised people by the permanent establishment of a National Theatre in the capital city of our great Empire.—Yours faithfully,

WALTER STEPHENS.

London, W., June 18, 1905.

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL LAW.

BY A. A. STRONG, LL.B. (LOND.), SOLICITOR.

Your book will, I am sure, be a valuable aid to all managers and actors.—SIR HENRY IRVING.

Mr. Strong states the whole case very clearly.—Illustrated London News.

Should be found very useful.—Pelican.

Should prove perfectly invaluable.—Weekly Sun.

Contains in a handy compass and in a clear style the law relating to theatres and music halls The book is well up to date.—Law Times.

Furnishes useful information.—Daily News.

The work succeeds in making plain the thorny legal path that every manager and artist must tread, and by a timely consultation of its pages they may avoid much misapprehension and trouble.—Star

Mr. A. A. Strong has compiled an exceedingly useful volume dealing carefully, intelligently, and fully with the law bearing upon things theatrical. As a book of reference this excellent digest will be found invaluable.—The Era.

THE STAGE SOCIETY.

The Stage Society produced two new plays at the Scala Theatre on Sunday, June 17, and the performance was repeated at a matinée on Monday, June 18. The first of these new productions was a play in one act, by John Pollock, entitled

"THE INVENTION OF DR. METZLER."

Doctor Metzler .....MR. TREVOR LOWE
A Hungarian Officer .....MR. ERIC BLIND
An Austrian Officer ....MR. FRANK H. DENTON
Rosa von West .....MISS GERTRUDE KINGSTON
Fanny .....MISS BERTHA VAN RAALTE

Dr. Metzler is a student of science who has devoted the best years of his life to the invention of an electric lamp, and he has just perfected it when the play begins. He lives with his widowed daughter at an unnamed town in Hungary, and the date is 1849. Outside is heard the sound of gun-firing; but the doctor, wholly immersed in the work which has cost him so many hours of thought and experiment, takes not the slightest interest in the war between Austria and Hungary. He explains the details of his invention to his daughter and his servant Fanny; but the widow, who has lost her husband, an Austrian officer, in the war, reproaches him for not taking arms in defence of his native land. They are interrupted by a noise and the sudden entrance of an Hungarian officer, who explains that he has come from a besieged garrison close by, having made his way by a secret passage through the Austrian lines. Fever has broken out in the garrison, and he implores the doctor to return with him at once. In spite of an impassioned protest from his daughter, he consents; but while the doctor and the Hungarian are preparing for the journey, an Austrian officer makes his appearance, and learns the truth from Rosa. It is agreed that the Hungarian is to be shot down as soon as Rosa shows a light. She endeavours in vain to prevent her father from accompanying the officer, and when the moment comes for lighting the lamp, her determination fails her. The servant entering the room, however, turns on the electric lamp; two shots are heard, and the presumption is that both the men are killed.

Mr. Trevor Lowe gave a capital embodiment of Doctor Metzler; and Miss Gertrude Kingston played the part of Rosa von West with much intensity and force. The Hungarian and Austrian officers were well represented by Mr. Eric Blind and Mr. Frank H. Denton. Miss Berta Van Raalte was good as the servant Fanny. Mr. A. E. Drinkwater produced the play, which, in spite of some weak points, was favourably received.

The opening piece was followed by a farcical comedy in three acts, by Nikolai V. Gogol, entitled

"THE INSPECTOR-GENERAL."

Anton Antonovich ....MR. HERBERT GRIMWOOD
Ammos Fyodorovich .....MR. TREVOR LOWE
Artemi Philippovich .....MR. HENRY KITTS
Luka Lukich .....MR. FRANK H. DENTON
A Police Superintendent ....MR. ARTHUR BELL
Svistunov .....MR. C. R. GIBBON
Derzhimorda .....MR. BURTON COOKE
Ivan Kuzmich .....MR. NORMAN PAGE
Bobchinski .....MR. FRED GROVE
Dobchinski .....MR. J. H. BREWER
Osip .....MR. EUGENE MAYEUR
Ivan Khlestakov ....MR. MICHAEL SHERBROOKE
Waiter at the Inn .....MR. PERCY CRAWFORD
First Shopkeeper .....MR. ARTHUR BELL
Second Shopkeeper .....MR. PERCY CRAWFORD
Orderly .....MR. W. HUBERT
Anna Andreyevna .....MISS KATE PHILLIPS
Marya Antonovna .....MISS ISABEL ROLAND
Liza .....MISS BERTA VAN RAALTE
Locksmith's Wife ....MISS STELLA ST. AUDRIE
Sergeant's Wife .....MISS JEAN CADELL

Actuated no doubt by a commendable desire to vary as much as possible their dramatic bill-of-fare, the society has made an experiment with quite a new dish—farcical comedy. Not modern farcical comedy, be it said, for Gogol's play has attained the fairly venerable age of seventy years. According to a note on the programme, the present version is based on a translation by Mr. Arthur A. Sykes, who "kindly permitted his text to be abbreviated for presentation before the Society." We can scarcely congratulate the committee upon their selection. The Inspector-General was, by all accounts, a great success in Germany, but it is a specimen of old-fashioned farce that is not in the least likely to win the favourable verdict of an English audience. The piece has its amusing moments, but some of the scenes are tedious, and the plot is too thin to be spread over three acts. No doubt, too, the "show-up" of Russian official corruption would be better appreciated by German playgoers.

The scene is a provincial town in Russia seventy years ago, the Governor of which, Anton Antonovich, is an exceedingly corrupt official, who makes exacting demands upon the local tradespeople. Nor are the other town officials any better—they are a grasping, greedy, dishonest lot, who constantly abuse the privileges of the positions they hold. This being the case, the news that an Inspector-General—Der Revisor, in German—is expected from St. Petersburgh, whose duty it will be to make a close examination into the government of the town, naturally causes a great flutter amongst the leading officials, who fear that their scandalous conduct of local affairs will be exposed. The arrival of a stranger at one of the local inns puts them on the qui vive, and they jump to the conclusion that he is no other than the Inspector, who, for reasons of his own, has forborne to proclaim his official rank. The mysterious stranger is really Ivan Khlestakov, a Government clerk, who, accompanied by his servant Osip, is on his way to his parental home in the country. As the result of a game of cards with an Army officer he happened to meet, he has lost all his money, and the landlord of the inn has refused to supply him with any more food unless the bill is settled. But, to his astonishment, he receives a visit from the Governor of the town, accompanied by one of his colleagues. They treat him with the utmost deference, lend him some money, the Governor giving him a pressing invitation to accept his hospitality. Ivan, the poor clerk, finds himself in clover. He is escorted to the local hospital, where he is invited to an excellent luncheon, partaking so freely of wine that, when he arrives at the Governor's house, and is introduced to that official's fussy wife and pretty daughter, he talks airily of his palace at St. Petersburgh and the distinguished people he entertains there. Being found on his knees, clasping the hand of the pretty daughter, he becomes engaged to her, much to the gratification of the Governor. He interviews the Judge, the Charity Commissioner, and the Postmaster of the town, and from each borrows a sum of money; while a deputation of shopkeepers who have come to complain of the Governor's conduct also make him a pecuniary present in the hope of getting their grievances redressed. His servant Osip warns the supposed Inspector that it is time to disappear, and, taking the hint, he pleads important business as the excuse for his hurried departure, promising to return the next day. Soon afterwards the Postmaster, by opening a letter which has been written by Ivan to a friend in St. Petersburgh, makes the discovery that the Governor's late guest is an imposter, and there can be no possibility of mistake about this when an orderly appears with a message from the genuine Inspector-General, who has just arrived.

Mr. Michael Sherbrooke made Ivan Khlestakov a merry, rollicking young fellow, who took life easily, and made the best of the good things that chance put in his way. It was a bright, artistic, and highly-effective performance. Mr. Herbert Grimwood was also successful in depicting the pompous, foolish old Governor, who has only himself to blame for being so egregiously deceived. A clever companion picture was the Judge of Mr. Trevor Lowe. Mr. Henry Kitts was an unctuous and quietly humorous exponent of the Charity Commissioner and Warden of the Hospital. Mr. Frank H. Denton was good as the Director of Education; Mr. Norman Page was a quaint representative of the Postmaster; and Mr. Fred Grove and Mr. J. H. Brewer did well as two fussy, excitable, independent gentlemen named Bobchinski and Dobchinski. Mr. Eugene Mayeur made excellent use of his opportunities as Ivan's servant Osip, who shares his master's good fortune; and Mr. Percy Crawford was satisfactory in the small part of the waiter at the inn. Miss Kate Phillips had a congenial rôle in the Governor's wife, and her animated acting was greatly appreciated; while his daughter Marya had a pretty and graceful representative in Miss Isabel Roland. Miss Berta Van Raalte was brisk as the Governor's servant Liza. Other minor rôles were ably played by Messrs. Percy Bell, C. R. Gibbon, Burton Cooke, W. Hubert, and the Misses Stella St. Audrie and Jean Cadell. The play was produced by Mr. Charles Rock.

"ALICE, WHERE ART THOU?"

A Domestic Drama, in Four Acts,
By Louie Neville Banwell,
Produced for the First Time at the Empire Theatre, Oxford,
on Monday, June 18.

Matthew Hornibrook ....MR. W. H. BRADFORD
Fred Montague .....MR. WALTER H. WILSON
Jack Hornibrook .....MR. ROLAND HOPE
Ben Brewin .....MR. GUS BOWERMAN
Larry McCarthy .....MR. J. NELSON-TURNER
Jim Jarvis .....MR. EDWARD NEVILLE
Murton Topps .....MR. F. J. MEDCAL
Will Thompson .....MR. CHAS. HENRY
Sergeant Jones .....MR. ARTHUR FLIPPETT
Policeman Tupper .....MR. D. JARVIS
Kate Hornibrook .....MISS FLORA LESLIE
Alice Hornibrook .....MISS EVIE CONWAY
Polly Montague .....MISS LOIE ESMOND
Sally Hodges.....MISS ROSIE NEVILLE

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

The plot of this piece, which should prove a genuine success, turns principally on the theme of Asher's popular song, "Alice, where art thou?" Matthew Hornibrook and Fred Montague have been fast friends from boyhood. Matthew, having made a position in the world, has become wealthy, while Montague has been less fortunate, owing to his somewhat dissolute habits. Nevertheless, Matthew assists his friend financially, and allows him to use his house as his own home whenever he chooses. Fred Montague abuses the kindness of his old friend by seducing Matthew's only daughter, Alice, who, to hide her shame, decides to leave home and go on the stage. When this decision is accidentally made known to him by means of a letter addressed to his daughter from a theatrical agent, Matthew angrily resolves to disown his daughter, and leaves her, not then knowing the reason for her apparently unhappy choice. Before leaving, Alice has an interview with her lover, and threatens to expose him to her father unless he instantly marries her.

Montague informs her that is impossible, as he is already married. In her despair Alice endeavours to go to her father to confess all, but is prevented by her lover, who, in the moment of anger and fear, strangles her and places her body in a crevasse in the private grounds. The only witness to the deed is a poacher named Ben Brewin, whose silence is purchased by Montague.

Matthew Hornibrook imagines his daughter has gone to London, but as he has no news of her whereabouts he sets out on a fruitless search for her. On his return the body of Alice is found; and as it is known, through the information of Larry McCarthy, that Matthew parted in anger with his daughter, he is arrested for murder and sent to penal servitude for life. Through the instrumentality of Jim Jarvis, the Hornibrooks' servant, and Larry McCarthy, Matthew succeeds in escaping from prison, and flees across the sea to a desolate island. Meanwhile, Fred Montague, who has been living at the Hornibrooks', is greatly troubled in conscience, especially when news of his wife and her distressful condition reaches the ears of Mrs. Hornibrook. She determines to befriend Polly Montague, and brings her to the house. Fred becomes more and more tormented, till he fancies he sees a vision of Alice, and in his wanderings and ravings the real facts of the murder are disclosed. Mrs. Hornibrook immediately sets sail in the endeavour to find her husband and bring him back a free man. Polly Montague tries to nurse her husband back to strength, but his illness increases, until he wanders in his raving back to the glen, the scene of the murder. Matthew, who has now returned, tracks his enemy to the glen, having resolved to kill him. Fred, who is terror-stricken at the return of the friend he has wronged, at first refuses to fight, but is forced to do so by Matthew. During the struggle Fred is struck by lightning, when the vision of Alice is seen once again, and Matthew Hornibrook is spared the possible crime of manslaughter.

On the whole the piece was very well acted for a first night; most of the actors appeared to have studied their parts well, and brought out all the forcible points. Mr. W. H. Bradford gave a very consistent and careful rendering of Matthew Hornibrook, and Mr. Walter H. Wilson may be complimented on a very artistic and successful portrayal of Fred Montague. Mr. Edward Nevillewas quite up to his usual standard of excellence, and made himself very amusing as Jim Jarvis; Mr. Gus Bowerman was robust as Ben Brewin; and Mr. J. Nelson-Turner was very natural as Larry McCarthy. Mr. D. Jarvis did well as Policeman Tupper; Miss Flora Leslie was a sympathetic Kate Hornibrook; and Miss Evie Conway was well suited as Alice. Miss Rosie Neville made a good Sally Hodges; and Miss Loie Esmond was impressive as Polly Montague. The play was adequately mounted, some of the scenery being very attractive.

A CORRECTION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ERA.

SIR,—In the interview with me published in your current issue, it is stated that my grandfather, Charles Coote, owned Hopwood and Crew's music-publishing establishment. It should have been my uncle, Charles Coote, who has since written me pointing out the mistake. He has retired from business, and is hale and hearty at his seventy-fifth birthday, which he celebrates to-morrow.—Yours faithfully, BERT COOTE.

150, Oxford-street, London, W.
June 20.

LOVELY BROWN HAIR.

Grey, or faded hair, can be easily restored to a Golden Brown, Auburn Brown, or to almost any other desired shade of Brown, by "Condy's Fluid," which is non-poisonous, and harmless in every way.

The fullest possible Directions for obtaining the various natural shades of brown hair, and copies of a large number of Valuable Testimonials, can be obtained from Condy's Fluid Works, 91, Goswell-road, London, E.C. Insist on having "Condy's Fluid." Sold by all Chemists, 1s. 6d.; 20os., 2s. Beware of Substitutes.

The Lady's Pictorial, The Gentlewoman, The Lady, and other High Class Ladies' Journals strongly recommend the use of "Condy's Fluid" for restoring the hair when grey or faded.

THEATRICAL GOSSIP.

SIR CHARLES WYNDHAM was called away to the Continent on the 15th inst. on important business, so that, much to his regret, he had to decline the invitation to the dinner to Miss Ellen Terry on Sunday. Sir Charles had got no further than Folkestone, however, when he was served with a subpœna, necessitating his return to town on Monday to give evidence on commission in the Gibson Girl case. On Tuesday morning he again left town for Italy. Sir Charles is naturally anxious that it should be known that his absence from the Terry Dinner, as well as his appearance in the law case referred to, were quite unavoidable.

THE prospect of the eminent actor's return to the home of his earlier successes is one from which his many admirers will derive much satisfaction. The attractiveness of Captain Drew on Leave in London last season was so pronounced that Sir Charles was induced to cancel his American engagement, and his reappearance with Miss Mary Moore at the Criterion in a new play by Mr. Hubert Henry Davies will be awaited with the most agreeable anticipations.

THE most graceful part of the charming speech made by Miss Ellen Terry at the dinner on Sunday was that in which the eminent actress referred to her late distinguished comrade in art. "The testimony of affection and homage that I have received," said Miss Terry, "is, I believe, very greatly due to the intention of the public to honour Henry Irving and myself together. Never for one moment have I forgotten this, nor that his light shines on me now as in the old days when we acted together at the Lyceum Theatre."

OFFICIAL notification of the visit of Miss Ellen Terry to her native city on Saturday next was made to the Coventry City Council on Tuesday by the Mayor, Alderman Drinkwater, who proposed that an address of welcome should be presented to Miss Terry by the Corporation. It would be discourteous, he said, at this time, when Miss Terry had obtained so deep a hold upon public esteem, if her native city were not to accord her a hearty welcome. They had never before had so timely an opportunity. The proposal was enthusiastically adopted. The famous actress, it may again be stated, is also to be entertained at luncheon by the theatre proprietors in St. Mary's Hall, and the members of the Council and other leading citizens will be present.

MR. T. P. O'CONNOR, as promoter of the Musical Copyright Bill, has been approached by representatives of the companies engaged in the production of perforated music, and in order to avoid any misapprehension as to the object and aim of the measure, Mr. O'Connor has undertaken to insert the following proviso in the definition clause: "Provided always that the expressions 'pirated copies' and 'plates' shall not, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to include perforated music rolls used for playing mechanical instruments, or records used for the reproduction of sound waves, or the matrices or other appliances by which such rolls or records respectively are made."

THE intolerant attitude of Mr. Harwood and Mr. Byles, who rise in their places to "object" to the Musical Copyright Bill, has evoked for that Measure the sympathy of all parties in the House. Mr. O'Connor's proviso mentioned above was prompted by representations from the Gramophone Co. and the Pianola, Angelus, and other mechanical instrument companies. One firm has in stock perforated rolls to the value of £12,000.

MR. J. L. TOOLE has been in a state of extreme exhaustion throughout the week, during which he has steadily become weaker, though he has succeeded in retaining consciousness. A bulletin issued on Thursday evening stated that during the day there had been no improvement. The patient had taken a little nourishment, but his general state was extremely weak, with a gradual but perceptible diminution of vital energy. On Wednesday the Baroness Burdett-Coutts, who is staying in Brighton, sent, with a kindly message, a box of lovely flowers which had just arrived from Holly Lodge, and the sufferer was able to recognise the gift, and to murmur in a low voice a request that it might be acknowledged with his heartfelt thanks.

SYMPATHETIC reference to Mr. Toole was made at the City of London School on Tuesday by the Master of the Rolls, Sir Richard Henn Collins, who presented the Beaufoy and Mortimer prizes for the encouragement and study of the works of Shakespeare. "It was natural," he said, "on such an occasion that they should recall the distinguished men who had passed under the discipline of the school. One old boy, Mr. J. L. Toole, now lay upon a bed of sickness, but he could look back on a career begun in that school, in which, starting with no adventitious advantages, he had won for himself a position in which he had no rival, but was absolutely first. In all his life he had never made an enemy and never lost a friend." Sir Richard's remarks were received with great cheering.

MR. BEERBOHM TREE has had a most gratifying success with Colonel Newcome at His Majesty's, where the run of Mr. Michael Morton's clever adaptation will continue till the end of the season. On Sept. 3 Mr. Tree will go on a short provincial tour, during which a double bill, consisting of Business is Business and The Man Who Was will alternate with Colonel Newcome, and will return to his own theatre at the end of October in a production of Macbeth. His Majesty's will meanwhile be occupied with the promised revival, beginning in September, of The Winter's Tale, in which Miss Ellen Terry, Miss Viola Tree, Mr. Basil Gill, Mr. Lyn Harding, Mr. C. W. Somerset, Mr. Fisher White, and Mr. Charles Warner will appear.

MISS JULIA NEILSON and Mr. Fred Terry, who will take a short holiday at the termination of their London season, begin a provincial tour at Blackpool on Monday, August 27. Dorothy o' the Hall will be the principal attraction during the tour, in the course of which Miss Neilson and Mr. Terry will test the merits of two new pieces, with a view to their production on their return next year to the New Theatre. Of these one is a modern play in four acts by Mr. Harry Langley Lander, and the other a piece by B. M. Dix and E. G. Sutherland.

THE story of The Prince Chap, the play by Edward Reple, already well known in America, which Mr. A. H. Canby is to produce at the Criterion next month, deals with the romance of a struggling sculptor in London, to whom a former model bequeaths the care of her child, a five year old girl. The latter wins the artist's entire affections, and he relates to her the story of a certain prince who left his princess to seek his fortune abroad. The "princess" eventually arrives, and finding she has lost the love of the sculptor, accuses him of being the father of the girl, and insists that he shall choose between the two. The artist selects the child, and the lovelorn "princess" goes off to marry another. After ten years, she returns with the news that her husband is dead, and again lays her heart at the feet of the sculptor, but he is more than ever attached to the maiden, who finally secures the victory.

MR. ARTHUR BOURCHIER, one of the Vice-Presidents of the British Empire Shakespeare Society, has kindly lent the Garrick Theatre for the purposes of a special meeting of the society on Monday, July 2, at 2.30, when the Bishop of Ripon—not the Bishop of London, as has been erroneously stated—will give an address on Shakespeare's plays. Mr. Sidney Lee (president) will take the chair and Lady Bancroft will distribute the Society's prizes, and Miss Ellen Terry, Sir Squire Bancroft, Mr. George Alexander, Mr. Forbes Roberson, Mr. Arthur Bourchier, Mr. H. B. Irving, and Mr. Acton Bond are expected to speak. Tickets can be obtained for non-members of the Hon. Sec., Miss Greta Morritt, 17, Southwell-gardens, S.W.

THE secretary of the Actors' Benevolent Fund has received the sum of £3 5s. 9d. from Mr. J. M. Gerold, being half the proceeds of a recital given by Miss Lemoine on the R.M.S. Armadale Castle, the total sum derived therefrom being devoted to charities. The secretary has also received £2 from the Editor of The Referee, that amount having been sent to him by Mr. H. W. Varna for a theatrical charity.

THE Moody-Manners company open their season of grand opera in English at the Lyric Theatre on Saturday, July 21. The company's repertory will include Faust, Lohengrin, Tannhäuser, Trovatore, Cavalleria Rusticana Pagliacci, Huguenots, Marriage of Figaro, Martha, Philémon and Baucis, and Tschaikowski's Eugène Onegin, a work which has attained great popularity.

IN addition to Mr. Manners, the excellent combination of vocalists will include Mmes. Clementine de Vere, Zelie de Lussan, Fanny Moody, Toni Seiter, and Messrs. Joseph O'Mara, Wilson Pembroke, John Child, Lewys-James, and Charles Magrath. Prices of admission will be somewhat lower than during the regular theatrical season, reserved seats ranging from 3s. to half a guinea. Mr. Tom Davis, to whose enterprise this welcome series of operas is in a great measure due, hopes to make an operatic season an annual summer feature of the Lyric.

MR. "JIMMY" GLOVER, if he had not won fame as a musical conductor, might easily have made a fortune as a comedian. This, at all events, is the opinion of the Judge who tried the "Gibson Girl" case this week. Referring to Mr. Glover's answer to Mr. Marshall Hall, his lordship imagined a theatrical "situation" in which Mr. Glover was a "super" taking part in a trial. If he made on the stage the repartee he had made to counsel people would come to see him just for those few words.

"THE SHULAMITE" is by no means a solitary instance in recent years of a drama being provided with a "happy ending" in deference to the public will. The Profligate, one of the finest of Mr. Pinero's dramas, was altered in a similar respect when produced by Mr. John Hare at the Garrick some fifteen or sixteen years ago. The Prayer of the Sword at the Adelphi was another example. The strangest case on record was perhaps that of Le Courrierde Lyon on its production in Paris some fifty years back. Different versions were played on alternate nights. On Monday Lesurgues' fatal resemblance to the wicked Dubosc sent him to the scaffold; on Tuesday he was rescued, and the villain lynched by the mob; but the conventional ending showing the triumph of virtue and the downfall of vice was finally adopted, and it was this denouëment that the late Sir Henry Irving utilised in The Lyons Mail.

PREACHERS in America certainly do not hide their light under a bushel, as the following glowing pæan of self praise abundantly proves. A certain Dr. —— says he "always preaches to packed churches," and confesses in his advertisement that he is "a preacher, an orator, and a magnet"; that "his style is one of easy grace, with constantly changing poses"; and that his "voice ranges from the soft tinkle of silver bells to the terrified tones of Dante's Inferno." He also supplies the affecting information that "he has a peculiar grey eye that looks directly at you, a little beyond, and almost through you—yet, withal, its penetrating power tells of a kind heart, intensity of feeling, and honesty." Oh, Modesty, where is thy blush?

A VALUABLE hint to managers who wish to suppress the matinée hat and do not know how to deal with intractable ladies, is contained in an historical episode to which a witty French journalist calls attention. During Louis XIV.'s reign, it became the fashion with the ladies of the Court to mount the box and drive their cumbersome vehicles through the Paris streets. The fair drivers being quite inexperienced, terrible accidents arose, and at length the matter grew so bad that the King issued a proclamation forbidding women to hold the reins. No notice whatever was taken of the edict, and, if possible, things grew worse than before. The Chief of the Police, not daring to interfere personally, implored His Majesty to adopt more stringent measures towards the delinquents. Louis XIV., who had a keen sense of humour, then asked for the edict, and in his own Royal hand added: "In future only ladies of forty and more will be allowed to drive." The next day all the fair ones had deserted the box.

MR. MARSH ALLEN, one of the company of West-End actors travelling in the interests of golf and His Excellency the Governor, won the Ethel Matthews Cup at Brighton this week. His score at Kemptown Links was two down on bogey. The golfing actors will appear at Eastbourne next week, and the following week will be seen at the Coronet Theatre.

"A WASTE OF TIME" is the obviously inappropriate title which has been bestowed on a series of variety turns which preceded the performance of His Excellency the Governor at the Theatre Royal, Brighton, on Monday. A telegram is supposed to come from the lessee, Mr. H. Cecil Beryl, stating that as His Excellency the Governor lasts but two hours an extra piece is needed. A number of selections are then given, much to the delight of the audience, by the members of the company, including Messrs. Lionel Mackinder, Lennox Pawle, James Blakeley, H. Marsh Allen, Loring Fernie, and Littledale Power.

MISS NOEL NEVILLE has succeeded Miss May De Sousa in the principal part of Violet, the captivating American girl, in Castles in Spain, at Terry's.

"YOU NEVER CAN TELL" will be revived at the Court Theatre on Monday evening, July 9, for a limited number of weeks. Mr. Bernard Shaw's play will have the following in the cast: Misses Florence Haydon, Lillah McCarthy, Dorothy Minto, and Hazel Thompson, and Messrs. Norman Page, Edmund Gurney, J. H. Barnes, Henry Ainley, James Hearn, and Louis Calvert.

MISS ELIZABETH PARKINA, who will be remembered as the delightful Singing Fairy of the recent revival of A Midsummer Night's Dream at the Adelphi, was, unhappily, so indisposed on Monday that she was unable to finish her performance of Musetta at Covent Garden. The music of the last act was accordingly sung by Mme. Galibert.

MR. NORMAN V. NORMAN and Miss Beatrice Wilson, in spite of the counter attractions of the Agricultural Show, Illuminated Fête, and Naval Manœuvres, played to such excellent and enthusiastic audiences at the Royal, Portsmouth, last week that a return visit at an early date is being arranged.

MR. LEWIS WALLER has obeyed the mandate of his numerous admirers by placing Othello in the evening bill at the Lyric, where a crowded audience greeted him enthusiastically on Saturday night. In his representation of the Moor, Mr. Waller has added to the roll of his most noted Robertson, Mr. Arthur Bourchier, Mr. H. B. Irving, Iago is a curiously fascinating piece of acting, embellished by many subtleties of action and inflexion, of which the young actor is a master. Miss Evelyn Millard's Desdemona still captivates by the gentleness, sincerity, and grace of the impersonation; and Miss Edith Wynne Matthison makes the part of Emilia instinct with fire and passionate suggestion, which gives way at the close to a moving scene of real pathos. Mr. Henry Neville's Brabantio is another fine example of this accomplished actor's art; and the Cassio of Mr. Owen Roughwood, the Biancha of Miss May Taverner, and the Roderigo of Mr. A. E. George, add appreciably to the excellence of the production. Curtain-calls were exceptionally numerous on Saturday, no less than ten being insisted on after the third act.

ADMIRERS of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Livesey's beautiful bulldog will regret to learn that he was poisoned last week at their home, Barry, and before the "vet." had time to arrive died in fearful agony.

THE quality of mercy was gracefully exercised at Bradford on Saturday, when Charles Farrington, who had been acting-manager of the company playing Dr. Wake's Patient at the local Theatre Royal, was charged with embezzling £47, the property of Herbert Ross, general-manager, and another. It was stated that the prisoner had spent the money on racecourses. Mr. Ross, having obtained special permission to address the Court, made a strong appeal in behalf of the accused, but the Stipendiary said it was a bad case of embezzlement, and the prisoner would have to go to gaol for one month, without hard labour.

AFTER the business of the Court concluded, Mr. Ross renewed his pleading, urging that the prisoner might be dealt with as a first offender. "He will never be able to earn a livelihood again," said Mr. Ross. "You do not know how difficult it is to make a living in this business. I would not have taken out the warrant had I known." The stipendiary had the prisoner brought back, and told him that Mr. Ross had again been pleading for him. Under the circumstances, he would withdraw the sentence, and the prisoner must come up in a month for judgment. Prisoner said he was very thankful to Mr. Ross for his kindness.

AT the Marlborough-street Police-court on Saturday, Mr. George Edwardes's manager at the Prince of Wales's Theatre applied for licences permitting seven girls and four boys to appear in See-See, the new Chinese comic opera, produced on Wednesday. They would only be on the stage in the chorus for about five minutes at ten in the evening, said Mr. Davies. Mr. Kennedy granted the licences, but remarked that it was rather late in the evening for children.

AT the special matinée at His Majesty's Theatre on behalf of the Gentlewomen's Homes, organised by Lady Langattock, a striking item was the recitation of "The Duet," by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, given by Mr. Gilbert Shorter, the famous elocutionist, with musical accompaniment by Mme. Lillian Adams, who specially arranged the music. Mr. Gilbert Shorter was well received by the fashionable audience, and the proverbial pin might have been heard to drop. He was recalled, and his success was a distinct advancement in his professional career.

MR. ALGERNON ASHTON writes that the grave of Chopin in Père Lachaise cemetery is "in a most miserable condition." How true it is that the world knows little of its great composers, and cares less. We hope Mr. Ashton's timely protest will meet the eye of M. Vladimir de Pachmann, the French composer's greatest interpreter. Chopin was perhaps the greatest pianoforte composer who ever lived.

MISS ITALIA CONTI will give a musical and dramatic recital, by permission of the Duke and Duchess of Sutherland, at Stafford House on Thursday afternoon, July 5. The programme will include an interlude, entitled The Princess and the Stranger, by Lady Alix Egerton, a novel feature of which is that it will be played up and down the staircase of Stafford House. Miss Marie Tempest, Miss Amy Castles, Miss Lily Brayton, Miss Aimée Lowther, and Mr. Graham Browne are among those who have promised to appear.

MISS MAY DE SOUSA had a painful experience on Monday evening, when her maid, Miss Emma Finch, was run over by a motor-car in the Brompton-road and killed. She was on her way to Daly's Theatre with Miss de Sousa when the accident happened, the wheels of the motor-car passing over her chest. She was taken to St. George's Hospital, where life was pronounced extinct.

MISS EVA LONSDALE, who has been playing Mary Melrose with Mr. Russell Rosse so successfully, has been transferred to the repertory company, and is now appearing as Constance in She Stoops to Conquer, Maria in School for Scandal, and Marton in A Marriage of Convenience.

AN amended statement of affairs has been filed, under the failure of Edward George Saunders, solicitor and theatrical manager and proprietor, disclosing liabilities £12,415, of which £4836 are returned as expected to rank, and an estimated surplus in assets of £20,545. A sitting held on Tuesday for the public examination of the debtor was adjourned, upon the application of the trustee's solicitor, with a view to further investigation.

THE Brixton Theatre, which is now closed for the summer vacation, will reopen on August Bank Holiday with the late Wilson Barrett's adaptation of Hall Caine's novel "The Manxman." Many dramatic and musical successes will figure in the programme in the course of the ensuing season.

THE provinces are shortly to have an opportunity of seeing Mr. Cecil Klein's play The Lion and the Mouse, for Mr. Walter Maxwell has secured the entire provincial rights from Mr. Frohman, and sends out a company headed by Miss Christine Silver on a tour opening at Theatre Royal, Cardiff, on August Bank Holiday. The play is one of the strongest and most dramatic of recent years, and with an English company recruited chiefly from Mr. Maxwell's other companies of The Little Minister, Quality Street, and Little Mary should succeed as it so richly deserves.

THE recital of soliloquies from Shakespeare's Plays, to be given by Mr. Samuel Arthur King at the New Royalty Theatre, on the afternoon of June 29, will be repeated at St. George's Hall on the evening of July 3, when the two half-hour comedies, Mamma's Opinion and Love and Halfpence, will also be given. Mr. William Poel, who is responsible for the management, will revive on Aug. 9 and 10 Goldsmith's comedy The Good-Natured Man before the summer students at Cambridge by special request of the University Lectures Syndicate.

MISS MARGARET DAVIES WEBSTER, a clever young actress too little seen of late on the West-End stage, will shortly embark upon a summer tour of Mine Hostess, her own adaptation of La Locandiera, Golcondi's famous comedy. Miss Davies Webster's business arrangements are in the expert hands of Mr. Hugh Fleming.

MR. FORBES ROBERTSON and Miss Gertrude Elliott, whose recent tour in the suburbs and elsewhere was so remarkably successful, are going into the provinces in August, starting on the 27th of that month at Manchester. At that town the popular actor-manager purposes reviving The Merchant of Venice, in which he and his charming wife will be seen for the first time, and Hamlet, Mice and Men, and The Light that Failed will also figure in their répertoire. In October they sail for America.

THE usual weekly meeting of the Council of the Actors' Association was held on Tuesday last. There were present Mr. C. Aubrey Smith (chairman), Mr. A. E. Drinkwater (deputy-chairman), Mr. Henry W. Mote (hon. solicitor), Mesdames Kate Bishop, Kate Phillips, and Saba Raleigh, and Messrs. Cecil Barth, J. Cooke Beresford, Clarence Blakiston, Acton Bond, Burton Cooke, F. Cremlin, William Devereux, A. E. George, Lawrence Grant, Norman McKinnel, M. R. Morand, Walter Russell, Spencer Trevor, Fredk. Volpe, Hubert Willis, and Charles Cruikshanks (secretary). The secretary reported that a member who was insured under a policy issued through the instrumentality of the Association had made a claim against the insurance company, which had been settled to his complete satisfaction, he receiving nearly £200.

THE secretary announced that the fourth bi-monthly meeting of the members would be held on Thursday, the 12th proximo, at 2.30 p.m., in the Saloon of the Association. Mr. Cecil Barth suggested that in order to promote and stimulate interest amongst the members in these meetings they should be invited to prepare and read papers on subjects of interest to the members on which an open discussion could take place. The suggestion afterwards took the form of a proposition, which, having been duly seconded, was unanimously agreed to by the Council. Mr. Cecil Barth promised to read a paper at the next bi-monthly meeting. Rita Ward, Laurence de Frece, and Mabel Sealby were nominated for election to the Association.

MR. ACTON BOND reported that the executive committee of the Ellen Terry Jubilee had thanked Dr. R. Nitch-Smith and Dr. C. Stanford for their attendance at Drury Lane Theatre on the 12th inst. A question having arisen as to extending the operations and usefulness of the "missioners," it was agreed that a special meeting of the Council be held at an early date to consider the matter. The hon. solicitors reported progress in several matters.

THE Finance and General Purposes Committee held a meeting on Tuesday last, there being in attendance Mr. Acton Bond (chairman), and Messrs. A. E. Drinkwater, R. Morand, C. Aubrey Smith, and Chas. Cruikshanks (secretary). The secretary received instructions to procure an estimate for the supply of lockers for the convenience of members desiring to hire them.

A COUNTRY FAIR which is to be given at the Botanical Gardens, Regent's Park, on Friday and Saturday, July 13 and 14, in aid of Our Dumb Friends' League, will derive special attractiveness from the presence in an official capacity of a number of popular actresses. The presidents of tea tables at the refreshment booths, which will be in charge of Mrs. C. Hayden Coffin, will consist of Misses Marie Tempest, Marie Moore, Isabel Jay, Constance Collier, Fanny Brough, and Phyllis Broughton. Mr. C. Hayden Coffin will conduct a hat-trimming competition; and in the exploitation of a waxwork and freak show Mrs. Albert Bradshaw and Mrs. George Dance, the proprietors, will be assisted, among others, by Miss Kate Santley, Miss Alice Liebman, Miss L. Patterson, Miss Woolgar Mellon, Mr. Henry Neville, Mr. Mark Melford, Mr. Acton Bond, and Mr. Leon Lion. Variety entertainments, contributed to by well-known artists, will also be a feature of the fair.

THE good news that Mrs. Herman Merivale is to receive a Government pension of £50 a year in consideration of the literary work of her late husband, recalls a pretty little compliment that the author of "Forget-Me-Not" paid to Miss Ellen Terry. When the famous actress played Lady Macbeth she asked Mr. Merivale how he enjoyed the performance, and he made the graceful reply: "I saw you as Puck, many years ago, jump up from behind a toadstool and you instantly bewitched me, Ellen, and everybody else in the theatre. How can I judge your acting? You have bewitched me ever since!"

MISS EVA MOSS, who is at present enjoying a short holiday after forty-three weeks' hard work, has been specially engaged to play Camille at the Pavilion, Ramsgate, in July.

MR. EADE MONTEFIORE'S season at Mr. Robert Arthur's Camden Theatre opens on Monday with the Drury Lane drama Cheer, Boys, Cheer. During his season Mr. Montefiore is introducing popular prices at the Camden, a seat being obtainable for two shillings in the dress circle and for sixpence in the pit. The enterprising manager considers that this is the age of small prices and greater numbers, and the experiment is being viewed with general interest.

MR. H. B. IRVING has kindly consented to act as honorary examiner on Saturday afternoon at the 22nd annual examination of the students at the Polytechnic School of Elocution, which will be held this year in the small Queen's Hall. Medals and certificates will be awarded to the successful aspirants

THE application of Mr. W. D. Forsdike (the managing director) to allow smoking in the Alexandra Theatre, was passed by the Sheffield City Council on Wednesday, the 13th, so that patrons of the popular house may now indulge in the "weed" if they so desire, and doubtless the privilege will be much appreciated. We might mention that this is the revival of an old custom, as smoking in Sheffield theatres originated at the Alexandra many years ago, and when the management, in compliance with the universally expressed wishes of their patrons, decided to make application to renew the permit, the decision was received with much satisfaction by the habitués. The Alexandra is open, as usual, throughout the summer, and Mr. Forsdike has secured a strong array of dramatic attractions for the ensuing autumn.

MISS F. GLOSSOP-HARRIS, who has just concluded a long tour with Mr. Ian Maclaren, playing Rosalind, Portia, and other Shakespearean leads with success, has been re-engaged by Mr. Edward Terry to play Minnie Gilfillian on tour with him in the autumn.—Mr. Archie Selwyn has been engaged to create Tom Gradgrind in a dramatisation of Charles Dickens's novel "Hard Times," entitled Mr. Gradgrind's System, to be produced at Llandudno on July 2.

MR. H. BERNHARDT will produce at the Palace Pier Theatre, Brighton, on Monday, a new comedy in four acts, entitled Peggy. The authoress, Miss Athole Robertson, who will play the name-part, is a talented young actress, and the writer of some clever dramatic sketches. Peggy is her most ambitious effort, and report speaks highly of it.

MR. HENRY CROCKER concluded on Saturday an eleven months' tour with Mr. Edward Compton, playing Sir Peter Teazle, Sir Anthony Absolute, &c.; and also acting as stage-manager. He has been engaged for the autumn by Mr. Cyril Keightley to play Sir Peter Teazle, Mr. Hardcastle, and to stage manage.

MR. LIONEL RIGNOLD AND MISS ADA BLANCHE, who have just finished a most successful tour with What the Butler Saw, will now take a well-earned rest. They will start their autumn tour on July 23 at Worthing, and after visiting some of the principal provincial cities will return to London for the suburban theatres in the late autumn. The comedy has been enthusiastically received in every theatre yet visited, and return dates offered. Mr. Rignold and Miss Blanche will be supported by a first-class company of experienced artists, and it is safe to predict for this excellent entertainment a long and successful career.

SINCE his return from the provinces Mr. Rignold has had some exciting experiences. A few mornings ago he was aroused from his bed to find that his premises had been burglariously entered, and a quantity of valuables stolen, among them an old Bolloni violin, which he much prized. None of the property has up to now been traced; but, fortunately, a portion of his loss was covered by insurance. Mr. Rignold, however, has had good fortune as well as bad. On visiting his club he was informed, greatly to his surprise, that he had drawn Spearmint in the Derby Sweep. This is the second time in three years that Mr. Rignold has drawn the first prize in the Green Room Sweepstakes.

THE matinée arranged by Mr. Alan Mackinnon in aid of the building fund of the Charterhouse Mission, which will be given at the Garrick Theatre, by permission of Mr. Arthur Bourchier, on Monday will begin with That Dreadful Doctor, in which Mr. Charles Allan, Mr. Charles Maude, and Miss Ethel Warwick will take part. Mr. Bourchier and Miss Violet Vanbrugh will appear in The Trial Scene from The Merchant of Venice, a scene from The Clandestine Marriage will be played by Mr. Cyril Maude, Mr. Lionel Rignold, Mr. Eric Lewis, Mr. A. E. Matthews, and Miss Alice Crawford, and Mr. Forbes Robertson and Miss Gertrude Elliott will be seen in the second act of Hamlet. The programme will also include Cosmo Hamilton's new one-act play entitled Gran'father Coquesne, in which Mr. C. Aubrey Smith, Mr. Philip Cuningham, Master Philip Tonge, and Miss Ada Webster will appear. A scene from Geo. Colman's The Heir-at-Law, sustained by Mr. Cyril Maude and Mr. G. M. Graham, will complete the attractiveness of a superlative entertainment.

OWING to a relapse in Mr. Oswald Brand's condition and to the closing of the theatre for its vacation, he has, with the consent of Mr. J. B. Mulholland, postponed his benefit matinée at the King's Theatre until September next.

THE career of Cæsar Borgia has been selected for treatment by Mr. Justin Huntly McCarthy, who has just completed a play on the subject of the soldier-cardinal. In accordance with his usual method, Mr. McCarthy is now turning the play into a novel.

IN the Westminster County Court on Thursday came up the action George Dance v. Arthur Payne Seddon, which was tried by his Honour Judge Woodfall. The plaintiff claimed to recover £6 17s. 7d., the alleged balance of plaintiff's shore of the gross takings for the visit of The Girl From Kay's to Hawick on January 11. The defendant was represented by Mr. Towry Piper, solicitor, and claimed to set off the amount in dispute on the ground of payments made on plaintiff's behalf in respect of printing and other items in connection with performances of The Cingalee and The Orchid at other places. Letters from plaintiff's manager of "fit-up" tours, authorising the payments (together with other evidence) were produced. His Honour held that the defendant was entitled to set off the payments, and the case was adjourned generally to enable the parties to agree to the figures (as to which some slight discrepancy appeared), the case to be restored to the list and disposed of by the Judge in the event of a settlement not being arrived at.

THEATRE CRANKS, or "people who patronise and pester," forms the subject of an article in next Saturday's issue of Ideas, a bright little periodical which seems to deal with every variety of topic. The Gaiety Theatre, it is related, has a pit patron, who occupies the same corner seat every Friday night with unfailing regularity. He has done so ever since the new Gaiety was opened, and he did the same thing as regards the old Gaiety for more years than any of the attendants now on duty can remember.

COVENT GARDEN THEATRE, during the opera season, has for one of its regular patrons a gentleman, said to be a Colonial ex-Premier, whose rooted aversion to evening dress is only equalled by his love for classical music. As evening dress is, of course, essential at these performances, he was, on first presenting himself many years ago clad in ordinary attire, refused admission. Not to be outdone, he borrowed a white tie from an attendant, and, buttoning his black overcoat over his blue lounge suit, wended his way to his stall. No objection was raised, and he has continued to repeat the manœuvre ever since, the attendant who supplies him with the tie being invariably rewarded with a handsome tip.

THE British Canadian concert, organised by Dr. Charles Harriss, of Montreal, will take place at Queen's Hall on the evening of Wednesday, the 27th inst., when the King has graciously promised to be present. Several of our most eminent composers will conduct their own compositions, and the programme will include Dr. Charles Harriss's choric idyll, Pan, which is to be performed for the first time in England. It is a setting of a poem by Miss Josephine Peabody, and the text revives certain rudiments of the earliest Greek drama, in that it treats the story of Pan as a little satyr-play centred about a worship of nature. The chorus embodies the voices of the forest, spirits of trees and streams, fauns, and echoes, and the orchestral music fills in the action.

DR. HARRISS has enthusiastic hopes for the future of music in Canada. For years past he has worked hard to establish an interest in music from the Atlantic to the Pacific. "My aim," he says, "has been to make music a living force in Canada, and at the same time to foster a love of British music in our colony. Then in time, when Canadian music grows up, I hope that the mother country will give it a kind greeting and help it along. The people are very enthusiastic, and will go big distances to hear concerts or attend rehearsals. I have known men ride 100 miles to a choir practice, and come into the hall in the winter with icicles on their beards. I, myself, too, have on occasions travelled as much as 3000 miles to hold a rehearsal."

AT Marlborough-street Police-court on Monday George Edwin Kyte, aged 29, an advertising agent, living in Glengall-road, Kilburn, was charged on remand with having attempted to obtain by fraud two tickets of the Garrick Theatre, Charing Cross-road. The prisoner wrote to the theatre several times, representing himself sometimes as stage-manager of the Lyceum and sometimes as advertising manager for that theatre, asking for tickets. A boy sent to the Garrick for tickets on the 9th inst. was handed an envelope containing a blank sheet of paper, and followed. He was seen to hand the envelope to the prisoner in Bedford-court. A detective-sergeant said that the prisoner had obtained tickets from other theatres. He was a lazy man, and had received a month's imprisonment for embezzlement. Mr. Kennedy sentenced Kyte to three months' imprisonment with hard labour.

THE MACLEANS OF BAIRNESS.

Play, in Four Acts, by Edith Lyttelton, produced at the Criterion Theatre, on Tuesday, June 19, 1906.

Prince Charles Edward Stuart — MR. HARCOURT WILLIAMS
Sir Alan Maclean of Bairness — MR. FRANK WORTHING
Captain Lascelles — MR. JULIAN ROYCE
Captain O'Flanagan — MR. DANIEL MCCARTHY
Father Lamond — MR. DENNIS EADIE
Dr. Fergus Munro — MR. MARK KINGHORNE
David — MR. A. G. POULTON
A Highland Courier — MR. DUNCAN TOVEY
Margaretta Sinclair — MRS. PATRICK CAMPBELL
Miss Grizel Maclean — MISS CARLOTTA ADDISON

The Hon. Mrs. A. Lyttelton has founded her play on a story of considerable dramatic possibilities, but is not sufficiently versed in the art of the theatre to realise those possibilities. Hence her drama is a pulseless thing; her dialogue for the most part tedious and commonplace; and her characters are mere adumbrations. Our emotions are never aroused, nor do we become in the least excited during the progress of the drama, which, however, drew to the Criterion on Tuesday evening a large and distinguished house, and the members of the British aristocracy present were apparently determined to set the seal of their approval upon The Macleans of Bairness.

The story is woven round the Young Pretender, Charles Edward, who, like his ancestor, the Merry Monarch, is a libertine. He has "stolen the innocence" of Margaretta Sinclair, a young girl whom he met at Court in Rome, and who had saved his life. The secret of her shame weighs upon the soul of Margaretta—more heavily, perhaps, since she has become installed as head nurse to her kinsman, Sir Alan Maclean of Bairness. She has learnt to love him, and her passion is returned tenfold. His medical attendant, Dr. Fergus Munro, does not regard in at all a favourable light the ministrations of the young girl, whose sad, sweet face has cast a spell over his patient. Sir Alan, who believes himself to be dying, is anxious to be united to Margaretta, in order that she may have his property. She is in despair. Scorning to deceive him, she makes confession of her past to Miss Grizel Maclean, who, with her confessor, Father Lamond, agrees that it would be fatal to the invalid to learn the truth, and equally fatal for Margaretta to refuse to marry him without giving her reason. So, with the vow that she will never really be Sir Alan's wife until he knows her story, she goes through the ceremony.

At the opening of the second act Margaretta has not yet spoken of the black stain upon her past to Sir Alan, who is naturally anxious to dispel the shadow that is between them. She is about to confess, when the tête-à-tête is interrupted by the entrance of an English officer in search of the Prince Charles Edward, a fugitive after Butcher Cumberland's massacre at Culloden. Captain Lascelles, in the King's service, who knows that Sir Alan favours the Hanoverian cause, is determined to leave no stone unturned to secure the £50,000, the price set upon the capture of the Pretender, dead or alive; but while he is in one part of Castle Bairness, his quarry, ragged and hungry, comes in at the door to seek food and shelter. Disguised in the gown of Father Lamond the Pretender escapes the observation of Lascelles and his troopers, but cannot leave the Castle, which is watched by sentries at every point. He must therefore perforce stay, and immediately abuses the hospitality of a rather unwilling host by renewing his protestations of affection to Margaretta, whom he attempts to kiss. Driven to desperation, the indignant wife drives her brooch pin into his hand. The couple have hardly time to recover their composure before Sir Alan, stern and suspicious, enters. He has not yet learnt the history of his wife's past, but is soon to do so, for during supper the Prince and an Irish captain, in their cups, make no secret of the relations that have existed between the former and the unfortunate woman who was not proof against his fascinations. Now comes the dramatic moment of the play. Sir Alan, in a fury, throws himself upon the Prince; Margaretta extinguishes the lights, after clearing the table of cups and platters, and all is confusion and darkness. We know nothing more than that the anger of the wronged husband has been sufficiently restrained to enable the Pretender to escape from his clutches, for next morning the Royal roysterer apologises, though his apology is haughtily refused by Sir Alan, who, however, assists him to escape. Margaretta, who acts as the Prince's envoy, is arrested, but he eludes capture. The English captain, however, is induced to let her go on the parole of her husband, who promises that she shall not leave the precincts of the Castle for at least two months. Sir Alan forgives the "blot," and the curtain falls on a happy ending.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell has in the character of Margaretta a part exactly suited to her temperament. No one can play the repentant, brave-souled woman, deeply conscious of sin, with more penetrating pathos than she can, and yet somehow she failed to impress her audience to any great extent on Tuesday. She rose to the situation at the end of the second act, and she gave the best speech of the play, wherein Margaretta describes the freeing of a hawk from a gin, with the poetic feeling required. The actress realised also the poignancy of the feelings of the self-condemned woman when, convulsively sobbing at her father confessor's knees, she ends her appeal with the words, "Maim me—hurt me—but set me free!" A cri de cœur, indeed! and one that thrilled the audience. But it was the only thrill of a dull, profitless evening. Mr. Frank Worthing as Sir Alan has not been well treated by the author. The Scotch laird has not enough blood in him, and is conventional, not to say dull. Mr. Worthing put heart into his work in the situation at the end of the third act. Mr. Harcourt Williams, in the better-drawn character of Prince Charles Edward Stuart, imparted the devil-may-care gaiety of manner to the dashing rebel, and gave no little dignity to the Pretender in the last scene. Mr. Julian Royce played with spirit and a gallant air the rôle of the King's officer, Captain Lascelles; Mr. Daniel McCarthy was racy of the soil as the Irish Captain O'Flanagan; Mr. Mark Kinghorne invested with some interest the character of an uninteresting Scotch medical practitioner, whose only remedy is bleeding; Mr. Dennis Eadie was not quite at home in the character of Father Lamond; Mr. A. G. Poulton was painstaking as David; and Mr. Duncan Tovey made a satisfactory Highland courier. Miss Carlotta Addison was sweet and motherly as the faithful and lovable Grizel Maclean.

"THE GEISHA" REVIVED.

On Monday, June 18, Revival of the Japanese Musical Play, in Two Acts, by Owen Hall, Lyrics by the late Harry Greenbank, Music by Sidney Jones and Lionel Monckton, entitled "THE GEISHA."

O Mimosa San — MISS MAY DE SOUSA
Miss Molly Seamore — MISS MARIE STUDHOLME
Nami — MISS KATHLEEN SEVERN
O Kiku San — MISS THELMA RAYE
O Hana San — MISS IRIS HOEY
O Kinkoto San — MISS DAISY STRATTON
Komurasaki San — MISS ALICE HATTON
Lady Constance Wynne — MISS WATT TANNER
Miss Marie Worthington — MISS GERTRUDE GLYNN
Miss Ethel Hurst — MISS NINA SEVENING
Miss Waters — MISS ANGY EDWARDINE
Juliette Diamant — MLLE. MARIETTE SULLY
Reginald Fairfax — MR. ROBERT EVETT
Dick Cuningham — MR. W. LOUIS BRADFIELD
Bronville — MR. GORDON CLEATHER
Grimston — MR. VALENTINE O'CONNOR
Tommy Stanley — MISS EDITH FINK
Captain Katana — MR. TAILLEUR ANDREWS
Takamine — MR. NORMAN GREENE
Wo-Mi — MR. WILLIE WARDE
Wun Hi — MR. FRED WRIGHT, JUN.
The Marquis Imari — MR. GEORGE GRAVES

The most musical of musical plays, and possessing a story sufficiently sentimental, The Geisha enjoyed a popularity that extended beyond these shores, and reached a run that stands as a record at Daly's. It was performed over 800 times at its first production at the same house in 1896; no less than four companies presented it in the provinces; it was played in every colony of Greater Britain; and its melodious score won the hearty recognition and approval of French, German, Russian, and Dutch, and even Peruvian audiences. Its strong claims to revival can therefore be readily understood; and the sound judgment of Mr. George Edwardes in putting it up for a summer run was endorsed at Daly's on Monday by an immense audience, overcharged with enthusiasm. In fact, of every single number a repetition was demanded by a noisy section of the audience, and, as many encores were given, it was somewhat late before the curtain fell, and Mr. Edwardes—following his company, who had done so excellently—appeared in response to continued applause and wisely declined to give a speech, for which vociferous cries were raised. Since the production of The Geisha at Daly's on April 25, 1896, Miss Marie Tempest, the original O Mimosa San, has graduated as an actress of modern comedy. Though her place is scarcely filled by Miss May de Sousa, who possesses not the musical culture of her predecessor, the fair American makes a very good substitute. At present, however, she lacks the complete control of her vocal resources, and though her middle register is pleasant to listen to, the higher notes are not always distinguished by true intonation. Miss de Sousa has much personal charm, however, and if she does not attempt to disguise herself as O Mimosa San, but is simply a pretty girl masquerading in ravishing Japanese costumes, she is an immense favourite, and the numbers "An Amorous Goldfish" and "The Jewel of Asia," as given by her, revive the pleasantest recollections of a score that is always alluring, bristling as it does with charming melody. The hit of the evening on Monday was scored by Miss Mariette Sully, a new-comer to the London stage, who was the original Véronique when M. Messager's opera was produced in Paris, in December, 1898, having previous to this performance distinguished herself by her impersonation of La Poupée. Miss Sully is therefore well equipped vocally and dramatically, and she has besides a pretty way of speaking broken English which was not excelled in charm by Miss Juliette Nesville, the original of Juliette Diamant. She is an artist to her finger tips, as was speedily discovered when she sang an interpolated song in the first act, and is decidedly coquettish and fascinating—a Parisienne possessing all the joie de vivre that is so characteristic. Her second song, given towards the end of the representation, which is entitled "C'est moi, Marquis," is a gem in its way, and was delightfully sung. The new Marquis Imari is Mr. George Graves, one of the most popular comedians in London at the present day. Mr. Rutland Barrington, his predecessor in the part, was not so daring or persistent a gagger—a fact due probably to the severest repression of such a practice during his early career as a Savoyard. But the public expect Mr. Graves to gag, and he takes care that they are not disappointed. On Monday he had often to rely on the prompter, but was extremely droll nevertheless, and may be trusted to improve his opportunities as time goes on. Mr. Robert Evett follows Mr. Hayden Coffin in the part of Reggie Fairfax, in which the favourite tenor has no real opportunity for acting. He made an excellent impression in the "Kissing Duet" with Molly Seamore, the success of which was shared by Miss Marie Studholme, who had considerable experience in the provinces in her early career in that character. Mr. Evett gave also with much spirit "Jack's the boy," and was encored in that "sugary" ballad, "Star of my soul," beloved of amateurs. Miss Studholme also repeated the triumph of the "parrot" song, one of the most favoured numbers. Mr. Louis Bradfield, the only member of the original cast playing at Daly's, again acquits himself well in the rôle of Dick Cunningham, being quite excellent in his contribution, "The dear little Jappy-Jap-Jappy." Mr. Huntley Wright is playing a Chinese character in another production; but the part of Wun-Hi still remains in the family, Mr. Fred Wright being an excellent deputy for his brother, of whom he reminds us in every inflexion of voice; but one must none the less recognise the originality and quaintness of the latest impersonator of the cunning Celestial, and Mr. Wright's rendering of "Chin Chin Chinaman" with accompanying dance was one of the big hits of the evening. Mr. Tailleur Andrews sang well as Captain Katani; and artistic vocal help came from Mr. Gordon Cleather as Bronville and Mr. Valentine O'Connor as Grimston. Miss Watt Tanner, who made the most of her slender chances as Lady Constance Wynne, chaperoned charming specimens of English girlhood in Miss Gertrude Glynn as Miss Marie Worthington, Miss Nina Sevening as Miss Ethel Hurst; and Miss Angy Edwardine as Miss Waters. Miss Edith Fink distinguished herself as Tommy Stanley; Mr. Norman Greene was a sonorous Takamine; and Mr. Willie Warde an amusing Wo-Mi. The four principal Geisha, Miss Thelma Raye, Miss Iris Hoey, Miss Daisy Stratton, and Miss Alice Hatton, sing well, and look charming; and Miss Kathleen Severn is quite satisfactory as Nami. Mr. Sidney Jones conducted Monday's performance, and received a hearty welcome. The Tea House of Ten Thousand Joys and the Chrysanthemum Fête are fine examples of Mr. Hawes Craven and Mr. Joseph Harker's best brush-work; and the ladies' rich dresses reflect the daintiness and taste that are the special characteristics of the weaker sex in Tokio and Yokohama.

"SEE-SEE" AT THE PRINCE OF WALES'S.

On Wednesday, June 20, at the Prince of Wales's Theatre, was produced a Chinese comic opera, in two acts, the book by Charles H. E. Brookfield, the lyrics by Adrian Ross, and the music by Sidney Jones, with additional numbers by Frank Tours, entitled See-See.

Yen — MR. MAURICE FARKOA
Cheoo — MR. W. H. BERRY
Hoang — MR. FRED EMNEY
M. Mascotte — MR. RALPH ROBERTS
Hi-Tee — MR. FRED J. BLACKMAN
Sing-Song — MR. FRANCIS RAYNE
Tie-Pin — MR. H. E. PEARCE
So-Long — MR. P. H. BRACY
Hang-Kee — MR. HUNTLEY WRIGHT
Lee — MISS ADRIENNE AUGARDE
Poo-See — MISS LENA MAITLAND
Miao-Yao — MISS SYBIL GREY
Shoo-Shoo — MISS LILIAN HEWITSON
Mrs. Hoang — MISS KITTY HANSON
Mai-Yai — MISS AMY AUGARDE
Humming Bird — MISS LILY ELSIE
So-Hie — MISS GABRIELLE RAY
Silky-Lips — MISS SHELLY CALTON
Sea of Jade — MISS DORIS DEAN
Sly Smile — MISS DORA LANGHAM
Forbidden Fruit — MISS MABEL RUSSELL
See-See — MISS DENISE ORME

Again we are taken to the East, with its mysticism, its glorious traditions, and its glowing atmosphere, for the setting of the latest light opera—for that is the proper title of Mr. George Edwardes's production at the Prince of Wales's—and the telling of a story, the action of which takes place in the heart of Pekin, has afforded excellent opportunities for reaching a plane of splendid elegance in dresses and mounting, of which full advantage has been taken both by the scene-painter and the costumier. Then in the score Mr. Sidney Jones has shown not only his customary command of suave and pleasant melody, but has reached artistic excellence in his concerted numbers, and the octet "Very nice" and the quartet "The Third Moon" may be quoted as particularly grateful examples of choral structure and delicate and piquant orchestration. We have, too, in the duet "Doves" and in the solo "Snowflake and Rose" a couple of airs that rise above the commonplace, and yet that fall on the ear gratefully. There are two incidental numbers from the pen of Mr. Frank Tours, a pretty song about "Butterflies"—a popular subject for composers—and a doll song. Mr. Charles Brookfield has cleverly burlesqued the Oriental metaphor and flowery terms of speech in his libretto, and his work throughout is decidedly well done. Mr. Adrian Ross, too, has scored a brilliant success with his well-turned lyrics, and there is no doubt that his "Chinese Slavery" verses will prove to be the topical hit of the season. Mr. Sidney Ellison, in the work of production, has succeeded in presenting a series of perfect stage pictures, and to his artistic exertions the brilliant success of the newest musical piece was largely due. With judicious compression and a brightening-up of the first act, there should be a long run in store for See-See.

See-See is a Pekin beauty, honoured and reverenced by her Chinese sisters, who are living with her in seclusion in the summer palace of the coterie of learned and pretty women known as the Pearls beyond Price. The "third moon," the forerunner of spring—not an inconstant moon, let us hope—is at hand, when even the youth of Pekin turn lightly to thoughts of love; and See-See, tired of the respectful homage rendered to her by her own sex, would taste of the rapture of a genuine passion, and is thirsting for some adventure that will enliven her humdrum existence. Her wishes do not long remain ungratified, for Yen, the carefully brought up son of Cheoo in some mysterious way is able to intrude upon the privacy of the "Pearls beyond Price," and is so struck with admiration of a portrait of See-See painted on a screen that he serenades it. But the Pekin beauty is not the girl chosen for him by his grasping old father Cheoo, who affianced him to Lee, the daughter of Hoang, while both were infants. Lee, in her turn is in love with Hang-Kee, a coolie, who belongs to the labour party in the land of the mandarin. Chance comes to the assistance of all the lovers. Hank-Kee has the distinguished honour of being the foster-brother of See-See, whom he calls a "sister of the feeding-bottle," and he implores her powerful aid to annihilate the matrimonial scheme arranged by the flint-hearted parents without any regard to the wishes of the chief contracting parties. See-See, with the help of Mai-Yai, a Chinese occultist, determines on a ruse which she hopes will save the lovers, and at the same time afford her plenty of fun. Knowing that old Cheoo has not seen Hoang since the days of their youth, and has never met Lee, she resolves to impersonate her, to allow herself to be married to Yen, and then to disappear as mysteriously as she came. Escorted by a mock wedding party, See-See departs at the end of the first act for Cheoo's residence, the love-lorn and penniless Hang-Kee becoming for the nonce Hoang. On their arrival at the residence of Cheoo that worthy greets Hank-Kee as his friend of the old days, and though the latter endeavours to paint his family and himself in the blackest of colours, the shrewd and crafty merchant is determined on the alliance between the families. Yen is therefore united to See-See (veiled) by a quaint ceremony, and the well-laid scheme threatens to "gang agley." But when the real Hoang arrives we learn that See-See, who is his long-lost daughter by a banished wife, had always been intended for Yen. Everything therefore turns out quite happily, for See-See soon loses here heart, and becomes the willing slave of her husband. Lee then pairs off with Hang-Kee.

Mr. Huntley Wright's return to the congenial sphere of light opera was welcomed by a packed house with very great enthusiasm, and it says much for this comedian's versatility that in the new Chinese character, Hang-Kee, which he presents with so much comicality, his method differs entirely from that adopted in his Wun-hi, the Celestial in The Geisha, an impersonation that establishes his claim to rank as a leading comedian. He scored his great success on Wednesday evening with the cleverly-written topical song "Chinese Slavery," to which we have already referred. We cannot resist the temptation of quoting one of the verses, which we recommend to the attention of our golfing readers. It runs as follows:

"If you wander through Britain and round about,
Then every few miles on and off,
You'll see wretched creatures with agonised features
Condemned to hard labour called golf!
They must hit little balls on the ground about,
And bury them deep in the sands;
Their language so bad is that warders called caddies,
Stand over with clubs in their hands!
Free, free, is the happy Chinee,
But there, on that isle in the waves,
They must get on the green, if it takes them nineteen.
And there's no one would do it but slaves!"

